The People's Anger Voiced; Protests of Tokio Press

Repudiation of Peace Treaty Is Urged—City Under Martial Law.

Tokio, Sept. 8. — This morning the city is quiet. No serious disorder was reported anywhere during the night.

Tokio, Sept. 7. — With the exception of the Kokumini, the Government organ, the newspapers generally express anger at the action of the police in closing Hibaya Park, attempting to suppress meetings and putting the city under martial law.

The Jiji says: "Such a deplorable phenomenon in a city where the Emperor resides is highly significant that the only course open to the cabinet is resignation."

The Hochi deplores such occurrences in the capital of a victorious country, and says that St. Petersburg has converted into a St. Petersburg. It urges a refusal to ratify the treaty of peace which it says is the sole cause for the "shameful and sad occurrences."

The Mainichi says: "Hear the voice of the nation. Hear the expression of the nation's desire. The nation's voice is full of anger. The resignation of the cabinet might appease popular indignation."

All the papers deplore the use of the word "mob," and openly sympathize with the destruction of the police stations.

Tokio, Sept. 7. — 6 a.m. — Last night's disorders were not particularly serious. Thirteen cars and one railway kiosk were destroyed. Thirty persons were wounded during the clashes with the police, and many others were slightly wounded by stones in the crushes of the crowd.

The newspapers generally assail the police authorities for withdrawing street patrols. Soldiers are proving more effective than the police in handling the crowds. Accompanying the ordinance declaring martial law is an urgency order increasing restrictions on the press. The Government has suspended the publication of the Mito and Nihon.

The Tokyo municipality passed a resolution denouncing the terms, and favoring the abandonment of the peace treaty. The municipality had planned a mass meeting at Hibaya Park today, but on account of the danger of disorder the meeting was canceled.

Gen. Sakuma, who has assumed charge of the capital, under the authority of the emergency ordinance, has in his proclamation created a good impression owing to the conciliatory tone in which it is expressed, and its note of firmness in declaring that the soldiers will resort to extreme measures of force to do so. He has refrained from making a heavy display of military force.

The report that trouble has spread at Chiba, 40 miles distant from Tokio, has been partly confirmed.

WE HAVE PASSED 6,000,000 MARK

Canada's Population Largely Increased Since the 1901 Census.

Ottawa, Sept. 8. — Canada's population is now considerably over 6,000,000, having increased over 800,000 since the 1901 census. This estimate is derived by the most careful computation in the census department here.

Here is the official statement: "The natural increase of population in Canada in the twelve months of the last census year was at the rate of 12.70 per 1,000, the ratio of increase having been 23.32, and of deaths 15.12. Computed at the same rate, and adding to the number of immigrants reported, the population on July 1 of each year should be as follows:

"Population April 1, 1901, 5,373,315; population July 1, 1901, 5,413,370; natural increase in twelve months, 68,590; immigration in twelve months, 67,380; population July 1, 1902, 5,549,340; natural increase in twelve months, 70,478; immigration in twelve months, 123,364.

"Population July 1, 1903, 5,743,342; natural increase in twelve months, 70,094; immigration in twelve months, 130,331.

"Population July 1, 1904, 5,951,677; natural increase in twelve months, 75,587; immigration in twelve months, 146,266.

"Population July 1, 1905, 6,173,530; increase in population since the census of 1901, 802,215."

WESTERN WHEAT ALL RIGHT

Important Crop Bulletin Sent Out by the C. P. R.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8. — The most important crop bulletin issued for some time is sent out by the C. P. R. It covers the whole growing area of Manitoba and a large section of the Territories. On Sept. 6 nearly all the agents report from 80 to 95 per cent of the wheat cut. In many places cutting is finished and threshing is now under way. The yield in no case is given below 20 bushels to the acre, and in places it is reported as high as 30 and over.

No damage of any kind is reported, though 150 stations are covered in the report.

WM. ROBERTS DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN UNKNOWN MANNER

Supposed to Have Been Kicked by a Horse—Police Investigate.

Wm. Roberts, 43 years of age, and unmarried, died in Victoria Hospital at noon today. A fracture of the skull was the cause of his death.

Roberts was a well-known character in London and vicinity during the past four or five years, spending the summer months working for various farmers, and in the winter securing employment generally as a hotel porter or hostler.

About 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning he tottered into the police station, apparently for drinking, but all that he talked in a rambling manner and was suffering from a severe injury over the right eye, he was immediately removed to the hospital. For a day he continued in a semi-conscious state, when he lapsed into a comatose condition, from which he never rallied up to the time of his death.

How Roberts sustained the injury is a mystery, but it is supposed that he was kicked on the forehead by a horse, the fracture of the skull being the result. During the first day at the hospital, he talked incoherently to some of the patients near him, and was heard to say that he had been kicked.

Detective Rider was making inquiries yesterday regarding Roberts, but was unable to find any trace whatever of the man's movements on Wednesday night. Neither was the detective able to learn where Roberts had been working.

WOULD NOT BE A MONEY-MAKER

Why Railway Company Objects to the High Street Extension.

Vice-President Smallman, of the London Street Railway Company, with Construction Engineer Ross, of Cleveland, today waited on Mayor Campbell in reference to the city's demands for the South London extensions.

Mr. Smallman declared himself as ready to do everything possible to meet the wishes of the people, but he pointed out that Mr. Ross sees objections to the proposed extension on High street.

"I have told Mr. Smallman," Mr. Ross said, "that if the line is extended it will mean that the company will be compelled to put on another car, at a cost of $10 a day, on the Wellington street line, which is not much of a money-maker at present. And there would be the cost of construction to be considered. We know very well we would not increase our earnings a single dollar by building the line."

The mayor did not argue the question, but he intimated that if the company is not prepared to do something to meet the wishes of the High street people, there is a possibility that the city council may compel the company to go ahead with the Worley road line.

This is something the company does not desire to do, as the operation of the Worley road stub line would be a very difficult proposition.

Mr. Smallman then left the mayor's office, promising consideration of the city's proposals.

Boy Killed by Grapes.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 7. — Willie Leque, 2 years old, son of Robert E. Leque, South Eighth street, Newark, N. J., developed a fondness for grapes that grew in profusion at the rear of his home, and his indulgence in the fruit was the cause of his death yesterday, after a brief illness.

The parents of Willie tried to check his propensity to indulge overmuch in the fruit, but he somehow managed to elude their vigilance and stuffed himself every occasion, swallowing skins, pits and all. This produced gas, trantoritis, with fatal results.

The Times cables: The latest reports from Baku indicate that the picture is one of deepest gloom. Over a thousand persons have been killed and several thousand wounded, almost exclusively Tartars, Persians and Armenians. There is nearly 100,000 homeless fugitives, and almost the whole of industry is ruined, involving serious consequences to the trade and commerce of the whole country and the loss of about $100,000,000 annually to the state revenue from the excise.

GAVE HIS LIFE FOR ANOTHER

Man Killed by Live Wire—Was Trying to Rescue One of His Employees.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 8. — Alexander H. Howie, treasurer and manager of the Howie Roofing Company, of this city, was instantly killed at Algonac yesterday afternoon. He was superintending the roofing of a freight house when Frank Lebow, one of his employees, came in contact with a live wire running over the buildings, and screamed for help. Mr. Howie attempted to pull Lebow away, but himself received the full current and was killed. Foreman Coran was severely shocked, but he and Lebow were recovered. Mr. Howie was a Canadian, and had a brother in Brantford and two sisters in Paris, Ont.

EXPECTING OUR TRADE

South Wales Selling Steel Rails and Tin Plate to Canada.

London, Sept. 8. — The South Wales trade report states that there is an increased demand for tinplate for fruit and salmon packing in British Columbia. Manufacturers of steel rails are looking forward to considerable Canadian business on account of the abolition of the bounty. Two Canadian contracts for 8,000 tons and 15,000 tons were recently placed, the latter being for Vancouver.

FATAL BLAZE IN A TENEMENT

House Contained 120 Persons Asleep When Fire Began— Three Lives Lost.

New York, Sept. 8. — While trying to save his two children, a son and a daughter, both under 10 years of age, from a fire in a crowded tenement building in East Seventy-first street today, Antonio Coletto and both children were suffocated by smoke. The body of the father was found lying in the hallway of the fifth floor where the children clung to his arms, where he had fallen in his effort to reach the window. Coletto had already helped to carry his invalid wife to the roof, whence she escaped to an adjoining building.

There were 24 Italian families, numbering 120 persons in the building, all were asleep when the fire broke out. It started in the basement, and spreading to the hallway of the first floor, out of all escape from the floors above. A policeman awoke the sleeping tenants, who then swarmed down the fire escapes in the front and rear of the building. Those on the front became panic-stricken when they reached the first floor above the street, where the ladder reaching to the sidewalk, had not been lowered. None had presence of mind sufficient to drop the ladder, and a policeman, with his club, drove back the frightened crowd, dropped the ladder, and permitted women to descend first.

Michael Anglin, his wife Marie, and daughter Nora, were badly burned. In their haste to reach the roof, they left three of their children in their rooms, and the firemen, who went upon scaling ladders, found the two boys, the one a little girl penned in a smoke-filled room. They were placed in safety, and passed down the ladders.

At the height of the noise of engines and shouts of the crowds, a fireman found one entirely family, the flames had reached the roof, and the fire was quickly extinguished, with damage of about $1,000.

AWFUL BUTCHERY IN CITY OF BAKU

Shells Sent Crashing Through Hospital—Burning Oil Poured on Gunners.

Baku, Sept. 8. — Street fighting continued until last night. Pierce fighting and great slaughter occurred at a Kalakham hospital, where a thousand Armenians had been gathered. Gen. Shirinkin sent a detachment of artillery, with three guns to the scene, and the commander of the detachment summoned the crowd to surrender. The latter replied with volleys of stones and shots, which killed one of the gunners. The shells falling into the river, but the second sent the shells crashing into the hospital, where they exploded, killing an immense number of men, and wrecking the building. The maddened crowd charged the guns and the gunners, then after deluging the gunners with burning oil. The latter then fled. Costly and infantry reinforcements attempted to recapture the abandoned guns, but were driven back by the snuffing smoke.

The Petersburg correspondent of the Times cables: The latest reports from Baku indicate that the picture is one of deepest gloom. Over a thousand persons have been killed and several thousand wounded, almost exclusively Tartars, Persians and Armenians. There is nearly 100,000 homeless fugitives, and almost the whole of industry is ruined, involving serious consequences to the trade and commerce of the whole country and the loss of about $100,000,000 annually to the state revenue from the excise.

FORECASTS FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7. — The last bulletin from the U. S. Weather Bureau, issued at 6 p.m., next disturbance will reach central valleys, 7th to 9th. Cool wave will reach cross valleys of Rockies about the 10th, great central valleys, 10th, and eastern states, 12th.

The third disturbance will not be of much importance till about the 10th or 11th, when, as the low approaches the eastern states, all weather features will become more intense. At that time the high will bring low temperatures to the great central valleys, by cloud storms, are expected in the Caribbean Sea, 11th to 15th, and they will probably reach our western coast at 8 p.m. Tropical storms will again go to high degrees after the 16th. Not much rain with this disturbance.

The third disturbance of September will reach the Pacific coast about the 10th, states 15th. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about the 12th, eastern states 14th. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about the 15th, great central valleys 16th, eastern states 17th.

Little disturbance will bring the most severe weather events. Then a cold wave will sweep across the continent, bringing a severe winter.

WILL EXPROPRIATE NECESSARY LANDS

Traction Company Cannot Come to Terms With Owners in the City.

The railway committee of the Ontario Government, consisting of Hon. Messrs. Reame, Foy and Hendrie, will meet on Thursday in Toronto to consider the application of the Southwestern Traction Company of London for power to expropriate lands in this city.

TOO BUSY TO TALK

Manitoba Farmers Want the Tariff Inquiry Postponed.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 8. — The Manitoba Grain Growers' Association appeared before the tariff commission at its first session, and asked that the inquiry be deferred.

Hon. Mr. Fielding was glad the people were busy, and promised, if possible, to defer the inquiry.

The Winnipeg fruit dealers asked for a reduction of 10 per cent on fruits, except bananas, the duty on grapes, apples, pears, plums and peaches, they claim, is unreasonably high.

TREATY EMBRACES ALL OF INDIA

Chief Provisions of the New Agreement Between Japan and Great Britain.

Paris, Sept. 8. — Although copies of the Anglo-Japanese treaty have not yet reached the powers its principal changes from the former treaty are known in diplomatic and official quarters.

One of the highest of these says that the principal new features are: Article 1—The provision in the old treaty making the alliance applicable only to the Chinese littoral is changed so that the new provision makes the alliance applicable to all Asia up to the line crossing Persia from north to south indicated by the first degree of east longitude.

The significance of this change is the inclusion of India, where Great Britain and Russia have interests, and also Indo-China, where France has suspected Japan of having designs.

Article 2—The provision in the old treaty making the alliance operative if either ally is attacked by two powers is changed so that the alliance becomes effective when either is attacked by one power.

Article 3—The primary underlying principle of the treaty is defensive and the maintenance of existing conditions.

The foregoing changes cannot be started as official or authoritative, but they are given with positiveness by those in a position to have accurate advice.

COAL DEALERS' CONVENTION

Big Meeting To Be Held in Buffalo for "Amalgamation" Purposes.

Buffalo, Sept. 8. — The Association of National Anthracite Merchants and the National Council of Coal Dealers representing the majority of retail coal merchants of the larger cities of the United States and Canada, will meet at Buffalo at the Ironworks on Sept. 21 and 22 for the purpose of entering into an amalgamation. Such a move will have a distinct influence on the coal situation at all times in the future.

In view of the importance of the conference, which will open on the morning of the 21st, the Buffalo Retail Merchants' Association has planned an elaborate banquet for the previous evening, at which a number of eminent persons will be present.

At this meeting the coal question will be discussed in all its phases. Some side entertainments have also been planned to relieve the monotony of the business meetings. The principal of these will be a view of the harbor, and possibly a railway trip through the city.

OLDEST MAN IN CANADA

Death of A. Emmerson at the Age of 112 Years.

Halifax, Sept. 8. — The oldest man in Canada, probably, Alexander Emmerson, colored, died yesterday at his home at Hammond's Plains, at the remarkable age of 112 years. His son, aged 74 years, brought the news to the city.

Mr. Emmerson was born in Scotland, and came to Canada in 1810. He was well known to hundreds of people who visited the Plains occasionally.

Earthquake in Calabria; With Great Loss of Life

Towns and Villages Entirely Destroyed—People Flee to the Hills.

Catanzaro Calabria, Italy, Sept. 8. — A violent earthquake at 2:55 o'clock this morning, caused serious loss of life, and widespread destruction in Calabria.

The towns of Pizzo Montelone Di Calabria and Martirano were almost entirely destroyed.

At Montelone Di Calabria seven persons were killed outright and many were injured by the collapse of the prison there.

The Pizzo district is said to be almost entirely destroyed.

Locally the shocks lasted eighteen seconds. The walls of the hospital here collapsed and some of the patients were injured. The inhabitants of this city fled panic-stricken from their houses.

The houses at Stefani have been wrecked by the earthquake. It is feared that 100 people are buried in the ruins.

The villages of Piscopio and Riparni have been destroyed.

Grave news continues to arrive from Pizzo and Martirano, which have been almost destroyed. There are numerous victims. It was said that the district of Nicastro had escaped, but that also has been seriously affected.

At Martirano all the buildings have collapsed, including the barracks. Six wounded men have thus far been taken from the ruins. There are other victims.

At Stenaceni all the houses have fallen and it is feared that a hundred are under the ruins.

CZAR VENTS HIS ANGER

Officers Who Surrendered Dismissed or Will Be Punished.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—An imperial order has been issued dismissing Rear-Admiral Nebogatoff and the captains of the battleship Nicolai I. (now the Iki), and the cruisers Admiral Selavich (now the Minoshima), and General Admiral Apraxine (now the Okinoshima), which were surrendered to the Japanese in the battle of the Sea of Japan.

All four officers, besides being deprived of their rank, are liable to punishment under the provisions of the naval penal code.

The Emperor has ordered all other officers who surrendered their vessels to be tried on their return to Russia.

RODE IN ENGINE TANK

Man Going to His Dying Mother—Had No Money for Fare.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 8.—The fireman on the fast Chicago and Alton train, out of Kansas City, found a white man in the water tank of the locomotive when the train stopped at Blackburn, 80 miles from Kansas City, Tuesday night.

The traveler, who gave his name as James P. Hitchens, had climbed into the tank just before the train left Kansas City. His head was barely out of the water when the fireman found him. He explained that he had received word that his mother was dying in St. Louis. He had no money and had taken this method of getting to his destination.

The man was allowed to dry out his clothes in the engine cab and permitted to complete the journey to St. Louis.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—A Thanksgiving service commemorative of the conclusion of peace was celebrated at Peterhoff today in the presence of Emperor Nicholas and the state dignitaries.

FREIGHT RATES ON GRAIN SHIPMENTS

Action of Railway Commission—New Set of Groupings and Percentages.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—The railway commission has refused to accede to the request of the American Cereal Company of Peterboro for the establishment of a basis of freight rates on ex-lake grain originating in Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth, Fort William and Port Arthur by way of Georgian Bay to be milled at the company's mills at Peterboro, and then shipped via the ports of Montreal, Portland, Boston or West St. John, that should not exceed the grain rate from these upper lake ports to the Atlantic seaboard. The cereal company will get the advantage of the reduction on railway freight from their mills to the seaboard that the board has granted to the request of the Dominion Millers' Association.

The board has changed its order of July 25 fixing railway rates on grain and grain products for export from Ontario points to the seaboard. In that order it was provided that certain station groupings and percentages of the Chicago to New York route should be substituted for those previously adopted by the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk export traffic from Ontario. It was pointed out by the railways that this worked an injustice upon them in respect of traffic to New York and ports south.

The board has fixed a new set of station groupings and percentages in line with the railways' request and which are nevertheless lower than those in force up till this morning. The new set of station groupings and percentages of the Chicago-New York route, are as follows:

1—Niagara Falls to Paris, Brantford, Jarvis and the Niagara Peninsula, 70 per cent.

2—East of Hamilton to Toronto, inclusive thence west along the G. T. R. main line to Berlin and Watertown and points south thereof not included in group 1, 75 per cent.

3—East of Toronto to Port Hope and Peterboro, inclusive thence west along the Grand Trunk to Lindsay through Manilla and Blackwater Junction to Peterboro and Watertown, and stations within that group also north of Watertown, Guelph, Georgetown and Brampton, including the line of the C. P. R. from Brampton to Elora, and north of Port Hope to Peterboro and intermediate stations, 77 per cent.

4—East of Port Hope and Peterboro to Kingston and Sharbot Lake, inclusive and intermediate territory Madoc branch west of Kleinburg to Grand Valley, Shelburne, both inclusive; also intermediate points north of Inglewood and Cataract, north of Inglewood to Alliston and Allandale, north of King to Barrie, north of Stratford to Jackton's Point, north of Blackwater Junction to Lorneville Junction, and west of Lindsay to Lorneville Junction, north of Lindsay to Fenelon Falls and Lakefield, 78 per cent.

5—North of Alliston to Collingwood, north of Barrie to Atherley Junction, Midland Penetang, Collingwood, north of Fenelon Falls to Hallsburg, north of Lorneville Junction to Cobocook, west of Lorneville Junction to Orillia, 82 per cent.

West of Collingwood to Meaford, 85 per cent.

The Guelph and Goderich Railway is given the right to use certain lands of the Grand Trunk that it had applied for in Guelph. The Hamilton, Galt and Guelph Railway and the way are both given the right to operate their lines along certain streets in Hamilton to which the city council has already consented. The C. P. R. has been given the right to cross the Galt and Water streets in Toronto with an additional track.

SWEET SINGER, BUT MISERLY

Some Stories of Francisco Tamagno, Once World's Greatest Tenor.

Varese, Italy, Sept. 8.—Francisco Tamagno, the most famous tenor in the world two decades ago, died here on Thursday.

Tamagno was born in Turin in 1855, his father being an innkeeper, and began his musical career when 16 years old as a chorus singer in the opera house of his native city. He made his first appearance as a star in Palermo, Sicily, in 1878, in "Lilla in Maschera." Several years later he went to Buenos Ayres, returning to Turin in 1884, where he immediately achieved continental fame, wealthy admirers offering gifts upon him at every performance.

He was chosen to create the title role in "Otello."

The "clashes" upon the operatic stage won him a fortune of $150,000. He received $2,000 a night when ever he sang in America. His parsimonious habits, so directly contrasted with the extravagance of his colossal earnings, was notorious. His greed of gain became an eccentricity, and he said to have been the result of his training, when he received tips as a waiter in his father's inn.

THE EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

Its Removal Advocated by the Liberal Candidate for Edinburgh.

London, Sept. 8.—Mr. John Sutherland, Liberal candidate for Edinburgh, addressed a meeting at Kinross Tuesday night. At the close of his speech, Mr. B. Smith questioned Mr. Sutherland as to his views on the importation of Canadian cattle.

It was stated by members of the audience that the removal of the restrictions would adversely affect small crofters.

Mr. Sutherland favored the removal on the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number, and thought one consequence of the admission of Canadian cattle would be that people would get cheaper beef.

Mr. William Henderson, of Coupar Angus, has received a letter from Robert Bickerdike, M. P., of Montreal, in reference to the exclusion of Canadian cattle. "You can hardly imagine," writes Bickerdike, "what a hard feeling this cattle embargo question has engendered in this country against the British Government, and, while your Government may think it great fun to play a good joke to the Canadians by shutting out our cattle under false pretenses, if they only knew the bad effect it has on loyal Canada they would hesitate before continuing it."

KNOCKED OUT BY A LOON

Man Met With Odd Accident in Heavy Fog.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 8.—The only loon ever taken alive in this section of the state was captured recently by Jerry Warner under peculiar circumstances. The bird was extremely difficult to shoot, to say nothing of taking him alive, and Mr. Warner's catch is considered wonderful.

Mr. Warner left the dig about 4 o'clock one morning on a bicycle with the intention of joining a campaign against the Georgia Bay, eight miles south of here. The road runs along the edge of Lake Champlain and in several places is bound by thickets and second growth. It was a bright morning, when about four miles from town the wheelman ran into a dense fog drifting in from the lake. In spite of this he kept up a good gait and at the top of the hill let the machine out.

He was over the brow he heard a shot in the direction of the lake and about a minute later a form loomed up just ahead of him in the fog, and he was struck by the impact of a heavy body. He remembers pitching off his wheel and then he lost consciousness. Ten minutes later he came to, and he was stunned by the impact, but he was still in fighting trim.

Thinking that the bird was dead, Mr. Warner picked it up and he found it was examining it, when the loon came to life and struck at him viciously with its spoon-shaped bill. It, too, had been stunned by the impact, but was still in fighting trim.

Mr. Warner threw the big bird to the ground and set up its bill and he found his pocket handkerchief about its bill and pinion its wings with cord. He mounted his wheel and continued on to camp. The loon soon recovered from the collision and is now as good as ever.

PROUD DAY FOR THE PRESIDENT

The Jap and Russian Envoys Express Gratitude for His Services.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 8.—Baron Komura and Minister Takahira, Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, are to lunch with the President next Saturday. The same evening M. Witte and Baron Rosen will dine at Sagamore Hill.

The following were the telegrams received by the President from Baron Komura, announcing the peace treaty: "To the President: I hasten to inform you that the treaty of peace has just been signed. Humanity is under a lasting debt of gratitude to you for the initiation and successful conclusion of the peace conference. I beg to be permitted to add my own thanks and sincere acknowledgment. (Signed) Komura."

Baron Rosen, announcing the peace treaty: "To the President: We have the honor to inform you that we have this day signed the treaty of peace with Japan. It is not for us to thank you for what you have done, but the cause of peace, as your noble and generous efforts have been fittingly acknowledged by our august sovereign. We can only express to you, President, and to the people of the United States, our personal sentiment of profound gratitude for the cordial reception you have extended to us, and which we have met with at the hands of the people in this country. (Signed) Witte, Rosen."

PLUNGERS ONCE BUT PIKERS NOW

Smathers, Lewisohn and Hudson Agree to Bet Only $100 On a Horse Hereafter.

New York, Sept. 8.—"Betting on race horses is a delusion and a snare, and to win a fortune from the bookmakers next to impossible," so say E. E. Smathers, Jesse Lewisohn and A. B. Hudson, three of the greatest plungers in America. Full of this belief, these men—who have frequently bet from $5,000 to $25,000 on a race—agreed to limit their wagers to $100 hereafter.

The resolve to bet only $100 on a race is the outcome of bantering on the part of the trio of plungers, and three days ago they entered into an agreement that this sum should be the limit of their speculations. In order to make the agreement binding and to provide a penalty for the one who should break it, it was expressly stipulated that if the agreement was broken the guilty man should pay to each of his fellow-plungers a forfeit of $5,000.

Smathers, Lewisohn and Hudson last Tuesday were in the club house comparing notes on their turf fortunes of the season. All agreed that in the long run the chances were against them. Each man in turn said that he had frequently won large amounts, but hastened to add that, all in all, from season to season, he had lost heavily.

"Then why should we continue to bet heavily?" said Smathers. "It is a losing game, as we know, and we are simply enriching the bookmakers. For my part I'm through with it and will limit my bets in the future to $100."

At this declaration Lewisohn and Hudson began to chaff Smathers. "You can't stop," they declared. "You may think you can, and for a few days you will go along just betting $100 on a horse. But wait until a 'good thing,' a 'clinch,' crops up; you will be in the ring in the same old way placing $10,000 on it."

"Just to prove I'm sincere in this matter," retorted Smathers, "I'll make a 'swoosh' if you'll both join. You say that you are both big losers, and are willing to quit, or bet only small other men $5,000 apiece." They agreed, but only $100 a race until the end of the season. "I'll do likewise, and the man who fails to live up to his agreement pays a forfeit to the two amounts. Now, if you will agree to do so the matter stands."

THE TUNNEL AT WINDSOR

Plan for Windsor Side Issued, and Options Being Secured.

Windsor, Sept. 8.—The Michigan Central Tunnel Company is losing no time in starting operations on the proposed new tunnel beneath the Detroit River. A plan of the tunnel on this side has been issued, and the company has instructed its agent here to secure options on property south of the river. It appears that the yards will be removed outside the city when the tunnel is completed. It is proposed to purchase property on either side of the present line as far east as the gravel road and north to the Tecumseh road. This will carry the yards three miles from the river.

If all the property desired is secured the railway will have sufficient ground for the four lines of railways, and railroad men believe that it is the intention to have a union station south of the city.

Great Coat Sale

Prices Are Surprisingly Low

Friday and Saturday we are going to give you a opportunity to provide yourself with a smart, dressy coat, suitable for fall and early winter wear, at a surprisingly low price. Rather unusual to have a coat sale so early in the season, but—well never mind how we are able to sell them NOW at such extremely low figures. Just come in and look them over. That's all we ask—we believe you will desire to share in the savings, after you have examined the garments closely.

In every case the cloth alone is worth more than the price asked for the finished article. We haven't the space to describe the coats in detail. The collection is too beautifully varied for that; but it includes Tweeds, Beavers, Cheviots and Homespun, some are unlined, others silk and mercerized lined, in the popular fawn, navy, oxford, black and fancy mixed colors. Here are the bargains:

72 Coats, made to sell for from $2.50 to $5. For, each	$1.25
90 Coats, made to sell for from $5 to $8.50. For, each	$2.75
83 Coats, made to sell for from $8.50 to $13.50. For, each	$3.75
14 Coats, made to sell for from $13.50 to $21. For, each	$6.75

WEDS HER RESCUER

Don Cavid Gets in His Work at Bar Harbor—Marriage Soon Follows.

Boston, Sept. 8.—To wed the man who once saved her life, Miss Esther Smith, a young woman, changed her name to that of her rescuer, and will be married at Bar Harbor, Sept. 10.

She was rescued from a drowning fate by the heroic deed of Don Cavid, who saved her life by pulling her from the water.

Don Cavid, a young man, was the first to see the young woman in the water, and he was the first to rescue her.

FIGHTING MILES OF BURIED FLAME

Great Stretch of Trestle Being Undermined by Subterranean Fire.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is fighting a subterranean fire in six miles of dirt and trestlework between Linden and Cranford, near Elizabeth, N. J. The blaze assumed such an alarming aspect that officials feared the entire structure would be destroyed.
 When the Baltimore and Ohio built the spur which runs from Linden to Cranford, in order to connect with the Staten Island rapid transit road, a contractor was engaged to dump all the refuse from the streets of nearby towns between the high trestles. This refuse was then covered up with carloads of dirt.
 For some time now the property holders along the line of the road have noticed this spirals of smoke arising from the embankment. The smoke is nauseating in odor and has become an intolerable nuisance.
 The officials have watched with anxiety the progress of the fire and have tried every means at their disposal to quench it. As the burning refuse continues to smoulder it opens fissures in the earth, giving out more and more smoke as it progresses.
 There is no known means of extinguishing this fire, save to cart the refuse away, and to do this the railroad would have to tear apart its entire trestle and embankment, a proceeding that would cost several hundred thousands of dollars.

BOAT WRECKED BY WHALE

Curious Occurrence in the Gulf of Georgia, British Columbia.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 7.—A whale which a Japanese fisherman with a Winchester while out fishing on the Gulf of Georgia, revenged himself by knocking the boat out of the water, and drowning the fisherman. Just before the close of the sockeye season last week the steamer Robert D. Dunsmuir came across a fishing boat floating bottom up in the gulf. A half-dead Japanese was clinging to her keel, but as he knew little or no English it was impossible to learn just what had happened, and it was taken for granted that the boat had been capsized by a gust of wind. As the boats are always in charge of two men, search was made for the other without success. The survivor was landed at Nanaimo, where he was taken care of by his countrymen, through whom it was learned that his companion had fired a rifle at a whale, which rose up some distance from the boat. The whale had promptly sounded and had come up again immediately under the boat, knocking both men into the water. The other was never seen to come up again.

NIP DISEASE IN THE BUD.—It is difficult to eradicate a disease after it has become seated; therefore it is wise to take any ailment in its initial stages, and by such remedies as are sufficient, stop it in its course. Cold is the commonest complaint of man, and when neglected leads to serious results. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will cure the severest cold or most violent cough.

JOHNSON'S NIGHTMARES.

Johnson read the symptoms in each patent nostrum ad, and soon he thought he had 'em all, and he'd feel a crack, a pain, a pang, as he would read away.
 With every ad his mind would change—new ailments every day!
 And last of all he found an ad that said that all disease
 If it were not for the coffee bean, would probably soon cease.
 And never pausing to reflect that men who want to sell
 A brand new notion to the "peep" don't balk at what they tell,
 He started on a brief crusade to warn each smiling friend
 That coffee, if persisted in, his life would surely end.
 But for his great astonishment, the folks he came across
 Were looking most amazing well and his seemed all the loss.
 For while they sipped their morning cup, or demi-tasse at noon,
 And seemed to thrive, he grew more thin and sallow.
 He wondered if he wasn't wrong, and he removed the ban
 When Chase & Sanborn had explained what went in every can.
 And as we live, much as we think, his nightmares he forgot,
 And saw them vanish in the steam from coffee piping hot.

SCOT RULES OVER THIS ROCKY ISLET

Has Forty Subjects and Sends Carrier Pigeons to Mainland for the Physician.

Bangor, Me., Sept. 7.—The maps of the United States coast survey show a long, narrow strip of land on the border line between Penobscot Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. It is known as the charts as Ragged Island, but there often are from eighty to a hundred persons living among the rocks and taking on heavy coats of fur from the fresh sea breezes.
 Students of social problems say that residents of this community have more of the real comforts of life and less of the worries than any other people on the coast. They are under no form of government, and though it is a part of the State of Maine, the people pay no taxes, and have no officers of any kind. There is not a rat or a mouse in all of its mile and a half of ledgy width. There are no bugs, no roaches, no cats or dogs behind the rocks, and no mosquitoes in the fresh pools of crystal water. The island has no church in which to worship, and no clergyman to tell the people whether they are doing right or wrong.
 No lawyer ever resided there, and no sheriff or constable ever went to issue summons or to serve processes. A kindly doctor, who lives in Rockport, is the only physician who makes professional visits to the place, and he is told to come by carrier pigeons, which fly faster to the mainland than any steamboat can take the message. As soon as the physician receives a message from the island, he takes a pigeon from his bag, which bears a message telling when to send a boat to meet him at Matineau, so that there may be no delay.

There are eight cows and three horses on the island, but not a mile of road for them to travel on. The horses are used for hauling up boats, and the cows give milk for visitors. Everybody walks by well-worn foot-paths, which were originally laid out by the cows while seeking fresh feed among the boulders. A summer visitor brought on a bicycle last season, but she could not use it, and the wheel was sent back to Bangor. The chief and practically the only occupation of the residents is catching lobsters in pots covered with netting. Every man tries to capture enough every day to bring $3, which is easily done when lobsters are sold to the steamers for 10 to 15 cents a pound. As he takes only about two hours to tend the lobster pots, the islanders spend the rest of their time in building boats, whittling driftwood, and eating lobsters, which are too short to sell.
 John Ericsson, a gigantic Swede, is the only celebrated man on the island. He is 6 feet tall, weighs 284 pounds, and everybody believes him to be the most powerful man on earth. They talk by the hour about his feats of strength. Last summer, when the new iron keel for Captain Jones' sloop yacht came to the island by steamer, and was put out on the wharf, men went to catch the yacht, and a heavy length of iron up the pier and around to the yard. While they were away Ericsson shouldered the keel and did not put it down until he had placed it under the bottom of the yacht. The distance was 600 feet and the weight of the keel 1,040 pounds. A son of Ericsson's, John, Jun., went to school until he weighed more than the five other pupils combined, and finished his education at the age of 15. He then lived on the scales at 212 pounds. If the Ericssons knew how to live, Marvin Hart couldn't hold the heavyweight title long enough to get acquainted with it.

JOHNSON'S NIGHTMARES.

Johnson read the symptoms in each patent nostrum ad, and soon he thought he had 'em all, and he'd feel a crack, a pain, a pang, as he would read away.
 With every ad his mind would change—new ailments every day!
 And last of all he found an ad that said that all disease
 If it were not for the coffee bean, would probably soon cease.
 And never pausing to reflect that men who want to sell
 A brand new notion to the "peep" don't balk at what they tell,
 He started on a brief crusade to warn each smiling friend
 That coffee, if persisted in, his life would surely end.
 But for his great astonishment, the folks he came across
 Were looking most amazing well and his seemed all the loss.
 For while they sipped their morning cup, or demi-tasse at noon,
 And seemed to thrive, he grew more thin and sallow.
 He wondered if he wasn't wrong, and he removed the ban
 When Chase & Sanborn had explained what went in every can.
 And as we live, much as we think, his nightmares he forgot,
 And saw them vanish in the steam from coffee piping hot.

SCOT RULES OVER THIS ROCKY ISLET

Has Forty Subjects and Sends Carrier Pigeons to Mainland for the Physician.

Bangor, Me., Sept. 7.—The maps of the United States coast survey show a long, narrow strip of land on the border line between Penobscot Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. It is known as the charts as Ragged Island, but there often are from eighty to a hundred persons living among the rocks and taking on heavy coats of fur from the fresh sea breezes.
 Students of social problems say that residents of this community have more of the real comforts of life and less of the worries than any other people on the coast. They are under no form of government, and though it is a part of the State of Maine, the people pay no taxes, and have no officers of any kind. There is not a rat or a mouse in all of its mile and a half of ledgy width. There are no bugs, no roaches, no cats or dogs behind the rocks, and no mosquitoes in the fresh pools of crystal water. The island has no church in which to worship, and no clergyman to tell the people whether they are doing right or wrong.
 No lawyer ever resided there, and no sheriff or constable ever went to issue summons or to serve processes. A kindly doctor, who lives in Rockport, is the only physician who makes professional visits to the place, and he is told to come by carrier pigeons, which fly faster to the mainland than any steamboat can take the message. As soon as the physician receives a message from the island, he takes a pigeon from his bag, which bears a message telling when to send a boat to meet him at Matineau, so that there may be no delay.

There are eight cows and three horses on the island, but not a mile of road for them to travel on. The horses are used for hauling up boats, and the cows give milk for visitors. Everybody walks by well-worn foot-paths, which were originally laid out by the cows while seeking fresh feed among the boulders. A summer visitor brought on a bicycle last season, but she could not use it, and the wheel was sent back to Bangor. The chief and practically the only occupation of the residents is catching lobsters in pots covered with netting. Every man tries to capture enough every day to bring $3, which is easily done when lobsters are sold to the steamers for 10 to 15 cents a pound. As he takes only about two hours to tend the lobster pots, the islanders spend the rest of their time in building boats, whittling driftwood, and eating lobsters, which are too short to sell.
 John Ericsson, a gigantic Swede, is the only celebrated man on the island. He is 6 feet tall, weighs 284 pounds, and everybody believes him to be the most powerful man on earth. They talk by the hour about his feats of strength. Last summer, when the new iron keel for Captain Jones' sloop yacht came to the island by steamer, and was put out on the wharf, men went to catch the yacht, and a heavy length of iron up the pier and around to the yard. While they were away Ericsson shouldered the keel and did not put it down until he had placed it under the bottom of the yacht. The distance was 600 feet and the weight of the keel 1,040 pounds. Great Stretch of Trestle Being Undermined by Subterranean Fire.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is fighting a subterranean fire in six miles of dirt and trestlework between Linden and Cranford, near Elizabeth, N. J. The blaze assumed such an alarming aspect that officials feared the entire structure would be destroyed.
 When the Baltimore and Ohio built the spur which runs from Linden to Cranford, in order to connect with the Staten Island rapid transit road, a contractor was engaged to dump all the refuse from the streets of nearby towns between the high trestles. This refuse was then covered up with carloads of dirt.
 For some time now the property holders along the line of the road have noticed this spirals of smoke arising from the embankment. The smoke is nauseating in odor and has become an intolerable nuisance.
 The officials have watched with anxiety the progress of the fire and have tried every means at their disposal to quench it. As the burning refuse continues to smoulder it opens fissures in the earth, giving out more and more smoke as it progresses.
 There is no known means of extinguishing this fire, save to cart the refuse away, and to do this the railroad would have to tear apart its entire trestle and embankment, a proceeding that would cost several hundred thousands of dollars.

HIGH STREET WINS FIRST ROUND; CITY WILL ASK FOR EXTENSION

Something in the Nature of a Compromise Proposed at Special Meeting.

The special committee of the city council appointed to deal with the South London street railway extension met last night, and after hearing representatives from the contesting sections, decided to ask the street railway company to build the Edward street line, and to extend the stub line on High street south as far as Emory street. If the company agrees to this proposition, the council will be relieved from a very embarrassing position, and both the east and west ends of South London will be pleased. If the company refuses—well, the council will have to get out of the matter as best it can.

Mr. Judd's Address.

Mr. J. C. Judd, who first addressed the committee, declared that the western section of South London is in a much worse position in regard to street car facilities than the eastern section. But he said that the people he represented will be very glad to hear of the High street line being built, provided the people of the western section are not called upon to reach the city via Clark's bridge. However, he called attention to the fact that the present the utility right of the western section to construct the High street line. He said it was the duty of the committee to decide whether or not it was in the interest of the city to have the company build the proposed new belt instead of the Wortley road stub line. He suggested in order to please parties that the company should be induced to extend its line 1,200 feet on High street to Emory, and "Y" its cars at Emory street instead of at Tecumseh avenue as at present.

High Street Argument.

Mr. George Pritchard spoke for the people of High street. He covered the same ground as at the council meeting, claiming that the fact that people had paid for the widening of High street out of their own pockets should give them priority as to a street railway extension as a vice, as the president of the company had given his word "six or seven years ago that if the street was widened the line would be extended to Emory street."

Mr. Pritchard—One block.

Ald. Cooper—It looks to me like half a block.

Mr. Pritchard—I am representing the people of the district.

Plain Talk.

Ald. Cooper—I am representing the people of the city, and I will tell you you are asking what is not just. I do not propose to give South London all the street railway the city is entitled to for four or five years to come. People in other sections of the city have had to pay more taxes than you have had to pay for a street railway much more than you do. I have to walk a block and a half to get a car myself.

"We cannot compel the street railway company to build anything but the Wortley road line, unless we take the census of the city," Ald. Stevely then told Mr. Pritchard.

"And the people of High street didn't pay all the cost of widening the street."

"The city paid for the grading," Ald. Cooper stated.

"I may tell you, too, that Vice-President Smallman has no recollection of promising the extension on High street," Mayor Campbell told Mr. Pritchard.

"If necessary I'll go in the box and swear to the truth of my statement," Ald. Stevely replied.

Ag. nt St. Sub Lines.

Mr. J. B. McKillop told the committee that way street railway extension is being made, the city should consider the routes that will do the most people the greatest amount of good, and should be careful of sanctioning stub lines, which are of but meagre benefit to but a small

London Horticultural Society to Make Display at Western Fair.

The London Horticultural Society at a recent meeting decided to assist in making the Horticultural Hall at the Western Fair one of the most pleasing features of the exhibition. For several years the society has been showing flowers, merely as part of its educational work, and the great "floral trophy" in the center of the hall has been adorned by many thousands of Fair visitors. This year the same energetic committee—Messrs. Dr. Bethune, C. J. Fox and John Balkwill will again be in charge of the exhibit, and all contributors to this display can leave their flowers at the east end fire hall or at Gammage's flower store, from where they will be safely delivered at the Fair grounds. All members and friends of the Horticultural Society are invited to hand in some flowers to help in arranging this attractive show yet put on, on Monday or Tuesday of next week.

This ended the speaking-making. Ald. Garratt then moved that the city ask the company to build the High street line, and to extend the stub line on High street south as far as Emory street. He stated that the company would be compelled to build the line, and then come in over Clark's bridge in order to reach the city, "Ald. Stevely said:

72,000 FEET OF NEW WALKS LAID

Nearly Fourteen Miles Were Put Down This Year in the City.

A minority meeting of the board of works was held last night, Acting Chairman Garratt, Ald. Gerry and Mayor Campbell being present.

City Engineer Graydon presented a statement showing that this year about 13 1/2 miles of cement walks have been laid. The work was done above the street, 30,214 feet, or about 5 1/2 miles; south of Dundas street, 41,854 feet, or 7 7/8 miles.

After considering the statement, the committee ordered the engineer to lay no more walks this year than are absolutely necessary to the public safety.

The tender of Fred Harding for this extension to the north end sewer was accepted, the price being $690.

LAUDED LIBRARY AND LIBRARIAN

Report of Superintendent of Public Libraries Before the Board Last Night.

The public library board met last evening and considered the report of the inspector of public libraries, which had just been sent from Toronto.

Part of the report was very laudatory in character. It recited that the library had been inspected by the Toronto Public Library, which is doing good work. They have three thousand readers with a library containing 18,000 volumes and issued 60,895 volumes in 1904; an average circulation of books per day of 229. The reading-rooms are supplied with 25 daily and evening newspapers, and 120 magazines and periodicals. The city grant is $8,000; they also receive $200 per annum rent for the upstairs rooms. The total receipts in 1904 were $8,804.55.

"The library shelves, with the exception of fiction, are under certain restrictions to the public. This involves considerable extra work on the librarian and his assistants, and taking into consideration the small staff, it seems almost astonishing that in addition to their regular duties, they collected $220.54 in fines, and books lost and damaged amounted to only $6.90.

"The citizens of London are to be congratulated on having such a magnificent public library with such an excellent, painstaking librarian and assistants."

The board of education was granted permission to use a vacant room in the library for model school purposes.

The library committee's report, which was adopted, it was recommended that the London library apply for membership in the Champlain Society of Canada.

The finance committee recommended the payment of accounts to the extent of $225.86, and their report was adopted.

The librarian's report for the past two months showed the following: Total circulation 10,967, average per day 206, receipts, sale of cards, $14.20; catalogues, $1.15; fines, $29.77; books lost, $1; book damaged, 75 cents; incidentals, $5.25; rent from spare rooms, $150; average fines per day, 76 cents; cards issued, 222; cards issued, 12,252.

The following members were present: G. C. Gunn (chairman), J. C. Hazard, O. Lablue, R. T. Hamilton, E. Manigault, R. B. Bland, J. T. Murphy.

CHIEF WILLIAMS HOME

Expects Much Good to Come From Chiefs' Convention in Toronto.

Chief of Police Williams arrived home last night from Toronto, where he has been attending the first annual convention of police chiefs of Canada. About thirty cities and towns of the Dominion were represented.

Chief Williams said that the convention was a very successful one, and that he was a member of a central criminal bureau to deal with general police matters. The chiefs of police have long been of the opinion that such a union would be of great advantage. For one thing, it would insure more cordialness of action in the trading of law-breakers and in the identification of criminals.

WILL CARNEGIE HELP?

Western University is Approaching
Him With a Proposition.

It is said that Provost James, of the Western University, has communicated with Andrew Carnegie, the multi-millionaire, asking for help for London's educational institutions.

A number of small universities throughout the United States have approached Carnegie and received aid. Why should not the Western do likewise? By his medals for heroes and pension fund for police he has long been of the opinion that he does not draw the international line.

How much does the Western ask for? What was in the provost's letter is not known. The general belief is that Carnegie will help.
