A very pleasing feature of the evening was the number given by the pupils of the McKeough school kindergartens. The represented songs, a greeting, my shadow and the farmyard were cutie and charming and cuaningly given, but for sports of childhood was reserved the especial approval of the audience. The double bouncing of rubber balls by Beatrice Dyer, Helene Landon and Leonore Stevens was a remarkably elever exhibition. Little Beatrice Dyer was wonderfuli his characteristically clever addresses. The Doctor paid a graceful tribute to the donors of the medals and said he was pleased to be associated with an act so amiable, so commendable and so worthy. He congratulated the teachers of McKeough School on the success that had attended their labours and control of the congratulation of the success that had attended their labours and control of the congratulation of the success that had attended their labours and control of the congratulation of the congratu and paid glowing tribute to the good work done by Miss Abram during her regime as principal of this educationsults which should follow.

Before making the presentation, however, I wish to take advantage of this privilege of addressing you for a mement or two and publicly congratulate Miss Abram upon her pronounced unqualified success as principal of McKeough School. The brilliant prestrige of the school has not wained since she bravely undertook the onerous and responsible duties of the principalship. The important and prominent position that it has so long and so worthly held among the schools of Ontario is still maintained with undimmed lustre and this, in spite of the fact that she followed success and has been in keen competion with the Central School during the most flourishing simply as a matter of business in order to maintain the efficiency of our schools. On account of miserable salaries in the past the supply is no longer, by any means, greater than the demand.

But I must proceed with my presentation. The Planet—or, properly speaking, The Planet—or, properly speaking, The Planet Junior, that very happy, estimable and popular annex for young people of the Saturday edition—offered for competition to every school boy and girl in Kent this beautiful watch, for the best essay or competion on the "City of Chatham."

Chatham."

It is universally conceded that Chatham is a prosperous and progressive city, much of which is no doubt due to the energy and enterprise of her citizens and the general prosperity of the country. Much credit, however, is also due to the constant encouragement, anxiety for the public weal and strenuous stimulation to continuous effort of our two newsy, up-to-date, progressive and enterprising newspapers. And the latest project of The Planet is not the least benifficent of the many useful and admirable public enter-the latest project of The Planet is not the least benificent of the many useful and admirable public enterprises which it has inaugurated or promogated in its long, honorable and successful career as a journal and newspaper.

There have been born in our County or resided here during the formative and developmental period of their lives more people who have distinguished themselves in literature than any other County, possibly in the Dominion. To mention some of the most famous—Jean Blewett, the sweet singer, whose poems and their rendition by herself from this platform we are all familiar with; Arthur Stringer, who is likely to be ranked among the immortals; Robertt Barr, the celebrated novelist and news reforrespondent; Edwin W. Sandys, the famous writer of sports who wrote his first articles for The Chatham Planet; Eva Hamilton Young, comparatively unappreciated who wrote his first articles for The Chatham Planet; Eva Hamilton Young, comparatively unappreciated here, but in her hew home carving out for herself a distinguished position in literature; the late lamented Archibald Lampman, one of the sweetest and purest poets of any land; Ralph Connor, whilst a teacher in our Codlegiate Institute and a resident of Chatham, probably received some of his inspiration here. And in order to foster and encourage, stimulate and perpetuate talents evidently indigeous to the soil and to prevent the sad catastrope of a "flower being born to blush unseen," or a mute inglorious Milton to rest unknown and unhonored in one of our County churchyards. The Planet has with rare liberality launched this highly praise worthy and commendable competition. Think the scheme should be assisted and encouraged by every teacher in the county, a better method of promoting and encouraging composition among children could scarcely be devised and there is no more important part of a child's education than among children could scarcely be devised and there is no more important part of a child's education than to learn to write the English language correctly and gracefully.

The presentations were then made. In the absence of Mr. Twohey, Dr. McKeough also presented a beautiful locket to Mary Park, stating that composition being so excellent that the judgess found some difficulty in giving the award, so The Planet had generously offered a special prize, which was presented to Mary Park. A series of books, generously donated by the staff, were also presented to the several pupids who received

THE OPERETTA.

Then came the pleasing part of the orogram, the operatta, "Queen of the casons." In order that a better understanding of the piece may be had, the argument is here given.

"It is the children's holiday and a hearty invitation is extended to everyone to spend the day in the woods, where the gay songs of the birds and the beauty of the flowers will make it one of joy and gladness. The fairy Silverwing appears and speeds them on their way.

"They gather in a dell for their tes-fivel and during in and out among

"They gather in a dell for their festival, and, daneing in and out among the flowers, at last choose the sweetest and fairest, the Rose, to be their queen and rule over them and receive their homage. She accepts the honor and promises to do all in her power to make it the most/ auspicaous day of the year. Then they all scatter through the woods to gathet its choicest blossoms for their chosen Queen. "In their absence some of the boys gather to have a good time. Suddenly one of them is seized with the idea that they should have a King instead of a Queen and raises a rebellion, but Fairy Silverwing again appears and the power of her magic wand over-comes the rebels.

"Just then the children return laden with flowers. They crown their Queen and the Seasons, personated by with Howers. They crown their Gueen and the Seasons, personaled by the children, appear in turn at the Queen's Court to do homage to Her Majesty, each one presenting a claim for usefulness and beauty. The Queen fully recognizes their claims and hoints out that cach is doing an appointed work in God's great plan. "The operetta closes with a hymn of praise to Him Who doeth all things well."

Willie Hoig, the usurping King, and May Lamperd, the Fairy Silver Wing, were, perhaps, the stars of a splendid production. Master Hoig has a voice of considerable range and wonderful power, and very sweet withal. He took both the speaking and singing parts with an easy nonchalance remarkable in one so young.

May Lamperd was the ideal fairy, voice, dress and everything lent to the illusion. May is a very clever young.

longing for honor, and advantage has been taken of this natural and unversal desire, by the giving of medals, prizes and badges of honor to stimulate flagging, zeal and bring about increased effort along desired lines. Perhaps the badge or medal most highly prized by British subjects is the Victoria Cross, given to men of the British army and navy for conspicuous bravery in the presence of the enemy. Though it is only a small Maltese cross made of bronze, so highly is it prized, and so universally honored, that legislation was introduced in the British Parliament to protect it from falling into unworthy hands, and it is contrary to law for a pawn-

Board of Education, the name of the public school of North Chatham was changed to McKeough School, in honor of the memory of the man who for years had been so closely identified with the educational institutions of the city. But not only was he deeply interested in the public schools of the city, but the man whose name appears on the medals which you are to receive this evening, was deeply, vitally interested in everything that makes for good citizenship. And in presenting those medals the thought in the minds of those who annually provide the medals is not simply to give a little personal and monetary gratification; the idea is to stimulate to larger and better lives those who shall receive these marks of distinction. THE NOR H RENFREW AFFAIR

Apparently the Premier has decided ignore Mr. Whitney's protest against the exclusion of North Reilfrew from representation in the Legislature. This is what might have been expected. Every day's delay is day's postponement of the inevitable defeat. North Renfrew has been so exasperated by the treatment it has received at the hands of the Government that its decision is now a foregone conclusion. Yet to the 'as: Mr Ross resists the rights of the constitwency. We do not know what excuses the Premier has given the Lieutenant Governor for his extraordinary conduct, but it is scarcely probable that his Honor has failed to ask for explanations. The situation is certainly one that calls for some attempt to justify the Government's course. Delay as he may, Mr. Ross cannot face the Legislature until North Renfrew has been given an opportunity to se-lect a representative. If it is possible for the Government to go through two sessions with a vacant sear it wilt deny representation to any constituency likely to go against it. This would be intolerable. In such a contingency it would not be possible to carry on the business of the Legislature. The Lieutenant-Governor could not retain confidence in any Government that would make such an Actempt to subvert the Constitution. If, then, the election is unavoidable, why this further delay? The delay can only serve to inconvenience the voters by bringing on the election at an incaement season of the year. Of the many mistakes and worse of Mr. Ross and his colleagues the North Renfrew diagrace is not the least .- Mail and

"Apart from a few cases of diph-theria and scarlet fever, the hea'th of the city is good," said Anson Moun-teer to The Planet this morning. "I heard one doctor say the other day that he was not doing enough busi ness to pay office rent, and he is con-sidered a good one at that."

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

"I heard a very good suggestion of-fered the other day," said Ab. Merrill to The Planet this morning. "It was in reference to the pavements of the city. William street and Queen street are now provided with two ex-cellent pavements and there is no nicer drive than to go down one and up the other. Would it not be a good idea to pave the small si rea up the other. Would it not be a good idea to pave the small street near the Grand Trunk track joining these two pavements? The horsemen of the city who would be benefitted should donate towards a fund to pay for the paving of this street."

EXHIBIT FOR SPORTSMEN'S SHOW

The Grand Trunk Railway System have shipped their extensive exhibit that will be installed in the International Sportsmen's Show, which is to be held in the Coliseum, at Chicago, November 7th to 28th. The exhibit will comprise, in addition to a series of the best pictures depicting scenes of the best pictures depicting scenes along their lines in Canada, including the many districts in the "Highlands of Ontario," one of the most comprehensive and complete collections of fish native to Canadian waters. In this will be some of the best specimens that have ever been taken of the machinents. mens that have ever been taken of the maskinonge, small-mouthed bass, wall-eyed pike, brook trout, ouananiche, land-locked salmon, etc. This fish exhibit is one that the Grand Trunk has been collecting for the past three or four years, and it is, without doubt, the finest in America, not only as to the sizes and varieties of fishes, but in their unique way of having been mounted. Many anglers have seen this exhibit and speak in the highest terms of the collection.

The space that the Grand Trunk secured at the coming show is 1.500 cured at the coming show is 1,500 square feet, which will give the company a good opportunity of making a very attractive showing.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM WAS THE TROUBLE.

Burdock Blood Bitters

DID MORE THAN SIX DOCTORS COULD DO.

Mrs. Theo. Newell, Argyle Sound, N.S. expresses her opinion of this wonderful ood remedy in the following letter: "It is with the greatest gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bit-ters. For years my husband suffered terribly with Erysipelas and Salt Rheum, He was so bad at times that he could no sleep on account of the itching and burning. He had been under the care of six different doctors, but they failed to do him any good. I had read different times of wonderful cures being made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so advised him to give it a trial. He did so, and after taking five bottles was cured without a doubt. I would strongly advise any person troubled with blood disorders to give B.B.B. a fair trial for I am sure it will cure them."

This superb company held the boards at the Hibbard last evening, and it was the universal verdict that boards at the Hibbard last evening, and fit was the universal verdicit that this is, the very best minstrel troupe that has visited Jackson in many a day. Each member of the company is an artist in his line. The company is an artist was an agreeable surprise to those present. The Guy Bros. have too good a company to allow remissness in the way of advertising. Should they see fit, to make another date flor Jackson this season, or at any diline in the future, they can rest assured that a crowded house will greet them. The Courier takes pleasure in stating the fact that there is not a medicoral feature in their entertainment. There is also an entire absence of alleged wit, bordering on vulgariity.—From the Jackson, Mich. Courter.

Laugh and the world laughs with Laugh and the world daughs with you; weep and you weep alone. You may be feeling kind of blue and in the mental "dumps" on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 17th, if so, just drop into the Grand Opera House, and see "The Real Widow Brown." That charming tady with hold a reception, diversified by tuneful songs, and captivating dances, by an assembly of some of the most, elever comedians and comediennes on the farce comedy stage. And, strange to say, there's and comediennes on the farce comedy stage. And, strange to say, there's a ploit too, and that, together with clever actings and amusing complica-tions will keep you in unbounded hilarity until the final fall of the curitain.

The Last of the Ryde. In 1762 the rage for ruffs, such as are seen on many monumental effigies, began to decline. A writer in the London Chronicle of that year says of gentlemen's dress, "Their cuffs entirely cover their wrists, and only the edges of their ruffles are to be seen."

It is said that a distaste for ruffs wan first created so far back as 1613, when a woman named Turner wore them on her trial for the murder by poison of Sir Thomas Overbury. The French revolution of 1789 much influenced British fashion, and the pictur esque cocked hat and ruffles then gave way generally to found hats and small cuffs.

The period of their final disuse can net be easily determined, as men of old fashioned or eccentric habits have worn ruffled shirt fronts within quite recent memory similar to those which, according to Planche's "History of British Costume," originated in the seventeenth century.

No man ever did a designed injury to another, but at the same time he did a greater to himself.

Mis Intellectual and apiritual Awakening Took Place in Canada.

A British subject, an old-time Toronto student, at the head of one of the greatest universities in the United States, was the spectacle presented by Princeton University during the presidency of Dr. Francis L.
Patton. For fourteen years Dr. Patton held that distinguished position and by his brilliant gifts added to its distinction. A year of two ago he resigned his office as head of the university, and the other day he was installed as President of the theological seminary, to whose more congical seminary, to whose more con-genial duties he will now devote him-melf.

canadians are interested in the career of President Patton, and for good reason, says The Globe. He is one of the keenest thinkers, one of the most acute dialecticians on this continent, and he is not slow to confess the debt he owes to his academic career in Toronto.

continent, and he is not slow to confess the debt he owes to his academic career in Toronto.

He was born in Bermuda, and came to Toronto when a lad to continue his education. Knox College, then domiciled in the old gubernatorial residence, Elmsley Villa, where Central Presbyterian Church now stands, was the scene of his educational activities. He is remembered by the students of that day as a rare and restless youth, for whom the average professor could do next to nothing. But there was one men on the staff to whom hundreds owed their intellectual awakening—George Paxton Young. He it was who kindled the spiritual flame in the soul of the youth from Bermuda, and to him

Dr. Patton still pays the homage of a real scholar to a great master. Dr. Patton is an expert in philosophy and theology, and has never been for any long time far from the storm-centre of controversy. While yet a young man he led the attack upon the late Professor David Swing of Chicago, which -resulted in Dr. Swing's withdrawal from the Prespeterian Church and his career as an byterian Church and his career as ar independent preacher in the Central Music Hall. There may be, even within the Church, difference of opinion as to the value of Dr. Patopinion as to the value of Dr. Patton's service to religion or to the Chirch in that controversy. The conflict was that of the poet and the logician. Swing was a poet, whose creed could not be stated in the exact terms of legical formulations; Patton a logician, whose reasoning moved, as along the cold lines of Bessemer steel, from premise to conclusson. Such types of mind never can agree either as to the exact contents or as to the distinctive emphasis of their creeds.

Since 1881 Dr. Patton's chief work has been done at Princeton either in the university or the theological seminary. He was prominent in the celebrated Briggs controversy which celebrated Briggs controversy which separated Union Seminary, New York, from the Presbyterian Church, and, although the noise of controversy has happily been stilled in the Church of which he is an ornament, Dr. Patton has still a great opportunity for the exercise of his unique gifts in safeguarding evangelical Christianity on the one hand from invertebrate pictism, and on the other from bloodless naturalism. He er from bloodless naturalism. He stands for a definite, robust, positive faith, and in him dogmatic evangeli-calism finds one of its chiefest defend-

"NEVER JOIN US."

The Advice of a Prominent United States Divine to Cauada.

Rev. J. A. Rankin, President of he Toronto Methodist Conference, recently said that, in view of recent events, Canada should pause for a while and consider her next steps. After full and mature consideration, the country should press forward undaunted towards the goal her Godinspired ambitions point to.
"I believe," said Mr. Rankin, "that North America will be the stage on which the final scenes in the drama of human life will be en-acted. No one can estimate what proportions Canada will assume in years to come. Immigrants are pour-ing in on us. I hope they will not come too quickly. I believe God has kept locked the doors of this coununtil we can build try until we can build up a proper national character. I was in New York recently, and I heard Dr. Tyler preach. 'er the service I went up and 'hands with the venerable divine. Oh, yes, I know Canada, 'he exclaimed: 'I know commercial Montreal: Ottawa, the centre of legislation, and literary Toronto. And I advise you never iour us my brother.' tion, and literary Toronto. And I advise you, never join us, my brother.' I told him we never would. We have no wish to take over the vast problems the people of the United States must solve, their 10,000,000 of negroes, for instance. Canada has problems of her own, which she should face now. If these problems are not solved now they will have to be a hundred years hence."

Rebert Barr Tells It on Mimself.

Robert Barr, the Canadian novelist, now living in London, tells a good joke at his own expense. Mr. S. R. Crockett is the subject of it. In Mr. Crockett's earlier years, he visited London, and was invited to lunch by a publisher, "of rather peculiar character," who at times imagined he was very poor, and became stringently economical. In Mr. Crockett's presence the publisher was to suggest the Hotel Cecil as the scene of the lunch, whereupon Mr. Barr was to propose they should go to one of the foreign restaurants in Soho, which would be much cheaper. The plot succeeded, but there is one Soho restaurant which is appallingly expensive, and it was there that Mr. Barr engaged a table. When the publisher saw the bill he turned ashen pale, scribbled on a leaf of his notebook, and passed it under the table to Mr. Barr, rquesting him to 'Pass £5 to me under the table, and keep on talking to Crockett so he won't see what you are doing." Mr. Barr happened to have £5, and passed it. He thought at the time it was a good joke on the host, but now he has his "doubts," as the £5 has never been refunded.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals, to be considered an experiment of unknown value.

Coughs, Colds and Croup.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choked-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful cough.

Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

Mrs. Engene lier, King Street, Truro, N.S., states:—"From an infant one of my children was troubled with bro-chitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help him and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis we used it, and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief.

"I was troubled a great deal from sick headaches caused by indigestion, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have great faith in Dr. Chase's Remedies and can recommend them to others."

Mr. Jno. Pollard, Echo Bay. Ont., writes:—
"I was troubled last winter with a very had cold, which was beginning to settle on my lungs. I was so hoarse that I could scarcely speak, had a nasty hacking cough which I could not get rid of, and felt so sick at times that I did not know what to do. I had tried many things without obtaining relief, when a friend advised me to use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. I am happy to say that one bottle of this medicine cured me and I ca | heartily recommend it to any one suffering from a severe cold."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

Is sold by all dealers at the advertised price of 25 cents a bottle, family size, three times as much, 60 cents. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author, are on every bottle of his remedies.

Their costume for high and holy days is somewhat extraordinary. They wear skirts of satin or silk, heavily lace trimmed, and with short sleeved waists which may or may not be of the same material. The headdress is the principal feature, being an immense affair of accordion plaiting stiffly laundered. It is usually white and comes nearest in Angus MacMillan Tells Them How His Stomach Troubles Vanished When he used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many aged people to-day are having their declining years darkened by pains and aches and depression they wrongly charge up to their weight of years when, in fact, it is Dyspepsia that is troubling them. To these Angus MacMillan of Laggan, Glengarry Co. Ont., sends the following message:

"I am over eighty years of age. I suffered with Dyspepsia for more than twenty years back and never met with anything to cure me till I commenced using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. After taking them for two days all pain and restlessness left me entirely. I continued taking them and was soon feeling like a new man."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the stomach troubles of old and young alike. A few of them carried in your pocket and one or two taken after eating is a safeguard against all forms of Indigestion.

To Save the Drowning. Many a swimmer stops short before learning how to approach a drowning person, but he should add a knowledge of this as of the proper means of arti-ficial respiration before he can be ac-counted a master of the art. So says the Lendon Chronicle, and adds: "The wimmer in difficulties may always be assisted, even by a tyro, provided he be himself a strong enough swimmer, but the bather who cannot swim at all or who has entirely lost his presence of mind should always be approached from behind and seized by the arms. Then by swimming on the back it is easy to tow him to safety. Further, the bather in difficulties should remember that throwing the arms out of the water tends to sink the whole body, the air being a poor supporting medium for their weight."

that is saving a great deal. PRESENT TO PRINCIPAL.

During the evening several presentations were made, chief among which was the presentation of a handseme pair of opera glasses to Miss Esther Abram, the principal of McKeough School. The gift was from the Entrance, class of 1902-03. The address was read by Clarence Higley and the presentation was made by Miss Maude Banning. Abram fittingly and feelingly thanked the donors and wished them every success. She also, on behalf of the teachers and pupils of McKeough School, thanked the parents and training of the chorusas, semi-

The managers of the school were so pleased with the production and, realizing that the teachers and pupilsmust be tired, they acted on the suggestion of Trustee George Heyward, and gave the school a holiday to-day. That the move was popular with the pupils was easily apparent.

Miss Abram. the principal of the school, is to be specially congratulated fon the success of last evening's performance and the teachers all asknowledged that it was her wise counsel and skilled management that secured such gratifying results from the staged production. Then, add to this, the fact that the director of McKeought School Kindergarten completely revised and re-arranged the original operetta and some idea may be gained of the ability of ithis lady. No small part of ler task was the conducting of the operetta last evening. She showed that as a leader she has brilliant power and her natural gifts must be off a high order. Her style is rather free from the restraint to often put on in feminine mastery of the baton. She leads with an enthusiasam, not to say abandon, which shows that her very soul is in fler thusseasm, not to say abandon, which shows that her very soul is in her work. MINERS NOT CONVERTED. Straight Denial by President of Scottish Union

London, Nov. 13.+ Mr. Robert Smillie, President of the Scotch Miners' Association, interviewed in London yesterday, said the claim that the Scottish miners were Chamberlain converts was too preposterous for words. Mr. Joseph Arch, M.P., founder of the Agricultural Union, writing on his birthday a message to laborers, says: "This is my 77th birthday. Pray do not be deluded by Mr. Chamberlain's protection scheme or Premier Balfour's retaliation dodge. Mr. Chamberlain's scheme is a rich man's scheme, not a poor man's."

HON. MR. FOSTER'S WORD.

Poreigner, Not Consumer, Pays for Protection.

London, Nov. 13 .- Hon. Mr. Fos ter, speaking at Sunderland last night, declared that the tariff question must be settled, not by the opinions of the dead, but in a practical, common-sense fashion by the empire's workingmen. "Night and day a tariff war against Great Britain wages ceaselessly. Every country in Europe has industrial spies at work in Britain. The colonies are looking forward to everlasting life, and if Britain heeds their call that will be attained. Do not run away with the

There is a young cock who can crow, if need be, just as lustily. After all she has lost by the Alaska award Canada still possesses 100,000 more acres than the United States. While Minister of Finance for Canada I made one tariff and revised two, and I give my word that if Britain adopts protection the foreigner, and not the consumer, will pay."

Sir Edward Grey, speaking at West Bromwich last night, said:—"We are not alone in trade depression. Free trade has been a greater bulwark of British shipping than all the subsidies of foreign Governments. Remember that Canada has not asked us to abandon our free trade policy, and in Australia the vast body of public opinion is against it. Protection arguments have been refuted over and over again; last, but not least, by two young dandies who have escaped safely from the lion's den, and have goon back to London to support Premier Balfour just so long as he does not formally promulgate his fiscal policy."

Mr. Moore Bayles, Chairman of the Cecil-Churchill Lecting, says the meeting was a striking triumph for free speech. The Use of Gas Coke for Fuel

A great many people do not know the advantage of using gas coke as fuel in furnaces, ranges, coal stoves, or, in fact, in any apparatus that will use coal as fuel. The following letter will give the experience of one of Chetheman prominent business mon Chatham's prominent business men, who has made a test of the value of Coke as compared with Coal. Chatham, Oct., 31, 1903.
The Chatham Gas Company, Limited, City:

Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the advantages of using Gas Coke as a heating fuel. I have used it for the past two seasons in my hot water furnace at the house, and find it very economical, and at the same time easy to regulate.

I may say that last winter I made a test of one ton of coal at $7.00 per ton and the same money's worth of coke and found that the $7 worth of.
coke lasted fully one-third longer.
May say that the weather conditions were fully as severe, if not more so, during the time I used the coke.

Yours sincarely,

DEATH OF LECKY.

Brief Sketch of the Great Misterias and Outline of Some of

The Right Hon. William E. H. Lecky, the historian, died in London, England, on the 22nd October, 1903. Mr. Lecky had achieved enviable distinction as an historian, whose works are not merely meritorious but popular. His life was devoted to research exclusively until he was elected, to the British House of Commons in 1895 to represent Dublin University, from which he had graduated as Bachelor of Arts in 1859 and Master of Arts in 1863. Though he had always been a Liberal in politics, he joined the Unionist revolt against Mr. Gladstone's home rule bill in 1886. He was still attached to the party led by the Duke of Devonshire, but he never became an important or influential politician. His first or inhuential politician. His instagreat work was "A History of the Rise and Progress of Rationalism in Europe," published in 1865 and frequently republished since. This was followed in 1869 by "A History of followed in 1869 by "A History of European Morals from Augustus to Charlemagne." Both of these works have appealed strongly to the learned of all countries and have been translated into many languages. His most monumental undertaking was "A History of England in the Eighteenth Century," the publication of which, in eight volumes, extended from 1878 to 1890. Though a Liberal-Unionist in politics Mr. Lecky, had al-Unionist in politics Mr. Lecky had always shown himself in sympathy with Ireland, his native country. He published anonymously as early as 1861 a volume on the leaders of pub-lic opinion in that country, and it was sufficiently appreciated to warrant its re-publication under his own name in 1872. In his outlook over human civilization, which he had regarded from so many sides, Mr. Lecky was often pessimistic, though not unphilosophical, and his tolerant spirit and conscientious devotion to truth give his works an enduring value. He was born in Dublin in value. He was born in Dublin in 1838, and was therefore only sixty-five at his too early death.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

Map Showing the Understanding of the New Line by the United States Department Officials,

The accompanying map, republished from The New York Tribune, was published by that paper as showing the understanding of the United States State Department officials regarding the Alaska boundary line agreed upon by a majority of the recent commission. The Tribune, which is regarded as the organ of the present United States Administration, sent United States Administration, says that the official view is that apparently the United States loses about one-sixth of the territory claimed. The Philadelphia Inquirer, in an article on the same subject, says that the village of Bennett, morth of the Lynn Canal, where a United States postoffice has been established, goes to Canada. With The Tribune, The Inquirer says that the territory hitherto claimed by the Americans, and now conceded to be Canadian, is thought to be worthless, but adds, "there may be another Klondike lurking somewhere there." Those who have felt so confident that Canada had no case will find food for thought in a study of the result indicated, while to many the exact inland boundary of the claim put forward by the United States and the extent of disputed territory actually secured to Canada by the commissioners' report may be a surprise. north of the Lynn Canal, where Fish That Cannot Swim.

THE NEW ALASKA BOUNDARY.

More than one species of fish is met with by naturalists which can-not swim. The strangest of all, per-haps, is the maltha, a Brazilian fish, haps, is the maltha, a Brazilian fish, whose organs of locomotion only enable it to crawl or walk or hop after the manner of a toad, to which animal this fish bears some resemblance. It is provided with a long, upturned snout. The anterior—pectoral—fins of the maltha, which are quite stiful, are not capable of acting on the water, but can only move backwards and forwards. Both these and the ventral and anal fins are very different fishes and could not serve for swimming at all. Other examples of non-wimming fishes include the sea-horse, another most peculiarly-shaped inhabitant of the sea which resembles the knight in a set of chessmen, and the starfish.

GURE SICK HEADACHE.

Who Are "They?" "They say; what say they? Let them say," said Bishop Berkeley. Who are "they" thus so boldly apostrophized? We may say with one of the fathers. "I know when you do not ask me," but how difficult it is to get near-er! We all have these mysterious "they" on our lips, and yet we cannot define them. Yet, though we cannot define "they," partly because there are so many of them and partly because none of the great elemental things like time, love, death and sleep are capable of definition, we can still know and say a great deal about "they." "They" in Dolly Winthrop's mouth meant Providence. "I wouldn't speak ill o' this world," she was accustomed to say, "seeing them as put us in it knows In her sense it is of course rarely used, though the slang expression "as good as they make 'em" re-calls it. Still, "they" has generally a slightly mysterious significance. When we say it we allude to some power we cannot define or to the incomprehensible element in some set of people .-

Chalking Sunday. In the west of Ireland the majority of marriages take place between Christ mas and Lent—a great number of them on Shrove Tuesday. In the county of Limerick it is customary on the first Sunday in Lent for the bachelors and spinsters who have allowed the festival to pass without pairing to mark each other on the back with a piece of chalk or with a chalked stick. The marks of distinction are not rigidly confined to eligible parties, but are often bestowed upon boys and girls without regard to their original significance.

It is asserted that the custom pre-vails in other agricultural districts in Ireland, that the chalking mostly goes on when the people are going to or from church and that in towns where it is carried on to a very great extent the footpaths are white at night with powdered chalk.-London Telegraph.

Mr. Jacob Jamieson, Jamieson Bros., the well-known Contractors and Builders, Welland, Ont., tells of how he was cured; "For fourteen years I was afflicted with kidney trouble which increased in severity re last five years. My most serious attack was four years ago, when I was completely incapacitated. I had terrible pains across my back, floating specks before my eyes and was in almost constant torment. I could not sit or stand with ease and was a wreck in health, having no appetite and lost greatly in flesh. I had taken medicine from five different doctors and alsonumerous other preparations to no purpose. I finally began to take Doan's Kidney Pills and before I had taken five boxes the trouble left me and I now feel better than I have for twenty years. Those who know me know how I was afflicted and say it is almost impossible to believe that I have been cured, yet they know it is so. I have passed the meridian of life but I feel that I have taken on the rosy hue of boyhood."

to Which They May Go and

There are scores of little nations with which the United States has no treaties at all. Abyssinia is one, and were an American fugitive to reach Addis Ababa he might remain there the rest of his life without fear of molestation. In the West Indies are two republics In the West Indies are two republics in which the American evil doer is al-most as securely safe. One is Haitl, and the other is Santo Domingo. Both are usually so torn by revolutions that the existing government is almost un-recognizable. In consequence both are favorite resorts for American adven-turers and fugitives of the more enterprising sort. One American who left New Orleans inconspicuously because of a little difference with the law rose to high rank in the Haitian army and was eventually killed in a fight with revolutionists on the Dominican bor-The little republic of San Marino, in the south of Europe, is another secure stronghold for American fugitives, but it is so small that the average evil doer does not seek it out for fear that he may toss in his sleep and roll over its frontier into Spain. And far to the eastward there is Sarawak, in the East Indies, where an Englishman holds forth as absolute monarch and every stray soldier of fortune is wel-

Were he to be a daring knave, an American fugitive might find safety, at least from American justice, in a dozen or more of the queer nations of central Asia, though it is more than likely that the natives would soon finish him. In Afghanistan the ameer would be glad to see him, and in Baluchistan the rulers of the state would treat him as a distinguished visitor. In Tibet prop-er he would be under the eye of the Chinese authorities, but outwardly Tibet is not Chinese territory, and the treaties with China do not affect it.

High up on the central Asian table-land are perched Kafristan and Turkestan, neither of which recognizes even the existence of the United States. Southeast of Arabia is the independent kingdom of Oman, and toward the north are Bokhara and Khiva, vassals of Russia, but still not affected by Russian treaties. And in Africa there is the vast expanse of the Kongo Free State, unhealthy, maybe, but still safe. In the west are Borum and Waday, independent kingdoms, and Kanem and Bogirmi, no man's lands.

The Bible Brick.

E. G. Acheson of Niagara Falls, while he was searching for the best clay to make crucibles, read the statements in the fifth chapter of Exodus about the use of straw and stubble in the manufacture of ancient Egyptian bricks. He procured some straw, had it boiled and mixed the dark red liquid thus obtained with clay. He found that the plas-ticity was greatly increased. Investiga-tion showed that tanner was the active agent, and when he treated other clay with a solution of tannin in water he obtained surprising results. The obtained surprising results. The strength and plasticity of the clay are increased, and the tendency to shrink and warp is greatly reduced. In this process sun drying is far superior to burning, and in ten days the clay is better tempered than in months or even years by the old process.

Pacific Coast Lumber. Unofficial estimates put the annual cut of lumber and shingles of the three Pacific states at 4,600,000,000 feet, of which California supplies 860,-000,000 feet, Oregon 740,000,000 feet and Washington 2,300,000,000 feet. At this rate it is calculated that the for-ests of the Pacific coast will be exhausted in forty years. Shipments by water alone at Seattle were 564,472,801 feet of lumber in 1902 and 506,964,749 feet in 1901. In 1902 rail shipments to the interior amounted to 562,175,000 feet and in 1901 to 364,530,000 feet Portland, Ore., shows a fraffic toward the interior by rail ranking next to Seattle in importance. In the calendar year 1900 11,986 cars of lumber were shipped from that port, 13,517 in 1901 and 15,876 cars in 1902.

Cotton From Flax and Hemp.
The Revue Generale des Questions Economiques states that a Russian en-gineer, M. Scheveline, has discovered a process by which the fiber of flax and hemp can be transformed into a substance similar to cotton by being treated with the residuum of naphtha. This causes the fiber to decompose and to acquire the appearance and qualities of cotton. This substance can then be worked with cotton spinning machin-ery, and the manufactured article has all the qualities of cotton tissues. No preparation of the flax is necessary. The plant can be used just as it is pulled out of the ground. The inventor does not intend taking out a patent for his discovery.

Preserving Cork Trees.
So much cork is now used in the manufacture of linoleum and in shipmanufacture of linoleum and in ship-building that the protection of cork trees has become a matter of prime importance. Italy is taking steps to this end in Sicily and Sardinia, where there are large cork forests, those of Calabria having been nearly destreyed in the making of charcoal. It is said that Spain is showing a like interest in protecting these trees, as the manufacture of corks is a large industry there. Only a few years ago the exportation of wine bottle corks from that country amounted to about $6,000,000 annually.

JOS. A. TILT,

A SANITARY OASIS.

Rousing at Batterson One of the Ideals of John Burn's Childhood-Description of the Latchmere Dwellings.

The ceremony of opening the Latchmere estate in Battersea, which consists of two, three, four, and five-roomed tenements, erected by the local borough council for the hous-ing of the working classes, was per-formed recently by Mr. John Burns, M.P. The inauguration proceedings were presided over by Mr. A. W. Raynor (the Mayor of Battersea), and among others present were Lord Monkswell (chairman of the London County Council), the Earl of Car-rington, and the members of the borough council. Mr. Burns said he had the proud satisfaction of seeing realized in bricks and mortar one of the ideals of his early days. In his salad days he had had the temerity to declare that if only this Latchmere estate were covered with healthy dwellings it would be converted into a sanitary oasis in a desert of jerry-built houses. Here to-day, in these handsome tenements, with their baths, their gymnasium, and their recreation-ground, which he now de-clared ready for occupation, was the oasis, and there (pointing in the direction of Battersea Park road) was the desert of jerry-built houses. By supplying each of these tenements with a bath, the Borough Council, the first London municipality to create such a colony, had done their best to remove the taunt which de-scribed the working-classes as the unwashed, and by refusing to allow either beer-shop or off-license on the estate they were determined to nullify that other taunt that they were more drunken than they ought to be. Mr. Burns then formally declared the new houses open.

There are three types of houses, with three, four, and five rooms respectively. The height of all rooms is 8ft. 9in. Each tenement has its separate entrance and back garden. The living rooms are fitted with combined food cupboard and dresser, and a special feature in the kitchen, or living room, and the scullery bath-room is a combined kitchen range, cooper, and bath. Electricity is everywhere available on the penny-in-the-slot system. When finished there will be 173 houses for 315 families. Their total cost will be £105,603, and the rents range from families. Their total cost will be £105,603, and the rents range from 7s. 6d. to 11s. 6d. a week.

Thes.C. O'Rourke  A Wonder of Precocity.

Christian Heinecker was born at Lu-beck on the 6th of February, 1721. When only ten months old he could repeat every word spoken to him. At twelve months of age he had memorized all the principal events in the Pentateuch. Before he had finished his second year of existence he had learned all the historical parts of both the Old and the New Testament. At the age of three he could reply correctly to all questions put to him regarding universal history and geography, and in the same year he learned to speak both Latin and French.

In his fourth year he employed his time in studying religions, especially the history of the Christian church. was not only able to glibly repeat all that he had read, but was also able to reason with considerable of judgment and to give his own opinion of things in general. The king of Denmark wished to see this wonderful child, so he was taken to Copenhagen. After his return to Lubeck he learned to write and was beginning on the study of music and mathematics; but, his constitution being very weak, he took down and died on June 27, 1725, aged four years, four months and twenty-one days. What a wonderful record for such a short life!

Buttered Locks.

In Abyssinia one method of doing the hair that is adopted by warriors is to stroll into the market place, buy s pound of butter and, putting it upon the top of the hair, stand still while the sun arranges things. When the hair is thus dressed with melted butter the Abyssinian knows that fate cannot or will not touch him. He is a picture of well dressed elegance done in oils.

Another style is to tress the hair, and every tress means something. A young warrior with a head of hair untre is of no account. He has not yet killed a man. When, however, he has done so all his hair is shaved off except enough to make one tress, which is of the same signification as a notch on pistol stock. After that every man he kills entitles him to add another tress until as a conquering hero of 100 tresss he is a formidable man to try conclusions with.

Crinoline had its origin in a woven fabric composed of hair and linen (flax) warp; hence the name. This fabric was first used for shoes, then for bonnets, the word being coined in 1830. As this article was costly and did not extend the dress to the desired bulk light steel hoops were fitted with tape upon the bird cage principle. So popular was the crinoline in 1862 that the rolling of the steel developed a great trade in Sheffield, and one firm alone averaged an output of from ten to fif teen tons a week. Several deaths oc-curring by fire through the use of crinoline killed the fashion, but Dr. Richardson in his "Field of Diseases" gives an instance of a lady escaping from the effects of being struck by lightning by the hoops acting as conductors.

"You are charging me $7 a week for board and lodging, Mrs. Irons," said the gray haired person of the name of "May I ask how you would itemize it? What part of it is for board?" "Five dollars," replied the landlady.

"And $2 for my room?" "Yes."

"Well, if you don't mind, Mrs. Irons," he said, proceeding to square up for another week, "we'll consider hereafter that I'm paying $5 for lodging and It will seem more as if I were getting the worth of my money.

Birds That Lay Four Eggs

The spotted sandpiper and killdeer plover and most of the other snipe and plover lay four eggs at a clutch. The eggs are arranged in the nest or on the bare ground with their small ends together, and as they are pyriform in shape they join in to perfection. The eggs of the snipe and plover groups of space by this arrangement undoubtedly answers a purpose.

Why They Parted.

"Yis," said Mrs. Clancy, "Pat and I have parted foriver. I went to the hospital to ax after him. I want to see me husband," sez I—"the man that got blowed up." Yez can't see him," sez the docthor; 'he's under the infloored ence of Ann Estheticks.' 'I don't know the lady,' sez I, mighty dignified loike, but if me lawful wedded husband kin act loike that when he's at dith's door I'll have a divorce from him."

DISDRDER IN CHICAGO.

THE STREET CAR STRIKE LEADS TO TROUBLE.

pathizers and Strikers Attack Non-union Men-Three Thousand Men Have Quit Work.

Chicago, Nov. 13.-Constant scenes of disorder over a district of approxi mately fifty square miles resulted from the inauguration of a strike on the Chicago City Railway, one of the two principal local surface com panies. All along the lines, wherever cars were started, strike sympathizers made desperate onslaughts on the crews. The tie-up through the south side to the business district where the side to the business district where the company operates was complete. A number of cars were wrecked, and that no person was killed was no fault of the rioters. One man had his back broken, and the first shot of the strike was fired at Wentworth avenue and West 69th street, where a mob of several hundred persons tried to hold up a train. Many persons, chiefly nonunion car men, were injured by flying stones or splintered glass. Two women were among those hurt. Excepting a few dozen passengers, who had to flee from the cars, 300,000 daily patrons of the company were forced to all sorts of vehicles to get down town and back. With faces and hands bleeding from the attacks of the strikers, motormen, gripmen and conductors who tried to run trains returned to the barns and refused to go out again unless the trains bore platoons of police or with patrol waggons alongside. Under orders from Mayor Harrison, whose announced purpose was to preserve an impartial attitude, the police confined their efforts to clearing blockades and crowds from the streets.

The strike is the outgrowth of persistent efforts for increased wages and exclusion of non-union employees. About 3,000 men, practically the entire force of the company's wage-earners, are out. The company's stationary firemen, to whom the trainmen looked for assistance, declined to strike, although they have demanded higher wages. The firemen have offered their company operates was complete. A YOUNG WOMEN ARRESTED. Detectives Follow Up Robbery of Wm. Lescombe.

Toronto, Nov. 13. - Two young women were arrested yesterday by Detective Forrest in connection with the brutal assault and robbery of William Liscombe of Boyne P. O. on Monday night. They are Jessie O. on Monday night. They are Jessie Meffen, alias Maggie Price, and Bessie Lorraine, both of the east end. Liscombe was taken for a drive by two women and two men, who robbed him of $240 and left him lying almost unconscious on the Kingston road. Detectives Forrest and Slemin headed the vehicle off on King street east, but the carriage was empty. Thos. Graham, the driver, would volunteer so information regarding the affair and he was locked up. Graham is now in jail on remand. The men concerned in the case are unknown to the police.

ATTACKS COLDWIN SMITH.

VIGOROUS ONSLAUGHT BY THE MORNING POST.

British Free Traders Regard His Support as Good Omen, but The Post

London, Nov. 13 .- The Morning Post makes an onslaught upon Mr. Goldwin Smith's recent article in The Monthly Review entitled "Canada, the Empire, and Mr. Chamberlain." The Post says it is well worth studying, if only because a more amazing tissue of misapprehensions was never put together by an inhabitant of a British independency. The separations of the Provinces, which he refers to are only half truths. Every Canadian knows that more traffic passes through the Soo Canal in one year than through the Suez Canal, and that the waves of geological uplift between the prairie and the coast are full of prosperous mining towns. It is pitiful to think that a life-long student of the world's history is bringing himself to regard the empire as a fortuitous concourse of atoms. It is impossible to spend a day on Canadian soil without becoming conscious that Canadians of all parties regard Mr. Chamberlain as the statesman for the age; still, Mr. Goldwin Smith would have us believe that Canada would favor a renewal of commercial reciprocity with the United States. The free traders of England only because a more amazing tissue commercial reciprocity with the United States. The free traders of England refuse to see that Canadian Liberals, having under their eyes the example of American prosperity, have long since abandoned their belief in the dogmas of the Cobden Club. That Mr. Goldwin Smith is with them they regard as a good omen, but he is always on the losing side.

H. W. SOUTHAM KILLED.

A Well-known Londoner Falls Under a Train.

London, Ont., Nov. 13 .- A terrible death overtook Harold W. Southam in the Grand Trunk yard here shortly before 8 o'clock last evening. He in tended leaving for Detroit on business, but as he missed his train he decided to take the Sarnia train and go by way of the tunnel. This latter train was just pulling out of the station when he ran to board it, and in attempting to do so he missed his footing and fell under the wheels. He was carried about 50 yards before the train was stopped, and his body horribly mangled, portions being scattered all over that distance.

Decoased was the eldest son of Mr. Richard Southam of the Southam Printing Company, of which he was a member, and a nephew of Wm. Southam of The Hamilton Spectator. He was about 30 years of age and most popular, particularly in athletic circles. A wife and two children survive him. but as he missed his train he decided SMASHED THE SALOONS. The Action of the Citizens of Gainsville, Ga.

New York, Nov. 13 .- The Times has the following from Gainesville, Ga .: On the ringing of the fire bell this afternoon at 3 o'clock 400 citizens, armed with axes, gathered at the city hall, as previously arranged, and proceeded to smash the "blind tigers." and other notorious resorts of the city. After completing their work of demolition the members of the mob, through their leaders, served notice on the proprie-tors of the liquor joints and other reseaders, served notice on the proprietors of the liquor joints and other resorts that they must leave the county in ten days, and that no attempt to reopen their places will be tolerated. The committee of citizens was comprised of the best people of the city, and was headed by the Rev. J. W. Wynne, pastor of the First Baptist Church. A mass meeting was held after the alleged violators of the law had been visited, at which a large sum was raised to be used in the prosecution of any person who shall attempt to reopen one of the closed resorts. There has been a great deal of trouble here recently, in which liquor has played a large part, affd, as this county is dry, the illegal sale was regarded as the chief of the evils. A few weeks ago the Rev. C. F. Petty had a duel with C. C. Lipscomb as a result of an article charging Lipscomb with running a "blind tiger."

Young Bailey had come to the gin with several waggon loads of cotton sent by his father, and in some manner fell into the press without being noticed. The tragedy was only discovered by a shoe heel seen protruding when a bale was removed from the press. The lad was crushed beyond recognition, but his clothing made the identification complete.
