

ENTOMBED MEN'S FATE

In Illinois Mine May Not be Known Till To-Night.

Women Organize to Help and Chicago Miners Arrive.

Hero Who Stayed Below to Help the Other Men.

Cherry, Ills., Nov. 15.—Before night-fall, it seems probable the fate of the 200 men entombed in the St. Paul mine will be known. This morning it was the plan of the state mining officials, who have taken charge of the mine since the fire on Saturday last, to raise the cover of the hoisting shaft and lower a cage of rescuers to the third vein, where, if alive, the men now 400 feet beneath the surface are waiting. Under the direction of James Taylor, state mine inspector, and Mr. Newsam, the regular cage will be lowered to-day. It fits the shaft like a piston and the persons it will carry can step from it into any gallery entrance.

Mrs. Fanny Buck, wife of J. P. Buck, chief clerk of the mine, has organized the women of the little town of Cherry into a society to extend relief and comfort to those needing it. There is no destination. A party of nurses from Chicago, who arrived last night, today turned into comforters of the families bereft. Throughout the little hamlet are scattered cottages in various stages of completion. Families of men entombed are living in the small houses, many still needing glass for all the windows. It seems likely that many of the cottages never will be finished. Undertakers from nearby towns have been notified to be in readiness, it is said, for the removal of the numerous bodies.

President Earling, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R., will share the burial expenses of the more needy families, at least, and offers of aid have come from the more prosperous inhabitants of Cherry. The Knights of Pythias lodge, the most important organization in the town, had a membership of 75 last week. To-day there are only six members; the rest are in the mine, either dead or dying.

From the miners who were rescued it was learned that another act of heroism was performed by one of the men in the shaft below, a man who is in all probability dead at the present time. He was Walter Waite, an assistant foreman in the second vein.

"When we got to the elevator the first time," said Isaac Smith, one of the men who was fortunate enough to reach the surface in the first cage load, "Waite was standing near. He refused to come up in that load, but said he would stay down and give the other boys a chance. I know Flood tried to pull him into the cage, but he refused to come.

"Let me stay where I am," said he. "There are a lot of other fellows who ought to get out of here. Hurry up that cage and get them. I'll try to do what I can down here. Maybe it ain't as bad as it seems."

"When I asked about him, after the second load had come up, no one knew anything about him. It looks like if he was overcome by smoke and died down in the shaft, he did not have to stay, because he could have climbed in to the cage the first time, if he had wanted to.

Several of the rescuing party returned from the second vein at 9:30 this morning. They reported that the mine is caving in in several places. The mine still is on fire and it is now known that more than 200 miners are inside. None of the entombed miners were near the landing and it is impossible as yet to explore more than a few feet beyond the shaft entrance.

PRETTY EVENT

Marriage of Harry A. Wright and Miss Beatty.

The nuptials of Florence May, youngest daughter of Mrs. Jane Beatty, 189 Jackson street east, and Harry A. Wright, assistant manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Company branch in this city, were quietly solemnized at 2 o'clock this afternoon, both the bride and groom being unattended.

Rev. P. W. Philpott, pastor of Gospel Tabernacle, performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives only. The fair bride was gowned in amethyst broadcloth, princess style, and a black picture hat with large plumes. She also wore a handsome set of Persian lamb furs, the gift of the groom.

As soon as the final words had been spoken the happy couple left for the C. P. R. to take the 3:15 p. m. train for Toronto and eastern points. On their return a large reception will be tendered to them at their new residence on the mountain top. The presents received by the bride were unusually numerous and attractive.

ACTED LIKE HIGH FLYERS.

Two So-Called Hamilton Men Arrested in Buffalo.

Were in Picture Frame Business Here a Short Time.

Are Charged With Fraud by Buffalo Hotelkeeper.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Deciding to live well, while able to do so, William Schofield and Thomas Sibbory, who say that until they came here last Friday, they conducted a picture framing store in Hamilton, Ont., were arrested last night on complaint of the Statler Hotel, one of the leading hotels in this city.

The Hamiltonians arrived here on Friday night, called a taxicab, drove to the hotel and, it is alleged, even had the cab hire charged up to their room there. They engaged the best apartments in the house and ran up a bar bill. The climax came last night when, according to the hotel proprietors, they topped off a day of luxury with an eight dollar dinner, a quart of wine and two fifty-cent cigars. The head waiter hesitated when told to charge the bill to the room. The manager was called and made very pointed inquiries. The Hamiltonians explained that they could not settle their bills at once, but would do so as soon as they received cheques from home. The police were called and at police headquarters neither of the men was found to have a cent when searched. Sibbory told the police that he was a graduate of Dublin University, but that he and his friend had lived in Hamilton for a considerable time, until they went broke in their business enterprise a few days ago. They had expected to get good positions of some kind here. The charge of defrauding a hotel keeper was placed against each. They will be tried in police court.

Schofield was interested in a picture store, 146 James street north, and last Friday he left this city for Buffalo. Some months ago he came here from Detroit and since his arrival has been engaged in several ventures. One of his first jobs was canvassing for a local paper. Those who know him intimately say he has decided sporty tendencies, and some are mourning over the fact that they loaned him money at various times. Last week he took out an auctioneer's license, for which he paid the required $40. He used his license but a short time in the picture store on James street, where an auction sale has been conducted for some time past.

Less than a week ago telephone orders were received at the Times and other newspaper offices from 146 James street north for a lot of advertising. Enquiries elicited such information that the orders were declined.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE LORD AND LADY MINTO.

Two Bombs Thrown at Them at Ahmedabad--Both Were Unhurt--Draagoon's Heroism--Man Loses a Hand.

Ahmedabad, British India, Nov. 14.—Lord Minto, the Viceroy of India, and Lady Minto had a narrow escape yesterday from being killed by bombs. They were driving through one of the streets when, without warning, two bombs were thrown at their carriage. A draagoon, who was riding alongside, spurred forward and with outstretched sabre intercepted the first bomb, hurling it some distance away into a sand heap. The second bomb struck the Viceroy's jemidar, a native lieutenant, who was holding an umbrella over Lady Minto, and fell harmlessly to the ground.

Neither bomb exploded, as the soft sand acted as a buffer. On examination they were found to contain picric acid. Just prior to this, as the carriage passed through one of the streets, a bomb exploded some little distance away. Police and others, attracted by the explosion, ran up and found a man on the ground with his hand blown off. He proved to be an innocent bystander. The bombthrowers made their escape in the excitement, and as yet no arrests have been made.

Attempts have been made in India during the last year or two against the lives of Lord Minto, Lord Kitchener, Sir Andrew Fraser, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and many other officials.

REFORM IN INDIA.

Natives to Have a Share in Legislation of Country.

Simla, British India, Nov. 15.—The plan for the reform of the British administration of India, which was outlined by Lord Morley, Secretary of State for India, in the House of Lords last December, and which is designed to give India an embryo constitution admitting the natives to an independent share in the legislation of the country, came into effect to-day. Thus begins a new and striking epoch in the history of British rule in India.

For more than three years the Imperial Government, and the Indian administration have wrestled with the details of the plan recently consummated. Under the programme adopted, all religious and special interests may elect representatives to the Viceroy's and provincial councils, but in view of recent anarchist outbreaks a safeguard is provided in a qualification which empowers the imperial and provincial governments to declare ineligible those persons whose election is considered contrary to public interest. The Viceroy's Council in the future will have 370 members instead of 126, as formerly, of whom a total of 135 will be elected as against 39 elected heretofore. The functions of the Council will be considerably enlarged, and it will be enabled to take an active part in the making of the budget and all legislation. The new councils will assemble in January.

Did you write that letter to the old folks I spoke about the other evening?

Would it be possible for the Public Library Board to get a few Italian, Polish and Armenian newspapers for the benefit of the foreigners within our gates? That might help to solve the foreign population problem.

I was told the other day that Hamilton was the best lighted city on the continent. I presume they did not include the business section. For it isn't well lighted.

I suppose Mr. Sealey's intention is to utilize the Dundas Canal in his new canal scheme.

There is this to be said about the pay-as-you-enter cars. The conductors won't be so apt to ask you for a second fare.

It's hard to be content with an aldermanship when a controllership may be within your grasp.

Bedford is Discharged

London, Nov. 15.—Edward William Bedford, the Canadian, who was arrested here last month upon his own confession that he had murdered Ethel Kirnair, a young woman, at Hamilton, Ont., in February last, was discharged when arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court to-day.

Police investigation failed to substantiate his confession, which the prisoner finally admitted to be false.

GLOBE EDITOR

May be Liberal Candidate in North Middlesex.

(Special Wire to the Times.) London, Ont., Nov. 15.—Rev. J. A. Macdonald, of Toronto, will, it is stated here, be nominated as the Liberal candidate in North Middlesex to-morrow. Mr. Macdonald stated to-day he would decline to say whether he would run or not till the nomination meeting to-morrow. He said he had been asked to run by people in Toronto, but not as yet formally by electors of North Middlesex. Dugald Gillies, of Ailsa Craig, a prominent lumberman, will also be nominated, and the farmers will put up Daniel Campbell, Reeve of Cadellade, in all probability.

NEGLECT OF THE TEETH.

Board of Education May Open Dental Parlor For Children.

City Engineer Got Pavement Pointers at Little Rock.

City Must Move Quickly in the Welland Canal Matter.

The neglect of the teeth of public school children will probably result in the Board of Education opening a dental parlor, where the pupils may have their teeth attended to at a nominal charge. The Hamilton Dental Association has already discussed the matter, and it is understood that the dentists have generously offered to provide the instrumental and open a central office. The idea of making a nominal charge is to remove the objection many people have to charity. It is thought that if ten or fifteen cents a filling was charged many parents who object to anything favoring of charity would permit their children to have their teeth fixed. The Internal Management Committee of the board will deal with the matter shortly.

City Engineer Macallum and Secretary Brunen, of the Board of Works, who have been away for the past week attending the American Municipal Union convention in Little Rock, Ark., returned home yesterday. They picked up a lot of valuable information, particularly about pavements, in which Hamilton is very much interested at present. At the convention experiments were conducted with a new kind of wood block, which was soaked in water for three days without expanding the fraction of an inch. As a lot of blocks will be used here next year in connection with the street railway reconstruction work, Mr. Macallum will get further information. He was also much impressed with the new "rubber" pavement used in Chicago. It is dustless and is said to wear much longer than the ordinary asphalt or macadam. Another advantage is that it never becomes slippery. Mr. Macallum was elected to the executive committee of the association. Hamilton would have probably landed the convention next year had the invitation arrived earlier. The next meeting will be held in Erie, Pa.

Hamilton has not much time to spare if it wants to impress the Government with its claim to have the new Welland Canal built on the old Grand River survey, which would make the bay with its landlocked harbor the terminal. Mayor McLaren will call a meeting of the chairman of the various committees this week. Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, has arranged to meet the delegation on the question of a deeper Welland Canal on Wednesday, November 24, in Ottawa. A letter to this effect has been received from Hon. Mr. Graham by Mr. Joseph E. Thompson, Commissioner of Industries for Toronto, and secretary of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Improvement Association, fixing the date of the conference for November 24. The delegation, which will urge on the Government the importance of improving the waterways of Ontario, will be comprised of representatives of municipalities, Boards of Trade, Marine Associations and shipping industries.

City Engineer Macallum said this morning that the sanducker will likely be fixed up next spring and used for filling in behind the revetment wall and for private work. He thinks a revenue might be derived from the sucker in this way to pay the interest on the investment.

The Parks Board on Wednesday night will likely settle the question whether the Beach property is to be purchased for a park. The removal of the iron fence around Gore Park will also be dealt with.

City Solicitor Waddell, who has been away on a shooting trip up north for the past week, was at his desk to-day.

Charles Smith, colored, charged with cutting and wounding Fred Peterson, at a dance last Monday night, held at Ben Workman's house, 15 Wood Market, goes up for trial. Magistrate Jelfs committed him this morning, after the evidence for the Crown had been given.

A. M. Lewis declined to elect and pleaded not guilty for his client. The court room looked like a corner of darkest Africa. Judging from the evidence it might be inferred that seldom has old Terpsichore presided over such a rowdy aggregation, owing to the free dispensation of bottled goods.

Fred Peterson, the complainant, said Smith caused the trouble, for, said Peterson, "while I was talking to two ladies Smith 'batted in.' He took no notice of the interference at the time, but subsequently, when he was downstairs with the ladies, Smith called him a series of unmentionable names, whereat defendant was invited out to fight, and the invitation was accepted. Then Peterson told of the mix-up. During one time it was on several tried to hold him back. Later he saw Smith with a razor in his hand and he subsequently received two cuts on the head. Peterson admitted that drink was passed around freely, though nobody was drunk. Complainant also informed that Smith evinced no desire to apologize for the vile names he had called him (Peterson), he considered it his duty to make him.

Dr. McLaughlin told of dressing Peterson's wounds and said there were two cuts on the scalp, both to the bone, and one was particularly dangerous.

A little army of colored witnesses, all of whom were guests at the dance, told what they knew of the incident, and each story was punctuated with the funnyisms peculiar to the race.

Amos Black was at the dance and the first thing he knew about the row was seeing Peterson on the floor, bleeding profusely. "When I saw blood I simply walked out of the door and went home," said Amos.

George Bennett heard Smith call Peterson a name in the upstairs room and he also heard Smith repeat the insulting names downstairs half an hour later, after which the men clinched and he saw Smith pull out a razor from his hip pocket and cut Peterson. Several tried to part the men. In the cross-examination Bennett was submitted to by Mr. Lewis, he admitted telling Smith's father he would shoot defendant because the latter had threatened to knife him.

Joseph Bentley gave a long dissertation of what happened, and on the debit side in general. One story he told was that Amos Black, intimidated loudly that there were a whole lot of the black men in the city who needed laying out.

C. Ellegood only heard of the row, and Sam Hart said "I ducked when the row started."

Joseph Bentley again took the stand and said he heard Peterson say, "I'm the best man in Canada," and also saw several ladies imploring Peterson not to fight, but Peterson persisted.

During the proceedings the guffaws were so loud from the back benches that several constables were employed busily calling "Order!"

For being drunk on Sunday Peter Johnston, Market street, paid $5. P. C. Merritt saw Johnston staggering along MacNab street north at noon time yesterday, much to the annoyance of people going home from church.

John Toner, 736 King street east, engaged in pugilism on Saturday while under the influence of spirituous decoctions. P. C. Bettles was called to arrest John, and this morning he paid $5.

John Crosoner came from Vinemount on Saturday. As he has been a life-long worshipper of Bacchus, he could not refrain from paying homage to the god of wine. "Guilty, your honor," said John, this morning.

"Pay $10," said his worship: "the court might as well have your money as the saloon-keeper."

Representatives from Bonnie Scotland and ancient China aired a case of assault. They were Ninian Gounry, Scotch, and Yip Chee, Chinese. Nin was charged with striking Yip's Manchurian roof with a chair.

Yip said on Saturday morning Nin came for his breakfast at 7:45, whereas Nin should have been there at 7. Yip said he told Nin that 7 was breakfast time, whereas Nin called him revolting names.

The Chink produced two broken legs of a chair, which he claimed were broken over his little head.

Nin said when he went for his breakfast Yip told him to go to the abode of his satanic majesty, and forthwith proceeded to carve him (Nin) up with two long knives, whereas Nin said he picked up the chair in self-defence.

The worship found Nin guilty of assault and fined him $5.

CUT DUNDAS OFF. The light and power service of Dundas was interrupted at 3 o'clock this morning, when the transmission wires at Bartonville fell. Although linemen were immediately sent to repair the damage, it was not until noon that the power was on again. Owing to Dundas being on a separate line, the break-down did not affect Hamilton or the electric car service.

Artistic Desk Accessories. Vienna, the home of beautiful bronzes, has lately turned its attention to the making of smaller pieces as well as the larger ones. A Spanish Beauty

CHAPTER V.

"And so you have been turning out a gallant cavalier, my friend--you, of all men alive! The fiery dragon rushes upon Princess Perfect, and, in the nick of time, up gallops Prince Charming on his mettled steed, with lance in rest, and routs the horrid monster. None of those accessories are wanting--the flashing lightning, the lonely woods, Beauty lost and chivalry daring. It is like a scene at the Porte St. Martin!"

Then spoke Virginia, Countess Portiel, to Mr. Evelyn, who was leaning back lightly over the back of her chair in the long half-hour before dinner.

"A very charming little person, this French-Italian countess--French by birth, the wealthy widow of an old Neapolitan count, a beauty born, and a coquette from her cradle."

"She was the latest flirt on the list of the lord of Royal Rest, a tremendously exacting little queen, and with just a touch of jealous pique visible now in her long, velvety brown eyes."

"The voice in which she spoke was melodious, but its sweetness only rendered its sarcasm the sharper."

"We have been so insufferably stupid here of late," madame went on in her low, soft tones, "that so stirring an adventure as yours is a positive godsend. I think I see that woodland table! The brigand grasping the horse's tail-rein; the swooning damsel; the heroic knight riding to the rescue! It ought to end in a love-match and a marriage!"

Her silvery laugh chimed out sweet and low. Trevanance stroked his brown moustache with an imperturbable face.

"Should it? Who knows, then? Perhaps it may. The price is high, but the Rose of Castile is worth it."

La Portiel's deep-brown eyes flashed, but she laughed feintly and more.

"Poor Lady Evelyn! Let us hope she will escape so sad a fate! Besides, your chances are slight, with a dual coronet at her imperial feet. That imbecile duke! See him now stand there and gaze, with his soul in his eyes, at the door by which she must enter. What idiot a grand passion makes of the best of you! Be wise, Monsieur Trevanance, wear your chain-mail armor still. A man hopelessly in love is an object of compassion to gods and men."

"Your warning comes too late, madame!" whispered Trevanance. "I should have heard it before I met you."

The countess struck him a blow with her perfumed fan.

"Nonsense. Keep your sugar plums for the Rose of Castile. I know their value. The most unwholesome confectionery going."

"And because they disagree with you, you wish a sister belle to be made ill also? Characteristic of your charming sex. Besides, I don't think our Castilian Rose likes sweetmeats. She looks as though she fed upon the nectar of the gods. See Amethyst's fishy eyes brighten. Lo! the conquering beauty comes!"

"La Dame aux Camellias! Accept the warning, and--take me in to dinner."

Trevanance bowed low as he presented her arm, but his eyes followed the tall, dark divinity robed in white and crowned with scarlet.

She gave him a brilliant smile and glance of recognition as she swept by on the arm of Lord Clydesmore.

The length of the dinner table separated the rescued lady and her knight, and the pyramid of gorgeous flowers and an intervening alabaster Hebe nearly hid her from view; but now and then he had glimpses of that loftily poised head, with its satin black hair drawn off the delicate temples, and the glowing crimson coronal. Now and then the soft, foreign-toned voice--so low, so exquisitely sweet--fell upon his ear; now and then her airy, silvery laugh reached him; and once or twice the cloudless violet eyes met his full. But the wide dinner-table held them asunder.

Amethyst monopolized her on one side and his friend, Lord Guy Rivers, on the other, and by his side sat the most exciting and dangerous and imperious of coquettes.

"All the better," thought Trevanance. "Allah il Allah! It is my destiny, and I don't want to be led captive by a beauty as perfect as the Venus Medici and as cold as a refrigerator. Heaven forbid she should ever cast me into that bit of pathos which is the vest of her victims. Virginia is right--the grand passion is idiotic, and a device of a bore. I can play at love-making with the best, but marriage and domestic bliss--bah!"

And then he turned from the camellia-crowned siren over the way, and flirted, as Vivian Trevanance could flirt, with his grey Parisian-Neapolitan countess--flirted so recklessly that his father scowled from his seat, and the Earl of Clontarf shrugged his shoulders, and decided he would speak to his daughter about accepting the Duke of Amethyst as soon as he proposed.

The ladies arose present and swept away; but in spite of the gay badinage with which he and La Portiel parted, it was not the fairy form of the countess he watched from the room, but the regal form of the earl's daughter.

"She might sit by an emperor's side and command him tasks," he thought. "What is it Othello says? Her form is as perfect as a statuette of Corcovox; her face as pure and lovely as one of Raphael's Madonnas. And all that is to go to Amethyst--a fellow who, in six months, will hold her a little higher than his dog, a little dearer than his horse. Fudge! it would be Vulcan wedded to Venus! Out of pity for her I ought to step in and prevent the sacrifice."

He glanced disdainfully across the table at the heavy face and dull eyes of his grace--eyes that only beauty and billiards, horseflesh and horse-racing could ever brighten.

"A man must marry some time," said the governor remarks. It's the thing to do, and, by Jove! she is a mate for a king. I'll devote myself for the rest of the evening to my proud Castilian Rose."

Half an hour after, when the gentlemen entered the drawing-room, his glance sought out Lady Evelyn; she sat at the piano playing softly weird improvisations of her own that seemed strangely in harmony with the wild night-storm without.

Whence of Lady Clydesmore, who signalled him with her hand, and La Portiel, whose jealous eyes gleamed--he crossed at once to where the fair pianist sat.

"I have been looking forward to this," he said, "since the world first began to talk of its Rose de Castile. They tell me you equal Pasta, or Malibran herself. Will you not let me judge?"

"I have not been singing," Lady Evelyn answered. "I seldom sing, except to myself, and then, in a little, I sing disdainfully--I equal neither Pasta nor Malibran."

"Will you not permit me to judge? You will sing for me, I know." His calmly assured air seemed to amuse the puffed beauty (women all like high-sounding rulers), who glanced at him, a slight, but brilliant depths of the purple-blue eyes.

"My lordly autocrat, I will sing for you, will I? Now, a gentleman who has made the fair sex the study of his life should know better than that! It is a tact, challenge to defiance."

"Of those delicious old Castilian romances--awakened music on earth, one of your impassioned Spanish ballads."

"She struck the chords--she had a brilliant, masterly touch--and played a wild, melancholy prelude. Slowly her voice chimed in a voice full of pathos and power; a rich, full, clear soprano, sweet as Jenny Lind's own."

She had chosen a weird, passionate song of her native land--stirring words set to a thrilling melancholy air. Gradually silence fell upon the room. It was so rarely she sang, her voice was so full of fire, and passion, and melancholy, so altogether out of the common course.

BLACK KNIGHT STOVE POLISH. Don't use as much "Black Knight" as you have been using of other stove polishes. You don't get as much, to bring a brilliant, glittering, lasting polish to the iron-work. A little of "Black Knight" goes a long way. And you get a bigger box of "Black Knight" than of any other stove polish that sells for 10c.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE

Table with columns for destinations and times. Includes Grand Trunk Railway, Canadian Pacific Railway, and Toronto Hamilton & Buffalo Railway.

Stop Look What's Here. The SATURDAY TIMES from now until Jan. 1st, 1911, for fifty (50) cents. This edition is twice the size of the regular daily Times and contains some of the brightest stories from the large American Newspaper Syndicates, besides all important foreign happenings, complete local and up-to-date sporting items. As good as a letter from home.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

The late Judge Silas Bryan, the father of William J. Bryan, once had several hams stolen from his smoke-house. He missed them at once, but said nothing about it to any one. A few days later a neighbor came to him.

It was at the Cliff Dwellers, Chicago's literary club, and one of the members had just made a terrible, irremediable break about another--made it in his presence and that of several other members.

Two ladies who had known each other in years gone by met on the street. Both of them were married to musicians. The one, a bride of a year, was pushing a baby carriage in which were three fine babies--triplets, all girls. The other lady had been in the bonds of matrimony a couple of weeks.

After observing John Drew across the footlights these last fifteen years in a series of evening clothes, known as "Jack Straw," "The Second in Command," "The Duke of Killcrankie," etc., etc., it is pleasing to be able to record, says Renold Wolf, that the eminent fashion-plate is entirely alert to his own personality. In other words, if Mr. Drew could effect a dual personality and be at once John Drew and a matinee girl he would not wait for himself at the stage door.

He was passing out of a Broadway chophouse when he ran full-tilt into his own lithograph. He paused for a moment, and inspected it intently.

"Ah, Willie Hatcheface, the leading man," he commented to his friend, and walked on.

Keeping in Condition. It is easy. One must eat sensibly. One must breathe correctly. One must drink water between meals. And one must not over-fatigue one's exercising.

DRINK HABIT.

Leaders Work to Lessen the Drink Habit Among Workmen.

John Mitchell Says Use of Intoxicants is on Decrease.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14.--The question of labor and the saloon was discussed this afternoon by prominent labor leaders at a mass meeting in Massey Hall. The Reverend Charles Steacie, a fraternal delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor, presided. The Reverend Mr. Steacie declared that the saloon and the labor habit must be divorced. "In too many cities of our country," he said, "there are unions which have a monopoly of the saloon in order to get to the man who does not stop to take a drink. Otherwise the saloon would be a monopoly of the meeting places. It is the duty of the municipality to provide for the saloon. What is needed to-day is a conservative society which shall provide substitutes for the saloons. The day will come when practically every labor leader will be a total abstemious. The members of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor refrain from drinking in toxicants."

LEPINE DEAD.

Winthrop, Me., Nov. 15.--Ambrose Lepine, Louis Riel's lieutenant in the Northwest rebellions of 1869 and 1870, died Sunday at St. Norberts, south of this city. He was one of the best known half-breed leaders in western Canada. Lepine lived for years in Minnesota after the standing rebellion, when a price was put on his head by the Dominion Government. He was pardoned and returned here.

BULB COMPETITION.

Mr. C. H. Peebles, 155 Sandford avenue south, secretary of the City Improvement Society, would like to have all entries for the bulb competition in as soon as possible. Intending competitors would confer a favor by attending to this at once. The season is now so far advanced that bulbs of all descriptions should now be in the ground, and the selection left in the hands of the seedsmen must be getting more or less limited. It is to be hoped that the entry will prove a large one. Information regarding the competition can be had from the secretary or from John A. Bruce & Company, and the Steele, Briggs Seed Company. Both these firms will also be glad to supply catalogues and information regarding the culture of bulbs.

Synopsis of Canadian North-west Land Regulations.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency of the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties--Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain conditions a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section outside his homestead. Price $5.00 per acre. Duties--Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted the homestead right cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $20.00 per acre. Duties--Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200.00.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N. B.--Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

BOMBS FOR THE MINTOS.

The attempt on the lives of Lord and Lady Minto at Ahmedabad, India, on Saturday, is another reminder that British officials in India to-day occupy positions of not a little danger.

OUR GREAT MERGER.

The much-talked-of merger of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. and Dominion Coal Co. interests may be said to have been definitely arranged for.

sions. The increase is due in a large degree to the operation of the Act of 1907, which granted $12,816 and $20 to survivors of the war with Mexico and of the civil war on reaching the ages of 62, 70 and 75 respectively.

But death is busy among the veterans, and the broadening of Uncle Sam's pension regulations will probably not keep up to him.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A suffragette virago attacked Mr. Winston Churchill at Bristol on Saturday, breaking through the police line and striking him on the head with a whip.

It is frightful to think of 400 human beings being smothered in that Illinois mine shaft like rats in a trap.

Of course a Provincial Act making it illegal to fly foreign flags on Crown lands in the Province would put an end to the so-called "loyalty" of some visitors which, it is to be suspected, is intended to be offensive.

Of the 806 municipalities of Ontario 344 are already under local option. When the 164 municipalities voting on the issue at the coming municipal elections are classified, it will probably be found that considerably more than half of the Province has voted dry.

The usefulness of the Dominion Railway Commission is well illustrated by the record of its year's work. Out of 3,479 applications made to it, 2,742 were settled without public hearings.

The struggle on Saturday between the Tigers and the Argonauts was much more even than the score, 14 to 4, would appear to indicate.

The Y. M. C. A. boys' department building, the cornerstone of which was laid on Saturday, will be a monument to the generosity of Mrs. Nelson Mills and the energy and devotion to the Y. M. C. A. cause of Mr. Powis and the little group of collectors, who have done such excellent work in behalf of the organization.

In the mediaeval ages, when an unscrupulous person wanted to get rid of an enemy or cause him intense anguish, all that was necessary was to take a wax image of the enemy and stick pins in it or set it before the fire and let it melt away.

And as the unscrupulous one of the organ penned those words how he sorrowed that he could not exercise such influence on the Cataract Company!

WIFE SHOT HUSBAND.

Daughter Confesses That Her Mother Did the Deed.

They Disposed of Body and Put Officers on Wrong Trail.

Wife Went Insane From Brooding Over Murder.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Henry Brodenhever, a jeweler, of Madison, Wis., who was found dead near his home in the summer of 1906, and believed to have been murdered by robbers, was killed by his wife, Margaret Brodenhever, now a patient at the Dunning insane asylum, according to a confession made to-day by Clara Brodenhever, their daughter, to Assistant Chief of Police Schuller.

The girl, who is 16 years old, told how her mother had slain her father, how she had aided in disposing of the body, how the crime had driven her mother insane and how the terrible story had haunted her until she had to tell it. The wife, according to her daughter, was removed by order of the police to the home of friends, she probably will not be prosecuted.

Brodenhever, who was 42 years of age, and formerly had lived in Chicago aroused the jealousy of his wife after he had removed to Madison and engaged in the jewelry business.

After they had entered the building the woman immediately drew a revolver and shot her husband in the back, as he fell the woman fired a bullet into his forehead. Mrs. Brodenhever watched him die, then threw the revolver away and fled.

The daughter, according to her confession, encountered her mother as she was hastening from the slaughter house. Her mother told her excitedly that her father had committed suicide.

The daughter says she induced her mother to return to the body. She saw that her father had been shot twice. She said she accused her mother of killing her father, and that Mrs. Brodenhever confessed the crime and asked her to aid her in concealing the crime.

Together they found a rope and fastened it around Brodenhever's neck and attempted to strangle the body over a raft. The rope broke. Then they dragged the body into the roadway and concealed it behind a clump of bushes.

Feeling satisfied that the crime had been covered up, the mother and daughter returned home. On the following day Mrs. Brodenhever reported to the police that her husband had disappeared; that a strange man had come to the house and taken Brodenhever away in a buggy. The police discovered the body several days later and sought to find the mysterious man.

A few months after the tragedy, Mrs. Brodenhever sold her husband's store and came to Chicago to live, bringing Clara with her. After months of brooding over the crime, Mrs. Brodenhever's mind became a wreck. Five weeks ago she was adjudged insane. The daughter's confession followed.

At the Dunning asylum to-night, Mrs. Brodenhever, when told that her daughter had confessed, without a betrayal of emotion confirmed the story. Because of her adjudgment for insanity she probably never can be tried for the crime.

Time flies, but the hands of a clock never speak as they pass each other.

EBENEZER.

Four Interesting Addresses Given There Yesterday.

Mr. Robert McMurdo and Mr. John M. Carnie preached in Ebenezer Hall yesterday afternoon and evening to large congregations. The afternoon's addresses were suited to the rebuilding of the Christians, while the evening messages were expressly for the unsaved. The meetings seem to grow in size and interest as was very plainly evidenced by the words of approbation heard on all sides at the conclusion of both meetings yesterday.

At the afternoon meeting Mr. Carnie spoke from the story of the centurion who came to Jesus asking him to speak the word which would heal his servant, who was sick. He set forth on the tie binding the master and servant, claiming it was the revelation, through a study of the Scripture, of the fact that this man who was doing all these miracles was in very truth the Messiah.

Mr. McMurdo spoke on "Abundant Life," taking for his text the words of Christ: "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." The address was an eloquent exposition of the depth and meaning of the words "Abundant Life," and so plainly did he set forth the word of God on this subject that his hearers were much helped and refreshed.

The evening service saw a very large attendance, the gallery having to be utilized again. Mr. Carnie spoke from John 5:24, on "Passing From Death Into Life." The address was fraught with Gospel truth and God's way of salvation was presented—clearly and simply. Mr. McMurdo followed, speaking on the two resurrections recorded in the 28th verse of the same chapter—the resurrection of life and the resurrection of judgment.

Mr. McMurdo will speak each evening this week at 8 o'clock "The Feasts of the Lord," illustrated by a large chart. Everyone welcome.

ANNIVERSARIES IN MANY CHURCHES.

Educational Day In Centenary and Central—Two Sunday School Anniversaries.

Organ Opening at Wentworth Baptist—An Annual Event at Erskine.

In view of the recent theological controversy in Toronto, in which Rev. Geo. Jackson, B. A., of Victoria University, was a leading figure, his presence in the pulpit last night at Centenary Methodist Church naturally attracted a very large crowd. Every seat in the church was occupied. He preached the anniversary educational sermon. He came with the old, yet ever new, message that the gospel shows the living and immortal Christ. It was a sermon that well might be termed a memorable one, punctuated with questions put to the hearers that demanded an answer—the answer to be made in the innermost self. He emphasized the importance of choosing between God and Mammon. Mr. Jackson took for his text, Acts 5, 29, "We must obey God rather than men." He pointed that there was no middle way to walk, for it was a matter of conscience or custom whom we should serve. Such men as Luther, Socrates, John Knox, were shining representatives of principle and might be termed the front row representatives of conscience, and they, like the apostles, did not walk in the middle course. "God rather than man should be the motto for everybody all through life, for the world ultimately turns from the gilded tribe with contempt and they are at last cast forth and trodden under foot," said the speaker. He then condemned the unprincipled, and they who looked back, the middle-agers, or, as he called them, the "Messers. Facing-both-ways." The preacher said: "Any young man who, for the sake of yellow gold, goes violence to another man's conscience, it would have been better had he not been born." He only going to do right when it costs nothing? Is the martyr spirit dead? asked Mr. Jackson. God give us all grace to say "We are on the Lord's side" were the concluding words of a most scholarly address.

Just prior to the collection being taken up after the sermon, Mr. Jackson explained that he had been asked to help in the educational work of the church and had promised to do what he could, though he had made up his mind that wherever he was relegated to preach an educational sermon he would preach the gospel message so that people would know his innermost convictions concerning the truths of the Bible and would, therefore, be hoped, not be reluctant about sending their boys to him for Bible study.

SIMCOE SUNDAY SCHOOL. Successful and interesting Sunday School anniversary services were held in Simcoe Street Methodist Church yesterday morning, afternoon and evening. Earnest and appreciative audiences were present, and the special music provided by the choir and members of the school was of unusual excellence. At the morning service the pulpit was occupied by Rev. E. B. Lancelley, pastor of First Methodist Church, who preached an excellent sermon to the children, which was full of practical suggestions along the lines of Christian living. In a witty and sympathetic way, Mr. Lancelley held the attention of his listeners all through the service. He spoke on the necessity of exercising great care in the use of various parts of the body and emphatically denounced long distance running. "It is a sin for anyone to run five miles," said the speaker, "and it is an absolute crime for people to let anyone run twenty-six miles, as has been done." In continuing his address on the necessity of taking proper care of the body as it was an instrument of God to be used in furthering the good of the world. In conclusion the preacher pointed out, especially to the children, that it was the little things that counted in this life and all that attended to the small things would be able to take care of the large ones.

The afternoon service was of particular interest to the members of the Sunday school who assembled in the body of the church with their parents and adult friends. The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. C. S. Applegath, pastor of Ryerson Church, who gave an interesting address on the theme "Chinese Lanterns." Visitors going through the church, said the speaker, were always impressed with the large number of lanterns visible throughout the whole country, the most populated one in the world. This was how China came to be referred to as the land of lanterns, and yet, strange to say, it was a land of darkness. Continuing, Mr. Applegath referred to the benefits and advances of the four large lanterns, as they were to the progress of China and its position to-day, viz.: Taoism, Confucianism, Buddhism and Christianity. Since the advent of Christianity into China it was rapidly coming to the front as one of the greatest nations.

In the evening, Rev. Herbert B. Christie, pastor of the church, preached on "The Influence of Home Life and Early Training." Mr. Christie emphasized that good home life was really the only safe guard against temptation and the evil of the world.

CONTRIBUTED $1,300. Rev. J. J. Redditt, of the Methodist book room, Toronto, preached the anniversary sermons at Emerald Street Methodist Church yesterday. The text for the morning sermon was taken from Exodus: "There shall not an hoof be left behind." The subject was "Consecration vs. Compromise, or the True Genius of a Christian Life, as Exemplified in the Controversy Between Moses and Pharaoh." The subject was handled in a masterly and practical manner.

ric singing a solo at the evening service, which was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation. At the close, Dr. Williamson again appealed to the people for the balance needed and in a short time was able to announce that the whole amount of $1,300 had been promised. The anniversary will conclude with a grand organ recital to-morrow night by W. H. Huetzel, of Centenary Church, assisted by Miss Estelle Carey and Mr. Geo. Allen.

ZION SUNDAY SCHOOL. Zion Tabernacle was well filled yesterday morning, it being the Sunday school anniversary. Not only were the scholars present in large numbers, but the parents, too, were well represented. The sermon was preached by Dr. A. C. Crews, of Toronto, and was specially for the children. He selected for his text a portion from the Psalms, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path." He said in the early times, which the text referred to, the advances had not been made to such an extent as to have electric lights. The people had a private light, which was stropped around their ankles. No doubt the words of the text had been written by the suggestion of the lamps attached to the feet of the people. Notwithstanding that, they were as applicable to the present day. The light which God offered to every person was one which would show them the dangerous parts of life, so that they might be stronger than the man in the pew, he cannot expect to lead him. "The Christianity of to-day must be put in strong hands," said Dr. Graham. Dr. Graham argued that the training of the young man for the ministry was of more importance than the missionary problem, for without men, who are trained the work in far-off fields would cease. The reverend doctor spoke enthusiastically of the opportunities afforded the man who is a minister.

"There is a fascination in the pulpit," said Dr. Graham, "why, I would rather be a minister than a lawyer, much as I respect and honor that noble profession. Any man who has the gift of utterance should make use of it in God's work."

The morning service was in charge of the Rev. Mr. Jackson, Toronto, who gave a splendid address.

ERSKINE ANNIVERSARY. Erskine Presbyterian Church had large congregations yesterday at their anniversary services. Rev. Dr. J. H. Dickson, of Galt, was the preacher. His text was "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." It is a fitting place to worship at the sanctuary. The church is a fitting place to worship in. There it is expected of those who enter and attend that they invite others to come to worship in the church. It is a privilege, and we should reach out and gather in those who are outside the church and let them know that they have our sympathy, and that the church will be helpful to them. The church should go out after the fallen and be engaged in doing good to their fellow men. It is the mission of the church to do good. Church members should help others, by invitation and good example, to such success, as that they should be a divine command that we are some place of worship—Christ set the example. It is the outcome of supreme wisdom. It is a command that of necessity must bring good. Then our social nature demands it. Therein is the arena of social intercourse in the church. We should emphasize kindness and being social with those we come in contact with. We need the church and its influence for good. We need the vision of God. We hear His voice in Biblical truth. It is a living word. Let us be found in the faith of Gospel truth.

In the evening, to a large congregation, Rev. Dr. Dickson preached an earnest and impressive sermon on the rich young ruler who came to Christ inquiring "What lack I yet?" He dealt with the young man's actions, his questions, and Christ's dealings with this wealthy young man of unblemished morals. The highest type of a young man possessing morality, honesty, and wealth, a noble example to young manhood.

WENTWORTH BAPTISTS. A large number of members and adherents of Wentworth Baptist Church attended the services yesterday morning to hear Rev. A. L. Huddleston, of St. Catharines, a former pastor, preach the anniversary sermon. Mr. Huddleston had a message which was very interesting. He expressed his pleasure at the advance the church had made during the past year, and said he wished many more years at such success. He was glad he had been invited to preach the anniversary sermon, as it gave him an opportunity of looking into the faces of a good many of his friends whom he had not seen for some time. He selected as his topic "The Supremacy of Love." If the life of Jesus Christ was followed from Bethlehem to the cross His love would be discovered, for He had compassion on men, although some of them hated Him and tried every means in their power to kill Him. When on the cross He forgave the men who had plotted and schemed against Him. It was impossible to be a Christian until love was enthroned in the heart, but if such was the case the other things would take care of themselves. The Christian life depended on love, and under its influence they endeavored to do God's will and extend His cause. The men who carried the message of the Lord Jesus Christ to their fellow-men were men whose hearts were filled with love for them. Some people had the idea of heaven as of golden streets and nearby gates. If such love was responsible for it, the Kingdom of heaven had come down to earth when love was shown by the Christian to the poor, downtrodden sinner. The luxuries of the home did not make it happy, for without love it was barren and unhappy. No matter how poorly furnished it was, if love was manifest it showed contentment and happiness. In closing, he advised all to show their love for their fellow-men, and by so doing they would be showing the true Christian spirit, which would make an impression upon the minds of others.

The new pipe organ was used for the first time. It is a fine instrument, of the following specifications: Great organ, open diapason, dulciana, melodia, principal, Swells, viol di gamba, stopped diapason, flauto traverso, pedal bourdon. Couplers, swell to great unison, swell to sub, swell to super, great to pedal, swell to pedal. Pedals, full organ, tremolo, balanced swell. It was built by the Karn-Morris Co. of Woodstock.

The members will have a social tonight, when a magnificent local minister will give addresses.

AT CENTRAL METHODIST.

"The minister of to-day must be a trained man," said Rev. Dr. Graham, at Central Methodist Church, last evening, on the occasion of the annual educational services. Dr. Graham contended that a man, to be a minister of the gospel, should have a touch of the eternal in his personality.

"He should be a man of God," continued Dr. Graham, "and he should be imbued with the idea that he is not a commissioner of men, but an ambassador of the King of Kings."

In speaking of the numerous qualifications, the reverend doctor said that the minister must be able to show to his congregation the symmetry and majesty of God's wonderful and everlasting truth. No congregation could be led by a minister who lacked sincerity and that note of certainty in his voice. If there is nothing positive about the man he will lack the power of giving the real message of Jesus Christ.

"We need men who are leaders," said Dr. Graham, "men of broad vision, accurate scholarship, able to direct the modern current of thought; men who are able to remould old truths and present them in such a manner that they will be understood in this modern age. And we must make these truths vivid and commanding, or they will not appeal to the churchgoer of to-day."

Dr. Graham said, and with not a little emphasis, that more than piety was needed in the making-up of the minister of to-day. He must have the real training necessary to lead a congregation. Men in the business walks of life, all have to be trained to compete with existing conditions.

"The twentieth century minister needs a fine flavor of culture to meet with the demands of the man in the pew. If the man in the pulpit is not stronger than the man in the pew, he cannot expect to lead him. 'The Christianity of to-day must be put in strong hands,'" said Dr. Graham. Dr. Graham argued that the training of the young man for the ministry was of more importance than the missionary problem, for without men, who are trained the work in far-off fields would cease.

The reverend doctor spoke enthusiastically of the opportunities afforded the man who is a minister.

"There is a fascination in the pulpit," said Dr. Graham, "why, I would rather be a minister than a lawyer, much as I respect and honor that noble profession. Any man who has the gift of utterance should make use of it in God's work."

The morning service was in charge of the Rev. Mr. Jackson, Toronto, who gave a splendid address.

AT UNITY.

Rev. C. W. Casson on the Religion For To-day.

At Unity Church last night Rev. C. W. Casson, of Boston, preached a sermon on "The Religion for To-day" before an audience that filled every seat in the church. He referred to the evolution of religious thought, as being necessary in order to keep pace with the evolution of humanity. "I am glad to see that 'new' in its principle and aims, new in its saving gospel, new in its interpretations of life and duty, is taking possession of men to-day. The old ideas are being abandoned by the modern mind, and there is a demand for conceptions consistent with the progressive thought of to-day."

Mr. Casson spoke of the growing liberalism in religion. "Scratch the surface man deep enough," he said, "and you will come to liberal stuff. The little church in Hamilton has the courage of thousands of people's convictions in this city. We have simply dared to speak in the open what others are thinking secretly and alone."

He gave, as the basis of the liberal faith, the adoption of rational principle in religion. "The principle operative in science and education and mechanics, of adopting new truths and powers discovered by the human mind, must be applied equally to religious thought. Freedom to believe is an absolute essential to real faith. To doubt is a duty. Only he who had ever doubted ever really believed. Doubt is the test of truth. Truth is not something to be held, but something to be held by. We believe what we cannot dis-believe."

A DEDICATION.

New Baptistery and Gifts at St. Luke's Church.

The ceremony of dedicating the new baptistry in St. Luke's Church was conducted yesterday by his Lordship, the Bishop of Niagara, a congregation that filled the edifice to the doors joining in the impressive services. The front and floor are the gifts of the Girls' Friendly Society, while the cover, brass inscription plate and other accessories were donated by the parishioners. Immediately after the processional hymn, his Lordship, complying with the request of the rector, Rev. E. N. R. Burns, proceeded to the front and baptistry and dedicated the gifts. Returning to the altar he celebrated holy communion, and later preached an eloquent sermon, taking his text from Hebrews vi. 2. He dealt comprehensively with the sacramental system of the church, beginning with baptism.

CORNER STONE OF NEW BOYS' Y.M.C.A.

Well and Truly Laid by Mrs. Nelson Mills In Presence of a Large Gathering.

Addresses by President Powis, Chairman Waugh, Mayor Wood and Others.

Despite the unfavorable weather for the laying of the corner stone of the new boys' Y. M. C. A. building on Saturday, the ceremony took place amid the rousing cheers of a large gathering of representative citizens. The boys themselves were also largely represented and had no small voice in the cheers which broke out from time to time as something especially pleasing was touched upon by the speakers. The speeches were all short and to the point, and the ardor of the gathering was not in the least affected by the conditions. The people saw what they have long wished for—the beginning of a building in which the boys could meet to be educated along the lines which would be conducive to good citizenship, and they did not restrain their feelings at the pleasure they experienced at the happy conclusion of the campaign which had resulted so well.

A warning note was sounded that the business men of the city had decided not to stop at the erection of the building for the boys, but in the course of a short time would start a campaign to secure $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a building for the men in which they could gather and have their social times together as well as develop themselves physically and thereby set a good example to the boys, which, no doubt, they would emulate. The building would be on an extensive scale and would be something which the business men would be proud of.

Sharp at 3.30 p. m., the crowd having gathered in large numbers, and everything being ready to proceed with the programme, the chairman called upon Mr. J. Tippet to lead in prayer. A large number of the boys formed into a group of singers under the direction of Prof. Johnson, and at intervals sang national selections which greatly pleased the on-lookers.

CHAIRMAN WAUGH. The chairman, Mr. W. J. Waugh, in giving a short address, said that this city had the honor of being the first city which had effectively taken up the matter of building a department purely for the boys, and that those who had so amply supported the movement would be amply repaid for their efforts by the results which would be shown in the future. It was present at the laying of the corner stone of the original building, but the enthusiasm then had not been greater than the present. In the corner stone were placed pieces of different newspapers, Dominion coins issued this year, the names of the architect, contractors and the subscribers, as well as a complete report of the campaign.

TROWEL PRESENTED. Mr. Alfred Powis then presented the silver trowel to Mrs. N. Mills, upon which was inscribed, "presented to Mrs. Nelson Mills at the laying of the corner stone of the boys' building of the Y. M. C. A., Hamilton, November 15, 1909." In presenting it to her, he said it afforded him great pleasure to do so. It was for her to use the trowel and declare the corner stone laid. He thought it fitting that he submit a short account of the history of the Y. M. C. A. He had joined the association at the time the campaign started for the raising of the funds to erect the central building. The boys' department had been merely a couple of small rooms set off from a couple of saloons, but their membership had grown so rapidly that it had been found necessary that they be given more suitable accommodation. It was especially realized last winter when fifty boys had to be refused admission for want of room and the directors then took the matter up earnestly. It was made simple through the kindness of Mrs. Mills, and not only the contribution she herself gave, but further contributions from other members of her family made a suitable nest egg. The campaign had been started and the citizens gave it their hearty support. Now that the boys are having such a large building it looked as though the tail was going to wag the dog and the seniors would not be so important as the juniors. The movement had really been started some years ago, when the lot upon which the building was being erected had been purchased, although at that time they had not realized it. He also had a word to the boys themselves.

New York, Nov. 14.—The dying hours found society out in force and not one whit lax in its worship of the goddess of fashion. There were brilliants by the peck and raiment that would have shamed even fairy stories or the splendor of the Orient. Great Britain and Canada shared honors in many events with their American brothers and few incidents occurred to mar the grandeur of the occasion.

CORNER STONE LAID.

The trowel was then handed to Mrs. Mills and she was escorted around to where the stone stood ready to be swung into position. The bottle containing the various things mentioned above was set up so that the people could see it before it was placed in the aperture in the stone. The stone was put in position and the crowd cheered lustily. The stone is a finely cut one bearing the inscription "Boys' Department, Y. M. C. A., 1909."

MAYOR WOOD, OF BRANTFORD. Mayor Wood, of Brantford, was then called upon for a speech. He said it had not been because the local Y. M. C. A. secretary had formerly resided in Brantford and had filled the same position there that he occupied here that he had come, although that too had something to do with his visit, but the main reason was that he was interested in the boys and their future, as it was to them that the country had to look for the future. The boys needed a source of their nature in which to prepare him for the trials he would encounter during life. By his associations in such an atmosphere with boys of his own calibre, a boy would be fitted for the obligations which would later rest upon him as a citizen. He congratulated the association, the citizens and all who had made the erection of the building a possibility. The interest in the affairs of the boys had been manifested by the readiness with which business had been made a secondary consideration when such a thing as the welfare of the boys was at stake. Although the rush of business needed attention, the men gave up their time for the purpose of collecting the funds for the boys' department, and it would be largely due to such efforts that this city and the country at large would be made great. The boys were the greatest asset the country had, and if the country was to hold a prominent place the character of the boys would have to be founded on true Christian principles, which would not give way to lower the standing of themselves or their country. The home was recognized as a very prominent place around which the life of the boy was formed. The church also had its place in his training, but the Y. M. C. A. filled the medium in that it afforded a place where the boys could find wholesome recreation, where they would be developed physically, mentally and morally. The Y. M. C. A. had for its aim the welfare of the boys, keeping them upright and many. At present there are hundreds of men who possessed wonderful physical powers because of their Y. M. C. A. training. The Y. M. C. A. not only trained the boys physically, but socially as well. The opportunities for which the boys had long waited were now available, and the increase in the membership from now on would be marked. The heart of the men would be reached through the heart of the boys, and the present set was a good one in that direction. The boys would be taught to be true to their country as well as the banner of Jesus Christ.

TORONTO GENERAL SECRETARY.

Mr. G. A. Warburton, Toronto general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., delivered an address which had a stirring effect. He said on account of his associations with Y. M. C. A. work he had been brought in touch with the boys, and realized the atmosphere which the Y. M. C. A. created around their lives. The question was not whether to allow the boys to get together. They would assuredly get together. If in the Y. M. C. A. they would be developed physically as well as morally, and the two combined would make a fine manhood of which the country would be proud. The moral tone of the city as well as that of the country would depend upon the place of meeting of the boys. The boys would be brought up with a soul kept pure, because they would be kept in touch with Jesus Christ. The men should not consider their duty over because they contributed financially, but should manifest the interest they took in the affairs of the boys by their associating with them. In closing he said he hoped to soon see Toronto follow in the footsteps of Hamilton and erect a building for the boys themselves.

SOME FIGURES.

The chairman said that the original building had cost in the neighborhood of $40,000, $30,000 had been spent additional on it, the boys' new building would cost over $45,000, so that altogether over $150,000 would have been spent for Y. M. C. A. purposes. He did not intend to stop at that, but would soon start a campaign for the men's building. Toronto was about to erect a building for that purpose, and was also going to erect two other buildings, which altogether would cost $600,000.

The most important thought that we can give you in this little editorial talk to-night is that the Stanley Mills store which has led all others in Hamilton in satisfactory service for the past ten years is absolutely right at its best to-day. If opportunity presents itself it will be better next year, but right now—to-day, this store is rendering the best service in its history. This is a most important feature to you—the store that is prepared to offer and is offering you the best service is the store for you to deal at. As we have said before—past records and future promises count for little in the mercantile world. What you want most is a thoroughly satisfactory service right at the moment—right now—and this is the store that offers that best service.

400 MEN ENTOMBED.

Disastrous Explosion in and Illinois Coal Mine.

Heroic Rescuers Lose Their Lives For Others.

Disaster Caused by Hay Taking Fire Underground.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 14.—Nearly 400 men and boys, it is believed to-night, are dead or perishing in the St. Paul mine as a result of yesterday's fire, though experts who penetrated the smoke-filled air shaft to a depth of 300 feet early to-night returned with a ray of hope for the grief-stricken relatives of the entombed men.

That the fire is extinguished is the report of mining experts sent by Governor Deneen to investigate the calamity and its cause. For more than thirty hours the prisoners had been cut off from fresh air before the shaft was entered to-night, and undoubtedly have been subjected to smoke and gases.

That life could exist under the terrible conditions is doubted by many, but because no trace of high temperature was found in the depths of the mine to-night friends of the miners and even officers of the company regained some of their falling hope.

When explorations were abandoned to-night it was announced that men fitted with oxygen armor would probably penetrate to the bottom of the mine tomorrow.

The list of the missing miners, compiled to-day, reached the total of 385, including the twelve dead whose charred bodies were taken from the burning cages Saturday. It was declared to be probable that this might be increased.

One hundred and seventy men who entered the mine Saturday morning have been accounted for. Among the missing are many Americans who have lived for years in the mining fields of Illinois, though most of those entombed are foreign-born. Most of the men had families. Arrangements are under way to relieve the families of the victims. It is probable that supplies for their needs will be arranged for by the railway company. With winter approaching, the catastrophe has dealt every home in Cherry a terrible blow. The broad miners in hundreds of homes are either dead or incapacitated for work.

William Vicker, who was at work at the face of the coal mine, was one of the few who came out alive. For more than 200 yards he crawled in the dark on hands and knees, using the rail as a guide to the bottom of the shaft. At one point, he says, he met about 65 miners sitting in a row along the road. They had given up the struggle and were waiting resignedly for death.

"I and my buddy (partner) were at work on the second vein level, when the fire alarm was sounded," said Vicker. "We started for the bottom, but had gone but a few feet when our lights went. Our entry was fast filling with smoke. "All about us we could hear shouts of our comrades in adjoining rooms. I dropped to my hands and knees and began to crawl around the rails shouting at intervals to my buddy. When about a hundred feet of the mine mouth, I began to grow faint. I pulled my coat closely around my face and struggled on. I escaped death by just three minutes. When I arrived at the bottom of the shaft the last gas was about to ascend. I shouted at the signal and was helped. Two men broke their way to me and dragged me to the cage. Then I lost consciousness. When I came to I was safely on top."

The fire which caused the tragedy had an origin almost trivial. A pile of hay caught fire in one of the underground stables, and, being allowed to smoulder too long, finally ignited the timbers of the mine, and before the workers realized their danger, the mine was filled with smoke, gases and flames, and all exit was impossible. Heroism such as is rarely exhibited was shown by officials of the mine and its residents of the town of Cherry. While smoke and even jets of flame swept up through the entrance of the mine, the cage which carried the miners to their work continued to ascend and descend.

Fourteen men from above descended after the explosion to render what assistance they could. Only one of them came back alive. The bodies of five were brought to the surface, while those of the others are still below.

Standing out above all the others is the story of Dr. L. B. Howe, the "man who came back." He is the only one of the heroic fourteen who survived to tell what happened. Seven minutes before the other rescuers began to go into the burning shaft he descended alone in a lift, and each time brought to the surface his quota of saved. Twenty-five miners owe their lives to him.

His hands are badly burned. When asked to describe his experiences he merely said: "I couldn't have done anything else than I did. It is not worth talking about."

Finally it was decided that the only way to check the flames was to board over the entrance to the mine. The opening was almost hermetically sealed and the flames left to smoulder themselves. To-night they are believed to be out.

John Mitchell, Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor and representative of the mining organization, when seen last night, said that the Cherry disaster would be brought before the Federation on the resumption of the business this morning. He explained that the Federation had no power to send any financial aid to the sufferers, and that the most that could be done would be the adoption of a resolution of sympathy with the relatives of those who had been killed.

Mr. Mitchell's home was for many years at Spring Valley, which is not far from Cherry. The mine in which so many have lost their lives is controlled by the Chicago, Pennsylvania & St. Paul Railway Company, the St. Paul Coal Company being the name of the operating company. The output is about 2,000 tons a day, while some 500 men are employed. Of that number, the great majority are foreigners. The mine workings reach a depth of three hundred feet.

Millions for Defense. The total annual cost of Germany's land and sea defense is now $777,400,000 making without taking account of the 600,000 to 700,000 able-bodied men who are kept from profitable employment, representing in productive capacity as much as 1,500,000,000 marks per year.

Check That Cold

It is a great mistake to let a cough or cold run unchecked. Aside from the unpleasantness and discomfort there is a real danger in the resulting irritation of the throat, lungs and bronchial organs, which leaves them sore and very susceptible to pneumonia and consumption. It is not our purpose to recommend any particular brand of patent cough medicine. A simple, inexpensive and very effective remedy can easily be prepared at home by mixing two ounces of Glycerine and a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine with eight ounces of pure Whiskey. This formula is frequently prescribed and is highly recommended by the Leach Chemical Co., of Windsor, Ont., who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine for dispensing through druggists. It is claimed that a teaspoonful of this mixture four times a day will break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable.

by train when a woman suddenly darted out from the crowd and commenced to belabor the Cabinet Minister with a rawhide. Mr. Churchill promptly seized his assailant and after a struggle succeeded in wrenching the whip from her hands. The suffragette was arrested.

At the Police Station Mr. Churchill's assailant was identified as Therese Garnett. The officers who made the arrest said that the suffragette broke through the police line on the station platform, and bringing down the lash of a long whip upon the Minister's head, shouted: "Take that, you brute!" Mr. Churchill's hat broke the force of the blow, but the lash curled about his face and left a red mark. As the police seized the woman she pointed scornfully at the Minister's deuted hat, and while her face flushed with excitement, cried: "That's what you have gotten, and you will get more of the same from British women."

TIMES PATTERNS.

AN ATTRACTIVE LITTLE DRESS. No. 700.—The little guimpe dresses for girls are shown in many variations, but nothing simpler or daintier could be imagined than this little one-piece model. The dress is made to slip on over the head, the back and front being exactly alike. The guimpe is of white muslin, trimmed with fancy tucking and lace insertion. The neck is finished by a standing collar, and the fulness at the waistline is adjusted by a drawstring in a casing. The sleeves are full length completed by narrow bands. The dress may be suitably developed in mohair, cashmere, pongee, albatross, delaine, pique and gingham. For a girl of six years two yards of material 36 inches wide will be required for the dress and 1 1/2 yards for the guimpe. Child's one-piece dress with guimpe. No. 700. Sizes for 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years.

A pattern of the accompanying illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps.

GAMBLING THE THEME

Of Strong Sermons in Two City Churches Yesterday.

Denounced Alike by Presbyterian and Methodist.

Third of Series on "Young Man and His Evenings".

"The Sin of Gambling" was the subject of an impressive and interesting sermon delivered on Sunday evening in St. John Presbyterian Church by the pastor, Rev. John Young. He referred to the special effort being made just now by many presbyteries and religious gatherings to have the Criminal Code changed so as to forbid the great evil of gambling. In many places in the United States gambling in connection with race tracks was not allowed, it having been discovered that it was injurious to the moral welfare of the community. The prohibition of race track betting in the States had increased the evil in Canada. Mr. Young then explained why gambling was a sin. First, he said, it was a violation of the laws upon which wealth was established. Justice demanded that an equivalent be given for all wealth received, and in gambling none was given. The law of work was not recognized. The Creator intended that man should work, and for that work he should receive remuneration. In betting no work was demanded, the wealth being handed over to the receiver without any exertion on his part. The law of love was also violated. Christ, the great teacher, said: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." But he who takes a wager was doing unto his neighbor what he did not want done unto himself. Another reason was the violation of the law of wisdom. Many must lose where one would win, and in many cases only fifty cents was gained for ten dollars so many failures certainly was unwise. Gambling was also a violation of the true law of sport. He who gambled went into the sport not because of the value of it as a recreation or a pastime, but for the money which was in it. The true idea of sport was overwhelmed by the longing to increase their own financial welfare. If all these laws were violated it was impossible for true character to be formed, and it also made the great fundamental ambitions of manhood to be despised. The preacher said that if these conditions were true it behooved every Christian person to discourage the great evil in every way possible.

In conclusion, Mr. Young said that gambling was detrimental to the individual, thus to society and the state, and for the welfare of all it was necessary to have the law changed so as to prohibit all forms of gambling whether at the race track, church raffles or any other place.

YOUNG MEN'S EVENINGS.

In First Methodist Church last night Rev. E. B. Lancelotti preached the third of a series of special sermons on "A Young Man and His Evenings," his subject being "Poverty in the Parlor" and his text, "The love of money is the root of all evil." It was a very strong sermon on the gambling evil. "You can not go anywhere but you find this evil," he said. "In the top rooms of the hotels it is found; it haunts the shop, it prevails upon the street corners, and finds a place in the office." Its universal prevalence is revealed in the watchfulness of police in nine cases out of ten, he said, the temptation to gamble comes from the desire of people to live beyond their means. "We all hope our children will escape our sins, but it is much more likely that they will embrace our imperfections." Speaking of discouragements, Mr. Lancelotti said that when a schoolboy went to the seething championship Toronto went wild and all Ontario rose up to acclaim the champion, but when over in Oxford, a Hamilton student, Herbert Drummond, Alexander, 70 Catharine street north, Duff, Margaret, 65 Wellington street north (2), Dunham, Nellie, 1 Ida street east, Edgar, Mr. James, late of Allerton, Edwards, Mary, 28 Cannon street west, Edwards, Mary, 204 Herkimer street, Edsall, Minnie, 215 Wentworth street north, Eisman, Mrs. C., Ennis, Jack, 139 Hughson street north, Ensign, Sarah C., 66 King street, Etherington, Herbert, 68 Steven street, Evans, C. VILE DEEDS.

Little Girls Tell Terrible Stories Against Chinese.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—The white slave traffic in Montreal was the item under consideration in the Court of King's Bench on Saturday. The courtroom was cleared by Mr. Justice Tremblay while several little girls told a revolting story concerning several Chinese street for immoral purposes. The little girls explained to the jury how they had been locked in the rooms of their employer, and the desperate encounters they had with Chinese. The girls said they were given beer to drink by their temptress, and that their clothing being taken away from them. They declared that they had tried to escape from the building, but as all the doors and windows were locked and they could not get out of the place.

The investigation is to be continued. It is announced at Rome that the next consistory will not be held before Easter, and it is also stated that the plan to create a new American cardinal has been abandoned, partly on account of the claims advanced by Latin America and Canada, and partly because of the difficulty of selecting an American prelate who would be agreeable to the majority.

UNION JACK

Foreign Flags to be Prohibited on Crown Lands.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The banishment of foreign flags from Ontario's Provincial parks and other Crown lands through tourists and holiday seekers are wont to locate is a regulation which will be shortly adopted by the Government. The enactment will probably be a part of the general park policy which is now in course of preparation for the Legislature. Some years ago, as a result of the protest of certain ultra-loyalists, it was decreed that foreign campers and cottagers flying the banners of the country to which they belonged must, on Crown land, have the display surmounted by the Union Jack. During the past season, however, protests have been lodged by several Canadians that their American summer neighbors, with more loyalty than common sense, have been decorating their flag-poles with mammoth editions of "Old Glory," capped by miniature and toy Union Jacks which were hardly visible. A man shouldn't imagine himself to be a great dictator just because he employs a stenographer. No wonder Samson lost his strength with his hair. Any barber is calculated to make a man tired. No really great man ever allows his hat to get too small for him.

ESTABLISHED 66 YEARS AGO THOMAS C. WATKINS HAMILTON, ONTARIO

News in Brief

A very severe storm is reported on Lake Superior. William Allen, of Chatham, was accidentally shot and killed hunting on Saturday. Sir William Thompson, honorary surgeon to the King in Ireland, died on Sunday at Dublin. Archbishop Bruchesi has urged Catholics of Montreal to cease attending the Academie Theatre. In response to an appeal issued a few days ago on behalf of the Alexandra Hospital, Montreal, $28,820 has been raised for the liquidation of its mortgage indebtedness. By the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of her husband at Belle River last Friday night, Mrs. Joseph Parent, a resident of Windsor, had the top of her head blown off. With a crew of twenty-five men on board, the steamer James H. Hoyt, of Duluth, is on a reef two miles northeast of Outer Island, in imminent danger of going to pieces. A heavy sea is raging. On Sunday afternoon the youngest son of Mr. George Brown, of Wroming, Ont., was missed from the house, and was found in a cistern near the back door. All attempts at resuscitation failed. Walking around behind one car directly in front of another, Lyon Dawson, 72 Prince Arthur avenue, Toronto, a probationary constable, was knocked down and injured about the head on Saturday night. As the result of the recent plenary council held at Quebec there will be no less than 115 degrees sent to Rome for the approval of the Vatican authorities. Many of them are of great importance to Roman Catholics. The dry kiln and heading mill at the Wallaceburg Coopersage Company's plant was burned at an early hour on Sunday morning. The heading mills were saved. The heading mill is a complete loss, but will be rebuilt. His Grace Archbishop McEvay performed the ceremony of the laying of the corner-stone of the new St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic Church, corner of Annette street and Pacific avenue, Toronto, on Sunday afternoon. At the annual meeting of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association at Montreal on Saturday evening, Mr. S. J. Matheson, of Montreal, was re-elected president, J. B. Giles, vice-president, and Max Murdoch, treasurer. Mr. N. K. Laflamme, K. C., who was defeated at Montreal, in St. James' Division for the Legislature, announced today that if Sir Lomer Gouin will reopen the investigation into Montreal's civic affairs he will conduct it without any charge. While out moose hunting near Kenora, Duncan French, a farmer, was mistaken for a moose by C. E. Hanon, and shot through the breast. Recovery is considered hopeless. The two men were in a thick bush at the time, and were only 90 feet apart. A prisoner in the county jail at White made a sensational and successful break for liberty. Russell Franklin, of Oshawa, with but a month of his term for vagrancy to serve, was the cause of a heated chase by the jail officials. He was not recaptured. Acting on the advice of the Cabinet Council, his Excellency has declined to interfere in the case of Dillon, the Montreal murderer, who shot and killed a policeman, and wounded Chief Detective Carpenter. Dillon will be hanged next week on the date fixed. Superintendent W. H. Welsh, of the Canadian detective bureau, was in Toronto on Saturday night on his way to Seattle, Wash., to identify a man arrested in that place believed to be Edward Lee, one of the seven who broke from jail here on July 16, 1908. Minnie Henshaw, a woman about 45 years of age, attempted suicide on Sunday evening about 7 o'clock, in her room at 116 Yorkville avenue, Toronto. She had taken a quantity of laudanum. The woman had been drinking quite heavily for the past two weeks, and had not been able to get work. Jehiel C. Baker, an employee of the Michigan Central Railway, died suddenly in a barber shop at St. Thomas on Saturday evening. He took his place in the chair, leaned back, and suddenly, without warning, passed away. Baker was 70 years of age, and had been M. C. R. depotmaster for many years. When George Stocks was yesterday fixing the bell in the tower of St. John's Church, Portsmouth, Ont., he slipped and fell sixty feet, lighting on a picket fence. In the hospital it was found that not a bone was broken, but the flesh about his legs was lacerated to a serious extent. He will recover. The situation in Portuguese Guinea is very grave, owing to a revolt of the natives. The guns mounted on the enter defenses of Beilima have been captured by the insurgents. Several buildings on the principal streets, and its magnificent church, are reduced to ruins. It is feared there have been many victims. Robert Wilson, a Grand Trunk Railway engineer, was fired at three times by an unknown man, armed with a revolver, while driving his locomotive through the Newmarket yards of the J. B. Booth Company on Friday. He escaped injury, although two bullets imbedded themselves in the woodwork surrounding the cab window. J. B. McVicar, chief at London Asylum for Insane, was found under one of the windows Saturday morning, dying a few hours later. He returned to the asylum from the city 23-1/2 midnight, and according to the night watchman, went at once to his own room, on the fourth floor. It was on the ground directly beneath his window that he was found. Workmen discovered the body of a woman lying in a yard near the new Telephone Building on Adelaide street, Toronto. Investigation showed that she had been dead for some time, and the police identified the remains as those of Delia Harris, who lived at 119 York street. Her death was due to alcoholism and exposure. The chief of police of Buenos Ayres, Senor Falcon, and the police secretary were assassinated on Sunday while driving in a Calla street. A man, supposed to be a Russian anarchist, but not yet identified, suddenly sprang from a secluded spot where he had been waiting, and threw a bomb directly under the carriage. The ceremony of unveiling the new statue in the Queen's Park, Toronto of Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald, Prime Minister of the old Parliament of Canada, and first Prime Minister of Ontario, will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by the Lieutenant-Governor, ed without opposition was one asking that the United States Congress pass legislation to control employment agencies; that action be taken to favor the passage of a universal eight-hours bill through Congress, and that action be taken to secure for the people of Porto Rico recognition as citizens by the United States. In support of the last-named resolution, Delegate Santiago y Glesias was heard. One resolution of international importance was passed. It was presented by Delegate P. J. Doherty, of the Alabama State Federation, asking that the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. investigate the feasibility of establishing and carrying on a national sanitarium for the cure of tuberculosis.

Madame Steinheil Acquitted of Murder Charge. People Cheered and Made a Big Demonstration.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Madame Margherita Steinheil was acquitted at an early hour this morning of the murder of her husband, Adolph Steinheil, a noted painter, and her stepmother, Madame Japy. The verdict was rendered at 12:55 a. m., after two and a half hours' deliberation, during which time the jury three summoned the President of the court for explanation. It is understood the jury stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction. There was a dramatic scene in the court room when the jury returned to deliver its verdict. The red-robed Judges and counsel filed in Steamer La Seine Sunk Near Singapore. Sharks Attacked Those Struggling in the Water.

Singapore, Nov. 14.—The mail steamer La Seine, of the Messageries Maritimes Service, running between Java and Singapore, and en her way to this port, was in collision early this morning with the steamer Onda, of the British India line, and sank within two minutes. Baron and Baroness Benizky, the captain and his wife, five European passengers, and others, comprising native passengers and members of the crew, were drowned. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock in the morning in a thick haze. The vessel was steaming at a good speed, and La Seine was cut almost in half. There was no time for panic nor for any attempt on the part of the officers of the foundering steamer to get out their boats. The majority of those on board were caught in their berths and carried down with the vessel. The force of the collision brought the Onda to almost a dead stop and her engines were at once slowed and boats lowered. The rescue work proved thrilling for not only were the rescuing parties impeded by the dark, but sharks were already attacking those clinging to pieces of wreckage in the water. Sixty-one persons from the ill-fated steamer were finally dragged into the boats and brought by the Onda to this port. Many of them had been bitten by sharks and several are severely injured.

MADAME STEINHEIL ACQUITTED OF THE CHARGE OF MURDER IN PARIS.

BACON'S WORK

Party of Americans Hunting For Bacon's Library. May Prove Lord Bacon Was Queen Elizabeth's Son.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 14.—Following the minute directions of a cypher of Lord Bacon's writings, which the discoverers believe will establish beyond all doubt the authenticity of Bacon's claims to the authorship of plays and histories that will change the entire character of English literary history, a party of American scholars are now near the spot where Bacon's library and original manuscripts are said to be buried, and a cable may at any moment flash the confirmation of their discovery to a waiting world. In this party are Dr. Orville W. Owen, of Detroit, a famous Baconian scholar; Dr. W. H. Prescott and John Dane, Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. M. L. Belches, of Boston.

Already, by following the instructions of the cypher, the party are in England, and have found the secret chamber in Bacon's castle, which, according to the cypher, leads directly to the river, and thence to the cliff, where Bacon's entire library, consisting of manuscripts and books, have been concealed from the world for nearly 300 years. The cave, oak trees, cliff and other landmarks, told of in the cypher were found to be correct, and, according to the advance information, prove, the party claims, the existence of the cypher, and leave no grounds for doubting the truth of the assertions made by Bacon in the cypher in regard to his authorship.

Should this cave divulge the entire library of Bacon there will be an overturning of the literary history of England. The party expects to find there buried Bacon's own diary, which will prove beyond all doubt that Queen Elizabeth, commonly known as "the Virgin Queen," was a much-married woman; that Bacon was her own son, and that he had a brother in John Dudley, the Earl of Essex, who was ordered put to death by his own mother for daring to claim his birthright. The party expects to find in Bacon's own writings in the original confirmation of the theory the decipherers already claim to have established, that Elizabeth, the daughter of Henry VIII. and Anne Boleyn, while confined in the Tower of London during the troublous times that antedated her reign, was married to the Earl of Leicester, Bacon's father. The party is acting on two cyphers, one discovered by Mrs. Elizabeth W. Gallup, of Detroit, and the other by Dr. Owen.

Electric Sparks. Electrically driven vacuum cleaners are now to be used on the best trains of the Great Northern in place of the old dust cloth and broom. The work of constructing power houses on the Rubicon River in California has started and the Southern Pacific will be electrified. Woodpeckers are destroying the wooden transmission poles in the west and southwest. Sixty-two electric railway lines operate in and about the city of Paris. The annual average of passengers carried is 190,000,000. The Mont Blanc electric road in Switzerland is now in operation on an elevation of 5,495 feet; it will be continued to the summit. The Argentine Republic has appropriated $75,000 to establish wireless operations between Buenos Ayres and Ushuaia.

Chicago is considering plans for an extensive subway system of railways to cost 80 millions. There are 172 telegraph and 85 telephone offices in Corea. Greece has practically no coal deposits. Whatever electric power it has comes from waterfalls. The Dayton, O., Lighting Company has formed a night study class for instructing its employees on electric subjects. Test for a New Servant. "I have discovered a test by which I can within a very few minutes invariably tell a good servant from a bad one," remarked a Toga woman to a friend a few days ago. "Whenever I need a girl I make all applicants come to my house. I receive them in the parlor and make sure if she starts snoring and jumps into her lap, I grab her up at once. By a few questions I can tell pretty well what their ability is as a cook, washerwoman and so forth, but this can be done by any one and only makes up one-half of the requisites of a good servant. "The other and more important half is a good, even temper and a kindly nature. If the applicant has these she can acquire the other requisites. During the interview I watch Billy. He always comes over and sniffs around a stranger. If he walks away after this inspection I dismiss the applicant, but if he starts snoring and jumps into her lap, I grab her up at once. Billy can instantly tell a good servant when he sees one. I have been guided by Billy for five years now and he has never failed yet."—From the Philadelphia Record.

THE YELLOW AND BLACK TEAMS

JUNGLE KINGS DEFEATED ARGOS AND ARE TIE WITH OTTAWA

Saturday's Contest at Rosedale Was Witnessed by Over Three Thousand Spectators—It Was a Good Game But the Tigers Had It on the Oarsmen in Every Department.

"They made us play to win, and a hard game is what we expected."—Capt. Ben Simpson.

"Any team that can score against a wind like was blowing in the last quarter is just about good enough to win the championship."—Pete Flett.

"The Tigers will not be beaten in any of their remaining games this year."—Doc Thompson.

"The Jungle Kings should land the Grey Cup this year."—Interprovincial President Seymour.

"Tigers have a good team, but they don't want to underrate 'Varsity'."—Tommy Church.

"If the Argos had played as well against Ottawa as they did against the Tigers there would not have been any play-off."—Captain Coryell.

Fourteen to four was the score, and that is a good indication of the play. It was only in the last quarter that the Tigers outclassed their opponents by any big margin, the preceding quarters being close enough to keep the spectators interested. The weather conditions were not conducive to good rugby, a high wind sweeping down the field, and the atmosphere being misty. Considering the handicap of the breeze, both back divisions caught very well, and few fumbles were made. It was expected that the Argonauts would give the Jungle Kings a tough battle, and expectations were realized. The light and dark blue wing line played a great game for three-quarters, and the Tigers tried in vain to buck for gains. However, they weakened considerably towards the end of the game, and did not hold their men, allowing the Tiger wings to get through and nail Kent before he could get rid of the ball. In the early stages of the game the Argos line more than held the Tigers, and saved tries on a couple of occasions by their stone wall blocking. They were not in condition to go the route, however, and even had they been so their back division was hardly good enough to win from the black and yellow. The Argos could not take advantage of the wind when they had it in their favor. Ben Simpson kicked almost as far again as Taylor as Kent did with it. The schoolmaster placed his punts nicely and Lyon and Marriott following up fast generally nailed the Argos backs before they could get away with the ball. On the other hand, Simpson resorted to a kicking game when the wind was in his favor, and kicks to the dead line came about every two minutes during the first and third quarters. The Tigers gave a wonderful exhibition of their staying powers and condition, when in the last quarter, with the wind blowing dead against them they kept the ball in Argonaut territory most of the time, and succeeded in putting on three points in the second quarter. They dropped a nice goal from twenty yards out, and one rouse totalled the Toronto boys four points. Every one of the Tigers' points were the result of Simpson's long kicks over the line.

The game was not by any means sensational, very few runs being tore off, and off-side and interference plays occurring frequently. Taylor has a bad habit of holding, and for this offence the Argonauts lost the ball time and again. The Tigers suffered a lot through being off-side, and working interference plays through the scrummage.

In the first quarter the Tigers had the advantage of the wind and kept the ball in Argonaut territory for the whole fifteen minutes. On one occasion when within three yards of the Argos line they attempted to buck over, but lost ground. The Argos line was very strong and at this stage of the game the Tigers had little success in bucking it. Simpson then started to kick on the first down, and scored seven points by punts on the dead line before the quarter time whistle blew. In the next quarter the play was around midfield and in Tiger territory. The wind kept the Tigers on the defensive, and had it not been for Kent's drop the Argos would have been held down to two or three points. In the third quarter the Tigers again had the wind, and took advantage of it to the extent of four points. Pfeiffer nearly distinguished himself by getting a try on Marriott's dribbled ball behind the Argos line, and was only stopped by one of the Toronto men tripping him. It was in the last quarter that the Tigers showed what they really could do, handicapped by a strong wind, they kept the ball in Argonaut territory nearly all the time, and played the Oarsmen to a standstill.

Several of Toronto's most prominent Rugby men said after the game that the Tigers would defeat Varsity by a larger score than they put over the Argos. The Jungle Kings are developing great finishing powers, and it may truly be said that they are in as good, if not better, condition than ever before. The line is one of the strongest the Tigers ever had, and the back division is the best in Canada. Always steady, they make but few mistakes, and every man is to be depended upon. Even with the changes on the team the Jungle Kings played as strong a game as they did a week ago, and the Tigers now have three spares that could catch a place on any team in the country. George Smith is fast making a reputation as the best half-back in the country, and in the opinion of some of the critics who saw his work on Saturday he has got it on the famous Tommy Stinson. The Winged Wheel captain is perhaps a trifle faster than the Hamilton boy, but he is not nearly as sure with his hands.

The Tigers are now tie with Ottawa for the leadership of the "Big Four" series, and the teams will meet at Rosedale, Toronto, next Saturday to fight it out for the supremacy of the league. Critics all over the country, with the exception of Ottawa, concede Hamilton the victory, and on the dope it looks as though the Tigers would win by a good sized score. Although the Senators have a good team, the Tigers have it on them in every department of the game, and besides are in better condition to go the route. The winning team will likely win the Canadian championship and the Grey Cup as well, as unless the students show unusual form, they will not be able to stand up before the Inter-Provincial winners. It is generally recognized that the article of football put up in the Inter-collegiate is not up to the standard of the "Big Four," and although they will have the advantage of playing on their own grounds, Varsity would surprise every one but their own followers by coming out victorious against either the Tigers or Rough Riders.

It has been practically settled that next Saturday's game will be played at Toronto, but unless ample police protection is promised the game may be played in some other city. It was disgraceful the way the spectators were allowed to walk on the field last Saturday, such disorder is not seen in any other city in the Dominion, and such a thing is not to be tolerated in a championship match.

He favored his injured arm a little, and did not tackle quite as good as he did last year, but the game will give him confidence, and it is a safe bet that he will be the same old flying tackler when he lines up against the Ottawas.

Norman Brammer filled Jack Gray's position on the wing line very acceptably. He hit the line for good gains, and tackled and blocked exceptionally well. "Huckle" certainly is one of the finds of the season, and although a very big man, he is fast enough to fill almost any position on the team. His form is only the more remarkable considering that he never played Rugby before this year, and he has taken to the game like a duck to water.

Ben Simpson was not as conspicuous in Saturday's game as he usually is, but saved himself for the big battle with the Rough Riders. However, his long punts were the chief factor in winning the game for the Tigers, his booting leg being in the best of shape. At no part of the game was he held in check, and he came out of it without a scratch, which will be bad news up Ottawa way.

Davey Tope played his first game of the season on Saturday, and showed that he had not deteriorated any since last year. Although half-back is not his position, he put up a steady game there and got away to one forty-yard run that was sensational, warding off several tacklers. He also did some good punting and caught well.

Bob Isbister played his usual bright game, and did some very effective tackling. He was kicked in the head early in the game and was put out for a few minutes. He came back as strong as ever, however, and was always in the thick of the fight.

Bethune in the scrummage did some very effective work. He broke through quickly, and always got a very good pair of hands, he is about as good a scrummage as plays the game this year.

Wigle and Barron did some good line plunging, and although their method of tackling is not very pretty, they generally bring down their men with a decided thump. Both played well and made no mistakes.

Sinclair was one of the best men on the Argos team. His line plunging was first class, and he did some effective tackling. But Norcross was the shining star. He followed up fast and did some great tackling. He relieved tight situations by nailing the Tiger backs before they could get rid of the ball on several occasions, and showed a clean pair of hands.

The whole Argonaut line was good, but their back division was only second class. Mert Kent did some bright work, but showed poor judgment in some parts of the game.

The work of the officials left nothing to be desired. They were strictly impartial, and penalized both sides every time they saw an off-side of interference play worked.

The line up:

Argonauts.	Back.	Hamilton.
D. Taylor	G. Smith
Knight	Halves.
M. Kent	Moore
Green	Simpson
Coryell	Toppe
	Quarter.	Awrey
H. Brown	Scrummage.
Russell	Craig
Ferguson	Pfeiffer
Cornell	Bethune
	Wings.
J. Taylor	Brammer
Grant	Barron
Heuther	Isbister
P. Kent	Wigle
Norcross	Marriott
Sinclair	Lyon
Reiser	Hugh Hayes, Hamilton; umpire.
Frank Robins	Goal judges. A. D. Armour, Archie Mullin. Touch line judges, Phil Boyd, J. McKay; linesmen, J. R. Jamieson, Wm. Forbes. Timekeeper, Dr. John McCollum, Don Cameron. Penalty timekeeper, Ridley Wylie.

Cotton Top was right back in form.

If the Toronto Police Commissioners do not agree to provide sufficient protection, a squad of regulars from Stanley Barracks may be engaged to keep the field clear. A half dozen mounted dragoons would do more to keep the people back than three times as many police.

The largest crowd that has seen any Inter-Provincial game in the Queen City this year was out on Saturday to see the Jungle Kings. The large grounds were well filled and the gate was large enough to enable the Argonauts to break even with a losing season. A contingent of about two hundred accompanied the Tigers on a special train, but as the Rooters' Club was not along, there was very little rooting done by the Hamiltonians.

The star of the game was George Smith. He caught balls in every imaginable position, and only fumbled once. His one mistake was to kick once when behind the line in the face of a strong wind, but with that exception he played a perfect game. He ran out punts on several occasions for good gains, and his zig-zag runs rivaled those of the famous Art Moore. Neutral newspaper men who have seen him in the last couple of games say he is one of the best full backs the game ever saw. He has got a sure pair of hands and is a very fast runner. His passing is also good, and little fault can be found with his tackling. Tommy Stinson is looked upon as the best full back playing in Canada this season, but he has nothing on Geo. Smith.

Considering that it was his first game of the season, Don Lyon played a remarkable game on Saturday. He was always on the ball, and followed up like a streak of lightning. He broke through and nailed Kent before he could get rid of the ball on several occasions, and tackled better than any man on the team. He will help the yellow and black a lot next Saturday, and the Ottawa backs will be bothered more than they were in their last game with the Tigers.

down Simpson kicked over the line, and was following up fast when Kent dribbled to the dead line to save a try. Score, Tigers 5, Argos 0.

Sinclair was nailed for a loss, but an off-side by Tope brought the ball to the Argos' 45. Moore marked and Norcross again secured his high punt. Moore was not given yards and the Jungle Kings again got possession 35 yards out. Simpson booted into touch for a loss. Argos bucked for their yards, but Hamilton got the ball on an off-side. Simpson kicked to M. Kent who fumbled, and the ball was kicked to the dead line. Score, Tigers 6, Argos 0.

SECOND QUARTER.

Isbister kicked off to Norcross, who returned into touch at centre. Awrey was nailed for a loss and Simpson booted. M. Kent returned to the schoolmaster and Argos got possession on an off-side. Sinclair nailed Simpson 20 yards from Hamilton's line. Simpson punted to Green and the Tigers were given the ball for interference. Isbister was nailed for a loss and on a kick to Kent no yards were given, and it was Argos' ball at Tigers' 45-yard line. Kent kicked to Smith, who ran the ball out five yards before being downed. Tigers were forced to kick to Knight, whose return was weak, and Tigers got possession 35 yards out. An end rouse by Moore and a buck gave Tigers their yards, but they lost the ball for off-side. Mert Kent kicked to Smith, who ran the ball out 20 yards. Poor tackling by Argos enabled Tigers to gain their yards. Smith and Moore then combined for 30-yard run, but the ball for a forward pass.

Jeff Taylor stole the ball from Simpson, but Argos were off-side and it was Tigers' ball at their own quarter. Heuther stole the ball from Awrey and Norcross downed Smith. Simpson booted to Greene, who returned to Simpson.

Argos secured the ball and went to Tope behind the line, where Davey ran it out in grand style for 40 yards. Argos secured and booted behind, Norcross secured the ball behind the Tigers' line as Smith returned, but a rouse was only allowed, the wind carrying the ball over the dead line. Score:

Tigers 6, Argos 0.

The kick-off Tigers were off-side, and Argos got possession 25 yards out. From there Kent dropped a nice goal. Score: Tigers 6, Argos 1.

Isbister secured his return kick from Greene and Sinclair nailed Simpson for a gain. On Kent's kick, Tigers got ten yards for off-side and the whistle blew with the ball in centre field.

LAST QUARTER.

Russell kicked off to Awrey, who was downed. Simpson kicked, and Green was downed 20 yards out. Tope marked the kick and returned to Knight. Hamilton secured when Argos lost for downs, and Tigers got ten yards for off-side. Tope kicked to the dead line for a point. Tigers 7, Argos 4.

Tigers secured again for interference, and Simpson kicked to D. Taylor, who was downed for a rouse. Tigers 8, Argos 4.

Kent kicked to Tope, who was downed at centre, and Simpson booted to Green, who ran it back ten yards. An awful rouse was made when Tigers were given the ball, for not being given yards. Simpson kicked on the first down into touch, and Kent kicked to centre where Smith was downed.

Argos secured their quarter when Simpson booted to Green. Argos bucked for five yards on the first, but failed to gain on the second. Simpson returned M. Kent's kick for a point. Tigers 9, Argos 4.

Tigers secured a loose ball and then lost it for off-side, only to secure it again when Argos committed. Simpson kicked and M. Kent passed behind his line to Green, who was downed for a point. Tigers 10, Argos 4.

Tope made his work at his 40-yard line, and kicked to Green, who made a short kick out. Hamilton getting possession 10 yards out. From there Simpson kicked over for a rouse. Tigers 11, Argos 4.

Argos failed to gain yards in three downs, and Tigers tried a run from 25 yards out. Awrey and Moore exchanged passes, and then Awrey passed the ball to Coryell in mistake. Argos bucked for their yards, and then Mert Kent kicked into touch just at three-quarter time. Score: Tigers 11, Argos 4.

The Argos had a strong wind behind them, and the crowd looked for a strong finish. Isbister kicked to D. Taylor, who returned to Simpson at Hamilton's 45-yard line. Simpson kicked to Moore, who was downed at Argos' 35-yard line. Hamilton got the ball for outside interference.

Simpson kicked to Green, who returned to Moore, who made his mark. Moore lost the ball for failure to kick over the mark. Kent booted to Tope, who was downed at Hamilton's 25-yard line.

Simpson kicked into touch near centre. Kent booted to Tope, who was charged furiously by Pud Kent, who was ruled off for five minutes. Simpson kicked to D. Taylor, who tried to run the ball back instead of kicking. Mert Kent booted to Smith. Simpson kicked again and Taylor ran into touch. Kent kicked to Moore in touch at the 45-yard line. Tigers got ten yards for Argos' off-side. Simpson kicked to Green, who was downed at Argos' 35-yard line. Hamilton got the ball for outside interference.

Kent kicked to Smith, who made a fine catch and run, and then passed to Moore for a short gain. Simpson kicked to Green, who muffed, but recovered right on his goal line, and was downed for a rouse. Tigers 12, Argos 4.

The Tigers lost possession at centre when Simpson kicked into his own line. Mert Kent was very slow in making his kick, and it was blocked. Marriott getting the ball in the same spot.

On a bluff kick Simpson got around the end for a 20-yard run on the first down. Awrey bucked for his yards. Tigers tried to buck over, and lost the ball. Argos passed the ball back on the line, and the Tigers forced a safety touch. Tigers 14, Argos 4.

It is doubtful if the fans ever got such a surprise as that handed out on Saturday afternoon, when the Intermediate Tigers, after being nearly hopelessly out-classed on the home grounds, a couple of weeks ago, travelled to Dundas, and reversed the situation by trimming the valleyites by a score of 16-13. It was indeed a severe shock the burg received, and the three thousand frenzied onlookers, mostly wearers of the red and white, are still trying to figure out how it happened. A large crowd accompanied the team from this city, and while they were only a speck on the big field, they made themselves heard. The day was not an ideal one for football. A strong wind blowing across the field, and the slippery grounds, greatly affected the runners.

While the result of the game was a big surprise to the inhabitants of Dundas, the local followers were not any too certain of the result. After the decisive way in which the Tigers were defeated in Hamilton, and realizing Dundas' ability when at home, few people expected the local boys would win.

After the game had progressed but a short time, it was evident that Dundas would have to extend to the limit to win, and while the home team did play faultless ball during most of the game, the visitors were a little the better team, and deserved to win. They were greatly improved since their game here, and should the deciding game be played on neutral grounds, the Tigers may repeat their trick of former years by winning the championship.

During the first half of the game the local players rings round their opponents, outclassing them in every department of the game. The Tigers were kicking against the wind, with the result that they were depending mostly on their running and bucking abilities, and were pulling off many trick plays, gaining much ground by end runs, which seemed to prove a mystery to the Dundas wings. When the teams changed ends and the Tigers had the strong wind to assist them, Dundas team seemed to go to pieces. The Tiger back division started to show class, and by some fine punting and shoving, soon had the Valleyites up in the costly, they descended, Hamilton had scored two points. However, in the next quarter Dundas pulled together, and nearly tied the score.

The Tigers were on the defensive throughout this quarter, and the outlook for the yellow and black team, increasing their lead by two points. The Tigers kept the play in Dundas territory. The game was very uncertain at any stage, and mistakes seemed to be in order. Both teams were greatly excited, and perhaps this accounted for the fumbling. Every time the players did make a mistake it was costly, the teams were evenly matched, and at times were unable to gain any ground. They were not slow to take advantage of every mishap. Dundas' only try was secured five minutes after play started, when the backs fumbled. One of the Tigers' touchdowns was gained in a similar manner, and the other was the result of the wings getting through.

During the latter part of the game when the score was so close, the result was very uncertain. While the Tigers had all the better of the play, a costly mishap might have meant the game, but fortunately none occurred. While the score was large and both teams were capable of playing better football, the game proved to be interesting. The teams had many old scores to settle, and during the first half the play went in for blood, mixing it up in fine style, and indulging in the dirtiest tactics imaginable. Referee George Ballard soon stopped this by sending the offenders to the side lines for five minutes. Every player caught for five minutes the usual fine, and at one time ten players decorated the timer's bench. The offenders soon came to the conclusion that they had to play clean football or that in the last half, especially the final quarter, the fans were treated to some real clean, fast football.

When it came to playing straight football, the Tigers showed their class. In the last part of the game it was the only opportunity the fans had of sizing the local boys up in their own territory. They were improved, their work could hardly be improved. Their work could hardly be improved. The wings gave the backs perfect protection the whole game, not one single kick being blocked. They tackled well, bringing their men down hard. Craig and Mason, who so successfully bucked when they played Tigers here, seldom gained an inch before being given the work of the Tiger wings in fine style, running, passing and kicking to perfection, while they used their heads.

During the first quarter the Tigers had their signals working in fine style, but did not take long for Dundas to get wise. Dundas never attempted to pull off any trick plays, depending on the work of their back division to win the game. It was the only thing to be done, as the wing lines were too evenly matched to do any spectacular work. They all had their men, and stuck to their jobs. Dundas, expecting their back division to carry off the honors, were fooled. The backs were given orders to kick every time they got the ball, as this was Hamilton's weak spot in the previous game. The back divisions of the teams kicked at every opportunity, but the work of the valleyites was much inferior to that of the Tigers. The game was won simply because the Tiger back division outplayed Dundas. They kicked farther, and besides, had their punts placed, keeping away from Binkley, the most dangerous man on the Dundas team. At times it was a regular punting duel between the backs, kicking the put down and with a thump. The other men, especially the outside wings, did great work.

There was some talk of Dundas protesting against Kid Smith, who they claim, was not eligible to play. The officers of the Hamilton club say that Smith is eligible, according to the rules. The local team, if they wanted to, could push the protest against Brady, who they claim, is not a resident of Dundas. The teams lined up as follows:

Hamilton (16)	Dundas (13)
Full Back.
McNeilly	C. Quackenbush

Addeison	Mallett
W. Smith	Binkley

Dundas won the toss and kicked with the wind. The ball was kicked off by Hamilton to Binkley, who returned to Harvey. The Tigers pulled off some sensational bucks and got around the end for big gains, and were taking the ball well into Dundas territory. Dundas got the ball on an off-side, and after some great work on the part of the Dundas back division the Tigers were forced to play on the defensive. Dundas got possession at midfield and on a long punt with fast following up Dundas gained a try. Binkley kicked behind the line. McNeilly, who fumbled when tackled, and Fleming fell on the ball, giving Dundas a touchdown, which Mason converted. Score: Hamilton 0, Dundas 6.

Their great start, however, ended abruptly. Hamilton got the ball, and settled down to real hard work. The ball was kicked to Mallett, who returned to Harvey at midfield. Then started a punting duel between the backs. Although Hamilton was playing against the wind, they managed to work the ball near the Dundas line. Harvey kicked to Binkley, who was forced to rouse. Score: Hamilton 1, Dundas 6.

The ball was kicked off at quarter by Dundas, but they lost ground. On the first scrummage Binkley kicked to McNeilly, who returned to Quackenbush, who fumbled, and Thompson dribbled behind the line, where Glassford fell on it for a try. Score: Hamilton 6, Dundas 6.

Hamilton soon got another touchdown. Dundas got possession at midfield, and Binkley attempted to kick, but it was blocked. Glassford broke through and got the ball, pointing over for a touchdown, which Harvey converted. Score: Hamilton 12, Dundas 6.

Hamilton got the ball and Smith kicked to the dead line. Score: Hamilton 13, Dundas 6.

Hamilton scored another point, which ended the first half. Score: Hamilton 14, Dundas 6.

Dundas played more aggressively during the second half, and nearly tied the score. They started kicking, and helped by a nice drop kick by Binkley scored seven points, which evened matters up a little.

In the fourth quarter Hamilton had things nearly all their own way, but the best they could do was to kick to the dead line twice, which ended the scoring.

INTERMEDIATE TIGERS WORK BIG SURPRISE ON SATURDAY

By Defeating the Valleyites on Their Own Grounds by a Score of 16-13 ---Dundas Will Protest "Kid" Smith---Pete Brannan Made His Debut, and Made Good.

It is doubtful if the fans ever got such a surprise as that handed out on Saturday afternoon, when the Intermediate Tigers, after being nearly hopelessly out-classed on the home grounds, a couple of weeks ago, travelled to Dundas, and reversed the situation by trimming the valleyites by a score of 16-13. Dundas played more aggressively during the second half, and nearly tied the score. They started kicking, and helped by a nice drop kick by Binkley scored seven points, which evened matters up a little.

In the fourth quarter Hamilton had things nearly all their own way, but the best they could do was to kick to the dead line twice, which ended the scoring.

Hamilton soon got another touchdown. Dundas got possession at midfield, and Binkley attempted to kick, but it was blocked. Glassford broke through and got the ball, pointing over for a touchdown, which Harvey converted. Score: Hamilton 12, Dundas 6.

TORONTO WILL GET THE SAW-OFF GAME.

A Message Was Received by President Seymour on Saturday From the Ottawa Club, Signifying Their Approval of Toronto Grounds.

The inefficient police protection afforded in the games at Rosedale this year is causing a good deal of talk in local Rugby circles.

It had been the intention of the Argo management to engage a number of soldiers from the Fort to aid in looking after the spectators, but at the last moment this was found to be impossible owing to an order of the commanding officer.

It is now suggested that the grounds be roped off for the Tiger-Ottawa game, and that the policemen present be given power to arrest any spectator who enters the square enclosed by the ropes.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Toronto, as predicted last week, will be the scene of the big saw-off match between the Ottawa and Hamilton Tiger teams on Saturday next.

That put a damper on their arguments, and it was then and there decided to play the game at Toronto, although the agreement was not an official one.

The outcome of yesterday's match was anxiously awaited, and when the news was flashed to Varsity oval, where the teams were practising, that Tigers had won, the Executive got together and sent a message to President Seymour, agreeing to go to Toronto on Saturday next and to play the game at Rosedale, providing ample police protection was assured.

Nothing has been done regarding officials, but it is likely that the appointment will go to Vice-President Joe Wright, of the Inter-provincial, and he will name a couple of Toronto Argonaut men.

Clancy has decided to take the Ottawa team to Toronto Friday morning. Sheriff will replace McCuaig, but otherwise the team will be the same as it was at Hamilton.

TORONTO PRESS ON SATURDAY'S GAME.

Mail and Empire: Varsity was out in full force to get a line on the Tigers' fall, and most of the students were confident that their team would be able to defeat the Jungle Terrors if they were matched for the Canadian honors.

From the spectators' point of view the game was a sad failure. Neither team pulled off anything bordering on the spectacular, and, in fact, under the playing conditions, brilliant work was impossible.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

James Coffroth is the logical impresario. He is established in the business of fight promotion, and they say of him in San Francisco that he always finishes what he starts.

Giovanni Raccovich would like to tackle Gotch at Gravel-Roman. The Genesee grappler is a little sensitive about the feat, of which he has a prodigious mass.

Frank Gotch's intimates say he writes that kind of letters to everybody; that it's his idea of a joke. Quite an odd sense of humor to be sure. Quite an odd eccentricity of genius perhaps.

Of course it is not going to discourage these wilder notoriety seekers to declare that if Jeffries and Johnson fight at all they will fight in California, for it is not their purpose to have anything to do with it.

A bookmaker who boasts one of the largest and most interesting single collections of markers in this country tells us that the "oral" system of betting ought to go in California because the "oral" system of betting has been in vogue among the native sons for many years.

Kaufman, who thinks he can whip Jeffries in a ten-round bout, can have a six-round bout with Jack O'Brien in Philadelphia if he wants action. O'Brien says he will give $10,000 to Kaufman if he will get into the ring. Several years ago O'Brien knocked Kaufman out in seventeen rounds, and the latter has avoided the scientific Quaker ever since.

In order to interest the men of his parish in church work, a Seattle rector has arranged to intersperse his views with boxing and wrestling bouts. It was noticeable that on many occasions Simpson deliberately stood in his tracks while Smith crossed over to handle the punts in order to save the great south side boot artist from the struggles that are imminent. To the credit of the oarsmen he is said, when they failed to gain by fair football there was no attempt to "get" the big man of the jungle. Yes, on several occasions when Tigers escaped running with the ball the Argos tackled, not by gouging Capt. Ben out of business, but more like "tag, you're it."

During the closing stages of the contest, and before news of the Varsity defeat had reached Rosedale, a well-known Hamilton supporter offered to bet anything up to $1,000 at even money that the Tigers would beat Ottawa next Saturday and the same wager for the game with Varsity seven days later.

VARSVITY MET FIRST DEFEAT ON SATURDAY.

McGill Downed the Toronto Students by a Score of 11-9—The Inter-Collegiate Championship Was Not Affected; However.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Displaying form of a championship quality, which, if shown earlier in the season would have led to different league results, McGill defeated Toronto here on Saturday afternoon by the close score of eleven points to ten, and so ended the regular Rugby season. It was the surprise of years. It was the pick of Canadian Inter-Collegiate football that was met on McGill's campus, and when the contest had concluded some of the keenest observers of the sport joined in agreeing that they had witnessed one of the smartest and most interesting games played here in recent years, and certainly the most dashing Rugby battle seen in Montreal during the current season.

The opportunity to see a team that will be in the final for the Dominion championship attracted an unusually large gathering to the university field, and taxed the accommodation for spectators beyond the present limits of the stands. The people who came to see one good team were amply rewarded by seeing two fine Rugby aggregations meeting in what proved to be a great contest.

The fact that Toronto was first to score and reached the interval with the tally six to one in favor of the Blues would have been sufficient to reduce the ardor of most teams holding the same relative position in the league race, but in this instance it proved an incentive to the Red and White. Not even when Toronto added a point early in the third quarter did the men show any sign of quailing; they kept pounding at Toronto's line, wore down the one spot that they had been hammering at all afternoon, and through the breach then made advanced fifty yards for a touch that turned the tide.

Saturday's game was lively from kickoff until the final call of time, which found McGill quartered in solid defence in their own guard field, staying off strong attacks from a team that was making desperate efforts to gain a victory and so present an unbeaten record. An analysis of the game shows that McGill had an advantage on the line and that Toronto was better supplied with backs. McGill offset this by punting back, while McGill offset this by punting back. McGill offset this by punting back.

The delightful morning turned into an uncomfortable afternoon, with a high east wind and a suspicion every minute that rain would come down. The attendance was somewhat affected by the change of weather, but some three thousand spectators were on hand. Three constables had been sent up there to keep order, but when the bleachers crowd got ready to occupy the sidelines on the field and the vacant seats in the stands, there was nothing to prevent them, as the three policemen were lost sight of in the swarm. The field was kept clear, though, until the last few minutes, and there was no interference with the game.

As will be seen, Hamilton took no chances, and though Gray and Burton were off the team in no way weakened with Toppe and Lyon on. It was necessary to include these players in this game to qualify for the Canadian championship game that will follow if Hamilton wins the interprovincial championship. They had not played this season, but both had been out to practice, and were able to make a first-class showing. Toppe, whose position is the more conspicuous, played a useful and brilliant game, marred only by a couple of fumbles in the last quarter, when the light was poor and he was tired.

The Argonauts lost the toss—they have not won this season—and Hamilton elected to kick west, with a strong wind to help. It was twenty-five minutes after the advertised time when play began. With their presumably decided superiority, backed by the advantage of the wind, it was anticipated that the Tigers would kick to the Argonaut goal as soon as they got possession of the ball, and then gallop over for a succession of tries. The Argonaut defence quickly proved that assumption to be unfounded, and there was breaking through or breaking away by the Hamilton outfit during the game.

Toronto World: Although Argos failed to defeat Hamilton at Rosedale field on Saturday, they were visitors a stiff battle as expected, with final score of 14 to 4. At half time the Mountaineers led by only 6 to 4, while at the start of the last period with the score 11 to 4, the visitors had the wind behind them, and had apparently a good chance to win out, but Tigers showed their ability as finishers by keeping the play in the final quarter. The game was witnessed by about 3,500 spectators. Three policemen on duty were unable to cope with the bleacherites, who swarmed into the grand stand at half time and invaded the field in the last quarter. Not a try was scored, all the points being rolled up by dead line kicks, rouses and M. Kent's dropped goal, which gave Argos three of their four points.

For Argos the back division played a remarkably steady game, but lack of good running halves was again demonstrated. The wings were quite as good, if not better than the Tigers, with Norcross doing some good tackling. Capt. Corryell also shone in this respect. The Tiger halves were unable until towards the end to get away for their usual brilliant runs, but Toppe and Simpson did some effective sprinting. A strong northeast wind was a big factor of the game, and the weather was raw and disagreeable. The game was clean, only one penalty being inflicted.

JUVENILE TEMPLARS. The regular weekly meeting of International Juvenile Temple, I. O. G. T., was held in the C. O. F. Hall on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Robert Morrison, superintendent, presided, and was assisted by Miss Mabel Austin, Chief Templar. Two candidates were admitted. A short programme was presented comprising a piano solo by Miss Nellie Morrison; song, Mrs. C. A. Hurdy, and a paper on temperance work by T. M. Macnaughton. A pleasant ball hour was thereafter spent in parlor games under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Hurdy, with Mrs. T. Macnaughton acting as accompanist. Next Saturday afternoon the programme will be of a miscellaneous nature.

Even a dull knife won't take the edge off a sharp appetite.

GEORGE AVERY BROKE THE CANADIAN RECORD.

Putting on 705 in Three Games at Hamilton Bowling and Athletic Club on Saturday Night—R. Harron Won Bill Seager's Clock.

George Avery, the clever little bowler on the H. B. & A. C. champion team, broke the Canadian record on Saturday night while rolling in the individual tournament at the club. He put on the splendid score of 705 for three games, making 244, 263 and 258. As he rolled these games in competition against J. M. Zimmerman and Dr. Johnston, they will constitute a new Canadian record. The Hamilton Bowling and Athletic Club are affiliated with the American Bowling Congress, and as the measurements of their alleys have been duly certified to this season by the Hamilton Bowling Association, the governing body in Hamilton for the A. B. C., the record will also pass on to the United States. This is undoubtedly the best score made in competition this year in America, and the members of the H. B. & A. C. are justly proud of Avery's great feat. He is a member of the Hamilton Bowling Club, and was originally a member of the Hamilton Bowling Club, but last year was one of the mainstays of the H. B. & A. C., when they won the city championship. He has always been a consistent bowler, and a mighty hand at many in the past. He has been bowling in great form of late, and has an average of close upon 200 for the games he has bowled thus far this season.

Individual Tournament. R. Harron turned up as the winner of the handicap tournament after one of the best matches ever held at the H. B. & A. C. These matches have become most popular at the club, always consisting of one night's play, miss and out, and great interest was shown in Saturday night's affair, on account of the handsome prize which hung in the balance, Big Bill Seager's clock. R. Harron, the winner, played a most consistent game throughout, and well deserved his great win. He is a hard man to beat at any time, and George Avery, who got into the final with him, could not concede him the 35-pin handicap, although he made 177 in the final game. Harron's score was 190. Avery captured the runner-up prize donated by the club, and set-up a record of 175 for three games, with 705 for three games, a mark which will likely stand for many a day. The previous city record was held by F. Hinchiff, the clever Steel Plant bowler, 699, made three years ago.

Queen's Defeated Ottawa. Kingston, Ont., Nov. 15.—Queen's played with Ottawa College here Saturday, winning second place in the Inter-collegiate series. The score ended 31 to 9 in Queen's favor. The day was good for football. The attendance was about 1,000. Queen's kept the ball in Ottawa's territory, and the Capitals had to play a defensive game. Only in the last quarter did the Ottawa team show any aggressiveness. They held Queen's in fine style, and prevented scoring. Ottawa was able to make two runs and a safety touch, making nine points. Queen's scored five touches and five rouses, making 31 points. Elliott had to quit after the first half. Dubois, Ottawa, and McLeish, Queen's, were so badly knocked out that they retired. Once Dickson was sent to the fence for punching Chastard, who did not give him any chance of scoring, some tall kicking. In fact, the kicking of both teams was excellent.

Gridiron Gossip. The Rugby season proper ended Saturday. In the Intercollegiate Union, Varsity are the champions, having lost only one game on Saturday, to McGill, 11 to 9, and spectators claim that the match was a poor exhibition, which looks as if Varsity were saving their men for the big game with the winners of the Inter-provincial.

In the Interprovincial, Tigers tied up with Ottawa by defeating Argos Saturday. Tigers and Ottawa will meet at Rosedale next Saturday, and on form Tigers should win. Tigers have had only 18 points scored against them, while Ottawa have had 75, and while Ottawa have scored 76 points in their favor, Hamilton have 96. This and other information, together with opinions of Rugby experts, make it look like a good thing for Tigers next Saturday.

The report that Dixon, of Varsity, was seriously injured in Saturday's game, and will be unable to play in the Dominion championship game, looks like a pipe-dream. It was said on good authority that Dixon's injury was insignificant, and that he will be in the game again this week.

At Washington—Following a desperate operation last Saturday night, it was discovered that Archer Christian, the University of Virginia football player injured in the game with George Washington University, was suffering from some lesion of the brain, complicated with hemorrhages in the cerebral tissue. He died early Sunday morning. The district coroner has sworn a special jury of prominent citizens to suggest, if possible, some modification of the rougher features of the game, and to look into the question of police brutality and indifference following the accident.

At Philadelphia—For the first time since 1907, the University of Pennsylvania football team went down to defeat, her conqueror being the sturdy eleven of the University of Michigan. The final score was: Michigan 12, Pennsylvania 6, all points being made in the first half of the contest. It was Michigan's fifth attempt to win a game from her worthy eastern opponent. The team was outplayed in the first half, but in the second held the powerful Michigan men safely. During the game Pennsylvania made ten changes in the lineup, while Michigan was compelled to send in only one substitute. Michigan scored their first touch-down within two minutes after the game started.

At New Haven—Amidst the thundering applause of 35,000 spectators, the Yale bulldog swept the Princeton tiger off its feet, and prancing down the field, succeeded in rolling up a total of 17 points, at the same time maintaining Yale's record of an unscuffed goal. The game was spectacular in that, although within striking distance of Yale's goal three times, the tor of Cunningham was unable to drop the oakskin over the Eli bars.

At Cambridge—Harvard's smashing and well-directed offense outswirled Dartmouth's superior punting in a clean well-played game, which gave the Crimson a victory, 12 to 3.

At Ithaca—Cornell and Chicago tied by the same score as last year—6 to 6. Neither side was sure at critical points, and heavy penalties kept Cornell two chances of scoring, while twice, with a touch-down in sight, her right guard, O'Connor, was instructed to try goals from the field. Twice also Chicago held pluckily for downs in dangerous territory.

That rough tactics will not win a football game was again demonstrated at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday afternoon, when the First Methodist team defeated the Ascensions by a close score, 2-1, winning the championship of the Senior Church League, and receiving court sweaters donated by Mr. Fred Kerrick. Both teams were tie for first place. The Ascensions played the game instead of trying to show their pugilistic abilities, they might have won. The Ascensions were in no condition compared with the First Church boys. They entered the contest with a determination to make "a clean up" and win the game, but they were fooled, and while the Ascensions gave the Alerts a practise game. However, if the First boys wish to try conclusions, all that is necessary is to call up Walter Howell, and they will be accommodated.

The sweaters donated by Mr. Fred Kerrick to the winning team this year is a design of his own, and will certainly look neat.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS. At a large and representative meeting of the Commercial Travellers' Association of Canada, held on Saturday evening with Mr. John Gibson, the President in the chair, the nomination of officers and directors for the year 1910 resulted as follows: President, John Gibson;

SOCCER

Only one game of soccer was played on Saturday at the Westinghouse grounds, the Independent Labor Party booking it. The game was looked forward to by the fans, as had been during the first half at which they were defeated by the other league teams. The play throughout the entire game was poor, but the first half was almost error-free. The score at half time being 1-1. The Westinghouse, however, proved the strongest, and in the second half, the finishing score being 2-1.

When the play was started the I. L. P. as is usually the case, tackled the wayward ball and made a short distance toward the Westinghouse goal before they could be stopped. The ball changed hands and short positions were made by both teams but the opposition was too great for very large gains. As the play progressed the Westinghouse kicked a goal, making the finishing score 1-0 in favor of Westinghouse. The I. L. P. then worked hard to even the score. The play was sharp and brisk, both teams striving to gain the ball. It appeared as though the score would remain unchanged until half time, but the I. L. P. found a goal in the second half, making the score 1-1. In the second half the I. L. P. had lost all their nerve and played a loose game as they had during the first half at which they were defeated by the Westinghouse. The Westinghouse before the whistle sounded for full time managed to score 6 other goals, making the final score 7-1, favor Westinghouse.

Basketball

At Central Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Saturday night two games were played in the First Church. The first game was between the Central Methodist and Central Y. M. C. A. was very close during the first half at which they were defeated by 6-5, but in the second half the Y. M. C. A. team was allowed to run wild and as a consequence rolled up their score to 12 while the Central Methodist did not score. The Central Y. M. C. A. did most of the scoring while the Central Methodist did very little. The teams lined up as follows: Central Y. M. C. A. (11)—Forwards, Hancock and Johnson; centre, Dean; defence, Olliver and Mass. Central Methodist (6)—Forwards, Hines and R. Smith; centre, Clark; defence, O'Neill and Church.

The second game between Centenary and East End Y. M. C. A. was all Centenary the east enders never having a look-in. At half-time the score was 8-2, and at full time 14-4. Clara Williams featured for Centenary. The teams lined up as follows: Centenary (14)—Forwards, Job and Roberts; centre, C. W. Wain; defence, D. Wain and Yates. East End Y. M. C. A. (6)—Forwards, Precious and Brown; centre, Small; defence, Francis and Elber.

Brewery Workers After Gompers and Teetotalers.

Did Not Like Massey Hall Temperance Speeches.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Toronto, Nov. 15.—From all accounts there is going to be a lively time within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor if President Gompers, Vice-President Mitchell and some of the other big men draw in their horns on the subject of temperance, or rather prohibition. At a large meeting held in Massey Hall yesterday the leaders came out flat-footed on the subject of temperance and the morning the United Brotherhood of Brewery Workers is buzzing like a bee hive over it.

THE WAR ON STEEL TRUST.

American Federation Planning to Give Big Trust a Fight.

Sympathy for the Entombed Miners in Illinois.

Gompers Tells the Delegates to Get a Gait On.

(Special Wire to the Times.)

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Several ineffectual attempts were made at the resumption of the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Massey Hall this morning to secure reports from the dozen or so committees which form part of the body. None of them were ready, however, which caused President Gompers to inquire, "Well! When will you be ready?"

On the motion of Delegate Devore, of the settlement of a dispute between a local union and the International body of the Garment Workers was made a matter of record.

Delegate John Mitchell then introduced a resolution of condolence for the relatives of the miners who met their death in the mine disaster at Cherry, Ill., on Saturday. It was carried by a standing vote.

Business seemed to be at a standstill, as President Gompers read the delegates a lecture.

"May I submit a partial report of the Committee on Organization?" asked Chairman Perham, of that committee.

"Sure," said Mr. Gompers; "we're hungry for it."

The committee reported in favor of the resolution introduced by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers of America in reference to the prospect of a general war of the United States Steel Trust and labor, and concluding "That we believe the thorough organization of all branches of its business is the most important and necessary work that could engage the attention, time and effort of the American Federation of Labor, and its affiliated national and international organizations, and that we recommend that a meeting be held at once, and sessions of the convention of the executive officers of all organizations represented, together with the President and Secretary of the A. F. of L., to consider and outline a campaign of organization among the employees of the United States Steel Corporation, and to consider and devise ways and means of making the striking of the affiliated organizations, now pending, more effective, to the end that they may be brought to a successful conclusion."

Thomas L. Lewis, President of the Mine Workers, urged that something else besides passing resolutions should be done on such an important matter. "It is time for the laboring man to do something else besides passing resolutions of sympathy," he said. "This is a life and death struggle, and we ought to put ourselves on record. We are not an adherent of St. George's Church going to use the same methods the Steel Trust has been using might and main to non-unionize their employees, and we must organize them. This resolution is not enough. I suggest that it be referred to a special committee that will bring in a clear-cut, tangible report on what this federation should do."

The convention adopted a resolution asking the federation to issue a circular letter urging organization among the laundry workers. The resolution introduced by the Indiana Federation of Labor asking the federation to assist in the organization of the laundry workers, also home made dainties and candies will be on sale. Don't forget the date, Nov. 16th.

FOR ITALIANS.

Catholic Church Undertakes Aggressive Campaign Among Them.

Vicar-General Mahoney, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, at the high mass yesterday, made an earnest appeal on behalf of the St. Vincent de Paul Society for support in a movement the organization is about to undertake to educate Italians.

An aggressive campaign is to be begun in Chicago, took place from his parents' residence, 51 Cannon street west, to St. Mary's Cathedral this morning at 8.30 o'clock where Father Arnold officiated at the house and grave. The pall-bearers were William Frank, William MacCormack, D. McMullin, George R. Cox, Thomas Beasley and R. Douglas. Many floral offerings were received, including a piece from the Ladies' Aid of Simcoe Street Methodist Church.

JOHN FLETT'S JOB.

It is reported among the Canadian delegates attending the convention of the A. F. of L. that there is a probability of John Bruce, President of the Toronto Building Trades Council, being appointed an American Federation of Labor organizer to cover the territory in Canada now covered by John Flett, of this city.

H. G. Arnott and S. Byrne, of this city, are registered at the Chalfonte, Atlantic City.

Initials or Monograms On Note Paper

To emboss initials or monograms on note paper requires a die which, if purchased the ordinary way, would cost from $3.00 to $5.00. We make a special offer, however, which relieves the customer of the cost of the die. We take the risk of the die being used on several orders, and charge only for the embossing. The order, however, must be for not less than $1.50 for the work in addition to the cost of the paper. Further particulars on request.

DULL CARE. Vaudeville Performer Does Not Propose to Have It.

Manager John G. Appleton, of Bennett's Theatre, will leave for New York this evening, where he will appear as a witness for Klaw & Erlanger in the action being brought against that firm by Edwin Latell, a vaudeville performer, for an entire season's salary. The case had its beginning in Hamilton two years ago. Latell, who had an act entitled "Dull Care," based on one of the New York comic supplements, was billed to appear at the Savoy. He did not open at the Monday matinee, and later in the week Manager Appleton discharged him. Latell failed to appear the following week at the Klaw & Erlanger house in Montreal, where he was booked, and the firm refused to let him work at any house on the circuit on the ground that he had broken his contract. Latell received $150 a week, and as he is after an entire season's salary a large amount is involved.

ANOTHER PROMOTION. Mr. J. D. Macleod, son of Assessment Commissioner Macleod, who was transferred from here to one of the Winnipeg branches of the Bank of Hamilton some months ago, has been appointed to the inspector's staff between Moose Lake and Montreal. WILL CROOKS.

Letter From English M. P. Read at P. S. A.

At the meeting of the P. S. A. Brotherhood in First Congregational Church yesterday Rev. E. H. Tippet, the pastor, read a typical letter from Will Crooks, the English M. P., who was recently in this country. It was written on board the Canadian-Australian Royal Mail Line steamer Aurang on October 12, and mailed at Honolulu, Hawaii, on October 16. It said: "My dear Mr. Tippet,—Sorry your kind letter did not reach me until I was aboard this ship. I could have written you before I left Canada. A P. S. A. is a place where we practise brotherhood—no talk too much about it—where once a week we can get sympathy and help for the week and men are given to understand that manhood is something to display indoors as well as out. Love of wife and children is quite as good a thing as to stand well with your fellow men at work or in the street. In fact, there are no patriots who do not love home first and P. S. A.'s teach this. God bless you. Will Crooks.

General Secretary T. F. Best, of the Y. M. C. A., was the speaker at the meeting. At the close of an earnest address Rev. Mr. Tippet asked the men to show their appreciation of the Y. M. C. A. work by attending the 415 men's meeting there, and 120 men joined in the procession to Association Hall.

LOST FINGER

And Geo. Smith Seeks to Recover $500 For It.

Peblow & Oelivie, acting for George Smith, have issued a writ against the Gibb Paper Box Company for $500 for personal injuries sustained by the plaintiff owing to negligence of the defendants. The accident happened on November 2 in the factory of the defendants. The plaintiff was operating an engine machine and had the middle finger of his left hand cut off. He claims that the machine was not in proper working order and that was the cause of the accident. Robert Wilson, dealer, has brought action against S. J. Smith. The plaintiff is suing the defendant for breach of contract with regard to the keeping of plaintiff's horse. The plaintiff had the horse kept at the defendant's stable and he claims it was improperly used.
