We understand that throughout the whole Province the Tories have turned the Municipal Elections into a political contest. and we are glad to announce that even in " Conservative Huron," the Reformers have a respectable majority of Township Councillors. We trust they will make the most of their privilege, and that the Councillors of each Township will elect a good s annch intelligent Radical as their Town Reeve, so that the New Warden and County Council may be men of the right stamp. Much of the success of the Reform cause depends on the texture of the Municipal authorities. And as the Tories have long indulged in this kind of war are, it is best to beat them well with their own weapons.

GODERICH, 14th Jan. 1850.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HURON SIGNAL. Sir.-With your permission, I would, through your columns, call attention to what I conceive to be an act of gross injustice done to an indi-vidual (and that individual a woman) by the public, at the School Meeting held here on Tuesday last; in the hope that it only requires to be made known to be remedied. I alfude to the salary which was voted to Mrs. Ross as Teacher fees, District und Government allowances, &c.

A report was on the table signed by the Trüstees, shewing the average number of scholars attending Mrs. R's school during last year the 35 but have good reason to believe that this was a crually under the average number. Now, supposing Mrs. Ross had 40 scholars at the low trate of $1 per quarter, here is at once the amount without either Government or District allow, ance, but now she is to have nothing but that sum—and that too, cartainly not within a year—and be obliged to take all that may offer them relieves as scholars.

I cannot, Sir, help thinking that Mrs. Ross's case is peculiarly hard and dislecatening.

Every one knows the tedious and patience-typic grant the portion of an attention of a teacher's duties, and that they can their pit tage hardly enough; but Mrs. Ross has, fin ad.

THE NOMINATION.

The nomination of a member to represent this Town in the Provincial Parliament took place on Wednesday last. By 12 octock, a large number of the inhabitants and assembled on the Court House Square, and shortly after a commencement was and shortly after a commencement was made. Mr. Henry Hamilton reading the Writ. T. C. D. xon. E.q., was then proposed by L. Lawrason, seconded by H. C. R. Beecher. Edward Matthews then proposed John Wilson, E.q., which was seconded by Dr. Anderson.

The Sheriff then called for a division; the state of Mr. Wilson, proper to the supporters of Mr. Welson going to his right, and those of Mr. Dixon to the left, when there appeared at least two to one in favour of Mr. Wilson. Mr. Dixon their demanded a poll, which the Sheriff amounced would take place on the 16th.

Mr. Lawrason then appeared and spoke for about half-un-bour, showing out about for about half-an-hour, showering out abusive epithets such as turncoat, renegade sive epithers such as turnount, renegator, &co., on Mr. Wilson. In the course of his rhodomontade he repeated the he of the Hamilton Speciator, that Mr. Wilson's re-typnation was a bargain between Mr. W. and the menistry, as his resignation was known in Montreal and published in the Filmt long before it was known in London. Mr. L. was here interrupted with cries of "But you sold your seat to sweet William Draper," Mr. Lawrason managed to work himself into a towering passion. He could see no occasion for Mr. Wilson's resigning his seat. Sc. Sc. Mr. L. had nothing new to offer, and the assembly manifesting some impatience he soon retired, and was one knows the tedious and patience-trying nature of a teacher's duties, and that they can had been so vexed at his resignation having taken place without their being consulted. One of the fire, a short time ago, when told that Mr. Wilson had resigned and family, furnished a school room for two years in her dwelling house; and now at the very moment that her son has completed a comfortable school room at his own expense for her, under the impression that by the new School Act she would be remunerated in proportion to

Mr. Dixon then followed in a grand rein the meeting, and I sincarely trust that some denied having invited the Governor to Lonmeans will yet be devised to do Mrs. Ross justice.

I think neither of these a good reason for what was done If the Government did omit to make the necestary provision for the schools, an approaching session of the Legislature will afford an opportunity, which I presume will not be lost, to provide the remedy. And to say that, because the public may grumble to pay £110 school tax. Mrs.

THE ADMINISTRATION. So much has been said of the short com-ing of the Alministration, that I wish to draw public attention to the other side of the picture. It fact the fault-finding which might induce a stranger to class them with WE will attend to this subject in our next, to fair play, and to no one is this more just that in the meantime, we solicit the honest conower and responsibility, the public naturally look to them for the redress of all their supposed or real grievances. Perhaps there is no country in which these demands are made more impatiently than in Canada.— The people being poor, hopeful, energetic and intelligent, and long languishing under The people being poor, hopeful, energetic and unclined by assessment. We have the fallest and unclined, and long languishing under confidence that the Legislative Grant will be to be established chiefly for the purphes of seizing upon the speils of office instead of develope the vast natural resources of the country, it is scarcely to be wondered at, that the advent of true Responsible Government and Reform Ministry, should have awakened hopes of redress which the short time that the present ad-ministration have been in power, has as yet ministration have been in power, has as yet, prevented them from gratifying. I am not displeased with this state of things, and augur well of it. Let the people continue to suggest and demand good measures, and in time they will succeed. But do not let us be unjust to those in naver. Let us always while demanding in power. Let us always while demanding new reforms, keep in mind what the Minis

-Among the very gentlemanly conductors on the Eric railroad, none is better known for his politeness and himor than Mr. Ayres. Not long since, an old lady from the neighborhood of Binghamton on the urward train of cars, when, they had passed Conhecton, and were upwards of a hundred miles from Piermont, suddenly missed her unberella. 'There!' She exclained, dolorously, in a voice that attracted the attention of all in the cars, 'There!' I declair, 'Ye left my unbereller aboard the steamboat down to Piermont,' and continued bewaning her great loss until Ayres entered. She repeated the grievance and sorrow to him. 'Bless you, malam, said he, is that all? We can put you all right in a minute. Send for it by telegraph, madam,' and so saying he reached up his hand to the believe that presed through all the cars, 'yikedit once or twice, and then went to another car, where by a wise arrangement, all articles picked un on the boat are carried along with the train. He returned a moment afterwards with the umbrella, 'Lordamassy!' exclaimed the old lady in a fervor of delight and actorish ment, 'I knew'd they sent letters and necessaries by telegraph, but is the feet. ment, 'I know'd they sent letters and newspapers by telegraph, but is the first time I ever heard of sending an umberel let!'—Journal of Commerce.

THE PHYSICIAN PHYSICKED .- Some time ago an eminent Scot ish Physician, reques-ted an equally eminent surgeon to accom-pany him to see a distinguished but slippe-ry patient, which he readily accoded to.— The patient was exceedingly polite to both the medical goutlemen, shaking hands with them, and bowing them out of the room in the most affable manner. Soon after this professional visit, the same physician called ago an emment Scot ish Physician, requesprofessional visit, the same physician cation again on the surgeon, requesting him to secompany him to see another patient. On their way thither the surgeon observed—'I hope this ration twil behave more liberally than the last one del.' 'Why,' said the M. Di, 'did he not give you a fee! 'Not a shilling,' was the reply. COMPARATIVE LONGEVITY .- There is no thing in the system of nature which apgavity. A'l that is known of dimenticated animals tends to the strange-result, that longevity hears no relation to strength, size, complexity of organization, or intellongevity hears no relation to streight, size, complexity of organization, or intellectual power. Thirty is a great age for a horse; dogs usually live only from fourteen to twenty years; but the goose and hawk exceed a century. Fish, evidently a lower rank in creation than either, are longer lived than birds; it has been said of some species, and of certain snakes also, that they grow as long as they live; and, as far as we know, live till some accident puts an end to their indefinite term of life. And the toad! it cannot, indeed, be said that the toad lives forever; but many of these animals who were cased up at the general de luge, are likely to live till they are baked in their cells at the general conflagration.—
