Duke's Own Regiment Stands at Salute and Band Plays as Royal Party Arrives

Tens of Thousands Join in Loyal Demonstration to Governor General

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18.—With perfect weather, Vancouver presented a brilliant spectacle as the governor-general, the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia made their entry here amid the cheers of the tens of thousands of people who thronged the streets through which the royal visitors proceeded on their way from the station to the court house, where the civic address of welcome was presented.

The passing beneath ten magnificent arches, flanked on every side by a provision of streamers of bunting, and both sides of the streets were festooned with wreaths of evergreen and of flowers. All the decorations were most elaborate, but what gave the occasion its character was the mass of humanity, black after black, on both sides of all the windows of the buildings, filled with people and people on the roofs. The shipping in the harbor participated in the demonstration.

With the guest of honor, the Duke of Connaught's own regiment standing at the salute and with the regimental band playing the National Anthem, the royal train rolled in at three o'clock.

Taking place in the courtyard waiting near the station, the guests, escorted by a detachment of the British Columbia mounted police, under the command of Col. High, proceeded on their tour of the city.

The winding roadway from the railway station to the city was lined with thousands of people, who were waiting to see the royal party.

Their Royal Highnesses were greeted with hearty cheers, which were repeated along the route as the party passed on its way.

Among the most striking of the decorative effects is the arch erected by the Progress Club on Granville street, a reproduction of Holbein's architectural masterpiece, the gateway at St. James's Palace, London. This arch represents the architecture of the Tudor period. It is finished off with a fine coating of stone or gold, with multicolored windows of the old-fashioned bull-eye glass, expressly made in one piece. From the turret flanking the arch, the most beautiful of the small of the few royal standards in the city.

BLOODIEST BATTLE OF WAR A SKIRMISH

Rome, Sept. 18.—The most sanguinary engagement of the war in Tripoli was fought yesterday near Derne, a town on the Mediterranean coast, 140 miles north-west of Benghazi. The Italians lost 60 men and 15 wounded. The Turks and Arabs left more than 500 dead on the field. Prisoners, including an Arab chief, fell into the hands of the Italians.

MINISTER OF MINES FOR DOMINION REQUESTED

Great Future in Mining Industry in Different Parts of Canada

Advance of Coal Industry in Alberta Has Been Amazing

Quebec Furnishes Three-Quarters of World's Asbestos Supply

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 18.—The first semi-annual meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute in session here, passed a resolution today urging the Dominion government to appoint a minister of mines.

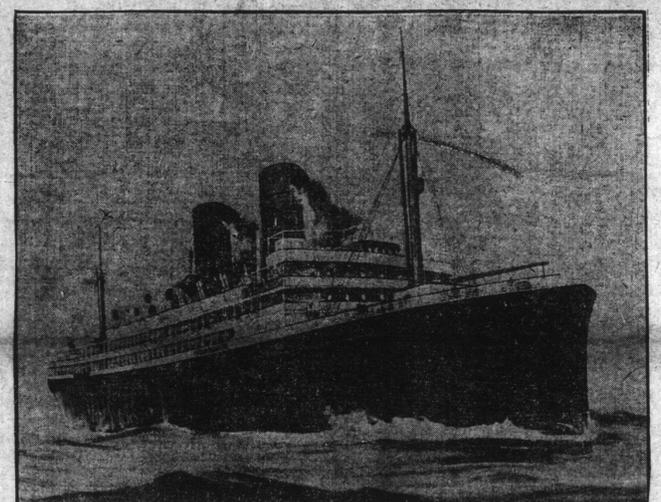

The gathering was presided over by Dr. A. E. Barlow, of Montreal, who in his presidential address referred to the highly prosperous condition of the mining industry in Canada.

In Nova Scotia, he said, while gold mining was declining this has been more than made up by coal output, which this year would be the largest in the history of the province. In New Brunswick, coal, iron, and gas were soon to be developed. Quebec was on the eve of the discovery of new mineral areas, and at the present moment this province produced 75 per cent of the world's asbestos. Quebec had also the largest copper mine in Canada.

Ontario's production for this year would be $100,000,000. The advance of the coal industry in Alberta had been amazing, while with the advent of new and great railways, fresh discoveries were being made. The mineral outlook in British Columbia. Among the other speakers were Sir Hugh McPherson, minister of mines in British Columbia, and Hon. Wm. Templeman.

LUMBER MILLS LOST MUCH IN RAINY RIVER

Warroad, Minn., Sept. 18.—The international waterways commission sat here this afternoon. Before leaving International Falls, G. T. Simpson, on behalf of the Shovel Mountain interests, which include three large lumber mills, stated that the firms cut logs one hundred million feet per annum, and expected to do so for the next twenty-five years. Two thousand men were employed in the forests and mills. The people of Spooner and Besudette depend on constant and uninterrupted operation of the plants. Although the companies estimated that they had suffered damage to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars through the stoppage of the mills, logs rot, and interrupted business through the lack of flow of water.

"HANDS ACROSS THE PACIFIC"—LINKING UP TWO DOMINIONS—The new Canada-Australian steamer Niagara of the Union Steamship company of New Zealand. She will be in commission in eight months. The vessel is 522 feet long, 66 feet wide, with 13,000 tonnage. Her passenger and cargo equipment will be of the highest class. The speed is 17 knots, and her engines are equipped to burn either oil or coal. The service is subsidized by both the Canadian and New Zealand governments.

PEACE NOW CERTAIN BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY

Italian Representative Very Confident of Satisfactory Conclusion Very Soon

Negotiations Are Proceeding Very Satisfactorily at Switzerland

Italian Representatives Have Full Authority to Conclude Agreement

Port Arthur, Sept. 18.—Pietro Bertolini, former minister of public works and one of the delegates representing Italy at the peace negotiations which have been going on in Switzerland, discussed briefly today the possibility of a settlement satisfactory to both Italy and Turkey being reached. He said:

"The negotiations are proceeding favorably, and I hope they will soon be successfully ended. I cannot, however, discuss the proposed terms. The Italian delegates have full power to conclude peace here in Switzerland. The long delay in the four parties has been the result of having in the earlier stages to refer the more important questions to headquarters."

Signor Bertolini, who has recently been in Rome, having before the premier and foreign minister the latest phase of the negotiations, rejoiced in the result of having in the earlier stages to refer the more important questions to headquarters.

Signor Bertolini, who has recently been in Rome, having before the premier and foreign minister the latest phase of the negotiations, rejoiced in the result of having in the earlier stages to refer the more important questions to headquarters.

The question of sovereignty over Tripoli and Cyrenaea seems to be the chief stumbling block.

PIERRE MILLS WRITES OF THE FUNNY FRENCH DUELS

He Has Fought Many, Has Acted as Second in Many More and Déplôres Practice

Says the Second is the Man Who is Really Entitled to Consideration

Paris, Sept. 19.—M. Pierre Mills, who has fought in duels and acted as second for others, gives his impressions, not as a duelist, but as a second, and the conclusion would be that the practice had better be abolished for the sake of the seconds, if not for the principals. He had just been called upon to be one of the seconds for a friend of his when he sat down to pen his feelings. "A duel," he wrote, "is nearly always for some trifling or other. The practice keeps one busy either preparing to fight one's own case or to account some of our friends. You sit down to your desk and find a lot of work before you. The day is not long enough to finish it, but you go at it with zest, thinking that this time nobody will disturb you. The bell rings, and a letter is handed to you. It is from a friend, who has himself received the following letter: "We have been commissioned to demand from you an apology or reparation in loyal combat." There it is. All work is over for that day, and for some days to come. You have to find your friend the service required. Another second has to be found. Where is he to be got at this season, when all Paris is empty? Telephone calls, telegrams, messages—everything is tried. It is no use; you have to go out yourself and look for the other second. You drive about town in company with the friend who has been challenged. He is the most unpleasant companion at such a time. He thinks of nothing but his case; he turns it over; he discusses it in a thousand ways, and when it has done he begins all over again. If he would only consent to talk of something else—descriptive geometry would be more interesting.

"Finally the friend is found, and we breathe. But not for long. The adversary's seconds have to be met. Being for the challenge, they have the right to choose the weapon. Naturally, they choose the sword, an instrument your friend never handled. You wish about, doing things with an air of great gravity, and usually with a pair of gloves. I am always for conciliation—first, because a duel seems to me ridiculous; and secondly, because it may be dangerous. I invent all sorts of excuses, stratagems and tricks to get my friend out of the scrape. He obstinately works himself deeper into it. The duel has to be fought; though he never held a sword before. The question then is to give him some hurried advice. Time for practice he has none. We tell him to hold his sword straight before him, at arm's length. He does it, and saliently stretches his arm forward holding his sword proudly, as it should be. Now, let things happen as they will. The adversary dances about, swings his sword, thrusts it here, there and everywhere, but, of course, he cannot approach you. Each bout is two minutes. They are an eternity for two anxious seconds who know that their man is done if he should forget his instructions. The end of the fearfully long minutes comes at last, and we breathe for a like space. Then the second bout begins, and our nerves are again strung to the highest pitch. Suddenly the director of the combat calls a halt. The two adversaries have mutually pricked each other in the forearm. The four seconds look grave, but in the depth of their hearts they say, "What luck!" They put on their coats, drive somewhere for lunch, and honor is satisfied.

But what an amount of time has been lost! Still, seconds may sometimes get fun, even out of a duel. "Remember one of my friends," says Pierre Mills, "who had never handled a sword before. He did as we told him, held his sword at arm's length. But the brave adversary, for some reason or other, backed away. Our man stood still and looked at us. "What shall I do now?" he asked. "Follow him," I suggested. He advanced step by step, and still his adversary recoiled. "What shall I do now?" asked our man again. "Give him a shove," I said. He did so, and wounded his antagonist in the wrist. Honor was again satisfied, but our man was so proud of his achievement that he drove home with us, brave enough to fight the whole world. He imagined that duel would always be that way."

ICELAND DECIDES TO LICENSE A LOTTERY

Copenhagen, Sept. 18.—With the view of increasing its revenue, the Icelandic government has granted a concession to a lottery promoting syndicate. As the Icelanders have little or no money to spare for lotteries, the syndicate has obtained the right to sell tickets in Denmark, where a more profitable field is afforded for their enterprise. Lotteries are increasing in favor in Denmark, and the Danish government, which already guarantees four such ventures, reaps a substantial revenue from this source, and also from gambling on race courses, of which the state gets a fixed percentage.

BUSINESS $100,000,000; PROFITS ONLY $150,000

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Although it sold $100,000,000 worth of farm implements, the International Harvester Company last year made only $10,000 in profit, or fifteen-hundredths of one per cent, according to R. C. Hasbina, the president, who testified today before a special examiner in the government's suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Questions were asked by the government attorneys to allow that the International Harvester Company of America was merely the selling agent of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, and that the latter company was to make all the money.

"Is it not your object to buy from the New Jersey corporation at such a price as to enable you to sell so that you will have neither a loss nor a profit?" asked Edward P. Grosvener, special assistant attorney-general.

"Our object is to buy as cheaply as we can and to make as much as possible. We are to buy from the New Jersey company at prices we would from any other company," replied Mr. Hasbina.

Fall Opening

OUR "STYLE SHOW" FOR FALL & WINTER 1912-13, WILL BE HELD THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 19, & FOLLOWING DAYS

This great shopping centre now announces its entire readiness for preparing Calgary's citizens for the brisk Autumn days, and for the season of frost and snow. European and Eastern fashion centres have contributed an authoritative reflection of the season's correct modes in costumes, fabrics, and accessories of the toilette and wardrobe down to the minutest details. There is a comprehensive exhibit of dependable merchandise throughout, which impressively demonstrates the resources of this establishment and illustrates its commanding position as a distributor of the worthiest merchandise. Accept this announcement as a cordial invitation to visit the store and see these displays of bright new merchandise.

The New Fall Millinery

These September days have set you to thinking of new headwear; and our formal opening whereat will be shown many of the pretty European styles as well as the best from Eastern fashion centres, is a realistic lesson to us just what people are wearing, and what will look best on you. We don't expect every person who comes in to view these opening displays to buy, nor will we importune you to do so; but we are satisfied that when you see the pretty hats displayed, you will concede that their equals—in point of beauty and of price—are not to be found in Calgary.

Calgary's Finest Showing of Tailored Suits

Our collection of tailored suits is not only extensive, but of infinite variety in style and price. It comprehends the modest and the luxurious, the suit of utility, and the suit of beauty—and every grade between the two extremes.

Our Best Display of Women's Coats

The general comment made on our display of WOMEN'S LONG COATS is that in every way it eclipses any showing ever made in this department. The variety is so great and the range of prices so comprehensive that we can satisfy any taste or purse.

The New Dress Goods and Silks

"Dame Fashion" herself must have conspired with the silk and dress goods section when this exquisite collection was assembled. All that is new, that is rich, and all that you yourself could wish for in high grade materials may be found here now, and the very extensiveness of the showing is responsible for the generous prices that prevail.

THE PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE

The Progressive League, an organization of good citizens, has started with some enthusiasm to grapple with municipal conditions in this city.

Similar organizations have sprung up from time to time in different cities throughout this continent.

Some of them have done very good work and then declined. Others have started nowhere and ended nowhere.

Organizations of this kind are sometimes inclined to be impractical and spend their efforts in discussing visionary plans in a visionary way.

It seems from the discussion at the newly organized city league that such a danger is not entirely absent. However, the league has just started in Calgary and may do better.

There is a great need for an organization of this kind in Calgary. The ratepayer has not yet found his proper place in the organization of the modern city.

With progressive legislation, the ratepayer must make his voice heard, not merely at election time, but all the time and upon all civic questions.

If this Progressive League succeeds in enrolling a large number of the more progressive citizens to discuss civic questions seriously, soberly, intelligently and thoroughly and creates public opinion as well as voicing opinions, and takes a supervision over the elected membership of the city council, co-operating with the council at times as well as criticising it when necessary, it will be a very valuable factor in the municipal life of the city.

THE BRITISH FEDERATION

Winston Churchill suggested some scheme for local self government in the different districts in Great Britain, which doubtless will be adopted shortly after the passing of the Irish Home Rule bill.

Some such change seems absolutely necessary if Britain is ever to get through or get to the vast amount of business that is piling up before its congested parliament.

Mr. Churchill intimated that he favored a number of smaller local parliaments. There would be one for Ireland, one for Scotland, one for Wales, and a number for England.

For instance he suggested a parliament for York, another for Lancashire, one for the county of London, and one for the Midlands.

These different districts, with the exception of Wales, are about equal in population, each district having about four million people, which is about twice the population of the province of Ontario.

The change suggested will be an important one, but a very reasonable one. As the districts will be created after the central government instead of before, as was the case in Canada and the United States, doubtless they will receive less extensive powers than the provinces or states did, which will not be disappointing or unfortunate.

The time has come for some internal change in the administration in Great Britain and the move suggested by Mr. Churchill is a very reasonable one.

THE OUTLOOK OF COL. HUGHES

"If you in this Christian world have to guard against those who would violate law and order, why should we not expect to find a similar spirit displayed among the nations of the earth?"

Col. Sam Hughes made use of the words just quoted in an address in Britain at the launching of a war ship. That evidently is the political doctrine and foreign outlook of the Canadian minister of militia.

From his address one would imagine that he is quite firmly convinced that the whole world is divided into two classes, one being the people of the British Empire and the rest a band of goats of a particularly warlike disposition.

Col. Hughes evidently has the idea that the British people alone are anxious to avoid war, and that all other nations are waiting for the time when John Bull ceases to spend his earnings in building expensive armaments and then will walk across and butt the British Empire to pieces.

But the fact is that other nations are quite as anxious to avoid war as Great Britain. Financial men, business men, artisans, agriculturists and others of every class in every nation are seriously opposed to war.

The war class in every country includes a very small percentage of the real people and is about as large proportionately in one country as another. They are able, however, to play upon the temerity of their countrymen to such an extent that they get very much of what they want in all countries.

In Germany the people do not want war.

The most while political party not only opposes war but actually favors a reduction in armaments. Japan wants no war and will make many sacrifices for peace. The people of the United States are peaceful even at election time. No country in the world is as anxious to avoid war and develop its resources peacefully as France.

The Russian people are bitterly opposed to war. The very life of the smaller countries in Europe depends upon the preservation of peace. It is a bitter comment upon conditions of today that notwithstanding the undoubtedly strong feeling for peace throughout the world, the different nations are bankrupting themselves in an effort to preserve that peace.

It is unfortunate that men like Sam Hughes can create so much havoc by irresponsible talk and foolish gabbling. Col. Hughes' comparison is not a fortunate one. We maintain policemen to guard ourselves against the lawless and depraved, but we do not arm ourselves against our neighbors who are as peaceful and law abiding as ourselves.

THE SUPFRAGISTS

The suggestion that the English suffragists, who may visit Canada, should be kept out of the country by the Canadian immigration authorities as undesirable citizens, cannot be taken seriously. The suffragists for the most part are cultured, educated English ladies, deady in earnest in their efforts to secure certain reforms which are undoubtedly needed in the Old Country.

It is quite true that their methods are unusual and seem to us to be quite unnecessarily extreme and unwise. It is also true that the unsatisfactory conditions against which they are fighting so vigorously in the Old Country do not prevail to any great extent in this country.

However, these ladies are giving their lives in a campaign which is indeed a worthy one. Canada would not only act in an ungalant fashion, but really in a most autocratic and high handed way, if it placed any barriers upon their coming to Canada.

MARKETING LIST

A Toronto exchange notes that some interesting information regarding the cause of high prices to consumers has been collected by the Texas Welfare commission, which commissioned a sub-committee to investigate the cost of producing and marketing farm products. It found big increase in the prices of all such products from the time they leave the grower until they reach the consumers' tables.

Very similar results were obtained by Professor Carver of Harvard university, who, with the assistance of some of his students conducted an investigation into various products sold in Boston and Philadelphia. According to government reports the producer in the United States received 40 cents for products of the farm for which the consumer paid $1. In other words, taking the value of the agricultural products of the United States sold from the farm at $6,000,000,000 the consumers paid $13,000,000,000.

THE TRADE POLICY

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his speech at Sturgeon Falls referred very definitely to the fiscal policy of the Liberal party. It is now and always has been one of extension of trade. He referred to the successful efforts of the party to secure better transportation between the provinces, which created a home trade throughout Canada.

EDITORIAL NOTES

This is the growing time and the majority crop is looking fine.

The Toronto Star is brazen enough to publish the following in its editorial columns: "Sir Max Aitken and R. B. Bennett have bought eighty-eight grain elevators in the North West. When these two young fathers of their country get together, patriotism begins to pay dividends."

H. E. Gillis, once city clerk, announces himself as a candidate for mayor. Mr. Gillis when in office was famed as easily the best writer on earth of long distance marathon civic addresses to be aimed at rulers, potentates and other illustrious visitors. He should be candidate for mayor of Edmonton, where they have some strange idea that a civic address should mean something.

Another day has passed and no evening Conservative paper has risen up to casually tell its readers on what day this fall the provincial elections will be held.

COST OF LIVING MAY BE INCREASED CONSIDERABLY

Alfred Mosely, Writing to The London Times, Discusses Rise in Foodstuffs

The New Farmer, He Says, is a Business Man, Who Has Come Into His Own

London, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Alfred Mosely in a letter to The Times, discusses the causes of the world-wide increase in the cost of foodstuffs, which has been noted during the last ten or twelve years.

The ordinary individual upon the question being mentioned, usually remarks (almost automatically), "It is all caused by the increased production of gold." But whilst such larger output of the yellow metal may be a contributory cause, it is only one of many, and one of the least important.

There are many factors at work, not the least of them being the increase of population, which has been greater amongst urban people than on the land. The triple expansion engine and the greater carrying capacity of cargo steamers have during the period under consideration materially lowered freights; but a yet more important feature as concerning perishable commodities, but as regards such as cheese, poultry, etc., is the development of cold storage. This has not only allowed all quarters to our own markets, but has also enabled a more extended distribution to take place from countries where there is a shortage or where there is no supply at all which, prior to the development of refrigerating plants, had to be sold in spots.

The question one naturally asks is, whether this rise has reached its maximum, and whether we are likely to return to the level to which we were before the indications are that (provided we have no great upheaval, such as a European war, or other calamity, to upset the equilibrium) the rise will not be commensurate with the general tendency in an upward direction. A consideration that forces me to this conclusion is that for years past we have been in a "food paradise" respecting this matter.

Maritime cold storage having placed at the disposal of our markets the surplus of our own and of the world's steamers have picked up at any and every port, and often at less than the cost of production, the surplus of our own and of the world's steamers have picked up at any and every port, and often at less than the cost of production, the surplus of our own and of the world's steamers have picked up at any and every port.

A good quality of kerosene lamp, a tin of vasoline, a tin of tinned milk, a tin of condensed milk, a tin of evaporated milk, a tin of sterilized fruit juice should be taken along to make a pleasant and invigorating drink, and it will be a most effective remedy for the "heat stroke" which may befall the party.

Pack off the back, and build a platform on top and let it extend about three feet on each side beyond the supports. Place supplies on top and cover with canvas and spruce boughs. They are in this way protected from bears and other animals.

In building a cabin, make it big enough. It takes little longer to build a cabin 12x12 feet than one of less dimensions, and this is large enough for all requirements. Level off the ground, and let the first logs be imbedded in it. Cover well with moss and lay the next log on top, and so with each log until the walls are six feet high. The logs forming the gable must be pinned together with half-inch wooden pegs, and the ridge pole laid in place.

A smaller log on each side of the ridge pole further supports the roof, which is made of poles three or four inches in diameter, laid side by side and covered with moss and earth. Whichever a few boards to make a door. Pieces of moose skin make good hinges, and a clear floor sack steeped in melted tallow or oil makes a good substitute for glass.

PROSPECTING OUTFIT FOR TRIP INTO YUKON

Discoverer of Klondike Gold Tells of Preparation to be Made by Newcomer

When to Start and How to Buy; What Constitutes a Good Outfit

Mr. Bob Henderson, discoverer of the first gold found in the Klondike valley, writes the following for The Dawson News:

The chetaco, or newcomer, entering the Yukon to prospect should receive a little preliminary instruction before launching into the wilderness. He cannot start into the Yukon to spend the winter without enough money to cover his expenses. At the time the summer floods are over, files are less troublesome, and game and fish plentiful. Whenever possible the prospector should buy his outfit in Dawson, or one not coming into Dawson to buy at Whitehorse.

By buying in a Canadian town, one may save a good deal of money on outfit duty; but it is best, all things considered, to buy an outfit in Dawson, or one not coming into Dawson to buy at Whitehorse. At the time the summer floods are over, files are less troublesome, and game and fish plentiful.

The prospector should leave Dawson in August or September. At that time the summer floods are over, files are less troublesome, and game and fish plentiful. Whenever possible the prospector should buy his outfit in Dawson, or one not coming into Dawson to buy at Whitehorse.

The outfit should include a small medicine chest containing the essentials of which should be one box of carbolic salve and a half-pint bottle of peroxide of hydrogen or other equally good antiseptic. Popular Priced and Fashionable Coats in Wide Variety at "The Bay"

WE CANNOT emphasize the fact too strongly that these new garments for fall are as practical and stylish as any ever shown. Women who admire the practical as well as the beautiful can't make any mistake in choosing from these. Beautifully fashioned in graceful lines and finished throughout in perfect workmanship.

The materials of fine qualities are principally in diagonals, chinchillas, zobelins, bouclés, tweeds, blanket and polo cloths. Four striking new models that have just been opened out for inspection and worthy of special mention are:

AT $13.00—Women's 52-inch tweed coat, made in semi-lounge style, dretroire collar and revers, 3 button side fastening, mannish coat sleeve, wide belt on back; materials of gray and black and green and gray mixed tweeds.

AT $13.50—Handsome coat, 52 inches long, made in semi-lounge style with belt all round waist, convertible collar that may be worn open or closed at throat as desired by wearer. Sleeve with cuffs; side pockets, double-breasted with two rows of beautiful large buttons to match material. Material of blanket cloth in shades of Atlantic blue, navy blue, tan, gray. Many other attractive styles from $16.50 to $45.00. Make your selection now.

AT $15.00—Misses' handsome 50-inch coat, made in semi-lounge style with belt all round waist, convertible collar that may be worn open or closed at throat as desired by wearer. Sleeve with cuffs; side pockets, double-breasted with two rows of beautiful large buttons to match material. Material of blanket cloth in shades of Atlantic blue, navy blue, tan, gray. Many other attractive styles from $16.50 to $45.00. Make your selection now.

Pretty New Motor Scarfs

Among the many new motor scarfs just received are two worthy of special emphasis. And though we can't say enough about them here, we know that women won't be slow in responding to the announcement.

AT 55¢—A plain and attractive scarf of new crystalline which many ladies prefer while motoring. It is a plain scarf, which fits over the head, protecting the wearer from sun, wind, dust or rain; guaranteed waterproof. All the new colors included.

AT 75¢—The motor hood, included.

Fashions Newest Creations in Buttons for Fall

The new coat buttons for the coming season have arrived. And such an array of beautiful creations they are. Women won't have the slightest trouble in selecting the exact buttons to match their garments, no matter what the material.

Present fashions call for a button with a rim and these will be seen here in wide variety with perfectly plain centres in the new colorings. Some have Scotch plaid centres which are going to be great favorites, especially for reversible coatings. A very attractive button is one with gold or granite centres, with black rims. As the tendency points to a heavy sale of these this season, we advise making selections now while stocks are complete.

The Proper Gloves to Buy are the Guaranteed Kinds

Past experience has proven that the Hudson's Bay give better values and better qualities in Gloves than is possible elsewhere; and the reason is obvious. The combined purchasing power of three immense stores and many smaller ones naturally commands price favors. Moreover, the reputation of these stores is at stake, and the makers are glad to have us carry their lines, for they know we are extremely particular as to qualities, hence the great glove manufacturers extend to us their most generous co-operation. Patrons of this store are indeed favored.

Gloves Fully Guaranteed—Gloves from famous French makers that are as perfect in fit, finish and quality as good gloves can be made. The Imperial French Kid Glove, heavy silk points and metal dome fasteners, made from genuine kid. In tan, gray, white and black; all sizes. Pair ..... $1.00. The "H. B. C." Special French Kid Glove, made from specially selected skins of splendid quality. A glove that many stores would be glad to sell at as much again. These come in tan, gray, black and white, with heavy set points or black with white points. Pair ..... $1.50. Splendid quality French Kid Gloves with pearl dome fasteners. In tan, gray, black and white; all sizes. Pair ..... $1.25.

More Beautiful Than Ever are the New Trimmings

Veritable triumphs of the designers' art, bewitchingly woven into the most delightful creations, are these new trimmings for fall. Women will fairly rave over these, for on no previous occasion has it been our good fortune to show a more charming array of designs and colors. It is a showing that would do credit to any of the fashion centres, and when one considers that men and women alike are so passionately fond of the beautiful, we won't wonder at these being a great attraction, for they will appeal to both young and old.

Beads and Bugles skillfully worked on net foundations are still extensively shown this season, while pearls and jewels play strongly in the more expensive trimmings. One particularly beautiful example is a wide banding in an attractive panel design of lovers' knots and floral sprays worked in tined silk and tinsel threads at yard $4.00. Another pretty trimming is made of Silk Flowers with harmonizing foliage of green chiffon, overlaid with tinsel net, at . $3.25. Of course, there are many charming trimmings and beads at all the more popular prices. Silk Fringes, in white, black and all shades of color, will sell at $1.00 per yard. But why say more. A personal visit is really the way to fully appreciate such an exhibition.

Says Roosevelt is An Eleventh Hour Convert to Progressivism.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 18.—One term for president and the necessity of appealing Governor Woodrow Wilson for that office in November was the central thought of the campaign address delivered today by William J. Bryan on his tour of Northern Colorado.

At Fort Collins he emphasized his point and scored Col. Roosevelt for lack of a third term.

"Roosevelt is an eleventh hour convert to progressive principles," said Mr. Bryan, "and should not be trusted until he has proven his sincerity."

He said that Col. Roosevelt may have fought the people's battles, but had opposed the progressives, both Republican and Democratic, in congress.

"His staff distrusts the people and is dead politically," was Mr. Bryan's characterization of the president whom he charged with having failed to rescue the tariff in keeping with campaign pledges.

A Business Girl's Problem

A number of the most energetic, brightest business girls of our city met in the "Y" parlors last night.

Why? To discuss securing and maintaining a room in the central part of our city that could be used as a rest room, reading room or assembly room for business women.

Mrs. Clerihew, of the "Y" annex, and who is greatly devoted to the solving of the young woman problem in our city was in the chair.

Miss Glass, secretary of the Y.W.C.A., also attended. She has been thinking of just such a scheme concerning a rest room in the business section of the city under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

Although nothing was definitely decided, many suggestions were offered. What would be the cost of maintaining such a room? Have we enough interested girls in Calgary? Where could such a room be secured? What advantage would it be? Who would look after it?

Again only a small number of the business girls of our city were present. Someone then suggested that each girl there would interest other girls of our city in the movement.

Also it was decided that Miss Glass would bring the matter before the "Y" board as to the advisability of maintaining one or more rooms, centrally located in the city to be used as rest rooms or assembly rooms for business girls' clubs. If the board could not see their way clear for such a step, the business girls would take the matter up.

Now, business girls of Calgary, if you are interested, watch for the announcement of the next meeting which the chairman, Mrs. Clerihew, will call.

CALGARY SOCIETY FOLK NEAR SCHUMANN-HEINK

The World-Famed Contralto Greeted by Large and Representative Gathering

Those who were present at the Madame Schumann-Heink recital last night will not soon forget so rare a western evening's entertainment. The tremendous personality of this wonderful artist, the magnificent world-renowned contralto notes, and the heartfelt expression of the words have left a rare quality of lingering in the memory even after the singer has departed.

Madame Schumann-Heink was the recipient of two bouquets of roses, accompanied by the requests that she would sing "The Rosary" and "The Child's Prayer," which she did in her inimitable way.

Some of those noticed at the recital were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Colgrove, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lowe, Mr. Dr. McKid, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Young, Mrs. J. H. Greene, Miss Etta Stickle, Mrs. Woodhall, Mrs. W. W. Cheely, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Teller, Professor and Mrs. Howells, Madame J. RIGHT HOME. Doctor Recommends Postum From Personal Test. No one is better able to realize the injurious action of caffeine—the drug in coffee—on the heart, than the doctor, because it just as harmful as coffee, because it too contains the drug caffeine.

When the doctor himself has been relieved by simply leaving off coffee and using Postum, he can refer with full conviction to his own case.

A M. physician prescribes Postum for many of his patients because he was benefited by it. He says: "I wish to add my testimony in regard to that excellent preparation—Postum. I have had functional or nervous heart trouble for over fifteen years, and a part of the time was unable to attend to my business.

It was a moderate user of coffee and did not think drinking it hurt me. But on stopping it and using Postum instead, my heart has got all right, and I ascribe it to the change from coffee to Postum.

I am prescribing it now in cases of stomach, especially when coffee does not agree or affects the heart, nerves or stomach.

When made right it has a much better flavour than coffee, and is a vital sustainer of the system. I shall continue to recommend it to our people and I have my own case to refer to." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NAOMI MOTHERS' SOCIETY DISCUSS HIGHER MOTHERHOOD

A Splendid Address, Containing Helpful Advice, Given by Secretary Mrs. Guxton

The Naomi Mothers' society held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

After business matters had received attention, Mrs. F. E. Rummill, spoke for a few minutes concerning the duties of mothers in visiting the schools in order to encourage the children and co-operate with the teachers.

The child's education should not be dealt with through the medium of the telephone, though of no more consequence than the grocery order but the mother should take an active and personal interest in it. Two resolutions were passed.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

Mrs. G. E. Guxton, who then addressed the mothers in an earnest advocate of the higher motherhood, said that the greatest study in the world; and in receiving fresh from the hand of God the little lives that are to unfold under a mother's daily care and influence, she holds a vital privilege.

But with all great privileges this too carries with it a deep responsibility calling for the greatest wisdom, the finest discernment, the most infinite patience, and the tenderest love. These perfected qualities are not found in the human mother-heart, but there is One who possesses them all and He has promised to work in and through us for the accomplishment of His purpose, if we earnestly ask Him.

The mother should be the child's closest friend, to whom he feels inclined to come in any time of questioning, fear, doubt, or misdeed.

There should be a bond of loving sympathy between the mother and the child so that when the child has grown to manhood and is away from home, the mother's loving experiences and problems, this bond of loving sympathy will be as a restraining arm about him in the time of temptation.

"A partnership with God is motherhood. What strength, what wisdom, what love, what purity, what help, what joy, Fashion an immortal soul!"

JOHNSON IN ILLINOIS

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 18.—Governor Johnson swung back into Illinois today. His audience at Quincy, the first stop made in the state, late today, was the largest outdoor gathering he has addressed since he started his campaign.

Speaking on the social and industrial problems of the nation, he said: "When you realize that the conservation of our human resources is the prime purpose of every government, then in a measure you have solved our great problem."

If your stock, your home, your cattle or your chickens were vanishing away, what would you do? Does this waste of human beings mean less to you than the waste of stock? I think not. Yet in our great cities human beings are being wasted by the thousands."

At Quincy the governor was joined by Frank S. Farn, the Progressive candidate for governor of Illinois; Chauncey Dewey and, McMill McCormick.

Celebrate they did, and with such vigor that Charles had soon forgotten what he had come to Paris for. Late in the afternoon he woke up to find himself in a taxi with the dragon and two young ladies, bowling gaily on towards Neuville. The wedding guests had already assembled when Charles was driven up to his house in this suspicious company.

The taxi stopped, and Charles was delivered like a package at the feet of his irate fiancée. Then the taxi turned and drove away. Now was the time for explanations, which Charles, alas! was not in a fit condition to give.

Next day, thoroughly sobered, he gave such information as he could, but his fiancée still wants to know who the two young women were, and Charles' marriage is likely to be indefinitely postponed.

An Italian working on the line near Marcellus found that his car was being disturbed by fleas of exceptional energy and vitality. He had tried all the ordinary powders in vain. Dynamite, however, he thought, might dislodge his enemies, so he procured a couple of cartridges and proceeded to a thorough disinfection of his bed. Unfortunately he had forgotten to remove the detonators, and his experiment resulted in two violent explosions. The house was almost wrecked and the Italian, terribly burned, was taken to the nearest hospital. The fleas are probably unhurt.

The day before his wedding was to take place M. Charles Teller left his house at Neuville and went up to Paris to make some purchases for the wedding breakfast. In the train he made the acquaintance of a dragon, who told him that he was on the eve of starting for Morocco. "And I," said Charles, "am on the eve of getting married." "Excellent!" cried the dragon. "We shall celebrate together—I my departure for the front and you your approaching marriage."

HOBBLE SKIRT COST FRANGE

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS Skipped the Skirt and Caused Shortage in Silk Trade of $8,000,000 in One Year

Village Autocrat Still Exists in France—Mayor Who Tried to Stop Dancing

(By A. W. Lamontreux) Paris, Sept. 18.—The last annual report of the Lyons chamber of commerce is a mine of instructive facts and observations. It shows with convincing clearness, and by figures which speak for themselves, how fatal to trade has been the persisting fashion of the hobble skirt.

The silk industry of the whole Lyons district was only worth, roughly, a little less than $80,000,000 in 1911, whereas since 1897 it has not fallen below that total except in 1905, when it was a few hundred thousand dollars less. Only two years ago it reached over $90,000,000, and the Fashion issue of the decade for skipping skirts it has cost Lyons about $12,500,000.

Technical language like this is attributed to the "crisis of yachting" consequent on the prevailing style. Previously a dress required anything between 14 and 19 yards of narrow-width silk, whereas nowadays the minimum is four and the maximum not more than seven and a half. This alone would be enough, but after all the quantity of silk dresses has its limits.

What is perhaps almost more serious is that the "crisis" has almost eliminated undergarments, and silk petticoats are no longer worn to any extent with tailor-made—or indeed with any costumes of today. There have been other contributory causes, such as political uncertainty, bringing about a general feeling of uneasiness in all trades, and of course the increased cost of living, which has been more marked in France, perhaps, than anywhere else. This has prevented many from spending on luxuries, and silk dresses and underwear are not so readily cheap or necessities.

But the principal cause, on which the Lyons trade insists quite rightly, of the crisis in silk is the prevailing fashion, which does not seem at all likely to weaken. Evening gowns enjoyed the convenience and comparative economy of a short and close-fitting skirt, not to speak of its becoming appearance when not exaggerated, women are loath to accept any change.

The heroic attempt to introduce "panthers" and "light motherhood" in the superfluous yards of material, has altogether failed, and a reasonably tight skirt looks as if it had come to stay, much to the despair of Lyons.

The silk industry always has had, and always will have, to reckon with fashion. It is its slave, and to meet the whims of such a mistress calls for great ingenuity, skill and forethought on the part of manufacturers, quality for which the great Lyons houses have always been famed. This time, however, they are in a fair way to be defeated.

It has been said that if Cleopatra's nose had been an inch shorter the world's history would have been changed. If the dresses of Paris and following their lead, those of all fashionable women in the world, were looser, and a yard or two more voluminous, a whole trade would recover from a blow that has caused it to stagger.

Village autocrat still exists in France. One of them has just distinguished himself by having half a dozen boys and as many girls fined for dancing. He is the mayor of a little village in the south with some 800 inhabitants. The soured mayor objects to young people dancing. He issued an order strictly prohibiting public halls. The youth of the village paid no heed to the decree, and got up a public dance recently. The constables appeared and broke up the ball. Blows were exchanged on the occasion, but none of them were fatal.

Fifteen young people were indicted for the terrible misdemeanor of dancing in public. Three out of the fifteen were discharged, but the other twelve were prosecuted to the bitter end. Strange by enough, the terrible mayor found an equally terrible court judge to uphold him, and sentences of fines varying from $1.00 to $5.00 were passed upon the accused.

Over a year ago a young woman named Louise Vallee left her husband's house at Alfortville, near Charenton, and went to live in Paris, with her lover, Gaston Lamy, a chauffeur. The husband, Charles Vallee, learning that Louise had repented of her folly, offered to take her back. This offer was accepted. Louise left her lover suddenly, without telling him of her resolve, and returned to Alfortville.

The chauffeur Lamy soon discovered the whereabouts of his errant mistress, and set off hot-foot for Alfortville. Reaching the house of the reconciled couple, he rang the bell. As soon as the door was opened he stepped into the apartment, drew his revolver, and fired several shots at the husband and wife, who were at table. One bullet grazed the forehead of M. Vallee, actually severing a lock of hair; another pierced the hand of his wife, who ran into the street calling for help.

M. Vallee, left alone with his adversary, disarmed him after a fierce struggle and left the house to inform the police. The chauffeur then vented his impotent rage on the furniture, and finally flung himself from the window, a distance of 30 feet from the ground. He was picked up and taken to the hospital, where he was later examined by a physician. He maintained that M. Vallee attacked him with a spear- whip, and that he drew his revolver in self-defence. His condition is serious.

LIBERALS GIVE BACK UNDER OLD CHIEF

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Gives an Enthusiastic Address to Cobalt Liberals

Hon. Messrs. King, Lemieux and Graham Address Electors

Sir Wilfrid Formally Opens New Y. M. C. A. at Cobalt

Cobalt, Ont., Sept. 18.—The town was in the throes of a jubilation for the arrival of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Cobalt excelled itself in the matter of decorations.

The party returned to the Young Men's Christian association building for the dedication ceremony.

At the end of the session, in which he lauded the work of the Y. M. C. A., Sir Wilfrid dedicated the new building.

In the evening a large audience gathered in the dining hall to hear the Liberal association of Temiskaming, was chairman of the meeting.

Mr. King struck a popular note when he touched on the matter of the eight hour day, but roused hostile feelings when he explained away the failure of his party effectively to deal with the question when it was brought up in the Dominion house.

Hon. Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux, speaking in French, said that he had been surprised to be greeted on his arrival in Cobalt by a mayor of a French name, a French Canadian who had the language and the aspirations of his compatriots everywhere in this country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his address, confessed that the primary object of his visit to Northern Ontario was to determine if first hand the needs and requirements and wants of its people, for he planned to further devote himself to public service.

"It is true he explained that the people have been pleased to dispense with our stewardship for a season. Well, am enough to report to take in the last year or two. The Congregationalists intend erecting a new church on Thirteenth avenue west at the street west at an early date.

FAMOUS MOSQUE OF ST. SOPHIA

This double picture gives two views of the famous mosque and entrance at Constantinople which was so badly shaken in the recent earthquake that experts say may have to be torn down.

Edmonton, Sept. 18.—While a C. N. R. train was speeding between Jarrow, Alta., and Wainwright yesterday afternoon, J. D. Rose, who had been held by the mounted police for about a month on several charges of false pretences and two statutory charges, escaped from the moving train and is now a fugitive from justice.

Rose, with his partner Fairdale, and two other prisoners, Plunkett and Hodges, were in the custody of Constable Wiseman of the mounted police, who was conducting them to Wainwright for trial. Fairdale was handcuffed to Rose, and was released temporarily. While Fairdale was away for a moment in the custody of the police constable, Rose ran out of the rear door of the car and leaped from the train.

Rose, who had been held by the mounted police for about a month on several charges of false pretences and two statutory charges, escaped from the moving train and is now a fugitive from justice.

Rose, with his partner Fairdale, and two other prisoners, Plunkett and Hodges, were in the custody of Constable Wiseman of the mounted police, who was conducting them to Wainwright for trial. Fairdale was handcuffed to Rose, and was released temporarily. While Fairdale was away for a moment in the custody of the police constable, Rose ran out of the rear door of the car and leaped from the train.

Edmonton, Sept. 18.—While a C. N. R. train was speeding between Jarrow, Alta., and Wainwright yesterday afternoon, J. D. Rose, who had been held by the mounted police for about a month on several charges of false pretences and two statutory charges, escaped from the moving train and is now a fugitive from justice.

MILITIA SYSTEM SCORED BY HISTORIANS

Comment Upon Country's Unpreparedness for Action

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Some trenchant criticisms of the Canadian militia system in connection with this country's unpreparedness for action, which are expected to excite much comment, are in the publication of a monumental history of Canada, the work of one hundred associate historians during several years which has so been completed under the direction of Prof. Adam Shortt and Dr. A. G. Doughty, Dominion architect.

That there has been any general increase in the gas bills of consumers, and that they even approximate the bills under the old system of artificial gas, is denied by the Western Canadian Natural Gas, Heat, Light & Power company of Calgary.

"We have had no complaints of overcharging," said Assistant Manager Harrington of the company yesterday, "except in a few instances where mistakes were made in the reading of meters, which since have been rectified."

"I might cite my own bill for the last month as an example. My bill for the natural gas, under precisely the same conditions that we formerly used artificial gas, was $2.00 whereas in previous months, using artificial gas, the smallest of my bills was $2.14. If you care to compare our bill for last month with the ledger of the old company you will find the same differences right down the line. For instance, a certain restaurant on Second avenue east had a gas bill last month for artificial gas of a trifle over $4, while the same restaurant found that the previous month, using artificial gas, the bill was $16 and some cents."

Tendency to Use More Gas "There is a tendency in one direction, however, that must not be overlooked. I suppose I have visited personally 2,000 kitchens in Calgary, and in a large majority of them found both a gas range and a coal range. In other words, the artificial gas was used sparingly and the coal was high. With the natural gas, consumers are doing away with the use of the coal range and as the coal bill goes down, the use of gas increases."

"For a good many years I was connected with a gas company in Duluth, which charged at the rate of $1.75 a thousand feet for gas. The city finally was taken over by the city, and the price cut to $1.65, then to $1.50, $1.35, $1.20 and finally to 75 cents a year after the last price went into effect. A careful examination of the bills of consumers showed that they were practically the same as when the old company was charging $1.75 a thousand feet for gas. But, of course, the use of the gas for all kinds of purposes had increased immensely."

Pressure Makes No Difference "As to the question of more gas being forced through the pipes by higher pressure, that is impossible for two reasons. The first is, that if it were so, the bills of all consumers would be increased in the same proportion. Instead of the decrease which is apparent. In the second place, the gas is flowing through the same meters and you understand the bellows system by which the meters work, you will see that an increase of pressure would make no difference in the rate that the meter feeds the gas to the service pipes in the house. Then again, our gas is natural gas, but it is supplied by artificial pressure, so that there is practically no difference in the system of applying the pressure."

During the next month or two, five members of the Dominion cabinet are to visit Calgary during their invasion of the west.

Hon. R. Roache, secretary of state, is already on his way west, and will call at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, en route to the Pacific coast. Hon. Martin Burrell is taking a six weeks' vacation in British Columbia, during which he will visit the principal cities en route.

Hon. Robert Rogers is also coming west to attend the Dry Farming Congress at Lethbridge, during which he will visit Calgary and go to the Pacific coast by way of Vancouver.

Hon. L. P. Flettler also contemplates a western trip, visiting central points, including Calgary, on postal business.

Hon. J. D. Hanson and Hon. T. White, minister of finance, are also coming west to look over the cities of the prairie provinces.
