ALLIES MAKE MORE GAINS

Continued Progress is Reported in Official Statements From Headquarters, Including the Capture by the British of La Boisselle and by the French of Herbecourt, Assevillers, Feuilleres, Buscourt, Flaucourt and Chapitre Wood—British Advance From Fricourt and Make Substantial Gains, While French Gain Ground Beyond the Second German Line and Only Three Miles From Peronne, Which is Now Open to Attack.

PARIS, July 3.—The French, advancing to the east of the Mereaucourt Wood have captured the Chapitre wood and the Village of Feuilleres. Further to the south Assevillers has been taken by an infantry assault, according to an official statement issued by the war office tonight.

South of Assevillers the French have taken the second line of German entrenchments as far as the outskirts of Estrees and have advanced beyond the second German line, where they have captured the villages of Buscourt and Flaucourt. The total advance at this section was five kilometers.

The text of the French statement follows:

"North of the Somme the situation remains unchanged and no infantry action has taken place during the day. South of the Somme our troops, pursuing their success east of the Mereaucourt wood took possession this morning of the Chapitre wood and the Village of Feuilleres. Further to the south Assevillers, the centre of a powerful defensive German organization has been attacked and carried by our infantry after a brilliant assault."

"South of Assevillers we have conquered the second German line as far as the outskirts of Estrees. In the course of the afternoon we advanced beyond the German second line and took possession of Buscourt, east of Feuilleres, and Flaucourt. At this point the ground conquered by us reaches a depth of five kilometers. Enemy reinforcements, which were observed in the region of Belloy-en-Santerre, and others east of Flaucourt, were caught under the fire of our artillery and dispersed."

"Among the material which has fallen into our hands up to the present are seven batteries, of which three are of large calibre, a quantity of mitrailleuses and trench cannon. Other batteries sheltered in casemates and several in Herbecourt have not yet been counted. The number of unwounded prisoners taken by the French troops amounts, by actual count, 8,000."

"One of the two banks of the Meuse there has been no infantry action. The artillery activity on the left bank of the river has moderated. On the right bank a violent bombardment took place in the region of Poivre Hill and in the sector of Thiaumont and Damploup, but there has been no further attack by the enemy at this point."

Belgian Communication.
"Violent and destructive artillery actions have been carried on with success on the German position at Drei Grachten and east of Steenstraete. A violent struggle with bombs took place in the southern sector of the Belgian line."

More Villages Taken.
The third day of the battle of the Somme shows that the Franco-British lines have been further advanced, with the French right sweeping eastward south of the Somme. A group of strategic villages, a large number of German prisoners and heavy guns have been taken."

The advanced French lines are now only three miles from the important railway junction of Peronne, the defense of which has been greatly weakened by the capture by the French on Sunday of Mereaucourt wood, south of the Somme and between Feuilleres and Estrees. This was the strongest fortified position of the German second line of defense on the entire front of the attack, but the French division which took Frise continued to advance with such impetus that the Germans were unable to resist, even under the protection of this formidable work."

One of the fiercest struggles was for the stone quarry, also fortified, three-quarters of a mile east of Curtil. Here the Germans tried to stem the tide of a desperate counter-attack, but the French-African colonials, with one of the most celebrated corps of the French army, rushed the position with such energy that the Germans broke before the bayonet.

The French success at Frise also was brilliant, as it straightened their line south of the elbow of the Somme, thus avoiding exposure to cross fire. The French announcement today of the capture of the Village of Herbecourt and the outskirts of Estrees and Assevillers carried the advance about six miles beyond the point of departure Saturday.

The impetuosity of the French advance is shown in the taking of these villages, which were strongly fortified with barbed wire entanglements across the streets. The stone houses were transformed into batteries of machine guns and the entire villages were enveloped in a dense network of barbed wire entanglements. Military observers say that these villages had a resisting power compared with that of Douaumont.

Summing up the French advance south of the Somme, two main features are disclosed:

First—The occupation for a length of 8 kilometers of first line German trenches from the Somme to the Village of Fay, and including five villages.

Second—A double line of German trenches extending from Harcourt woods to Assevillers.

The struggle continues with intensity. Observers declare that the first three days' successes, while great, are only initial episodes in the increasing pressure of a vast offensive.

Enemy's Trenches Concrete.
The desperateness of the struggle along the front of the allied offensive is shown in the progress made thru what the official bulletins describe as the "line." This designation does not refer to a single line, but to the important first position defenses from a half-mile to a mile deep, composed an intricate system of trenches called a labyrinth, connected with advanced posts heavily armored with concrete, in which machine guns are installed; while in the trenches themselves are armored turrets protecting other machine guns.

The second and third line of the general defensive works of the Germans on the western front are equally important and similarly intricate. All three lines must be pierced by the allies before their desire to force the Germans to battle in the open can be realized. In the battles of Arras and the Champagne, the French attacked the second line without sufficient artillery preparation. The error was not repeated in the present case.

The accumulation of munitions behind the allied front is prodigious, while the Germans' stock is apparently less plentiful, as their reply is in the proportion of one shot for five. This leads to the impression among observers that their extended front is not as well equipped or manned as in previous battles.

The fighting about Verdun centres chiefly upon the Damploup works, which have changed hands twice within the past 24 hours, the Germans first taking them and the French recapturing them as a result of a desperate counter-attack.

Giving Hearst and Borden a Jolt
A strong feeling of dissatisfaction with the Conservative governments at Ottawa and Toronto prevails among the rank and file, and even among their private supporters in both the legislature and commons; in fact, so much so that surprises may develop in the approaching by-elections in Perth, Toronto and Hamilton.

"The governments seem to listen to anyone but their own supporters; it may be time to give them a rude jolt," seems to be the common view. A labor candidate for the commons in Hamilton and an independent pro-hydro-electric policy candidate in Southwest Toronto (held by the late Hon. J. J. Foy) are freely spoken of, all of which it declares will be in-val-

LONDON, July 3.—Today's news is again a tale of the continued progress of the Anglo-French offensive. Heavy fighting is proceeding all along the line. The British maintain all their positions south of the Ancre River, where the battle still rages. They have captured LaBoisselle, the garrison of which surrendered, and are fighting successfully around Ovillers and north of Fricourt.

The British people learned for the first time tonight that the famous French general, Foch, who has won a great reputation during the course of the war, is directing the operations south of the Somme River. This has given increased confidence in the result of the allied offensive.

The French have captured Herbecourt and Assevillers and have made other substantial gains, taking additional prisoners and heavy guns. They are thus making great progress in the direction of the important German junction of Peronne, which is only a little over three miles distant from their advance at Herbecourt.

The non-committal character of the German official statement issued today is considered in London as a virtual confession of the success of the Anglo-French operations. The Germans admit that the division of their forces about both banks of the Somme, which was partially withdrawn Saturday, has now been brought back to the second line. No data are yet forthcoming from either side as to the casualties suffered. According to the German communication, the Anglo-French losses were "extraordinarily heavy." According to the unofficial British reports, however, the British casualties were less than had been expected.

All reports emphasize the tremendous nature of the British bombardments. The gunners worked so incessantly as almost to fall asleep at their guns, and when there was a slight recess in the firing, they slept easily amid the thunders of the battle.

Great importance is attached to a newly-invented mortar, which plays havoc in the German trenches. Aircraft are taking an important role in the operations.

Thus far the new offensive appears to have had little influence on the battle around Verdun. The Germans are still showing undiminished vigor in the Meuse region, and the French are as steadily resisting.

Progress Reported.
Substantial progress at some points is reported in the latest official communication issued from British headquarters in France. The Germans succeeded in driving some of the British troops from positions which they had captured in the morning, but elsewhere the German attacks were repulsed.

Describing the fluctuations in the battle around LaBoisselle and south of Thiepval, the statement declares that the advantages on the whole remained with the British.

The text reads:
"The fight fluctuated this afternoon about LaBoisselle and south of Thiepval, the advantage on the whole remaining with us."
"South of Thiepval, the counter-attacks drove some of our troops from a portion of the positions which they had captured early this morning (Monday). Elsewhere many hostile attacks were repulsed with heavy losses."

"In some places we have continued to make substantial progress."
"The amount of captured armament and warlike stores is very considerable, but no accurate details are as yet available. The number of prisoners now reaches over 4300.

"On the rest of the front except for heavy hostile artillery fire at certain places, no incident of importance occurred."

"Yesterday there was a vast increase in the numbers of hostile aeroplanes on the southern sectors of our front, but despite this, our airmen carried out in a most gallant manner all the duties assigned to them."

"Today one hostile kite balloon, destroyed by us, fell in flames. Since the commencement of the battle we have lost a total of 15 machines along the whole British front."

More Wounded Arrive.
Several special trains loaded with wounded from the battlefield in France arrived at the three principal London stations. Great crowds assembled at the approach to the stations and cheered the men, most of whom had been wounded in the fighting on Saturday.

In a few cases the men were still so dazed that they were unable to tell what day it was, but in a majority of cases their condition was not very serious. It is remarkable how few men were suffering from shell or bullet wounds. Most of them were victims of the bayonet, testifying to the hand to hand nature of the fighting.

The soldiers had vivid stories of the battle to relate. A Gordon Highlander declared that the famous regiment had added a glorious new chapter at Mametz to its history.

"The kiddies led the charging," he said. "They swept over the ground and carried the first line of battered trenches without a single man falling. In the outskirts of the village, however, the Germans had concealed a number of machine guns and a hurricane of lead was poured into those in advance, but the Gordons never hesitated. They leaped into the trenches, clearing line after line at the bayonet point; then pushed into the village, altho it was still being shelled by artillery. As soon as they gained a foothold, the elevation of the guns was altered and a curtain of fire poured on to the ground behind, where the enemy supports were massing.

"Every yard of the village streets was contested, but reinforcement pushed up and by nightfall the Highlanders had secured possession."

Praise for the Troops.
The British troops which stand out most prominently in today's stories of the fighting in Picardy are the Gordon Highlanders, the Ulster Division of Irishmen and the regiments at Montauban, recruited largely from the clerks of the Lancashire towns.

The Gordon Highlanders suffered heavy losses from machine gun fire in capturing Mametz, where occurred what was perhaps the bloodiest fighting of the whole British advance. The conduct of the Ulster troops receives this tribute in one account:

"They acquitted themselves magnificently and their work has received the generous testimony, not only from higher officers of corps, but what perhaps counts even more, from troops engaged on their immediate left."

The work of the Lancashire clerks at Montauban is described as follows by the correspondent of The Daily Mail:

"Merit is not to be judged only by success or nobility wishes to compare or contrast merits. Everywhere the infantry fought finely, but all England will rejoice to hear that one of the farthest points of advantage was reached and the most violent counter-attacks repulsed by the regiments of Lancashire clerks. They were comparatively new troops, men who had little or no experience either of country life or of physical work, but they fought like regulars with dash, infinite grit, endurance and, moreover, gaiety. What a sight it must have been to see those clerks drive the enemy from his commanding hill and crucial position."

"The troops at their flank who fought with them and made good their great advance were farmers' boys from half a dozen midland counties. Town and country, office and field, shook hands in that great fight and various extremes of English life and blood proved their equality as notably as at Agincourt or Waterloo."

Where the British have won reports continue to insist that their losses on the whole are comparatively small. They suffered most from the German machine guns and perhaps the automatic rifles. The German system of defense was everywhere the same. They had enormously deep dugouts, some of them thirty feet or more beneath the surface, such as are easily dug in this hilly and chalky country. The moment the bombardment lifted the men in the dugouts emerged and manned their machine guns before the attackers had time to cross the intervening space.

In the actual fighting the British soldiers did not as a rule advance at the double quick. Most charges were made at a walk or a pace very nearly like a walk.

A new German war ruse is described in a Daily News despatch which says that at one place a large number of Germans came out of their dugouts holding up their hands and waving white flags. They were rounded up and left under guard. After the main body of the British troops had gone on more Germans poured out of their burrows, outnumbered and overpowered the guards, released the prisoners and began attacking the British troops from the rear.

PRESS HEADQUARTERS, on the French front, Sunday, July 2, via London, July 3, 6.30 p.m.—Machine guns played an important part in the German defence against the British attacks, and also in the British repulse of German counter-attacks when organizing positions taken. Both Germans and British have them in amazing numbers.

During the bombardment before an infantry attack the Germans remain in dugouts so deep that they can be crushed in only by a direct hit with a 15-inch shell. Instantly the bombardment ceases they rush out and man any remaining machine guns, or even bring up machine guns from the dugouts.

The British carry mobile machine guns forward, and the moment a position is occupied they employ them.

All reports from those engaged in the fighting agree that barbed-wire entanglements, however strong, have been invariably well cut, and there is universal praise for the new mortar, the invention of a government civil engineer, which the British have manufactured in large numbers. But frequently the deep German dugouts, instead of being rallying points, become traps, with the occupants either surrendering or being blown up by bombs thrown into the entrance when they refuse to surrender.

The gunners, after their week's bombardment, know no cessation in their toil. Where the British advance they must move their guns forward to new positions for the next stage in the attack. When they have a recess in the firing they fall asleep amidst the thunders of the neighboring batteries, unless they have work on new dugouts.

Aviators Did Great Work.
The aviators' part has never been so daring, so thrilling as during this battle. One of them, in a small fast single-man machine, the usual altitude kept over the enemy lines these days is from 10,000 to 12,000 feet, descended as low as five hundred feet during the battle, and was able to identify the khaki of the British and the grey of the Germans as they struggled for the possession of a trench. He sent a wireless message back to army headquarters of the exact situation, the promptness of such information being invaluable. He returned with forty bullet holes in his plane, but he himself and his engine were unharmed.

The percentage of dead to wounded is smaller than is usual in trench fighting. Many light wounds have been received from shrapnel, and rifle and machine gun fire, but the good weather and excellent physical condition of the men mean quick recovery.

There are plenty of examples of the British phlegmatic temperament. One gunner lifted into the air by the concussion of a shell, said after he came down: "I wish they had provided cushions."

A corps commander, after all plans were complete for the attack at 7.30 o'clock in the morning, said before lying down to sleep: "Wake me at 7.45; the first reports will be in by then."

At army headquarters of the different commanders everything seems to be going on as usual, in quiet businesslike fashion amidst the battle.

THOUGHTLESSNESS.
Thoughtless persons are the occasion of many annoyances that might be avoided. These little discomforts are generally inflicted on others. However, the man who thoughtlessly wears a heavy hat in the summer time is the victim of his own want of thought. Sea-

RAILWAY NETWORK SUPPORTS ALLIES

Berlin Tageblatt Admits Offensive Has Serious Import to Germany.

FUTURE IS UNKNOWN

Foe Has No Occasion to Doubt Power of Resistance.

AMSTERDAM, via London, July 4, 3.22 a.m.—The Berlin Tageblatt, discussing the Anglo-French offensive, lays stress upon the splendid railroad communications, which it says are at the disposal of the British and French armies. The paper says that the railroad net to the rear of the allied lines is very favorable to the development of an offensive and that the allies also possess numerous connecting lines between the wings of the operating armies.

While asserting that the British gains in ground and prisoners are slight, the Tageblatt says that about the probable course of the offensive nothing can yet be said. "We find ourselves," it says, "at the beginning of an offensive prepared by the enemy and awaited by him with great expectations, but we have no occasion to doubt the power of our resistance."

The Munich Nachrichten publishes a statement under a Berlin date saying that the British offensive is nothing more than an attempt to stave off the utter collapse of France, which Germany has "bided to death at Verdun." Germany and Austria, the statement adds, must also reckon with fresh Russian sacrifices on the eastern front, all of which it declares will be in-val-

BRITISH FLYER CAUSED DEATH OF IMMELMANN

Noted German Airman's Fokker Crashed to Earth When Attacked.

LONDON, July 3.—The death of Lt. Immelmann, the famous German aviator, who was killed in a combat with British fliers, is described briefly in a statement given out today by the British aerial board.

According to this account, Lt. Immelmann, in a Fokker, was attempting with another Fokker to attack a British aeroplane approaching Ansay from Lens, when another British flier appeared and dived on the two Fokkers, causing Lt. Immelmann to plunge perpendicularly, the wings of his machine breaking off.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE TO ACCEPT PROPOSALS

Only Two Members of the Governing Body Voted in Opposition.

DUBLIN, July 3.—The National Directory of the United Irish League met today, with John Redmond presiding, and agreed to accept the proposals by David Lloyd George for a solution of the Irish question.

As the directory is representative of all Ireland, it is not considered necessary to hold a convention of the United Irish League. There were only two dissenting members in the largest meeting of the directory ever held.

INTERMENT OF CIVILIANS

Twenty-Six Thousand Germans Held in England.

LONDON, July 3.—There are 26,000 German civilians interned in England and 4,000 British civilians interned in Germany, it was announced in the commons today by Lord Robert Cecil of the foreign office.

Since December, 676 Germans unfit for military service have been repatriated and 394 British.

ITALIANS PUSH ON GAINING GROUND

Big Offensive Against Austrians Continues With Several Advances.

WIN IN POSINA VALLEY

Austrians Suffer Heavy Pressure Against Main Mountain Positions.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, July 3.—In their big offensive the Italians are pushing slowly and steadily forward the Trentino, and continue to record substantial gains by the exertion of steady pressure against the Austrians. Advances are reported today as having been registered in several sectors.

In the Posina valley the Italians have occupied a spur northwest of Monte Pruche and Monte Molino in the Kara valley, and they have captured Monte Scatolari in the Rio Fresso. They have developed progress in their operations against Corno del Coston, Monte Helugio and Monte Cimona. These points are the main centres of resistance for the enemy. They have pushed beyond the northern edge of the Asa valley in the upper But, but the fighting slackened in the rest of this sector while preparations were being made for further attacks on difficult ground.

The Italians took some prisoners and inflicted considerable loss on the enemy in small combats on the slopes of Monte Civaron. The artillery took part in active engagements in the upper But and Fella valleys.

The Italians defeated Austrian attacks on their new positions east of Seis on the Carso plateau, after the fighting had become hand to hand. Raids were carried out by Italian aircraft in the upper Asa valley.

The White Serge Suit Is a Great Acquisition to the Wardrobe

And Behold it in a Host of Pain and Pleated Effects Adapted to Various Types of Figure, and Ranging in Price From $17.50 to $47.50

STYLES MAY COME AND STYLES MAY GO, but the plain tailored coat and skirt costume of cream serge goes on forever in the favor of the well-dressed woman. Its thorough good style and wide usefulness appeal to anyone in search of a dainty, summery suit for general wearing.

And such attractive examples as the little model rooms of the Suit Section are displaying at the present moment. For instance:—
—Immensely smart is a simple model with belted coat and plain flare skirt—priced $25.00.

With pleats below the belt of the coat, and a collar of silk poplin is another cream serge suit at $22.50.

In box coat style with white silk braid bordering the flaring edges of both coat and skirt is a modish suit at $22.50.

Braid is also employed as a finishing touch to a belted model in a heavily ribbed serge—price, $25.00.

And in the kindred fabric, white gabardine, are two exceptionally modish suits. One shows narrow pleats below the waistline of the coat, also in the skirt, the silk collar being embroidered in silver. This is $22.50. The other is characterized by a belt across the front, and a loose back, a vestee and collar of navy blue taffeta silk adding a chic finish. The price of it is $47.50.

All the suits described excel in the quality of their materials, and the nicety of their tailoring. The coats are in every case lined with white satin.

You were Inquiring?

Katrine.—How would you like a soft-toned green and tan stripe for your couch-hammock? It has a nice cool, woody look, the stripes being about two inches wide. If it does not appeal to you, there are several other awning effects—A soft-toned golden tone navy blue stripe with or without brown stripes. All are in heavy quality duck 30 inches wide and priced, 35 cents a yard.

When it comes to mauve stripes for your own skirt, you may have a lilac and white stripe—like lilac about three-quarters of an inch wide and about one inch apart—or a variegated effect showing 3 1/2-inch stripes of lilac and purple with narrower—average of one inch—of black, coral, green and grey. Both materials are 36 inches wide and 50 cents a yard.

"Music Lover"—Sorry—but without knowing the name of the composer it is not possible to locate your "Mexican Buttery Dance."

M. E. L.—Wouldn't the sunny little drawing-room be nice with gray walls, curtains of amethyst valvetine, and a rosy chintz for the sofa and chairs? If the chintz has a dash of purple in it, all the better, and if the rug were one of those charming Scotch art squares in grey with a pink flowered border the effect should be most effective. What do you think? Though the space is scant, do not feel you must omit the sofa. A baby Chesterfield would be the making of the room. It has such an inviting, comfortable expression. An upholstered table, a couple of wicker chairs and a mahogany table might serve as the rest of the furniture.

As for the little pill-box of a spare bedroom, with the cheerless northern outlook, what would you say to a pink and white flowered wall paper, curtains of plain pink linen or cement cloth, a mossy green rug—like a Scotch wool square—on the floor, an enamel dressing-table, bed, bedside table and chair? The woodwork in both rooms should be white.

For isn't Everybody Thinking of Holidays by the Lake, the River or the Bounding Sea?

AND SUCH A SMART, TRIM DRESS as it is, this bathing costume Fashion has designed for the Summer Girl of 1918—light in weight, buoyant in material, and cut with that easy, ample fit which allows free movement for swimming.

Taffeta, pongee, poplin, gloria cloth and lustre are the fabrics employed, the following being some of the favorite models in the present splendid showing:—

(Unless stated that bloomers are included, all models are to be worn over wool or lisle thread tights, prices for which are quoted in the concluding paragraph.)

A very chic little bathing dress is of navy blue gloria cloth with white, red or green silk braid bordering the skirt and collar, a crush belt and soft bow of Chins silk in the shade of the braid gridding the high waist line. This is priced at the small sum of $3.95.

In navy blue lustre, with blue and white striped collar, or in red lustre with green collar, is a bathing dress with detachable skirt—also bloomers—a splendid value at $2.95.

Also in navy lustre with detachable skirt is a smart model bordered with white or red braid—this model including lustre bloomers—price, $3.50.

A charming model in natural color pongee has a modish little over-blossom and peplum of rose or green stripe. This is $15.00.

In rose taffeta is another immensely smart specimen with bodice in belted coat effect, the collar of white silk and the short sleeves piped with the same. This is $15.00.

A most attractive dress is in black taffeta, the effective square scallops on the skirt and yoke being bound with white taffeta, the same forming the front of the dress. The price of it is $20.00.

And in green or navy blue taffeta, with a satin stripe, is a delightful model of the fancier type, the skirt ruffled around the edge and modishly washed at the waist, a little collar and vestee of white satin completing the chic effect. The price is $30.00.

Tights for wear under one-piece bathing suits—in Annette Kellerman style, in lisle thread at $1.00 and $1.25, in cashmere $2.00, and cashmere at $2.50. In cotton jersey are other suits at $50, and others with skirt effect at $60.

THE TRANSFORMED LAUNDRY BENCH.

If a bench is needed for the garden hook or the summer veranda, and one does not want to spend a goodly sum on a stone seat or an expensive one of ing department not visit the home-furnishing and procure an ordinary laundry bench? For a dollar or so, one may get with simply here or five feet long, painted in a stone gray or some grayer color and made to serve right well. Recently a bench of this sort was brought, painted in an Italian blue, and placed on a veranda with this effect of being much more costly piece of furniture than it was. No one would ever have suspected its laundry destiny.

SPLENDID FIRING RANGE.

The camp ranges here will allow four companies to fire a volley of eight hundred cartridges at a moment at the sound of a bugle. The crash of the volley brings with it some idea of the rapid-fire work being done by the Canadian troops now at the front, when charged by the enemy.

VICTIM OF LOCKJAW

Special to The Toronto World. CORNWALL, Ont., July 3.—James Gibbs, an aged resident of St. Regis Falls, is dead from lockjaw. A few days ago he spread some fertilizer mixed with ashes with his bare hands. The day was damp and the lye made bad sores on his fingers, but he apparently thought little of it until Sunday morning when the infection became so painful that he consulted a physician who diagnosed his trouble as lockjaw. Antitoxin was used but without avail and he passed away.

GERMANS COERCING BELGIAN WORKMEN

Tyrants Seek to Force Them to Carry Out Military Works.

BRITAIN IS PROTESTING

Huns Once Again Demonstrate That Agreement is Held Lightly.

LONDON, July 3.—In a communication addressed to the Spanish and American ambassadors and the Dutch minister here, as patrons of the commission for relief in Belgium, the foreign office calls attention to a decree said to have been issued on May 15, by Governor-General Bisping, the German governor of Belgium, creating more stringent laws against Belgian workmen who refuse employment.

The foreign office protested last September, thru the patrons of the commission, against decrees issued by Von Bisping on Aug. 14 and 15, regarding labor in Belgium, and at the same time the Marquis of Crewe wrote to the patrons that if the German authorities used the machinery of the commission and that of the committee national for the purpose of coercing the civilian population of Belgium into the service of the Germans they must themselves provide the relief which those bodies dispense as all arrangements between the British Government and the commission would have to cease.

Brook No Interference. In a subsequent letter Sir Edward Grey stipulated that there must be no interference of any kind whatever by the German authorities either with the sale or free distribution of foodstuffs to those whom the commission and the committee considered deserving of such relief.

At this time it was agreed that Governor-General von Bisping would never use the commission as a means of forcing the Belgian population to serve the German army, contrary to the stipulations of The Hague convention.

The statement continues to say that since Sir Edward Grey wrote the letter quoted above, reports have been received of further attempts by the Germans to requisition labor for military needs. The decree of May 15 provides heavier penalties of imprisonment for recalcitrant workers, while all persons, communes, associations and other groups giving relief to those refusing work are liable to a fine of not more than 10,000 marks and imprisonment for not more than two years.

Tyrannical Methods. The decree includes provision whereby workers can be forcibly led to places of employment. Evidence of the use of this authority is quoted from the nineteenth report of the Belgian commission of inquiry, which states that many workers were forcibly taken from their homes at the point of the bayonet, while in the absence of the workers, members of their family were taken as hostages and recalcitrant workers were deported to Germany, where, it is alleged, they were compelled to work in the mines and trenches under conditions inimical to health and under the penalty of cruel punishment.

"As it is presumably useless," says the communication, "it urges upon the German authorities the inhumanity of their actions, his majesty's government is therefore reduced to basing their protest solely on the fact of the decree of May 15, which is yet another direct and deliberate infraction of the undertakings of the German Government to the commission for relief in Belgium."

MOTOR CAR HIT TREE SEVERAL PERSONS HURT

Goderich Hotelman and Party Had Narrow Escape From Death.

Special to The Toronto World. GODERICH, Ont., July 3.—What might have been a fatal accident occurred here at 6 o'clock tonight when an automobile driver and owned by W. J. Lannan, proprietor of the local Union Hotel, hit a tree on the Huron road, off Elgin avenue. It is stated that Lannan was engaged in a race with another car coming down Cambridge road and being an inexperienced driver, was unable to turn the sharp corner at Elgin avenue. The collision with the tree threw all the occupants of the car clear of the wreckage. The injured persons, including Mrs. Lannan, were immediately removed to the hospital, where they are doing as well as could be expected tonight.

For the first time in many years the county jail here is without a single prisoner, the last one having been released a few days ago.

W. C. Johnson of this town received a card today from his son, Pte. Walter Johnson, stating that he is a prisoner in the hands of the Germans. He states, however, that he is well. Pte. Johnson has been missing since June 2nd. He was with the 4th Battalion, Mounted Rifles.

THE IRISH FUSILIERS IN "SURPRISE ATTACK"

Took Up Strong Position at Home of Mrs. Small, But She "Captured" Their Hearts.

Last night the band of the Irish Fusiliers serenaded Mrs. Ambrose Small at her home, 81 Glen road, in acknowledgment of her work in their behalf. Mrs. Small, who was quite taken by surprise, listened to the fine program from her balcony, where she was later presented by one of the members with an armful of beautiful roses. Several speeches were then made, the speakers assuring Mrs. Small that all she had done for them would never be forgotten, even when in the trenches they would feel that their comfort would be looked after by this generous "god mother" of the band.

Bandmaster Chisholm has just learned at 6 o'clock that his son had been killed, but insisted on the band carrying out the serenade the he was unable to be present.

BRITAIN BEARS BURDEN

British Army is Referred to as Strong and Well Equipped.

AMSTERDAM, July 3.—Via London, 4.45 p.m.—The beginning of the Anglo-French offensive is announced by the German press under heavy headlines. "From the great Champagne battle of last autumn," says The Cologne Gazette, "we know the imposing preparations with which the French general staff introduces such enterprises and we can be certain that on the enemy's side nothing will be lacking as regards technical means for piercing our lines. For seven days artillery fire was poured over our trenches and our brave troops must have greeted it as a deliverance when at last the enemy storming columns came on."

Decisive Moment. "We should not be deceived by the fact that the enemy reports already speak of great successes. Only within the next few days will it be possible to ascertain how far the general attack has brought the enemy."

The Cologne Volks Zeitung refers to the difficulty of holding the foremost German trenches in the face of the enormous energy of the attack, but notes that the attacking forces have not yet succeeded in piercing the German front.

"Altho Germany confronts the coming battle with confidence," says this newspaper, "nevertheless the moment is without doubt fraught with significance and is perhaps decisive."

Burden on Britain. England, it adds, now for the first time has to bear the burden. "The English army in France," it continues, "is strong and well equipped. England's industry, after it was organized for the war, has achieved great achievements in the manufacture of guns and shells, and, thus prepared, it believes it can now last join the war dance on the soil of northern France. As regards the military fitness of the English troops it has now an opportunity to show what it is."

He Has No Aspirations to the Office of High Commissioner.

LONDON, July 3.—Members of the overseas parliaments who arrived on Saturday were received today by Bonar Law, colonial secretary, who addressed them upon the program of war and trade of the empire after the war. Later in the day the delegates were received at the ministry of munitions by Lloyd George, who, after giving a private address, answered a number of questions put by ministers, and then showed them around the various war exhibits of the munitions department. Tomorrow they will be given a luncheon and welcome at the House of Commons, when Sir George Foster among others will speak.

Sir George today denied a report that he was to succeed Sir George Perley permanently. Speaking to the C.A.F., he said that Sir George Perley was taking a few months' needed rest only and that in the event of any news requiring special attention, he would undertake to attend to them.

Replying to a question as to whether he would accept the high commissionership, Sir George said "no, adding that he had enough to do in Canada."

BESSIE BARRISCALE TALKS OF PLAYS

Star of "The Green Swamp" Believes Force of Character an Essential of the Screen Actor

During an interval of leisure during the production of a new play called "The Green Swamp" Bessie Barriscale, the beautiful young star, expressed herself interestingly in regard to plays and actors.

"I am getting more and more concerned," said Bessie Barriscale, "about the story that is to be told and about the story's message. As far as I am concerned, I want my plays to say something to men and women. I want them to count as an influence on other people's lives. To me there is a great responsibility in the making of a play, for the good picture reaches an audience of millions. It ought to carry a great message of thought and helpfulness when it does that."

"While I was creating the women in Chaplin's 'The Fireman' and in the 'Golden Claws' I have another great purpose in mind. It shows the folly and the danger of being too much hasty. Personally, I am an actress who is satisfied with film as a realm for artistic expression. The stage is gone except for wonderful theatricals, and I am glad that it has been purified."

"In a way much the same will happen to picture-making. We will go thru the baby-doll motion picture actress and the mammy-pammy actor. The good picture must be a real picture, and tired of the pretty-pretty girl who has a dainty pout and a languish little touch of beauty, but not an ounce of brains."

"They want in pictures what they would want in the theatre, and that is force of character and intelligence. The pretty little thing who stokes one's fancy and makes her mouth feel like a parent in a wreck, and who looks like both parents are killed, has lost her grip with the people on the screen as on the stage."

ALICE BRADY IN "LA BOHEME"

Alice Brady is completing work on the World's most beautiful picture, "La Boheme," and is now busily engaged with the director, Emile Chautard, cutting the picture, when it will be shown to the singers of the Metropolitan Opera. It is in many respects the country on the regular program.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 4.

The Big Strike

Neither the presidential election nor the possibility of war with Mexico affects business in the United States as does the possibility of a big railway strike. The roads have offered to submit the demands of the men for an eight hour day and other relief to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is suggested that the Interstate Commerce Commission might couple any relief to the men with a concession to the roads in the way of higher freight rates.

The big strike was settled very much in the same way. The government brought pressure upon the roads to advance the men to a concession and undertook to bring in legislation which would enable the roads to recoup themselves by charging higher rates. Nearly every strike is settled by assessing the public, but it is not always done quite so frankly.

To tie up the entire railway business of the United States at this time would mean a national disaster almost beyond estimate or repair. Yet the almost certain result would be a general demand for nationalization.

The Roads and Their Finish

We hope Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Frank Cochrane met W. M. Acworth when they were in New York. Mr. Acworth is an Englishman with an international reputation as a railway authority, who has devoted much time and study to the railway problems of the United States. His latest utterances, published by the National City Bank of New York, will no doubt attract widespread attention.

They may be acclaimed by some financial journals as an argument for higher freight rates, but that will not impair their real value or lessen their significance.

Couched in courteous terms, they compliment American railway enterprise, but make it plain that the American railways are facing an utter breakdown. Mr. Acworth says the American roads have been giving good service at fairly reasonable rates, but he says they are not keeping up with their business, and will soon be unable to serve the country efficiently.

Double tracking, involving in some cases almost entire reconstruction, is imperatively demanded, and all the roads must in Mr. Acworth's opinion make large expenditures without delay upon replacement, terminals, equipment, maintenance and betterments.

ENGLISH-MADE WATCH SERVES MANY PURPOSES

Adjustable Timepiece Ordered Before War Interests King and Queen, Who Make Inspection.

A watch, one of the most remarkable ever turned out by British workmen, has been made by Messrs. Charles Frodsham & Co., the well-known watch and clock specialists of London, who have had the honor of submitting it to the King and Queen, and to the Prince and Princess of Wales. The special features are not only its convenient size, but the number of purposes it serves—showing days of the week, days of the month, and phases of the moon, and adjusting itself for long and short months and for leap year. It strikes and repeats quarters, hours and minutes at will. Over years work by various artificers is in the watch, which was made to an order given before the war.

CHERRY AND PINEAPPLE SOUP.

Stone a cup of sour cherries, and set aside to serve in the soup. Cut one or two slices of pineapple into cubes and submit to the same process. Grate the rest of a pineapple; crack the cherry stones, and add the kernels, with a pint of cherries and a cup of pineapple juice to a quart of water. Let cook twenty minutes. Mix a half cup of sugar with two teaspoons of arrowroot, and stir into the soup two minutes. Then strain and set aside to cool.

Still on Top

Great Britain is still the great banker and trader of the world. British capital is settling without serious strain the U. S. trade balance which for the fiscal year ending last Friday, amounted to $2,200,000,000. British investments in American securities have been mobilized for this purpose, and over $100,000,000 in gold has been recently shipped to New York from London and Ottawa. Almost fabulous sums are being realized from shipping and the British factories are so busy that the exports of Great Britain for May, 1916, exceeded the exports for May, 1915.

Efficiency Its Own Remedy

Nothing is more cold-blooded than the making of war, and equally cold-blooded must be the judgment or criticism of war as a science. We must not allow ourselves to be carried away by enthusiasm of any kind in planning and correcting, altho the nation that wages war should rage with fevers of patriotism while the war lasts. Perhaps we are all too critical in these days, when the materials of war are quite as important as the plans, if not more so. Unless we have an unlimited supply of men and munitions our plans cannot effect anything.

In both these respects the German nation has had superior advantages for no more cold-blooded set of men ever lived than the German war-party. Keenly intellectual and experienced beyond all other military schools in the theory of warfare, they had at their disposal from the Kaiser down a race of people who were and still are blindly enthusiastic about all that concerns their fatherland. The superior culture of Great Britain, and especially of her independence, renders impossible in this generation to arouse the ardent emotions that stir the German breast.

All of us, however, do not apply our cold-blooded judgment to the facts of the war. There are some who are inclined to jump at conclusions while the conclusions are still a long way off. The Germans are by no means defeated by the advance made in the last few days in the Somme valley. It is not nearly such a blow to Germany as the Gallipoli business was to Great Britain and France. For a parallel to Gallipoli we must turn to Verdun, which never has been attempted.

Both at Verdun and on the banks of the Somme, the Germans are having one of their miscalculations pressed home to them. They are finding out that courage had not all been gathered up into Germany, and that degeneration had not set in, either in France or Britain, however unsystematic Britain might be. Nor have France and Britain proved incapable of efficiency as Germany had decided they were. In fact efficiency of quite another and higher order than Germany had dreamed of has arisen in the British Empire as never before.

The Germans are at present more cocky about their position than we all give them credit for being. The recent treaty with Austria, which virtually unifies the two countries, is a sign of what is intended for the future, and we must remember that no victory is possible that does not include an invasion of Germany, and the dictation of peace in Berlin. An inviolate Germany after the war, in whose territories no foe had set foot, would be a watchword of those forces which had been driven out of the countries previously invaded.

The Germans must have a dose of their own medicine of efficiency before they realize or understand defeat, and this will be a matter of time. Trench warfare, as Block told us at the end of last century, has revolutionized war, and the struggle may easily last another year.

"FEAR NEITHER DEATH NOR DEVIL"—HOLLWEG

German Chancellor Angry Because Allies Continue War.

OUTBURST IN REICHSTAG

Reiterates Germany's Explanation That Russia Caused Conflict.

BERLIN, July 3.—During a debate in the Reichstag on the third reading of the budget, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, indulged in a vitriolic outburst. He was particularly angry because Britain had received news of our allies against Italy, the strengthening of our lines before Saloniki, and just recently we have received news of the naval battle of Jutland with jubilant and grateful hearts.

"This is how the war map looks now," he said, "our various enemies desire still to shut their eyes to it, then we must, will and shall fight on till the final victory."

"We did what we could to pave the way to peace, but our enemies repelled us with scorn. Consequently all further attempts to enter into negotiations become futile and an evil."

"I am accused of keeping back for three months the news of the advance of the military authorities, the order for mobilization, which might have cost us not only part of Alsace, but also the province of Lorraine. In fact, these attempts at an understanding with England are my capital offence."

"What was Germany's position? France and Russia were closely united by an indissoluble alliance. There was a strong party of revenge in Russia, an insatiable and growing desire moving towards war. France and Russia could only be held in check if the hope of England was successfully put to rest. I made this attempt, in face of an English policy of envelopment, hostile to Germany, which was also known to me. I am not ashamed of it, even if it has proved abortive."

"If we had mobilized three days earlier we should have laid upon ourselves that blood-guiltiness which Russia took upon herself when she did so when negotiations were proceeding favorably, contrary to the promise she had given us. These privations of the privations of the German people and of the end of the war the chancellor said:

Mr. Walaberg, wife and daughter, and Bert Fellman, rescued the women.

Official War Statements

British

The capture of more German defensive positions was announced in an official report from General Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces, at 5.30 last night.

"Heavy fighting at La Boisselle (east of Albert) is proceeding satisfactorily to us. The remnants of the garrison have surrendered.

"On other parts of the battle front we made further progress, capturing additional hostile defences. A number of aerial battles have occurred along the front. Six German machines were brought down and five damaged. Seven British aeroplanes are missing.

"The fighting about La Boisselle and Ovillers was particularly severe. Yesterday evening we penetrated the village of La Boisselle in which fighting is still going on. About Ovillers the fighting met with varying success. Our attack early in the morning secured a portion of the hostile defences.

"Four hundred more prisoners passed into our hands yesterday. A very large amount of work was done by our aircraft yesterday. In the early part of the day several attempts at offensive action on our side of the line were made by hostile aircraft in large numbers. All were driven away and subsequently the enemy's aircraft was held far behind the German lines. As a result our artillery machines were able to work without interruption from hostile aircraft.

"During the day a very large number of aerial combats took place over the enemy's lines. Six aeroplanes were known to have been brought down and five others were driven down severely damaged. Seven of our machines are missing."

French

"North of the River Somme the enemy last night made no attack upon the positions conquered by us and which we are now organizing."

"South of the River Somme the fighting has continued with complete success for our arms. Yesterday evening along a front of more than 50 kilometres (3 miles) the two lines of trenches of the second German position from the front, as far as the edge of Assevillers, were completely occupied by us. Between these two points we took possession, as a result of a brilliant management of the village of Herbecourt, which had been defensively organized by the enemy.

"Further to the south we have made progress in the direction of Assevillers, which are in our hands."

"To the north of the Village of Estrées and between Estrées and Assevillers our troops have made perceptible progress. More prisoners have been taken."

"The prisoners taken by us as a result of the questioning of these men in our hands have been interrogated. The preparatory fire of our artillery, resulting in the capture of the village of Herbecourt, not only annihilated the enemy's defences, but also rendered impossible all lateral communication behind the lines and in preventing the bringing up of reinforcements at the same time our artillery fire made it impossible for the enemy to transmit orders to the troops engaged in the operations."

"During the preparatory offensive fire of our artillery, French aviators set fire to thirteen captive German balloons. Two others were struck by the fire of our guns. During the attack our aeroplanes were making attacks on the enemy's lines. This time only nine aeroplanes were shot down themselves, and one of our own was destroyed."

"South of the River Somme in the region of the wood Des Loges, French reconnoitering parties and the German front-line trenches, and cleaned them out by hand grenades. In the region of Launoy, our aeroplanes attacked the enemy's lines. Another reconnoitering party of our aeroplanes took one prisoner near Frumay, and brought back a rapid fire gun."

"On the left bank of the River Meuse the night passed in relative quiet, with the exception of a few sniping shots on our positions to the west of Hill 304. On our right bank, French aeroplanes were making attacks on the enemy's lines. At about half past 3 o'clock after a violent bombardment, the German delivered a surprise attack against a trench. They took possession of it, but were driven back by our aeroplanes. Shortly after midnight our aeroplanes completely out and recapturing the work, which is now in our possession."

LEAFS PLAY TWO GAMES AT BUFFALO

Independence Day Across the Line—Coombs Turns in Some Fine Pitching.

This is the national holiday across the line and games will be played morning and afternoon in all cities. The Leafs left for Buffalo last night.

Chicago staged a batting bee in the eighth and noosed out the Pirates.

Walter Johnson lost an 11th inning pitching duel to Caldwell of the Yankees.

Richmond staged a thrilling rally to beat the leading Grays. Providence scored two in the ninth, but Richmond came back with three to get a one-run victory.

Old Jack Coombs had the Grante eating out of his hand yesterday. Coombs gave New York three hits, and Brooklyn romped home easy winners.

Duane was wild, and this was largely responsible for the Tigers getting beaten at the hands of the Naps.

The Newark Indians continue to lose with regularity. Dunn's Orioles won two games from them yesterday.

The Braves climbed into second place by beating the great Alexander hard and beating the Phillies 4 to 1.

The Athletics have no luck. They drew three of the mound, but Boston came along in the ninth with two runs and won.

Ty Cobb, Detroit outfielder, was yesterday suspended for three days and fined $5 by President Johnson of the American League for throwing his bat into an unoccupied seat in the grandstand when he was called out on strikes in a game at Chicago Sunday.

The White Sox were handed a game yesterday. Wellman of St. Louis threw a bunt to flush when nobody was there to receive the throw and the winning run came in.

Vi Sauer is not shaping up this year with anything like his usual speed. He had in the fielding end of the games as well as in his hitting. Tinker will have to look out for a new first baseman for next year if Vic does not come thru soon.

Eddie Collins is hitting in the toughest kind of luck. He meets the ball fairly and squarely, but the ball goes straight at some of the waiting fielders.

The New York Yankees are biting solidly into the first position in the American League, and it looks as if it will be a hard job to displace them. Despite a series of mishaps to players, which heavily handicapped Wild Bill's team, the Yanks have always been in the running, and now that the injured men are again on the active list, their chances are again being well. It will be a hard bunch to stop. Frank Baker has struck his homer in stride again, drawing in the sixth, and hitting slump most of the season, and Fritz Maisei is about ready to get back into the game. Maisei, having once hauled and thrown down Cleveland, seem to be the most formidable clubs in the league, the struggle in it, however, is tight one among six clubs. There are many who think that Hugh Bennett and Tiers will be strong in the hunt as the days go by. Detroit, as was the case last year, is weak in the outfield, but with Ty Cobb and the other sluggers hitting their natural gait again, the Jennings men should be able to make considerable percentage of victories.

Fans who see a team at the top of the race and expect to find the reasons for the lofty position in the work of some great pitcher will be surprised to find that of New York at present leading the American League. The reason is that the team's greatest pitcher could be attributed to Speaker, Grady and a few other famous performers. But the reason is that the team is better in the field than in the case with the Yankees. A somewhat unusual fact is that not one member of the team is hitting in the first base, a batting mark around .265, but it is among the "on best slugs." But what is most significant is that his slugging comes at opportune times.

The Yanks' famous $16,000 beauty, Fritz Maisei, is said to be slated for another berth. Fritz, despite his good baseball qualities, has been forced to play second base since Frank Baker is on the Yankee team. Washington is said to be hot on Fritz's trail, too.

While not making a direct charge, manager Callahan of the Grays is convinced that the Cincinnati management has a working agreement with the Red and field users that will bear heavily on the Grays.

In Friday's game Call accused the users of holding up old balls that were hit into the stands when the Reds were at bat. This is done to force the umpire to throw out new balls.

When the Pirates met, Callahan alleged, the old balls were returned in time to keep them in play. The Pirate leader appealed to umpire Harrison on the matter and he made sure that Garry Hermann, who was sitting in a box, heard his allegations.

"The game is too big to allow any accents of this sort," said Callahan in commenting on the matter.

O'NEILL BEAT L. GROVE.

In the Senior Playground Baseball League O'Neill beat L. Grove by a score of 9-4. Jovet, first baseman of L. Grove, pulled off a spectacular catch, as did Hill, the O'Neill first baseman.

L. Grove 2 0 0 0 1 0 4 3
Batteries—Morris and Harrison; Holland and Alitchson.

BASEBALL AT BROADVIEW.

In a twilight game at Broadview field Monday Broadview won in easy fashion from Simpsons by a score of 10 to 0. Eric Hurd was the reason, the big south-paw holding the big state team to one run in four innings.

Gus Kerr pitched a fair game for Simpsons, but was rather liberal with his bases and this, coupled with a few foul hits and ragged support, let in the runs. Hurd's control was almost perfect and he had twelve strike-outs to his credit.

Score: Simpsons 1 1 0 0 0 0 1 0
Broadview 10 0 0 0 0 0 1 0
Batteries—Hurd and Kerr; Adams and Almas. Umpire—LeRoy.

Pails of cold water should be placed in rooms which are being treated to fresh paint. Change the water night and morning, and when possible, add a handful of hay to the water in each pail. This will almost entirely destroy the paint odor.

The Style Ideal of a Young Man As It Is Expressed by Hickey. To our minds, young men prefer styles that, while youthful and vigorous, are nevertheless of unquestionable good taste and sufficient dignity. Hickey clothes for young men are accordingly unusual without being extreme—there's good taste in their style, weave, coloring, pattern—but breezy just the same. Our displays of these clothes feature unusual values at every price. $15.00 to $25.00. HICKEY'S 97 Yonge Street

St. Charles, 107. Patty Ragan, 107. Mr. Mack, 110. Perhaps it was just common-sense that enabled the Cleveland Club to land Fred Beebe at the time they needed him so much. Fred's record last year with the Buffalo Bisons was such that any big league manager would have been glad to give him a trial if he had been need of a pitcher. He won twenty-seven games and lost seven during the season. The Queen City Pigeon Association held their final old bird race on Saturday from Cochrane, a distance of 379 miles air line. SALES OF STOCKS CONTINUED LIGHT

Owing to Proximity of Holiday, Trading Was Insignificant.

MEXICANS HAD RALLY

Improved Outlook in Situation Southward Helped Market.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Coming between two holidays, today's market was insignificant and unimportant for the last degree. Dealings were light and contracted at the outset, became increasingly dull at midday and lapsed into absolute stagnation later, the total turnover barely approximating 250,000 shares.

The short interest found further excuse for attacking special stocks in the tax of 4 to 6 per cent, which the government intends to levy upon gross earnings of munitions companies and related concerns.

Declines of 2 to 4 points were recorded during the forenoon by various speculative issues, the weakest features being United States Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel, Baldwin and other steel makers. Metal shares also were depressed by the additional break in copper and its allied products in the London market.

Mexicans made pronounced recovery on the more favorable outlook in Mexico and such well-assorted stocks as Mercantile Marine, Texas Company, Sears, Roebuck and Gaitan, Cane Sugar were fairly strong.

Rails of the investment class were dull, but the group, especially the transcontinental group, with considerable gains in the afternoon. The Canadian Pacific and Wabash preferred stocks were at its best in the final movement being due to rumors of a re-organization of the latter.

SCOTIA STEEL FOR ANOTHER STEP

A broker yesterday: "Nova Scotia Steel closed yesterday to the 130 mark and will rise another advance, a dip back, as put in the peg at 140. Some of the shareholders are something to directors know they can carry it."
