Drove The Germans Back Four Times

French War Office Again Reports Severe Fighting, With Allies Winning—More Vessels Sunk By Submarines

Paris, June 8.—The French War Office this afternoon reported: "North of Arras, there were last evening and last night, some infantry engagements. On the eastern slopes of the plateau of Loreste the enemy repulsed an attack on us by three violent counter attacks. This activity did not result in any change of position. "To the northeast of the sugar refinery of Souchez we made further progress. At Neuville St. Vaast, we gained possession, as a result of very violent fighting, of a further group of houses. In the region of "The Labyrinth," a German counter attack has been repulsed. "To the northeast of the sugar refinery Germans yesterday endeavored to recapture the positions they had lost. Four times they were driven back. We captured our gains to the northeast by taking possession of two lines of German trenches along a front stretch for 500 yards or as far as the roadway running between Hebuterne and Serre. "We took 150 prisoners, of whom 100 had not been wounded." "Seven men were drowned."

THE JARDINE BUILDING IN GRIP OF FLAMES

Serious Fire In The Business District Down Town MANY FIRMS AFFECTED

London, June 8.—The fiercest fighting of the war so far as the Baltic provinces of Russia, are concerned, occurred a few days ago in a battle for the mastery of the Dvina River, according to the Post's Petrograd correspondent. The river changed hands five times in one day and at nightfall the stream was completely choked with the bodies of thousands of dead. A plank roadway for artillery, was laid by the victorious Russians, across a solid bridge of bodies. The Dvina, although wide, is so shallow that it can be crossed on foot at some places. The Russians and Germans met at a ford half a mile wide, north of Rosjany, where they fought all day in the water. There were several bayonet charges in mid-stream, and all who fell were drowned. Troops on both sides in their attacks and counter attacks late in the day advanced over the bodies of the dead. Rushing Ammunition Outpost London, June 8.—The Times Petrograd correspondent says the Russians are organizing every possible industry for the production of ammunition, running factories day and night with three shifts, and engaging every available specialist. A conscriptive board presided over by M. Soukhomlinoff, the minister of war, has been appointed. A sort of ministry of munitions may be appointed to take full charge of army contracts.

Four Submarines Reported Captured

Taken in British Nets in Firth of Tay While Attempting Raid—Austrian Sunk Near Dardanelles

New York, June 8.—Four German submarines were captured in the Firth of Tay, on the east coast of Scotland, in a recent raid, according to officers of the Fleet Command, which arrived from Glasgow today. These submarines craft made a raid up the Firth and passed under the Tay bridge and were caught on their return in nets spread by the port authorities. The submarines were kept entangled sixty-two hours, said Cameron officers, after which they were allowed to come up. The crews were found to be exhausted and surrendered immediately. Paris, June 8.—A submarine, believed to be an Austrian, has been sunk by the Anglo-French fleet at the western entrance to the Dardanelles, says a despatch from Bizet. The presence of an Austrian submarine in the Dardanelles sphere would indicate that Austria, as well as Germany, is placing her war supplies at the disposal of the Turks.

ROMANIA TO BE IN BUT NOT JUST NOW

GERMANY'S PURPOSE IN WAR REVEALED

Bavarian King Lets Out The Real Cause of Teutons Warfare

Amsterdam, June 8.—Extension of the German Empire beyond the old frontiers to "secure it against future attack" was predicted by King Ludwig of Bavaria, in a speech yesterday before the Canal League. He said: "When the English declared war I said, 'I am glad because now we can settle accounts with our enemies; now, at last we may hope to get more favours from the world because now we are not menaced by the sea from the north and south Germany.' "Ten months have elapsed and much has happened. The old frontiers have not been in vain. The fruits of the war will be the strengthening of the empire and the expansion beyond the old frontiers as far as is necessary to secure it against future attack. "He who marches with us, I mean Austria-Hungary and Turkey, will be rejected, but not so the false friends who sham friendship and behind our backs went over to the enemy. We are unconquered and the latest enemy, who has been talking so much about himself, has not dared a serious attack, although he took plenty of time for preparation."

He showed a disposition to chum with the orderly of the medical corps.

CHOCOLATE SOLDIER WITH BIG CAST ORCHESTRA AND SPECIAL PRODUCTION

George Tallman, Tom Redwood, Walter Green, Katie Banks, Della Niven and Francis J. Boyle are with the Company

"The Chocolate Soldier" in which P. C. Whitney is said to have reached an enviable mark as a producer of the true comic opera, is announced for the Opera House for all of next week, six nights and two matinees.

The season-round stay of the work in New York and the wonderful success in Chicago and London, have sent out widening ripples of anxiety, and the theatregoers are led to expect much from this work of Oscar Straus as accompanied to the brilliantly witty George Bernard Shaw, "Arms and the Man." Manager Whitney promises the largest theatrical company of the year in opera, with the addition of the Whitney Opera comic Orchestra—the largest that ever gave comic opera in this country on tour under the direction of Max Fischer.

BOARD OF TRADE URGES COMPLETION OF N. T. R. TO ST. JOHN

The completion of the eastern southern end of the Valley Railway to form a connecting link between the National Transcontinental Railway and the port of St. John, has provision here adequate terminals were urged upon the provincial and federal governments in resolutions passed by the council already reported, and adopted by the Board of Trade at their monthly meeting last evening.

W. Frank Hatheway questioned the desirability of dealing with such a matter at a small meeting of passing any resolutions which might seem to restrict upon the federal government, or upon the port of St. John, the matter for the sake of St. John's interests.

W. E. Foster presented a strongly worded statement pointing out the need for the work and the necessity of the citizens uniting to secure results.

A. H. Wetmore remarked that influences are still being brought to bear to bring the railway down the western side of the river and this should be guarded against.

The resolutions with slight amendments were adopted.

Mr. Hatheway reported progress by the committee upon commercial and industrial high schools.

Mr. Wetmore drew attention to the fact that the sugar refinery has not been consuming its smoke this week as formerly.

The meeting adjourned and another full meeting will not be called until the first of October.

THE WAR NEWS.

That is a grim story which comes from Russia of a battle in which a shallow river was choked with dead, and in repeated attacks and counter attacks the fresh troops struggled above the bodies of their comrades.

Word also comes that Russia has organized her industries for the production of war materials, working them night and day. This is another hint that should not be lost upon the government of Canada, for there is nothing from the war zone to indicate anything but a long war, and an enormous demand for munitions for many months to come.

Last night's cables told of the brilliant feat of a Canadian aviator, who after a sharp chase and very skillful maneuvering, dropped bombs on a German Zeppelin, which exploded and fell.

SIR ROBERT'S OPPORTUNITY. The Times last evening made some remarks concerning conditions in Canada today, the truth of which is patent to everybody except the St. John Standard, which, of course, does not wish to see credit to the truth when it reflects in any way upon the conduct or competence of the Borden government.

A REASONABLE APPEAL. It will take a considerable length of time to build the bridges across the St. John and Kennebec rivers and to provide a grain elevator and other terminals for the National Transcontinental Railway.

THE NEW YORK SUN HEARS THAT Germany's supply of cotton and wool is running short, with rather poor prospects of replenishing either.

IN LONDON IT IS PROPOSED by the municipal authorities to purchase a number of motor cars for the winter's consumption by the poor. They are doing some radical things in England this year.

THERE IS A RUMOR THAT Germany and Austria are considering the terms of peace they will offer. They will accept, offer, terms of peace when the proper time comes, and will have no choice in the matter. They began the war. The Allies will end it.

THESE RESOLUTIONS. Conservative and Liberal members of a committee of the Board of Trade united in the preparation of resolutions addressed to the provincial and federal governments urging the early completion of the connection of the National Transcontinental Railway with St. John, and

Lieut. Col. Odium, Promoted on Field, Writes of Langemack—Col. McHugh Shot During Reconnoitre—How Canadians Saved Situation

The terrific fighting at Langemack is vividly described by an eye-witness, Lieut.-Col. Victor Odium, of Vancouver, 7th Battalion, to his cousin, Mr. E. A. McCulloch, of Toronto. Lieut.-Col. McHugh, who was killed in action, was succeeded by Lieut. Odium, promoted on the field.

Lieut.-Col. Odium is well known in Toronto. He was attending Victoria University at the time of the South African war, and enlisted as a student. A comrade in arms in that campaign was his late commander, Lieut.-Col. McHugh.

Seventh Badly Cut Up

"Since five o'clock on the afternoon of April 22 I have been passing through the most severe strain I have faced in my life, and that strain was made heavier to bear by grief and an intense sense of loneliness. On the afternoon of the 23rd, Col. McHugh was shot by my side and the command devolved on me. On the 24th our battalion was badly cut up—reduced from twenty-four officers and 600 men on the ground to six officers and 235 men; on the 25th it was again surrounded and lost still further. And on the 26th and 27th it continued to suffer. From that time till May the 5th it lay under shell fire. On May 28th it was brought out, and has since been resting, reorganizing and receiving drafts. And I have been busy during every possible spare hour in answering the agonized appeals of relatives for information about those who have gone.

"On the 24th, a brother, who was killed on the 24th, was killed on the 24th. The night of the 24th was a very dark one, and the Canadians Highland Brigade, where the French broke—was not in close contact with the battalion next to it. A link which was supposed to be there disappeared in the night, and early on the 24th the Germans broke in between and enveloped our right flank. It was a very serious situation, and I was very near to being captured. I succeeded, however, in getting back to the line he was hit by a shell and blown to pieces. Death was instantaneous.

Misses Close Friends

"It is taking every ounce of self-control I have got to hold myself in leash and carry on my duties. My heart is heavy. I miss Joe. I miss the colonel. I miss many others who were very near to me. And with it all I have been compelled to buckle right down to the work of building up a new regiment on the remnants of the old. I was in command throughout the action, and they have still left me in command. Nothing has been said to me, so I do not know whether I am to be promoted or not. All I do know is that I have been ordered to go ahead with the work.

"And if I am doing it—actively, energetically as far as the circumstances permit, with almost a dead heart.

"I will try and tell you a little—very little—of what happened. Do not mind if I ramble, and if my English is a bit queer. I am not in a literary mood just now.

"Newspaper diagrams have probably told you something of the situation. We were in a big salient-like bottle, with the town of Ypres in the neck, and the Canadian Division right out at the farthest end, where the bottom of the bottle would be. All supplies, all transport, all guns, all ambulances, all water had to pass through the neck of the bottle. The French held the north side of the bottle, out to where he bottom turned. The Canadians the bottom, and some English divisions the south side of the bottle.

"The 7th Battalion was in brigade reserve at Fortuin, having been relieved from the trenches three days before by the 8th. It was due to go back the next day. The First Brigade had not been in the salient at all.

"At 6 o'clock on the afternoon of April

24, heavy gases poured across us from the north, making eyes smart and run, water, and choking breathing. Soon the French swept through us in full retirement. The whole area of the salient was swept from north, from south, and from east with German artillery. All our guns had to get out—for you can see that the indications were that the bottom and south side of the bottle were going to cut off—that the bottle was going to be severed at the neck and Ypres captured. Between A and B the French line had entirely disappeared—gone—front line, reserves, artillery, everything. Buffs Were Too Late

"To save the situation one company of the 18th was thrown north of St. Julien to protect the H. Q. of that battalion which was in St. Julien. A company of the Buffs was sent over from the 27th Division to link this company with the broken flank of the original line. But they were not late. When they got there, going along the trenches of the 18th, they found the Germans in behind.

"Between St. Julien and the Buffs, the ground was open and the Germans were advancing. The 7th Battalion was thrown over to fill the gap. We reached there and took up a line on the crest of a small hill, trying to fill the space between the company of the 18th at St. Julien and the Buffs, as the gap was too big, we had an open space at each flank.

"On the 23rd we held the Germans. On the afternoon of that day we were ordered to dig in at night and make our position secure. Col. McHugh and I went out to reconnoitre the ground to decide on the best position for the trench line. In front of us was a hill, about 200 yards sloping down; at the foot some ruins of the town of Ypres. Col. McHugh wanted to investigate these. So down we went. When we entered the ruined houses and looked out the back we saw hundreds and hundreds of Germans not 100 yards away, lining the hedges and watching us. We would walk into their hands. There were 300 yards from our troops, up hill; 100 yards from the Germans. We turned and made for the hill.

"As soon as we cleared the house, they opened rapid fire on us. We threw ourselves to the ground. There was a small hole near me and I rolled into it. I called to the Colonel and he followed, rolling in on top of me. He told me he was wounded in the stomach, would not let me try to dress him, and asked me to go for the doctor. I got out from under him, rolled him down gently, made him as comfortable as I could, and then made up the hill, dodging, running, crawling, jumping, with the Germans firing all the time. I reached the top safely, and told the doctor the situation. He went down the hill in the face of the same fire, got into the hole, dressed the colonel's wounds, and stayed with him till after dark, when we succeeded in getting him back on a stretcher. The bullet had entered the groin from the left rear, had passed through the stomach, and had gone out near the navel. We managed to get the colonel back to the hospital, but he died the next day.

"At 8:30 the next morning the attack broke on us furiously, the artillery playing on us from front and rear, with rifles and machine guns. That day was hell. By noon we were surrounded, for two other battalions had left their trenches in the morning and the Germans attacked us from the rear. We had to fight our way out—and few got out. It was that morning that Joe was killed.

"Next day, or rather that night, we were again thrown into a gap, to protect the left flank of the 28th Battalion, which had been exposed when a battalion abandoned its trenches. Once more the same thing occurred—troops of the 10th (which had made a splendid charge on the right of the 22nd) were almost surrounded. So it went on until British troops had been thrown in to reform the line at the bottom of the bottle, and to restore the situation.

"Not Story Times. "This is just a rough, hasty, skeleton outline. A thousand stories could be told—and will be in after years. But these are not story times. "We will probably be in reserve for some ten days yet, then back in the trenches. In spite of gas, and shells, and machine guns, I still have my nerve, and will, I think, be able to go wherever I have to go. But none of us look forward with any degree of pleasure to another such week. "General Smith-Dorrien, commanding the 11th army, in addressing the remnants of the officers afterwards, said it

DELMONICO DOORMAN MADE $1,000,000

Testifies Fortune Came From Tips of Patrons

New York, June 8.—How James W. Delmonico, for thirty years doorman at Delmonico's at 81 a day, made a fortune of $1,000,000 in Wall street largely through tips given by the patrons of the restaurant, and how subsequently his mind was clouded for four years until he had himself before the Supreme Court Justice Govegan here, United States Senator O'Gorman appeared as his attorney. Delmonico, who is now past sixty, but who is still remembered as Jimmy by the older patrons of Delmonico's, is suing the Lawyers Mortgage Company and others to set aside a deed to property in East 53rd street, near Lexington avenue. The suit is based on allegations that at the time he deeded away the property his mental faculties were impaired.

"Barum had only a three-ring circus when I first knew him, but it was not long afterward that I had five very successful troupes in the fire, while still holding down my humble job as doorman at Delmonico's," Delmonico testified.

"I was college bred and for that reason I was able to converse intelligently with many of the prominent men who dined regularly at the restaurant, and by taking their advice I built up the beginning of a $1,000,000 fortune on an original investment of $20.

"I used my profits to enter various lines of business, and it wasn't very long before I had a successful real estate enterprise and three livery stables, starting with one horse I bought from William Earl Dodge.

"For a period of four years following May, 1907, my mind was not clear. I scarcely realized what went on about me, and although I went out walking with members of my family and accompanied my wife to church I didn't know when I was not myself. Among other things I found that I had executed a mortgage and a deed to the property in which my head received a heavy blow, my mental balance suddenly returned and I then discovered that my affairs had become tangled during the period when I was not myself. Among other things I found that I had executed a mortgage and a deed to the property in which my head received a heavy blow, my mental balance suddenly returned and I then discovered that my affairs had become tangled during the period when I was not myself.

Mr. Delmonico said that his son James was speculating in Wall street, during the time when he was incompetent to transact business, and that the money realized on the mortgage was used by his son for the latter's own benefit in his speculation. He immediately brought a series of actions to recover various properties that had been dissipated in the period of his clouded mentality.

Mrs. Mary Delmonico, wife of the plaintiff, corroborated his testimony and said that although she had escorted her husband to the office to sign the mortgage papers she did so because her son James directed her to do so. Her daughter, Teresa, 31, testified about her father's mental condition during the four years when he was not himself.

LIFED BY SHELL. Sergt-Major Charles Main, in a letter to George Stiles, of Moncton, says: "I must tell you of the narrow escape I had at Ypres. I was leaving the guns when a German shell burst close behind me. It lifted me in the air and shook me to the ground. I got up and shook myself, and wasn't I surprised to discover, except for a bruised shoulder and quite a bit blown out of my jacket, I was unhurt and had to smile. German Kultur."

MONCTON BATTERY CUT UP

That the Moncton battery up to May 17 had twenty-two casualties, including several Newcastle and Campbellton boys wounded, is the content of a very interesting letter to George Stiles, of Moncton, from Sergeant-Major L. C. Main, of the 9th (Anderson's) Battery, who left Moncton a sergeant of artillery at the first of the campaign. The sergeant-major is an old soldier of the imperial service, and was formerly in charge of the Humphrey's Golf Club course. He was promoted to the position of sergeant-major, the highest non-commissioned rank in the service, about ten weeks ago. He is a native of Surrey, England.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT ADVANCES THE MUNITIONS BILL A STAGE

London, June 7.—Despite opposition by Labor members and by Sir Henry Duffell, a Radical Liberal, the house of commons today gave a second reading to the munitions bill, and then sent the bill to a committee of the whole. The committee authorized the salary for the minister of munitions, who will be David Lloyd George. The salary is not to exceed £25,000.

The opposition to the measure was on the ground that it was, in effect, a move for the conscription of British labor. The bill will be discussed further tomorrow by the house, when Premier Asquith has promised a detailed announcement concerning the government's attitude in recruiting and the munitions question.

J. H. Thomas, a Labor member, who was the last person to speak on the bill at today's session, said that if the munitions measure was passed it was incumbent upon the government to give assurances that any relaxation in trade union rules should be only for the duration of the war.

"The government," said Mr. Thomas, "will not get what it wants by putting a pistol at labor's head. Let the government say what it wants and the labor leaders and the workers will quickly rectify any mistakes that have been made."

London, June 7.—(Montreal Gazette Cable)—Government control of the Indian wheat supply, thus preventing speculation, combined with the prospects of good harvests in Canada and the Argentine and the forcing of the Dardanelles, thus liberating the Russian supply, is causing wheat prices to fall at the rate of about a dollar daily. The prospect is that wheat will soon be as cheap as before the war.

The London County Council and some metropolitan boroughs contemplate purchasing coal at summer prices, with the intention of retailing it at low rates next winter, thus avoiding the heavy prices paid by the poor last winter.

CARE OF TEETH OF THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

HEART WOULD PALPITATE. HAD WEAK and DIZZY SPELLS.

Palpitation of the heart is one of the most common of all heart troubles. The heart will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over the system accompanied by weak and dizzy spells, making you feel that you are surely going to die. When you feel this way what you require is a real good heart and never tiring; one that will strengthen the weak heart and build up the nerve system. For this purpose we know of nothing that can equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I started at once, and found that I felt much stronger, and my heart was ever so much better within a short time. I cannot praise your medicine too highly for it has done me a world of good. My husband has also been bothered with heart trouble ever since childhood and finds great relief in using your valuable pills.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. Cannell's Death.

Hugh Cannell of this city has just received the news that his brother, Lance Corporal Robert G. Cannell, was killed in action at the second battle on Ypres. Mr. Cannell, who was twenty-seven years old, was a native of the Isle of Man, a son of Mrs. and late Walter Cannell. He held a position in the board of education office, London, until the outbreak of war. At that time he was in camp with the London Rifle Brigade, territorial force, and with the rest of his regiment volunteered for active service in announcing his death his lieutenant and section commander speak in the highest terms of his qualities both as a man and a soldier.

Canada shows the British Government a great and good example

Lloyd George, the ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, has laid before the British Parliament a bill providing that no liquor shall henceforward be sold unless it has been matured for three years in bond. It has been found that immature spirits are mainly responsible for many of the troubles of the British working classes. Canada has shown a great and good example to Foreign Countries for years. In Canada the law says liquors shall be matured for several years before being sold to the consumer.

Mrs. E. H. Robinson, for the knitting department, reported 200 pairs of socks for May, while 200 pairs were donated by the Lancaster Red Cross and sent to Dr. Deval in addition.

Mrs. Campbell reported the receipt of 28 parcels, 8 for material department, 202 garments, 222 pairs of socks. 87 boxes have been shipped to Halifax in three weeks.

A pleasing interruption was a visit from two St. Andrew's cadets, Master George Ellis and Percy Webb, who, arrayed in all the grandeur of kilts, brought with them a fifty dollar bill earned by themselves and Benson Robinson, and by the sale of 20th badges, while 200 had already been given towards the field kitchens.

Master Ellis in a short speech made the presentation to the Red Cross. There was hearty applause and the young soldiers were thanked by a standing vote. The fifty dollars will provide a bed in Dr. MacLaren's Hospital to be named after the "St. Andrew's Cadets."

Some discussion took place about the respirators which had been made. Information about those used in the coal mines was given by Miss Montsambert, who was an interested visitor at the meeting.

Miss Lily Hasen handed a life membership which had come through the St. John's Ambulance to the Red Cross from Mrs. W. F. B. Paterson.

Mrs. James Harding announced $7.00 earned by the sale of pins.

A welcome gift of $100 was received with a note from Miss Gladys Hagan, acting treasurer.

Life members were announced as follows: Mrs. H. E. Wardrop, Dr. G. A. B. Addy, Mrs. F. B. Schofield; Mrs. P. R. Inches; Miss Bertha Alma Brittain, Miss Alice K. Walker, John P. MacIntyre, Esq., Mrs. P. K. Meyhen, Jamaica (N. Y.); Mrs. Simon A. Jones, Mrs. John Villa, Mrs. John McMillan, George R. Ewing, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. W. F. B. Paterson.

An official Italian announcement tells of an attack by three of their destroyers upon the Austrian port of Monfalcone. They silenced three batteries and returned uninjured.

Then—finish by rubbing your face for a few minutes with a piece of ice.

You will feel the difference the first time you use this treatment. Use it persistently and in ten days or two weeks your skin should show a marked improvement—a promise of that greater loveliness which the daily use of Woodbury's always brings.

PLANT LINER GOES ASHORE NEAR HALIFAX
 The A.W. Perry's 40 Passengers All Ashore Safely
VESSEL WAS FROM BOSTON
 Some Doubt as to Whether The Steamer Can Be Saved Effort Made By Tugs at High Tide

Halifax, N. S., June 8.—While groping into Halifax harbor early this morning with forty passengers, the Plant liner A. W. Perry, Captain Ellis, from Boston, went ashore one-third of a mile inside of Chebucto Head Horn, about eight and one-half miles from Halifax. She struck at a quarter after six o'clock. All the passengers were saved. They were taken off the steamer about fifteen minutes after she went ashore, and are now quartered in the hotels, where many of them will wait for their baggage.
 The passengers were brought to the city by the little coastal steamer Atlantic, which was on the spot when the Perry grounded. Little difficulty was experienced in getting alongside, and in less than three hours all the passengers were safe in Halifax.
 It is yet doubtful whether it will be possible to save the steamer. This morning at low tide she was lying high and dry on the rocks. A fleet of tugs left Halifax for the scene, and an attempt to pull the steamer into deep water will be made at high tide. The Perry has a large cargo.

STANLEY BROWN CASE ON FRIDAY MORNING
 Serious Charge Made Against Man in North End
 Stanley Brown appeared before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning to answer a serious charge of criminally assaulting Matilda Blakeley yesterday afternoon in a house in Sheriff street. The case was set aside until Friday morning at ten o'clock when it will be heard behind closed doors.
 The plaintiff, who is a widow with two children, and is a mute, reported that when she was in her home in Sheriff street yesterday afternoon a little girl came to her with a note which requested her to go to the home of a neighbor who was said to be sick. When she went to the house, she said, Brown attacked her.
 Dr. Case was called and will be a witness at the trial.

SAY SIXTY FROM STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS HAVE ENLISTED WITH BRITISH
 Congressman Alleges Inducements Were Offered and Takes Matter to Washington
 Boston, June 8.—Federal investigation of the alleged activities of persons interested in obtaining recruits for the British army among Americans, has brought to light four cases in which inducements had been offered youths to ship abroad, according to a statement by congressman, Peter F. Tague.
 Two young men located by federal agents yesterday said they were told they would receive a bonus of $100 besides free transportation to England if they would become British soldiers. Another, James Pope, fifteen years old, said he crossed to Liverpool as a hostler on a transport steamer and enlisted there, but later deserted and returned home as a stowaway. He asserted that he and other young hostlers on the steamer, who also enlisted, were instructed by a recruiting sergeant to say that they were Canadians and nineteen years old.
 The British consul general at this port, Frederick P. Leay, disclaimed any connection with the matter, saying the responsibility lay with the United States immigration officials.
 Congressman Tague announced that he would go to Washington today to discuss the situation with Secretary of State Bryan and officials of the department of justice. He said he had letters from the parents of sixty young men in this state who had enlisted in England.

NO OFFICIAL RECORD OF HEROIC WARNEFORD
 Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—Nothing is known in official circles of the department of the military, of the gallant Sub-Lieutenant Warneford, the aviator whose heroic exploit in bringing down a Zeppelin yesterday has thrilled the country.
 While the despatches state that he went to Great Britain from Canada, there is nothing here to show from what part he came. It is thought that he went privately and joined an aviation corps in England.

SERGEANT MAJOR BLOWN TO PIECES BY GERMAN SHELL
 Richard Hayes of St. John Writes of Terrific Fighting
NEWS OF ST. JOHN BOYS
 A Swim in the Canal—Private John W. Coburn Killed—New Brunswick Wounded in Battle at Dardanelles

Word of St. John boys now on the firing line in Europe was brought to the city yesterday in a letter from her son Richard, to Mrs. Robert Hayes, 26 Westmead road. He is with the 10th Battery, Third Brigade, C.E.F. Gunner Hayes tells of having been in battle for seven days, and speaks in particular of a charge on his battery made by the enemy, in which twenty-five of his companions were killed, as well as some sixty horses. "It was worse than hell. I saw Charlie Edwards today, when we were down in the canal for a swim. This is the canal of which you've read so much. It's been the scene of much heavy fighting, but it was great today to be able to plunge into it for a swim. Last night I saw Garnett, McNutt, and Gaines, all St. John boys, and they were looking fine. Andrews and Lattimer are still with the D.A.C. Our sergeant major, Washburn, has been killed, blown to pieces by a German shell."
 John W. Coburn Killed.
 Mrs. George H. Turton, of Fredericton, received word that her brother, Private John W. Coburn, had been killed in action with the 18th Battalion of the First Canadian Division. He enlisted with the 18th Battalion. He was wounded some time ago but returned to the firing line a few days before he was killed. He was a South African war veteran. He is survived by his wife and two children. Wounded in Dardanelles.

SAY THEY DID NOT DESERT
 Now Said Absentees of 5th Wanted to See Relatives Before Sailing
 Moncton, June 8.—According to the statements made by members of the 5th Battalion who have arrived here, there was no "desertion," from Camp Sussex, the absentees not being dissatisfied with the service. They say that, as many of the men were being drafted for the front, those who were volunteering to leave soon wished to go to their homes before sailing. It is said that as it is not known just how soon they were to leave for the front no "leave of absence" could be granted and consequently some decided to go home and abide by the result rather than miss seeing their relatives.
