CHATHAM, N. B. - - SEPTEMBER 3, 1885 A Stolen Daughter.

[N. Y. Herald, 20th.] officials at Police Headquarters relaxed a little in their dignity under the humanizing and ever interesting influences of a love romance. It was a first class romance, too, with all the elements required by the most lurid writers. It is true that at the end the would-be bride was not dragged away shricking by an emotionless father to pass her days in a condition of perenture. In the cricket match at Halifax on Thursday between the St. John boys and Officers of the Garrison, the latter made two hundred and seven runs against one hundred and thirty three, giving the victory to the Officers by seventy-four runs. The St. John's team did some pretty work in fielding, but were light on the bat. The navy vs. St. John on Friday resulted in a victory for the former in one innings and 29 runs, St. John two innings, 98 runs, navy, one do. 127 runs. to pass her days in a condition of perennial dampness caused by her tears. That could not be, for the father was not in the city. Neither was she solemnly cursed, father who plays the part of dynamite in a romance is usually a gardener or a blacksmith, rarely a horse doctor. This time it was a gardener of the variety known as florists. His name is J. M. Hodgson. He has a store in Fifth avenue and one at Newport. He has also a daughter. Her Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue."

When all other remedies fail" for Bowel Complaint, Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, etc., "then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue." Thus writes W. H. Crocker, druggist, and increasing "large and increasing."

name is Louisa. It is probable that at this time Richard of close application to the cultivation of double roses, high sicco, a big straw hat, and new names in the flowers, he rose to the emmence of to man. But while he was thus raising all sorts of horticultural wonders in the garden openly another lower was expanding its beauty in secret. It was love. Mr. Hodgson had always treated him like a member of his own family. This did not satisfy Merritt. who liked it so much that he wanted to to the extent of a son-in-law. Miss one, but her father would not hear of it.

ELOPEMENT AND ARREST. The two eloped on Tuesday night, emwas discovered. The modern method of elopement by steam has this advantage over methods formerly practised in that pursuit is less easy. Newport has a telegraph office, on the other hand, and to it Mr. Hodgson rushed for aid. He sent a despatch to the New Yerk police asking for the arrest of Merritt on a charge of abduction on his arrival hand. parking on the steamer Old Colony. Superintendent Murray telegraphed to Mr. Hodgson that the pair were under arrest, and that he was required in this city to make the com-plaint. The following reply was received: Send my daughter home by the noon train in care of Mr. Hoffman, of No. 545 Fith avenue. Her mother is dying. Detain Merritt until further notice. was found that Miss Hodgson refused to go home by the noon or any other train, and that a lot of lawyers were buzzing around wanting to persuade Merritt to let them get him out. These complications were narrated in a second description. trying to carry out these instructions it was found that Miss Hodgson refused to tions were narrated in a second despatch sent out from the Central Office, to which was added the statement that Miss Hodg, son claimed to be more than twenty-one and a sure cure for the Itch. RICHARD HIMSELF AGAIN. Merritt was taken to court again and discharged. Then he was taken into Inspector Steers' room, where Miss Hodgeon was awaiting him, and where an affecting scene occurred.

We offer no apology for frequently calling attention to Johnson's Anodyne Liminent, as it is the most valuable remedy that has ever been produced. It is a sure cure for diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera morbus.

"Oh, I'm so glad that all our trouble is over. Dickey, won't you kiss your baby?"
exclaimed Miss Hodgson, as she rushed into Richard's embrace.

Inspector Steers refrained from telling priles make new rich blood and prevent all manners of diseases.

the ingenuous couple that their trouble was just beginning, instead of being all over. He added his supplication to Miss Hodgson's. "Yes, Dickey, do kiss Baby,"

Thus adjured, and having really no objection personally, Richard manfully clasped his best girl in his arms and com 125 Bbls. Then they, started in search of a minister who would marry them without delay, after which they intended to return to Newport.

Taking these two states as a whole it is said that the average yield per acre will not be over 11 bushels. This will give a deficiency as compared with last year of 40,000,000 Louisa Hodgson thought the idea a good duced from that of last season for obwhat particulars he had learned of the elopement. The result was that when Merritt and Miss Hodgson landed at the pier yesterday morning they were met by a man with a Jacqueminot nose, who said he was Eibo Hey.
