

The Union Advocate

Established 1867. NEWCASTLE, N. B., WEDNESDAY, NOV. 30, 1892.

Editorial Notes.

Professor Prince of Glasgow, Scotland, has been appointed to the position of commissioner of fisheries from the Dominion of Canada to investigate whether he will prove as capable of performing the duties as many Canadians who have made the fisheries of Canada a life-long study. We doubt it, but time will tell.

There is no denying the fact that some such officer is necessary and if the appointment of this officer will put a stop to the outrageous regulations for some years in force and led to the enactment of wise regulations the change will be to the benefit of the fishermen and the country at large.

Sir John Abbott has retired from the premiership which he devoted as he is now engaged in the task of writing his memoirs. The resignation will probably in a few days be announced. There is no doubt that Sir John Thomson is eminently qualified for the position as shown by his past career in the house of commons, and the country and party is to be congratulated upon having a man so capable of filling so important a position with credit to himself and the country at large.

To be Excused.

To-morrow, December first, is the day fixed for the execution of Buck, sentenced to hang for the murder in Moncton of Policeman Steadman. Efforts have been made to have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life, and large numbers of persons signed the petitions to this effect, but the Minister of Justice has justly decided that the sentence must be carried out, and the minister receive the punishment due to his crime. It is a just punishment, and the carrying out of it will do more to prevent a recurrence of such crimes than if the sentence of death were commuted to one of imprisonment for life. The majesty of the law must be sustained.

The Bishop Enthroned.

FREDERICTON, Nov. 24.—The enthronement of the bishop of Fredericton took place at the cathedral yesterday morning. A large congregation was present to witness the ceremony. The clergy met in the vestry of the church at 10.30. There were present besides Bishop Kingston, Bishop Neely of Maine, Rev. Canon Ketchum, Robert Forsythe, Devereux, Briggs, and Nease; Messrs. Rev. F. Alexander, sub-deacon; Rev. W. R. Armstrong, Rev. A. Warnford, W. Jeffrey, L. A. Hoyt, H. F. Parley, W. O. Raymond, C. A. S. Warnford, A. B. Murray, J. R. S. Patterson, J. B. Hopkins, H. Montgomery, R. Mathers, L. G. Stevens, John de Soyres, and O. S. Newham, secretary of the diocesan synod.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the bishop with the bishop of Maine and Chaplain, proceeded by one bearing the pastoral staff came to the west door of the cathedral where they were met by the clergy.

The clergy having moved in the vestry and headed by the subdean and canon the seniors going first, passed down the central aisle and met the bishop at the west door, when the bishop delivered to the metropolitan the keys of the diocese and the metropolitan in return presented him with the crosier.

The clergy turned, each as he stood, and proceeded to the chancel, the seniors preceding.

During the procession, Palm crosses, beautifully chased, were presented to the sub-dean, assisted by the bishop of Maine, conducted the impressive ceremony.

The declaration, required by canon 14, section 13 of this diocese, to be made before the metropolitan, was read by the secretary of the synod. The mandate was read by the sub-dean. The following declaration was then taken:—

I, Hollingsworth Tully, bishop of Fredericton, do hereby profess to respect, maintain and defend to the best of my power the rights, privileges and liberties of this church and diocese and to raise therein with truth, justice and charity, not lording over God's heritage, but showing myself in all things as an example to the flock, to help me God, amen.

A very able and appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Canon Briggs.

After pronouncing the blessing upon the newly installed bishop, the bishop of Maine made an informal but very impressive address in which he warmly commended the distinguished services of the late metropolitan, and earnestly exhorted the people of the diocese to give the same assistance and support to their new pastor as they had given to his predecessor.

Notes by the Way.

My last letter was dated from Campbellton upon arrival there and contained only a few lines of news from that flourishing town.

During the past year several new buildings have been erected and evidences of business prosperity are to be seen in the various improvements made about the saw-mills have been shut down for the season and are being fixed up for next season's operations. The cut of cedar shingles has been heavy and owing to the fall in prices in the United States large quantities have been ordered to be re-cut. The lumbering operations in the woods are expected to turn out about the same quantity as the previous winter's cut, as large crews are now engaged in the woods in lumbering operations. The water in the river is very low which has prevented the forwarding of supplies to the camps by scows as in former seasons. The heavy rain of Saturday, Nov. 19th, would doubtless have done the water considerably and supplies would be pushed forward as far as possible until prevented by the setting in of a winter, when teaming would have to be resorted to.

THE WEATHER was extremely mild on Wednesday last week, and not a sign of ice to be seen in the river. The ferry boat between Campbellton and Cross Point was running on Monday, and it was quite late in the afternoon running during the week as late as Saturday the weather continued mild.

The mild weather has enabled the farmers to do a large amount of ploughing this fall and thus forward their spring work.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The town is now in possession of a Ross's Steam Fire Engine which will no doubt do good service as a protection against fire. A number of oil street lamps have been erected, and some new sidewalks laid, although in some places the old sidewalks are in rather a dilapidated condition and need looking after. In all probability the town council will order the necessary repairs to be made as soon as the snow disappears in the spring and the pedestrians will be able to get about without endangering their limbs.

WILD FOWL.—It is hardly a wonder that sportsmen on the Restigouche are led to use illegal means to get within gunshot of the immense flocks of wild fowl which frequent the river especially during the prevalence of easterly or northeasterly storms. Two days ago, while driving from Dalnauville to Campbellton, I had an opportunity of judging of the attraction to the sportsmen in witnessing the immense flocks of wild fowl resting or feeding upon the broad surface of the Restigouche, which were to be seen as far as the eye could reach, some flocks just out of reach of gun shot from the shore and others far out. In one place, below Shaw's Cove, a flock which must have numbered far over a thousand were depositing themselves on and about a shallow spot not very far from the shore, and they looked to be so near the shore that the observer might expect to hear the explosion of a shot taken at them, but they were left in peace probably because they were out of range. I never before saw so many quantities at any season of the year as were to be seen on Friday, Nov. 18th, Truly a sportsman's paradise, and I can hardly wonder at the use of a decoy, or other craft which at night seems to dazzle and bewilder the wild fowl which make no attempt to fly away until the crack of the gun accuses them and they are shot. Large bags are frequently made on these night excursions, although they are not without danger, as frequently the sportsmen have been shot at from the Quebec shore and the birds have been driven off, or shot, on one occasion striking a paddie in the hand of the user, and in another crashing through the headlight, where three young men lost their lives through the sport of shooting wild fowl by night with the aid of artificial light is a dangerous as well as an illegal sport.

THE CHOPS in Restigouche above and below Campbellton, with the exception of hay, have been good, the lack of rain in spring and early summer making the hay crop far below the average.

Business now is quiet in North Shore towns, the state of the roads being such that country customers are waiting for winter to set in, and wishes are expressed for frost and snow which would no doubt have the effect of enlivening business until Christmas is over.

Mr. F. Fairly, formerly of this town, has accepted a situation with Mr. A. F. Ottava, North Shore. The Governor General has decided on the second position of Buck, alias Robert Olen, that the law must take its course.

DORCHESTER, Nov. 28.—It is understood that Radcliffe the Ontario hangman is to officiate at Buck's execution, and that no reprieve will be granted. The weight for the scaffold, cast at the Record foundry works in Moncton last week, arrived here on Friday, 11th inst.

RELIQUARY NOTES.—Robert Vantour had one of his legs broken in a fall on the Koscobougnic river, about ten miles above St. Louis on Wednesday last. Dr. Ferguson of Kingston attended the injured man.

The rectory of St. Mary's church is receiving some repairs. James Brown's mill has closed for the season. The mills of Messrs. Langdon & Burns at Kingston are also shut down. J. S. Jardine's is still in operation there.

Personal.

Dr. Bishop of Bathurst spent a few days in Newcastle last week. He returned on Saturday last. We are sorry to hear that he is not enjoying good health.

The weather here is all that can be desired so far.

Mr. W. M. Hamilton has been making some improvements to late on his dwelling-house. We hope to hear of the marriage bells soon.

BLAIR JAY.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. P. McCort had a narrow escape from serious injury on Friday evening. He, with others, were endeavoring to remove a piece of timber which had become lodged in the mouth of a cow owned by Mr. James C. Miller, when the animal made a rush forward jamming Mr. McCort against a stanchion of one of the stalls. One of the cow's horns entered the upper part of his left thigh, penetrating the flesh for a distance of 8 inches along the skin, the other thigh being considerably bruised where he had struck him. Fortunately her head was held through by a rope or his injuries might have been much more serious. Dr. Desmond was called in who stitched up and dressed the wound. Mr. McCort is now about again.

Chatham Ahead.

From the election returns from Henequin county, Minnesota, published in the Minneapolis Tribune, we observe that young W. A. Kerr, son of Wm. Kerr, Esq., of Chatham has been elected by a handsome majority to the position of county court commissioner. He ran on the republican ticket and polled 19,768 votes to 16,854 polled by his opponent. Kerr seems to be a favorite with the democrats as well as republicans, as the returns show that he ran ahead of his ticket. In one democratic district having nearly six hundred votes he carried nearly five hundred of them—so that for a republican, as the returns show, he ran ahead of his ticket. In one democratic district having nearly six hundred votes he carried nearly five hundred of them—so that for a republican, as the returns show, he ran ahead of his ticket.

Mr. Kerr, after graduating from the New Brunswick University, came to St. John, and studied law for some time with Messrs. Wetton & McLean. About four years ago he went West, and settled in Minneapolis, where he has had for some years a large law practice.—Globe.

Rev. Dr. Sprague invited to Chatham. Says the World: The young men of St. Luke's congregation met on Wednesday evening and unanimously voted in favor of inviting Rev. Dr. Sprague to take the pastorage of the church next Monday. The Quarterly Board, at a subsequent meeting, decided to invite him. He is the ablest preacher in the conference, but not so energetic a pastoral worker as several others. Chatham, with no outlying districts to serve, would suit Mr. Sprague, as his health is too delicate for circuit riding.

Queens County. The total vote at the recent election was as follows:—Blair, Neale, Brunswick, 57 23 Cambridge, 227 35 Canning, 98 29 Chipman, 197 42 Gagevorn, 117 86 Hamstead, 175 154 Johnston, 197 101 Petersville, 184 177 Waterborough, 157 57 Wickham, 154 14

The Weather.

About 9 inches of snow fell on Thursday morning last and if the roads had been frozen would have made good sleighing, but the roads were soft from recent rains. For many days the snow of still remains on the sidewalks to enable the youngsters to coast and the boys to dash along with their dogs and sleds. Light frosts have prevailed since and the roads are hard and rough. Yesterday was mild with moderate snow.

Mr. Isaac Coppinger died on Saturday, Nov. 19, after a prolonged and lingering illness. The deceased was in his 83rd year. He came from England over fifty years ago, and has been a resident here ever since. For many years he was engaged in lumbering and farming operations.—World.

The new building now being erected at Boilestova by Mr. Wm. Richards to be used as a general store will be completed in about two weeks. The building will be a two story one and will add to the appearance of that locality.—Gleaner.

The Great Star Almanac.

In Montreal the Star Almanac is just coming out. It is simply a wonder, thoroughly practical, marvellously comprehensive, and absolutely overflowing with things we all ought to, but do not know about. No amount of praise seems to do it justice.

It is the testimony of all men who have used it that "Myrtle Navy" tobacco has the most delicious flavor of any tobacco in the market, and that it leaves none of the unpleasant effects in the mouth that most tobaccos do. The reason for this is the high and pure quality of the leaf, which is the finest known in Virginia, and the absence of all deleterious matter in the manufacture of it.

Good Shooting.

Messrs. J. R. Lawlor and James Bunde returned on Saturday last from a sporting trip down the river. They succeeded in getting 84 birds between 26, 26, 26, the rest brant and duck.

Judgment Set Aside.

Before Judge King yesterday in the case of McKensie v. Adams, in review from a parish court commissioner of Northumberland county, A. W. Mackenzie, defendant, vs. J. Adams, plaintiff, the judgment was set aside.

Malicious Trick.

Mr. Richard Greenley was arraigned with several residents for a supply of water from the water works on his property in rear of the Masonic Hall. A few days ago the water connections were all made and taps opened so water began to flow. For many days the water was shut off and the pipes completely plugged. The person who would do such a mean trick is capable of anything mean and unscrupulous.

Unlucky.

Any person wishing to subscribe for the Union Advocate and the Montreal Free Press for the year, and send $1.75 to this office, and we will send you the sum of $1.75 for one year's subscription. If they wish to also receive the Star Almanac they must send $1.75 instead of $1.70.

Blackville.

Rev. H. Penna will fill his appointment at Blackville on Tuesday evening next, Dec. 6th. Services to commence at 7.30 Chatham time.

Correspondence.

Newcastle, N. B. Nov. 29th, 1892. Dear Advocate.

In my communication of last week, I drew the attention of the citizens of Newcastle to the destruction of our winter public landing, and up to this date, no movement to remedy it is manifest. I also stated we were paying a policeman who is totally unfit for the position; since, I have been keeping my eye open and my mouth shut, and I have heard strong opinions expressed. I have heard it strongly stated that the present policeman is a most incompetent man, and that a certain organization together with a majority of the police committee, they (the majority police committee) are retaining him because it is incumbent on them, from an organization stand point, to do so. Now Mr. Editor if such is the case, and since it was brought to my notice I am reluctantly compelled to admit that it looks like it, it is about time the town ceased to be made a vehicle for the furtherance of any organization or support of any individual member of any organization. Citizens what do you think the matter rests with you.

Next week, with your permission, Mr. Editor, I will again deal with this police matter, unless a change takes place in the meantime.

I may also touch on Post Office irregularities and other vital matters affecting the welfare and good government of the town.

Yours etc. D. G. SMITH VERSUS WILLIAM ROGERS.

To the Editor of the Union Advocate. Sir,—I feel assured that you do not desire to take part in the discussion of the Bathurst school question, but perhaps you will find room in the columns of the Advocate for the letter of William Rogers, Esq., which appeared in the St. John Sun of today. I intended to treat the low insinuations and mean falsehoods of D. G. Smith with contempt, and I will not trouble myself so far as to reply to him, but it may be satisfactory to your readers to have the views of Mr. Rogers, who is one of our most highly respected citizens.

Yours, A. F. THOMPSON. St. Luke's Manse, Bathurst Village, Nov. 25, 1892.

BATHURST SCHOOLS. To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—In the Telegraph of yesterday there appeared an editorial under the caption, More Light on the Bathurst Schools, and this light the Telegraph now claims to have derived from a resident who is thoroughly reliable, and can easily be shown to be most thoroughly reliable, and that his history is, from beginning to end, a combination of falsehoods. He reads the arrangements made in 1875, with a view to the establishment of conventual schools, and then proceeds to give what he calls a history of the school difficulty. Let us examine some of his historical facts.

1. He says: "Under this arrangement school boards were established at Bathurst town and Bathurst village and schools were opened."

This is simply a falsehood. There were no such arrangements made either place, and no conventual schools were opened till Sept. 1890, when Sisters of Charity were imported from Halifax and began teaching in both town and village under temporary licenses of the Superior of the Province. These districts were elected at the annual meeting as in the other districts of the province when elections take place. The first meetings were rather stormy.

2. Again: "Accordingly the Sisters of Charity were brought to Bathurst, three of them being employed to teach in Bathurst town and two in the village."

What were the facts? Until Sept. 1890, there were three Sisters teaching in the village, as the conventual schools there. The school boards in these districts were elected at the annual meeting as in the other districts of the province when elections take place. The first meetings were rather stormy.

3. Again: "In Bathurst Village there were two Sisters, and two persons of the superior school, both of whom were Protestants."

Same mistake as above, with the additional one that the two persons who taught in the superior school were not Protestants. The two teachers of the superior as present are Protestants, but the superior school was not a Protestant school. It was a Roman Catholic school, and who taught for one term only, the teachers in the primary department of the superior school were Roman Catholics.

4. Again: "The children of Bathurst schools attending school number about 1000."

This statement if applied either to village or town at present does not agree with the facts. The last report of education, equally incorrect is the other assertion that "many Protestants sent their children to the lower grades of the schools taught by the Sisters. Not a Protestant child has ever attended the convent in the village, though the trustees endeavoring to force Protestant parents to send their children to the convent, but not a Presbyterian or Methodist does so."

5. Again: "It may be stated that the secretary of the Bathurst school board was a Protestant, Mr. O'Brien. Dr. Duncan is also a Protestant, etc."

Yes, it is no doubt that it was after due consideration that the historian states that Mr. O'Brien was a Protestant. Dr. Duncan was and is a Protestant, and a member of Mr. Thomson's church—but is one of Mr. Thomson's most intimate friends, and he has no sympathy with the cowardly slanders who try to put a stain upon the character of all true Protestants respect and honor.

6. Again: "They discovered that the number of pupils attending the school was 1000 each."

They discovered, did they? Of what power were the measures? And how long were they engaged in the research? They discovered that the number attending this school was of "about 1000 fermented by one Mr. M. Thomson, whose actions in regard to it have been disapproved by leading members of his own congregation.

Now, I am a member of Mr. Thomson's church, and I can deliberately and emphatically declare that I know the views of our people, and I know of no member of his congregation who disapproves of his conduct in this matter, and I challenge the editor of the Telegraph to give the name of any prominent member of our church who disapproves of Mr. Thomson, who are equally interested in the settlement of this question, and who are determined to continue agitation till the schools have resumed their former free, non-sectarian condition; and this is all they want. If any church needs religious schools, let the people of that church maintain them. A question that needs falsehood, slanders and vile insinuations to hobble it must be a wretched affair, yet such has been the method adopted by the opponents of the free schools of Bathurst, and the Rev. Mr. Thomson deserves and has the warmest sympathy and support of all the members of the Bathurst community, and all the members of the Bathurst board of education.

11. The historian closes: 'There never has been any change in the regulations made in 1876, and the schools have never worked under precisely the same rules.' etc.

I ask, What about regulations of the board of education, in 1884, in 1887 and in 1891—regulations which the board dared not make public till Mr. Thomson routed them out!

Now, Mr. Editor, it is most evident that the thoroughly reliable residents of Bathurst who furnish the Telegraph with its facts and undertake to throw light upon the question of the free schools, are grossly deceived, and need light for their own eyes. Either he is profoundly ignorant of the facts which underlie the question, or he is wilfully unjust. It is bad enough for such a vile and obscure abuse as the Bathurst Advance to make itself the mouthpiece of the cowardly slanders of Bathurst, but what are we to think of the Telegraph, a paper that claims to be a leader of a political party in New Brunswick? The editor of that paper should move to Chatham or Bathurst, and there find congenial companions in the persons who write vile stuff for his columns.

Yours, WILLIAM ROGERS, Bathurst Village, Nov. 22, 1892.

Duffin Post, Orangeville. The great Edmund Burke once exclaimed in a moment of sadness and despair that the eye of adversity was gone forever, and on every side of us we hear it remarked that the days of miracles are the part of a 'distant, superstitious and romantic past. We are going to enter into a discussion on the merits of this statement. Much of the old and antique superstitions of the world and grotesque about it, while not a little that is attributed to the most eminent and noblest of men of talent and genius, wiser and greater than their generation, who had explored, and commented the treasures of Mother Nature within whose bosom is said to be locked a panacea for every ill of man's flesh, and a newspaper's chief mission is to faithfully and accurately record interesting current events and to make such contributions as it can to the public's edification, and it is in this role that the Post is desiring to fill in this article. The neighboring town of Mono has been the scene of a most remarkable restoration to physical strength and activity of George Hewitt, a Mono child, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which are now household words on this continent.

Many who read the article on Dr. Hewitt might be disposed to doubt, but the least credulous were silenced and convinced by the sleeping in the adjacent churchyard had not been the timely use of Pink Pills. He also learned that many others were using the pills with gratifying results, while many more had made up their minds to give up the idea of recovery, when the miraculous saving of young Duke's life to try the great remedy for lesser ailments with which were troubled. We had anticipated that our mission would be disappointing in some respects, never expecting to have the strange story which we had heard of Ernest Duke's recovery so fully substantiated, but here we were returning to Orangeville with everything that was flying rumor before conclusively established upon investigation.

WHAT THE DRUGGISTS SAY. On arriving at Orangeville we determined to interview the local druggists as to the popularity of the remedy that is working such wonders and causing such genuine sensations in many parts of the country. Mr. Thomas Stevenson was the first druggist interviewed. 'Do you sell many of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?' we asked Mr. Stevenson. 'I should think we did,' was his prompt reply. 'There is no remedy in my store for which there is such a demand, and while the number we sell is very large, the sale is certainly increasing.' 'How do you account for this large sale?' we asked. 'I believe it is due entirely to the merit of the preparation. Those who use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills report the best results. The remedy is certainly a wonderful one.'

When Mr. A. Turner was questioned as to the sale of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills he was a surprise to himself by his experience as a druggist no remedy had made such a reputation or produced such wonderful results as this Pink Pills that he did not hear of parties who were benefited by the use of Pink Pills. Mr. J. B. Douds was equally enthusiastic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, said he, 'they are the most popular and best selling patent medicine in my store. The sale is undoubtedly on the increase, and I can say that scores who have sought from me are loud in their praises of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for them. They are certainly a great remedy, and my experience is that they effect all that is claimed for them.'

troubling him was a decaying tooth which required to be extracted. He pulled the tooth and said to take the boy down and he would be all right shortly. Instead of getting better, however, Ernest got far worse, and was soon confined to his bed. He failed in strength and appetite, and was becoming more nervous every day. Sometimes he would get twitching and nervous fits and shake so hard that he would frighten you. The shaking was so strong that the whole bed shook with it. He became alarmed and sent for a second doctor who prescribed for the boy, and who gave it as his opinion that his recovery was impossible. At this time Ernest had lost the power of both legs and arms and they had to be tied down to his sides by leashes to the nervous agitation. The second physician called in attended the boy some time, but the cure was getting no better, every day becoming more hopeless, that a third was sent for to consult. This last one said that there was no chance for poor Ernest, and that all the trouble seemed to be in the nerve. I need not tell you how grieved we felt over the prospect of losing our boy, and would have tried anything to save his life. We had been reading in the Post about the wonderful cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and often thought of trying them as we were told they would do no harm if they did not do any good. Nearly every week we read about miracles wrought by the Pills, and one day I determined to ask the doctor if we might try them.

'Well,' said he, 'the boy can't get better and the Pills are not likely to hasten his death. You can do as you like.' Shortly after we bought a box of the Pills. This was in May last, and Ernest had not been taking them two weeks when we noticed a wonderful change. We quit the doctor's medicine and began using the pills only. The boy improved so rapidly that in a short time he was able to get out of bed. One can hardly believe a story like this, but every word is true. I tell you there is a wonderful change in our boy and we ought to be thankful to the Pills. Ernest is growing stout and strong, and this is his first day at school. The doctor said he had never seen a case like this before. He is still using them although not so often as at first. It would not be much out of your way to call at the school, and there you will find Ernest who will be able to speak for himself.

Just as Mrs. Duke was concluding her interesting narrative the teacher of the school, Mr. Thomas E. Langford, who lives at Mr. Duke's place, entered the house. It was the dinner hour, and the reporter expected that Ernest would turn up and keep him a visit to the school. He was informed, however, that the boy had taken his lunch with him in the morning and would spend the afternoon hour at play. Mr. Langford accompanied the reporter to the road and on the way the teacher said that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not be too widely known. 'I have been hearing all along at Mr. Duke's, and I tell you little Ernest was in a bad state last spring. No one ever thought he would get better, and it seemed so strange that he was cured by such a simple remedy. Why, three doctors pronounced his case hopeless, and yet he is at school today! He is a bright little boy, and the Pink Pills saved his life.'

The reporter was full of thoughts as he returned to the school to interview the little fellow who may be said to have been saved from an early grave by Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills, which the teacher had truly described as a simple remedy. When we reached the school several children were playing in the yard, and in answer to our call for Ernest Duke a bright little boy started out from the romping throng. We asked him if he was the boy who had been so sick, and he answered with a smile and clear 'yes.' 'Are you well now?' 'O, yes, I'm as well as ever again.' 'What caused your 'Pink Pills'?' was the ready and smiling response. 'The little fellow did certainly appear to be in the full enjoyment of health, and one who did not know the facts would have been led to believe that he had such a feeble and precarious condition as to be despaired of by three local physicians, and that he had recently been in such a state of weakness that he was unable to stand and walk.'

We shook hands with the boy and started for Orangeville fully convinced that there was a good deal in the stories we had been reading of miracles wrought through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The reporter also interviewed several of Mr. Duke's neighbors, and found them of one opinion. This was that his son would now be sleeping in the adjacent churchyard had not been the timely use of Pink Pills. He also learned that many others were using the pills with gratifying results, while many more had made up their minds to give up the idea of recovery, when the miraculous saving of young Duke's life to try the great remedy for lesser ailments with which were troubled. We had anticipated that our mission would be disappointing in some respects, never expecting to have the strange story which we had heard of Ernest Duke's recovery so fully substantiated, but here we were returning to Orangeville with everything that was flying rumor before conclusively established upon investigation.

trophy by fire at an early hour this morning. As soon as the fire was discovered large numbers of willing hands were on the scene and did everything to check the spread of the flames, which soon got to the outside of the building, where fanned by a good breeze, they soon levelled the whole structure to the ground. The origin of the fire is not fully known. The loss is estimated at $20,000. A large number of men are thereby thrown out of employment.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cts. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are cautioned against all other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation which has been won by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold is comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatments.
