Community Farming Is Urged
By Hon. Sydney Fisher As Best
Scheme For Returned SoldiersBRITAIN SINCERELY FAVORS LEAGUE OF NATIONS BUT THIS MUST NOT INTERFERE WITH EMPIRE'S SEA SUPREMACYHon. Winston Churchill Declares That Owing to Britain's Peculiar Situation That Her Very Life Depends On Control of the Seas.

London, Dec. 9.—(Reuters.)—British naval supremacy is the subject of an article contributed by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, minister of munitions in the coalition government, to the Glasgow Sunday Post. He says that no other state in the world is in the same position as Great Britain. "Our safety from invasion, our daily bread, every means whereby we maintain our existence as an independent people, our unity as an empire or federation of commonwealths and dependencies—all these flow from hour to hour upon our naval defence," says Mr. Churchill. Continuing, he says: "If that defence is neglected, weakened or fettered we shall be in continual danger of subjugation or starvation. We should be forced to live in continued anxiety. If that naval defence were overpowered or outmatched by any other navy or probably by a combination of navies, we should hold, not merely our possessions, but our lives and liberties only on sufferance. Where else in the world are such conditions paralleled? We have the right to demand from all other nations, friends and foes alike, full recognition of those facts. We are also entitled to point out that this naval strength that we require and which we are determined to preserve, has never been used in modern history in a selfish and aggressive manner, and that it has on four separate occasions, in four separate centuries, against Philip the Second of Spain, Louis the Fourteenth, Napoleon and the Kaiser, successfully defended civilization from military tyranny and particularly preserved the independence of the low countries.

Shielded America.

"In this greatest of all wars the British navy shielded mighty America from all menace of serious danger, and when she resolved to act it was the British navy that transported and escorted the greater portion of her armies to the rescue and deliverance of France. Our record in a hundred years of unquestioned naval sway since Trafalgar proves the sobriety of our policy and the righteousness of our intentions. Almost the only ports in the world open freely to the commerce of all nations were those of our island. Its possessions and our coaling stations were used freely and fully by ships of all nations. We supported the slave trade and down piracy. We put it down again the other day. Even our coastwise traffic, so jealously guarded by every power in the world, was thrown open to all comers on even terms by that ancient people in whose keeping the British navy has been wisely ready to trust the freedom of the seas."

Favors League of Nations.

In conclusion, Mr. Churchill says: "We are sincere advocates of a league of nations. Every influence Britain can bring to bear will be used to make such a league a powerful reality. This fine conception of President Wilson has been warmly welcomed by British democrats all over the world. We shall strive to faithfully and loyally carry it into being, and keep it in active being and existence. But we must state quite frankly that a league of nations cannot be for us a substitute for the British navy in any period that we can foresee."

BELIEVES EX-KAISER HAS BEEN PUNISHED ENOUGH, BUT WOULD ESTABLISH HIS PART IN WARPhillip Scheidemann Declares That Establishment of a State Tribunal To Try All War Criminals Is Being Discussed.

London, Dec. 9.—(Reuters.)—William Hohenzollern has already been sufficiently punished, but it is essential that his part in causing the war should be clearly established, says Phillip Scheidemann, the former German secretary of finance and colonies, in an interview with the representatives of the press. He said the establishment of a state tribunal to try all persons guilty of causing the war is now being discussed, but must be decided upon by the national assembly. Scheidemann, according to the press, said further that Dr. W. S. Goltz, foreign minister, remains in the Government because it is believed he has the confidence of Great Britain and America.

DELEGATION FOR TORONTO

Ald. "Pat" Meehan and Others
Say Warm Things About Forest City.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 9.—"We are going to show those London Hohenzollerns that we are going to get what we want, and what's more, we will get it quick," said Ald. Meehan, for 25 consecutive years a member of the St. Thomas city council, at a board of trade meeting held this morning in the council chamber of the city hall. The room was packed to overflowing. Even the gallery seats were occupied, and many were forced to stand.

The meeting was called to decide how many delegates should be sent to Toronto to the provincial highway and waterways conference. For the last several weeks these Canadian units have been working with the 3rd Cavalry Division, the Lancasters of which are mentioned in a German dispatch as having entered the bridgehead town which is to be occupied during peace negotiations. The armored cars which the Canadians are using have among them those that the Eaton Battery took over with the St. Thomas a Good Customer. Chairman Ponsford stated that he had been told that the St. Thomas branch of the wholesale houses in Ontario, the only one in the province, was a customer in the rear, then we must kick back," he said.

St. Thomas would show them that London would not be able to have it all their own way. Barrister E. C. Sanders could see where St. Thomas had every right to be angry at the provincial highway. W. B. Doherty, city solicitor, declared that he was glad to see the public spirit of St. Thomas. St. Thomas had placed their case squarely before the Government; they asked nothing and even before they left Toronto the other day they held a meeting in the Walker House, at which plans were being made for a demonstration.

Right To Demand It.

"We have a right to demand it. London has not played fairly with anyone, and even before they left Toronto the other day they held a meeting in the Walker House, at which plans were being made for a demonstration. Continued on Page Seven.

SHORTAGES OF COAL AND FOOD CAUSING WORRY IN BAVARIAMany Industries May Be Compelled to Close Down.

Munich, Bavaria, Dec. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bavaria is so short of industrial coal that industries are closing daily and all of them may be compelled to shut down within a few weeks at the outside, which would add thousands of men without positions to the large number of demobilized troops.

The country also is so short of food, especially flour and fats, that the daily normal average of 2,800 calories has been reduced by half, and soon will undergo another reduction. There is the barest margin of food until the next harvest, and to cap the climax there must be demobilized in eight weeks an army that is calculated to absorb twelve to fourteen months in finding employment.

This is the situation that was outlined to the correspondent today by five department heads of the ministry of the interior.

Vladivostok, Friday, Dec. 6.—By the Associated Press.—Admiral Kotchak, the anti-Bolshevik leader in Siberia, has issued orders deposing Gen. Semenov, the anti-Bolshevik leader in Siberia, from the service. The grounds for dismissal were for interfering with communication and jeopardizing the Siberian army. Col. Valkov was named as Semenov's successor and orders were given to arrest Semenov.

Suggests That Ministers
Meet U. S. Executive.

Amsterdam, Sunday, Dec. 8.—President Wilson is invited to visit Cologne by the Volks Zeitung of that city, which suggests that representatives of the German foreign ministry meet him there.

The Independent Republic of Schleswig-Holstein will soon be proclaimed, according to the Wasser Zeitung of Bremen. This newspaper also states that sanguinary encounters between German soldiers returning from the front and Red Guards occurred. At Brunswick on December 8, finding a deputation of Red Guards and members of the soldiers' and workmen's council drawn up to welcome his men, the commissioned officer of the Hussars ordered that five be opened on the crowd. His men obeyed and the Red Guards replied to the fire. The move tore the Hussars from their horses, disarmed them and forced them to march behind the red flag into the city.

URGES COMMUNITY FARMING AS THE BEST SOLUTION OF RETURNED SOLDIER PROBLEMHon. Sydney Fisher, in Address to the Members of Montreal Reform Club, Points Out Dangers Ahead If Certain Questions Are Not Carefully Handled.

Montreal, Dec. 9.—Hon. Sydney Fisher, former minister of agriculture, made a lengthy address at the Reform Club Saturday on "After-War Conditions" in which he predicted that very serious problems would face the country within a short time, which, if not properly handled, might lead to disaster. As to future governments in Canada, Mr. Fisher said they must be more radical, or the lessons of the war would be lost upon us. Labor had as much right to a share in the profits of industry as had capital. Community farming, Mr. Fisher considered, would be the best solution of the soldier-farmer problem. This had been successfully tried in many countries.

Company Formed To Connect Australia
And Britain By AirReport Predicts Time When Airplane Will Compete With Present Transportation Methods.

London, Dec. 9.—British Wireless Service.—Australian commercial and financial interests are making plans to connect Australia with London and other parts of the British Empire by commercial airplanes. A company already has been formed to finance the survey of an aerial route to London by way of Sydney and Port Said. The possibility of flying from the commercial point of view are dealt with in a report issued by the civil aerial transport committee.

The report forebodes the time when the airplane will compete with the telegraph, the postoffice and the railways. It is declared that nearly five hours could be saved between London and Paris, one day between London and Turin, twelve days between London and Calcutta, and thirteen days between London and Johannesburg, South Africa.

The committee recommends the immediate formation of a special branch of the Government air service, commencing on a "modest scale until the air ministry to insure that all preliminary action will be taken without delay."

TWO INSTANTLY KILLED.
Los Angeles, Dec. 9.—Louis Herbert N. Chaffee of Pasadena, Cal., and Lieut. J. Drake of Markato, Kansas, were instantly killed here yesterday when the airplane in which they were riding plunged 3,000 feet to the earth.

In its report of the St. Andrew's concert held in Ottawa on Friday night, the Ottawa Citizen gives special mention of Miss Gladys Comber of this city.

her dancing. It says: "Miss Gladys Comber of London was the Scottish dancer and her splendid stepping made it quite evident that the many medals she won were won on merit. Her Highland fling sword dance and clog dances were beautifully done, and she made herself great favorite. She is an attractive young lady and in addition to her marked ability as a dancer gave an added number that was a delightful surprise, a bagpipe solo, two difficult numbers being rendered in faultless style. Immediately after she played with the

EDWARD RENO HAS

Takes Tanlac Following Attack of Influenza and Results Are Wonderful.

"For anyone suffering from the after-effects of Influenza and needing something to build them up," said Edward W. Reno, a well-known employee of the American Railway Express Company, living at 1721 Broadway, Kansas City.

"During the recent epidemic I was taken down with the 'flu' myself and for two weeks was just about as sick as one gets to be. I finally managed to pull through, but my liver was so weak as weight or more, and every ounce of strength seemed to be gone. Of course I wasn't able to do a bit of work as it was just about all I could do to walk around and my legs would just completely give out sometimes. I had

"I knew I wouldn't be able to go back to work at all feeling like I was, as I had heard so much about Tanlac decided to test it out. Well, it seems to help me right from the first few days."

and has put me in shape to where I have actually gained twenty-five pounds in thirty days' time. I have just finished my third bottle, and it is nothing short of astonishing the way it has increased my strength and built me up in every respect. I have not only gotten back my old strength, but I really believe I feel better than I did even before I had the 'flu.' My appetite was never better, all that tired feeling has gone, and I'm putting in ten hours of good, hard work every day, and it really doesn't bother me one bit. To say I'm strong for Tom is making it very mild. I am constantly telling some friends about it, and think everybody who is in a rundown condition would do well to give it a trial."

As has been stated, there is not a single portion of the body that is benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac. Tanlac contains certain medicinal properties which enrich the blood, promote a healthy appetite for nourishing food, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way. As in the case of Mr. Reno, Tanlac prove invaluable to all persons suffering from the after-effects of influenza, grippe, typhoid, and pneumonia, bronchial troubles, etc. Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and always produces most gratifying results.

A. series, the first competition conducted by this soccer association since war began. The locals have won all five games played and with only one more game scheduled for them, they cannot be beaten. Despite the fact that the pitch became very wet, and snow present, the local soccer association football was closely contested, superior combination play of the locals winning for them. The feature about the match was that all the line-ups composed practically of all returned men.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Madge and Dicky Said Their Last Good-by.

Dicky's "hunch" was right. His squadron was on its way to France "before another week's end."

I almost literally sat by the telephone during the days following Dicky's last visit home for fear that I would lose a single moment in receiving the carefully camouflaged message from him which he had warned me how to interpret.

Each morning I made a most careful toilet, putting on my very best suit, for I was resolved that Dicky's last sight of me should be as pleasing a one as I could possibly contrive. I knew his pride, the fastidiousness which he made almost a fetish, and knew also that there would be many other women at the camp to speak of my wife, and was determined that Dicky should have no reason to be even unconsciously critical of my grooming.

It was on the Wednesday following his Sunday at home that the message came, and in spite of my constant expectation the actual realization of it left me faint and trembling.

"That you, Madge?" Dicky's voice came over the phone with elaborate carelessness, but I knew his every intonation, detected the excitement in his voice.

"Are you very busy?" "Yes, dear," I answered quickly, and then waited, tensely, with one hand gripping the edge of the telephone stand, for his next word.

"Are you very busy?" "Not particularly, why?" I tried to copy his careful enunciation. "I wondered if you wouldn't like to run up here a little while. I have two or three hours of leisure, but not enough to go home."

"I'd love to come over," I replied promptly, "and fortunately I'm not dressed for the street. I'll be there in just a short time, for I'll get Doran."

It was extraordinary, I know, for me to take the village taxi across to Mineola when I could have gone by trolley, but I trolley would have taken the greater part of an hour, while by taxi I could get to the camp in less than 15 minutes. And, moreover, I was with Dicky was worth its weight in gold to me.

"That's the girl!" Dicky replied fondly. "Good-bye."

I telephoned Doran, got his promise to be at the door within five minutes, then went upstairs to put on my hat and fur. "Tell Mrs. Graham I went out on an errand," said to my little maid a moment later in the kitchen. I was thankful, indeed, that Mother Graham was out walking with the baby. She had bidden Dicky good-bye when he was home, not feeling equal to going to the camp, and I knew it would be much better for her not to know the exact time of his real departure.

The last I saw of Dicky good time on the trip over, but the scant quarter of an hour seemed many times its length. But at last I was in the quarters where Mrs. Durkee waited every day as a volunteer information clerk for the army, and where Dicky and I had always met each other upon my visits.

He was waiting for me, and my heart thrilled with pride at the sight of him. The aviator's uniform transforms even an unattractive man into someone distinctly worth looking at, while Dicky's handsome face and little figure in his smart equipment embodied for me the romantic heroic visions of my early girlhood.

Mrs. Durkee was visibly perturbed. I guessed that she knew of the imminent departure of Dicky's squadron, but locally to her position would not let her betray her knowledge.

"I'll try to make a clear out this little office for a few minutes after while if you've anything special to say to Madge," she said in a low voice to Dicky.

"Indeed, no, dear little friend," Dicky replied, while I kissed him warmly for her thoughtfulness. "Madge can't stay very long, and we'll just stroll around a bit."

"Get along with you, then," she said, and I followed him. "I suspected that she wouldn't hear to look at us any longer, that the thought of our imminent parting brought back to her the day when her son Alfred left her for 'somewhere in France

HUMOR AND PATHOS

IN "THE BETTER 'OLE"

AT MAJESTIC TODAY

Old Bill, Bert and Alf Typify

Spirit of British Soldier.

SPECIAL MUSIC PROVIDED

Bairnsfather's Great Play

Showing at Popular

Theatre.

The Three Musketeers—otherwise

Bert, Alf and Old Bill, are re-enacted in a film version of "The Better 'Ole"

which will be the big picture in many movie houses for months to come. And if the cinema lacks, as always, the dialog that the stage can give us, there is ample compensation in the setting, for we have veritable war episodes, including London streets growing from the rain, a glimpse of English fields and homes of France.

But for Old Bill and his kind that devotion might have happened over here, is the message of the story.

That Capt. Bairnsfather's play, so successfully produced in London and

New York, offered really magnificent opportunities to the film producer had long been obvious, for there are many incidents which, though they cannot be shown on the stage, yet come within the scene of the story, to the greater satisfaction of the onlooker. From the picture of the olden time, in the picturesque panoply of their period, disappeared into the three soldiers of today—Old Bill, "Bert" and "Alf" in the trenches, the missing details of the play are filled in with a constructive skill which adds enormously to the true understanding of the story. The introduction of the "poet soldier" as a sort of explanatory "chorus" is one of the happiest touches, and few could not feel their heart strings drawn tighter at the section of the film which showed how "the whisper of war" descended upon all British homes, from the lowliest to the highest in the land.

The familiar incidents of the play all appear, amplified and emphasized.

The "Better 'Ole" will be shown at the Majestic Theatre all this week.

Scene from "The Better 'Ole," Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather's great play showing at the Majestic Theatre all this week. Continuous performances, 2:30 to 5:00 o'clock; 5:30 to 7:00 o'clock; 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock; 9:00 to 11:00 o'clock. A special orchestra furnishes special music during the presentation of this great photoplay.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

When the little system is full of cold,

thrusts, croup, has stomach-ache, di-

One pair of year-old steers brought $90 each; another $84. Six-year-old heifer $75; calves $37 each; a breeding sow $61, and a team of heavy horses,

The sale was conducted by H. Stanley and the bidding was quite brisk at all times.
