WILL INSTALL TANKS DESPITE OPPOSITION

J. R. Cousins Declares City's Demands Regarding Gasoline Stations Unreasonable.

CAN SET SALARIES
The Finance Committee Turns Down Suggestion Made by Provincial Secretary.

Chaos seems to exist around the city hall in regard to the control of the numerous gasoline stations which are being erected throughout the city. The matter was brought before the finance committee Wednesday afternoon, when J. R. Cousins, who is selling and erecting stations about the city, complained about being interfered with in the transaction of his business here.

City Clerk Baker here informed the committee that the matter in question was before No. 2 committee, and that the committee had to matter under advisement. The committee had decided some time ago not to issue permits, but let the tanks be put down by the city assuming no responsibility, other than seeing that the tanks were properly installed.

By a large majority the convention went on record in favor of legislation to prohibit those affected with certain diseases from marrying. The second resolution, introduced in the form of a resolution, was responsible for a long debate and a very decided expression of opinion before it could be put in the form of a motion.

Premier's Message Evidently Removes All Doubt as to His Intention On Voicing Britain's Views at Disarmament Parley.

With many contradictory reports emanating from various sources of world news as to whether David Lloyd George, premier of England, would attend the world disarmament conference at Washington Nov. 12, and as the presence at that gathering of "Britain's Strong Man" to champion the interests of the British Empire, including the Dominion of Canada, would have an undoubted effect upon the world at large, the London Advertiser, on Tuesday night, Nov. 1 last, undertook, by cable dispatch through the Canadian National Railroad direct to No. 10 Downing street, to ascertain just what the premier's plans were.

The cable message to England read as follows, and was dispatched a few minutes after his overwhelming victory on the Irish question in the House of Commons:

David Lloyd George, Premier of Great Britain, 10 Downing Street, London, England.

Most Serious Ailment of Movies Is "Growing Pains"

BY CABR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—What's the matter with the movies? You and your next door neighbor keep asking it. Newspapers and periodicals are filling their columns with discussions of the question.

This writer sees 50,000 feet of film a week and the stage performances. As far as he can see there isn't nearly as much the matter with the movies as there is with the stage, i. e., as far as matters needing censorship are concerned.

There are stage plays on Broadway today which should be killed in their entirety were they to be transferred to the screen. If they were not killed they would ruin the business of any neighborhood exhibitor who would show them.

That might not hold true for a Broadway movie house, although it has been this writer's observation that even Broadway movie fans demand cleaner entertainment than Broadway stage patrons.

There are few stage plays now showing that could escape film censors without serious changes in their stories. The only thing "the matter" with the screen is that it has the growing pains. Paul Brunton, president of Pathe, put it a little differently the other day.

"Public taste is on a higher plane than it was a few years ago," he said. "Audiences are more discriminating, but the better class of producers has succeeded in keeping pace with the popular demand for a more careful choice of subjects and better technique in pictorialization."

"The competent producer welcomes a public manifestation for a higher quality of photoplay. That is the clearest road now open to us for true progress in our art."

"The thing that is missing in the movies is highbrow stuff—works of art which enlighten as well as entertain, and are worthy to survive as fine paintings, sculpture, novels and dramas survive and renew their power of entertainment for each succeeding generation."

Lucy Fox in "Hurricane Hutch," a serial thriller without a gun.

Mary Wynn being featured by J. L. Frothingham in "The Man Who Smiled."

"I believe the motion picture producer is doing more in the way of high value production than the public demands. There is a point to that last statement of Brunton's. Movies which critics generally have placed high in the art of the cinema have been financial failures or gave small return as compared to other films universally condemned.

"The quality of culture is supplied as frequently as exhibitors, producers and distributors feel encouraged to offer to the public or feel able to risk themselves, having regard only to her industrial and economic position, to extend the obligations due to her."

"If I dared to tread on dangerous ground for a few minutes, it would be to say that the United States is indispensable in the councils of the world. You are already tied to Europe and the Far East by bonds of trade, and the responsibilities which arise from this relationship cannot be ignored without great loss to the world and an unfavorable reaction upon yourselves."

SAYS FINANCIAL HORIZON CLEARS

Reginald McKenna Reports On Economic Situation in America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the British exchequer, who has been making a three weeks' study of the commercial and economic situation in America, declared in a formal statement tonight, that "the financial horizon seems clear, and though it will probably be some considerable time before normal conditions are restored I am inclined to say that the corner is turned."

"I would like to add, however," he said, "that it is no time for speculation. Recovery is bound to be slow, working through a period of moderate fluctuation, though I hope and expect that the tendency will be an improving one."

"I find," he continued, "that very considerable interest is taken in the question of international debts between governments. This is a subject upon which I could only venture to speak from the British point of view. We are large creditors and, in the relation to the United States we are also debtors. As a debtor I have nothing to say except that England pays her debts. On the other hand, speaking as a creditor, my opinion is that England would be

DECLARE TOWNPLANNING ACT TOO COMPLICATED

"It was a wonderful meeting," said Major T. J. Murphy, chairman of the London Townplanning Commission, Wednesday morning, in discussing the Ontario convention of town planners held Monday and Tuesday in Toronto.

"There were men there from all over Ontario and every one was deeply interested in the work being accomplished."

"Townplanning is hitched up with the housing question; they are inseparable. The townplanning and development act is in rather a complicated condition at present, because reference has to be made to the municipal, surveyors and registry acts as well as many others," continued Major Murphy.

"The opinion was that the townplanning and development act should be consolidated and amended to make it more easily understood by town

The Murdock Charges.

If the managers of the Conservative campaign in Canada had their way the chances are they would prefer that James Murdock, formerly of the Board of Commerce, had nothing to do with the 1921 election.

The Real Test of Walnut Gathering Skill.

Mr. Murdock made some serious charges in an address at Guelph, and there is no doubt he will repeat them at other places. He is billed to speak at St. Thomas in a few days, and in such a centre the audience can expect some plain talk.

roy gave the present member of the riding an opportunity to justify the course he had taken through the stormy sessions since he was returned in the war-time election of 1917.

possibly to the exclusion of their devotion to the old fall fair. The fall fair filled a big place in the community, and should continue to do so.

finds in the relaxation of his own household. The death of Sir Wilfrid was a severe blow for Lady Laurier, and she has not been called upon to remain many years in widowhood to mourn his departure.

Further than that, Mr. Murdock goes on with the charge that it was well known in government circles at Ottawa that there was to be no serious action against any firms or individuals caught making undue profits on the strength of war conditions.

Measures that have been brought into the Ottawa House, looking toward the betterment of agriculture have received at all times the careful attention and hearty support of Mr. Ross. It is hard to think of an incident where any other representative could have more worthily or more fairly represented the farming community of West Middlesex.

A tendency is observed toward a moving into the suburbs, the cities proper suffering a loss, while suburban areas gain. Also, as in most other countries, the movement from country to city grows. Greater London has a population of nearly seven and a half million, though the city, that is to say the area controlled by the London and Metropolitan police districts, hold just under four and a half million.

The Walkerton Telescope comes to the rescue of the weekly paper in this fashion: "City dailies find joy in holding up to ridicule the 'trivialities' found in the columns of the rural weeklies, such as 'Bill Jones has treated his barn to a fresh coat of paint.'"

How are these charges going to be explained away? They cannot be brushed aside as campaign propaganda, because they were made long before Mr. Murdock had anything to do with the present contest.

What is the matter? The complaints are not centralized, nor are they all along one given line. Aylmer has a representative fall fair, for instance, and this year they had both a good day and a very representative attendance, so this fair is taken for comment under rather favorable circumstances.

The passing of Lady Laurier marked the removal of a woman who had much to do with the success of Canada's greatest statesman, the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. She was well informed in matters political, sympathetic with the problems and work that faced her husband, and yet fully alive to the duties of home and the strength and recreation that a very busy man

West Middlesex. Duncan Ross was accorded a remarkable demonstration on the occasion of his nomination in West Middlesex on Tuesday. There had been rumors that he would have opposition for the nomination, but instead of opposition he had nothing but co-operation of the sincerest and heartiest variety.

There are a hundred and one towns in England and Wales with a population of over fifty thousand, and there are forty-six with more than a hundred thousand. Six of these latter are, however, in reality suburbs of the City of London.

Things move. Twenty-five years ago this week, according to the 1896 files of The Advertiser, Londoners were witnessing the first performance of the moving picture art in this city, a program being staged in the city hall then.

Coarse-skinned people are somewhat lacking in this ability, though they may have a keen sense of justice and very high ideals. And not being sensitive themselves they are more than usually prone to hurt the feelings of those who are more sensitive than themselves, and further, to take it rather calmly when they learn they have done so.

The nomination meeting at Strathroy.

Others who are in a position to know state that fall fairs are waning in point of interest. On the other hand we have the school fairs, which are conducted on much more scientific lines, going ahead and gaining in ground all the time.

Intercollegiate Season Closes Here With 17-2 Defeat For Red and Black

WESTERN LOSE, BUT SHOW PLENTY OF GAMENESS Joe Beckett, Former English Idol, May Come To Meet Brennan

Held Heavy Aggies' Attack At Standstill For Three Periods, But Gave Way In Third—Was Last Home Game.

BY C. S. G.
Sheer spirit kept Western so close on the heels of the Guelph Aggies yesterday afternoon that for three periods, practically, they held the heavy Aggies at a standstill. Towards the last spirit wasn't enough to stem the Farmers' attack, and they pushed over two touches, which went unconverted, and kicked to the deadline, with only a yard and a half to go to Western's touchline, making their margin 17 to 2.

Had Aggies shown this kicking inclination earlier in the game, there might have been a different tale to relate, but the visitors settled down to a steady pounding from the opening whistle, and it finally had its effect in tackling that were nervous and lacked strength and body. Western gained on all their kicks, and it was only the breaks of the game and inches that gave them two rices instead of two field goals. For Western was kicking accurately, and good jockeying put Western in position for these attempts.

Just a Slip.
O. A. C. slipped over the first touch-down by a steady buck down the field before Western got going, so that during this lapse, the locals outplayed the visitors the first two quarters. Early in the third period, the steady plunging, however, of the Farmers started the worn seams of the Western machine to showing up, and the ripping process was comparatively easy, especially when the last lap folded around. The first touch came as a result of consistent gains of yards down the field from center. The Aggies marched down a second time and a fake back on their second down gave Lawson a chance for a dizzy circling sixty-yard run that would have measured but 30 yards as the crowd does its flying to Western's three-yard line. A sack through the center carried it over for touch.

Western were forced to kick on their third down, and the return of the kick looked like a sure touch through a wide-open field, when Cowley made one of the nicest tackles of the day on his own 16-yard chalk mark. Two bucks

ON THE ALLEYS

The Nonpareils beat the Picas yesterday in the Printers' League, two games out of three. Had Hamby played straight it would have been three to one. The winners rolled the top score of the season so far. Dalton edged out his teammate, Hamby, by one point as high roller of the afternoon. T. Bell of the Picas had individual high scores.

MARSHALL CHALLENGED FOR U. S. CHESS TITLE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Norman J. Whitaker, who has challenged Frank J. Marshall, present title-holder, for the chess championship of the United States, is one of the most brilliant of the younger Americans who have qualified as "knights" of the chess board.

Even as a boy, Whitaker was a chess phenomenon. At 17, when he had just entered the University of Pennsylvania, he went to England as a member of that university's chess team, and defeated every player from Oxford and Cambridge that he met.

The contestant for Champion Marshall's crown began playing chess when he was 13. The rudiments of the game he learned from a chum, and then began "studying the game" under the tutelage of his father, who is a professor of mathematics in one of the Philadelphia high schools.

Yesterday's game ended the rugby season as far as Western U. was concerned with the home field. Western hasn't the greatest team that ever donned the molossians for the school, but nevertheless the students have shown in their recent games that they've got the courage that wins friends even if it doesn't win games.

The quarter called the six mile loud. But his mind was off the game. For the number he ran was none other than The phone of the fall-back's dame.

Prohibition ruined a good many promising close-in tenors, but the New York Commission is going to ruin the "rasslers" with all the alley-holds barred.

Our money is going on Dempsey if Ruth and he should meet on their vaudeville tour and the theatre hasn't got two electric signs out in front.

Inquisitiveness is getting less. No inquiring fan has written in asking who read off the lines to Ruth and Dempsey so they could learn them off by heart.

This new Hindoo wrestler, Gobar, who threw Strangler Lewis, a short time ago, is a regular trainee on gold leaf. He must be gilt-edged.

Efforts to get the public prepared for a one-cent arrangement between Jess Willard and Dempsey isn't getting helped along much by the leading sport writers of the continent. Bob Edgar says that Willard should first get a battle with Bill Brennan and show that he has an outside chance. He calls attention to the fact that Jess was never a natural fighter, but just a big, good-natured og, who found fighting easy because of his stature, once he had mastered a few of the simple things of the game. Dempsey on the other hand, is a natural born fighter, and it would give him the same edge it gave him two years ago in Toledo.

RICKARD PLANS TO GIVE BRITON A REAL TEST

Next Year Probable Time of Journey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Joe Beckett, English heavyweight champion, will be seen in a bout at Madison Square Garden late next month or early next year, if plans of Promoter Tex Rickard materialize. It was reported yesterday that Rickard has been in negotiation with the British heavyweight title-holder in an effort to get Beckett to agree to match here under the promoter's auspices.

Win Encouraged Him.
Ever since last summer Beckett has been reported as contemplating a visit to America. His recent victory over Roy McConomy in the ranks of British heavyweights. He has failed, however, to exhibit any qualifications which would cause him to be regarded above the ordinary class.

Strength His Asset.
Beckett's one ring qualification is strength. He never has been regarded as a clever boxer or a skilled ringman, and prospects of his development or improvement are, for the most part, discounted. In the event that the English heavyweight comes to this country to battle Brennan the visitor will, in all probability receive a severe test.

Claims Settlement of Tariff Issue Will Lessen Unemployment in Canada.

PETERBORO, Ont., Nov. 2.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—“When is this country going to learn that it can make its way by one method and one only, and that is by a tariff made by Canada for Canadian people?”

This was the question which Premier Meighen put to an audience of about three thousand five hundred persons who gathered in the armories here tonight. The prime minister presented all his arguments in support of a protective policy. He declared that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and G. N. Gordon, who was elected as a supporter of the Liberal leader in West Peter-

“DANDERINE”

Grows Thick, Heavy Hair
35-cent Bottle Ends All Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh vegetation, it goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous and just twice as abundant.

boro by-election of February last, were both pledged to a platform which meant political free trade.

“You'll get that platform or you'll get black infamy and perjury if the Liberals are returned to power,” the premier told his hearers.

Reviews Real History.

Hon. J. A. Stewart, minister of railways and canals, dealt with the railway situation in Canada. He reviewed the history of railway construction, stating that railway mileage in Canada was too great for her population. He was optimistic for the future, however, and referred to the operating surplus on the Canadian National Railway system during August and September. He prophesied that the month of October would be good one.

Premier Meighen's meeting this evening concluded his Ontario campaign at any rate for the present. He left for Ottawa following his meeting here and will tour Quebec and the West before returning to his province in more than twenty-five cities and towns in the province.

M. A. Morrison, president of the West Peterboro Liberal-Conservative Association was chairman of the meeting.

J. H. Burnham, candidate in West Peterboro, declared that he had no intention of supporting a free trade policy in England for Canada was no longer a free trade country.

“I do not think any government, Farmer, Grit or Tory, is responsible for the present conditions,” he declared. “It is a result of the terrible conspiracy against the world, led by Germany.”

Stands by Views.

Premier Meighen opened by referring to his visit to Peterboro, when he spoke on behalf of Mr. Denon, at the by-election of February. He had not changed his views since his last visit, he said. He went on to compare the condition of Canada today with other countries which had participated in the war.

“Tried by any standard you care to apply, Canada has better conditions than any other country in the world, save the United States alone,” he stated. “The per capita debt of the United States was not as large as that of Canada, but twice as many men were out of work in that country in proportion to population as were unemployed in Canada. One reason for unemployment in this country was that there had been an agitation for ten years, with the ultimate goal of tariff reduction. The Progressives had carried on a free trade campaign in the West which had become increasingly active in the last four months. The result was that capital was not timid. People with money would not invest in under present unsatisfactory conditions.”

Raps Liberal Leader.

“Answer this tariff question positively and unequivocally and you will have less unemployment in this country,” said the premier. He averred that G. N. Gordon, former Liberal member for West Peterboro, had been elected on a policy of protection. The leader of the Liberal party was pledged to a policy which was practically free trade, but which was running around the country supporting his candidates on every conceivable platform which would get votes.

“What about the Grain Growers' merger?” asked a man in the audience. Mr. Meighen replied that he would say nothing against the United Grain Growers. It was the biggest “big business” in the West, but he was not a member of large organizations. He stated, however, that hundreds of thousands of dollars made by that company were used for political propaganda. The company claimed that it had a right to use its profits for any purpose it deemed right, and that it could finance political newspapers if it wished to. That might be true, admitted Mr. Meighen, but it should be noted that this was where the profits were going to. They were not being returned to the men who raised the wheat. The premier again told the history of the grain investigation in the West. If the company headed by Mr. Cramer had nothing to hide, why had it taken out an injunction to stop the investigation, he asked?

WOMEN CONDUCT CHURCH SERVICE

BLENHHEIM, Nov. 2.—Miss Beatty, a high school teacher from Trinidad, and Mrs. Forbes, a former missionary in China, gave very interesting addresses in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. The service was conducted from start to finish by women. Miss Ernie McColl had charge. Mrs. John Henderson read the scripture lesson, Miss Mary Moore, South Hurwich, offered up prayer. Lady ushers and a ladies' choir were on duty. The service is said to have been one of the most complete if not the most complete service ever conducted by women that was ever held in a Presbyterian Church. The offering amounted to $65.

Rev. A. E. Jones, pastor of the local Methodist Church, has declined an invitation to become pastor of a Windsor church at the close of the conference year. Mr. Jones is now in his third year as pastor of the church here.

MONTGOMERY SUCCEEDS POSTMASTER RAYMOND

Temporary Appointment at Brantford is Officially Announced.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 2.—Announcement was made today that Deputy Postmaster J. C. Montgomery would succeed, temporarily, W. G. Raymond as postmaster of Brantford. Mr. Montgomery has been with the post office department for 45 years. Mr. Raymond's resignation took effect officially on October 31. He is the Liberal standard-bearer in Brantford riding.

Archie Sweet, war veteran and local athlete, has been taken on the strength of the local police force temporarily to fill the vacancy caused through the resignation of P. C. William Page. Sweet won the military medal in the war.

Three boy scout patrols from Grandview School, have been organized to follow: Kaganaro, Beaver and Wolf; Scoutmaster McWhirly officially took over his duties.

Canvassers started today on a campaign to raise $25,000 for doles for the needy of Brantford this winter. Citizens are being asked to make donations to cover a period of five months. The canvassers were reported tonight to be making fair progress.

Fred McArthur, who figured as a crown witness in several bootlegging cases some days ago in police court here, was today charged with perjury. The crown and the defence were unable to go ahead with the case and an adjournment of one week was made. No election was made and McArthur entered no plea.

JAPANESE ARRIVE FOR ARMS PARLEY

Delegate Says Powers Should Cease Their Rivalry in China.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—The Principal Japanese delegation to the armament conference arrived here late today from the Pacific Coast by special train. The party included Admiral T. Kato, minister of marine; Prince Iyosato Tokugawa, president of the House of Peers, and a party of advisers and experts.

The delegation was met by Secretary of State Hughes and Third Assistant Secretary Bliss, representing the state department, Secretary Denby and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department, and a number of other officials. The Japanese delegation to the conference is now complete, the first of any country to be completed by arrival here. It was the first time Secretary Hughes had gone to the Union Pacific and cordial greetings were exchanged by him and other members of the United States reception party with the Japanese delegates. The Japanese delegation arrived here, according to its leaders, with the desire and hope of discussing first at the conference the question of limitation of armament and not Far Eastern problems. The Japanese viewpoint, it was explained, was that the Pacific and Far Eastern questions might prove full of difficulties and if taken up first the progress of the negotiations might be delayed.

In discussing just before arrival at Washington the question of China, Dr. Kiroku Hayashi, general councillor to the Japanese ministry of foreign affairs and chief adviser to the conference delegation, said:

ROCKSLIDE KILLS CREW OF PASSENGER ENGINE

C. P. R. Train No. 2 Meets With Accident Near Jasper, B. C.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 2.—East-bound train, No. 2, which left Vancouver Monday night over the Canadian National Railway, struck a rockslide one mile east of Gaskie, and Engineer Rheame and Fireman Thompson, both of Jasper, were killed. The news has just been received here. Wire communication is still interrupted.

The point where the accident occurred is seven miles west of Jasper, in a rocky country. J. H. Cameron, assistant general manager, stated this morning that no one else suffered any injury, and that little damage to rolling stock was sustained. He declared that passengers would be caused little delay.

Has Two Suggestions.

His first suggestion was that the powers should cease their rivalry in China and act in concert on all matters pertaining to that country, and his second was that the powers should make up their minds to be patient—immensely patient—with China.

Dr. Hayashi declared that the contention by some critics that Japan secretly desired a weak and disorganized China was a falsity. A strong China was necessary to Japan, he insisted, and added that he believed Japan would subscribe to any rational plan to secure it. But Japan, he said, would look with extreme disfavor upon any group of western powers obtaining a dominant position in China to the exclusion of Japan.

We knew you would expect something out of the ordinary from us to celebrate Thanksgiving and Armistice Anniversary, so we prepared months ago, to put on this extraordinary six-day Thanksgiving-Armistice selling drive.

This is not a sale, but rather a supreme effort to add 5,000 new customers to Dowler stores. To do this, it is necessary to offer values, the like of which have not been seen for many seasons.

Dowler clothing is obviously different from most clothing you see, and the values being offered will surpass your keenest expectations. This great Six-Day Selling Drive starts Saturday morning, November 5th at 8:30 o'clock, and continues until Saturday evening, November 12th.

10% DISCOUNT TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

Three years ago, when Armistice was declared, the Dowler stores, as usual, led all others in offering a special 10 per cent straight discount from regular prices to returning men.

In celebration of Armistice, and to show we have not forgotten what was done “over there,” we are again offering returned soldiers a 10 per cent reduction on all articles of wearing apparel, whether for themselves or for their sons. The only condition which must be fulfilled is, that the returned man must wear a discharge button or have a discharge certificate on his person. Dowler merchandise is all marked in plain figures. EXPLAIN PARTY AIMS TO GIRLS

C. R. Somerville and Mrs. Grange Speak at Y. W. C. A. Canadian Club.

A lively interest in the issues of the present election campaign and a desire to be thoroughly informed with regard to the technicalities in connection with registration and voting were manifested Wednesday evening by the members of the Girls' Canadian Club, who piled with questions three speakers who appeared before them at "Lemonore."

Like Balloon Sapping.
"Of all the actions of the Government," said Mr. Somerville, "the one by which it is most condemned is the fact of its present position. Like a balloon sapping, it has thrown out all its heavy weight and filled up with lighter material in hopes of weathering the storm."

ments of the Government resigned to find safe berths in the senate or in Judgeships.
Hon. Edmund Bristol pretty well summed up the attitude of Meighen's supporters in the Government within the past week when he said there were still three Judgeships vacant, and if they were not filled at once with Conservatives, he would resign. It looks as if he thinks the Meighen Government will not be in a position to fill such vacancies after the election.

With regard to the claim of Government supporters that Mr. Meighen is a man of one policy from end to end of Canada, Mr. Somerville recalled that the prime minister in his own constituency at Portage la Prairie on his own initiative offered to pool the wheat for a string of elevators and, in case there should be anyone in the audience possessing old elevators, giving assurance that these would be bought up. "The project would cost millions," said Mr. Somerville, "and it is noteworthy that Mr. Meighen never afterwards repeated that offer. If he pooled the wheat in the northwest, he should be prepared to pool the dairy and cattle trade, mining and fish trade, and in Prince Edward Island the fox trade. The thing couldn't be done for one part of the Dominion and refused to another."

Concerning the impolitic cataloguing by the prime minister of the historic Liberal party and all others outside his own as "free traders and wreckers," the speaker reminded that the Liberal "wreckers" had been invited to join the Conservative Government in carrying the country through the stress of war. As many Liberal young men had gone overseas as Conservatives to fight, not as partisans, but for the state. "Is it fair to these Liberal young men now that they are back to term them wreckers?" was a question raised, accompanied by the comment, "If Mr. Meighen had spent half the time in seeking positions for war heroes that he has for his weak-kneed supporters who left him when he was going reluctantly to the country there would be more harmony in the country now."

In conclusion, Mr. Somerville expressed his belief that with the womanhood of the nation participating in the general politics there will be much more careful accounting and living within the national income, because of the threat of women in such matters. Mrs. Grange described Liberalism throughout its history as a "right for constitutional freedom," citing instances in support of her claim. Hansard was a source of authority for claiming that the first stand in the Dominion House made for the franchise of women was in 1916 by five Liberal members, led by Hon. Mr. Pugsley. Her advice to the members of the Girls' Canadian Club was: "Don't accept anything political you may hear or read until you have thoroughly investigated the subject yourself and given it the benefit of your judgment."
