

USED AXE ON HIS FELLOW.

Trouble In Hydro-Electric Camp Near Waterdown.

Steve Nusuleu Assaulted and Dragged to a Ditch.

Alex. Power, Another Austrian, Is Under Arrest.

Steve Nusuleu, 408 Hughson street north, an Austrian, was badly cut in the side with an axe in a foreigners' camp at Waterdown last night, and Alex Power, a fellow countryman, is in the toils charged with the offence.

About 8.30, as Budimir Protich was going out of his house, he was surprised to find Nusuleu sitting on his doorstep emitting groans and surrounded by a great crowd. He soon learned that the man had been wounded, for he was shown a deep gash in his left side and the story of how it happened was unfolded.

One story was that the man was working on the Hydro power line; that a farmer objected to the gang going on his property; that a fight ensued and that a hired man struck him with an axe. This was found to be a juicy fabrication.

There are a number of foreigners working near Waterdown for the Hydro Electric Commission. There has been considerable dissension in the camp, it is said, over some private matter, and last night the wounded man voiced his discontent loudly to the effect that he was not getting value for his money in the camp, in the matter of board.

Power is alleged, picked up an axe and succeeded in putting the man out of action for a time. Nusuleu lay there bleeding, it is said, until the camp boarding boss dragged him across the field to a ditch, 50 yards away.

A farmer's boy driving a heard of groans, and discovered the man in the ditch and took him to Dr. McClenahan's surgery, where the cut was sewn up and the doctor sent him to Hamilton.

When Mr. Protich learned the story the police were notified, and Chief Twiss, County Constable Sinclair and Protich started from the City Hall at 10 o'clock last night for Waterdown, in a rig, each carrying a loaded revolver, for they feared trouble before they had arrested the alleged assailant.

When they got to the camp Mr. Protich led the way, and all three had their barrels ready. They had great difficulty crossing the fields in the darkness.

The first tent they made out they entered, and in it they found Matassa, a camp foreman, and his wife curled up in bed.

It was learned that Power was in the next tent, with a dozen other foreigners. The armed trio entered there, but Power was not sleeping like the other occupants of the tent, and he was getting his duds together and said he was going away, for he was expecting trouble.

He was brought to the city early this morning, but did not appear in court. He will be arraigned to-morrow.

Dr. McClenahan told the Times that Nusuleu was taken to his surgery about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and from what he could learn of the affair, which had been on all day. The injured man is not seriously hurt.

HOME RULE FIGHT.

T. P. O'Connor Coming to America—Battle With the House of Lords.

JOHN E. REDMOND.

London, Oct. 7.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P., will sail shortly for America at the request of John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, to explain the political situation here to the supporters of the Irish cause in the United States and Canada, and to appeal for funds to carry on the struggle for Home Rule.

The Nationalists regard the approaching general elections as one of the critical periods in their history, and the full power of their organization will be utilised in helping the Liberals deprive the House of Lords of the power of veto, which they claim, is the sole remaining obstacle to Home Rule.

The Nationalist point of view is set forth in an appeal by Mr. Redmond, which is as follows: "A great crisis in the Irish struggle has arisen. The House of Lords is engaged at this moment in destroying the Irish Land Bill, with its promise of closing the land war of centuries and completing the restoration of all the land in Ireland to her people and the banishing forever of misery and famine from the west of Ireland. General elections are certain within the next two weeks. In these elections the veto of the House of Lords will be at stake and with the veto of the House of Lords will disappear the last obstacle to Home Rule.

"In this fight Ireland will have array against her all the forces of landlordism, wealth and privilege. Once more we appeal to our race to help us fight against these powerful enemies of our race."

PUTS CITY IN A HOLE.

Rather Surprising Discovery About Electric Motors.

Must Spend $12,000 For Transformers to Handle Power.

Money Voted by Ratepayers Won't Cover Cost.

Hamilton will have to pay $12,000 more than it figured on for the electric meters at the Beach pumping station and the $30,000 voted by the ratepayers will not cover the cost.

News of this surprising discovery just leaked out to-day and it will present another problem for the council before it closes up with the Hydro Commission.

When the commission first talked of delivering power to Hamilton it proposed to carry it to the Beach pumping station and step it down to 2,200 volts. It was about this time that Engineer Sothman, of the Hydro-Electric Commission, drew up the specifications for the city. They call for motors to handle power at 2,200 volts. The power as it is delivered to Hamilton over the Dundas line, will be 15,200 volts.

When the Westinghouse Company discovered this they notified the city that the increased cost of the motors to handle the power at this high voltage would be from 50 to 60 per cent. The only way to avoid it is to install transformers. They cost $4,000 each, and three of them would have to be installed, two at the Beach and one at the east end sewage disposal works. The feeling in the City Hall is that the transformers are preferable. Taking the power direct on the motors would be like handling lightning.

The city had figured on having nearly $11,000 left for the foundation work and connections, after paying $9,570 for motors; $7,220 for pumps and $2,365 for the power house. The discovery made by the Westinghouse people rather upsets the city's calculations.

KILLED.

Italian Laborer Lost Life on Railway at Dundas.

A foreigner of Italian birth received injuries of such a serious nature by being run over by a Grand Trunk train near Dundas this morning that he died at the City Hospital shortly after his admittance there at noon. He was employed as a laborer at the Dundas quarry, and was on his way to get a drink at a well near the G. T. R. tracks when the accident occurred. One leg and arm were badly mangled and he suffered internal injuries. The hospital authorities did not know the man's name.

CROWD FROM DUNDAS.

A crowd of over 500 people arrived in the city to-day from Dundas in connection with the Managers' Sale at Stanley Mills & Co., which number, the directors think, was a credit considering the proximity of Dundas to Hamilton. Early this morning the special cars brought in about 300 people and the afternoon cars about 200. The excellent arrangements made by Stanley Mills & Co. for the entertainment of their visitors were most appreciated by all.

UNFORTUNATE MAN DEAD.

The death occurred of William Gibbins at the House of Refuge yesterday at the age of 62 years. Deceased had been confined in the city jail for a time, on a charge of insanity. He did not appear to have any appetite and would not eat, so he was taken to the City Hospital, thence to the House of Refuge, where he died. The interment will be in Hamilton cemetery to-morrow afternoon.

MAY EXTEND AIR PRESSURE SYSTEM.

Success of Mountain Water Plant Likely to Revolutionize Fire Service.

So well pleased is Engineer Macallum with the success of the air pressure system used to pump water to the east end mountain top, which was tested yesterday, that he will likely recommend the Fire and Water Committee, when it is ready to take up the question of a high pressure fire system, to consider the advisability of installing the air pressure system in the districts where heavy pressure is required. The air pressure system, the invention of John Montgomery, one of the Canadian Northern engineers, has been used successfully on the company's road, replacing wind mills and pumps, which proved costly to maintain. The system installed here was on a larger scale than anything attempted yet, and Mr. Montgomery endeavored to make it exceed expectations, as on its success much depended. The satisfactory tests yesterday will result in the formation of a company, backed by Mackenzie & Mann, to put the invention on the market. It promises to revolutionize things in high pressure fire systems. Instead of the costly systems now in use it is claimed that by installing these air tanks around the city it is possible without laying any new pipes to get the desired pressure at a fraction of the cost of the systems now in use.

City Engineer Macallum was so well pleased with the test that he did not hesitate to advise the city to take the system over. The contract was for $6,500. There are still some little details to be adjusted. With the engines shut off and the tanks working alone, they were operated for an hour and a half, throwing a stream 100 feet horizontally through an inch nozzle. Two streams, a one-inch and a 1 1/2-inch, threw water 77 feet. With the streams operated from the tanks alone it took the pressure seven minutes to drop from 75 to 65 pounds, when the inch stream threw water 66 feet and the 1 1/2-inch 37 feet. Using the engines, the pressure was run up to 80 pounds, and streams were thrown one hundred feet and ninety feet high.

The City Engineer has approved of the contracts let to Frid Bros. and the Hamilton Bridge Company, for the erection of the Beach power house. The whole work in connection with the installation of pumps and meters is sure to be done well within the estimate of $30,000. The pumps will cost $7,220, the motors $9,570, and the building $2,365, which leaves nearly $11,000 for the foundations and connections. When the matter was being discussed last night Ald. Lees stated that the motors had already been built by the Westinghouse Company, which was only waiting to receive orders as to which power to wind them for. The information was rather surprising to some of the aldermen. Secretary James said this morning it was a mistake. Although the committee recommended that the contracts be let, the Council on two occasions referred the matter back and it has yet to pass the Council before the work can be begun.

Ald. Morris, Milne and Lees are in Toronto to-day gathering information in connection with the revision of the waterworks by-law.

The deputation from the power committee, which will discuss with the Hydro Commission the terms in connection with Hamilton's application for a thousand horse-power, has made an appointment for noon to-morrow.

The annexation committee will meet at 7.30 to-morrow evening, when all those who desire to speak in connection with the annexation question will have the opportunity.

William Whiteside, residing at 86 Inebury street, met with a severe accident at noon to-day, near the corner of Catherine and Rebecca streets. He was wheeling, when he suddenly came upon a small boy. He turned out to avoid the lad, and at that minute the boy saw him and jumped the same way. The result was a collision, in which Whiteside was thrown. His right arm sustained a clean fracture between the wrist and the elbow. He was taken to Dr. Hopkins' surgery and the bone was set.

THE DOCTORS

Heard Talk on Physical Training By Mr. Barton.

The Hamilton Medical Society held their annual meeting last evening at the Hotel Royal, and it was largely attended. Addresses were given by Dr. Barton, of Toronto, and D. M. Barton, Physical Director of the Y. M. C. A., on physical training, preventive and curative methods. Mr. E. Linkert, an ex-pupil of D. M. Barton, gave an exhibition, showing the muscular development and some of the doctors present commented upon the remarkable build of Linkert, stating that a man of such development would not be as liable to be affected with disease as a man not physically trained.

ACQUITTAL OR PERJURY.

Freedom or a Long Term Promised Joseph Lewis.

James Fuller Committed For Trial For Robbery.

City By-law Cases In Magistrate's Court This Morning.

If it eventually transpires that Joseph Lewis, 100 Cannon street west, colored, is not telling the truth about a basket of grapes he is accused of stealing, he will be further charged with perjury, and the Magistrate intimated that Lewis would see the inside of a jail for a term of years.

He was in the stall in police court this morning charged with stealing the grapes on the market last night from Homer Delantville, an Ancestor farmer. Lewis pleaded not guilty. The farmer said he went to put his horse in the barn, and when he returned to his wagon the boy he left in charge told him a basket of grapes had been stolen and pointed Lewis out as the thief. P. C. Lowrey was notified, and Lewis was soon spotted on the market. When the constable asked him where he got the basket of grapes he had with him he said he took them from a wagon and did not pay for them, but would do so. Defendant said he and a farmer with whom he had worked went into the Maple Leaf Hotel last night and had a few drinks, and Campbell told him to take a basket of grapes, and pointed to his wagon, but did not go with him to pick them out.

"All that you say is perfectly true!" asked his worship. "Yes, sah!" "If it is, you'll get off; if it's not, you'll see the inside of a jail for a good many years."

Then a constable was despatched to the market to find the farmer Campbell. After an hour's search he reported that he could not be found.

Lewis asked for bail, but it was refused. Meanwhile a search will be made for Campbell.

JAMES FULLER, 211 Wood street east, was committed for trial on a charge of assaulting and robbing Frederick Ward. He pleaded not guilty and declined to elect. J. L. Counsell appeared for defendant. Complainant was the first witness called.

He said that on Tuesday he, in company with Fuller and a man named Ainsboro, were around a north end saloon. He, witness, had bought them several drinks, but he did not take any himself. Later they went to a vacant lot on Ferguson avenue north. There, he said, one man put his hand over his mouth while the other went through his pockets. He afterwards made complaint to the police and identified prisoner in the police office the same night.

Frank King said he saw two men on top of Ward. He had known Fuller for three years.

Chris Besoebay saw the men struggling, but he took no notice, as he thought they were frolicking. He recognized Ward and Ainsboro as two of the men, as he had known them for years.

W. H. Besoebay said as he was returning from the Deering works Ward made a complaint to him that he had been robbed.

The police say Ainsboro left the city immediately after the affair took place. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Malcolm Webb, 152 Queen street, had no lights on last Monday night, on some material outside a building he is erecting. That's a breach of the city by-law, and it cost Webb $2.

John Hill, 4 William street, had no lights on building material and he also paid $2.

OIL RAN OUT.

Pleasure Party Adrift on Mighty Deep Yesterday.

A well known young business man of this city took advantage of the beautiful summer weather yesterday afternoon to take a party of ladies out for a spin on the bay in his launch. When returning from the Beach it was found precautions had not been taken to see that the reservoir contained sufficient gasoline for the trip. The result was that they were stricken out on the mighty deep for a considerable part of the afternoon, waiting and watching for a helping hand. Unfortunately for them, most summer craft had been placed in winter quarters. When darkness began to spread her mantle and hope had almost vanished, except in what progress was being made with a small paddle, succor arrived in the shape of a wise virgin launch, which threw out a helping tow and landed the party back once more to terra firma, wiser but none the worse for their experience.

FINE ON THE WATER.

Water trips to Toronto these fine autumn days are delightful and the hundreds of passengers who daily enjoy the sail on the steamer Moosassa express themselves with pleasure at the comfort of the trip. So warm have been the days recently that but few avail themselves of the cabins, but in cool weather they find those comfortable furnished shelters steam heated and as cosy as their parlors at home. Fifty cents is the single fare, and seventy-five cents the return. It is the intention of the management to continue this service until well on in December. The time table is arranged so as to allow about 5 hours in Toronto.

Katharine's Sacrifice

CHAPTER XXI.

The dinner-table at Buxley Hall that evening was unusually merry and pleasant. Barbara this time was adorned in a brilliant red gown, and with her shining diamonds in her hair and round her throat and arms, she certainly made an imposing picture, which, if not exactly to every one's taste, certainly seemed to afford intense satisfaction to herself, as she caught her own reflection in one or another of the mirrors that studied her rooms.

wish I could have her here, but she is given up to her nursing your poor little cousin, she tells me. "Yes, Marian has time to remember her own sufferings now that her mind is relieved about Craven."

Barbara tried to make her face appear deeply interested. "Ah, yes; and when that naughty Mr. Craven sends you news of himself? You will be having a letter soon, I suppose?"

"Yes," replied Ormande, "soon, I suppose." His eyes at that moment met Gordon Smythe's, and at the contact a strange thing happened. Ormande noticed that Mr. Smythe shivered and turned pale, and all at once a doubt sprang to life in Ormande's pure, simple breast—a doubt that curiously connected Craven Adair's whereabouts with Gordon Smythe.

"I must question him more closely," Ormande thought to himself. "Now, I come to remember, it was all very vague and frothy about Craven. I do not feel satisfied." As these words formed themselves slowly in his mind, he kept his eyes on Gordon, who undoubtedly objected to the gaze, by the way in which he fidgeted in his chair.

"Curse his eyes!" he muttered to himself; "they send a cold shiver through me, they are so like those others, with their big, blue stare in them. I am not sure my mind about this man. I shall hurry things up; there must be no failure now; from the look on Miss Barbara's face, I should say the movement was ripe to begin."

Gordon devoted himself to Lady Clara Lennox, and carefully refrained from even glancing in Ormande's direction again while dinner lasted. When the ladies rose, Lord Otway rose, too, and, making his way into the gardens, gave himself up to his troubled thoughts again.

It was a bitter thing to face his disappointment. Not until this moment did he realize how much he had allowed himself to dwell on the certainty of Katharine becoming his wife. Vision after vision of happiness, which had come almost unconsciously, rose to confront his misery and mock at his despair. Life of late had seemed to him something exquisite in its beauty. His hard work among his London people had been radiated by the sunshine of such sweet days, as rarely visited the human breast before.

And now, before they were all over; hope was dead, the sunshine gone. Nothing remained but despair and a sense of uneasiness—presentment of coming sorrow. The memory of that one last look in Katharine's lovely eyes lived to haunt him; but as the memory made his heart throb and his pulses thrill, there always came those few sad words to check the brief transport of joy:

"I can not love you. I am not free!" There was something vague and disagreeable in them, and with the confusion of ideas and thoughts roused at sight of Gordon Smythe filling his breast, Ormande grew more and more troubled. He wandered away beneath the trees, and Barbara, seeing him from the drawing-room windows, hid her lip. Suddenly she longed to rush after him, but the demands of her duty as a hostess prevented this.

Just as her face was clouding over and a frown was settling on her brows, the door opened and Gordon Smythe came in. He lounged about very leisurely at first, speaking to this lady and that, his vanity intensely pleased at the evident impression his handsome face and amusing ways had made, and then at last he found himself beside the red silk skirts of his hostess.

"The air is very cool and delicious outside, Miss Mostyn; you feel equal to a stroll?" he asked, with a smile lurking at the corner of his mouth. Barbara's face cleared as if by magic. "He wants me," she thought to herself; and then, seeing that the older man had come in, and she might with etiquette leave her lady guests, she gave Gordon a cold smile.

"I shall be delighted, Mr. Smythe. If you will come this way I can pick up some sort of a wrap; these summer evenings are rather treacherous." Barbara might have added: "And my gown is not altogether much of a protection to my throat and shoulders," but she did not do so.

Several of the younger ladies looked rather enviously at Barbara as she carried off the delightful Mr. Smythe. Gordon's flashing eyes had worked havoc in their very common-place hearts. But Barbara never devoted a thought to this; and if Gordon saw the disappointment which was legibly inscribed on one or two faces, it only added to the intense satisfaction which reigned in his breast. He carefully adjusted a silk shawl round Barbara, and then they passed out through the hall together.

Ormande, away in the distance, caught the gleam of the diamonds in Barbara's hair, and he watched the flashing of the jewels, enhanced by the clear, strong moonlight, in a dreamy, preoccupied way. Had he guessed for one instant what the matter was that seemed to be so interesting between Miss Mostyn and her companion—he was too far off to distinguish who that companion was—he would not have stood there leaning moodily against a tree, his arms folded across his aching heart.

"If I were wise I would go from this place now, without a moment's delay. The pain, surely, will not be so great when I am at work among my poor people in my old haunts. There will be no spectra there in Katharine's shape to torment me and torture me; while here the very trees whisper her name. She is everywhere. Yes, I ought to go—yet Barbara tapped him lightly on the hand with her costly fan.

"I shall be quite jealous of your thoughts, Lord Otway, if you don't spare me one word." He turned, and colored suddenly. "I beg your pardon, Miss Mostyn; I am very rude, I fear, but the truth is, I am not quite myself to-day. I hope you will forgive me." "You do indeed look pale to-day. I am glad Lady Blanche is not here to see you; she would be quite uneasy, I am sure." "That would be absurd. I am not ill," Ormande answered, frowning slightly. Then, as if to change the conversation: "Have you heard from my aunt lately, Miss Mostyn?"

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, OCT. 7, 1909.

KING EDWARD'S VIEW.

We hear a good deal about the "poor dukers" who are to be impoverished by Mr. Lloyd George's budget taxes taking for the state 20 per cent. of the unearned increment—the amount added to their land values by the public without any outlay by the owners. For a while we were assured that this budget was to prove the ruin of the Liberal Government. The Lords were to reject it and force the Government to go to the country, when the voters would overwhelm it. Later there was some hesitation about carrying out this programme, and amendment was talked of. Then the Commons made it clear that amendment would not be accepted, and then it was discovered that the Lords disliked to interfere in financial matters and would like to avoid a fight with the Commons. Recently the policy of the Unionists has been to make it appear that the leaders of the aristocratic chamber would like to smooth the way for the budget, but it was doubtful if they could keep their followers in line. The latest phase of the budget dispute presents the Unionists as seeking to use the Royal influence to "save their faces" and avert the fight with the Commons, which they now realize must prove disastrous to the prestige of the Lords.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Will the proposed merger of steel companies give us cheaper steel?

That British Columbia mining disaster proves to be worse than first reported. The death list is now 32.

A Yankee contemporary lays down the rule: "The less civilization, the more noise." What about the Fourth of July?

Those Hydro aldermen do not appear to be doing much to forward the "Build-up-Hamilton" policy. Too busy knocking Hamilton concerns.

J. M. Barrie, the Scottish author, is suing for divorce. He will now have subject matter for a new story which may take him out of the old rut.

The increase in Toronto's population this year has been much less than usual. The assessors' returns give it as 6,373. The addition of new territory has added 17,780.

Welland and Toronto are evidently quite willing that the fight of Hamilton's internal enemies against Hamilton concerns should go on, while they rope in the new industries.

Friends are very useful things to have at call. But it is not wise to flout them three hundred and sixty-four days in the year and expect to use them the three hundred and sixty-fifth.

The purchase of the Fitch Hotel on the Beach road will enable the city to do away with all undesirable buildings near the filtering basins, and remove any obstructions to their future enlargement.

The Unprincipled One of the Hamilton Herald congratulates himself that Mayor McLaren has not the power of the Sultan of Morocco. It is a case of conscience. The Herald need fear nothing so much as its deserts.

Toronto Street Railway agreement is now yielding it about half a million dollars a year. Indianapolis gets $1,160,000 for its 34-year franchise, which covers radial railways as well. And still Toronto is not satisfied. Hoggish, as usual.

Hearst has again been nominated by his admirers as a candidate for the mayoralty of New York. Hearst is a perennial candidate for something; but the people as yet have refused to shoulder such a burden.

The Dominion Parliament has been called to meet on Thursday, Nov. 11. The consideration of the co-operative defence scheme is now engaging the Cabinet, and it will probably be one of the principal features of the coming session.

That "leashed wire" Motchukoff story is somewhat overripe—perhaps a few months "delayed in transmission." But, then, as human life is to be prolonged, it is Methusalem, what matters it if the telegram man sleep a few months?

The Herald threatens the Mayor with its abuse unless he does as it wishes. Well, abuse by the Herald is bad, we all know; but disgusting as the job may be, even a skunk cannot be allowed to rule a community; somebody must deal with it.

The Hydro organ wants to saddle Hamilton with the cost of a power line from Dundas to the city, and fiercely assails the Mayor and the aldermen who would have the Hydro Commission build it, as it builds for other places. Talk about Judas, after that!

A Pittsburg paper has held a voting contest and decided by about 60,000 votes that Cook discovered the North Pole. Now it might take a vote to prove that a straight line is not the shortest distance between two given points. Great is majority!

A Detroit saloon man named Berger wants a license for a place at the corner of Woodward and Charlotte avenues, directly opposite to a church. He argues that the church should not be afraid of being corrupted by the saloon; it might even want to be near it "that it might do the saloon good!"

The Detroit wholesalers have passed a resolution condemning the United States course in resorting to tariff discrimination against Canada, and in favour of more reasonable trade relations. The threatened retaliation is alleged to be merely in the interests of the United States Paper Trust.

Mr. Prowse, Liberal M. P. from Queen's, P. E. I., has been confirmed in his seat, the election petition against him being dismissed with costs. The Chief Justice took occasion to remark that his election was singularly free from any violation of the law and a remarkably clean contest.

In a recent sermon a minister at Grace Bay, N. S., created some sensation by stating that if coal miners at work did not join the strikers and quit the mines there would be a disastrous explosion. Has he knowledge of criminal intent, or was he simply endeavor-

The Tone is the Test
A Piano is an instrument for producing sweet, musical tone. The case, the mechanism, the design and all accompanying features are only accessories. The tone is the test, and by that standard the Nordheimer Piano is the finest instrument made in Canada. The other features—the case, the design of the case, the sounding board, the method of stringing, etc., have been brought to the greatest perfection in the NORDHEIMER Piano. In fact the perfection and harmony of all these parts have been contributory to the attainment of the tone. The Nordheimer Piano is known throughout Canada as The "Quality-Tone" Piano. Our Pianos are guaranteed to give satisfaction. Purchasers may exchange within reasonable time. Old instruments taken at a value as part payment for new ones. ing to scare the workers for purposes of his own?
The Herald describes the efforts of the aldermen to safeguard Hamilton interests in a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission as "grabbing for defects in the contract." Ah! but these aldermen were looking after the city's good; the Herald was doing a very different work. The stipulations contended for are all in the city's interest, and that is why the Judas organ abuses those who stand by them.

The Herald is naturally very angry at Mayor McLaren, and it threatens him with still greater abuse than it has yet visited upon him. It is capable of any meanness, no doubt, but the Mayor is proof against its malignity. As for its squealing, that will not hurt. Unpleasant as may be the screams of the degraded wretch under the lash at the triangle, they break no bones. And the flogged one is not to be further punished because he bellows, and screams with rage and pain.

A very beautiful quarto volume has been published by the New York Commercial as a historical souvenir of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. It is illustrated with portraits of Hudson and Fulton and many reproductions of quaint and beautiful wood cuts of their times. Some of these have a peculiar interest to those who are acquainted with New York and its environs of the present time. There is much interesting historical matter in the volume, and the contrast between the shipping and the buildings of the earlier time and the leviathans and skyscrapers of the present, is striking indeed. As a work of reference, the chronological record of important events in New York history makes the volume one well worthy of preservation.

The propriety of a Judge on the bench expressing opinions, sapient or otherwise, on every subject that occurs to him is to be questioned. According to the Toronto World, Chief Justice Meredith a few days ago went out of his way to reflect in a doubtful or depreciatory manner upon the stability of our Ontario trust companies. This, we think, was ill-advised, unjustifiable and probably harmful. The trust companies of Ontario do a great work, and they have an excellent record. We have before us the case of Saginaw trustees who made a bad investment of $10,000 of a legacy, losing it entirely. They have been ordered to make good the amount. But can they? Had a trust company so erred, all its capital would have been security. Judges should be careful of what they say. But even Jove is said to nod sometimes.

An expert safe-breaker, Sam Hawley, known as "Smooth Sam," was captured in Chicago recently, he having indulged in too much liquor and lost his caution. He gave the following as the rules of his "business": You must have nerve; be resourceful, too. Let booze alone when a "job" is on. Have plenty of soap. You need it to crack a safe. Eat it when you are caught and you can get sick. Always carry a pair of steel files. The best way is to sew them in your coat lapels. Have a revolver, but don't use it unless you are sure you can get away afterwards. Throw your gun away when you are caught red-handed. Keep out of sight days, and don't make new friends. Conceal your nitro-glycerine, soap, drills, and punches when you are about to do a "trick," but don't walk about the streets with them bulging out of your pockets. Find out the job before you do it; it pays to play safe. Don't give a "pal" away. If you are caught, stand the gaff and don't holler.

Our Exchanges

DEODORIZE. (Brookville Recorder.) Apparently the Peterboro Tories ought to secure a whole cargo of antiseptics.

JAIL THE TORY PERJURERS. (Peterboro Review.) All Canada demands an official governmental inquiry into the electoral condition of West Peterboro.

SUICIDE A COWARD. (Toronto Star.) In many cases suicide is the choice of cowardice. A man finds it easier to die than live; easier to quit than fight on.

A BIG JOB. (Galt Reformer.) The 100,000 Club of Hamilton has its work cut out for it. To jump from 70,000 to 100,000 of a population in three years, the ambition of the club, will mean some hustling.

LOCKED HER UP. (Grimby Independent.) The usual rush took place to Hamilton on Monday and Tuesday, when Stanley Mills & Co. held their semi-annual excursion. There was one woman left in Grimby on Monday. That was my wife. I had her locked up.

ALL BRITISH. (Toronto News.) Of nearly 4,000 vessels that passed through the Suez canal last year, only one flew the American flag. The other 3,999 were nearly all British. When the Panama canal opens the story will be approximately the same.

WILL DROP IT. (London Advertiser.) According to the trial judges, the petition to unseat Mr. Stratton was based upon purchased evidence. It is likely our Conservative contemporaries who have been calling upon the Attorney-General to prosecute somebody, will let the matter drop.

APPENDICITIS. (Montreal Gazette.) Doctors who condemn surgical operations in cases of appendicitis are turning up with frequency these days. Practises in medicine change like other things. Blood-letting was once frequently resorted to; now it is rare. It may be that it will go out of fashion in connection with the fashionable disease of this age also.

DON'T WORRY. (Montreal Witness.) We do not suppose that the impact of a comet would mean much more than a shower of fine star dust. There are always people, however, who spend their days in terror of one sort or another, and these will feel better now that the astronomers have corrected their calculations and given out the assurance that Halley's comet is not going to collide with this earth, as it will come no nearer to us than thirteen million miles.

PRINCIPAL WEDDED. (Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 7.—John Henderson, M. A., and Mrs. Catherine Tuckett were quietly married at Knox Church manse last evening by Rev. Dr. George H. Smith, and left almost immediately for a six months' trip to Scotland. Mr. Henderson was for many years Principal of the Collegiate Institute, retiring at midsummer.

SICK IN HOSPITAL. (Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, Oct. 7.—Word was received yesterday at Thorold that James Daley, second son of Mrs. John Daley, who dropped dead while visiting the home of a berayed neighbor on Tuesday evening, had been seriously injured and was in a Rochester, N. Y., hospital in a critical condition. Later reports, however, were of a more encouraging nature.

The German Emperor has lately installed bath tubs in the homes of the tenants on his estates. It is a combination of the United States Government's poisoner of the pests in the Southwestern States, during the last eight months, and Mr. Holman is not yet through.

J. M. BARRIE

Te Petition For Divorce From His Actress Wife. Were Supposed to be a Devoted Couple—Friends Shocked.

London, Oct. 7.—J. M. Barrie, the novelist, will petition for a divorce at the coming session of the divorce division of the High Court of Justice. He married in 1894 Mary Antell, an actress. SHOCKED FRIENDS. New York, Oct. 7.—The news of J. M. Barrie's divorce suit, contained in a cable despatch from London last night, comes as a great shock to persons who had personal acquaintances with the Scottish author and playwright. The idea of divorce in connection with the author of "When a Man's Single" seemed incongruous and painful. Mrs. Barrie has appeared little in public life. When still Miss Mary Antell she was on the stage, and appeared in Mr. Barrie's first play, "Walker, London," which achieved an instantaneous success when played by John L. Toole in London seventeen years ago. She married Mr. Barrie in 1894, and retired from the stage. Since then they have always appeared to be a most devoted couple. They had no children, but they adopted Miss Pauline Chase in place of a daughter of their own. The wonderful grasp of portraying character which Barrie had shown in his books and plays has always been supposed to have been inspired to a great degree by his perfect agreement with his wife.

TIMES PATTERNS.

A CHARMING NEGLIGEE. No. 8567.—No more graceful home jacket could be devised than this pretty model developed in figured China silk. The simple shaping is developed by shoulder and underarm seams, the fulness falling in soft folds from below the tucks that are taken up on each side of the centre front. The tucks in the back extend to the waist line, and a belt of the material encircles the waist giving that trim look so essential to a garment of that kind. If preferred the sleeves may extend to the wrist, composed of straight cuffs. Lawn, flowered dimity, cotton crepe, cashmere and albatross are all suitable for reproduction. For 36 inch bust measure 3 3/4 yards of 36-inch material is required. Sizes from 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—The subject of annexation is the current topic. Now is the time for the residents and taxpayers of Crown Point, Prospect Place and Kenwood to take a stand for their rights. There are conflicting forces at work. It is evident that a certain portion of the district is after special privileges. The application for a charter to incorporate a village is evidently a game of bluff. The object is to secure special terms for that portion of the district included in the petition for annexation and known as School Section No. 3. I have two large surveys within the said section, but I refuse to accept privileges withheld from the worthy working classes. The honest working people of the thickly inhabited centres have no legal advocate looking after their rights. This has been made plain in the contest. The Railway and Municipal Boards in composed of three men, well chosen for their work, but these men are not accessible to the great bulk of the people interested. Their relationship to the layman is very similar to that of a high

BUCHAN DEAD.

Veteran of Riel Rebellion and Boer War Passes Away. Had Distinguished Career and Many Honors Conferred on Him. Montreal, Oct. 7.—Brigadier-General Lawrence Buchan, C. M. G., commander of the Quebec division of the Canadian forces, died this morning at the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he was removed a few days ago, suffering from a severe attack of pleuro-pneumonia, from which it was realized a couple of days ago he would not recover. Mrs. and Miss Buchan were summoned, and were at his side when death came. "Fighting Larry," as he was familiarly known among military friends, was in his 63rd year, and had a most distinguished military career. He started his military career in the Queen's Own, Toronto, thirty-seven years ago. He distinguished himself in the Riel rebellion, where he once came so near death that his horse was shot under him. Later he joined the Canadian permanent forces, and held several commands, including St. John's and Fredericton. In the Boer war he shared with other Canadians the honors of Paardeburg and other engagements, and was mentioned in the despatches and received a medal with clasps. General Buchan was created C. M. G. in 1906, and in 1908 was raised to the rank of brigadier-general. To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—The subject of annexation is the current topic. Now is the time for the residents and taxpayers of Crown Point, Prospect Place and Kenwood to take a stand for their rights. There are conflicting forces at work. It is evident that a certain portion of the district is after special privileges. The application for a charter to incorporate a village is evidently a game of bluff. The object is to secure special terms for that portion of the district included in the petition for annexation and known as School Section No. 3. I have two large surveys within the said section, but I refuse to accept privileges withheld from the worthy working classes. The honest working people of the thickly inhabited centres have no legal advocate looking after their rights. This has been made plain in the contest. The Railway and Municipal Boards in composed of three men, well chosen for their work, but these men are not accessible to the great bulk of the people interested. Their relationship to the layman is very similar to that of a high

Amusements

"The Bachelor," a dainty comedy, well acted by a capable company. Such was the opinion of the large and fashionable audience which attended the Grand Opera House last evening. And it required no great mental strain to arrive at such a conclusion, for it is many moons since a play of this type has asked for the patronage of Hamilton audiences. Light and frothy as the dialogue is, the personality of every member of the company is such as to hold up even a poorer play.

There is something so simple, yet pleasing, in the presentation of "The Bachelor," by Charles Cherry and his very able assistants, and throughout the whole play the spirit of humor holds the attention of every auditor. In fact, it is so spontaneous, that one could not help but enjoy the play.

Charles Cherry is an English actor—and that stands for finished work; Throughout the entire evening, one does not gain an impression that there is anything forced in his methods to obtain the value of every line. Of splendid appearance, and thoroughly at ease, he is easily the most graceful and accomplished light comedian to visit this city in some time.

Ruth Maycliffe, who will be remembered for her exceptionally clever work in "Girls," has a role in "The Bachelor" that suits her delightful style. She is irresistibly humorous, and her manner is fascinating. She made an admirable foil for Mr. Cherry's quiet humor.

Annie Buckley, who has been seen here before in the portrayal of character parts, demonstrated that she is a comedienne of tried methods. In the role of the servant she was especially clever. The rest of the cast is quite up to the standard of the stars, and that brings the whole discussion into the following nutshell—that the show is certainly worth while, as an evening's enjoyment—and what more can one ask, pray?

"The Bachelor" will be given again this evening.

CONSERVATORY RECITAL

The first of the season's recitals to be given by the pupils in the Conservatory of Music was held last night, in Conservatory Hall, when the pupils of Mr. J. E. P. Aldous, assisted by a vocal pupil of Mr. H. M. Frederick, of Toronto, Miss D. Ashley, provided a musical treat to a large audience, who were very appreciative, judging by the unstinted applause that was given to each participant in the excellent programme.

The playing reflected great credit on teacher and pupils alike. Special mention should be made of the playing of Miss V. E. Johnston and Miss Bessie Pass, and it is safe to predict a very bright future for both of these young ladies. The singing of Miss Della Ashley left nothing to be desired. She has amply verified the Times' predictions of two years ago, when it was stated that she

JURY DISAGREED

Trial of Mrs. Scott For Shooting Father-in-Law.

Some of the Jurymen Were in Favor of Acquitting the Prisoner.

London, Oct. 6.—After being out for three hours exactly, the jury to-night announced that they had been unable to come to any verdict in the case of Mrs. Susan Scott, charged with the murder of her father-in-law, Harvey Scott. The jury stood seven in favor of a manslaughter verdict and five for acquittal. Three votes were taken up in the pay for acquittal gained ground on each occasion. There was, however, no hope whatever of an agreement. Mrs. Scott watched the jurors with great interest, as they took their places, and showed the only signs of anxiety that she has yet displayed.

The announcement came as a distinct surprise, and Mr. Justice Latchford, addressing the jury, said: "The only thing I can do is to discharge the jury. I regret that you have been unable to agree. That, however, concerns yourselves. It seems to me that if there was even a case where a verdict could have been allowed easily, if the jury had regard to their oath, this was one. I sincerely trust that none of you will ever be shot."

Mrs. Scott seemed not to understand the meaning of what happened, and for a moment her face brightened up in the hope that she was free. She was led away, however, quickly to her cell. Her next trial will take place in January. Special constables were placed about the court in order to prevent any demonstration on the part of Mrs. Scott's friends in case she should have been acquitted. The spectators' gallery was filled with people, who expressed the warmest sympathy for her.

Some of the jurors stated afterwards that they had disagreed to a great extent because it was thought that Mr. Justice Latchford had not been altogether fair to Mrs. Scott in that he did not allow her to give full evidence as to the threats and language that Harvey Scott had used to her.

Wesley Scott, husband of the prisoner, brought into the witness stand with him two heavy sticks which he found beside the body of his father. He said that while his wife was trying to get a chicken, stung by his father, through a fence, his father struck at her with a pitchfork. He had also seen his father strike at his wife on another occasion. "I saw my father fire a gun in the direction of my wife," said the witness. "She got around the house and was not struck." As he proceeded with his evidence Wesley recalled numerous threats and attempted assaults, which he claimed his father had made the prisoner bear. He declared his wife had been injured once. He submitted to such treatment of his wife as to his father would not turn them out into the road.

Clara Scott, the fifteen-year-old daughter of the prisoner, testified in her mother's behalf. She told of further trouble between the prisoner and her alleged victim. The occasion was a week before the tragedy, when the old man had chased her mother, and her mother had remonstrated, and Scott had chased her with a stick. Witness also told of the pitchfork incident, when the old man was alleged to have attempted to strike the prisoner. Her evidence concluded the case of the defence. The facts of the shooting were undisputed.

"I was for years a great sufferer from Kidney Disease, Gravel, Rheumatism and Backache," Mrs. Krieger states. "It all started through a cold, but I go so my head ached, I was nervous, my limbs were heavy, I had a dragging sensation across my loins, and I was totally unfit to do anything.

"Reading about wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try some. After using a few I found they were doing me good and this encouraged me to continue their use. Eight boxes made me well.

HEARST FOR MAYOR.

He Was Nominated by His Admirers in New York.

New York, Oct. 6.—William Randolph Hearst, once defeated for Mayor of New York to-night at a mass meeting of 4,000 of his admirers at Cooper Union. This action was taken despite his authoritative statement last evening that he would not be a candidate. Resolutions were adopted directing that a committee of five be appointed to take steps for the naming of an entire city, county and borough ticket, which will be placed in nomination by petition.

To-night's meeting was called according to its leaders, with a view to showing Mr. Hearst that opinion among his followers in the old Independence League was so strongly in favor of his running again as to override even his "positive" declaration. The hopes of the leaders were more than realized—every seat in the big hall was filled, and when after a half dozen "opening" speeches, Mr. Hearst was formally nominated for Mayor, the meeting rose to its feet in a demonstration which lasted twenty minutes. No indications to what Mr. Hearst's attitude would be toward the action of the meeting was received before adjournment was taken.

Don't Neglect SKIN DISEASE

A WONDERFUL BALM THAT DESTROYS DISEASE GERMS.

THE worst forms of eczema, scalp disease, and blood-poisoning often begin as simple sores. Maybe the warning signal is a rough angry patch on the arm or thigh, or a pimply sore on the head. Don't neglect the first stages!

A sore finger-end or chapped knuckle has over and over again paved the way for serious disease. In the same way cuts and bruises frequently lead to blood-poisoning, festering, and obstinate sores. The reason is clear.

In the air around us and on our bodies are myriads of tiny microbes, many of them "the advance guard" of infectious and contagious disease. So long as the skin is whole, the delicate tissues beneath are safe. Immediately the skin becomes unhealthy, or broken by a cut or small sore, these germs swoop down, contaminate the flesh and provoke inflammatory disease.

Torture day and night, obstinate resistance of all ordinary methods of treatment, and a tendency of the sores to spread, are amongst the penalties for neglecting skin-disease. There is only one safe course. If a little Zam-Buk is applied promptly to the affected part, immediate attack is made upon these dangerous germs. Zam-Buk is famous for its antiseptic strength, its purity, and its unique herbal character. By the influence of this rare balm (which is entirely different from mere ointments), the dangerous germs are killed and ejected from the tissues along with the other bad matter drawn out. The flesh is thus soothed by Zam-Buk, and completely purified.

When the tissues have been made perfectly sound, a new protective layer of healthy skin is made to grow. The worst wound and most obstinate sore will be found to yield to regular dressings of Zam-Buk. For this reason Zam-Buk is now often prescribed by doctors and used by nurses.

Zam-Buk contains none of the rancid animal fats or mineral poisons found in many of the cheap, antiquated ointments. On the contrary, Zam-Buk is a skilful combination of certain rare and valuable herbal juices—the outcome of patient experiment in most up-to-date laboratories, and is truly the last word of science on the treatment of injuries and skin-diseases.

Mothers will find it an ideal balm for the delicate skins of young children; and in using it have the assurance that they are applying Nature's own healing essences. Zam-Buk is on a plane of its own. Nothing else is "just as good." Nothing at all approaches it. Ask for Zam-Buk and accept nothing else!

Zam-Buk is a sure and certain cure for piles, ringworm, festering sores, ulcers, bad leg, blood-poisoning, eczema, cuts, burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, sore hands, chapped hands, cold sores, chilblains, cold cracks, scaly sores, dandruff, itching, and all other skin diseases and injuries. Rubbed well into the affected parts several times a day, it cures eczema, ringworm, and dandruff. All druggists and stores sell at 50 c. box, three for $1.50, and post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for prices.

ARSON CHARGE.

STARTLING STORY TOLD AT TRIAL OF JAS. RUSTON.

Hired Man Says He Helped Ruston to Arrange for a Fire—Was to Get Fifty Dollars for Applying the Match.

Brampton, Oct. 6.—A most remarkable story of an alleged deliberate attempt at arson was told in the witness box at the Brampton assizes this morning. The witness, John Hollis, an Englishman, was testifying against his former employer, John Ruston, a Peel county farmer, who is accused of setting fire to his house and barns at Chinguacousy on Feb. 20 last for the purpose of collecting $4,000 insurance from the London Mutual and Peel Farmers' Fire Insurance Companies.

Hollis swore that a month before the outbreak he had been offered $50 by Ruston to set fire to the property. He had helped him pack up his valuables and arrange for the fire, but refused to apply the match. Instead he went to the office of an insurance company and reported his share in the affair. When the fire occurred, a month later, Ruston was arrested as a result of Hollis' statement upon applying for the insurance money.

Ruston was tried at the spring assizes before Sir Wm. Mulock, but the jury disagreed. Hollis said he worked at Ruston's place at the close of 1908, putting up a barn. "Before it was completed Ruston came to me one day and said, 'Can you do with fifty 'bucks'?' 'I replied, 'said Hollis, 'I can do with fifty 'bucks' all right.' 'We were standing in the barn at the time, and Ruston said, 'Well, I'm going to set this whole place on fire. I want you to get a lot of consideration,' and he said, 'Well, I'm going to do it anyway, and if you don't want to help me I can get someone else to help me for twenty dollars.' So we set to work to get ready.

PETITION DISMISSED.

Mr. Prowse, Liberal, Confirmed in His Seat.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 6.—In the Supreme Court to-day Chief Justice Sullivan dismissed with costs the election petition against Mr. L. E. Prowse, Liberal M. P. for Queen's County. His Lordship said there was no evidence that corrupt practices prevailed to any extent. He believed the election was singularly free from any violation of the law, and was a remarkably clean contest. The conduct of the respondent was entirely blameless.

NEXT SESSION.

The Dominion and Imperial Defence Will be a Feature.

There May be Some Radical Changes in Rules of House.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Cabinet Council this afternoon, at which all the Ministers were present with the exception of Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. Frank Oliver, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who are absent from the capital, the date for the opening of Parliament was definitely fixed for Thursday, Nov. 11. The proclamation calling the members will be issued at once.

As yet the sessional legislative program is in a somewhat tentative shape, but from morning Cabinet meetings will be held almost daily. The promised legislation providing for the creation of a Canadian navy, and for a fuller measure of co-operation with the mother country in the general scheme of empire defence, as evolved at the Imperial Conference in London during the summer, will probably be the feature of the Government's measures for the session. The details of this defence bill are still to be worked out along the lines agreed upon by the Canadian Ministers at the Conference.

It is not improbable that the Government will ask Parliament to make some radical changes in the rules of the House, looking to the expediting of public business.

Lieut. R. M. T. Stephens, who is an expert in gunnery, will sail for Canada in a few days. The Admiralty will loan Canada other naval experts to act in an advisory capacity to the Canadian authorities. The two officers who are now here expect to remain for a period of two years.

LYLE SPEAKS.

Architects' Educational Course in Toronto University a Joke.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The need for more adequate facilities for architectural education was strongly emphasized at the banquet in the National Club last night, which followed the second annual assembly of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada.

Mr. J. M. Lyle, Toronto, formerly of Hamilton, who responded to the toast of the "Toronto Architectural Society," claimed that in the past the architectural profession had not received the consideration it merited at the hands of the Government and the public. The architect, he said, had been classed as a sort of mechanic, whereas the profession was one of the most difficult and complicated, and demanded qualifications as high as any of the other trained professions. He strongly urged the institute to consider ways and means of securing better educational facilities for those entering the profession than existed at the present time. McGill College had a good architectural course, but, so far as the University of Toronto was concerned, architects had expressed the opinion that the education given there was a joke. That was not the fault of Mr. Wright, who had done everything in his power to improve the facilities. What was wanted was a chair of architecture, and the institute might endeavor to use its influence in guiding public opinion in that direction. Mr. Lyle also suggested that the time had arrived when the hatchet, which had been so frequently flourished by certain of the allied societies might be buried, and when the various bodies associated with the institute might devise a uniform policy and try to get something done that would raise the status of the profession as a whole.

Mr. Edmund Burke, Toronto, endorsed Mr. Lyle's remarks, and, with a cry of shame, he declared that the architects had no better facilities for higher education than those afforded by the office.

ALLAN LINE SALE.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Denies That the C. P. R. is the Purchaser.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy denied this evening that the C. P. R. had purchased the Allan line. "No," said Sir Thomas, "there is nothing in the story so far as we are concerned, and Mr. Hays told me the other evening that the Grand Trunk Pacific had certainly not purchased the line. I do not believe," he said, "that one share has been transferred to anyone outside the present holders."

BARRIE SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Scottish Author a Petitioner in the British Courts.

London, Oct. 6.—The name of Mr. J. M. Barrie, the playwright and author, figures as a petitioner in the list of divorce cases now down for trial at the next session of the law courts. In 1894 Mr. Barrie married Mary Ansell, an actress, who appeared in his first play, "Walker, London," produced seventeen years ago.

Now Said to Have a Fair Chance of Recovery.

Digging farther, he found more coins than he could carry home at one time. Their value is estimated at $50,000. It is believed the treasure was buried by persons who stole it from the British army which camped near Champlain during the Burgoyne campaign. The robbers probably lost their lives subsequently and no one knew what they had done with their booty.

TORONTO'S GROWTH

Population Increase Has Fallen Off Somewhat.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The natural increase in Toronto's population, as given by the assessors, is 6,373, which is 8,228 less than the natural increase reported last year. The increase by annexation in the past year has been 17,780. All the wards, except the Second and Third, show an increase in the new population figures. In the Second Ward there is a decrease of 639, caused by the removal of buildings for railway yards, and in the Third Ward the decrease, 2,808, is largely due to the removal of buildings to make way for the new Toronto General Hospital.

BRITISH COMMONS

Will Adjourn as Result of King's Interview With Politicians.

London, Oct. 6.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced that Parliament would be adjourned for a week. The official reason given for this action was that the Government wished to give members time to consider the Finance Bill in its amended form. The exact significance of the step can only be a matter of speculation, but it is generally connected with the series of interviews at which the King elicited views of several chiefs of the political parties. Among those interviewed by His Majesty were Lord Robertson, Secretary of War Haldane, the Earl of Cawdor and Reginald McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty. The House will adjourn from Oct. 11th to Oct. 18th.

CITY TO BUY FITCH SITE.

Will Then Own All Land Around Filtering Basins.

Contract For New Power House at Beach Lot.

Fire Department Resignations and Appointments.

The Fire and Water Committee last night decided to recommend the City Council to accept the offer of R. H. Lutz to sell the hotel property near the filtering basins for $5,400, without the buildings. Mr. Lutz wanted $5,800 if the city purchased the buildings too. This is the old Fitch property, which the city has been trying to secure for many years. They thought this was a golden opportunity, and quickly took advantage of it. Mr. Fitch before he built the present cement barn tried to get the city to buy the property. Two years ago he offered to sell it for $9,000. The city is anxious to get the property, so that it will control all the land around the basins. The Beach Commissioners are also anxious that the city should get the property, so that they can straighten out the Beach road at this point.

The city has no use for the buildings, and Mr. Lutz will be allowed to remove them by the first of January. Mr. Lutz gave the committee an option at the price quoted. He announced that he had another prospective purchaser. There is little chance of the council refusing the offer.

Contracts for the Beach power house were let subject to the approval of the city engineer. The tender of Frid Bros. at $1,950 for the building, with the exception of the steel work, which will be done by the Hamilton Bridge Company at $415, was accepted. This makes the estimated cost of the building $2,365. Mr. Morris and Lees thought a time limit for the construction of the building should be made. The engineer will see that the work is begun as soon as the council sanctions it.

The resignations of Lieut. Kappel, who has been appointed Chief of the Cabot Fire Department, Fireman D. C. Vollick and Fireman W. E. Swain were accepted. C. V. Roper, H. Higham and G. Helm were appointed to the probationers' list. H. J. Gorman was appointed permanently.

The matter of purchasing an automobile, with a view to attachment, to bustle to small fires, was referred to a sub-committee.

Chief TenEyck has a fractious horse that is the terror of all the blacksmiths in town. Few of them care to shoe it, and two or three men generally have to hold it. The last man who shoeed it demanded that he be paid $1 extra. The aldermen agreed that such courage was worthy of recognition, and the blacksmith will get his dollar.

County applications from people on Sherman avenue for water, in view of the prospect of annexation taking place at once, are beginning to pour in. The first one was granted on condition that it is approved of by the City Engineer and Solicitor.

This is the first application granted since the city shut down on the county people several months ago. A new supply wagon will be purchased at a cost of about $125. Tenders will be called for. The Secretary announced that there was a surplus of $1,500 in the fire department account, due to the saving on salaries.

The Central fire station yard will be paved with cement, at a cost of $250. The Chief said the firemen would do all the digging required. The committee to purchase some life-saving nets. The city has one, but it is twenty-five years old. "It is something we require very much," said the Chief, "and if we save one life it will be worth many nets." They cost $120 each, without duty. The Chief was authorized to purchase one.

A water gauge will be purchased at a cost of $30 to check the pressure in various parts of the city.

E. R. Rogers, Provincial Inspector, said the Department would be satisfied if it was charged ten cents a thousand gallons for a period of three years for the water used at the Asylum. Toronto only gets 6-14 cents a thousand gallons. The Government has been paying Hamilton 12-12 cents, but recently decided that municipalities must supply the water at cost. The offer of ten cents was accepted.

On the City Engineer's recommendation two six-inch mains will be installed at the Sawyer-Massey Company's works and seals will be placed on all the hydrants and valves, to be broken only in case of fire.

A six-inch main will be constructed on Burlington street, between Mary and Catharine streets, at a cost of $300.

The six-inch main on Beulah avenue will be extended at an estimated cost of $245.

The one-inch pipe on Mountain avenue will be replaced by a six-inch main at a cost of $940.

WHEN ALL IS OVER.

Not Till Then Should Statue of Prof. Smith be Erected.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Prof. Goldwin Smith has written to the president of the Toronto Press Club suggesting that the proposed statue to himself should not be erected until his life work is complete. His letter follows:

Dear Mr. President of the Toronto Press Club: It is needless to say how much I am touched by the kind feelings of my fellow-citizens shown in the suggestion of a statue. I have tried, I hope to do my best as a citizen of Toronto. But little would have been the best if I had not received the help of other citizens in the establishment of the Associated Charities, that of the late J. S. Pell, of the St. George Society, and that of the late John Bailey, of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society; in University consolidation, that of Sir Casimir Gzowski and other friends of the policy; and in promoting the independence of the press, by pens and influence, other than my own. But a statue is the final seal, and should not, I think, be affixed till the record of life is complete. Of this there was proof even in such a case as that of Wellington. Yours very truly, Goldwin Smith.

Save 25 Bars of Soap

Ordinarily you use at least one bar of laundry soap every week—more than fifty bars in a year. That's twice as many as you need, for Taylor's Borax Soap goes twice as far as any other soap.

Please prove this for yourself—we invite the test. Try one bar of this soap with one bar of any other. See which soap lasts the longest—learn which is the cheapest. We know what the result will be, for we have made this same test many times over—our soap lasts twice as long.

Jaylor's Soap

Don't think that all soaps are alike—there is a wonderful difference in Taylor's Borax Soap. Let us show you some of the ways in which this soap differs from others. First we use only the purest coconut oil from the Isle of Ceylon. Then we boil it doubly long and mix in the borax. While boiling we run thousands of gallons of clean water through the soap which carries away all impurities. We require twenty-one days to make a single cake. The labor of more than 200 people is needed. We crush every bar under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. We put every bar through an ageing process equal to standing six months in your pantry. So you don't have to age this soap. When finished the bar is hard and firm, so it wears much longer. The borax softens the water which also reduces the amount of soap by almost half that ordinarily required. This pure soap is utterly harmless to the skin—it leaves the hands whiter and softer than ever before. If it is so harmless to the skin, then think how harmless it must be to the clothes.

NO SUMMONSES.

Latest Move of Laura, the Tube-Fed Suffragette.

Birmingham, Oct. 6.—Laura Ainsworth, the tube-fed suffragette, who was released from jail here yesterday, applied to a magistrate to-day for summonses against Home Secretary Gladstone, the governor of the prison and the prison physician on charges of assault.

Miss Ainsworth swore that on one occasion her mouth was forced open by a steel instrument, and her nose, throat, legs and arms were forcibly held while a feeding tube was inserted. In consequence of this treatment she suffered from congestion, inflammation of the throat and nervous prostration, and lost thirteen pounds in weight. The magistrate refused to grant the summonses, declaring that acts done in process of law did not amount to unlawful assault.

FUTURE OF QUEEN'S.

Views of the Trustees Will Probably Prevail.

Kingston, Oct. 6.—The General Assembly Commission and Queen's University trustees were in session all day debating the following constitutional changes, which the Trustee Board suggested: That the corporation of the university shall consist of benefactors and graduates; that the Board of Trustees be composed of the Chancellor and Principal; ex-officio; two members to be appointed by the corporation of the city of Kingston; four members to be appointed by the Ontario Government; twenty members to be elected by the graduates; five members to be elected by the University Council and five members by the Board of Trustees by co-optation; that the restriction in respect to the election of the Principal be removed.

Late this afternoon a committee was appointed to bring in resolutions to-morrow morning embodying what seemed to be the desire of the majority. The meetings have been held in private, but it is understood that the suggestions of the Trustee Board will practically be recommended to the General Assembly.

GIRL SHOT DEAD.

Deliberate Act of a Russian Boy of Fifteen.

Canora, Sask., Oct. 6.—Georgina Downs, an English-speaking girl, thirteen years of age, was dismembered by a shot fired from a gun in the hands of a Russian youth, fifteen years old. He deliberately pointed the gun at the girl, exclaiming, "Your money or your life," at the same time pulling the trigger. He claims he did not know the gun was loaded. Neighbors, in the absence of the girl's father, who is away working in the Manitoba harvest fields, came to Canora for a doctor, who went on accompanied by Constable Wilson, of the R. N. W. M. P. To investigate the matter, but the girl was dead.

SET FIRE TO CELL. WORK OF RESCUE.

Haldimand Township Man Takes a Desperate Risk.

Cobourg, Oct. 6.—Many novel schemes have been tried by those under the hand of the law in attempts to regain freedom, but a Haldimand township man named Clarence Peters hit upon a novel one the other day. He had been arrested on a charge of stealing a number of articles, among which a watch and a small sum of money are mentioned, from Jas. Wilson, who resides near Burnley, Peterborough, where he managed to set fire to the floor of his solitary chamber, burned a hole sufficiently large to crawl through, and dug himself out through the wall.

In the early morning the lockup was discovered to be on fire. The fire was put out, but the man was not there. Yesterday at Castleton Peters gave himself up. He appeared before John Miller, J. F., and was remanded. Yesterday afternoon he was brought to the counties jail here. He is a married man, with four children.

EARL GREY'S LAST SPEECH.

Canada's Navy Will be Chief Topic of Parliament.

French Treaty and United States Tariff Will Cause Talk.

To Help the Farmers—Other Business For the House.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Parliament has been summoned to meet on the 11th of November. Substantial progress has been made with the estimates and other necessary preparations for an early opening of the business of law-making. This will be the last speech from the Throne which Earl Grey will deliver in Canada, as his term as Governor-General will have expired before Parliament is again summoned. It is not likely that the Government budget of business in the official opening address will be a long one. There will, of course, be a reference to the new Canadian naval programme, to the Franco-Canadian trade treaty, to progress on the National Trans-Continental, to good crops and to Canada's prosperity.

However, this does not mean that the session will be short, for all topics of discussion are not contained in the speech from the Throne. In fact, all of the Government's business is not, as a rule, exhausted there. With two hundred and fourteen members in the Commons and eighty-four in the Lords, the session will be a busy one. The chief topic of the session will, undoubtedly, be Canada's naval programme. The delegates to the Imperial Defence Conference brought back the general plan of a Canadian fleet, Canadian man-of-war and Canadian managed navy. But the details have not yet been worked out. At the present time there are two British naval officers in Ottawa, and another is on the way, to help the Minister of Marine work out his plan. It is understood that there are a number of the leading British shipbuilding firms who are not merely interested in the establishment of shipbuilding yards in Canada, and it is understood that the Imperial authorities would be glad to see such yards established on both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts.

It is clear that there will be more tariff talk than Parliament has indulged in for some years. The Franco-Canadian trade agreement has been ratified by the two French chambers and the French Government. It remains for the Canadian Parliament to give it effect by ratification. This will be done early in the session, but that step will precipitate a discussion of its bearing on the new American tariff which provided a surtax of twenty-five per cent. against goods from any country which does not give to the products of the United States "reciprocal and equivalent" treatment after the thirty-first of March. The language of the American act is vague, but many members of Parliament will hold the opinion that by ratifying the French treaty Canada will be letting herself in for the penalty of the United States surtax. There is likely to be some discussion of the surtax which Canada imposes against goods from Germany, as that country has been unofficially negotiating for better terms with Canada.

Agricultural questions are always in order. The Minister of Agriculture has returned from an extended and thorough inspection of the west convinced that while the farmers there are doing well there is need for general agricultural education and the establishment of experimental and instruction stations at vital points. There has been a commission in England, Ireland and Denmark looking into the methods of bacon curing there, and their report will be before Parliament for discussion. There should be some notice taken of the success of the Animal Quarantine staff organized under Dr. Rutherford in keeping the foot and mouth disease from crossing the Canadian line from the United States, and it would not be surprising if there were an intimation given of an attempt to eradicate tuberculosis from all Canadian herds.

The Opposition are certain to attempt to make political capital out of the resignation of Mr. H. H. Lumsden, chief engineer of the National Transcontinental commission. Possible delay and the lack of men for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific through the mountains and the building of the Hudson Bay Railroad will undoubtedly receive attention. Among other matters which are certain to demand a hearing before prorogation are the prohibition of the exportation of pulp wood, the new plans for the Quebec Bridge, stricter immigration provisions, more rifle ranges, the work of the Intercolonial Commission of Management, the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal and the enlarging of the Welland Canal. The Insurance Act of last session will be one of the first matters to be dealt with, and there is revision of the Bank Act a year or two.

Another it would not be surprising if the session should last six months, and prorogation take place just before the twenty-fourth of May.

THE NAVAL PROGRAMME. It is understood that the Government's bill respecting naval defence to be brought before the coming session of Parliament will provide for a total capital expenditure of about twenty million dollars during the next six or seven years, the yearly appropriation being about three millions. Although details are not yet worked out, the present plans contemplate a fleet of a dozen war vessels, consisting of cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers. Dry docks and a Canadian ship-building plant capable of building and repairing the largest class of war vessels are also contemplated. It is stated that three vessels of the new fleet will be placed on the Pacific Coast and nine on the Atlantic.

Fines aggregating $1,700 were assessed in the cases, bringing the total fines imposed in the recent prosecutions up to $1,700. Three were convicted of a third offence, the British American, Imperial and Eureka, and will lose their licenses. The five Detroit spotters who gave evidence against the hotelmen were jostled and pushed about while on their way from the Police Court to the ferry dock by a hostile crowd of sympathizers with the hotel men. A few blows were struck, but no one was greatly injured.

SCOTT CASE.

Would Have Preferred a Verdict to a Disagreement.

Juryman Who Favored Her Acquittal Talks About Trial.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) London, Oct. 7.—The general feeling in the Scott case is that it would have been much better had the jury brought in a verdict. Sympathy alone prevented them from agreeing, and legal men point out that in three months much of this would have died down. The jury look to see votes, and at the end of the trial seven for acquittal, and five for acquittal. On the first vote only three were for acquittal. Both sides had champions, and for three hours they battled, until the foreman, seeing no chance of agreeing, stopped.

Several of the jury were strongly of the opinion that Mr. Justice Latchford had not dealt so satisfactorily with Mrs. Scott in not allowing evidence of names she had been called by Harvey Scott to be presented. "I was for acquittal," said one jurymen, "and how any man could think otherwise puzzles me. Mrs. Scott had led a dog's life for years. She had her father-in-law up in court and got no satisfaction. Her husband was no man at all, and gave her no protection. What was she to do? I would have done the shooting long ago."

Mrs. Scott's friends were very confident that she would be acquitted, and special constables were in readiness to prevent any demonstration in case she had been.

RAISED RATE.

Why the Bank of England Increased Discount Rate.

London, Oct. 7.—The Governors of the Bank of England to-day raised the minimum discount rate from 2 1/2 per cent. to 3 per cent. This is the first change since the first day of April, when it was reduced from 3 per cent.

It was decided to raise the rate to 3 per cent. owing to the large inroads on the bank's reserve already made by exports to Egypt, which were necessary for the financing of the cotton crop and the Argentine withdrawals. The government was unable to offset these by fresh arrivals from the mines owing to the sustained demand from Russia, which absorbed available quantities week after week, preventing the bank from building up the reserve. A fresh element in the situation, however, undoubtedly is yesterday's decline in New York exchange on London, the recent sharp rise in money and the calling of loans in New York, which will probably necessitate the withdrawal of gold for that quarter against finance paper, which has been placed here some time ago, and the number of fresh bills still coming forward. The higher rate, although it was expected soon, was not generally looked for to-day. The increased rate had little effect on the stock exchange beyond a fractional easing of American securities.

A FLYING VISIT.

Mr. T. J. Wilkinson ("Wings"), of Vancouver, the former well-known newspaper man, was in Hamilton yesterday, and this morning, having paid a flying visit to friends at Mount Hope and Burlington. Mr. Wilkinson is a great globe trotter. While continuing his stock-breeding range in the west, he has won many honors in competitive flying in Canada and the United States, being widely famous for his fine horses, he ranks as one of the successful insurance writers of the world. He was the leader in the New York Life's $200,000 Club last month, topping their list of successful men. "Wings" has just returned from attending a big insurance convention at Atlantic City. He went by Toronto, Montreal and New York, took in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, had a chat with Dr. Cook on things polar (the North Pole is one of the few spots T. J. has not yet visited), and then took a run up to Hamilton to say "Howdy" to old friends. He left for home to-day, but his route will not be the most direct. It will take him via Chicago, New Orleans, Texas, and California. Fod of travel as he is, he says that there is no place like Vancouver. He says that its growth is marvellous and that the influx of population is so great that old-timers sometimes get lost in the city. The strenuous life seems to agree with him, as he tips the scales at 220 pounds.
