MONTREAL, MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 13, 1836.

No. 12.

Morning Courier.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1836.

Account of the anniversary meetings in London, which do honor to the philanthropy of the British nation, have reached us. They do not exhibit any falling off in the firmness of their promoters.

The meeting of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, on the 25th inst., was attended by 2000 persons, and the collection of money for the year was 205,554, and fifty-two new Associations had been formed.

There is one fact we have to state with the satisfaction, which the generally interesting nature of its contents only aggravates, and that is the irregularity of its appearance. It is true, that the May number was postponed for the delay of its publication, by a more than usual accumulation of articles.

Since this magazine passed into the hands of its present proprietors and editors, it has undergone important improvements, both as to matter and typographical execution. Among its contributors are numbered many names well known in France, and those of most of the distinguished writers on the Continent.

By the way, not only is the periodical literature of the United States, of which the Knickerbocker is an ornament, ever assuming a higher character, but that of a more solid and permanent kind—the original works in all departments of science and literature—has, of late, been astonishingly multiplied. During the year past, 269 original American works were printed, and 178 Foreign works reprinted.

This fact is rendered still more singular and indicative of the increasing energy of the American intellect, in literature as well as in commercial enterprise, when we consider that the native literature in the United States, must bear up in its cultivation against vast inundations of works of the highest order, which collect from the British Press, and which tempt a reprint that can be accomplished at a trifling expense.

In civil life, and in subjects of a state, the opinions were extensive and various. They were not, however, in any sense, more distinguished than those of an ordinary citizen.

Meas. A. Rax, of Hartford, and J. S. Walton, of Sherburne, have been chosen Constitutional Delegates for the Southern Division of Sherburne County.

The Directors of the Montreal Bank have elected the Hon. P. McGILL, President, and the Hon. Joseph Mansour, Vice-President. At the City Bank, James Fournier, Esq., has been re-elected President, and A. Muzzey, Esq., elected Vice-President.

The Steamer St. George arrived yesterday evening from Quebec with about 1200 steerage passengers on board, nearly the whole of whom set out from Great Britain and Ireland.

There were four cases in tow when leaving Quebec, one of them the Lord St. Lawrence, near New Liverpool, and the other three, the Pelton, Princess Victoria and Elm, she left at the head of the Richelieu in the way up she picked up a heavy load of lumber which she brought into port.

The packet of the 24th ultimo, at New York for Europe, were still detained there on the 6th inst., in consequence of the stormy and adverse weather which had continued for fourteen days.

Remon's trial at New York will still progress on Monday, the fourth day.

Admiral of Lower Canada. Having this taken a brief period of the history and institutions of the French Colonies in Canada, it may be interesting to know a few words upon the subject of their commerce.

confinement in which they might be prevented from putting into execution their nefarious designs upon society.

The idea of the anti-importation society may well be laughed at, as every body will be ready to purchase at the cheapest and the most common market.

The ignorance of its projects, the exclusive vision against Britain, and the upper portion, which cost the amount of £200,000 annually, do not her manufactures much more than the amount consumed by her.

The last Echo of a Movement is adorned with a wood cut of a monument to be erected to the memory of L. Maccoy, who was accidentally shot in 1834, at an election at South.

It is a piece of consummate littleness to the Patriots to endeavor to revive every affair of this kind with the highest degree of importance.

What morality do place L. Maccoy in the calendar of their political annals, and how does the accidental death of a man who was a victim to his own intemperance political martyr.
