1,000,000 Barley, 500,000
Flax is the Crop Estimate
For South End of Province

Lethbridge, Aug. 12--According to a report just completed by commissioner P. L. Leach, of the associated boards of trade of southern Alberta, the spring wheat crop will reach 12,000,000 bushels and the winter wheat 4,000,000 bushels.

The total barley yield will be close to 1,000,000 bushels flax 500,000 bushels. The total area of land under crop in southern Alberta is 1,125,000 acres, a small increase over that of last year.

The destruction by hail in the district has been very light, only 900 acres having been destroyed in this manner, while cut worms have worked a small amount of havoc in certain sections.

COUNTERFEIT CHINESE REPUBLIC NOTES PRINTED IN CALGARY

Chinese Investigators Discover Source of Thousands of False $10 Certificates

None of Them Sold in Calgary, But Chinese in Other Cities Were Duped Completely

Name of Chinaman Who Had Notes Prepared Reported Known

Local Chinamen Think Offender Cannot be Punished in This Country

THAT the thousands of counterfeit $10 certificates of the new Chinese republic, with which Western Canadian towns were flooded several months ago, were printed and issued from Calgary has been definitely determined by investigation of Chinese interested in the case.

Sun Yet Sen, organizer and first head of the new republic, toured Canada before going to China and visited in Calgary. He explained to local Chinese the method of financing the new republic, as well as in other cities, so that little difficulty was found in handling the notes when they were printed.

The notes were printed in Chinese characters and apparently would be difficult of imitation sufficiently good to deceive the keen eyes of local officials, who are noted as a nation for their ability to detect false money.

The counterfeit notes, however, were turned out by a photographic process and great numbers of them were sold to the Chinese in Saskatoon, Medicine Hat, Edmonton and Vancouver, B. C.

The new republic maintains headquarters at Vancouver, B. C. The first of the false notes were discovered, an investigation was set on foot which was pursued steadily ever since. The result is that the Chinese have determined that the notes came from Calgary. Further, it has been discovered that they were printed here and it is said that the Chinese investigators know the name of the local Chinaman who had them made.

So far, no steps have been made to put the matter in the hands of the Canadian authorities. In discussing the case yesterday, local Chinese were reluctant to admit much knowledge of the matter insofar as the circulation of the counterfeit notes are concerned.

"They can't do anything to the man that put the false notes in this country," declared Wm. Hing Lung, a Chinese groceryman, "but they could in China."

The Chinese who bought the genuine notes did so with a full understanding that they were taking a long chance for the notes would have been worthless had the revolution failed. In fact, the notes were sold with the idea of securing subscriptions to help the revolution along with any idea to profit, but those who held the genuine ones are now certain that the counterfeit notes were made with the intention of profiting from the revolution.

THOSE WHO ARE OUT IN BLACK REPUBLIC WILL ENDEAVOR TO TAKE THE REINS

General Simon, With Considerable Following, Heads the Movement

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 12--Movements apparently in the Haitian colony here indicate that preparations are under way for the formation of an expedition to oust the new president of Haiti, General Tancred Auguste Leconte.

The movement is headed by General Antoine Simon, who took refuge in Jamaica in August, 1911, after his government had been overthrown by a revolution which placed General Leconte at the head of the country. General Simon has a considerable following among the Haitians who have sought refuge here.

Several offers recently have been made with the object of chartering local shipping, but so far these offers have proved unsuccessful. It is believed that a decent will be made on the Haitian coast from this country or from Turks Island within the next few weeks.

TO DETERMINE RESPECTIVE JURISDICTION OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS AND GRAIN COMMISSION IN MATTERS PERTAINING TO THE HANDLING OF GRAINS OF THE WEST

Ottawa, Aug. 12--A conference with a view to determining and defining the exact and respective jurisdiction of the dominion grain commission, an ad hoc board of railway commissioners, over matters pertaining to the handling of western grain so as to prevent overlapping, was held by representatives of the two commissions today. One of the principal matters discussed was the distribution of grain. In this connection a complaint was made in the dominion millers' club before late Justice Mahab at Toronto to the effect that the supply of grain of the C. P. R. discriminated between grain ordered for local milling purposes and grain for export.

At today's conference it was decided that should any overlapping of jurisdiction take place the grain commission be assigned first ruling, and that the railway commission should merely use this power to enforce the authority of the grain commission in the event of its being disregarded by the railway companies.

"The grain commission is fresh from parliament," said Mr. Scott, "and its rulings must go first, and we are satisfied that it is a thoroughly competent body to deal with all matters pertaining to the handling of grain. But should we find that its orders are being disobeyed, then we shall see that they are carried out with due despatch."

WILL SECURE MILLION AND A QUARTER ON THE INTERURBAN DEBENTURES

C. S. Drummond, Vice-President of Alberta Interurban, to Visit England

Telegraphic-Notice is Received From Railway Commission That Order Will Issue

Formal Authorization to Proceed With Work is Expected to Arrive in Day or So

Railways Friendly to Project and Anticipate Interchange of Much Business

C. S. DRUMMOND, vice-president of the Alberta Interurban railway, is preparing to leave for England in a few days to manage the details of issuing approximately $1,250,000 of bonds. The road has been authorized by the government to issue bonds up to $2,000,000 but it is planned to float only a million and a quarter of the securities at this time. The amount will cover the construction of the line to Carbon which is now under way.

While the officials of the Interurban have received telegraphic notice from the Dominion Railway Commission that the formal order being the final stage in the authorization of the road will be forthcoming at once the order itself has not yet been received. The telegraphic notice was sent from Banff while the commissioners were en route back to the East. It is anticipated that the formal order is in the mail from Ottawa and should arrive today or tomorrow.

The changed attitude of railways toward interurban lines is well illustrated in the case of the Alberta Interurban. Not so many years ago interurban lines were regarded as a business. Experience, especially in the Ontario provinces, has demonstrated that the interurban line can be operated as a feeder to the railway lines, by reason of low operating costs, can tap territory years before a railway could be built with any prospect of profit.

Recognizing this fact, the Alberta Interurban has been met with friendship by the railway lines. She new interurban management had this especially in mind in choosing the type of motor cars which will be operated on the interurban. They will be provided with standard equipment so that switching between the railway and interurban lines can be easily managed. The motor cars also were selected more because of their greattractive possibilities rather than for speed, although they can attain a maximum of forty miles an hour if necessary.

The motors, burning crude oil, can develop a maximum of 550 horsepower at the wheels, sufficient to handle a heavy freight haul. By means of an ingenious counter-shafting system a class of freight hauls were unable to take profitably. The interurban lines, by reason of low operating costs, can tap territory years before a railway could be built with any prospect of profit.

Canada Will Join Protest Against Canal Legislation Premier Has Taken Matter Up With Mother Country

Ottawa, Aug. 12--The action of the United States Senate in finally passing the Panama canal bill has been watched closely by the government here and as the interests of Canada are vitally and primarily affected, the Dominion will join in the protest against the measure if it is sanctioned by President Taft.

The question was discussed briefly in the house last session, the position then being taken that any discriminatory privileges accorded U. S. shipping would be a violation of the Hay-Pouncefote treaty. With that view the prime minister concurred. It is understood that Premier Borden while in England has taken up the matter with the British authorities to whose objections Canada and Canadian interests are party.

PATIENCE AND THE PANAMA

Referring with full approval to the protest of Great Britain against the threatened imposition of discriminatory tolls against British shipping in the Panama Canal, 'Le Temps', the Paris journal, publishes a tariff war of all the powers against the United States unless President Taft vetoes a treaty which wrongs the interests of the rest of the world and betrays the solemn affirmations of the cabinet of Washington that the whole purpose of the work at Panama was in the interest of mankind in general.

A large section of Canada has been awaiting with interest the opening of the great waterway, confident that it would reap rich rewards from the far-reaching changes which that event will accomplish in the existing routes of transportation. The proposal to impose discriminatory tolls in violation of the terms of a solemn treaty held out the prospect that the anticipated advantages would be appreciably lessened, is, therefore, viewed with serious apprehension.

The attitude of Congress is attributed by The Winnipeg Free Press in part to the complexity of the political situation due to the presidential campaign and also to the fact that a powerful lobby has been at work in Washington in behalf of the interests that have been all along seeking shipping subsidies from the United States treasury.

The breach of faith involved in the proposals is so flagrant that we are not disposed to credit the suggestion that the people of the United States will permit their legislature thus to hold them up to the scorn of the civilized world by the performance in their name of acts which will brand them as contemptuously indifferent to all claims of honor.

the utterance of the precept by an example. We would therefore simply commend to the attention of our readers, coupled with the reminder that the Panama Canal will not be opened until 1914, the hint given by The Buffalo Express, in a temperate discussion of this subject, that reason is not lacking from the hope of many Canadians that 'Americans will ultimately settle the question of Panama tolls on a basis which will be fair and equitable to all.'

LOVERS OF DARKNESS

From time to time in almost every new city an effort is made by aldermen of little experience in public affairs to secure the right to hold secret sessions of the city council. Not very long ago the city council of Regina adopted the practice of excluding the press and public from certain of its meetings. The press of that city, however, by refusing to print any news of the acts of the council while secret meetings were held soon aroused public opinion to a recognition of the evils of this system, and meetings thereafter were held open.

From the news columns of a recent issue of The Edmonton Daily Capital, it would appear that a fight for full publicity in the conduct of public business may shortly be precipitated in that city. Once the attention of the public is called to the proposals of certain of the aldermen, however, and the consequences of those proposals made clear, it is unlikely that many secret meetings of the city council will be held.

There is little that can be urged in defence of 'the star chamber session.' It may be true that from time to time the city council is called upon to deal with matters which in the interests of the municipality should not be given wide publicity in the press.

The objection to allowing the aldermen to close the door of the council chamber is not that there are not matters which might be dealt with, in camera without harm, but rather that, when the door is closed no one who is not behind it knows what is happening there; hence the quite reasonable demand for a door that shall be always open.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

THERE came to town a rather sad and lonesome looking pup, a Spitz. Some fellow yelled: 'That dog is mad.' And then we all three sundry fits. SIDE WALK SKETCHES By HOWARD L. RANN

Buttons are a vicious, bone-headed article which are continually releasing their hold without any warning whatever and rolling under the darkest corner of the bed. This disgusting habit is common to the bone collar button, which will catch a man in a full dress shirt and a nervous hurry and make him crawl under a low-hung chandelier with murder in his heart.

Women wear buttons for the sole purpose of embarrassing their husbands who are obliged to chase up and down the back of a shirt waist several times a day. It is one of the penalties of marriage which is causing many a thoughtful bachelor to falter on the brink.

MORAL EDUCATION IS GREAT NEED OF THE DOMINION

J. A. M. Aikins, K. C., M. P., Points Out High Ideal for Canadians

Is Representative of Canadian Government at the Hague Congress

'There is need for us to put constantly before our Canadian people a big ideal; not Canada as a great big independent nation; something far greater than that: Canada as a great nation, the biggest factor within the great British Empire.' That was the ideal of which Mr. J. A. M. Aikins, K. C., M. P., Winnipeg, spoke in a few minutes' conversation with a Globe representative yesterday afternoon.

Referring to the object of the Congress, Mr. Aikins expressed his deep conviction that moral education is what is above all needed in Canada at the present time, to say nothing of other nations, for the congress is to be international. 'I believe,' said he, 'that a man is his own engine, his own engine which runs on the railway. One would never think of running an engine with dynamite or on the ties; but our children are brought up with little knowledge of their physical nature and the needs of those natures, consequently they violate the laws of their nature without knowing it. They get enough mental education. And when a people is morally sound at heart they will look after the rest of their education all right. But above all that is the spiritual nature, the man himself, and that needs looking after far more than it gets.'

This moral education is a part of what Mr. Aikins conceives necessary to cultivate in Canada. But he also is intensely imbued with the feeling that Canadians need more cohesion. 'Just think of it!' he exclaimed. 'Here in the west we are getting two hundred thousand a year, and what does it mean? On the one side, it is well that so large a proportion of that influx—into the prairie provinces 70 or 80 per cent—is American; but, on the other hand, what are we going to be able to do with that American influence? Manitoba is intensely British; so is British Columbia. But the west is all bound up strongly together. There is cohesion there. But what do we find in the east? I have been pained and almost astounded to see the lack of cohesion in the eastern part of this Dominion. The only thing that can bind us together is our common British tie; the east and the west, without that could not but have a cleavage. But with that British bond there is a great ideal before us.'

Link Up With Empire. 'And let us in Canada, apart from what the United Kingdom may do, they may say we will go on with free trade by ourselves—link up with the rest of the British Empire, with Australia, South Africa, the islands of the sea; and then, if the little Isle should be in need, how we could all rally round her.'

If Canada and the United States together realized their great ideals, the latter as the greatest single nation in the world and the former as the greatest nation within the great empire in the world, Mr. Aikins said, then when they two should say the world should be at peace, who could say no? 'Let us not sing small,' said he. 'As Kipling says, 'We'll sing a larger tune before its done.' And as one factor in producing this larger tune, the question of moral education appeals to Mr. Aikins as of supreme importance. 'As some one has said, it is a great thing in producing this larger tune, the question of moral education appeals to Mr. Aikins as of supreme importance. 'As some one has said, it is a great thing in producing this larger tune, the question of moral education appeals to Mr. Aikins as of supreme importance.'

Woman Censures Chancellor for the Loss of Her Landau

London, Aug. 12.—A woman who has been censured by the Chancellor for the loss of her Landau, has written a letter to the Chancellor, in which she says: 'I have enclosed a girl who is evidently to help me in my housework. When I am about to engage a boy to act as groom, who is only 16, I am from the age limit of the act. Friends assist in the work. My friend who offered me assistance when I discharged my servants a fortnight ago, are still ready to help me keep my house and grounds in order, but I have little time to spare. I am about now for two other assistants have come into the line, but I have no time to need to be insured. My little netter has also done much work in the garden in furtherance of my intentions. This morning she let me cut the whole lawn by herself. Her greatest grief. 'My greatest grief is that I shall have to give up the use of my Landau' country, one of which was addressed to 'the bravest of the brave.' By one post I had sixty letters, and I get several posts a day. Of course I am unable to answer them all, but I spend most of my time now in replying to them. However, this is the first time I have ever demanded an answer. Many, however, I have not yet had time to open.

An M.P.'s Predicament. Another insurance predicament is pronounced by Sir Lewis Molver, a former Winston member of Parliament who writes from Aix-les-Bains: 'My servants are partly in the country, partly on a holiday, partly in town. I am abroad for my health's sake, but am a law-abiding citizen, anxious to obey when I can, but they do not sell insurance stamps in the Haute Savoie. I cannot talk with my servants because I am not there. I cannot lick stamps because I am here.'

OLD COWMAN DISCUSSES STAMPEDE

AFTER long and crafty planning I finally succeeded in getting the Old Cattleman and the Old Trader together. Each knew the other by name but neither had come in personal contact with the other until my machinations had brought it about.

The Old Trader broke the silence first. "I suppose there's gonna be some tall howlin' in this here wilderness o' Calgary when these prairie wolves from the range states gets goin' at 'em."

"Well," he commenced slowly, "I was travellin' on foot, but when I struck the river I finds a Hudson Bay trader who had some skates, just come in. He tells me 'th' skatin' is good, an suggests that I go up 'n' river on th' ice. I falls, bein' young an energetic, an starts off, on th' whole river is like glass. 'Bout forty mile up I hears wolver, an looks back 'n' see a big band comin' 'n' hell for leather. They wants me had, an I wants to git away a lot badder. I sees they are gainin' by cuttin' 'n' points, an I drops my pack. They gets 'n' gain while they tears it up. Then they come agin, an I drops my coat. Bimeby I'm skatin' 'n' northin' at all but shoes on skates. I dropped every did to them wolver. I looks back an sees 'em comin' fifty yards behind, jaws chackin', eyes glarin', froth drookin' their muzzles, big white teeth jest a-shinin' 'n' git into my gutt'rin' flesh. So I turns there to sell my life 'n' dearty as I kin, but jest then my life is saved."

"How?" I asked eagerly, while the Old Cattleman sits restlessly. "There was a feller hoen' even on th' bank, an he comes down an drives 'em off with his hoe," explained the veracious Old Trader complacently. "I was very silent, an' cheeryly pulled 'em off with his hoe," explained the veracious Old Trader complacently. "I was very silent, an' cheeryly pulled 'em off with his hoe," explained the veracious Old Trader complacently.

"Through his nose, uh course," explained the Old Cattleman, apparently much surprised at the foolish query. Then he winked expectoratingly at delighted me, and the Old Trader rumbled disgustedly as he brought forth his money to acknowledge, after the manner of the west, the defeat he had met.

A PLEA FOR CANADA'S NATIONAL GAME

Editor Morning Albertan: Sir:—Kindly insert the following and oblige:

From present indications, the good work started last year by Joe, Lally and other supporters of the national game, is to count for naught.

Who is to blame for this state of affairs? Surely not the players, for they have played better lacrosse than they did in 1911.

Both players and officials are greatly disgraced at the manner in which they were treated in the way of ground allotment.

The football men, in addition to having splendid grounds in Hillhurst, have the use of two pitches on Mewata Park, etc.

What is the use of trying to encourage school and college leagues in the West and Midwest of Canada and then when they are fit to play the game in more experienced country, discourage them?

It is high time something was done in this matter, and a city that has a Canadian-born city council and other civic departments should have been able to handle the lacrosse men instead of the present "pick-pocketing" which they have had to contend with.

It is safe to say that unless something is done to remedy this injustice and discrimination that no lacrosse will be played in "Canada" next season. Trusting this "plea" will be productive of some good.

Port Au Prince, Aug. 12.—Clemenceau's victory was elected unanimously to congress president of Haiti, August 14, last year.

Clemenceau's victory was elected unanimously to congress president of Haiti, August 14, last year. He first gained prominence in Haitian affairs in 1903, when, as minister of the interior in the cabinet of President Norment, he was credited with organizing the summary shooting of the prominent revolutionaries at Port Au Prince.

When the regime of Nord Alexis was brought to an end shortly afterwards, he went into exile in Jamaica. While there he intrigued against the new president, Simon, and in January, 1911, started a revolution against him which was, however, abortive. The insurgents were defeated and Lecoute took refuge in the German consulate at Cap-Haitien, later being sent from the island under German protection.

Lecoute returned to Haiti last May and succeeded in overthrowing Simon. He was a mulatto, between 40 and 50 years old and belonged to the legal profession.

HIRSH JOHNSON HAS BEEN ALWAYS KNOWN AS A FIGHTER SINCE HIS FRESHMAN DAYS

Interesting Character Sketch of the Man Who Will be Theodore Roosevelt's Running Mate at the Next Presidential Election

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 12.—Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, the Progressive party's nominee for vice-president, has been known as a fighter since the day he matriculated at the University of California. In college he was an insurgent, and after leaving the university he entered public life as a college student Hiram Johnson was noted for his athletic prowess. His determination to win when there was the slightest opportunity—often seen in the arena of the prize ring—was supported by the heroic constitution and a physical force of which his mates on the varsity were proud. If not obvious, Johnson eloped and was married in his junior year—one of the first events of his insurgency. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 21 and was practicing in Sacramento, California, which attracted him immediately, which he did not run for office in nearly seven years. But he did take an active part in the campaigns in his state.

One of his first political achievements was the thwarting of the will of the Southern Pacific machine, hitherto considered invincible. George H. Clark, mayor of Sacramento, had been defeated by the machine for the office of State Railway Commissioner, and in retaliation refused to appoint as chief of police a man chosen by the machine and the gamblers. Clark was indicted to oust Clark from the office of mayor. Johnson, already popular as a criminal lawyer, was invited to defend Clark, and he was his case in one of the most bitter fights in the history of Western Coast politics.

URGENT RETALIATION ON GERMANS IN ENGLAND

England Can Do Nothing to Extricate Yachting Camera Fiends From Dilemma

London, Aug. 12.—Though England can do nothing short of declaring war to help the five British yachtsmen arrested at Eckernforde, charged with spying on Germany's coast defences, the Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, telegraphed today to the Berlin Embassy for full information concerning the case.

The English view is that the men were obviously perfectly harmless as tourists, and some newspapers urge retaliation upon German tourists in England.

Berlin, Aug. 12.—The arrest of five English yachtsmen at Eckernforde and a charge of espionage was due to the fact that a member of the party, an artist named Gregory Robinson, with one of his companions, while taking photographs ashore, happened to have a new torpedo range within field of his camera.

The arrest was effected by an armed Customs officer, who seems to have been dogging the yachtsmen since they unconsciously aroused the ire of the local officials by failing to report themselves at the Custom House immediately on their arrival in the bay. As in the German sense of the term, they could not "legitimate" themselves, the police went aboard and arrested three of Mr. Robinson's companions, and ransacked the yacht. Ordinary views of scenery such as every holiday-maker takes are gravely described by the officials as "topographical records of the coast" and "distinguished appearance" should be sailing without a crew of paid hands strikes the Germans as most inexplicable and suspicious.

SECURE RIFLE RANGE AS PARK SITE IS CITIZEN'S PLEA

William Pearce Writes Letter to Commissioners Urging City to Act Quickly

Emphasizes Department of Militia and Defense is Considering Another Site

Thinks City Should Secure at Least the Portion Between River and C. P. R. Canal

URGENT that the city should take immediate steps to secure the present rifle range as a park site, William Pearce yesterday addressed a letter to the secretary of the City Planning Commission, who in turn handed it over to the commissioners. Mayor Mitchell and Commissioner Clarke, Commissioner Graves having left on his vacation, expressed themselves as favorable to the idea. The matter probably will be put before Mr. R. E. Bennett, M. P., who is expected to return in a short time, inasmuch as Mr. Bennett also is looking into the question of an armory building for the city.

In his letter, Mr. Pearce points out that the department of militia and defense is said to be considering the establishment of a rifle range elsewhere than at the present site, on sections 12, 24, L. W. 5th, and 9, 24, 29, W. 4th, and that at least a portion of these sections should be secured by the city for park purposes. Mr. Pearce urges that all of them should be taken for a park if possible, but at least the portion lying between the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation canal and the Bow river should be secured.

POISONED CANDY LEADS TO ARREST OF HUSBAND

Sisters of Wife Partake of Candy and Go Into Convulsions—One Dying

Police Reluctant to Give Details of Suspicions Following Revelations

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 12.—James Bruce, aged 22, a steamer, has been arrested, the police, however, declining to say what the charge against him will be. The story, however, that is told in connection with his arrest, is quite out of the ordinary.

Bruce, it is said, was married a short time ago to Ada Dalby, a young girl who died in the last two weeks last afternoon, it is alleged. Bruce called at the hospital to see his wife, and left her a box of candy. Mrs. Bruce did not partake of any of the candy, but when her sisters, Gertrude and Ethel, with her friends Rose Selpe and Maggie Vance called to see her, she gave them some of the candy. Shortly after that Mrs. Selpe was taken seriously ill. She was seized with convulsions, although the other girls were ill, but after being given an emetic, recovered. The police were reluctant to say anything about the case, Mrs. Bruce is in a delicate condition and the shock may seriously affect her.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER OBTAINING EVIDENCE IN POLICE GRAFT

Employed Private Detectives and Turned Evidence Over to District Attorney

Reported That He Financed a Gambling House to Demonstrate Graft

Mass of Evidence Said to be Accumulating Against New York Police

New York, Aug. 12.—The fact became known today that John D. Rockefeller, jr., has been instrumental in obtaining evidence of police graft, which he has turned over to District Attorney Whitman for use in connection with the investigation of alleged corruption among high police officials that has grown out of the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

While Starr J. Murphy, Mr. Rockefeller's attorney, denied today the published report that the millionaire's son had been conducting a disorderly house for the purpose of obtaining evidence of blackmail against the police, it is known that Mr. Rockefeller, who about a year ago was foreman of the grand jury that investigated the white slave traffic, has been conducting a "bearing on the police situation."

Mr. Rockefeller, having become interested in white slave matters while foreman of the special grand jury, has since been securing statistics with regard to the social evil, reads Mr. Murphy's statement. "Whatever information was secured bearing on the police situation has been placed at the disposition of the district attorney. The statement that Mr. Rockefeller or his representatives have been conducting a disorderly house is entirely without foundation."

Mr. Whitman said today he had been informed that a police inspector had furnished a gambling house to the grand jury in conjunction with the mass of similar evidence which the district attorney and his assistants have unearthed since "Black Jack" Rose made his first charges involving high police officials in gambling graft.

MEAT PRICES GOING UP

Cheaper in San Francisco Than in Sound Cities, Says Dealer

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—In an address before the Home Industry League today F. L. Washburn, of the Western Meat Company, predicted that the Pacific coast must soon pay more for its table meats.

"Prices here," he said, "are 30 per cent cheaper than in Chicago for the choice cuts, and from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than in Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, but it won't last. The retailer here has cut his profits to the lowest possible point in the effort to meet before-the-fact prices."

"This is the explanation of the purely local difference up and down the Coast."

We are advocating the correction for Socialism and the antidote for anarchy. The men who presided over the Baltimore and Chicago conventions and the great bosses who controlled the two conventions, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Parker, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy, Mr. Penrose and Mr. Taggart, Mr. Guggenheim and Mr. Sullivan, differ from one another, of course, on certain points. But these are the differences which one corporation lawyer has with another corporation lawyer when acting for different corporations. They come together at once as against a common enemy when the domination of both is threatened.

$25 BONUS FOR EACH AUSTRALIAN BARE

Government's Proposed Bill Arouses Storm of Protest In Commonwealth

Sydney, Aug. 11.—Australia is in a ferment over the federal taxation proposals, not only because of the terrific increase in the amount of the tax, but because of the moral effect of the proposition. Taxed on to a bill providing pensions to children until they are more than fifteen years of age is a clause providing for a bonus of 5 pounds for every child born in Australia, and the percentage will not be insured into.

Other charges the labor party with responsibility for the proposals, and this accusation has started all eyes again the fight against the organization's pension proposal by its enemies.

From all sides the cry is raised that such a bill if it became a law would be unconstitutional.

The Victorian premier has issued a statement that the federal taxation proposals will levy 8 pounds a head of the population after the pension bill for the children is passed. There will be a bitter fight in parliament over these proposals, but the government and the labor party are strongest and there seems no doubt they will have their way.

The papers are publishing cartoons likening the opening of parliament to the Republican convention in Chicago, accounts of which were cabled here, telling of the discord between the president and the man who is seeking another term.

Conditions of population have been worrying Australian government officials for some time and they have taken steps to encourage a certain kind of citizens to come from other countries. This has failed to bring in the numbers desired and now the government has taken in the act of the federal parliament by the bonus for children.

No provision has been made so far for the pensioning of the mothers of the children, and owing to the peculiar wording of the proposed law it got putting any restrictions on the birth of a baby scores of children would be born seem likely to be the storm centres, with five pounds as the goal.

Hospitals to Claim Bonus. Reports have been received from some of the public and charity hospitals that they will claim the bonus as a recompense for the extra cost.

In many communities the residents are not in a position to stand the additional expense of the pension, which will mean, owing to their bad investment several years ago in without-mining schemes. Bitter at the loss of that money, and still more so at the government's attempt to take the pension bill, they are determined to apply that the bill is "wildcat" to the pension bill.

If the government insists on putting its pension schemes through the opposition in parliament will retaliate by a campaign for the abolition of the control of corporations, declaring that if the federal inspectors had more power over companies the public would lose so much of its money so often.

HOW THE BRUNDAGE NOVELTY COMPANY ROBBERY WAS UNCOVERED

Inside History of the Methods Employed in Criminal Investigation, Embracing True Narratives of Interesting Cases by a Former Operative of the William J. Burns Detective Agency.

DAVID CORNELL BY

DAVID CORNELL

Editor's Note—In order that no annoyance may accrue through the publication of these narratives to persons involved therein, other names and places have in many instances been substituted for the real ones.

At one time in the history of detective work, possibly, the sole function of the detective was to detect crime and criminals. The still is the function for which official detectives, those employed by city, state or nation, exist. But in this day of hectic business competition there has grown a startling proposition another use for the private detective agency; and the ways and means in which the public is learning to use and misuse the service which any detective agency places at their beck and call for $5 a day, often have little or nothing in common with the original purposes of the detective's profession.

Probably one half the business that comes to the private detective agency is "business, instead of crime. Firms hire private detectives to spy on a competitor; employers hire them to look up conduct of employees after business hours. There are private detective agencies so unscrupulous that they will conduct as employees after almost any service, no matter how low. These agencies, there is the Burns Agency, of which I was an operative, which will not touch a piece of business that is not obviously and absolutely square. But even pursuing this policy without wavering, they are at times led into weird and wonderful paths of business mazes; and the work often is no less thrilling than the pursuit of vicious criminals.

The Brundage Novelty Company case was one of the most interesting jobs of any kind that I ever tackled. On the first of September, 1910, our agency received a telephone call from the Knickerbocker Hotel. The call was: "Please pick out a man whom you know you can trust in every way and send him up here to room L 98."

The caller refused to give his name or to mention the purpose for which he wanted a detective. "I'll explain all that satisfactorily to you after I have seen whether you have a man whom I consider capable of handling my business," was his answer to the office manager's request for more information.

"That's a queer one," muttered the manager, and he took the call in to the chief. "Better send Cornell up there to see what it is," said the chief. "We won't do it if it doesn't look good."

At it once took the subway to Times Square, and a few minutes later I knocked at room L 98. The door was opened by an old man of patriarchal aspect, and in his hand he held a man and the man of efficiency seemed strangely combined. He peered at me for possibly 30 seconds through the six inches of opening he had made.

"Come in," he said. After he had shut and locked the door he added: "You're from the Burns Agency, of course. Sit down." I sat. The old man stood before me with his hands on his hips. Usually it is the detective who stands and scrutinizes and analyzes his client, but in this case the usual order was reversed.

"How old are you?" said the old man presently. "Thirty-six," I replied. "Married?" "Yes." "Children?" "Three."

"Got a picture of your wife or any of the children with you?" "I looked at him and began to smile. "Now look here, sir," I said: "so far as I understand it, you sent for a detective."

"Young man," said he, holding up his hand in great dignity, "do not be impatient, please. Please answer my questions. Call it humoring an old man, if you wish. There is a reason. Now, again: have you a picture of your wife or children with you? Do you carry one?"

"More out of curiosity to see what he was up to than anything else," I replied that I did carry such a picture, and opening my watch showed him the tiny picture of my little daughter, which was pasted on the inside of the case.

"Good," said he. "Do you carry any life insurance?" "You old shark!" I said, laughing. "So that's what you got me up here for? Well, that's certainly a new sledge for an insurance agent."

"Young man, young man—don't please," said he. "Answer my question, if you please." "Yes," I said, "I do." "Good!" Then he drew a chair up before me, and sat down, rubbing his hands.

"I must have a decent man, a fairly good man, a man I can believe in to handle this business," said he. "That leave Okanagan Mission by boat for Pontoon, where arrangements have been made for the night. In the evening at the new Incoia Hotel."

Other speakers at the convention include Prof. Elliott, Superintendent of Agriculture, C. B. Strathmore, Alta.; John T. Burns, Executive Secretary International Dry Farming Congress, Lehigh, Pa.; A. W. Boyer, former president of the association, and others.
