

THE JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

Containing the Directors' Reports of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital, incorporated 1890, together with lists of subscriptions, grants, donations, Dr. J. S. Helmcken's address on the opening of the Training School for nurses, as well as other information respecting the working of the institution and the results obtained.

The pamphlet contains the skeleton of the history of the Hospital from its inception to the 31st of May, 1892. There is much that has been said and done in connection with the institution that cannot be included in a dry official report, for which facts and figures are all that are required.

The undertaking was an arduous one, and it can easily be understood that it was not brought to its present condition—a model hospital in almost every respect—without much hard work and a great deal of worry and anxiety.

It is perhaps to be regretted that the reader will not find in the Reports any direct hint as to the excellence of the finished work of the directors. A little egotism—if it can be called egotism—on this subject would have been excusable, or rather commendable.

We have not left ourselves room to say anything about how the Jubilee has been supported in the past and how it ought to be supported in the future. The finances of the institution have been carefully and economically administered. Individuals have contributed nobly to its support, but many who ought to have cheerfully done something to keep up this beneficent institution have done nothing or next to nothing.

It should be remembered that every patient who is treated in the Hospital must be paid for by some one. The Hospital has no revenue of its own. It must depend for the means of existence on the humanity and the liberality of the people.

Dr. Helmcken's address, which is embodied in the Report, is characteristic of its author. No intelligent person can read it without being convinced that it is the production of a clear-headed and large-hearted and tender-hearted man.

The levity with which the Times speaks of resistance to persons who may be entrusted with the work of enforcing the rules and regulations of the Board of Health is not creditable to either its intelligence or its public spirit.

Mr. Brown, from New Westminster, has developed into a full-blown demagogue with a decided leaning towards socialism. His notable scheme for placing the owners of property in the municipalities at the mercy of the men who have the least interest in their welfare was very properly thrown out of the Legislative Assembly.

any found in Henry George's or some other theories a passport for all the evils that afflict society. These charlatans and their chattering dupes are the very worst enemies that the honest searcher after knowledge have in this and every other country.

Questions of the greatest importance must now be deliberated upon by all those who have votes. Many of the men whom Mr. Brown tries to blarney, feeling their own inability to form an opinion satisfactory to themselves, look to those whom they respect for advice and instruction.

As there has been a good deal said of late in this Dominion about preferential trade with Great Britain, it is well to see what that influence in the Mother Country has already done in the new theory.

This, coming from the leader of the great Conservative party of Great Britain, is peculiarly significant. If the leader of the British Conservatives looks upon the imposition of a duty on breadstuffs as visionary and wholly outside the sphere of practical politics, it may be regarded as certain that there is no hope whatever of the preferential duties on colonial products, which are advocated by a few influential men, being imposed.

The French hypnotists and all the different phenomena were produced at the scenes for his edification. Mr. Hart does not appear to have been very deeply impressed with what he saw. He evidently had his doubts as to the good faith of the subjects.

Some months ago there was a great deal of talk about a formidable coal combination that had been established in the United States. This combination was wonderfully strong, it was said, and under the most skillful management. It could control the coal trade for an indefinite time to come.

assessment return by-law passed its third reading. The Council has again postponed the appointment of a city engineer. Apparently they intend going on in the same old happy-go-lucky, penny-wise-and-poniard-foolish fashion that has characterized previous Councils. There will probably be a little excitement next month when the Gibson block is commenced. According to the original survey Gibson's lot extends several feet on Commercial street, and as he proposes erecting a large brick and stone building, he will, no doubt, follow the lines of the survey; then probably, while half Commercial street is to be blocked, the city fathers will awake.

Union, B. C., March 7.—Last Saturday evening the members of the "Ladies Aid Society" of the Methodist church held a grand social and entertainment in the old school house. The ladies wrought hard during the week, and as a consequence the various pack to the best advantage. There is one simple coat of rather an expensive one, but with the only one possible of satisfactory results, and that is for the compiling of a map from the plan now being prepared by the present plan of the city, and then from the two maps so compiled to draw one which shall be made legal by act of Parliament. Years ago the Council was requested to follow this course but on the score of expense, the proposal was rejected, and as the present Council apparently intend making every penny of their own pocket, it is not likely that they will do so.

February night on account of the snowstorm, is to come off next week. Typical songs containing local hits will be made a leading feature. Mr. J. Devine's residence south of the river, near Dunsmuir, was burned on the ground yesterday, the bedding being the only salvaged. Dense volumes of smoke were at about 4:30 p.m. seen issuing from the roof of the Alderlea hotel over the bar-room. Numerous willing hands were immediately on the scene busy playing buckets and removing the contents, and luckily the flames were got under. The whole of the rafters and roof of the bar-room part is badly burned and the structure is in a very precarious condition and furniture by fire and water. The owner of the hotel is Mr. W. Beaumont, of Victoria, and the present lessee, Mr. D. W. Adams, who only acquired the lease and took possession last week. Damage is estimated at $100. The furniture and contents are insured in the Bios Insurance Co. Mr. Adams desires to tender his thanks to his neighbors for their efficient and willing help that so happily resulted in arresting the fire.

AGAINST HOME RULE. LONDON, March 7.—Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Conservative member for the West division of Bristol, has given notice in the House of Commons of his intention to move an amendment to reject the Home Rule Bill. This amendment will probably be adopted at the Carlton Club meeting as the official amendment of the Opposition.

New Westminster, March 6.—Hay is still in great demand in the interior. Another hay train went up the line to-day, principally for Kamloops. A workmen's political club was formed here on Saturday night. The objects are, among others, to solicit for the extension of the franchise and to organize a political party. The first officers are: President, C. C. Stewart; vice-president, J. D. Needham; treasurer, A. Hamilton; secretary, G. W. Walker. A laboring man named McLeod came to the city on Saturday morning from Stevenson for medical advice, being very ill. He put up for the night at the Commodian hotel, and on Monday morning he was taken to his home by a small boat. Mr. McLeod was at once removed to the small hospital built last year, and he is the first patient to occupy it. The hotel was quarantined, and the building and the building vacated. Up to ten days ago McLeod was living in Vancouver, and went from there to Stevenson to work on the pile-driver. The pile-driver crew will probably be quarantined also. Possibly the first Sunday marriage ever performed in this city took place yesterday, the principals being Franklin Good and his cousin, Miss Good. Mr. Good, who arrived on the Great Northern express, drove to the Ogilvie Hotel, where Franklin procured the assistance of the priest to induce Sheriff Armstrong to issue a license on Sunday. The ceremony was performed after much trouble, and Rev. J. H. Best was prevailed upon to tie the knot. The young couple left on their honeymoon late to-night. It is understood that the "old folks at home" objected and a B. C. Gretna Green was made use of to overcome the veto.

New Westminster, March 7.—The news of the death of Hon. Hugh Nelson was widely known and highly esteemed. He was lying at half-mast on all the buildings out of respect to his memory. George Garratt, of Richmond, thinks an act of violence should be developed at Stevenson and Mr. Moreby has gone down to investigate. The men on McDonald's pile-driver will be quarantined on the machine, and will be employed on the pile-driver. News has reached here of the death of P. S. Hamilton, editor of the Post Weekly Gazette in 1885. The Congliant diving commissioners met yesterday and received from their engineers a report and estimate of the cost of the proposed diving work. After considering reports and estimates, the commissioners decided to go on with the work and to call for tenders immediately. Steelheads are still running in considerable numbers, and a catch of twenty fish by one boat in a day is by no means unusual. The first spring salmon was caught on Saturday morning, and three more were brought in to-day. They were of the white variety, and reds are expected to follow soon. The Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., of British Columbia, will hold its second annual meeting at Chilliwack next week, commencing Monday at 10 a.m., in Henderson's hall. Delegates will be present from Victoria, Nanaimo, Maple Ridge, Ladner's Landing, etc., to the number of about fifty all told.

ALBERTA. ALBERTA, March 1.—The weather has been milder of late, but the snow has not yet wholly disappeared. After a week's delay, the mail was brought in on the 23rd by the stage-driver, on a sleigh. Rev. J. A. Johnson having gone to Victoria to attend the Presbyterian meeting, Mr. James Thomson took the services in the church last Sunday. Mr. G. Gallid, Indian agent, and party, left for Dog's Cove on the 23rd of Rev. J.
