TWELFTH YEAR. HIGH CARNIVAL AT OTTAWA

THREE A SOUND OF REVERBY BY NIGHT.

And Canada's Capital had gathered at the
The National Les Recreations-Unity of the Dominion was the Whole Tone of the Assemblage and Everything Went Merry as a Marriage Bell.

OTTAWA, March 15.—At the moment of writing, as the correct letter-writer would say, sounds of revelry float upward from the entire Conservative contingent is holding high carnival. At the eastern end of the room sits Dr. Ferguson, at one time member for Welland; on his right sits Hon.
John Carling, and on his left Hon. James Colebrook. Patrons of the subject, where these gentlemen to their Parliamentary duties from the Conservative revival meetings in the provinces is the occasion of tonight's celebration.

Speeches and songs have been the order of the night, and the utmost enthusiasm prevails. The order of the speeches has been skillfully devised and every province, and even every section, has been heard from. The "shreds and patches"—and how the changes were rung on Sir Richard's pleasant and unshakable frame—had their voice as well as the central Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. The whole tone of the meeting was the unity of the Dominion.
It was voiced by every speaker and the party seemed never to weary of the sentiment.

Deputies of L'Alouette Quebec organization and among the bravos of the French Conservatives rejoiced in Mercier's downfall, the representative of a bastant national sentiment and a national sentiment in Quebec, but it was a national sentiment that he knew was shared by every Canadian, a nationality as wide as the Dominion. The sentiment was cheered to the echo.

Mr. Cookburn Tells How it Came About.
The mission of Mr. Cookburn, a naturally tells for the National and the Scotch-Canadian member for Centre Toronto gave a rousing address. He related the proceedings he took to unseat the most unshakable politician that had ever been disclosed in political life. In any case the investigation had been undertaken in the interests of the Ontario Bank. That investigation, however, did not as yet result in any concrete action. An explanation might possibly be found in the fact that he and Mr. A. M.
Smith were the sole directors of the Ontario Bank. All the others, including Mr. Christopher Finlay Fraser, were gentlemen of strongly Reform leanings.

To-night's meeting, informal and convivial in character, emphasized the important principles, namely, that this Dominion is a harmonious whole, united by a powerful national feeling.

What followed was a Jabberwocky The proceedings at the evening's feast of reason and flow of soul was only a continuation of earlier scenes in full this session as it was when Hon. John Carling supported on either side by Messrs. Mackenzie Bowell and Sir John Thompson. The latter entered at the bar and marching up to the center of the mass, through his promoter, he addressed the assembly of London. He received a hearty greeting, and the Liberals, refusing the advice of some of their organs, to abstain from participation, but were content with mere hand-clapping when Mr. Patterson appeared, and Mr. Haggart. They broke out into vocal demonstrations, and the popular Secretary of the meeting, who arranged by the vociferous cheering, and his appearance, to subsequently renewed when he shook hands with the Speaker.

The introduction of Dugas de Montaigne, and the Conservatives a further chance to rejoice and then as a wind up and capsuled the remarks of the two countries had simply sent them to bed in bliss.

Licenses to United States Fishing Vessels.
The chief feature of the proceedings in the House today was the consideration of the certain remarks made by Mr. David Mills, the British consul. He spoke on the second reading of the bill giving the Government power to renew the licenses to United States fishing vessels without the authority of the House.

Other members of the Opposition said a few words, but Mr. Mills seems to have profited by the experience of the bygone. He seemed to have seen that the constant practice of the Opposition of taking the United States side in every difference that arises between the two countries is not popular along the side-roads and concessions. So today he seemed to believe that the Opposition Administration towards the question. It was merely a change which expediency suggested. He urged that the Opposition licenses and the imposing of fees had no appearance of a surrender of their rights, on the contrary it was a vindication of the right of asserting their rights, and if their claim of sovereignty over the waters affected.

The particular question of the Atlantic fisheries was not now engaging the attention of the two countries, and it certainly would not be politic to interrupt good feeling and good neighborhood at this particular juncture. And he could say it was the desire of the Canadian Government that all outstanding differences between the two countries should be settled in a friendly manner.

The bill was read a second time.

MORE PARIS DYNAMITE OUTRAGES.

Works of the 13th Century Damaged—
The Government Says the Explosives Are the Work of Foreigners.

PARIS, March 15.—A violent explosion took place at 1.30 this morning in the Hotel de Ville. Considerable damage was done in the building, but no lives were lost.

Hundreds of windows were shattered and the walls of the barracks and other buildings bore the traces of the explosion.

Opposite the barracks stands the church of St. Germain. Many of the painted windows in the church were ground to atoms by the shock.

The windows are works of the 13th century. The loss arising from the damage they have suffered is irreparable.

In the Chamber of Deputies today M. Ricard, Minister of Justice and Public Worship, introduced a bill embodying a clause in the penal code, making the willful destruction of property by means of explosive punishable with death.

Replying to questions by several members, M. Ricard said that the explosion caused by anarchists were not the work of foreigners. He further said that preventive measures are now being taken which ought to ensure the safety of the inhabitants of Paris against such manifestations.

The portion of a cartridge found in the debris is composed of copper and zinc riveted together. The explosive matter which the cartridge contained was according to experts picrate potassium.

Another theft of dynamite cartridges has been discovered by the authorities, and this fact has greatly increased the prevailing uneasiness.

Officials at Chambéry, a city in the department of Savoie, miles distant from Geneva, found that a magazine at the place had been broken into and 32 of the dynamite cartridges stolen.

Dynamite in the Mail.
DUBLIN, March 15.—A large package of dynamite was found in last night's mail from Limerick to Tipperary. It was intended, evidently, to wreck the express, and there was enough of the explosive to blow the whole train to pieces.

A farmer's son named Harrigan, living near Limerick, has been arrested, but he protests his innocence.

No Love, No Life.
BERLIN, March 14.—Miss Margaret Schultz, the daughter of a wealthy family of East Prussian landowners, committed suicide after a quarrel with her lover near the Brandenburg Gate late yesterday afternoon.

Just beyond the Brandenburg Gate he told her that he had done with her. She immediately took a dose of strychnine from her pocket and swallowed it. She was taken to a physician's house, a few doors off, and died 10 minutes later.

THEY WANT TRUANT SCHOOLS

PETITION FROM THE BRANTFORD SCHOOL BOARD.

On somewhat similar lines to a Resolution—And of Cost—The Insurance Bill—At Last a New Fence for the Normal School.

When the House opened yesterday afternoon Mr. Hardy presented a petition from the Brantford Public School Board, which was signed by E. Sweet, chairman, and E. D. Passmore, secretary. The petitioners complained by recording their appreciation of the legislation recently passed by the Legislative Assembly in regard to compulsory school attendance and the punishment of truancy. There were, however, they contended, serious difficulties in the way of enforcing the legislation referred to. It was almost impossible under existing circumstances to realize the full benefit which would naturally accrue from the law, inasmuch as in a large number of instances where children were charged with truancy the parents were unable through poverty to comply with the law and on the other hand, truancy was a common character should not be admitted to the public schools.

The difficulties referred to, so the petitioners averred, would be readily obviated by the establishment of a separate class of sufficient industrial schools—similar in character to the Victoria at Montreal, which, in the opinion, was an excellent institution—to meet the requirements of the provision.

The basis upon which these schools might be established was indicated briefly and succinctly by the petitioners. They requested the provisions of the Act respecting industrial schools, as amended, that relate to the large expense entailed in inaugurating and maintaining such institutions in towns and cities similar to Brantford.

In view of the fact that such schools were semi-penal in their nature, as well as largely expensive, the petitioners requested the Minister of Education to cause to be submitted to the Legislature a bill to amend the Act respecting industrial schools, so that the expense entailed in such schools should be borne by the municipalities in which they were established.

The petitioners also requested that the municipalities be formed composed of a sufficient number of municipalities to each other and a school established in each. The expense entailed in such schools should be borne by the municipalities in which they were established.
