Rev. J. T. Brabner Smith, speaking before the Methodist Regional Church Council, St.Paul, said, "Every church should have a fund for newspaper advertising and every preacher should be taught the first principles of journalism. The time is coming when the church editor will have more space than the sporting editor. The next great revival will come when the press sets itself to redeem the world. Every preacher should co-operate with the newspaper. It is his best friend." So much from this preacher's point of view. Every news-paper is anxious to receive that co-operation from every minister in the way of news items, etc., that further operation from every minister in the way of news items, etc., that further community interest and progress, provided the minister does not get the idea that his co-operation con-sists solely of seeking all possible free publicity for his own organiza-tion that should be paid advertising.

The Parkhill Gazette says: "It is reported that it has been decided in Toronto to hand the highway which runs from Sarnia to Stratford via Arkona, Parkhill, Ailsa Craig, etc., back to the County and the munici-palities interested and to designate a provincial highway which will run through the southern part of the county via Strathroy. Delegations from the south have been visiting To-ronto, and it looks as if they have procured what they have been aftar for some time."

It Usually Disappears When the Blood is Made Rich and Red

Due to Thin Blood

Blood is Made Rich and Red Thin blood is one of the most com-mon causes of stomach trouble. It affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act dir-ectly on the blood, making it rich and tred, and this enriched blood streng-thens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles and awakens to normal act-ivity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. This is shown by an improved appetite, and soon the ef-fect of these blood enriching pills is evident throughout the whole sys-tem. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are vigorous instead of irritable and list-less. If your appetite is fickle, if you have any of the distressing pains and less. If your appetite is fickle, if you have any of the distressing pains and symptoms of indigestion, you should at once take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and profit by the better condition in which they will put your blood. The general opinion is it is "slop" like potatoes without salt, has no "kick" and those who want the punch in it find it is absolutely lacking. Had this 4.4 come on the market years ago the case might have been different, but today we have a generation who have quenched their thirst with "home brew" and alcohol, and this beverage fails to satisfy them. There are many who will not be sorry, and if in time this beverage satisfies the thirsty it may be a good thing for temperance although it is not the orthodox way of producing good results.

India Wants Swaraj "Swaraj" is a word heard from one end of India to another, and may portend some such change in the status of that Empire as has been brought about in Ireland. The desire in India for self-government is probably as great as was the desire in Ireland, and the tactics to bring it about will be the same as those employed in the green island. Indeed there is practically universal acceptance of the idea that India should be a selfgoverning dominion. . The only difference of opinion is to when the self-governing shall begin. The spokesmen for the British Government and the British classes in India say that the independence should be slowly established and by degrees, says a writer in the Toronto Mall and Empire. The young Indian pa-triots say that it should come at once. The moderate admit that it should not excite the moderate but the not arrive too suddenly, but that a beginning should be made at once. In other words the theory of selfgovernment for India has universal acceptance, and on that account it may be taken for granted that sooner nay be taken for granted that sooner or later India will have the same sort of government that Canada has. If not, it will become absolutely inde-pendent, at least for a time. Whether it would like absolute independence

While Gandhi is nother question. While Gandhi is not the leader of the Swara) party, that post being filled by Mr. C. R. Das, he is by far the greatest influence in India to-day. the greatest influence in India to-day. Indeed, it is perhaps no exaggeration to say, considering the populations involved, he is the most influential man in the world to-day. Gandhi fa head of the Non-Co-operationist party, the largest and most powerful of Indian national political parties. He does not accept the British rule. He protests against if, but he does not counsel violence. He says that British rule in India can only succeed if the Indian people co-operate to British rule in India can only succeed if the Indian people co-operate to make it possible. When their co-operation is withdrawn, the British, too, must withdraw. The Swarajists have the same ultimate object as the Non-Co-operationists, but they believe in taking a hand in affairs. They are in favor of electing their mem-bers to office for the purpose of ob-structing government. They take as their model the campaign that Par-nell carried on with his Nationalists in the British House of Parliament. A third party, the Liberais, is against both obstruction and non-cooperation, while holding to the ideal of ultimate independence.

It is easy enough to give a dictionary interpretation of the word "swaraj," but not so simple to say precisely what it connotes. Selfgovernment is a synonym for it an a political term, but there is spiritual swaraj, too. This means mastery over one's self, chastity, poverty, truthfulness, fearlessness, non-vio-To some it means responsilence. bility of the public servant to the people; popular control over the law, the police, the revenue. Those who go to jail in pursuance of their policy of non-co-operation are said to have attained swaraj. Gandhi himself said that swaraj means complete freedom of opinion and action with-out interference of another's right to equal freedom of opinion and action. Therefore it means India's complete control of sources of revenue and expenditure without any interference from any other country. The Na-tional Legislative Assembly at Delhi may be said to be swarajist since it recommended by a great majority that the British Government should establish full responsible government of in India. But the Government of India, not being responsible to the National Assembly has failed to take appropriate action. The Government says this demand for swaraj is all very well and good. But what will be the attitude of a suit what will be the attritute of a self-governing Indian toward the na-tive States? What about the ques-tion of defence? "Full Dominion status," said Sir Malcolm Hailey, the former leader of the House, and now Governor of Punjab, "means a Dom-inion army under full control of the Dominion Government, and I have not yet seen any serious thinker who has pretended that India is yet in a position, or will in the immediate future be in a position, to create a Dominion army in the proper sense of the word." Again the Government points out that full Dominion selfgovernment cannot be granted as long as there is such a lack of mutual understanding between the Mo-hammedans and Hindus. Assuming such a reform were granted now, the minority communities would suffer, and the result would be inter-communal fights and chaos. For lingering indefinitely in India the British Government has ample excuse, apart altogether from finan-cial considerations. Before British rule was established the various tribes in India fought as ferociously as native tribes in Africa or Indian tribes on the construct. Structures was foreign, of course, but it was rule, and it was no more foreign to most of the tribes than the rule es-tablished by conquest, of any other Indian tribe. There is a general belief that if British authority were withdrawn there would ensue a tor-rible conflict between the Moham-medans and the Hindus. World opinion would condemn Great Bri-tain if by any action or inaction on its part a struggle between these two religious elements were precipitated. Millions of lives might be sectified and the substance of good govern-ment exchanged for the shadow of freedom and swaraj. freedom and swaraj. Haig and Gompers.

With the June Brides

McCORMICK-RANKIN

A very pretty wedding took place at high noon on Saturday at James st. Union Church, Forest, when Lil-lian Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. han Irene, dagneter of Mr. and Mrs Dan Rankin, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Cecil McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick, War-wick, Rev.S. Anderson performed the ceremony and Miss Lorna Luckham of Glencoe played the wedding music. The bride who was given away by of Glencoe played the wedding music. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a French gown of white georgette trimmed with crystal beads. Her long white veil of embroidered net was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower boquet of lily of the valley and Ophelia roses, and wore the groom's gift a rope of pearls. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Freda Rankin, who wore a dress of peach colored georgette, gold lace trim-mings and hat to match and carried a boquet of roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Tom McCornick.

with corsage boquet of Sunset roses and sweet peas, was attended by her sister. Miss Florence Williams, dress-ed in peach silk crepe, also carrying sweet peas and roses, while Mr. Geo. Hall acted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the diningroom which was tastefully decorated in pink and white and partook of a dainty wedding feast after which Mr. and Mrs. Hall left by motor amid showers of confetti and good wishes for London and points east. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Sarnia township.

GRAHAM-KENNEDY

GRAHAM—KENNEDY One of the loveliest of June brides was Miss Ulah Bernice Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kennedy, Wortley road, London, whose marriage to Mr. Eric Graham, son of Major, the Rev. Archibald Graham and Mrs. Graham of Chesley formerly of London, took place Sat-urday afternoon, June 20th, at 2.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Donald McIntosh of Ingersoll, cousin of the bride, per-formed the ceremony, assisted 'by Major Graham.

Arkona sang "I Love You Truly." A redect as ushers. During the signing of the register Dr. Woods of Arkona sang "I Love You Truly." A redeption was held immediately fol-lowing the ceremony, at the home of the bride's martia. BADLY BURNED IN GAS EXPLOSION

John Clark and Harry Adams Also Suffer When Well Gas Blows Up

Three persons were badly burned near Inwood Saturday in a gas ex-plosion. John Clark, who owns a farm a short distance from that village, operates a milk route in the village, and im his milk house, he has a water well to keep his milk cool. There had and is his milk house, he has a water well to keep his milk cool. There had been gas escaping from the well and he had taken some steps to utilize the gas in connection with the milk busi-ness. Mr. and Mrs. Clark and her father, Harry Adams, were in the building when Mr. Clark lit his nipe. When the match was struck the ex-plosion blew out a door which opens on the inside. The clothes of all three were ignited, Mrs. Clark in her fright running from the blaze. The two men, with presence of mind, roll-ed in the grass and then extinguished Mrs. Clark's burning clothes by, throwing water on her. The milk house which also caught fire, was put out by Mr. Clark. Dr. P. R. Urie of Inwood was called and although the men were burned about the arms their injuries are slight. Mrs. Clark did not fare so well as practically her entire body was burned. She was re-moved to the C. E. E, hospital, Pet-rolia, where it is reported she is rest-ingeasier.
