JUSTICE IS ASKED FOR
BY GERMANY AND TURKEY

Prince Maximilian, New German Chancellor, Sends Note To President Wilson
Requesting Immediate Consideration of an Armistice on Land and Water and in the Air, and Invites All Belligerent States To Send Plenipotentiaries
For the Purpose of Opening Negotiations.

PEACE MOVE IS SNEEZED AT
BECAUSE GERMANY IS BEATEN

France Demands Unconditional Surrender and Says Armistice is Not Possible at Point Where Allies Are

Paris, Oct. 6.—Unconditional surrender characterizes the general comment in Paris on the demand for peace sent by the central powers to President Wilson. It is felt here that Germany and her allies have not gone far enough in their request to the president for an armistice, and that, although there have been some indications of willingness to talk peace on President Wilson's plans, they have not shown submission, such as was forced upon Bulgaria.

BERLIN STOCK EXCHANGE PANIC
THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE RUINED

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Discussing the disastrous fall in prices on the Berlin Stock Exchange, The Munich Post says: "The house of cards built up by speculators with mining, shipping and armament securities has collapsed at a blast of wind from the east. The great banks tried to stop the fall by large buying, but despite this effort all speculative securities were soon struck off the lists of quotation. All buyers had disappeared. The consequence of this disastrous day will not be seen until the public is in a position to realize the extent of its losses. Thousands of existences are menaced, for even the most modest savings had been entrusted to the demon of speculation."

Text of the German Note

Amsterdam, Oct. 6.—The text of the note forwarded by the imperial German chancellor, Prince Maximilian, to President Wilson thru the Swiss Government follows:

"The German Government requests the President of the United States to take in hand the restoration of peace, acquaint all the belligerent states of this request and invite them to send plenipotentiaries for the purpose of opening negotiations.

"It accepts the program set forth by the President of the United States in his message to congress on Jan. 8, and his later pronouncements, especially his speech of Sept. 27, as a basis for peace negotiations.

"With a view to avoiding further bloodshed the German Government requests the immediate consideration of an armistice on land and water and in the air."
It is announced that Turkey will take a similar step.

WITHDRAWALS
BY GERMANS
IN PROGRESS

Two Important Retirements Reported From Cambrai and Rheims Sectors.
ANOTHER ONE COMING
Increasing Indications of Probable Falling Back in Douai Section.

London, Oct. 6.—Two important enemy retirements are in progress. The first of these is on a seven-mile front south of Cambrai. It is due to British pressure from the south in the direction of Le Cateau and has amounted to between one and two miles. It is expected that this retirement will have as its sequel the abandonment of Cambrai.
The other withdrawal is in the Rheims salient, where, as a result of pressure in both directions, east and west, the enemy is continuing to evacuate ground. He has abandoned the two important ridges of Moronvillers and Nogent L'Abbesse. The Germans thus have shortened their lines by 10 miles and strengthened their position by putting the river between themselves and the French.

AUSTRIA NOTIFIED OF GERMANY'S NOTE

Foreign Minister Assures Prince Maximilian of Loyal Co-operation.

Amsterdam, Oct. 6.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, the German chancellor, has sent a telegram to Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, according to a Vienna despatch, saying:
"The glorious deeds of our armies and the determination of our peoples to defend themselves in loyal co-operation with their governments, will, with God's help, lead us to an honorable peace."

British Troops
Take Fresnoy

Also Gain Additional Ground in Vicinity of Aubeneul.
London, Oct. 6.—The British troops in Sunday's fighting captured the Town of Fresnoy, west of Douai, and also gained additional ground in the vicinity of Aubeneul-aux-Bois, according to Field Marshal Haig's communication issued tonight.

Peace Speech Made by New German Chancellor

The text of the address of Prince Maximilian of Baden, the new imperial chancellor of Germany, outlining his policies to the reichstag Saturday, follows:

"In accordance with the imperial decree of Sept. 30, the German Empire has undergone a basic alteration of its political leadership.

"As successor to Count George F. von Hertling, whose services in behalf of the fatherland deserve the highest acknowledgment, I have been summoned by the emperor to lead the new government.

"In accordance with the governmental method now introduced, I submit to the reichstag, publicly and without delay, the principles upon which I propose to conduct the grave responsibilities of the office.

"These principles were firmly established by the agreement of the federated governments and the leaders of the majority parties in this honorable house before I decided to assume the duties of chancellor. They contain, therefore, not only my own confession of political faith, but that of an overwhelming portion of the German people's resolves, that is, of the German nation, which has constituted the recharging on the basis of a general, equal and secret franchise, and according to their will. Only the fact that I know the conviction and will of the majority of the people are back of me has given me strength to take upon myself conduct of the empire's affairs in this hard and earnest time in which we are living.

"One man's shoulders would be too weak to carry alone the tremendous responsibility which falls upon the government at present. Only if the people take active part, in the broadest sense of the word, in deciding their destinies in other words, if responsibility also extends to the majority of their freely-elected political leaders, can the leading statesman confidently assume his part of the responsibility in the service of folk and fatherland.

Support of Labor.
"My resolve to do this has been especially lightened for me by the fact that prominent leaders of the laboring class have found a way in the new government to the highest offices of the empire. I see therein a sure guarantee that the new government will be supported by the firm confidence of the broad masses of the people, without whose true support the whole undertaking would be condemned to failure in advance. Hence what I say today, I say not only in my own name and those of my official helpers, but in the name of the German people.

International Policies.
"In the matter of international policies I have taken a clear stand thru the manner in which the formation of the government was brought about. Upon my motion leaders of the majority parties were summoned for direct advice. It was my conviction, gentlemen, that unity of imperial leadership should be assured not only thru mere schismatic party allegiance by the different members of the government. I considered almost still more important the unity of ideas. I proceeded from this viewpoint and have, in making my selections, laid greatest weight on the fact that the members of the new imperial government stand on a basis of a just peace of justice, regardless of the war situation, and that they have openly declared this to be their standpoint at the time when we stood at the height of our military successes.

"I am convinced that the manner in which imperial leadership is now constituted with the co-operation of the reichstag is not something ephemeral, and that when peace comes a government cannot again be formed which does not find support in the reichstag and does not draw its leaders therefrom.

"The war has conducted us beyond the old multifarious and disrupted party life which made it so difficult to put into execution a uniform and decisive political wish. The formation of a majority means the formation of a political will, and an indisputable result of the war has been that in Germany, for the first time, great parties have joined together in a firm, harmonious program and have thus come into position to determine for themselves the fate of the people.

"The program of the majority parties upon which I take my stand contains, first, an acceptance of the answer of the former imperial government to Pope Benedict's note of Aug. 1, 1916, and an unconditional acceptance of the reichstag resolution of July of the same year. It declares willingness to join a general league of nations based upon the foundation of equal rights for all, both strong and weak.

Rehabilitation of Belgium.
"it considers this solution of the Belgian question to be in the complete rehabilitation (Wiederherstellung) of Belgium and territorial integrity. An effort shall also be made to reach an understanding on the question of indemnity.

"The program will not permit the peace treaties hitherto concluded to be a hindrance to the conclusion of a general peace.

"Its particular aim is that popular representative bodies shall be formed immediately on a broad basis in the Baltic provinces, in Lithuania and Poland. We will promote the realization of necessary preliminary conditions, therefore, without delay by the introduction of civil rule. All the lands shall regulate their constitutions and their relations with neighboring peoples without external interference.

"This thought will never die. This development will never be retraced, and I trust that as long as Germany's fate is riddled about by dangers, those sections of the people outside the majority parties and whose representatives do not belong to the government, will put aside all that separates us, and will give the fatherland what is the fatherland's: a development necessitates an alteration of our constitution's provisions along the lines of the imperial decree of September 20, which shall make it possible that those members of the reichstag who entered the government will retain their seats in the reichstag. A bill to this end has been submitted to the federal states, and will immediately be made the object of their consideration and decision.

All German Parties.
"Gentlemen, let us remember the words spoken by the emperor on August 4, 1914, which I permitted myself to paraphrase last December at Karlsruhe:
" 'There are in fact parties, but they are all German parties.' " (Applause.)
"Political developments in Prussia, the principal German federal state, must proceed in the spirit of these words of the emperor, and the message of the King of Prussia promising the democratic franchise must be fulfilled quickly and completely. (Applause.)
" I do not doubt, also, that those federal states which still lag behind, the development of the constitutional conditions will resolutely follow Prussia's example. (Applause.)

to look to the future with confidence. But just because we are inspired by this feeling and the conviction that it is also our duty to make certain that the bloody struggle be not protracted for a single day beyond the moment when a close of the war seems possible to us, which does not affect our honor, I have, therefore, not waited until today to take a step to further the idea of peace.

"Supported by the consent of all our allies acting in concert with us, I sent on the night of Oct. 4-5, thru the mediation of Switzerland, a note to the president of the United States, in which I requested him to take up the bringing about of peace and to communicate to this end with all the belligerent states.

"The note will reach Washington today or tomorrow. It is directed to the president of the United States, because he, in his message to congress on January 8, 1918, and in his later proclamations, particularly in his New York speech on Sept. 27, has made it clear that he is ready to take any step which we can accept as a basis for negotiations.

The Salvation of Germany.
"I have taken this step, not only for the salvation of Germany and its allies, but of all humanity, which has been suffering for years thru the war.

"I have taken it also because I believe, the thoughts reared in the cradle of the nation, which were proclaimed by Mr. Wilson, are in accord with the basic principles of the German imperial government, and with it the overwhelming majority of our people.

"So far as I am personally concerned, in earlier speeches to other assemblies, my hearers will testify that the conception which I hold of a future peace has undergone no change since I was entrusted with the leadership of the empire's affairs.

"I see, hence, no distinction whatever between the national and international mandates of duty in respect of peace. For the deciding factor is solely that all participants shall with equal honesty accept and respect them, as is the case with me and with the other members of our new government. And so, with an inner peace, which my clear conscience as a man and as a servant of the people gives me, and which rests at the same time upon firm faith in this great and true people, this people, capable of every devotion, and upon their glorious armed power, I await the outcome of the first action which I have taken as the leading statesman of the empire.

Germany's Resolve.
"Whatever this outcome may be, I know it will find Germany firmly resolved and united, either for an upright peace, which rejects every selfish violation of the rights for life and death to which our people would be forced without our own fault, if the answer to the note of the powers opposed to us should be dictated by a will to destroy us.

"I do not despair over the thought that this second alternative may come, I know that the incontrovertible conviction that they were only fighting for our life as a nation would double these powers. (Applause.)
" I hope, however, for the sake of all mankind that the President of the United States will receive our offer as we mean it. Then the door would be opened to a speedy, honorable peace and reconciliation for us, as well as for our opponents."

ALIED ARMIES PRESS ONWARD TO VICTORY ON ALL FRONTS

While Germans Clamor For Peace, War Proceeds Heavily Against Them—Enemy Prepares To Evacuate Western Belgium.

New York, Oct. 6.—The Associated Press tonight issued the following: "While Germany and Austria-Hungary are clamoring for peace the entente allied governments thus far are paying scant attention to the proposals, but they are gradually moving forward to further victories on all fronts. Officially no cognizance has yet been taken of the request of Prince Maximilian of Baden, the new German chancellor, or that of the Austro-Hungarian Government for an armistice on land, on sea and in the air, and the commencement of peace negotiations for France and Great Britain. The dual, and highly similar, proposals are addressed is not yet in receipt of them.

The battlefronts the Germans everywhere are being forced to give ground to the allied troops. In Belgium the enemy is gradually being pushed eastward, and in anticipation of a forced final withdrawal is continuing to make ready for this, eventually by removing his guns and thus lessening the value of his defensive works in the territory upon and adjacent to the front. To the south, from Arras to the Verdun sector, the Germans are being hard pressed by the British, American, Italian and French forces, and, although numerous sectors they still are offering desperate resistance, they seemingly are unable to do more than retard the advance of their foes. Douai, south of Lens, is almost enveloped, and Cambrai has been further endangered thru the capture of the village of Aubeneul and Bois, five miles to the southeast, where more than 1000 German were made prisoner. Hard fighting has taken place around Montebrehain and Beaufort. In this immediate vicinity, where the Germans have brought up fresh reserves in an endeavor to keep the fighting men from cutting the highly important St. Quentin-Le Cateau road, from which they now are but a step. Both Beaufort and Montebrehain are now in British hands.

Italian and French forces are being defeated over wide areas by the French and Americans from Rheims to the Argonne Forest. In the latter sector, the French have begun an offensive which seemingly has as its objective the finishing of the work previously begun by the French in the obliteration of Le Pere and Leon. Here they have captured, in storming operations, important and strongly held German positions. In the vicinity of the Argonne, the fighting is being pressed against them from three sides.

Thru the latest operations of the French around Rheims, the cathedral city seems definitely liberated from the German menace, for there they have materially reduced the enemy's position. Likewise eastward thru Champagne to the Argonne Forest the French and Americans have fought

RHEIMS IS REDEEMED

Victorious Attacks by French and Americans Force Germans to Make a General Retirement.

With the French Army in France, Oct. 6.—French troops have gained a footing north of the River Arnes, on the eastern wing of the battle zone in Champagne, while northeast of Rheims they are in close pursuit of the Germans toward the valley of the Suippe, which they will, in all probability, reach soon over an extended area.

The salient running north from the region of Le Mans and yesterday's advance, has been reduced considerably by the capture of the entire group of heights around Nogent L'Abbesse. At noon the troops had taken possession of the south bank of the Suippe as far west as St. Marceaux, while Gen. Berthelot's forces had occupied Pommacle, had reached Aumencourt-le-Petit and advanced their lines to south of Bouit-sur-Suippe.

To the east the enemy resists with the greatest stubbornness north of the Arnes River and along the Liry, Orteil-St. Etienne line. From Aumencourt westward the line at last reports ran westward to Sapienval near the junction of the Aisne Canal and the Aisne River.

Some of the French troops having crossed the Aisne have reached the wooded heights to the north, which must give anxiety to the Germans over the security of their line parallel with the Suippe, which crosses the Aisne a little to the north-west of the junction of the two rivers.

Further west the Italians, operating their way forward in struggles, capturing numerous villages, crossing the Aisne Canal and pursuing the enemy along the entire front of the Suippe and Arnes rivers, both of which have been crossed at several points.

In the Macedonian theatre the allied troops have compelled the Austrians to withdraw from the El Basan sector and other positions, while in Vranje, central Serbia, the French and Serbian troops have captured several important positions. In the latter region the enemy is retiring northward in disorder.

German Artillery Displays Some Activity in Flanders

Paris, Oct. 6.—A Belgian official statement says: "In Flanders the enemy artillery has been active to a certain extent, but there has been no infantry action. Ten enemy airplanes were brought down, and three balloons burned."

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

By requesting President Wilson to institute general peace negotiations on the basis of his former declarations of war aims, and by being for a truce on land, sea and air, Germany is revealing to the world how far he has "the military situation has become. The events of the past few days clearly show the growing weakness of the German position. In Belgium the enemy has to evacuate a large strip of territory, and he is even burning the Bruges docks. His new line will run about six miles east of Bruges. The British have created a new front around Douai. The town is in flames, and the enemy cannot hold his position there much longer. At the head in the great German salient, the Italian contingent serving with the French army has begun an attack with an initial success against Leon, one of the important German pivots in France. Further eastward the French have thrown the enemy from the line of heights overlooking Rheims and have at last put the enemy beyond range of German guns. In the Champagne the enemy has retired on a front of 25 miles, and has probably turned that new line. In the region between the Argonne and the Meuse the Americans have further injured the German military organization by slipping off a number of small salients.

The British have advanced on a seven-mile front south of Cambrai, reached the canal of Haut Denle on the front east of Armentieres and Lens, have compelled the Germans to hasten their evacuation of Lille, have flattened several salients including Fresnoy Village, north of the Scarpe, and have about rendered untenable the City of Cambrai. The fighting has been hard, but the Germans are invariably losing every action. The enemy retirement before the British promises soon to become general, but the close pressure against his front will make a retrograde extremely dangerous. The line in the regions of Cambrai, St. Quentin and La Fere must also be held by the Germans at all costs until they complete their retirement in the south from the region of Leon to Verdun. Accordingly, the present British operations are serving chiefly as a grand-stand for the German army.

In Macedonia the allies have resumed their offensive against the German and Austrian troops, who were left in an extremely weak position by the Bulgarian armistice. In Albania the French and Serbs have compelled the Austrians to withdraw from the strong defences of El Basan to points beyond the confluence of Skumbi and Langaftha. They have also driven the enemy from Dibra. Berlin announces that the Germans, left without supporters, have made a retirement. This news is significant, for it betrays the claims of Berlin that Germany was prepared to continue her occupation of strategic points in the Balkans. In fact, the Turkish army apparently suffered another disaster in the region north of Damascus, for Berlin troops, in company with the Turkish troops in that region. It has to be a pretty severe disaster before Berlin admits any retrograde, as in these things together with the allied progress in France, that are responsible for the indescribable panics on the Berlin stock exchange.

Previous German requests for peace negotiations have had mainly as their motive the furtherance of German military designs; the present German request for peace negotiations has as its first and foremost object the securing of an armistice. She has powerful reasons for wanting an armistice, for her troops are beginning to feel like whipped curs, and the Kaiser and his military advisers are beginning to perceive that the allies have it in their power shortly to invade Germany. The American army which the German military leaders would not believe to be of any fighting value, has proved an efficient and hard-hitting war machine. The two million American soldiers in France give the allies the required military force to proceed rapidly towards the finishing of the war. Germany needs an armistice to save herself from early disarming by the action of the allies in the field. The Kaiser, moreover, has just had an example of what happens to defeated rulers. The subjects of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria have compelled him to abdicate the throne. Kaiser William dreads a similar compulsion by his defeated and disillusioned subjects. The allies have ripped open the line of the Danube; they are beginning to hold the key to the strategic position in Europe. As Germany could not afford Bulgaria adequate military assistance, it seems certain that she cannot afford Austria adequate military assistance to protect Hungary, Bohemia, besides, is about to declare her independence. Civil war in Austria will contribute to the fall of the Hapsburg throne.

"On the right the French have occupied the village of Faverger-sur-Suippe.

"On the Arnes River, French advanced elements outflanked the wooded crest to the north of the stream. Several hundred prisoners were captured yesterday and last night.

"South of the Aisne River, Italian units operating in the region of Oteil and Soupir (south of Leon), after storming important supporting positions of Soupir, including the village of Soupir, fought sharp battles yesterday on the plateau to the north-east. The Italians, after heavy fighting, conquered trenches strongly held by the Germans on the height of the Croix Sans Tete, and the Metz Farm.

"North of St. Quentin the fighting continues with stubbornness in the region of Leadsins, where the French have made further progress to the east of that city.

Third and Final Instalment 1918 Taxes.

(1) Ratepayers are reminded that Tuesday, October 15th, will be the last day to make payment of the third and final instalment of 1918 taxes without penalty; after that date five per cent will be added to all amounts unpaid, and, later, in addition to this five per cent, interest will be charged at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

(2) By making payment now, taxpayers avoid the rush on the last day, 15th October, and the possibility of entirely overlooking payment.

(3) If payment is made by cheque, the cheque must be "marked" by the bank, have war stamp affixed, and be payable at par in Toronto to the order of the "City Treasurer."

(4) If payment is made in cash, the exact amount of change should be tendered; this will prevent delay.

(5) Receipts for taxes sent by mail will be forwarded as speedily as possible, if stamped and addressed "return envelope" accompanies remittance.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC, CHILDREN ENJOY VIOLIN RECITAL

It was a kindly thought on the part of the Hamilton Conservatory to admit so many children to the Max Fleishman recital in Massey Hall on Saturday afternoon. For, in addition to providing a stimulus to those naturally inclined, the entire program was so evidently enjoyed and followed with an interest which suggests that Toronto youngsters are not devoid of appreciation of good music.

The talented young violinist, who made his first reappearance last year spent in New York, has gained in firmness of tone and expression and has not as yet acquired any of the exaggerated motions common to some players.

It is the opening numbers Professor Jan Hambrugg joined with his pupils in three duets by Bach, Vivaldi and Allegro, all of which provided good illustration of the young player's firmness of touch and perfect time. Of these three, however, his playing was particularly good in the Largo, entering sympathetically into the various expressions.

Alberto Guerrero, who assisted the recital with three piano selections gave the Erl King, Schubert-Liszt, and two by Liszt—Study in D flat and Fantasia E Major. His playing was brilliant and expressive.

ALLIED ARMY MUST OCCUPY GERMANY

Then There Will Be Basis for Peace, Say Officials of the Veterans.

The allied forces should remain in Germany until that country has made full reparation for the damage inflicted upon Belgium, northern France, Serbia and Rumania, said W. E. Murray, provincial secretary of the V. V. A. for Ontario, last night, referring to the German request for an armistice and general peace upon the fourteen principles outlined by President Wilson in January, this year. "By this action the allied peoples would be able to impress upon the German people the necessity of making reparation at the earliest opportunity."

"This is very fine news," said J. V. Murray, secretary of the reorganization committee of the Toronto and Ontario V. V. A. "But, my only hope, and I am sure that I am voicing the opinion of every returned soldier in Canada, is that the allies will accept no terms until the entente army under Marshal Foch is in occupation throughout Germany, and the terms dictated in Berlin. Not only should this army be in occupation; it should also take every concentration camp, and should definitely punish the guilt of the astardly crimes against the conquered territories, Belgium, Serbia and Rumania, and also against the thousands of prisoners of war who have been tortured and allowed to die in agony and misery in indescribable hovels. I am equally certain that the returned men either in Britain, France or Canada believe in this army of occupation, so that it may be definitely established to the German people that the allies are the victors, and not the Hun."

Geo. Murrell, secretary of Central G. W. V. A., believed that it would be the height of folly to accept any terms without understanding fully every consideration involved. "It might be feasible," said Comrade Murrell, "to accept terms of peace from Austria and Hungary, take over their railway communications and to prepare for the last lap of the war, the surrender of the Hohenzollern house and its last princely principles."

James T. Gunn, a well known member of the Labor Party, stated that it was difficult to see what the allies could do if Germany accepted the terms laid down by President Wilson. "As I see it," he said, "the question is whether the allies will consider peace terms before the evacuation of the territories now occupied by Germany. Perhaps it is true, as suggested, that the allies should be in occupation of Germany while negotiations are in progress, but nothing indicated that need in the principles laid down by President Wilson."

"ERA OF ENORMITIES" IS PREACHER'S VERDICT

"What era has equaled the present in the multitude of its enormities, the wealth of its spiritual fervor?" asked Rev. William Cackerson, of the Church last night in an address upon the advent of Christ. "More people are starving to death than are being killed on the field of battle, and pestilence is on all lands. Thousands of men and women are ill with the Spanish influenza in their own land. The powers that be are closing our churches and our schools in some places, but I quite realize it would be too much to ask them to shut down on the street cars which bunch all manners of men and women together into sandwiches."

PEACE MOVE INDICATES A DEFEATED NATION

That the latest peace move on the part of Germany was an indication that she was a defeated nation seeking peace by negotiation, which could not be procured after an absolute and final defeat on the field of battle, was a statement made last night at Walmer Road Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. John MacNeill, B.A. "We must not allow ourselves to be stampeded in this matter," said Dr. MacNeill. "It is another of the more direct subtle moves which is characteristic of the powers at Potsdam."

NO BARGAIN WITH GERMANY.

Sir Robert Falconer at Convocation Hall Says It Would Be Mistake.

That faith in better things was necessary today as at no other epoch in the history of the world, was the gist of the opening address of the Convocation Hall series delivered on Sunday by Sir Robert Falconer, president of the University of Toronto. A change was coming into the world, said Sir Robert. It was the duty of all to set a goal for the generations to come. Touching upon the question of peace, Sir Robert stated that after reading the reports of the commission which investigated the German atrocities in the South African colonies one was driven to the conclusion that it would be inadvisable on the part of the allies to bargain with Germany in respect to anything, but especially in respect to subject races. Touching further upon the question of peace, President Falconer stated that the 14 principles laid down by President Wilson had omitted, to definition, state how reparation could be made to the countries ravaged by the Hun. The latest offers showed that Germany had experienced a change of heart, but the real nature of that change was still in question.

LIARS, TRAITORS, MURDERERS.

Rev. Dr. Milner Would Have No Dealings With the Germans.

Mrs. Victoria Booth Clibborn Deane, granddaughter of the late General Booth of the Salvation Army, preached in the Bond Street Congregational Church yesterday. Commenting on the German peace offer, Dr. Milner, who spoke in the evening, brought a storm of applause from his congregation when he said negotiations should not be carried on with the present German Government. It was an injustice, he said, to even consider terms of peace while the German soldiers were committing their atrocities in France and Belgium. He would have no peace with liars, liars and murderers, and yet hoped to see the ideals of Christianity prevail over the selfish philosophy of German Kultur.

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 7.

What She Wants.

The significant thing of the news yesterday is that Germany has asked for an armistice.

Germany's Crawl.

Pressure on the German armies in France and Belgium has been so exorbitant that the will-to-power has at last had to confess its weakness and ask for an armistice.

The only possible answer from the Entente Alliance is the answer that was given to Bukovina, a week ago—unconditional surrender.

The German chancellor says he is willing to negotiate on the basis of President Wilson's terms for peace. But these terms were not a basis for negotiation. They were of the nature of an ultimatum, and President Wilson, who formulated them, will interpret them—not Germany.

Chancellor Maximilian's terms include a return of the German colonies, the erection of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg into a buffer state, and other things that the allies cannot consider.

Germany is beaten on the battlefield, and another month of such fighting as has been going on recently would scatter her forces like chaff.

That Germany is still unrepentant is evident from her conduct in setting fire to Douai, from which she had withdrawn yesterday. The ruin and devastation she has poured out over France and Belgium she would now avert from her own cities by a peace concluded west of the Rhine.

Another White Flag Agency.

To describe Germany's proposals for an armistice in which to discuss peace terms on the basis of President Wilson's statement, nothing better could be had than the phrase of The Paris Tamps—a white flag stratagem. Again and again on the battlefield the Germans have raised the white flag and then shot down the men who trusted that symbol and rose to meet them.

No one can desire peace more earnestly than we do, but it must be a real peace, and not the semblance of one which would lead to another conflict for ourselves or our children.

This is one of the main features of the proposals. They are intended to save the Kaiser's neck. They follow immediately on the intimation of France last week that parallel destruction will be visited on the Rhine towns of Germany for every act of devastation committed against the defenseless towns of France and Belgium.

The German power was broken at the end of July, and another month of fighting will dissipate the German armies. The Kaiser wishes to stave off that event, and has put up his new chancellor to sing the old song to a new tune.

Fuel Saving.

Very few of the suggestions for saving fuel appear to be practical. If there is a real desire to save, however, a great deal can be done.

Suppose these people resolved not to light their furnaces before December 1, or if the weather did not become severe, not until Christmas week, what would be the result?

Many houses are built with grates in the living room now, and such houses the furnace may remain unlighted till the water-pipes are threatened by frost.

A little discomfort may be experienced in saving fuel, but it is a slight thing compared with what the boys go thru at the front.

The Police Commission Report.

If the police commissioners are in any doubt about whom they should report to they can address their findings to the press. They will undoubtedly reach everybody who is interested by this channel.

One of the commissioners observed that it was undoubtedly strange that men should have been clubbed and that no policeman would admit that he was near the place where the clubbing occurred.

In a case of this sort there must be discipline. If false swearing can on this occasion relieve the guilty parties of any punishment, the commissioners will for ever have placed a premium on false swearing.

WOULD REORGANIZE GALT'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Galt, Oct. 6.—Public School Inspector L. Norman has recommended reorganization of Galt's public school system because of light classes in the three upper grades and exceptionally heavy classes in the three lower grades.

ST. JOHN LIKELY TO BE A GOVERNMENT PORT

St. John, N.B., Oct. 6.—Speaking before the Canadian Club here on Saturday, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said that he was heartily in sympathy with the proposal that the government should take over the port of St. John as one of the country's most important national ports.

RUSSIAN FLEET MANNED TO HOLD DARDANELLES

Amsterdam, Oct. 6.—The Russian battleship Volga and a number of other naval units completed during the war, which have been under German control, have been handed by the Germans in agreement with the Moscow government, according to a despatch from Berlin.

ST. THOMAS IS JOYFUL.

St. Thomas, Oct. 6.—The news of Germany's backdown was received with joy today in St. Thomas, and joyfully celebrated. The church bells rang out the glad tidings. The whistles of the railway shops were blown, and the telephone lines were busy carrying the news.

CAUGHT GUN BY MUZZLE.

Belleville, Oct. 6.—Lawrence Goyer of this city yesterday, while duck shooting, caught up a gun by the muzzle and it was discharged, with the result that his left hand was badly mangled.

FIFTEEN LASHES AND JAIL.

Belleville, Oct. 6.—Clarence Cook, a young man, was yesterday sentenced by Police Magistrate Mason of this city to three months in jail and to receive 15 lashes for an indecent assault on a clergyman's wife whose husband is overseas as a chaplain.

JAP CABINET INSTALLED.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—The installation today of the new cabinet headed by Takashi Hara, leader of the Seiyukai party, marked an epoch in Japanese constitutional history. It is the first ministry presided over by a commoner, and is based on the system of parties.

THE WIFE By JANE PHELPS

Claude Ruthy Succeeds in Spoiling Beckly's Evening.

"The good" Ruth heard Brian say under his breath, then, as a wave of crimson dyed his face, he said: "Mollie has some business that I am looking after for her and it saves time if I do it at luncheon instead of when I might be seeing someone else."

He realized that in view of what Claude Beckly had said, it was a lame explanation. While it had really been more than an hour since Beckly had seen them—albeit now Ruth would believe that—she had sat over the luncheon all the afternoon.

Ruth felt somewhat. Her things business, remained away from the office the entire afternoon, to be with Mollie King.

"How did I know your boss was going to give you the afternoon?" "I have to lunch somewhere every day. I can always take an hour—of a little more. When you have time to go to a really nice place, I wish you would call me up and ask me to meet you."

"All right," she said, "I will be there about 11. He had been afraid of a scene. Yet, knowing Ruth, he should have known she would make no account of public places. Perhaps when they got home he'd catch it. How he hated that fool, Beckly. Meddlesome boob."

"The waiter came with their orders, and while Brian ate what he had ordered he noticed that Ruth scarcely ate a thing. And she had told him she was hungry." She asked for coffee with her dinner and drank two strong cups, something she never had done before, and consequently Brian looked upon it as an added proof that she was trying to hold back the lecture he was to get when they reached home—she was bracing up on coffee. So he expressed it in his thoughts.

In one way he was right. Ruth trembled so she could scarcely control herself. She appeared indifferent when she was so furiously jealous, was hard. She had asked for the coffee to help steady her nerves.

Ruth slept but wonder, as she pretended to eat, and occasionally made a remark about something new she had seen. Brian had no money, that he was "broke" as he had told her before they left home. She had given him ten dollars the night before, perhaps he had not found it. He had on the same clothes. She would ask him. It wasn't the money. If he had spent it, every cent, or himself, she would have laughed at him for his boyish foolishness; but to take the money she had earned—how should she approach the subject? She couldn't ask him point-blank if he had done as she suspected.

She tried to chat unconcernedly about some people near them, and Brian was so thankful for her forbearance that he seconded her in such a way that they both breathed more easily.

"The dinner as ordered would take about all of the five dollars, including tip." "I believe I could eat a baked

REGULATIONS ISSUED FOR SALE OF GASOLINE

All Persons Dealing in It Must Be Licensed, and Sunday Sales Barred During War.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Fuel Controller Magrath announces regulations have been approved by the governor-general-in-council to control the wholesale and retail sale of gasoline in Canada. The regulations provide for the licensing of all persons who deal in gasoline in Canada and certain fees are prescribed based on the volume of gasoline sold during the previous year.

Provision is also made for the keeping of certain sales records, and all retailers of gasoline are called upon to post in their places of business the wholesale and retail cost of gasoline handled by them. One important provision of the regulations is that maximum prices are prescribed for establishments selling gasoline in quantities over a thousand gallons a month. Profits are based on a ten per cent advance over the wholesale cost delivered.

These regulations mark the first step towards bringing the control of the sale of gasoline under the same sort of supervision as is now extended to the sale of coal and other fuels. The fuel controller reports that inquiry at Washington elicits information to the effect that "gasless Sundays" will be continued in the United States for another two or three weeks. The same policy will be followed in Canada.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs.

Some sages will look down on folly, And view the fool with melancholy. Of fools fills me with no distress, For if we had no fools at all The wise would find but little call For all the wisdom they dig out. The wise would raise the very hoop, If all the wise men lost their job.

ITALIANS GAIN LINDAS IN ALBANIA ADVANCE

Allies Move Over Elbasin Road—Active Air Attacks Proceed Against Austrians.

Rome, Oct. 6.—An official statement issued today by the Italian war office says: "There were heavier artillery duels in the Pasubio-Poiana sector, in the Montello region and on the lower Flavia where the Austrians dispersed moving troops and transports and caused fires and explosions in the enemy encampments. "Enemy" patrols approaching our front lines on Col Del Rosso were driven back by intense hand bombing. "The Italian and allied airmen were very active. An aviation camp at Erga, in the upper Adige, was bombed with incendiary bombs. Huts, hangars and three machines were destroyed. The enemy's communications in the Salsgo-Pastena were effectively bombed. "Albania: Although bad weather is increasing the already difficult conditions of the roads our advance guards progressed over the Elbasin road and reached Lindas."

Everyone is aware of the great scarcity of Coal. Everyone must save, and the problem is how to keep the house warm on less coal. Fortunately there is a remedy, and although some people will scoff and sneer, nevertheless thousands will have reason to bless the day they first heard of KOL-KON, the Scientific Coal Economizer.

It is a Scientific preparation in powder form and when dissolved in water and sprinkled evenly over the coal it forms a fine coating that has the effect of retarding combustion and at the same time creating instant ignition of the gases that would otherwise escape up the chimney. This effects a saving of 1-4 to 1-3 of your coal and is not injurious to your pipes or furnace. It is not an experiment—it is a proven article. See the genuine testimonials. The price is reasonable. ### Bicycle Sunday Made Great Success by All Ages and Both Sexes

Bicycle Sunday was celebrated by a combined club run from the South African monument to High Park, in which more than three hundred cyclists of all ages and of both sexes participated, which was a great success, in spite of rainy weather. A number of automobile owners accepted the invitation to ride a bicycle for a health jaunt and the ride was one of the most enjoyable of the season. A big crowd of spectators saw the get-away at University avenue and Queen street, and at the finish the cyclists were photographed and addressed by the marshal of the run. It was decided on the spot to hold another big run on Sunday of the near future. All the clubs in the city were represented and a number of wheelmen from suburban points, including Weston, Mount Dennis and Scarborough, were in line. A number of lady cyclists served as pacemakers at the head of the line.

MATLANDS BY ONE WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Outplayed in Three Periods by St. Kitts and Then Came to Life in Fourth.

St. Catharines, Oct. 5.—After leading the O.L.A. for the greater part of the season and being outplayed in less than a third of today's final Athletics of St. Catharines, lost the championship by one goal in one of the greatest struggles seen in years, Matlands of Toronto, who, as a result of last Saturday's game at Toronto, had a lead of three goals, were beaten in the game today by two goals, but won the round by a total score of 11 to 10, today's score being 8 to 6 in favor of St. Kitts. In the first half of the game today St. Kitts played the experienced Matlands of their best, in the first quarter they wiped out the Matlands' lead completely, and at half-time had 7 to 2 or a margin of two goals on the round. In the third quarter St. Kitts field showed the effects of the terrific pace they had set in the first half, and with the belated arrival of the Matlands, the seconds presented a freshness that reversed the play completely. St. Kitts played the same line-up throughout without a change. They were only able to find the nets once in the second half, in the second quarter, the last quarter after Matlands had notched the goal that again placed them in the lead on the round, St. Kitts made tremendous efforts to score, but were unable to successfully get thru the Matlands' defense, and when they did, the shots were ineffective or were taken away. Not one man of either team failed to put up a classy brand of play, but the outstanding figures apart from Farney's performance were Kest, for St. Kitts and Longfellow for the Matlands. Both drew a heavy punishment for their chance-taking adventures, and both went out for the count only to come back and duplicate their performance. Welsh, McCarthy and Doran, Montreal Irish-Canadians, who again helped the Matlands, were the stars of their reputations. Fitzgerald was responsible for many brilliant plays in the first half, but lacked sufficient condition to last out the long route that he had planned. Lacrosse fans were present notwithstanding the fact that rain fell during a portion of the game, exceeding 3200 Line up.

HOCKEY PLAYERS FROM THE COAST ARE LIKELY TO PERFORM IN EAST

The professional hockey situation was not cleared up at the meeting held a week ago in Montreal. The only business done at the meeting of the National Hockey Association was to pass a resolution to again suspend operations for another year, and as this was the same procedure as last season it does not mean anything more than that the majority of the franchise holders are not ready to give up the game. While there is apparently lots of activity behind the scenes in the professional hockey world it will likely be some time before the curtain is pulled aside far enough to let the fans who are on the outside gain an inkling of what is in store for them this coming season. If any credence can be placed in the rumors of the past, the new owner of the Quebec (now called the Shamrock) franchise evidently realizes how little the actual franchise is worth and is endeavoring to gain the best price for it. The only available rinks in both Ottawa and Toronto and securing the best of the ice privileges. Whether he is the real owner of the Toronto franchise and players or whether it is simply an Ottawa franchise for the former owner is not as yet very clear, for he has been credited with making statements in both directions. However, he will have to declare himself the sole owner and also show that he has a league to play in before he has the slightest chance of securing any accommodations for his franchise. It is also credited with the statement that he has the Ottawa Arena agreement for this is denied by Mr. Ted Day, the owner of that rink, who states that he has only made one contract for the coming season, and that with the Ottawa Hockey Club, or Senators, as they are usually called.

We Warn Kennedy.
The idea of a four-team league with two teams in Ottawa and two in Toronto does not appeal to the owners of the local ice palaces, who are of the opinion that a league without one team from Montreal—preferably George Kennedy's Canadiens—would be a blotter from a box office standpoint, and that is what they are not in the game for.

The pro. should be finished last season, very successful from a local viewpoint, and George Kennedy, one of the men that the new Toronto franchise would like to trace out this year, is to be congratulated for finishing out the face of the tremendous ice which he sustained when all his team's equipment was sent in the Montreal arena fire and he was faced with the financial disadvantage of having to play his home games in a rink that had very poor seating accommodation and was located in a very poor section of the city. He, however, finished out the season, and every fan remembers the great battles that his team gave the locals right in their own backyard.

There has been a lot of talk about the way this new owner will clean up the game, but if he and his associates do not succeed any better in hockey than they did in lacrosse, when they attempted the renovating project a few years ago, they had better stop before they start. After all it is not the game that needs making up, but only a few of the magnates interested who appear to be of the

WHAT AMERICAN PAPERS SAY ABOUT PEACE NOTE

New York, Oct. 6.—In unequivocal and forcible terms the peace proposal of Prince Maximilian is rejected unanimously by the press of the United States. From all sections of the country from Maine to California, the nation's newspapers tomorrow morning will voice the demand that no peace terms shall be considered by the allied nations until Germany professes her sword to the allied commander-in-chief in token of unconditional surrender.

The following excerpts from the leading papers of the nation epitomize the editorial opinion of the American press: "New York World"—"The peace proposal of Prince Maximilian is rejected unanimously by the press of the United States. From all sections of the country from Maine to California, the nation's newspapers tomorrow morning will voice the demand that no peace terms shall be considered by the allied nations until Germany professes her sword to the allied commander-in-chief in token of unconditional surrender."

The only German language newspaper comment available tonight is that of the New York Staats Zeitung, which says: "Furthermore, he (Prince Maximilian) lays emphasis upon the governmental revolution in Germany and Prussia that in the last few days have prepared the way for this, marks an epoch in national German life that can never again be undone. The case, therefore, remains in the hands of the president. We shall now have to see what answer President Wilson will make to the chancellor regarding his peace proposals."

New York Times: "If Germany wants peace, let her do away with her irresponsible, bragging Kaiser, and speak by a government of her own people to the governments of the allied peoples. It is not from Prince Maximilian, answerable only to imperial authority, but from a minister responsible to the German people, that Germany's plea for peace must come. President Wilson can be trusted to make an answer to these overtures which will leave no doubt as to the determination of Germany's foes to pursue their victories until she can fight no more, until surrender is forced upon her, and until security against any further disturbances of the peace from that quarter is guaranteed."

Washington Post: "War to the limit, war until the now humbled German Emperor hands over his dishonored sword; war until Germany, instead of accepting Wilson's proposal, tenders the plain duty of the allied nations. When Germany really wants peace, let her do away with her irresponsible, bragging Kaiser, and speak by a government of her own people to the governments of the allied peoples. It is not from Prince Maximilian, answerable only to imperial authority, but from a minister responsible to the German people, that Germany's plea for peace must come."

Enormous Food Value of BOVRIL. Proved by World-Famed Scientists at instigation of British Government Department. The great body-building power of Bovril does not admit of argument. It is proved, just as the circulation of the blood is proved, or the law of gravity. The independent experiments carried out by an eminent physiologist under the most complete scientific control, proved the notable body-building powers of Bovril. The experiments were conducted with human subjects, on a standard diet, and the increase in weight was never less than 10 (and it actually in some cases reached 20) times the amount of Bovril added to the diet. This tremendous fact, tested and proved in every possible way, has given Bovril a unique place as one of the most precious food substances in the world.
