VOL. XXXIX.—No. 14,086 TWO CENTS

TARIFF REDUCTIONS DISAPPOINTMENT TO WESTERN FARMERS

WINNIPEG WAR VETERANS SWEAR IN AS CONSTABLES

Following Great Mass Meeting, at Which Strike Leaders Are Denounced, Returned Soldiers March to City Hall and Sign Up for Police Duty—Some Fight With the Strikers.

Winnipeg, June 5.—More than four thousand war veterans today assembled at a mass meeting, considered the general strike situation, adopted resolutions denouncing some of the strike leaders as anarchists and promised to form 2000 special constables to be drawn from the ranks of returned soldiers.

The meeting demanded that the government bring to justice men responsible for the Winnipeg strike, and deportation of "all undesirable aliens," and declared that "the only big union which Canadian soldiers would recognize was the Union Jack."

A parade of strikers and sympathizers passed within a block of the auditorium, where the soldiers were gathered, many marchers wearing returned soldier buttons.

Mayor Gray, speaking at the meeting, said:

"The strike leaders have publicly announced that they intended to run the city of Winnipeg; that they would stay and who would not, and they have intimidated them were powerful enough to bring about a change of government. I know that the men who fought for the old flag in France had had enough of Hunism and Bolshevism and we're not going to stand for it."

Mayor Gray accepted the offer of the soldiers to assist in maintaining law and order by asking for 2,000 special officers to guard property, and act as bodyguards for workers who, he said, had been intimidated. He announced that the city would pay the soldiers $4 a day. He said that as soon as the special officers were organized the street car service would be resumed. Many returned soldiers marched to the city hall after the mass meeting and were sworn in for constable duty. When the parade neared the municipal building, men on the sidewalks cried "scabs," and several fights resulted in arrests.

The mayor announced that the supply of milk and bread would be close to normal tomorrow.

Situation in Far West.
 Reports from cities farther west which have been affected by the general strike movement, indicated that conditions were approaching normal, and no further walkouts of importance have occurred. Delegates from western Canada were to meet at Calgary today to plan organization of the "One Big Union," and Victoria despatches said the strike there was marking time, awaiting results of this meeting. Calgary printers voted not to join the sympathetic strike. Public service utilities, newspapers and stores were operating as usual in Vancouver.

The labor movement is apparently divided into two distinct camps of thought. The moderates, taking the ground that sympathetic strikes are unfeasible for two reasons, (1) Because they are based upon the ground of class consciousness, and, (2) Because as matters stand at this juncture they force or attempt to influence unions to break agreements. The other school of thought which has 270 its large numbers, believes that the class-conscious movement is the only true means to success in a fight against a

TARIFF REDUCTIONS AND INCOME TAX ARE FEATURES OF BUDGET SPEECH

Main Points of the Budget Speech

National debt on March 31st, 1919, was $1,584,000,000. National debt at end of current fiscal year estimated at $1,950,000,000, bearing an interest charge of $115,000,000 per annum.

Our pension bill last year was $17,000,000, will be $30,000,000 this year, and will rise to between thirty-five and forty million dollars in the near future.

The revenue for the fiscal year, ending March 31, 1919, amounted to $210,000,000, of which $147,000,000 was raised by tariff duties. Surplus of revenue over ordinary expenditures, $70,000,000.

Estimated revenue for current fiscal year, $230,000,000, and estimated expenditures $620,000,000, including $300,000,000 for demobilization, $102,000,000 for interest on public debts, and $30,000,000 for pensions.

Another Victory Loan is to be launched in near future. Proposed tariff reductions outlined in budget speech will decrease the revenue by $17,000,000, loss to be made up by increase in income tax.

Free importation of wheat, flour and potatoes from countries which admit these commodities free of duty when coming from Canada.

In addition to the repeal of war surtax of 7 1/2 per cent. there is a reduction in tariff on agricultural implements, cultivators, harrows, horse rakes, seed drills, manure spreaders and weedeaters, reduced from 27 1/2 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Farm wagons, potato diggers, hay loaders and other farm implements, reduced from 32 1/2 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Cement reduced to eight cents per hundred pounds.

Minister of Finance Announces Lower Duties on Agricultural Implements, Food, Clothing and Other Imports, Continuation of War-Profits Tax, Increase in Corporation Taxes and a Tax on Incomes.

Ottawa, June 5.—In spite of intense heat the floors and galleries of the house of commons were taxed to capacity this afternoon by a large assemblage eager to hear Sir Thos. White's budget speech. There was, however, one vacant chair. Those anxious to see how Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture, would receive the deliverance of the finance minister, were disappointed to find that Mr. Crerar was not in the house. It was officially given out that he was confined to his home by illness, but it is pretty well understood that his resignation was placed two or three days ago in the hands of the prime minister.

His absence made the western Unionist members fear that no sweeping changes in the tariff were about to be announced. It did not, however, reconcile them to the comparatively small concessions granted to their section of the country.

The finance minister was enthusiastically cheered by many of his followers when he rose to speak, and several times during his financial review he was accorded generous applause. The speech has been carefully prepared and it was delivered well. The many of the facts and figures were calculated to cause some uneasiness as to our financial situation, Sir Thomas carried his audience with him in his very buoyant optimism.

The tariff proposals of the government were naturally awaited with great interest, and they were received by the western members with considerable disappointment. They were pleased with the increase in the tax on incomes. They were not satisfied with the reduction in duties on agricultural implements and complained that practically nothing was done to decrease the high cost of living. The arrangement by which lower freight rates will be accorded to the manufacturers of agricultural implements upon shipments to the west they regard not as a concession to farmers, but as a compensation to the manufacturers.

The tariff reductions are confined almost altogether to farm implements, except that the 7 1/2 per cent. war surtax is removed from importations of food, clothing, petroleum, soft coal, cement and agricultural implements. The loss in revenue from these tariff reductions was estimated by Sir Thomas at seventeen million dollars. This loss will be more than made up by the increased revenue from the income tax. The war profits taxation is continued for another year and the annual tax upon the net profits of corporations is increased to ten per cent.

Sir Thomas scattered the blow to his opponents by promising a general revision of the tariff later on. He intimated that members of the cabinet would travel thru the country, hear all classes and make a general revision of the tariff. This, however, carried little weight, because a similar commission and revision by the Laurier government in 1907 left the tariff practically undisturbed. Moreover, the minister made it plain that the government stood by the national policy. He urged the necessity of more production and the increase in export of manufactured products.

The speech occupied about an hour and a half and immediately upon its conclusion Mr. A. R. McMaster, Liberal member for Brome and financial critic for the opposition, moved the adjournment of the debate. He will probably speak on Monday and the budget debate will then be in full swing for some days. Some of the western Unionist members are outspoken tonight in their opposition to the budget, but others prefer to think and talk the matter over before making any public statement. It is generally probable that Hon. T. A. Crerar will participate in the discussion. His resignation will probably be announced to the house by Sir Robert Borden tomorrow afternoon.

The Budget Speech.

Sir Thomas spoke as follows:

"This motion affords me the opportunity of presenting the budget for the consideration of the house. It is usual in such presentation to deal with the important topics of the financial position of the Dominion, the condition of our trade, domestic and foreign, the state of our revenues and expenditures for the past, and, as far as can be estimated, for the coming year, and to submit the fiscal measures which the government deems essential, having regard to the situation disclosed.

"It seems to me that what the house and the people of Canada will first desire to learn from the budget speech will be what has been the cost of the war to Canada, what is our present financial position, what it will be when demobilization has taken place and our war expenditure is completely at an end, and what are the additional annual charges which must be met as the result of the war.

The Cost of the War.
 "With regard to the cost of the war to the Dominion, the books of the finance department show as of March 31st last a total principal war expenditure of $1,227,372,348. The portions incurred in respect of the several years during the continuance of the war are as follows: For 1914-15, $60,750,476; for 1915-16, $166,197,755; for 1916-17, $306,488,814; for 1917-18, $443,826,801; for 1918-19, $460,000,000. Over the same fiscal period, namely, from April 1, 1919, to March 31, 1919, the total expenditure upon ordinary account, that is to say, the current outlays of the Dominion in respect of its various services aggregated $82,757,589. The expenditure upon capital and other accounts for which the practice of all our governments provision might properly be made by borrowing, and for which assets of equivalent value were created for the permanent benefit of the people of Canada, amounted during the five years in question to $180,277,873.

"Leaving capital expenditure aside, and applying the surplus available from our revenues over and above the amount required to meet current outlays, it will appear that we have met the principal cost of the war by taxation to a total aggregate amount of $275,943,977. If we take into account the amount contributed during the five years of interest upon war debt and for pension charges, the total paid from revenue on account of the war to March 31, 1919, is $438,293,248.

The National Debt.
 "Now let us approach the subject from another angle. Aside from the cost of the war and how that cost was met, the vital question before us today, is what is the amount of the total net national debt of Canada and how does it compare with the net

METAL TRADES GET MORAL SUPPORT

Also Voted Day's Pay Weekly From All Union Members.

The term "indescribable uproar" tells the tale of last night's adjournment of the Trades and Labor Council at the Labor Temple by reference to a clause in the constitution which called for a three-fourths majority vote against adjournment. This clause was called into existence by Arthur O'Leary, president of the council, who was upheld technically by even James Simpson, who battled upon its merits upon the date. The box and catcalls were quieted only at the instigation of Harry Harter and Jimmy, both of whom suggested a discussion of a resolution to support the metal trades council in its fight for the 44-hour week and the principle of collective bargaining.

Disassociating the chair from the what one might say that at the end of the new session presided over by Harry Harper, international organizer, to morally support the metal trades in their fight, and to have the executive of the trades council request every union to take off a day's pay per member a week in financial support of this fight. Arthur O'Leary left the hall soon after the new session commenced. W. J. Hevey, secretary of the trades council, was the sponsor of the one-day-pay resolution which passed unanimously.

U. S. HAS RIGHTS TO RETAIN SHIPS

Bonar Law's Opinion Regarding Interned German Ships in America.

London, June 5.—Andrew Bonar Law, spokesman for the British government, expressed in the house of commons today his opinion that the United States is within her rights in holding the interned German ships.

He was asked under what international law the United States retained the German ships driven into her ports by the British navy. He replied that he believed it to be a fact that in the case of a country going to war and having enemy ships in her ports, it was the custom by international law that she had the right to retain them.

TRAINING COLLEGES FOR Y.M.C.A. WORKERS
 Springfield, Mass., June 5.—The recent proposal that Y.M.C.A. colleges, similar to Springfield college, for the training of association workers, be established in connection with the University of Toronto at Toronto, Ont., and the University of Tennessee at Nashville was endorsed at the Y.M.C.A. training conference at the local college today. Each would be similar to the institutions in this city and Chicago and eventually equal to the college here in scope and facilities.

CRERAR RESIGNS FROM GOVERNMENT

Views on Tariff Disagree With Those of the Government.

Ottawa, June 5.—It is understood that Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture, has tendered his resignation, and that the correspondence between him and the premier is to be laid on the table of the house tomorrow. Mr. Crerar entered the Union government upon its formation in October, 1917, and during his administration has largely reorganized and greatly improved the department of agriculture. The reason for his resignation is said to be his views on the tariff question. At the last session Mr. Crerar supported the government, maintaining the tariff intact, it having been understood when the government was formed that the tariff question should remain in abeyance until the conclusion of the war. It was felt by some low tariff members of the cabinet that the tariff question should remain in abeyance until after reconstruction, but evidently the retiring minister of agriculture did not share in this view.

Altho Mr. Crerar is leaving the cabinet, he will serve out his time as member for Marquette.

AFGHANS MUST GO BACK 20 MILES
 British Reply to Amir's Request for an Armistice.

London, June 5.—The British commander in Afghanistan, replying to the Amir's request for an armistice, has given the following terms: The Afghans to move back 20 miles; the British to maintain their present lines; British aeroplanes to be allowed to patrol the Afghan lines, and the activities of warlike tribes to be discouraged.

A serious uprising was reported on May 28 in southern Kurdistan. It was feared that British troops there were in a serious position. A London despatch said that British forces in Mesopotamia were taking steps to check the tribesmen.

ALLIES WON'T FIX REPARATION SUM

Refuse Germany's Request to Have This Indicated in Treaty.

Paris, June 5.—Such progress was made by the council of four today, it is hoped that by working thru Sunday the reply to the German counter proposals may be ready for delivery Monday.

The council has decided to refuse Germany's request that a fixed sum for reparations be indicated in the treaty.

Conference circles are somewhat relieved by assurances from high quarters that the council of four is nearing an accord on the reply to the German counter proposals.

The council held a session this morning with M. Paderewski, the Polish premier, present, concerning the Polish frontier in Germany, particularly Silesia, and in the afternoon considered the vigorous protest of Rumania and other alban states against giving the league of nations supervision over the protection of racial minorities.

M. Paderewski strongly opposed any modification in the political status of Silesia as fixed by the treaty. This led to a proposal to grant the Germans economic advantages in Silesia, iron and zinc, sufficient to carry on industries and aid in paying the indemnities.

The experts presented tables showing that the treaty's cession of Silesia and the Sarre region has resulted in reducing Germany's coal by 31 per cent., iron 74 per cent., and zinc 80 per cent., and it is to offset these reductions that it is proposed to establish an economic exchange without modifying Polish political control.

The general situation within the council is described as tending more towards modification of the details of the German treaty without affecting the fundamentals. M. Clemenceau's position in this respect is believed to be approaching that of Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson, as M. Clemenceau's close associate, M. Loucheur, has been conferring with the British and American experts concerning the provisions on which modifications have been proposed.

CURRELL FOUND GUILTY OF AIDING

Jury Recommend McCullough's Death Watch to Mercy.

Ernest Currell, Frank McCullough's death watch who was alleged to have assisted the latter in his escape from the Toronto jail while awaiting death, was yesterday found guilty of aiding and abetting the escape by a jury in the sessions, but was strongly recommended to mercy. Judge Coatsworth, who heard the case, promised to give ear to the jury's plea on the convicted man's behalf, when he passes sentence Wednesday.

The case lasted all day and the jury went out for their verdict at 1:45 yesterday afternoon, returning at 7:10 last night. The jury had to consider Currell's guilt on two counts, first of aiding and abetting, on which they found him guilty, and secondly of permitting McCullough to escape, on which count they found him not guilty. Before the case went to the jury, Hugh Macdonald, counsel for the accused, asked that the case be withdrawn from the jury on the ground that the crown had failed to prove that Currell had conspired with McCullough to allow him to escape, and his honor thought that the fact that Currell had gone to sleep in the death cell, while on duty, was in itself a strong enough reason for allowing the case to go on. Mr. Macdonald stated to a reporter for The World last night that he would appeal the conviction.

On the stand in his own behalf, Currell said he had been born in London.

DISCUSSING FUTURE OF BRITISH AVIATION

London, June 5.—Lieut.-Commander J. H. Towers and the other American naval aviators who handled the N.C. aeroplanes in the recent trans-Atlantic flight, were guests today at a luncheon given by Major-General Kelly, under-secretary for air, in the house of commons. The luncheon was given for the purpose of discussing the future of British aviation. The prince of Wales, Lord Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, James W. Lowther, speaker of the house of commons, the Earl of Reading, former ambassador to the United States, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war, and Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig were present.

It was announced at the luncheon that British lightships soon will be fitted out to throw vertical beams to assist airmen.

Sues Optician for $25,000 In Breach of Promise Case
 Ottawa, June 5.—Miss Lillian Hogan, whose mother resides at Charlottetown, P.E.I., is suing Sinclair Sutherland, a local optician, for $25,000 for breach of promise. The case will come up at the sitting of the Supreme Court in Ontario which opens here on June 10. Miss Hogan alleges that she made the trip from Portland, Oregon, and incurred other expenses in connection with her expected marriage to Sutherland.

TIME NOT YET RIPE FOR TARIFF REVISION

Having concluded that part of the budget speech dealing with fiscal proposals, the minister of finance went on to deal with the government's policy in regard to the tariff, saying:

"Having laid before the house the fiscal proposals which we have to make at this time, I feel the occasion opportune to make a statement respecting the important subject of general tariff revision.

"The sound policy in this regard and the one which has been followed by all administrations in Canada is that at certain periods, separated by intervals of eight or ten years, there should be a deliberate reconsideration and revision of the entire tariff schedule.

"Such general revision becomes necessary in the national interest from time to time in order to adjust the tariff to the business of the country, which has adapted itself to existing tariff conditions, may not be disturbed by sudden and unexpected changes which always makes for uncertainty and lack of confidence.

No Revision Now.
 "It would not be practicable at this time to make a general revision of the tariff. International trade is most unsettled, still hampered by war restrictions and prohibitions, and by exchange conditions, which are and may long continue to be subject to violent fluctuations. Prices are unstable and labor conditions, internationally speaking, most uncertain. Until peace is restored and the world is upon a more stable basis with respect to capital, labor, prices, markets, and exchange, the tariff cannot be revised intelligently.

"It is my hope that within a year conditions will have become so stabilized as to permit of a general revision of the tariff, which is long being owing to the war, unavoidably overdue. Preceding such revision there should be a thorough enquiry conducted by the minister of finance, and two or more of his colleagues representing the different geographical sections of Canada. Such enquiry should afford all interests, agricultural, industrial, fishing, lumbering, mining, commercial, and financial, producers and consumers alike, an opportunity of expressing their views and opinions and urging their particular needs and requirements. The result of such enquiry should be a body of information which will enable the government to effect a general revision of the tariff, fair to all parts of the community, and effectually promoting the national welfare of Canada. This enquiry should proceed with its work just as soon as conditions are sufficiently stabilized to permit. My own view is that it might well be commenced about autumn of this year.

Economic Conditions.
 "Before closing my remarks I feel I should make some general observations as to economic conditions prevailing in Canada today. An out-

CZECHO-SLOVAKS ARE SATISFIED

Pleased With the Territorial Points of Austrian Peace Treaty.

Paris, June 5.—The Czecho-Slovaks are satisfied with the principal territorial points of the Austrian peace treaty, M. Benes, the Czecho-Slovak foreign minister, has informed Le Temps. The territorial clauses, he said, showed that the council of four had decided in favor of the Czecho-Slovak claims to the historic frontiers of Bohemia and Moravia. He said he hoped that the Jugo Slavs, Rumanians and Poles would be equally satisfied with their frontiers, adding: "We are particularly pleased with the clauses in which national life is secured for the Czecho-Slovak minorities, especially in Vienna. Let us hope that Vienna will know for the first time what national toleration is."

"We have been attending to the organization rather than the spirit of God," said the preacher, in concluding his remarks with a criticism of modern methods.

WILL SECURE COAL FACTS

Regarding the coal situation and the proposal to hold a mass meeting of the citizens to discuss the matter, George R. Ellis of the East End Citizens' Committee said he intends to secure from the Dominion government all facts and figures available regarding quantities and prices of coal, and if possible what action the government intends to take to protect the people of Toronto from inflated prices.

"I will also request information regarding the coal act and the 50 cents a ton margin of profit, if it is still being adhered to by the coal merchants and if the law is still in force," said Mr. Ellis.

PARK GETS FOUNTAIN

A drinking fountain has at last been erected in Withrow Park by the parks department. The front of the pavilion to the great satisfaction of the visitors.

This convenience has been appealed for during the winter months at regular intervals by the North Riverdale Ratepayers' Association.

NEW TORONTO HOUSING COMMISSION

After a considerable amount of hard work the housing commission has all preliminary arrangements completed, and instructions have been given to James Louden and Hertzberg architects, to ask for tenders. Thirty-six houses will be built by the commission on both sides of Eighth street, south of the Lake Shore road, to Morrison street. All local improvements are already installed on the street, including sewers, water and light, and petitions for sidewalks are under consideration. The houses are to be five and six-room dwellings and cost from $3000 to $3600, including land. That price includes principal interest taxes and insurance over a period of 30 years and will be repaid by monthly instalments of $20 or $25, with the option of paying off the full amount at an earlier date. The commission expects to have all the houses ready for occupation before the cold weather sets in.

Since the housing bill became the housing act the municipal authorities have shown a great increase in the scheme and have worked hard to take advantage of the plan for the benefit of the ratepayers. It is felt locally that this prompt action of the New Toronto authorities will appreciably relieve the housing problem of the citizens who have taken advantage of the system. Incidentally the prompt action should make a good precedent for the less active municipalities in the district.

EARLSCOURT

Quite a number of Earlscourt young people are leaving this section to work in the strawberry fields in Ontario, where it is said labor is scarce. North of Dufferin, about five miles from St. Clair avenue, strawberries are very plentiful, and the prices are expected to be reduced as the season advances. Boxes of strawberries are being sold in the northwest section for 35c at the present time.

A large number of Earlscourites were present at the Church of St. Chads, North Dufferin street, Earlscourt, to witness the marriage of Florence Elizabeth Birch of 284 Earlscourt avenue, and Leonard Frank Clitenden of 113 Ashburnham avenue, who were united in marriage yesterday by the rector, Rev. A. J. Reid. The young couple are well known in Earlscourt, and attend St. Chads' Church. After a honeymoon trip they will reside in Earlscourt.

The Earlscourt branch of the G. W. A. met at headquarters last night in the Belmont Hall, the president, F. J. Richardson, in the chair. Routine business was discussed, and several new members were initiated.

BIG POULTRY SHOW

The Earlscourt Progressive Poultry Association held its regular monthly meeting at 1232 St. Clair avenue last night. W. H. Smith occupied the chair. R. B. Fox, government judge, gave a talk on points and breeding of poultry, including the right kind of food during the molting season, and Alex. McGregor, president of the fall fair, presented the association with "The Call of the Hen" and "Standard of Perfection," two standard works used by poultry breeders. There was a good attendance.

GRIEVANCE-HAIRING DAY ARRANGED FOR

That a strong effort would be made to reorganize the Ward Seven Conservative Association and secure for them stronger representation on the executive of the West York Association, was the decision of a meeting of the association held last night in St. James' Hall, corner of Pacific and Dundas streets. The proceedings of the meeting were largely devoted to securing that step and the members were all optimistic of the final result. It was decided that after strengthening the executive committee a general meeting would be held at which the members would be able to air their grievances.

Lou Johnson, past vice-president, was in the chair, and E. J. Lawson represented the West York Association. He stated that it was bad policy for an association to grow dormant, as this one undoubtedly had, and that it could not prove its real worth if it only pulled itself together at the last hour for election purposes. According to the constitution, said Mr. Lawson, "there is really no Ward 7 Conservative Association in existence, as no annual meeting or election of officers has taken place at the required time." He advocated for a better and bigger association, "they were the deciding factor in the Net For Election."

Mr. Johnson pointed out to the meeting that the reason for not holding general meetings was that the members had various grievances, which they did not wish to make public. He thought that if the executive were composed of young men it would put new life into the association and that the members must respect the old members, who had a rough and ruse trail to travel, would get more respect from the younger men.

It was then suggested that a young men's club be formed to cooperate with the present one and to retain the old members in their executive positions. It was finally decided that the chairman of each of the 44 polling sub-divisions be organized and for this purpose a meeting will be held Wednesday next to consider so that it will make itself felt. The members agreed that the press would be excluded. The reasons given for this were that the press would be prejudiced for the less active municipalities in the district.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY LARGELY ATTENDED

Gathering Almost a Record—
Rev. T. A. Moore Believes Prohibition Permanent.

Hamilton, June 5.—The first morning session of the Presbyterian General Assembly opened in St. Paul's Church this morning with nearly 600 delegates in attendance, making the largest attendance on record, with the exception of the congress, held in Toronto.

The newly-elected moderator, Lieut.-Col. John Pringle, presided, wearing the uniform in which he won such distinction overseas.

Rev. T. Albert Moore, representing the Social Service Council of Canada, was given permission to address the assembly. The rood common-sense of Canadians, declared the speaker, would bar forever the saloon and shops where liquor could be sold. The council stood firm against racetracks, and had suggested to parliament the enactment of laws re social vice—such was now before the house. The council was now urging the senate to make adultery a crime, to raise the age of consent, and legislation regarding female employees.

"I must investigate Unrest," said Dr. Moore, discussing the industrial unrest. "but we must investigate the conditions. I believe in the application of the principles of the Gospel here."

Col. Pringle, the moderator, in thanking Dr. Moore for his address, said he went overseas a temperance fanatic—a confirmed teetotaler—the fanatic—a confirmed teetotaler—a fanatic. He was ten times more a fanatic now.

Rev. T. Nattress of Chalk River gave it as his opinion that many members would object to Mr. Herdridge's term, "one Bible and one hymn book." This term was putting the hymn book took much on a par with the Bible.

The phrase was deleted and the report of the committee on church praise adopted.

Toronto Changes Invalid.

At the afternoon session, when the changes in the roll of the assembly were enumerated, Rev. Dr. Campbell, clerk of the assembly, accused the Toronto Presbyterians of breaking a great law of the church in failing to give the required eight-days' notice of changing in the roll, having adhered to its own ruling. The clerk's protest was sustained, and the Toronto changes were not allowed.

The report on home missions and social service was presented by Rev. Dr. Fildeson. He stated that a deficit of $157,000 had been wiped out in three years.

Dr. Milligan's Reappointment

The discussion on the question of the reappointment of Rev. Dr. McMillan, Toronto, to the position of stimulating the spirit of church praise held by him for the five years, was resumed. Rev. R. M. Hamilton, Brooklyn, proposed that the appointment be made for one year, Dr. McMillan having been appointed for a five year period before.

Rev. J. McCarty Wilson, the original mover of the resolution, amended it to read that Dr. McMillan be appointed for one year from date at a salary of $2500, the matter of his further appointment to be decided by a small committee appointed by the moderator.

A feature of the session was the reading of a telegram received by Col. Pringle from Sir Sam Hughes, read by Dr. Laird, it caused a burst of applause, and quite embarrassed the modest moderator.

The reading of the message from Sir Sam: "Most hearty congratulations on the new honor accorded you. None deserves it better. You are one of the many bright gems brought out by the war. Your greatness was shown in distress and in prosperity. The world knew you, success to your cause."

ETOBICOKE

CLOUDS OF DUST BECOME INSUFFERABLE

The dust nuisance on Dundas street west of the Etobicoke river is the cause of numerous complaints by the residents, particularly in the neighborhood of Dixie. The heavy motor and other wheeled traffic on this important highway creates a constant cloud of dust which settles on the land in all directions, choking vegetation and causing inconvenience to the residents. The section is under the supervision of the county of Peel engineer, Mr. Wheelock, at Orangeville, who has been requested to abate the nuisance immediately.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, June 5.—With two former commanders, Lieut.-Col. H. D. G. Crear, D.S.O., and Major George Shearer, D.S.O., present, the officers and men of the famous fighting 11th Battalion, together with a number of other veterans of the world war, were entertained at dinner in the I. O. O. F. Temple this evening by the Citizens' Re-patriation League.

No further developments were reported by the police tonight in connection with the shooting of four Austrians at the Tuckett farm on the Beach road last night by eight Italians, who, after securing more than $2000, opened fire with automatic weapons on a group of eight Austrians. The wounded men, who are middle-aged and speak poor English, were reported by the City Hospital authorities tonight to be doing nicely.

Just to let them know at Ottawa that this city intends getting action land in all directions, complaint on Controller Halford's complaint of coal profiteering here, the board of control instructed Secretary Barr this afternoon "to wake them up again," which means that another torrid letter will be sent.

Endorsation was given the bylaw fixing nomination day as Dec. 23.—Ice cream bricks are becoming as scarce as hens' teeth here, due to the hot weather, despite the protestations of the wholesalers that they are delivering the goods. Some stores have not had a brick for a week, while others have been requested to secure a part of their usual demand.

class so strongly entrenched behind a great barrier of high finance. This school points out that there is no more conscientious than that of the nouveau-riches, who, it is claimed, are more responsible for the present industrial depression than any other class in Canada. They also state that the one factor of unreasonable prejudice aimed by the City Hospital authorities until it is cast to the winds by the employing classes.

When Mayor Gray left the city hall today with his body guard, to enter his automobile, one of his men bent down to crank the machine, and a pistol in his hip pocket was exploded. The weapon was immediately seized by a man said to be a striker. A policeman arrested the mayor's guard. The mayor proceeded to the police station and obtained the guard's release. A belligerent crowd gathered in front of the station and the mayor's guards were obliged to shoulder their way thru the gathering. One man struck at the mayor.

Despite the fact that today passed without serious trouble, the tension of last night has not been lessened and many fist fights have been reported.

Employees Getting Lowest Rate of Wages on the Continent.

June 16 is only 11 days ahead, and that is the time limit fixed by the street railway employees to go out on strike if their demands as to wages and hours are not conceded by the company.

On Wednesday Mayor Church addressed a letter to Premier Hearst asking him to appeal a royal commission to inquire into the affairs of the Toronto Street Railway Company.

The premier's letter in detail is as follows: "The government is most anxious to see that the street railway men secure the best possible treatment and that any legitimate ground for a strike be removed."

"I JUST DIDN'T SAVE"

THAT is why I am here. That is why the others are here. In my younger days I made plenty of money. But it was a case of 'easy come, easy go'.

It is a story of wilful neglect and disregard for the future. In its main essentials it is the story of a vast number of men—men thoughtless and short-sighted—men who blindly refuse to consider to-morrow seriously.

All about us we see these men. The evening of their lives is a time of drudgery, if not of humiliation. They pay a heavy price for the folly of a wasted youth.

A few dollars a year saved now—when you can spare the money—and invested in an Imperial Endowment policy will secure a guaranteed monthly pension to support you when you are old.

TIME NOT WASTED FOR IMPRISON

standing feature of the business situation is the fact that a great part of our business activity is due to the continued heavy expenditure of public money.

The policy of the government for the so-called reconstruction period of transition from war to peace is illustrated in its program with respect to shipbuilding, better housing, railway betterments and extensions, public works and other national undertakings, together with its contribution of war gratuities to soldiers and the creation of credits for the promotion of our external trade with Britain and other European countries.

It is a vital factor in maintaining our commerce, domestic and foreign, keeping the wheels of Canadian industry turning and affording employment to hundreds of thousands of our people.

The funds from which these activities and credits are financed and which aggregate many hundreds of millions of dollars are borrowed money.

REOPENING OFFERS FOR METROPOLITAN
Mayor Will Negotiate Again
—Meeting Moore
Today.

The radical deal was up again yesterday before the board of control and Mayor Church's report on the Metropolitan question was fully discussed.
Before the discussion really started the mayor pointed out that when a further conference was arranged he was out of the city, but he stated he was awaiting instructions and was willing to have another conference at any time. A deputation, consisting of W. G. Ellis, A. O. Thorn, W. L.
Cuttel and R. L. Baker, representing the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association, appeared before the board and asked regarding the present situation.

A little clash occurred at the start when the mayor started to explain the situation and was interrupted by Mr.
Baker.
"Let me say a word," said Mr.
Baker.
"Sit down," said the mayor.
"I won't," declared Mr. Baker. "We came here to say something and not to listen."

The mayor, however, explained his report, after which Mr. Baker stated why he was there.
"Jockeyed Along
The people of North Toronto are getting very anxious," he said. "The matter has been jockeyed along and appears to be now at a standstill. We want to know is the board still sincere?"

Controller Maguire moved finally that the report of the mayor be adopted and that Mr. Moore be asked to submit an offer, including the freight franchise to the city, which would be taken up by a special meeting of the board.

Controller McBride moved an amendment that the mayor open negotiations again with the company.
"Will the city be willing to establish a freight market at the city limits?" asked the mayor. "Or would the city establish one at Farnham avenue on certain conditions?"

"The question is how are they going to get their freight to Farnham avenue?" said Controller McBride.
"The matter of the establishment of a freight market is out of the question now."

The mayor told the World last night that he was to meet Mr. Moore today at 10 o'clock to go further into the matter.

The Dominion Railway Commission,
according to its chairman, Sir Henry Drayton, K.C., have no power or authority to order a change in the methods recently adopted by the Bell Telephone in issuing their Toronto directory. He said, however, that an amendment was being drafted which would give the commission the necessary power. In the interim, the chairman suggested that the company submit type and sheet proofs to the city sollicitor for his approval.

Mr. B. P. Fitzpatrick, solicitor for the company, explained that the latest directory had been issued with a view to keeping the book small in size.
"Why then," asked Sir Henry, "is one-third of the book filled with advertising if you wish to keep the book small?"

G.T.R. ALLOWED TO BUY
The Grand Trunk Railway Company was yesterday given authority by the Dominion railway board to purchase three acres of land at Port private landowners. The additional application was opposed by the owner of the land required by the company, but the chairman of the board, Sir Henry Drayton, K.C., based his decision in favor of the application on the fact that it was a case of the interest of the community as against private land owners. The additional trucks would be of advantage to Port Colborne, he pointed out. Commissioner A. S. Goddard sat with the chairman in today's hearing of the board.

CLAIM FARM TRACTOR
FACTOR IN PRODUCTION
High Cost of Living Committee Hold Spirited Debate in Commons.

Ottawa, June 5.—The proposal by A. B. McCole of Kent to make inquiry into the prices charged for certain lots of the farm tractors sold in Canada met with some opposition in the special parliamentary committee to deal with the high cost of living at its session this morning.
G. B. Nicholson, the chairman, said he was in the hands of the committee, but that not much could be accomplished if the committee undertakes to inquire into specific matters of this kind. He thought it was the duty of the committee to ascertain as quickly as possible the reason for the wide spread between the cost of producing goods and the cost to the consumer.

Mr. Coig maintained that the cost of tractors to the farmers has an important bearing on the matter of the cost of living.
"Spread of Prices."
Donald Sutherland argued that the cost of tractors has but a small bearing on the cost of production, as but comparatively few farmers use them. Mr.
McCole retorted that an increased use of small farm tractors would tend to decrease the cost of production. If thousands of dollars too much are being charged farmers for tractors, he said this was a legitimate subject of inquiry by the committee. In view of the short period before prorogation members of the committee expressed the view that the time at the disposal of the committee should be devoted to ascertaining the "spread" of prices rather than the cost of production, more particularly matters of minor detail.

Mr. Nicholson particularly pointed out the necessity of first investigating the spread of prices. That, he said, is what the people of Canada are most interested in. He doubted if Mr. Mc-Cole's proposal was covered by the committee's instructions.

STREETS WERE STOLEN FROM MUNICIPALITIES
In referring to the resolution passed in the Dominion house of commons on Wednesday in favor of municipal control of streets, Mayor Church said yesterday the members of the house of commons set an example to the cabinet ministers. "I am surprised," he said, "at the way the ministers voted.
This was not Toronto's fight—it was the fight of the people of the province.
The streets of the municipalities were stolen from them in 1907."
"It was a magnificent fight in the interests of the people against corporate interests" was the comment of Works Commissioner Harris. "Parliament has rectified an injustice." He added a tribute to Senator A. Claude Macdonell, who started the fight in

GLORIOUS RECORD OF SEVENTY-FIFTH

Battalion Returning to Toronto Monday Was in Every Scrap.

YPRES TO CAMBRAI Regina Trench, Vimy, Passchendaele and Amiens on Colors.

- 1916—Ypres Regina Trench Desire Trench
- 1917—Vimy Ridge La Combe Cite du Moulin Lens Passchendaele
- 1918—Amiens La Quessel Chilly Droocourt-Queant Canal Du Nord Bourlon Wood Cambrai

The preceding list is the official record of the gallant 75th Battalion, who after nearly three years of incessant fighting during which the battalion participated gloriously in all the notable campaigns until the signing of the armistice, will probably arrive in the city on Sunday, June 8, or Monday, June 9.

Upon their arrival in the city of their origin, the battalion will be accorded a glorious reception, extensive plans for which have been laid by the city advisory committee. As the 102nd Battalion is expected to arrive in the city on the same day, it has been planned that the parade will also include that battalion, which will march at the stadium at the same time as the 75th.

It has been decided by the committee in charge that the returned wounded will be of the advanced party of cavalry. The 192nd returned wounded will follow the motor cars of the 75th, which in turn will be followed by the 9th M. H. and the 109th Battalion, the guard of honor of the 2nd M. H. The 102nd Battalion will march and then the 102nd Battalion.

Arrangements have also been made to use the armories for the large number to be at the night following the arrival of the battalions, at which an opportunity will be given for all men who belonged to the battalion and their families to meet. Arrangements for the picnic to be held at Toronto Island about a week after the arrival of the battalion, are also well under way. Sports of all varieties are to be held, and all who served in the battalion and their families are invited to attend.

Headquarters have been established at 7 East Gerrard street, where tickets for the reception will be issued.

Battalion History. During first nine months of war the cavalry regiments (except the 4th M. H.) had no opportunity of contributing to battalions, and the 9th M. H. grew impatient to get into the line. On Oct. 1, 1914, the 9th M. H. was sent to Ottawa, in May, 1915, was asked authority to form an infantry battalion from the 9th M. H. and as a result, three officers and 99 men were asked for from each cavalry regiment for a new battalion to be commanded by Lieut. Col. T. S. Beckett. Plagued by the small demand, the 9th M. H. asked why so few, and were told that it was considered to be the most they could supply. "Will you take all we can get?" was the reply of the 9th M. H. Ottawa said they would, and the recruiting was organized under Capt. now (Major) D. Forbes Keith.

At the start of the war, in three weeks over 1400 recruits were secured, and the Toronto recruiting depot was formed of the surplus. This result necessitated the formation of a new battalion, and so the 75th came to exist, commanded by Lieut. Col. T. S. Beckett, and consisting almost entirely of officers and men of the 9th M. H.

Left England. On Aug. 11, 1916, the battalion sailed for France as part of the 11th Brigade, 4th Canadian Division, and went into the trenches in the Ypres salient, relieving the 22nd (French) Canadian Battalion. During the tour, which lasted 28 days with but relief, many casualties were suffered, but many more were inflicted on the Boche.

Of all the gallant exploits of individuals in the 75th Battalion, perhaps none can better the gallant day's adventure of five men, on Sept. 8, 1918, at St. Eloi, on the Ypres salient. That little adventure won them the first five decorations won in the 4th Canadian Division.

Daring Raid. Toronto read in September, 1918, of how Lieut. Harry Devlin of the Toronto Star staff, and Lieut. Henry Howard, in a daring raid on the enemy trenches at St. Eloi, on the night of Sept. 8, lost their lives.

The following day a rescue party was organized by another lieutenant in the battalion to go out and bring back the bodies. The party consisted of five men—Sergeant B. C. Rowley, Corp. F. Bullen, Pte. J. H. Richards, Pte. (Nobby) Nobbs and Corp. James

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots. There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles. Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drugist, and apply a little of it night and morning, and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

75TH GRAVES IN FRANCE.

The graves of Lt.-Col. Beckett and Major J. M. Langstaff, commander and second in command of the 75th Battalion of Toronto, which will arrive home Saturday or Sunday.

McGowan, D.C.M. The attempt was to be made with the assistance of a heavy barrage. The men made their way thru the Hun wire straight up to the shell hole where the two officers had last been seen, in the face of violent rifle and machine gun fire, only to find that the enemy had removed them. They recovered the hats worn by the officers and Lieut. Howard's revolver. But all five men in that long run across "no man's land" and back escaped untouched.

At the Somme. From the Ypres salient the battalion was sent to the Somme after a short period of training. Bad weather delayed the start, and made life almost unlivable. Returned officers agree that they experienced no more grueling period during the whole war than the seven weeks spent on the Somme, in the worst mud in the world under a constant hail of shells. The 75th took part in the capture of Regina Trench on Oct. 21, 1918, and on Nov. 18 captured their portion of Desire trench, the last bit of territory taken from the Germans in the battle of the Somme.

Major Alex. Miln, after laying out the new trench under terrific fire, was fatally wounded by a machine gun and died after calling a last exhortation to his men, "Dig for your lives, men; I am done." Consolidation was completed under Lieut. (now Major) Stanley and all counter-attacks successfully repulsed.

On Dec. 18 the battalion took over the trench system on Vimy Ridge, where Christmas was spent. Active preparations for the final capture of Vimy Ridge were undertaken on a large scale.

Reorganized. The survivors of the battalion were withdrawn and reorganized under Lieut.-Col. Worsnop, D.S.O., assisted by Lieut.-Col. Harbottle, D.S.O., and bar, who acted as second in command, finally taking command of the battalion during the battle of Vimy Ridge, which occurred on April 9, 1917.

The 75th took all their objectives in splendid shape and on the minute, and held them against the Boche attacks. They went further thru than their objectives without artillery support. They were steadily in the centre of the line and came in for far more than their share of the Boche heavy artillery in this inferno. A great many officers and men were wounded, but insisted on carrying on in spite of it and won their well-deserved decorations.

At Lens. The first two weeks of August, 1917, the battalion was on the Lens front at Cite de Moin. When 1st division captured hill 70 on the morning of August 15th, the 75th battalion with the 87th on the left and the 44th on the right, carried out an attack on Cite de Moin. The show was successful, but the 75th lost two good officers—Lieuts. Morris and Munroe and 15 men who had volunteered to go with them.

Back to Ypres. Orders were then received to proceed to the Ypres sector and the battalion travelled by lorry to Brandhoek. This was the time of the fighting around Zillibekke and the road from Popering to Ypres was badly congested with traffic and roads in bad shape with mud. A tour on Abraham Heights finished the battalion entrained at Ypres and travelled for about 24 hours, reaching Brandhoek, where it was inspected by General Currie and praised for good work in the Ypres sector. Shortly after the inspection, and the same day, orders were received that two battalions from the brigade were to go up to Potize again to do work parties. By this time all wondered if the battalion had been turned into a labor battalion. This doubt was soon dispelled when it received orders to take over the line on the right of Passchendaele.

Up S. O. S. As "A" Company neared the front line, the battalion on the left front sent up an S.O.S. Strange to say, not a single man was suffered by the battalion during the relief. This is probably due to the muddy condition of the area which allowed the shell a much smaller burst area.

After two days in the front line, the battalion was relieved by the Middlesex Regiment, and we were moved back to Ypres. Next day it started to march back from Ypres, Passchendaele and its slime and mud. After marching by easy stages, it landed in Camblain, Chatelaine.

In Front of Merricourt. After a month it again moved forward and relieved the Kensingtons, who were in front of Merricourt. Here it spent Christmas, which was only marked by having "C" Company's kitchen blown up, killing the cook and spilling a barrel of good beer, which had been brought up for the occasion. Christmas day the colonel visited the dugouts and shelters and wished all the compliments of the season. The battalion carried on doing work parties till the end of December. This was mostly defensive work, digging dummy trenches, strong points and camouflage.

New Year's Eve it took over the front line, and New Year's Day the Huns raided the 54th on the right. "Panther" was at that time the battalion code name.

Raided Huns. A week later Lieut. G. Tilley and a party raided the enemy lines, but no prisoners were taken, as he could not get in touch with the enemy. Next night after the raid the battalion was relieved by the 78th, and went back to Canada Camp for a rest.

Trained for Cambrai. On Sept. 5, 1918, the battalion went out to Neuville Vitasse, Major Poupore in command. Some time later he left for Canada en route to Russia. Major Bailey of the 54th took over command of the battalion, and they commenced training for the Cambrai show. On Sept. 25 outposts were established on the outskirts of Bourlon Wood. Capt. B. Neelon, M.C., and Lieut. Palmer, D.C.M., took over a raid, and both did splendid work, for which Lieut. Palmer was recommended for the military cross. The battalion moved to Bullicourt on the 26th, and took up assembly position in front of Quey and Moevre.

Took Bourlon Wood. On the morning of the 27th it went over in support of the 10th Brigade, which took Canal Du Nord. The 11th Brigade followed there and took Bourlon Wood. On Sept. 29 the battalion again went forward, and at 10 a.m. were approaching Douai - Cambrai road, when it dug in for the night. The attack commenced at 3 a.m., under the command of Col. Thompson, jumping off at Cambrai-Douai road and capturing the railway embankment, advanced to Biocourt, where it was held up by machine gun fire and suffered heavy casualties, only coming out with 87 strong, having gone in with 450.

FUEL CONTROLLER'S FINAL REPORT

Over $60,000,000 Goes Annually in Preventable Waste.

Following the closing out of the fuel control organization on March 31, last, the end of the coal year, C. A. Magrath, the fuel controller, has rendered his final report to the government. An interesting feature is the appeal made in the preface to the women of the country to interest themselves in the conservation of fuel, especially the conservation of it. The report is divided in two parts, the first dealing with the fuel situation in Canada during the war, and the second forecasting fuel conditions in the future. It is quite evident that Canada came thru the war period in fairly good shape in respect to its coal supplies, especially imported fuels. Interesting tables are given showing the production and import of coal during the war years. Reference is made to labor conditions. The fuel controller expresses the opinion that, heretofore, the cards must be laid on the table, face up, and there is to be less camouflaging of facts. The opinion is advanced that the cost of living work should be enlarged to include the fuel situation, and that the fuel controller should be available to step into any industry in the country in order to set at facts; and the industries should be called upon to furnish statements to that department of the government, indicating their cost by units, on standard forms. The benefit would be twofold: it would bring to light high costs, if they exist, and enable the operator to seek a remedy. It would also be an agency thru which the government could satisfy labor that it was being fairly treated by the industry.

Report Use Soft Coal. The report favors the greater use of soft coal for domestic purposes. The report also suggests an investigation of the mine conditions in Canada.

In the concluding chapter, the startling statement is made that "the fire loss in Canada for 1918 amounted to $30,000,000 or about $4.00 per capita; carelessness has much to do with this vast amount of wealth being sent up in smoke. Great, however, as is the loss by fire, it cannot be compared with the loss of heat and energy in the domestic and industrial use of coal, which it is safe to say is more than double that lost thru conflagration, or over $60,000,000 spent annually by Canada in return for which absolutely no value is obtained.

Accompanying the report are a series of graphs comparing the variations in the price of coal with those of other commodities; variations in temperature at representative points in Canada, and United States; a map, showing in diagrammatic form the estimated coal supplies of the North American continent; and articles by experts on the economic utilization of fuels, in their relation to the industrial development of the country.

FISH VENDORS MUST DISPLAY PRICE CARDS

The sales branch of the Ontario fisheries department has appointed 51 dealers in Toronto who will handle government fish till the end of November next. In all stores where government fish is displayed for sale a card must be shown, announcing the price of trout, whitefish and pickerel is 16c per pound, cash and carry, and 17c cleaned and delivered. Thruout the province the same price cards must be displayed. The government can supply fish in quantity equal to any possible demand. It is up to the purchaser to see that he does not pay above the government price.

DOMINION G.W.V.A. OFFERS TO MEDIATE

Ottawa, June 5.—The Dominion executive of the G.W.V.A. in session here today has offered to act as mediator in an effort to effect a settlement of the Winnipeg strike. The following message was sent to all parties concerned in Winnipeg: "The Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, now in executive session at Ottawa, representing the great majority of returned soldiers in Canada, and having the best interests of all Canadians at heart, do hereby invite representatives of all conflicting interests in Winnipeg and district to accept this offer, to act as mediators to settle the strike situation in the best interests of all Canada. Please wire reply if acceptable. (Signed) W. P. Furney, Dominion president G. W. V. A. of Canada."

"SOLDIER" BEGGARS BECOMING PEST

Organizations Ready to Help All Bona-Fide Desist.

Several branches of the Great War Veterans' Association have received complaints recently to the effect that a number of men wearing the "A" class service badge and purporting to be strangers in the city are going around begging for money. Such a case was brought to the attention of central branch last night, when Secretary B. P. Brockbank received a telephone call from a prominent citizen stating that a returned soldier who averred he was a member of the F.P.C.L.I. was out in the garage and had demanded money. His story was to the effect that he was a stranger in Toronto and had no money to purchase the comfort of a bed or food. This man was advised to go to the Red Triangle Club or the K. C. Hut, but he refused the advice, saying he would be satisfied to look after himself if he had a dollar. He did not leave the house until the owner threatened to call up the military police.

Many Complaints. Other complaints have been recently received at the central branch of alleged returned men demanding money from citizens. Citizens have complained about being stopped by men wearing service buttons with a demand for monetary assistance. The amount usually asked for is from 25c to 50c. One complaint was to the effect that a presumably returned man made a habit of going on street cars and presenting his hat to the passengers inside, being most abusive to those who would not drop in a coin.

It is stated by officials of the Great War Veterans' Association that such methods as stated above are not necessary in view of the various organizations which exist to take care of just such cases. Any returned soldier who finds himself in temporary difficulties and can present a bona fide excuse will have no need to lower himself to the level of public begging. On the other hand, there are numerous organizations in the city which will be only too willing to provide him with food and shelter, and the citizens are warned against encouraging begging among soldiers, the majority suffering from the odium thus cast on them by the unprincipled few.

Port Dalhousie Accepts Resignation of Police Chief

"I Am So Weak and do Not Seem to Gain Any Strength"

"I takes time you know." "Yes, but I am getting tired of having people trying to encourage me that way." "You are too impatient." "Perhaps so, but when will I ever get strong if I do not gain a little every day?" "Have you tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?" "No, I have not, but so many have told me about it that I have a notion to give it a trial." "I certainly would try it if I were you, for it certainly helped me wonderfully when I was so weak and nervous last spring. And, besides, I could tell you of a dozen women who have used it when they were like you are, and soon got strong and well."

"Nurse was reading me a letter published in the paper from a Mrs. Conrad Smith of Milverton, Ont., and she also told me of other cases she has known about.
