Budget Debate at Fredericton Ends Without Amendment

FREE TRADE ALWAYS BALKAT PLAN

CHURCH BILL IS TAKEN UP IN HOUSE

Vote Soon on Much Disputed Legislation in Capital is Expected.

PROROGATION TALK

Some Prospect of Winding Up Business by Easter—Church Union.

(Special to Times.)

Fredericton, N. B., April 10.

The budget debate ended last night. Hon. W. E. Foster and several others were prepared to speak if the discussion were prolonged, but no amendment was moved and the House was rather glad to have the end come.

The Church Union bill was at once taken up and it is thought today that it will soon be brought to a vote. If it is got out of the way there will be some prospect of prorogation before Easter.

Hon. Mr. Michaud today tabled the report of a special committee on the claim of Thomas McLaughlin, of Cupid, Victoria county, for $75,000, following the burning of his mill at Five Fingers, Restigouche County, in the spring of 1920.

Basis of Claim

The claim is against the Department of Lands and Mines and is made on the ground that he had a crew of men to protect his property and a fire warden, acting for the Department, took them away to fight a forest fire on crown lands. They saved a large tract of timber on the Upsalquitch River, but in the meantime McLaughlin's mill was burned.

At the last session of the House a special committee was appointed by the Speaker to investigate the claim. It was composed of Hon. M. Michaud, chairman, and Messrs. Bentley, R. B. Smith, Young and Warnock. They held several meetings during recess and also held an enquiry at St. Quentin, and found that there was no legal liability on the part of the department, but that there was an equitable claim. In compensation for the crown lands timber saved by McLaughlin's men they recommended that he be paid $50,000 on equitable grounds only.

LUMBERMEN ARE GIVEN HEARING

Falls Bridge and Hydro Also Matter Before Government at Fredericton.

(Special to Times.)

Fredericton, N. B., April 10.—The Provincial Government is hearing today a delegation of lumbermen relative to the Compensation Act, also one from St. John relative to proposed changes in the Hydro Electric Commission Act, and a third delegation headed by George S. Cushing, in regard to an appeal to the Privy Council in the matter of the C. P. R. bridge at the Reversing Falls.

The house will go into supply this afternoon. If good progress is made the Church Union Bill may be taken up for the evening session in hope of disposing of it today.

The corporations committee heard this morning a delegation supporting the proposed bond issue of $150,000 for a vocational school in Fredericton and went into private session to consider it.

TWO ARE DROWNED

Farnham, Que., April 10.—L. Langlois, 18, and L. Laville, 18, were drowned in the Yarmaska River yesterday when their boat was caught in the strong current and swept over a dam. A companion, L. Pelletier, escaped by jumping and swimming ashore.

Escape as Slab Falls 16 Stories

New York, April 10.—A granite slab, said to weigh several tons, was dislodged from the sixteenth story coping of an addition being built to the Standard Oil building at Broadway and Beaver street, and crashed down on the streets of stout timbers erected over the sidewalk. Planes and beams were shattered, but the stone was stopped. George Nelson, fifteen years old, Long Island City, John Foster, a revenue agent of Brookline, Mass., and Frank Branch, a Roosevelt street, Concord, Staten Island, were walking beneath the scaffolding and were killed by the splintered beams. All of them were taken to Broad Street Hospital, suffering from concussion of the brain.

PROHIBITIONISTS OF MONCTON MEET

Demand That Power of Act Not Weakened—Secretaries Will Tour Province.

Moncton, N. B., April 10.—A large number of citizens interested in the retention and strict enforcement of the New Brunswick Prohibition Act gathered in the W. G. T. U. hall here last night to confer with Donald Fraser of Plaster Rock and W. J. Clarke and Rev. Thos. Marshall of Fredericton, members of the executive of the Provincial Temperance Alliance. The clergy were well represented.

Many speeches were made in which those present gave the assurance that they would brook no interference with the power and efficiency of the liquor law. The sentiment of the meeting gave evidence of the dissolution of political party allegiance should any attempt be made by the local government to trifle with the act.

A strong committee to reorganize the local branch of the alliance was appointed and included: Ex-Mayor Hanford Price, Ex-Mayor L. W. McAnn, Ex-Mayor and Mrs. J. E. Macdonald, Dr. H. H. and Mrs. Coleman, with power to add. The alliance will engage the services of an English and a French-speaking secretary to tour the province.

KING'S PALACE MAY BE DARKENED

Strike of Engineers Threatens Return to Lamps and Candles Tomorrow.

(By HARRY N. MOORE.)

(British United Press.)

London, April 10.—Buckingham Palace, the residence of the King and Queen, and St. James Palace, where the Prince of Wales resides, may be forced back to candle light tomorrow. The same menace threatens the parliament buildings and all the Government offices in Whitehall. The electric light is provided by a special power station operated by 700 engineering attendants employed by the public works department. All these electricians have joined in a peremptory demand for an increase of 12 shillings weekly in wages, threatening if immediate concession is not granted to darken all the most important buildings of the British Government service tomorrow.

The royal court is now at Windsor Castle, which will not be affected but the strike if it comes will certainly cause great inconvenience and considerable loss.

REDUCTION IN TARIFF IS LOOKED FOR

Hon. J. A. Robb Presents Budget Today to Keenly Interested Country.

CUT SALES TAX

That is Anticipated, as Well as Some Lightening of Income Tax Burden.

(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, April 10.—The budget speech being delivered by Hon. J. A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance, this afternoon is awaited with interest that has not been equalled since the luxury taxes were brought down. Presenting his maiden budget in the absence of the veteran of finance, Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, Mr. Robb is being looked upon as a challenge to the executive of the U. S. Congress in reducing income taxes to that country.

In finance Mr. Robb is expected to present the most hopeful statement which has been listened to by Parliament since before the war. The balancing of the budget is understood to be one of the features of this phase, and the latest figures available indicate that while this will be possible, it will not be achieved without some difficulty.

Figures for the complete year, ending with last month, have not yet been announced, but estimates based on the current year will just about balance, provided there are only small supplementary estimates.

The government at the present time is in a technical minority in the House. If Progressives and Conservatives were considered as a combined opposition, how far will the Government go to securing Progressive support? The question is a moot one. It is being asked on all hands.

SECOND PROBE IN ISLAND COLONY

Liquor Control and Other Departments of Newfoundland to be Investigated.

(By HARRY N. MOORE.)

(British United Press.)

St. John's, Nfld., April 10.—Premier Warren announced yesterday that the Newfoundland government has decided to request the British colonial office to select a commissioner to conduct a new investigation of government departments. When the government last year undertook an inquiry into charges against Sir Richard Squires, former premier, and other members of his administration, no Newfoundland jurist was found willing to preside and Thomas Hollis Walker, recorder of Derby, England, was appointed by the Colonial office at the request of this government. At the close of the new inquiry, which is supplementary to the previous investigation and concerns the liquor control department and other branches, criminal proceedings will be brought against persons indicted in both as guilty of misconduct, the premier announced yesterday. The immediate aim of the second inquiry, as announced, is to bring about reform of the public service.

In a proclamation issued yesterday the governor summoned the Legislature to meet on April 24.

Calls On Irish To Ignore Games

Dublin, April 10.—In a statement issued yesterday Patrick Rutledge, acting president of the "Irish Republic," calls upon the people of Ireland and every member of the Irish race to refuse to aid in the national games in Dublin in August.

Mrs. Iskre, who is 22 years old, told her 25-year-old husband she intended to have her hair bobbed. She told the court he had threatened to sue her for doing so again if she persisted in going to a beauty parlor. So she came to the court to have legal sanction for her hair-cut.

HUGO STINNES IS FIGHTING FOR LIFE

German Money Master, Dying, Reported Raving of Gigantic Financial Transactions.

(United Press.)

Berlin, April 10.—Hugo Stinnes, fighting for life, survived the night. The German money master, who is believed dying after successive gall stone operations, was delirious a good bit of the time. He babbed of gigantic financial transactions, while the markets in Germany were in a panic state on account of his illness.

Stinnes' son reported that his father's condition was "slightly improved," but the industrialist is still in danger. His fever is high. Two physicians are in constant attendance and one or more members of the family always at the bedside.

Berlin, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)—The condition of Hugo Stinnes was viewed this afternoon as hopeless as a result of an added complication in the nature of double pneumonia. He is conscious and said to be resigned to his fate. The and his wife are being repatriated and all else as a topic of discussion is the outcome of the country is jealous of New England supremacy. But time-honored custom decrees that the state from which the candidate hails shall be the one to nominate its favorite.

Massachusetts Governor Said to Be Likely to Be Accorded Honor.

(British United Press.)

Dublin, April 10.—"I hope that the Irish Free State will soon have an accredited representative at Washington," declared Desmond Fitzgerald, minister of foreign affairs in the Free State cabinet, in addressing the Dail here.

The Dail on Wednesday resumed debate on the question of ratification of the Anglo-American 12-mile ship liquor treaty, which the republican group opposes on the ground that the treaty speaks of "the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland," thereby suggesting that Ireland is under King George.

Deputies again protested that the wording does not properly express Ireland's independence. After some discussion the debate was adjourned.

SUPPORT CASS IN MAKING ALIBI

Five Witnesses Say He Was on Shore at Time Schooner Raid Made.

(By HARRY N. MOORE.)

Boston, April 10.—Five witnesses called yesterday in a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Wheeler on the petition of the Nova Scotia government for the extradition of Ray Cass of Somerville, on a piracy charge, presented testimony in corroboration of Cass' assertion that he was in Boston at the time of the alleged crime. Cass is charged by the Canadian government with having led an attack on August 26, last, off Cape Ann, on the rum-running British schooner J. Scott Hankinson, in which the captain and cook were shot and dangerously wounded. The attack was said to have occurred at about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cass, who concluded a day and a half on the witness stand yesterday, offered to subject himself to physical examination to prove that he bore no bullet wounds. Both seemed ready to meet the end and meet it they did without a faltering step.

Maurice Hansner of Meford, an insurance broker and close friend of Cass, testified to having been in the company of the defendant during the greater part of August 20. Joseph Laughlin, Cass' brother-in-law, testified that he and Cass were at the home of a relative from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 8 o'clock in the evening.

HAVE FIST FIGHT IN COMMONS

Former First Lord and Clydeside Laborite Get Battered Faces.

OTHERS WERE EAGER

Lieut. Col. Amery's Remark Resented and Buchanan and He Clash.

(Canadian Press.)

London, April 10.—There was a lively punching bout on the floor of the House of Commons last night and Lieut. Col. L. C. M. S. Amery, former First Lord of the Admiralty, and George Buchanan, a Glasgow Laborite, went home with battered faces.

Near midnight, just before the House adjourned, the burning topic of evicted unemployed tenants was being discussed when Lieut. Col. Amery referred contemptuously to the Laborites' arguments as "sob stuff," thereby extremely angering the Clydeside.

James Maxton of the Glasgow Laborite delegation shouted: "You dog, while Buchanan ejaculated: 'Never mind that swine; he is only a little gutter snipe.'"

The speaker rebuked the members for their remarks and the House almost immediately adjourned.

TWO MEN PAY FOR CRIME WITH LIFE

Murrell and Topping Die on Scaffold in London, Ontario, Today.

(By HARRY N. MOORE.)

London, April 10.—Sidney Ernest Murrell, 26, Melbourne bank bandit, slayer of Russell Campbell, a garage man of that village; and Clarence Topping, 23, formerly of Strathroy, who shot to death Geraldine Durston, 18, his sweetheart, here last November, paid the supreme penalty of the law this morning in the yard of the Middlesex county jail. Hangman Arthur Ellis shot the trap that sent both men to their deaths. Rev. Quinton Warner, spiritual adviser, was with the two men nearly all night and administered the last rites of the church.

"My time has come to part with this world. Good luck and God bless you." These were the last words of Murrell. Topping said not a word, but a smile lit up his face.

Both prisoners spent the night slinging hymns. Rev. Mr. Warner had been with them from midnight and prayers were offered for the repose of their souls. Both seemed ready to meet the end and meet it they did without a faltering step.

Henry Does Not Believe In Letting The Grass Grow Under His Feet

(By HARRY N. MOORE.)

Henry Babin is an opportunist. He believes in getting in on the ground floor—in hitting while the metal is hot. Henry is a bell-boy in the Touraine Hotel at Chatham, and he finds an opportunity now and then to put his ear to the ground. This time he got an earful.

The word went broadcast that St. John was to have a new hotel. Henry heard it and started to dream. He saw himself in the snappy uniform of a real high class hostelry, with bright shiny buttons and jaunty cap, gold lettered with the name, "Admiral Beatty."

So Henry took his pen in hand and the other day a letter addressed "Admiral Beatty Hotel, St. John, N. B." was delivered at the office of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell. Here it is in its original, unabridged form: "Dear Sir:—I am sending you a few lines to let you know that I am well hoping you the same. I see on the telegraph journal that you have a hotel and I want to know if I can get a job as a bell boy. Send me a word if you know please. This will be all. HENRY BABIN, Chatham, N. B., Touraine Hotel. That is the address sir."

BRITISH FOR DAWES PROGRAMME

No Decision Till June, Because of Necessary Negotiations.

THE OBJECTIONS

Germany Calls for Reduction in Demands All Along the Line.

(By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Cor.) Paris, April 10.—While the Reparations Commission studies the experts' reports, France keeps pace with Germany in objecting to the proposals. The old familiar game of European politics already is being played with this effort of international business men.

The Dawes plan was based upon co-operation and restored confidence. The principal French objections voiced by the press today were that:

1. Moral guarantees were valueless so far as Germany was concerned.
2. The Germans couldn't be trusted to carry out the experts' recommendations even if they formally accepted them.

"With their Swiss and Dutch colleagues," said the Petit Parisien, referring to the mixed boards of control proposed, "the Germans soon would be masters of the situation." The French expect international negotiation lasting several months.

GERMANS OPPOSE

(By CARL D. GROOT.) (United Press Staff Correspondent Berlin, April 10.—Germany's busy today giving reasons why Dawes report should not be accepted. Three main objections voiced were:

- 1.—A definite total reparations should be fixed, so that the night have a mark to shoot at.
- 2.—France and Belgium should be required to take their troops out of the Ruhr.
- 3.—Practically all the reparations demanded should be reduced.

Berlin, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)—The bulk of the editorial comment published in the Berlin newspapers today inclines to the opinion that the report of the expert reparations committee constitutes a basis for negotiations.

MAYOR SAYS SCHOFIELD RESPONSIBLE FOR NECESSITY OF HYDRO BOND ISSUE

Claims $64,000 and More Lost to People on Account of Ex-Mayor's Attitude—Mr. Schofield Appears Before Council and Explains Firm's Objection to the Debiture Issue.

Mayor Fisher this morning expressed himself very strongly in the matter of the protest of the Schofield Paper Co. against the issue of $61,000 on bonds to pay for current purchase from the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, when E. A. Schofield appeared in connection with the letter of the firm to the council. After hearing Mr. Schofield the committee adjourned to go into council without taking any action on the letter of protest.

Mr. Schofield said he had very little to say in addition to the letter of the Schofield Paper Co. The protest, he said, was from the firm and not from himself as an individual or ex-mayor. It was not his intention, as reported, to disparage the hydro policy of the city. His firm did take exception to the issuing of bonds for the payment of current.

There were three ways to meet this debt he said. First, take care of it in sales; second, arrange on taxpayers, and third, issue bonds. He took it for granted that the chamberlain would pay the coupons and at the end of the year make a demand on the Civic Power Commission for the amount due. If this were not forthcoming, he presumed there would be another bond issue to meet the deficit. This he did not consider good business.

He had been given to understand that in a short time there would be close to $240,000 of revenue per year. This was correct, he said, and would be carried in an overdraft and paid out of this revenue, rather than issue bonds for 10 years on which interest would have to be paid. Success would have to be had in the sale of the charges and provided a small surplus. Why does not St. John do the same? he asked.

A good contract entered into should pay a rate sufficient to pay the carrying charges. From the firm's point of view, he said, he simply wished to be on record as opposing the policy of the city in issuing bonds for this amount.

Business Is Affected. His firm were tied here with a good deal of real estate and while they did not have to stay here he was proud to say they were able to do export work as cheaply through St. John and New York, but they had not made a dividend for the past two years and their load added to the present burden.

THE PROFESSORS OBJECTED

Professors of the Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., have expressed their displeasure of a park of members of the Great Abolition Association. On a recent hike, the girls took possession of the park, drove out the animals and had their pictures taken while imitating the monkeys.

well, but the business men had to look to continuity of service. Mr. Fisher took exception to the statement of Mr. Schofield that the city system was not dependable, and claimed hydro was as dependable as any other source of supply.

Mr. A. MacIntyre, the comptroller, said the period was arrived at by taking the average life of the materials. Commissioner Thornton moved this lie on the table, not seconded.

Commissioner Thornton asked why the issue of the $64,000 account and the Chamberlain said this had to be issued under the authority of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and the other could be issued under the city act.

Hydro Current Bonds. His Worship then moved for the issue of $64,000 10 year bonds for the payment of current.

Commissioner Bullock suggested that the issue of the $64,000 account and the Chamberlain said this had to be issued under the authority of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and the other could be issued under the city act.

Other Issues Passed. The following bond issues for the various city works were authorized: 10 years, $85,000; 15 years, $25,000; 20 years, $9,000; 40 years, $99,000; making a total issue of $308,000, including the bond for hydro.

A SPRING VISITOR. Friends of William Donahue, popular owner of a garage and livery stable in Waterloo street, will be interested to learn that he has started delving in entomology. This morning he stood smiling in his door and as friends came along he invited them into his office and forthwith produced a real live butterfly. He explained that it had been caught in Waterloo street yesterday and he had taken possession of it.

FOR CADET FUNDS. Further contributions to the fund being raised for cadet battalions of the city were announced today by the cadet board of directors. Word has been received that the band instruments for the boys are now on the way and it is the hope of the directors to have all the boys uniformed in the future. The fund now amounts to $120. Recent contributions include: John H. Moore, $5; Daryl G. Peters, $5; J. E. Arnold, $5; George W. C. Oland, $10; Wm. L. Caldwell, $5.

SEAPERS OF GRAND FALLS. T. B. Kent, who made the borings at Grand Falls for the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, was in the city today and greatly pleased Grand Falls as a site for water power. He said that everywhere he found the people keen for the development of this power and for having it done under government ownership. He said that the work of construction would be helped along by the fact that the material which would have to be excavated was a very fine quality of gravel and all that would be necessary to use it would be to pass it along to the mixers.

BREAKS MAKE WORK. The workmen of the water and sewerage department have been kept busy for the last twenty-four hours making repairs to breaks. All day yesterday they were repairing a gate which had gone bad on the old 24 inch main at the Fairview crossing. They had just made the repairs there and got the water on again when word was received of a break in the six inch main at the corner of Clarence and Erin streets, and they had to work all night at that. Just as they were about to approach a fountain of water made its appearance in the trench, and it was found that a leak had developed in the 12 inch main in Erin street. They were still working on this at noon.

A BOND ISSUE OF MRS. R. C. WEYMAN $739,000 APPROVED IN ALBERTA

Council Passes Mayor's Proposal—Issue for Hydro Current Included.

Bonds to the amount of $739,000 at 5-14 per cent. to run from 10 to 40 year periods were authorized by the Common Council this morning after considerable discussion about the advisability of issuing bonds to pay for the current purchased from the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to December 31, 1923.

Tenders Opened. Tenders for poles and line materials for the Civic Power Commission were opened and referred to the civic commission as follows: Line material, Northern Electric Co., Ltd., N. Slater Co., Ltd., Canadian Wire and Cable Co., Ltd., E. Leonard and Sons, Canadian Line Materials Ltd., Northern Electric Co., Ltd., N. Slater Co., Ltd., Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd.; poles, Northern Electric Co., Ltd.; poles, Northern Electric Co., Ltd., and Lindsay Bros. Co., Ltd.

Warrants were ordered issued to Samuel S. Foley, a member of No. 1 S. C. and P. F. and to A. S. Walker and the resignations of A. E. Baxter and S. W. McBeth as members of No. 1 S. C. and P. F. were accepted.

The issue of $362,000 bonds for 30 years at 5 per cent. for the cost of the distribution system was moved by Mayor Fisher.

Commissioner Thornton said he could support this resolution for a 30 year issue when much of the material did not have a life of 30 years and he suggested that the comptroller be heard.

A. A. MacIntyre, the comptroller, said the period was arrived at by taking the average life of the materials. Commissioner Thornton moved this lie on the table, not seconded.

Commissioner Thornton asked why the issue of the $64,000 account and the Chamberlain said this had to be issued under the authority of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and the other could be issued under the city act.

Hydro Current Bonds. His Worship then moved for the issue of $64,000 10 year bonds for the payment of current.

Commissioner Bullock suggested that the issue of the $64,000 account and the Chamberlain said this had to be issued under the authority of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and the other could be issued under the city act.

Other Issues Passed. The following bond issues for the various city works were authorized: 10 years, $85,000; 15 years, $25,000; 20 years, $9,000; 40 years, $99,000; making a total issue of $308,000, including the bond for hydro.

Sad News Comes to Well Known St. John Family.

Many friends in St. John and vicinity will hear with regret of the death of Mrs. Robert C. Weyman, which occurred this morning at Benton, Alta., where she made her home with her son, Robert C., and her daughter, Mrs. Joly P. Macdonald. The news came in a wire to another daughter, Mrs. Edward J. White, of St. John.

Mrs. Weyman, who was 75 years of age, had been in failing health for some time, and although the news was not unexpected, it came as a great blow to her relatives and friends here. Before her marriage Mrs. Weyman was Miss Mercer. She was born in Providence, R. I., but lived most of her life in Sussex. The family later moved to St. John where they became well and favorably known by a large circle of friends. Mrs. and Mrs. Weyman removed to the west about 16 years ago, and about ten years ago Mrs. Weyman passed away there. Their son, Edward, also died there about two years later.

Mrs. Weyman is survived by two sons and one daughter. The sons are Robert C. of Benton, Alta., and William W. of St. John, foreman of the Times composing room staff. The daughter is Mrs. Joly P. Macdonald, of Benton, Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, of Tuleau, Sask., Mrs. Mrs. Robert Lawson, of Los Angeles; Mrs. M. H. Day and Mrs. Frederick E. White, of St. John. They will have the deep sympathy of many friends in their great loss.

Church Bill Taken Up In The House

Before crowded galleries last evening, after the budget debate ended, that on church union was begun. Intense interest was felt in this question.

A. F. Bentley was the first speaker. He said that the Legislature was not asked to pronounce upon the question of church union. That was for the Federal Parliament. The Legislature had only to deal with the transfer of property of the churches to the united church. He read the section of the bill which makes it possible for any church to remain out of the union.

There was the most earnest disputation, he said, on the part of the unionists to treat their brethren who opposed union with every consideration, hoping and believing that eventually they, too, would come into the union. The bill would come into the union. He had advanced the property rights to all.

Mr. Bentley said the petitions presented in opposition to union had been a very large opposition. There were thirty-one petitions in all. He had analyzed and the names counted. Some were the names of members of other than Presbyterians. Some names, inadvertently no doubt, appeared twice. There were 3,254 signatures in all, whereas there are 25,000 Presbyterians in the province. Those signing were communicants. There were 11,000 communicants in the province. The proportion of those signing was one to fourteen.

The opposition was not spontaneous. All the petitions were alike and sent out from one source. The result of a long canvass was this 3,254 names. It was not evidence of a strong opposition. He appealed to the members to give the matter their most serious consideration, and expressed the hope that they would pass the bill.

Dr. Carson. Dr. L. M. Carson said he strongly commended the corporations committee for referring the matter to the whole House, so that all members could hear the discussion and take their part. The question of the disappearance of the churches entered the union was a delicate one, but that was a matter for the Federal Parliament. Under union these would disappear as the United Church. The members of the House should not fail to do their duty in the matter. The legislation here proposed would have no effect if the federal bill failed to pass. It had been asked: Why not wait for Ottawa to act? The bill has passed its first reading at Ottawa and this Legislature should deal with the matter on its merits and without delay.

The suggestion that its action might influence Ottawa was no more force than one that the Legislature itself would be influenced in performing its duty by the action of a municipality. The measure is an act respecting union, not making a union. The churches had decided to unite and petitioned Parliament for legislation to make union effective. This Legislature was only asked to deal with the property of the churches. It provided for denunciation and property and property held in trust so that under it there could be no question in dispute.

In regard to each kind of property the rights of the congregations were fully protected. The whole people of the province are asked through their representatives to adjust this matter and to give a fair judgment. It should be given now, to avoid difficulty that would arise if Parliament ratified the union and the property matter were not decided in the provinces. The bill did not take from any denomination its property, but it would be used by the same congregation in the union. It did not give anybody out of their church property. The passing of the bill would prevent any disturbance, and it was fair to all, whether they favored union or not.

Dr. Carson made a very eloquent appeal for Christian unity. He said that in the past twenty-five years there had been a drawing together of churches, especially the separated portions of the same denominations. The present was the next possible move for Christian unity. To be effective in its world-wide contact the church must be united. Those closest to each other must first come together. The union now proposed is the next logical step. He felt, he said, that it was his duty to support this bill in the interests of real Christian unity, and he was glad to have the opportunity to do so.

Mr. Young spoke briefly in opposition. He said he was opposed to the principle of the bill, and he would conscientiously support it. If he were the means of driving anybody out of the church in his peace of mind would be destroyed.

The discussion went over till some time this afternoon. The feeling grew among its friends that the bill will pass.

almost equally unfriendly. But there is not a note in the semi-official and journalistic comment this morning to indicate the least possibility of British refusing to co-operate to the full in accepting and carrying out the terms of the recommendations.

The first practical outcome of the report will be a resumption of international conference with regard to its terms. This will naturally occupy several weeks in London. In the meantime the elections will have been held both in Germany and in France and the report in the same spirit that prevails officially in Britain today and will co-operate with the MacDonald Government in bringing pressure upon the other Allies, Europe may a few years hence date her settlement of post-war problems from the day the Dawes programme was filed.

CONCERNING CHANGE IN FORM OF CIVIC GOVERNMENT

Whether St. John returns to a more representative form of civic government or not—a question very much in the public mind at the present time—there is one thing I most heartily endorse and that is this: To separate the legislative functions of the Council and the executive. It is most important to ensure the framing of policies that are in the interests of all factions in a city, to legislate by consensus of opinion for the city as a whole.

PREMIER VENIOT ON PROVINCIAL AFFAIRS.

A speech marked by a keen and searching analysis of provincial finance, by a bold and clear presentation of government policy and by some characteristic hard hitting for the Opposition is that of Premier Veniot in the budget debate, the first part of which is published today.

He begins by an analysis of the public debt in connection with which friends of the old government have tried to escape their responsibility. The debt has been increased by $14,000,000 since October of 1916, but Hon. Dr. Veniot shows that of this amount more than $4,000,000 is chargeable to the operations of the previous administration, leaving a net debt of $9,747,000 for which the present ministry has been responsible since March 31, 1917.

But the amount of bonded debt incurred for hydro is being reduced by a sinking fund large enough to meet the bonds at maturity. It is an obligation which, rightly handled, will take care of itself, and the Premier therefore deducts the hydro expenditure from the net debt for which this government is responsible, further reducing the total to $5,695,000.

As to the further and most important contrast, that this government is providing generously for interest and sinking fund charges whereas from 1908 to 1917 the money was spent without any real attempt to set aside anything for the redemption of the bonds. The mortgage was piled high but there was no thought of meeting any portion of it when it was due.

The Premier, in speaking of Grand Falls, commits the government fully to government development and ownership and challenges the leader of the Opposition to say as much for his party. As to the progress of development, Hon. Dr. Veniot again reminds the public that nothing but preliminary work can be done at present.

"We cannot turn a sod," he says, "until we have all our plans ready to submit to the International Waterways Commission and to the federal governments at Ottawa and Washington. We have crews of engineers finishing the final surveys for the completion of these 'links'."

The government, he says, is anxious to proceed as fast as circumstances permit. But gives absolute assurance that the Grand Falls power will be developed. The Premier had a word to say to those who whisper and insinuate against him or his policies. He challenges any man who is willing to impute charges to do so—come to open and not fire from the back.

This challenge has been issued more than one occasion by the Premier, but it has never been accepted. The inference is obvious.

A SIGNIFICANT BILL. Reference was made in The Times yesterday to a bill now before the Nova Scotia Legislature providing for the detection and compulsory treatment of drug addicts, and the mere fact that such a measure is under discussion in the sister province is proof of the alarm created by the spreading of opium and cocaine or their derivatives.

The most difficult evil to deal with is legislation beyond heavily the sale of narcotic drugs. The use, but the Nova Scotia Government is anxious to protect itself as well as punish the addict who does not wait until he is arrested. A peace officer informed that anyone who is an addict may be committed in writing, requiring a doctor and submit to treatment in hospital, jail or other institution for such period as the bill becomes of designated hospital.

adequate provision for the reception and treatment of this class of prisoners. Police and prison officials in Canada, particularly in the larger cities, report that a rapidly increasing number of those arrested are in the grip of narcotics, and crimes of violence, notably robbery, assault and murder are in these days frequently the work of men or youths who are more or less drug-crazed. The proposal of such legislation next door to us is a serious reminder of the growth of an evil that is insidious and horrifying. In the larger cities the evil is by no means confined to the criminal classes but has claimed its quota of victims from circles of young folk supposed to be wholly beyond the reach of weakness so grave and so utterly destructive both physically and morally.

If Nova Scotia proceeds along the lines indicated there will be introduced a system of surveillance formerly unknown to the Maritime Provinces, but presumably conditions there warrant action designed to deal early with what in other parts of the country is regarded as a plague warranting the most serious alarm.

THE GERMAN MULE. The next development in the European situation must await British and French action on the new plan for payment by Germany. Both may reject it, or one. Should both accept it, Germany's declared attitude would not be of much consequence, for whatever the German government does, whatever it ratifies, there will be no decent national effort to do other than postpone or evade actual compliance with terms which none outside Germany will think too severe and which many will regard as too moderate.

The experts on reparations have done what they could but they have not reckoned with the cunning and the inherent dishonesty which the German leaders have steadily displayed in addition to their mulishness. The German mule is hard to drive, but he can be driven, and he understands no other form of treatment.

The road left open by the Dawes-McKenna reports is a long one unless Britain and France, after their governments examine every angle of the experts' report, can unite in accepting the plan proposed on the understanding that German resistance, passive or otherwise, and German bad faith, so soon as they appear, and appear they will, are to be met with stern measures. Germany will whimper over the proposals, is indeed whinpering over them already. She will complain that an impossible method of settlement and recovery is forced upon her, and her citizens will be urged in fiery speeches to show in the coming elections that the nation will never submit to a plan which, whatever else may be said of it, would give the beaten country, the author of the world's worst troubles, a much more generous treatment than she could reasonably expect, and, if she could deal honestly, a real chance to recuperate together with extensive aid in doing so.

The Germans favored the plan of calling in international experts in the hope of securing delay, easier treatment, and further excuses for increasing confusion at home and in other countries. As in the war, Germany is praying today that the new report will cause disagreement among the Allies, as indeed it may, since the interests of Britain and France are not identical and the French course has caused many in Britain to look with reluctance upon any invitation to join in clearing up a tangle which they think French policy has aggravated, though to be sure they must feel that Germany has deliberately invited even more drastic measures than the French have applied.

If Britain and France can act in concert another German default can be dealt with. If they cannot there will be another crisis through French extension of the policy of pressure. In any event a period of sharp controversy over the report in the Allied countries as well as in Berlin is to be looked for. Elections are close at hand in France and Germany and quite possible at short notice in Britain. Meanwhile the German mule will plot fresh resistance and evasion. Germany would be quite ready to work up a domestic revolution if it would in any way assist in postponing or dodging honest payment of reparations. Whatever the British and French may do there will be no real attempt on the part of Germany to pay, except under pressure and supervision of the strongest character.

Germany is already telling the world why she cannot accept the Dawes plan. She merely wants to prolong the argument to avoid parting with any money. She thrives on dishonest talk. We learn with gratitude and relief that when Lt.-Col. L. C. M. S. Amery, former First Lord of the Admiralty, and Laborite M. P. George Buchanan punched each other to something like a draw on the floor of the House of Commons yesterday "it was the first personal encounter in the House for nearly a year." The Speaker gave no decision, the boot not having gone the limit.

A Canadian prairie journal announces that out there spring has been "called off owing to the inclemency of the weather." Today a caller brought a fine bunch of mayflowers to The Times for inspection—not the first either.

Already there is a movement on foot to name General Dawes as Mr. Coolidge's running mate. They are politically quick on the trigger in the land south of us. It might be well to wait until the Dawes report is a few weeks older.

Los Angeles people fond of writing to tell about their "perpetual sunshine," with sneers, occasionally, at New England's own glorious climates. But please take note that none of them wrote us anything about the snow that fell in Los Angeles a few days ago. No! Not one word about that snow!

OUR NATIONAL PARKS. (Stratford Beacon-Herald.) The Canadian national parks committee has approved a plan to set aside an area of about 6,000,000 acres. They are sanctuaries for wild fowl, deer, mountain sheep and goat, moose, elk, bear and buffalo, and a tourist wonderland of forests, stocked streams and lakes, glaciers, hot springs, waterfalls and mountains.

NEW THRILLS FOR RADIO FANS.

Owners of radio sets have another thrill in store for them. They will be able to sit safely at home at night and listen to a bandit hunt on the other side of the city. This is conditioned on passage by city council of an ordinance approving the plan proposed on the understanding that German resistance, passive or otherwise, and German bad faith, so soon as they appear, and appear they will, are to be met with stern measures.

Director Butler's idea is to flash news of bandit activities over the radio both to the police stations and to the men out on patrol duty. They will take it "on the fly" and be off to the scene of a holdup almost as soon as it occurs.

GOEBEN REAPPEARS.

The Detroit Free Press refers to a despatch this week announcing that the Turkish national assembly has doubled the government's naval expenses because it wishes to buy a submarine and repair the one battleship now owned by the Turks, also says that the ship to be repaired is the Goeben. The fact that this ancient craft is still a part of the Turkish navy throws a flash of light on the recent history of the Near East.

Thereafter the Goeben and the Breslau figured throughout the history of hostilities in the Near East. At one time it was reported that they had been put permanently out of commission by aeroplane bombers, but the war ended with the Goeben still afloat; and then came that shameful part of the story in which Turkey, though utterly defeated, was permitted to army and defy her conquerors. A part of the salvage realized by the Turks in that process was the Goeben, and now she is to be commissioned again though acquired by a violation of international law and really a part of the German navy. This fact may not be one of great practical importance for the Goeben was an old ship when she took refuge in the "neutral" waters of Turkey, and she must be of less use today than many a ship which has been built and sunk in target practice, but as a reminder of international perfidy and folly she is of more importance than many a better ship.

LADY APRIL

(Nan Terrell Read in N. Y. Times.) April is a Lady Fair. Who's noted for her tears. And yet she's very popular. Through all the passing years. For every tear is like a cup of cool and crystal dew. That falls upon a thirsty earth. Where green is pushing through.

April is a Lady Fair. Who's noted for her smile. Whose smile is twice as lovely when you've seen her tears awhile. And every smile is like a hand—A very welcome one. That reaches to the garden plots. Where seeds, have just begun.

I wish I were a Lady Fair. Whose tears and smooches go. To make and greet so fair a thing As flowers when they grow. But if I smile, it does not help. A single flower bed. And if I weep, it only leaves My nose a horrid red.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

Social Cander. Mrs. Klawier—"Visitors, don't you think, always provide pleasure?" Hostess (brightening)—"Yes—if not when they come, at least when they go."

To Look For Some Coal. These are the days when the furnace fire wants to go out oftener than the hired girl.

Restaurant Repartee. Impatient diner—"Say, waiter, how many times have I called you?" Waiter—"You'll have to keep count of that, sir. I have something else to do."

Quick Lunch Proverbs. Always say pie. Masturbation is the thief of time. Bolt and the world bolts with you; chew and you chew alone.

A Qualification

"What makes you think that Jim would be a success in politics?" "Well, an' I mean nothing but another man I know."

By Modern Standards

"Mother, I'm afraid that papa was pretty slow when he was a young man." "I'm afraid you're right, Helen. He always paid his debts, and used good English, and never saw a cabaret, and hadn't any clubs and was able to support a wife before he married—yes, I guess he was pretty slow."

COULDN'T FIND NEW VOLCANO

Ancon, Canal Zone.—(By mail to United Press)—A scientific expedition sent from San Jose, Costa Rica, to investigate the reported new volcano in Mount Turribares, between San Jose and Puntarenas, has reported that they were all over the Turribares region and found nothing extraordinary in the aspect of Mount Turribares, or any trace of a new volcano. Volcano reports are a natural consequence of severe earthquake periods. During the worst of the Guatemala quakes of January, 1918, which came on a moonlight night, members of the harassed and terrified populace saw "a new mountain" on the horizon, and throngs were overwhelmed by the "practical" when morning broke the mountain was seen to be the roof of a house in the suburbs, rising against the skyline.

In 1921 a new volcano was reported within 40 miles of the Panama Canal, near Padora, Panama. Positive and alarming tales were brought in by the natives. An expedition sent out by the Governor of the Canal Zone found that what had occurred was a landslide near a native village, but there was not a trace of volcanic action.

Proclaims Fast On Good Friday

Hartland, Conn., April 10.—In a proclamation designating Friday, April 18, the day of the Crucifixion, as a day of fasting and prayer, Governor Trapp calls upon all the people of Connecticut "without distinction of creed, to assemble in their places of worship to pray to the God who has made and preserved us as a nation that in our prosperity we may be delivered from selfishness, from greed, from contempt of law, to pray that we may have courage to stand and if need be to suffer on the side of right."

HELD UNITED MEETING.

There was a large meeting at Central United Baptist church yesterday afternoon when the senior and junior members of the Mission Bands accepted the invitation of the W. M. S. to be present at their regular meeting. Mrs. J. J. Gillies, president, was in the chair. An address was given by Miss Augusta Slipp, of Hampstead, provincial secretary of the W. M. S. Miss Agatha Steeves sang, and Miss Olive Estabrook gave a reading. The request for the Easter offering was generously responded to. Tea was served informally.

WHAT OF EGYPT IN NEW CIVILIZATION?

Brig-General R. B. D. Blakeney, C. M. D. S. gave a lecture at the Continental Hotel, Cairo, says the Egyptian Mail, with the hall well filled with a most representative audience, who were anxious to hear what light theosophical teachings would throw on the present and the future of Egypt. He dealt with three of the cardinal concepts that throw much light on the course of evolution—First, the atomic law; second, the law of action, and reaction (Karma); third, the law of periodicity, sometimes called the cyclic law.

The following is the portion of his address relating to Egypt in the new era: Nations and races arise, make rapid progress, followed by decline and stagnation. The Indian sages have given us actual numbers of years, a great cycle of 2,800 years, and a small cycle of 1,200 years, and if we apply this to Egypt we shall find that it almost exactly fits the historical facts, so that Egypt today is at the federated point of a new wave of progress after these periods of stagnation, and being dominated by other races.

And Egypt has her work to do in the world, and the new civilization that is coming into being, even as she was the centre of the old. This seems to be inevitable, situated as she is on the borders of three continents, in a unique central spot. And as of old Egypt was the centre of religious teachings, and the birth place of new religions, so once again she must take her place among the federated nations of the world.

This is at any rate certain, that with the growth of air travel, many lines would meet here, and peoples of all the world pass through, even as they passed now. Egypt should look towards the great revival in India for her inspiration, rather than to the West, and there the note of the emancipation of the women was being sounded with as clear a note as might be heard in the West. For the evolution of the human race was touching a higher plane than had been reached when we were passing from the mental level to a higher state of consciousness, the intuitional, and the mind of the spheres, more easily than man.

In concrete directions, the immediate requirements were to open large avenues of usefulness for the educated classes in Egypt, the Eftendi class. Government appointments were not sufficiently numerous, neither was the discipline and restriction of Government employment the best avenue for opening the power of initiative. There were vast resources in the country awaiting genius to exploit them; the electric power that could be obtained from the Assuan Dam, to take one instance, or as probably possible the conversion of the power in the sun's heat to the use of man. Then why should this country require to import European clothing, when they should make the national dress that is so much more suitable, and also more graceful, than the present use of foreign garb. Here there were immense stores of cotton, why did Egypt have to import this from other countries. Then there was vast need for teaching the peasantry hygiene, and especially the care of the babies, to prevent the terrible amount of eye troubles, and defects in sight that were preventable. In selecting men for work on the railway, it was found that only three in twenty had eye-sight that was sufficiently good to pass the tests.

So there is much to be done, so that Egypt may secure suitable opportunities and resources in the country evolved souls to take incarnation in the nation, and prepare the way for the further progress of the people. MYSTERY WOMAN IS TAKEN AT LAST

"The Black Thrush" They Call Her in Half of Europe's Capitals.

Berlin, April 10—One of the most successful of women war spies, and one of the most extraordinary personalities among the many clever criminals who prey on high society all over Europe has been caught by the police at Jagay in Rumania.

She is an exceedingly beautiful woman of 30, a native of Berlin. With wonderful black hair, a marvelous voice and fascinating black eyes, she is known in half the capitals of Europe as "The Black Thrush."

Time and again the smartest of Berlin's detectives have set forth to try to capture her, but always without success. The police of eight or nine countries have often been on her trail, but in vain.

Now, by an odd chance, she has fallen into the hands of the Rumanian police when they were not looking for or even thinking of her particularly, and many a nobleman of Central Europe will rejoice to know that "The Black Thrush" is caged at last.

Becomes Adventurer.

Josefine Duermand left Berlin when she was 18 and went to Vienna, where she made the acquaintance of a rich banker. One day she went to tea at his house, and when she had gone he missed his pocket-book with 22,000 kronen—in those days nearly $3,000.

With the money Josefine fitted herself out for the role of high life adventuress, and until the Jassy police arrested her, she "never looked back."

It was in Milan that her beauty won for her the title of "The Black Thrush" and while she fascinated everybody at fashionable clubs and drawing-rooms, several gangs of thieves, of which she was the head, worked on the information with which she provided them.

It is believed that, at one time in 1913, she had no fewer than six clever gangs under her command.

She had the entire everywhere in Rome and Milan, Venice and Naples. In Venice, for instance, she attracted the attentions of a count, from whom she stole $5,000 (about $10,000) and who nearly lost his life as a result of her theft.

A successful time in Paris followed; then, when the gay city was rather too hot for her, she appeared in Nice as the Baroness von Schattenheim. A few weeks later she was arrested at the request of the Paris police, but she behaved so cleverly that before 24 hours were over she was at liberty again.

The war came, and she returned to Germany as a spy. In this she was extremely successful, but eventually she was arrested in Berlin.

The case against her was black in the extreme, but, just at the right moment, a high prison official fell in love with her, arranged for her escape and concealed her for two months in his house. She escaped to France with masses of information of an extremely valuable nature.

Disappeared.

Since the war "The Black Thrush" has appeared in and disappeared from half a dozen capitals, but about two years ago she went to Rumania and settled down in Bucharest. There she formed a number of gangs, one of which, the largest, set up a dollar-note factory in Jassy. For months the Rumanian police have been trying to find the source of large quantities

THE EVOLUTION OF FIREARMS SHOWN

Interesting Display of British Relics Exhibited by N. H. S.

The latest display to be exhibited in the Union street window of the Natural History Society building consists of seven guns from the museum collection of firearms used by the British army. The seven pieces show the developments that have taken place since 1688. The display has attracted considerable attention.

The first gun is a Prussian flint lock musket given to the museum as part of the Queen Anne pattern but George I time. The flint lock musket was invented in France about 1688 and was the chief gun used in the armies of Europe for 200 years. The specimen shown is one of the early types.

First British Rifle.

The third specimen in the exhibit is a Baker's rifle flint lock, also from the Delancey Robinson collection. It has a triangular bayonet and was the first rifle used in the British army, in 1800 the 90th Regiment, now known as the Rifle Brigade, was armed with this rifle. At that time the regiment were acting as marines and shortly after being armed with this rifle they took part in the Battle of Copenhagen under Nelson.

The next specimen is an Enfield percussion rifle given by W. P. Banting, the rifle was adopted by the British army in 1835. It is a three grooved rifle with 30-inch barrel. It first saw service in the Crimean campaign at Alma, Inkermann and Sebastopol in 1855. It was used in Persia in 1859, the Chinese wars of 1856-1860 and the Indian Mutiny, 1857-1859. It continued in use until 1867. The one shown is the Chinese version of 1856-1860 and the woodwork and the stock broken by a bullet.

The Snider Rifle.

The fifth specimen is a Snider rifle of the Long type converted. The Enfield Percussion Rifles were converted into breech loaders by a plan proposed by Mr. Jacob Snider. This was the first breech loading rifle in the British army. It was used by some of the troops in the war with Abyssinia and in the Ashantee war. The specimen is the gift of George Morrissey.

The next gun is a Martini-Medford rifle Mark I. This type of rifle was used to some extent in the Canadian armies succeeding the Martini-Henry.

The last gun is a Magazine Lee-Enfield, Mark I, showing the improvements made in the rifling to resist the wear of the smokeless powder and also in the bolt action. The number of grooves in this rifle has been reduced to five from the seven that were found in the Medford Mark II. This rifle was officially adopted as the rifle of the British army.

Only Part of Collection.

The guns in the window exhibit are only a small portion of the collection in the museum, which is complete with one exception only. The only gun used in the British army which the museum does not possess is the smooth bore percussion musket. In the British service the percussion

NAVAL CADETS ON PARADE.

There was quite a large gathering of citizens on the corner of Charlotte and North Market streets last evening about 9 o'clock when the cadets of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve were lined up by Instructor Thompson and Petty Officer Hurst.

The boys in navy blue presented a fine appearance, looking smart and attractive. Quite a large number of the cadets lined up and, after a few preliminaries, they formed four and then the squad was turned over to Lieut. H. A. Morrison, who gave the order "Right turn, quick march," and the manner in which the young fellows paraded along the street was given commendation and applause. They were alert in their movements and marched perfectly.

succeeded the flint musket, the flint locks were converted into percussion in 1839 but the percussion musket was not in general use until 1842. It continued in use in the British army until the Mini Rifle in 1851 and altogether by the Enfield Rifle in 1856. It was first used in the war with China.

MR. EDMOND ST. JACQUES.

To Eat Was to Encourage Pain

This was the state in which Edmond St. Jacques of 97 St. James street, Montreal, found himself before he discovered Dreo.

For two years Edmond St. Jacques, who is caretaker at 97 St. James street, Montreal, suffered with his stomach. The description of his ailments is the same as thousands of Canadians might give if they were to tell their experiences in the pages of this paper.

Mr. St. Jacques is 60 years' old and at his age the digestive organs are not as active as they are in a younger man. Years of constant use tires them and their efforts are feeble. This was the case with Mr. St. Jacques and everything he ate fermented. Constipation and rheumatism resulted and continued until checked by his timely discovery of Dreo.

"I have only taken three bottles of Dreo and they have given me splendid result. I eat better than before and what pleases me most is that everything I eat digests. My rheumatic pains have almost disappeared and I can truthfully say that I feel 100 per cent. better."

"Thanks to the wonderful result Dreo has given me, I can sleep like a baby at night and in the morning I feel rested and refreshed, quite different from before. I am very happy indeed to recommend Dreo for the way it has helped my ailments. It is a marvelous preparation and I have never taken anything that has helped me more."

Dreo's reliability as a corrective and system builder comes from the pure juices of herbs, roots, bark and leaves. These are nature's own remedies for the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys which quickly respond to this sensible treatment. Dreo contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreo is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King St. Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward St. F. W. Munro, 357 Main St., and in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson and by a good druggist everywhere.

Hot-Pot of Spring Lamb.
One pound shoulder of lamb, ¼ cup pearl barley, 2 teaspoons salt, 8 large onions, ¼ cup minced celery tops, 8 cups boiling water.

Remove skin from meat and cut out in small pieces. Try out fat from some of the fat on the meat, add onions cut in thin slices and fry a golden brown. Add meat and sear on all sides. Add barley and water and simmer for one and one-half hours. Add potatoes for the rest of the family, celery tops, salt and pepper and cook 45 minutes longer. Serve without potatoes or re-reducing diet.

Total calories (without potatoes), 2262. Protein, 401; fat, 1278; carbohydrate, 828. Iron, .0192 gram.

The diet salad this time is made with cucumbers, diced new beets and head cabbage with salt and lemon juice as the dressing. Put a mound of cucumbers in the center of the plate, surround with diced beets and finish with shredded cabbage around the beets. Sprinkle with the dressing and serve very cold.

One-half cup stewed rhubarb, 2 slices crisp broiled bacon, 2 waffles, 4 tablespoons maple syrup, 1 cup cooked cereal, 1 cup cream of potato soup, 1 cup diet salad with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 1 cup hot-pot of spring lamb with 1 whole large potato, 1 cup creamed green peas, 2 tablespoons mashed turnip with 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup crisp and dandelion salad with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 4 tablespoons chocolate bread pudding with 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 1-4 date whipped cream pie, 2 slices graham bread with raisins and nuts, 2 peanut butter sandwiches, 2 hard rolls, 2 tablespoons grape preserves, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 pint whole milk, 2 teaspoons sugar, ¼ cup cream.

Total calories, 4068. Protein, 475; fat, 1994; carbohydrate, 1999. Iron, .0188 gram.

The peanut butter sandwiches are suggested as an accompaniment for the soup. The combination is very good. Rye or whole wheat bread can be used.

The crisp and dandelion salad is made with equal parts of tender dandelion leaves minced with cream. Combine the greens with French dressing and mix well. All the ingredients should be well chilled before combining.

The chocolate bread pudding contains eggs, rich milk and grated chocolate as well as bread and sugar. The chocolate is preferred to cocoa as it is richer in fat. The yolks of eggs only can be used and were used in this calculation of calories.

SHOOTS BUILDER'S WIFE; KILLS SELF

Boarder, His Advances Rejected, Had Been Ordered Out by Husband.

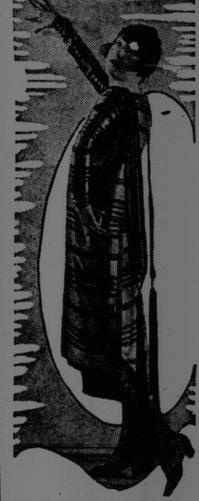

New Brunswick, N. J., April 10.—Mrs. Florence Christensen was shot through the head while in the living room of her home near Bonhamton by Frederick Gould, a boarder, who had been ordered out of the house. The young man shot and killed himself as the woman fell from her chair. She is the wife of Christian Christensen, a contractor and a member of the Board of Education of Raritan Township. The bullet entered her right cheek and came out through her right temple. She is at St. Peter's General Hospital here. The wound may prove fatal.

Ordered From House.

Gould had been moody and erratic in his behavior for some time and declared his love for her to Mrs. Christensen. She repulsed him and when her husband returned not long afterward, told him of the advances made by Gould. Christensen gave the young man until evening to pack his belongings and leave the house.

The sound of Gould's voice raised in angry tones reached him and he started back to order him out of the room. As Christensen reached the top of the stairs he heard a pistol shot, followed a moment later by another. Racing down the stairs he rushed into the living room. Two bodies were stretched on the floor. Both were motionless. Christensen believed at

Dissolve
Just pour Rinso into a soap-suds solution and it dissolves instantly and makes a thick, easy solution. Use several times to get rich lathering suds.

Use enough
Then fill the tub half full lukewarm water. Pour the thick suds over your top and whip up the suds at once. For suds into the water—if you have used enough solution the water will feel soapy all through. Even after you have put your clothes into the tub, the suds should stand up. If they do not, add more Rinso solution.

Soak
Soak your clothes in these lathering suds for an hour or two—overnight, if you wish. Colored clothes not longer than half an hour!

This soaking takes the place of rubbing. It loosens the dirt so that it rinses right out—you'll find that only such bands and red spots remain and are easily rubbed. For this light rubbing just sprinkle a little dry Rinso right on the fabric.

"Don't rub your pink soap!"

With Rinso—snowy-white clothes just by soaking

Simply soaking in Rinso suds loosens dirt, so that it rinses right out.

The old wearing method of rubbing soap on the clothes and then rubbing the clothes is done away with. There is no need of it with Rinso.

Only the dirtiest places—where dirt was actually ground in—will need just a light rubbing. Where this is necessary, use a little dry Rinso.

Rinso is made by the makers of LUX—the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things.

Rinso does the whole job—
with it you need no other soap

HALIFAX HAS REVOLT OVER BOBBED HAIR

Not Only Clip It, But Shed It Over Neighbors at Theatre.

Some terrible outcries are heard in Halifax over the bobbed hair question. A writer in the Mail gives some of the horrifying particulars, astonishing if true: "The popularity of clipped hair seems to be on the increase instead of on the wane in Halifax, and if it keeps on spreading the way it is at present there soon won't be any long-haired maidens left. Cutting one's hair is like plunging into the salt water for the first time. The girls who have already clipped their hair shout encouragement to those who haven't, just as those in the water call to those on the shore. Those who have observed a group of bathers gain courage to submerge by holding the hands of others, can readily understand why three or four or more girls will all get their hair clipped at the same time. Then they become one of the hundreds who unceasingly urge others to do likewise and chant the familiar refrain of the clipped ones: "Oh, it's so comfortable, I'm sorry I didn't do it before." They will never, never admit the discomfort of sleeping on curlers or the inconveniences of the frequent applications of hot curling tongs.

"Appropos of the fact that the clipped locks have come to stay in Halifax, they have brought into being some infringements upon the rights of citizens, which are being indignantly resented. A citizen calls attention to the fact that he could overlook, figuratively, not literally speaking, the bushes of curled locks and waving hands which have intermittently obscured his view of the stage and ruined many a good play or picture for him, to say nothing of his disposition, but it is more than human nature can stand, when these maidens with clipped locks comb their hair into his lap and cover his overcoat with hairs.

"It has long been characteristic of those with clipped locks to spend a great deal of time fluffing up their hair first on one side and then on another, while the person behind them is kept on the move trying to see the stage. But this habit of combing out their hair as soon as they take their hats off has reached a stage where it can no longer be regarded as a joke. From all sides come complaints. One woman tells of having to throw away a box of chocolates because a woman with clipped hair combed it backwards into her lap where the chocolates were resting.

"Another person tells of observing that her skirt was covered with hairs and dandruff when the light came on after a picture and just as she had managed to get it brushed off, two grown-up young women in front of her with heavy black hair took out their combs and proceeded to comb vigorously while the hair flew back into this person's lap. When she managed in a silent way to convey her resentment of the procedure, both girls glared at her as though she had offered them a very great insult.

"I'd rather have them keep their hats on all through the show than have them comb their hair all over me," remarked a citizen who has decided to remonstrate with the next person who bothers him in this way."

OBSERVES 70TH BIRTHDAY. Michael McDade celebrated his 70th birthday on Monday of this week. His family were regretful that he could not get home from Chatham for the occasion. He received congratulations from many friends in the province who were on the inside as to the time of his natal anniversary.

Indian Oil Land Auctioneer Makes Osages World's Richest People

(By Roy J. Gibbons.) Skedee, Okla., April 9.—Knocking down valuable oil lands to the highest bidder at a million or more dollars a knock is easy as puddin' to Colonel E. Walters.

To date, this genial, broad-shouldered westerner, with home and sombrero rack here, has sold more than half a billion dollars' worth of property under the hammer.

For a generation the ultra rich have been his patrons. Hobnobbing with millionaires long since has lost its novelty for him.

And with the different Indian tribes here on his own stamping ground, the name, Walters, is synonymous with the Great White Spirit.

Wins Confidence. Perhaps no other white man has won the confidence of the red man like Walters, super-salesman and auctioneer de luxe.

Walters for years has conducted the sales of the Osage Indian lands to oil prospectors. In so doing, he's brought tribal exchequers.

Just the other day in Pawhuska he dragged in another $4,000,000 for them.

Little wonder the Osages are the richest group of people per capita on earth.

Yet through all this downpour of riches, Walters hasn't lost his perspective. Nor has his sense of values been distorted.

"We're all on the block," he says. "To bring a decent price we've got to keep from getting sidetracked.

"Money isn't everything. Children, home, a good wife, a loving mother, are far more valuable than gold."

The dean of auctioneers is 57. And Colonel really happens to be his first name—not a title he's adopted.

As a youngster, he came west. For some years he tried ranching.

Voice Wins Out. But the voice which originally destined him to be a singer would not be hushed. Friends persuaded him to try auctioneering. He did. Since then, he's sold land in 26 states.

He's presided over sales where million dollar checks were pulled out as freely as Russian rubles or German marks. He's seen staid capitalists act like lunatics while his hammer kept a-tappin' down select fields in gusher territory.

Walters is married and has a married daughter.

Numerous decorations have been bestowed upon him. But most of all he values the gold-hammered and diamond-studded pin the Osage tribe gave him as a token of its appreciation for his loyalty and service.

Cullum Lodge, L. O. B. A., Has Pleasing Celebration of Its Anniversary.

Cullum Lodge, No. 36, L. O. B. A., whose anniversary was celebrated on Tuesday night, was organized on Feb. 12, 1901, in the old Temple of Honor building in Main street by Miss Mary Cullum of Toronto, who was then Grand Worthy Mistress of the Dominion of Canada. She was assisted in organizing by Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McLeod of Johnston Lodge, No. 18. The lodge received the name of Cullum in honor of its organizer. Its first worthy mistress was Mrs. Henry Klipsack of 112 Somerset street, who held office for 12 years. The lodge was organized with 15 members, and it now has a large enrollment. Mrs. Samuel Wood, Mrs. George Armstrong and Mrs. Richard Leaman are among the charter members.

Potts occupied the chair and welcomed the guests.

The programme was interesting, consisting of addresses by F. L. Potts, Commissioner Thornton, H. Sellen, J. Starr Tall, Mr. Parks and I. Mercer. The opening ode was "Bliss Be the Tie That Binds." Then followed a trio by the Misses Marshall, Crowley and O'Dell, solo by Hilda Clark, recitation by Miss Thomas, solo by Miss Crowley, duet by Miss Leonard and Miss Trot, recitation by Miss Marshall, solo by Miss McKay, piano solo by Miss Noddin, dialogue by two little girls, Misses Edith Welch and Frances Weir, recitation by Miss Naves, piano solo by Miss Handren, duet by Miss O'Dell and Miss Crowley, piano solo by Miss Garnett, vocal duet by Miss Naves and Miss Marcell, solo by Mrs. O. Potts had the honor of cutting a large birthday cake, which was the chief centre of attraction and occupied a conspicuous place in the centre of the room. It was nicely iced and was illuminated with 23 candles. The guests received a portion and pronounced it excellent.

Are Dodd's Kidney Pills When You Are Suffering From Kidney Ailments.

Madame A. Roussy Tells How Dodd's Kidney Pills Relieved Her from Pains in the Back. Dack Cote Nord, Que., April 9.—(Special).—Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that a great majority are women. The reason given for this is that nearly all of women's ills come from the Kidneys. The following statement comes from Madame A. Roussy, well-known and highly-respected resident here: "I can certainly tell everyone that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a great deal of good. I was suffering from pains in my back. I have only taken six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am completely relieved of my trouble. I will never be without them in the house."

QUIT SMOKING IN OBSERVATION CAR

C. P. R. Decides to End Experiment for Time Being on April 15.

Montreal, April 10.—"To smoke or not to smoke." That is the question which has been causing deep thought and raising piles of reports and correspondence among C. P. R. officials who have had to do with the operation of observation cars on trans-continental trains during the last few months. During the war smoking was a luxury which many were willing to forego, and the observation cars were free from tobacco, but after the war the demand for permission to smoke in these favored precincts increased to a noticeable degree, the requests coming not only from men but from ladies, as the cigarette habit had undoubtedly grown among the fair sex.

The pressure of this public opinion became so pronounced that it was decided to experiment once more and to allow smoking in this part of the train, although it was admitted that the trains carrying such cars had also sleeping cars each with its smoking compartment.

Public opinion, however, is a fickle thing, and the demand has grown to exclude the human volcano from these cars. Some of those who originally urged the granting of the permission are now requesting it be withdrawn, evidently finding that the practice is not quite so delightful as the theory of perfect freedom. In its desire to give the greatest satisfaction to as many as possible, the C. P. R. has therefore decided to conclude the experiment for the time being and, commencing April 15, to request the smokers to enjoy the society of Lady Nicotine in the smoking compartments and smoking cars expressly provided for the purpose.

GRAND FALLS POWER TO BE DEVELOPED BY THE GOVERNMENT, SAYS VENOT

Must be added the unprovided for amounts of direct liability left by them as a legacy to the present Government, which amounted to $1,854,000, leaving the bonded debt at the end of 1916, $16,918,646, instead of only $15,065,646, as their books show.

It must not be forgotten that in no case can they show any liquid assets that could in any way earn anything that could be placed in the sinking fund for the redemption of this debt, but on the contrary it can be shown that the construction of the Valley Railway placed upon the Province a yearly interest charge of about $200,000, which would have to be met out of ordinary revenue or bonded, and the interest and sinking fund for the interest thus bonded be taken out of ordinary revenues of the province.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Amount. Rows for 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923.

And there is still in the sinking fund, placed there to meet maturing bonds, the sum of $1,886,620 to the credit of the sinking fund. This last year we placed $248,856 to the credit of the sinking fund.

Once more our friends opposite are criticising the Government in the matter of road expenditures, and say we are neglecting the by-roads and branch roads; that we are spending a great deal more money on the main trunk roads than on the by-roads, and they say, for the use of the farmer more especially, I have on a former occasion pointed out that every main trunk road in this province is a road used just as much by the farmer as it is the use he makes of the by-roads.

It will be seen that we have expended on our own money $1,773,217 more by main trunk roads than we have on main trunk roads. Under the agreement with the Federal Government we could spend Federal aid only on main trunk roads.

It must not be forgotten that on both of these occasions the House was discussing the proclamation made by the Premier that the lease of Grand Falls held by the Grand Falls Power Company would be cancelled and that the Government would develop the water powers of Grand Falls as a purely government-owned proposition.

That which I said before I repeat now, that the connection of the name of A. R. Gould with the development of Grand Falls, co-incident with the apparent change of front of the Opposition on this question, savors of an attempt to pull political wires to bring about a change of front in the Opposition ranks on this most important question.

with the apparent change of front of the Opposition on this question, savors of an attempt to pull political wires to bring about a change of front in the Opposition ranks on this most important question. The Leader of the Opposition spoke for his party in 1923. Why does he now feel constrained to emphatically state that he is only expressing his personal views on this question? Why does he take the pains of pointing out to the House that government operation as a rule was not carried as efficiently as private enterprise and that before action was taken he believed that consideration should be given to both sides of the question?

Will the Leader of the Opposition give the same guarantee for his party? I do not say that the big interests have tried to influence the Opposition. Surely it is not Gould. He did at one time apparently control the actions of a former Government in the construction of the Valley Railway. Are we to once more have the sordid spectacle of seeing this gentleman wielding the big stick over the Conservative Party in this province? The people of this province have a right to know who should speak for the Opposition on this question.

Self Poisoning Today's Danger Modern Hurry Upsets Run-down People—Vital Organ Becomes Clogged and Poisons the System.

Hurried eating and lack of abdominal exercise clogs the system and overloads the liver. This important organ is the body's filter, and when it becomes sluggish and clogged up, the poisonous waste of the body is improperly eliminated. No longer can the liver properly secrete juices so essential to digestion and correct movement of your bowels. No longer can it properly filter and purify your blood. The result is self poisoning.

Dr. H. S. Thacher, noted medical practitioner, perfected a wholesome vegetable prescription to keep the liver healthy. It is giving quick relief and renewed strength, energy and vigor to thousands here. This prescription, known as Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup, is pleasant to take and contains only ingredients that are known to physicians for their corrective and health-building properties.

EXCRUCIATING PAINS, CRAMPS Entirely Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eberia, Ont.—"I started with cramps and bearing-down pains at the age of eleven years, and I would get so nervous I could hardly stay in bed, and I had such pains that I would scream, and my mother would call the doctor to give me something to take. At eighteen I married, and I have four healthy children but I still have pains in my right side if I am a farmer's wife with more work than I am able to do. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel that I am helping me every day. My sister-in-law who has been taking my medicine for some time and uses your Sarsaparilla told me about it and I recommended it now, as I have received great relief from it."—Mrs. NELSON YOTT, R. R. 1, Eberia, Ont.

OBJECTIVE OF C.N.R. IS THIRTY MILLIONS NET

Sir Henry Thornton Makes Statements and Refutes Attacks. Montreal, Que., April 10.—"We have reached that stage in our career on the Canadian National Railways when we may maintain a degree of self-respect. I don't mean egotism, I don't mean pride, but I mean honorable self-respect. There are unfortunately, those in the land who adopt a policy of assassination of character, character in so far as the company is concerned. They whisper maliciously and say, 'Well, after all, this new thing you have put on is merely faked. It must not pay much attention to that; it is merely book keeping.'"

After expressing his appreciation of the loyalty which had been shown by the employees of the C.N.R. during the last year by their officers and men and announcing that this year's objective is thirty million dollars net, Sir Henry delivered the statement quoted above. He then continued: "I have also this to say, we are going to play the game straight. We are going to play the game as sportsmen. We are not going to come in hand to hand with the people of Canada and ask them to give us their traffic because by doing so they will reduce their taxes, or by doing so they will be patronizing their own people. We do not ask for traffic for such a reason, but because the merit of our service entitles us to that patronage of the nation and to use that our problem is chiefly the problem of increasing our gross revenue. There has been a steady reduction in transportation expenses by roughly $2,000,000 as against 1923, and you all know that a dollar is a dollar earned. Our traffic department had done exceedingly well, and if we had a sufficient amount of business to carry the railway, a business which was something equivalent to its mileage, we would have no railway problem. We do not ask for traffic on the Canadian National Railways. Everyone on the system has got to pull his part of the traffic department and try to add, in some way, each day, each week, each month, to our gross receipts."

AN ENGLISH WOMAN AS AN ARAB CHIEFTAINESS. About fifty years ago, when Miss Emily Keen was on a holiday in Tangier, she was admired by the Chief of Wazan, a local chieftain, and a "holy man." Friendship ripened and they were married on January 17, 1874, there being three ceremonies, each separate, Christian, Mohammedan and civil. It was agreed that any sons were to be brought up in the Mohammedan faith in order that they might succeed to their father's honors, titles and dominions.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS. Mustard Works Without the Blister—Keeps, Quicker. There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve a sore, swollen or stiff joint with a little clean, white Musteroe.

MUSTEROE. Musteroe is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plaster, and will not blister. Musteroe usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and sores of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

PIMPLES ON FACE CUTICURA HEALS. Hard, Itched and Scaled Over. Large and Scared Over. "My trouble began with a breaking out of pimples on my face which soon spread into my hair. Some of the pimples were hard and large and scaled over. They caused much itching and burning, and my face was sore and red."

Well-Merited Success. A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the best sellers. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and purifies the system, and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is not skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or sent 10 cents for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeport, Ontario.

TIMBER MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED

New York, April 10.—Austin Cary of the U. S. forestry service told delegates to the American Paper and Pulp Association convention here that the timber industry was neglecting much valuable coniferous wood in fourteen southern states by concentrating its attention almost wholly on other timber sections, which rapidly were being depleted.

C. W. Boyce, also of the U. S. forestry service, said this country consumed more paper in 1923 than in any previous year. Of the 8,000,000 tons used that year, he said 7,000,000 tons were made in this country.

Members of the Pulp Producers' Association were told that reports from all parts of the country indicated that importers have injured their own market by recent sacrifice sales of Scandinavian pulp.

The pulp producers re-elected as president D. C. Everett, Rothschild, Wis.

Cattle Shipments Start Earlier—Cargo of Shrubs Arrives at St. John.

Montreal, April 10.—Although spring has not yet announced its intention to stay, that it cannot be far behind is evidenced by the increase in freight traffic noted by Canadian Pacific officials.

Spring deliveries of automobiles are now being made, resulting in a heavy movement of cars from Canadian manufacturing centres to all points.

Live stock shipments from western Canada usually increases somewhat in the spring, as the easterners are glad to fatten their own beef at this time.

Said to Double Steam Efficiency

New Generator, English Invention, is Given a Successful Trial.

London, April 10.—A new steam generator, changing former conceptions of steam engineering, has been given a successful trial at Rugby.

It is capable of producing power from coal at an overall efficiency of something like 28 per cent, compared with 18 per cent for the efficiency of the Diesel oil-burning engine, which is about 33 per cent, and in contrast with 17 to 18 per cent efficiency for the modern superpower station at 850 pounds pressure and 700 degrees Fahrenheit.

The generator is the invention of M. Benson of the Benson Engineering Company of London. Its principle is the production of steam at a pressure of 3,200 pounds a square inch and at the "critical temperature" of water, 705 degrees Fahrenheit.

This is far in excess of the normal boiling point of water at sea level, and the generator is given a successful trial at Rugby.

It is no longer an experiment, but a gas which will alter volume. The phenomenon can be observed in a laboratory, where a small quantity of water is sealed in a thick glass tube and heated to 705 degrees Fahrenheit.

The application of this principle to water is the basis of the Benson generator, which is described by the British Empire to hold the temperature of 705 degrees Fahrenheit, that is, the whole mass of the water in the coils is changed bodily into steam at the same volume without the absorption of any latent heat, since the volume remains the same.

It is on these highly ingenious lines that the essential trouble of the small bore coil steam-generator has been overcome, the fact that because of the absorption of latent heat and consequent boiling the water will not remain in contact with the sides of the tube, and the generation of steam is spasmodic and apt to be explosive.

The generator of course has eliminated completely this difficulty so that narrow-bore steel coils can be used which will withstand almost any pressure; in fact, the present installation is said to have been tested hydraulically to 6,400 pounds pressure.

"The actual installation at Rugby, which is only one of a number of different arrangements possible, consists of generator coils of three-quarter-inch steel tube, one-quarter inch diameter, placed to a height of eight feet round an inner vertical cylinder of firebrick.

This is surrounded by an outer casing of a super-heater, consisting of similar coils, is placed on the top. Distilled water is passed in continuously at the bottom of the coil, by means of a motor-driven hydraulic force pump working at 3,200 pounds pressure, the evaporation on the trials being about 8,000 pounds an hour, although 10,000 pounds is the normal figure and is easily obtained.

The installation is heated from the bottom by means of an oil blast flame with heated air. Pulverized fuel gas can be used which through the coil, is raised gradually to a higher and higher temperature, until, when 90 per cent of the total length has been traversed the critical temperature of steam, 705 degrees Fahrenheit, is attained, the pressure being, of course, all the time 3,200 pounds. At this point the whole mass of the water in the coil, three times the volume when at 60 degrees, is bodily and quietly converted into steam at the same volume without the absorption of latent heat and without boiling.

"Slightly More Heat. For the remainder of the travel in the coil the steam is then very slightly super-heated to 720 degrees and subsequently passed through a reducing valve, during which the temperature is lowered to 620 degrees and into the super-heater, consisting of similar coils from the latter at 1,500 pounds pressure, and 850 degrees Fahrenheit. It will then be used in a small high-pressure turbine, running at 20,000 to 25,000 revolutions per minute, exhausting at 200 pounds, generating 450 kilowatts in the process, into an ordinary condensing turbine, giving a further 500 kilowatts down to a 29-inch vacuum.

"The enormous economy to be obtained by working at 1,500 pounds and 850 degrees will be apparent."

HANDLED FEWER BABY CARRIAGES

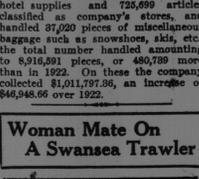

Canadian Pacific Issues Interesting Report—More Pet Dogs.

Montreal, Que., April 10.—It is gathered from a comparative statement issued yesterday by the Canadian Pacific mail, baggage and milk traffic department that neither baby carriages nor bicycles are as popular now as they were a year ago.

In 1923 this department handled 23,988 of the former, against 22,628 last year, and in the same years 9,997 bicycles are compared with 8,822. These are the only two articles the movement of which has not increased since 1922.

More than 1,000 more pet dogs, for instance, were transported as baggage in 1923 and 1922, last year's total amounting to 20,961. Altogether, in 1923, 5,806,828 pieces of passenger baggage were handled, against 5,175,208 in 1922. The department also handled 217,644 cans of milk, checked 1,988,971 parcels, forwarded 80,428 pieces of food supplies and 725,699 articles classified as company's stores, and handled 21,020 pieces of miscellaneous baggage such as snowshoes, skis, etc., the total number handled amounting to $2,162,001 pieces, or 460,739 more than in 1922. On these the company collected $1,011,797.86, an increase of $46,948.66 over 1922.

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

MAJOR LEAGUES OPEN NEXT WEEK

Clubs Will Concentrate Attack on Champion New York Teams.

(By Henry L. Farrell.) New York, April 10.—(United Press.)—Next Tuesday sixteen major league ball clubs will step out on the right foot or the wrong foot in the general direction of the 1924 world's series.

As the teams line up for another race, that may reasonably be expected to be as good, if not better than any of its predecessors, there will be but one set of instructions whispered to fourteen of the starters: "Go out and get New York. Use your own judgment, but do it."

One side of the baseball house which has for its constituency the National League can may have its last for the revitalization of New York satisfied, for it seems that the Giants have been least improved when they were most in need of improvement to hold their own in the attempt at a new record of four pennants in a row.

The American League side of the family, reconciled to the belief that New York will die only of old age, may have to bear up with the hope that if the demerits of the Yankees is not in the cards this year, it must necessarily come sooner or later. The susceptibility of the Yankees to any attack of a line that is supposed to attend an effort at more than three consecutive championships will not be because of the demerits of the Yankees, but because of the accumulation of strength and power from the opposition. There seems to be nothing of that sort in prospect.

It would be violating tradition to refrain from remarking that the baseball heads are right when they rub their mitts together, move up to the border-line of the chairs and gloat: "Now for the biggest and best season of all."

The size of the season depends largely upon the economic condition of the country and the inducement that the club owners can offer their public to spend. Times are good now and there is in prospect a race in both leagues that should furnish the well-known strings on the well-known p.b.

Four teams are standing for the pennant in the National League, and two others are not far removed from dark horse prospects. There should be no top-heavy classification from the start to the finish.

If the word of New Yorkers can be taken that there is to be no contest in the American League and that the Yankees are in by at least the sixteen-game margin they finished in last season, there will be an interesting fight for the runner-up positions.

Teams and managers in both leagues have been changed around to an unusual extent. Four new managers are to be tested in the American League and two in the National League.

"Babe" Harter, the youngest manager in the big leagues, is a newcomer with the Washington Senators; Frank Chance went to the Chicago White Sox after being replaced with the Boston Red Sox by Lee Fohl, who was ditched

Burns Only Cincinnati Regular Three New Pitchers Added to Squad In Danger of Losing His Berth

Orlando, Fla.—George Burns, veteran outfielder star of the Cincinnati Reds, is facing the shadows of obscurity.

A hero of many world series skirmishes, and for years one of the greatest outfielders in the game, Burns this spring finds himself with his back to the wall, battling to hold his job.

Except for the possibility of Burns passing to the bench the Reds remain practically intact, with a holdover catching department, a veteran infield and three additions to the pitching staff. May is not a great hitter and if Hock, who is both fast and a skilled fielder, can keep close to the 300 mark against major league pitching he will out Burn.

This is Hock's third trip to the Reds' camp. The passing of Burns would mark the end of an outfield combination that has ranked with the elite in the big leagues. Roush is one of the great ones of all time and Duncan, with his handy hitting, is more than fair.

Southworth, Bradshaw and Oeschger. The Pirates have given Wright, a reputed star shortstop.

The Cardinals will try Bell, a new shortstop. The Braves have Stengel, Cunningham, Kelleher, Bancroft and Tierney.

The Robins have Jones, another new shortstop. Connie Mack has done most of the important building in the American League with the purchase of Strand and Simmons, two highly recommended outfielders, and Max Bishop, a second baseman.

The Yankees have Combs, a new outfielder. The Indians have Burns, Walters and Fawcett, acquired in the deal which sent O'Neill and Wamby to the Red Sox. The Red Sox also have Budley Lee, heralded as a shortstop wowed, and Bobby Veach, who came from Detroit.

George Sisler's attempted comeback as a first baseman will be one of the most interesting features of the season and one of the most important because the Browns should be in the pennant race if their star manager can play the game of which he was once capable.

Babe Ruth, of course, will be the big feature he has been for years. The Bam has taken unto himself the assignment of breaking his home run record, leading the American League in batting and making himself the winner of the prize again for the most valuable player in the league.

If there is to be a tremendous sensation in baseball this season, it will have to be the dethronement of the New York Yankees, because the National League has little that could provide a surprise. Anything can happen in that league this year, and there will be plenty of "I told you so" fellows.

CHAMPIONS BEATEN. The Y. M. C. I. Juniors defeated Central Baptist, last evening, on the "Y" floor, 14 to 11. This is the first reverse this season for the Central Baptists. The line-up and scores were:

Y. M. C. I. Forwards: Arthur Chandler (2), (2) Arthur T. Barnes (6), (2) Waring F. Britt (4), (2) A. Barnes. Defence: (2) MacRae, (2) McRoberts.

MISS WILLS AND MLL. LENGLEH HAV RIVAL. IN SPANISH GIRL. Paris, April 10.—Spain, through the 18-year-old Senorita de Alvarez, probably will make a strong bid for honors in the women's tennis championships at the Olympic games in law tennis tournament. So great is the Spanish girl's improvement here this winter that it is believed in many quarters that the final may not prove to be a controversy between Miss. Susanne Lengler and Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, as was generally expected. Senorita de Alvarez, in the recent Cannes tournament, defeated Mrs. Covel of England, 6-7, 2-6 and 6-4, after she had disposed of Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the semi-finals.

TO CHECK INSANITY. Madison, Wis., April 10.—Fully 60 per cent. of persons suffering from mental diseases and nervous breakdowns, are victims of emotional conflicts and not afflicted with disease known to cause insanity. Dr. Stanley Blanton of the University of Wisconsin told a conference of public health workers here. Dr. Blanton said that proper supervision of childhood emotions on the part of parents would eliminate most of the "emotional insanity."

JEWETTS LEADING. Jewetts lengthened their lead in the G.W.V.A. League last evening, by bowling championship against the Ford and Jones last night. W'GRAW TO KEEP BENTLEY PITCHING

Hurling Staff is Weak, and He Has Kelly for First.

New York, April 10.—Only the fact that he needs pitchers and has a competent first baseman in George Kelly keeps Manager McGraw of the New York Giants from using Pitcher Jack Bentley at the initial corner.

Bentley likes to play first base. Bentley does not like to pitch. Manager McGraw knows just how Bentley feels about it, would like to shift him to first base, but the pitching department keeps him from doing so.

During his days of starring for the Baltimore club, in the International League, Manager Dumm had Bentley as his pitcher, and Bentley proved that he was a great pitcher. Bentley is not a great pitcher, but he is a good one, and McGraw picked the spots for him last summer to great advantage.

Were not George Kelly such a good fielder and dangerous hitter, McGraw would probably use Bentley exclusively at first base.

It is a rather interesting fact that Babe Ruth and George Sisler, two of the outstanding stars of the American League, entered that organization as pitchers, only to be played elsewhere regularly because of their hitting.

HARRIERS VICTORS OVER HIGH SCHOOL

The Harriers defeated the High school basketball team, provincial intercollegiate champions in a fast and furious game of basketball at the Y. M. C. A. last evening by the score of 25 to 10 in favor of High school.

In the second half, the Harriers made a rally and outscored their opponents 25 to 11. Humphrey and Wittrien were the best for High school and for the Harriers, Boyce and Yeomans did some excellent shooting, while the other players worked in some good defence work.

WIN FINAL MATCH AND CLINCH TITLE

Victoria Alley Team Defeat Y. M. C. A. in Well Contested Game.

A sensational finish decided the championship struggle between the Victoria alley team and a quintet representing the Y. M. C. A. in their final match for premier honors in the City League, bowled on the Imperial alleys last evening, in which the former captured two points and the latter one.

The result was in doubt until the final frame, when Sommerville and Covey came through with strikes and gave their team the necessary margin to win the point and the championship. Sommerville had the highest average, 104.2-3. On the losers, Pothay, Sullivan and Jenkins were all over the century mark. The individual scores followed:

Y. M. C. A. Total Ave. 81.0
Pothay..... 77 81 85 Total Ave. 81.0
Sullivan..... 82 88 85 Total Ave. 85.0

A more recent surprise than the defeat of Berenbach was the losing of the bantam-weight championship by Joe Lynch to Abe Goldstein.

For a year Lynch has been playing the small towns, engaging in no decision bouts, often picking his opponent. Risking his title for the first time in 16 months he failed to come through.

About three years ago Lynch fought Goldstein, knocking him out in the 11th round. Goldstein, noted for his timidity, was hardly considered an outside chance to win over Lynch.

The feeling prevailed that Goldstein would remember that knockout and wouldn't take any chances, thereby losing the big opportunity of his career. Goldstein surprised from every angle and won a popular decision.

Goldstein proved that a knockout doesn't spell finish, by winning a championship from a fighter who three years previous had stopped him.

TRINITY WON. Trinity church Boy Scouts defeated Centenary last evening on the former's floor, 28 to 13. The game was interesting and featured by the shooting of the forwards on the winning team. The scores:

Trinity-Forwards, J. Nyberg 10, Ward 2, centre, Alving 3; defence, C. Johnston 6, V. Regan 5, and Sutherland 2.

Centenary-Forwards, Barber 10, Mason 2, centre, Barker 1; defence, Parfitt 1, Humphrey and Morgan, Referee, R. Pattison.

This will be MacAulay's third attempt—the first time he finished in fourth place. Last year he was bothered with a weak ankle but this year is in much better condition and will do his best to win this famous race.

Billy Evans Says

To be knocked out doesn't necessarily ruin the ring career of a fighter.

Until his knockout by Jack Delaney, which, by the way, was entirely unexpected, Paul Berenbach was the reigning sensation in pugilistic circles. Berenbach, as an amateur and professional, had hung up an impressive string of knockouts. Fight fans like the baby with the sleep-producing wallop, just as baseball enthusiasts idolize the home-run hitter.

The unexpected knockout of Berenbach, caused many of the critics to remark that it meant the passing of Berenbach as a possible champion. The ability to take it and come back fighting is often the best index to a fighter's possibilities. Berenbach didn't quit under fire. He was game to the finish and the wise referee stopped the fight rather than permit an actual knockout.

Interviewed after the fight, Berenbach took his defeat philosophically. A cool, calculating cuss, who lacks color, he simply remarked: "I was game to the finish and the wise referee stopped the fight rather than permit an actual knockout."

"Demsey was knocked out, only to later knock out the same man and finally win a championship. The great Stanley Ketchell was stopped by Papke, only to reverse the performance the next time they met and win back his title.

"Benny Leonard was knocked out early in his career, yet became light-weight champion, and is generally regarded as one of the greatest fighters of all time.

"Most of the great fighters have gone through the experience of taking the count. I am not worrying. Inside of a year I will stop Delaney."

It certainly is going to be hard to keep a fellow with such a temperament down. Berenbach packs a punch in either hand. Generosity and cleverness, that come with ring experience, are now lacking.

A more recent surprise than the defeat of Berenbach was the losing of the bantam-weight championship by Joe Lynch to Abe Goldstein.

BOXING CARD ATTRACTS FANS

Marked Interest in Provincial Championships—Record Entries.

The New Brunswick amateur boxing championships, which are to be held in the Armory tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I. are one of the chief subjects of conversation among local fans. The large entry list and the calibre of the boys who will participate assure them of one of the best tournaments ever held in this city and there is considerable speculation as to the prospective winners.

Chief interest seems centered on the 125 and 135 pound classes, in which Champions Donovan and Kennedy will compete, although the other classes, especially the 118 pound, are also coming in for a share of their attention. The outside talent has created this marked interest in the bouts, which from all indications will attract a record crowd.

Must Have Cards. Boxers who have entered, it was announced last evening, must produce their amateur cards, otherwise they will not be allowed to go on. It was also announced last evening that the entrants would weigh in at the Y. M. C. I. on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5.

Y. M. C. I. officials are working hard on final details now to ensure success in every particular. In view of the large number of entries, the job of clerk will be an exacting one, but in the hands of Ernie Strilling the fans know it will be filled to satisfaction.

The Entrants. The complete entry list is as follows: 70-pound class—special—C. Gallagher, Y. M. C. I.; John Devlin, Y. M. C. I.

85-pound class—special—John Lefard, Y. M. C. I.; G. Donovan, Y. M. C. I.

100-pound class—L. C. Burns, Y. M. C. I.; F. McGraw, Y. M. C. I.; W. Danery, unattached; E. Goldsworthy, unattached; O. E. Boyce, East End Boys' Club; W. Carigan, St. Mary's, Halifax.

108-pound class—A. L. Ricketts, E. B. C.; Harry Lunney, Y. M. C. I.; Murray Young, Y. M. C. I.; G. Mason, E. B. C.

EXPECTS SOON TO RECEIVE FORTUNE FROM OLD LAND

Benjamin Collington of St. John Gets Later Word from England.

"Dame Fortune" has smiled on one St. John citizen, Benjamin Collington of 71 Magazine street, who expects soon to come into possession of considerable wealth. Some months ago an article was published giving details of information he received concerning the death of his uncle in England who had left an estate said to be valued at £75,000. Since that time correspondence has been carried on between Collington and the Bank of England, who are trustees of the estate, and according to information recently received a settlement will be made within a few months. Besides himself there are two other heirs, who reside in England.

Mr. Collington said he first received word of the death of his uncle about three years ago and was informed at the time that he had died suddenly and had left his estate to himself and two other nephews. As he could not be located at the time of his uncle's death, an arrangement was made to have the Bank of England carry on his uncle's large pottery in Lancashire for four years. In the meanwhile an effort was made to trace him and about a year ago one of his cousins came to Canada and eventually found him. He was instructed to procure birth certificates and proof of his relationship to the deceased Benjamin Collington. The estate, he said last evening, is now being settled for sale and when this is accomplished a distribution of the legacy will be made.

In addition to the money, Mr. Collington says he is to receive a race horse, said to be valued between $3,000 and $4,000. He expects it to arrive in Canada in June or July.

Mr. Collington was born in Upper Jersey. His father was an Englishman and a member of the Imperial army, who had fought at Sebastopol, Inkerman, Balaklava and Alma. When he was born his father named him after his uncle.

Mr. Collington is 50 years of age and has been employed as a teamster in the city for 17 years. Besides his wife and two cousins in England, he has no other relatives. Asked what he would do when he came in possession of so much wealth, he said he had no idea. He said he was fond of farming and might buy a good piece of land somewhere. The thought of having a fortune thrust on him apparently does not give him any thrill. When he was being interviewed he declined on a number of occasions to speak about the future as if fortunes played only a small part in his life.

MAN WHO GETS 2,000 VOTES IS LIKELY TO WIN

Ballots in Election About 6,500, if Former Proportion is Continued.

At the primary election on next Monday the electors will have more men to choose from than they had in 1922, when there were three candidates for the majority and five for the commissions. In that election the interest was keen and the proportion of voters voting was 7,700 who are entitled to go to the polling booths on Monday and mark their ballots for one candidate for mayor and two for commissions.

The number eligible was 9,708 and of these 8,883 ballots were cast. In 1922 the number of ratepayers on the list was 18,204 and 8,596 of them were disqualified for one reason or another. This year the number of ratepayers is 17,848 and the number disqualified was 8,088, leaving 9,760 who are entitled to go to the polling booths on Monday and mark their ballots for one candidate for mayor and two for commissions.

Should the same proportion of voters go to the polls on Monday as did two years ago the number of ballots cast will be about 6,500, and if the votes are at all equally divided among the majority candidates the man with 2,000 votes or over will be the final.

INTERESTED IN CANADIAN HOTELS

N. Y. Financial Men Visit Montreal and Toronto—Contractors Busy.

That several of the big New York financial houses are interested in the new hotels which have been and are being erected in Canada for operation by the United Hotels Company, is indicated by the fact that representatives of these firms visited Canada this week to inspect the King Edward in Toronto and the Mount Royal in Montreal, two of which will be in the same string with the new Admiral Beatty in St. John.

The trip was under the direction of Bauer, Pond & Co., Inc., fiscal agents for the United Hotels and included representatives of Abraham & Co., Borden & Sampter, Floyd-Jones-Vivian & Co., Hayden, Stone & Co., Love, Macomber & Co., G. E. McHale & Co., Merrill, Lynch & Co., Parkers, Robinson & Co., Robert E. Rew & Co. and others. Gen. J. Leslie Kincaid and C. W. Waller accompanied the party.

Eleven contracting firms, including three local concerns, J. A. Grant Co., B. Mooney & Sons, and R. A. Corbett, have so far received sets of plans and specifications for the Admiral Beatty Hotel for the purpose of preparing tenders for the actual construction of the building. The eight others are all Montreal concerns, and include the Foundation Co., Ltd.; George A. Fuller Co.; Thompson Starrs Co., Ltd.; the builders of the Mount Royal in Montreal; Purdy and Henderson; Anglin Norcross Co.; E. G. M. Cape, the builder of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery; Newton Babin Construction Co., and Peter Lyall & Sons, builders of the Parliament buildings.

SPORTSMEN COMING.

Already twenty non-resident sportsmen are billed for fishing trips with the season, says the Fredericton Mail. One party expected in the near future will consist of P. N. Post, of the Isaac Walton Chapter, W. E. Kildner, of Kalamazoo, Mich., and the hunting and fishing editor of the Chicago Herald.

The gentlemen intend to write up the trip and broadcast it by radio from a ship en route, and a motion picture outfit, and Mr. Allen is determined that they will have the best trip of their lives to tell about when they return to the United States.

AS HIRAM SEES IT

"Hiram" said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "there is a grass plot along the way I daily traverse. It has not yet begun to put on its green mantle, but the young shoots of many crocuses have pushed through the surface. I observe them daily. The snow and sleet have covered them several times. If I were a crocus I would be discouraged, but as soon as the snow melts away and the sun shines these little shoots push up a little farther. They have faith and they have courage."

"That ought to be a lesson to you and me," said Hiram. "After every setback we get we ought to get up and drive ahead again as if nothing had happened. An' it's the same way with a town. After a spell o' dull times it orto git busy an' grab every chance to stir things up. When money comes too easy folks git fabby. They want somethin' now an' agin to make 'em show what they're made o'—yes, sir, them there crocuses 'll be in blossom, just thing you know. An' it's better to hev crocuses growin' than moss—By Hen!"
