GLOUCESTER FISHERMEN GET WELL MERITED RECOGNITION

Presentation To Men Who Rescued St. John Captain and Crew

Gloucester Fishermen Risked Life and Limb To Save Crew of the Schooner Eric

Waves Were So High It Was Necessary to Pour Oil on the Waters, But the Rescue Was Effected, and Now Comes the Reward.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 27.—In recognition of bravery displayed in rescuing the captain and five men from the sinking British schooner, Eric, off Nauset, during a gale on October 30 last, Capt. Robert Griffin and five members of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Conqueror, were presented with silver medals and $15 each by the Massachusetts Humane Society. In addition the captain also received a Massachusetts Humane Society certificate of bravery. Captain Griffin has also received a letter from the Canadian department of marine and fisheries praising the conduct of himself and crew, and notifying him that the Canadian government would give him some reward for his action. The crew will also be remembered. Thomas Leason, Charles White, Charles Decker, William F. Mose, and Almond Townshend, all of Gloucester, were the volunteers who assisted in the rescue of the captain and five men from the Eric. The schooner was blowing off the Cape Cod shore and the battered Eric was rapidly sinking when the Conqueror bore down upon her. The sea was so high that the rescue had to be made from the windward side of the schooner. The crew of the Gloucester fishermen made their way to the sinking schooner, pouring oil on the hot boiler to make the Eric's crew less hazardous and look off the Eric's crew. Returning to their own schooner with the rescued men, the crew of the Conqueror set sail in an order was made and bore away to Gloucester.

All the crowned heads of the German states except the aged Leopold, regent of Bavaria, came to Berlin to attend the Emperor's birthday. The Emperor received the congratulations of the members of his own family and then of the visiting princes, including the Crown Prince of Denmark. After the Emperor's birthday the Emperor and Empress took a position in the white room of the castle. The Emperor expressed his lively interest in the members of the diplomatic corps, including Dr. Hill, the American ambassador, and Chancellor Von Buelow and the other ministers.

HIS DEATH CAME IN HOUR OF HIS GREATEST TRIUMPH

Constant Coquelin the Greatest of all French Actors, Who Was Preparing for the Greatest Success of His Career, Died Last Night.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Benoit-Constant Coquelin, the French actor whose dominating triumph has been awarded in Edmond Rostand's "The Chanticleer," which is now being rehearsed, died last night at Font-Aux-Jardins, Suisse-St-Martin. Benoit-Constant Coquelin, known as Coquelin Aine, was the best known actor on the French stage. He was born at Boulogne-sur-Mer, Jan. 23, 1841, the son of a baker. He decided to go upon the stage in 1859, and was admitted to the Conservatoire in 1859. He secured the first prize in comedy in 1860. He made his debut at the Comedie Francaise, in "Le Deputé Amoureux," in the same year, and from 1860 to 1889 he created no less than forty parts. He left the Comedie Francaise in 1889 and joined the Theatre de la Renaissance. In the United States he had a great success, which culminated in a brilliant farewell performance in the Star Theatre, New York, May 15, 1889. In 1889 he returned to the Comedie Francaise as a pensionnaire. He then made another tour of the United States, after having finally severed his connection with the Comedie Francaise. He formed his famous partnership with Georges, in 1897. He made the tour of America with Sarah Bernhardt in 1900, and reappearance with her in "L'Aiglon," in Paris, in 1901. In recent years he has been playing Cyrano de Bergerac and other roles in London. The severity of M. Coquelin's last illness dates from the early part of January. It was then declared that there was no hope of his recovery. His illness was diagnosed as agria pectoris.

MEDLEY PARLEE IS THE KING'S RHODES SCHOLAR

USED ENGINE TO CHASE TWO HOLD UP MEN

Sixteen Salt Lake City Policemen and a Switch Engine Succeeded in Capturing Two Daring Thugs Last Night.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 27.—After an exciting chase in which sixteen members of the police force and an Oregon Street Line switch engine figured, Frank Leland and Ike Goldberg, two hold-up men, who have been terrorizing citizens of this city for several nights, were captured at Becks Hot Springs, near here, last night. A special detail of policemen was sent out and soon obtained information which led them to believe that the hold-up men were attempting to escape from the city over the tracks of the Oregon Short Line. A switch engine was hurriedly pressed into service, and with the policemen on board, soon overtook an outgoing freight train at the Hot Springs. As the freight started to leave the siding, six men, including Leland and Goldberg, were seen to make for one of the cars. They were placed under arrest, but not until an unsuccessful attempt had been made by Leland to shoot Policeman Harris.

Young Man Well Known Here Wins High Distinction

He is 21 Years Old, and a Son of Rev. H. T. Parlee, Formerly Rector of Westfield, N. B.

He Has Had a Particularly Successful Career Since He Started School at Westfield—A Brilliant Scholar and a Good Athlete.

Medley K. Parlee

The announcement that Medley K. Parlee, son of Rev. Henry T. Parlee, rector of Westfield, N. B., has been selected as the Rhodes scholar at Oxford for the Kings-Dallas-Windsor will be good news to many people in this city where the successful young man and his father have many friends. It is particularly gratifying because Mr. Parlee is a native of New Brunswick, and although he will represent another province, in the English halls of learning, he will really be a valuable acquisition to the number of New Brunswick boys who have already made good there. Mr. Parlee was born at Stanley, York County, while his father was rector of the Anglican church at that place. Later Rev. Mr. Parlee became rector of Westfield and the young man went to school there for the first time. Upon the removal of his father to Halifax, he entered the Morris street school and later entered the Halifax Academy, where he took his first prize in the Kings-Dallas-Windsor at the end of his first year. He won a silver medal for aggregate marks for the year's work, standing first in a class of 17.

WILL DROP PETITION AGAINST SIR WILFRID

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 27.—(Special)—It is understood that the petition against Sir Wilfrid Laurier's election in Ottawa will be dropped. The petitioner requested counsel to do so on the ground that he was misled into entering the protest. The preliminary objections, however, temporarily block things, but when they are set down for hearing, it is believed, the whole business will fall.

ARCHBISHOP SWEATMAN WAS LAID TO REST TODAY

KINGS COUNTY COUNCILLORS HEAR THE COUNTY REPORTS

Hampton, N. B., Jan. 27.—(Special)—Today's session of the municipal council of Kings county opened with roll call, followed by confirming the parish lists not already passed. An order was made to pay six dollars from the Hamond tax collecting office to the overseers of the poor. Counsellors Palmer, S. H. Flewelling, Gilliland, Folkins, McGarrigle, Currie, Hayes and Evesleigh, the local committee to visit on the local government in regard to the claim that certain pauper lunatics in the provincial hospital for nervous diseases, are chargeable to the parishes of Hampton, Kars, Rothesay, Stanholm, Sussex, Sussex town, Waterford and Westfield.

The sum of $6,790 was ordered to be assessed on the several parishes for county school purposes. Two thousand copies of the minutes of the council were ordered to be printed. It was ordered that no semi-annual session of council be held in July, 1909. Distribution was made of the pauper lunatic fund to certain parishes. The valuator report was taken from the table and the question asked whether any value had been placed on the county buildings which councillor S. H. Flewelling thought it should be in evidence some where for insurance purposes. In answer to councillor Sharp, Chairman Weir said no known properties were included in the valuation, but none of these were touched. Councillor Gilbert complained of the rise in valuation in Rothesay. The ship companies' valuation, telegraph valuation, and other properties were transient and should be removed any time, leaving the burden of taxation on the permanent residents. Councillor Sharp moved that the report of the valuator be approved and adopted, which was carried by a large majority, only five supporting Councillor Gilbert's desire for a reduction of Rothesay's valuation. The report of the committee on remuneration to valuers and assessors on the new valuation was called and adopted. It provides that the three assessors shall receive $350 in all, and the assessors in the several parishes, as follows: Carleton Place, $75; Hamond, $75; Havelock, $75; Kings, $75; Rothesay, $60; Stanholm, $100; Upland, $60; Westfield, $55; Greenfield, $48; Hamond, $75; Kars, $30; Norton, $75; Springfield, $60; Sussex, $100; Waterford, $60; Sussex town, $60. The same house commissioners reports were read by J. M. McIntyre, secretary. The receipts, including balance from last year, were $880.16. The expenses were $1,692.85, leaving a balance due commissioners of $783.00.

AMERICAN FISHERMEN EXPECT TO WIN BY THE ARBITRATION

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 27.—Although without detailed information regarding the questions at issue over the Newfoundland fisheries, which are to be adjudicated by the tribunal at The Hague, the owners and skippers of the Gloucester fishing vessels generally express themselves as satisfied with the arbitration proposition. The local board or yard has not yet received any official advice from the state department at Washington regarding the matter but it is understood here that not only the rights of American fishermen in Newfoundland waters are to be defined but also that decisions will be made on various claims arising out of the seizure and confiscation of American vessels by the Newfoundland government. The general feeling in this city is that the Gloucester fishermen have been acting wholly within their rights as defined by the treaty of 1818, and have nothing to lose by having the mooted questions arbitrated. They believe that all of their contentions will be supported by the international conference. Under the terms of the treaty of 1818, American vessels are given the same rights as provincial vessels along the uninhabited portions of the Newfoundland coast, south and west of Ramez Island. This territory includes about a third of the south coast of Newfoundland, and part of the west coast. The government claims, however, that these localities are no longer uninhabited, and that therefore the treaty provision no longer holds. This claim is disputed by the Americans. For the past two years, the Gloucester fishermen in Newfoundland waters have been acting entirely under the direction

VALOROUS DEED OF RAILWAY FIREMAN

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 27.—(Special)—J. H. McArthur, veteran of the South African war and now a Free Marquante fireman in this city, performed an act on Monday deserving of recognition by the committee in charge of the Carnegie medal awarded for conspicuous bravery. He was on his engine, going east, when near Montrose, he noticed a 3-year-old child vainly endeavoring to release the foot of another child which were held fast in the cattle guard on the opposite track, while a train was bearing down on the cars at a high rate of speed. He at once leaped from his engine into the ditch, escaped unhurt, and went to the rescue of the children, whom he saved. A few seconds later the train went thundering past, while McArthur boarded the rear end of his own train and continued his trip. The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Elliott was held from the residence of her son-in-law, Prince William street, this afternoon at 2:29, to the Cathedral, where service was conducted by Rev. Father Duke. Interment was in the old Catholic cemetery. Mr. H. Dunham, grocer, of Main street, north end, has purchased two houses on the corner of Main and Albert streets from the estate of the late Edward Dalton, former policeman. The corner building, 229, to be remodelled and Mr. Dunham will open a meat and fish store there.

LIQUOR CASES OCCUPIED THE SUPREME COURT TODAY

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 27.—(Special)—Three Scott Act cases in which the defendants are Frederick Morrison and John McArthur, of Sussex, and Fenwick Barnet, of Hivesville, engaged the attention of the Supreme Court all morning. Morrison and McArthur were fined by Police Magistrate Hornbrook, of Sussex, and Barnet, by Stipendiary Magistrate Peck, of Hopewell, for storing and delivering parcels of liquor received by express. The case came up this morning on the return of an order granted by Judge McLeod, on application of Mr. McKewen, acting for the express company, calling upon the prosecution to show cause why the convictions should not be quashed. Wilson, K. C., showed cause, McKewen, co-defendant. The question to be determined is whether or not the Act makes the employees of express companies liable in cases where it is shown that they did not know the parcels handled by them contained liquor. The court reserved judgment. The court this morning granted a rule mandamus ordering the municipality of Kent to show cause why a poll should not be taken of the ratepayers of the parish of Harcourt, to determine whether or not liquor licenses shall be issued in the said parish. The order is returnable on the second Friday. A delegation from the New Brunswick Guides' Association will wait upon Sirvor General Grimmer this afternoon and urge that a game exhibit be placed at the sportsman's show to open in New York on February 28th. A two-mile timber berth on Mous River, Kent Co., was sold at auction this morning to R. O'Leary, at the upset price. A berth on the Yoho stream, applied for by John W. Scott, went to Smith Bros. at an advance of $1. A berth on the Nasawack went to J. A. Bean at the upset price. A WHITE BROADCLOTH TAILORED SUIT.

The fancy for very light cloth costumes for afternoon wear has brought out many all white suits this winter, though as a rule women donning one of these white costumes for a round of calls travel in a carriage. The model would be equally smart in a darker color, for the lines are very good. The gored skirt is quite long and a deep tuck is run straight down just below the knee, giving a shapely outline effect at the bottom. The coat is braided in a simple border effect with soutache braid and covered buttons of the cloth with long cord loops add a rich touch.

A Mysterious Disappearance
By Gordon Holmes

A Great Detective Story

CHAPTER I.
"LAST SEEN AT VICTORIA!"

Alice, Lady Dyke, puckered her handsome forehead into a thoughtful frown as she drew aside the window-curtains of her boudoir and tried to look out into the opaque blackness of a November fog in London.

Behind her was cheerfulness in front uncertainty. Electric lights, a nice fire reflected from gleaming brass, the luxury of carpets and upholstery, formed an alluring contrast to the dull yellow glare of a solitary lamp in the outer obscurity.

But Lady Dyke was a strong-minded woman. There was no trace of doubt in the wrinkled brow and reflective eyes. She held back the curtains with her left hand, buttoning a glove at the wrist with the other. Fog or no fog, she would venture forth, and she was already dressed for the weather in tailor-made costume and winter toques.

She was annoyed, but not discontented with the fog. Too long had she allowed herself to take things easily. The future was as murky as the atmosphere, the past was dramatically typified by the pleasant surroundings in which she resolutely turned her back. Lady Dyke was quite determined as to her actions, and a dull November night was a most unlikely agent to restrain her from following the course she had mapped out.

Moving to the light again she took from her pocket a long, closely written letter. Its details were familiar, but her face hardened as she hastily ran through it in order to find a particular passage.

"At last she gained her object—to make quite sure of an address. Then she replaced the document, stood undecided for a moment, and touched an electric bell."

"James," she said, to the answering footman, "I am going out."

"Yes, milady."

"Sir Charles is not at home?"

"No, milady."

"I am going to Richmond—to see Mrs. Talbot. I shall probably not return until for dinner. Tell Sir Charles not to wait for me."

"Shall I order the carriage for your ladyship?"

"Will you listen to me and remember what I have said?"

"Yes, milady."

James ran downstairs, opened the door, bowed as Lady Dyke passed into Portman Square, and then confidentially informed Dutton that "the missus" was in a "rare old way" about something.

"She nearly jumped down my bloomers' throat when I asked her if she would have the carriage," he said.

Her ladyship's mood did not soften when she drifted from the fixed tenor of Wensley House, Portman Square, into the chaos of Oxford street and fog at 5.30 on a November evening.

"Thought not a true London particular," the fog was chilly, exasperating, tedious. People bumped against each other without apology, buses crunched through the traffic with deadly precision, hair-brushes were swept around corners with magnificent carelessness.

In the result, Lady Dyke, who meant to walk, as she was somewhat in advance of the time she had fixed on for this important engagement, took a hansom. In her present mood slight things annoyed her. Usually, the London cab-horse is a thoughtful animal, he refuses to hurry when he falls he lies contentedly, secure in the knowledge that for five blissful minutes he will be at complete rest. But this misguided quadruped refused to acquiesce in the fate which awaited him at Victoria Station on the Underground Railway.

He ran down Park Lane, skidded past Hyde Park Corner, and grated the wheels of the hansom against the kerb outside the station within eight minutes.

In other words, her ladyship, if she would obey the directions contained in the voluminous letter, was compelled to kill time.

As she stepped from the vehicle and halted beneath a lamp to take a frown from her purse, a tall, over-crowded gentleman, walking rapidly into Victoria street, caught a glimpse of her face and well-proportioned form.

Instantly his hat was off.

"This is an unexpected pleasure, Lady Dyke. Can I be of any service?"

She bit her lip, not unobserved, but the law of society forced her features into a bright smile.

"Oh, Mr. Bruce, is it you? I am going

MEDICINE IN THE SPRING

Winter Weakens the System, Saps the Blood, Leaves Us Tired and Thin.

Great epidemics break out in spring, such as fever, pestilence, and infectious skin diseases.

Winter shunts us in from air and only the most robust get even a little sunshine. As a consequence of this unnatural mode of life, the blood becomes polluted, thin, colorless. Then we grow listless, dull, easily tired, have headaches and find our work a burden.

Reduced to this condition we become an easy prey to disease and ill hospitals and churches.

It is rapidly formed rich blood, to expel the accumulated humors that winter has stored up in the system, to call back the energy, endurance and vim that will make life joyous, and take Ferruzone, a spring cleanser, unequalled in medicine.

Ferruzone purifies by rebuilding nerve tissue and vitalizing the blood. The entire system soon feels the beneficial action of rich new blood; slow organs are stimulated to normal activity, expel poisons and wastes from the body, and the result is the beautifully harmonious working of the system. Weak folks are restored and health becomes as natural a consequence as growth from infancy.

Men and women partly your nerves with Ferruzone, renew the blood through its marvelous blood-forming power, regain vigor and enduring strength by its action upon appetite and digestion. Use Ferruzone if you want to be strong.

"I increased my weight seven pounds in one month and regained health that had been lost for two years—did this by using Ferruzone," writes Mrs. C. B. May, of Centerville. "Ferruzone brought me rest, sleep and good digestion, enabled me to relish my meals and work hard all day. I consider it the finest tonic, the most nourishing medicine ever used."

Try Ferruzone yourself, 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

BANKER MAKES FALSE RETURNS

W. Graham Browne, Ex-Manager of the Sovereign Bank, Arrested on Serious Charge

Montreal, Jan. 26.—An echo of the spectacular collapse of the Sovereign Bank came this afternoon when W. Graham Browne, formerly local manager and acting general manager of the Sovereign Bank, was arrested on a charge of having wilfully made false and deceptive statements in the monthly returns to the government as to the assets and liabilities of the bank.

The warrant was sworn out by Thos. Lawson, of the finance department, Ottawa, and it alleged that Browne had sent in three false statements to the government during 1908.

Mr. Browne, who since the failure of the Sovereign Bank has been in business here as a bond broker, was arrested in his office by the high constable and taken to the court house where he was subsequently liberated on two bonds of $1,000 each, and his own personal bond for a similar sum.

WARM CIVIC CONTEST

LIKELY IN YARMOUTH

Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 25.—(Special)—Before Town Clerk Hiram Goudy today, S. C. Hood and Willard M. Kelley were placed in nomination for the mayoralty. The former has already served three terms in the mayor's chair, while the latter has been a member of the town council.

The following were placed in nomination for the three vacant seats in the council: Capt. Joseph W. Boyd, Dr. Isaac M. Lovitt, Thos. W. Stinson, W. Lloyd Porter, Robt. E. Guest and Capt. Geo. I. Perry.

Forty hake, the largest one measuring three feet nine inches, was the catch reported as made through the ice in the main harbor on Saturday last by Fred Allen, Charles Ramsey, John Batt and J. Dryden. The fishermen feel quite satisfied with their good luck.

MANY DON'T KNOW HEART AFFECTED.

More People than Aware of It Have Heart Disease.

"If examinations were made of everyone, people would be surprised at the number of persons suffering from heart disease," says a recent report.

"This startling statement was made by a doctor at a recent inquiry. 'I should like to say that heart disease is as common as a cold in the head,' said the expert, 'but I am sure that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large indeed.'"

"Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent."

"There is no doubt but that this is correct, and we would strongly advise any one suffering in any way from heart trouble to try a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

MARRY, AND GET LAND.

The outcome of a remarkable experiment in the letting of small holdings, with the condition attached that the applicant must marry, has become known at the village of Moulton, South Lincolnshire, England.

All the small holdings in question consist of crown lands, which have been leased by the Moulton Parish Council, and there has just been married at Moulton Parish church the last of the young bachelors who accepted holdings on such conditions. The clause in the agreement which was signed by each tenant ran: "The tenant to reside on his holding as soon as the house is erected and ready for occupation, and, if a single man, to satisfy the Parish Council of his intention within a reasonable time to marry and settle on the land."

The phrase "within a reasonable time" has been held by the Parish Council to cover twelve months, but in no case has so long a period elapsed between the entry of the tenant and his marriage, marriages being generally brought about within the first six months of occupancy.

Within the past few years marriages have taken place on the lands which King Carrington has let for small holdings in South Lincolnshire, now being erected in all cases. Evidently the authorities to whom Lord Carrington has let these lands recognize the value to a small holder of a practical home.

In case of the last marriage one of the wedding presents was a cow.

Hon. Mr. Graham Announces That He Did Receive a Communication Asking the Government to Sell the Intercolonial, but as it Was Marked "Private" He Took No Notice of It—Statements of the I. C. R. and Island Railway.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Two questions were addressed to the order paper in reference to offers made by private parties for the acquisition of the Intercolonial—one asked by Mr. Emerson, and the other by Mr. Borden—were answered simultaneously in the house this afternoon by the minister of railways. The reply was:

"A proposition was received by the minister of railways. It was marked 'Private' and was not considered by the government."

Mr. Lennox inquired if the government had recovered or taken action to recover $30,000 from George McAvity and G. S. Maves in connection with a dredging contract.

Dr. Pugsley replied:

"The government is not aware that it has a claim against the parties referred to for the amount mentioned or any amount. The records of the department of public works show that tenders were called for by public advertisement and that the contract was awarded to the lowest tenderer in a regular and proper manner."

In respect to the rebuilding of the Quebec bridge, Mr. Borden was informed that the plans and specifications would not be ready before the end of the year.

Mr. Foster was informed that the cost of the Casella commission to date was $14,997; for legal expenses, the sum of $11,077 had been paid, including $114 to R. I. Macleith, $4,000 each to J. L. Perron and G. H. Watson, counsel, and $2,800 to the registrar of the exchequer court.

Another question by Mr. Foster elicited the information that all material and supplies for the marine and fisheries department are now purchased through the purchasing agent appointed in May last. Patronage lists were formally abolished November 4. List of supplies for the different agencies of the department for the present year has been prepared and tenders are being asked by public advertisement in the press. Tenders have been received for the supplies required for British Columbia, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and are now being considered. All other articles over $5,000 in value are bought by tender after public advertisement from the firm offering the best terms. In the case of articles under $5,000, the leading recognized dealers and merchants are supplied with a list of the department's requirements and requested to quote, the order being placed with the firm offering the best terms. The purchasing agent has a free hand to purchase all supplies not obtained by tender at the lowest obtainable prices.

When Dr. Reid's resolution referring to the safe custody and public opening of tenders was read, Dr. Pugsley arose and read an order-in-council passed on Jan. 18 dealing with the same subjects. This regulation is as follows:

"Where tenders are called for by any department of the government they shall be addressed to the officer of the department specified in the notice calling for tenders. In the notice it shall be specified that the tenders shall be under seal and addressed 'tender for,' specifying the work for which tenders are called.

"When received they shall be stamped by the official to whom addressed, with the day and hour of their receipt, and placed under lock and key until such time as shall be convenient for opening them."

"They shall be opened in the presence of the minister of the department calling for tenders and one of the principal officials of the department designated by the minister, or, in the absence of the minister or in cases where it is not convenient for him to be present, they shall be opened by two officials of the department, to be designated by the minister."

"When opened each tender shall be initialed by both officials opening them."

"That Canada is still at somewhat of a disadvantage in the matter of treaties with the United States, is a proposition to which the leaders of both parties signified agreement in the house today. The subject was introduced by R. L. Borden, who remarked that a treaty made by the United States government becomes to all intents and purposes public property because it goes to the United States senate."

"What I object to," continued Mr. Borden, referring to the waterways convention, "is that this treaty should have been made the property of the people of Canada and of this parliament. These things may be diplomatic difficulties in the way but what I desire to emphasize, subject to any superior knowledge of these details, which the prime minister may have, is my belief that the treaty which placed before the congress and public of the United States ought at the same time to have been placed before the parliament and people of Canada."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the government had no other knowledge on the subject than what was common to everybody. He was not prepared to comment on Sir Borden's statement, but at the moment a treaty was submitted to the American senate it became public property. His impression was, however, that a treaty was communicated to the senate but not to the house of representatives.

However, so far as Canada was concerned, a treaty was not communicated to parliament until it was ratified by the king and was the reason why this treaty had not been communicated to parliament.

"I know," continued Sir Wilfrid, "that there is a great deal of inconvenience felt on this side of the Atlantic owing to the very case stated by the leader of the opposition."

"I believe in the United States a treaty may be given to the press some time before it is given to the senate. We do not admit of anything of that kind in this country, simply because in this matter we follow the traditions of British diplomacy under which parliament does not receive the treaty until it has been signed by its majority, the king, but I quite agree with the leader of the opposition that it is inconvenient that we should not have this matter made public in this country as soon as it is in the United States."

CALAMITOUS NEWS The awful threat of Alderman Hamm that he and other members of the city council, perhaps all of them, may resign their offices at five minutes to four on nomination day, comes as a rude shock, to be compared almost to the shock of an earthquake. St. John has not been visited of calamity in years past, but this is awful. The city has survived the loss of the shipbuilding industry, the great fire, the cholera, and epidemics of various kinds, but never anything like this has been threatened. Perhaps Alderman Hamm is not feeling well. It may be that after giving further consideration to the whole question, and listening to the appeals of large delegations of terrified citizens, he will consent to turn aside the shaft of fate and give us another chance.

DOWN IN TENNESSEE Prohibition in the State of Tennessee has resumed a form of protest from the press of Nashville, Chattanooga and Memphis. If the cities had been left to themselves the state would not have gone dry, but ninety-two out of ninety-six counties have been under prohibition for some time, and they have forced the issue in states politics to compel the three also to become dry. The press of the cities mentioned declares that the law will be repealed and that prohibition cannot be enforced. A favorite argument of its opponents was that it would throw thousands of people out of work and deprive the city of thousands of dollars in revenue. There is a reply to these statements, however. AN AWAKENING A correspondent of the Toronto World, writing from the town of Greenwood, tells of an interesting moral reform movement which is being extended by the Methodist church, to inspire men with higher ideals in social and national affairs. He tells that clubs are being formed for this purpose, and that much interest is being aroused. This correspondent states the fact that there had been, in that section, a decided falling off in church life and in attendance at church services. It was felt that the remedy for this would be to make provision for advanced work along moral lines, interesting the men and setting them to work. The gospel of social service has therefore been proclaimed, with the declaration that the church must deal with organized wrong wherever encountered.

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP SWEATMAN

The following biographical sketch of the late Archbishop Sweatman, primate of all Canada, appears in the Toronto Mail and Empire: The late Archbishop was born in London, England, in 1834, and was the son of Dr. John Sweatman, of the Middlesex Hospital. He received his primary education from private tutors and later attended University College School, London, from which he entered Christ's College, Cambridge. There he took his bachelor's degree with honors in mathematics in 1859 and his master's degree in 1862. He was ordained by Bishop Tait, then Bishop of London, and became curate of Holy Trinity Church, Islington. While there he established the Islington Youtful Institute, which he later transferred to the Bishop of London, and became headmaster of Helmsley College, London, Ont. In 1871 he accepted the offer of the governor of Upper Canada College of the position of mathematical master. In 1874 he resigned that position to become rector of St. George's, Brantford. He remained there two years, when he returned to Helmsley College. In 1875 he had been appointed a canon of the London Cathedral and later was named Archbishop of Brant. In 1875 he was appointed acting rector at Woodstock. In 1876 he had been appointed examining chaplain to the Bishop of Huron and elected diocesan secretary of the diocese and secretary to the House of Bishops. During the absence of the Bishop of Huron he had acted as administrator of the diocese. In 1879 he was elected Bishop of Toronto.

The election of Rev. Dr. Sweatman as third Bishop of Toronto, was accompanied by dramatic scenes in the synod and formed an important epoch in the history of the diocese. The first Bishop, Rev. Dr. Strachan, was a strong High Churchman, and surrounded himself with a clerical staff of similar opinions. He was imbued with a severe view of the episcopal power, and used that authority vested in him to appoint to the various living clergy who sympathized with his own views. On the other hand the laity were strongly Low Church, and after the first synod in 1859 the discussions of that body were largely taken up with the question of limiting the prerogative of the Bishop in the matter of appointments. This dispute continued while Bishop Bethune was the head of the diocese, although legislation had been passed by the synod requiring that diocesan appointments be decided upon by the bishop in consultation with the churchwardens and the lay delegates. A Lay Church party was formed under the name of the Church Association, among its leaders being Hon. Edward and Hon. S. H. Blake. On the other side the leader was Ven. Archdeacon Whitaker, provost of Trinity College. There came a clash between the Church Association and Trinity on the subject of ecclesiastical polity, formulated through the college and the association endeavored to solve the difficulty by establishing a divinity school of its own, now Wycliffe College. This was the first step recognized by the Bishop. To meet this trouble the Church Association withdrew from the Mission Board of its members withheld their mission subscriptions. Finally a compromise was reached. The new divinity school was recognized and the mission subscriptions restored.

During the last illness of Bishop Bethune, Provost Whitaker acted as administrator of the diocese. During that time the question of appointments rose in an aggravated form in connection with the appointment of a rector at Whitby, and during the heated controversy which followed the Bishop died. Provost Whitaker was the High Church candidate for the bishopric, and the Low Church candidate was Rev. Dr. Sullivan, then of Montreal, later Bishop of Algoma, and at his death rector of St. James', Toronto. The clergy were unanimous for Provost Whitaker and the laity unanimous for Dr. Sullivan. Eighteen ballots were taken, but the deadlock continued. On the nineteenth ballot Provost Whitaker retired and Principal Lobley, of Lennoxville College, was substituted for him. Still the deadlock continued through five more ballots. Then the leaders of the two parties met in a private conference, at which it was agreed that both should unite under Dr. Sweatman, the rector of Woodstock. On the one hand the High Church party was to give up the hope of electing a High Church bishop. On the other hand the Low Church party was to demand the Church Association, but was to retain Wycliffe College and was to join heartily in the work of the united church. The compromise was unanimously received on all sides and the terms were honorably observed.

On the night of the election of Dr. Sweatman, Hon. Edward Blake sounded the keynote for the future, citing the lines: Let us then united bury All our former trends in dust, And to future conflicts carry Mutual faith and common trust. Always be who most fervently In his brother is most just.

The note of prophecy in these verses has been borne out by history, of the 29 years of Bishop Sweatman's rule, and to-day the old bitterness of the opposing schools of thought in the church is almost forgotten. The differences of opinion still exist, but Bishop Sweatman by his own broadness of mind and kindly charity set an example by which all under him profited. He was especially beloved by the clergy of his diocese and respected by the laity. The year of his election to the bishopric, Bishop Sweatman, received the degree of Doctor of Divinity, given him by Cambridge University. From Trinity he received the degree of D. C. L., and from Toronto the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa. In 1888 and in 1897 he attended the Lambeth conferences. In January, 1907, just two years ago, upon the death of Archbishop Doan, of Montreal, he was elected Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of Canada and thus became Primate of all Canada. The election took place at the order of assembly of the sectional presbytery, and also attended the Lambeth Conference. In 1887 he had the coronation of the Cathedral, St. Alban, the Martyr on Bathurst Avenue. Through the 30 years of his rule it had been his highest ambition to create a cathedral in the city of Toronto. THEY LIVE ON $1.90 PER DAY

A West Ham Family of 29 Persons Solve the Problem of Cheap Living. (London Letter) Mrs. Humphreys, of West Ham, who, with her husband, is the joint parent of twenty-five children, and has this week again presented her husband with twin daughters, has described to a press representative how this undoubted fighter of race suicide keeps house. Four of the twelve children who are at home supply the husband's wages of about $8 a week, and Mrs. Humphreys's daily expenditure is as follows—Bread 3d, coffee, vegetable 2d, butter and eggs 2d, milk 2d, meat 2d, bacon, etc., 2d, 2d, milk 2d, light and fire 18 cents, making a total of a little over $1.90 a day. Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys are quite satisfied with their lot. "I think," said Mrs. Humphreys, "that I have solved the problem of cheap living. We are happy, and as far as our means will allow, are comfortable. I hope my twins, both of whom are girls, will live and be as great a consolation to their parents as the others have been."

FEBRUARY ROD AND GUN

Varied in its contents, but redolent throughout of many delights of the Canadian Winter, the February number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by J. W. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., brings with its liveliness attached to this particular season of the year. The record of a fine snowshoe tramp, an Indian tale of a mouse race on the ice, the story of a winter in Northern Ontario and an article on Snow Blindness by Martin Hunter, an ex-Hudson Bay Factor, show how many sided are the beauties of the Canadian winter and how thoroughly the inhabitants of the Dominion appreciate and enjoy them. An illustrated account of the Qualification Club of Montserrat, in connection with the last meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada, is contributed by Mr. D. B. Taylor. One of the best papers written by Mr. Bonnycastle Dale "Chief" Chien of the Skagitzi, with the author's illustrations, tells of an old Indian Chief out in Vancouver Island, who makes canoes with primitive tools and disposes of them at unheard of prices. The number is strong in every department of outdoor life with which the magazine deals. It is Canadian throughout, imbued with the spirit of the Dominion, and all good.

For a long time the horse was kept in the Case stables at Pleasant View farm, near Corbis, where he was taken some weeks since. The little fellow is in first-class shape, having fully recovered, and when turned out to exercise trotted up and down the field at a 2:25 gait.

ANCIENT TRADE ROUTE TO CHINA

Fascinating Story of Recent Excavations—Valuable Records Found—Explorer Travelled 10,000 Miles Through the Wildest and Bleakest Region of the Earth

London, Jan. 27.—M. A. Stein, leader of the Indian government mission to Central Asia, has arrived in London, after three years' travel of 10,000 miles through some of the wildest and bleakest regions of the earth. The story of his excavations of the sites of buried civilizations is among the most fascinating of modern records. Discussing his work, the explorer says: "As an example of the difficulties encountered, I may mention that in order to explore the region along the long abandoned ancient trade route to China to the north end of the Taklimakan desert, I kept fifty men more than three weeks working in ruins, eight long marches from drinkable water. It was a period of extreme hardship. The work was arduous, almost beyond description. The thermometer ranged as low as 48 below. Traces of ancient river beds, marked by deposits, which were crossed, often gave striking proof of the desiccation which had overtaken the whole region. Flocks of ibex, the remains of an ancient frontier from the Stone Age, in a region far from any water, fresh or salt, called up pictures of a life like that which might have been lived by the lake dwellers in prehistoric periods.

"Bronchitis"

Is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. The symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains, and a difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color.

Wellington, Brontitis is one of the most general causes of consumption. Cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. D. D. Miller, Alameda, Ont., writes: "My husband got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for my little boy who had Bronchitis. He was so badly you could hear him on one room to the other, but it was not long until he could see the effect your medicine had on him. That was last winter when we lived in Toronto.

She had a bad cold this winter, but instead of getting another bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I tried a home made receipt which I got from a neighbor but found that her cold lasted about twice as long. My husband highly praises 'Dr. Wood's,' and says he will see that a bottle of it is always kept in the house."

It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, the price 25 cts. Be sure and accept none of the many substitutes.

HARVARD'S NEW HEAD

Professor Abbott Lawrence Lowell, the new president of Harvard University, has high qualifications for the office. A scion of one of the oldest and most distinguished New England families, he has the poise and that desirable form of pride which good lineage often gives a man. Fifty-three years of age, he should have the best of his life's work before him. Scholar, lawyer and author, he perhaps is best known by his work on "The Government of England," which ranks with Mr. James Bryce's book on "The American Commonwealth."

Mr. Lowell's success in handling the fortune left him by his father, reveals the affairs which is essential to the full equipment of the head of a great college. His active membership in the American Political Science Club, the National Municipal League and the American Society of Arts and Sciences and other organizations, demonstrates his practical interest in good government and the welfare of his country. He deplores excess in college sports, but he was a famous athlete in his day. He was the champion one and two mile runner of his class, winning every race in which he entered, and breaking many a record. Perhaps this is one reason for the warm welcome accorded to him by the students immediately after his nomination. His brief address on that occasion expresses the high estimate which his places upon his new duties.

"TAG-- YOU'RE IT!" SO PAY UP FOR A GOOD CAUSE

The Free Kindergarten Association Will Hold a "Tag Day" on Saturday Feb. 13 to Raise Money for Their Work—Many Willing Workers Will Help and Everyone "Tagged" Must Contribute Something.

You will be tagged. You will be tagged on February 13th, 1907, in the city of St. John. It will be the Valentine Day tag of the Free Kindergarten Association. You will not attempt to escape, but will rather court the honor, and go down into your pocket for a contribution for the children.

At a meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association yesterday afternoon, the members were confronted with the alternative of raising a considerable amount of money or giving up a considerable portion of their work. Every citizen who knows anything about this work is aware that it is of great value, and that in some countries it is made a part of the educational system. Sooner or later that will be done in this province, but in the meantime a few people, who have the welfare of the children at heart, are carrying on the work as large an extent as the funds they can secure will permit.

At yesterday's meeting many schemes were discussed, and it was finally decided to have a tag day. Thousands of little tags of a special design will be secured, and several hundreds of young people will set out on the morning of February 13th to tag them from each card, every individual they meet, and if possible to every house in the city. The person tagged will be expected to contribute something for the children, and no amount will be considered too small, for if they can reach everybody and get even a small contribution from a large number of people, the aggregate will be a goodly sum, and no single person or family will feel a burden.

Tag day has been tried in many American and one or two Canadian cities as a method of raising funds quickly for some benevolent purpose, such as playgrounds, a sanatorium or other needed institution and always with success.

It may be taken for granted that the people of St. John will take kindly to the innovation here, and that on the night of February 13th the Free Kindergarten Association will be able to report that it is financially able to carry on the work which it has planned for this year.

The bills and by-laws committee will meet this afternoon to consider the draft of a bill authorizing the removal of old or dilapidated buildings.

The committee will also draft an amendment to the fire by-law dealing with false alarms. The present law refers only to false alarms rung in from the boxes. There have been complaints of telephone calls being sent in by practical jokers and the addition to the present law is being made at the suggestion of Chief Kerr for the better protection of the department.

As a result of a motion at the meeting of the board of works last evening the committee will also draft a bill to permit a bridge being built across the harbor. It is considered advisable to have the bill prepared so that the Dominion and provincial governments may take the matter up at an early date.
