

BUSINESS NOTICE

The "MIRAMICHI ADVANCE" is published at Chatham, N.B., every Thursday...

Building Stone
The subscriber is prepared to furnish stone for building and other purposes.

G. B. FRASER
ATTORNEY & BARRISTER
NOTARY PUBLIC.

CARD.
R. A. LAWLOR,
Barrister-At-Law

Homan & Puddington
SHIP BROKERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

DRS. G. J. & H. SPROUL
SURGEON DENTISTS.

Furnaces! Furnaces!!
Wood or Coal which can furnish at Reasonable Prices.

IMPROVED PREMISES
Roger Flanagan's
Wall Papers, Window Shades, Dry Goods, Ready Made Clothing, Gent's Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c., &c.

Spectacles
The undermentioned advantages are claimed for Mackenzie's spectacles...

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

THE REASON.
Bald-headed men generally seem so cheerful and happy.

MIRAMICHI ADVANCE
CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, AUGUST 2, 1900.

MIRAMICHI FOUNDRY
STEAM ENGINE AND BOILER WORK:
Chatham, N. B.

Steam Engines and Boilers, Mill Machinery of all kinds.
Steamers of any size constructed & furnished complete.

MONARCH
Steel Wire Nails,
THEY NEVER LET GO,
AND TAKE NO OTHERS.

Miller's Foundry & Machine Works
RITCHIE WHARF, CHATHAM, N.B.
(SUCCESSORS TO GILLESPIE FOUNDRY, ESTABLISHED 1852).

Paints, oils, Varnishes and Hardware
Ready-Mixed Paints, all shades, including the Celebrated
Weather and Waterproof

The COGGIN HARDWARE STORE, CHATHAM.
FADDISH.
Fuddy—Hold on! There comes Watson around the corner. Let's get out of his way.

WE DO
Job Printing
Letter Heads, Note Heads, Bill Heads, Envelopes, Tags, Hand Bills.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
After a good deal of discussion, the conflict of opinion over the appeal clause of the constitution of the new Commonwealth of Australia has been adjusted by compromise...

MONSTER WATCH.
It will be seventy-five feet in diameter and forty feet high.

WHAT TO DO.
A writer tells how she teaches her children what to do in times of illness or peril. She believes in object lessons.

COMPENSATORY.
Regular Annual Visits at summer resort. Your lake here seems to be dwindling.

About the House.
THE BABY.
Marianna Wheeler, offers some very useful hints and suggestions, which gain force by the fact that the writer is superintendent of the Babies' Hospital at New York.

DOMESTIC RECIPES.
Preserved Cherries.—Stone the cherries, saving all the juice. Weigh and allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit...

Green Gooseberry Jam.—Top and stem the fruit. Use a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit.

THE FATHER OF PRINTING.
Five Hundredth Anniversary of Johann Gutenberg. Recently celebrated in the city of Mayence, in Germany...

ONLY WISE PLAN.
Her marriage seems to be happier than the majority of that kind.

HIGH-HANDED EXTRAVAGANCE.
Lucky Jones never carries an umbrella; he says it pleases him.

Canada House.
Corner Water and St. John Sts., Chatham.
LARGEST HOTEL IN CHATHAM

The Factory
JOHN McDONALD & CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO GEORGE CASADY.)

Insurance.
SCOTTISH UNION AND NATIONAL, IMPERIAL, LONDON & LANCASHIRE, LANCASHIRE, ETNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION, PHENIX OF LONDON, MANCHESTER.

Mark You!
We have the BEST Studio, BEST assistants and the largest and most varied EXPERIENCE, and use only the BEST materials and therefore produce the

Mrs. Jas. G. Miller.
Come and See Us.

WOOD GOODS!
WE MANUFACTURE & HAVE For Sale
Laths, Paling, Box-Shooks, Barrel Heading, Matched Flooring, Matched Sheathing, Dimensioned Lumber, Sawn Spruce Shingles.

THOS. W. FLEET, Nelson.

Medical - Hall
BATH GLOVES AND MITTS
PONGES
A Beautiful Line of Toilet Soaps

Headquarters
The Headquarters for Drugs, Patent Medicines and Toilet Articles is at the NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE

MACKENZIE'S
Quinine Wine and Iron
THE BEST TONIC AND BLOOD MAKER—50c Bottles

Adamson's Neglect a Trifling Cold Botanic Cough Balsam and the most serious consequences will follow. It lives on your vitality. The stronger it becomes the weaker you are.

Paris Green, Haying Tools, AT LOWEST PRICES. W. S. LOGGIE COMPANY, LIMITED.

This Paper Farm Journal One Year, nearly 5 Years. PAY UP AND GET BOTH PAPERS AT PRICE OF ONE.

celebration of Mass. Rev. Father Morrissey officiated and prominent Miramichi and otherwise regulated the march on the grounds.

THE HOTEL DUTY BAZAAR opened on Tuesday afternoon and was attended, especially in the evening, by Mrs. McEwen's Band furnished excellent music; the decorations are very tasteful and attractive; the sales and refreshment tables leave nothing to be desired, while the attendants spare no effort to satisfy the tastes of their patrons.

PERSONAL.—Mr. and Mrs. Helley V. Parker of New York are making a welcome summer vacation visit to Miramichi friends.

THE BEAVER FARM has been sold to Miss H. M. Chatham.

THE CITIZENS BAND gave a much appreciated concert in Elm Park on Monday evening.

THANKS.—Mrs. McEwen begs to express her sincere thanks to all neighbors and friends who assisted in having her dwelling freed from destruction in the McDonald factory fire on Tuesday night.

THE PICNIC AND FESTIVAL held in aid of the Douglastown R. C. church on Wednesday last week was a very successful one, notwithstanding a adverse evening weather.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.—A letter giving an account of his experiences in South Africa, and showing that he has had his share of fighting, has been received from trooper Stanley Morrison by his relatives here.

"SOME DEVIL" is inside of me, tickling my throat with a tickler as good as death, and with a cough. "Well, this is the holy water that will cast the devil out," said his wife, as she produced a bottle of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, 25c. All Druggists.

PUBLIC MEETING.—A meeting in the interests of the British and Foreign Bible Society will be held in the Town Hall, Chatham, on Monday the 13th of August at 8 o'clock p. m. There will be an address given by Mr. Thomas M. MacKinnon, traveling agent of the society.

MR. HEMINGWAY, the Secretary of the Jersey Cattle Club, says that "Biggie Cow" is one of the best looking on the cow question I have ever looked into. Mr. Hemingway caught to know. The price is 60 cents, by mail, addressed the publishers, Wilmer A. Kinslow Co., Philadelphia.

THE TRIP CAPTAIN.—Young Angus Buckley, who took $200 and a check from his room mate, Edgar Cook, at Fraser's boarding house, Chatham, and ran away to St. John with the plunder, was captured there and held until constable Harry Heckerle sent after and brought him back, and he has been committed for trial.

CARD OF THANKS.—The members of the Picnic Committee in aid of the Catholic church building at Douglastown, beg leave to thank, through the medium of the ADVANCE, the several ladies and gentlemen of Chatham and vicinity, for their generous contributions of musical and dramatic talent in bringing the concert given at the close of the day's proceedings to a successful issue.

S. MARY'S AND S. PAUL'S S. S. PICNIC AND RECEPTION.—The annual S. S. Picnic and congregational reunion of St. Paul's and S. Mary's congregations will be held at "Bathurst" on Tuesday next. The steamer "Canaan" will afford inexpensive means of conveyance to the grounds, and a pleasant outing may be expected.—Patrol-lars later.

GREYSTONE BROOK BRIDGE, on the Bathurst road, is so badly broken down as to be almost impassable. It will no doubt be repaired in a few days. The other day the repairs were fixing a cross-drain near by and had to get to Greystone for water while they were working, and yet, they neglected to repair the bridge. We hope the commissioner will look after it at once, to everything possible in complying with his requests as to the most advantageous points to which the water should be directed.

THE CREAMERY PICNIC AND FESTIVAL. NAPAN, N. B. JULY 30th, 1900. On Thursday afternoon, at the close of the session of the County Court, Samuel Thomson, Esq., Q. C., read and presented to His Honor the following address: To His Honor Judge Wilkinson: The members of the Bar of this County are reminded that yesterday, the twenty-fifth day of July, instant, was the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding day. On this behalf, I have the pleasure of presenting to you and your esteemed partner, their hearty congratulations on your Jubilee. Speaking personally, I may be permitted to state that it was a most happy occasion of your nuptials, with many others of your friends, most of whom since then have passed away. Your anniversary recalls to memory many pleasant associations, incidents of the past, and I trust in every respect, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, in his speech, complimented the farmers of Napan on the advancement they were making along the lines of agriculture, and you were honored with the necessity for co-operation in the new industry starting in their midst. Mayor Loggie spoke of the different creameries throughout the province and great benefit derived from them, and felt assured that, at no very distant day, the Napan Creamery would be second to none in the Maritime Provinces.

After tea had been served, dancing was indulged in by many, to the music of McEwen's orchestra. The Loggieville Band delighted all with their music during the afternoon. The people of Napan appreciate very highly the kindly assistance rendered by friends in Chatham. Mr. Geo. E. Fisher, by his untiring energy and help in various directions, has won for himself the good will and esteem of the whole community.

From His Excellency the Governor-General. The Bishop of Chatham begs to acknowledge receipt of the following highly esteemed letter from His Excellency the Apostolic Delegate, and to thank you for the satisfaction of all who took part in the reception. Archbishop's Palace of Quebec, 27th July, 1900.

My Lord:—On receiving here, I hope I have a few quiet days before proceeding further, one of my first thoughts was to thank you for the kindness shown to me and to my wife in Chatham. The more so, because I feel that my visit caused your Lordship very considerable fatigue. However, your kindness to be assured, by your kind letter of the 15th inst., that you are now well, and that it is not you who ought to thank me, but I, you. Truly, I can never forget the sentiments of respect and affection which you and the clergy and people of your city and Diocese to our Holy Father; they are especially of great value to me, and they are a positive proof of His Holiness's favor.

May God grant them always to remain faithful to these sentiments which make them worthy children of Holy Church. Praying Almighty God to bestow upon you and upon your clergy and people, His choicest blessings, I beg to remain, Your obedient servant, D. PATONCO, Arch. of Larissa, Apos. Delegate.

Dr. Rev. James Rogers, Bishop of Chatham, N. B. "Sabbatarianism."

We heard the other day of a man who said it was his right and duty to have a man of his own in the house on Sunday. He had some interest, in having the vessel, but in order to have that done it was necessary to fix the cargo out, and he knew that was being done by another interested party, who but for his conscientious ideas would have had a very strong claim on his assistance. Of course, he saved money by his regard for the Sabbath. The following is a good illustration of the use that may be made of this particular phrase of respect for the Sabbath:—

A story is told of a Methodist church in Buffalo, N. Y., that had an organ which they played its organ for a year. When his contract ran out, the church worth $300. He brought an action in the municipal court. In his answer to the complaint, the attorney for the church set up the defence that the organ was a work of art, and that the defendant was doing so in violation of the law. The court found in favor of the church, and the organ was sold.

Stranding of the S.S. "Mary Eleanor." On Saturday 15th inst., the 98 ton schooner Mary Eleanor, sailing from Halifax and owned by Aitchison by her captain, Philip Poirer and her mate, Geoffrey Poirer, ran ashore off Herring Cove, about two miles above E. Point, in the night. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

On the 28th we were engaged again. As night came on, we were out on a korp and told that we were to stay there all night, and that the Boregs were surrounded. It was a very hard fight, and we were very fatigued. We were ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

On Saturday 15th inst., the 98 ton schooner Mary Eleanor, sailing from Halifax and owned by Aitchison by her captain, Philip Poirer and her mate, Geoffrey Poirer, ran ashore off Herring Cove, about two miles above E. Point, in the night. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

An Island Packet. If the passengers and freight list of the good little schooner "White Bird," Capt. Frank Gallant, which arrived at Chatham from Miramichi, P. E. I., on Saturday last is a fair sample of the traffic arriving at the two ports, it would be worth while for the Miramichi Steam Navigation Company to extend its business across the Straits. The White Bird had crowded on board a crew of 25 men, and a cargo of 100 tons of coal. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

Card of Thanks. Dr. J. B. Beason begs to express his great appreciation of the services of the friends and neighbors through whose efforts his property was safeguarded during the fire of Tuesday night.

To Our Readers. The ADVANCE will be obliged to its numerous readers if they will enable us to make reference in our local columns to matters and events in which they are interested, or may think their friends may be interested. This can be done by giving the information in person to the office, or by writing to the editor. Many things proper to be noticed in the ADVANCE's columns do not appear therein, simply because our attention is not called to them by those who would like to see references to them in the paper, but have omitted to do their part in making them known. Come, therefore, or write and tell us your local news.

Don't Forget. That to remove corns, warts, bunions in a few days, all that is required is to apply the old and well-known corn cure—Putnam's Patent Corn Extractor. Sure, safe, painless. Putnam's Corn Extractor makes no sore spots hard to heal, sets quickly and painlessly on hard and soft corns.

Fire at Bathurst. About 7.30 o'clock last Saturday morning, 21st, one of O. F. Stacey & Co's barns and an ice house were destroyed by fire. Another building was considerably damaged, having been torn down to save the dwelling house and other buildings, which for a time were in great danger. A number of horses in the barn had a narrow escape and were only got out with considerable difficulty. One valuable horse being injured. A bucket brigade rendered good service, keeping the fire from spreading until the arrival of the steam engine. The firemen arrived at the spot early and did excellent work.

Card of Thanks. Mr. John McDonald begs to thank all who aided at the fire which destroyed his factory on Tuesday night, not only for the work they did for him, but also for their efforts to save surrounding property. He especially thanks the firemen who did everything possible in complying with his requests as to the most advantageous points to which the water should be directed.

The Creamery Picnic and Festival. NAPAN, N. B. JULY 30th, 1900. On Thursday afternoon, at the close of the session of the County Court, Samuel Thomson, Esq., Q. C., read and presented to His Honor the following address: To His Honor Judge Wilkinson: The members of the Bar of this County are reminded that yesterday, the twenty-fifth day of July, instant, was the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding day. On this behalf, I have the pleasure of presenting to you and your esteemed partner, their hearty congratulations on your Jubilee. Speaking personally, I may be permitted to state that it was a most happy occasion of your nuptials, with many others of your friends, most of whom since then have passed away. Your anniversary recalls to memory many pleasant associations, incidents of the past, and I trust in every respect, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, in his speech, complimented the farmers of Napan on the advancement they were making along the lines of agriculture, and you were honored with the necessity for co-operation in the new industry starting in their midst. Mayor Loggie spoke of the different creameries throughout the province and of the creamery, and in the fulfillment of your duties to do all you could for the members of the Bar, and to assist in the improvement of the country in its varied interests. In conclusion, the members of the Bar assure you of their warmest wishes for the success of your nuptials; and trust that you and Mrs. Wilkinson will live happily and enjoy many happy returns of the anniversary of your wedding day, with a full participation in the social pleasures of the country.

On behalf of the Bar of the Northumberland Co. Dated Court House July 30th, 1900. The Judge spoke substantially as follows: Samuel Thomson, Esq., Q. C., on behalf of the Northumberland Bar:— I beg to thank you very warmly for the congratulatory address you have just presented to me on behalf of yourself and the other members of the Bar—and having regard to the subject of it, and the remembrance of your nuptials, I am especially glad to see that it seems certain that no other member of the profession could have been more appropriately selected to make the presentation than yourself—the friend and associate of the period in which reference is especially made and whose kind friendship has continued without any disturbance at any time to the present day as warm and green as ever.

My God grant them always to remain faithful to these sentiments which make them worthy children of Holy Church. Praying Almighty God to bestow upon you and upon your clergy and people, His choicest blessings, I beg to remain, Your obedient servant, D. PATONCO, Arch. of Larissa, Apos. Delegate.

Dr. Rev. James Rogers, Bishop of Chatham, N. B. "Sabbatarianism."

We heard the other day of a man who said it was his right and duty to have a man of his own in the house on Sunday. He had some interest, in having the vessel, but in order to have that done it was necessary to fix the cargo out, and he knew that was being done by another interested party, who but for his conscientious ideas would have had a very strong claim on his assistance. Of course, he saved money by his regard for the Sabbath. The following is a good illustration of the use that may be made of this particular phrase of respect for the Sabbath:—

A story is told of a Methodist church in Buffalo, N. Y., that had an organ which they played its organ for a year. When his contract ran out, the church worth $300. He brought an action in the municipal court. In his answer to the complaint, the attorney for the church set up the defence that the organ was a work of art, and that the defendant was doing so in violation of the law. The court found in favor of the church, and the organ was sold.

Stranding of the S.S. "Mary Eleanor." On Saturday 15th inst., the 98 ton schooner Mary Eleanor, sailing from Halifax and owned by Aitchison by her captain, Philip Poirer and her mate, Geoffrey Poirer, ran ashore off Herring Cove, about two miles above E. Point, in the night. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

On the 28th we were engaged again. As night came on, we were out on a korp and told that we were to stay there all night, and that the Boregs were surrounded. It was a very hard fight, and we were very fatigued. We were ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

On Saturday 15th inst., the 98 ton schooner Mary Eleanor, sailing from Halifax and owned by Aitchison by her captain, Philip Poirer and her mate, Geoffrey Poirer, ran ashore off Herring Cove, about two miles above E. Point, in the night. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

An Island Packet. If the passengers and freight list of the good little schooner "White Bird," Capt. Frank Gallant, which arrived at Chatham from Miramichi, P. E. I., on Saturday last is a fair sample of the traffic arriving at the two ports, it would be worth while for the Miramichi Steam Navigation Company to extend its business across the Straits. The White Bird had crowded on board a crew of 25 men, and a cargo of 100 tons of coal. The vessel was ordered to get down a wire from the top of the rigging line. We had a lot of sharp rifle fire. Then we charged the kops, but when we got to the top the Boregs had fled. They had taken to the water. Our Colours were hoisted and I was wounded in the right arm, one man killed and 4 or 5 wounded. The next day we continued the march, arriving at Tabuaba that evening.

Card of Thanks. Dr. J. B. Beason begs to express his great appreciation of the services of the friends and neighbors through whose efforts his property was safeguarded during the fire of Tuesday night.

of the emergency and said they were entitled to the freight on the coal from Sydney to Chatham.

Meaning the wind blew very strongly and the water became so rough to get along with the deeply-laden vessel alongside, and the conveyance to anchor in smooth water off Tabuaba Gully, in order to have the crew's coal returned to the schooner. Here an amicable arrangement was arrived at between Messrs. Bruce and Anderson, by which the crew agreed to pay a nominal sum to Mr. Bruce for taking the schooner off, he to be allowed to take her to Chatham or Newcastle to discharge by Friday (tomorrow) Messrs. Anderson waiving all all-claim against the crew's freight, etc.

Altogether Mr. Bruce effected much credit for the vigorous and efficient manner in which he managed the whole work. He realized that a storm might come at any moment, and sent the schooner vessel to join the many whose ribs are whitening along the shores in that locality, and this tender it was possible to save either vessel or cargo.

Work was done on practically night and day after his arrival at the scene on Friday night. Capt. Matthews, engineer Shields and the others connected with the Elth, as well as the shoremen stuck at the job with untiring energy and were successful in the success they achieved. The reporter of the ADVANCE, who was present during the operations, and has seen considerable of similar work, thinks this job was most neatly and efficiently done.

Letter From Private Ward of 1st Co. Capt. J. D. R. Mackenzie has just received the following letter from the private ward of Chatham, who is with the 1st Canadian contingent in South Africa.

SPRING, TRANSVAAL, June 17, 1900. DEAR SIR:—I have just written to you I think I should mention that I have been in the factory, had speed inside me, and excess of strain. The Amosberg engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the Duke Street tank should give out at the time. When, as I said, the engine was not brought out until long after it should have been, there appearing to have been no existing arrangement made by the first owner for an engine to be put in its place. It was also an evident lack of control. It was inevitable that the water in the

A SCHOOLBOY MILITIA.

Plan to Add Four Million Embryo Soldiers to the British Army.

A movement is now in progress in England which, if successful, will put every public schoolboy in the land in training as a possible recruit for the British army.

The plan originated with the Earl of Meath, and although it has provoked considerable discussion in the English papers, has been commended by Lord Roberts; Lord Wolsey, commander-in-chief of the British army; Lord Wontage, chairman of the British Red Cross Society, and Lord Methuen.

Most of the boys who attend the English board schools attend school at the age of eleven or twelve years, and leave it at the age of fourteen or fifteen.

When the boys leave school the cadet corps will be ready to receive them. They will be armed with carbines, will drill once or twice a week, practise marksmanship and go into camp for a month in summer.

It is estimated that the plan would add four million embryo soldiers to the British army.

The advocates of the measure quote the remark of the late Sir Joseph Whitworth, the eminent mechanical engineer, that men thus trained were worth fifty cents a day more than ordinary men, on account of this discipline, alertness and ability to act together.

They also believe that in this way the ranks of the corner loafers will be reduced, and, above all, that every young Englishman who attends the board schools will be a practical training for the defence of his country, should occasion arise.

STOMACH TROUBLE

MAKES THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE MISERABLE.

Mr. John Holland, of Toronto, P. E. I., gives Mr. Chapman's or the name of "Stomach Trouble" as the cause of his trouble.

From the Watchman, Charlottetown. Mrs. John Holland, of Toronto, P. E. I., is well known and highly respected in the community where she resides.

For some years her life was one of misery and suffering, having been an acute sufferer from that common foe of humanity, dyspepsia. A reporter hearing of her restoration to health through the agency of that wonderful remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, called upon Mrs. Holland to obtain particulars, which were cheerfully given as follows:

"About four years ago I became very ill. I was attacked with a distressing pain in my stomach, accompanied by flashes of heat and cold. These attacks were generally preceded by a sleepless and stupor which continued for several days.

"I mean it," she said, "no strolling player's child shall be lord of Lancelwood. I shall never repeat or regret my decision. It is for the best." And that was the end of her life-time. Once before she had said the same thing, but it was in the hurried passion of the hour, when she was good and contented. Now there was no anger, no passion. She stood under the calm summer sky, the world at rest, the wind whispering of peace, the flowers of Heaven. She had time to think, to deliberate, to deliberate, and she decided that things should remain as they were—that the heir of Lancelwood should not remain his inheritance, and so she committed the right of her life-time.

Gerald saw her bow down over some crushed passion-flowers in her hand—flowers that had fallen into such a abyss of grief.

He did not interrupt her—he stood patiently by her side, watching her intently, longing to say some word of comfort or of hope, but not daring to do so. The sun set, and the dew began to fall—he saw some drops on her dark hair and some on her dress.

"Miss Nestle," he said gently, "you must not remain out here. You will be cold—the dew is falling fast." He never forgot the face she raised to his, so white was it, so full of pain and anguish, the dark eyes dim with unshed tears. His whole heart went out from him in a passion of pity.

"Miss Nestle," he said, "now that we are here, talking for the last time, I hope, in this subject, which distresses you so greatly, I take courage, and venture to speak to you of my reward?"

"Your reward?" she asked. "Yes; you remember your words—that to the man who would save Lancelwood you would give your life? You remember that?"

"I do not ask for your life; I ask for your love. You remember the king of old who said, 'Ask of me what you will—sever if it be half of my kingdom—and I will give it to you? You have said more than that to me: I ask for your love.'"

"I know," she said, "that I am far beneath you—only the greatness of my love elevates me and places me by your side. I have no money, no position; but I love you with a devotion far more love than gold or lands. Your father trusted me; you have trusted me. He left you in some measure to my care—my whole heart and life lie at your feet."

She interrupted him suddenly with a gesture of command. "Hush," she said. "I did not understand before; you are making love to me—love to me!" "I am saying my heart, my life, my soul, my love at your feet," he replied.

Through Storm and Sunshine

CHAPTER XXXV.—Continued.

"I did not mean you to act as you have done," she said. "That day I was mad with shame and misery, but I did not mean it—I swear I did not. And I did not think you would take me at my word."

"I understand. On that day you felt capable of anything; afterward you repented."

"I do not think much of it afterward," she replied. "Gerald, my brain is not clear—I am dazed. I forget if I really meant it. I forget if I felt sorry afterward. I only remember that I thought anything better than to let Lancelwood fall into such unworthy hands."

"His face brightened. "Perhaps, after all, I have not displeased you," he said. "Remember that I would die for you, and that death would be more acceptable to me than your displeasure."

"She looked at him with sad dreamy eyes, his meaning quite lost upon her. "It can all be remedied, Miss Nestle," he said. "You have but to say the word, and I will undo the evil. I will go at once to America and bring the boy back. I can say that he was stolen by tramps or gypsies. I can say that he was stolen by a nobleman, and that he was stolen for the sake of the reward that would be offered. Lady Nestle would be so delighted to recover him that she would be quite content to pardon the theft. I should tell her that those who had stolen the child awaited her promise of full pardon before returning him. Trust me, I find some way to undo it. Miss Nestle, everything rests now in your hands. On the day that you wished the boy got rid of you may have spoken unguardedly, under the influence of unbearable irritation; afterward you may have repented what you said; but now you have time to think, and I leave the matter in your hands. If you say 'Yes,' I will bring the boy back at once, and take all the consequences upon myself; if you say 'No,' I will let him be where he is. It is for you to decide."

"She stood motionless, her hands clasped together; she heard the rustle of Mr. Greston's paper, the faint ripple of the fountain, the sweet whisper of the wind; she heard, and it all seemed to her outside her own life—she was alone with this terrible decision before her—alone with the terrible secret that had almost slain her. Should she say 'Yes,' and see the old times renewed in all their horror—see the ruin, destruction, and dishonour, even shame, once more in Lancelwood—see the ill-trained child of a strolling player master and lord? Or should she say 'No,' and see more than the ancient honor of Lancelwood revive? Should she say 'Yes,' and purchase for her own soul peace, even at the price of Lancelwood? Or should she say 'No,' and never know peace again?"

"How long they had both stood there they did not know; hours might have passed in the agony of that interval. At last Vivien raised her head and looked more to him. It was quite colorless, with an expression in the eyes that afterward never quite left them.

"Yes," she said, "I have decided. Let matters remain as they are."

"Do you mean if you will not return, you will not regret it?" "I mean it," she said, "no strolling player's child shall be lord of Lancelwood. I shall never repeat or regret my decision. It is for the best." And that was the end of her life-time. Once before she had said the same thing, but it was in the hurried passion of the hour, when she was good and contented. Now there was no anger, no passion. She stood under the calm summer sky, the world at rest, the wind whispering of peace, the flowers of Heaven. She had time to think, to deliberate, to deliberate, and she decided that things should remain as they were—that the heir of Lancelwood should not remain his inheritance, and so she committed the right of her life-time.

Gerald saw her bow down over some crushed passion-flowers in her hand—flowers that had fallen into such a abyss of grief.

He did not interrupt her—he stood patiently by her side, watching her intently, longing to say some word of comfort or of hope, but not daring to do so. The sun set, and the dew began to fall—he saw some drops on her dark hair and some on her dress.

"Miss Nestle," he said gently, "you must not remain out here. You will be cold—the dew is falling fast." He never forgot the face she raised to his, so white was it, so full of pain and anguish, the dark eyes dim with unshed tears. His whole heart went out from him in a passion of pity.

"Miss Nestle," he said, "now that we are here, talking for the last time, I hope, in this subject, which distresses you so greatly, I take courage, and venture to speak to you of my reward?"

"Your reward?" she asked. "Yes; you remember your words—that to the man who would save Lancelwood you would give your life? You remember that?"

"I do not ask for your life; I ask for your love. You remember the king of old who said, 'Ask of me what you will—sever if it be half of my kingdom—and I will give it to you? You have said more than that to me: I ask for your love.'"

"I know," she said, "that I am far beneath you—only the greatness of my love elevates me and places me by your side. I have no money, no position; but I love you with a devotion far more love than gold or lands. Your father trusted me; you have trusted me. He left you in some measure to my care—my whole heart and life lie at your feet."

She interrupted him suddenly with a gesture of command. "Hush," she said. "I did not understand before; you are making love to me—love to me!" "I am saying my heart, my life, my soul, my love at your feet," he replied.

SOMETHING QUITE NEW—SARADA

CEYLON GREEN TEA

What! Western Civilization Will Do for the Chinese. No race of men can surpass the Chinese in habits of industry and thrift, says D. Z. Sheffield in the Atlantic.

Not a dollar will be gathered from the soil, from trade, from mines, from manufactures, without his securing a due proportion as a reward for his share in the enterprise. He will patiently and faithfully work for a master for half a generation, and in the second half he will appear as his own master, at the head of a thriving business.

Thus, in the industries of the future, wherever there is work to be done there will be found the Chinese ready to 'sell strength,' as working for hire is called in China; and they will sell more strength for the money than will men of any other nation.

I like people who give me advice about reducing my weight. Yes, I have tried dieting. It did not do me any good. If there is any other question you can think of that I've not answered, don't be bashful. Just ask it, and I'll try and answer it. Are you going Well, good-bye.

CRUELTY. Mrs. De Fashion—I see an English woman has been fined for having her two dogs pull the baby carriage. Mrs. De Fashion—She ought to be, the cruel thing. Why didn't she make the baby pull the dogs?

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS. MRS. WINDSOR'S ROCHING STYUP has been used by the noblest and most distinguished of the world. It is a tonic, a stimulant, a restorative, and a preservative of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system.

WHEAT A DIFFERENCE IT MAKES. She—Am I the first woman you ever loved? He—Yes, Am I the first man who ever loved you? She—Contentedly—You are inimitable!

THE FAR REACHING. Perfume of a good name heralds the name of the maker. The Far Reaching is a sure, certain, and painless remedy for corns. Fifty millions prove it to be the best. All druggists.

STRAPPED. Bouton—I didn't meet Jack Goodheart at the restaurant to-day. Upton—No; Jack is a married man now, and it's three days since pay day.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury. The mercury will never destroy the disease, and it will do more harm than good. It will destroy the system, and it will do more harm than good. It will destroy the system, and it will do more harm than good.

HER GOLDEN FUTURE. I'm going to marry a man with half a million dollars, said the girl in the bicycle suit. I'm glad to hear it, said the other girl. Who is he? O, I mustn't tell you that. He hasn't got it all yet.

"A step in the right direction" is to give up using poor or adulterated food and drink. Blue Ribbon Beyond Seas.

CHINESE THRIFT.

What! Western Civilization Will Do for the Chinese.

No race of men can surpass the Chinese in habits of industry and thrift, says D. Z. Sheffield in the Atlantic. With the introduction of Western civilization the vast resources of the country will be developed, the products of the soil and manufacture will indefinitely increase, and domestic and international trade will be multiplied in its proportions.

Not a dollar will be gathered from the soil, from trade, from mines, from manufactures, without his securing a due proportion as a reward for his share in the enterprise. He will patiently and faithfully work for a master for half a generation, and in the second half he will appear as his own master, at the head of a thriving business.

Thus, in the industries of the future, wherever there is work to be done there will be found the Chinese ready to 'sell strength,' as working for hire is called in China; and they will sell more strength for the money than will men of any other nation.

I like people who give me advice about reducing my weight. Yes, I have tried dieting. It did not do me any good. If there is any other question you can think of that I've not answered, don't be bashful. Just ask it, and I'll try and answer it. Are you going Well, good-bye.

CRUELTY. Mrs. De Fashion—I see an English woman has been fined for having her two dogs pull the baby carriage. Mrs. De Fashion—She ought to be, the cruel thing. Why didn't she make the baby pull the dogs?

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS. MRS. WINDSOR'S ROCHING STYUP has been used by the noblest and most distinguished of the world. It is a tonic, a stimulant, a restorative, and a preservative of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system.

WHEAT A DIFFERENCE IT MAKES. She—Am I the first woman you ever loved? He—Yes, Am I the first man who ever loved you? She—Contentedly—You are inimitable!

THE FAR REACHING. Perfume of a good name heralds the name of the maker. The Far Reaching is a sure, certain, and painless remedy for corns. Fifty millions prove it to be the best. All druggists.

STRAPPED. Bouton—I didn't meet Jack Goodheart at the restaurant to-day. Upton—No; Jack is a married man now, and it's three days since pay day.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury. The mercury will never destroy the disease, and it will do more harm than good. It will destroy the system, and it will do more harm than good. It will destroy the system, and it will do more harm than good.

HER GOLDEN FUTURE. I'm going to marry a man with half a million dollars, said the girl in the bicycle suit. I'm glad to hear it, said the other girl. Who is he? O, I mustn't tell you that. He hasn't got it all yet.

"A step in the right direction" is to give up using poor or adulterated food and drink. Blue Ribbon Beyond Seas.

REPLIES WHILE YOU WAIT.

An eccentric fat man who was on exhibition became so tired of answering questions that he had the following replies printed and pasted on a board at his side: I weigh 345 pounds. I am fat. I am growing fatter every day. I am growing larger every day. I can not tell you how much larger I am going to get. I expect to grow until I either die or collapse. Yes, I have a good appetite. No, I do not eat all the time. Yes, I am going to stop eating. No, I was not always as large as I am now. I do not remember when I was as thin as you. Yes, my father was a large man. Yes, my mother was a large woman. I can not tell you how long it will take you to get as fat as I am. I do not know if you will ever be as fat as I am. I like to be told that I am fat. I like to be stared at. I like to have people stop in the street and laugh at me. I like people who give me advice about reducing my weight. Yes, I have tried dieting. It did not do me any good. If there is any other question you can think of that I've not answered, don't be bashful. Just ask it, and I'll try and answer it. Are you going Well, good-bye.

DOESN'T MATTER.

The Fiancee—Poor fellow! He confessed that I was not the only girl he ever loved. The Confidante—Oh, well, that doesn't make any difference. The Fiancee—Of course not, he seemed to be afraid it might.

THE "BALMORAL" FREE BUS

AVENUE HOUSE. ST. JAMES HOTEL. BRITISH CHEMISTS COMPANY. 85-86 LONDON, NEW YORK, TORONTO.

DR. HAMMOND-HALL'S English Teething Syrup

COMFORTS CRYING CHILDREN. POSITIVELY PREVENTS CHOLERA INFANTUM. CURES COLIC, DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, RIGIDS, HIVES and ALL TEETHING TROUBLES. LARGEST SALE IN THE WORLD.

CALVERT'S

Cathartic, Purgative, Laxative, etc. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system.

LAW

Catholic Prayer Book, Breviary, etc. It is a book that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a book that will cure all the ailments of the system.

Brass Band

Every Town can have a Band. It is a band that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a band that will cure all the ailments of the system.

Dyeing & Cleaning!

For a very best and working in the dyeing and cleaning business. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system.

ROOFING and Sheet Metal Work.

It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system.

MISCELLANEOUS MACHINES FOR SALE

AS FOLLOWS—It is a list of machines for sale. It is a list of machines for sale.

The Canada Permanent and Western Canada Mortgage Corporation.

Capital Paid up, $6,000,000 Reserve Fund, 1,500,000. It is a corporation that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a corporation that will cure all the ailments of the system.

WHEN WE URGE YOU TO TRY

LUDELLA

CEYLON TEA

A Good Painter. Always recognizes a good paint when he sees it, or when he uses it. He knows it pays to use good paint, and that's why so many painters ask for RAMSAY'S PAINTS. The smoothness of its working qualities, its great "covering" capacity, and its remarkable durability, for both indoor and outdoor use, are some of its characteristics.

A Good Painter. Always recognizes a good paint when he sees it, or when he uses it. He knows it pays to use good paint, and that's why so many painters ask for

DR. HAMMOND-HALL'S English Teething Syrup. COMFORTS CRYING CHILDREN. POSITIVELY PREVENTS CHOLERA INFANTUM. CURES COLIC, DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, RIGIDS, HIVES and ALL TEETHING TROUBLES. LARGEST SALE IN THE WORLD.

BRITISH CHEMISTS COMPANY. 85-86 LONDON, NEW YORK, TORONTO.

REPLIES WHILE YOU WAIT. An eccentric fat man who was on exhibition became so tired of answering questions that he had the following replies printed and pasted on a board at his side: I weigh 345 pounds. I am fat. I am growing fatter every day. I am growing larger every day. I can not tell you how much larger I am going to get. I expect to grow until I either die or collapse. Yes, I have a good appetite. No, I do not eat all the time. Yes, I am going to stop eating. No, I was not always as large as I am now. I do not remember when I was as thin as you. Yes, my father was a large man. Yes, my mother was a large woman. I can not tell you how long it will take you to get as fat as I am. I do not know if you will ever be as fat as I am. I like to be told that I am fat. I like to be stared at. I like to have people stop in the street and laugh at me. I like people who give me advice about reducing my weight. Yes, I have tried dieting. It did not do me any good. If there is any other question you can think of that I've not answered, don't be bashful. Just ask it, and I'll try and answer it. Are you going Well, good-bye.

DOESN'T MATTER. The Fiancee—Poor fellow! He confessed that I was not the only girl he ever loved. The Confidante—Oh, well, that doesn't make any difference. The Fiancee—Of course not, he seemed to be afraid it might.

THE "BALMORAL" FREE BUS. AVENUE HOUSE. ST. JAMES HOTEL. BRITISH CHEMISTS COMPANY. 85-86 LONDON, NEW YORK, TORONTO.

DR. HAMMOND-HALL'S English Teething Syrup. COMFORTS CRYING CHILDREN. POSITIVELY PREVENTS CHOLERA INFANTUM. CURES COLIC, DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, RIGIDS, HIVES and ALL TEETHING TROUBLES. LARGEST SALE IN THE WORLD.

BRITISH CHEMISTS COMPANY. 85-86 LONDON, NEW YORK, TORONTO.

CALVERT'S. Cathartic, Purgative, Laxative, etc. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the system.

LAW. Catholic Prayer Book, Breviary, etc. It is a book that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a book that will cure all the ailments of the system.

Brass Band. Every Town can have a Band. It is a band that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a band that will cure all the ailments of the system.

Dyeing & Cleaning! For a very best and working in the dyeing and cleaning business. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system.

ROOFING and Sheet Metal Work. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a business that will cure all the ailments of the system.

MISCELLANEOUS MACHINES FOR SALE. AS FOLLOWS—It is a list of machines for sale. It is a list of machines for sale.

The Canada Permanent and Western Canada Mortgage Corporation. Capital Paid up, $6,000,000 Reserve Fund, 1,500,000. It is a corporation that will cure all the ailments of the system. It is a corporation that will cure all the ailments of the system.

"A step in the right direction" is to give up using poor or adulterated food and drink. Blue Ribbon Beyond Seas.

It is a step in the right direction. It is a step in the right direction.

It is a step in the right direction. It is a step in the right direction.

It is a step in the right direction. It is a step in the right direction.

It is a step in the right direction. It is a step in the right direction.