[Canadian Exchange.] The Union Jack.

Yonder waves old England's banner, Still recalling by-gone years; As it waved o'er famous Cressey, And the battle of Poictiers. Since the days of Royal Alfred,
It has humbled haughty foes.
Faced a thousand threatening dangers,
Dealt a thousand mortal blows;
Still the ship that has it hoisted Can through any ocean track. Give a shout for British freedom Raise aloft the Union Jack.

Mark its course upon the ocean.

Trace its path from land to land,
Ever guided in its mission
By a Providential hand. r stormy oceans wafted, Where huge icebergs rock and roll,
And the briny waves in fury
Dash around each dreary pole.
And away in tropic climates,
See our heroes bivouac,
While above them floats sublimely
England's ancient Union Jack.

Raise aloft the Royal Standard, Let it greet the passing breeze; Still it braves the ocean's billows, Stands erect on stormy seas. As it waved above our Nelson, England's gallant, matchless tar, At the Nile's terrific combat, And immortal Trafalgar.
To the mast he nailed his colors—
Signalled then for close attack,
Midst a peal of British thunder.
He displayed the Union Jack.

Wolfe displayed old England's colors On the plains of Abraham When in war's impassioned combat
He encountered brave Montcalm.
Ere the din of battle ended
Both these gallant heroes fell;
Loud above the roar of battle Rose the Highland's soldiers' vell. Then the foe were driven back,
And the day was one of glory
To old England's Union Jack.

Gallant Brock its folds expanded On the field of Queenston Heights:
Well the hero did his duty—
Putting Britaîn's foes to flight
Ere they reached the frozzning summit,
Did the gallant hero fall, For his bright career was ended By a marksman's rifle ball. But his comrades roused to vengea Like a tempest swept the track, And the day was one of glory To old England's Union Jack.

Should the war-cry then be shouted O'er Canadian soil again,
We will guard the hallowed precincts
Where our Wolfe and Brock were slain.
Where the Empire's flag's insulted,
Or a British hero leads,
There Canadians dare to follow
And will empilet their deeds Dare to fight for British freedom— We'er no coward, craven pack, To disgrace old England's standard, Or desert the Union Jack.

And brave Scotia's sons are ready For their place is in the van— To repel the fierce invasion As they did at Inkerman.

And the loyal men of Erin,

Round the cross of red and blue
Round the battle flag rally As of yore at Waterloo England, Scotland and brave Erin Have in warfare ne'er been slack, And now Canada is with them To defend the Union Jack.

Lives there still one British subjec Who'd refuse his life, his all, Who defende his his, his an, in all, in defence of British freedom?
Who'd rejoice at British fall?
If there is, then curse the traitor!
Pass him in the dark disdain;
Let him bear, while life is left him
On his brow the mark of Cain. On his brow the mark of Cain; Let him die a hated coward! Bury him at midnight black! He deserved no home, no country Who'd desert the Union Jack.

He did not come before them asking to be forgiven for any act of mission or commission; he was not going to beg them to return him once more, because he felt he did not need orgiviness, as he had done nothing of which he was ashamed. No, he took higher grounds than that, he asked them to return him because they could not send any other man to fill his place. The position which he held as the leading Catholic in the Domnion of Canada, and Speaker in the House of Commons, was not only a credit to himself but it reflected credit on the constituency which he epresented, and that they should be roud to send such a member.

And now he would allude to some other matters. He had heard rumors of opposition. This was strange in such cases as the present. It was an unusual thing to be opposed and especially in this case when he had been specially singled out through the received him with open arms, and was she going back on her record now? TO THE FARMERS OF MIRAMICHI

We have been Manufacturing IRON FRAME MOWERS For the last four years, and are now offering to the farming community this, the

BEST MOWER,

the field, than any other Mower extant,of the field, than any other mover extagt.

In construction they are similar to the celebrated Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mower, and the Richardson Buckeye, both American machines. Of the former there are over 200,000 in use, and the extraordinary number 200,000 in use, and the extraordinary number of 20,000 were manufactured and sold last season, by the Wood Company of United States. We have over 500 of our manufac-ture now in use, every one of which (no ex-ceptions) stands as a monument of the grand nd unprecedented success of home ma re and our enterprise. A list of our Agents tion of the Province will be found n this section of the Province will be loading ppended, and farmers are requested to ask information of them relative to our Mowers in use in their respective localities, which will establish beyond doubt their unques-will establish beyond doubt their unques-tionable superiority over any other mower to be had in our market.

The facility of procuring all parts or pieces within a nominal length of time must show beyond the shadow of a doubt the claims ach an enterprise has upon the farmers of ne Maritime Provinces. the Maritime Provinces.

For the coming Harvest of 1877 we will manufacture LARGELY in excess of our numbers of last Scason, and trust that our growing enterprise may find such inducements held out to it as will be comnensurate with its merits.

Let it be remembered we have no hesita

Composition for Covering Boilers and Steam Piping.

pipes, domes of generators, cylinders of steam engines, etc. It consists in covering the same with a mixture of sawdust (no matter from what wood) and ordinary flour paste in a very quid state. The sawdust being added to make a thick paste, and applied according to the following directions, will form a compact mass, the adherence of which is very great when ap plied on clean surfaces of wrough or cast iron; but on copper pipes it more difficult to apply the first coat: in which case it is necessary to, wash the copper pipe to be covered with a clay wash made with potter's clay nntil it forms a thin coating, after which the sawdust and paste will adhere firmly. It is very simple to apply any ordinary mason with a small trowel is all that is necessary. Lay on five successive coats one fifth of an inch thick. Let the pipes or other objects to be covered be kept warm by the aid of a little steam, and let one coat be perfectly dry before applying a second. Should the pipes be outside, exposed to the open air, give them three or four coats of coal tar to make them waterproof, but if inside of a building it is not necessary. It is well to pass the sawdust through a riddle, to cleanse it from the coarse fragments of wood which are always STAPLE & FANCY GOODS to be found among sawdust. There is no contraction in drying the composition, therefore no leakage. Steam pipes so covered, the corresponden lieves, lose less heat than when covered by any other patented pro-cess sold for that purpose. It is much less expensive, and much more efficient. The sawdust is to be found in most factories, scarcely of any value. With 1 cwt. of flour (about $3.75 worth), he says he can cover as much surface as formerly with $200 worth of the composition he was then using, which cost him at the rate of 75 cents or $1 per cwt .-Its lightness renders it still more valuable for such purposes. There is very little expansion or contraction in the pipes, being well protected; therefore no leaky joints .- Textile

Manufacturer. Sheep Farming in California

It is estimated that from one half to two thirds of the sheep in the State have perished from starvation. The loss of cattle is not so large, as they were taken to the mountains in time Dr. Swain, of Watsonville, recently started for the mountains from Fresno, with over three thousand sheep, and the lifeless carcasses of over twentyfive hundred of them now mark the route taken. The doctor says that unclaimed dead and dying sheep cover the plains, and hundreds of sheep and lambs fall into line behind the wagon of the traveler, and follow, in THE STOCK the hope of getting a morsel of hay. One man from the San Joaquin Val-ley lost every sheep he had—eleven thousand-during a storm, and went home a penniless man. Another, an Italian, thought he could save the cost of ferrying his sheep across the Tuolumue River by swimming them, and eight hundred were drowned in THE PUBLIC ARE INVITED the attempt. Another man east of Visalia, despairing of ever getting his sheep to where there was feed, turned twenty thousand out to starve. If he undertook to drive them to the mountain many of them must die of starvation before reaching there be- on the 28th of this month. cause there is no feed on the way; and then, when the mountains are reached, all the good feed is already taken up by the men who hold po session, shot gun in hand, and who are desperate enough to fight to the WITH CATALOGUE OF PRICES WILL death. There will probably be a good many cases of bloodshed and death in the mountains this summer, and many stock men will mysteriously disappear to return no more.—Watsonville (Cal.) Transcript.

CROP PROSPECTS .- So far as we can learn the prospects for the crops throughout Ontario, at present are unusually favorable. The tall wheat throughout Ontario, at present are unusually favorable. The tall wheat is secure against almost everything, except wet weather during harvest.—
It has come through the winter in perfect safety, and has now stooled out so thickly, and is so vigorous, that it can stand a good deal of drought, if can stand a good deal of drought, if there should be that to contend with.

Than any one in the trade, notwithstanding Of spring grains, there has been a large breadth sown, especially of wheat, and so far no improvement on the position could be asked for .- Montreal Witness.
