

Underwear a Farmer Needs
Regular weights won't do for the farmer. He must be warmer clad, because his work about the farm and long drives to town keep him out in the cold so much.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear
comes in special weights, especially for farmers. Special weights don't mean clumsy, bulky garments. Stanfield's Underwear is so warm because of the peculiar knit of the garments. It's pure Nova Scotia wool, that has been treated to take out the shrink and leave in the softness. We—and your dealer—both guarantee Stanfield's to be unshrinkable.

Driven to Drink
Many a good man has been by home laundry work, with lumps of starch and wash of alkali, decorating his shirt front, and saw edges on his collar to annoy him. It makes his heart glad when he can see his linen immaculate and with a snow white color and artistic finish that he can have put on by expending only a few cents. It is worth dollars in comfort and satisfaction to have your linen laundered at the Seagull Laundry.

A largely attended congregational meeting of the Carleton Presbyterian church was held in the church Wednesday evening. Rev. James Ross presiding. The business was the matter of securing a pastor to succeed Rev. James Burgess, who some time ago resigned his pastorate and will go to Scotland by one of the early winter port boats sailing from this port. It was unanimously decided to send a call to Rev. H. Reid of Bathurst Village, who is filling the interim in the Carleton church, to preach in the Carleton church on two Sundays next. The matter has not yet been dealt with by the Presbytery. Many a weird, says the Halifax Herald, are the stories that continue to be told about the so-called "hanged man" who was executed in 1845 in the Carleton Place, at the junction of the Carleton and the Miramichi rivers. In connection with which Engineer James McAuley lost his life. The latest and most ghastly is one that comes from Moncton, to the effect that one night when one of the wipers went to put a fire in the fire box, in the dim light, saw a man standing in the cab with his hand on the throttle. He spoke to the man, thinking that perhaps it was one of the mechanics making some repairs. For this reason he did not take particular notice, but went on with his work. However, not receiving any answer to his remark, he looked again in the fire to see the man standing there. He did not see him again, but he did not disappear—gone with him making the least noise to attract attention. Inquiry elicited the fact that neither a wiper nor any other employee saw the cleaner had been on the engine up to the time mentioned on the night in question. Such is the story.

Temperance People Ask Change in License Act

St. John—It is quite probable that the St. John liquor license act will be considerably amended in the near future and that as a result of the changes the liquor men will find it harder to engage in the business of disposing of spirituous beverages.

The system of granting extension retail licenses, in excess of the number provided by the act, (75), will probably be done away with and the license commissioners will be instructed to grant only 75 licenses, and thus come within the precise limit of the act.

Temperance people, all over the province, but particularly in St. John, are agitating for a change in legislation of the liquor license act. Their ultimate goal is prohibition, but they realize that, to accomplish this, is an herculean task, they are seeking to amend the St. John license act and are thus inserting the thin edge of the wedge which may eventually be driven and more sweeping reforms accomplished.

At the recent annual meeting of the grand division of the Sons of Temperance, considerable attention was given to the St. John license act and the G. W. P. was requested to communicate with all temperance societies in the province with a view to obtaining their support for the temperance committee in requesting the provincial government to pass sections 4 of the proposed bill to amend the license law. By this section it was asked to provide that before an applicant can be granted a license, he must have a petition of a majority of the ratepayers in the ward or parish where he wants to do liquor business.

The sons of Temperance will make every possible effort to get the act amended to meet their ideas, and will endeavor to impress the provincial government with the desirability of the change.

It will probably be fought, not only by the local liquor interests, but by the whole strength of the licensed retailers' association of Canada, as its enforcement will make a great change in the regulations governing licenses.

In the matter of limiting the retail licenses to seventy-five, the temperance people have been agitating for some time, and the government has already practically committed itself to their views in this regard.

Under the present license regulations it is necessary for every person who desires to sell liquor, to make application to the inspector of licenses, on or before the eighth day of the month, which date the commission meet, and fix a date for the hearing of the application; and also to deal with any petitions that may be lodged. Such petitions are presented to the inspector or at least, four days before the meeting of the board.

The inspector is required under the act to keep in his office, after three days previous to the meeting of the board, a record of all petitions and certificates lodged with him and all such papers are open to public inspection.

The meetings of the board to consider the applications are also open to the public and are usually attended by a number of the dealers. In the event of a protest being lodged against any dealer the latter has an opportunity to present his side of the case either personally or through his attorney.

Each applicant deposits with the inspector, with his application, a fee of $5, to cover the cost of advertising and inspection.

If the applicant is granted a license this fee is credited on the amount paid for such license.

There are several classes of licenses—retail, $300, hotel, $400, wholesale $500, and brewers $800, and the monies received for them are placed to the credit of the government in the Bank of British North America on or before May 1, when the ensuing license year commences.

For some years the commissioners have been unable to get down number of retail licenses, limited by the act.

According to the extension licenses were issued to applicants in excess of seventy-five, as the commissioners felt it would be an injustice to these men if they were closed up at once. The license for three months was devised to enable such a dealer to close out his stock without a loss, but it had an effect of rendering the limit to 75, worthless. At the end of three months a dealer, who was doing business on extension license could go to the board and announce that he had not been able to close up his business and consequently get another extension. At the same time he would buy new stock and remain in business for the year on practically the same terms as the regular license holder. In fact he had an advantage over the annual license holder for he could pay his license in quarterly installments, and thus be relieved of the necessity of raising the whole sum for a twelve months license at one time.

At the present time there are at least half a dozen of such extended licenses in operation in St. John.

The temperance people are endeavoring to induce the government to define more clearly the meaning of the section, limiting the number of licenses to 75, and as the government has practically agreed to meet their views the commissioners will undoubtedly be forced to abandon the practice of issuing the three months' license, and will adhere to the section limiting the number to 75.

This limitation applies only to retail and includes of course, hotel license, which under the act must be limited to 75 in number.

WHY MR. CROCKETT WAS ELECTED.

A defeated candidate for parliament, like the defeated general in war, is expected to "take his medicine like a man." The man of shot and shell has very good reason to feel glum over a defeat for he recognizes that it is an impersonal one rather than a personal one. While personal ambition is a factor to be considered the fact remains that the country and not the man gains or loses the most through victory or defeat, as the case may be. But while the general may sorely feel his failure at arms he is unlikely to whine like a whipped cur. Such, however, seems to have been the course adopted by Mr. Gibson, the defeated candidate for parliamentary honors in the County of York. He is sour, churlish, spiteful and all the rest combined it we are to accept the various reports published about him. He has given vent to his spleen in various ways. He refused to shake hands with his opponent on Declaration Day; he discontinued his subscription to the Frederick Glenner, because, it is said, he did not consider it supported him as it should have done and he is also reported to have dismissed the chief clerk of his grocery store because this individual gave a conservative a few hours' work. The spectacle of a man making such a sorry exhibition of himself is sad one to behold. We can now readily understand why Mr. Crockett was elected in the County of York.

There is a likelihood of Mr. F. B. Wade, the present head of the G. T. P. Construction Commission succeeding Mr. Blair as chairman of the Railway Commission. It has always been a deep and unfathomable mystery to us how and where second rate lawyers obtained the knowledge to acceptably fill such positions. Now comes word that former Lieut. Governor McLellan will succeed Mr. Wade.

HAS PLENTY LEFT.

The general elections have taken away from Premier Murray five of his strongest supporters and the flower of the Local Legislature. —Saskville Post.

Well, one would scarcely call them "the flower of the Legislature" Mr. McKenzie, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Laurance, Mr. McLean and Mr. Finlayson are bright young men and will doubtless do credit to the bluehouse province at Ottawa. But scarcely one of the number can be called brilliant at the present time. Premier Murray has a few brighter lieutenants left, for instance Mr. Langley, Mr. Drysdale and Mr. Pearson. His deserters, if we may term them as such, might have come next in order. But the secret of the whole matter is there was no work for the others to do in the Legislature. Mr. Murray conducts a parliament only two members of which oppose his rule. He could, very well afford to dispose of a half dozen supporters to his friend Mr. Fielding and doubtless he did it with becoming grace.

Mr. Roosevelt has very wisely obtained the services of Secretary of State John Hay. The relations of the State department at Washington with foreign countries, since Mr. Hay's tenure of office began have always been brilliantly cordial through perhaps immediately so.

SCHOOL FOR M. P.'S.

Macaulay tells us that in the time of James II, the new members of Parliament had to be carefully "coached" by experienced ones for until they had gone through a course of instruction they were quite useless. There are a number of newly elected members of parliament in Canada who will be quite too green to take up parliamentary work. By all means start a training school. The tutors might be retired members ready to turn an honest dollar. How to make promises never intended to be kept and yet appear to be the soul of honor and frankness; how to kill time during a debate and yet be attending to duty; how to profit by parliamentary influence yet be unstained by bribery; these and other arts might be taught at the Kindergarten for Juvenile M. P.'s.

Mr. Roosevelt has announced his intention to retire at the close of his incoming term. We have not yet had a similar declaration from Premier Laurier. Are good men very scarce in Canada?

JUSTICE IN DISGUISE

Sensationalism thinly disguised in the form of public enlightenment is the term implacable extremists would doubtless consider applicable to the publication of Mrs. Maybrick's story. One excellent journal, the Saturday Evening Post, has however, braved public opinion and given to its readers Mrs. Maybrick's own story. The Post is to be commended for its enterprise which, while it may be of a sensational nature is nevertheless charitable. Mrs. Maybrick's story will be read with interest. Even though her narrative does not establish her innocence of the crime for which she served fifteen years imprisonment it reveals much which she undeservedly suffered and weakens any argument in favor of circumstantial evidence. The treatment accorded her immediately after the death of her husband is to say the least revolting. Scarcely less sensational than Mrs. Maybrick's narrative is the treatment accorded to the famous Goebel case by a writer in the last issue of Collier's Weekly. He clearly emphasizes the fact that the trials of Caleb Powers have been little short of travesties of justice. He observes—

 Aside from any question of Powers' guilt or innocence, he was convicted each time before a partisan judge and by a partisan jury obtained by methods which the court appeals criticized in reversing the case. In the first trial Judge Cantrill practically aided in seeing that the jury should be made up of Goebel Democrats. ***

The heinousness of such methods to obtain justice must appeal to all fairminded persons as well as place Caleb Powers beyond the reach of the death for which he stands condemned.

The Bond government holds thirty seats in the Newfoundland Legislature and the Opposition only six. Another case of unavailable leadership material.

OPERA HOUSE NEEDED.

We feel that the public would be very grateful to the individual who would furnish Campbellton with an Opera House or suitable hall for public entertainment purposes. At present we are without such an institution and all the so-called good shows are giving us the go by.

ALL GOOD MEN.

Probably it won't make much difference to the people of the County of Bonaventure which of the three candidates are elected. They are all good men and doubtless good liberals too.

HOTELS, ETC.

The Secretary of the St. John Tourist Association—a woman by the way—declares that better steamers and hotels are required for the accommodation of St. John River tourists. "Tourists" indeed! Perhaps tramps would be a more select appellation. However let it go at tourists. They seldom stay longer than over night, "swap spots" in a bolsterous way at all the vantage points on the hotel verandahs and usually kick against everything from the size of tooth picks to the size of waiter tips, complain about everything except the sense of exhilaration supplied jointly by the landlord's bar and the bracing air. They are not half so desirable as the steady, reliable drummer, yet they except more and usually get much more for "mine host" is most gracious and generous with his "tourists". But the Secretary of the St. John Tourist Association is more than half right when she declares there should be improvement in our hotels and steamboat services. It is positively disgusting for one to be compelled to sleep on a hard bed in a zero atmosphere, to bathe the hands in ice water, to submit to the impudence of saucy waiters at all times and that of the free and easy fly in the summer time, to say nothing of the flashily dressed clerk etc. etc. All these obstacles will have to be overcome not only for the sake of the "tourist" traffic but also for the sake of the Provincial traffic.

The Sun will hardly beam on Premier Laurier in California any more than it did here.

WOULDN'T THIS SCARE THEM?

The following men are considered available for the Republican nomination in 1908. Eltha Root of New York; William H. Taft of Ohio; Leslie M. Shaw of Iowa; Sen. Fairbanks, Sen. Knox and Sen. Beveridge of Indiana.—A. P. Dispatch.

It is most assuredly a brilliant list to choose from. The Democratic party is really to be pitied.

Notwithstanding rumors of peace the butchering continues in the Far East. Japan is said to be sick of the long and costly war. Who wouldn't be?

The Christmas Delineator.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed at every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of Love Songs from the Wagner Operas, rendered into English by Richard de Gallienne and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the Composer's Series, relating the Romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the Lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some of the most interesting social life in an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmer Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum, and Orice MacGowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needlework and the Cookery pages are replete with the Christmas feast. In addition there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to a woman's interests within and without the home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter.

What has become of our Port Daniel correspondent. Is all his attention absorbed in the election excitement?

THE DUKE OF NORFOLK.

His Unassuming Manners Often Misled.

The Duke of Norfolk, the premier Duke of England, is noted for his unpretentious manners and characteristic kindnesses to those about him. A correspondent who has been staying near the Duke's Sussex home states that he recently heard many instances of these traits. When he arrives by himself at Arundel Railway Station from town the Duke rarely troubles his coachman to meet him with the carriage, but prefers to walk up to the castle. His unassuming manners often misled strangers. One day he was on one occasion he was passing through Arundel when a butcher's boy who had sustained a puncture to his bicycle demanded the Duke's assistance. "Hi! mister," the lad called, "give us a hand with this bicycle." Without pausing the Duke immediately went to the boy's assistance, and held the machine while the latter repaired the puncture.

At another time the Duke, the correspondent says, was driving to an appointment at Littlehampton, when he overtook an old woman laden with a bundle. Stopping his carriage, he invited her to ride with him. "Hi! mister," she called, "give us a hand with this bicycle." Without pausing the Duke immediately went to the boy's assistance, and held the machine while the latter repaired the puncture.

When townspeople went to their taps to draw water this morning to prepare for breakfast they were surprised and annoyed to find so water forthcoming. It is said that some people imagined that Jack Frost was getting in his work and accordingly applied hot cloths etc. There was a general skirmish for water buckets and pails and a rush to the nearest well or pump. The inconvenience did not last long, however, as water was turned on about nine o'clock. A break in the main was the cause.

Last week Cameron Adams, Andrew Dolan, Wm. Park and John Robison were up before Charles Murray on a charge of drifting for salmon on the Restigouche. The information was laid by Fred Foley under the instructions of the Head Guardian of the Repatriation Association Mr. Max Mowat. An old fine imposed upon Cameron Adams for a previous offence was collected and another fine for the same amount was allowed to stand. Messrs Dobson, Firth and Robinson were fined $50.00 each and costs, which was allowed to stand. The costs in case amount to about $100. Mr. Mowat seems determined to put a stop to the poaching on the waters under his jurisdiction.

ARTIFICIAL PROPAGATION OF SALMON.

Work Carried on at the Most Successful Pond in the World.

From the latter part of May up to the middle of August salmon run in the St. John River, and are caught by fishermen in the weirs. The government buys the fish for $2 a piece and employs from six to ten men every season to convey the fish from the weirs to the railway pond in Carleton Place. These men have had years of experience and handle the fish with every care. The pond itself is naturally adapted for the retaining of fish, as it is connected with tide water, and fills up anew every twelve hours. After the number of salmon wanted by the department has been secured, the staff of employees are discharged, except two, who are kept at work to watch the pond, one by day and the other by night. The stripping of the salmon usually commences about the 23rd of October and continues for the 9th of November. The operation is now conducted by the local staff under the supervision of Mr. A. W. Mowat. The operators receive $3 a day while stripping the fish. There were placed in the pond this year 1,027 fish, and these were so well cared for that the loss was only four and a half per cent. Of this number 600 were females from which were taken 5,000,000 eggs, 1,000,000 going to Grand Falls hatchery, N. B.; 1,150,000 to Gaspe hatchery, Quebec; 950,000 to Bedford hatchery, N. S.; 1,000,000 to Margaree hatchery, Cape Breton; 1,000,000 to Newcastle hatchery, N. B.

After the fish were stripped they were taken from the pond down to the mouth of the harbor, where they were liberated. This year 800 of the fish were marked with a copper tag threeeighths by one-eighth of an inch in diameter and encircled with an inch thick, on which is the large letter C and the figures 04. The tag is attached to the salmon with silver wire. The fish were tagged with the idea of finding out whether they live to return again, and if they spawn every year. Some of the experts claim that they spawn every two years; others that they spawn every year. So five pound fish were specially marked, and if they are caught next year or two years from now it will prove how much a salmon increases in weight in a year. A dozen of the fish were put in the Mispel River.—Globe

The Prime Minister's Sister.

Miss Alice Balfour has arrived at Whittingehame. This lady, who, as most people know, is sister to Mr. Arthur Balfour, has a remarkable nature and personality. Her devotion to her brother has hardly been surpassed by that of Mrs. Gladstone for her husband; Miss Balfour brings brains, common sense, and a superb vitality to the service of the present Prime Minister. In common with many philosophers, Mr. Balfour is somewhat absent-minded, and his political duties leave him little leisure for the cares and concerns of domestic life. But Miss Balfour's eye is on everything. She sees that her brother is careful in matters of diet and rest; she manages the Whittingehame estates, engages and dismisses servants, and even chooses horses for riding and carriage work. And in matters of amusement she is a sympathetic companion, can golf, cycle, and has recently learnt to drive a motor-car. Miss Balfour has written a book, called "Twelve Hundred Miles in a Wagon," which gives a graphic account of her journeying in South Africa. In London she assists the Prime Minister to do the honors at his political parties in Downing street.—M. A. T., September 17.

AFFAIRS AT PORT ARTHUR

Graphic Account by a Canadian Correspondent in the beleaguered City

A correspondent of the Montreal Star at Nagasaki, cables under date of Nov. 8, an interesting account of a visit to Port Arthur now menaced by Japanese guns, whose fall is daily expected. He writes as follows—

"After having arrived, along with a companion at the lighthouse on the Liao Thian-shan promontory, close to Port Arthur, as narrated in a previous cable, the boat in which we had sailed from the Miaotao Islands was picked up by a small Russian torpedo boat attached to the battleship Peresviet and towed to that vessel which lies two miles outside of the harbour. The Peresviet is as badly battered by Japanese shells as the Osarvitch. Both ship and crew were in a filthy condition. From the Peresviet we were taken to Admiral Viren who was on board the Bayan outside of the Tiger's Head. The Bayan was also badly damaged and dirty. Admiral Viren asked news of the Baltic fleet and learning that it was still at Revel expressed his despair. From the Bayan we were taken to visit Rear-Admiral Lazarsky on board the flagship the Ostaashny, one of the smaller vessels in the fleet. None of the smaller vessels appeared to be seriously damaged and there were no vessels being repaired in the dry dock.

Admiral Lazarsky invited me to breakfast on board the Ostaashny. The interior of this vessel was in a disgusting filthy condition. The officers were charmingly hospitable.

On learning the news of the Baltic fleet, they openly declared themselves lost. Later on I was allowed to visit the other ships. All the vessels are moved to new anchorages every other night in order to avoid the occasional shells the Japanese are dropping in the harbour.

Among other vessels in the harbour is the big white red cross ship Amur which has on board more than 100 sailors wounded in Admiral Witthof's sortie.

"Altogether there are sixteen fighting ships in the harbour. None of these have been dismantled. The sailors are kept on board and only the small machine guns have been sent ashore. There is plenty of coal, but ammunition is scarce. The harbor entrance is swept by four searchlights, two of which are on the shore. An immense Russian ship has been sunk across the narrowest part of the entrance to the harbour. It is flanked at each end by two Japanese wrecks. Outside the obstructions is a boom which can be raised and lowered at pleasure. Many mines also succeeded in making the channel to the harbour narrow and tortuous.

Outside the boom are to be seen the remains of the other Japanese vessels which were sunk during the vain attempt to block the harbour. The Russians pointed to them with ridicule, as a witness of wasted effort. Two wrecked Russian torpedo boats also lie not far from the Japanese wrecks. They were sunk by accidental contact with mines. Six torpedo boats and eleven vessels of lighter craft are constantly sweeping the outside channel for mines, in the distance ten miles off can be seen the smoke of Admiral Togo's blockaders.

"The Japanese have been doing little bombardment of late. The Russian naval men hope that Togo will attack, otherwise when general Nogi's bombardment grows unbearable or the fortress is compelled to surrender, the ships will sortie some dark night and steam for Vladivostok.

"However, they still hope for the arrival of the Baltic fleet. No blockade runners have been able to make the harbour for a long time.

There has been no news from Vladivostok. Admiral Viren was under the impression that commander Watuschich, whom I interviewed at Taitau, was dead.

He also believed that Brink with the aid of the Novik had escaped. He expressed his distress and surprise at the loss of the two naval attaches who left Port Arthur.

Admiral Utkomah has not been court-martialed, but is under a cloud. In the naval prison, behind Golden Hill, there are thirty-three Japanese, among them two subalterns and Mr. Misonura, the Tokio Asahi's correspondent, who was detached from a despatch boat and is acting as prison interpreter.

"From the flagship I was escorted to the harbour master, who was engaged in a bomb-proof cellar under the Admiralty building, equipped with telephone, telegraph and electric mine connections. He telegraphed to General Stoessel, who sent Adjutant Kelsinko with a private carriage to drive us from the Chinese city to the port city.

A steep hill in front of General Stoessel's house was ascended. The General's residence is next door to Gornoff's and to that of Prince Utkomah. All along the road to the General's residence the ravages of the incessant bombardment. The Japanese guns fire at ten minutes intervals; the Russians reply every half hour. One battery of ten guns is placed a few rods from the General's house. Another battery crowns the hill across the public square. The Japanese shells frequently explode just before this battery. Ninety per cent. of the Japanese shells do no damage.

"Most of the killed are coolies, the weekly average being thirty. The city is remarkably tranquil. "Two restaurants are running, meals cost two rubles ($1). There is no fresh food except bread, fish. Ten horses are slaughtered daily. One hundred horses are all that remained when I left. There is plenty of canned meat and large supplies of rice, wheat and bean cake. There is no lack of vodka. A single egg cost thirty kopeks (15 cents).

"Since the Japanese captured the reserve there is nothing to be had but cistern water. Typhoid is prevalent. Nobody apparently minds the bombardment. Children play in the streets. Coolies work under guard. Carriages and carts are driven about. I observed an officer teaching a lady to ride a bicycle, while the bombs coursed overhead.

"I was presented to Gen Stoessel and to his staff in the parlour. Col. Reitz, Chief of staff, speaks French but Stoessel speaks only Russian. Presenting a letter of introduction from Count Cassini, I was accorded a very courteous reception.

"General Stoessel is a man of winning personality, big, simple, modest, frank, democratic. With no bluster, no ostentation, no medals, no epaulettes.

"General Stoessel said that he is constantly asking for official news from the Consul Che Foo, but that none is forthcoming. He complained bitterly at the inactivity of the Che Foo Consul, and said that the Marconi communication promised between that port and the fortress had proved a miserable failure. He also said that he believed that the consul was purposely withholding discouraging Russian despatches as there had been no outside news for more than five weeks. The general learned from me for the first time of Kuropatkin's defection. He was not inclined to credit the story until convinced by some Che Foo papers I showed him. "It perfectly astounded him to know that Kuropatkin is at Mukden. He believed him to be advancing southward. Turning to Zeitz the General said in Russian, 'There is no help then but to die or go to the Matsuhama prison. He asked that Kuropatkin's reverses be concealed from the Garrison which still believes that Kuropatkin is attacking General Nogi's rear. Stoessel praises the bravery and kindness of the Japanese, who take great care of the Russian wounded. He feels proud of fighting such a foe."

PROVINCIAL OFFICIALS WELL PLEASED.

Hon. C. H. Labllois and L. P. Farris Visited Provincial Hospital.

St. John, Nov. 11.—Hon. C. H. Labllois and Hon. L. P. Farris, members of the committee to inspect the Provincial Hospital for the cure of Nervous diseases, visited that institution Wednesday. Hon. Mr. Labllois was accompanied by a reporter, said to be the assistant superintendent, the assistant superintendent, and the assistant superintendent. They examined all the wards and looked at the improvements that are being made in the annex, and the extensive improvements in connection with the barns for the care of patients.

"We found everything in a very satisfactory condition. The degree of further improvements will be made to make the institution one of the best on the continent. Special attention will be given to the grounds to make everything as pleasant as possible for the patients.

"After visiting the asylum we paid an inspection trip to the Deaf and Dumb institution, and made a thorough inspection of it. At the present time the inmates number 31—16 boys and 15 girls. We found that everything was being done for them and that the whole institution is in perfect condition in our location. In Canada could be better suited for a place of this kind, than the location at Carleton. It is healthy and the view and surroundings make it very pleasant for the inmates."

AT PORT ARTHUR.

An Armistice Asked for by
Gen. Stoessel.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Reported Death of Japanese
General Kuroki on October 4th.

Tokio, Nov. 10, 10.45 a. m.—It is reported that General Stoessel, commanding at Port Arthur, has asked the Japanese for an armistice the purpose of which is not stated. A confirmation of the reports is unobtainable. It is hoped here that General Stoessel will capitulate before the city proper is taken. The Japanese soldiers are angry and inflamed on account of the alleged abuse of their women by the Russians. They believe they will be murdered if captured. Under these conditions it will possibly be difficult to avoid a massacre when the troops meet in the final combat.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Che Foo, Nov. 10, Noon.—Eise Mountain, according to Chinese, 120 of whom arrived here to-day from Port Arthur, is proving a costly obstacle to the Japanese. On the mornings of Nov 5th and 6th fierce assaults on the position, were made by the Japanese, who were repulsed. During the second assault a shell soaring over the outer hills from Palichuang, dropped on Rite mountain and demolished a land mine controlling the station and exploded other mines. The Russians were holding the trenches on the boundary of the mined section. Six or seven hundred were killed. The Japanese not having reached the place, were unhurt.

Eise Mountain owns the best part of its strength to the peculiar topography of the surrounding country, which prevents a direct artillery fire and does not enable the Japanese to advance trenches with the success evident elsewhere. The Japanese advanced on it in both instances from behind distant hills with the least force the ground would allow, but in the long distances which they were compelled to traverse, in the face of machine guns, their ranks were melted. Both times the Japanese broke the wire entanglements in places. One soldier with a leg torn off was seen trying to bite the wires.

RESCUED SOLDIERS.

New York, Nov. 10.—A London despatch to the Times quotes the London Times Russian correspondent, as saying that the discipline to join the colors for Manchuria recently noticeable in South Russia, is becoming general throughout the country. Competent opinion puts the number of reservists who so far have escaped at least 20,000. It has been shrewdly suspected that in spite of Russia's overwhelming strength on paper, she has already been sadly put to it to equip even 250,000 trained soldiers from her European countries for service in Manchuria. Even military men admit that two more European corps will exhaust the Russian stock of effectively trained and properly equipped men.

Moscow, Nov. 13.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well known Russian war correspondent of the Associated Press, telegraphing from Mukden under to-day's date,

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—MRS. R. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

A Severe Case of Womb Trouble Cured in Philadelphia.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been cured of severe female troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was nearly ready to give up, but seeing your advertisement I purchased one bottle of your medicine, and it did me so much good that I purchased another, and the result was so satisfactory that I bought six more bottles, and am now feeling like a new woman. I shall never be without it. I hope that my testimonial will convince women that your Vegetable Compound is the greatest medicine in the world for falling of the womb or any other female complaints."—MRS. MAY COOP, 2600 Birch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

THE reports of the death of General Kuroki are confirmed.

According to his version the splinter of a shell struck General Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died Oct. 4th at Liao Yang, and his body was sent to Japan.

A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the Mikado, Sisonai, literally "little third prince," has been appointed to succeed General Kuroki, but the actual command of the army has been entrusted to General Nodsu, who is reviewing operations.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Dear Sirs,—A few days ago I was taken with a severe pain and the contraction of the cords of my leg, and had to be taken home in a rig. I could not sleep for pain, and was unable to put my foot to the foot. A friend told me of your MINARD'S LINIMENT, and one hour from the first application, I was able to walk, and the pain entirely disappeared.

You can use my name as freely as you like, as I consider it the best remedy I have ever used.
