CHOSEN FRIENDS

Meeting of the Grand Council-The Past Year Extremely Prosperous

Toronto, March 28.-The twelfth annual session of the Grand Council of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends convened today in Assembly Hall, Confederation Life Building. The officers state that the past year has been a most prosperous one, notwithstanding the keen competition existing in fraternal circles. The society now ranks in third place as regards membership. The year 1898 was the first trial of the new rates. The opinion of some was that they would retard the growth of the society. The opposite has been the result, as a substantial increase has not only been made in membership, but in the reserve fund. The system of deputy organizers, in-augurated this year, and being continued this year, has proved a great success. Up to the present time nearly 1,000 approved applications have been taken in.

The officers' reports for the year will be presented at the morning session. The grand recorder, W. F. Montague (Hamilton), submits a comprehensive report, from which the following synopsis of the standing of the order at 16,152, made up of 4,353 females and 11,-799 males. The total amount of insurance carried is $19,233,250. The average per member is $1,190 07; average age of new members, 31.8; average age of whole membership, 38.8. The total amount collected in the relief fund department for the year was $146,659 78, to which must be added $4,807 15 received for interest in government stock and bank deposits, making a grand total $151,466 93. From this amount $118,000 was paid in death claims, and $7,000 in disability claims, with $1,470 67 transferred to the indemnity fund, leaving a total balance on hand in the reserve fund of $164,230 53. There was 98 deaths during the year, as compared with 85 during 1857 making the ratio amount paid out since organization in death and disabality claims has been $562.892 40. In the sick benefit department there was 1,322 members in good standing at the close of the year, from whom was collected $6,545 14 in assessments. This, added to the balance of last year of $1,704 86, and interest of $72 70, makes a grand total of $8,322 70. From the this sum was paid $4,822 10 for 304

of deaths per thousand, 6.06. The total sick claims, and $350 for funeral benefit claims, with a refund of assessments of $5 52, leaving a balance on hand of $3.145 08. The general fund is also in a healthy condition, and shows a balance to the credit of the fund of $4,976 87. Fortyfour councils were organized during the year, and three reorganized, making a total of 47 for the year. Some 40 amendments are on the slate for consideration, among them one dealing with biennial sessions. There is also one dealing with district representation, which no doubt will receive considerable attention. A draft of & new ritual will also be submitted, and other matters of importance affecting the internal management.

A Denial From Dr. Jim-Stockholm Has the Most Complete Telephone System in the World.

BURNED BY "X" RAYS.

Some time ago, in Paris, a doctor, who was treating Mme. Mochert, a young woman, for an affection of the thigh joint, attempted to photograph the seat of the trouble with the Roentgen rays. Mme. Mochert posed three times. The third exposure lasted an hour, and it was subsequently noticed that stripes appeared on the skin, which was apparently burned. This burn resulted in a wound that caused long illness, and Mme. Mochert sued the doctor for 5,000 francs damages. The case was heard yesterday. One of the witnesses, Dr. Bardet, secretary of the Societie Therapeutique, testified that burning would result in rare instances from the use of the Roentgen rays. Everything depended on the patient's physical condition. He maintained that if doctors were made responsible for such accidents they would be obliged to renounce the use of the rays. The court reserved decision. GREAT TELEPHONE SYSTEM. The most complete telephone system in the world has just been completed in Stockholm. This system is not in the hands of a syndicate or a trust, but the close of 1898 is taken. During the under the immediate control of the year 2,143 approved applications were government. There is hardly a resiyear 2,143 approved applications were government. There is hardly a resireceived, making the total membership dence in Stockholm and the neighboring towns not connected with central offices. The telephone tax is levied in the same manner as the water tax is levied in the cities, and amount to only $5 a year. In the large hotels there is a 'phone in every room, connected with a sub-central in the hotel office. AUTOMATIC COUPLINGS. In the House of Commons the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. C. T. Ritchie, said her Majesty's Government did not intend to proceed during the present session of parliament with the automatic couplings bill, which provides for the compulsory use of automatic couplings on all railroads after a period of five years from the passage of the measure.

THE TAX ON TOBACCO.

The tobacco manufacturers are evidently convinced that the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, intends to meet the deficit by increasing the duty on tobacco. Liverpool, the center of the trade, last week's delivery of unmanufactured to-bacco from bond totaled 1,391,807 pounds, this transaction constituting a

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

The Debate Still Whirling-A Petition From Middlesex - The Criminal Law.

Ottawa, March 28 .- Again the debate on the address dragged through the weary hours of yesterday's sitting of the house. Mr. Davis, of Saskatchewan, who resumed the debate made a most vigorous reply to Mr. Davin. Messrs. Roche and Sproule followed on the opposition side. Mr. McClure, Colchester, N. S., devoted the greater portion of his speech to the discussion of the prohibition question, during which he assured the opposition that though he was a prohibitionist he was not going to assist the Conservative party, which had always opposed prohibition, to make capital against the government until convinced that the opposition would advance the cause of prohibition. He further intimated that the government had not made any promises to the prohibitionists, and had not, therefore, broken any pledges. The other speakers were Messrs. Chauvin and Marcotte of the opposition, who spoke in French, and Mr. Carroll on the government side.

Among the petitions which were presented was one from the county of Middlesex, asking that the pay of milltiamen during the period of annual training be increased by 25 cents per day. The speaker ruled the petition out of order, as it involved an expenditure of public money.

Mr. Louis Joseph Demers, the newly-elected member for Levis, was introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Charles Kirkpatrick, and took his seat firing line. He was cautioned as to

Mr. John Charlton in the afternoon introduced his bill to amend the criminal code of 1894. This is the bill which the honorable member from North Norfolk has introduced for several ses-

"Manila, March 27.-Adjutant-General, Washington: McArthur holds Maliloa; severe fighting today and our casualties about forty. The insurgents have destroyed bridges, which impeded progress of train and artillery. They left nearly 100 dead on the field, and many prisoners and small arms were captured. The column will press on in the men wounded. Washington, March 28 .- The use of Chinese as litter bearers is said to be a device to save our own men for the more serious work. The Chinese carry a light bamboo litter, and being accustomed to the climate they can travel twice as far as an unacclimated carrier. The main point, however, is that the fighting force is kept intact. While the casualty list is a source of profound regret in army quarters, it is said to be comparatively low consider-duration of the action.

FROM THE FRONT. New York, March 28 .- A dispatch to the Herald from Manila, Tuesday, says: ed the insurgents at Bulacan. Three while Agent Long was hustled into the Americans were wounded. McArthur's division has crossed the Marilao River, and is advancing northward. The insurgents attacked the Americans last evening at Barilao, but were repulsed with severe loss. Our loss, 5 killed and 14 wounded." Later, Garcia, a native general, came down from Dagupan by train with 1,000 riflemen and 4,000 bolomen, and took positions at Marilao. A river was between the American and the insurgent forces. The South Dakota volunteers and the Third Artillery, acting as infantry, were thrown forward. The South Dakotas charged brilliantly across an open space on the east of the railway to the edge of some woods. They lost ten killed and eleven wounded, including three Heutenants. The Third Artillery on the right of the railroad charged, and lost nine men wounded, two mortally. the left, the insurgents in a trench east of the river offered a stubborn resistance. Lieut. Critchlow, with two guns of the Utah battery, and Lieut. Davis, with a navy Colt gun, forced 30 insurgents in a long trench on the opposite side of the river to surrender at the close quarters of a hundred yards. The rest of the insurgents got out with severe loss. Ninety dead insurgents were counted. A dispatch from Washington says: As a result of his gallantry and judicious management of the campaign against the insurgents, the war department has practically determined to appoint Arthur McArthur, now a major-general of volunteers, and a lieutenant-colonel in the regular army, to be a brigadier-general in the regular service; also Major-General Anderson, now on duty with General Otis, should be appointed a brigadler-general in the regular service. OFFICIAL DISPATCHES.

Washingtan, March 28 .- The following dispatch has just been received from General Otis: "Manila, March 28. -General McArthur had severe fighting yesterday afternoon beyond Marilao, brilliantly charged by South Dakota, led by Frost, against Spain's troops of Aguinaldo, brought from Malolos. Repulsed enemy with slaughter. Adjutant Lien and Lieuts. Adams and Morrison and four enlisted men of that regiment killed. Lieut. McClelland and 22 enlisted men wounded. Loss yesterday mostly confined to this regiment. Partial destruction of railroads, which is being rapidly repaired, impedes progress. Supply railway trains have now reached Marilao and McArthur is pushing on. Our small gunboats are in Bulacan River, where great execution was done yesterday. They will relieve pressure on McArthur's front materially. Troops in excellent condition and spirits. ELECTION STOPPED

Dominion Police Roughly Handled by Indians-Dissatisfied With the Law. Cornwall, Ont., March 28.-There was a wild time on the Indian reservation of St. Regis yesterday, when the red-skins, taking the law into their own hands, prevented the election of chiefs as provided under the Indian act. This is the third time they have succeeded in preventing the enforcement of the act. They object to the election of chiefs every three years, and say that if the old council of twelve chiefs elected for life is to be done away with they would prefer a council of white men rather than comply with the law. Last August, on the date set for the election, they took possession of the school and made a demonstration, which prevented it. Another election was set for yesterday, and to enforce the law, the Indian agent, George Long, asked the assistance of the Dominion

Two Feet of Solid Ice From Thunder Bay Station to Alpena.

Keeper John D. Persons, of the Thunder Bay Island station, writes as follows, under date of March 25: People are asking me over the line when I think navigation will open. I am a little mixed on that subject just at present myself. A year ago the 21st of March I went to Alpena in a sailboat; on the 24th the light on this island was lighted, and on the same day the Pilgrim arrived in Alpena. To-day you could drive a team from the station door to Alpena over two feet of solid ice, and on the outside of the island it is shoved up fifteen to twenty feet high, and the snow is drifted from six to eight feet deep. NO MARRIAGE

The Novel Decision of a New Jersey

Judge. Trenton, N. J., March 28.-Chancellor McGill yesterday afternoon filed a decree annulling the marriage of Rachel F. Pelee, of Jersey City, and George F. Fisher, on the ground that there was no actual marriage ceremony. Inis decision is considered a novel one in point of law. Two years ago Fisher and Miss Peele were both students at the University of Michigan. They became engaged to be married. According to Miss Peele's testimony, they went through a marriage ceremony at Toledo to bind the engagement, but continued to maintain to-wards each other the relations of single persons. Fisher went to Mexico, where he still is. Recently he wrote home that he was not doing well, and that he felt that he should release Miss Peele from her engagement. On the strength of this she instituted proceedings for the annulment of the Toledo

Weather Changes

Peculiarly weakening to the human system are sudden changes of weather. Taking cold is as dangerous as taking a fever. Colds impair the vitality and if allowed to run result in general and permanent debility. Every cough brings on a slight congestion of the lungs and a sufficient number of such congestions injure the structure. This is the invitation which consumption is watching for. The germs which floatin the air find ready lodgment in the inflamed air passages and begin their work of destruction. Under proper treatment and with proper care for the general health the tubercular bacilli may be thrown off and the affected parts healed like any ordinary wound. The unfailing specific for incipient consumption is Shiloh's Consumption Cure, a standard remedy which has been used in successful professional practice for nearly half a century. The following testimonial from Mrs. C. H. WEST, of Farina, Ill., is one of many:

"S. C. Wells Co., LeRoy, N. Y. Gentle-men: I have used Shiloh's Consumption Cure in my family constantly for the past thirteen years. Have used it for whooping cough, croup and colds with perfect satisfaction. My brother-in-law, who was pronounced to have consumption, was completely cured by using it, and is a strong well man to-day. We are never without it; it is our standard remedy." Shiloh's Consumption Cure is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that the purchase money will be refunded in case of failure. 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle in the United States and

Monday Afternoon.

When the court resumed at 2:25 Detective Nickle again took the stand and Mr. McPhillips continued his cross-examination. Witness was questioned about the black hat found on the night of June 24. Witness said he identified it by a hole which he and the chief of police had punched in it. Counsel asked witness if he knew Zella Harkins, Nellie Burnham and Eva Love, and whether or not he knew that there had been within the last few days any colored people in custody. Counsel said he had been given to understand that certain witnesses came from Texas and had been taken into custody by the

Mr. Lount objected and submitted that the statement was very unfair. Such a suggestion should not have been made without the best foundaand in this instance there was no foundation.

The judge expressed the opinion that the statement was unfair and improper without foundation.

A series of questions was put to Detective Nickle as to whether or not he had seen any colored people around the city, or a man about 28 and a woman of 30 being around the courthouse on Monday morning. Witness said he knew nothing of any colored people having been arrested within the last few days, and he had never heard about any witness for Brown having left Texas and arrived in the city. Witness when questioned as to how, when and where he first saw the prisoner said he accompanied Marshal Dilley from North Yakima to Victoria, B. C., where he arrested the prisoner on the charge of murdering P. C. Toohey. This led to some questions by prisoner's counsel as to the charge upon which his client had been arrested in North Yakima. Witness did not know whether or not the prisoner was arrested by Marshall Dilley on the charge of murder, but had heard from some source that Brown

His lordship said he had nothing to do with that and would hear nothing of the kind. He was trying the prisoner upon the indictment found against him and nothing else. If the prisoner had been smuggled over into this court, his lordship had nothing to Witness, continuing, said he did not tell Brown he was wanted for murder until they arrived in British Columbia. Witness was then taken back to the scene of the shooting. He was positive all the buttons were on the late constable's tunic when he went on duty. The coat minus the second button was the same now as when the body was found. He was positive the revolver Toohey carried had not been used nor the trigger moved, because the hammer was in the same place now as it was when found. If the trigger had been pressed, it would have been at once evident that some effort had been used, because the hammer would have been the policeman's body, witness said it carry their revolver pouch unbuttoned. If Toohey had been carrying his pouch unbuttoned, the weapon would have fallen out when he fell.

deposed that he got to the scene of the murder after the body of the policeman had been moved. with certainty regarding the black hat produced as being the one found at the scene of the murder; he knew it by a private mark he had made. Mr. McPhillips asked the chief if he were on the scene that night and then allowed the prisoner to get 3,000 or 4,000 miles away before being arrested. Mr. McPhillips started to say something about the chief sitting in the office and doing nothing, but the judge told him he must refrain from such statements. Some correspondence which passed between the chief and Constable Smith, of Taylor, Texas, and Sheriff Gamble, of Williamson county, was read. Sheriff Gamble, in a letter to the chief, identified the hat found at the scene of the murder as Brown's hat. The chief explained that Sheriff Gamble was after-wards shot while in a hotel. A letter from Constable Smith, said the sheriff had ben shot while playing dominos in a saloon, and that there was no clue to the murderer. Chief Williams had never heard of Gamble having shot at Brown at McGregor. The date of the descriptive circular and the approximate number sent out were given. He knew nothing of any colored strangers having been in the city.

On the night of June 24, Dr. Seaborn left his house on Dundas street at 10 minutes to 10. When he arrived at the scene of the shooting, the body had not been moved. It was lying face down, as though it had fallen first on the knees and then headforemost. The shot was fired in close proximity, as the powder had scorched the tunic. It entered at the top of the ninth rib and passed through the body, downward, and a little backward to the right side. The course was just below the apex of the heart. Death was due to a bullet wound. From the position of the wound he would say it was fired in front and a little to the east. From the locality of the bullet wound he would say both men were standing.

Cross-examined—Witness said the Cross-examined-Witness said men might have been five or six feet apart when the shots were fired. He did not know that when a man was shot he necessarily fell face downward. It would depend on circumstances. He had examined the prisoner recently, and on the lower portion of the back he had found a scar which looked very like a recent bullet wound, one from six months to two years old. He would not say the wound was a serious one—it was simple, and one that did not necessarily require the attention of a medical man.

To Mr. Lount, witness said the course a bullet took through the body was not a bullet took through the body was no indication of the direction from which the shot came. The doctor could not positively say that the scar on the prisoner was a bullet wound. If it were made by a bullet while a man was running, it might make him stop, but it could hardly make him run faster. Dr. McLaren corroborated the evi-dence of Dr. Seaborn, and the defense asked no questions. Dr. J. R. Flock, coroner, swore to the notes taken at the inquest. He pro-duced the bullet taken from the body of the dead policeman. The ball regunsmith, gave some expert evidence regarding bullets. The one taken from the body of P. C. Toohey was of 44-calber. The ball which struck the watch was of the same caliber. He

P. C. CAMPBELL FOUND TRACKS. Campbell, ex-policeman, sworn, told of being at the scene of the shooting. He was one of those who went to search the northeastern portion of the city. He struck the C. P. R. track at Quebec street, and continued east, a little east of Quebec street, and came across the tracks of the peg-leg and a big foot. The peg marks were on the left side, and they continued along the switch to the long grass, where the trail was lost sight of. After that he went home, as it was useless to follow on aimlessly in the darkness without a weapon. Cross-examined, witness was asked why, as a guardian of the law he did not summon the whole force, and follow on the track, but he explained that at the time the whole force was looking for the peg-leg, because it was the general impression that the man who had assaulted Ross shot Toohey.

Mr. Fred Henry, architect, was recalled. He had made some measurements regarding the distances along Ontario street to the place of the tragedy. Presuming that a man took two steps per second, covering an average distance of 2 feet 6 inches each time, it would take about four minutes to go from Dufferin avenue to Elias street. Cross-examination did not alter witness' statements.

CONSTABLES CALLED.

Acting Detective Robert Egelton and P. C. Harry Greene were both called to prove dates and time of having visited the various witnesses in the neighborhood of Strathroy.

WM. PRINCE,

Park, saw P. C. Greene early on June 25, and the policeman had told him about the murder. About 8:30 in the evening witness saw a peg-legged man coming along the track to his house. The tramp had his left leg off. He wore a dark gray suit of clothes, had no hat, and was of very dark complexion. The man came up, sat on his doorstep, and Mrs. Prince gave him some bread and meat. Witness positively identified the prisoner as the man who came to his place. Mr. Prince remarked to the tramp, "that it was a wonder he wasn't arrested, as he looked like the person who shot the policeman in London." The prisoner had replied that the police in London had told him he looked like the man who shot the policeman, and advised him to skip or he would be arrested. The prisoner said he lost his hat coming in on the train Friday night, and asked for a hat, but Mr.
Prince had not one to give away. After satisfying himself, the prisoner thanked them and went away. In cross-examination, Mr.McPhillips wanted to know why witness had not informed the police that such a man had been at his place. Mr. Prince said he started to come to London, but met a friend on the road, who said that the bulletin boards announced the pegleg's capture in an old barn near the asylum. Witness did not grab him and hold him, because he was not built that way. The tramp was mild-mannered, and did not act as though he was fleeback and the barrel revolved, to bring ing from pursuit. Witness, when pressthe hammer in front of the cartridge. ed, said there was not the remotest Accounting for the revolver being under possibility of his being mistaken. The reason he remembered which side the was customary for the policemen to peg-leg was on was because the prisoner sat facing north, and his peg-leg was to the west. At the time Brown had about a week's growth of beard.

Mrs. Prince was called and corrobo ated her husband's statements in toto. The defense asked no questions. MARGARET McLELLAN.

of lot 18, con. 8, Caradoc, first heard of the murder of P. C. Toohey on Monday from her brother-in-law. On Sunday, June 26, a partly colored man, with a peg on the left leg, without a hat, wearing a dark blue coat (almost black), came to her place, passing through an orchard, into which he emerged from the woods beyond. The tramp came to her door about 2 o'clock and asked her for food. She gave it to him, and while he was eating it sat near the door. The tramp said he had lost his hat on the train, and had lost his leg by horses running away with him. To the best of her judgment the prisoner was the man. He asked for a hat, and Mr. McLellan got up off the lounge and gave him a black stiff hat. The tramp went away in the direction of Hugh Turner's, who lives a short

Cross-examined-Witness did not pay much attention to him. She knew it was the left leg, but could not speak with unhesitating certainty that the prisoner was the man.

HUGH TURNER, a neighbor of the previous witness, heard of Toohey's murder on Saturday night, and on Sunday a peg-legged mulatto tramp called at his place about 2 o'clock. He wore a black stiff hat, and the prisoner was the man to the best of witness' judgment.

MARY PAYNE,

of Albert street, on the outlying portion of Strathroy, deposed that on Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., she saw a mulatto with a peg-leg coming from Mr. Bennett's to her place. She saw him for about ten minutes. He sat outside her front door and ate the lunch. His left leg was a peg, his clothes dark, his eyes "black," and a big, round, fleshy face. Asked about the prisoner's identity, Mrs. Payne said: "Oh, yes; he looks familiar. To the best of my judgment he is the man." Mr. Payne, who is an invalid, got up and asked the tramp if he had come from London, and the tramp re-

ARTHUR BENNETT, of Strathroy, said about 7:30 or 8 o'clock on the evening of June 26 had o'clock on the evening of June 26 had seen a man at his place, who greatly resembled the prisoner. He crossed over to Mrs. Payne's. Witness thought prisoner was the man, but was not positive. The tramp had a peg on the left leg, and looked like a colored man. No questions by the defense.

who lives near Strathroy, was next called. On Sunday night, June 26, while in company with Mr. Bishop, the hotel-keeper, had seen a peg-legged tramp on Nicholson's sideroad, north of Bennett's place, going towards the G.
T. R. tracks, about 7:20. The tramp passed within 40 feet of the witness, going down the track, when the peg-leg turned round and looked toward witness, then went over and crawled through the barb-wire fence, into a field of long rye, which bordered on a wood. Mr. Newton watched, while Mr. Bishop went to inform Chief Dodds. When Chief Dodds and Bishop got back, the three searched the woods and the field, but the peg-legged man could not be found. Witness said the tramp was a half-negro, with the peg on the left leg. The prisoner was the man to the best of his judgment.

The defense asked no questions. JOHNSTON COWAN, of lot 24, con. 6, Warwick, on Monday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, was plowing in a field near his home. He saw a peg-leg man, half-negro, with the peg on the left side, come up the lane from the bush near his place. The tramp came within three rods of him, as the tramp was going in the direction of the house to get a drink. When the tramp saw witness he crossed over another fence, going along the line fence of the lane, and making two fences between witness and himself. As the tramp passed witness saw him take a large nickel-plated revolver from his hip pocket, fix it, and then place it in his coat pocket. The tramp was half-negro, dressed in dark clothes, and wore a hat much too large for him. It was what witness would call a Fedora hat, with a stiff rim. The man's hair was black and curly, and he had about two weeks' growth of beard on his face. He positively identified the prisoner as the man whom he had seen crossing the fields with the revolver. In the cross-examination Mr. Cowan said there was no possibility of his being mistaken, and ne would say the prisoner was the man, without any reservation or hesitation whatever, The court rose at 6:30.

Tuesday Morning.

MALCOLM CAMPBELL. It was 9:25 when the court resumed. Malcolm Campbell, of lot 22, con. 9, Brooke, was the first witness called. On June 27, some constables came to his place, and shortly afterward, he heard of the death of Toohey. About 7:30 in the evening he saw a peg-leg tramp coming from the direction of Johnston Cowan's, to his house. The tramp went to the front first, but he turned and went round to the summer kitchen. There were two doors, one looking north and the other south. The tramp knocked at the door looking towards the road. Witness went to the door, and the tramp asked for something to eat. Mary Campbell pre-pared some food, and the man took a chair and placed it where he wished to sit. The tramp told witness he had came from Wyoming, and was going to Hamilton. Witness said he was going out of his way, and the tramp replied that he had just strayed down The prisoner in the dock that way. prisoner was eating was the man who called. His left leg was off, and he wore a stiff-rimmed hat, dented in at the top. While the came from the road to his north door, and asked witness if he had seen a peg-leg tramp going along that way that he had shot a policeman in London. Gillies called to the constables on the road, and the prisoner, when he heard this started out the south door, and went toward the east, in the direction of Napier. About four rods from the house was a fence, over which the prisoner climbed, and as he did so, he flourished a large nickleplated revolver. Witness explained that the constables from the road—Philip Fuller, John Shaw, and Gillies—were only a short distance behind the prisoner, and had a conversation with him. The prisoner went east over another fence. Fuller went in the direction of Mr. Dempsey's house for a gun. Witness heard three shots after the constables had got the gun. Fuller and Shaw followed the prisoner toward the bush, where witness saw the prisoner sitting on a log, and the con-stables talking with him. Witness said the prisoner rolled over the fence like a bird. When the tramp was at the witnesses' place, witness noticed the upper front teeth were wide apart—the same as the prisoner's—and witness was positive the prisoner was the man. Cross-examined by Mr. McPhillips-How many inches were the teeth apart? Q .- How many inches are there in a man's mouth altogether? Q.-What then-feet? Witness (smiling)-Oh, no, I noticed there was some space between them.

Continuing, witness said the police had told him nothing, and that he had told the police all he knew about the matter. When the prisoner called he wore a light shirt and dark clothes. The pants, witness thought, were different from the coat. There was some red in them, he thought. He would not swear to the peg-leg, because a peg-leg could be made any time. When witness first saw the prisoner he was clean-shaven. Witness confirmed the statements he had made at the preliminary investigation. Referring to the visit of the constables to his house, witness said when Gillies had heard of the peg-leg being there, he called to the other constables loud enough to be heard for some distance. Gillies came to his place for a shotgun, and he supposed the constable wanted it to shoot at the peg-leg. Witness would have given Gillies his gun had it been in repair. Witness heard the three shots, but could not say whether or not one of them was a revolver shot. Witness could not speak with certainty about the man's clothes, although the tramp was in his house about 20 minutes; had not heard what passed between the prisoner and the constables at the time the former was (Continued on Page 6.)

As early as the thirteenth century some drama of the life of Christ was performed there, but it became an established institution of the place a little over 250 years ago. At that time a plague was raging in Bavaria. In Ober-Ammergau nearly 200 people perished. Accordingly the terrified survivors made a vow that if their village was spared all further ravages of the disease, they would, after ten years, portray in a dramatic form, for the instruction of mankind, the touching story of the gread Redeemer's life and suffering.

Big Petition From the Transvaal to Queen Victoria.

Dowager Empress of China Has Issued an Order to Resist Invasion-Davitt Assaulted.

London, March 28 .- The Johannesburg correspondent of the Times says: A petition to Queen Victoria, signed by 21,000 British subjects in the Transvaal, has been handed to the British agent at Pretoria, praying her majesty to secure reform of the abuses from which the Uitlanders are suffering, and complaining that their position is in-

According to a dispatch from Shang-hai to the Daily Mail, it is reported there that a Mohammedan rebellion has broken out in the Province of Kan Su, the most northwestern province of China, between the Provinces of Shen See and Se Chuen on the one side, and Mongolia and the Desert of Gobie on the other.

London, March 28 .- The Cork correrespondent of the Daily News says: Mr. Davitt, Nationalist member of parliament for South Mayo, was stoned and several of his supporters were badly injured at a political meeting in Charleyville, county Cork, on Saturday. The rival supporters of candidates for the county councilorship joined in the melee with clubs and stones. Mr. Davitt spoke amid a perfect hail of stones, which finally broke up the meeting.

CUT HER THROAT

Suicide of an Elderly Woman at St. Marys.

St. Marys, Ont., March 28.-St. Marys was startled Sunday afternoon by the news that one of its citizens had committed suicide. Miss Margaret Anderson, an elderly lady, who lived in the west ward, and had the care of two of her brother's youngest children, sent the children to Sunday school as usual, telling them not to hurry home, but as the weather was fine to take a little walk after school.

When the children returned home, they were unable to get in. After try-ing for a while, they called some of the neighbors. Both doors were found to be locked, and the windows tightly closed. After some discussion it was re-solved to break in. An entrance was made in the rear of the house. Everything was perfectly still, but on entering a little bedroom off the parlor, Miss Anderson was found lying on the floor

"Had I only heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment sooner," is the familiar expression of thousands of persons who have been cured of salt rheum by its magical virtues. So many become discouraged after trying a few of the many remedies advertised that they cannot believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is all that the ber 1, Vallucus 2, Master Lee 3. Time, cured ones claim it to be—an absolute cure for Salt Rheum. Mr. Chas. F. McLean, Palmerston, Ont., says: "I suffered untold agony and misery for years with salt rheum" in my feet. I tried almost every remedy I could hear of. I was told by the best physicians I could not get more than temporary relief. I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. After one or two applications I received great relief, and when I had used only two boxes I was completely cured." The unique position occupied by Dr. Chase's Ointment places it outside the limit of comparison with other remedies. It stands alone as an absolute cure for itching skin diseases, and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine. At all dealers, of Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont.

afflicted with Costiveness and Paralysis of the Bowels.

One to three of Radway's Pill, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuations from the bowels. Persons who, for 20 years, have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinal difficulty. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons, from 70 to 80 years of age, who have been cured of this defect (who were compelled to resort to injections to empty their bowels) by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night, in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and a regular flow of urine. In cases where there is Irration of the Bladder, the Resolvent should be used alternately with the pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Boweis and Kidneys in a healthy condition, the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked, This great desideratum is within the reach of all by the use of Radway's Pills and Resolvent. Drastio Aloetic Pills, in persons of advanced age, hasten dissolution; irritates and wears out the absorbents, so that these vessels are incapable of assisting in the repair of the body's waste. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decayin, body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain.

Managing Director John Cameron and Editor,

London, Tuesday, March 28, 1899. Some Features of Canadian Trade. The bulky blue-book containing the Canadian trade and navigation returns for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898. has just been issued. It presents the usual mass of valuable information as to the development and course of Candian commerce. Canada's foreign trade last year was the greatest in her history. The aggregate was $304,475,736, as compared with $257,168,862 in 1897-and yet 1897 held the previous record. The exports last year were $164,152,683, as against $137,950,253 in 1897. Imports last year were $140,323,053, compared with $119,-218,609 in the preceding year.

It is interesting to note that since Confederation the excess of imports over exports has been $479,158,149,an average of $15,456,714 per year. From 1867 to 1894, inclusive, there was an excess of imports in every year save one. In 1895 the balance turned in favor of exports, the excess over imports last year rising to $23,829,630. The shallow economists who hold to the "favorable balance of trade" theory will find it Parliament to advise her as to the laws hard to explain how Canada has survived the excess of imports to the extent of over half a million dollars in the 25 years succeeding Confederation. Yet That is a ticklish question and it will there are politicians who argue that the increase of imports at the present time is a portent of disaster.

Our sales to Great Britain in 1898 were $104,998,818, and to the United hop can be. Whether they could serve States, $45,705,336. Our purchases from in this capacity will be a matter for Great Britain last year for home con- careful consideration if ever the prosumption were $32,500,917, and from the United States, $78,705,590. The exports tion of it by Lord Cecil and the support to Great Britain show an increase of of it by the Spectator shows the spirit $27,700,000 and the imports an increase of $3,000,000 as compared with 1897. Exports to the United States decreased $2,000,000, and imports increased $17,-000,000 in the same period.

The greater part of the increase in our purchases from the United States was in goods that enter duty free. The commodities on the free list are largely raw materials which are used or prohibition, that he would put them worked up by Canadian manufacturers, whose interest it is to buy in the cheapest market. Most of these articles are produced in the United States. Our free imports from that country last year were $40,641,630, and from Great Britain only $9,944,438. The on the following lines of action, viz., following table shows the proportion of Government control of the manufacture of the manuf dutiable and free goods imported into Canada from Great Britain and the United States in 1897 and 1898:

The opponents of the government point to the great increase of importations from the United States and unfairly argue that our tariff policy is the revenue problem in the transition specially designed to favor American stage of the reform, for both Dominion products, and that the preferential feature is of no advantage to the Mother Country. As the full British preference of 25 per cent did not go into effect until August 1, 1898, and as the trade and navigation returns are bar and confine the sale of liquors to only brought down to June 30 of the same year, the new tariff cannot be judged by the records from which we have quoted. But aside from that pay the heavy end of the liquor tax, the fact that Canada purchased free and would find this a powerful inducegoods so largely from the United States is a direct result and a striking would destroy the treating system, indication of the prosperity of this which is responsible for nine-tenths of country. Of the $40,000,000 worth of free importations from the United the following articles:

Raw cotton, hides, wood and crude rubber are the raw materials of of our great staple indus-The increased demand for shows that our cotton, furniture, leather and rubber manufacturers were busier than in the preceding year. Raw silk, coke and wire are likewise essentials of manufacture. Hard coal we must buy from the United States, or do without. The increased purchase of steel rails was, of course, due to the greater activity of railway construction. And surely no one can cavil because $2,324,457 worth of settlers' effects were among our imports from the United States last year. It is one of the most gratifying tokens that the exodus is over, and that population is flowing to and not from the Dominion. Our neighbors cannot send us too much of this class of imports. In addition, wool, leaf tobacco, coin and bullion, fruits and many kinds of drugs, are prominent on the free list, and come chiefly from the United States, because Great Britain cannot compete in these lines. Again, last year we imported from the United States over $12,000,000 worth of beans, barley, oats, peas, wheat, rye and corn, but nearly all of this left Canada for foreign countries. It proves to what an extent Canadian railways and canals are capturing American traffic.

In the face of these facts, it is folly from the United States, since we are A Striking Proposal.

In a recent speech Lord Hugh Cecil discussing the question of the bishops and the House of Lords, made the strange proposal that "spiritual peerages" might be given to the heads of the chief Nonconformist churches" and the Spectator congratulates him on being able, by the seriousness and good sense of his speech, to make this proposal appear "something more than a mere fad or an academic dream." This journal recognizes that the Nonconformists have some real principles; the great majority of them will be content with nothing short of disestabment, they will not tolerate state control in purely spiritual affairs, and they cannot conscientiously accept grants of state moneys for religious work; but it maintains that the creation of "spiritual peers" from among their number need not prejudice any war. of their principles. "But need the issue of writs by the Queen to certain of the realm be regarded as in any sort, of way a recognition of the Erastian principle of state control?" be interesting to know what men like the Rev. Dr. Fairbairn think of it. One thing is certain that Nonconformist posal is officially made, but the suggesof comprehensiveness and catholicity British public life.

Mr. Kettlewell's Alternative Suggestion.

Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, of Galt, says he is so much disgusted with the inaction of the Dominion Government re out of power if he could. He then proceeds to make the following suggestion as to what he considers the next pity. Newspapers on six days of the best thing, assuming that prohibition is at present impracticable. Mr. Kettlewell says:

"I therefore suggest a union of forces e and importation, and provincial option as to the sale of liquor. Governant ends. It would throw the distillers, sult in a better enforcement of the laws governing the distribution of liquor than could possibly obtain under pri-vate ownership. It would also solve and Provincial Governments. "Provincial option as to the sale of liquor would enable each Province to adopt as large a measure of prohibition as public sentiment would sustain. Probably all the Provinces except Quebec are ready to abolish the agencies established by the several governments, by which the element of private gain would be eliminated. "Now that the Government has given States, nearly one-half was made up of its answer, it is very important that the temperance men should agree on a definite aggressive policy, and conventions should be called with this end in view; but without waiting for conventions, members of parliament, by personal interview, and by letter, should be urged to promote advanced temperance legislation at the present session of the Domnion House."

Great Britain and France have agreed on a delimitation of territory in North Africa, one of the conditions of the compact being that France will maintain the open door in her spheres of influence. It is remarkable that the United States, Germany and France have all recogto deprecate the increase of imports nized the open door in their external possessions. If they would do the same buying for our own advantage, and at home, the greatest prevailing cause

The most valuable and the most authoritative contribution to the naval history of the recent Spanish-American war is probably to be found in the book, "With Sampson Through the War," just issued by W. The world throw the distincts in the world throw the distinct in the world throw the distincts in the world throw the distinct in the world throw the distinct in Think of a clergyman starting his sermon at half-past seven and not getting through till midnight! Think of the president of a savings and loan society beginning an address at 3:00 p. m. and not sitting down till 7:30 p.m.! Think of so long a speech in an ecclesiastical parliament! I contend there should be a time-limit to speeches in Parliament, and everywhere else, for that matter. That speech of my friend Mr. Davin must have cost the country thousands of dollars, if you reckon the large hourly cost of the session. I sometimes attend a gathering where, when time gets limited, the addresses are often cut down to five minutes, and even three minutes; and I declare that some of the brightest and most telling speeches I have ever heard have been those so condensed. Let there be a time limit everywhere, especially in Parliament. Movers and seconders might have a little more latitude than others; but Mr. Davin's four hour and a half performance suggests the necessity for some efficient remedy.

CONFLAGRATION

Fire Destroyed W. E. Saunders & Co."s Stock and Premises.

Stock in the Adjoining Building Damaged by Smoke and Water.

Total Loss Estimated at $18,000-Well Insured-Origin Unknown-Dangerous Work for the Firemen.

The wholesale drug establishment of W. E. Saunders & Co. was destroyed by fire last evening, and considerable damage was occasioned by smoke and water to the stock of Line & McDonald, cigar manufacturers, and of Lawson & Jones, printers, in the adjoining building. The total loss is estimated at $18,-

The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in the basement of the W. mounted the elevator shaft. Owing to the combustible nature of the contents of the building, the flames spread very rapidly. An employe of Lawson & Jones was leaving work at 6:30 p.m., and was the first to discover the fire next door. He at once notified the fire department, but the flames had already spread through the building. The contents of the basement burned fiercely, and the heavy streams of water were ineffective. Several small explosions occurred, and the fumes from the burning chemicals choked and blinded the firemen. For a time it seemed as though the whole block would be destroyed. But when Saunders' roof gave way, and the dense smoke rolled forth, it was possible to enter the building on the ground floor, and then, with five streams of water playing on the flames, the department did effective work.

The dread of unknown danger among the explosive chemicals did not deter the firemen from doing their best to conquer the flames. The fight lasted for five hours. The building to which the fire was confined was three-storied, and between it and the adjoining building was but ceipts, 2,874; market moderately active; a single brick wall, through which the steers firm; bulls and cows steady; all smoke came like a sieve. In this way the extent of about $1,000; and Lawson & Jones suffer a loss of about $200. Mr. Saunders, when seen last evening, said his stock was valued at $15,-000. He thought that four-fifths of it would be a total loss. The loss on the building is estimated at $3,000. It is

It is thought that the fire had its ceipts, 8,152; sheep firm; lambs, 15c to origin in a straw-bin in the cellar, where it may have been smoldering for $3 50 to $5; culls, $3 to $3 25; common to some time. Mr. Saunders was the last choice lambs, $5 50 to $6 50, mostly $5 85 to leave the building before the fire, to $6 35; culls, $5; clipped lambs, $5 to having done so at 6:15. The stock included physicians' supplies-surgical instruments, etc.—as well as a general wholesale drug stock. The company carries insurance as follows: On building, London, Liverpool and Globe, $1,000; Phoenix, $3,000; total, Parth $4,000 on building. On stock, Perth Mutual, $2,500; London Mutual, $2,500; Economical Mutual, $3,500; Atlas, $2-500; Queen's, $1,000; Phoenix, $500, and Equity, $1,500; total, $14,000 on stock.

The spectacular scene while the fire was at its height attracted a large crowd of people.

A PERJURED NATION

The Expression Wh ich CostRev. Mr Herron His Job.

Chicago, March 28.-Rev. George D. Herron, a minister with socialistic pro-clivities, was invited to fill the pulpit of the People's Church during Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas' visit to North Carolina for his health. Prof. Herron is a strong speaker, and his terse epigrams and vigorous comparisons, all aimed at wealth and social political conditions. have been applauded by Dr. Thomas' congregation. Last Sunday Prof. Herron discussed the subject of expansion and the policy of the administration concerning Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. In his sermon he said:

"We are a perjured nation. We have not been true, but we have been false to the islands of the seas in the violation of our pledges to them. This utterance stirred up the church trustees, many of whom are ex-sol-diers, and some Grand Army men. A meeting was called and it was decided that the preacher had had all the rope he deserved, that it was time to shut him off, and a new preacher will officiate next Sunday.

Witness motioned to the constables to come, aud turning round, told Mr. Campbell that the man answered the description of the one who had shot Toohey. Fuller and Shaw followed the peg-leg round the house. When Fuller asked for a gun, witness went over to Dempsey's place for the rifle, and Dempsey came over with it. Witness had heard one shot, but did not see it fired. Cross-examined, witness was not

JOHN SHAW, constable, corroborated Mr. county Gillies' story about the arrival at Campbell's house. When they went in the constable went to the north side and the other to the house. Witness saw the tramp go down by the barn, when he flourished a big revolver. Witness followed the man east along by the fence. The tramp got over the fence, and witness said, "Hold on, there, I want you." The tramp then placed his revolver on the fence and said, "You stay there." Witness told the tramp to stand, that he was making double band-orchestra, composed of it worse for himself, and that he would be taken. The tramp replied, "I know sies, two Marks, Eva, and her pony what you want me for. I'll be taken Prince the Lane Star Quartet and the docd." get a gun. Both constables were armed with small revolvers. Witness said he was a peg-legged man himself, and he had noticed that the tramp had the same leg off as his own. Fuller got the gun he was accompanied by Dempsey across the field, and witness followed down the lane towards the bush. Fuller shot at the peg-leg, and then was getting ready for another shot when the peg-leg fired at him. Dempsey then took the rifle and said. Give me that gun. It will shoot anything it is aimed at." The tramp then took off his hat. Shaw followed the tramp towards the bush, when the tramp sat on the fence and asked the constable to come along and he would wait there for him. He didn't do it, however, but went further into the bush, where he fired another shot, making four in all. Witness did not shoot at the tramp. He positively identified prisoner as the man. Cross-examined-Witness admitted that when the tramp began to shoot he (witness) had endeavored to get behind a tree. He had done so because the peg-leg's revolver would carry much farther than the one witness Witness said that had he been armed with a better weapon he would have shot the tramp dead without a moment's hesitation.

THE CASE COMPLETED. This completed the case for the crown, and Mr. McPhillips then made a formal objection that a witness, Cyrus Edy, had not been called by the crown, and was one of the witnesses whose names appeared on the back of the indictment. The witness had been examined at the coroner's inquest, and had given material evidence. The crown should put the witness in the box for

FIVE FISHERS

Who Went Sailing on Lake Erie Had a Hard Time of It.

Sandusky, Ohio, March 28 .- Five fishermen of this city, H. C. Payson and his three sons, James, John and Charles, and Louis Roberts, have reached their homes here after a most thrilling experience on Lake Erie.

They went out in a small sail boat to lift their nets, and were caught in a terrific storm, which carried away the spar of the boat, and drove the ice down upon them, so that for nearly twenty hours they were drifting hopelessly in a heavy sea, among crushing and grinding ice floes, and in momentary danger of going to the bottom, They had a small rowboat in tow. Two of the men started for the Marblehead life-saving station in it. They were finally forced ashore on Cedar Point, after a terrible experience, and were almost dead from cold and exhaustion. Subsequently the tug, Silver Spray, sighted the three men in the sailboat and after hard work, managed to reach The men were in a pitiable condition, being almost frozen and completely exhausted.

A DINNER PILL. - Many persons suffer exeruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a heal-thy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

A Public Exhibition of Its Wonderful Properties,

Before United States Celebrities-Mr Tripler's Experiments.

Washington, D. C., March 28.-The most extraordinary exhibit ever given in Washington was witnessed at the Arlington Hotel the other night by the scientific circle of this city, members of the cabinet, supreme court, diplomatic corps and other public men. It was given under the auspices of the National Geographical Society, presided over by Prof. Bell, the inventor of the telephone, and furnished an opportunity for Charles E. Tripler, of New York, to show for the first time in public the new motive power which he has discovered and calls liquid air. A descrip-tion of this remarkable fluid and its uses appears in McClure's Magazine for March, and a more elaborate account will be given in the April Century.

Briefly and simply stated, Mr. Tripler takes 800 gallons of ordinary air, drawn from any window, and by compression and cold reduces it to one gallon of a liquid that looks like glycerine and retains its form at a temperature of 312° below zero. As it warms it expands into vapor and then into air, just as water is expanded into steam by heat. By controlling this expansion Mr. Tripler proposes to furnish a new motive power for the use of transportation companies on sea and on land, for for companies on sea and on land, for factories, furnaces and for every other purpose for which steam and electricity are now used. The expansive force is equal to 2,000 pounds a square inch, and without an exhaust pipe the pressure is so great that there is no great that sura is so great that there is now no material of sufficient strength to restrain it. In other words, a pint or a quart or a gallon of this liquid will burst any vessel in which it may be confined unless there is an opportunity for its gradual escape.

Mr. Tripler brought six gallons of liquid air with him from New York, and in the presence of four or five hundred persons performed the experi-ments that are described in McClure's Magazine. He dipped the stuff out of his can with an ordinary tin dipper, just as a milkman would dip milk. He dropped a potato in it, lifted it out in two or three minutes, and threw it on the floor, where it broke into a thousand little crystals. He took a rubber ball, immersed it in the liquid, and then broke it as if it was glass. He dropped in a piece of beefsteak, and in a moment it was broken into little fragments that looked like petrified wood. He immersed a tumbler of alcohol, and in a few minutes it was frozen into a block of ice. He filled a pasteboard block with mercury, which, when immersed in the liquid air became as hard as steel, and he used it as a hammer to drive nails in the table. He immersed copper, tin, iron and strips of steel in the liquid air, and they crumbled like pie-crust. He demonstrated the expansive power of the liquid in a similar manner, and altogether performed experiments that were not only novel but amazing.

LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. To Whom She Said "Yes."

"I am rather sorry for her," Capt. Vinson went on, as he lighted a fuse on the heel of his boot. "The London scheme is all the mother's doings."
"How do you know this?" he was abruptly asked.

"How do I know a good many things?
By using my eyes and ears. Why, I have known it a long time, and I could perhaps tell you who has done her ut-most to encourage Mrs. Aubrey in carrying out her intentions. It's ail for Miss Eden's benefit, of course, though I doubt whether the poor girl thinks "What is the fellow's name?" asked

Capt. Lyssendon, fiercly. "De Val— something. He expects to make a fortune out of pretty Eden's singing. Did you know that she has a splendid voice? She sings tonight at the Eastham school, a sort of musical farewell to the natives." Frank Lyssendon writhed on his seat.

"If I could but have seen her," he groaned. "She could not have had my letter, or else her mother has forbidden her to answer it. I must see her, Vinson. How is it to be managed?"

The darkness of the night hid the exulting smile that played around Vinsin's mouth, as he insidiously threw cold water on the flame to make it burn more fiercely.
"Better not attempt it, after all certain fair relative of yours has been doing to keep you apart—"

"I'll thank you to leave her name out of the affair," he sharply said. "I must and will see Eden."

"You may put me down here," said Vinson, "I have an appointment." Lieut. Dacy drew up so sharply that the unsteady lad by his side nearly lost his balance, and Vinson carefully dismounted, and once more held up the slip of paper.

"Yes or no?" he queried. Frank Lyssenden clenched his hands and paused; his better angel stood between him and the tempter, and the word "no" was on his lips; but the next moment he leaped from his seat, and, approaching Vinson, said, as before "I must see her!" Then quivering in every limb from the violence of his agitation, he slipped back to the side of the vehicle from which Dacy was 'curiously looking on.

A lad was lounging at the door of the school, listening to the noisy glee the leaders of the choir were lustily trolling, and, pulling his hat over his eyes—for he had no intention of being recognized—Capt. Vinson went up to her this, and make haste.' The lad stared, but obeyed; and, just as a burst of plaudits rewarded the flushed and breathless singers, he reached the bench, at the end of which Eden was seated, and pushed the paper before her. The name of her mother instantly caught her eyes, and, her blood curdling with terror, she read as follows:

"You know Miss Aubrey? She is here. Where is she sitting?"

"Mrs. Aubrey has been taken ill. A carriage is waiting outside to take you

Flinging this startling missive from her, Eden startled those nearest her by starting up and flying down the room. Before anyone who had witnessed her hasty exit could ask what was the matter, or Miss Oliva Tibbetts had sueceeded in securing the scrap of paper, and enlightened herself and her friends, the terrified girl had disappeared. Capt. Vinson was nowhere to be seen when she emerged from the schoolhouse, for his share in the deception was over, and he only waited to be assure Mrs. Merstham, with his hand on his heart, that Miss Aubrey and her cousin had gone off together. Confused by the change from a blaze of light to extreme darkness, Eden could but dimly see the waiting vehicle, but, as she ran towards it, she found herself clasped in the arms of Frank Lyssenden.

Too much agitated by the tidings so Subject: "The Heavenly Inheritance." suddenly communicated to be able to reason, she did not ask herself how or why he came there just then; her only feeling was that he would sympathize with her in her distress; and she made but faint efforts to extricate herself from his embrace.

"Oh, Capt. Lyssendon," she gasped-"my mother, she is ill; don't stop me! I must go to her directly. She is away from home, and they have sent for Without replying he lifted her into the vacant seat in the dog-cart, placed himself beside her, and Dacy, touching the spirited mare with his whip, in an instant they were speeding away. Miss Tibbitts, hustling to the door just afterwards, saw nothing, heard nothing, but the receding tramp of Black Beauty's hoofs.

"The note tells me nothing, but that she is ill," said Eden, ringing her hands, and impatiently pushing away the rugs her companion was folding around her. "What can have happened? Perhaps she has met with some accident; perhaps she was thrown from the chaise, and is frightfully injured. Oh! mamma-mamma! how shall I bear the sight of your sufferings?" The agony in her voice made Frank Lyssendon eagerly reassure her. His own accents were hoarse with shame and remorse; but the terrified girl, hearing them falter, attributed it solely for his compassion for her.

"My dearest Eden, you are frightening yourself without a cause; you are, indeed. Mrs. Aubrey has not met with any accident." "Did these men tell you so?" and she glanced at the muffled figures on the front seat of the vehicle. "But are they sure of it?" "Quite," was the emphatic reply; and, relieved of her worst fears, Eden murmured a thankful exclamation, and permitted her companion to wrap her up carefully, and draw her closer to himself. But scarcely had he done this, when her affectionate solicitude

You do not answer"-and she leaned her face nearer to Frank's to try and discern in the obscurity that baffled her what expression his features wore—"you do not answer, your eyes avoid mine! Ah! Heaven be merciful! Is it worse than I feared? Is my mother dead?"

"No, no, Eden," was the agitated re-"On my soul you have no cause ply. "On my soul you have no cause for this wild terror. She was alive and -and in no danger when you had that

"But something must have happen-d." she wailed. "You are trembling ed," she wailed. "You are trembling yourself. You hesitate to tell me what it is. Oh! Capt. Lyssendon-oh! Frank, your silence frightens me as much, or worse, than the truth would!" (To be Continued.)

MOUNT LRYDGES. Mount Brydges, March 27.-The special evangelistic services which have been held the last three weeks, closed with three great meetings on Sunday. In the morning Evangelist Brownlow went with the pastor, Rev. J. E. Holmes, to Mount Carmel, where a reception service was held for those who lived in that neighborhood who had been converted at the meetings. Evangelist Wm. Moull preached especially to the new converts. In the afternoon a mass meeting was held in the church. Mr. Brownlow's subject was "The Bible: How to Read and Study It." In the evening the largest crowd ever seen in the new building was there, people for six or eight miles around packing the church, and an overflow meeting was held in the basement, which was filled, Mr. Moull speaking upstairs and Mr. Brownlow in the basement, and then changing, so each had the same service. After earnest preaching and exhortation by these gifted men, the reception service was held, when about 84 joined the church. It was a sight never to be forgotten, and at the close the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to about 150 or The special services conducted by these soul-stirring, gifted men, have been a great blessing, not only to Mount Brydges Methodist Church, but nearly every church around has been benefited, as Rev. J. E. Holmes has the names of several who are desirous of joining other churches, and they will be handed over to the care of the pastor of the church of their choice. Over 100 have professed conversion. The pastor will

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Another Dundas Man.

Me Was Afflicted With Rheumatism for Six Years-All Efforts Failed to Relieve or Cure Till He Took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dundas, March 27 .- "Gentlemen," remarked Mr. William Dunn, a wellknown telephone lineman, to a group of his fellow-workmen, "Gentlemen,I have suffered untold agony from Rheumatism during the past twelve months. A person who has not felt the pangs of this painful malady cannot conceive the torture it inflicts unon its victims. I could get nothing to give me relief, although I doctored constantly, and took various remedies.

"Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and almost immediately a decided change for the better took place. I used, altogether, three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and am happy to say I am thoroughly cured. You may talk of doctors and their medicines, but give me Dodd's Kidney Pills." Mr. Dunn's remarks are in a line with the publicly-expressed assertions of thousands of other grateful men and women who have been cured of Rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid in the blood. Uric Acid is left in the blood by diseased kidneys, which are unable to filter it out. The only way to cure Rheumatism is to remove the Uric Acid. The only way this can be done is by the kidneys.

The kidneys cannot do it unless they are strong and healthy. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys strong and healthy-make them do their work properly by making them

There can be no Uric Acid in your blood if you use Dodd's Kidney Pills. That is a fact that cannot be disputed. It follows, then, that you cannot possibly have Rheumatism if you use

Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Try them and be convinced. Any girl can hit the side of a barn-

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil -a pulmonic, of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial results.

A woman seldom knows just what she wants, but she usually gets it. Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for releiving, healing and curing the affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds,

Mr.G.O.ARCHIBALD'S CASE.

Didn't Walk for 5 Months. Doctors said Locomotor Ataxia.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Cure a Disease hithorto regarded as Incurable.

The case of Mr. G. O. Archibald, of Hopewell Cape, N.B., (a cut of whom appears below), is one of the severest and most intractable that has ever been reported from the eastern provinces, and his cure by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills the more remarkable from the fact that he was given up as incurable by worthy and respected physicians.

The disease, Locomotor Ataxia, with which Mr. Archibald was afflicted is considered the most obstinate and incurable disease of the nervous system known. When once it starts it gradually but surely progresses, paralyzing the lower extremities and rendering its victim helpless and hopeless, enduring the indescribable agony of seeing himself die by inches.

That Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can cure thoroughly and completely a disease of such severity ought to encourage those whose disorders are not so cerious to try this remedy.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.-"I can assure you that my case was a very severe one, and had it not been for the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I do not believe I would be alive to-day. I do not know, exactly, what was the cause of the disease, but it gradually affected my legs, until I was unable to walk hardly any for five months.

"I was under the care of Dr. Morse, of Melrose, who said I had Locomotor Ataxia, and gave me up as incurable. "Dr. Solomon, a weil-known physician of Boston, told me that nothing could be done for me. Every one who came to visit me thought I never could get better. "I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised and thought I would try them anyway, as they gave more promise of helping methan anything I knew of. "If you had seen me when I started taking those wonderful pills-not able to get out of my room, and saw me now, working hard every day, you wouldn't know me, "I am agent for P. O. Vickey, of Augusta Maine, and have sold 300 subscribers in 80 days and won a fifty dollar

"Nothing else in the world saved me but those pills, and I do not think they have an equal anywhere. "The seven boxes I took have restored me the full use of my legs and given me strength and energy and better health than I have enjoyed in a long time." G. O. ARCHIBALD.

Hopewell Cape, N. B. In addition to the statement by Mr. Archibald, we have the endorsation of two well-known merchants of Hopewell Cape, N. B., viz.: Messrs. J. E. Dickson and F. J. Brewster, who certify to the genuineness and accuracy of the facts as given above. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are ge those whose disorders are not so erious to try this remedy.

ISN'T THIS PROOF

Clear and Convincing That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Diabetes.

Engineer James Graham's Case Was Pronounced Incurable by a Leading Montreal Physician-Yet Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured It.

Montreal, P. Q., March 25 .- Thick and fast come the most convincing proofs of the really marvelous cures of Kidney Diseases, in this city, by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Not a day passes on which we cannot read reports of several cures-at home, right here in Montreal, at our own doors.

In the face of this vast mass of proof we must believe that such an enormous number of our fellow-citizens write on the subject, viz.: That there is no other medicine known to science, that can at all equal Dodd's Kidney Pills, as a cure for Kidney Diseases of all types.

Many hundreds of Montreal people have been cured of Diabetes by Dodd's Kidney Pills, but there are in the city, still hundreds of other sufferers who do not know that by using this famous remedy, that they can be cured, positively cured, for all time, and at almost no expense.

That such is the case, let the experience of engineer James Graham, of 50, Victoria Square, prove.

Mr. Graham had Diabetes for six years. One of the most eminent of Montreal's physicians examined him, and informed him that his case was beyond all aid-incurable.

No wonder the sufferer grew despondent. But, one day he read of a wonderful cure of Diabetes, effected Dodd's Kidney Pills. He at once bought a box and began to use them. They caused marked improvement, and he used two boxes more. Now he is as healthy as he ever was, robust and Isn't this proof enough that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Diabetes? It ought to be, surely!

The most profitable teaching is the lesson of the moment.

THE LONDON NORMAL SCHOOL

Denounced in the Legislature by a Conservative Member-The Tax on Brewers Discussed.

Toronto, March 28.-In the legislature yesterday, Premier Hardy announced that after hearing a deputation from the small brewers of the province, the government had decided that it would be only just to restore the tax on their business to the former figure of $250. It had also been decided that the tavern and shop licenses should be hereafter collected half-yearly instead of annube prohibited from increasing the tax on licenseholders beyond the figure at which it stands at present. Fourthly, it had been decided that the brewer or distiller who tendered the maximum tax on his industry should not be compelled to furnish returns as to his business. He moved that the house go into committee of the whole to consider the brewers' and distillers' bill.

Mr. Marter criticised the government, and claimed there was no necessity for increased taxation. As an instance of extravagance, he referred to the Normal school which had been promised to London, in order to do something for a constituency which they had been anxious to carry at the elections, notwithstanding that there were hundreds of teachers out of employment. He also denounced the School of Pedagogy at Toronto, and the Teachers' Training School at Ottawa as useless and unnecessary. Since 1871 there had been an increase of 110 per cent in the expenditure in the working of the departments. He claimed the government was inflicting gross injustice on the cities by depriving them of their right to tax telephone, telegraph and street railway companies as going concerns. Mr. Marter moved a six months' hoist of the bill which Mr. Hardy had brought down.

This was lost, 37 to 27. There were 14 pairs. The house then went into committee, and Mr. Powell (Conservative) raised the point that a number of small brewers in his constituency would suffer by the imposition of the tax, because the large brewers in Lachine and Montreal were doing business in the same field, and escaped taxation. The premier consented to let the bill stand until today.
