TIME FOR A VISIT

British Newspaper Comment Goliad, Texas, Swept From Dashes Over Embankment 25 on M. Loubet's Trip.

RUSSIA HAS TROUBLE AT HOME AND 150 HOUSES DEMOLISHED FOUR WORKMEN MEET DEATH

No Hitch in Atlantic Shipping Combine-White Star Line Shareholders Satisfied.

London, May 21 .- In a dispatch from St. Petersburg the correspondent of the Daily Mail says that President Loubet could hardly have chosen a more unfavorable moment for his visit. "Apart from the labor and student revolt," says the correspondent, there is the trouble which arose during the recent riots in Moscow between a Frenchman and the police, which led to energetic interference by the French ambassador, with the result that the positions of Grand Duke George, the governor of Moscow, and M. Trepoff, the chief of police, are said to be menaced." Shortly after this trouble the Grand Duke Vladimir declined to attend the parade arranged in honor of President Loubet, saying he was not to be or-dered about by a "hole-and-corner law-yer." Grand Duke Vladimir accordingy transferred the chief command to Gen. Rehbinder. The czar then inter-fered and appointed Grand Duke Nicholas to the chief command.

The government has received assurances that the White Star will gladly renew the naval reserve agreement at the expiration of the present three years' contract.

FRONTIER FIGHTING. The tension of the Turkish frontier has resulted in two more fights between Turkish and Bulgarian troops, and the deaths of five soldiers, says a Sofia cablegram. On May 17 a Bulgarian frontier guard surprised two Turkish soldiers on Bulgarian soil near the village of Rilo, and killed both the Turks as they were trying May 18 some other Turkiel soldiers tried forcibly to recover the bodies of the two men killed May 17. In this engagement three Turks were killed and one Bulgarian was wounded. A judicial report of these occurrences has been drawn up, but the Turkish representatives refused to sign the document.

CHINESE INDEMNITY.

A Pekin dispatch says: The foreign ministers have decided to divide the installments of the Chinese war indemnity, provisionally on the of a pro rata reduction of the excess. They have also unanimously decided to instruct the bankers' commission to inform the taotai of Shanghai that the argument to the effect that the indemnity is payable on a silver basis is untenable. Sir Robert Hart, director of the maritime customs of China, concurred in this opinion. The bankers recently requested the taotai to advise them of the progress made in collecting the indemnity, and he replied, substantially, that it was none of the bankers' concern, so long as China met the payments.

THE PREMIER AT SIMCOE. Simcoe, May 20 .- Very good proof of the hold which the Ross forward policy has upon the minds of the farmers was afforded at a great mass meeting here this afternoon, addressed by the premier of Ontario. Although it is by no means a slack season with the agriculturist, an audience of not less than 2,000 gathered in the drill hall and listened to the exposition of high and progressive politics in an attitude of intentness which showed the impression the subject has made upon the people. Free, as usual, from all bitterness, from all personalities, the premier's address was a model expository effort, lauding the resources of Ontario and city, where he had since resided. For centuries the palace was the residence of the captains-general of Spain. Since the American occupation it has been the official headquarters of the military governor. It was in the audience room of this edifice that the actual transfer occurred.

Owing to the limited space the peo-ple were to have no sight of the ceremony to be enacted here, which was to constitute them a nation before the world; but outside they were to witness a spectacle which would stir their pulses, for they were to see the beloved five-barred and a single-starred flag, to the breeze in 1868, at the opening of the ten

The trust recorded its satisfaction in observing that the churches of the city were to have a hospital Sunday next Sunday, and passed a resolution that it be understood that all moneys handed in to the trust be devoted towards a nurses' home, the erection of which is in contemplation. The trust considered Miss Scettin's application for an increase in salary, but as she is not able to teach the nurses dietetic cooking the same as done in the Baltimore hospital, one of the largest and wealthiest in the world, the mayor opposed granting her request. Twenty Years of Itching Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Alex. McLaughlin is well known and highly respected in Bowmanville, Ont., where he has resided for about thirty years. His cure of itching piles after twenty years of almost constant gers. No one was hurt. and often very severe suffering, is a remarkable one. There can scarcely be a stronger recommendation for Dr. Chase's Ointment, and his letter will be read by many who are still victims of this dreadful malady. Mr. McLaughlin writes: "For twenty years I suffered from itching piles, and only persons who have been troubled with that annoying disease can imagine what I endured during that time. About seven years ago I asked a divergist if he had anything to asked a druggist if he had anything to cure me. A PATHETIC LETTER.

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed next morning, and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more, and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered semething that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comforts, and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whisky was vile stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. band had told me that whisky was viie stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot, to have on hand if he should relapse, as he has done from promises before. He never has, and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

MICHIGAN RAILWAY EXTENDING ITSELF

Pere Marquette Proposes to Take in

Port Huron, Detroit and Buffalo. Sight freight crews-24 men-were set back on the Michigan Central Railway at St. Thomas on Saturday night. Trainmaster Brown said that this would be the full summer reduction. Twenty-four regular men will go on the spare list, and 24 spare men will be out of work. Mr. Brown said the reduction was principally due to the coal trade, and partially to the big engines. There is no coal carrying, and as it is more economical, the work is done by the big engines. He said that the reduction would be all that would take place this summer, and if the coal strike was settled probably the crews would be set up again. small engines were taken off Monday. Danger in Weak Kidneys.

That the kidneys are the chief organs of the body in expelling poisons and disease germs, is no longer open to doubt, and that their failure to work properly causes, either directly or indirectly, most of the human ills, is becoming generally recognized. Since the kidneys carry off the poison that is taken into the system, their care in health and treatment when diseased is all important. With the kidneys perfectly attuned with nature, the blood is kept pure, and all the organs of the body are maintending its system from Port Huron tained in their natural health and vigor. With the kidneys improperly performing their functions, the poisons are not properly thrown off, but are taken up by the blood and scattered throughout the body. Dr. Albert Wesley Kahle, of 190 Delaware avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., is a specialist in kidney diseases. His system is one that makes possible cures in Bright's Disease, Diabetes and kindred complaints.

It provides for the supremacy of natural conditions, affords lasting relief, checks disease and ultimately restores the health.

PRESIDENT LOUBET FORT-DE-FRANCE PEOPLE IN PANIC VISITS RUSSIA

And Gets a Warm Greeting Mont Pelee Throwing Stones Into the City Streets. From Emperor Nicholas.

CRONSTADT IN GALA ATTIRE RESIDENTS TOOK TO VESSELS

Thousands Throng the Streets to Cheer the Distinguished Guests-Czar's Characteristic Speech.

Cronstadt, Russia, May 20.-The French squadron escorting the armor ed cruiser Montcalm, having President Loubet on board, was sighted at about o'clock this morning, slowly picking its way through the great blocks of ice still encumbering the lower channel. The weather as extremely o'd, and it was raining intermittently. The port was elaborately decorated. Welcoming mottoes were to be seen everywhere. Great crowds assembled on the quays and they mingled their cheers with the salutes from the ships and forts as the Montcalm entered the harbor, where she was quickly surrounded by hundreds of small boats filled with enthusiastic sight-seers. The imperial yacht Alexandra, with the Czar on board, arrived almost simultaneously with the French squadron. Accompanying the Czar were the Czarewich, the Grand Duke Michael, brother of his majesty; Count Lamsdorff, the minister of foreign affairs; the Marquis De Montebello, the French ambassador at St. Petersburg, the Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral of Russia, and their brilliant suites. The Grand Duke Alexis boarded the Montcalm, and, after President Loubet had briefly reviewed the Russian fleet, he escorted the president aboard the Alexandra, where the greetings changed between the Czar and M. Lou-bet were most cordial. AT PETERSHOF. Petershof, Russia, May 20.-The imperial yacht Alexandra arrived here at noon from Cronstadt. President Loubet led the way ashore, and shook hands with the assembled grand dukes and officials. The President and the Czar then entered a carriage, were driven to the railway station and proceeded on the imperial train to Tzarskoe-Selo. The President's reception everywhere was remarkably warm.

A STATE BANQUET. Tzarskoe-Selo, Russia, May 20. — President Loubet visited their majesties at Alexandrowsky Palace and conversed with them for a quarter of an hour. The Czarina showed herself very gracious to the President of REMAINS OF THE France. She referred to the pleasure her visit to Compegiene, France, had afforded her, and presented the ladies of her suite to President Loubet. The Czar also introduced the Russian court officials to him. Later in the after-noon President Loubet visited the Dowager Empress of Gatschina, where he was met at the railroad station by the Czarewich. President Loubet was deeply touched by the Dowager Empress' expressions of lively sympathy for France. He returned to Tzarskoe-Selo in the afternoon. Their majesties gave a state banquet in honor of President Loubet's visit in the magnificent special ceremony.
Salee des Fetes, tonight, at which 180 covers were laid. The tables were decorated with garlands of roses, etc., and large hangings of silver epergnes. On the Czar's right, in the order given, sat President Loubet. the Dowager Empress and the Czarewich. On the Emperor's left sat the Czarina, then Grand Duke Alexis, and following the latter the Russian grand dukes and grand duchesseses in the order of precedence. Opposite the Czar sat Baron Von Fredericksz, the minister of the imperial household, together with M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs, and Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs.

THE CZAR'S SPEECH. In his toast to the President of France, the Czar said he wished him a hearty welcome, and that he hoped his visit would afford proof of the sentiments uniting France and Russia. The Czar concluded his toast as follows: "May you retain as happy a memory of this visit as the empress and myself retain of the days we spent in France. I raise my glass in your honor and to the greatness and prosperity of your beautiful country, friendly and allied." In his response, President Loubet said he warmly reciprocated the friendly sentiments expressed by the Emperor of Russia on behalf of himself and his country. He said: "A few hours have sufficed to assure me that the heart of Russia beats in unison with that of France. My country will be rejoiced at this perfect harmony as touched by the friendly remembrance your majesties assure me you retain of your visit to France. I am grateful for the welcome I have received. I raise my glass in honor to your majesties and the imperial family. I drink to the prosperity and greatness of Russia, France's sincere friend and faithful ally."

"For over twenty-five years I suffered from catarrh, and for over ten years I suffered from catarrh of the stomach terribly.

"I have taken all kinds of medicines and have been treated by all kinds of doctors, as thousands of my acquaintances are aware in different parts of the United States, where I have traveled, but my relief was only temporary, until a little over a year ago started to take Peruna, and at the present time I am better than I have been for twenty years.

"The soreness has left my stomach entirely and I am free from indigestion and dyspepsia and will say to all who are troubled with catarrh or stomach trouble of any kind, don't put it off and suffer, but begin to take Peruna right away, and keep it up until you are cured, as you surely will be if

"My wife, as many in the southwest can say, was troubled with a bad cough and bronchial trouble, and doctors all over the country gave her up to die, as they could do nothing more for her. Ontario's Pulpwood Wealth.

The exploring parties sent out by the Ontario Government in 1900 estimated that on the territory which they traversed the quantity of pulpwood was 228,000,000 cords. Of this, 222,000,-000 cords lay north of the height of land, and the remainder, 66,000,000, on

These concessions are eight in number. In return for the right to cut pulpwood on given tracts of country the concessionaries bind themselves to expend a certain sum of money, employ a certain number of men, produce a specified quantity of pulp each year. It should be remembered that not one concession has been granted north of the height of land, where 222,000,-000 cords of pulpwood are standing. When it is considered also that spruce reproduces itself in twenty or thirty years, it will be apparent that all the pulp concessions now in operation in Ontario can only touch the fringe of bur pulpwood resources.

Their Battle Flags.

"Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war." The great victories won by the Ontario Government for provincial rights meant much for the people of this Province. Great issues were at stake each time. Sir Oliver Mowat and Sir John Macdonald contended before the Privy Council, and each time the verdict brought thome by Sir Oliver Mowat was "the Ontario Government is right." It was right on the boundary of the Province, right on the license question, and the people's faith became well founded in the belief that "the Ontario Govern-

At every general provincial rights; they asked the people to "unite against the common enemy"; they asked the people to give back the power of licensing to the last year. municipalities; they attacked the present premier and fought two general elections on the "Ross Bible," and the people answered on every occasion, "The Ontario Government is right." That has been the unvarying verdict of the Privy Council and the elector-

It is an inspiring sight in old St. Giles Cathedral in Edinburgh to see the torn and battered battle flags of the Scottish regiments fastened to the huge stone pillars of the cathedral. These are the glorous flags of war, but the flag carried by the Ontario Government is the more glorious flag of peace. It had but one inscription on It, "Is it right?" The answer each time has been "Yes," and will be again. The people who so often stood by the Government when attacked on pleas that might have deceived a less Intelligent people, are not likely to turn out a government against which no reason is now assigned. The people believed the verdicts of the Privy Council to be correct. The leaders of the Conservative party admit the verdicts of the people in the past to be correct, because they have abandoned all old issues, and having spent all the "Is it not time for a change?" The people's answer will be "It is never time for a change until there is a reason for it." Ontario is flourishing. The people will say "Let Ontario flour-

The Proper Point of View.

People are apt to dwell too much on it has features repellant to a highlyorganized individual goes without saying. The evil passions sometimes engendered in the heat of an election, the abuse heaped on public men, the occasional imputing of bad motives, the recriminations, and the hurlyburly of a campaign, reveal the worst side of the party system, but too many view it from that side alone, forgetting that there are only excrescences, and that it is really sound at the core. Those who denounce our political institutions, because of these surface flaws, should take a broader view and judge them by results. Every great measure of progress in a free country has come through the party system. The real criterion of the system is parliament, not a periodical election campaign with its turmoil, rancor and sometimes impropriety, though in the examine the pulp concessions main a campaign is a great education. In parliament you have a body of men intrusted with the duty of making laws, who must approach that duty with a sense of responsibility, knowing they are accountable to public opinion, which, in the long run, is always "the common sense of most." No matter how reckless and inflammatory a man may be on the stump, or what election methods he may employ, he is out of harm's way and finds himself in a different atmosphere in the legislative chamber. While there may be a good deal of mischievous talk in parliament, its serious occupation is the framing of statutes, dealing chiefly with prosaic questions of industry, commerce or finance. The statute book as the work of parliament is therefore the ultimate

The above sums represent the payments by standard life insurance companies only. The total amount of insurance payments to Canada in 1901 was $13,924,855, which is about onefifteenth the amount for the whole of North America, exclusive of Mexico. This sum is exceeded by the payments to only two States of the Union, New right on the Rivers and Stream Bill, York and Pennsylvania. It is interesting also to note that the total payments of $217,162,530 for both Canada and the United States in death claims, or matured endowment policies, is over twenty million dollars in excess of what it was the previous year. There is in the principle of life insurance, what might be called a system of enforced saving. It encourages thrift as no other science of saving does, as it is a system with a election, except the present one, the definite obligation and a penalty for Opposition raised an issue. A man who had lost his much-beloved wife consulted a stonemason in regard to the erection of a tombstone with a suitable epitaph. After having a number of lines suggested, he finally selected the following:

"The light of my life has gone out." A short time afterwards the widower fell in love with a charming girl, to whom he became engaged. He mediately felt concerned about the epitaph upon the tombstone of his former wife, and again consulted the stonemason, to whom he explained the circumstances, and stated that the epitaph would have to be changed. He intended to leave town, returning on the day of the wedding, and implored the mason to take the matter in hand and alter the epitaph so that the feelings of his prospective wife would not be hurt. This the mason promised to do, and when the widower returned he visited the grave at once, finding that the mason had been true to his word, the epitaph now appearing: "The light of my life has gone out, but I have found another match."

THE COLONELS IN COURT AN IMPERIAL ZOLLVEREIN

to Sheriff of Quebec.

Prisoners' Story of the Quebec, May 21 .- Col. Gaynor and Capt. Greene arrived in Quebec Tuesday morning by special train from Montreal. They came in the custody of Governor Vallee, of the Montreal jail, and were taken to their old quarters in the Chateau Frontenac. Col. Gaynor said that when he was arrested he did not have time even to think. He was forcibly carried away, and one time, when he attempted to call from the wagon to a party whom he knew, one of the detectives placed his hand over his mouth. He also said that he attempted to resist at the wharf, but was forced on the boat and into a narrow cabin, and there kept prisoner. He says that he knew nothing of the attempt to serve the writ at Three Rivers, as he and Greene were kept in close confinement, and could not even look out onto the river.

IN COURT. The criminal court was crowded yesterday morning when the case of the colonels came up. At the request of Mr. McMaster, discussion of the motion of Mr. Taschereau for the incarceration of Detective Carpenter, for contempt of court, was postponed to Thursday, May 29.

Mr. McMaster contested the legality of the writ of habeas corpus on which Gaynor and Greene were brought from Montreal.

Mr. Taschereau asked that the discussion on this motion be postponed to May 29, and that, meanwhile, the prisoners be placed in custody of Sheriff Langelier, of the district of Quebec. Justice Andrews gave his decision in these motions in the afternoon, granting Mr. Taschereau's motion asking that both Gaynor and Greene be handed over to the sheriff of Quebec, and that Mr. Vallee, jailer of Montreal, be relieved of further responsibility regarding them. The prisoners will now remain in the custody of Sheriff Langelier, subject to the orders of the court from day to day, until the merits of the habeas corpus writ, served on Detective Carpenter, have been discussed and set-tled. Gaynor and Green have been incarcerated in the common jail for a few days at their own request, to be secured against any other attempt.

SOMETHING THAT SHOULD BE RUBBED IN.—Whenever pain is felt in the limbs or back, take Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; pour a little in the hand and applying it to he surface beneath which the pain lies, rub briskly. If the first application does not afford relief, which is not usually the case, keep rubbing. The Oil will gradually penetrate to he affected part and relief will come.

American Fugitives Passed Over Discussed With Interest by English Liberals.

Failure of the Kidnapping Scheme- They Will Probably Oppose the Idea of British Preference.

> London, May 21.-The conference of the colonial premiers is being anticipated here with the liveliest interest. In view of the recent speeches by Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the subject of the commercial relations between Britain and the colonies, Liberal newspapers are already talking of the serious danger that threaten the empire, and are endeavoring to stir up an agitation with the object of inducing the colonial secretary to leave the idea of an imperial zollverein in the pigeonhole where it was placed a few years ago. The Conservative daily press fights shy of the topic, although The Spectator has condemned the proposal in most uncompromising terms. People in this country are inherently opposed to a new order of things. It is tolerably certain that any proposal to adopt a system of preferential trading within the empire will meet with vehement opposition. Englishmen are eager for closer union with the colonies, but the words commercial relations frighten

ATTACK BY BOERS REPULSED

Commandant Van Heerden Among the Killed-120 of the Enemy Engaged-Message From Milner.

Pretoria, May 20.-While it is hard to sift out the truth from the mass of contradictory reports that are floating in here from Vereeniging, where the Boer delegates are in conference, the best information obtainable leads to the belief that there are a number of obstacles in the way of a peaceful settlement. In summing up the situation at Vereeniging it is safe to say that a were 75c, clearing at50c majority of the Transvaalers, including the Transvaal Government, is in favor of peace, while the representatives of the Orange Free State, with a few influential exceptions, declare they will not renounce independence. Strangely enough, Gen. Dewet, who was most irreconcilable at the last conference is now quite a strong advocate

Lord Kitchener certainly will not exceed the concessions already offered the delegates, so that there remains only the question of the reducition of the demands of the Orange Free State representatives or the possibility of a split between the Boer factions. This latter, while it would delay an immediate settlement of the matters before the conference, would certainly hasten the final solution of the situation in the field.

The foot spreads when borne upon! It contracts again when lifted!

A new shoe, which fits the foot neatly when off the ground, must therefore pinch it when stood upon, till it is stretched to the maximum width of foot.

A shoe which has thus been stretched, till comfortable across the ball when stood upon, must be too loose when the foot is lifted.

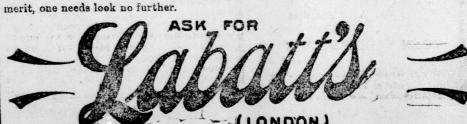

The RESILIA is the only shoe

which expands at the ball when the foot does, and contracts again when lifted. It becomes a size larger inside when the foot sinks down into the resilient centresole, the rebounding of which takes up the leather slack again when foot is lifted. It is thus as easy as an old shoe the first moment it is worn, requires no "breaking in," and retains its shape because the leather is never overstretched.

progressive government.

Mr. Remington appeared to be much refreshed by his long rest, and after do-ing justice to a hearty breakfast he sted his readiness to go down town

The young man asked if there was not danger of his overtaxing his strength and nerves again, but Mr. Remington assured him that there was no danger of his having a return of his recent attack, if he could only manage to steer clear of temptation.

"As long as you can keep me out of the way of the dram-shop I shall be all right. It's rather humiliating to confess it," he said, coloring slightly, "but it's the truth; and since you've been so good to me, I owe you the warning."

Everything was done to draw out Mr.
Remington. Max had casually remarked that he had been an extensive traveler, whereupon they all began to question him regarding what portions of the world he had visited what opinion he had formed of the manners and customs of the people, etc. Gradually he was led to speak of his personal history, and, once thoroughly started, the man became quite loquacious. All but himself knew the secret object of the dinner, and it was a study to see how adroitly the two lawyers manipu-lated the man. When they arose from the table at seven o'clock, there was very little of importance in Dexter Remington's history which they had not learned; they at least had all the proof necessary to re-establish Mrs. Remigton's claim to the property her husband had left.

Max had instructed Mr. Archibald to retain Mr. Parpose to get as coursel for

They decided to settle the matter quietly if they could, publicly if they must—that is, if Laura resisted Mrs. Remington's claim.

"Miss Remington has not the vestige of a case, in the face of the facts to which we have listened this evening," Mr. Field acknowledged, "and I shall Mr. Field acknowledged, "and I shall advise her to yield as gracefully to the inevitable as Mrs. Remington previously did, when she was convinced that my client's claim was a just one. If she refuses to do so I shall resign the man-agement of her affairs to other hands, as I could not conscientiously contest the case as it now stands."
"He did not add that he should be very glad to resign the charge of Laura's affairs, but he might have truthfully said so, for he had become heartily disgusted with the conduct of the selfish and unprincipled girl. Having thus amicably discussed mat-ters, both gentlemen agreed to repair to Laura's residence the following morning and lay the subject before her. Accordingly, about eleven o'clock the next day they met at the door, and, upon inquiring for the lady, considered themselves fortunate in finding her at home.

"A mistake! Indeed! Please explain yourself. Does madam claim that some of my money belonged to her individual-ly?" Laura demanded, with a scornful toss of her proud head and a perceptible sneer.

The lawyer who was a polished gentleman, and always conducted himself as uch, unless those with whom he was lealing made it necessary for him to dopt severe measures, drew down the corners of his mouth and settled his neck a stifle stiffly into his immaculate col at this slighting mention of his client. LACROSSE.

PREPARING FOR THE 24TH. The advent of warmer weather has set the lacrosse team hard at work, and the men are training faithfully for the game with Paris at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon. There have been two good work-outs already and the team is rapidly rounding into shape. Bert Sarney, the clever home player, had the misfortune to wrench a tenden at Monday night's practice and will be unable to get in the game for a day or two, but is expected to take his place in the ranks by Saturday. Both home and defense divisions are working well together, and are putting up the kind of lacrosse that wins games. Paris has sent word that the strongest team that they have will be along, and the game is certain to be a fast one. Both twelves will work hard for a victory, and a grand exhibition of the national game is assured. The management will have the ball faced promptly at the time advertised, and the short waits between quarters will be filled in by the music of the two splendid bands which have been secured. The executive have determined that everything shall be run off on schedule time and every precaution to insure this end will be taken. The team will practice every evening antil Saturday, and arrangements will likely be made for a sun practice on Thursday afternoon. line up of the team for Saturday's game will not be finally decided upon until Friday.

BOXING.

CHOOSING THE REFEREE. Toronto, Ont., May 21.—Harry El-more, Jim Kinney and Manager Garratt, of the Crescent Club, met yesterday and decided to pick the referee for the Duffy-Counig bout, at the ringside on Saturday, from the following Bennett, Toronto; Passmore, Hamilton; Kelly and McBride, Buffalo; Striker. Detroit. Duffy is training here and Couhig will arrive from Dunkirk tomorrow.

THE COUHIG-DUFFY FIGHT. The friends of Tom Couhig, the Dunkirk weiter fighter, who has been doing such great work in the ring of late, are just a trifle anxious over his prospects in the meeting scheduled with Martin Duffy at Toronto on May 24, says the Buffalo Courier. Tom gave Association. the Chicago lad a decisive beating a few weeks ago in a six-round go. They boxed straight Queensberry rules, and Couhig gained a grand victory. In Toronto, the Canadian clean-break rules, of course, prevail, and, at that game, Martin is a wonder. He has been in Toronto before, and his adviser, Harry Gilmore, being a Canadian, and fully conversant with the Mertes, Danny Green, Garvin, Katoll, rules and requirements across the border, has coached Duffy to perfection in the Canadian style of boxing. Cou- | Sockalexis, the famous Indian player, hig has been doing plenty of boxing of late, and he is said to have grown very fast and snappy in his hitting. He beat the clever Curley Supples at Fort Erie, where the clean-break rules are very strictly enforced. That experience taught Tom plenty, and he probably viewed the matter from all sides before he consented to match with the lanky Chicagoan in Toronto. The contest will surely be a fine one, for Duffy may be depended upon to put forth his finest efforts. If he is beaten in the coming go, under his favorite style of boxing, he must surey doff his cap to Tom Couhig. If Tom procures the services of a first-class Canadian second to assist him between rounds, and hold him in check when he is inclined to become too aggressive at close range, it is our opinion that another night of jubilation is in store for the good people of Dunkirk. The writer had a talk with Couhig yesterday. He has no fears concerning the Canadian rules, and believes he will win. "I know I have the belief that I am going to be fairly treated. I will live up to the rules, and no foul will be committed, if I can prevent. They tell me that Deputy Stuart, who supervises boxing in Toronto, is a fine gentleman, and very fair. I have also been informed that the officials of the Crescent Club are good fellows. All I want is a square deal. I want my friends, whose money bet on me, protected. The Toronto boys will see some good sport if things are as I have been told over there.' Martin Duffy has been beaten twice in his ring career, once by Otto Seiloff, when he was new at the game, and last winter by Couhig, in a six-rounds decision at catchweights. Tom Couhig's only defeat was a decision lost to Matty Matthews, whom he afterwards defeated. GANS WILL STAY AT HOME. New York, May 21.—Joe Gans will not go to England and box before the National Sporting Club next month. fulness is apparent. What a change, then, when this wife and mother comes back to take her old place in the family. Thousands of women who, because of womanly ills, had been shut out of home life and home happiness, have been enabled to ence more take their place in the family after being cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women

"I commenced taking your 'Pavorite Prescrip-tion' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' about the 10th of last December, one year ago," writes Mrs. Hiza Wright, of Mountainview, Howell Co., Missouri. "I have been very slow about writing to you, although I am thankful I am here to-day and have the privilege of saying I thank you a thousand times for your kind advice. I can truthfully say that it was through your kind advice and your medicine and the will of the Lord that I am living to-day; I am will of the Lord that I am living to-day; I am in better health than I have been for three years. I have taken one-half dozen bottles of each medicipe. I am able to do my washing for four in family, and all my housework, cooking and milking. In fact, I feel like a new woman."

THE CORONATION OF 1837. Other very interesting portions of Mrs. Porte's reminiscences dealt with the celebration of the coronation of Queen Victoria, the troublous times of the rebellion of 1837, when gates were placed on the York street bridge, and every house was billeted with a dozen or so soldiers, and of the hard times that followed the rebellion. Mrs. Porte was married in 1845, and her eldest son was the first child christened in the New St. Paul's Church. The big fires that visited the town then were now thought to be blessings in disguise, but in those days they were very real disasters. The coming of the railway in Dealing as it does

A paper of great interest and value, prepared by Mr. Harry Gorman, police magistrate of Sarnia, and formerly of this city, was read by Dr. Cl. T. Campbell. It dealt with the origin and his-tory of the famous 100th Prince of Wales Royal Canadian Regiment, spe-

PEOPLE OF BUCK-EYE STATE TOLD OF THAMES' BEAUTY

tolled in Cincinnati Paper.

Writes of Its Varied Landscapes and Fine Farms.

It is safe to say that of the representatives of the Thited States who have resided in this city for many years past, not one has been as popular as the present consul, Col. Culver. It is not only that he is personally a gentleman of good parts, but he has evinced a keener interest in the condition of the district roundabout London than did any of his predecessors, and has shown himself to be the true representative of his country, in that he upholds its honor in a dignified and able way, and assists in bringing to the notice of the people of his own land, the possibiliities and the products of the country in which he is placed. The latest indication of this comes by way of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune of recent date, which contains the article reproduced below, which is displayed with excellent cuts of scenes about London, and is surrounded by the full-page line "Canada's Beautiful

River Thames.' Col. Culver writes: This far-famed valley of the Thames stretches out to the west from the city of London, at which place the north and south branches join to form the river proper, some 70 or 80 miles, until the river empties into Lake St. Clair.
This valley is noted for its beauty, its varied landscapes, its fine farms and its rich and fertile soil; while in history it is famous for the great battle of the Thames, which was fought here during the war of 1812. Unlike most valleys, it presents a great variety of the most magnificent scenery. In places it widens out into great bottom lands, with their sweeping meadows and rich fields of growing grain, and then it narrows up to the very edge of the river, while high, precipit-ous hills rise on either side, thickly covered to the very top with shrubs and spruce and vines, so thickly intertwined as to be quite impenetrable. On are rolling tablelands, furnishing rich pasturage for herds of Jerseys, Ayer-shires and Durhams and flocks of Cotswolds, Shropshires and Lincolns; while the farms exhibit a high state of culti-vation, with fine modern farmhouses and great barns and sheds for the Col. Culver, U. S. Consul, housing of stock in winter and the storing of grain and roots. Then, at intervals, the river dashes through a where gradually sloping banks extend back to the tablelands again, their fields lying inclined to the sun, as if awaiting its first warm spring rays. And thus the beauty of farm and landscape extends through this valley to where the river empties into the lake. A HISTORICAL FIGHT.

One to traverse this valley now, in all its beauty, rich in all that pertains to a prosperous and wealthy people, would deem it incredible that less than ninety years have elapsed since, in this then wilderness on the banks of this peaceful river, was fought the historic battle of the Thames-the battle in which the brave and wily Shawnee chief, Tecumseh, made his last stand with the British under Proctor against the Americans under Harrison. But here, about 40 miles from the city of London, in Kent county, is the famous battle field and the place where the great chief was killed. It was fought at what was then, and is now, called Moravian Town, which Harrison destroyed after the battle. It is only an Indian village, being now a part of a small reservation, where some three hundred Indian men, women and children live, who are called "the Moravians of the Thames" on account of many of them being adherents of the Moravian Church. They are descendants of the famous Delawares. TECUMSEH'S SLEEP.

Perhaps there is but one tangible, visible object in all this country which is associated with the presence and the name of Tecumseh, and that is a small stone out-building on a lot adjacent to the town of Amherstburg, Ont., at the mouth of the Detroit River. In this stone structure it is claimed that Tecumseh slept for one night, being the only time he ever slept in a white man's house. Very erroneous impressions still prevail (at least to some extent) concerning country life, and the conditions surrounding it, even in this part of canada. No doubt the early reports Canada. No doubt the early reports needed will be forthcoming and are of this North country and the illustrations of camp life in the Hudson Bay district, together with pictures of ice palaces and sledges drawn by reindeers and bearskin coats, toboggan top, extending back from the river, slides and great snow storms, are

DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE.

This hunter has lost not only the fox, but his own hounds. SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S P UZZLE-Crogan is back of Gist, the mostly responsible for these impressions, for we may safely presume that the early settler in this country was so struck with the beauty of the winso struck with the beauty of the winter scenes—so new to him and enchanting (which, by the way, are perhaps the most beautiful winter scenes in the world), that the first picture he sent home to his loved ones across the sea with one wherein he and his family were snugly bundled up in robes and furs, driving through the woods with a team of oxen, or else the picture of some lumbering camp in the deep for- packed. 20c Flat tins, ½ pound. 28c Mephisto Brand, ½ pound. 15c

some lumbering camp in the deep for-est, the trees bending with their load HEINZ MUSTARD DRESSING. of snow, while their surroundings were indicative of a cold and inhospitable climate. A WRONG IMPRESSION. There is no doubt but Canada has been greatly handicapped by just such scenes and pictures, for an impression once formed of a country through illustrations of its country life can never be thoroughly effaced, even though you multiply volumes descriptive of its true character. But the inhabitants of this valley, now, in this day of marvelous progress and action, when cities are built up and thrive, as Dawson, on the Yu-kon, almost within the Artic circle, when the stream railway train dashes through the ice-bordered passes of the Alaskan Rockies and acres of golden grain are annually harvested in the valleys of the Saskatchewan, wonder why, under the least favorable of conditions, this beautiful country, border-ing on the Great Lakes, was ever considered cold, black and uninhabitable, for the climate here is no colder than the climate of Central Ohio or Indiana, the temperature is seldom much be-low zero, and most of the time, in winter, it is from 10 to 20 degrees above. BEAUTIFUL SCENES.

It is the presence of the snow, perhaps, which gives it a frigid appearance, but snow is a great advantage to any country in this latitude, for when it disappears in the spring under the warm rays of the sun the fields of grain and the meadows come out as fresh and green as the grass of the Emerald Isle, and all nature seems to spring more quickly into life and beauty. And then, as summer comes rapidly on, the tempered breezes from the great inland seas, which nearly surround this portion of Ontario, come ladened with moisture and with showers, and the whole country is soon converted into a paradise of tropical

The valley is traversed by the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways, and its facilities for reaching the home, as well as the foreign markets, with its surplus products are, therefore, of the best. The raising of thoroughbred stock, cattle, sheep and hogs is extensively engaged in, and some of the finest herds and flocks to be found in Ontario are found in this valley. Many breeders in the United States secure their stock here for the replenishing of their herds and flocks, while thousands of head are shipped from here annually to the great sheep ranches in the West and Southwest.

Organization Has Had Successful Year and Outlook for Future Is Bright.

The anniversary meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held last night at Wesley Hall. It was attended by a very large number of the members, and was a most inspiring meeting in every way. The reports, which were presented recorded the splendid work of the association and its more splendid aspirations. They told of well-organized and successful attempts to inculcate in the young women of this city the best principles of life, of endeavors to give this city, as one speaker put it, a fine seriousminded womanhood." But while this spirit was manifested, last night's meeting was noteworthy, in that nearly every one who addressed the members expressed the absorbing thought of the association-the great need of a home, one in which their work may expand and be more effective; one, in short, such as London needs, and will have. This necessity was the dominating feature of the remarsk of the president, Miss Trebilcock, of Miss E. R. Yates, who presented the report of the business department, and of Rev. Dr. Johnston, who reported on the condition of the building fund, which even now amounts to $7,268 85, and this is to be increased $1,000 by a bequest amounting to that sum. The subscriptions to the fund have been generous, and the association workers have the optimistic confidence in ultimate sucworking earnestly and hopefully to-wards that end. The need of a more commodious home was well shown by the report of the general secretary, Miss Stover, who showed that there were at present 306 members. During the months, from October to May, there had been an aggregate attendance of 26,572, an average of 125. Miss B. McGuffin, the treasurer, reported receipts from Oct. 1, 1901, to April 30, 1902, of $705 99, making, with the balance in hand last October, a total of The disbursements totalled $792 59, leaving a balance in hand of Perrin factory and of the "Helena Club, at the fac-tory of the Helena Costume Company, and touched on the work of the junior departments, dealing with the "Vic-toria" and Alexanda" clubs.

The report of the social department was presented by Miss McMillan, and that of the educational department by Mrs. J. W. Jones. The report of the religious work committee, which was read by Mrs. Weld, outlined the various meetings held during each week for devotional purposes.

Apart from the receiving of these gratifying reports, the members enjoy-
