COURTS REJECT GOMPERS APPEAL

With Mitchell and Morrison Must Serve Sentence in Jail.

OR FORFEIT HUGE BAIL

Dramatic Scene When News Reaches American Federation of Labor.

Toronto, Nov. 15 .- A small piece of yellow paper, handed by a telegraph messenger to President Gompers just as the latter was raising his gavel to adjourn the A. F. of L. convention today, turned a listless, apathetic gathering into a tense, united mass and provided the most spectacular ending to any meeting ever held in Massey

The telegram was from the federation's attorney in Washington, who through the day had been arguing before the district court of appeals in an endeavor to get a stay of proceedings, so that President Gompers, Vice-Pres-ident John Mitchell adn Secretary Frank Morrison might appeal to the federal court from the sentences of imprisonment passed on them by the district court of Columbia. It read:
"Darlington agreed to 15 days' extension, but the court refused any extension. The mandate of the court goes down on Saturday morning."

This means that on Saturday morning the three officers of the federa tion must surrender to the court and commence their sentences or forfeit their bail of $12,000. The sentence on Gompers is 12 months; Mitchell 9 months, and Morrison 6 months.

Takes It Coolly. Only Gompers' quaint expression and hearty laugh when he caught sight of Morrison's serious aspect when the telegram was read prevented a demonstration. Instead the convention joined n the laughter, and then applauded "Old Sam" for his grit. But the earnest faces and heartfelt expressions of sympathy and indignation gave evidence that whatever movement there had been for Delegate Max Hays and the secessionist party had disappeared, and that the delegates, Socialists, and all, were with Gompers to a man.

"From now on I vote Socialist," said one young delegate as he gripped John Mitchell's hand. The remark was significant. The sending of the three men o prison has done more to feed the res of class consciousness than all the harangues of the Socialist orators Man after man expressed his indignation with the United States executive that it has stood idly by while their leaders are sent to prison. Already in the eyes of the delegates the three convicted leaders are martyrs. It looks as if 400 delegates are going back from the Toronto convention white-hot with indignation to preach the gospel of class conflict.

Immediately upon receipt of the news, President Gompers, on behalf of himself and colleagues, sent the following telegram to his attorneys in Washington, Messrs, Ralston & Siddon: "Telegram announcing court's reto oxtand time received when we must put in an appearance to save ball bonds. We would like to remain in Toronto until the close of the federation's convention on Saturday evening." But it is not expected that the court will comply with the request President Gompers pointed out that the feeling of the courts towards the stay had been refused even in the face of Attorney Darlington's consent Darlington is counsel for the Bucks Stove Company, of St. Louis. It was he who took out the injunction which resulted in the three labor leaders being sent to prison. If as seems very certain the three officers have to leave for prison while the convention is still sitting, the valelictory proceedings on Friday mornng will be of a memorable character. The three leaders will have to leave before the election of officers is

A Good Attraction.

Theatregoers missed a good play last evening when they passed up "Two Women and That Man." As could be guessed a very small audience greeted the players. The theme is Alaska, and is in every way a strong drama with a direct appeal to the listener. The story can be told in brief space.

Neil McLain, a son of the north, marries a dance hall girl, and settles down in Alaska. A short time after a mining engineer named Dave Kirk, smooth one, wins the woman's affections by promises of a fine time in California, and they elope. She is cast adrift in a short time. In the meantime McLain moves away, and makes love to the daughter of Sam Mixer, the storekeeper, who resents his attentions and turns them both out. They go to McLain's ranch, and while waiting for the minister Neil's and now asked for something more. Sir Wilfrid reminded the House that the question was thoroughly discussed last year, and that a unanimous decision was reached in favor of a Canadian naval scheme. He pointed out that the resolution adopted by the House in form and in substance was similar to that adopted on defence by the colonial conference in 1902, or seven years before. When the resolution of 1908 was agreed to, the Government was then taken to task by a certain section of the Conservative party, who Insisted that Canada should not have navy of her own, but should give a contribution. The same idea prevailed in Austraia, and the Commonwealth made a contribution to help to maintain the squadron in Pacific waters. Time had shown, however, that Canada was right. Australia had decided to contribute no longer, but would organize squadron of her own on her own

Mr. Monk rose and asked if Sir Wilfrid thought it quite fair to discuss the naval question in the House while still keeping the papers dealing with the matter from the House. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was not discussing papers not yet brought down, but the resolution passed by Parliament.

Mr. Monk said it was not customary to speak in Parliament without papers. and Sir Wilfrid Laurier retorted that t was just as fair for him to discuss the matter there as it was for Mr. Monk to discuss it at a public meet

Sir Wilfrid went on, and Mr. Monk again interrupted, but Sir Wilfrid in-sisted that he was not discussing papers not yet brought down, but the resolution passed by Parliament. He said that Mr. Monk in attacking the resolution in Parliament had tried to raise prejudice, and that he, therefore, had a right to speak about it.

That Lachine Speech. Mr. Monk demanded an explanation Sir Wilfrid said that in his Lachine speech Mr. Monk declared that the proposed navy would cost $20,000,000 If that was not an appeal to prejudice, he said what was it? Proceeding, Sir Wilfrid said that Mr. Monk in his speech at Lachine had said that if we were to build a navy we would be drawn into the vortex of European wars. As to that he would say that whether we have a navy or not, we do not lose our right to selfgovernment, and that if we do have a navy, that navy will not go to war unless the Parliament of Canada chooses to send it there. "I remember a time." said Str Wil. "when we had no railways, when we had no public schools, but at the present time we have railways and we we are growing as a nation. We are Canadians, and we have to consider this question, not only from the standpoint of ur status as Canadians, but we have to approach it from the standpoint of our status as British subjects. It is conceivable that the interest of Canada and the interest of the mother country may vary upon some questions; that has happened in the past, and it may happen again. Why Stanfield's Make Underwear

TP to 20 years ago, most everyone considered that all Underwear—no matter how well cut and made—would shrink and harden.

In those days, the makers were working on the wrong idea. They were trying to find a way to finish Underwear so that it would not shrink, instead of trying to find a way to get the shrink out the wool before the yarn went to the knitting machines.

The late C. E. Stanfield—who knew wool as only a man can know it who studies it from the sheep's back to the wearer's back —gave his attention to the problem for years. Living in Nova Scotia, he soon realized that woolen underwear, and the best of pure woolen underwear, was the only kind that would and could protect the Canadian against the rigorous Canadian Winters. He found that as underwear was then made, he could not make woolen underwear that would not shrink, mat and harden. He devoted himself to this problem and after many years of experimenting, he finally discovered a method by which he could take the shrink out of the wool before the garments were knitted.

This method, improved and perfected, has made possible the immense business of Stanfields Limited, with a larger output of their special classes of Underwear than any other factory in Canada.

The Stanfields make underwear today because Canadian people find Stanfield's Underwear the most comfortable, the most durable, and the warmest for its weight. The Stanfields are making more underwear every year because the buying public demands more of it. Popularity is a good test of quality. In 3 standard weights-Light (Red Label), Medium (Blue Label) and Heavy (Black Label) and 17 other weights and qualities to suit the needs and requirements of every man and woman.

most acceptably Mr. Manning's Address. The feature of the evening was an address by Rev. Dr. Manning, of the Dundas Centre Church, who spoke on the teaching of Christ in relation to life and service. Dr. Manning pointed out that everything that Christ taught was of the most permanent nature, and also of the most choice character. Being, he thought, rather than doing, summed up the Master's teaching.
Many people, he said, had the idea that ordinary things they were not accomplishing much. "People truly serve," said the speaker, "who in their home life, their bus- house on Thames street some days ago, iness life or wherever they find them- and are now living on Brydges street, selves do their very best to live right." CAN YOU DO BETTER THAN THIS WITH YOUR CAPITAL?

Huge fortunes have been made out of lumber, and it is well known and conceded both in United States and abroad, that Canada is in a position verging on a monopoly in lumber production.

The Siemon Company, Limited, is amalgamating several successful lumbering concerns which are actually earning sufficient to pay 7 per cent on entire Preference Share Issue, and in addition to the current earnings of the amalgamated firms, the company's Holdings of Timber Limits and Water Power carry conviction of great and valuable returns to the Company in the immediate future, TIMBER LIMITS—

43 VICTORIA STREET.

Besides a most valuable hardwood limit in Ontario, said to be the best in Eastern Canada, the Siemon Company takes over a limit in British Columbia, consisting of 3,538 acres—and estimated to contain 197,000,000 feet of good merchantable timber. Even at present valuation this will equal in value the Company's ENTIRE AUTHOR-IZED CAPITALIZATION. Besides this the natural growth of the timber, and its increase in value, will probably in a few years double its present figures. A reasonable estimate is that in six or seven years the development of the timber limits alone will yield profits equal to as much as 200 per cent on the capital stock.

WATER POWER— Special mention should be made of the great water power on the property, estimated to be capable of developing 12,000 horsepower. Less than 100 miles away is the great city of Vancouver, where power is needed for the large factories and plants. New Westminster is much nearer and more power needed. In fact, within a few years this 12,000 horsepower harnessed up, should be worth $500,000 to the Trouble Over Insulators. The council found itself in difficulty with the customs authorities over the purchase of insulators from the Locke Insulator Company, of Victor, N. Y. This figure was agreed to. The Government investigated and discovered that the usual price for the insulators was $32 per hundred, and according to the anti-damping act, the city would be required to pay duty on the goods at $32 per hundred. The difference amounted to about $145. The matter was referred to Mayor Stevely, Ald. amounted to about $145. The matter was referred to Mayor Stevely, Ald. The Langarth street sewer matter came up, and a petition was presented against the recommendation committee to make the connection with the Cathcart street sewer. Mr. J. C. Judd explained that there had been a misapprehension as to what the committee meant. He had, however, had a talk with those opposed, and had explained it to them. He thought the clause should be passed, and there would be no trouble in obtaining the signatures of those opposed to the proposition when they understood it. The clause was passed. Firemen's Boots.

The tenders for rubber boots were opened, and were awarded to Norval Wanless at $4 per pair. The Gutta Percha Rubber Company was awarded the contracts for rubber coats at $5 50 each, and for 4 hydrant gates at $11 The city engineer was instructed to
