GERMANS CLAIM THE CAPTURE OF 5000 SERBIANS

No Hope in England That Monastir Can Be Held From the Invader.

WHAT ABOUT ITALY?

Russians Beat Back Attack South of Riga and Defending Galicia.

Aeroplane Squadron Attacked British Camp Six Miles From Ypres.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—(By Sayville wireless)—The capture of 5,000 Serbians was announced by the war office to-day.

London, Nov. 19.—The fate of Monastir is not yet known definitely, but there is little hope in England that it will escape the Bulgarians. There is a possibility, however, that the invaders will not dare to make such an extension of their line with the French apparently established solidly on their flank. Left in the lurch as to the actual progress of the Anglo-French campaign in the near east, the British public can only hope the Entente allies will soon have such strong forces there that they will be able to harass Serbians to make a successful stand and preserve a small portion of their country as the Belgians did along the Yser. Some substance is given this hope by unofficial news that the Anglo-French force is now assuming formidable proportions, as well as by hints that Italy is on the verge of actual participation in the Balkan campaign.

The retreat of the Serbians towards the Albanian border is causing increased uneasiness at Athens, but the developments there are interpreted as being not unfavorable to the Entente powers. The British war council has returned from Paris without giving any intimation of the outcome of its deliberations with the French committee, but the public is convinced closer unity will prevail hereafter in the operations of the allied armies and fleets. Little news comes from the eastern front, in addition to the reports that a German attack south of Riga has been repulsed and Austro-German attempts to cross the Styry River in Galicia have been resumed.

AEROPLANE ATTACK.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—(By Sayville wireless)—A German aeroplane squadron made an attack yesterday on the British camp, west of Toperinghe in Belgium, six miles from Ypres, the War Office announced to-day. There were artillery duels yesterday in and near the Argonne and in the Vosges.

Duke Inspected Soldiers.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Montreal, Nov. 19.—The Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada, this afternoon inspected units of the overseas company on the McGill campus and a battery of heavy artillery raised in Montreal by Major Cape, and the First Pioneer Battalion from Winnipeg. His Royal Highness arrived in the city this morning from Ottawa and will return on a special train this evening.

A SUDDEN BURST OF ACTIVITY IN FLANDERS

By Special Wire to the Courier. Rotterdam, Nov. 19.—(In Montreal Gazette)—From several sources news reaches here that a period of particular activity on both sides is suddenly developing on the western front. Certain evidences of liveliness on the part of the Germans in the section of Arras-Armentiers has for a week past suggested that they are preparing for an attempt at a local advance. These preparations would explain the heavy artillery duel, the sound of which has been distinctly heard, even as far east as Antwerp.

KITCHENER BUSY.

By Special Wire to the Courier. SALONIKI, Nov. 18, via Paris, Nov. 19, 4 p.m.—Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, the British secretary of war, today conferred with General Sarrail, commander-in-chief of the French army of the Orient, and left immediately without debarking.

THREW THOUSANDS OF SHELLS

By Special Wire to the Courier. Constantinople Nov. 16, via London (delayed in transmission)—An official statement issued at the Turkish War Office says: "On November 14 the enemy fired thousands of shells against our left wing near Anafarta and Sedul Bahr without important damage. On the 15th the enemy similarly bombarded our right wing and advanced positions in the centre with land and naval guns for five hours. In the meantime the enemy delivered an attack. The left wing of one of our centre regiments was driven back some distance. When the enemy attempted to attack the front of another regiment he reached its advanced trenches, but by cross fire and counter attacks was repulsed from these trenches to his former positions suffering heavy losses."

CANADIAN PROSPECTS OF TRADE WITH THE RUSSIANS

Mr. C. F. Just of the Dominion Trade Department is a Visitor in Brantford—People of the Czar Wish to Stop Buying any Goods From Germans.

Mr. Just, of the Dominion Government Trades and Labor department has been in the city all day at the Board of Trade offices, Court House, and will also be here all day to-morrow to meet the representatives of local manufacturers with regard to the opportunities of trade with Russia. In an interesting interview with a Courier man, he stated that he had just returned from a four months trip to the country named, and had found the people there very anxious to free themselves from purchases in Germany, which the last year prior to the war had totalled some $75,000,000. The Germans have hitherto built up a big hold there through the banks and other financial channels and the Russians are more than anxious to trade with the Allies to the exclusion of the Fatherland. In this regard, a big opportunity was offered for Canada, as the Czar's people are determined to throw off the German incubus. They bought agricultural machinery of all kinds, plows, binders, windmills, etc., wood working machinery, metal machinery, lathes, binder twine, sawmill machinery and so on in an infinite variety. "I think," said he, "that the line of approach should be through co-related industries, who could operate in sending representatives to the half a dozen chief centres, from which the whole matter could be handled. The field is undoubtedly there and the keen desire to oust German articles. It is not a cut market. The main needs would be capacity to deliver and credits slightly larger than is the case with other lands."

A number of Brantford manufacturers called on Mr. Just to-day and many more have signified their intention of doing so to-morrow. Without doubt, much good and advantage will result from his visit here as elsewhere in the Dominion. Susan Dickinson, authoress and Civil War correspondent is dead at Scrant'n. Dr. David J. Fuller of Hendersonville, N.C., who lost a huge fortune in unfortunate investments, died while working as a farm hand. The cry, "Italy is a traitor; long live Austria and Germany," by a man of Teutonic appearance, precipitated a small riot in St. John's Hall, Boston, among a crowd of 7,000 Italians.

FRENCH OFFICIAL

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, Nov. 19.—There has been spirited fighting in Alsace accompanied by throwing of hand grenades, according to the announcement given out this afternoon by the French war office.

Eight German aviators flying over Luneville were pursued by the French aviators. Five of them were driven away, but the others succeeded in throwing down several bombs. Three persons were wounded.

The text of the communication follows: "In Alsace, on the plateau of Uffholtz and at Harman-Wellerkopf, there has been very spirited artillery fighting accompanied by activity from the trench guns as well as the throwing of hand grenades. On the remainder of the front last night passed without incident. "Eight German aviators endeavored to fly over Luneville. French aviators went up in pursuit, and five of the Germans were deflected from their objective. The remaining three threw down a number of bombs on the town. These missiles wounded three persons. The material damage inflicted was unimportant."

PRIVATE STEVENSON KILLED WITH O'NEILLS AND LOWES

One Shell Snuffed Out Life of Four Brantford Lads—Letter From Chaplain to Mr. Lowes and Miss O'Neill Telling How Boys Died.

FROM THE CHAPLAIN. Belgium, Nov. 2nd, 1915.

Dear Mr. Lowes: I am sorry to have to write you on the sad subject of the death of your son, James Henry, of the 19th Battalion. He and three of his comrades were killed by a German shell on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31st. We buried him on Monday afternoon in a military cemetery near where his battalion is quartered. I conducted the funeral service in the presence of a number of his officers and comrades. It may be of some comfort to you to know that your son was cared for in death and lies at rest in a place which will be kept sacred, and a cross with inscription will be erected at once over his grave to mark the spot where lies another loyal son of Canada, fallen in a great and righteous cause. Please accept my sincere sympathy, though I am a stranger to you. Yours truly, R. F. THOMPSON, Capt. Chaplain 4th Batt. Canadians. FROM COMPANY COMMANDER. Belgium, Nov. 3, 1915.

Mr. J. Lowes, 50 Duke Street, Brantford, Ont. Dear Sir—I regret very much to advise you that your son, Pte. J. H. (Continued on page 4.)

SERIES OF MEETINGS ONLY ITALIANS

To Help Recruiting for the 125th Brant Battalion, C.E.F.

In connection with the formation of a Brant County Battalion, it has been decided to at once hold a series of meetings to help with recruiting. The first will take place in the Brant Theatre on Sunday night and the names of those who will address the same will be published in Saturday's paper.

The committee of the Recruiting League having matters in hand have already opened negotiations to obtain other speakers for subsequent meetings as follows: Sam Sanders, the noted labor leader, Hamilton. Col. Sutherland of the 71st Woodstock, who has just returned from the battle front. Col. Towers of the 70th Battalion, London. Rev. (Major) Tolmie, M.P.P., Windsor.

Also two well known lady speakers, Still Neutral. By Special Wire to the Courier.

French Imports.

Paris, Nov. 19.—Figures compiled officially regarding exports and imports show that the food imports of France for the first six months of 1915 were greater by 657,000,000 francs ($137,400,000) than for the same period in 1914, while the value of manufactured goods brought into the country in the half year increased 918,000,000 francs.

A German Observer Says Their Firing Against Gorizia Never Equalled.

TORRENTIAL RAINS

Gen. Cadorna Has Assembled 1500 Guns in a Space of Twelve Miles.

Importance of His Attack Not Thought Of, But Success Would be Blow.

By Special Wire to the courier.

New York, Nov. 19.—The New York World this morning publishes the following copyright despatch from Karl H. Von Wiegand: "With the Austrian army on the Isonzo, Doberdo plateau corps headquarters of Archduke Joseph, November 15 (by courier to Vienna, via Amsterdam, November 18)—The fourth great battle for Gorizia and the commanding heights of the Doberdo plateau, still in the hands of the Austro-Hungarian army under General Borojevic commenced two days ago, and is on in full force and, under weather conditions probably unexampled in any of the other numerous theatres of war."

TERRIFIC FIRING

The day and night cannonade of the concentrated Italian artillery splendidly served, surpasses anything I saw during the June and September offensives on the western front, while at Tarnov and Gorlice, where the Germans and Austrians smashed through the Russian lines by weight of iron and started the Russian steam roller moving backward until it disappeared in the centre of the west Muscovite empire, is declared by those who were there now here, as having been childish play in comparison. "THE HELL."

The Doberdo plateau and a portion of Mont Podgora are called "the hell." They justify the name. Nothing else could give a vague idea of the fighting the conditions under which it is taking place. With the third battle on the Isonzo River lasting over three weeks of uninterrupted fighting from Monfalcons on the Adriatic to Tolmino above Goritz, having brought the Italians no appreciable results. Count Cadorna, the Italian generalissimo, two days ago began a fourth attack against the Doberdo plateau and Goritz. This time instead of a general attack upon General Borojevic's front of eighty kilometers (forty-one miles), along the Isonzo from the Adriatic to Tolmino, Gen. Cadorna is concentrating the greater portion of his (estimated) 1,500 guns and throwing the full weight of his artillery against the Doberdo plateau and the heights around Goritz, on a front not exceeding ten or twelve miles. For two weeks it has rained in torrents. It has rained with but few intervals for the three days I have been on this front so far. In the low places along the Isonzo is a sea of mud. The men of the Austrian army in the front trenches are fighting in water and mud that at times reaches the hips, while the trenches drilled and blasted through rock over the steep heights, during the heaviest downpour are veritable mountain torrents. Into this mess the Italian heavy batteries which include 30, 35 and 38 centimetre (11.8, 13.7, and 14.8 inch) mortars and ship guns, from the flats beyond the Isonzo pour a hail of big shells and shrapnel that give the heights and trenches the appearance of volcanoes. (Continued on Page 4.)

CONSTANTINE RECEIVES THE FRENCH ENVOY

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, Nov. 19.—"Denys Cochin, French Cabinet minister without portfolio, was received at Tenocym by King Constantine," says a Havas despatch from Athens. The conversation lasted an hour. "Both on his way to visit the King and on his return M. Cochin was again the object of enthusiastic demonstrations by the public of Athens. Numerous delegations of various societies called upon him at his hotel to express their gratitude to the eminent advocate of the rights of Hellenism. "M. Cochin leaves to-day for Saloniki on a torpedo boat placed at his disposal by the Greek Government. "In political circles here favorable to the Entente powers, it is hoped that the French cabinet minister's visit will have a beneficial influence on the relations between Greece and the allies."

WITH THE SOLDIERS

The 84th Battalion will march to Paris tomorrow morning, and will be given a hearty reception in that town. They will arrive at about one o'clock on the outskirts of the town and will be met by Mayor Patterson and other citizens in autos. The 25th Brant Dragoons stationed there and the town band will escort the visitors through the town to the rink. There the ladies' committee under Mrs. W. Thompson and Mrs. Felker, will serve coffee, sandwiches and pie.

Owing to the rainy weather, the 84th were excused from outside drill this morning.

The men of the new 125th Brant Battalion made a brave start towards St. George this morning, but because of the very bad condition of the roads, they had to turn back. Consequently they missed the refreshments which the ladies of South Dumfries county had prepared for them.

A pleasant event took place last night when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Convey, 202 Brock street, had a number of friends mainly members of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Mary's unexpectedly drop in on them, to offer congratulations upon the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Rev. Father Padden was among those present.

During the evening the following address was read:

"It is the twenty-fifth anniversary of your wedding day and by our presence here to-night we wish to convey to you in some measure the great regard and high esteem in which you are held by the members of the Ladies' Aid and Society of St. Mary's.

BRITAIN'S WAY IN FIGHTING SUBMARINES

Lokal Anzeiger Discovers Admiralty Issued Orders to Use Neutral Flags.

LIST OF RULES

No Flags at All or Those of Certain Named Neutrals to be Used Near Isles.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 19.—What purport to be the frequently mentioned, but never published British admiralty instructions to the masters of merchant ships regarding the use of neutral flags to escape the submarine menace are printed by Captain Kuehler in The Lokal Anzeiger. The German admiralty referred to these instructions at the outset of the submarine campaign and in the diplomatic correspondence regarding the sinking of the Lusitana.

The first of the regulations as printed by The Lokal Anzeiger, is undated, but apparently was issued at the beginning of the submarine campaign. It takes the form of a telegram from the British admiralty communicable to all ships and is given as follows:

"British shipping is instructed to maintain a sharp watch for submarines and show either the flag of a neutral country or none at all so long as the ship is in the vicinity of the British Isles. The British flag must be shown on meeting British or allied warships. House flags must not be carried and marks such as name and home port must be effaced.

"Flags which should be used according to the above are the following: American, Italian, Scandinavian and Holland."

THE SECOND ORDER

The second document is a decree of "commander-in-chief Devonport" dated March 15, which reads:

"Confidential. Carrying neutral flags. Use of false names.

"Neutral flags: Ships upon long voyages and upon regular voyages about the United Kingdom shall be equipped with neutral flags if they carry a valuable cargo. The neutral flags shall be carried according to route as follows:

"Route, Bristol channel and southern part of the Irish channel, Norwegian, Greek or Italian flag.

"Route Liverpool, Glasgow and Northern part of Irish channel, Spanish or Norwegian flag.

"Route eastern coast, south of King's Head, Scandinavian or south of Hartlepool, the flag of Holland or Spain.

"Crossing the channel, no flag shall be shown."

Other documents explaining the international propriety of using neutral flags or otherwise disguising ships and using the shelter of the neutral mile zone, bear less directly upon the subject except a paragraph of so-called confidential instructions from the British admiralty also issued in March, 1915, directing British ships to make every effort to escape because they would be sunk in any case and the crew, even if the vessel were torpedoed, would have time to take to the boats under most circumstances.

These instructions are reported to contain this order:

"If a submarine comes to the surface ahead, and in the vicinity of openly hostile intentions, steer directly at it with the highest speed and keep changing the course so that the submarine always is dead ahead."

NO DEVONPORT KNOWN.

No man named Devonport is mentioned in the British navy list. It is possible the person referred to as "commander-in-chief Devonport" may be Lord Devonport, chairman of the port of London authority.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IS CONSTIPATED

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish breath bad, or doesn't coo or chatter heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "intestinal cleansing" is sometimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a genuine bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

A serious riot occurred a few days ago on board a ship in Belfast harbor. The boat had come from America with horses for the army. Besides the crew there were a large number of horse attendants, all colored. The men had been ashore drinking and when they came aboard started to "do in" the second engineer, against whom they had an imaginary grievance. It was going hard by the engineer when the officer in charge of the military defenses of the dock came to his aid. The officer threatened the men with his revolver, but the crowd produced revolvers and missiles of all kinds and started firing. The noise brought armed police on the scene and a regular battle took place. A number were wounded on both sides, but finally the police quelled the mob and arrested the ringleaders.

One session of the war council in Paris this week was held at the foreign office, and another, presided over by President Poincare, at Elysee Palace. In addition, also, several members of the French and British committees had long consultations apart. Premier Asquith, who is acting temporarily as war secretary conferred with the French war minister, General Gallieni, A. J. Balfour, first lord of the British admiralty, with Admiral Lacaze, French minister of marine; Premier Briand, who is in charge of the French portfolio, with Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary, and Albert Thomas, French under secretary of war for munitions, with David Lloyd George, British munitions secretary. It is understood that an understanding has been arrived at in regard to various subjects, and energetic action is expected to result.

To The Editor

A QUERY? Brantford, Nov. 19, 1915. To the Editor of the Courier: Dear Sir—Would you be kind enough to inform me whether the petition which is now being circulated in favor of retaining the open bar becomes public property after it is presented to the council?

The Situation. The Bulgarians still continue their advance despite the valiant efforts of the Serbs who are vastly over-matched in numbers, but are fighting with a valor and pertinacity fully equal to that of the Belgians when they first so heroically withstood the German war machine, at the commencement of hostilities and saved to the Allies priceless days. The record of these two peoples at this period will rightly live and be extolled in all history.

Why not trust the people? No petition represents the entire electorate and it is not wise to give the entire electorate an opportunity to say what they think? When on Jan. 3rd the people say we do or do not want the bars, the matter is settled. Why a petition? Let the entire electorate settle this matter.

CHURCH UNION VOTE IN HAMILTON. Brantford Nov. 18 1915. To the Editor of the Courier: Dear Sir—In the first five of the Presbyterian congregations to vote on Church Union in the city of Hamilton, namely St. John, Central, Knox, Calvin and St. Paul's, majorities have been given against the Union Movement. It seems certain now that this city as a whole will vote against union as the churches above referred to, have all changed materially since the last vote was taken. The majority against the movement thus far is in the neighborhood of seven hundred.

Mayor Mitchell of New York underwent a successful operation for appendicitis. A song at the University of Pennsylvania, sung for many years, advising everyone to "drink a highball at nightfall," has been banned. Lieut. John W. Barnett of Berkeley, Cal., with the British army, was killed within a day of the time-limit he set on his life in a letter to a friend.

Finger prints convicted a monkey of thefts in Bronx Zoo monkey house where the culprit is let loose to play with the children. Mr and Mrs Finley J. Shepherd of White Plains, who adopted an unknown boy, making him heir to millions, have announced that they intend adopting another boy.

The tragedies of war have been brought severely home to many Canadian households, but in no instance more vividly than in connection with the fact that four men who enlisted from this city, should have been killed by one shell. Two of them were brothers, who were great chums in life, and who in death were not divided. Ptes. Lowes, Percy O'Neill, Vernon O'Neill and Sutherland met death together as men. They gave all that they had, even to life itself, for the empire's sake, and in the example of these heroes should be an incentive to all the rest of us to face the burdens, in whatever direction they may lie, in this time of stress.

A Good Move. The acquisition of the old post-office building for ultimate use as a city hall, will, the Courier believes, receive the commendation of citizens generally. The structure, although erected as far back as 1879, was built in a most solid manner, with the best of stone and other material, and it is to-day a building good for a long number of years. There is adequate space within its walls for the various departments now cramped in the disgraceful object which mars the market block, and a large council chamber can also be easily accommodated.

This paper has previously expressed the view that to spend $100,000 or $150,000 on a new city building would be a mistake, in view of the opportunity which has now been taken. All told, civic officials do not constitute a very large number, and the old time reason for a hall as a meeting place does not now exist. Brantford now possesses many theatre and other structures capable of accommodating large gatherings, and a half dozen meetings could easily take place at one time if necessary.

The members of the buildings and grounds committee, in whose charge the negotiations were placed leading to so successful an issue were Aid. S. P. Pitcher, (chairman), Aid. R. Welsh, Aid. T. E. Ryerson, Aid. W. Bragg, and Aid. Geo. L. Jennings. When the time comes to vacate the present civic nightmare, there is only one thing which should be done, and that is to tear it down. Then the whole matter of an improved market should be taken up in a business like manner, and without any more nonsensical delay.

Sheriff Miller of Griffin, Ind., was held up in Chicago and found himself without a revolver. President Wilson's plan for a larger army will mean that 1,500,000 men can be easily mobilized. President Wilson has ordered that Assistant Postmaster Burkitt, of Winnetka, Ill., who was dismissed because he criticized the president's coming marriage, be reinstated.

AUSTRIANS FINE FIGHTERS. The bravery and unbelievable endurance of the troops under the leadership of the Austrians in the series of operations which I have seen certainly the idea, so widespread abroad, that Austrians and Hungarians do not fight their best unless Germans are among them, has to be revised here. So far I haven't seen a German, not even an officer or observer, and I have particularly kept my eyes open for them.

The importance of the Austro-Hungarian-Italian front in the series of world wars appears to be greatly underestimated generally, especially the possible developments and bearing on the general situation of the Central powers should General Cadorna succeed in breaking through the Austrian front and take Goritz and Trieste.

Pte. Stevenson (Continued from Page 1) Lowes, No. 56159, was killed in action Oct. 31, 1915, and was given a fitting burial, attended by a Protestant minister, an officer and party of his friends. The grave has been marked and a cross will be put up so that the grave can be identified. The grave will be looked after by our battalion, and should we leave here by the battalion that relieves us.

Your son was a splendid soldier and we were all very fond of him. He died like a hero. He did not sulk as it was instantly accepted with my deep sympathy as well as that of the whole battalion. Any further information you want will be gladly furnished. A complete record of the cemetery is on file with the war dept, and full details will be furnished when the war is over.

Yours faithfully, F. J. Buchanan, O.C. C Co'y.

TO MR. WHITTAKER. Somewhere in Belgium. October 18, 1915. My Dear Jim: No doubt you think I have forgotten all my Brantford friends, but such is not the case, especially you. I often think of you all, and the good times we have had together, and am looking forward when I shall return and have a few more of the life in the trenches is rather exciting at times, but not nearly so as we expect to have. I have not had my clothes off since leaving England. You see me getting all the time. Our battalion is again in the firing line. Our company is in reserve. This part of the line was taken by the Princess Pats regiment. Our line about here is about 100 yards from the Germans. Between these two lines are

I saw one headless body while out with our boys working repairing trenches. We can see bodies of French soldiers whom I suppose have been there for some time. I am sorry I cannot tell you any more about the firing line. If I did, the censors would not let it go through. But believe me, it is awful. I am enclosing you a photo of yourself which I have carried since leaving Brantford, as you know you were my dearest friend. I thought you would like to keep it as a souvenir, as it has been in the trenches with me. Besides, it is the only way I can get a souvenir to you, as they won't let us send any from here. No doubt you have seen by the Brantford papers that we have lost some of the boys from Brantford. Our Major, Bert Newman and captain, had a very narrow escape, our C. S. M. was killed by a bomb. I was cutting one of our boys' hair and talking about Brantford and the old barber shops, about 25 feet from the spot when the bomb fell. Gee, I was lucky. Eh, wasn't it? At this time we were in the most advanced part of the line. How is the opera house coming along. Wish you all kinds of luck. A box for me when I return. Remember me to all.

MACHINE SHOP NO. 4 AND CRANES WHICH SAVED GUNS. While the flames were at their height in the great fire which destroyed the big machine shop of the Bethlehem Steel Company, at South Bethlehem, Pa., the electric travelling cranes on the main floor were operated to remove as many of the eight hundred guns in the building as possible. Two hundred finished guns for the Allies were saved in this manner, as well as much unfinished artillery. Nearly one thousand machines, however, together with the tools of the workmen, are a total loss. The fire caused a loss of $2,000,000, and greatly delays deliveries to the Allies.

A PRESENTATION

A very pleasant time was spent on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Howison, Greenwich St., who entertained ladies to the number of twenty-five in honor of Mrs. Murdoch Ross, who is shortly to leave for her former home in Scotland. A most interesting feature of proceedings was the reading of an address by Mrs. McClintock and the presentation of a suitable gift to Mrs. Ross, who in an unobtrusive way has endeared herself to many friends during her sojourn here. After the serving of an excellent repast by the hostess, and the singing of "God bless you till we meet again," adieus were said to Mrs. Ross with best wishes for bon voyage.

THE PROBS

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The disturbance which was re-developing in the southwest yesterday morning, is now centered over Michigan as a severe storm. Heavy gales are blowing over the Great Lakes attended by rain, and the outlook is very stormy for the east.

FORECASTS:

Gales shifting to west and north-west, rain to-day, turning in some localities to light snow. Saturday—Strong northwest to west winds, local snow flurries, but mostly fair and a little colder.

With the City Police

The police court held a longer session this morning, the half dozen cases taking considerable time. Three foreign women were accused and found guilty of the theft of coal from coal cars on the G.T.R. tracks. Kornela Slugotski was fined $13.00, Amella Kosta $21.10 and Vasil Krevoc $17.35. Berg'n, a billed man was fined $10 and costs for his spouse, Pennypacker of Pennsylvania, at seventy-two years, has learned to write with his left hand.

AT THE BRANT.

Packed houses were at the brant yesterday to see the 4th episode of "The Goddess." Rarely has such a serial picture taken such a hold on an audience as does this fine film from the practised hand of Gouverneur Morris. The other pictures are good, while the vaudeville is above the mark. The Hughes Musical Trio, Nick and Lydia Russell in novelty piano, singing and whistling made a decided hit. Gardner and Revers did a variety turn, about the best ever shown here.

Electric Pump Necessary to Take It Out—Y. M. C. A. Troubled Same Way.

Ever since the construction of the new public building, there has been more or less trouble with water in the basement, in fact so much so that an electric pump has been constantly in use. This morning, in addition to the pump, it was found necessary to take out over one hundred pails of water from the bottom of the elevator shaft. The Y. M. C. A. and other premises have also had a like experience, and it began to look as if there was a leak somewhere in the water main along Dalhousie street. If so, the remedy will prove an expensive job.

COLLEGIATE BOYS ORGANIZE HIGH SCHOOL CLUB

Officers Elected Last Evening in the Y.M.C.A. and Society Started.

A "FOSSILS" CLUB

High School Club Movement Rapidly Spreading in This Country.

The fifteen leading boys of the Collegiate Institute met at the organization of the high school club in the Y. M. C. A. last evening, and pledged themselves to stand behind a campaign in the school for "clean living, clean speech and clean athletics."

They will also help the National Boys League, which is to run a campaign next week from Monday to Thursday, Nov. 22 to 25th inclusive.

This is for the purpose of raising money for boys' work throughout the Dominion, and is the first practical effort launched along the line of the club's motto, "Help the other fellow."

These leading students held a council of war and elected the following officers for their high school club:

President—A. Kelly.
Vice-President—Geo. Hurley.
Secretary—Treas.—J. Hurley.
Division Leaders—

A.—F. Pinnel and S. Phelps.
B.—O. Harris and W. Moffat.
Membership Committee for groups: A.—F. Pinnel, S. Phelps, L. Buckingham and J. Little.
B.—O. Harris, W. Moffat, L. Avery, R. Deagle, T. Truss.

A new group called the "Fossils Club," was organized. This is composed of all who have graduated from the High School, and were former members of the H. S. club.

The members will meet with the boys, but will form a separate group of their own.

The first supper will be held next Tuesday evening at 6.15, and will be followed by an address by Rev. G. A. Woodside of Zion Presbyterian church. All who heard Mr. Woodside's lecture last year will not miss this one.

INFLUENCE IS FELT.

The influence of the High School Club Movement, which has taken such a grip all over the country in the last year is being felt in every province of the Dominion. Perhaps the most glowing and encouraging reports have come from principals and teachers who have quickly recognized the different moral attitude of their boys from mental, physical and social standpoints. They have traced the cause to the High School club work. This influence is due to the stimulus of every boy standing for clean sports, clean speech and clean living.

The National Boys' Campaign will be inaugurated in the city on Monday next in the Y. M. C. A., B. C. I., and in many organized Sunday school classes. Every city in the Dominion is taking an active part in this work.

The Y. M. C. A. has sixteen representatives serving with its Majesty's overseas forces, and owing to the unprecedented expenses, other outlets were curtailed. The importance of the work with the coming Canadians makes it imperative that the work of organization should be continued in every city, town and rural community.

To make this possible, the boys themselves are each asked, if working, to give one day's wages, and if at school, the equivalent to be earned by the boy in spare time.

Shares in the future Canadian Manhood are issued in the form of small booklets and through this medium the boys are intending to raise the necessary amount of $5,000.

The boys are showing much enthusiasm over this practical opportunity of carrying out the Boys' Club motto of "Help the Other Fellow."

They aim to place Brantford first by the end of next week.

It is expected that every citizen will consider this opportunity of helping to bring the best influences to bear on young Canada in this, the habit-forming period of every boy's life.

Music and Drama

"THE WHITE FEATHER" HERE NEXT SATURDAY.

The matinee and evening of Saturday next, Nov. 20, has been marked off the theatrical calendar for the presentation at the Grand Opera House of Lechmere Worrall and J. E. Hauid Terry's tremendous success, "The White Feather." It was first produced at the Royal Theatre, London, 14 months ago, and is still playing to crowded houses, for it is a wonderfully interesting play of exceptional timely quality. It shows a vivid conflict of resourcefulness between the British War Office and members of the German secret service, who are seeking to form a coast raid by submarines. The efforts to thwart this contemptible attack are conducted along novel lines, and one of the other of the contending players in the desperately risky game is momentarily almost within reach of his desired goal, and dramatic climaxes of unusual strength are developed. An all English company of players, picked from the leading theatres of London and Manchester, has been specially brought over from the other side by William A. Brady, Limited, who directs the Canadian tour. This is not a moving picture.

GERMANS ESSENTIALLY BRUTAL PEOPLE SAYS REV. NELSON

Entertaining and Eloquent Address Last Night at St. Andrew's Church by Hamilton Pastor— "Kaiser is Beelzebub", the Strong Man Armed.

Last night at St. Andrew's church, a good-sized audience turned out to hear Rev. Dr. Nelson of Hamilton lecture on "The Heart of Germany." Dr. Nelson is an eloquent and at times fiery speaker, but his chief charm lies in his delightful Irish accent, which, as a native of Ireland he has retained though far from the land of his birth for many years.

MANITOBA'S FIRST LOCOMOTIVE

ON the 9th day of October, thirty-eight years ago, the first blast of a locomotive whistle ever heard in Winnipeg foreboded the doom of Red River cart trails, flatboats and steamboats in transportation between Manitoba and Minnesota.

LANDING OF CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY (See LOCOMOTIVE No. 1, and TRAIN of 6 FLAT CARS AND VAN IN WINNIPEG, JUNE 1877)

On each of its four "shoulders" are the maker's plates, bearing in a circle the lettering "Baldwin Locomotive Works, Phila." and within the circle in three horizontal lines "1872, M. Baird & Co., No. 2460." On each side of the cab, "C. P. R. No. 1," appear in yellow and similarly on the tender "Countess of Dufferin."

The engine was so named by Joseph Whitehead in token of its having been inspected by the Countess of Dufferin in the fall of 1877, when she accompanied her famous lord, then governor-general, on a visit to the northwest.

According to the "Manitoba Free Press" of Oct. 9, 1877. "At an early hour this morning, wild, unearthly shrieks from the river announced the coming of the steamer Selkirk, with the first locomotive ever brought into Manitoba; and about 9 o'clock the boat steamed past the Assiniboine. A large crowd of people collected upon the river banks, and, as the steamer swept past the city, mill whistles blew furiously, and bells rang out to welcome the iron horse."

At Crooked Rapids considerable difficulty was met with and from daylight till three o'clock yesterday afternoon was occupied in passing that dangerous locality. The Selkirk could have reached here in the evening, but as Mr. Whitehead, desiring to run into Winnipeg in daylight, had the boat tied up for the night at LeMay's and steamed down this morning.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET OF BRANT AVENUE ADULT BIBLE CLASS

The Junior Adult Bible Class of Brant Avenue Methodist church, held their annual Banquet in the lecture room of that church with about seventy five in attendance, including the teachers and officers of the Sunday School.

The Sunday school, and the much-loved teacher, Mr. E. Sweet, also contributed short addresses. Viola solos by Miss Marjorie Jones and vocal solos by Miss Gladys Garvin accompanied by Mr. Lloyd Dymond, interspersed during the evening, after which the singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

Women at Work.

As the result of Mr. Lloyd George's recent cablegram to the British Women's National Service meeting, in which he pointed out that there was room for many more women workers in munition factories, the Women's Branch of National Service has received a number of applications from women anxious to help the country by doing war work.

While the Countess enjoys precedence as the first engine to arrive at Winnipeg, but on the St. Boniface side, to work on the construction of the Pembina branch, the honor of being the first locomotive to steam into Winnipeg fell to the "John Haggart," which came across the Red River on rails laid on the ice in December, 1879, to be employed on the contract of John Ryan & Co. for the construction of the first 100 miles of the C. P. R. west of Red River.

The steamer Selkirk arrived at Pembina with three barges, having on board a locomotive and tender, a caboose and six platform cars. In charge of Mr. Joseph Whitehead, contractor on the C. P. R. The pioneer locomotive was hailed by the settlers with the wildest excitement and greatest enthusiasm, especially as Mr. Whitehead had steam up on his engine, and notified the inhabitants that the iron horse was coming by the most frantic shrieks and snortings.

"The Selkirk was handsomely decorated for the occasion with Union Jacks, Stars and Stripes, banners with the familiar 'C. P. R.' and her own bunting; and with the barge conveying the locomotive and cars ahead of her, also gallily decorated with flags and evergreens and a barge laden with railway ties on each side, presented a novel spectacle. The whistles of the locomotive and the boat continued shrieking till three o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the mill whistles joined in the chorus, the bells clanged—a young lady, Miss Racine, pulling manfully at the ropes—and the continuous noise and din proclaimed loudly that the iron horse had arrived at last. Shortly after landing three cheers were given for Mr. Joseph Whitehead, and in a few minutes a crowd swarmed on board and examined the engine most minutely. The caboose and flat cars, which also came in for their share of attention, each bear the name 'Canadian Pacific' in white letters. After remaining a couple of hours, during which she was visited by many hundreds, the Selkirk steamed to a point below Point Douglas ferry, where a track had been laid to the water's edge, on which it was intended to run the engine this afternoon.

"In yesterday's issue an account was given of a trip to and reception at Pembina. Leaving there the boat had to proceed slowly, the broad low rendering the greatest caution necessary to prevent grounding. The tow, too, was difficult to handle, but Capt. Holmes and his officers brought it through without the slightest mishap.

Women at Work.

Lady Scott, the widow of the explorer, completed three months of labor on Saturday evening in the munition works at Erit. She leaves her home in Buckingham Palace Road every morning at six o'clock to be on duty at seven. There she remains till six o'clock at night.

"I am simply helping," she told a press representative, "because I want to be of service in some way. I am in the electrical department, and have to wind electric coils. I am the only woman in my department, where there are forty workers, and of course I take the same hours as they. We have half an hour for breakfast, from half-past eight till nine, and we knock off again from one till two for dinner. We have been free on Sunday hitherto, but I understand that we shall soon be at work on Sundays also. Even so," she added, "I would not miss my work for the world."

While the Women's Branch is glad to assist women in obtaining war work in Mr. Lloyd George's new Department of State, its main object is to see a fair, just system of National Service replace the present unjust, haphazard voluntary system. With this in view they are obtaining signatures for a huge Women's Manifesto on this question.

"The minority of Georgia Legislature got Prohibition members drunk to prolong filibuster against Prohibition bills is charge of an anti-saloon official.

Mrs. Vaughn Smith Hall a member of the original "Floradara Sextette" has been left the major portion of a $,000,000 estate by the will of her husband, Isaac Albert Hall.

Judge Lindsey, of Denver's juvenile court, was fined $50 and costs for contempt by Judge John A. Perry. The case grew out of Judge Lindsey's refusal to disclose information in the trial of Mrs. Berta Wright on charge of murder.

The fashionable homes of Harry F. Guggenheim and William E. Lewis, Great Neck, L.I. were entered by burglars, who were masked, and armed and a total of more than $4000 was obtained.

James Fitzpatrick, New York, received a knife wound yesterday which punctured his left lung, but knew nothing about it until physicians at the Post Graduate Hospital told him 14 hours later.

Tina Lerner Bachner, the noted Russian pianiste, fled quit for divorce in the Reno District Court, charging cruelty and desertion. The defendant, Louis J. Bachner, is in Berlin.

SHARP ADVANCE BY ALLIES IN DARDANELLES FIGHTING

Nearly 300 Yards of Trenches Taken From the Turks on Monday Aided by Three Warships—Troops May Withdraw From Gallipoli.

London, Nov. 19.—The British army at the Dardanelles has resumed the offensive and captured 280 yards of Turkish trenches. Official announcement was made that the 52nd Division had successfully attacked the Turks in the Krithia Nullah, near the tip of the peninsula. It captured 160 yards of trenches to the east of the defile and 120 yards to the west.

Simultaneously with the announcement came the statement in the House of Lords by Baron Ribblesdale that the 52nd Division had successfully attacked the Turkish trenches on November 15, for which careful preparations had been in progress for a considerable time.

Three mines were exploded successfully under the enemy's trenches in the neighborhood of the Krithia Nullah at three p.m., and the infantry pushing forward immediately afterward, captured about 160 yards of trenches on the east of the Nullah and 120 yards on its west. The captured trenches were at once consolidated and bombing parties pushed on up to the communicating trenches and erected barricades.

THREE WARSHIPS ASSIST
"Simultaneously with the assault, our artillery opened on the enemy's reserve support trenches, two 14-inch monitors and H.M.S. Edgar (cruiser) co-operating and maintained their fire until the position was reported consolidated at about six p.m.

"The enemy's batteries replied heavily but very erratically, and did little damage. The Turks in the neighboring trenches, who fired heavily, were caught by machine gun and rifle fire and bombs, and suffered considerably, their fire becoming very wild.

"No attempt at a counter-attack was made until the night of November 16-17, when it was easily repulsed. Our casualties were under fifty killed and wounded. Over seventy dead were seen in the captured position and a number of prisoners reported that over thirty were buried by the explosion of one mine.

"The units employed were portions of the 4th and 7th Royal Scots, the 7th and 8th Scottish Rifles and the Ayrshire Yeomanry, all of the 15th Brigade."

MONRO URGES WITHDRAWAL
Baron Ribblesdale said in the House of Lords yesterday, in addressing a question to the Marquis of Lansdowne, that he understood Lieutenant-General Sir Charles C. Monro commander of the British expedition at the Dardanelles, had reported in favor of the withdrawal of the British army at the Dardanelles.

The Marquis of Lansdowne announced the Government asked Earl Kitchener to visit the eastern Mediterranean because, in his opinion, the report of Sir Charles Monro and the evidence accompanying it did not seem sufficient to enable the Government to come to a conclusion upon the great questions of policy involved. The announcement of the Marquis of Lansdowne was made in response to Baron Ribblesdale's question whether General Monro favored the withdrawal of the British army from the Dardanelles.

BONAR LAW HOPEFUL.
"Two topics have been raised which are not pleasant to think of, talk about, namely, the position of Serbia and the Dardanelles," said Andrew Bonar Law, the Colonial Secretary, speaking on the third reading of the finance bill in the House of Commons this evening.

Mr. Bonar Law did not agree that the public should be taken into the Government's confidence at the present time. With respect to Serbia, whatever criticisms there might be, he would not say a word on the subject, which could not be judged unless all the facts were known, and most certainly, in his judgment, it would not be wise to tell all the facts.

Despite what was happening in the Near East, he would say, however, that he was more hopeful than he had been for many months, and looking at the tendency of the whole war, things were not going so badly as they would seem to be.

With regard to the Dardanelles, there was no one who felt more strongly than he did the serious position there, and the House might be assured that in what the Government was doing or was intending to do it would not be influenced by the idea that, having made a mistake, it was going to see it out. The Government would be influenced solely by the best military opinion—could get, and believed that that was the wisest course.

TEN MAJOR LEAGUERS TEMPTED BY FEDERAL

New York, Nov. 18.—New raids for organized baseball players have been launched secretly by the Federals during the past week. The purpose of the raids is to secure some satellites in organized baseball for the purposes of having them illuminate the club that the Federals will place in New York next season.

Up to the present time substantial offers have been made to ten of the leading players in the American and National Leagues, and it is said that at least five of them will make the hurdle before spring.

The Kansas City franchise declared forfeited will be transferred to New York.

The manager for the New York team has not been selected yet. Christy Mathewson of the Giants, whose usefulness as a pitcher is about over, is being given a lot of consideration by the Fed. officials.

John McGraw is Best Paid Pilot

Rat Moran, manager of the Philadelphia National League champions, who received a nominal salary this year, has made a demand for a substantial increase. The officials of the club have no shown any inclination to talk business with him. Moran may have received $5,000 for his services this year. Stallings who landed the Braves in second position, got a salary of $12,000. The Evening Sun estimates the salaries of the other managers as follows:

- Robinson, of the Superbas, $1,000.
- Bresnahan, Cubs, $10,000.
- Herzog, Cincinnati Reds, $7,000.
- Clarke, of the Pirates, $10,000.
- Huggins, of the Cardinals, $8,000.
- McGraw, Giants, $20,000.
- Carrigan, of the Red Sox, $7,500.
- Jennings, of the Tigers, $10,000.
- Rowland, White Sox, $6,000.
- Griffith, Washington, in addition to being a stockholder, $10,000.
- Ponovan, Yankees, $5,000.
- Rickey, Browns, $5,000.
- Fohl, Cleveland, $5,000.
- Connie Mack, a half owner in the Athletics is said to be on the club's annual salary list for $20,000.

An apple tree has blossomed for the second time this year in an orchard at Ferndown. The exceptional climate was also shown this year in the picking of a second raspberry crop. Ferndown is a little Dorsetshire village about four miles from Bournemouth.

MACHINE GUN FOUND IS FOR MACHINE GUNS

Government Announces That Money Raised Will be Thus Used.

All Future Purchases Will be Made by Government and No Subscriptions Wanted.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Further information was obtained yesterday in regard to the acceptance by the Government of machine gun contributions, which will clear up the uncertainty which has existed in many quarters as to the status of the whole matter. The Government's attitude toward this question, stated briefly, is, first, that money already subscribed for machine guns will be earmarked for that purpose, and, secondly, that no future subscriptions for machine guns are desired.

As regards the use of past subscriptions for the quick-firers for the purposes for which they were given, Sir Robert Borden's position has already been made clear. In a recent speech, delivered in St. John, he stated that money subscribed for machine guns would be used to buy machine guns.

This applies to funds already collected for this purpose. As regards all future purchases of the weapons in question, they will be made by the Government itself. Any movement which may now be made to raise subscriptions will have as their objects, it is hoped by the Government, other purposes than the purchase of machine guns.

It is understood that the manner in which past subscriptions for the guns will be actually devoted to such purposes and that a like amount of public funds, which would in the ordinary course have been reserved for expenditure on these objects, will be set aside for other patriotic activities in connection with the war, such as relief funds and the like.

WHAT IS TO BECOME OF BARROW'S LEAGUE?

There appeared to be a ray of hope for the International League when President Barrow's scouts reported favorably on Hartford, Conn., and Springfield, Mass., as likely "looking places" for the league. Mr. Barrow went out to San Francisco to attend the minor league convention, and to endeavor to get Hartford and Springfield away from the Eastern Association. But the stiff opposition of Tim Murnane of the Eastern. Tim was backed up by Jim O'Rourke, who is a New England baseball czar.

They told Mr. Barrow that the International League couldn't have the territory it sought as the Eastern Association proposed to operate the Hartford and Springfield franchises itself. Now the question is, What is the Barrow wheel going to do with Harrisburg and Richmond? They are both "dead-end mackerel" as far as the International is concerned.

The talk of the International invading Hamilton and Ottawa both of which clubs were losers financially in the Canadian League last season, is merely Stove League fuel. At that Hamilton would be an improvement on Harrisburg or Richmond. But there is a difference between supporting a Class B team and a Class AA outfit.

The pesky Federals have asserted their intention of going right ahead as usual next season, and are already showing much activity in the field again and exert the same baneful influence over the Barrow circuit as heretofore, it's "International League, good night!" Nobody would welcome baseball peace more fervently than the International magnates.

At a recruiting meeting in Belfast a few days ago, the recruiting secretary for Ulster said that the contribution required for Ireland was 1100 men per week. He thought Ireland had more men than that. They represented one-tenth of the population and were being asked to contribute only one twenty-seventh of the weekly contribution of recruits. It was frequently but quite erroneously stated that Ireland was a country of old men. The census showed that the males between twenty and forty years of age were 14.8 of the population, against 14.9 in Scotland and 15.5 in England.

Women's Institute

BURTH BRANCH.

The Burch Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Russell Hartley on October 26th. The president, was in the chair, and after the usual opening exercises, Mrs. Russell Hartley read a letter of interest. After which a discussion was held on how to assist the Red Cross Society. The decision was to the effect that we have a pint jam or jelly shower with price of one pound of butter. Mrs. McIntyre opened the programme with an excellent address on "The Care of Winter Plants." Mrs. Willar's Poss rendered very sweetly the solo, "Will Never Let the Old Flag Fall." Miss Edith Buckwell gave a recitation "Canadian Born," followed by a reading from Tennyson by Miss Minnie McIntyre. Miss K. Haviland favored the audience with a solo and Mrs. Haynes gave a splendid talk on "Patriotism." At the close all joined heartily in singing God Save the King. All enjoyed the usual social hour. The next gathering will be in the church in the form of a Historical meeting. The roll call will be answered on slips of paper containing some historical facts about our victory. The programme will be in the hands of Mrs. David Campbell and Miss Rattagay.

ECHO PLACE.

Echo Place Woman's Institute met Nov. 18th, at the home of Mrs. C. Edmondson, President Mrs. Burke in the chair. The programme was singing "O Canada," Miss Nellie Edmondson presiding at the piano.

Secretary Mrs. Barnes then read the minutes of the last meeting, the minutes having the approval of the ladies. Mrs. Burke, who was our delegate to the Provincial Convention in Toronto, gave an excellent report of the same. Mrs. Burke tells us that the new technical school in which the convention was held, is capable of instructing two thousand four hundred pupils, in it there is a laundry and kitchen, dress making and millinery department. Through the kindness of our delegate we learn that there were eight hundred and sixty institutes in Ontario and thirty thousand members.

Since the beginning of the war the Institutes have sent forty-two thousand dollars to the Red Cross in cash besides all they have done in the line of sewing and jalls and sox.

Mrs. Burke tells us the keynote from all Institutes seems to be the home, their object seems to be to improve the home and home influences. We were told that the world is looking to the Institutes for help in the uplift of mankind. Some institutes are giving instruction in home nursing and first aid. Special attention should be given to boys and girls to keep them in their own home, or they will go elsewhere. The old fashioned idea that a little wholesome discipline is good for a child still holds good, as the idea was advanced at the convention that ignorant mothers were spoiling their children by too much indulgence.

The delegates had the privilege of hearing from a returned soldier, just how much their gifts were appreciated by the soldiers at the front. He said that our men were fighting for civilization, that, although the cost was heavy, victory must come.

Magazine clubs, providing good reading, were thought to be necessary for a good social life.

We learned that from our Ontario Institutes alone thirteen thousand five hundred and fourteen pairs of socks had been made for the soldiers. A portion of the time was devoted to the discussion of school fairs. We hear there are forty-eight thousand school children being provided with seed by the Government and that six thousand eggs had been distributed. They thought Women's Institutes should try to make the school fairs a success. The Institute feel that they have chosen well when they sent Mrs. Burke as a delegate.

A paper on "entertainment of young people in the home" was read by one of the members.

Miss Ivy Cornell delighted the ladies with a piano solo.

Miss Gilkinson gave an interesting address taking for her subject the first railroad built from Niagara Falls to Windsor first known as the Great Western. We learned from this address that the charter was granted in 1834. In 1837 the government granted two hundred thousand pounds towards its construction. Mr. E. Johnson was the engineer employed. In 1845 all shareholders had to pay one per cent on their shares or lose them. On Saturday Oct. 23 1847 the first sod for the new railroad was turned at London. This was the occasion of great rejoicing and the people of this then busy little city proclaimed a holiday. The city was decorated with salutes were fired, a parade was arranged for and the big fellows feasted in the main hotel in the evening. We think we are progressive but we learn that sixty-eight years ago they knew how to do things. Col. McNab president of the railway started proceedings. Captain Wilson led the procession. Four or five thousand people enjoyed the holiday in London that day. Col. McNab was found to be the oldest person on the grounds he being born on that spot fifty-five years before.

fore. The honor of turning the first sod for the new line was Mr. Fairbot's. In the evening the dining table was lighted with tallow candles. On January 17th, 1854 the railway was completed at Windsor. From Niagara the new train carried many guests, gathering in others as it neared the Windsor terminal. One pleasing fact was noted—there had been no accident in the construction of this new railway.

Miss Gilkinson's paper was very much enjoyed by all.

Ten minutes were allowed for social talk—no time was wasted.

Then came the roll call, answer to be favorite quotations. It was quite noticeable that all the quotations were good and helpful.

As this was the last meeting before the entertainment in connection with the opening of the new rooms in the Echo Place school, on Nov. 25th, the rest of the time was devoted to business. A pleasing programme has been prepared and refreshments will also be served. This promises to be an "evening" worth while taking in. Mrs. Burke asked to be allowed to pay her own expenses to the Toronto convention, but it was decided that the money usually allowed by the institute for their delegate, be used towards a library for the new rooms. Mrs. Burke's generous offer was only too gladly accepted as a library is much needed.

It is hoped the next meeting, Dec. 16, will be held in the school house, as the furnishings are expected to be completed by that time.

Boy Knight Notes

The parade to Colborne street church last Sunday was largely attended, two buglers being added to our line-up.

The Rev. Mr. Baker gave a splendid address from Matthew iv. 23 and goth verses, giving an excellent outline of what efficient temperance work should be of use. The closest attention was given to his address by the large audience present. His kindly words to the Boy Knights were much appreciated.

ZION CHURCH

Parade will be to Zion church on Sunday, when it is expected we will have the largest turnout of the season.

MOTHER'S GUILD

Our mothers had a splendid meeting on Thursday afternoon. A considerable amount of work was done, and arrangements are being completed for their sale of work during Boy Knight week in December.

A letter was received from Ernest Vansickle. He is well and in Belgium. He says he is kept so busy that he has no time to write, but is well and desires to be remembered to our B.K. BAND.

Band practice was well attended, and we expect by spring time to have two good bands, a brass band with the seniors and a fife and drum band with the juniors.

Who will win the chickens that have been put up for a trophy on Friday evening by Mrs. Lockyer. Good program.

Pumpkin pie will be in evidence next Friday evening, and is supposed to have considerable drawing powers. Are you interested?

BOY KNIGHT WEEK

A special Boy Knight recruiting campaign will be commenced on the 6th of December, lasting till the 11th. One week solid work. Our recruiting sergeants will keep things busy. Something will be doing every night. This will end our prize competition among the B. K. for the fall season.

TARGET WORK

Tom Richards took high score for shooting during the week. Sgt. Maj. Sears, Reg. Bond, H. McGormack, H. Harrington and Drummer Farr won the prizes for appearance on Sunday. A working bee under Sgt. Sears will be held on Saturday afternoon to get the playground in shape for winter skating rink and other work, so get out and do your share of the work.

The Mother's Guild will hold a sewing bee next Thursday afternoon. A good attendance of mothers is asked for.

New members are still coming in. Every night new boys join up. Our study and game room is being well used.

To arouse the public interest in the doings of our fighting forces, the Admiralty has arranged for complete cinematograph of the Grand Fleet both in black and white and in color. Mr. Balfour has taken the utmost interest in the scheme, and he and the First Sea Lord, Sir Henry Jackson, have concluded an arrangement by which the film trade in Great Britain has selected a representative for the execution of the pictures. This gentleman had great success on such occasions as the Coronation and the Durbar. He took films of the South African War, among the first of the kind, and was also instrumental in securing records of the Russo-Japanese War. He made a ten days' visit with three assistants to the Fleet, in which he had the greatest luck in obtaining pictures of the real activities of the Navy. He says: "During my visit I saw every branch of our Navy in full war trim and in the very highest state of efficiency. We made a complete record of the bluejacket's life at sea in war time—a record which, when it is released, will be found to form probably the most wonderful moving picture film ever taken." As soon as possible the public will have an opportunity of seeing the films. The Admiralty has arranged that half of the entire proceeds of this wonderful series will go to it for distribution among naval charities.

ALLIES WILL SERVE NOTICE UPON GREECE

She Must Demobilize Her Forces or Else Take the Consequences.

Berlin Claims Agreement Between Greece and Bulgaria is Probable.

London, Nov. 19.—The allies have demanded that Greece demobilize her forces. Permission to divulge the nature of the coercive measures to be adopted in case of Greece's refusal to comply with the demand of the allies, has been withheld. It is known that one of the steps that will be taken will be Italian occupation of the most important Greek islands.

In reply to a request in the House of Lords last night for information as to the progress of negotiations with Greece, Lord Lansdowne said the situation was extremely perplexing, and he might say, disquieting.

It is reported in despatches from Rome that immediate action will be taken, and no delay will be tolerated. It is said that Italy will take an important part in the forthcoming developments. The action will naturally depend upon the attitude which King Constantine and his ministers assume toward the Entente powers.

A Berlin despatch says: "An agreement between Greece and Bulgaria concerning their future relations and sphere of interest and annexation, it is learned from authoritative sources here, is considered highly probable."

From the German point of view an agreement of this nature would relieve Greece of any apprehension of an attack by Bulgaria and assure her of a growth which would enable Greece to retain her place in the Balkan balance of power.

It is understood here that Greece, as the result of an informal interchange of views with Bulgaria, is already quite confident that she will not suffer from Bulgarian aggression, and undergo any diminution of influence as a result of the present Balkan campaign; nor is any German resentment evident because Greece allowed her territory to be used as a base of operations by the Anglo-French expedition, the Berlin statesmen realizing that she yielded in this matter to a stronger force and should not be punished therefor.

The Hun Housewife Feeling the Pressure

The effect of raising prices on the housekeeping budgets of the German population is graphically described in a letter from a "Hausfrau" in the Vorwärts. She says that her family, consisting of husband, wife, and a 10-year old child, was accustomed before the war to consume 21 lbs. of meat a month. The rise in prices compelled her to reduce the quantity to 14 1/2 lbs. The family's average monthly consumption of eggs has fallen from 60 to 28, for which she says considerably more than she did for 80 before the war. The butter for which she used to pay 1s. 3/4d. a lb. is now at 2s. 6d. She has been obliged to give up all butter for cooking. Properly speaking, from the point of view of food values, the diminution in the use of fats should be met by an increase in the amount of farinaceous and vegetable food consumed, but, although there is no visible lack of either, the average rise of 100 per cent in prices renders this impossible. The "Hausfrau" says: "How is a compromise between the supply of means and the necessary quantity of nourishment to be arranged? In quantity we cannot economize—even before the war we could not afford to overload our stomach. All we can do is constantly to reduce the quality and exclude everything which is not directly 'filling'—taking in ballast in the place of nourishing food so as at all events to get the feeling of satiety."

She adds that her housekeeping books show a rapid progress in this course—less and worse meat, bread with nothing on it, half the usual quantity of butter and eggs, the smallest and commonest kinds of dry and fresh vegetables, sugar very limited, cocoa, tea, and jam practically given up, potatoes and war bread the principal means of nourishment. The problem of feeding a family as well as paying for rent, clothing, heating, lighting, etc. brings a spasm to the heart. The rise in prices means not only bad nourishment, but permanent hunger, which must reduce the health of large sections of the population.

SECRECY IN STRATEGY NEEDED

Birmingham Post:—We can imagine nothing more unlikely than that any Government would consent to proclaim from the housetops—for the instruction, be it observed, of our enemies as well as of our own inquisitive discontents—either our plans for checking Germany in the Near East or for beating the Turks in Gallipoli. Any Government which gave the information would deserve inconspicuously to be driven from office. The nation which conducts war in public has just as much chance of winning as the poker-player who bets with his cards upon the table. Whether we like it or not, we must submit to secrecy in strategy, and to a large extent to secrecy in diplomacy also. No other condition is compatible with victory.

Mrs. Lang Pleads Cause of Women in Address Before Equal Franchise Club—"The Rumbling of Wheels of Progress Can Even Now be Heard in the Streets," She Declares.

A large and enthusiastic gathering of ladies attended the drawing room meeting of the Equal Franchise Club, at the handsome home of Mrs. Churchill Livingstone on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. W. R. Lang, of Toronto, who is the energetic and talented recording secretary of the National Equal Franchise Union, addressed the club.

THE ADDRESS. Mrs. Lang's address in part was as follows: "The woman movement is only the awakening of the soul of womanhood, which has caused a certain unrest, because we are at last beginning to think and act as individuals, not as children."

This, all the work of women in spite of tremendous handicaps. In France they have organized a department of lost people, and have a card index with 400,000 names on it.

THE "EXPEDIENCY" CRY. Many of the "stock" arguments of the "anti" were summarily dealt with by Mrs. Lang, among others the "expediency" cry.

WOMEN DOING MEN'S WORK. We should be proud of the wonderful way our women have arisen to the national emergency, and they are a credit to the 20th century.

INJUSTICE OF LEGAL CODE. The many glaring injustices to women of our legal code were cited, among others the maximum penalty for seducing a girl under 14 years, five years imprisonment; for stealing oysters, seven years.

Lang, which was ably seconded by Mrs. Wm. Tilley. Several new members were also enrolled. After Mrs. Lang had answered a number of questions the officers and their friends adjourned to the Betty Inn where high tea was partaken of.

ROOSEVELT MAY JOIN THE CANADIAN FORCES

Ex-President Has Always Strongly Denounced Germans and is Now to Practice What He Preaches—May Lead New American Legion Just Being Formed.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—It is reported here that there is a possibility that ex-President Theodore Roosevelt may put into practical effect his public and vigorous espousal of the cause of the allies by personally leading the way and himself volunteering for active service with the Canadian forces. While of course no official statement could be made, it is stated that Roosevelt would be given were he to offer his services, it is certain that he would be given a high command, possibly as officer in command of a whole division.

NATIONAL AND PERSONAL REASONS

Both in public and private Colonel Roosevelt has intimated his strong conviction that national honor and national safety demanded the active participation of the United States in the war against the German attempt at world tyranny, and his personal desire to get into the fight himself. It is stated that during his recent visit to Quebec on a hunting trip he declared that he would like to be fighting at the front in the same cause as the Canadians.

If the United States continues to remain strictly neutral it would not be surprising if Colonel Roosevelt put his convictions into practical effect by going to the front at the head of a composite division of Canadians and men from the United States who have enlisted here.

THOUSANDS HAVE JOINED
Several thousand of the latter have joined the Canadian expeditionary forces since the war began, and there is still a steady influx of recruits from across the line. Were Colonel Roosevelt to accept a command from the Canadian forces there is no doubt that many thousands of his fellow countrymen would follow his example and ask to serve under him.

It may be noted, that according to the American citizenship laws, enlistment in the Canadian forces does not abrogate any of the rights of United States citizenship.

Pride Has Place Among Virtues of a Nation

Bertrand Russell in The Atlantic. Pride has its place among virtues, in the lives of individuals as well as in the lives of nations. Pride, in so far as it is a virtue, is a determination not to be turned aside from the ends which a man thinks good, no matter what outside pressure may be brought to bear upon him.

There is pride in Condorcet, sentenced to the guillotine, spending his last days in writing a book on human progress. There is pride in those who refuse to recant their religious convictions under persecution. Such pride is the noblest form of courage; it shows that self-determination of the will which is the essence of spiritual freedom. But such pride should have as its complement a just conception of what constitutes human welfare, and as its correlative a respect for the freedom of others as absolute as the determination to preserve freedom for ourselves.

Exactly the same kind of pride is good in the life of a nation. Think well of it, let us show our national pride by living without war, whatever temptations the other nation may put in our way to live according to their ideals rather than according to our own.

The services in the German Lutheran church at Yonkers on Sunday were suddenly interrupted when a woman in the audience suddenly jumped up and began to disrobe.

MONASTIR NOT YET IN HANDS OF BULGARIANS

Prilep Has Fallen, But Serbs Have Retreated in Direction of Albania.

GREECE RECEIVES DENYS COCHIN

Hoped That Allies May be Able to Attack Enemy to Relieve Pressure.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Nov. 19.—A Reuter despatch from Athens filed Thursday evening says:

"According to Athens newspaper advices, the situation of the Serbs continues extremely dangerous. It is feared the defence of Monastir is doomed to failure in view of the Bulgarians' numerical superiority.

"The main Serbian forces are today in old Serbia, and principally at the Katchanik defile, where, apart from a small Serbian retreat at the outset, a stubborn resistance has been offered and is still under way.

"The situation of the French troops is reported favorable, and it is hoped the prompt arrival of strong reinforcements which will make possible a general French attack may save the situation and compel the Bulgars to withdraw troops from other fronts.

"Denys Cochin, minister without portfolio in the French cabinet, was received today by King Constantine, the audience lasting nearly an hour. He will leave to-morrow for Saloniki."

OUT-FLANKED

London, Nov. 19.—Describing the Serbian retreat from Babuna Pass the Saloniki correspondent of the Chronicle says:

"Making the most of natural advantages of position, the Serbs repeatedly drove back the Bulgarians. Even Bulgarian howitzers were unable to expel the heroic defenders, and success was achieved only by an attack in front while a cunning flank movement on the Serbian left was in progress.

"Owing to the frontal attack, the Serbs were unable to detach men to meet the force enveloping their left."

RETREAT TO ALBANIA

Paris, Nov. 19.—The Saloniki despatch announcing the general retreat of the Serbs on the southwestern front after the capture of Babuna Pass by the Bulgars is without official confirmation, says a Havas despatch from Athens, filed yesterday. The only act establishing the evacuation of Prilep by the Serbs. The abandonment of Babuna Pass has been expected in Athens military circles for several days, as it was not considered possible for the Serbs to resist long their heroic defence, especially as they threatened envelopment by a movement from Tetovo and Kilsievo.

The Serbians probably will retire to the heights between Prilep and Monastir, the inhabitants of which are taking refuge in Albania and Greek territory. Large numbers have arrived at Florina, Greece, but the more well to do are going to Saloniki. The military governor of Monastir is reported to have appointed a committee of notables to preserve order, but it is feared it will not be possible to restrain the bands of Komitajis (irregulars) in the environs of the city.

The Serbian army is expected to retreat towards Albania. It is estimated there are 50,000 Serbs in the Monastir region opposed to more than 60,000 Bulgars.

A touching incident occurred recently in a hospital where a number of professional singers were giving a concert to try and cheer up the wounded. A well known young singer was giving that old favorite "Mother Marcher." Among the audience was a soldier who had been through severe fighting and had received such bad injuries that his mind was complete blank. He had no memory whatever of his past, and his words were a meaningless babble, out of which the nurses could make nothing coherent. But by one of those sudden and curious mental effects, which are sometimes produced upon a deranged mind the man caught at the word "mother" in the song. And when the singer was finished he still repeated the word "Mother! Mother!" with a half-vacant mind, till his constant repetition proved the key to his memory and unlocked the whole of his previous existence. Now he has recovered from his aberration and is a sane man.

HOW WILL MRS. GALT GET HER PARIS GOWNS?

Dressmakers' Syndicate Has Blacklisted Man Sent to Obtain Them.

Charles Kurzman, Man in Question, is Turned Down Because of Hun Origin.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris Nov. 19.—The Paris dress-makers syndicate has blacklisted two American customers of German origin one of them a man named Kurzman reputed to have been commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Norman Galt, who is to be the bride of President Wilson, according to Gustav Terry's newspaper L'Ouvreur.

The newspaper, says Kurzman has threatened to raise a diplomatic question because of the modiste's refusal to accept orders from him. L'Ouvreur declares, however, that each house from which he ordered gowns have offered to supply them with its compliments to Mrs. Galt without having them pass through the hands of an intermediary.

A Paris despatch early this month said Charles Kurzman of New York was there to select gowns for the wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt. He was quoted as saying that while it "would be indiscreet to talk about clothes ordered by the Wilson family before obtaining permission from the White House" he felt that Washington can look forward to a brilliant social season after the wedding.

THE RUSSELL DEAL TERMS ANNOUNCED

Terms of the Russell Motor deal with the Willys-Overland people have been made public, and will be submitted for ratification to a special meeting of Russell shareholders to be called shortly.

Under the terms of the agreement entered into a new company will be formed, known as Willys-Overland, Limited, with a capital stock of $6,000,000, divided into 30,000,000 preference and $3,000,000 common. The balance of the $2,000,000 of preference stock is to be known as class 'B' stock, with a cumulative 7 per cent dividend, with the option to the holder of conversion into common stock at par value at any time within five years. Of the common stock only $1,000,000 will be issued at present.

The Russell Motor Car Company retain all cash accounts and bills receivable.

The Willys-Overland Company of Toledo have agreed to subscribe and pay for in cash 1,800,000 of the class 'B' preference stock of the new company. Mr. Willys will, it is understood, assume the presidency of the new corporation and T. A. Russell will become vice-president.

"Washington" for the above, the Russell Company sell only that part of their business specifically devoted to the manufacture and distribution of motor cars. This will include the factory and plant at West Toronto, all stock and component parts, together with all the Russell branch motor organizations throughout Canada. The Russell Motor Car Company will of course continue to manufacture and sell automobiles, and will continue as manufacturers of bicycles, skates, and munitions. It is as yet undetermined whether the munitions and bicycle business will continue to manufacture in the West Toronto plant or will acquire separate works.

Old World Notes

A village boy of nine, has won the "National Thrift" essay competition organized by the "Teachers' World," for school children, for a $25 prize in War Loan vouchers. The Chancellor of the Exchequer read the winning essay, and in a letter expressed the opinion that a signal service had been performed in impressing upon the school children of England the urgent need for economy at this time. Thousands of essays on "How I Can Help My Country by Saving and Earning" were sent in. One boy of twelve made the amusing confession, "A great many crowns have been foolishly spent by me since my coming to the age of reason. Now, it is vouchers." The winning essayist said: "As I am a small village boy I find very little choice of employment; but each Saturday I help a neighboring farmer by leading his horses and carrying messages. To be able to help my country by buying vouchers I must earn all I can and save it, in order to add a small drop in the great "National Loan." The methods of earning he mentions include gleaming along a grating 17 feet long to the stop valve of the injured boiler which he promptly shut off. If this hazardous exploit had not been carried through with such despatch the men remaining in the stokehold would have lost their lives.

A very real danger resulting from darkened streets is emphasized by a medical correspondent of a London newspaper, who writes urging that beside the curbs of pavements at street corners the curbs of grates which cross pavements at right angles be whitewashed to prevent sprained ankles and racked backs. "Women with high heels are worst sufferers" writes the doctor, "but men, too, are among the victims of these invisible curbs of drives and entrances to houses which lie across one's path at unexpected intervals. The drop, of course, is not so great as that of the ordinary street curb, but it is sufficient to cause a very unpleasant jolt. One of my patients dates a severe attack of lumbago to a sudden wrenching of the muscles of his back caused by the unexpected drop in the pavement level at one of these crossings."

The expansion of the British navy since the commencement of the war and the character of that expansion are subjects on which the admiralty maintain a discreet silence. It is certain however that the shipyards are being worked to their utmost capacity to turn out the types of fighting vessels which the experiences of the war have shown to be most desirable. The great hives of industry on the Clyde, the North East Coast, the Mersey and in the many other parts of the country where ships are constructed, are turning out work at such a rate that their performance will astonish everyone when the declaration of peace permits of their publication, says the Journal of Commerce. The British Admiralty are making enormous demands upon the shipyards, and the response is quite in keeping with every tradition of the ship building industry. Many yards totally unfamiliar with the peculiarities of Admiralty work are striving their utmost to overcome the new difficulties, and to deliver the vessels required with the least possible delay.

Curious medical evidence was given at two Heckeney inquests recently. At the inquiry into the death of a three-year-old child the evidence showed that a few weeks ago the child fell out of a window a distance of two feet, but only sustained a bruise on the head. Subsequently she became ill, and died in the infirmary. The doctor said that death was due to cerebral meningitis, or "spotted" fever. These cases were very often preceded by a slight injury. Medical men could not be dogmatic on the point, but there appeared to be some association between a bruise and spotted fever. Another curious pathological association was mentioned at another inquest, the coroner remarking that it was a strange fact that a large number of children who sustained burns developed scarlet fever a few days afterwards.

Warden Hanley of the Tombs prison, New York, discovered that cocaine was being smuggled to a prisoner in the neck of a visitor's shoe.

APPALLING LOSSES IN THE TEUTONIC RANKS

Over 200,000 Casualties in the Month of October Alone—Some Battalions Down to Half Strength—Many Losses Sustained at Loos and Tahure.

London, Nov. 19.—The appalling extent of the German losses is revealed by a perusal of the official casualty list issued daily by the Government for the information of families, although newspapers are prohibited from reproducing it.

The outstanding facts in these lists are the enormous gaps in certain regiments, and the frequency with which entire battalions are wiped out, the remarkable small proportion of officers lost and the great number of volunteers killed.

The latest lists available cover the losses for October. For Prussia, Westphalia, Bavaria and Saxony there are over 200,000 names, 651 pages, and 1,053 columns. It will be recalled that at the beginning of November the Prussian losses alone were estimated at slightly over two million.

The list for October 23rd alone gives 10,000 casualties. The Prussian list includes nine regiments of the Guard, eight regiments of Grenadiers and Fusiliers of the regular infantry, 31 regiments of reserves and 21 of the Landwehr, and many from the field artillery.

AT LOOS AND TAHURE

The second battalion of a Guards regiment lost 437 and only three officers. An example of the terrific losses of certain regiments is furnished by the 84th Prussian Infantry whose third battalion lost 532 out of a full complement of 1000. A battalion of the Prussian 157th Infantry lost the following numbers in four companies of 250 each: 1st, 176; 2nd, 188; 3rd, 171; 4th, 158.

In a similar manner companies of the 224th Reserve Infantry lost men as follows: 203, 205, 215, 194, 111, 125, 167, 152, 142, 104, 132, 216. The full complement of each company is 250.

The 7th Reserve Infantry lost 1,077 men out of 3,000. These losses were probably suffered at Loos and Tahure. The Landwehr generally kept behind the firing line; yet they show heavy losses caused by illness. In the 4th companies of the 224th reserve, 819 men and five officers were lost. The 133rd Savon Infantry lost 507 men and seven officers.

CANADIANS REWARDED FOR BRAVE DEEDS

London, Nov. 19.—The Military Cross was awarded to Lieut. John Gibson Anderson, Fifth Battalion, for conspicuous gallantry near Messines on October 8, when he went out with Private Wythe to a German sap. He entered the sap, private Wythe crept along the wire. They met and shot two Germans, exchanged shots with three others and brought back the three rifles of the men they had killed. Next day the regular infantry sap and attacked another party of Germans, who retired, leaving a cloak, some bombs, a periscope, etc. behind. These were brought in. Much valuable information was gained.

The cross was also awarded to Lieut. Albert William Northover, 28th Battalion, for conspicuous gallantry on October 8 near Wyschaete. When the Germans had exploded the mines near our trench Lieut. Northover was buried under the debris, but immediately being dug out, he assumed control, and took steps to deny to the enemy any foothold in the craters. His prompt action and gallant example went a long way towards successfully coping with the difficult and dangerous situation.

Reinforcements Arriving to Try and Sustain Exhausted Defenders of Town.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Rome, Nov. 19.—Continuation of the desperate and long continued struggle for Gorizia is recounted in an official statement issued yesterday at the headquarters of the Italian general staff. The communication follows:

"During all of yesterday there was an intense artillery action on both sides. The enemy's guns were particularly active in the Gorizia zone. We have seen that from the suburbs and even from the centre of the town shots of all calibres are being fired against our positions.

"We also have noticed columns of troops coming from the town crossing the bridge of Sabotina and Podgora to reinforce and replace troops engaged there. Our aviators have discovered Austrian batteries posted on the belt of heights dominating Gorizia at the east."

FINANCE BILL PASSED HOUSE OF COMMONS

Country Must Risk Bankruptcy to Beat the Germans, Says Bonar Law.

He Had Found That Government Was Overcharged for Munitions.

London, Nov. 19.—The finance bill was passed in the House of Commons last night. Mr. Bonar Law, speaking of finance, said that the country had to risk bankruptcy to bring the war to a successful conclusion. Some means would have to be found whereby persons who wished to sell to the Government and trust its credit would be able to do so.

He was not afraid of exchange taken by itself. The real thing was the country's financial stability as a whole and he declared that the situation was extremely dangerous, for, so long as money was borrowed freely for the expenditure required, there was a fictitious prosperity, and, instead of making sacrifices the people were spending more than ever.

MUNITIONS COST TOO MUCH.

The moment the time came when the country could not raise indefinite loans—and, if the war lasted long enough, it would come—the country would have to find other means for carrying on the war.

He had been looking into the cost of munitions, and had found that munitions were costing three or four times more than they would have cost under the old conditions. That could not go on indefinitely. If the financial position was to be kept right, workmen and commercial men must set their faces against any increase in the payment for anything needed for the conduct of the war.

Old World Notes

A Dutch waiter who was sentenced to three months' hard labor a few days ago, in London, for tampering with a passport told the detective who arrested him an entertaining story. He said he was employed at an hotel in Liege when the Germans entered the town. A German officer came and asked him for a room, and upon his replying that the place was full up the officer pulled out a revolver and said, "I'll give you five minutes to find me a room." Thinking he was capable of carrying out his threat, the waiter took him upstairs and showed him around. When they were on the landing he switched off the light and then kicked the officer down-stairs, after which he returned to his own country. Unfortunately the magistrate did not believe this story, for the waiter had in his possession a written character signed by the manager of the hotel at Liege saying that he had left there freely.

Fox hunting having dropped off considerably in England since the beginning of the war, in fact in some districts the sport having ceased to exist, the number of foxes has increased in a dangerous degree. In view of this fact the president of the Board of Agriculture has drawn the attention of the Masters of Fox-hounds' associations to the desirability of taking measures to destroy foxes and to protect the interests of the farmers and poultry-keepers. Lord Shelborne has also arranged for an inquiry by his department as to the extent to which the surplus of foxes is being reduced, and what degree their depredations are affecting the nature and potential supply of food. The information will be placed at the disposal of the country war-consideration may be given to the protection of poultry in localities where necessary.

The Diamond
From the Sky

By ROY L. MCCARDELL

Copyright, 1915, by Roy L. McCardell

The glamour of his self sacrifice in shielding Blair and thus making himself a voluntary murder suspect passed from Arthur. He saw now that in saving Blair he had only done so to save himself from the open shame and humiliation that would come to him when the searching inquiries of a murder trial, with the evidence that Hagar possessed—evidence he felt sure she would produce to save the life of her son—would result in his acquittal of murder, but would leave him stripped of the peacock feathers of the Stanley heritage that he, the gypsy jackdaw, had worn so long.

He saw in the dust and darkness the baleful gleam of the diamond from the sky. He saw the accusing, fierce gaze of his gypsy mother, and then, like a benediction and a saving grace, he saw, in the dust and gloom, the sweet face and the sad, wistful eye of Esther! He grasped the cold iron rod stanchly now. Let destiny deal him what it might, he would stand the buffets and fight on for Esther's sake!

CHAPTER X.
Lost—The Diamond From the Sky!
AND what of the diamond from the sky? Torn from the fair throat of Vivian Marston, it lies in a mail box, with no light to gleam upon it and be reflected back intensified. With letters and packages and newspapers folded about it lies the diamond from the sky without a stamp to make it mail of any class.

Then comes the busy mail collector, with his mail collecting car. There is some excitement at the Randolph mansion close by. Police whistles are blowing and a thundering fight is going on on the sidewalk.
But Bob Adams is one of Uncle Sam's mail men. Way for the U. S. mail, which has no time to stop for police, police whistles or shindies on the street. But it attracts his attention, as do some hurrying passersby, and he opens the mail box and mechanically drops its contents into the open maw of the drawing regulation canvas mail bag. Into the sack while Bob Adams, mail man, looks with averted head toward the "elegant scrap" goes the mail from box 413, and with it goes the diamond from the sky.

Bob Adams gets back from his collection route to the postoffice an hour later. His work is through, and he stops in to see his friend, the sergeant at police headquarters, to learn what the row was all about that caused such a commotion and evidently put a crimp in the swell ball given by that grande dame of Richmond, Mrs. Burton Randolph.

Meanwhile on the sorting tables at the postoffice the local collections are being dumped from the mail bags. The clerk looses the drawstrings, holds the bags up from their bottom corners and shakes out the mail with deft and practiced rapidity. On the floor the emptied mail bags pile. They see hard service, and some are rent and frayed. The inspector comes on his rounds and goes over the empties, marking briskly with a large piece of chalk "Repair" on those that need mending and renovation.

Out to the loading platform go for the time being the condemned mail bags, and there all night they lay in the arc light, with only the eye of the night watchman upon them occasionally.

Dawn breaks at a small way station forty miles from Richmond. Here the freight train halts for orders, and here Arthur, so cramped and sore that every fiber of his being aches, crawls from his perilous perch and creeps from under the car into the dusky daylight. Choked with dust, marked and matted with grease and dirt, disheveled and pitiful in what was his masculine finery of the night before, Arthur limps to a small pool of water between the tracks and is not too dainty to throw himself down beside it and suck up its refreshing coolness to his cracked lips and parched and feverish throat.

The trainmen are busy with their own concerns at water tank and telegraph station, far up the track and on the other side of the train. Across from him is a freight, going out on a branch line. The open door of a freight car seems to call him to its sheltering haven of escape. Arthur darts across the track, realizing what a ridiculous figure he must seem in his stained and disheveled dress suit, a marked and battered silk hat still clamped tightly on his head.

The outgoing freight is gaining momentum as Arthur flings himself half

Village industries in England are very prosperous just now. Already a large amount of trade, principally in toys has been done, and many villages are booked up with orders for weeks in advance. The interesting part of this movement is that in some cases the orders have been exclusively for articles previously made in Germany and Austria, and there are sanguine expectations that the work will be permanent.

into the open doorway, but he misses his hold and would have fallen under the wheels but that two strong and dirty hands seize him by the shoulder and another pair as dirty and as strong grasp him also, and he is hauled into the car like a grain sack to find himself safe on his side and looking up into the countenances of three grinning, grimy knights of the road.
"You had a close shave of it, bo," wheezes the whisky voice of the first tramp to seize him. "But I gotcher, Steve!"

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

There are almost as many ways of treating rheumatism as there are doctors. Most of these treatments are directed at the symptoms and are considered successful if they relieve the pain and the stiffness. But the pain and the stiffness return particularly if the patient has been exposed to dampness. This shows that the poison was not driven from the system by the treatment employed. Rheumatism can be relieved in a number of ways but there is only one way to cure it, and that is through the blood, expelling the poisonous acid that causes the aches and pains and stiffness. To re-charge and enrich the blood there is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which go right to the root of the trouble and cure rheumatism to stay cured. The following is an example of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do in cases of this kind. Mr. Henry Smith, St. Jerome, Que., says:—"For upwards of a year I was a victim of rheumatism in a most painful form. The trouble was located in my legs and for a long time was so bad that I could not walk. The suffering which I endured can only be imagined by those who have been similarly afflicted. Doctors treatment did not help me and then I began trying other remedies but with no better results. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although I had begun to lose faith in medicine, I finally decided to give the pills a trial. I am very grateful now that I did so, for after taking eight boxes of the pills the trouble completely disappeared. I was free from pain and could walk as well as ever I did in my life. I have since taken the pills occasionally as a precautionary measure and I cannot speak too highly in their favor. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE GODDESS
UNIQUE SERIAL STORY
BY GOUVERNEUR MORRIS

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS.

After the tragic death of John Amesbury, the girl, who had been spoiled by the death of her father, Prof. Stilliter, an agent of the interests, kidnaps the beautiful three-year-old baby girl, and brings her up in a paradise...

The one to feel the loss of the little Amesbury girl, was, of course, her mother, Mrs. Baxter. She was to be wretched any more—and it's you that did it.

Mrs. Baxter burst into sudden tears at Celestia's departure. "I may never see you again. But I'll never forget you—I've been a wicked woman—but I'll try not to be."

Her eyes bright as stars she went out into the early sunshine, and walked slowly in an eastern direction, her head high, and the band of jewels gleaming brightly across her brow.

By the time she had passed under the first lines of elevated tracks a crowd had collected about her. They did not show her any disrespect at all, perhaps because she had such a royal look of self-sufficiency.

"What is the trouble?" she asked gently. "My husband is sick with a broken arm. We can't pay the rent and the landlord is throwing us out into the street."

"Where is your husband?" "Almost in a state of coma Mrs. Douglas, for that was the woman's name, who was sitting in a room from which everything had been taken but one chair. In this sat a middle-aged, patient looking, blue eyed man, his right arm in a sling. At his side stood a pretty girl of about the same age as Celestia."

"See," said Celestia, "here is lots of money. A good woman gave it to me. And please will you help me for a while because I have no place to go, and you look like good people."

"Where are you from?" "I am Celestia. I have come from heaven to help you. He looked into her eyes for a long time. Then suddenly he fell on his knees before her. "Before God," he said, "I believe you."

Then as suddenly as he had knelt he arose and hurried from the room, groping with his left hand as if he was blind. The young girl followed him. He's broken down," said Mrs. Douglas in a voice full of tears and awe, "and he don't want you to see him cry. Just excuse me please—a minute—I'm his husband."

After the Crooks. Washington, Nov. 18.—The Federal trade commission to-day announced that on next Tuesday it would hear representatives of the Associated Advertisers of the world on the subject of dishonest advertising. The commission will seek to determine whether it has jurisdiction to investigate dishonest advertising practices as a form of unfair competition under the trade commission act.

She had escaped, and refused to return the money, saying it balanced $1,000 which he had stolen from her once before. Celestia's woe neither sick nor dazed; but cool-minded and rested, in a broad, cool bed. It was Mrs. Baxter's entrance on tiptoe that had waked her. She carried a tray upon which was an orange, coffee, and rolls.

It did not take Celestia long to eat her breakfast, and make her exceedingly simple toilette. But during these processes she thought and thought, until things became clear to her, and she knew that she had been in grave peril.

"I came from heaven to help you," said Celestia simply. "Good-bye and God bless you." Her eyes bright as stars she went out into the early sunshine, and walked slowly in an eastern direction, her head high, and the band of jewels gleaming brightly across her brow.

By the time she had passed under the first lines of elevated tracks a crowd had collected about her. They did not show her any disrespect at all, perhaps because she had such a royal look of self-sufficiency. But as the crowd increased the persons in its outskirts who could not see her well began to make themselves unpleasant. And this example began to be followed by those who were nearer to her. She was not angry or frightened, but progress became more and more difficult, and she looked his way and that for a way of escape.

The door of a mean little house stood wide open. Furniture was being carried out of the house and there was a middle-aged woman who kept dabbling her eye with her apron. Celestia made a dart for the open door, the crowd now hoisting and threatening to reach it, closed it behind her and she was alone in a narrow hallway with the woman who wept.

"What is the trouble?" she asked gently. "My husband is sick with a broken arm. We can't pay the rent and the landlord is throwing us out into the street." "Oh, but he must not do that," said Celestia. "She was still holding the bills which Mrs. Baxter had given her."

"Where is your husband?" "Almost in a state of coma Mrs. Douglas, for that was the woman's name, who was sitting in a room from which everything had been taken but one chair. In this sat a middle-aged, patient looking, blue eyed man, his right arm in a sling. At his side stood a pretty girl of about the same age as Celestia."

MANUFACTURERS WILL EMPLOY SOLDIERS FIRST
Movement Started in Toronto to Organize Methods of Using Returned Soldiers.

Local Patriotic Committees to Try and Obtain Work for These Men.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—The manufacturers of Ontario are to be mobilized to assist in caring for returned soldiers. The Provincial Committee, appointed by the Ontario Government to co-operate with the Dominion Hospitals Commission in this work, organized Tuesday under the leadership of W. D. McPherson, M.P.P., and put in a useful afternoon discussing methods of securing employment for returned men, and training those whose wounds and impaired physical condition unfit them for the avocato previously followed.

The second important conclusion arrived at by the committee was that the manufacturers of the province should be invited to assist by giving preference in employment to men who have established some form of joint committee. This would do away with overlapping and confusion of effort.

These local committees would be encouraged to work with local manufacturers and secure positions for returned soldiers. When a soldier returned to a municipality or district that could find a place for him, the Provincial Committee could be called upon to locate the man in some other part of the province, where there was an opening.

The question of technical training for some of the returned soldiers was discussed. One member suggested that the labor men might object to returned soldiers being trained for some of the more technical occupations of the committee was that there would be no difficulty upon this score. W. D. Nickle, M.P.P., for Kingston, pointed out that the majority of the returned soldiers would ultimately be able to resume their old work. The number who would have to be taught new trades would be relatively small, and in any event, he would be just as ready to see these men trained to support themselves and their families as would any other class.

The committee will meet again in a fortnight.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a row, if sour, if gassy, if upset, and what you just ate has fermented into aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated, just take a little Peppermint Cure and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women to-day think that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Peppermint Cure occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Peppermint Cure. Just take a little Peppermint Cure and you'll be all right. It digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, stop and go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Churchless for over three hundred years, the parish of Durrington, near Worthing, is in possession of a church again. The new building is built on the site of a church, mentioned in Domesday Book, which was rebuilt in the thirteenth century and remained in use until the year 1648. A street sweeper in the service of the Kensington council who enlisted in the Howe Battalion of the Royal Naval Division has been twice mentioned in despatches by Sir Ian Hamilton and has been given a medal for conspicuous gallantry and also a Distinguished Conduct Medal.

A SUNDAY SERMON BY PASTOR RUSSELL

GREAT DAY OF GOD ALREADY BEGUN

We Should Walk Worthy of Our Great Vocation.

Responsibility of Enlightened Christians—Present Heavens and Earth About to be Dissolved—Not Literal Heavens or Literal Earth, but Symbolic—Shaking Process Now Under Way—"Peace! Peace! When There Is No Peace"—Comparison of Earthly and Heavenly Values—Our Full Salvation About to be Revealed—Necessary Development of Character for the Kingdom.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Pastor Russell gave a helpful and impressive address here to-day. He spoke as follows: My friends, the day of God is already begun. The words of the Apostle Peter: "Seeing, then, that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for the rendering of the Lord, the Day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the things that are therein, shall be burned up."

We can hasten our preparation for the wonderful things coming, but we cannot hasten the Day. Indeed, the fact that the marvelous things God has reserved for the coming of the Day of the Lord is now present. It is very necessary to realize what means the coming of the Day of the Lord. We should be saints, faithful to the Lord in all things. We should give as much of our time as possible to the perfecting of ourselves and to the building up of one another in the most holy faith. We should be ensamples "in all holy conversation and godliness."

The Apostle in our text calls attention to the fact that we not only have to be holy, but we have to be great and grander than the earthly things, but also that the Present Order is to be dissolved, as we have seen. Let us not become entangled with the things of this world. We must have a high office, he might get a large fortune, have many servants, a fine mansion, automobiles, etc. But when he saw all these things slipping from him, he would be left with nothing but a heap of ashes. We must have a high office, he might get a large fortune, have many servants, a fine mansion, automobiles, etc. But when he saw all these things slipping from him, he would be left with nothing but a heap of ashes.

Walking Worthy of Our Calling. Our deliverance is at hand. "When ye see these things begin to come to pass, then lift up your head, because your deliverance draweth nigh." Hasten to prepare yourselves for this Day of the Lord. When all the things of the Old Order are dissolved, the New Order will be ushered in. When the saints are gathered beyond the veil, will you be among them? Thank God, we have the most wonderful hope in the world! We are to have a typical Elijah class. We have come nearly to the close of our earthly pilgrimage. Let us then be true to God, waiting in patience and faith for our glorious "change."

If you are prayerfully striving to do the best you can, God is pleased. In God's glorious plan for the future we see that ultimately He will reveal Himself to the whole world. When Messiah's Kingdom shall prevail, it will cause the knowledge of the glory of the Lord to fill the earth. Isaiah 11:9; Habakkuk 2:14. Then whosoever will may receive everlasting life by complying with the prescribed conditions. Those who refuse to do so will ultimately die the Second Death. But you and I have the privilege of knowing Him now, and of entering into full fellowship with Him.

As we become better acquainted with one another, we come to know each other's hearts and thus are drawn closer to one another. So we come to know our God, and by heart communion with Him through prayer and through His Word. As we daily tell Him of our dependence upon Him, and especially as we seek to understand His Word, we receive a better knowledge of His character. Thus we are being developed as New Creatures in His glorious character-likeness. Thus we are being made "meet for the inheritance of the Kingdom in life."

"I can see His coming judgments, as they circle all the earth. The signs and groanings promised, to precede a second birth; I read His righteous sentences in the crumbling thrones of earth; Our King is marching on."

Necessary Character-Traits in Saints. It is very important that we heed the Apostle's words in our text. "Seeing, then, that all these things are to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for the rendering of the Lord, the Day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the things that are therein, shall be burned up."

Heavenly Riches Incomparable. We see many people who hope for some day to be very rich. Now the Lord offers every one of us who has the hearing ear something beside which a million dollars or many millions would be as nothing, absolutely insignificant. To those who become His children, He offers riches of grace, of life, of glory and exaltation far above angels, cherubim or seraphim, and above all that the world can give. These riches are to be eternal. The Lord through the Apostle Peter has revealed to us the things which we are to receive, and we must keep them in our hearts. He has given us what we might be called partakers of the Divine nature. (2 Peter 1:4.) We did not make this wonderful offer? Because of His love for us and because He has an infinite purpose to be worked. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance.

As St. Paul says, "All things are insignificant in comparison with the glory that is to be revealed. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance. As St. Paul says, "All things are insignificant in comparison with the glory that is to be revealed. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance."

made the Father's will His own. So we are to have the Father's spirit and to make His will our own. We are to have the mind that was in Christ Jesus, the mind of the Apostles and all the true saints. The Scriptures tell us how the Lord's Spirit manifests itself. It is manifested in meekness in our intercourse with the brethren, in a humble appreciation of ourselves, in contentment with everything our God gives in a delight to have Christ as our Teacher. It is manifested in gentleness. There are some people who are gentle because, naturally, they do not know how to be anything else, because they have not sufficient character to be anything else. These putty people will gain character during the Millennium; but God now desires those only who have a strong individuality and a love of righteousness. Others are not appealed to by the Lord's Message.

The class that appreciate the Lord's Word are those who have real character, something of a will of their own by nature. You can not put up your will to God if you had none. The condition upon which we may become disciples of Christ is to surrender our wills. From that time on we must keep them surrendered. There is no harm in a person's having a strong will. He will make one of the best soldiers in the Lord's army if that will is turned in the right direction. This class that God is calling have a good, strong will. But this will must be trained to full obedience to the Lord. It must die to self. We are learning this daily in the School of Christ.

If you are inclined to practise patience for a while and then get tired remembering you have need of patience, that having done you will God you might receive the promise. (Hebrews 10:36.) The Lord has been patient with you. The prize waiting for you is the Kingdom of God and like His Son. We must learn patience, if it is not there naturally you may feel inclined to say, "The Lord must accept me just as I am." But the Lord will not take you into the Kingdom just as you are. He accepted you at first as you were; but He expected you to overcome, to develop as a New Creature. If you wish to be in the Kingdom class, you must attain the character-likeness of Christ.

But someone may ask, "Why does not the Lord make us perfect by His own power, without such painful effort on our part?" We answer, The character you develop is stronger for your struggles, and it is your own. It is a necessary part of our schooling to develop character. Why do we send children to school? It is because by the lessons there learned they will be exercising their mental faculties, thus making their minds stronger in every subject, fitting them for the responsibilities awaiting them later. So it is with us.

When the Master invited the Meekness, James, and John up into the mountains with Him, where He was transfigured, they did not wish ever to go down again. Peter asked permission to build a tabernacle there, that when some brethren get to a very uplifting meeting or convention of believers they desire to stay. They think they could be certain of spiritual righteousness. But we cannot always remain up on the mountain-top. We must return to the valley below for our testing, our proving and our crystallization of character and for service for God.

The Apostle in our text calls attention to the fact that we not only have to be holy, but we have to be great and grander than the earthly things, but also that the Present Order is to be dissolved, as we have seen. Let us not become entangled with the things of this world. We must have a high office, he might get a large fortune, have many servants, a fine mansion, automobiles, etc. But when he saw all these things slipping from him, he would be left with nothing but a heap of ashes. Hasten to prepare yourselves for this Day of the Lord. When all the things of the Old Order are dissolved, the New Order will be ushered in. When the saints are gathered beyond the veil, will you be among them? Thank God, we have the most wonderful hope in the world! We are to have a typical Elijah class. We have come nearly to the close of our earthly pilgrimage. Let us then be true to God, waiting in patience and faith for our glorious "change."

If you are prayerfully striving to do the best you can, God is pleased. In God's glorious plan for the future we see that ultimately He will reveal Himself to the whole world. When Messiah's Kingdom shall prevail, it will cause the knowledge of the glory of the Lord to fill the earth. Isaiah 11:9; Habakkuk 2:14. Then whosoever will may receive everlasting life by complying with the prescribed conditions. Those who refuse to do so will ultimately die the Second Death. But you and I have the privilege of knowing Him now, and of entering into full fellowship with Him.

As we become better acquainted with one another, we come to know each other's hearts and thus are drawn closer to one another. So we come to know our God, and by heart communion with Him through prayer and through His Word. As we daily tell Him of our dependence upon Him, and especially as we seek to understand His Word, we receive a better knowledge of His character. Thus we are being developed as New Creatures in His glorious character-likeness. Thus we are being made "meet for the inheritance of the Kingdom in life."

"I can see His coming judgments, as they circle all the earth. The signs and groanings promised, to precede a second birth; I read His righteous sentences in the crumbling thrones of earth; Our King is marching on."

Necessary Character-Traits in Saints. It is very important that we heed the Apostle's words in our text. "Seeing, then, that all these things are to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for the rendering of the Lord, the Day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the things that are therein, shall be burned up."

Heavenly Riches Incomparable. We see many people who hope for some day to be very rich. Now the Lord offers every one of us who has the hearing ear something beside which a million dollars or many millions would be as nothing, absolutely insignificant. To those who become His children, He offers riches of grace, of life, of glory and exaltation far above angels, cherubim or seraphim, and above all that the world can give. These riches are to be eternal. The Lord through the Apostle Peter has revealed to us the things which we are to receive, and we must keep them in our hearts. He has given us what we might be called partakers of the Divine nature. (2 Peter 1:4.) We did not make this wonderful offer? Because of His love for us and because He has an infinite purpose to be worked. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance.

As St. Paul says, "All things are insignificant in comparison with the glory that is to be revealed. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance. As St. Paul says, "All things are insignificant in comparison with the glory that is to be revealed. We are to be transformed, made New Creatures, new partakers of our glorious inheritance."

Lesson VIII.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 21, 1915.

Text of the Lesson, Jonah iii, 1-10. Memory Verse, 10—Golden Text, Matt. xxviii, 19, 20—Contemporary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Any one who questions the truth or the reality of this story of Jonah casts discredit on the Lord Jesus Christ, for He called Jonah a prophet and said that his three days and nights in the belly of the whale was typical of His own three days and nights between His death and resurrection. He also spoke of the repentance of the people of Nineveh under the preaching of Jonah, and of a future judgment (Matt. xii, 39-41; Luke xi, 32). To question the words of the Lord Jesus is to question God the Father, for He said that the Father always told Him what to say (John xii, 47-50). Jesus Christ said, "I am the Truth," and God is called "the God of Truth" (John xiv, 6; Isa. lxxv, 7). This is called a "fact," that God be true, but every man a liar. "For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth" (Rom. iii, 4; II Cor. xiii, 8).

When Jonah is mentioned people always think of the fish, whereas the fish is mentioned only in a figure in the book, while God or Lord is mentioned forty times. We are not as right with God as we might be until we give the same relative importance to people and things that He does; therefore let us not magnify the fish, but let us magnify our Father and His missionary lesson, and it is certainly a good one on that topic, as we shall see. Two of the great foundation truths of the Bible are "God is love" and "The Lord is not willing that any should perish" (I John iv, 8, 10; I Pet. iii, 9). In this lesson we see a great city of at least 600,000 people (120,000 children) and much cattle, and there was great wickedness in the city (Jonah i, 2; iv, 11). But God would rather save than destroy them, and He sent Jonah to call upon them to repent that He might spare them. This is always God's attitude to the world lying in the wicked one. He commandeth all men everywhere to repent, for He will have all men to be saved and to come unto the knowledge of the truth (Acts xv, 30; I Tim. ii, 3, 4). But in this lesson we see a great city of at least 600,000 people (120,000 children) and much cattle, and there was great wickedness in the city (Jonah i, 2; iv, 11). But God would rather save than destroy them, and He sent Jonah to call upon them to repent that He might spare them.

But someone may ask, "Why does not the Lord make us perfect by His own power, without such painful effort on our part?" We answer, The character you develop is stronger for your struggles, and it is your own. It is a necessary part of our schooling to develop character. Why do we send children to school? It is because by the lessons there learned they will be exercising their mental faculties, thus making their minds stronger in every subject, fitting them for the responsibilities awaiting them later. So it is with us.

When the Master invited the Meekness, James, and John up into the mountains with Him, where He was transfigured, they did not wish ever to go down again. Peter asked permission to build a tabernacle there, that when some brethren get to a very uplifting meeting or convention of believers they desire to stay. They think they could be certain of spiritual righteousness. But we cannot always remain up on the mountain-top. We must return to the valley below for our testing, our proving and our crystallization of character and for service for God.

The Apostle in our text calls attention to the fact that we not only have to be holy, but we have to be great and grander than the earthly things, but also that the Present Order is to be dissolved, as we have seen. Let us not become entangled with the things of this world. We must have a high office, he might get a large fortune, have many servants, a fine mansion, automobiles, etc. But when he saw all these things slipping from him, he would be left with nothing but a heap of ashes. We must have a high office, he might get a large fortune, have many servants, a fine mansion, automobiles, etc. But when he saw all these things slipping from him, he would be left with nothing but a heap of ashes.

Walking Worthy of Our Calling. Our deliverance is at hand. "When ye see these things begin to come to pass, then lift up your head, because your deliverance draweth nigh." It is Likely That the Serbians Will Last About a Month.

AUSTRIA'S EXCUSE ABOUT ANGER

She is Not Bound by Promises Made to Serbs by Germany.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, Nov. 19.—Via London 20.—The coming session of the Reichstag, which opens November 30, will be concerned chiefly with a discussion of the food question.

government has promised a state of siege to permit it to regulate the food of the empire. The subject will be discussed by representatives of the Reichstag, most of whom are expected even further than the government demanding the abolition of special and unreasonable profits in the food stuffs and other articles of daily consumption.

The budget for 1916, it is stated, will not be ready for submission. A demand for taxation of profits undoubtedly will find advocates.

One of the subjects taken up in a proposal to modify the law governing the state of siege to permit the position of fines for minor offenses which now are punishable only by imprisonment. All parties are expected to take part in the discussion.

The session probably will last about a month with only a few sittings. Most of the debates take place at meetings of the Reichstag committee upon which all parties are represented and which meets in closed doors. A definite program will be fixed prior to the opening of the session at a conference between Count Von Bethmann-Hollweg and the leaders.

AUSTRIA'S DEFENCE. Vienna, Nov. 17.—(Via Courier) Berlin and London, Nov. 20.—causing the sinking of the Steamship Ancona in an inferno way, Austrian officials have said that even if the vessel were sunk out warning, the case would have different aspect than it would be a German and not an Austrian, involved, inasmuch as the American warning following the sinking of Lusitania and Arabic was directed Germany alone and was not communicated to the Austrian Government in any way.

Hence, the Austrians contend, foundation would have to be laid if the United States felt moved to any action in the Ancona case. Austria was not bound by promises made to the Washington Government by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador.
