THREE LITTLE ONES MISSING.

Haskell Memorial Home, Battle Creek, Buried.

Little Children Jump From a Third Storey Window.

Matron Escapes With Baby in Her Arms—Boy's Plucky Act.

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 5.—The Haskell Memorial Home, a three-and-a-half-story brick orphanage located on the western boundary of this city, was destroyed by fire early to-day. Three of the thirty-seven little inmates were missing when the roll was counted in a cottage on the orphanage grounds after the fire.

In the panic that ensued when the children were awakened by the first alarm several little girls jumped from a third-storey window, but it is not thought that any of them were fatally hurt, though Ruth Hoff, 12 years old, was seriously injured in the back. James Armstrong, 12 years old, stood on a shed under the window from where the girls jumped directing them how to make their fall as easy as possible, and catching two of the smaller girls in his arms. Mrs. R. S. Owen, who, with her husband, was in charge of the institution, fought her way down the main stairway while it was a mass of flames, carrying a six-weeks-old babe in her arms, and with two small children clinging to her skirts. The fire started in the north wing, and spread rapidly through the entire structure. The property loss will be about $50,000.

How would it do to hire Mr. Zimmerman to stay in Ottawa during the session and look after Hamilton interests? The Board of Trade might think over this proposition.

SPECIAL MEETING TO GET REPORT.

Power Committee Meets This Afternoon and Council To-night—A New Industry.

The independent opinion of L. C. Hellmuth, K. C., of Toronto, on Justice Anglin's decision in the Cataract case, for which the aldermen have been waiting before taking definite action in the power matter, reached Mayor McLaren yesterday afternoon, and will be laid before the Council at an informal meeting called for 8 o'clock to-night. His counsel refused to divulge the contents of the document or give any hint of what the Toronto lawyer's opinion is.

The report will be discussed by the special power committee at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The opinion is being printed and every alderman who desires will be supplied with a copy before the Council meets. If it is favorable to the Cataract the Council on Monday night will likely award the contract for the electric pumps at the Beach, and this will dispose of the power question for at least five years. If Mr. Hellmuth expresses the opinion that the city has a chance to free itself from the Cataract contract it will likely mean that the power fight will be prolonged for months.

For about the third time this week it has been found necessary to postpone the Board of Works meeting. It was arranged that the committee should meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon, but Ald. Allan in confinement in his home with a cold, and some of the other members will be tied up at the power meetings. The committee will probably meet some time on Monday.

About the most important item is street railway matters. Officials have this in good shape now for the aldermen to deal with, and it was hoped that it would go through the Council on Monday night, leaving the company free to go ahead with the work just as soon as the weather permits. It is as good as settled now that the roadbed on James, Barton and Herkimer streets will be reconstructed, 92-pound rails being used to replace the present 60 and 65-pound rails.

The Humane Horse Collar Company, which has factories in Omaha, Neb., and Chicago, with headquarters in the latter place, is installing machinery in the old Gould factory, on John street north, and will begin manufacturing goods there shortly. The company got a lease of this building about a year ago, but as a result of difficulty in forming a company, nothing has been done until recently. Hamilton firms are manufacturing part of the machinery, and it will be necessary to bring some from Nebraska. It is expected that about thirty men will be given employment, to begin with.

The Harbor Committee is supposed to meet to-night, at 8 o'clock. It will probably be necessary to postpone it, however, on account of the Council meeting at that hour.

The reorganization of the engineer's department will be tackled by the special committee early next week.

SIX YEARS EACH.

Heavy Sentences Given to Two Kingston Burglars.

PLEA FOR YOUNG WIFE AND FIVE-MONTHS-OLD BABY.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., Feb. 5.—Reginald Lewis and Percy Pare, the young men who on Tuesday in the Police Court pleaded guilty to burglarizing the stores of Louis Abramson and Andrew MacLean, this city, came up for sentence this morning before Magistrate Farrell, and were each sentenced to six years in Kingston penitentiary. They were arraigned this morning on the charge of stealing silverware and other articles from the jewelry store of Walter Abbott last Saturday night, and both pleaded guilty to that charge. Before sentence was passed Mr. J. McD. Mowat, on behalf of Pare's young wife, and her five-months-old baby, made an eloquent plea in which he urged that justice be tempered with mercy. Magistrate T. Farrell in passing sentence said he had made allowance for the youth of the prisoners, and for the fact that they had young wives of only a few months' standing. At the same time, he had a duty which he owed to the community. He thought, therefore, that a sentence of six years on a charge the maximum penalty of which was fourteen years, would be a proper one in view of all the circumstances. Lewis and Pare were sentenced to six years each on the Kingston charges and three years each on the Gananoque charge, the sentences to run concurrently. Both prisoners heard their fate with a good deal of composure.

WILD CHASE BY OFFICER.

P. C. Smith Captured Crisp and Bag of Junk, But Had a Narrow Escape on the Way.

Prisoner Suspected of Stealing Brass and Copper.

There was an exciting chase last evening in the north end, when Constable Harry Smith and Charles Crisp, 36 York street, did a steeplechase stunt, over fences, through private yards and around cars. During the chase the constable had a fall that came near ending his career, or he would have been able to catch Crisp sooner than he did, as the fleeing man was struggling over all obstacles with a bag that had in it a large quantity of brass and copper wire. Smith was walking his beat in the north end on Barton street near Caroline. He saw Crisp in Levi & Co.'s junk shop and watched him. When Crisp left Smith went into the shop and the proprietor told him that Crisp was trying to sell brass and copper at bargain prices, but they would not take chances on buying it. Smith then went out and followed Crisp. The latter saw him and started to walk very fast with the bag slung over his shoulder. Smith increased his gait and Crisp started to run. The officer followed suit, and Crisp made for a fence, climbed it and went through a yard near the Gartsch-Thompson foundry. Smith followed, and keeping his eyes on Crisp ran across the yard. This came close to being his finish, for as he ran he failed to notice a pile of scrap pipe he was approaching and the first thing he knew he was stumbling over it. He fell on top of the heap, and a small pipe almost impaled him and knocked the wind out of him. Smith recovered in time to see Crisp going through the dusk towards the G. T. R. yards, and again he followed. In the yards he lost all trace of the prisoner, but looking along a string of freight cars he saw something shadowy beneath a car, and investigated. Crisp was sitting there beside his bag, and the officer dived under the car after him. He caught Crisp by the legs with a low tackle, and the latter immediately put up a fight for his liberty. The officer triumphed in the end, however, and returned to No. 3 station with his prisoner. Crisp was charged with this morning's theft of brass and wire. Crisp is well known to the police, and has not been out of jail long, having served a term for assaulting police officers. Two detectives had a fight with him and an older brother of his in a King William street barroom some time ago, when the trio arrested the pair, and this fight added a few months to the term of each.

William Roy and Louis Weinstein, the latter the father of the young man who died some time ago at the City Hospital under peculiar circumstances, had work yesterday morning at Roy's home, 70 Napier street, that resulted in Weinstein laying a charge of assault against Roy. A summons was served, but Roy failed to appear, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

John Moston came to Hamilton yesterday to accompany Crisp to the court, but he was locked up for being drunk. John cheerfully paid $2 this morning to obtain his liberty.

HEIRS GOT LARGE SHARE.

$40,000 of Old Todd's Money Did Not Go in Law.

A story appeared in the local newspapers yesterday to the effect that the lawyers who had been interested in the estate of George Washington Todd, the old miser, who died five years ago in the City Hospital, leaving about $50,000, had taken about $40,000 to pay the costs, and that the remaining $10,000 was divided between two Rochester men who held Todd's notes for $5,000 each. One of the lawyers who acted in the case was Mr. A. M. Lewis, who acted as solicitor for three of the heirs. He stated this morning that the story was not right in the details, or in the statement made that none of the other heirs received any portion of the estate. As a matter of fact, Mr. Lewis says, every legal heir received a substantial sum, although he was not in a position to make public a statement of what they received. There were seven main heirs, and then came the grand nephews and nieces, who were from the stock of two of the deceased main heirs. There was a contest between the main heirs and the grand nephews and nieces, but they managed to arrive at a compromise by which the grand nephews and nieces received 62.2 per cent of the portion allotted to the two deceased main heirs.

Mr. Lewis said that the costs of the case were high, but they would not reach the sum of $40,000. When taking into consideration the fact that he had travelled nearly 5,000 miles on a commission taking evidence on behalf of his clients, in the United States, it will be easily seen that the costs would be considerable. He would not venture to say, however, that the total costs taken from the estate would reach over $25,000. Mr. E. D. Cahill, Mr. Lewis and Mr. A. W. Marquis, of St. Catharines, were the principal Canadian lawyers engaged in the fight.

FRAUDS IN SUGAR.

New York, Feb. 5.—The taking of testimony in the trial of the action brought against the American Sugar Refining Co. by the government, alleging fraud in the weighing of shipments during past six years, was begun to-day before Judge Holt in the United States district court. The amount of custom duty in arrears sought to be recovered is $2,124,121.

The Tangle of Fate

Poor Lin, who had been in West Virginia nearly three weeks, had never received a single one of the letters calling him to his relative's bedside. On his return to Washington the letters were overlooked somehow, and so he was fated never to know until too late how the old man's heart had yearned for him in those weary days when the tide of his unhappy life was ebbing to its end.

The next day wanted to his closer, and then John Lloyd sent for his lawyer. Ere he arrived he ordered his household of servants to be assembled, and while Bonnie was resting in her own room he said to them:

"You have all been taught to regard Mr. La Valliere as my heir, but I have changed my mind, and concluded to adopt the child of my old friend as my daughter and heiress. I shall make my will to that effect as soon as my lawyer comes, and all of you who have all served me well shall be handsomely remembered in it. Mr. La Valliere will get a legacy also, but he has treated me very shabbily, and I do not wish that my adopted daughter, Miss Avis Lloyd, should ever be told by any of you anything concerning my cousin, or that she has supplanted him in the new will I am about to make. She is very tender-hearted, and might feel badly over it, so it is my wish that the name of my cousin shall never be mentioned in this house again."

They promised obedience to their master's will and withdrew. The lawyer came, and the will was at once executed that made Bonnie Dale adopted daughter and heiress of the lonely old man fading so fast out of life.

Bonnie had been treated so simply in her country home that she did not realize the great good fortune that had come to her. She had found a refuge and a friend; that was cause enough for rejoicing, she thought.

But in the long conversation she had had with Mr. Lloyd that day Bonnie had been too shy and frightened to give more than an outline of her history.

"For if I tell him all he may turn against me as the others did. I dare not lose my only friend," she thought, and so she touched but lightly on the lover for whose sake she had been so cruelly punished at home, and who, after she had eloped with him, had declined to marry her because of a false story.

"They have told you some false story, you believe them all they say. You are false, but I'll forgive you. But forge I never may."

John Lloyd was an old man and a recluse, but he knew the world well, knew how prone love is to pride and to anger, and he could fathom too all the pain at the young girl's heart that made her sweet lips tremble and the tears rain down her beautiful cheeks.

"Poor little one, we will talk no more about it. He was not worthy of your love," he said, and so dismissed the subject without ever hearing the name of Bonnie's recreant lover. Had she but spoken it the old man would have known the cause of his cousin's neglect, would have sent for him, and tried to make the parted lovers happy. But Bonnie's lips were silent, and so fate came in between her life and the dream of a life both with the shadow of a great despair.

"All truth, all honor now must seem vain clouds which the first wind blows by."

All trust, a folly doomed to die.
All life, a useless empty dream;
All love—since thine has failed—a lie!"

For a few days after Bonnie's coming the invalid seemed to rally. His heart went out to the hapless child of his dead love, he longed to live for her sweet sake.

"I will make your future so bright and happy if God will spare my life," he said to her, after one of those twilight talks that had each day, and tears came thickly into her eyes as she listened, for it seemed to Bonnie she could never be happy again. In the rich man's home, where she was surrounded by luxuries of which she had never even dreamed before, Bonnie fell asleep, each night setting her pillow with homesick tears for all that she had lost—her home, her father, her sister, her lover, her old friends. In the grand library one day she had read some verses that rang in sorrowful chimes through her brain:

"Where I am the halls are gilded,
Stored with pictures bright and rare;
Strains of deep, melodious music
Float upon the perfumed air.
Faded autumn leaves are trembling
On the withered jasmine tree,
Creeping round the little casement
Where I fain would be.

"Where I am the great and noble
Tell me of renown and fame,
And the red wine sparkles highest
To do honor to my name.
Far away a place is vacant,
Far from a humble hearth to me;
Dying embers faintly show it,
Where I fain would be.

"Where I am all I think me happy,
For so well I play my part,
None can guess who smile around me
How far distant is my heart,
Far away in a poor cottage,
Listening to the dreary sea,
Where the treasures of my life are,
Where I fain would be.

Poor Bonnie, thinking of the old farm where she had been so happy, and of her cruel sister and dear father, who had once loved her so fondly, would weep over those lines until the smooth-printed page was all scarred with her bitter tears.

But she always had a gentle, grateful smile for the old man who was so good to her, who loved her so dearly, and who called her tenderly, "my daughter Avis."

She would sit by his side, read to him, sing to him, or talk, just as he preferred, but she soon found that what he liked best was to hear stories about the life of her mother.

"Do you think she was happy, dear?" he once asked, wistfully.

It did not seem to him that Avis could have been happy with her former husband and in her simple country home. He believed that wealth was essential to happiness. It seemed to him that in time she would regret her choice.

But Bonnie answered, quietly:

"Oh, yes, mamma was very happy. Papa loved her so dearly and was so kind to her always, and she was devoted to us. But she was never strong, and a fever carried her off very quickly.

Poor papa, he has never been cheerful as he used to be while she was living."

"I am glad that Avis was happy," he said, with a smile of content, unselfishly glad that she had not repeated her choice. He smoothed tenderly a lock of hair that Bonnie had given him from among her treasures—golden hair just a few shades darker than Bonnie's, and still untouched by gray. They had cut it from Avis Dale's head for her daughter when she lay dead.

"And then it all came up again, for in the midst of a husking bee at his uncle's the door suddenly opened, and there entered—Miss Westland!

There was a great stampede at first, for the young people took him for a ghost, but at last he made them understand that he was alive, and then, finding out that they all knew of his marriage to Bonnie Dale that night at the old mill, he had to give a garbled explanation.

"Yes, we were married," he said, but he took care not to explain how he had forced the hapless Bonnie on pain of death to become his loving bride. "We were married, and Bonnie, after her willful way, refused me a kiss. In struggling with her I lost my balance, and fell back into the pool. It was all an accident. I do not see how any one could have believed that sweet little Bonnie could be so wicked."

"It was that cruel Imogen who started it," cried Mollie Miller and Ella Deane, in a breath.

"Then I shall go over to Mr. Dale's to-morrow and tell them how it happened. I do not want them to blame my poor little Bonnie," said the young man, who was curiously pale, and spoke in an uneven voice.

"But how did you escape from the pool?" inquired his uncle, Mr. Martin.

"I heard poor Bonnie's shrieks as I went down, but when I came up to the surface again, after a short interval, she had fled from the scene, no doubt thinking I was dead. I am a good swimmer, you know, and then a strange thought came to me. Bonnie did not love me as well as I wished her in spite of our marriage, so I thought that if she believed me dead a while her tender heart would soften toward me, and when I came back she would love me better."

fishes. So on circumstantial evidence alone Miles Westland and Bonnie Dale were both adjudged dead. The dark shadow of that Hallow Eve tragedy fell over the whole community, and on many a winter night people talked by the cozy fireside of little Bonnie, who had been so beautiful and yet so wicked. It was only when Christmas came round with sleigh-rides and merry-makings that they forgot the painful subject and began to come out from the shadow of the tragedy.

But death came that night gently and peacefully, and Bonnie, holding the weak hand till the very last, whispered, lovingly:

"Good-by, dear friend; you will soon be with my angel mother, and she will bless you for your goodness to her child."

Four days later John Lloyd's beautiful heiress sat in the darkened library, listening to the words of the dead man's lawyer, Mr. Rainsford.

The thronged and stately funeral of the richest man in Lloyd was over. Although he had led the life of a selfish recluse, the neighborhood respected him, and turned out en masse to his funeral.

The telegram sent to his best-known relative, had adopted the name of a reply, neither had Lin La Valliere come to the funeral. Avis, the devoted daughter of the deceased, acted as chief mourner, and shed very genuine tears on the black draped coffin that held the cold form of her loved friend.

The townspeople had considerable curiosity over the new mistress of that stately home on the hill, but through her long black veil they could see but little of the beauty that was said to be so wonderful. Some long, loose golden curls strayed from under the lengths of the veil, making the slight figure that seemed very childish and graceful, that was all, and Bonnie never threw back the veil from her lovely face until she returned to the desolate house, where she sat now in her heavy mourning garments like a statue of grief.

Mr. Rainsford, who had been telling her how rich she was and asking about her plans for the future.

In his heart Mr. Rainsford rather resented the way in which this mysterious stranger had ousted Lin La Valliere from his cousin's will. Mr. Lloyd's explanation had been meagre and unsatisfactory—"the daughter of a dear dead friend," that was all. No one but the housekeeper and nurse knew the strange fashion in which Bonnie had arrived and become a member of the household.

But though Mr. Rainsford was sorry for the disappointment of Lin, of whom he was very fond, he could not help admiring beautiful Bonnie, and pitying her, too, she seemed so unhappy and so desolate, and so he told her that if she had no nearer friends to turn to for advice he would be very happy, as the friend of the deceased, to aid her in any future arrangements she might wish to make.

"You are very kind," she said, clasping her little white hands in a pathetic appeal for her black dress. "I have been thinking what to do, Mr. Rainsford. I want to go to boarding-school a long, long way from here—to England if I may."

"But is not that a strange fancy, Miss Lloyd? There are so many good schools nearer home."

"I want to go away from here a long, long way," repeated the girl, and no arguments could turn her from her decision.

"You say I have plenty of money, so what does it matter how far I go, since I am an orphan and have no home ties to bind me here," she said, sadly.

"That is true," he replied. "I will go home and consult with my wife about it. She will come and talk with you about the arrangements for your going."

So in a few more days John Lloyd's lovely heiress bade adieu to her native land and sailed for England. Lawyer Rainsford and his wife accompanied her and placed her in a fashionable London school, and left her there apparently contented, but at heart the saddest girl in the world.

So while the people in her old home wondered and wondered over Bonnie Dale's fate, finally deciding that she had drowned herself in the river, Bonnie herself lay in the fire without speaking unless someone addressed him, seemingly lost in a painful reverie. Although Imogen tried to rouse him, by telling him that the work on the farm sadly needed his oversight, he took no interest, and the hired men had things all their own way.

The reason of it all was because he believed that poor Bonnie, his best loved child, was dead, and although she had behaved so badly the remembrance of his cruelty was breaking his heart.

The search for the young girl had been given up. Her pretty red cap and her little gloves had been found on the bank of the river, and every one declared that she must certainly have committed suicide. Imogen believed it herself, and put on a black dress and a serious air, and lay awake some nights tormented by a keen remorse for her cruelty to little Bonnie, the household pet.

Miles Westland, too, was given up for dead, and another teacher was employed at the red school-house on the hill.

The pool and the river had been dragged, but the body of the missing schoolmaster had not been discovered. His hat and his watch were found in the pool, however, and it was supposed that his body had become food for the

SMART GOWN FOR LITTLE MAID

No. 8360—The pretty little dress here pictured is ideal for school wear, and though simple and practical for home making, it yet has a style of its own. Wide tucks over the shoulders give the fashionable broad effect, so becoming to children. A pretty and unusual feature is the yoke that extends down the front in panel effect. It is piped on the edges with velvet a shade or two darker than the dress, which was made of tan cashmere. The mode is also adapted to the washable fabrics such as linen and gingham, as well as mohair, serge and albatross. For a girl of 8 years 3/4 yards of 36-inch material will be required.

Girl's Dress, No. 8360. Sizes for 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.

A pattern of the accompanying illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

WOLF SHOT.

The Animal Killed Many Sheep in Mosa Township.

Glencoe, Feb. 4.—A wolf, supposed to have escaped from the park at Belle Isle a couple of years ago, and which since that time has been devastating the sheepfolds of Mosa township, was shot this afternoon on the farm of Donald McAlphine, by well as McAlphine. The wolf was a fine specimen, weighing forty-two pounds, standing two feet three inches in height, and measuring three feet one inch in length.

It is estimated that the animal has killed nearly a thousand dollars' worth of sheep in this neighborhood during the past year. The township of Mosa alone paid out over seven hundred dollars at a two-thirds valuation for sheep destroyed.

RACE WAR.

Armed Young Men of Pittsburg Out on the Streets

Dressed as Women Hoping They Will be Attacked.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 4.—The situation in the Herron Hill district, where over 150 negroes have been arrested following the many attacks on young white girls, is quiet to-night, but a double force of police and plain-clothes men is still on duty, as there is a strong under-current of racial feeling that needs but a slight excuse to break forth in violent form.

The authorities believe that in Mack McGee they have the man who has been terrorizing the Herron Hill district. McGee was identified to-day as the man seen running away from the scene of the most recent assault, and Miss Ida O'Neil, the victim of the attack, gave a description of the cap worn by her assailant that fits the headgear worn by McGee.

John D. Shuter to-day sentenced William Martin, colored, to serve five years in the Western Penitentiary, the limit of the law, on the charge of assault and battery with intent to commit a more serious crime, on Mrs. Mary Schaffer several weeks ago.

Many negroes of the Herron Hill district are moving to the suburbs, to get away from the scene of the trouble. The authorities have sent out young men, dressed as women, and armed with blackjacks, hoping to have the guilty negroes accost or attack them.

ANTI-JAP LAW.

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 5.—Governor Gillett will send a message to the Assembly to-day asking that body to reconsider the vote by which it yesterday passed the bill compelling Japanese children to attend separate schools. This intended action is the result of a message received from President Roosevelt yesterday, appealing to him to devise some means of blocking the measure in the Legislature.

Fun For Our Readers

Where the Miracle Came In.
Dr. Walter C. Smith, the popular Scotch poet-preacher, on one occasion tried to explain to an old lady the meaning of the scriptural expression, "Take up thy bed and walk," by saying that the bed was simply a mat or rug easily taken up and carried away.
"No, no," replied the lady. "I cannot believe that. The bed was a regular four-poster. There would be no miracle in walking away with a bit of mat or rug on your back."—Argonaut.

Law-Abiding Citizen.
One evening, when the city clerk's office was full of men seeking registration, an Irishman asked to be registered. He received the usual blank, with the request that he sign his name. This he succeeded in doing after a painful effort. Suspecting that this was the extent of his accomplishments, an onlooker called out to the clerk:
"Try him on another name; let him write yours."
"Deed, I'd never dare," said the Irishman, quick as lightning. "Sure, 'twould be forgery."—Youth's Companion.

A LITTLE REHEARSAL.
Mr. Saphend—Willie, is your sister busy?
Willie—She seems to be. She is standing in front of the mirror saying, "Mr. Saphend, this is so sudden."

Dressed for the Concert.
Heinrich Conried was telling how he had the old-fashioned concert was sometimes. "An old Chicago millionaire," he said, "called upstairs to his daughter:
"What a time you girls take getting ready for the concert! Look at me—a bit of wadding in each ear and I'm all ready."—Success Magazine.

Improving.
Bach—Confess, now, Henry—you don't pay as much attention to your wife as you did before you were married, do you?
H. Peck—Lord, yes! I mind twice as quick now.—Cleveland Leader.

Too Risky.
"Do you approve of the plan of teaching pupils to box?"
"Not unconditionally," replied the country pedagogue, "remembering his hunky 19-year-olds. 'Might be all right, though, if you'd authorize the teachers to carry guns.'—Philadelphia Ledger.

Terminology.
Officious Salesman—Wouldn't you like to look at some of our overcoats or suits?
Dyspeptic Looking Customer—No, but if you will be kind enough to tell me where the drug department is I'll take a look at your pills and porous plasterings.—Chicago Tribune.

Grateful.
Henry E. Dixey was sitting in his dressing room before the curtain rose on "Mary Jane's Pa" the other night, watching a large roach leisurely traveling up the wall.
"Ah, a roach," said Mr. Dixey.
"Once, in my own home, I found a roach struggling in a bowl of water. I took a half walnut shell and put him in, it made a good boat; I gave him a couple of toothpicks for oars. Next morning I saw that he had fastened a hair to one of the toothpicks, and had evidently been fishing. Then, overcome by exhaustion, he had fallen asleep. The sight moved me. I took him out, washed him, gave him a spoonful of boiled egg and let him go. That roach never forgot my kindness, and now my home and dressing rooms are full of roaches."—Young's Magazine.

Was Hereditary.
Dix—From whom does she get her lovely complexion?
Nix—Her father, I believe.
Dix—Is he a druggist?

Monumental Blunder.
It was while Charlemagne Tower was Ambassador to Russia that a newspaper "spoke itself" upon a fête held at St. Petersburg. A green egg reader produced this result:
"As pleasing to the eye as was all this decoration there was additional pleasure in the sight, as one stood at the head of the Prospekt. News, of Charlemagne Tower, brilliantly illuminated, looming grand and imposing against the winter sky."—Success Magazine.

"My name is Harry, sir," replied the child.
"Harry, is it?" returned President Brown. "And did you know the evil one is often called Old Harry?"
"Why, no, sir," answered the boy. "I thought he was called Old Nick."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The stage manager of one of the Glasgow theatres was, in the old days, well known for his impetuous and hasty temper.
On one occasion a drama was put on, in which a snowstorm occurred. Some men were sent up into the hills with brown paper bags filled with little pieces of white paper, which they let fall to represent the snow. Suddenly the shower stopped.
"What's your snow?" roared the stage manager.
"We have no snow white paper," came a loud whisper from above.
"Then snow brown, or, fules, snow brown," was the manager's response.—Tit-Bits.

Next morning I saw that he had fastened a hair to one of the toothpicks, and had evidently been fishing. Then, overcome by exhaustion, he had fallen asleep. The sight moved me. I took him out, washed him, gave him a spoonful of boiled egg and let him go. That roach never forgot my kindness, and now my home and dressing rooms are full of roaches."—Young's Magazine.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, FEB. 5, 1905.

THE FIRST DIVISION.

The first division of the session and of the new House took place yesterday afternoon upon Dr. Reid's motion and Mr. Guthrie's amendment in regard to the reception and opening of tenders. It was not a full House, only 194 of the 218 members voting, the Government majority being 42. Great efforts were made by the Opposition to present its full strength, so as to make a good showing. The Third Party (W. F. Maclean, M. P.) and Mr. Joseph Russell voted with the Tories and Mr. Verville voted with the Government. An effort was made by the Tories to give the discussion a turn which would appear to place the Government in supporting the amendment as discriminating against Conservative tenderers and preventing them from securing contracts. Of course, such a contention could not for a moment be upheld in the face of the readily presentable facts. Mr. Miller was proceeding to show the utter groundlessness of such a contention by pointing out important contracts secured by the prominent members of the Tory party, when Mr. Borden, seeing the effectiveness of his line of argument, rose to a point of order, claiming that Mr. Miller could not be allowed to present this evidence on the motion and amendment before the House on account of a previous ruling. The Speaker sustained the objection, and Mr. Miller was not allowed to proceed.

A majority of 42 in a House of 194 is one that will be satisfactory to the Liberals of the country. With all the members present, it will probably be close upon 50. The Liberals have still a considerable margin over the forecast made by the Times during the election campaign. And it is not likely to grow less as the work of Parliament proceeds.

THE REGULATION POLICY.

Last night, at Mayor McLaren's instance, the Finance Committee passed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to include the Cataract Power Company and all others using water from the Welland Canal, under the control of the Dominion Railway Commission, as is proposed to be done with those generating power from the Trent Canal. We are not inclined to regard this resolution as arising from hostility toward the Cataract Power Company. Rather is it perfectly in line with the policy of the Dominion Government as illustrated in its control of railways, telegraphs and telephones, and, more recently, with reference to the power companies using the Trent Canal as a source of water supply. It is highly improbable that the Cataract Company will offer the slightest objection to any just regulation such as may be expected from the Dominion Railway Commission. Probably the very fact that the Company is subject to regulation by the Commission will do much to dispel the falsehood and prejudice which have been sedulously cultivated in certain quarters to its injury. Moreover, it will absolutely remove the last shred of excuse which the anti-Hamilton interests and their local organ have for their war upon this most important industry of our city. With this Government regulation in force, the only plea which the Hydro ring could present for asking citizens to bear a huge burden for alleged competition (?) would be desire to injure the great industry built up by local investors.

And, while we are pleased to see that the Dominion Government is extending and making more efficient its control of the great public services of the country, so that the Finance Committee has thus expressed its confidence in the policy by its resolution of last night, we cannot but think that something remains yet to be done by extending that control and regulation to all the public service companies of a similar character. This regulation should cover the Ontario Power Company and all the power-generating and distributing companies using Niagara. All should be placed on the same basis.

And now that Mayor McLaren and the aldermen have come to see that the local electric company is not the "huge octopus" and "tyrannous monopoly" which cannot be controlled, that some people have sought to represent it as being, it may be worth their while to keep in view the fact that in the matter of electric lighting, whether for public or private uses, it cannot practise extortion or disregard the wants and conveniences of the people. IF THE COUNCIL DOES ITS DUTY. The law provides that the Council can compel it to furnish light for private or public uses at a price to be fixed by arbitration. If the prices charged are excessive, the fault lies with the Council.

APPETITE FOR BOUNTIES.

The Spectator tells its readers that it was "uphill work trying to establish the iron and steel industry in Canada, and down to 1879, when the protective tariff was adopted, disaster followed nearly every effort." The organ is less than candid. It would make it to appear that with the N. P. came the establishment of the industry. That is, of course, false. Even after eighteen years of N. P. plus bounties and bonusing, it said it was not "established." The Liberal Government reformed the absurd N. P. tariff, and adopted a direct and large subsidy system. By this means some progress has been made, but it has been a very costly process. Millions upon millions of the taxes are paid to the steel and iron men to run their own business for their own profit. In many cases the bounty poured into their pockets amounts to far and away more than all the wage cost of the product! It is a pretty costly sort of encouragement, although a fat thing for the recipients. Our contemporary "moralizes" on the iron and steel "encouragement" in this way: "Had the Laurier Government dealt as kindly and generously with the woolen industry at it has with iron and steel, there would be fewer idle woolen mills in Canada to-day." Perhaps. But surely we should not be obliged to tax ourselves more than the value of the entire product of these mills in order to keep them alive; better that they should die, if they can only live at such ruinous cost to the people. They have 30 to 50 per cent. protection now; how much would satisfy them? We could better afford to buy all these mills out and let them lie idle, paying the owners large salaries and all the employees high wages, and keeping them at first-class hotels, rather than shut Canadians up to the monopoly the organ seeks. Moreover, were we willing to adopt the plan which our contemporary approves as "establishing" the iron and steel industry, which gets so many millions of bounties, and apply it to the woolen and other industries (where would the limit be fixed?), we must not forget that somebody would have to earn the millions. The people would have to pay them. All could not be fed on their chops and squeal for more. Somebody must speak for the men who toil to pay the taxes for these men of healthy appetites and boastful love of their country—or of its coin!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hamilton Cataract Power Company paid the Government in 1907 for water from the Welland Canal $21,205.

Wonder why, Mayor McLaren, the Council kept Mr. Hellmuth's name as power contract expert so dark? Was it feared he would be "fixed" by some interest?

The Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance has called a convention for March 3 and 4 in Toronto. The year 1909 promises to be fruitful in effort for temperance progress.

One of the difficulties in the way of law reform is the necessity of law costs which must follow any reasonable measure. How can we expect the lawyers to reduce their own emoluments?

Mr. Barnard, M. P. for Victoria, by grace of the forged Borden telegram, manifests no disposition to give up the stolen goods. He apparently does not admit that the receiver is as bad as the thief.

Stanley Mills & Co's. idea for promoting Hamilton industries by a made-in-Hamilton special exhibit is a good one. Pity more would not take it up instead of knocking local concerns in the interest of outsiders.

It exasperates the Spectator to mention the fact that in exchanging Zimmerman for Stewart the city got a real deal and Hamilton industries lost a very good friend. But it is what people all over the city, Grits and Tories, are frankly saying.

The power monopoly organ declares that "it requires no expert knowledge of electrical science to enable one to recognize the salient facts of the local power situation." Yes, its treatment of the subject would indicate that it regards knowledge of the situation as the least qualification for discussing it.

George Wright, of Halifax, protests against low forms of public amusements which tend to demoralize the youth of the country. We gather from Mr. Wright's communication that there is room for improvements in Halifax. He even hints that there is need of cleaning up in "Toronto the Good."

The usual stories as to the success of Manitoba's Provincial telephone system continue to come in in varying forms, with promises of reductions in rates. As yet, only increases have been made, and the Provincial methods of bookkeeping are such as "surpluses" will not be credited until a careful examination of the public accounts has been made.

King Menelik, who calls himself "The King of Kings," and claims descent from Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, is said to be dying. The Abyssinian monarch maintained a large and efficient army equipped with modern weapons, and, before the succession is settled, it is to be feared that there will be much bloodshed in Abyssinia.

A two hundred million cement combination is projected in the United States, with the object of keeping up prices and "regulating" the supply of distribution. It is said that cement will be advanced from 25 to 35c a barrel immediately upon the organization being perfected. Those in the combination, however, deny that increase of prices is aimed at.

Rumors of a widespread plot to overthrow the new Turkish constitutional government and re-establish absolutism are now rife. It is interesting to note that the object of the alleged conspiracy is said to be the substitution of a Moslem fanatic instead of Abdul Hamid. The European press seems to take it for granted that there might be worse rulers than Abdul.

With due respect to Mr. Aylesworth and those members of the House who object to the use of the lash as the punishment for abuse of women, and for robbery with violence, we are unable to share their sentiments of horror at the proposal. The argument that the lash is degrading is not a new one, and, moreover, it is not proposed to use it upon any criminals that it could possibly degrade. The men who amuse themselves by inflicting physical tortures upon their wives, and those who seek to profit by robbery with violence, are not in need of public sympathy, and are in no danger of being degraded by flogging. The judges might safely be trusted to see that the powers given them by the statute to order flogging when deserved, are not abused.

This journal has spent money in the employment of special writers qualified to discuss the disclosed terms of the Waterways Treaty in their effect upon the Hydro-Electric problem in Ontario. —Toronto Telegram.

If that be true, the public generally will think that the Telegram wasted good money to make a pitiful exhibition of a lot of ignorant, hysterical rot for which a self-respecting Canadian newspaper should be heartily ashamed.

The Sarnia Canadian (Tory), in its sour and disgruntled humor, declares that "Canada's credit is weakening." We venture to say that no honest, intelligent Canadian for a moment thinks so. The excellence of Canada's credit is a matter of common remark in financial circles in Great Britain. A question of more or less in interest rate is merely a matter of tightness or looseness of money in the world's markets; but as to Canada's credit there has never been a shadow of a doubt.

The fairness (?) of the Toronto News is illustrated by charging the crime of Moir to "the present system of immigration." It will be remembered that Moir was tried for homicide and was found to be suffering from epilepsy, and is now incarcerated in the insane asylum. Nobody ever suspected him of being an epileptic until his trial. He had been two years in the country and was wearing his Majesty's uniform at the time of the crime. If Moir had been ten years in the country before it became suspected that he was an epileptic, doubtless the News would be equally ready to blame the Immigration Department.

Fourteen of the most important industries in Hamilton have iron and steel as their foundation, giving work to several thousand men. It would form an interesting chapter on Industrial Hamilton to gather the number of men employed in each of the establishments, the amount of wages paid, and the total output of the finished product. It would open the eyes of the Liberal shriekers for free trade or a reduction in the tariff. —Spectator.

Sounds familiar, doesn't it? But the writer should bear in mind when he feels like "throwing himself" in that way that Hamilton and its industries just began to recover from the evil days of the N. P. and to forge ahead and expand when a Liberal Government reduced and reformed the tariff and took the letters off. Hamilton's prosperity dates from the accession of a Liberal tariff-reducing Government!

Fires in Montreal.

There were in Montreal last month 115 fires calling for the services of the brigade. This was at the rate almost of one fire every four hours. This sort of thing is calculated to strengthen the impression that the cause of the heavy losses by burning which this and other cities suffer is to be found within rather than without the buildings, and that the brigade which keeps down fire losses in face of such conditions has to be lucky as well as efficient.

The York County Council decided to discontinue their grant of $50 to the Canadian National Exhibition.

FOUND CUTICURA INDISPENSABLE

For Her Children—Little Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema Which Simply Covered Back of Head—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too.

ALL PROMPTLY CURED BY "WONDERFUL OINTMENT"

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads which were simply covered. Before I heard of Cuticura, I used to try almost everything, but they failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment, Cuticura. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on her neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. I am using the Cuticura Remedies yet whenever any of my family have any sores. I can never recommend Cuticura sufficiently; it is indispensable in every home. I cannot find its equal. Mme. Napoleon Dupepe, 41 Duluth St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

RUSH OF PIANO BUYERS

Everybody is Taking Advantage of Geo. W. Carey's Retiring from Business Sale

Yesterday was another busy day at the great Carey Retiring from Business Sale and many beautiful pianos found new homes.

Never in the history of the piano trade have such beautiful instruments been offered at such ridiculously low prices, but the goods must be sold, and the only way to sell them is to make price the object.

There are no finer pianos in the world than Mason & Risch New Scale Williams Haines Bros. Ennis & Co. Newcombe Dominion Krydner and all are offered at from below the regular prices, so our loss is your gain. We do not hesitate to say this is the finest collection of high-grade pianos ever seen under one roof, and it seems a pity to see them go so cheap, but we want to close everything out in the shortest time possible, and in many cases goods are offered at less than the cost to make them.

$100 to $200

OUR EXCHANGES

Your Valentine. (Belleville Intelligencer.) Soon be time to get the valentine verse machine oiled up. Going to send her something nice this year? Both Claim It. (Toronto Globe.) That must be a pretty good Government at Ottawa. Everything it undertakes to do the Opposition yells, "I saw it first." Carried unanimously then. Foster's Economy. (Ottawa Free Press.) Hon. Mr. Aylesworth yesterday presented a bulky return moved for on Feb. 10 last year by Mr. Foster, relating to the release of convicts since 1896. Later on, it was stated by the Minister of Justice that the preparation of this return, which covered 686 pages, had cost the country $2,000. That is the way in which the member for North Toronto practises economy! But Not Always. (Toronto News.) Natural gas would make an almost ideal fuel if it were not for its habit of giving out when the thermometer is ten below zero. Certainly. (Guelph Herald.) It sounds strange to hear the Hamilton Times talking about "Obstacles to Reform," but nevertheless that paper ought to be an authority on the subject. Air Too Strong. (Toronto Star.) An unemployed person, hired by the city to shovel snow, has just paid a fine for drunkenness. Our champagne air, which word-painters are never tired of referring to, must have gone to his head. Just Like New York. (London Advertiser.) "Are we being Americanized?" asks a contemporary. "Judging by the spread of the 5-cent theatre, the shoe-shine parlor and the quick-lunch restaurant, we are." May Invade Canada. (Major-General Lake.) "How about Japan?" asked General Lake. "When Japan has pulled herself together and reorganized her army and navy, as she is doing; when she feels the need for expansion, it is quite certain in what direction that line of expansion is going to trend. When China awakens and realizes that she has hundreds of millions living under difficulties on land cultivated to the last point, will she be satisfied to stand still? We see signs of nationalhood in India. Great Britain has been working to educate India, and she cannot stop. These recent ebullitions, a sort of agitation by outrage, may check the process for a time, but cannot stop it. India is going to be a nation, and in the course of the present century we are going to have to face a great fight, a desire for expansion on the part of these big Oriental nations. They are bound to do that soon, and it seems to me that every white inhabitant of America is given a nice and pressing problem. How far are we going to share the country with the eastern peoples, and their ideals, moral and religious, and family life to obtain here as opposed to the western ideals? If mere arguments," he proceeded, "will not prevail we shall need force behind, and must prepare to fight for our ideals." Three anti-Japanese bills were considered in the California Assembly yesterday and two were beaten. The only one which passed was Grove Johnson's bill, providing for the segregation of Japanese children and placing them in special Asiatic schools.

Mayor McLaren thought that this might interfere with the city getting the patents it is now applying for, and it was decided to take no action along this line for the present.

HALL & HYKE.

Judgment Secured by Hamilton Men at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Feb. 4.—In the Division Court yesterday before Judge Wells judgment was given in favor of Hamilton parties against two men named Hall and Hyke, absconding Hamilton undertakers, charged with the fraudulent removal of two carloads of goods from Hamilton, which were placed under seizure here some time ago.

Hall and Hyke did business while in this city, on Barton street east, and disappeared a couple of months ago after getting horses, rigs, furniture, etc., upon which, it is alleged, they paid little or nothing. At the time they skipped it was said they had had only one burial in three months.

First Day of the February Clearing Sale.

R. McKay & Co. are offering some of the best buying chances of the whole year for to-morrow, the first day of their annual clearing sale. Bargain examples such as these will crowd this store again to-morrow.

A very successful Scotch concert was held at St. James Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, on Thursday evening. Mayor McLaren occupied the chair and Pipers T. Davenport and R. Landsborough opened the proceedings with a tune on the bagpipes. A fine programme of Scotch songs was given by Mrs. Weir and Miss Selars, and by Messrs W. Davenport, T. Jackson, A. Rodgers, J. Dobson, G. Slosser and W. Scott; comic songs by Scott Morrison; piano selection by A. C. McMillan; recitations by Messrs. W. and T. Davenport. Miss Husband and Mr. McMillan acted as accompanists. A hearty vote of thanks, moved by R. S. Wallace and G. H. Milne was tendered to those assisting. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought to a close a "braw Scotch night."

Stanley Mills & Co. Friday, February 5th, 1908. The Great Home Industrial Exposition Will be at its Best To-morrow. An exposition of commerce and industry surpassing in comprehensiveness, interest and educational value, anything that has ever been attempted in a Canadian Store. Come To-morrow.

Everything is in perfect running order now. All the exhibits and demonstrations are in full swing, reminding one of nothing so much as a great world's fair. The whole 3rd floor is a fascinating scene—brilliant with lights, gay with flags and decorations, merry with eager throngs and bewildering with the whirl and burr of machinery. This store never does things by halves, and when we say this Industrial Exposition exceeds its three important predecessors, you can come to-morrow expecting much.

SCOTCH NICHT. Enjoyable Entertainment in St. James' Church. A very successful Scotch concert was held at St. James Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, on Thursday evening. Mayor McLaren occupied the chair and Pipers T. Davenport and R. Landsborough opened the proceedings with a tune on the bagpipes. A fine programme of Scotch songs was given by Mrs. Weir and Miss Selars, and by Messrs W. Davenport, T. Jackson, A. Rodgers, J. Dobson, G. Slosser and W. Scott; comic songs by Scott Morrison; piano selection by A. C. McMillan; recitations by Messrs. W. and T. Davenport. Miss Husband and Mr. McMillan acted as accompanists. A hearty vote of thanks, moved by R. S. Wallace and G. H. Milne was tendered to those assisting. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought to a close a "braw Scotch night." MAY ARREST EDITOR. Nesbitt-Macdonald Libel Action Grows More Interesting. Toronto, Feb. 4.—Defense lawyers in the Nesbitt-Macdonald libel case threatened to have Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Globe, arrested yesterday if it was the judgment of Justice Latchford in the non-jurisdiction over the case. N. W. Rowell, K. C., who appeared for Rev. Mr. Macdonald, pointed out to the court that as the defendant had not had his case brought up, nor had his case been traversed, the court had no jurisdiction, and the matter should be allowed to drop. Wallace Nesbitt, K. C., said that if the reason that the case could not proceed was that the defendant had not been arrested, that matter could be done at once. The trial goes on to-morrow. THE GROCERS Will Interview Government on Law Reform. The regular monthly meeting of the Hamilton Retail Grocers' Association was held in the Board of Trade rooms last evening, with President John Forth in the chair and a large attendance present. The question of law reform was discussed. As this matter will be taken up by the Ontario Legislature at the coming session it was suggested that a deputation be sent to Toronto to interview the Government in regard to a simpler procedure for the collection of small accounts. Regret was expressed at the defeat of the good roads by-law at the last election and hopes were expressed that the City Council may be able to devise some way to raise the money to improve the city streets. It is the intention of the association to hold a series of debates that will be of interest to the members in the near future. The secretary was instructed to invite Mr. H. C. Beckett to give an address at the next regular meeting. With reference to the Canadian Associated Press cable of Jan. 11, the Secretary of the Imperial Press Conference says there is no idea of any kind or sort of party politics in the invitation to newspaper colleagues overseas. On Thursday the ratemakers of Kingston carried the by-law to grant the Wornwith Piano Company a bonus of $10,000 to prevent it moving to another place, in view of the big loss it sustained by fire in December. If we pay for the music we will join in the dance.—French.

COBALT MINING STOCKS

Montreal took the lead in the mining market to-day, with a boom in Crown serve as the feature. The stock went as high there as 2.96 for 60-day delivery. In the local trading the failure of a firm which has been prominent on the Standard Exchange rather dampened the enthusiasm of market followers. Silver Queen had another sharp drop on further bearish reports from the camp. Crown Reserve sold at 2.80 here.

Toronto Railway was also in the limelight, with Richelieu & Ontario also a feature. Mexican took a turn upward this morning, making about three points on an active market. The annual meeting will be held in the course of two weeks; the stock rose to 85 1/4, the highest price in the past two weeks, but reacted and closed at 84. There was a big buying demand for Toronto Railway, which stock rose to 129 3/4, and traders are reported as being very bullish inclined towards the stock despite the big movement of the past two months. Twin City rose to 104 1/2, on a heavy turnover. Montreal Power was also strong, closing at 116 1/4. Montreal Street Railway was up to 207. Richelieu was active and higher, closing at 81 1/2. The whole list was strong and trading was in large volume. CHINA'S PEANUT CROP. Peanuts form one of the largest crops over a large part of the northern provinces of China, and enter rather heavily into both the China coast and foreign trade. They are chiefly to Russian Pacific ports, Siam, Japan and Great Britain. Of the peanut oil the United States buys $500,000 worth a year. COMMERCIAL NOTES. Buenos Ayres received a steamship tonnage of 551,601 in August and September, 1908, of which not a single ton was American. British foreign trade for the ten months ended October, 1908, covered imports, $2,267,681,358, a decrease from 1907 of $225,118,031, and exports $1,550,810,416 a decrease of $189,453,312, a total trade decrease of $414,671,343. Quarry Bay, Hong Kong, now has the most important dock in the far east, the largest and most efficiently equipped, having a length of 787 feet. The Tasmania Agricultural and Pastoral Society held its annual carnival at Launceston, Tasmania, during October. American agricultural implements and machinery, windmills, traction engines, etc., were freely shown and well received, says Consul Henry D. Baker, of Hobart, Tasmania, who was there. Turkey wares American collars, shoe polish, porcelain and glassware, and Spain wares American steel, bolts, nuts, and wire. Canadians are accumulating money at a much faster rate than the banks and business men can profitably invest it there. The Ottawa October bank statement showed a decrease of $64,000,000 in home loans in one year and an increase of $8,000,000 in the loans made abroad, says a consular report. Liverpool shipping returns for 1907, though covering the entrance of 3,359 vessels of 8,127,419 tons, do not list a single American ship, unless maybe some little odd one is included in "other foreign nationalities," four vessels, aggregating 6,314 tons. HOW THE STARS AFFECT THE STOCK MARKET THIS MONTH. It is interesting to see how the stars influence the stock market in February. Raphael, the London astrologer, ventures the following as "the voice of the heavens": 2nd.—Buy, speculate up to 3 p.m. 3rd.—Keep quiet. 4th.—Ask favors. 6th.—Do business up to 1 p.m.—then doubtful. 8th.—Uncertain. Postpone all important business. 9th.—Sell; the day is evil. 10th.—Buy and speculate in afternoon. 15th.—Unfortunate day. 18th.—Ask favors. 19th.—Very doubtful. Be careful. 20th.—Good for business. 22nd.—A very unfortunate day. 24th.—Ask favors. 26th.—An unfavorable day.

TO BEAT BANK OF ENGLAND.

A Montreal banker, who has just returned from New York, states that he has heard of plans on foot there to give New York a bank that will beat the Bank of England. Plans are approaching completion, he says, for a consolidation of the National City Bank and the National Bank of Commerce, with a combined capital and surplus of $100,000,000 and deposits of about $500,000,000, making it by far the biggest bank in the world. It is said that Frank A. Vanderlip, now president of the National City Bank, will become president of the merged institution. Valentin P. Snyder is president of the Bank of Commerce, and it is presumed he will have a high position in the new bank. The National City has a capital of $25,000,000 and a surplus of $10,000,000. Its deposits are in excess of $20,000,000. The Bank of Commerce has a capital of $25,000,000, a surplus of $15,250,000, and deposits of about $200,000,000.

Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—Oil opened unchanged at $1.76.

New York, Feb. 5.—Cotton futures opened steady. March $9.49; May $9.41; July $9.30; Aug. $9.28 bid; Oct. $9.21; Dec. $9.15; Jan. $9.12 bid.

New York, Feb. 5.—Wall street, noon.—A decline was arrested by a spurt in Brooklyn transit from 69 1/2 to 71 1/4 on the declaration of an initial dividend. That stock reacted enough to bring the recovery in general list had gone far.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

On May 17, 1792, the First Agreement Among Brokers was Signed.

In the early part of March, 1792, the first notice was printed of the opening of a Stock Exchange office at 22 Wall street by A. L. Bleecker & Sons, J. Pinard, McKevs & Barclay, Cortlandt & Terrell, Jay & Sutton. These several firms held auctions of stock each day at noon, selling in rotation to insure equal opportunities for each other. Some of the broker specialists resented such a restricted organization, and on March 21 a meeting was called of the dissenting brokers for purposes of protection and a committee was appointed to provide a suitable room in which to assemble and to suggest such rules and regulations for conducting their business as the committee deemed necessary. The final result of this meeting, says Moody's Magazine, was the first signed agreement among dealers in securities, the oldest record now in the archives of the New York Stock Exchange. The agreement reads as follows: We, the subscribers, brokers for the purchase and sale of public stock, do solemnly promise and pledge ourselves to each other, for any person buy or sell from this day, that we will not, at a less rate than one-quarter per cent. commission on the specie value, and that we will give a preference to each other in our negotiations. In testimony whereof we have signed our hands this 17th day of March, 1792.

This organization had no local habitation for conducting exchange business. Like the curb brokers to-day, transactions were carried on in the open air at a point between the present numbers of 68 and 70 Wall street, under a famous old buttonwood tree that stood there with wide-spreading branches which protected them from the sun-rays and ordinarily inclement weather. Business in those days was not rushing and there was an air of leisure and calm about the gathering. Securities were not active enough to employ all the time of the brokers, so between times betting on the results of domestic and foreign political controversies and dealing in merchandise were included. The first inside quarters of the exchange were secured in 1793, when the building known as the north-east corner of Wall and William streets, was completed. The old buttonwood tree was abandoned and the dignity of the brokers' organization was elevated by the change. The Tontine Coffee House was controlled by a chartered company composed of subscribers at $200 each, organized as a Merchants' Exchange.

The dealers in securities and the merchants were all jumbled up together, and at times when trading was brisk there was wild excitement and shouts which would have done credit to a band of Comanche Indians. No constitution for a stock exchange was adopted until 1817, when the New York Stock and Exchange Board was formally organized and a constitution adopted. Nathaniel Prime was appointed president and John Burson secretary.—New York Sun.

GERMANY'S IRON DISCIPLINE.

Sentry, Following Regulations, Refused to Rescue Drowning, Man. An extraordinary example of German military discipline which occurred near Bronikowen is attracting public attention and has given rise to a discussion as to whether or not it would be desirable to allow soldiers doing sentry duty liberty of action in cases where human life is endangered. A wealthy land owner of Bronikowen, Herr Arthur Kriede, was skating on Sensburg Lake when the ice broke and he fell through into the water. Close at hand a soldier was doing sentry duty and Kriede shouted to the soldier for help and begged him to render assistance. Military regulations, however, prohibit a soldier doing sentry duty from leaving his post under any circumstances. As this particular soldier could not render assistance to Kriede without leaving his post and thereby infringing military regulations, he remained where he was and watched Kriede drown before his eyes. There were several long poles lying near the spot, and the soldier need only have walked to the bank of the lake and held one of the poles to the drowning man in order to effect his rescue.—From the London Evening Standard.

A Winter's Tale.

Mme. De Navarro praised at a luncheon in New York American wit. "It was horribly cold the other afternoon," she said. "A bitter wind whirled down before his eyes. They were like red, swollen faces. And all the teamsters, as they drove, kept slapping their poor frosted hands against their breasts. "Getting into my hansom I said to the driver: "This is real winter weather, isn't it?" "The driver nodded and smiled grimly. "I give you my word, ma'am," said he. "I ain't seen a butterfly all day."—Washington Star.

A Birthday Fund has been started by many parents to provide a start in life for their children when reaching twenty-one . . . An excellent means of providing a son or daughter with a good start on life's journey when they come of age, is to open a Birthday Savings Bank account in the child's name. Each birthday, deposit a sum to their credit, equal to their years—at five years, $5.00, and at ten years, $10.00.

These sums, with interest, will amount in twenty-one years to quite a substantial sum—especially if the child is encouraged to deposit its pocket money in the same fund. At twenty-one, turn the control of the account over to the son or daughter. It will either provide a start in life, or form an incentive for further steady accumulation, that will make for success and a competence for old age.

The growing Bank Account is a valuable object lesson, and the child will generally make every effort to add to the sum as it watches it grow. Children thus start life with a good foundation laid for success and prosperity.

THE BANK OF HAMILTON specially invites these Birthday Fund Savings Accounts, and provides every facility and convenience for their opening and operation, under the control of either, or both, parents.

INTERNATIONALS AND NATIONALS WON.

A small crowd at the Armory rink witnessed two fast and exciting games in the City Indoor League series. The first game was between the Internationals and St. Patricks, and it resulted in a win for the former by a score of 9 to 6. McLeod pitched for the Internationals, and considering that it was his first game, he made a creditable showing. The whole team was on edge, both in fielding and hitting. Davy Adams for St. Patricks, pitched a good game, but the support he received was poor. Padden and Casey were the only two that played to form, the rest of the team being off color. The teams lined up as follows: Internationals (9)—Hottrum 2b, D. McAvoin rf, McLeod p, Lomas 3b, Saunders c, Whitney lf, Hughes rs, Barber r. St. Patricks (6)—Padden ls, Casey 2b, Carroll 3b, Smith lf, McKew c, Adams p, Campbell rf, Regan lf, Bowls rs. New York, Feb. 5.—(Special).—No tournament in the history of bowling in the United States has been studied with so many features as will be that of the National Bowling Association, which will be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, beginning on May 24, and concluding on June 12. In the first championships of the N. B. A. last year, and in all the annual tournaments of the American Bowling Congress a convention programme has prevailed, consisting of five-men and two-men team tournaments and an individual competition. Of course, there were international matches that stirred up interest among the visiting bowlers from the east and the west and the north and the south, which were a feature, but it was retained for the United Tournament Company, which is financing the big $50,000 event of the National Bowling Association in the metropolis this year, to hit upon plans and ideas that will make past championships look like small affairs and set a new standard for bowling tournaments of country-wide scope. There will be at least three features of a distinct character. One will be the participation of bowlers from Germany, another is a tournament for the ball tossers of the National, American and Eastern Leagues, and the third is a competition for teams rolling in closed tournaments. It is nothing new for Canadian bowlers to come over the border and match their skill against the pin tumbler of the United States in championships, thus giving an international flavor to the occasion, but it is something new for followers of the sport to leave the Fatherland and cross the herring pond to engage in an American tournament. Yet this feature is to mark this year's tourney of the N. B. A. The visit of the Tenpins is a matter of courtesy to New York bowlers, who on three occasions have gone to Germany to roll in the championships. The Gotham bowlers first met Emperor William's domain in 1891, in which year the championships were held in Hanover. And they triumphed, what is more, winning the major event, besides carrying off some lesser honors. In 1904 the New Yorkers again crossed the sea. This time the tournament was decided at Solinger and not only did the Americans win the highest team honors, but Fred Schwartz, the treasurer of the United Tournament Company, won the individual championship. Last year they tried again, but only a few crumbs fell to them. Before departing for home last year, the New Yorkers were assured that in view of the importance they had lent to the German championships by their presence and in return for past favors, at least two teams of five men each would make the trip to America for the N. B. A. championships in 1909. The closed league tournament will be open to teams rolling in fraternal, military, athletic and commercial leagues in New York and vicinity, and already a lively interest is evinced in this special. It will be the closing event of three weeks of rolling and will enable teams which have bowled in the regular championship to have another inning on the drives for a valuable cup.

HORSE RACING ON THE COAST IS KILLED.

Sacramento, Feb. 5.—Racing in the State of California received a vital blow when the Senate yesterday, by a vote of 33 to 7, passed the Walker-Otis anti-race track gambling bill, which prohibits pool-selling, bookmaking or gambling on horse races. The bill already had passed the Assembly and it will now go to the Governor for his signature, after which it will become a law. Governor Gillett has signified his intention to sign the measure if passed by both houses, but it is believed that he will not take this action until 30 days shall have elapsed. As the bill permits bookmakers 60 days in which to close up their affairs, the present season of racing at the Emeryville and Santa Anita courses will not be disturbed. The Walker-Otis bill is referred to as "Hughes law of California," inasmuch as it follows closely the text of the bill which was passed by the Legislature of New York. Violation of the measure is made a felony, the punishment for which is imprisonment in the penitentiary and a heavy fine. The Senate galleries were packed this afternoon when Senator Walker, sponsor for the bill, presented the measure for consideration. He explained that it would not prevent horse racing and would not injure the business of the State. It was agreed by the supporters of the bill that there should be no debate on the part of those favorable to its passage.

JAMES BROS., THIS CITY, BUY IMPERIAL ALLERTON.

New York, Feb. 5.—James Bros. of Hamilton made an import addition to the breeding interests of Canada, having purchased the brown trotting stallion, "Imperial Allerton," 2:12 1/4, for a large figure, at the sale of trotters at Madison Square Gardens, New York. He is a standard bred trotter, bred to George Wilkes, being by Allerton, 2:09 1/4, and his dam is by Oward and second dam by Ashland Chief, a descendant of Mambrino Chief. He has been a successful race horse, and as he is a good individual, standing over 16 hands, with plenty of substance, his royal breeding should make him a successful sire. Imperial Allerton will arrive in Hamilton on Saturday.

Ontario, Feb. 5.—Owing to poor ice the management of the Brantford hockey pros, this morning postponed the game scheduled for to-night with Berlin. Tickets will be honored at Tuesday night's game with Toronto. TORONTO BEAT GALT. Toronto, Feb. 5.—The Galt team, which has been beating all comers of late, got a thorough beating by the Toronto at Mutual street rink last night, and the champions thereby moved up into a position which puts them strictly in the running for the championship. That good forward line which has been gathered by Manager Mlin got in its great work again, and the Galt defence could not prevent it from going in on Mercer time and time again. The Galt goal tender gets the credit for holding down the Toronto score, for he had done fast, accurate shots to stop, and stop them he did. The six which evaded him were on hard chances. The Galt team was rearranged by Manager Irving to increase its scoring abilities. The change did not have the desired effect. The players from Little Manchester are good individually, but they were very much lacking in team play. This may have been the result of Toronto, Feb. 5.—The Galt team, which has been beating all comers of late, got a thorough beating by the Toronto at Mutual street rink last night, and the champions thereby moved up into a position which puts them strictly in the running for the championship. That good forward line which has been gathered by Manager Mlin got in its great work again, and the Galt defence could not prevent it from going in on Mercer time and time again. The Galt goal tender gets the credit for holding down the Toronto score, for he had done fast, accurate shots to stop, and stop them he did. The six which evaded him were on hard chances. The Galt team was rearranged by Manager Irving to increase its scoring abilities. The change did not have the desired effect. The players from Little Manchester are good individually, but they were very much lacking in team play. This may have been the result of

Y. M. C. A. SWIMMERS.

Instructive Lecture by Dr. Wickins Last Night.

The social evening of the Hamilton Y. M. C. A. swimming club, held last night at the Association building, proved a successful affair and materially assisted in the promotion of a sport which is now rapidly taking its place in athletic circles on a firm and substantial basis. After the disposal of the more substantial forms of the evening's entertainment, the members had the pleasure of listening to a lecture by Dr. Wickins on "The Heart and Lungs in their Relation to Swimming." In giving his address the doctor gave it as his opinion that for an all round beneficial exercise, swimming stood unrivalled among athletic sports. After discoursing at considerable length on the primary functions of the respiratory organs and the heart, he proceeded to the vital question of the resuscitation of a drowning person, and the modern physician as demonstrated in such broadminded talks as compared with the conservative conduct of his predecessor who, as he said, "gave one little more than a pill, a bottle of medicine and a grunt." Dr. Wickins, whose name has become inseparable from the sport in Hamilton, also expressed his appreciation of the work Dr. Wickins has done, and is doing, to place swimming on a substantial basis among the sports of the country. A recitation by Capt. MacBrien concluded a very pleasant evening. Next Tuesday will be the monthly business meeting of the club.

ARE CHAMPIONS OF DISTRICT.

Beamsville Won the Deciding Hockey Game From Grimsby.

Beamsville, Feb. 5.—There was "naething te it" last night but the red and green all the way. Seven to four in Beamsville's favor was the story and the home crowd went wild with delight over their boys. It was a fine game all through and Referee Waghorne kept both sides in their places from start to finish. The only accident of the night occurred in the second half, when Chester Gibson, the visiting rover, careened into Beamsville's stone-wall defence man, Julke. Gibson fell rather heavily and struck the back of his head, putting him out of business altogether. Keller went off to even up. Two Beamsville players, Young and Gibson, were the only ones landed out for roughing it, and then only for a couple of minutes each. Shortly before the end of the last half, Farrell, of Grimsby, was sent crashing into one of the iron supports of his goal net, but, although he received a good shaking up, he went plucky on. In goal for Grimsby, Flett was borne down repeatedly by Walker and G. Gibson, and the home crowd, by lighting players of the former, were a few features of the game. Beatty and Keller were always in their places, and the little rover had a number of cards up his sleeve whenever they were necessary. Young and Gibson, a first appearance in fast company, and stood his baptism well. H. Farrell, at point, for the visitors, and Harrison and Hand, had to do the lion's share of the work, and they were kept at it. The ice was not in the best of condition for combinations, and individual work was ever necessary. Walker scored first for Beamsville in three minutes. Two were quickly put through by G. Gibson, then Walker shot from the side for another, and Beatty made it five, whitewashing the Western town in the first half. "Dad" Farrell, noted for his goal first goal in short order, but Gibson again found the nets for two. After a number of long passes, and amid considerable confusion near Beamsville's goal, Farrell tallied. This rover put some stamina into the green and white, and they went at it like beavers. The result was that Hand scored, and four minutes before time ended the last one. Beamsville. Goal. W. Flett... I. House... Point. R. Farrell... R. Hewitt... Cover. White... E. Julke... Rover. C. Gibson... Left... W. Beatty... Hand... J. Keller... Centre. C. Harrison... G. Gibson... Right. Dad Farrell... Punk Walker... Referee—Fred Waghorne. Timekeeper—W. Reid. Penalty—H. Lloyd. Umpires—O. Livingston and C. Glover. Time—1:15. This game makes Beamsville winners of district No. 5 by five points. To Mr. W. D. Fairbrother the hockey lovers of Beamsville and the surrounding district owe much of the success of this team. For nearly three years, now he has given much valuable time to keeping the seven to their present condition, and though adverse winds blew at times, his Irish tenacity has brought the seven out clean winners of their district. With but one or two exceptions this team in three years has remained unchanged, and the victory last night over old worthy and redoubtable opponents, was very cheering to the manager and those associated with him in an up-hill task. In looking for a needle in a haystack it is quite natural to find fault.

MERRY WIDOW'S 4TH.

Camp Mare Won Again Yesterday at Montreal.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—The meeting at Delorimier track closed yesterday, when a large crowd assembled to witness The Merry Widow's 4th, which was a race against the local track record of 2:13 1/4, which was made last season by Davy K., a local horse. The Fel's record for a mile, which is 2:11 1/2, was made in Ottawa recently, but it was not expected that the horse could approach this time at Delorimier Park, owing to a heavy track and unfavorable weather conditions. However, The Eel clipped a second off the track record by doing the mile in 2:14 1/4. The Merry Widow made another win in the 2:20 pace to-day, making four wins in all for her during the meet. There will be a special matinee at the park next Wednesday, and a four-days' meet will take place on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th, during the carnival. Summary: Free-for-all, purse $500. ## AN EXPERT ON AGRICULTURE.

Prof. Creelman Spoke at the Canadian Club Luncheon.

Progress of Farming Interest Through Scientific Treatment.

Ontario Still Produces More Wheat Than Northwest.

The Canadian Club luncheon held last evening in the Hotel Royal was well attended, and the members had the pleasure of listening to an address by Mr. G. C. Creelman, B. S. A., president of the Ontario Agricultural College, on the subject of "Agriculture." Mr. Creelman is an interesting speaker, and has the happy faculty of interspersing his serious remarks with shafts of wit and humor that held the attention of his auditors. In the limited time at his disposal he gave interesting facts about the farmer and his occupation, and what the Ontario Agricultural College is doing for the Ontario farmer. Being a rapid and fluent speaker, Mr. Creelman did not take up the whole of the time usually allotted one speaker, but he said enough to convince the most skeptical that the farmer of to-day is an important personage in the history of the country.

Introduced by Mr. W. M. McClelland, Mr. Creelman was greeted with enthusiastic applause when he arose to speak. He complimented the Canadian Club on its progress, and referred to the good work being accomplished by the club in Guelph, of which he was happy to be a member. Coming down to the subject in hand, Mr. Creelman said that the Ontario Agricultural College was one of the most cosmopolitan institutions of its kind in the world to-day. It has pupils studying farming conditions from almost every country in the world, and that in itself, he thought, was an excellent criterion by which the school might be judged. One thing that he found around him, he said, was that the attention that might be given to the subject was that Englishmen when they visit the college want to see the animals. The Canadian is different. He always had a desire to see the conservatories, and taken together, goes in for bigger things than any other student connected with the institution. The average man in England always looks forward to the time when he will be able to own a farm of his own. The Canadian farmer is always looking forward to the time when he will be able to go to the city and leave the farm.

There is a prevailing opinion that the farmer of to-day is stingy, and perhaps there is some truth to the argument, but Mr. Creelman said that it must be remembered that the farmer is prone to measure his success at a year's end against the city man's total income, with the natural result that the farmer is always complaining that he is in the hole on the year's business. This attitude should not be taken by the farmer when he considers for a moment that his total investment of farm land, stock, house and farming implements would bring his total income away above the city man's total revenue.

Mr. Creelman went on to speak of the trials and hardships that the fathers of the nation had to contend with, before the land was in fit condition for farming purposes. It had first to be cleared of the bush and other obstacles that required almost a life-time of effort and singleness of purpose, with the result that Ontario has some of the finest farming country that is to be found in the world.

The problems that the College has to deal with, are such as would seem to make the advancing of farming interests a profession in itself. The farmer of so ago a farmer had practically to fight his way through, but now conditions are entirely different, the Government being at all times willing and ready to lend assistance to the progressive farmer, so that he might obtain the best there is on the market, for the advancement of a cause that has proven the backbone of Canada's achievements.

Mr. Creelman went into the question of those farmers who are afflicted with swamps on their farms, and stated that during the past year, three men had been sent from the College, throughout Ontario, for the purpose of assisting the farmers in getting rid of the trouble. Five men will be engaged in this work this year. Since the tile drainage system has been introduced, the farms throughout the Province have increased many times their original value.

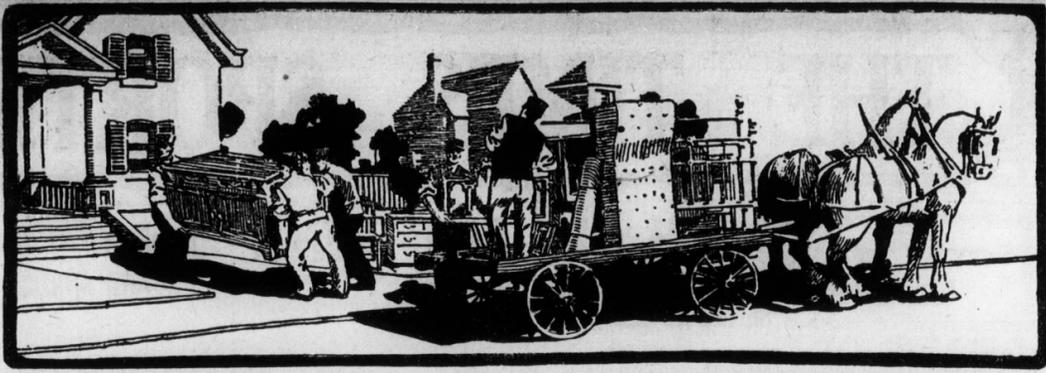

Years ago, Ontario was a banner Province in the raising of potatoes, going so far as to export great quantities. During the last few years, there has been a blight, and Ontario has had to import one and a half millions of dollars worth of potatoes, and the Province has suffered from a loss of revenue that should rightfully belong to it.

Canada is not able to compete in the United States on pork products owing to the McKinley tariff, and she also applies to other meat products. Speaking in reference to the British Isles, Mr. Creelman stated that it has become a consuming, not a producing country, and therefore it behooves Canada to give England what she wants or run the risk of losing that trade altogether. The United States tried to palm off "the just as good stuff," but it didn't go. The trade with Great Britain can only be kept up by complying with the conditions asked for by the Mother Country.

Ham and bacon have a ready market in England. Throughout the Province, by means of the Farmers' Institute meetings, the farmers are being instructed as to what the market is demanding, and as to the means by which they may obtain a good market for their products. Over 800 meetings of institutes were held last year. Through the agency of the College, the conditions of the farmer have so changed that the trade that has been built up now amounts to $32,000,000.

With reference to the grain raising of the Dominion, Mr. Creelman said that a mistaken impression had gone abroad as to the amount of grain raised, it being generally credited that the Northwest contributes the major portion of Canada's grain supply. This is erroneous, as it can be shown that Ontario alone raised 50 per cent. more grain than all the Northwest put together. The banks come out and say that the West has had a good winter, and that there is every prospect of increasing business, as a result of the conditions in that portion of Canada, for the year. What would the banks do, if there was a frost in June or July among the Ontario crops? There would be a different story to tell then. It has been said that the land becomes less productive each time grain is sowed, but the College has spent much time and labor in working out plans for the betterment of soil, and increasing its productivity.

In competition with the United States, they can conquer who believe they can.—Virgil.

February Furniture Sale

The man or woman who economizes wisely does not hoard or save without discrimination. He or she judiciously spends. When the golden opportunity arrives, he seizes it with the knowledge that neglect of a profitable opportunity to spend is extravagance worse than the neglect of a reasonable opportunity to save. But a line of type from here to Halifax wouldn't give you as much information about the beautiful stocks we've gathered together for this February Sale as a visit of half an hour to this store would do for you. ## KILLS HERSELF. PASSWORDS--SIGNS.

Girl Straps Shotgun to Chair and Pulls Trigger With String.
Kittanning, Pa., Feb. 4.—Laura Fitzgerald, 15 years old, grieving because a schoolboy friend had shown more attention to another girl than to her, blew herself to pieces in her father's home this morning. She emptied into her breast both barrels of a shotgun. Attired in black to go with her mother to a neighbor's funeral, she asked Mrs. Fitzgerald to wait a few minutes and went to her room. There she took her father's gun, strapped it to a chair, tied a string to the triggers and, standing in front of the weapon, fired a large quantity of buckshot into her body.

CHARGES LIBEL.
Galt Forman Brings Suit Against Contractor Egerton.
Galt, Ont., Feb. 4.—This afternoon George Egerton, contractor, was served with a writ claiming damages for alleged libel. The action arises out of a letter written by Egerton to the Town Council, charging that Adam Davidson, town foreman, had hired men to work on his farm and had put their names on the corporation pay sheet.

MANCHESTER IN LUCK.
Irish Courts Gave the Duke a Fine Bonus on the Sale of His Estate.
Dublin, Feb. 4.—The Irish law courts, after many days passed in investigation, have reached a decision which puts £25,000 annually into the pocket of the Duke of Manchester. The Duke sold his estate recently to the tenants under the act of 1903, which provides that when an estate is insolvent, the vendor, being a tenant for life, gets no bonus, but if the estate is solvent, the bonus goes to him. The courts have decided that, although a receiver had been appointed over the Duke's estate in the interest of his creditors, yet the property escapes solvency by a few hundred pounds a year.

POLICE MAKE BIG HAUL.
Six Thousand Dollars' Worth of Stolen Goods Found at Westmount.
Montreal, Feb. 4.—Detectives recovered $6,000 worth of jewellery, furs and other articles in two Westmount houses to-day, and this explains the number of thefts from apartment houses recently. Henry Cunningham, under arrest for vagrancy, is charged with the thefts.

Mrs. J. H. Stanford went from one room to another in an apartment house, and her jewel box disappeared, containing $1,200. All is recovered in this lot.

MISGUIDED WIFE.

"I Have Shown You My Soul In It," The Woman Writes.
Man in the Case Also Writes to the Husband.
Mr. Edmund William Locke, who resides at Sprathall road, Wanstead, Essex, was granted a decree nisi in the London Divorce Court on Monday on the ground of his wife, Lillian Rose Locke, misconduct with Mr. Arthur Knight, a clerk.
Mr. Mortimer, for the petitioner, said that the marriage was in August, 1899, and there had been two children. The co-respondent was the son of the family living next door, and he became friendly with Mr. and Mrs. Locke. In May of last year the petitioner found him and Mrs. Locke in the kitchen of his house, and noticed that his wife blushed and seemed confused.
The husband, on the same day, wrote to his wife from his office asking her if she had any affection for the co-respondent. She again denied any ground for suspicion. In October last Mr. Locke found that his wife was absent from the house, having left a note saying she had gone to stay with her sister at Hornsey. Later he found two letters pinned to one of the curtains. They were from Mrs. Locke and the co-respondent. The letter from his wife was as follows:
Dear Ted,—How can I start the painful confession I have to make? You know, and have known for years, I have not a wife's love for you, and the pretence is more than I can keep up. Why, may we both live for another twenty years, I could not do it.
Ted, it is only my own weak nature that has brought this about. Will you act as a good man and let me try a fresh life with a man who, I know, will be absolutely my master as regards my way of life. Ted, I have got to part from my dear children.
Now you know why I have been awake at nights and have pleaded headache to excuse my swollen eyes. Heartache was the real truth. But I can't bear more than I have already suffered. If—and I pray heaven you may not—you treat this in a spirit of revenge I swear I shall take my life. I have been near it so often.
Do you remember us seeing Pete? God

TO HELP THEM.

Expedition to Succor Earthquake Sufferers in Calabria.
Rome, Feb. 5.—A new relief expedition into Calabria has been organized by United States Ambassador Griscom. The Italian authorities have given their approval, and Captain Mola, of the general staff, has been assigned to accompany the expedition in uniform and aid in the work of distribution. Capt. Mola's wife is an American woman.
The expedition will leave here on Saturday, and the Government has given it free transportation. Two railroad cars loaded with supplies will be sent down to Palmi, and from this point the distribution will be made to the mountain villages, where the suffering is greatest, by automobile. The supplies include 2,000 quarts of sterilized milk for babies and the sick, as well as blankets and shawls and a complete medical outfit.

NO MEDAL FOR THEM.
Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—The Carnegie hero commission announces that it will be unable to grant hero medals to Captain Sealy, of the Republic, and "Jack" Bins, his wireless operator, as their gallant deeds were performed beyond the three-mile limit, consequently outside of the U. S. American body will try to have its associate, the British Hero Commission, grant the medals.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Stevens—Called to Chicago.
The death of Sarah Ann, relict of the late Isaac Stevens, occurred yesterday afternoon at her home, 201 John street north. Deceased was born in Norfolk, England, 76 years ago, and came to Canada when a little girl. She lived in eastern Canada for some time, and 53 years ago came to this city, where she has resided ever since. She leaves three sons, William and Robert, of this city, and Charles, of Cranbrook, B. C., and three daughters, Misses Elizabeth, Ann and Amelia. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. from her late residence. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of all.

Todd and Law Reform.
(London Free Press.)
The story of the Todd case, at Hamilton, is only an exaggerated instance of what is occurring with great frequency in the law courts of the province. Apparently Todd died unexpectedly in Hamilton. It developed that he had an estate of $50,000. There were various claimants, the deceased having neglected to properly arrange for the disposal of his death of his wealth.
What happened? The heirs fought among themselves, as heirs will. To the great delight of the lawyers called in, the fight was protracted. It spread over five years. And the conclusion was that two men who held notes of deceased got $5,000 each, and the lawyers and courts divided the balance of $40,000 between them. The fighting heirs received nothing.
We fancy there are no two lay opinions in the Hamilton case. Laymen will regret that there was no competent authority who could decide within reasonable time just who among the heirs were and were not entitled to the money and the property that Todd left behind. The lay mind can see no purpose in statutes that make the Todd case even a remote possibility.
No man wants to go to heaven by the aeroplane route.

Will you file a petition early so I may have an opportunity of proving to the world and my people that I am in earnest. I ask this for the sake of a woman's honor.
The petitioner had an interview with his wife and Mr. Knight, but she declined to return to him, and shortly afterwards he received a letter written from a temperance hotel in London as follows:
We have stayed at the above address, and as Mr. and Mrs. Knight, and occupied room 30. We are just leaving.
Evidence was given, and his Lordship granted the husband a decree nisi, with costs and the custody of the children.
Mrs. Brown—Are you, Mr. Brown, in favor of clubs for women? Mr. Brown—Certainly, my dear; clubs, sandbags or any old thing.—Ally Sloper.

BLAME BALL FOR ACCIDENT.

Trainmen's Ball at Stratford on Night of Harriston Collision.

Engineer and Firemen in Court For Trial at Guelph.

Bail Refused the Men—Conductor Fleming Talks.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Guelph, Ont., Feb. 5.—That they did lay and kill Engineer John Smith, of Palmerston, and Murmur Root, fireman, of the same place, in the Grand Trunk freight head-on collision at Harriston on the 14th, is the charge upon which Conrad Kennedy, engineer, and Mathew Fleming, conductor, of engine 584 on the up train, were yesterday arrested at Stratford. The manslaughter charge was laid through Crown Attorney Peterson, Guelph, and the train men were yesterday arrested at Stratford by High Constable Remewether. They had been at Stratford since the wreck, that being their headquarters. Kennedy was the strange conductor on the line, who, it is alleged, gave the signal for the Southampton line instead of Warton at Harriston, thus causing the wreck, resulting in a double fatality. He has been on the verge of mental collapse ever since the inquest at Harriston. Fleming, the conductor, is an old and trusted employee of the G. T. R.

Strange as it may seem, it is said that the trainmen's ball at Stratford was a factor in the case of the accident. The ball was held the night of the accident, and it was the intention of the crew of 584 to change trains with a down freight, and thus get back for the evening. When the train left Harriston Kennedy and his crew went to the caboose to "bolt" their dinner, and in the storm never noticed that they were on the wrong track.

Before Magistrate Saunders the prisoners were arraigned this morning, and Crown Attorney Peterson refused bail on any conditions, although sureties were present to go good for a reasonable amount. Finally an adjournment was made until 3 o'clock this afternoon, and in the meantime Attorney-General Fay is being communicated with to make bail arrangements. At the Police Court this morning, in speaking of the affair, Conductor Fleming said: "It certainly seems hard for a trainman to have to pass the terrible ordeal of a wreck, knowing he is perhaps blamed for the death of his fellows, and then to have to face a trial."

A BAD CUP.

Colored Fortune Teller's Prediction of the Tragedy.

A reporter of the Toronto Star, who was at the VanSickle inquest at Jerseyville, tells the following story in his paper:

A story on everyone's lips in this district is that a fortune teller turned away in horror when he looked into Harry VanSickle's tea cup while telling his fortune, about a week before last Saturday's tragedy. The negro, Smith, who lives with Seth VanSickle, is the fortune teller, and owing to the accuracy of his predictions, has achieved a reputation throughout Ancaster county. He started to tell Harry's fortune, so the story goes, but when he looked into the cup he put it down and turned his head away. When asked what was the matter he said it was too dreadful to tell. Some time ago he also told Seth VanSickle's fortune and foretold that he would be wearing mourning in less than a year.

MONEY LENDERS.

Six Ottawa Men Summoned to Answer Charges.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Feb. 5.—Six of the Ottawa money lenders were summoned this afternoon to answer charges of violating the Money Lenders Act by charging interest at the rate of more than 12 per cent. The attention of the Ontario authorities having been attracted to the extent of the usury business in Ottawa by a suicide and seizure of effects in a particularly brutal manner, a campaign against the money lenders has been instituted. A detective of the Provincial Department has been at work for some time securing the evidence on which the action is being begun to-day.

FIELD'S VERDICT.

Why the Times is a Valuable Advertising Medium.

There never was a keener student of advertising problems than the late Marcellus Field, who built his enormous fortune upon a solid foundation of publicity. He may therefore be safely quoted as an authority, and his conclusions must be accepted as finalities. Of the daily newspaper he said: "A copy in the home is worth a hundred on the highway." In the truth of that dictum lies one of the enormous advantages of the Times over its contemporaries as a trade-winning medium. From the inception of this newspaper down to the present day its publishers have ever borne in mind the necessity of first making it worthy of a place in the home and then indispensable to each member of the family circle. How well they have succeeded is amply demonstrated by the Times' reputation as a home medium among all observers of newspaper conditions in Hamilton. "A copy in the home is worth a hundred on the highway."

ANOTHER SURPRISE.

Suits and Overcoats at Lyons' To-morrow For $12.75.

It is seldom that merchant tailors make such phenomenal offers as those announced recently and in this issue by the Lyons Tailoring Company, 116 James street north, and especially by a firm like the Lyons people. For years they have been giving Hamiltonians the best values in the fact is known that they took in sixty-five orders for $15 suits a week ago last Saturday, it is not difficult to see that the men appreciate their business-like methods. To-morrow the customer will get still another surprise and will have the choice of a suit or overcoat for $12.75. This is not for a ready-made article, but a hang-up, union made, artistically cut garment, and one that gets a try-on or two or three, if necessary. The Lyons policy claims to give the best values obtainable. This is certainly a splendid chance for a fine suit or overcoat.

Isidor Wormser, Jun., the Broker Who Offended.

New York, Feb. 3.—Isidor Wormser, jun., a member of the Stock Exchange since 1892 (as announced yesterday), has been suspended by the governors under the rule forbidding "indecorous language" on the floor of the exchange. The suspension is for sixty days, which is the maximum.

Winthrop Burr, of Parkinson & Burr, preferred the charges against Wormser, but it was not to Mr. Burr that the indecorous language was directed, nor had he any personal altercation with Wormser. As Mr. Burr explained it yesterday, he simply laid the charges before the governors in the interest of common decency and to relieve an intolerable situation.

"Indecorous language" brokers well informed regarding all the circumstances said, was a mild term by which to characterize Mr. Wormser's talk on the particular occasion and on other occasions.

The official announcement of the case was made by Secretary Ely in the following statement: "The governing committee at a meeting held yesterday considered a complaint of Winthrop Burr against Isidor Wormser, jun., under section 1, Article XXXVI of the constitution, which reads as follows:—

"Indecorous language or an act subversive of good order and decorum or serious interference with the personal comfort or safety of another person is forbidden. Any member who shall violate this rule within the limits of any department of the exchange may be fined by the chairman or by the committee of arrangements in a sum not exceeding $50, or upon complaint may be summoned before the governing committee and suspended for a period not exceeding sixty days."

Mr. Wormser and witnesses in the matter appeared, and after their retirement the following resolutions were adopted, viz:—

That the governing committee determine under section 1, Article XXXVI of the constitution of the exchange that Isidor Wormser, jun., is guilty of indecorous language and an act subversive of good order and decorum. The particular remark on which Mr. Wormser was tried by the governors was an unprintable epithet addressed to one of the older members. Mr. Wormser was formerly a member of the firm of Wormser Bros. The firm was dissolved about two years ago, and latterly Mr. Wormser has been a floor trader and special partner in the firm of William E. Lauer & Co.

DEPUTIES FIGHT.

Violent Scene in the Austrian Parliament To-day.

One Member Thrashed and Another Bitten on the Cheek.

Vienna, Feb. 5.—The present session of the Austrian Parliament came to an end to-day after a scene of turbulence extraordinary even for an assembly where violent outbreaks are comparatively common. The trouble, which arose from the old racial feeling between the Germans and the Czechs, broke out during the debate on a Government bill, the object of which was to reconcile these differences. The radical Czechs obstructionists, who have been hindering the debate on this measure for several days past with a continuous din from drums and tin whistles, so exasperated the Germans to-day that the opposing deputies came to close quarters, and a fierce scuffle ensued. One of the radical Czechs deputies, a man named Speck, who has been most violent in his obstruction, was captured and whipped until he howled for mercy. Another Czech was bitten on the cheek by a German, and sustained an ugly wound, and black eyes and sore heads were numerous. The Premier, Baron Von Bienenrath, seeing the uselessness of attempting to pass legislation, closed the session and sent the Deputies home.

Cheever's Case.

(Brantford Expositor.) The story told at an Expositor representative by William Cheever, a Brantford boy, who, at the early age of 12 years, fell into criminal ways, gives much food for thought. Truancy was evidently the beginning of the downward career, but this might have been averted at a comparatively early age, and before the sad's habits were irrevocably fixed, had there been some agency to extend a helping hand and provide him with employment. Manifestly, our "prison gate" methods still fall short of being what they ought.
