WON AT LAST.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Valla, standing there tall and stolid in her gaudy turban and red-and-yellow robes, her black eyes following her mistress's every movement, held out a pair of tiny gloves, and then folded her bracketed brown arms again with her usual composure. Nat hastily drew them on, gave one last glance at the glass and then turned to me.

"There—I'm ready now; and I feel finer than I ever did in my life. I hope madame will be satisfied. Make haste, Ned—somebody has come! I hear the wheels."

"Your flowers, miss." Virtue brought them as she gently murmured the suggestion—Roger's cream-and-scarlet bouquet, over which Nat had smiled and blushed in the morning. But not as she blushed now, for in an instant her face turned absolutely crimson as she shot one fleeting glance at me. Then she took the flowers, glanced at them, and, throwing them upon the ground, set her foot on them, and swept out of the room and into the corridor.

"Nat," I cried, springing after her, and seizing her by the arm, "what do you mean by that? Are you mad?"

"Not now," she returned, defiantly, turning her glittering eyes upon me with a fierce little smile of triumph. "I am perfectly sane now. Let me go Ned—you are hurting my arm!"

Without giving me time to reply as I mechanically released her, she sprang past me, running fleetly along the corridor and down the stairs. I had no chance of saying anything further to her, for when I followed her I found madame busily engaged with the party from Roxborough Chase, who were always early everywhere, and Nat, at a little distance, was talking gaily to the only other arrivals, Fraser Froude and Raby St. George.

I do not want to say more about that ball than is necessary. It was a brilliant success. I know, for the county papers said so; for my part, I had never been more wretched in my life. The great ball-room was well filled; all the pretty girls of Daleshire were there, and all looked their brightest and prettiest, but the brown-skinned, black-eyed girl in the delicate cream-and-scarlet dress bore away the palm from them all. I certainly heard sufficient flattering comments to turn her head, and ma-dame's handsome face was quite a picture of proud complacency. But I grew absolutely savage as I watched Nat flirt—for flirt that night she did most audaciously—not only with Fraser Froude and Raby St. George, who were her shadows, but with everybody, even with the Hon. Vincent Clyde, old Roxborough's second son, who had a reputation for fastness which made Daleshire in general turn up its eyes, and who was half an idiot besides. Heartless little coquette! I thought, working myself into a rage as I remembered my friend and watched for his appearance as vainly as I had done since the opening of the ball. Perhaps something had happened to keep him away altogether? I almost hoped there had.

It was early still—only a little after eleven—and I was waltzing with the freckled Lady Idonea, when I caught sight of old Dizarte's red face and bald head as he made his bow to madame. I left her ladyship as soon as I could, and crossed over to where he stood, knowing that he was absolutely certain presently to drift off toward the card-room and the companionship of his friend the rector, whose court had taken a turn for the better. Now he was placidly leaning against the wall and watching the dancers—a much better amusement than dancing one's self, in my opinion.

"Halloo, doctor!" I said, shaking hands. "You have turned up, then? Didn't think you would!" This was hardly the truth. Dizarte hated balls with all the hatred natural to a stout old gentleman who pulled down the scale at sixteen stone; but to disregard an invitation of Mme. Chavasse's he would have considered an awful breach of etiquette. So, in common with the rector, he came to the balls or what not, and suffered as best he might. "Don't see Yorke," I went on, looking round and trying to keep my anxiety hidden from those keen eyes of his. "I've been looking for him all the evening. Isn't he here yet?"

"Not yet. Had to pack him off to Market Waxford this afternoon. A telegram came from old Cowdrick the banker—so you know him, don't you? Don't know what's up with him, but whatever it is, he'll never look at any one but Roger. Miss Natalie is in her glory to-night," old Dizarte added, as Nat passed us, leaning on Fraser Froude's arm, and gave him a little bow and a bright smile as she did so.

"Yes," I said, not feeling just then much inclined to pursue the subject.

"I say, doctor, I hope he'll turn up by and by?"

"Yorke? Oh, yes—no fear of that! I think his visit to Paris has done the boy good, by the way. He seemed to be down in the dumps a few weeks ago, and threw out more than one hint that he should like to leave Whittlesford; but he seems to have got over that idea, I'm glad to say. Natural enough, of course, for he's more or less thrown away here; but the practice generally would go to the dogs without him."

Knowing what I did, I could hardly repress a groan as I assented rather more emphatically than politeness warranted. But I was spared the necessity of saying anything else by Mr. Deeping, who came up just then and touched the doctor's shoulder.

"Now, Dizarte, I'm waiting for you to make up a rubber. Come along! You don't want to dance, I suppose?—and you're keeping this boy from doing it."

"I'm sure he's welcome," I said, ruefully enough; but the rector only laughed, and, hooking his arm in that of his crony, the two old fogies turned off in the direction of the card-room.

There was a cessation in the dancing just then, and, looking across the great glittering space, I saw Nat standing by the conservatory doors, smiling at something which Raby St. George—his dark face to-night as beautiful in its different way as her own—was whispering in her ear. Alice Deeping, flushed and pretty, in her white-and-pink dress, stood there too, and Major Constable. The major did not dance, of course; and, for the first time within my knowledge of her and to the consternation of her numerous admirers, the rector's daughter had refused to waltz—on the principle, as she informed me in a whisper, that, if she could not with him, she would not with anybody. Determined if I could to get a word with Nat, I crossed over to them.

"Did Lady Idonea scratch you, Ned?" was Alice's greeting.

"Eh? What do you mean?" I returned.

"Because you got rid of her in the most unceremonious fashion—that's all. I watched her face. She looked as though she could have boxed your ears with pleasure!"

"I wanted to speak to Dizarte," I said.

"So I saw. What a blessing it must be to be an ear's daughter, when one is plain and disagreeable, George," Alice rattled on, turning her bright face to the major—"mustn't it? Her ladyship has not sat out a single dance yet, and wholly and solely because she is her ladyship."

"Neither has Nat, for that matter," I said, looking half angrily at the brilliant little figure in cream and scarlet; but she only turned away her head obstinately, although I know she had heard me—listening to Raby St. George's whispers.

"Nat?" echoed Alice, raising her eyebrows as she played with her pink-and-white bouquet. "Of course not. She is the queen to-night. Indeed I intend to accuse madame of getting up the ball solely for her glorification. It's too bold, I declare. I was never so disgracefully outshone in the whole course of my life. Oh, Ned"—her face dimpling with sudden laughter as she lowered her voice—"you should have seen Rosa's face when she caught sight of her tonight! Yesterday she said that she was an ugly brown little thing, and that she couldn't see anything in those great black eyes for a handsome fellow like Raby St. George to make such a fuss over and be so crazy about. Poor Rosa! I believe the shock spoiled the first half dozen dances for her. I declare, George, I should like to steal those splendid diamonds of Nat's—wouldn't you?"

She turned away from me to the major in saying this; and, plainly seeing that Nat would not even look toward me if she could help it, I put my hand on her shoulder. She looked round then quickly enough, but with the same defiant half-mocking smile which she had flashed upon me in the corridor.

"What is it, Ned?"

"Don't you think it's time that you gave me a dance?" I said, trying to speak lightly.

"Too late!"—and she held up to me the scented programme that dangled from her wrist. "Not one blank—do you see?"

"Never mind—scratch out somebody. Let me have the next one—you don't want to dance with that blessed Froude. He looks about as careful at it as a gyrating nine-pin. Give me your pencil, and I'll scratch him out."

"Indeed you will not!"—and she twitched it pettishly out of my hand. "What nonsense, Ned! As though you wanted to dance with me!"

"Of course I do. Will you give it to me?"

"No; I am engaged to Mr. Froude."

"Nat," I said, earnestly, in a whisper, "I want to speak to you, and I will. You must either give me an opportunity or I shall make one."

I had been stupid enough to think that she would yield at that, but I did not yet know the sort of spirit which she possessed when she chose to exhibit it. Instead of any sign of flinching, that flushing, defiant smile shone out at me again, as she retorted—

"Oh, by all means! Speak here and now if you like. There are not more than three hundred people to hear you, I dare say, and you will only be making yourself ridiculous—not me."

"Natalie!"—and I grasped her arm, with difficulty restraining an inclination to give her a good shaking before them all—"I declare that for very little I'd tell madame all about it, and make you say what's the cause of all this."

Ghastly Visitors.

Spooky Episodes That Are Absolutely Vouched For.

There are several instances recorded of premonition, or perhaps we should say telepathy, handed down to us of the present generation from the last, and instances are occurring daily of second sight and visitations from the land of shadows to those whose eyes are still inhabiting the earth from friends who have gone before.

The people who record these demonstrations from departed relatives adhere to their stories and are not to be shaken in the belief that what they saw was really the spirit of the friend or relative.

There are a great many converts to the telepathy idea; principally among them being the late Mr. Browning and Mr. Stead, who, it is reported has held communication with a spiritualist friend since that disaster of the Titanic. Anyway, it certainly appears a very open question, and the latest true instance of premonition is the experience of a sailor. One night as he was pacing the deck he all at once saw the white shadowy form of a woman flit before him and disappear into the darkness. On arrival at home a few weeks later he was met by the tidings that his mother had died a few weeks before, and a comparison of dates showed that she had passed away at the very hour when the sailor saw the apparition of the woman. Another case is that of a lady, who, concurrently with the time of her father's death, saw a white spectral shape standing a few feet from where she sat nursing her baby. Another instance is of a lady who saw the apparition of her sister standing at the foot of the bed on the night, and the exact time the later expired.

A Miss Harvey tells that her mother, when confined to her bed, and a little before her death, had a dream in which she thought her long-absent son was by her and that he was pouring out his soul in earnest prayer. Shortly afterwards, news came of the son's death which happened at the time the mother had the dream.

Again, we have the circumstance of the two friends who were parting for a considerable time—the one going abroad—with their compact that if it were possible, the one who should die first should appear to the other. During the course of seven years they corresponded regularly. At the close of the seventh year the usual letter from the Antipodes was not received by the friend in England. Passing through a lane on horseback—the identical lane where the two friends had parted years ago—the horse shied and refused to go on. The rides dismounted to ascertain the cause, when he was confronted with his friend, who, sorrowfully, shook his head, and passed away. Full of the compact in his mind, the friend cab'd next day to the Antipodes, and the reply informed him that his friend passed from this life at the hour when he appeared to him, allowing for the difference in time.

Good Advice For 1913.

The "Boston Globe" says: Did you ever keep a cash account for a year? Do you know what it costs you to live for twelve months? If not, why not? Most people know that their out-go keeps pace with their in-come and perhaps in addition leaves some unpaid bills, but they couldn't tell you, except in the vaguest manner, how they spent their in-come for a year. Most business men who could inform you to the dollar how their enterprise finished the year couldn't begin to tell how their money was at home. It went—that is all the business man and most other men know.

With these few pertinent remarks the Globe is going to suggest to its readers who can find the time to do so, the keeping of a cash account during 1913. The idea is advanced at an appropriate time when the high cost of living pressing so hard on every household and when so many people find it absolutely necessary to economize to meet the inevitable expenditures. The keeping of such an account will seem somewhat of a nuisance and yet there will be compensations enough to make the undertaking worth while.

Such an account may be simply kept in any blank-book, with the debit entries in one column and the credit items in another column of the same page. The footings carried on from page to page will show just how the account stands and he—or she—will indeed be a most economical person who after a few weeks will not discover ways in which money can be saved by stopping useless expenditures. Kept one year, the account will teach enough so that the task need not be repeated; but it certainly offers a chance for a person to get acquainted with the channels of expenditures.

What Emphasis Can Do.

By RUTH CAMERON.

What wonderful things infection and emphasis are. What a tremendous difference they make in the meaning of language. With one emphasis, a certain set of words may mean one thing; with another, something entirely different.

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his Favorite Prescription contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle wrapper.

Large hats are seldom seen. All-white is a great favorite this year. Bright colors will be popular for the tailor suit.

Lingerie dresses are also worn later in March. Lingerie dresses will show lace and tulle trimming.

Chiffon sashes form draperies on many of the new gowns. Lingerie embroidery is used as a trimming on souple silks.

The combination of black and white continues to be popular. The draped mantles to match the dresses are especially effective.

Charming silk and lace-trimmed dresses or mousseline-draped satin toilettes are used.

A pretty coat for a child is made of tobacco-brown cloth trimmed with coral embroidery.

Very successful gowns are fashioned in coat effects of ecru lace and contrasting satin.

Many of the new coats display the half-upstanding collar, lined with dark mousseline or velvet.

The small satin and straw hats are trimmed with paradise plumes or tulle and small roses.

Children's white serge dresses are braided with very narrow tapestry blue souché bands.

Favored ornaments for evening coiffures are narrow bands of ribbon velvet to match the costume.

Women as Inventors. It is sometimes stated that women prize a great many people to learn that lack creative ability, and it will surprise a great many people to learn that feminine skill and ingenuity have played an honorable part in supplying the world with the useful inventions that have contributed so largely to its material progress.

A remarkable versatility in talent is shown in the case of Harriet Hosmer. She is noted as the sculptor of the Sleeping Pain, and also as the inventor of the permanent magnet as a motive power for lifting large masses of metal, and of a novel method of changing lime into marble.

And they are only a few random examples of what the sex has accomplished. When we consider that these things have been done in the very beginning of woman's emancipation from the handicaps of tradition, it does not seem very extravagant to imagine that some day the world may be honoring a female Edison.

Plague From a Pet Rabbit.

A story of how three apprentices on board ship died as the outcome of playing with a pet rabbit was told by Dr. W. E. Harker, medical officer of the Tyne Port Sanitary Authority, at the yearly meeting of the Association of Port Sanitary Authorities in London.

There is no doubt, he said, that the rabbit caught plague from infected rats which were on the ship, and that the rats took the plague from the rabbit. An apprentice who had nothing to do with the rabbit escaped.

When the ship reached port a workman agreed to buy the rabbit for his children, but he died before he took it. Vermin were seen on it, and its body was destroyed.

Obituary.

PETER BROWN. There passed away this morning Mr. Peter Brown after a lingering illness of six months' duration. His demise will be learned with regret, as he was a gentle and unobtrusive disposition, which won for him the affection of all with whom he came in contact.

CAPTAIN ROBINSON.

Yesterday Mr. H. W. LeMessurier had news from Bristol announcing to him the death of Captain Robinson, so well and favorably known in St. John's. His death occurred on the 29th of January. The deceased, who first came here as a surveyor, was a Captain in the Royal Navy and served for several years in Harbour Master of this port.

A Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late W. Duff, Esq., took place yesterday and was attended by a concourse of people from all over the Bay and several from St. John's, who went over in a special train, including members of the Masonic Fraternity. The Masons of Carbonara and Hr. Grace also attended and the town was in deep mourning, the stores being closed, blinds drawn in every residence and flags at half mast.

Stokers Meet.

The Firemen's Union held a meeting last night. It was agreed that unless the foreign stokers were discharged from the steamers Stephano and Florizo no members of the Union will go in them, this attitude being taken by the local stokers in account of the foreigners refusing to sign on with them last year.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA.

Upset Stomach and Indigestion

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia cured in five minutes with "Pape's Diapepsin."

Time! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain remedy in the whole world and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know it is needless to have a bad stomach.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it, enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. It should be kept handy, should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night it is there to give the quickest, surest relief known.

FRIDAY, February, 21, 1913.

Mrs. Davidson
Honorary President of Daughters of Empire.
Monday evening next, James P. Howley, Esq., will deliver a lecture before, no doubt, a large audience, under the auspices of the Daughters of Empire, in the British Hall. The lecturer, we learn, will be attended by His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson and no doubt the good work of the ladies of the Society should be given a decided impetus now that His Excellency's amiable lady is its Honorary President. Mrs. Davidson's genealogy associates her name with that of some of the most distinguished British families. She is a first cousin of the Earl of Denbigh, a daughter of General Sir Percy Feilding, K. C. B., and of Lady Louisa Isabella Harriet Feilding, daughter of the third Marquis of Bath. The founder of the Feilding family, Sir Wm. Feilding, fought on the Royalist side in the Civil War, and Feilding the novelist was a great nephew of the third Earl. The Bath family is equally distinguished in British annals and the Society of the Daughters of the Empire are privileged in regarding Mrs. Davidson as their Honorary President and Patroness. This will be the first gathering of such a nature that His Excellency and wife will attend and this fact will add additional interest to the lecture.

Queen Alexandra's Gift.
St. John's, Nfld.,
Feb. 20, 1913.
Editor Evening Telegram, City.—
Dear Sir,—I have received, through our Secretary in London, the enclosed copy of a letter from Queen Alexandra's Equerry in Waiting (Sir Arthur Davidson, K.C.B., K.C.V.O.), which you will doubtless be glad to publish in order that Her Majesty's gracious message to the Fishermen of Newfoundland may be widely known.
I beg to remain,
Yours very truly,
A. SHEARD,
Secretary.

SANDRINGHAM,
31st January, 1913.
Sir,—I am desired by Queen Alexandra to forward the accompanying signed photograph of herself, which Her Majesty has been pleased to present to the King George the Fifth Seamen's Institute at St. John's, Newfoundland.
Queen Alexandra takes this opportunity of sending a message of her kindest remembrances to the Fishermen of Newfoundland.
I am, Sir,
Yours very faithfully,
(Sgd.), ARTHUR DAVIDSON.

Nervous Energy
in the human body is similar to electricity in a storage battery. It's the force that "makes things go."
This force—in the body—comes from the digestion and assimilation of Right Food; the kind Nature requires for building and maintaining healthy brain and nerve cells.

Grape-Nuts FOOD
contains the elements Nature has stored in wheat and barley, including the phosphate (grown in the grains)—absolutely necessary, in combination with starches, sugars and albumens of the cereals, for normal cell-building.
You can keep Nervous Energy up to par on Grape-Nuts.

To-Day's News.

MEXICO CITY, To-day.
That Francisco Madero will get out of Mexico without having to face official investigations for one thing or another, now appears probable. He has already been charged with responsibility for the death of Colonel Riveroll, whom he is alleged to have shot at the time of his arrest in the Palace. The Committee of Deputies has asked that Madero be forced to account for money expended by his administration. This Committee called upon President Huerta and urged that Madero be held accountable for the depleted condition of the treasury. The last details of the organization of Mexico's new Government were completed this afternoon, when members of President Huerta's official family took the oath in the Yellow Room of the Palace, immediately over that occupied by the deposed President and Vice President. Significant of the birth of the new administration was the frank display of soldiers and the effect on the crowds was not lost and served as a reminder that even if it was not a military dictatorship that had been established, the President's administration was of a much sterner quality than that which had just fallen.

CHICAGO, To-day.
Criticism of the belligerent attitude of the English suffragettes, in their campaign to obtain votes for women, is expressed. The resolutions were signed by nearly one hundred leading women of Abraham Lincoln Centre, one of the leading institutional Churches of this city, and forwarded to Lady Emily Pankhurst, London. The resolution reads: "We workers of Abraham Lincoln Centre, friends of woman suffrage, earnestly deplore the belligerent law and defiant attitude of those sisters in England, who by their belligerence, we fear, are menacing the cause dear to them and to us. Appeal should be to reason and not to arms. There is notoriety that is not notable; militancy belongs to the past of passing regime, that is masculine appeal to reason, arguments of love alone will hasten the coming government based on the heartstone, not on the bayonet; the family, not the regiment, is the unit of government that women are to help to establish."

OTTAWA, To-day.
Richard C. Miller, former President of the Malger Diamond, Light and Heating Company, Montreal, was found guilty of contempt, after six hours' debate by the House last night, and sentenced to imprisonment in Carleton County Jail. The Speaker's warrant, under which he is imprisoned, states he is to remain there until the prorogation of Parliament, or until released by order of the House. He was sentenced by the House for a breach of privilege, constituting contempt, refusing the name of persons to whom he paid $4,000 and obtaining Government contracts amounting to 117,000 dollars from the late Laurier Government.

BOSTON, To-day.
A fire caused half a million dollars loss to the wholesale firms in the north last night. The heaviest losers were Braman Dow Company, dealers in plumbing and steam fitting supplies, whose five-storey building on Causeway Street, was practically destroyed. The loss on the firm's stock is estimated at $300,000 covered by insurance.

Coban Arrives.
NAROWLY ESCAPES GOING ASHORE.
The s.s. Coban, Capt. McPhall, arrived here at 12.30 a.m. to-day, coal laden to the Reid Nfld. Co. The ship has been knocking around in the ice for the past two weeks after arriving on the coast from Louisburg, P.E.I. Centia Bay was filled with heavy ice, and after knocking about in it for a week she had to come on here. She arrived off this port Monday morning last, met the blockade and could not enter port, being caught out in the Bay ever since. Last night when the off shore wind started and the floe commenced going off, the ship was wheeled around in the ice and was once only about the length of herself from the rocks at the "bill" of the Cape. Good management, however, prevented a calamity and the vessel made her way slowly to port. Beyond the starting of a few rivets in the bows the ship sustained no damage and to-day is coaling the Eskason.

Death of Mrs. Hannaford.
The death occurred yesterday morning at her residence, Forest Pond, of an estimable lady in the person of Mrs. Hannaford. The deceased who had been ill for some time past, was a kindly, charitable woman and was well known and highly respected in St. John's. One of her sons, the late Lawrence Hannaford, druggist, predeceased her, and the other is Mr. Stephen Hannaford, electrician of Grand Falls; two daughters also mourn her—Mrs. Capt. Couillard, of Forest Pond, and Mrs. John Barron, of this city. The sorrowing family have our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Train Notes.
The Bruce express left here at 6 p.m. yesterday taking Mrs. Cole, Mr. Whalen, Mr. Patterson, F. Angel, J. Willis, Miss Murray, E. Squires, J. Walsh, Miss Whitten and about 30 second class.
A freight arrived here at 7.30 p.m. yesterday from Bishop's Falls with 5 passengers.
A local express leaves Port aux Basques to-day.
SAILS TO-DAY.—The brigtn. Minnie, for Bahia, and the schr. Olive, for Barbados, both laden by A. Goodridge & Sons, will sail for their destinations this afternoon.

Sealing and Weather Report.
Fogo—Wind N.W., moderate; ice on land.
Change Islands—Wind west, very calm; ice on land.
Tilt Cove—Wind light, southerly, mild, snowing; considerable water on this shore.
Twillingate — E. N. E., moderate breeze, dull and mild; bay quite full of ice.
Bonavista—Steady N. wind, fine; no water to be seen in bay; no surf among ice.

McMurdo's Store News.
FRIDAY, Feb. 21, '13.
With the coming of springlike weather many people realize the need of a tonic to carry them over the months of March, April and May. Such a tonic is our Quinine and Iron Tonic, and it is one of the best of them, having proved of great value for several springs past as a general builder up and strengthener of the nerves and appetite. No magic virtues are claimed for it—the drugs that go into its composition are perfectly well known, and their virtues have long been investigated, and it contains no alcohol. Those who need a "spring tonic" are pretty certain to gain benefit from this preparation. Price 40c. a bottle.
Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is a typical ant-acid—one of the best medicines for children who suffer from wind and sour stomach. It is also a mild laxative. Price 50c. a bottle.

Met With Accident.
While alighting from a sleigh on Millway Road, Wednesday evening, Lady White way slipped and fell heavily to the ground and dislocated her shoulder. She suffered much pain and was assisted by the coachman to the residence of Mrs. Hayward where she received every attention.

LADIES' CORSETS

New 1913 Styles, offered at Sale Prices.

During this Great Sale our entire stock of high-class D. & A. Corsets has been reduced in price. These Corsets have ably maintained their reputation for quality and style; and it can be said of them that they perform the Corset's true mission—that is, supporting the frame without any injurious pressure on the vital organs, allowing freedom of motion, and unlimited breathing space. Notwithstanding the great demand on this Department during the last few weeks, we have still an unlimited supply on hand, including a large consignment of Spring 1913 Models. These arrived earlier than expected. Rather than put them in reserve we decided to place them on our

LONDON, To-day.

The story of the three days' battle at Bulair, in which 2,500 men on each side are reported killed and wounded, is now believed to be a revival of an old report of fighting in that district. Rumors that Kaiser Bey had landed a large force at Rodoso, were current on February 16th, but since have been denied. An uncorroborated Constantinople despatch says that Shekif Pasha visited Bulair lines on Wednesday and that the situation at Adrianople remains unchanged. The Porte having refused to permit foreigners to leave Adrianople. The governor of the fortress offered to set apart Karagatan a quarter on the right bank of the Mariza River, as sanctuary for 1,400 foreign residents. It is doubtful, however, if Bulgaria will consent to this. The Serbians have brought up heavy artillery to assist the Montenegrins in a renewed attack on Scutari. Popovitch, the Montenegrin delegate to London, visited the Foreign Office and informed the British Government that under no circumstances could Montenegro acquiesce in any transaction under which she would be required to abandon her claim to Scutari. He added that Montenegro would take the town soon, and after the sacrifices made, would suffer annihilation rather than give it up. A semi-official statement issued at St. Petersburg, says, Bulgaria and Roumania have already accepted the mediation of the Powers.

ELBING, Germany, To-day.

Land owners whose property adjoins the Emperor near Cremlen held a meeting and sharply protested against the statement in His Majesty's speech before the Agricultural Council, saying he had dismissed a lease of tract of land because he was incompetent. The meeting assumed the Emperor had been misinformed, and roundly applauded the speaker who protested against the shameful manner in which the Emperor had been deceived.

Paiful Accident.

A young man named Alan Pike, of Harbor Grace, arrived here by the shore train to-day and went to Hospital. He was the victim yesterday of a painful and unfortunate accident which it is feared may cause him the loss of the sight of the optic. While using a sharp chisel it slipped in the wood he was cutting, came up violently and split the eye across. His suffering intense pain as a result of the accident.

Special to Evening Telegram.

Pres. Coaker at Coley's Point

RECEIVES A GRAND RECEPTION.

Special to Evening Telegram.

BAY ROBERTS, To-day.

President Coaker arrived here at 2 last evening. A large number of friends were at the station to greet him. There was no demonstration owing to the presence of the body of William Mercer on the train which young man was recently killed by a street car at Boston. A carriage was waiting and drove Mr. Coaker to Friend Kelly's residence, whose guest the President was during his visit. Bunting floated from scores of poles all over the place. At 7.30 the Public Meeting was opened in the Orange Hall.

Coley's Point. Every inch of space was crammed with people.

The platform was crowded, most of the occupants being ladies. Mr. John Kelly was selected Chairman and introduced the President. Thunderous cheers greeted Mr. Coaker when he crossed to address the crowd. He spoke for two hours and a quarter and not a single interruption occurred, not a question was asked. The meeting was the most orderly ever held here and the speech is easily given the first place amongst public speeches delivered at Coley's Point. The Picoet crowd that caused the trouble on the afternoon of the 17th were present but gave no trouble, they all listened attentively and the most of them left the building admirers of Coaker, inwardly, if not outwardly, for when Coaker closed his brilliant address the audience cheered him with a united voice.

A Branch of the Union was then established and a large number enrolled. Capt. George Barrett was elected Chairman and John French, Deputy; Walter Morgan, Secretary; Isaac Greenland, Treasurer. John Alexander will have to revise his figures, for to-day there are 500 Coakerites in this vicinity. The Union is growing stronger daily and this last night speech of President Coaker has killed out all opposition, except what may be felt by office holders and job seekers.

A Great Crowd of Admirers gathered this morning at friend Kelly to escort the President to the train, and Coley's Point gave the esteemed visitor a splendid send-off. But, of course, owing to the funeral of the young man who lost his life at Boston no open demonstration was indulged in. Coley's Point and Bay Roberts intend to stand by Coaker and the party that co-operates with Coaker to carry out the Union's platform will be supported by the Unionists here. Arthur Barnes and Capt. John Parsons are popular with the Unionists. The Union men won't be silent as to who will be the Liberal candidates.

JOHN KELLEY, Chairman of Meeting. GEO. BARRETT.

DUE ON SUNDAY.—The S. S. Portia left Grand Bank at 10.55 a.m. yesterday and is due here Sunday.

DIED.

At "Forest Pond," on Thursday morning, Mary, widow of the late Samuel Hanuaford, aged 74 years; funeral on Sunday, at 2 p.m.

This morning, of meningitis, James Stagal, darling child of James and Minnie Kelly, aged 15 months.

On February 18th, Albert John, aged 1 year and 7 months; and on February 17th, Henry Douglas, aged 3 years and 8 months, darling little children of Albert and Marion Escott. "Safe in the arms of Jesus."

WANDERERS VS. ST. JOHN'S.

Home Team Victorious by Two Goals to One—After Fifteen Minutes Over-time Play the City Team Scored the Winning Goal—Crowded Attendance—Unbounded Enthusiasm and a Good Game.

Despite the dampness of the atmosphere and the consequent bad ice the much talked of and eagerly looked forward to hockey match between the Wanderers, of Halifax, and the representative City team, was pulled off at the Prince's Rink last night in the presence of nearly two thousand spectators and resulted in a victory for the Terra Nova boys by the narrow margin of two goals to one.

Amongst the representative gathering of spectators and enthusiasts present were His Excellency Governor Davidson and Suite.

Owing to the poor condition of the ice it was generally thought that the match would have to be postponed but it was deemed advisable to go ahead with the game as it was better to have had ice than none at all. In view of the circumstances the exhibition on the whole was good and the keenest enthusiasm was manifested throughout by the onlookers.

At 9.20 the visitors entered the arena and were cheered vociferously, followed shortly after by the city team who received an equal ovation. The City team were dressed in Crescent uniforms, and the Halifax boys wore Red and Black colors.

Precisely at 9.30, as advertised, the teams were called together by Referee Higgins. After a few questionable points had been disposed of between the latter and Captains Herder and Smith the teams lined up as follows:

Halifax	City
Stensend goal	Walsh
Dwyer point	G. Herder
Purcell cover	Collier
Smith rover	L. Stick
Barstead right	Brien
Monahan centre	R. Herder

At 9.30 the puck was put in motion with every player on the ice doing his utmost to secure an advantage. R. Herder and Stick attempted to get away but were blocked. The Wanderers forwards combined well and brought the puck to City territory but lost to Gus Herder who swept the rink and came within an ace of scoring. Stick, Brien and Pinsent, the forward line of the home team were getting in effective work and worrying their opponents. Purcell, the Wanderers cover point, next controlled the rubber and making, perhaps, the cleverest run for the night, displaying good stick handling, passed everybody except Walsh who saved brilliantly and his performance elicited much cheering from the spectators. Up to this juncture the game was fast and as good as could be expected considering the condition of the ice which was soft with plenty of water on it. The first to distinguish himself was R. Herder who controlled the disc on the right wing and with a well directed shot landed the rubber in the meshes and the first goal for the team representing Terra Nova was recorded. The applause that followed was deafening and continued for nearly five minutes.

However, in the throes of the wildest excitement and enthusiasm play was resumed and became very fast. Dwyer was penalized for fouling, followed immediately by Stick for a similar offence. The next caught for infringing was R. Herder, who was despatched to the boards for it. The Wanderers cover who is a fast man made a splendid run but his efforts were futile as he could not get beyond G. Herder. Stick next controlled the disc and travelling at a furious rate sent a scorcher to Stensend, the Halifax goal tender, who cleared well. Gus Herder was penalized for two minutes. During his absence, Purcell, the Halifax cover, got away and this time was successful in beating Walsh, scoring the equalizing goal. Purcell's exhibition received much applause from city as well as Nova Scotian supporters.

The evening up of honours aroused the home team who were determined to increase their score. They made several attacks on the visitors goal; Pinsent, Herder and Stick each had a shot for, but on each occasion Stensend, who knows the tricks of the game, would lay down on the ice across his goal and prevent the puck from entering the net. Soon after Callanan had to discontinue and was replaced by Fluk. There was now an over-indulgence of individual play, both teams being anxious to score. Dwyer, an old-time hockey player displayed some clever stick handling that won well merited applause. He has a dead shot but cannot skate fast. Stick, Herder and Pinsent got in some effective work and confined play to their opponents territory. For the balance of the half the city boys had the best of the game but no scoring was done.

SECOND HALF.

Right at the outset the Halifax team made a dash and made it hot for their opponents who were evidently recovering their strength. For a while it looked as if the Wanderers would score as they were bombarding the City goal but the splendid defence of Herder in addition to Walsh's goal-saving kept the puck out of danger. The home team got down to business after about five minutes from the beginning of this half and played all round the Wanderers. The shooting was poor, the puck seldom coming off the ice owing to the water on the surface. Fluk was sent to the penalty box for five minutes for fouling Callier and during his absence the city boys had everything their own way. Stensend gave a good display of goal saving. After this Monahan got tired and was replaced by Reardon. Just before the finish the game was rather slow, as owing to the strenuous skating and stick handling the players were used up. The sounding of the final whistle left the game a draw, one each. It was decided by the Captains to play off until the first team would score.

OVER TIME.

Play opened briskly the home team being aggressive. They guarded their opponents rushes and were watching for an opening; some fast work was witnessed by Brien and Stick, the former getting a blow of a stick in the forehead and was put out of commission. On resuming, play was furious. The City kept up a lively pace and after a hard stiff struggle, which lasted fifteen minutes, E. Collier scored the winning goal for the City and the game ended.—

NOTES.

During the interval after the first half, the Captains of both teams were introduced to His Excellency the Governor, who congratulated both on the fine play of their respective teams.

The game was very clean.

Dwyer is a remarkably good stick handler.

The Halifax boys were delighted with the decisions of Referee Higgins.

To-night's match will commence at the same hour as last night. It is to be hoped the ice will be better.

To-morrow night the visitor's will be lined at Wood's.

On Monday evening they will play the final match and Tuesday leave for home.

So far they have a good impression of us.

CURES RHEUMATISM

Quickly Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles—Drives Rheumatic Pains Away.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can easily avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and give it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it.

It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

but unfortunately the endowment fund has not been sufficient to make up the remaining sixty cents. The result has been shown in the way of an annual deficit and in rendering impossible such improvements and extensions in the work, as have from time to time been considered necessary and advisable.

For the purpose of enabling the University to meet the requirements of the present day, it has been decided to seek an additional endowment of one quarter of a million dollars. A campaign is now being arranged, during which it is hoped all former students and other friends throughout Canada will come to the assistance of the college and aid in helping it not only to maintain its present high standard, but to establish new branches, provide new buildings, grant suitable remuneration to the professorate, and generally to advance along such lines and in such manner as is demanded by modern methods of education.

Mount Allison students are to be found everywhere in Canada, and it is hoped they will generously respond when the time comes.

George St. Church United Service.

The Rev. Dr. Rogers conducted the service last night in his usual kindly manner, and he was greeted by a very fine congregation. The singing throughout was very hearty and was led by the choir and organist. The preparation and delivery of the address was entrusted to the Rev. Mr. Whitmarsh, and we are pleased to be able to say that his effort proved to be one of the best of the series.

He selected as his theme the first chapter of Hebrews, which had been read by way of lessons by the Rev. Mr. Bartlett. The great truths of this chapter are in themselves amongst the most profound of Holy Writ, and Mr. Whitmarsh treated them last night in a manner well worthy their importance. He referred to the signs of the Prophets, and to the ministrations of Angels, and emphatically dwelt upon their ministry, and upon the responsibility of neglecting their warnings.

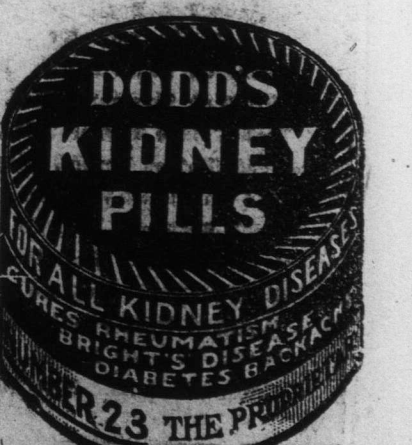

The speaker then dwelt upon the greater truth, the fundamental truth of Christianity, the coming of God's own Son into the world, and the lessons He imparted were such as revealed the grandeur of the Gospel dispensation, and yet, withal, His adaptability to the wants of the sons of men. The address was certainly well prepared, and earnestly delivered, and well received by the people.

An Appeal.

Graduates of Mount Allison University in this city and elsewhere, will be interested in the announcement that the Sackville Institution is shortly to inaugurate a campaign with a view to very largely increasing the endowment. This college, established in 1858, has come to be regarded as one of the most valuable assets of the Maritime Provinces, and an institution of very considerable importance in the national life of Canada. Statistics show that in proportion to the total number obtaining its degree, Mount Allison men stand at the head of the list of those securing honours in the larger universities and meeting success in Canadian public life.

It has been the practice in the Sackville Institution to fix the tuition fees so low that one dollar's worth of instruction has been given for every forty cents of revenue from students.

M. C. L. I.

A large gathering of members greeted the speakers at the debate last night which proved to be most instructive. The subject was: "Should Newfoundland reduce indirect taxation and meet such reduction by a direct tax?" Mr. A. News, leader for the affirmative, led off with a good speech in which he showed that in the early stages of man's history the tax imposed by God was a "direct" tax and therefore most suited to man's needs, and that when the population of the world increased man imposed indirect taxation which was unequal and unfairly collected. The speaker proposed a direct tax on persons, property, business, etc., which could be easily collected at a minimum cost.

The second speaker for the affirmative was Mr. Geo. Grimes, who showed that taxes were now often evaded, and that the great statesman Pitt, reduced the tax on food stuffs and placed a small graded tax of from two per cent. up on incomes of not less than $700. The average tax now imposed in Newfoundland was too heavy on poor people and middle classes which was about 30 p.c. and that a substantial reduction could be made in the present customs duties and levied in such a manner as to bear lightly on those who now found it a great burden.

Mr. A. E. Chown was the third speaker for the affirmative and claimed that many rich people in St. John's have small families and therefore do not consume as much food and clothing as the poor who generally have large families and who consequently pay more taxes. He also stated that it cost $145,000 to collect $3,000,000 last year. That our indirect tax meant an average of $13.75 per head. Other speakers pleaded for a re-arrangement and asked for a reduction on customs duties of at least $200,000 per year, and raise the amount by taxing mortality estates and a small stamp tax on exports and incomes, over $1,000, and so reduce the cost of living which is now a very serious problem for the poor and the middle classes, such as clerks, etc., who found it very hard to make both ends meet.

The leader for the negative, Mr. S. Woods, in a well delivered and carefully prepared speech, showed that our present method was good, and taxes were easy to collect and was collected without friction, and was the most economical method of collection the cost being about 5 p.c. which was cheaper than the average business was run to-day, and that if capital was taxed much more would be driven out of the country. That the city was already taxed for civic purposes and could not stand more. That the income tax would be evaded and that trade would be injured.

Capt. Diamond supported the negative and contended that as the Municipal Council failed to collect all taxes due, so would a large portion of a direct tax remain unpaid. He also showed that we all benefit by the "free" importation of so-called fishermen's food stuffs.

Mr. Harold Smith, third speaker for the negative, claimed that the free duty of manufactured goods would make Newfoundland a dumping ground for foreign shippers, that it would be impossible to collect an income tax from the fishermen whose income was uncertain.

Other speakers showed that many schooners would be taxed at full value but would not realize half value at a sale, and that five millions of dollars worth at present came in duty free. The following took part in the open debate: Capt. Kean, W. Wylie, S. Whiteway, J. S. Currie, T. Soper, G. Soper. The vote showed a very large majority in favor of a re-arrangement of our present method of taxation and proved that public sentiment as represented by the M.C. L.I. is keenly alive to the necessity for such re-adjustment.—Com.

A Toast.

There is an Empire, we are taught—
A broad domain beyond the sea,
An Empire where our fathers fought
To usher in the good and free.

But all we see is just a scrap
Of extra red upon the map.

But come in fancy to the West,
Where lies a vast, a golden shore,
And watch the millions there who wrest

Their treasure from her goodly store
And, lo, upon its stanchion high,
The dear old flag salutes the sky.

Again on wings of fancy rise,
And let your magic course be set
Toward the sun of Eastern Skies
That glints on dome and minaret.

The same high anthem there they sing—
The same true hearts, the same great King.

And when your wandering thoughts arrive
Back at these shores in wonder's thrill,
Remember 'twas the blood of Clive,
Of Wolfe, and others gave it all.

Then drink to those brave hearts who died
To win the reason for our pride.

Marine Notes.

The S. S. City of Sydney will leave Halifax to-day for here.
The S. S. Bonaventure will leave Lunenburg to-day for this port, coal laden.
The brig, Gaspé will start to load next week for South American ports.

Hr. Grace Notes.

The harbor is now solidly frozen over and people were crossing to and fro yesterday.

Several men arrived from Bell Island on Saturday, having crossed over to Bay Roberts on the ice, and came here by road.

What has become of your correspondent "Mary?" Some say she is on the fence, others are inclined to think herself and Tom are having a hard time. Our citizens would like to know what has become of her, and would be glad if you could give some idea of her whereabouts.

Whooping cough has made its appearance in town and several members of different families are now laid up with it.

The Harbor Grace Agricultural Society held its monthly meeting last night. The business of the meeting was principally the ordering of seeds for the coming spring. A very pleasant and profitable time was spent. A new office was created, that of Corresponding Secretary, at a salary of $20.00 a year. Mr. Norman Munn was elected to the office, and will no doubt have his hands full in the interest of agriculture.

Mr. M. T. Jones has been kept indoors all the week suffering from an attack of LaGrippe.

Mrs. Catherine Kane died on Thursday last, at a very advanced age. Mrs. Kane was a native of County Kerry, Ireland, and came to this country when a young woman. For the past four or five years she lived with Mrs. Sarah Lynch, at the Beach, where she was very tenderly cared for, and where her last hours were made as happy as possible. The funeral took place on Saturday last, when the remains were interred in the R. C. Cemetery on the hill.

The Ladies of St. Andrew's Church held their annual meeting last night at the home of Mrs. R. S. Munn. The election of officers took place and resulted in Mrs. Edward Parsons being chosen President, Mrs. James Cron, 1st V. President; Mrs. John Brunles, 2nd V.P.; Mrs. Maud Butt, Secretary-Treasurer.

People calling at the Public Building on business with the Relieving Officer, Mr. Squires, find great difficulty in finding his office. We would suggest that the name "Relieving Office," be put on the door. It would be a great convenience to the poor and all who go there in the interest of the poor.

We have been asked to draw the attention of the Water Company, if they are the responsible parties, and if not to the Insurance Companies, or some person that the bell rope at the Central Fire Hall is broken and cannot be reached without mounting the ladder. Should a fire break out in the night, much valuable time would be lost should a stranger attempt to ring that bell. Let us have a good bell-rope, no matter who has to pay for it.

We referred to a certain matter the other day that offended a young lady connected with one of our families. Fortunately the safety valve lifted and the fair one let off a little gas about busy-bodies, or something. We cannot help this. We have a duty to perform and we intend to do it no matter what the result is.

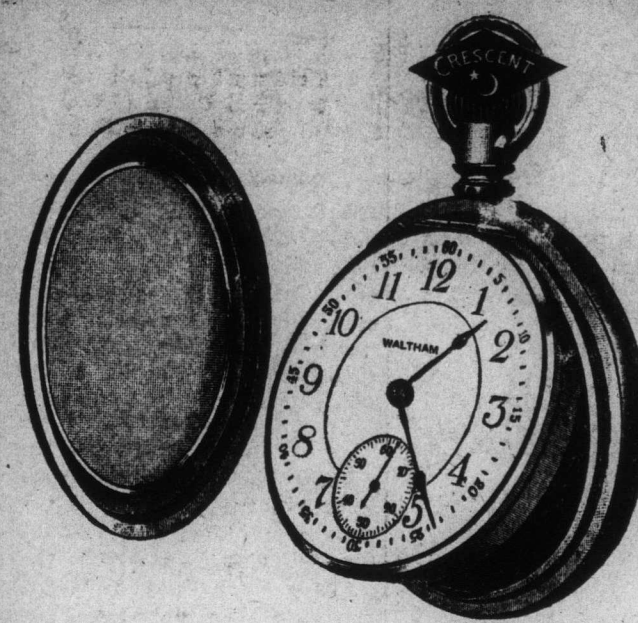

Mr. Grace, Feb. 18, 1913.
The funeral of the late Wm. Duff, Esq., of Carbonear, takes place this afternoon. The remains will be consigned to Mother Earth in the Presbyterian Cemetery, here, Rev. F. S. Coffin, officiating.

Rev. T. B. Darby and his son George, went to St. John's on Tuesday last, the object being to consult an eye-specialist, the sight of the latter seeming to need attention.

A broody hen in this neighborhood, insisted on sitting in the nest with the idea of hatching and rearing a family. Owing to the early season and fearing frost, the owner used the customary persuasions, such as constantly throwing her out of the nest, etc. This proved all in vain, and she seemed determined to "sit." The housewife, with Solomon's wisdom, decided that "cooping" could sit if she desired, so making up a half dozen snow balls about the size and shape of eggs, she placed the hen on them and covered her up snugly. The hen seemed to sit with a sense of satisfaction, as much as to say "Well I've gained my point." But the next morning the snow was melted and the hen, disgusted with the treatment, gave up the idea of family raising so early in the season.

Mr. Robert Tetford's flock of sheep was increased on Wednesday morning by the addition of two lambs.

St. Andrew's meeting which was to have taken place on Wednesday night last, was postponed out of respect

Mrs. A. B. Lehr has just opened her comfortable home on Water Street, known as "The Rest," for the accommodation of boarders. "The Rest" is centrally situated and will no doubt receive a liberal share of patronage. For some years the need of such a home, particularly in summer, has been much felt, and Mrs. Lehr is to be congratulated on her enterprise.

Our citizens are all glad to see Mr. W. H. Kennedy, of the Postal staff back to his work again after his recent illness.

IS YOUR COUGH GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE?

If you catch a cold (which very often develops into a cough) everyone can tell you how to cure it! If one tried half the things his friends recommended he would be a physical wreck!

Fortunately it isn't necessary to experiment with ginger tea and such things, get a bottle of Stafford's Phorastone Cough and Cold Cure, take according to directions and you will be relieved in a few hours. Phorastone is not like most things put up for this purpose. There isn't a particle of Quinine in it. It relieves the inflamed congested condition of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, and soon rids the system of the poison that causes colds.

Don't wait until you get that horrible, hacking cough which you are not able to get rid of. No treatment having been found successful up to the present time. Try Phorastone Cough Cure at once.

Price 25 cents a bottle. Postage 5 cents extra. For sale at CREATED DISTURBANCE.—Two Conception Bay men, who were half seas over, attempted to purchase tickets to go by last night's train but were refused. They then became disorderly and had to be put out of the station. Later they tried to get into the cars but were ejected. In future the rule excluding drunks from trains, will be rigidly adhered to, nor will any person showing a sign of liquor at the time be given a ticket.

In Ancient Mexico, so highly esteemed were cocoa beans that they were used as money.

150 average-sized cocoa beans equalled about sixpence.

The high value placed upon chocolate was well deserved. Neither coffee, tea nor milk can offer the food value found in well-made cocoa.

Lowney's Cocoa is simply cocoa at its best. Its fine, full flavor is skillfully coaxed out of the world's choicest cocoa beans by careful roasting, blending, grinding, watching.

Lowney's is a splendid and delicious food drink. As it is absolutely pure and free from excess oiliness, it is assimilated readily.

Made in our spic-and-span Montreal factory, Lowney's Cocoa comes to you freshly tinned.

LONDON, Feb. 20. The suffragettes paid a visit to the new Botanical Gardens to-day and fired the refreshment building which was burned to the ground. Two of them were arrested. Lenton and Locke, aged 22 and 23. They carried a bag containing a dark lantern, cotton soaked in oil, hammer and saw. The magistrate refused bail, telling them their offence was not political but criminal. Locke then hurled her boot at the magistrate which narrowly missed his head.

TOKIO, Feb. 20. Over 15,000 are homeless as a result of a fire which swept through the centre of the Kanda district of the city. The fire started in the Salvation Army Hall, destroying 3,300 buildings. The loss is estimated at several million yen. Among the buildings burned are several churches, including the Baptist Tabernacle and several educational institutions, and the school for Foreign languages.

LONDON, Feb. 20. King George has subscribed £200, Queen Mary £100, Queen Alexandra £100, ex-King Manuel £25, and Lord Curzon £100 to the Scott Mansion House Fund. So far all funds amount to £20,000. Lord Rosebery who has subscribed £100 for the dependants, said that people who live after their death need no memorial; Frohisher, one of the greatest and most strenuous of Elizabethan sea-dogs, needs none; the men whose bones have just been found in the regions opposite those which Frohisher tried to explore, need no memorial put up by a County Council or any other authority. The appeal of Capt. Scott will be as lasting a memorial in all history as any work of art, or statue or immortal book. As the result of a meeting of the British Antarctic Expedition Committee, it has been unanimously resolved to amalgamate the funds, so as to promote unity in the receipt of contributions and for their subsequent allocation. It is hoped the newspaper funds will be merged into this and administered by a central committee.

Parcel Post.

The postman's brow is sad and stern, the postman's eyes with anger burns, he prays with doleful sound; his heart is full of woe because he's loaded down like Santa Claus each time he goes his round. What a wonder that his spirit's sore? He looks like a department store that has been placed on legs, with crates of turkeys and of cheese, and scythes and forks and humble bees, and packages of eggs. To Jones he brings a crocodile, to Mrs. Jones a new spring tile, to Smith a rocking chair; he carries churns and catalogues and groceries and Shepherd dogs—oh, brethren, is it fair? Our postman, who is tired and frail, resembles much an auction sale as he toils up the street, three cords of junk upon his back, and you can hear his muscles crack and mark his aching feet. Old Uncle Sam should change the rule and for each postman buy a mule, or else a chug-chug cart; it isn't fair to load him down with all the bric-a-brac in town and break his honest heart. The postman's heart is full of grief as he conveys a side of beef, a pitchfork and a churn, three cuspidors, a phonograph, a sawbuck and a crated calf—his eyes with anger burn.

Nova Scotia Bank Teller in Trouble.

New York, Feb. 13.—The glittering swath that William Van Tafrey, a young bank teller of Middleton, N. S., has cut through New York, Boston and London, ended here to-night in a police station. Van Tafrey who is only 20 years old, is charged with cashing a forged draft for $5,400 on the Royal Bank of Canada at Vancouver.

According to the complaint, Van Tafrey, on the first of the year resigned as paying teller in the Springhill, N. S., branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. He forged the name of the cashier to a draft made payable at the New York branch of the bank, then came here and representing himself as the payee got the money. After a glided career in Boston and London he returned to New York, where he was arrested by a detective who gained his confidence by posing as a millionaire's son. According to the police Van Tafrey admits his guilt.

The Shampoo.

BY H. L. RANN.

The shampoo is form of delicious delarsate practiced by barbers who believe in getting at the root of things. It is intended to loosen the dandruff in a man's head so that it can climb out on his collar two days later. It is an exciting moment in a man's life when he is shampooed by a barber who is experimenting with a new dandruff cure. The barber first runs a towel down the victim's neck as far as he can reach and then draws it in around the wind-pipe and ties it in a double bow-knot. He then crowds in two or three more towels and a rubber dam, by which time the patient is able to breathe about once every half hour. Sometimes the barber will make everything fast by inserting a handful of long pins, which the patient can locate at once by turning his head in either direction. These preliminaries disposed of, the barber takes down a bottle of dandruff extract and tells a story relative to a marvellous cure performed by him upon a lodge brother who never was troubled either with dandruff or hair afterward. He then pours some of the extract upon the victim's head, allowing most of it to escape into his chin, after which he seizes the scalp with both hands and tries to see if it will come off. After working about a half pint of lather into the patient's eyes, he leads him up blindly to a lavatory, plunges his head into the bowl and sprays hot water up his nose in order to reach the back of his neck. This causes the victim to strangle in a series of loud and reproachful snorts, upon which he is mollified by being held under the cold water faucet.

A shampoo is never completed until the barber has rubbed the scalp into a state of pink coma with a crash towel. This discourages the dandruff, which remains in hiding for several days. It also introduces several barbed-wire snarls into the hair, which comes out at the same time the snarls do. Shampooing would be more popular if it could be taken in company with an anesthetic.

YALE

How a YALE Door Check adds to your comfort

You can forget that burglars exist when you put a Yale Night-latch on your door.

The Yale Cylinder Night-latch No. 44 is a combination night-latch and deadlock, offering all the convenience of the spring lock, together with the most perfect security known. Come in and let us show you how it works.

We carry a carefully selected stock of Yale Locks of all kinds and for every purpose.

It closes a door behind you, gently but firmly, without your touching it.

It prevents drafts, thus promoting comfort and health.

It stops slamming of doors, thus preventing noise and injury.

It reduces coal bills and doctor's bills.

It costs little, but is worth much.

There is a particular style of Yale Door Check to meet every condition—and we can supply them all.

Superior Merit Alone

Can win the approbation of those accustomed to the luxuries of life. Their approval is not lightly given. The unstinted praise accorded OLD HOME TEA by tea-drinkers of this class clearly proves its vast superiority.

Made from the finest, purest and most carefully selected teas, OLD HOME is precisely what a perfect tea should be—full flavored, rich and exquisitely mild.
