A New Novel by a New Writer.

The Honey Pot by Countess Barynyka. It is a story of the stage, and never perhaps have the expectations and disappointments of the aspirant for a successful stage career been more naturally described. Two girls, Maggie and Lexie, hold the interest throughout. They are excellently contrasted. Maggie, the daughter of an actress, having been associated with the stage from her earliest childhood and influenced by its freedom, while Lexie has been brought up in refinement and wants a career for the use of her talent. It is not too much to say that Maggie, the lovable and loving girl who, with all her worldly wisdom, falls a prey to the man who captures her fancy, is a triumph of characterization. Natural and human she is the heart of the book; but hardly less interesting is Lexie's stubborn fight with its happy ending and the many intimate pictures of the life of the chorus girl. The whole story rings true. Paper, 65c; Cloth, 90c.

GARLAND'S Bookstore, 177-9 Water Street.

An Amazing Cure For Neuralgia Magical Relief For Headache

The Most Effective Remedy Known is "Nerviline." The reason Nerviline is infallibly a remedy for neuralgia resides in two very remarkable properties...

"KYRA," The Ward of the Earl of Vering.

"Good-night, my darling," he murmured, "I may come to-morrow?" and he pressed her hand which clung to his. She glanced at her mother with a faint, happy smile...

"You love! love me! What did you call me?" "The truest and loveliest woman in the world," repeated Percy, in a low voice...

With such a kiss might Cleopatra, that serpent of the Nile, have won and bound the soul of Antony; with such a kiss, the first and only one, might the Circe have bestowed on the shipwrecked victims, as the price of their lost manhood...

For a moment that delirious joy which comes to most men once and once only in a lifetime, that ecstasy of passionate delight which turns life and all things within its circle into one sweet, delicious draught to be drained to the last drop...

By Purifying the Blood You Get Rid of Pain

Here is the Sworn Statement of a Lady Who Was Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Poison causes pains and aches, tired, languid feelings and derangements of the vital organs of the body. By ridding the human system of poisonous impurities Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure rheumatism, headache, backache and pains through the body and limbs.

thus affords a sure barrier to the re-establishment of congestion. You see the relief you get from Nerviline is permanent. It doesn't matter whether the cause is spasm or congestion, external or internal; it is pain—equally with its curative action upon neuralgia...

"Yes—sir, waiting for Mr. Charles." "Ah, all right. Look out for him. Will you—I will tell him it is here." The valet took up his position inside the entrance to the mansion, and Percy sauntered up the stairs to find Charlie...

"Your devoted lover." "PERCY CHESTER." It read rather stiff and formal, but he folded it without subjecting it to revision, placed it in an envelope, and directing it, gave it to Beamish with an injunction to take it to Park Lane as early as possible.

"What's the matter, Percy? You don't mean to say that you've undressed, dressed, and are eating your breakfast in this short time!" Percy laughed.

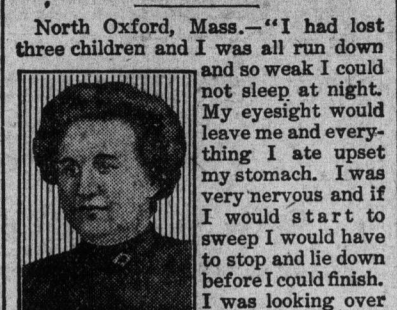

"Care for him! Why do you ask such a question? If he had been other than he is, if he had been a poor struggling man instead of heir to an earldom and so many thousand acres, would you or I—have set the value of a straw upon such a question? If he were to lose all that we snatch at him for, and become a poor man to-morrow, would the fact of my loving him as never woman loved man yet keep me faithful and true to him? Care for him! I love him, worse luck for me! And that will be my punishment, and avenge him when he discovers the kind of woman he has made his wife."

Everyday Etiquette.

"When married couple are giving a dinner in honor of another married couple, whom should the host and hostess take in to dinner?" was the query of a youthful hostess. "The hostess enters the room first with the lady who is the guest of honor. The hostess goes in last with the husband of the lady whom the host is escorting," advised her aunt.

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP

Made Well, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sleep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."

Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 64, North Oxford, Mass.

Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition.

For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

"Your obedient servant." "STEPHEN GRINGE." Stephen Gringe, my uncle's steward. Immediate visit!—telegraph the train! Well, there is no help for it!—I have no right to disobey, for it is a positive command. Where's Charlie?"

Charlie, however, at that moment could not be found—he was indeed, in the midst of a desperate flirtation with a debutante in that same conservatory—so Percy ran down the stairs, and having consulted his watch, told his valet to jump into the cab with him, adding: "I must catch the first train to Vering, Beamish. Get the bath ready, and a mutton chop; and pack a portmanteau for one night. Tell Mr. Charles, if I go before he comes home, that I have been sent for by the Earl of Vering."

Sneezing Colds, Bad Coughs, Irritable Throat All Cured.

Just think of it, a cold cures in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarhoxone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—cures cough—cures headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and grippe disappear at once. Its healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarhoxone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. Beware of dangerous substitutes offered under misleading names and meant to deceive you for genuine Catarhoxone which is sold everywhere, large size containing two months treatment costs $1.00; small size 50c; trial size 25c.

Pogie Fisherman Loses His Life

Mr. John Smart, Logy Bay, received a message yesterday from Boston conveying the sad intelligence that the body of his step-son, William Dyer, had been found in Boston Harbor. No particulars as to how the young man lost his life were received. Deceased was 26 years of age and a splendid specimen of manhood. He left here a couple of years ago for Boston where he had been engaged pogie fishing. Arrangements have been made to forward the remains here for interment.

Greybeard Convicted Of Serious Offence

Recently on complaint of a young woman, a man named Rodgers, over 70 years of age and crippled, belonging to Dray Hole, B.B., was arrested on a charge of indecent assault. He was tried before Magistrate Allimen, at Greenspond, was found guilty and sentenced to six months' imprisonment without the option of a fine. The prisoner was brought along on the s.s. Susu from Greenspond in charge of Constable Tucker and yesterday entered the Penitentiary to serve his term.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT! The proprietor of one of the best known shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play." Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect, that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality. We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X-Lamp and GASTREAM Rad atoms fill all light and heat requirements. ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT COMPANY. dec.17

BRITISH OFFICIAL.
LONDON, May 28. On the night of May 26th a hostile patrol was surprised and dispersed southeast of Lavertio. High explosive charges for wire-cutting were captured. During the night we bombarded enemy trenches southeast of Noeue Chapelle. Our artillery fire caused destruction of enemy stores at Guilleumont. The enemy directed heavy bombardment, lasting eighty minutes, against our trenches west of Fricourt, also shelled our trenches about Serre. We sprung five mines, three about Hulluch, two southeast of Cumancy. The enemy sprang one mine about Hohenzollern redoubt, and another west of LaFolle wood crater, which our troops occupy. To-day enemy artillery has been active against our positions about Susanne, Oviliers, Souches, Bois Grenier, St. Eloi and Ypres. We bombarded enemy trenches west of Lens southeast of Lavertio. Hostile parties working east of Maricourt, were dispersed by our artillery fire. The Germans have shown more activity than usual the last few days. Their expenditure of ammunition has been lavish.

MARTIAL LAW WILL BE CONTINUED.

DUBLIN, May 28. Martial law will be continued in Ireland for the present. A proclamation issued to-day says: Whereas dissatisfaction and unrest prevail in certain parts of Ireland, martial law will be continued throughout Ireland until further notice.

SINN FEIN INQUIRY.

DUBLIN, May 28. The Royal Commission engaged in an inquiry into the recent Irish rebellion, occupied itself at to-day's session here with taking police evidence regarding the Sinn Fein movement, and revolt, outside Dublin, chiefly in Galway and Kerry. In Galway Inspector Rutledge testified that Sinn Fein volunteers began organization at a meeting addressed by Sir Roger Casement, Patrick H. Pearse, since executed, for his part in the rebellion, and Professor McNeil. According to the inspector, Casement said the object was winning Home Rule to protect themselves against Ulster volunteers, but Professor MacNeil declared that the object was the same as that of the Irish volunteers in 1789. Inspector Clayton, of the East Valley of Galway, said that the Sinn Feiners comprised shop keepers, farmers sons and some priests. They were armed with rifles of Italian manufacture, he said. Inspector Hill, of Kerry, said the leaders of the movement there having been deported, there were no leaders in the district at the present time. He said that a man named Monteith, who is alleged to have landed with Casement and Daniel Bailey is still at large, but he held hope of getting him yet.

FRENCH TROOPS MAKE CAPTURE.

PARIS, May 27. French troops have captured the eastern part of the village of Cu-mieres, and have taken German trenches northwest of the village. An attack on French trenches bordering on Fort Douaumont was repulsed.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, May 28. Occupation by the French of portions of three craters formed by explosion of German mines in Argonne, is announced in an official statement issued by the Entente Allies. Department this afternoon. Regarding the battle for Verdun, it reports a lively artillery duel west of the Meuse, and intermittent combat on the right bank of the river. In Upper Alsace the French checked two attempts by Germans to advance near Altkirch.

A NATIONAL FUNERAL.

PARIS, May 28. The cabinet decided this morning to arrange a national funeral for General Gallieni, and, subject to the approval of his family, transfer his body to the Hotel des Invalides, which contains the remains of Napoleon.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

ROME, May 27. In the Lagarina Valley the enemy continued yesterday its impetuous attacks on our lines between the Adige River and the Arsa Valley, and met with another crushing defeat. After the usual violent artillery preparations, masses of infantry in close formation began an attack upon us at Coni Surza and de Sualco. They were exterminated by the cool and precise fire of our troops. Between the Arsa Valley and Postina the situation is unchanged. In the Adige sector fighting continued during the whole day with varying fortunes and was still proceeding at night, the enemy attacking our positions north of Arsa Valley. In the Sugana Valley the enemy made several attacks on Monte Vivron, but were repulsed each time with heavy losses. One of our units of Italian manufacture, he said, a brilliant surprise attack, drove the enemy from the approaches to our positions on the left bank of the Masojamaso.

AUSTRIAN OFFICIAL.

VIENNA, May 27. Twenty-five hundred Italians, four guns, four machine guns and a quantity of war materials have been captured by the Austrians, who stormed an extensive mountain ridge on Trentino front, according to an official statement.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND PEACE.

WASHINGTON, May 28. President Wilson declared here last night before the League of Nations, that the United States was ready to join any feasible association of nations to preserve peace in the world against political ambition and selfish hostility, in the service of common order, common justice, and common peace. He expressed the hope that the terms of peace which will end the present war, will include such an arrangement.

SOFIA OFFICIAL.

AMSTERDAM, May 28. The following official communication was issued at Sofia on Saturday, and received here to-day: A detachment of our troops operating in the Struma Valley, occupied the southern exit of the Rupil Pass, together with heights east and west of the River Struma.

SERBIAN ARMY IN SALONIKA.

PARIS, May 28. After crossing the Aegean Sea without loss, the Serbian Army, in full strength now, has been landed in Salonika, according to a despatch received here to-day by wireless telegraph.

CREW LANDED.

PARIS, May 28. A Havas despatch from Port Ven-dra, says that two French torpedo boats arrived there yesterday, bringing 60 members of the crew of the Italian steamer Moravia, which was torpedoed by a German submarine on Thursday afternoon without warning. The crew was abandoned in two life-boats. The Moravia sailed from New York on May 6th, and was last reported passing Gibraltar on May 22nd.

STEAMERS SUNK.

LONDON, May 28. Lloyds announces that the steamer Hercules, nationality unknown, is sunk. There are more than a score of steamers named Hercules, listed in the register, several being British, and others the property of various neutrals. The British steamer Danewood has been sunk. The crew has landed.

FRENCH REPORTS BULGARS ADVANCING.

LONDON, May 28. French headquarters in the Balkans have announced that Bulgarians have occupied the Greek forts Rupil, Graq, Graq, Spatovo, and were advancing from Demir Hissas towards Kavalla. This information was received here to-day in a despatch from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The Greek forts of Rupil and Graq-oth, are six and nine miles north of Demir Hissar. Spatovo lies four miles east of that town. Kavalla, on which the Bulgarians are said to be marching, is a seaport on the Aegean Sea fifty-five miles southeast of Demir Hissar.

JAMES J. HILL DYING.
ST. PAUL, Minn., May 28. James J. Hill is in a critical condition following an operation.

GREECE PROTESTS.

ATHENS, May 28. Greece's protest against the military operations undertaken by the Central Powers and Bulgaria in Greek Macedonia, was forwarded last night to the Ministers of Greece at Berlin, Vienna and Sofia. The Bulgarians entered Greek territory virtually unopposed. This caused violent comment in the press and considerable among the population. Greek military authorities claim they were unable to communicate with their troops in Eastern Macedonia. The belief is general here that the Greek Government will confine its action to protest.

FORT CAPTURED BY BULGARS.

PARIS, May 28. Telegraphing from Salonika, under date of May 27th, the Havas correspondent says that Bulgarian troops, which on May 26th occupied Fort Rupil, on the River Struma, in Greece, have sent patrols to install themselves in the neighborhood of Demir Hissar Bridge, which was partially destroyed by the Entente Allies. The usual cannonading is reported to be going on along the rest of the front, with a lively infantry engagement on the left bank of the Vardar.

BULGARS ON GREEK TERRITORY.

LONDON, May 28. A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Co., from Salonika, says that a strong force of Bulgarians estimated at 25,000, has crossed the Greek frontier. Rupil has been occupied, which is a Greek fort and earthworks. The Bulgarian advance guard then pushed forward and occupied the station and bridge at Demir Hissar. Activity at other points indicates an important movement upon Greek Macedonia.

NOTICE TO SURRENDER.

LONDON, May 28. The correspondent at Athens of the Exchange Telegraph Co., says that the Bulgarians gave the Greeks two hours' to surrender Rupil Fort, which is six miles from Demir Hissar bridge, which was recently blown up by the French in anticipation of this attack. An Athens newspaper says that a deputation of German and Bulgarian officers demanded the surrender of Fort Rupil, and explained its occupation was necessary in order to secure the Bulgarian left wing against the eventual Entente Allied attack. The surrender of the fort was effected on Friday morning at 3 o'clock, when the protocol was signed by the German, Bulgarian and Greek officers. The Germans and Bulgarians, the newspapers say, undertook to restore the fort to Greece so soon as reasons for its occupation no longer existed.

ITALIAN VESSEL SUNK.

LONDON, May 28. Lloyds Shipping Agency announced to-day that the Rita, an Italian sailing vessel, was sunk.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, May 28. The British official communication reads: About 11 o'clock Saturday evening, after a short and heavy bombardment, the enemy attempted to raid our trenches east of Calone, but failed. No enemy entered our trenches. An enemy night patrol was met by one of our patrols near Hebuterne and put to flight, leaving one dead. During the night the enemy blew up a mine a thousand yards southeast of Neuville St. Vaast, also two at Camoufets, south of Loos, and one east of Souchez and Camoufets, but there were no casualties. Early this morning the enemy heavily shelled the area southwest of Zillebeke with gas shells followed later by bombardment of our communications trenches. To-day there was rather more hostile artillery fire than usual at Fricourt and Mametz sectors, Hohenzollern redoubt and St. Eloi. We shelled enemy trenches west of Beauvriere opposite Hannez-camps, with good effect. Enemy's trench mortars were active about Annilie, south of Serne and at the Quarry. Our aeroplanes, taking advantage of the fine weather, accomplished useful work. Hostile aeroplanes were not active.

The War Week by Week.

By OBSERVER.

Perhaps at no time since the different theatres of war became clearly defined has the military situation as a whole been more interesting, or more fraught with possibilities, than now.

In the case of the Teutonic allies military necessity, to which they are far from blind, demands that now, while they still possess the strategic advantage of rapid concentration and striking power at any point chosen by themselves, and before the increasing numerical superiority of their opponents begins to make itself felt, they must find some spot or other more vulnerable than the rest and break through it.

On the West front, the renewed intensity of the German onslaught upon Verdun indicates the importance attached by their staff, if not to the capture of the famous fortress, at least to the principle of a sustained offensive. Hope of rushing and holding Verdun must by this time have been abandoned by the German commanders.

Military critics agree that another, and perhaps greater, offensive may soon be looked for on the British front, but they differ on the important point of the initiative.

So, too, on the Northern Russian front, where we shall certainly soon hear from Volga Hindenburg, while the operations here will undoubtedly be of the greatest importance, we do not look for any decisive result for some time to come.

THE IRISH PROBLEM.

LONDON, To-day. David Lloyd George has abandoned his usual visit to the country so that he may continue negotiations for the settlement of the Irish question, and is devoting the time generally given to golf, to meet and confer with Irish and other leaders. It is not expected the Round Table conference, if such a stage be reached at all, will be held for some weeks, as Lloyd George desires to get the views of all interested both here and in Ireland, before starting formal negotiations. While virtually everybody hopes for settlement of the long standing controversy, it is realized there are many difficulties in the way. Those most conversant with the situation believe the best Lloyd George will be able to accomplish will be an arrangement for the provisional administration of Ireland in which all parties will be represented, to carry on the affairs of the country until the conclusion of the war. Both Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, John Redmond, Nationalist leader, are in a difficult position, because of the attitude likely to be taken by extremists in their parties should they make concessions. Many Nationalists favor the total exclusion of Ulster, until such time as the Ulsterites may recognize the advantages of Home Rule and desire to come in. When the Home Rule Bill was before the Commons, the Government introduced an amendment providing that each county in Ulster might vote itself out of Home Rule for a period of six years. Sir Edward Carson's answer to this was that if the time limit were removed, he would submit the proposition to the people of Ulster. Later at the Buckingham Palace conference, he suggested to omit part of Ulster, and on this point the conference came to a deadlock.

There is little change in the position to-day. With many English Unionists pressing him to reach an agreement, Sir Edward Carson and other Ulster leaders might be more conciliatory, but a section of Nationalists with Joseph Devlin at the head insist that the whole of Ireland must be united under one Parliament, and the Ulsterites are hardly prepared to concede such a concession. Besides, they consider the views of the Devlinites, Redmond has to walk warily for fear of what the O'Brienites might do, since the Sinn Fein outbreak, they might prove at the next general election to be the strongest party. Realizing this, they, particularly Timothy Healey, would, as has been done in the past, oppose any concessions suggested by the Nationalist leader, and even fight him should he refuse to whittle down to the original demands of the Home Rule party. Thus Lloyd George has undertaken a problem which presents many obstacles. It is, however, considered a good omen, an attempt at a settlement is being made during Parliamentary recess, for most important political decisions in this war have been made during holidays. It was during August bank holiday, 1914, that Sir Edward Grey announced British attitude toward a European war; the Coalition Government was formed during Whitauitide holidays last year, the decision to introduce the first Military Service Bill was made at Christmas tide; Parliament lost its Easter holiday this year because of the Cabinet crisis over the second Military Service Bill, which finally resulted in the adoption of Compulsory Service.

RUSSIANS STOP GERMAN OFFENSIVE.

LONDON, To-day. Petrograd reports an attempt by the Germans at Lake Driviaty region to start an offensive movement, but was stopped by the concentrated artillery fire of the Russians. The Austrians are still on the offensive against the Italians in the region south-east of Trent, but Rome reports wherever infantry attacks started the Austrians met with repulse. On Isonzo front and San Michel the Italians in mining operations destroyed Austrian trenches and took the defenders of them under their rifle fire as they fled. Turkish contingents which tried to advance against the Russians on the Caucasus front, region of Rivand Ouza Dergala, were repulsed by Russians, according to Petrograd.

WILSON'S SPEECH AT AMERICAN PEACE CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, To-day. The United States must be reckoned with in the settlement of the great European War; the United States is willing to join the League of Nations to maintain the freedom of the world, to protect small states from aggression, stop war begun in violation of treaties or begun without giving the world an opportunity to pass upon the causes; that is the substance of the programme of American action outlined last night by President Wilson, in the most important speech he has delivered since the beginning of hostilities in Europe. The occasion for this utterance was a banquet of the League to enforce Peace, which has been holding a two days' session here under the Presidency of William H. Taft, former President of the U.S. The President led up to his enunciation of the policy by telling what he conceived to be the fundamental things which American people believed. These were: first, that every people has a right to choose sovereignty under which they shall live; second, small states of the world have a right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon; third, the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression and disregard for rights of people of other nations. So sincerely do we believe these things, the President went on, that I am sure I speak the mind and wish of the people of America when I say the United States is willing to become a partner in any feasible association of nations formed in order to realize these objects and make them secure against violation.

VENIZELOS SPEAKS.

ATHENS, To-day. Whoever dreamed to see the Bulgarian flag supplant the Greek flag in Macedonia? Just for this we have maintained the mobilizing at a cost of the economic ruin of the country, Venizelos, former Premier, thus writes in the Herald, the Venizelist organ. "Feeling runs high over the Bulgarian invasion of Greece. The Herald appeared with a black border as a token of national mourning."

GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL.

PARIS, To-day. Two attacks were made by German troops advancing last night from Corbeaux Wood on the Verdun front. The French War Office report of to-day says these assaults resulted in failure. East of the Meuse the night was comparatively calm, except for heavy artillery action in the vicinity of Vaux. Fifteen aerial encounters occurred, and two German machines were brought down, one of them falling in flames.

The Late Lieut. David Owen Evans

The following lines are by the Rev. Benjamin James, B.A., B.D., Newark, Ohio, U.S.A. The rev. gentleman is a native of Glanrhyd, Llanfair Orlyn, Llandysul, Cardiganshire.

We saw each day through Fancy's eye
Five soldier sons across the main;
A father's pride and sisters' gain,
We bade God speed illumine their sky.

A sudden storm-cloud burst o'erhead,
And hid from view the smiling sun;
It flashed and raged, a grievous war,
And David Owen joined the dead.

Barbaric warfare! oh, how base
To strike a man from hidden air;
It is but murder unaware,
The deed branded with disgrace.

A hero died when thou didst fall,
But ah, a hero never dies.
He lives and moves 'neath brighter skies,
Beyond the reach of rifle ball.

Deserving patriot! calmly sleep,
In thy rude grave in gallant Gault;
And may the sweetest angels fall
To guard the spot and vigils keep.

All priceless is the "wooden cross"
'That marks the mound where thou
dost lie,
For gold nor rubies can it buy;
It is affection's sign of loss.

Llys Meddyg is in gloom to-day,
A heavy sadness fills the air;
And thou art gone to mansions far
Where dwells thy mother dear for aye.

We mourn thy loss across the sea,
We share the grief expressed at home;
But we shall meet 'neath father's dome,
And wave the plume of victory.

I thank the King and Queen, mine own
For comfort in affliction's forge,
And thanks to you, D. Lloyd George,
For soothing the bereaved, the lone.

Four soldier sons we see to-day,
No, we see five; one wears a crown;
And four won't lay their armour down
Until the olive leaf bears sway.

God bless your sons, courageous,
strong,
And all the soldiers of the realm;
Britania's valour will overwhelm
The tyrant Kaiser and his throng.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE AT HOME.

A Sunday Visit to Festinlog. Mr. Lloyd George, accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. J. T. Davies, arrived at Cricieth on Good Friday night, having motored from Chester. Mrs. Lloyd George and her two daughters, Miss Olwen and Miss Megan had arrived in Cricieth some days before. On Saturday the Minister of Munitions spent several hours trout fishing in the Dwyfer. Among those who called at Brynawelon on Saturday was Captain T. J. Carey Evans, son of Dr. R. D. Evans, J. P., Llys Meddyg, Festinlog. Capt. Carey Evans is in the Indian Medical Service, and was mentioned in the last dispatches from Gallipoli.

On Sunday morning Mr. Lloyd George attended service at Berea Disciples Church, Cricieth, the preacher being his venerable uncle, Mr. Richard Lloyd. In the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd George and his two daughters, he motored through Conway to Festinlog to attend the Easter preaching festival of the Calvinistic Methodists. The party were entertained to tea by Dr. Evans at Llys Meddyg, and on Sunday night went to Peniel chapel, Llan. Early on Monday Mr. Lloyd George left for London by motor, inspecting several munition factories on his way.

Dr. R. D. Evans, J. P., Llys Meddyg, is the father of Mrs. P. H. Knowling, of this city, and Captain T. J. Carey Evans is a brother. The verses are in memory of her brother that was killed in action during the winter.

Twenty Months of Prize Court

How a Trick to Get Contraband Exposed.

In the twenty months in which the Prize Court has been sitting under the Presidency of Sir Samuel Evans, 84 captured enemy vessels have already been condemned as prizes, and of these 42 have been sold and 42 requisitioned. The tonnage of the vessels sold has been 54,772, and of the vessels requisitioned 51,152. The number of enemy ships captured, and ordered to be detained until after the war is 73, with a total tonnage of 85,038. All of these have been requisitioned.

The total proceeds of the sale of ships and cargoes amount to £6,850,000 of which there is now a balance in the Prize Fund of about £4,850,000. In one cargo, some bars of aluminium, originally stamped "Hamburg," were blacked over with "Gothenburg."

Artichokes, Egg Plants, Custard Marrows, Celery, Table Onions, Pineapple, Horse Radish, Red Cabbage, Leeks, New Beef, Endive, Spinach, BISHOP, SONS & CO., LTD. Grocers Department. Phone 679.—m19,1f

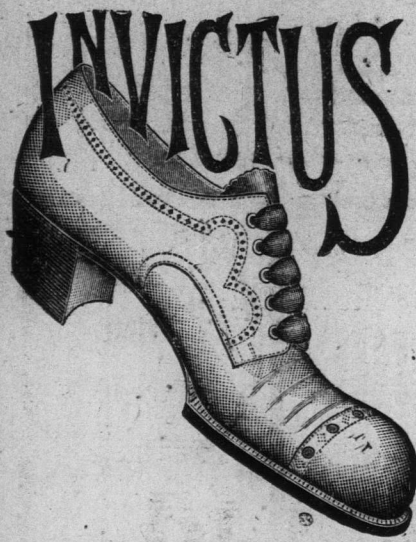

A few of the bars, which had aroused suspicion, were submitted to Professor Herbert Jackson, King's College, London, who applied a solvent and exposed the whole trick. The word "Hamburg" was plainly revealed. The whole lot were condemned.

Once there was a question as to whether "rubber" was gum, and whether "gum" meant "rubber." French, German, and English dictionaries were used, and expert witnesses were called in support of the American contention that there was nothing actually dishonest in shipping rubber as "gum." But the Court found that the article, whatever it was called, was contraband.

Chameleons All.

By RUTH CAMERON.

What a Chameleon we all are! How we do reflect our surroundings in our manner and attitude towards life! In different surroundings we act differently, talk differently and even think in a different key—in short become different people.

For instance, I go to an expensive and beautiful restaurant, I eat the delicate food, I listen to the sensuous music, I watch the well-dressed, well-fed, prosperous people, and the spirit of the place enters into me, I find myself scheming how I can wear gowns like theirs and eat there oftener. I am filled with a fierce desire for money and more money. I want not only the luxuries of restaurant life but all the rest—leisure, and spacious homes filled with flowers and music and guests, soft-footed service and purring limousines and gold-meshed purses stuffed with cracking bills.

I Forget To Say "Thank You"

I find myself aping the manners of these people, laughing at the sort of things they laugh at, ridiculing what they would ridicule. I find the standards of happiness and value that I thought were so firmly fixed on their foundation in my heart, wavering. I forget to say "Thank you" to the waiter, I accept his services with lofty impersonality as if it were something mechanical. I am not even sure that I should be glad to recognise my best friend if she should appear in shabby attire.

Among My Books.

By and by I come home. I go into my study and sit down among my books. Perhaps I read awhile, perhaps some friends come in and we have a dish of good talk. Perhaps the Lady-who-always-knows-something lends her gracious presence to my hearth. And behold, I begin to reflect the color of my surroundings and to become another person. Clever phrases are more vital to me now than clever gowns, interesting ideas are more stimulating than costly food. I talk and think and feel in quite another key.

Again I go to vespers in my favorite church. As I sit in the high-backed pew and bathe my soul in the music and the hush and the peace, the world seems to recede and I get a different perspective on everything that has seemed important to me.

This is my experience; it may not be yours, but I cannot help thinking it is.

We Reflect People As Well As Surroundings.

Different people, too, make me different.

I am never just myself. I am always myself plus.

If everyone is like that should it not temper our blame for those who have wrong standards of life reflected from their surroundings?

Of course, to some extent we make our surroundings, and therefore are responsible for what our surroundings make us. But surroundings have the first say before we reach the age of choice.

Very big people rise above their environment, very wise people choose the best from it to be colored by. But everybody is not very big nor very wise.

Patriotic Services

AT COCHRANE STREET CHURCH.

The two services held at Cochrane Street Church yesterday were of a patriotic character, the preachers being the Revs. N. M. Guy and C. A. Whitmarsh. Both sermons were bristling with facts concerning the present war and were forcibly and ably presented to the congregations present.

The choir rendered "Newfoundland" and "Give Peace in Our Times," with solo appropriately taken by Miss Vincent.

Service for Volunteers at Wesley Church.

Last night, as intimated in Saturday's paper, Rev. H. Boyle preached a special sermon to the young men who have enlisted "for King, Home and Motherland." Taking the words from St. John's Gospel, 15th chapter: "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his freedom." The preacher thought that without wresting of words, it would be a fair and expressive meaning to say that the word "volunteer" meant "lay down." He then explained the relative connection; and continued with a very earnest and patriotic discourse, which was heard with the keenest interest by the audience, probably over a thousand persons, as the church was crowded to its fullest capacity. The rostrum had been very tastefully draped with flags of Britain and her Allies by Mr. Robert Miller, and the ladies of the Epworth League added some plants and ferns. The organist, Mr. Pratt, and his choir supplied splendid anthems, while the congregational singing of the National hymns, such as Kipling's Recessional "Let us forget," and "God Save the King" at the close was an outburst of whole-souled loyalty. It was a fine service throughout. Fifty-five young men from Wesley congregation are either at the front or in training now, and twenty more have volunteered, but were unable to qualify, owing to height, weight, etc.

Dutch Papers Are Very Naturally Puzzled by Huns.

The Hague, via London, May 20.—Some Dutch newspapers gravely, but fruitlessly, see a technical explanation of the communication of the Dutch Naval Department on Thursday concerning the inquiry into the sinking of the steamer Tubantia. They confess their inability to understand how a torpedo could remain active for ten days and cite The Hague Convention of 1907, which forbids the use of torpedoes which do not become harmless after missing their mark.

But many newspapers, like the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courante, are frankly sarcastic and offer suggestions such as "The submarine commander forgot to keep his calendar up to date."

All agree, however, the matter cannot be allowed to rest, especially in view of the testimony of eye-witnesses who plainly saw the track of a torpedo.

So far the matter has been treated as an unsolved puzzle, but the expectation is very general that Germany ultimately will admit that the submarine commander made a mistake ### and offer regrets and compensation.

The official communication issued on Thursday by the Dutch naval department said that the commander of German submarine said he fired a torpedo at a British warship, March 6, and that it missed its target. The commander declared he had not fired at the Tubantia, March 16.

Doctor Grenfell at the Front.

SOME EXPERIENCES OF WAR.

Dr. Grenfell, after spending three months at the Front with the Harvard unit, has returned to resume his great work in Labrador. On his way back he spent a few days in London and found time to give at the headquarters of the Young Men's Christian Association, in Tottenham Court Rd., W.C., an address on his experiences. Reference was made to the lecture in the last number of "Tollers of the Deep."

I am on my way from France to Labrador, and I am really sorry to be out of khaki, though I never was in it before. While I was in the thick of my work on the other side of the Atlantic I was invited to join the Harvard Surgical Unit at the front. I found it possible to do so, because I knew that in my temporary absence my work in Labrador and Newfoundland would be faithfully carried on by my friends and devoted helpers. So I came over and was attached to the Harvard Unit with the rank of Major, and the experiences I have gained as an Army surgeon will remain amongst the greatest and proudest of my life. I have had the opportunity of seeing what the British Army is doing in many ways in this terrible war—I have been at many places, including the base at Boulogne, and many great battle-centres such as Ypres, Bethune and Armentieres. And I have had full chances of seeing what is really going on. It is hard, almost impossible, to find words in which to express admiration of the courage, endurance and humanity of the British troops in this terrible conflict.

All my life has been a roving one, ever since I took my degree as a doctor exactly thirty years ago. When I really began life I decided to look for some field of work where I could be useful. I went into the London Hospital and very soon became intensely interested in the Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen. In those days the fishing vessels were all sail, and when a man was seriously injured he had to be transferred to some vessel that was carrying fish to Billingsgate, and then he was taken to the London Hospital. This state of things on the North Sea brought home to me the possibility of Christian men preaching the gospel of love and help; and men went out and largely brought about that wonderful revolution which we see to-day amongst North Sea fishermen.

I cannot help feeling that in the trenches, right along the line where the surgical men are working, there is just the same problem to deal with as we encountered in those early days of Mission effort in the trawling fleets. Very great difficulties had to be overcome in performing operations in tiny Mission hospital smacks on the open sea, far from land; just as unusual treating wounded fighting men at the Front to-day. The problem in the North Sea was to heal men's bodies, as well as to help them to take a higher view of life; and it seems to me that the problem at the Front is just the same.

In dealing with the body there have been preventive developments which are little short of marvellous. The history of war is not the history of wounds; as a rule it has been the history of disease, and speaking as an unbiased person, I think that in this connection we are doing a perfectly magnificent work.

First of all, the troubles of the trench fighting have been the gas bacillus, which is an animal bacillus; and the tetanus bacillus. Both began operations in this war with terrible results; but now they have scarcely any effect. It must be remembered that the soil in France and Flanders, where so much of the fighting has taken place, is highly cultivated and is therefore splendid breeding ground for those deadly bacilli. So much is this the case with tetanus that in the early stages of the war bits of uniform which had been driven into the body, however slightly, were infinitely more dangerous than serious wounds caused by clean shrapnel, for the cloth by contact with the soil had become infected with the bacillus. I have seen men with pieces of shrapnel left in their wounds and doing well; but a piece of uniform, sodden with the rich soil, was a very different thing. But so wonderful has been the advance in the method of treating tetanus that to-day, if taken in time, such a thing as a fatal result is extremely improbable. Every soldier is so quickly and skillfully treated that danger practically does not exist.

The very terrible gas bacillus caused another very common disease, for the gas produced a kind of gangrene; yet now, there is very little mortality indeed from this cause.

In the beginning, too, any number of men were lost from typhoid fever; but now typhoid is getting so rare that if a case occurs anywhere on the Front it is known the same night at the French General Headquarters. That remark applies to the whole of our armies, and so rigid is the control which is kept over these matters that on the day following the report a searching local inquiry is held as to the cause of the disease.

At the Front I saw men who came from all parts of the country where I have been working for the past twenty-five years—Canadians, Americans, and so on. And in passing, just let me say that in connection with this war we are misjudging America because of the attitude which the President has taken. I have stayed with Mr. Wilson and with Mr. Roosevelt, and I know that the spirit of America is with us. It is because the whole spirit of the American people is with us that thirty-three doctors and thirty-six nurses—most of them giving up splendid practices—went out from America to the Front, as the Harvard Unit to help us. Just so the Chicago Unit, and many more Americans fighting in the ranks.

I have seen at the Front men of all ages and of every rank in life—veterans who were a long way over the army age, and immature youths of 16 or 17. The spirit of loyalty and the determination to do their bit made them go. Often enough a boyish patient would smile when I looked at the chart and asked him how old he really was. "Oh, that's my Army age," he would say; and go on smiling.

PAINS AFTER EATING ARE SIGNS OF INDIGESTION.

Indigestion—the complete or partial failure of the digestive processes—frequently throws out of gear the whole machinery of the body. You can't enjoy the vigour and vitality of good health unless your stomach, liver and bowels do their work regularly and efficiently.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

As a digestive tonic and stomachic remedy, Mother Seigel's Syrup is esteemed in tens of thousands of homes, wherever the English language is spoken. If you suffer much or little from disorders of the stomach, liver or bowels, try the effect of taking 15 to 30 drops of this famous remedy in water, after meals, for a few days and note its beneficial effects.

ASSISTS DIGESTION

The new 10c size contains three times as much as the old size sold at 50c per bottle.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

The flowers are blooming in the woods, the daffodils and kindred goods, the cowslip and the rose; and, as I do my office task, I wish that I could go and back among such things as those. Oh, it would surely be sublime, upon a fragrant bank of thyme, for drowsy hours to rest; to revel in the wholesome breeze, and pluck the toadstools from the trees, and rob a hornet's nest. But now a farmer comes to town—a man whose residence is down where buds are bathed in dew; all day he sees the posties grow, all day he feels the zephyrs blow his flowing sideboards through. And when I'd talk, in burning words, of other woodland things, he looks at me as though he feels that my fat head is full of wheels, and cranks and rusty springs. He interrupts my glad harangue, and says, "I do not give a dang for cowslip, or for rose; I'm happy, when the sun goes down, if I can chase myself to town, to see the movie shows."

Victor P. Crannford, St. John's
Geo. Lush, St. John's
Leo Clancy, St. John's
Wm. Shano, St. John's.

Patriotic Regatta.

Considerable comment is now going on respecting the Regatta and it is suggested, and supported by the public generally, to have our annual aquatic event take place this summer along patriotic lines. A suggestion is made that toll gates be erected at the different entrances to the lake side and a non-fixed attendance fee charged, thereby helping greatly some branch of the Patriotic Fund. We understand that a meeting of the 1914 Committee will be convened shortly by President Hiscock to consider the matter.

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.
Gents,—I have used your Minard's Liniment in my family and also in my stables for years and consider it the best medicine obtainable.

Baseballers Met.

Season Will Be Opened June 14th. Proceeds for Soldiers and Sailors Club.

A meeting of the Baseball League was held on Saturday. Mr. Hawvermale presiding. Mr. Collins motioned to rescind the residential clause governing players who were withdrawn owing to the fact that the rosters of the various clubs had been filled and the delegates therefore felt that in view of sufficient material having been secured it would be quite unnecessary to alter the rules respecting players. Owing to the adverse weather conditions which have prevailed for some time past, the Cubs and B. I. S., which are to open the season, have been unable to get consistent practice and the League therefore decided that the opening game be postponed one week to June 14th. The season will be opened in regular big league form with the usual attendant ceremonies. Mrs. John Browning who is so actively connected with Red Cross work was requested by the League to designate a fund to which the entire proceeds should be devoted. Mrs. Browning suggested that the receipts should be devoted to the Soldiers and Sailors Club which is being formed for the comfort of our brave lads in blue and khaki. The ladies' committee will work in conjunction with the League and both will co-operate in making the opening game on June 14th an unprecedented success in view of the worthiness of the object, and admission tickets will be sold broadcast at 10 cents each. The following committee of baseballers will be in charge of arrangements.—Messrs. R. G. Reid, J. O. Hawvermale, W. J. Higgins, T. V. Hartnett, N. J. Vinnicombe, A. Hiltz, J. Buckingham, W. J. Carew, Joseph Murphy, W. J. Collins, E. Clouston, T. Ring and W. J. O'Neill. The following gentlemen have again consented to act as officials this season.—Capt. Montgomery, Dr. H. A. Smith, Hanlin and F. V. Cheeman as Umpires; Mr. P. E. Outerbridge, Official Scorer; and Mr. John Stancombe, ground keeper. After finalizing matters in connection with the opening game on June 14th and the discussion of minor details the meeting adjourned.

Amusements.

AT THE CRESCENT.

Some of the greatest stars in Film-dom are presented at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day. Nell Craig, the great Essanay star, appears in "His Cradle," a powerful feature produced in three reels. Anne Schaffer and Alfred Vosburgh, the Vitagraph artists, appear in a fine melodrama: "The Siren." Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in "The Fox Trot Finesse," a classy Drew comedy. Mr. Frank DeGroot sings: "As Long as the World Goes 'Round," a very fine ballad by Von Tilzer. This is a good show don't miss it.

"THE ALTERNATIVE" AT THE NICKEL.

All patrons of the Nickel Theatre should be sure and attend to-day's performance as the programme is an interesting and attractive one, and is sure to be viewed with the greatest satisfaction. One of the grandest pictures ever given at this popular theatre is "The Alternative," in which the celebrated artists Miss Constance Crawley and Mr. Arthur Maule are in the leading characters. Another big feature film to-day is "The Long Arm of the Secret Service," which is a thrilling detective story. Bert Stanley will be heard in another novelty song. There is coming to the Nickel shortly another great serial social drama—"The Strange Case of Mary Page," in which the principal roles are taken by Edna Mayo and Henry E. Walthall. There are fifteen episodes in the serial.

OPORTO PRICES.—Saturday's fish prices at Oporto were 42 to 44 shillings for large and 38 to 40 for small.

Soldiers and Sailors Club.

A meeting of the various committees interested in the formation of "The Soldiers and Sailors' Club," was held at Government House on Thursday, 28th inst., at 3 o'clock. His Excellency the Governor presided, and there were present the following: Mrs. W. J. Herder, Mrs. T. J. Edens, Mrs. L. Patterson, Mrs. C. F. Ayre and Miss E. Dickenson, representing the Ladies' Committee; Messrs. Dunfield and Sheard, representing the International Grenfell Association. Corporals W. E. McHenry and L. Moore, Lance-Corporal J. J. Murphy and Privates R. N. Balsam and N. Gilles were present on behalf of the members of the B. I. S. Reserve and 1st Mid. Regiment. Plans were approved for the furnishing and equipping the Grenfell Hall as a convenient recreation and reading room. At one end there will be a refreshment counter, separated from the main hall by screens. At the other end will be a writing room, where writing materials will be supplied free. In addition the Institute are placing at the Club's disposal the exclusive use of the gymnasium, and the use of the baths, bowling and billiard tables at special rates.

Donations of games, books, periodicals and magazines are asked from the public. The heating and lighting will be furnished by the Institute at a maximum charge of $50 a month. Attendance and cleaning at cost approximately $50 per month more. The expense of suitably furnishing and equipping the Club will be $1,000, and the upkeep $100 monthly. Subscriptions in aid of the Club will be received by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Charles P. Ayre, Burn Brae. It is hoped this sum will be quickly donated, as the orders for the furniture to be made locally have been placed. The idea is to have the Club rooms ready for the use of the men and opened by the 14th June next.

"MEASLES."

Hundreds of children are suffering from "Measles" at the present time, and one has to be very careful in trying to avoid the complications that often follow them.

A heavy "Cough" is very prevalent during the present epidemic, and "Parasomnia" is the great danger. Avoid this by using the famous "Stafford's Phoratoxine Cough Cure" on hand.

Stafford's Drug Store (Theatre Hill) is open every night from 7.30 to 9.30.

The above preparation is manufactured only by

Notes From Botwood.

Perhaps a few notes re our doings would not be out of place as one rarely sees an item in the newspapers from Botwood. Things have been dull here all the spring, owing in part to the non-arrival of the A. N. D. Co. steamers, and also to so many of our men being on active service, something over forty having responded to the call; as a matter of fact we feel quite proud of our record. We were all pleased to hear of the reception given to the crew of the Cravey's arrival at Heart's Content. He is one of the best and a general favourite in Botwood. We hope that ere long he will be visiting us.

Empire Day, as in other places, was set apart as Red Cross Day. It happened to be a beautiful day—one of the nicest for the season, and numbers attended the events held during the day. Some young ladies headed by Miss Gosse held a sociable in the Masonic Club Rooms during the afternoon and evening; teas, ice cream, etc., were served and a nice sum was raised. We certainly owe a debt of gratitude to Miss Gosse and the young ladies who helped to make the affair such a decided success. A public meeting was also held in the Orange Hall at 8 p.m., the Magistrate, Revs. J. T. Newman, M. K. Gardner and English Tulk emphasized the necessity of all doing their "bit" to help swell the Red Cross Fund. A subscription list was opened, and as many were unable to be present, collectors were appointed, and it is hoped that Botwood will not be behind in its donations to this worthy fund. The Masonic Club and the Orange Society gave free use of their rooms and we thank them for their kindness on this and other occasions.—Com.

F. Smallwood, The Home of Good Shoes.

The Eastern Trust Company.

A few reasons why an estate can be better administered by the Eastern Trust Company than by a personal executor or administrator:—

1. The Company affords the estate absolute security; it has a paid-up capital of $331,000.00, and a reserve fund of $229,300.00.
2. It has a long experience in the work of administering estates; it is incorporated for this business of acting as a trustee, and, unlike many other trust companies, it does no other.
3. Its existence is perpetual. Your estate, in the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, must look around for a substitute, and the work of administration is impeded during that time, and the new executor is unfamiliar with the policy of his predecessor, and confusion results. This company's existence is perpetual, and there is a continuity of policy in its administration that the death of its officers does not break.
4. It possesses the confidence of governments, universities and prominent charities, and administers their funds.
5. A number of other advantages which will appear in due course.

Have You Given Your Stenographer a LINE-A-TIME?

WE have sold a number of them in the last month or two, and the testimonials we have received show the greatest enthusiasm over this little Machine that saves so much for the employer and the stenographer.

Were it not for the LINE-A-TIME hundreds of thousands of typists would have no prospect of relief from the nerve racking and health breaking practice of twisting their necks and shoulders, and straining their eyes a thousand times a day, over note books and record sheets.

Hundreds of thousands of employers would have to go on wrestling with the problem of how to increase the output of their typewriters without requiring more "work" from the operators.

The LINE-A-TIME has become widely popular with employers and office managers, not only as a money making, labor saving invention, but as a humane device that increases output by removing a condition detrimental to the welfare of the operator.

THE PRICE IS $8.50.

We will gladly put in a LINE-A-TIME for a week or a month so that your stenographer can give it a trial. If at any time she does not like it, or you think it does not do all we claim for it, we will take it back and there will be no charge for the time you have had it.
