

PRINTING FOR THE EXHIBITION.

Parties requiring Job Printing for the Exhibition should send in their Orders immediately, so as to get them filled in time for the Show, and not crowd us too much next week.

The Road and Bridge Management.

Much of our space is taken up today with the report of the Special Committee appointed to inquire into the road and bridge management, and to examine the books and accounts of the Inspector, and the discussion which followed when it came up for consideration in the Council. After a careful perusal of these, no one can fail to come to the conclusion that it was high time for such an investigation to be made. The report confirms everything we said on this subject a month ago, and shows even a worse state of matters than we were aware of. We need not go into the details, for these are so clearly and fully set forth in the able report drawn up by Mr. Elliott that he who runs may read.

The whole of the Road and Bridge Committee must, to a certain extent, be held responsible for this state of affairs, but after the frank and manly avowal made by Mr. Raymond, and after being cognizant of all the facts as brought out in the discussion and in the report, no one can fail to come to the conclusion that the blame rests almost altogether on the Chairman and the Inspector. When the former accepted the position of chairman he undertook the duty—no light one we admit—of seeing that the Inspector did his duty properly, that the work laid out was properly done, that the appropriations were properly spent, and that the books were properly and correctly kept. If this was not the work he imposed on himself, then we would like to know what it was. It is the work of the Committee to say what shall be done, and it is the business of the Chairman to see that the paid employees of the Corporation follow out the instructions he gives them, as he has been instructed by the Committee. The chairman has not done this, and the weak and miserable defence he made of his conduct is most damaging to his official character, to his sense of responsibility as chairman of the most important of all the Committees, and as a representative of the rate-payers. And not only this, but circumstances have given a colour to the suspicion that he was either directing, or letting things take that turn which might be for his own personal benefit. Mr. Coffey may feel that he has been unjustly dealt with in this matter, and has denied that he was influenced by any selfish motive, but if he feels hard over it he has himself to blame, for had he avoided even the appearance of self, and had he seen that the Inspector did his work properly, no such suspicion would have been entertained.

As for the Inspector, the Council dealt with him as his conduct deserves. Neglectful of his duty, indulging in habits that unfit a man for doing work himself or seeing that others do it, and setting the Committee at defiance, he could expect nothing less than his dismissal, and he has got it. If everything was right and above board, why should he refuse to give the Committee every information in his power; why should he refuse to give up some of his books? His conduct gives an air of suspicion to the whole matter which will not be removed till he makes a clean breast, which he is not likely now to do.

A more glaring piece of mismanagement, bungling and neglect—no worse—we have not come across for some time, and it will take the Committee and the Council no little work and trouble to get matters right.

Important to Assessors.

At the Court of Revision in Amaranth, Judge Macdonald spoke in severe terms of the careless manner in which assessors are in the habit of doing their work. Very often they do not go to see the property which they assess, and content themselves by entering a name without taking any means of ascertaining whether it is correct or not. His Honor said that it was the duty of the assessor to leave a schedule at the house for the owner of the property to fill up. Then if any mistake was made as to the name, it would be easy to find out who was to blame. Under the present system, the assessor could only say that some one had told him the name—perhaps a little girl in the house, or some neighbor. The new law will have a good effect in this particular, as the assessor is made responsible for errors, and is liable for all expenses incurred in the court of appeal. If the Assessor of Amaranth was made to pay all the costs in cases where he has erred, we are afraid his salary would go but a short way in liquidating the debt. As this is the first year that the new act has come into operation it would not be fair to enforce it with great strictness. In future, however, the assessors will have no such excuse, and they must expect to be dealt with according to the strict letter of the law.—Orangeville Advertiser.

At a recent trial an Aberdeen young lady got into the witness box to be examined, when the following conversation took place between her and the opposing counsel. Counsel—"How old are you?" Miss Jane—"Oh weel, sir, I am an unmarried woman, and dinna think it right to answer that question." The Judge—"Weel-a-weel, I am fifty," Counsel—"Are you not sixty?" Miss Jane—"Weel, I am sixty." The inquisitive lawyer said further asked if she had any hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied:—"Weel, sir, I wima tell a lie; I hamma lost hope yet;" scornfully smiling, "but I wima marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palaver already."

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE MERCURY
The Jersey City Scandal.

Anglo-American Cable.

Fraudulent Proceedings of an U. S. Consul.

Sept. 7.—John L. Nutter, a young man residing with his parents on the corner of Summit and Magnolia Avenues, Jersey city heights, appeared before Justice Eldridge to-day and charged Messrs. Joseph Dunn, John Gordon and other persons connected with Rev. J. S. Glendinning's church with having tried to induce him by threats of exposing him, in relation to an alleged case of larceny, to swear that he was the father of Mary Pomeroy's child.

Fires in the woods near Hamilton N. J. have burned over twenty thousand acres of valuable timber land and in the cranberry bogs the flames are still raging and spreading.

New Haven, Sept. 7.—Fifteen buildings of the New Haven Wheel Co. were destroyed by fire to-night, 150 hands are thrown out of employment. Loss $350,000 to $500,000.

New York, Sept. 8.—An old feud between Thomas Hoyes and Thomas Delaney, City Marshalls, terminated last evening by Hoyes shooting Delaney in the head, it is supposed fatally.

The play called "Passion's Perils" which was suppressed in Boston, was brought out at Bowery Theatre here last night. The papers pronounce it a skillful parody on the Beecher Tilton scandal.

London, Sept. 7.—The work of laying the new direct cable from the Irish to the American coast has commenced. The following despatch from the steamer Faraday reports the progress made:—

"Steamer Faraday, Sunday. We spliced the deep sea cable with the Irish shore end on the 3rd, and had payed out 830 knots when a fault was discovered. On the 4th it was found that a wire had pierced the gutta-percha. While we were overhauling cable it got entangled in some wreckage, broke, and was lost in 2,570 fathoms. Grappling apparatus was set at work, and the cable recovered. The insulation is now perfect. We are in lat. 50.51, long. 17.34.

PARIS, Sep. 7.—Charles Perkins, formerly U. S. Consul at Lisbon, and his wife were before the Correction Tribunal of Seine on Saturday, on a charge of obtaining 39,000 francs under false pretences. It was charged that Perkins obtained the money by allegations that he had contracts for the cable between Spain and England, that he was negotiating a loan for Don Carlos and was engaged in other moneyed transactions.

Grant and Dufferin.

N. Y. World

While President Grant and his Cabinet were on board the City of Peking, tarrying long at the wine in the interests of Pacific Mail, Earl Dufferin was, as appears from the World's Brantford correspondence, otherwise engaged. After a lengthy summer tour to the impoverished settlers and scattered Indian bands along the northern shores of Lakes Huron and Superior, the Governor-General is now traversing the Peninsula of Ontario, visiting impartially his red and white constituents, and being received by both with—as the French would say—equal effusion. His speech to the powerful Six Nations, the tomb of whose great chief, Sagoyewew, he had just visited, deserves attention, inasmuch as it does the open secret of Canada's success in treating her Indians, and conveying an intimation of her future progressive policy. Recognizing the fact that the nomadic habit was not to be shaken off in one or two generations, the Governor-General advised them frankly that in the coming generation they would be expected more equally to compete with their white fellow-subjects in agriculture and industry, thus carrying out the idea of Mr. Howe, who objected to subsidize the Indians of the Northwest, because even after game had disappeared they had a beautiful soil under their feet, which they were as well able to till as the white man. Over and over again his Excellency pledged the Dominion and the mother-country to what he called "the policy of common sense and good faith," assuring his three thousand hearers that "the world Britain, once given, was never broken," and that "from one end of the Dominion to the other every Indian subject should feel that he enjoyed the rights of a freeman, and could with confidence appeal to the British Crown for protection."

These were as brave words as we shall hear these summer days, braver indeed than Mr. Grant's opinion on the "constitutional and geographical relations of New Jersey and the Union," and better than their eloquence is their truth. During the same visit we find the Muncies citing treaties made with Tecumseh and his warriors by Proctor as he retreated from the St. Clair River to be routed by Harrison and Johnson's Kentuckians at the battle of the Thames, among those with whose observance they were satisfied. And yet the ink is hardly dry on the Laramie treaty where the United States by some of their most eminent citizens pledged their faith after due deliberation that the Black Hills should not be invaded!

Truly Earl Dufferin is right. What we want is a "policy of good faith and common sense," departing not from our obligations and suffering no departure from the obligations assumed towards us by others, ranking the Indian with the white, the negro and the Chinaman as an intelligent and responsible being, for whom neither the laws of nature of society are to be infringed or suspended. Whenever we shall adopt and honestly carry out such a policy, then the name of the United States may become in Indian affairs what Earl Dufferin declares with just pride that of Canada to be—"from ocean to ocean a synonym for humanity, for good faith, and for benevolent treatment."

INTELLECTUAL CULTURE.—A cultivated mind may be said to have infinite stores of innocent gratification. Everything may be made interesting to it, by becoming a subject of thought or inquiry. Books, regarded merely as a gratification, are worth more than all the luxuries on earth. A taste for literature secures cheerful occupation for the unemployed and languid hours of life; and how many persons, in these hours, for want of innocent resources, are now impelled to coarse pleasures? How many young men can be found, who, unaccustomed to find a companion in a book, and strangers to intellectual activity, are almost driven, in the long, dull evenings of winter, to haunts of intemperance and bad society.

COST OF KEEPING SHEEP.—The Michigan Farmer says: A sheep cannot be kept at the present market value of land, of labor, of hay and of grain for the price of its fleece, even if that fleece weighs five pounds of washed wool that would bring 40 cents.

MILLS & GOODFELLOW.

Co-Operative Store.

On reference to all our advertisements since commencing business in Guelph seven years ago, it will be seen that we never offered "To Slaughter Goods," "To Sell at Half Price," "To Sell at a Great Sacrifice Irrespective of Cost," "To Sell 50 per cent. under other Houses," "To Keep the Largest and Best Stock in the Dominion."

We have carefully abstained from exaggeration, giving facts and figures only, leaving it to the buyers to judge for themselves.

Our aim has been to buy low, sell cheap to increase our sales, to allow no house to undersell us, to give our customers a share of profits, and make only one price.

The result has been that we have done a steady, prosperous, and increasing business, retaining old and obtaining new customers. Some left us to obtain goods "at half price," but soon returned, as "actions speak louder than words." Hence we will continue to conduct our business on the same principle.

Special Notices.

THE RECENT CASE OF DEATH by strychnine poisoning from taking SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, noticed in the Montreal Daily Witness of August 1st, renders great caution necessary not to confound Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of PHOSPHATES and Calissaya with COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES. Observe well the difference in orthography and bear in mind that incidentally there is no similarity in action or effect.

PHOSPHATES ARE ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to sustain life, being an element of every solid and fluid of the body, and they are incapable of injurious results at any period from infancy to old age, or under any possible condition of the system, and no more harm can result from taking more than the prescribed dose than from eating too hearty a dinner.
