"THE BATTLE OF THE SWASH."

J. Theo. Barton of Toronto has republished a brochure bearing the title of "The Battle of the Swash and the Conquest of Canada," by Samuel Barton. The object of the writer is to convince the American people of the folly of their Government in not taking measures to build up a navy and to fortify the coasts of their country.

The American government would assume the debt of the Dominion, which is estimated at $300,000,000. Nothing is said as to what the people of Canada have to say to this desertion and surrender. In fact the author makes the Canadians play a very insignificant part in this momentous campaign in which their fate was in the balance.

Some of our eastern contemporaries censure the government very severely for not disallowing the Jesuits Estates Act, which gives the Jesuits of the Province of Quebec $400,000 as a compensation for property of the order which has reverted to the Government. The money is to be expended for the purpose of education.

BOULANGER ELECTED

For the Department of the Seine by a Sweeping Majority.

The Government Party Assisted at the Result—Excitement in Paris and London—Opinion Expressed that the Ministry Must Resign Immediately—The Pope Maintains Order and No Disturbance Feared.

Special to THE COLONIST. PARIS, Jan. 27.—Results of the election in the Department of the Seine have been received from 30 divisions, giving Boulanger 17,778 votes and Jacques 13,543. Boulanger's majority has been mostly obtained in the central and extreme outlying districts.

THE GENERAL CONFIDENT. General Boulanger said this afternoon that he felt sure of receiving a majority of at least 60,000 votes. The Boulangerist organization is perfect and the followers of the general were everywhere instructed to maintain perfect order, otherwise the cause of their chief would be seriously injured.

DISALLOWANCE. Some of our eastern contemporaries censure the government very severely for not disallowing the Jesuits Estates Act, which gives the Jesuits of the Province of Quebec $400,000 as a compensation for property of the order which has reverted to the Government.

Very Valuable. Having used B. B. B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results, I would recommend it to all those troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold. Tillie White, Manitowau, Ont.

SOUNDING AN ALARM.

Hon. Edward Stanhope Predicts a General European War.

Which He Believes will be the Finest and Most Horrible Ever Known—He is Taken to Task by the London Press for Making the Statement, and His Utterances Condemned.

Special to THE COLONIST. LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, in an address to his constituents in Horncastle, Division of Lincolnshire, last evening, said "A thunder cloud is hanging over Europe, and sooner or later, probably sooner, it will burst, bringing the fiercest and most horrible war ever known."

THE OAR. Charles Bush, of this city, has challenged William O'Connor, to a race on his own ground, to be held on the 15th inst. The O'Connor is the American champion, and is in San Francisco making preparations for his coming race with Gaudaur.

CAPITAL NOTES. Customs Officers Seize Five Miles of Railway Track. The seized material is valued at $50,000. The Dominion Supt. of Mines reports that the Mormons at Lees Creek have been ordered to leave the territory.

CABLE NEWS. Spurgeon's Health. LONDON, Jan. 28.—Charles H. Spurgeon writes from the south of France, where he went for his health, that he hopes to return and resume his duties by the middle of next month.

THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

A Political Lull Before the Parliamentary Storm.

Seasonal Prospects—Laurier's Letter—Labor Reform—Sir John and the Workmen—A Dejected Collector of Customs—The Jesuits Bill.

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—This has been a dull week politically. The departments are busy in anticipation of the session, but as yet there are few politicians on hand. Now and again a tariff department disturbs the monotony of the daily routine in the Department of Customs and the scene in which Mr. Bowell lays down the law to them, and perhaps finally drives it into their heads that they (the members of the department) would be better used if the tariff were left untouched is just a little amusing to those who have seen this thing going on year after year.

LABOR REFORM. It seems that the labor reform is going to make a big effort to secure legislation at the coming session for the benefit of that particular class. The Grand Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor delegated Mr. A. F. Jury of Toronto to attend here during the session to represent the laboring classes.

THE NEW CABINET. The most important post in the new cabinet will be that of the minister of the interior, as that official will have supervision of the general election which it is expected will take place in March. Boulangerists declare that by the spread of the government's blunder, Gen. Boulanger will be president of the executive power within a month.

THE SEAL FISHERIES. The U. S. Claims Jurisdiction Over the Whole of Behring's Sea. A bill to be passed instructing the President to issue Proclamations Warning Unauthorized Vessels to Keep Off the Seal Fishing Grounds—Armed Vessels to Be Sent to the Coast—Revenue to Be Yielded from the Fisheries.

We find that the election law of the Dominion, which makes the franchise as it is defined in the Dominion election law and manhood suffrage is so small that it would be better to change it so as to bring it into line with the Dominion election law.

The amendments in law procedure are most probably made on the suggestion of men learned in the law, and are intended to meet what are felt to be inconveniences. The bill to permit the release on probation of persons convicted of first offences is, we believe, both wise and merciful. It will give the novice in crime another chance. He may not be pardoned, he may have sincerely repented of what he has done, and he may be determined to lead a new life. If he is sent to prison he runs a very great risk of forgetting his good resolutions and of becoming still further demoralized. Very few convicts are reformed in the penitentiaries. This is well known, and kind-hearted men are often tender with first offenders. They frequently do without law, and indeed against law, what the Government propose to do under the sanction of law. They do not prosecute the offender. They let him off; but they have no hold on him. They cannot call him again to account. They frequently lose sight of him altogether, and he, finding he has escaped punishment so easily, and knowing that he is not under surveillance, may require very little temptation to commit another offence. But under the proposed law the first offender will be released on probation. He does not escape, justice keeps her eye on him, and he does not know by his conduct that he is desirous of becoming a law-abiding and useful citizen she will have the power to take him again in charge and prove to him that the way of the transgressor is hard. We sincerely trust that this beneficent experiment will meet with signal success.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The rise and progress of the Salvation Army is one of the most singular of the social phenomena of the day. There is very little that is attractive, and not a little that is distasteful—we might be justified in saying, "that is repulsive"—to the ordinary church-going member of the community in the methods and practices of these salvation lads and lasses. Yet the Army has grown to very large proportions, and is still growing rapidly. Its officers claim to be doing a very great amount of good to individuals and classes that are not reached by the ordinary church organizations. They say that persons who have reached the lowest depths of degradation, who are looked upon as hopeless cases, and who have been given up for lost, have been reclaimed and reclaimed.

It is now believed that Prince Rudolph died of heart disease. He was found by his valet dead in bed this morning. The crown prince had been feeling unwell for several days, but there was nothing alarming in his symptoms.

HOW THE KAISER RECEIVED THE NEWS.

Emperor William was much agitated upon receipt of the news of the prince's death. He drove immediately to the Austrian embassy, where he remained with Ambassador Count Schrenker for half an hour. He then drove to the opera to the Prince of Prussia at Kiehl's. The cause of death was apoplexy of the heart. The court festivities, which would have taken place on the occasion, were postponed and will possibly be abandoned.

QUEEN VICTORIA DEEPLY AFFLICTED.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Queen wept when she was informed of the death of Crown Prince Rudolph. She was deeply affected, and her daughter, Empress Frederick, the Austrian Embassy at London received only the bare fact of the prince's death, and no reference to the circumstances of the case. The Queen and Prince of Wales promptly wired their condolence to Emperor Francis Joseph. The Prince of Wales, who is the Duke of Edinburgh, will attend the funeral.

POPULARITY OF THE DEAD PRINCE.

In spite of the well authenticated stories of his waywardness and his shameful treatment of his wife, the Archduchess Stephanie, the late prince was very popular among the Hungarians, and his death will be severely felt.

FROM PERRY CREEK.

Colonel James Baker, M.P.P. for Kootenay, who arrived in Victoria on Monday evening, talked with a COLONIST representative to-day evening, in regard to the prospects of the Perry Creek mining company. Said Baker said that the company was formed, it will be remembered, to work the tunnel, in consequence of the favorable reports of gold miners who had previously worked at Perry Creek. Fifteen years ago the mine was worked and $1,000,000 taken out immediately below the tunnel. The tunnel has since been worked on the ancient method, now filled up by great quantities of sludge. At the commencement of the old tunnel, $700 to the "set," was being taken out. But as they drove into the hill, the gold lying above a canyon, and they could not find much gold on account of the smoothness of the bedrock. The individual miners, year after year, were impressed with the value of the gold lying above a canyon, and they vainly attempted to overcome the difficulty of the canyon; but being men without capital or means they were forced to give it up, and the ground was given to the world. The opinion of all the old miners who had worked in the place, that could the canyon be passed and the rough bedrock reached, the large deposit of gold would be found, and it had really supplied the mass of gold that had been taken out in the lower part of the creek, a canyon was formed to pass the canyon.

Boatmen to Death.

At Westminster on Friday afternoon, a Chinaman while walking near Sapper-ton, was set upon and beaten by two Indians, receiving severe injuries that he died soon after. His pockets were rifled and the sum of $4.50, all the money in his possession, was taken by the murderers. The tragedy took place in broad daylight, and has created a sensation in Westminster. It is not known whether the Indians were arrested.

I think that is a fairly well acquainted with the capabilities of this portion of British Columbia, and I feel perfectly satisfied that eventually the Northern Pacific railway will be built, and the government will be repaid.

Capital Notes.

Everything in Readiness for Opening of Parliament—Forecast of the Speech from the Throne.

The Haldimand Election—Collier, the Liberal Candidate, Elected by a Majority of Thirty-Seven.

From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—The Governor-General in the Speech from the Throne to-morrow will intimate the intention of Canada to continue to maintain her fishery rights as prescribed by the convention with Great Britain, and some satisfactory arrangement is made by treaty between the two countries.

Among the Government Measures will be one simplifying the fiscal law and lessening the cost of its operation.

There will also be a bill to assimilate the laws of the several provinces relating to bills of exchange, cheques and promissory notes.

The Government will introduce a bill to secure uniformity in the laws relating to the prevention of crime, and also a bill to improve the law of procedure in criminal cases, and a bill to increase the efficiency of the Mounted Police, and some other measures.

Parliament will be asked to provide subsidies for improved mail service, and for the establishment of a line of steamers between British Columbia, China and Japan.

A deputation of medical men waited on the Governor-General and urged the reduction of the duty on surgical instruments and appliances.

Senators MacDonald and Reid, Members of the Privy Council, have just arrived this morning. Everything is in readiness for the opening of Parliament.

Collier, Liberal, was elected for Haldimand by 37 majority. Dr. Montague was the Conservative candidate.

Seattle and Southern Railroad.

The Seattle and Southern Railway Company has been organized at Seattle, for the purpose of constructing and running an independent line from Seattle to Portland. The officers of the company are: President, Thomas Edging, president; L. S. J. Hunt, vice-president; M. S. Bates, secretary; J. P. Hoyt, treasurer; Gen. Charles Caldwell, consulting engineer. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $7,000,000, and the principal place of business will be located at Seattle. The work of locating the line will begin immediately, and as soon thereafter as possible the contract will be let for the construction of the road.

Another Passenger Gone.

R. D. Thornhill, another pioneer of the province, died yesterday at his home on Pandora street in this city yesterday morning, heart disease being the cause of his demise. The deceased was a native of England, and came to this city in 1858, at that time being 22 years of age. For five years he filled the position of steward of the French hospital, and during the last eight years of his life he acted as sexton of Pandora street Methodist Church. He leaves a wife and three sons, as well as a large circle of friends and acquaintances to lament his loss. The funeral takes place on Friday next from his late residence.

The Cavalry Captured.

The officers of the provincial police were busy all Tuesday night and up till about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, in scouring the country for the convict Kenney, who escaped from the chain gang on Tuesday afternoon. Officer Miller and Detective Dunstan, working together during the afternoon, finally struck a clue which they followed up without delay, and succeeded in capturing their man, at Ten Mile point, at about four o'clock. When arrested and returned to the provincial jail, his ankle was minus the metal band which he wore, and he made his escape, although how he devastated himself of the emblem of the prison, is not known.

Fishery Regulations.

A telegram has been received by Mr. Moffat, Fishery Inspector, from the Deputy Minister of Fisheries, Mr. Tilton, to the effect that meshes of salmon nets will remain at 54 inches, except in cases where the inspector may think necessary to increase to six inches. The close time will be from 6 p.m. on Saturday until 6 a.m. on Monday. Full instructions in regard to the matter will follow by letter. The changes made from the regulations recently made are in sympathy with the recommendations made by the canner's convention which met in Victoria last December, and which were also endorsed by the Board of Fisheries. The action of the Minister is so promptly meeting the wishes of the canners will be thoroughly appreciated by them.

Wedding Bells.

On Tuesday evening, January 29th, a very quiet but very happy wedding was celebrated in St. John's church, by the Rev. Percival Jones. The bride and groom were Mr. L. E. Lupton, of Seattle, and Miss Myria N. Peary, youngest daughter of the late Mr. James Peary, of Bremport road. Mr. and Mrs. Lupton carry with them to their new home the very best wishes of all who know them for future happiness and prosperity.

On the 5th inst. at the parish church, Stoke Newington, England, Lieut. Scott, A. H. Gray, second son of Hon. Mr. Justice Gray, of this city, was united in holy wedlock to Eleanor Margrave, fourth daughter of the late Thomas Hext, J. THE OKANAGON RAILWAY.

To the Editor:—I wish to say a few words in the columns of your paper with regard to the proposed Shuswap & Okanagan railway, and the prospect of its proving to be a paying concern to those investing money in it.

Apparently, the energy and perseverance displayed by Mr. Lumby, in endeavoring to bring this matter to a successful conclusion, has not met with the success which was expected, but there are many others who are not so sanguine as to the success of the project. This is what is commonly called the Spallumcheen slough, and extends from Okanagan to within a few hundred yards of the Spallumcheen river, a distance of fully one and a half miles, with an average width of 300 yards; at the last calculation fully 1700 acres of unimproved meadow land. This whole distance can be readily tanned fully meeting lumbering, and has succeeded wonderfully well, yielding between two and three tons per acre.

There is in the Okanagan, Mission Valley and Spallumcheen districts, fully ten thousand acres of cattle, of which one-third may be counted upon yearly for export, and this in a district that is especially fitted for winter fattening. It might be expected that the lower country with fat stock during a season of the year when stock of this description is particularly hard to find, will not take any space fully meeting lumbering, and has succeeded wonderfully well, yielding between two and three tons per acre.

It is clear that our local government have made a great mistake in this matter, that in giving a lump sum towards construction, instead of a guarantee of 4 per cent. as was first requested. If I am not greatly mistaken, the nature of the guarantee asked for, it was intended to be for a term of twenty years, and upon a sum, something like $1,100,000, with an understanding that about the road, if desired, the freight depots are to be increased to three times their present capacity, and the cost at the head of construction, say to be filled with iron, used as freight yards. The proposed improvements are estimated to cost $3,000,000.

TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

We see a letter in the News-Advertiser of Saturday last, in which an attempt is made to undermine the confidence of the public in the impartiality of the Education department of the Provincial Government. The writer wishes to create the impression that teachers' certificates are not granted according to merit. He gives instances in which candidates who get fewer marks than some of their competitors, obtain higher class certificates. "A teacher with 977 marks," he says, "got a third A certificate, valid for two years, whilst the next teacher, with 1,297 marks and fourteen other teachers, each having more than 977 marks, got a third B. This may be strange and true and yet quite fair and right. It must be remembered that the candidate who gets a large number of marks is not necessarily well qualified to teach. If, for instance, a candidate deserves a high rating as far as marks are concerned for every subject except, say, spelling or English grammar or arithmetic, would it be right for the examiner to rate him as high as the candidate who excelled in these essentials? It is quite possible that a candidate who has been well examined may make a high percentage of marks in natural philosophy, ancient history, anatomy, Canadian history and writing, and fail, or the next thing to fail, in reading, spelling, arithmetic, grammar and composition. The examiners would be perfectly justified in placing the candidates who were weak in the essentials of education in a low grade or in plucking them altogether. A superficial knowledge of what may be called accomplishments will never make up for a want of knowledge in what really constitutes the basis of sound education. A candidate who reads badly, who cannot spell well, whose knowledge of arithmetic is defective, or who can neither speak nor write correctly, should not be allowed to enter a school-room as a teacher. The intelligent reader will see in a moment that judicious examiners will not classify candidates for teachers' certificates strictly according to marks, without any regard to the subjects for which the marks are given. He can easily understand that it is quite possible for the candidate who gets only a moderate number of marks to be much better qualified to teach than one to whom many more marks are awarded. The candidate who when returning from an examination triumphantly exclaimed, "I done all them sums right," was not exactly the kind of person to teach children English, no matter how many marks he might have won. Examiners have other duties than to set papers and count marks. They must use discretion and be able to discriminate between those candidates who are thoroughly trained and those who are merely crammed for an examination. What the News-Advertiser's correspondent considers a grievance is really no grievance at all. But his letter may be useful to those who are qualifying themselves to become teachers. It convinces us that they cannot make up by mere coaching on a few subjects for the want of a thorough knowledge of those necessary branches of education, which if they obtain certificates they will be required to teach.

The News-Advertiser's correspondent is in error when he says "the Government in 1887 cancelled all the first-class certificates of the Province, and the Minister of Education promptly furnished such teachers with a temporary certificate." Subsection 8 of Section 41 of the School Act reads as follows: "Every First Class Grade A certificate in force on July 1st, 1888, shall be renewable from year to year by the Examiners until July 1st, 1893, on the application of the holder of any such certificate, provided the applicant has been employed as teacher during some portion of the twelve months immediately preceding the date of application for renewal."

The statement with regard to temporary certificates is also a gross misrepresentation. Temporary certificates are granted on the application not of the candidates, but of a Board of School Trustees, desiring his services as a teacher. If the regulations of the Act are complied with, the Minister of Education has no choice in the matter. The law says, "Certificates of qualification shall be granted."

It is much to be regretted that glaring misrepresentation respecting the excellent system of education in force in this province should be circulated. The examiners have a difficult and a delicate duty to perform, and those who would lead the public to believe that it is not performed intelligently and impartially do those gentlemen the grossest injustice, and they also do what they can materially to injure the cause of education.

BOULANGER'S VICTORY.

The election of Boulanger for Paris by an immense majority is a serious blow to the government of France, and it may be said to the Republic itself. To demonstrate how popular he is Boulanger has resorted to a device which is unknown in Great Britain or her dependencies. He causes himself to be the candidate of any vacant seat in the Chamber of Deputies for which there is any prospect of his being returned. When a vacancy occurred in the department in which he was elected on Sunday, he was a member of the Chamber of Deputies. He was not the man to rest and be thankful like the British member does after he has secured a seat in Parliament. He became during the past year a candidate in several constituencies and it is expected that in the current year he will run for forty seats. He has met with one or two checks but he has generally been returned with large majorities. But this Paris victory is the greatest one he has yet gained. Those who did not like the Floquet Government, no matter how much they might differ, united in voting for Boulanger. The Royalists supported him,

THE DEBATE.

To the Editor of the Colonist.—Dear Sir, What a pity it is that there is not a more Christian charity in the world! I read the daily papers, not very carefully, to be sure, yet still I gather enough from them to know what is going on in the world, and on account of the difficulties I am unable to go to places of amusement or profit to see and hear people for myself.

I read the notice of the proposed debate on St. Paul, I must confess that my old-time notions of the propriety of things were a little startled; but now I have read the contents of the "Globe" and other papers, I wish, through the medium of your columns, if you will allow me to express to the ladies who took part in that debate, my thanks for their having taken down St. Paul, the canonized Saint, from the pedestal whereon he has been idolized for ages, and restored him to his natural form of flesh and blood like any other man. Pretty youths of the enthusiastic young convert, Paul; of Paul, the aged; of Paul, the industrious tentmaker, working manfully in his trade, that he might have obligations to no one, rise before me. I see him taking his daily meals and enjoying the society of his friends, and a joke, like I do myself; yet always on the watch to furnish the objects nearest his hand. Whether he were married or not is of no significance, though we have no direct evidence to prove that he was not. I cannot say that the Rev. Canon, by your journal's issue, I perceive that the Rev. Canon's views are not shared by all. EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

We have noticed in several newspapers a peculiarly worded paragraph purporting to be original in each of them lamenting the falling off in the receipts of Plymouth Church. "Will fares the Church," so run all these paragraphs, "that depends not upon the Gospel, but upon the ability of its preacher of the Gospel." This, of course, sounds very wise and very pious, but is there such sense in it? Becher made Plymouth Church. It was because Becher preached in it that its congregation was large and rich and liberal. It was not to be expected that when a much inferior man occupies its pulpit that people would flock to Plymouth Church and pay fabulous prices for seats. This would be offering a premium to dull, easy-going mediocrity and this is not done anywhere in this continent in any profession. A man of extraordinary ability receives extraordinary remuneration whether he is a painter or a preacher. When a Becher again makes his appearance in Brooklyn he will be sure to be appreciated. His church will be well filled and his salary will be paid for seats. This is the way of the world and those who mean about it, and who echo other people's means are exceedingly silly.

Throwing oil upon the troubled waters has become something more than a pretty figure of speech. It is now a practical life-saving and property-saving process. Oil thrown on a stormy sea deprives the waves of their power and enables the vessel to go over it easily and safely. The difficulty at first was to pour the oil in sufficient quantity and where it would do the most good. This difficulty has been overcome. The Maritime Register says: "The sides and wake of a vessel would be so terrible a person to be made a cat-paw of to allow his paper to be used to poll the chestnuts of hatred, envy and malice and all uncharitable feelings, and to fire for discarded and mistrusted professionals, who deserve to have their long ears nailed to the bar of public opinion, and their backs well striped with history." CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.

To the Editor.—Taking advantage of Saturday's fine weather, I started in a shooting party for the outer bay, accompanied by my wife, hoping to shoot at the snipe which were so numerous about in that vicinity. We had scarcely passed the factory when a shot was fired from the right bank, a bullet struck the water about 80 feet off, and passed between us. Had my wife been rowing the second pair of oars, as she was just going to do, instead of sitting in the stern, she would have been hit to a certainty. It was towards the bank, we saw a young man running away, 200 yards off, fortunately for himself out of range of my heavy shot, or in the excitement of the moment I might have been tempted to give him a peppering. Seeing three more people on the bank at the spot from which the shot had been fired, I landed, and fired at the spot for the sake of the shot, I had fired the shot. Of course I was told that he was a stranger, name unknown. One of the party had a rifle in his hand, he told me that the shot was fired from the bank, and he was the only one who had a rifle. I reminded the speaker that shooting was not allowed in the harbor; he said immediately after this they got into a boat and paddled up the bay, and he could see nothing of the party who had run away. No sport was made of the legitimate and honest pursuit of game, by other people, who are not only active in the use of their arms, but the sympathies of the whole fraternity must be against the law, cowardly crew, who refuse the banks of our harbor with rifles, potting at ducks, geese, etc. anything simply trifling away the lives and limbs of others. I have on three different occasions narrowly escaped being struck by a bullet. Most of these wrecks are boys, not old enough to be entrusted with anything of more destructive power than a tin-pot-shooter. The only way to keep these looting and shooting parties from carrying a gun, and there should be a fine of at least $500 for firing bullets over the harbor. If the police like to

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

To the Editor.—In looking over the list of subscribers to the Jubilee Hospital, I notice the names of many Chinese merchants of this city, who have subscribed between 500 and 600 dollars. Now, the pertinent question is, have these subscribers equal rights as to admission to the hospital with other subscribers who may, from pecuniary necessity, have to go to the "narrower" side of the street, and others there, I wish, through the medium of your columns, if you will allow me to express to the ladies who took part in that debate, my thanks for their having taken down St. Paul, the canonized Saint, from the pedestal whereon he has been idolized for ages, and restored him to his natural form of flesh and blood like any other man. CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

The Berlin correspondents of the Paris Figaro and National have been expelled from Germany. Burns' anniversary was celebrated in great style at Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal, on Friday night. Dr. Valentine, charged with the murder of Lily Clayton at Toronto, has been discharged, as the evidence is insufficient. Premier Gordonway and attorney-general Martin, of Manitoba, were banqueted at Glenora on Friday night. It has been decided that a party, about 25 in number, will be sent to attend the Montreal carnival. Minister Phelps has been invited to dine at Windsor on Monday, and to spend the night at the castle as the guest of Her Majesty. BEHRING'S SEA.

We see by yesterday's despatches that the House of Representatives has reported favorably on the claim of the United States to exclusive jurisdiction over the whole of Behring's Sea.

It is quite evident that the American Government do not take the same view of this matter, as the Committee of Congress, for it gave Captain Shepherd, of the cruiser Rush, confidential orders not to meddle with vessels, either American or foreign, found hunting seals on what, in any other body of water, would be regarded as the "high seas."

It is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway is making application to the Legislature for a charter to build a railway from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Hudson's Bay.

Revised returns give LaRiviere 216 majority. A grand return bonspiel will be held at Winnipeg from March 25th to 7th.

At the annual general meeting of the Victoria Building Society, held in Harmony Hall last evening, all the old officers were re-elected to serve during the current year.

The evidence given before the investigating committee at Washington in connection with the seal fisheries of Alaska, has been made public.

LARGE OUTPUT IN 1888—WHAT IS BEING DONE DURING THE WINTER—PROGRESS OF THE MINES—THE GOVERNMENT TEST WORKS COMPLETED.

Mr. Jos. Mason, senior member Cariboo district, arrived down last night and reported the results of his visit to a Cariboo representative he said that he left Barkerville on the 14th instant, the snow at that time being three and a half feet on the level; the thermometer was below zero. The coldest weather has been this winter is 9° below zero. Generally, it has been remarkably mild. Mr. Mason visited Kamloops and Nicola Valley before coming to Victoria.

The output of gold for 1888 is slightly in excess of that of 1887, and this in the face of decreased mining by Chinese. The Chinese population is perceptibly diminishing at Williams surrounding creek, not owing to the mines being worked out, but as a class they do not prospect in deep ground. Take Slough Creek, for instance, they have worked there for years on the high benches, and are still at it; but they have made no attempt to prospect the deep ground, and this creek is believed to be very rich. The water and the fact that it is partly by them. Winter work on the various creeks is progressing well.

On Antler Creek, the Mason Co. have had a very long siege of it, but have at last succeeded in getting the water. The ground can be successfully worked, which is a source of great satisfaction to the shareholders. They were completely exhausted there for years on the hill spring, owing to an insufficiency of water, for hoisting, pumping and running air blast. Upon resuming work shareholders feel confident that in a short time they will be rich men. The water and the fact that it is partly by them. Winter work on the various creeks is progressing well.

On Mosquito Creek there are two claims prospecting with fair showing. The Mosquito Creek claims are working and paying expenses. On Stan's Gulch, the Butts Co. are making ready for spring. The Newton Co. are also getting in readiness and expect to take out plenty of gold.

On upper Williams Creek, one or two claims are being worked and are making small wages. On Sugar Creek, the Brown Co. are working and doing very well. The Cora Co. are still prospecting with good showing. The Gulch Co., owned by Messrs. Ferguson, McArthur and others, are running a tunnel, and it is said will be on rich pay in a few days, which they certainly deserve for their perseverance.

On Eureka Gulch, the Brown Dog Co. have had a good showing of gold, which will continue to pay for years. On Hardacre Creek one claim is making over expenses. On Upper Creek, the claims are being worked with what result is not known. Over the mountain, on Keithley, Snowshoe, Harvey, the Forke, and other creeks, considerable work is being done, with good results. The large quantity of gold being shipped by Messrs. Vath & Borland.

QUARTZ MINING. The Dufferin Co., Grouse Creek, have considerable ore packed out with a view to having the same tested by the Government test works. The Fraser, Wilkinson and Steadman companies are also getting out for the same purpose. The Nease Co., Conklin Gulch, are also reported to be drifting upon a ledge sixteen feet wide, and intend crushing as soon as the spring opens and will haul their concentrates to the mill at the same place. Under the superintendence of Mr. Champlain.

THE GOVERNMENT TEST WORKS. The government test works are nearly completed. The construction and experience have taught me so.
