ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

The Most Successful Event in the History of the Bridgetown Methodist Church.

A kind Providence favored the Methodist people with two splendid autumn days for the Anniversary services of their Church.

On the Sabbath morning, the time usually given to the sermon was occupied in the reading of greetings from a number of former pastors. Dr. Jost giving his own greeting in person, some of whom are at present members of other Churches. These greetings revived pleasant memories and expressed prayerful desires that the Divine blessing would continue to attend the ministrations of these later days. Kind reference was made to several former pastors who have finished their earthly ministry and have passed on to receive the rewards of faithful servants.

In the evening the pastor preached on the subject of Gratitude and Ingratitude, based on the action of Jacob, who as an expression of thankfulness for the preservation of his life built an altar for the worship of God. The singing at these services was inspired particularly the solos and duet of Mrs. Osborne Bowser and Dr. W. H. Beckwith.

Monday evening was devoted to exercises of a social character. A sumptuous supper was served to a large and appreciative company, and subsequently addresses were delivered by Rev. B. J. Porter, a former pastor, Rev. C. A. Munro, Dr. J. B. Hall, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, Mr. J. T. Archibald, Mr. H. B. Hicks and James Fay, the boy orator, and reports presented by the Quarterly Official Board, the Sabbath School and Epworth League, the W. M. S. Boys' and Girls' Activities and other organizations of the church.

The singing of the choir, assisted by Mrs. Bowser and Dr. Beckwith was again of a high order. These Anniversary services call for gratitude to God for past mercies and awaken hopes of still richer blessing.

VESSEL TOWED INTO PETITE

(Special to the MONITOR)

News of another marine tragedy reached Tiverton Sunday afternoon when the auxiliary sloop Doris Kathleen, Capt. Wesley Inglis, arrived at East Ferry from Grand Manan. In the Bay she had picked up a flat bottom vessel 80 feet long, 25 ft wide and 6 ft deep. Her name appears to be the Mary Stella, of St. John, N. B. She had been rigged as a sloop, mast broken with sails and rigging gone over the side and hull water logged. The strange vessel contained three gaso-line engines, which appeared to be in good condition. Her boat had been smashed and washed away as a portion of the stem was still attached to the painter. On the top of the cabin was evidence that the crew had made a desperate struggle to keep afloat and had at one time been displaying signals of distress. In the cabin was an envelope on which was written Capt. Gautreau. Capt. Inglis reports that he was eighteen hours towing the vessel from where he picked her up in the Bay of Fundy to the government wharf at East Ferry on the eastern side of Petite Passage. He also reports passing a quantity of deal and other kinds of lumber adrift in the Bay.

THE CREW RESCUED

A later despatch says: After being adrift for four days and four nights without food or drink and with little means of keeping warm, the crew of the sloop Doris Kathleen, Capt. Wesley Inglis, and his crew were rescued by the schooner Mary Stella and his crew of two men were provisionally rescued by Captain Gaskill and his schooner Mollie Gaskill and his seamen at a point fifteen miles northwest of Petite Passage, and landed at Saultneville, Digby County on Sunday.

When the men were landed at Saultneville they asked that word of their rescue be sent to their homes as they feared their families might entertain the belief that all hands had perished. All three were in a weak state but thanks to the care given them by Captain Gaskill and his men and the people of the Digby county village, they probably will be able to go to their homes in a day or two.

LAWRENCETOWN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Annual Meeting Held Last Thursday and Officers Elected for Ensuing Year

The annual meeting of the Lawrencetown Women's Institute met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. J. Shaffner. Meeting opened with "O Canada."

The motion was made and passed that a vote of thanks be extended to the ladies who helped at the polling booth during the recent election. Mrs. R. J. Shaffner in a few well chosen words, spoke of the high appreciation held by the very efficient and faithful service rendered by our retiring President Mrs. I. C. Archibald. During the two years she has held office the interest and work of the Institute has grown to a large degree, funds having been raised for school and civic improvements as well as a piano purchased for the Demonstration Building, and moved that a vote of thanks be extended to her and the other retiring officers. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Morse. The following officers for the coming year were then elected:

President—Mrs. L. R. Morse
1st Vice President—Miss Annie Phinney
2nd Vice President—Mrs. W. E. Palfrey
Secy. Treas.—Mrs. I. C. Archibald
Cor. Secy.—Mrs. Amon Ramsey
Board of Directors: Mrs. J. Stoddard, Mrs. H. T. Jones, Mrs. F. B. Bishop, Mrs. R. J. Shaffner, Mrs. Homer Daniels.

At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served.

The Institute also closed one of the most pleasant meetings of the year.

BEAR RIVER

Glad to report Burton Fruede improving in health.

The schr Barbara W. of Parrsboro, is in port loading lumber.

Miss Sarah McCormick has gone to Boston, where she intends staying over the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, family, and Winnifred Sullivan went to New York on Wednesday.

Miss A. E. Liske, who has been spending her vacation in Boston, returned home last Friday.

The property formerly owned by F. W. Chalmers, on the "Chute road," has been purchased by Rev. W. S. Smith.

Mrs. F. W. Purdy has left for Brookline, Mass., where she intends staying the winter with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Archibald.

Mrs. B. C. Munro, who has been spending the past few weeks with her mother, Mrs. E. Rice, has returned to her home in Amherst.

Among the successful moose hunters who returned last week were Messrs. Wendell Chute and Harve Chisholm, who were successful in bagging two moose and a bear.

ROLL CALL

The Bear River Baptist Church will hold their annual Roll Call Wednesday evening, December 15th, in the audience room of the church. After the calling of the members' names and their responses a short address by an invited speaker will be given, after which a social hour will be spent in the vestry where refreshments will be served. It is the desire of the church that all members and friends be present to renew friendships and help make the evening one of pleasure and profit.

WHERE ARE THE GERMAN LONG RANGE GUNS?

A Berlin despatch says: Where are the long range German guns which started the world one day in 1918 by dropping shells into Paris from a distance of 75 miles? This is a question which the International Commission for the Disarmament of Germany would like to have answered. Not a trace of these long tubes or of the drawings for their construction is reported to have been found. The guns and everything connected with them have disappeared. It is believed they were blown up, but the blue prints and plans have been hidden where none will find them.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING

Second Quarterly Meeting Held at Bear River Last Week an Interesting One

The Annapolis district of the Methodist Church met for their second quarterly meeting at Bear River on Nov. 23rd. There was a full attendance of ministers and a number of laymen. Rev. Clayton A. Munro, of Annapolis Royal, presided.

The chairman made a touching reference to the passing of the late Rev. William Phillips and the District requested that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Phillips and family.

Two veterans, Revs. A. Hockin and Rob. Williams have responded to the call of the church and are supplying Digby and Digby Neck circuits. The afternoon session was given over to business. The average percentage of money paid in on the "Forward Movement Campaign" for this District is fifty per cent of the total subscribed.

The attendance at the evening service was interfered with by a heavy rainstorm. The Rev. H. P. Paterson, of Granville Ferry, spoke on "Workers together with God" with special application to work among the young.

The second address was delivered by Rev. Geo. T. Bryant, of Bridgetown. His subject grew out of a successful experience in personal work and was of a very practical and suggestive character.

Both addresses were sufficient repayment for those who braved the elements and attended the service.

The following morning further business was attended to. A suggested S. S. program and evangelistic campaign were discussed. The next meeting is to be held at Middleton in February.

CLARENCE WEST AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

At the annual meeting of this society held on Monday evening of last week the following officers were elected:

S. L. Marshall, President.
J. A. Myers, Vice President.
W. R. Miller, Secretary.

This society is in a very flourishing condition, and to illustrate the interest taken by the members, we have only to mention that every member but one was present at the annual meeting. They believe in promoting thorough bred stock and the society, since its re-organization four years ago, has kept nothing but the best. They are at present in the possession of a thorough bred short horn, a breed which appears to be very popular. We wish the society continued prosperity.

Berwick Register: Mrs. (Rev.) Arthur Hockin left on Saturday for Digby, to join her husband who has accepted the pastorate of the Methodist church in that town for the remainder of the conference year. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Crowe, who spent the week end with her parents.

Harriet L. Thomas and "Ottie" D. Thomas, from Smith's Cove, were visitors on November 17th at the big exhibit of Southern California produce maintained free to the public in the Low Arches Chamber of Commerce. They also attended lectures and motion pictures that are a part of the daily program. The exhibit is the largest of any in the country maintained by a commercial organization. Before returning home they expect to visit several of the many other places of interest in the Southland.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association for 1921 will in all probability be held in Vancouver, B. C.

COLLECTION OF LUXURY TAXES

The Government Proposes to Continue the Present Stamp System

OTTAWA, November 26—There is no present indication of any intention on the part of the Government to abandon the collection of luxury taxes by means of stamps. Some Montreal merchants who appeared before the Tariff Committee of the Cabinet recently advocated a return by December 1st to the system of collection under which the amount of tax paid was noted on the sales slip, and a copy was furnished to the Department as a voucher.

George W. Taylor, Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue, said today that he knew of no intention to abandon collection by means of stamps. That system which only became operative at the beginning of November, Mr. Taylor said, had been adopted at the instance of the Retail Merchants.

Miss Mable Beals has gone to the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, for medical treatment. Mrs. Wm. FitzRandolph accompanied her there.

On Monday evening a number from here attended the farewell reception tendered Rev. F. H. Beals and his wife in the vestry of the Baptist Church. A pleasant evening is reported.

A delightful program of readings was given in the Demonstration Building, Lawrencetown, Tuesday evening. A large number from here particularly the young, were present. It proved surely a help to education.

Doctor—Did you give the patient the insomnia medicine I ordered?
Amateur Nurse—Yes, doctor, but he got mad whenever I woke him up to give it to him.

THE MONITOR'S QUICK WORK

How a Classified Adv. Brought a Desirable Family to Bridgetown

Mr. B. N. Messinger who recently purchased Mr. C. W. Fair's property at Carleton Corner, advertised the same in our "For Sale" column. A stranger staying at the St. James Hotel, with no thought of ever residing in Bridgetown, picked up the MONITOR saw the advs., interviewed Mr. Messinger and in about 10 minutes the deal was completed.

The purchaser it is said, will move here in the very near future. This shows you what a newspaper will do. Every family means more business for everybody and yet we regret to state there are at least one or two business houses in Bridgetown who would send away for their printing to save a few cents and pay the same out again to the express company and truckman who delivers the parcel. The MONITOR's rate for job printing is taken from the Franklin Printing Price List, there can be no mistake in estimating and further it is the same price to all. Since we have adopted this list, we have been receiving a large number of orders from other towns where there are printing offices, which are not working on the Franklin price list. If they expect to please their customers they should purchase a list at once.

The purchaser of the property above referred to is Mr. S. R. Sanford, of Aylesford, whom we welcome to our town.

A HYPNOTIC MYSTERY

H. B. Warner comes to the Primrose Theatre next Saturday in "One Hour Before Dawn," which is said to be one of the most baffling and thrilling mystery stories the screen has ever presented.

This Jesse D. Hampton, Pathe feature presents the popular star in the role of a writer who entertains views antagonistic to hypnotism. He is dared into being hypnotized and while in the trance, is commanded to kill a man he hates at one hour before dawn. Morning discloses the murder and there commences the mystery.

Jesse D. Hampton, in presenting H. B. Warner for the first time as a Pathe star, has selected an excellent supporting cast headed by beautiful Anna Q. Nilsson, and including Augustus Phillips, Thomas Guise, Howard Davies, Frank Leight, Adele Farrington, Lillian Rich and many others.

"Just what is your husband's ambition in life?"
"He has none."
"Poor man, I suppose that is why he got married."

AN OBLIGING FIRE COMPANY

The fellow from McGrath's Mountain, paused, open mouthed, in front of the fire station.

"D'ye have many fires in town?" he asked.

"Pretty often," replied the caretaker.

"Ever try to see how quick you can turn out?" said the inquirer.

"Yes; then the alarm was sounded, and in a moment the men rushed to their posts, the doors flew open, and the horses went prancing down the street.

"Gosh," said the countryman, "there ain't no many fellows who would go to such a lot of trouble to show a fellow what they can do."

GOING TO BED ACCORDING TO AGE

A lady, no longer in the blush of her first youth, tells this little story against herself. She was trying to overcome the reluctance of a little girl to retire for the night. "Being six years old," she said, "you should go to bed at six. When you are seven you will be able to stop up till seven, and when you are eight you can keep awake till eight." The child gazed thoughtfully, with a mental arithmetic look, at the kindly face, with its crown of gray hair, and remarked: "Then I suppose you never go to bed at all."

NEW NOVEL BY ROBERT STEAD

The Canadian public have learned to look forward to a new novel by Robert Stead. "The Homesteaders" and "The Cow Puncher" created for this Canadian author a host of friends who are always interested in his new productions.

Mr. Stead's new novel, "Dennison Grant" ($1.75) just published by the Musson Book Company, Limited, Toronto, is in many respects his most mature literary offering. Like his other novels, its action centres

When we are in tight corners, we find out what people think of us. Convention disappears and the truth will out. General Birdwood, the idol of the Anzacs, has just related an amusing story of an occasion when he suddenly discovered the "term" by which his men spoke and thought of him. He was walking along a trench in Gallipoli when he happened upon a "dead man's corner."

"Duck your head, Birdie," shouted an Anzac excitedly, "do, at being thus familiarly addressed?"

A high personage of the War Office asked him on hearing of the incident "Good heavens. Did you have the fellow court martialled?"

"No," replied "Birdie" smiling blandly. "I ducked my head."

BE DUCKED HIS HEAD

When we are in tight corners, we find out what people think of us. Convention disappears and the truth will out. General Birdwood, the idol of the Anzacs, has just related an amusing story of an occasion when he suddenly discovered the "term" by which his men spoke and thought of him. He was walking along a trench in Gallipoli when he happened upon a "dead man's corner."

"Duck your head, Birdie," shouted an Anzac excitedly, "do, at being thus familiarly addressed?"

A high personage of the War Office asked him on hearing of the incident "Good heavens. Did you have the fellow court martialled?"

"No," replied "Birdie" smiling blandly. "I ducked my head."

PINCHED THE WRONG LEG

An elderly man of gouty tendency lived in dread of paralysis. When the fear came upon him he would pinch himself frantically to make sure that his enemy had not attacked him.

One night at a dinner party his worst fears were confirmed.

"Come at last!" he said at last. "I groaned. 'Total insensibility of the right limb.'"

His partner, alarmed, craved enlightenment. On being told the tragedy, he said:—

"Oh, well, if it's any consolation to you, I may as well tell you that it was my leg you were pinching."

DOING SOMETHING GOOD

Visitor—The prisoner in Cell 40 declares that he was put in jail for doing something right.

Warden—That's right; he swindled a minister.

USE "DIAMOND DYES"

Dye right! Don't risk your material. Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich color into old garments, draperies, coverings, everything, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect results are guaranteed even if you have never dyed before.

Druggist has "Diamond Dyes Color Card"—16 rich colors.

BOTH ALIKE

"You and Gramp seem to get along pretty well."

"Yes, you see he never borrows anything but trouble, and that's only thing I ever have to lend."

A CONTINGENCY

The early bird will get the worm. Of that there is no question: But if, alas, the worm should turn He'd get the indigestion.

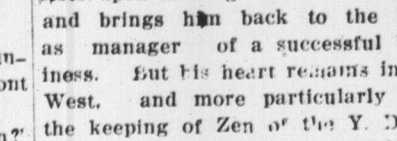

CAUTION

LESSON IN FRANKLIN'S LIFE

Great American Statesman and Patriot Rose to Immortal Fame From Humble Beginnings

On the 17th of January, in 1706, Benjamin Franklin was born at Boston. His father was a soap and candlemaker, his mother, the daughter of a Quaker poet of Nantucket. When Benjamin was ten he was taken from school and set to work in his father's factory. He never again attended a regular school, yet he became a scholar.

He was meek and unhappy at his first occupation, so his father apprenticed him to his brother to learn the trade of a printer. When he was seventeen he ran away from his brother and opened a printing office in Philadelphia. He pursued the career of printer and publisher until 1736, when he was made clerk of the Pennsylvania assembly. This was the beginning of his public career, and he rose steadily until he became one of the most striking figures in America. In France, when he was sent there as ambassador after the Revolutionary war, he became as popular as heaven and loved as in his own country.

How many boys are learning a trade today. We regret to state there are very few in Bridgetown.

THE MISERY OF BACKACHE

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Meaford, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my backache, and I also had a female weakness. I felt dizzy and nervous, and I had to force myself to do my work, and was always tired. Saw a Pinkham advertisement which induced me to take the Vegetable Compound, and my back gradually stopped aching and I felt lighter in spirits. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound with pleasure to all I meet who complain as I did."—MILDRED BROOK, Meaford, Ont.

Woman's Precious Gift

The one which she should most zealously guard is her health, but she often neglects to do so in season until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

IN MEMORIAM

LIZZIE DOREY In the grave, softly sleeping, Where the flowers gently wave, Lies the one we loved so dearly In the lonely silent grave. She will never be forgotten, Never shall our memory fade, Sweetest thoughts will always linger Around the grave where she was laid. Day by day we sadly miss her, Friends may think the wounds have healed, But they little know the sorrow That within our hearts concealed. But we know 'was for the better. DO DIVERS SEE GHOSTS?

Strange Stories Told By Those Who Work on Wrecks at the Bottom of the Sea

Considering the number of people who have found a last resting place at the bottom of the sea, it is not surprising that divers should occasionally come across what are popularly known as ghosts.
A diver, while employed one day in bringing up various articles from the wreck of the "Royal George," which went down off Spithead on August 28, 1782, being seized with sudden fit of drowsiness, fell asleep. He dreamed three times in succession that just as he was about to pick up a curiously wrought silver dish from among a mass of debris, a very tall figure, dressed in a diving suit, sprang at him and tried to cut the lifeline.
As at this time the other two men he was working with were both of short stature not in the least degree like the figure in his dreams, he soon forgot it.
But great was his trepidation one morning when on turning up at his work he found one of his mates absent, and a newcomer—a very tall man—in his place. Indeed, so alarmed was he that, on descending he took with him a stout cudgel, and warned those in charge of the communication rope to be on the alert for a signal, however slight. On arriving at the bottom he soon saw work on the wreck, and amid a pile of loose spars, he came upon a dish exactly like the one he had seen in his dreams.
He was staring at it in a kind of dazed fashion, when suddenly he saw his companion the new diver coming toward him, just as he had seen the figure in his dreams, and the next moment he was engaged in the most desperate struggle of his life.
He succeeded in administering such a severe blow on the hand of the latter that he dropped his knife with which he had been armed, and before he could pick it up again our friend the dreamer had pulled the communication cord, and was drawn up out of danger. It subsequently transpired that the new diver had gone raving mad.

Another curious case occurred not so many years ago off the coast of Galway. Some divers were employed in looking for the remains of Spanish treasures, when one of their party, wandering a little apart from the rest, saw a dim light in the distance.
Advancing toward it, he discovered that it proceeded from the porthole of a wreckage of very ancient date. Approaching the ship, not without trepidation, he peeped in, and saw, to his amazement, an old man, with a very long beard, kneeling down examining an iron clasped oaken chest. By and by he raised the lid, and dipping his hands in, drew them out full of golden coins, which he played with like a child plays with some new toy.
The diver, happening at this juncture to make a noise, the old man turned slowly round, revealing a face of the most ghastly pallor, which so terrified the diver that he turned tail and fled back to his mates, with far more haste than dignity.
Poo-hoo poo-hoo his story, they went back with him, and there, sure enough, in the very spot he had described, was the ship, and what was even more wonderful, the chest of gold.
Lastly, there is the case of the diver who was repairing one of the London bridges. He had made his descent into the water, and was kneeling down examining the masonry, when he felt something tap him on the shoulder. He looked round, when in his utmost terror he saw a shadow at his shoulder, peering down at him, an exact counterpart of himself.
The following day, against the advice of his wife, who was a stout and very superstitious, he again went down in the same place, and a piece of loose masonry falling on him, he was killed.

BUSY TIMES AT THE RACES

(Caro Breeze)
Mr. F. A. Carter, who represented Messrs. A. N. Whitman & Son, Limited at the International Schooner Race at Halifax, reports that he met Mr. O. S. Dunham, of Bridgetown, Editor of the BRIDGETOWN MONITOR, and Commodore of the Digby Yacht Squadron. Mr. Dunham is a very enthusiastic yachtsman, and a nautical writer and reporter second to none in the province, so that his advice was sought by many of the reporters, who did not possess the advantages of a nautical education.

Mr. Carter gave us some interesting accounts of the Races, which he had a splendid opportunity of following, as he was very fortunate in getting well placed to witness them. During the first race, he was on the Committee Boat, the C. G. S. Tyrian, and the second one he was a guest on the American Destroyer Crowinshield, No. 134. The scene on board these boats was one of great interest and activity, the numerous newspapermen rushing off radios as the races progressed, and movie cameramen catching those parts of the contests adapted for screen showing.

CRICKET IN THE VALLEY

Bridgetown the Home of One of the Best Elevens Between Windsor and Annapolis

To the Editor of The Chronicle:
SIR—With the closing of the cricket season on Thanksgiving Day, at Truro, when the Stellarton eleven won the cricket championship of the Province from the West Indians of Halifax, a short record of the doings of the various cricket teams of the Annapolis Valley during the season may be of interest to some of your readers.
Cricket in this region, and to a great extent throughout the Province in the early summer, was at all times a thing of the past, or at least rapidly fading; in some cases perhaps fondly cherished memory of something that had died or was in the last stages of a natural death, and far beyond any hope of successful resuscitation.
Such was the situation of affairs June 1st of this year. Today there are in the Annapolis Valley five thriving cricket clubs, at Windsor, Wolfville, Kentville, Bridgetown and Annapolis Royal. As far as I am old "round arm" bowlers, and great can at present recollect some seven-teen or eighteen matches have been played between these teams. The majority between Kentville and Wolfville to the number of eight or nine, in which honors have been about even. We played Windsor three matches, losing two and drawing one; two with Bridgetown, losing both. Bridgetown played Windsor twice, winning both games. Another match was also played between Kings and Annapolis versus Wolfville for Fenville, the result of which was a draw.

A REAL LIVE TESTIMONIAL
Given to Professor Hamilton, of Hampton, N. S.
Mavilette, Digby Co., N. S.
Oct. 4th, 1917
To Prof. B. S. Hamilton
When I was 14 years of age a boy threw a stone which struck my hip bone, causing a running sore for 22 years, my leg got small and hurt me to walk, and I could not sleep on that side—pained all the time day and night. I tried different doctors home and in the States without success, some doctor's sent me to the hospital in New London, Conn., U. S. A., for operation, so they cut my leg 20 inches long and scraped the bone. They called it white abscess of the bone, and that did not heal nor cure. It kept getting worse and running all the time losing the use of my other leg, but thanks to Prof. Hamilton skillful treatment the pain left my leg healed and developed to the size of my other leg and just as strong. No one knows how proud and thankful I am, and I would say to suffering and afflicted persons "if in their power try the Professor," as I feel confident that he has proved his skill above all others in my case, and let's cure different chronic cases considered incurable that the Professor has cured that I personally know.

HE KNEW HOW

There was an old geezer
And he had a lot of sense.
He started up a business
On a dollar eighty cents.
The dollar for stock,
And the eighty for an ad.
Brought him three lovely dollars
In a day, by dad!

Well, he bought more goods
And a little more space,
And he played that system
With a smile on his face.
The customers flocked
To his two by four
And soon he had to hustle
For a regular store.

Up on the square
Where the people pass
He robbed up a corner
That was all plate glass.
He fixed up the windows
With the best that he had,
And told them all about it
In a half page ad.

He soon had 'em coming
And he never, never quit,
And he wouldn't cut down
On his ads one bit.
And he's kept things humming
In the town ever since,
And everybody calls him
The Merchant Prince.

Some say it's luck
But that's all bunk—
Why, he was doing business
When times were punk.
People have to purchase and the
geezer was wise—
For he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise.

A CHAIN OF BANK BUILDINGS

(Windsor Tribune)
Mr. Herbert Horner, of the firm of Sharp and Horner, architects, Toronto, passed through Windsor Thursday evening on route to Annapolis Royal. Mr. Horner is representing his firm in a business deal with the Bank of Nova Scotia in connection with a chain of bank buildings in various places throughout Canada, of which Annapolis is one. Mr. Horner is the eldest son of Mr. M. H. Horner, the first superintendent of the Payzant Memorial Hospital, Windsor, now superintendent of the Hospital at Kitchener, Ontario.

CRICKET IN THE VALLEY

Accounts from other parts of the Province are, as far as they have reached me, encouraging. I heard of matches played at places as far apart as Liverpool and Sydney. We confidently expected that the next year at Yarmouth, Truro, Amherst, Lunenburg and other points, and we will send all our energies to waking up the cricketers, of whom there must be hundreds, in those same towns. There should be at least half a dozen all elevens in Halifax. It may also interest Nova Scotia cricketers to know that there has been quite a revival of cricket in the United States, and that a League has been formed for the State of Massachusetts. However, I must bring this long letter to a close. I have mentioned a number of names in the course of my rambling narrative and I cannot rid myself of the horrible suspicion that I may have overlooked some equally worthy players and as gentlemen of notice, for which I apologize. I make haste to tender my apologies and to remind my readers that memory, unlike some other things, does not improve with age.

NO EXHIBITION UNTIL 1922
When the Provincial Exhibition is resumed, which will not be before 1922, it will be resumed on a permanent, modern, business like basis. That much was decided at a meeting of the Exhibition Commission Wednesday evening in the City Hall Halifax when a discussion lasting over three hours took place. A committee was appointed to go thoroughly into the question and submit a "comprehensive scheme" for the new fair, with an opinion of cost and prospective revenues.

This committee consists of Hon. E. H. Armstrong, who was re-elected president of the commission; Mayor J. S. Baker, who was re-elected vice president; Alderman Ritchie and Gough, the two new city members of the commission and M. McP. Hall, who was re-elected secretary, treasurer and manager.

NOT SELF SUPPORTING

A movie star has a ranch near Los Angeles. He boasted of how he raised his own foodstuffs, cattle and hogs, but added "Even at that it's not on what you could call a really independent, self-supporting basis."
"How's that?" asked his friend.
"Well," said the movie man, "I still have to buy my gasoline in town, and so far I haven't been able to raise any silk shirts for my gang to wear on Sunday."

WHY LEAVE NOVA SCOTIA?

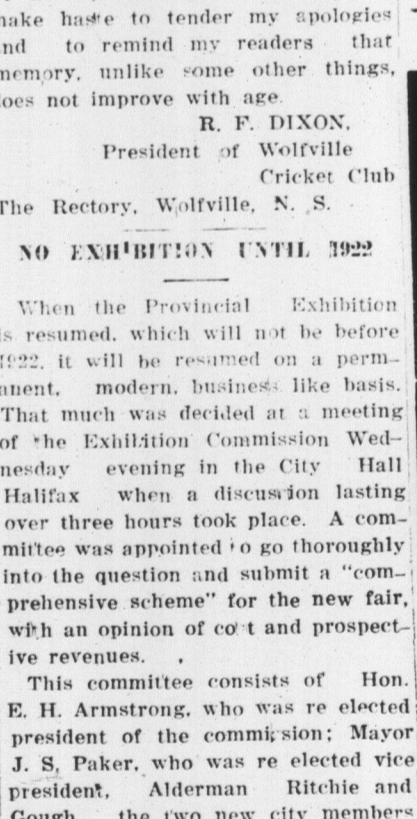

The question of why anyone wishing to engage in agriculture need go outside Nova Scotia is promoted when one looks at a display of fruits and vegetables, grown in the Annapolis Valley, in the front window of the Dominion Atlantic Railway city ticket office, Halifax. The exhibition includes Northern Spy and Golden Russet apples two famous varieties which have an excellent appearance.

CONTINUAL ROUND OF FESTIVITY

Capt. Marty Welch and His Crew Given A Banquet Nearly Every Night.

A Gloucester, Mass., despatch says: Since the return of the Eperanza and Captain Marty Welch and his crew it has been one continual round of festivity for the latter. They were given an official banquet by the Board of Trade in the State Armory, which was the finest affair of its kind ever "put over" in this city; they were banqueted by the Elks, on which occasion Captain Welch was presented with a magnificent clock; occupied the boxes and were guests at a Boston theatre, and the next reception and ball to be given under the auspices of the Master Mariners Ass'n in the State Armory. Incidentally individual members of the crew have been entertained again and again, and requests to Captain Marty and to members of the crew to attend less formal occasions and to attend the story of the races are arriving steadily.

At the official banquet at the State Armory Captain Welch was also presented with a magnificent chest of silver by the members of the New England Fishing Exchange of Boston, and last week the captain and crew were guests at a dinner given by the Gorton Fisheries Company in this city and each all were presented with a costly gold watch suitably inscribed by that concern.

A continuing subject and one in which no one loses interest is that in connection with the elimination race of next year. No positive statements are made by the vessel owners regarding entries, but one does not need to be a Hawk to note the interest manifested by them at any time when conversation covers any matter in relation to the elimination race.

If present indications account for anything there is certainly a large number of beautiful fishermen's scrips off Gloucester next year. It is the endeavor to win the race which will enable the owner to enter his vessel against the pick of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, and to have the name inscribed on The Herald and Mail's beautiful trophy.

Three new vessels have been built and launched and are at the wharves here being fitted for the fisheries. They are the Governor Marshall, owned by J. Marshall, Mar-hall, the Laura Goulart and the Edith E. Rose, both owned by the United Fisheries. They are the knob about type.

BEAR RIVER LIGHTING

At Bear River on Wednesday and Thursday of last week the public utility commissioners of Nova Scotia heard a petition of the local electric light company for another increase in rates. The company asserts that its revenue is insufficient. The petition was opposed by some of the consumers who say that there is discrimination in some cases. The company complains that it has to supply street lights at $1 each per month. It was contended the some people were given street lights at the house rate of not more than six cents per light per month, while the rest paid the legal rate. The commissioners are considering the case. The rates were increased in May last. The consumers appear determined to fight the matter to the end.

AN EXCITING CONTEST

The office boy was asked, "Did Mr. Jones or his partner usually reach the office first?" "Well," said the boy eagerly, blushing and stammering with excitement, "Mr. Jones at first was always last, but later he began to get earlier, till at last he was first although before he had always been behind. He soon got later again, although of late he has been sooner, and at last he got behind as before. But I guess he'll be getting earlier sooner or later."

AFTER THE RABBITS

The season for hunting rabbits opens Dec 1. On and after this date, Nova Scotians will be permitted to kill and snare the hare. The season closes on Jan 31. Nova Scotia guides state that they expect a big season for rabbits, owing to the mild weather of the past few weeks.

47,000 NOVA SCOTIANS IN FISH INDUSTRY

Experiencing At the Present Time The Most Difficult Situation In Their History

The Atlantic fisheries are experiencing at the present time what in some respects the most difficult and menacing situation in their history. It will be remembered that during the war the fisheries were called upon as a source of food supply to a greater extent than ever before. Production was greatly increased. Consumption of fish was promoted by the governments of Canada and the United States in order to release beef and bacon for the soldiers. Canada Food Board has testified to the important service of the fishermen and the Canadian fish companies in that time of our armies and those of our allies.

When the emergency passed, the consumption of fish in Canada and the United States dropped sharply. Then, too, export orders became scarce, partly because there was a lessened consumption of fish overseas but more largely because the exchange situation compelled the Mediterranean countries drastically to reduce their purchases on this continent. But the production of fish has been increased in response to an official, national, and indeed to an international appeal, and the peculiar conditions of the fishing industry make exceedingly difficult an adjustment to new conditions. Today there is a larger over production of fish on the Atlantic. Wholesale prices have fallen to the prewar level or below, while the generally higher price for everything required in the industry amounts to this, that it costs between two and two and one half times as much to catch and land fish as it did before the war.

Approximately 47,000 Nova Scotians are engaged in the fishing industry, wholly or in part, and 87,000 persons are directly dependent upon the Canadian fisheries for their livelihood. Many of the fishermen own small vessels and sell their catch in the home port. It is here for life long fishermen to find their other employment. They are not organized. Few of them have any considerable savings or resources. These men are suffering genuine hardship today because the market of Canada and the United States are glutted with fish offered below the actual cost of catching.

Besides the interests of the 47,000 persons who are engaged in the Atlantic fisheries and dependent upon them for their living, the situation of the fishing companies may seem of relatively small concern, and yet the interests of the companies and the fishermen themselves are so closely interwoven that the problem of each group are actually the problem of both.

Taking the figures of three individual companies, operating on the Atlantic coast, producing fresh fish, and manufacturing smoked and canned fish, there is a combined investment of $2,312,600. These companies employ close to 700 persons and last year disbursed in pay roll and in payment for fish purchased from the fishermen approximately $2,275,546. The company of which I am manager buys sixty per cent of all the fish it handles, and the other companies also purchase a very large proportion of their fish. These companies provide a substantial market for Canadian industries manufacturing wooden boxes, crates and board containers, the cans and other fishery supplies. It cannot be stated too strongly that the companies engaged in the Atlantic fishing industry are not inter related, that they operate in absolute independence and in the keenest competition. They are not a "trust" in any way and there is no arrangement or understanding of any kind as to prices or allocation of selling areas.

The above three companies does not by any means represent the volume of business done, as there are many other operators carrying on a similar business.—Extract from the memorandum submitted to the Tariff Committee at Halifax on Nov 8 by A. H. Brittain, Vice President and General Manager, The Maritime Fish Corporation, Limited.

EXTREMISTS

We have them in Bridgetown. They prefer electric lamps on the flat rate. "Your friend, Mr. Blunt, is a very strict teetotaler," said a man commenting on a girl who had refused to eat brandy sauce with plum pudding. "Strict doesn't express it," replied the girl's friend. "Why, she's that particular she won't heat her curling tongs over a spirit lamp."

SHELburne VESSEL FOR CUP RACE

Captain Joseph Conrad To Abandon Farm and Build Challenger

LA HAVRE, Nov 21—There is a thread of human interest running through the determination to build at Shelburne, a fishing vessel capable of competition for The Halifax Herald challenge cup. One really has to go back to the first fishing fleet race of Halifax for the reason that the name of Captain Joseph Conrad figures prominently throughout it all.

Captain Conrad, a couple of years ago, was master of the Ruby Pentz. In point of fact, the Ruby Pentz was built for him, and he has always borne a reputation for ability to get a lot of sail out of the Pentz build of vessels. Before last season, Captain Conrad decided to quit the sea and buy a farm. This he did, locating at Central Clarence and turning the Pentz over to young Calvin Lohnes, the lad who lost his life in setting out for home after the first race.

The race was sailed won and lost. Then followed the dark tragedy in which the life of the boy skipper was blotted out.

Calvin Lohnes wanted a Pentz vessel to win. He was game to relinquish his place at the wheel to the man he thought could get more sail out of the Pentz build of craft. Now Joe Conrad built a vessel that he has a duty, and to discharge that duty, he feels that he must do his best to win the cup.

So he is proposing to leave his farm and to ask Amos Pentz to build him a new vessel with sufficient speed for his purpose.

Amos Pentz is master builder at the McGill yards in Shelburne. He built the Ruby Pentz, the Mona Marie, and many others, known as the Pentz class of vessels. It is said here, that the new Pentz schooner will be built, that Captain Joe Conrad will fish her next season and will be at her wheel in the elimination series in the fall. Shelburne yards have turned out their sharp of speed and should the next schooner be launched in the spring, she may be depended on to give a sturdy account of herself.

PLENTY OF TIME

A long haired man met a little boy, who asked him the time.

"Ten minutes to 9," said the man. "Well," replied the boy, "in 5 o'clock get your hair cut," and he took to his heels, and ran, the aggrieved one after him.

Turning a corner the man ran into a policeman, nearly knocking him over.

"What's up?" asked the policeman. The man, very much out of breath, said:

"You see that young urchin running along there? He asked me the time. I told him, 'Ten minutes to 9' and he said, 'At 9 o'clock get your hair cut!'"

"Well," said the policeman, glancing at his watch, "what are you running for? You've got eight minutes yet."

INNOCENCE

A melancholy band of soldiers bearing heavy tubs of coal, each weighing about one hundred pounds, is wending its way toward the officers' mess. Stealthily Malone drops from the procession and makes off with his coal toward his barrack room.

The quarter master sergeant "spots" him. Sergeant—Where are you going with that coal? Malone (innocently)—Phwat coal, sir?

Quartermaster Sergeant—The coal in the tub on your shoulder. Malone (still more innocently and glancing surprisedly at the weight on his shoulder)—Now, I wonder who put that there!

TAKING CHANCES

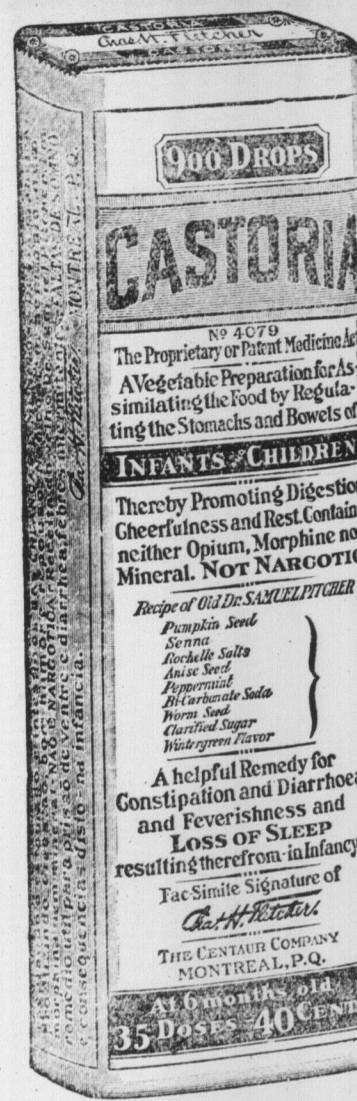

Fussy Aunt (being seen off): "Are you sure this is the right train?" Nephew: "I've consulted five porters, two ticket collectors, the indicator, the station master, and the engine driver. They all agree that it is; so perhaps you'd better risk it!"
