FOUR WEEKS' POLLING OF VOTES OF SOLDIERS

Indians, Minors and Women Engaged in Military Service Overseas to Have Franchise—Attack on Gen. Gwatkin Involves Hughes in Bitter Debate.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, introduced and explained to the house today the government's bill respecting the soldiers' vote. This measure will supercede the legislation of 1915, and differs from it in many important particulars.

The basis of the suffrage was also widened so as to include Indians, minors and women engaged in the military service of Canada overseas.

In introducing the Military Voters' Act, 1917, Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, explained that it had been considered better to frame a new bill rather than attempt to amend the Soldiers' Vote Act of 1915.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT British Air Service Fights Great Many Successful Combats.

By R. T. Small, Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.

British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 13.—Lens was the centre of the main activity on the British front last night.

The Canadian lines have been gradually tightening about this important French mining centre, and the Canadians now hold strong positions in the western environs.

In the course of last week's air fighting, one brilliant young Britisher accounted for his fortieth machine.

"The hostile artillery showed increased activity during the morning, southeast of the Arras-Cambrai road and in the Meuse sector."

London, Aug. 13.—A day of great political excitement in London concluded tonight with the announcement that George Nicoll Barnes, minister of pensions, had been appointed to replace Arthur Henderson as Labor member of the war cabinet.

Thus the crisis which seemed to threaten the existence of the government was at least temporarily solved, and, unless unexpected developments occur, there will be no appeal to the country.

The government announced to parliament today that the ministers had decided not to grant passports to delegates to the Stockholm International Socialist Congress, thereby falling in line with other allied governments in this respect.

London, Aug. 13.—The attitude of allied and neutral seamen toward German seamen, because of the brutality and inhumanity shown by the Germans during the war, will be considered here at a meeting Friday of the seamen's international conference.

The prospect of the meeting says that the delegates also will consider "what is our attitude toward German seamen after the war unless they cease their present murderous tactics."

TARDY UNLOADING CARS TRAITOROUS

Fuel Controller Magrath Makes Statement Regarding Coal Car Situation.

DEMURRAGE INCREASED

Dollar a Day Per Car for First Five Days, Then Five Dollars.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—"Any person who fails to unload a coal car promptly in my judgment, an enemy of this country," was the strong statement made today by Mr. C. A. Magrath, fuel controller. The United States, he pointed out, is demanding prompt return of cars, and if there is delay it may seriously interfere with the securing of the necessary supply from across the line. Delay means coal shortage for munition plants.

The matter of delay in unloading has been so serious that Mr. Magrath has taken up the matter with Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Railway Commission. Sir Henry at once showed his willingness to cooperate and a drastic order has been passed by the board to compel rapid unloading and return of cars.

Demurrage increased. The order increases the demurrage on coal cars. Importers now will have two free days for delivery. The third day there will be demurrage of $1 per car. This increases by a dollar per day per car until the demurrage is $5 per day. Afterwards there will be demurrage of $5 a car per day.

The American authorities absolutely insist on this. Recently the United States increased their demurrage charges, but the Canadian demurrage is now stiffer.

"Co-operation is needed if we are to get in the necessary supply," said Mr. Magrath. "Rapid unloading is absolutely necessary, as there is just a great car and coal shortage in the United States as in Canada. Any delay in returning equipment is only assisting the enemy."

MONTREAL AGITATORS EXPECT IMPRISONMENT

Federation of Labor Clubs Takes Subscription for Anti-Conscriptionists.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The "Federation of Labor Clubs" has announced that its members being sent to prison for going to a collection for tonight's anti-conscription meeting at the corner of Atwater avenue and Albert street.

"We are not afraid of prison," said Odeon Martel, the president. He claimed that because of the agitation in Quebec there has been a shortage in putting the subscription bill into force.

"I should say it would take more than two months to get the money from the Canadians and the French-Canadian people as well as for their hands on the French-Canadian side. One French-Canadian is as good as fifteen British," he said.

EMBARGO ON COAL CARS AFFECTS COAL RECEIPTS

With reference to a Montreal despatch in which Howard Kelly, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, stated that there was no embargo by the Lehigh Valley Railroad on coal coming to Canada and in which he characterized a despatch from Toronto to the effect that the embargo was in effect because the G. T. R. did not return empty cars promptly, as unfounded, H. A. Harrington, traffic manager of the Retail Merchants' Association, said to The World last night: "The embargo number is 1,494, effective August 7, and embargoes all open equipment entering Canada."

Mr. Harrington said that there was no embargo against coal and no embargo against coal being brought in in Lehigh Valley cars on other Canadian lines than the Grand Trunk, but the embargo does prevent bringing coal into Canada by the Grand Trunk in Lehigh cars and the Grand Trunk cannot send their own cars to the mines for coal, owing to their lamentable lack of equipment.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, Aug. 13.—That officers of the militia can be conscripted when the draft system is put into force was the rumor in local military circles today. Coincidentally with the rumor comes word to the effect that three officers of the 13th Regiment, Lieut. Mogridge, Peckler and Insole and Capt. G. E. McLean of the Highlanders have been struck off the strength of the C. O. E. Many military men believe that it is merely in line with the government policy of doing away with all surplus officers, that the many hundreds of them that are now scattered throughout the country can be drafted when the conscription bill is enforced.

The assessments for Wards One, Three, Six, Seven and Eight have been completed, and the figures show that the population for the five wards is 288,000. These figures are an increase of 288 over the figures for Wards 5 and 2 are still being worked out, but it is expected that the returns will be in around Sept. 15.

Knuck-knuckers are an expensive piece of jewelry to carry around. A man named Kovitch, 88 North Sherman avenue, had the fact impressed upon him in court today when he was fined $100. Magistrate Jelfs stated that the defendant had a month and a half to put in two months in the "cooler."

Hamilton is to have another industry. The Textile Chemical and Manufacturing Company, of Rochester, N. Y., will open their Canadian branch in this city, and have already secured the old armory building for their factory. The commencement in a week, and boiler pressure will be the principal product. St. Catharines is in an effort to get them to locate there.

John Rose, 224 Loria street, said $100 a day was being made by the day on a charge of violating the Temperance Act. When arrested he had a bottle on each "hip," and when fined $200 stated that the liquor had been given to him by his brother-in-law, a lawyer, before he had been taken into custody.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE chief work on the British front yesterday consisted of aeroplanes spotting the artillery, taking photographs of the German defences from the air and fighting aggressive German machines. British bombing aircraft showed more fight than usual and British aviators destroyed and drove eight others down out of control. Two of the destroyed German machines fell within the British lines, showing that the enemy was attempting to do some reconnaissance work of his own. Eight British machines are missing. The struggle on the western front continues pretty well to be a struggle for supremacy of the air, after the British beat the German machines, they can undertake an offensive. The Germans then put more machines in use and dispute the British ascendancy.

Despatches from the western front declare that Lens was the chief centre of activity on the British army on Sunday night. The Canadians now hold strong positions in the Somme and the Germans are exhibiting many signs of apprehension of loss of the town. They dislike exceedingly the prospects of allowing the allies to recapture the Pas de Calais coal fields.

Despatches from London show that the people there have great confidence in the ability of the British army to drive the Germans out of Belgium in the present offensive, just as they drove them out of the Somme watershed. The British army has only to advance a short distance to get in the rear of the main German lines of defence. Holland advises tell of the opening of a tremendous bombardment between Ypres and the sea. Sir Douglas Haig is laconic concerning infantry action, as he usually is before delivering some startling blow.

The French front is still the zone of frequent intense bombardments. These reached high pitches of violence in the Champagne and the Verdun region. The French, south of Alen, held their trenches yesterday against a German attack and they enlarged their captured ground in further fighting.

The Russians admit that they and the Rumanians have retired slightly in the region of Fokshani after a desperate battle, but they also say that west of the Fokshani-Ajud railway fresh detachments are entering the line. They had retired in the attack they took 500 prisoners. The allies, where they have begun a counter-offensive, have received reinforcements and a line of heights. The Russians announce that the offensive is continuing. The allies, it can be seen, are making stronger resistance to the enemy and they may be able to recover some important lost ground. The German report the capture of Pantziu, northwest of Fokshani, after desperate fighting.

The enemy's success at Pantziu, near Fokshani, in Moldavia, unless it is reversed immediately by allied counter-attacks, gives him a considerable advantage for the prosecution of ulterior designs in the remainder of Rumania. It gives him the power of interrupting the allied communication and by numerous violent attacks, he is enabled to further extend his gain of ground south of Troits Valley.

Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen yesterday captured the Rumanian town of Pantziu, railway junction in southern Moldavia, which had been desperately defended by the Russo-Rumanian forces. The capture of the town was reported officially. The statement reads: "Front of Prince Leopold—There has been more lively fighting only south of Smorgon, west of Lutsk, near Tarnopol and in the Zboronka, where there were also encounters between raiding parties."

"Front of Archduke Joseph—In western Moldavia, despite the very stubborn enemy resistance, manifested by numerous violent attacks, we are enabled to further extend our gain of ground south of Troits Valley."

BRITAIN'S CABINET CRISIS PASSED

Premier Lloyd George was received with cheering when he said that whoever anyone might think about the matter, Mr. Henderson's speech they would respond to his appeal for unity in securing a victory. He was not sure he added, that it was necessary to say more than repeat the statement he (the premier) had made in the press. Each member of the cabinet had told him that Mr. Henderson's speech was the impression on his mind that he intended to use his whole influence to "hush down" the Stockholm conference at the labor conference.

Mr. Henderson here interrupted the speaker by asking if he had not suggested to Lloyd George that, if the cabinet conference decided to favor the Stockholm conference, delegates should go, but no member of the government.

Lloyd George replied that he had said he would not consent to Mr. Henderson or any delegates representing Great Britain attending the Stockholm conference.

by an occasionally great risk in the hands of his own government, to do only what he thought would lead to a victory for the allied cause and for a lasting, honorable and, he hoped, people's peace.

any district, the recount would be made by a judge or other person to be designated by the lord chief justice of England.

No Names on Ballots. Another important matter relates to the form of ballots. Under the soldiers' vote act of 1915 the soldier had to mark his ballot either for the government or for its opponent. Under the bill before the house the soldier will be enabled to mark his ballot in one of four ways. He may vote for the government, for the opposition, for the independent candidate, or he may write in the name of any particular person who has been duly placed in nomination. The names of the candidates will not appear on the ballot, but every means of publicity will be availed of by the government to inform the soldiers who are running.

Mr. Guthrie (South Wellington) and Mr. Knowles (Moore Jav), concerning Liberals, intimated that the form of the ballot might operate to their prejudice, and the minister said he would be willing to consider any change that might be suggested in view of the present and future conditions in Canadian politics.

Scrutineers are to be appointed by the leader of the government and wherever there is a group of soldiers, in Bermuda, Great Britain, France and Belgium, or any other place they may be found, and any individual soldier who has no chance to vote at a regular poll may send forth this fact by a petition, and be allowed to vote at a special poll. The bill was then given its first reading.

Control of Wheat. Mr. McCoig (West Kent) asked what action the government proposed to take in regard to the control of wheat, flour and bread along the lines adopted by the United States Government.

Sir George Foster said he had no knowledge of any action by the United States Government, but that grain supervisors had already fixed a maximum for wheat in elevators, and would probably deal with the problem in co-operation with the American authorities.

Hon. Charles Marcell asked if the minister of militia had been correctly reported as saying that the government would be put into force immediately.

Sir Edward Kemp: "He was quite correctly reported." (Laughter). The house then resumed its adjourned debate upon the second reading of the bill authorizing Sir George Perley to receive a salary of $7,000 per year as overseer of militia, and Messrs. McCurdy and Clark to receive salaries of $5,000 each as parliamentary under-secretaries without going back to their constituents for reelection.

Conditions Overseas Bad. E. M. Macdonald (Quebec) said the overseas forces were under the supreme authority of some military official of high rank, and not under a civilian like Sir George Perley. He said that if it was shown that the general officer in command in Canada was merely a clerk in the militia department who had been appointed to that position.

Sir Sam Hughes explained that General Gwatkin had served under Sir Percy Lake when the latter was inspector-general. Sir Sam had appointed him chief of staff, although warned by the British Government that he was incompetent.

"I said that was all right," continued Sir Sam, "because I wanted no interference, but it turned out that while I was right in thinking that he lacked ability, I was wrong in thinking he would not interfere."

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux insisted that newly-appointed officers forfeit their seats in the house unless and until again returned by the people.

Undemocratic Says Hughes. Sir Sam Hughes said he was sick of hearing it said that Sir George Perley would not draw his salary. He heard the same thing about Lord Strathcona, but when his lordship died the cheques for his salary were cashed by the exchequer. Quite possibly Sir George Perley was leaving some of his cheques lying around and somebody would cash them. At any rate, he was undemocratic to permit members of the general staff to accept positions and retain their seats without going back for reelection. He did not believe for a moment that democratic government was only good for peace times and that we must have an autocratic government during the war.

Personally, Sir Sam had gone into this war because he believed it was a fight against autocracy, and he would be sorry to see autocracy established in this country. If Sir George Perley had to be provided for, let him be given some ornamental job. He sarcastically questioned the prime minister whether he intended to make Sir George's office hereditary.

Col. Clark's Activities. The bill was given a second reading, and the debate continued several hours after the house got into committee.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham complained that Colonel Clark (North Bruce), the parliamentarian under-secretary for external affairs, devoted most of his time to preparing campaign literature for the Conservative party. The bill, he pointed out, was retroactive and proposed to start Colonel Clark's salary on October 1, 1916.

Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe) raised the point that Mr. Graham when minister of railways had contributed political articles to his paper, The Brookville Recorder.

Mr. Lemieux: But he went back to his electors.

Mr. Bennett: He went back once too often. (Laughter).

Attack on Hughes. R. B. Bennett (Calgary) came to the defence of General Gwatkin, who, he said, was a distinguished British officer, and had rendered conspicuous services to Canada. He was entitled to the credit for the successful mobilization of the first contingent at Valcartier, although Sir Sam Hughes took all the credit. General Gwatkin, he said, was a ruler who did not run around the country on private trains or make a colonel out of every officer he met upon the street. The attack upon General Gwatkin was another evidence, he said, of the duplicity shown by Sir Sam Hughes and E. M. Macdonald, which had been evident in the case of the Ross rifle.

Hughes Back. Sir Sam Hughes said in reply that he never advertised himself. He had received 2000 invitations to address audiences in the United States and Canada. On his way to the States and back he had stopped over at Calgary for an hour or two and was asked to address the Canadian Club.

Within one hour 6000 people assembled, the largest audience ever gathered in Calgary, although the member of parliament under-secretary for external affairs, devoted most of his time to preparing campaign literature for the Conservative party. The bill, he pointed out, was retroactive and proposed to start Colonel Clark's salary on October 1, 1916.

Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe) raised the point that Mr. Graham when minister of railways had contributed political articles to his paper, The Brookville Recorder.

Mr. Lemieux: But he went back to his electors.

Mr. Bennett: He went back once too often. (Laughter).

Attack on Hughes. R. B. Bennett (Calgary) came to the defence of General Gwatkin, who, he said, was a distinguished British officer, and had rendered conspicuous services to Canada. He was entitled to the credit for the successful mobilization of the first contingent at Valcartier, although Sir Sam Hughes took all the credit. General Gwatkin, he said, was a ruler who did not run around the country on private trains or make a colonel out of every officer he met upon the street. The attack upon General Gwatkin was another evidence, he said, of the duplicity shown by Sir Sam Hughes and E. M. Macdonald, which had been evident in the case of the Ross rifle.

Hughes Back. Sir Sam Hughes said in reply that he never advertised himself. He had received 2000 invitations to address audiences in the United States and Canada. On his way to the States and back he had stopped over at Calgary for an hour or two and was asked to address the Canadian Club.

Harvesting in West Begins. Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 13.—Crop reports from the Canadian Pacific Railway indicate a great improvement in conditions. Cattle is expected to be general by the 20th inst.

Mentioning a Few of the Interesting Sale Specials in Living-room Furniture—On Sale Wednesday. The Chesterfields May be Had With Arm Chairs to Match, But in Every Case the Pieces are Sale-priced Separately. The Prices Range From $32.50 to $125.00

HAVE you the happy task before you of furnishing that comfy spot in your house—the living-room? You will want comfortable furniture, and almost as though your needs had been waited Storewards by the proverbial little bird, the August Sale is at your service, offering remarkable values for Wednesday. Such inviting Chesterfields and such roomy, comfortable chairs are available in upholstery to match, as well as separate pieces, obtainable in a varied array of tapestry designs. Moreover, the prices are so moderate and so diverse that the Sale bargains are brought within reach of almost every purse. Here are descriptions:

An attractive Chesterfield, as shown in sketch, covered in figured tapestry, soft, wide pillow spring arms, three Marshall-cushioned seats, medium high spring back. Length, 7 ft. 6 in. by 3 ft., Sale price, $125.00. Large arm chair to match, Sale price, $76.00. Another very handsome Chesterfield, covered in figured tapestry, has heavy upholstered arms, three detachable cushion seats, back medium high and with cushion effect. Size 6 ft. 8 in. x 3 ft. Sale price, $55.00. Chesterfields, covered in expensive figured tapestry, made with heavy upholstered arms, deep spring seat, with plain and tufted, medium-high backs, sloping arms. You were Inquiring?

The Farmer's Wife.—Do you like fumed oak? During the August sales you can buy very attractive and reasonably priced furniture of that type. For your dining-room the set of six chairs in quarter-cut oak, fumed finish, can be bought for $18.50; they have leather seats and high backs of good design. A buffet to match will cost $28.50; it has a low mirror across the back, the usual long linen drawer and two smaller drawers, one lined for cutlery; the cupboard is unusually roomy, and all drawers and doors open with square wooden pulls. Perhaps proportionally less money should go into the dining table than into the other furniture. I am suggesting one at $8.50 in plain (not quarter-cut) fumed oak which should admirably suit your purpose; this table is round and supported by a square pedestal. So much for actual dining furniture, but if the room is to be used also as a living-room you will want some easy chairs, will you not?

For $5.50 each you may buy a rocker and an armchair of the same quarter-cut fumed oak, and with seat and panel in the back upholstered in a dull tapestry in browns and greens. These two chairs would do much to redeem your room from the purely utilitarian dining-room, and would give it a decided charm. Then a couch would seem almost a necessity, would it not? None of the large, "comfy" kind is obtainable within the price limits you set, but to make very attractive substitutes would be the divan-ot with chintz cover to match in coloring the tapestry on the chairs. The cot with the "wheat" would cost $6.00; samples of chintz of various prices are being mailed to you. The same could be used for overcurtains for the windows, and the dull hues would tend to moderate the glare of light from those west and south windows. If you would prefer it, you might purchase a lounge upholstered in imitation leather, Spanish finish, price $13.75. A little desk in quarter-cut fumed oak with cane panels in the sides and a number of pigeon-holes and convenient drawers would form a welcome addition to the other furniture; the price is $9.50.

Georgia.—Brown leather for upholstering couches and chairs sells for 50c and 70c per square foot. If you have no profits against substitutes you might find the imitation leather equally attractive, and certainly it is more moderately priced. All is in 18-inch width, and in the plain pebble finish is priced at $1.25 per yard. The "Craftsman" finish, in tobacco brown with darker green, is $1.50 per yard, while the "Moorish," presenting a very dark, irregular surface, and another in a coarser grain, "wheat" finish, which perhaps more perfectly than any of the others simulates the real leather, may be obtained for $1.15 per yard.

M. K.—Aren't you the luckiest person? To have fallen heir to an old Grand piano, such as you describe, seems too great good fortune for any mere mortal. Your idea of having it transported to a library table is certainly an excellent one, and should be quite easy to carry out. Those solid walnut bureaus are among the choicest articles about which lovers of the beautiful can plan a room. If they are of the old-fashioned, high type with only a small mirror on top, do not under any circumstances change them, except to remove the supports holding the glass, and let it be suspended above the chest of drawers; have it all polished, and you may rest assured you have a real treasure. Desks or book-tables if you have no use for them in their present form; they would be very handsome if properly designed. For your living-room with the north light you should have paper of amber and gold tones and window hangings of the same, with perhaps a touch of rose to add still more warmth of tone.

ORDER ABOLISHES DEFENCE FORCE

All Infantry Recruits Must Now Join First Reserve Regiment.

PROBABLE EXCEPTION

Prospects Favor Formation of Special Depot Highland Battalion.

Enlisting either for or thru the Canada defence force reserve battalions of the militia regiments was cancelled yesterday by an official order. The Toronto mobilization centre recruiting depot at the armories received the following telegram from Lt.-Col. H. C. Osborne, A.A.G., Toronto military district: "Beginning Monday no further enlistments are to be made in C. D. F. All men, including those from the United States, are to be attested for the 1st reserve battalion, 1st Central Ontario Regiment and sent to Camp Borden to be untrained. The new order means that infantrymen enlisted from now on will not be credited to militia regiments, and that the latter units will close up their recruiting depots. There seems to be a strong probability of a special depot battalion being established in Toronto military district for men wishing to sign up as Highlanders. If a 'Kilties' overseas depot regiment is authorized by Ottawa it is understood that the two companies of infantrymen recruited by the 48th Highlanders and now in training at Camp Borden, will be turned over to the new Highland battalion. The authorization of a de-

At the request of President Miller, of the International Fur Workers' Union, Mr. McEwan has been in charge of the situation, and he says the men have decided on a fight to the finish. There are now 500 men out. The strike originated by a lockout on the part of some of the bosses, and the men will not go back until they get a union shop and a 44-hour week. At present it is not a general strike, but Mr. McEwan said that one may be called in the near future which will affect about 900 workers.

On the invitation of Major N. L. Allan of the Imperial Flying Corps, representatives of Toronto's news-... Saturday taken on a special tour of inspection of the great aviation camps at Leaside and Armour's Heights and also shown the immense factory of the Leaside Aviation Co. Meeting at 10 in the morning at the R. F. C. headquarters, 60 Church street, a party was received by Capt. J. S. Scott, M.C., headquarter of the camp. Building Airplanes

After a rapid motor car trip from the Church Street R.F.C. headquarters the first place visited was the airplane factory on Dufferin street. This great factory plant occupies an acreage on the west side of the street, and is situated on the corner of Davenport road. The plant consists of a group of immense brick buildings each hundreds of feet long. They were especially designed for the speediest possible construction of military planes. The buildings were put up in the record time of two months, and are now in full operation. The airplane factory employs 1100 people of whom 800 are women. The general manager, Mr. King, and the majority are now on the farms assisting in the harvest of the abundant crops. Secretary E. F. Trimmer, who made this announcement yesterday, stated that city men were continuing to apply in satis- factory numbers, and he was con- siderable of those who are being employed. He stated that the work is being done in the factory in perfect in construction. Some of the parts bear as many as four stamps, showing that they have passed inspection that many times. The stamps indicate the name of the inspector. Officers of the Royal Flying Corps pointed out the negligent and faulty work, when discovered, could be traced to the workman responsible, by means of the stamps on all airplane parts. It was stated that the procedure was trial by court-martial.

Output of the Plant

The output of the plant on Dufferin street has steadily increased from airplane parts equivalent to 500 a month to a present output of 200 a month.

Motor Car Camp

A sharp motor-car run northeast brought the inspecting party to the Leaside camp at about 11 o'clock. At Leaside the Royal Flying Corps has a recruit depot headquarters just west of the big Leaside factory. The camp is a wire-enclosed enclosure with sentries on guard at the entrance. It contains a group of gray colored buildings, which are the barracks, tents, in which the recruit mechanics sleep. A striking feature at the gateway is a very large Royal Flying Corps flag flying from a tall pole. The flag is sky blue with three gold bars, one of bright scarlet at the center and one of dark blue at the top.

The Main Training Grounds

which are very extensive, are not fenced in, but are guarded by Dominion Gov- ernment police. The north side is a large open field, with the air- planes grouped at one end. The airplanes are buildings open at each end. Comfortable tents are pitched in the northeast portion of the grounds, are pleasantly located among pine shade trees. These buildings in- clude a large mess building for of- ficers and cadets, and a mess building for both flight officers and flight cadets.

Medical Service Complete

Every provision for the best possible medical care of aviators who are in progress is provided. While the Army Medical Corps is on duty at each airfield. Harrington, traffic manager of the Retail Mer- chants' Association, stated yesterday that he was holding out on tracks or failing to give prompt plac- ing orders for the cars as soon as notified of their whereabouts. The Grand Trunk Railway are not living up to their agreement with the fuel con- troller regarding the prompt return of empty coal cars, he returned. "This morning I gave Mr. Harris the numbers of eight foreign cars that were being held by the Grand Trunk on the old belt line track. Seven of these were loaded with stone and one with sand.

For Belgian Relief

The Belgian Relief Committee, 80
West King street, report for the week ending August 11, 1917, that the receipts of $119.10.
In addition to this amount the sum of $145 was collected from the guests at the Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrew's, N.B., many of whom are interested in the work of Mrs. Adamson among the Belgian children.
Other contributions were the Girls'
Khaki Club, Beaverton, $25; employees Toronto Structural Steel, $20 monthly; per Mrs. Armstrong, Ironworkers, $10; Mrs. H. Richardson, Mrs.
Goforth and Mrs. W. J. Bassett, $50
each; Excelsior Band, Spencerville, and Miss C. Good, $5 each.
Donations of strong useful boots were received from Toronto, Stratford and Brigidon.
Owing to the prevalence of a contagious disease among the horses, children are not allowed to go barefooted in Belgium and, as even wooden shoes are expensive and difficult to procure, these gifts are especially appreciated.
Among the donations of new clothing were 26 coats, mostly beautiful made by Mrs. Sprout of Prince Arthur avenue; quilts, coats, underwear, hosiery, etc., from W. Ingram, W. J. Tillamouth, W. J. Palmerton and Trenton.
As only a limited amount of clothing can be shipped each month, it is essential that only new or very good second-hand articles be sent in.
The C. P. R. has generously given an extension of transportation facilities.
The central executive at Montreal recently forwarded the sum of $35,500 to the Belgian Government. We have to help relieve the acute distress among the Belgian children, whose resistance to disease has been checked by three years of near-starvation.

What the Simpson August Homefurnishing Sale Means to the People of Toronto

It means that reliable Furniture and Rugs for cottage and for mansion may be bought for less than in other months.

Not that the articles are worth less, but August is the quietest of the summer months, and to stimulate business we sacrifice a portion of our usual profit during this sale.

Manufacturers from whom we buy vast quantities year in and year out help us to make our August Sale what it is by sacrificing a portion of their profit also.

This co-operation of the factories with our Home Furnishing Departments results in remarkable low pricing. Examples of the big sale specials today.
