Spy Stories In Washington Revived By Tunnel Discovery

SAWS SHE SAID SHE FREE ALTERED

GERMAN PAPERS OF WAR DATES ARE FOUND IN PASSAGE

Investigation Follows Discovery After Motor Truck Broke Through.

PLACE IS MYSTERY

Empty Bottles Indicate Use by Bootleggers Since the War.

(United Press.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.

A labyrinth of subterranean passages discovered in several blocks of Washington's most exclusive residence section, littered with German newspapers of 1917 and 1918, has revived some of the old war atmosphere in the capital, and talk of spies. A gaping hole made when the wheels of a motor truck sank through the earth, led to its discovery and investigation.

Once penetrated, it was found to be large enough for a person to stand upright, walled with enameled tiles and wired for electricity.

Many Avenues Found.

A searching party has followed several avenues, but has as yet failed to trace them all to their ends.

One tunnel skirted the rear of the home of Edward B. McLean, local publisher and is thought to have an unlocated outlet on a street several hundred yards away.

Another passage led to a walkway on an adjoining street; still another was blocked by a cement door which could not be moved without reference to submarine activities.

The walls of the passage were lined with white enameled brick. On the ceiling were pasted numerous copies of German newspapers dated during the summer of 1917 and 1918. By electric torches, it was possible to discern in newspaper articles frequent reference to submarine activities.

The papers were defaced to some extent by cryptic design and engravings in cypher.

Think More Further Down.

The investigation also discovered an iron ladder extending downward into the earth. After considerable digging several rungs of the ladder were uncovered and a cement arch which was believed to be connected with partitions still deeper in the earth were revealed.

As the party moved on in its explorations some passages narrowed and the investigators were forced to work their way on hands and knees. In one place the labyrinth widened into crossroads with miniature avenues branching out in several directions.

The newspapers and others have been found in the passage, but the belief that the tunnels may have been the rendezvous of spies during the war but its wide extent and the purpose of its many avenues are not yet understood.

Electric light installation and a profusion of bottles, however, are believed to be due to a later inhabitant, probably bootleggers.

CANADIAN SCORES GENEVA TRIUMPH

Hon. E. M. MacDonald's Report on Georgian Solution is Adopted.

By C. F. GRANDALL. (British United Press.)

London, Sept. 26.—Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Canadian Cabinet Minister, who is representing the Dominion at the League of Nations conference at Geneva scored a personal success when the assembly unanimously adopted his report on the joint resolution of the British, French and Belgian delegates demanding that the League intervene in Georgia.

The Canadian Minister's report suggested that the council should follow the situation very closely and take advantage of any favorable opportunity for peaceful settlement.

Mr. MacDonald's address to the Assembly traced the entire history of Georgia from its formation under the Russian banner in 1919 down to to-day and declared that the country was still entitled to the League help and sympathy.

His report was supported by Professor Gilbert Murray, noted Oxford scholar, on behalf of Britain and by the French and Italian delegates.

POST OFFICE CHIEF CRITICIZES CONDUCT IN RECENT STRIKE

Says Walkout of Clerks Caused Loss of $399,000 to Country.

TO HEAR MEN'S CASE

Hon. Chas. Murphy Agrees to Submitting Complaints to Board.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Canada's loss by the postal strike of last summer was $399,000, says Hon. Chas. Murphy, Postmaster General, in reply to the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees, following an interview held in the office of the minister of Sept. 11, when they urged reinstatement of 29 men who had been let out. In addition Mr. Murphy says there were further losses occasioned to individual citizens and to the public because of the dislocation of the service.

Seathing criticism of the conduct of the strike is contained in Mr. Murphy's reply. He criticized some of the strike leaders for their methods and declared that they themselves have admitted that they were wrong in letting the men go out. He charges that evidence shows that communications to the men were fabricated and that threats were used against the strike breakers.

Consents To Board.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster General, has notified the executive of the Federated Postal Employees' Association that he will consent to the appointment of a conciliation board to hear the complaints of employees dismissed from the postal service following the strike. The Government will be represented by the Deputy Postmaster-General and Chas. H. Beaudin, assistant secretary of the civil service commission. It is probable the postal employees will nominate one of their members to represent the dismissed men.

London, Sept. 26.—Winston Churchill's ambition to lead a united Conservative and Liberal opposition to Labor was revealed in a speech delivered at Edinburgh last night, when he challenged the Liberals to state explicitly any principle which divides them fundamentally from the Conservatives.

Mr. Churchill ridiculed the difference between the two parties on the tariff issue, but came out boldly as a supporter of "imperial preference, saying that the Liberals had been the opponents of the war a resolution was passed affirming the principle of preferential duties within the empire.

"How unworthy of a great country it is to recede from the pledges given in times of danger as soon as the dangers are passed. How unworthy this is to turn their backs on a valiant friend," said Mr. Churchill.

The main part of his speech was devoted to an attack on Socialism and the present Labor Government, whom he denounced as the greatest danger to the Empire.

Since Winston Churchill has decided to support the Conservative Government, his political importance has rapidly risen and this morning all newspapers are crowded with news reports that he completely overhauled other Conservative leaders.

LARGE THROING AT BIBLE LECTURE

Dr. Campbell Morgan Begins Series on Scriptures at Centenary.

Marvellous in his vigor and his eloquence as a Bible teacher, Rev. Dr. Campbell Morgan, of England, has a world-wide fame and in St. John the memory of his visit of two years ago is fresh and fragrant.

With Dr. Morgan on the platform last night were Rev. R. G. Fulton, of Centenary; Rev. Dr. S. Poole, of Germain Street Baptist church; Rev. J. S. Bonnell, of St. Andrew's church; Rev. Hugh Miller, of St. Andrew's church; and Rev. Neil MacLachlan, of Queen square Methodist church, the churches co-operating in the bringing of the eminent theologian.

Dr. Morgan expressed thanks for his cordial welcome and brought greetings from Rev. F. S. Dowling, former minister of St. Andrew's church in Sydney, from his own son, who had been leader of the singing on Dr. Morgan's previous visit here, but who is now both married and ordained, he said.

Baptism in the Jordan.

Of his text, he said that the words were the first recorded of Jesus when He had come to man's estate, and Dr. Morgan went on to describe how those words had been uttered. He told of Christ's coming to be baptized in the Jordan, the last of the long illustrious line of Hebrew prophets of whom Christ had said, "None born of woman was greater than he."

Dr. Morgan reminded his hearers that John had said that he did not know the Messiah and that God was the descent of His Holy Spirit. Dr. Morgan held the belief that while Christ had glorious beauty, he was a Galilean peasant in appearance and dress and would be taken for such. John had said to Christ, "I have need to be baptized." Dr. Morgan thought, was made because John recognized not the Baptist, but Christ, but that exclamation, "Suffer it to be so now, for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." This utterance, he believed, summed up Christ's conception of His Messianic message.

PRINCE GIVES GIRL PONY

Miss Diana Guest, daughter of Captain, the Right Honorable, and Mrs. Frederick Guest, of Wheatley Hills, L. I., is happy with "Abby," a polo pony the Prince of Wales gave her from his own string. The Prince made the presentation himself.

"Full" in his text and said that that word implied that Christ had held it to be no more dream but a possibility that righteousness was to prevail. The preacher recalled how Christ had been speaking at a time when the world was in a much more terrible condition than it now was, at a time when the Roman Empire had world dominion and the people were impotent living in a peace that was the peace of exhaustion.

ASKS SUPPORT OF W. O. N. TAG DAY

In his appeal to the people of St. John, Hon. J. G. Forbes, chairman of the board of directors of the Victorian Order of Nurses, states that the ladies and gentlemen who have volunteered to assist on Saturday, the tag day for the order, will wait upon as many people as possible. There are always a few, he says, who do subscribe and who regard it as an annual contribution. They, of course, would simplify the work of the committee by sending in their subscriptions beforehand, but a cheery word of welcome and a hearty godsend is asked for those who undertake the somewhat arduous task of raising $2,500 to enable the order to be free of debt.

The chairman points out that the work has been carried on for 25 years by them and it is perhaps the duty of the public to take even a greater interest in it now than they have in the past. Pythian Castle, Union street, will be the headquarters of the committee and the taggers will meet there for boxes, tags and badges this afternoon.

OUR INDUSTRIES.

The list of industries tabulated by the Board of Trade in the City of St. John and printed in The Times Star yesterday, while not as long as many of us would like to see it, is still so much larger than some people expected that it is indeed worth taking notice of. Careful inspection of it will surprise some who have been buying products elsewhere produced right in our midst. The least we can do is to patronize the people who live among us, provided all things are equal and that the quality and prices are such as to compete with outsiders. Even if they are not quite as low as the outside prices we might afford to give a preference to the industry that is within our confines. The list was prepared by the Board of Trade for the Statistical Department at Ottawa. It is well, however, that it should be published and that our own people should realize just what is being done and who are engaged in manufacturing. Without industries we could not get along very well. We have little enough employment as it is, but industries provide work and the more work the more money and the more people. So let us learn what is made right at home and let us buy what is made right at home.

MAKE THE HIGHWAYS SAFE.

The question is being asked all over Canada and in many parts of the United States if, while we are improving our highways so notably, we are making them safe? The tragedies of the level crossings have been added to by other kinds of accidents resulting from reckless driving, from highways overcrowded with motor cars, and frequently from ignorance as to how to drive. Some time ago we quoted a statement of the Minister of Highways of Ontario that he was giving serious thought to making it necessary for everyone who drives a car in future in Ontario to pass an examination and be licensed. This is the rule in Massachusetts and in New York, and probably in many other states of the Union. We have not as yet been forced to such a measure in Canada, although it is apparent that in the crowded cities of Ontario the necessity of some such action seems to have arisen.

The offence of "cutting in" will make a motor driver liable after this year in Ontario. Some had accidents have been caused by drivers who, impatient with the speed of the rapidly moving car ahead, undertake to rush past without regard to cars approaching from the opposite direction. We know that this means on the Rothesay and Westfield roads. On popular days and holidays when the traffic is very great the danger of cutting in is very apparent, but under our Motor Vehicle Act there is no section which applies directly to that offence. As a matter of fact, our Act is entirely too vague. Too much is left to the discretion of patrol officers. The meaning of terms is not sufficiently clear and the word "reasonable" is capable of so many constructions by magistrates and patrol men, as well as drivers, that it may mean ten or thirty miles an hour. When there are no cars to collide with and no pedestrians to scare to death, thirty miles may be a reasonable speed, but when school children are on the roads and many ladies are using the highways to come from or go to an afternoon tea, ten miles may be an unreasonable speed. A Toronto newspaper, The Mail and Empire, gives much space to the consideration of this important question and says that—"To make the roads safe for pedestrians more money must be spent on road improvements. The walking habit, one of the most healthful and still one of the most necessary for most ordinary people, must have a chance to persist. Children must attend school, and the majority of them must go on foot, as it best for them. There will be a revival of walking among grown-ups when there are safe foot-paths. In the rural districts the public ways for vehicles must in the near future be flanked by side-walks over long distances, where they were never before looked for. The roads must be made safe for democracy."

"The highways must be made safe. Pedestrians, the drivers of horse-vehicles, and careful motorists must be protected from automobile speeders of the reckless kind. These are a menace. Among the many who ride people down on the highway and bring their machines into collision with the cars of careful drivers there cannot be many of criminal intent. But there are many of criminal negligence. The drunken, or half-drunken, the people of unstable mental equilibrium in whom judgment at high speed produces an intoxication, the half-witted, and all those who come under the more general classification of the reckless, must by degrees be ruled off the road. We are not improving the highways to keep the trail of blood fresh upon them. Instead of increasing the number of the killed we must lessen the number of the killed."

"To MAKE THE PENALTY FIT THE CRIME."

We need not despair. Our bodies change every seven years, so we are old, and perhaps the same cycle of time has some effect upon our minds. The practice of many of the women of today of bobbing their hair has been described by alienists as "the bobbed hair phantasy," and they also think it is simply a matter of cycles. Many years ago—about two hundred and fifty—there was a bobbed hair epidemic, and the writers of that day in describing it said that the women of England went on such a short hair debauch as to reduce "their men folks, and even royalty to a state that was almost frantic." Indeed, the indignant and outraged king ordered the bishop of London to call his clergy together "to inveigh vehemently against the insolences of our women, and their wearing of brode brimed hats, pointed dublets, their hair cut short or shorne." In addition and significantly, the king gave it out straight that, "if pulpit admonitions will not reform them, I will proceed by another course."

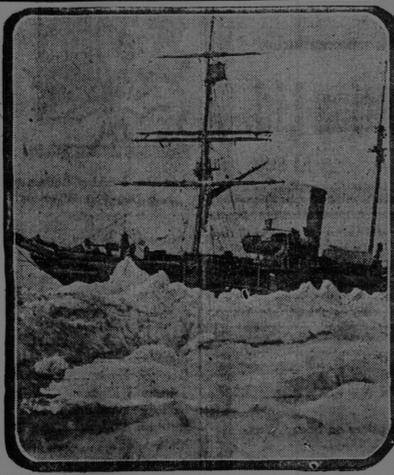

Both women and men were used to stern measures then on the part of their rulers. Kings, bishops, knights and barons took the law into their own hands and if any of their dependents offended them in any way they named the punishment and very often inflicted it. Nobody has suggested a suitable penalty for the bobbed hair custom of today.

In Paris, France, it is not fashionable any longer to bob the hair, and perhaps by the time the new idea reaches the New World those who have been unfortunate enough to follow the present custom will wish they hadn't. But who will make a penalty fitting the crime of "bobbing," and who will enforce it?

BELONGED TO NORTH END MAN.

The automobile reported in the Telegraph-Journal yesterday morning as having been destroyed by fire on the side of the Loch Lomond road, near Silver Falls, was the property of Blake Ferris, Main street.

Stranded In Arctic, But U. S. Can't Aid

THE OLD CUTTER "BEAR."

(By LARRY BOARDMAN.)

Washington, Sept. 26.—Wrangell Island again is housing the broken remnants of a band of explorers—more victims of the international controversy over ownership of that barren, ice-bound stretch of land in the frozen Arctic.

The stranded adventurers are facing the prospect of death by cold and starvation, or arrest by the Russian soviet government.

An appeal to go to their rescue has been made to the United States coast guard.

But the coast guard, crippled by the loss of its last ice fighting ship, the cutter "Bear," is powerless to take action—even though such action were justified or advisable.

Wrangell Island was discovered in 1881 by Rear Admiral W. E. Reynolds, former coast guard commander, who took possession in the name of the United States.

Russia, however, has claimed the island by virtue of its geographical position, off the coast of northern Siberia.

In September, 1921, an expedition sponsored by the Canadian explorer, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, arrived at Wrangell Island on the schooner "Silver Wave" and immediately hoisted the English flag.

When the "Silver Wave" sailed away it left four white men and one Eskimo woman in possession. Then came the problem of getting them supplies. Every effort failed.

A year later one of Stefansson's traveling companions, Harold Nolce, chartered the motor schooner "Donaldson" and headed a rescue expedition.

Arriving at the island he found the four men dead. In a bottle they had left a paper on which were written their names together with the statement that they claimed Wrangell Island in the name of King George.

The "Donaldson" sailed away, taking the Eskimo woman but leaving a party of 15 or 16 in possession.

This year the coast guard received an appeal from Brewer, an Englishman influential in financing the Nolce expedition, to carry supplies to the island's occupants.

The cutter "Bear" made a gallant attempt, crashing its way through the ice far into the Arctic. Then, its ancient hull cracked and its propellers broken, the old ship was forced to turn back. Coast guard officials declared it was the vessel's last trip, that its long years of service were over.

Following this came the report that the soviet government is sending an armed ship to Wrangell, under orders to arrest all non-Russians found on the island.

Officials at Washington are waiting the outcome—waiting to see whether the soviet government, angered at what it may consider a breach of faith, will take the stranded colonists into custody; whether the Nolce expedition will be able to crash through the ice floes and either hold possession of the island or carry away its colonists; or whether neither the soviet ship nor Nolce's schooner will be able to break through the ice barrier, and the 15 or 16 souls on the island will be left to perish like their predecessors.

MARY OF THE WILD MOOR.

It was on one cold winter's night, As the wind blew across the wild moors, When Mary came wandering home with her babe, Till she came to her own father's door: "Oh, father! dear father!" she cried, "Come down and open the door, Or the child in my arms will perish and die. By the wind that blows across the wild moor.

"Oh, why did I leave this dear spot, Where once I was happy and free? But now doomed to roam, without friends or home, And no one to take pity on me!" The old man was deaf to her cries: Not a sound of her voice reached his ears— But the watch dog did howl, and the village bell toll'd.

And the wind blew across the wild moor.

But how must the old man have felt When he came to the door next morn'! Poor Mary was dead, but the child was alive. Closely pressed in its dead mother's arms. Half frantic he tore his gray hair, And the tears down his cheeks they did pour. Saying: "This cold winter's night she perished and died By the wind that blows across the wild moor."

The old man in grief pined away, And the child to its mother went soon. And one day they say, has lived there to this day. And the cottage to ruin has gone. The willows droop over the door. Saying: "There Mary died, once a gay village bride, By the wind that blew across the wild moor."

BOYS MAY FACE MANSLAUGHTER

Montreal Youths, in Alleged Stolen Car, are Cause of Fatality.

Hawkebury, Ont., Sept. 25.—Four Montreal youths, whose wild ride in an automobile, alleged to have been stolen in Quebec, ended in a collision which caused the death of Albert Harvey, aged 41, near here yesterday morning. The car was driven by Magistrate Lalor on Friday, charged with theft. It is likely, according to the police, that the more serious charge of manslaughter will be made against them when the coroner's inquest has been held.

It is alleged that the four youths, Thomas Culbron, 19; Laurent Desjardins, 18; Robert Desjardins, 19, and Armand Chartrand, 18, stole the automobile in which they were riding on Tuesday. The youths, who reside with their parents in Montreal, have no criminal records so far as it is known.

When the collision occurred it is alleged that the youths' car was on the left side of the road and before the occupants of the car driven by Albert Proulx, aged 39, who is in a critical condition, could jump, the light car of the joy riders crashed head on into it, throwing Proulx's car upside down and imprisoning its six passengers.

Proulx's wife and two other women were injured, but not seriously. The Proulx baby was uninjured.

The four youths, who were thrown out of their car, with slight injuries, took to their heels across the fields, leaving both cars on fire. They were captured later. The occupants of Proulx's car, who were in grave danger of being burned alive, were rescued by residents nearby. Harvey, one of the passengers, died soon after the accident of a fractured skull.

FIRE ON WEST SIDE

The fire department on the western side of the harbor was called out yesterday afternoon by an alarm from Box 26 on the corner of St. John street and City line for a fire in the residence of Charles Kohn, 511 Lancaster street. RICHARD HOLLAND DEPUTY SURVEYOR

Information has been obtained as to the identity of Richard Holland whose signature was placed on the certificate of a grant of land in St. John, which has just been presented to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police by Dr. J. the Natural History Society by Dr. J. the local branch of the Archives of Canada. It is learned that Richard Holland was deputy surveyor in St. John and, therefore, would be the proper person to place his signature on a deed. His identity was discovered through searching records in the archives office amongst which was found in the petition for Kings county, N. B., in the year 1785 the extract No. 269 to the effect that a warrant of survey, had Richard Holland, deputy surveyor, had been made for 50 lots of 50 acres each south of Glazier's Manor.

He would be speaking before the Canadian Club here some time in the spring and would use the material gathered during this trip as the basis of his talk.

RICHEST BABY IS DENIED GOOD CRY

Patricia Edwina Victoria Mounbatten, World's Richest Baby, and Her Mother.

(By Milton Bronner.) London, Sept. 25.—"Patricia Edwina, stop that crying! Stop pulling at your woolly jacket! Stop kicking your legs out from under the comforter!" And the richest baby in the world, out for an airing in Hyde Park, obeys her nursemaid.

The woolies she has on come, not from a store, but from the royal knits and needles of Cousin Queen Mary. Baby is the first born of Lord Louis Mounbatten, cousin and pal of the Prince of Wales, and of Edwina Ashley, heiress of the Cassell millions. Lord Louis himself is son of the Marquess of Milford Haven and heir to the wealth of millions the infant in his death his greatest joy was in the fall, blonde, darling, athletic girl. She spent most of her time with him at his historic mansion, Brook House.

The house, some day, will descend to the baby. Baby, in fact, rules a large portion of the house at present, especially since her mama and papa are vacationing in America. Baby's names are as distinguished as her surroundings. Patricia is after Princess Pal, Edwina after her mother, and Victoria after Princess Victoria, mother of Lord Mounbatten. But what does Patricia Edwina Victoria, the world's richest baby, care about that? "Gibb-goo," she remarks, as the perambulator rolls through Hyde Park.

VISIT NEW SCHOOL ON THE WEST SIDE

Two Departments of New Albert Structure Formally Opened.

To have a formal opening of the manual training and domestic science departments of the New Albert school and invite the Mayor, city commissioners, school trustees, other prominent citizens and the ladies of their families was the happy thought of the members of the manual training committee of the school board under the leadership of G. Herbert Green, its convener, and yesterday afternoon the plan was brought to realization and a most dignified occasion was provided.

The manual training department was shown in operation and in the domestic science department the visitors were served an appetizing and bountiful collation. The visitors inspected the splendidly appointed building and one and all had enthusiastic praise to give to the school trustees for providing the building, the teachers for their achievements and the scholars for their opportunities and their use of the opportunities afforded them.

The guests were received by Mr. Green, Mrs. E. R. Taylor and Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, school trustees, and Miss Harriet Smith, principal of the school, while the other members of the staff conducted the visitors through the building and assisted in serving tea.

The members of the staff are as follows: G. T. Dunham, the Misses Grace Baird, Edna Shaw, Etta Sampson, Bertha Brittain, Alice Carleton, Grace Hayes, Margaret Emerson, Margaret Newcombe, Emma Habbitt, Clara Fullerton, Florence Coster, Nellie Rogers, Bertha Brittain, Mary Owen, Helen Mallinan, Amy Napier, Elizabeth Cowan and Constance Weaver with G. T. Cochrane, teacher of manual training, and Miss Jessie Hartt, domestic science teacher. Miss Hartt was chiefly responsible for the refreshments which won much complimentary reference.

The visitors were specially asked to view the new scales recently purchased with funds raised by school entertainments. The scales are in the medical inspection room and will be used to weigh the pupils, more particularly those who are members of the Junior Red Cross, and II class of the domestic science room.

Flowers were tastefully arranged throughout the building, stoves made by the boys being used as flower stands in the halls. The tea table in the domestic science room was prettily arranged with red and white snapdragons and red and white daisies for decorations. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Chisholm presided over the tea and coffee hours. During the afternoon Albert Punter and Delbert Black gave piano selections in the auditorium and their performance called forth much warm praise.

Speeches were given as the visitors were inspecting the class at work in the manual training department and afternoon tea was served in the domestic science room.

His Worship Mayor Potts, speaking to the boys at work, urged them to make good use of the opportunities they had in school, contrasting the educational advantages of today with the far more limited opportunities of other days and telling of his own experience in having men calling at his office who were out of work and could do nothing but laboring work. He reminded the boys that there was always room for leaders in all callings and he urged them to strive for the topmost rung of the ladder.

After refreshments had been served in the domestic science room, Mr. Green spoke of his interest in the department of which he was convener, the manual training and domestic science department, and said the equipment for these classes in the New Albert school could not be surpassed in eastern Canada. He told of this instruction having been extended this year to include the pupils of grades 6 to 8.

Commissioner Wigmore congratulated the West St. John school trustees on securing for the West Side so splendid a building. He believed boys trained in the manual training department were given an interest and made to think and became better boys. He was glad he had had the opportunity of visiting the school.

"King Cole" Preferred

A growing preference is expressed for KING COLE TEA. What other explanation could there be for its persistently increasing sale? Every year of the twelve that it has been before the public has marked its strong time—long enough to demonstrate in no uncertain way the testing stage has been passed with honour.

Replying to the remark that the City Council would be ready to make increased grants for schools, Mayor Potts said he was a great believer in paying those who were entrusted with the training of the young and he believed teachers had never been paid as they should be. He had not liked to hear one of the school authorities say in the Imperial Theatre that the school board did not have to go to City Hall to ask for money. It could get what it wanted if it were not for the fact that the city could not stand and they never would do it with the sanction of the council.

Amongst those present besides the Mayor were Mrs. E. L. Potts, Mrs. R. W. Wigmore, Mrs. W. L. Harding, Mrs. H. Colby Smith, Mrs. Allan W. McIntyre, Mrs. Misses Green, Mrs. Ida Northrup, Mrs. E. R. Taylor, A. G. Gunter and Enoch Thompson.

To those who heard the very instructive lecture last evening, "The Story of Printing Ink," given by W. E. Sharpe, Toronto, of the Canada Printing Ink Company, a bottle of the fountain pen will have a romance about it in future. The uses of ink, its source and its manufacture were amply demonstrated by excellent slides, many of which were full of familiar scenes.

The auditorium of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. Ltd., was unanimously agreed by those present. The interesting nature of the lecture was not realized by the citizens, or it would have been more largely patronized. There was not a dull moment during the short hour and one-quarter that it took to show 72 slides and briefly explain them. E. Allan Schofield moved the vote of thanks to the speaker and P. L. McCafferty seconded Mr. Schofield's remarks.

Bayard Stilwell presided. Gordon Flewelling showed the pictures with his lantern. The lecturer opened with a prologue from Ruskin and then proceeded to show the uses of ink, its many colors and its possibilities in its ability to transfer the thoughts of men to the world.

Mr. Sharpe told of and showed on the screen the source of supply of the oil and colors and other ingredients and the processes through which it went before it was ready for the market. He also described the various uses of the product in the many branches of the printer's art, all in very entertaining manner. Naturally there was a large attendance and the lecturer had to admit that they had things to learn from the Canadian establishments.

JAPAN AND CHINA STAND TOGETHER

Geneva, Sept. 25.—Indications that the Far Eastern countries, especially China and Japan, will stand together in insisting upon all their rights before the League of Nations, was furnished by tonight's session of the League of Nations. Japan came out squarely in favor of granting China a seat on the council of the League as a great Asiatic power, thus giving expression to Japan-Chinese solidarity.

Persia also backed China's insistence that the great geographical divisions of the world, the principal races and the chief sources of wealth should all be recognized in the distribution of council seats, and urged that China be given a seat because Asia is the largest country in the world, containing half the human race.

SEVERAL CLASHES MARK PROGRESS OF LABEL ACTION

Protests, Objections and Arguments Take Up Much of Court Time.

MORE EVIDENCE

Variety of Cases in Which Plaintiff Took Part are Referred To.

Fredericton, Sept. 25.—The nerves of counsel in the Hanson-Gleener libel case appear to have become somewhat frayed. A good deal of today's proceedings consisted of protests and objections and arguments which at times were acrimonious. On one occasion Dr. Taylor called the judge's attention to a remark by Dr. Baxter which His Honor conceded was not altogether warranted, and Dr. Baxter on another occasion told Mr. Jones he knew very well he should not pursue a certain line of questioning. The legal atmosphere was at times much heated.

Counsel for the defence continue to call witnesses and have more to come. Despite the wrangling a good deal of evidence was put in today touching not only the Nevins case but several others which the Gleener connected with the name of Mr. Hanson. Both sexes were represented and the probe was steadily applied by Mr. Jones and Dr. Taylor in an effort to get evidence to sustain the Gleener's case. The court room was crowded all day and a large number of people stood throughout the afternoon, so keen were they to hear the trial of the case.

Afternoon Session.

When court resumed in the afternoon the examination of Mrs. Harris was continued by Mr. Jones, C. His Honor disallowed the conversation with Mr. Fleming, as objected to by Dr. Baxter. Mrs. Harris said she communicated conversation to Mr. Hughes. He had sent for her. It was before the election. She got word the money was there for her. She received the check, Mrs. Jones asked if there were any votes in her family. Dr. Baxter objected. The question was allowed subject to objection. Mrs. Harris said there were her own and her son's and daughter's votes. She had always been Conservative. Dr. Baxter objected to the question as to how the family voted in the election referred to. How could Mrs. Harris know? His Honor said he thought she would know, and allowed the question subject to objection. Mrs. Harris said her son and daughter voted for Mr. Osborne, and there was general laughter. The witness was then allowed to step down.

The Merrifield Case.

James J. Merrifield was next sworn. He recalled a letter from McLellan and Hughes to him about the Camp Bros. affair. He consulted Mr. Hanson in his office. There was a horse for the death of which he was held responsible. He paid Mr. Hanson $5. Mr. Hanson said he wanted to fight it and he said he wasn't responsible for the death of the horse. Mr. Hanson said he would write McLellan and Hughes and he (Merrifield) need not take any further trouble about it. This was in 1918. Then in February, 1922, he was again brought on by Mr. Hanson's office. The case came up for trial and he engaged Mr. Melliday to act for him. Dr. Baxter witness said he thought he showed Mr. Hanson the letter from McLellan and Hughes and said he was not responsible for the death of the horse. Dr. Baxter showed a letter written by Mr. Hanson, and asked if witness expected to get that written for less than five dollars. Witness said no writ had then been issued against him. He was not surprised that Mr. Hanson should forget about having ever seen him before. Nobody from the Gleener had ever sought information from him about the case.

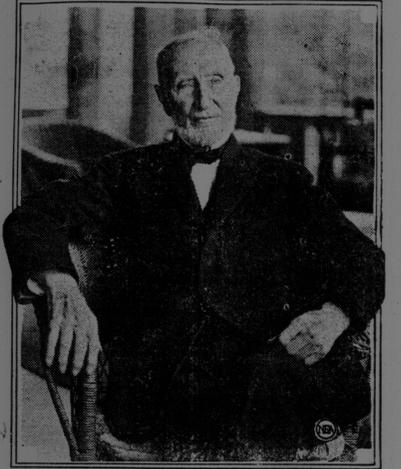

Documents Missing.

C. Fred Chestnut was next sworn and examined by Mr. Jones. He is city treasurer and clerk of Fredericton and has access to the records. He had seen a minute of council regarding the Harris case. He did not find on the files any correspondence between the city clerk and Mr. Hanson regarding this case. He could only find a minute relating to the Harris case. There were no original letters on file that he could find. He was not positive there were none, but the minute he produced was all he had been able to find. He did not look to see if there were any original letters on file relating to a Jones claim against the city.

A Woman Testifies.

Mrs. Alice Tompkins was next sworn and examined by Mr. Jones. She said she was a stenographer in Mr. Hanson's office last November and stayed till the first of February. Miss White and Miss Anderson were there and Mr. Hanson called them in on one occasion telephoning about the Nevins case but did not charge her mind with it. She did not know to whom he was talking. She was not paying attention and could not recall the conversation. Someone had called Mr. Hanson on the phone. She did not know whether a call had been put in for Mr. Hanson. She knew a change was made in the Nevins decree. The telephone conversation contained something she thought about Dr. Allen and

"UNCLE JOE'S" AUTUMN DAYS

"Uncle Joe" Cannon is thinking about the presidential campaign as he sits on his front porch in Danville, Ill., these autumn days. And his mind goes back through the years to others even more bitter. But this time "Uncle Joe" is out of the fight. His life is facing like the autumn leaves.

Dr. Doherty. She could not say whether it was before or after this she heard of the change in the decree. She would say the interdiction in the copy of the decree shown her was in Mr. Hanson's writing. To Mr. Hughes witness said she did not remember any talk about an application to amend the Nevins decree. She could not fix the date of the telephone conversation. Somebody called up Mr. Hanson. She thought it was in the morning. She would not swear she heard the name Nevins mentioned. Something that was said conveyed the impression to her that this was the subject the conversation. Dr. Allen's name was mentioned. She would say the change in the copy of the decree was in Mr. Hanson's handwriting.

Court then adjourned.

BUY-AT-HOME PLAN IS ENDORSED BY RETAIL MERCHANTS

Also Want Government Action Against Smuggling—Officers Elected.

Moncton, Sept. 25.—C. C. Hayward, of Moncton, general manager of the Leamington Company, Ltd., Moncton, was this afternoon elected president of the New Brunswick Retail Merchants' Association at the closing session of their conference, succeeding A. Ernest Everett, of St. John, who was appointed to the position of honorary president.

The convention by resolution placed itself unanimously behind the buy-at-home and Maritime-made goods campaign; asked that the Dominion board make up with the Government the problem of smuggling, with the view to finding a remedy; requested the provincial board to try first and if they were not successful, to approach the Government for assistance in enforcing the early closing law of the provinces, and by still another resolution left to be taken up with the local branches of the association in those localities, where a weekly half holiday is observed during the summer, the question of having the day for closing the stores in every place. This action was taken after a recommendation from wholesalers whose travelers experience considerable difficulty in selling on the holidays and in many cases have to make big jumps and then double back on their territory because of closing day being different in different localities.

Officers Elected.—The first election of officers after the closing of the convention, which resulted as follows: Hon. President, A. E. Everett, St. John. Association, C. C. Hayward, Moncton. First vice-president, C. R. Wasson, St. John. Second vice-president, C. H. Burt, Fredericton. Treasurer, H. E. Hunt, St. John.

The following advisory board was submitted by the nominations committee, and later approved by the executive: St. John, J. H. Vaughan, William Hawker, A. N. McLean, H. C. Smythe, M. E. Grass, S. C. Webb, Harry Warwick, J. H. Marr, P. S. Thomas, Horace Brown, F. W. Daniel, A. E. Everett, Harold Ring, H. H. Scovill, H. E. Magnusson, David Magee, F. A. Dykeman; Fredericton, C. A. Burt, J. J. Weidner, Joseph Walker, C. W. Hall, A. N. Wright; Moncton, A. E. McSweeney, R. P. Dickson, T. B. Price, W. L. Cresshan, Lorne Colpitts; Sussex, T. S. Creed, Gordon McKay; St. Stephen, W. G. DeWolfe, Roy Hill, H. E. Beck; Chatham, H. B. McDonald; Campbellton, A. McLean; Joseph Piercy, Alex. Sten; Woodstock, Robert Strain, G. Newnam, J. B. True; Harvey, W. W. Smith; Newcastle, James Staples; St. Andrews, A. A. Shirley.

At a subsequent meeting of the executive, Mrs. E. B. Award was elected secretary. The following were appointed delegates to the Dominion Board: Past President, A. E. Everett, President, C. C. Hayward, C. R. Wasson, H. E. Hunt and F. W. Daniel, W. G. DeWolfe was appointed the representative of New Brunswick on the Dominion executive council; J. H. Marr was appointed auditor.

C. C. Hayward, the newly elected president, on assuming the chair, thanked the retailers for the confidence they had placed in him. He felt that they unless there is a market for their product, we cannot enjoy their patronage to the fullest extent possible. The third resolution, moved by H. W. Rising and seconded by H. E. Magnusson, was adopted as follows: Resolved, that the early closing law be brought before the incoming executive, and that pressure be brought to bear that this law may be enforced. Resolution No. 4 was moved by H. H. Scovill, seconded by M. E. Grass and passed, as follows: That as it has lately come to our notice that wholesale firms in our province are continually being solicited for advertising by other provincial boards for programmes, souvenir books, etc., we request the Dominion board and Dominion executive council to consider this matter with an idea of each province soliciting advertisements from their own wholesale firms and manufacturers only.

The fifth resolution was adopted as follows on motion of H. H. Scovill: Whereas, a request has been made to our board by the wholesale trade and many members of our own association to have those localities supporting a half-holiday weekly closing during the summer to have that half-holiday on the same day throughout the province, we request our executive to take the matter up with the executive of the local branches.

Resolutions of appreciation for the work of the retiring officers, particularly the retiring president, A. E. Everett, and treasurer, Allan A. McIntyre; the press, including The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star, St. John; the Moncton Transcript and the Moncton News; E. M. Towern, secretary of the Dominion Retail Merchants' Association; to the Moncton branch of the association for their hospitality; and to the Mayor and City Council of Moncton for the use of their council rooms for the convention, were unanimously adopted.

VISITOR IS HONOR GUEST. Mrs. W. K. Mackay, who with her husband, Rev. W. K. Mackay, Presbyterian minister of Little River, N. S., visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Akerley, Bridge street, was the honor guest last night at a very pleasant social evening given by Mrs. Lester Mowry at her home, 9 Metalf street. Mrs. Mowry was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Clarence E. Harrison. Those present included Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Cameron, Mrs. James Dever, Mrs. Gilman Armstrong, Mrs. L. Murray, Mrs. Oti-Mullin, Mrs. John Amour, Mrs. G. Neal, Mrs. E. McKelvie, Mrs. Leonard Spence, Mrs. O. J. Marvin, Miss Frances Murdoch, Miss Irene O'Connor, Miss Bertha Roberts and Miss Florence Crank.

The selection of the place for the next convention was left to the incoming executive. The following resolution was moved by S. C. Webb, of St. John, seconded by E. W. Daniel, and passed: Whereas, a large number of cases have been called to our notice where goods are constantly being smuggled into Canada from the United States, and we consider that proper provision should be made by the Government to prevent same and that it be again recommended from this convention that this be taken up by the executive officers of the Dominion board; also the executive officers of our board and that they be urged to devise some method whereby this matter will receive prompt and active attention.

The second resolution was moved by David Magee and seconded by M. E. Grass and passed, as follows: Resolved, that we, the New Brunswick branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Inc., go on record as heartily supporting of the principles of buying from Maritime jobbers and buying Maritime-made goods when possible, price and quality being equal. And be it further resolved, that we strongly urge every member of our association to render the fullest support to the "Buy-at-Home and Maritime-Made" campaign, already endorsed by our provincial board, the Board of Trade and many other organizations. We realize that the workers of the Maritimes are our customers and that

Beatty Will Make St. John Attractive Convention City

ST. JOHN CITIZEN, HOME FROM QUEBEC, MUCH IMPRESSED

Tells of Insurance Gathering Spending Quarter Million in Two Weeks.

NUMBERED 2,000.

R. S. Sime Sees Big Possibilities for St. John With New Hotel.

An impressive demonstration of the value to a city of a fine, big hotel was afforded recently in Quebec to R. S. Sime, who returned yesterday after a three-weeks' trip to Quebec and Ontario. Interviewed by The Times-Star on the matter, Mr. Sime said: "During my brief stay in Quebec, one of the largest insurance companies from all parts of Canada and the United States were holding their annual convention at the Chateau Frontenac, with 2,000 members attending. So large was the attendance that the convention was split into two parts, 1,000 attending one week and the remainder coming on the following week. That made 1,000 men there daily for 14 days.

A convention of this magnitude, you can readily see, means a great deal to a city in an advertising way. Representatives from practically every port worth mentioning from Cape Breton to British Columbia and from Maine to California were present. Having a little spare time, I sat down while there to figure out roughly what that convention meant to the city in dollars and cents, apart altogether from its advertising value, and it amazes me to realize what was spent during that period.

"First of all, there were rooms to pay for. Say they would average at least $3 a day. Some would run as high as $15. Then there were meals, which can be set down at the conservative estimate of $6 a day. Tips figure quite largely in the matter, and at least $1 was spent a day in that way. Cab fare and car fare might be put down at 50 cents a day—a very conservative estimate. Not being a prohibition person, liquors were sold, and I think you can set that down at last $2 a day each man. You can safely figure that at least $3 a day was spent by each man for magazines, newspapers, and other incidentals. Based on 1,000 guests, that totaled up means an outlay by the convention of $250,000 a day. The hotel had the amount would run up to $125,000, and for the two weeks it would pretty nearly total a million dollars.

I learned, also, that another convention would occupy the hotel the two weeks following, which would bring a total outlay up to nearly a half a million dollars a month. I think you will agree with me that the figures I have quoted are very conservative.

"One of the very good features of this press of business," Mr. Sime continued, "is the fact that, instead of lessening the trade of other hotels in town, it did just the opposite and increased business. The overflow had to be taken care of in some manner, and I found you could not get a room at the other first-class hotels in the city. That, to my mind, is a factor not lightly overlooked, and in discussing this subject with me in telling me that the Chateau Frontenac made for Quebec its fine reputation as a convention city through the facilities offered for gatherings of this kind, and plenty of aggressive advertising.

The Admiral Beatty.

"From these few facts, it can readily be seen how necessary a big hotel is to a growing city. It is my humble opinion that when St. John has the Admiral Beatty in operation it will become as popular a convention city as Quebec and other places. We possess near as a historic background and scenery unsurpassed even in Quebec, and with fast and comfortable steamship and railway connections with Boston and other cities of the eastern United States, we will be able to cater to a bigger tourist trade than ever before. The Admiral Beatty means a great deal to St. John's future."

OLD FRIENDS MEET.

Old times in New Brunswick were recalled to Stephen H. Brown of St. Paul, Minn., by the visit of W. E. Scully, M. L. A., to that place. Mr. Scully and Mr. Brown were former fellow employees of the old Grand Southern Railway, and worked together for some years. Forty years ago Mr. Brown removed to the United States and has resided there since. Mr. Brown, writing to friends here, expressed his intention of soon paying a visit to his native province, and possibly locating here for the rest of his life.

Irish Boundary Dispute

The above map is from a recent issue of the London Daily Telegraph. It enables a clear idea to be formed of the present boundary dispute between the Government of Northern Ireland and of the Irish Free State. It shows the three counties of Donegal, Londonderry, and Tyrone, which were under the Act of 1920, and the counties of Down and Antrim, which were under the Free State. It also shows the north-east corner of the Free State, which is claimed by the Government of Northern Ireland, and the north-west corner of the Free State, which is claimed by the Government of Northern Ireland. The north-east corner of the Free State is the area which is the subject of the present dispute. The north-west corner of the Free State is the area which is the subject of the present dispute.

BRITISH PREMIER IS EXPERIENCING DIFFICULT TIME

Far From Robust, Problems of Day Cause Him to Age.

By G. F. GRANDALL (British United Press.) London, Sept. 26.—The life of a British Prime Minister is never cast along easy lines, but Ramsay MacDonald is finding the post peculiarly difficult just now. Not only is his health far from robust but he has aged considerably since he assumed office and is still called upon to face trouble both in his own Cabinet and without, as well as unsettled vexed problems abroad that might daunt any man. The rank and file of the party are disconcerted at the general behavior of Thomas Henderson and will try to get a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Labor Party next month denouncing him.

Will Face Attacks.

When Parliament meets MacDonald will have to face attacks on the Anglo-Russian treaty and on Wheatley's measure, designed to stop profiteering in building material, and on the Indian policy of the Government, besides getting the Irish boundary bill through.

MUST ENGLAND FIGHT AGAIN OVER THE SOUDAN?

Egyptian Extremists are Claiming Vast Territory
—History Repeated.

(United Press.)

London, Sept. 26.—War in the defense of its political opponents' imperialistic schemes is the prospect facing Labor Premier Ramsay MacDonald unless Egyptian extremists abandon their claims to domination in the Sudan. He has declared roundly that in no circumstances will Britain surrender the Sudan to Egyptians who claim that this vast territory is properly part of ancient Egypt.

One thing pacifists can console themselves with, is that there is no question of "self-determination" in the present row. The Sudanese are not claiming self-government, and in fact, are very well contented under the present system of British administration, which affords them protection from savage raiding tribes in the south, east, and west, as well as from their former grafting taskmasters in the north—Egypt.

Nationalist Claims.

The trouble is that Egyptian nationalists, exulting over their recent attainment of self-government (Egypt is now virtually independent, except that Britain retains control over the Suez Canal zone, and hence foreign alliances likely to endanger the canal route to India) have laid a claim to the vast and fertile country in the south, a nation resurrected from a chaos of blood, savagery and misery, by British bayonets, and British money.

The Sudan is certainly a prize any nation might covet, and its financial, commercial and agricultural prosperity would be of the utmost value for replenishing Egypt's empty treasury. The Egyptians contend that it was formerly part of Egypt and anyway, the Nationalists object to having a British-controlled administration and British bayonets in their "rear," with the possibility that Britain might demand a right of way through Egypt for the reinforcement, or movement of her military forces in the Sudan.

Claim Not Countenanced.

The British contention is that Egypt has no sort of claim to the Sudan, and that when the Egyptians were nominally rulers of the country, they were quite unable, and did not even try to run the country decently. They encouraged, and permitted Abyssinians and other neighboring races to raid, murder and loot at will. Such a plague spot of murder, robbery, brutality and bestiality has rarely existed on the borders of civilization as the Sudan under Egyptian rule, prior to British taking control.

British "empire-builders" who had taken over the government of Egypt to safeguard the Suez Canal, pushed their out-posts into the desert, increased navigation facilities on the Nile, and by a system of dams and irrigation turned an arid wilderness into a fertile country.

Chaos Again.

The British were putting down slave-raiding by Egyptians and others alike—and were establishing a sense of security among the population, when a wave of religious fanaticism swept up from the south and the Arabs, Bedouins, and other Moslems under Mohammed-el-Mahdi fell upon Khartoum, then the administrative capital of the Sudan, and reduced everything to chaos again.

Gordon ("that great Christian soldier and administrator") was betrayed by his bodyguard and assassinated, and Khartoum surrendered before the arrival of the British relieving force under General Wakeley. That England believed she had a duty to the unfortunate Sudanese was shown when even such a Liberal pacifist as Gladstone, then Premier of England, did not hesitate to embark on war. Gladstone moved too late however, and with the fall of Khartoum in January, 1885, the Mahdi's fanatical and bloodthirsty followers worked their will on the wretched country for 13 years. Hundreds of thousands of the inhabitants were sold into slavery, robbed, tortured and murdered. The Sudan reverted to the dark ages, and Egypt never made the slightest attempt to remedy matters. Kitchener Wins Out.

Twelve years' methodical planning by Kitchener saw the gradual reconquest of the Sudan and in 1898 the Mahdi's followers were finally overthrown at Amdurman, and Khartoum recaptured.

The iron hand of "Kitchener of Khartoum" stamped out slave-trading to the uttermost edges of the deserts and with a firm government installed, British brains and British capital brought the country to a state of prosperity such as it had never enjoyed in the palmiest days of the absolute sway of the Pharaohs.

Sudanese Prosper.

The Sudanese, once relieved of the fear of slave-raiders, and robbery, proved themselves intelligent and energetic people, and with their savings and property outside the clutch of Turkish and Egyptian grafters, they prospered amazingly. The real Sudanese has the utmost contempt for the taskmasters, and has not the slightest desire to be handed over to his former taskmasters.

There is a small "Soudan for the Sudanese" agitation proceeding at present, but it is largely feilicious and engineered by Egyptian extremists. The Sudanese might like to govern themselves but they realize that they are not up to the job of maintaining the present prosperous condition of the country on their own and they prefer British administration to Egyptian, Turkish or Arab domination.

To Negotiate.

Macdonald, when he was the victim of an assassin's attack, sustaining a wound which has necessitated a long convalescence in Egypt and France. The negotiations will be opened this fall some time after Macdonald's return from Geneva, but there is no indication that any party in England will sanction the handing over of the Sudan to Egyptian rule. Recently disturbances were engineered in different parts of the Sudan by Egyptian agitators but were promptly suppressed by British and Sudanese troops. Some Egyptian troops mutinied and were shot down by the Sou-dane battalions under British officers. Egyptian troops were thereupon packed back to Egypt and the British government issued a stern warning to the Cairo government that Egypt would be held responsible for any recurrence of disorder.

The British commander-in-chief in the Sudan is Major-General Sir Lee Stack, and he has the powerful support of Field-Marshal Viscount Allenby, British Agent-General and High Commissioner at Cairo.

Huge Commercial Stake.

Apart from humanitarian motives, Britain has a huge commercial stake in the Sudan, and, for one thing alone, they expect to make the Sudan one of the greatest cotton-growing countries in the world, thus rendering the British Empire independent of American cotton supplies.

Some banks take special precautions against "sleepers." They have an elaborate system of keeping tabs on their depositors, and query them when there has been no movement in an account for a certain length of time, either to increase it or draw it down. It is the duty of all banks, under the law, to "seek diligently" for the rightful owners of such funds, aside from attending to the newer and more profitable accounts themselves.

find them. Sometimes children get hold of them, and sometimes the depositors draw the principal, forgetting the interest due. In the case of checking accounts, the depositor may make an error in figuring his balance or a check may be lost in transit. And there are, of course, cases of amnesia, of shipwreck or sudden death in accidents, of insanity, murder and intentional disappearance.

Some of the unclaimed deposits represent burial funds. Persons who have an acute horror of the Potter's Field provide small sums against the day of their death, and then either forget them or forget to make proper provision that they shall be used. And there are cases probably where sheer ignorance is to blame. But there are others, where husbands are "holding out" on their wives, or wives on their husbands, or where widows are concealing from their children the fact that they have a little money, lest the children fail to support them. After every war there is an increase in such accounts. Any catastrophe, such as a flood, a disastrous fire, great loss of life in a railroad accident or at sea, may leave in its wake a dumb and unsearchable ledger entry.

GIVE $50 TO SCHOOL FOR BLIND
The sum of $50 was voted as a gift to the funds of the Maritime School for the Blind, Halifax, by Loyalist Temple Pythian Sisters at the meeting of the temple in Main street last night when Mrs. Myles Saunders, M. E. C., presided. An initiation ceremony was conducted for a new member, Mrs. Jennie Little and the degree staff was heartily congratulated on the excellent manner in which the ceremony was carried through. Plans were made for October and various committees were appointed. Mrs. George Andrews was named as general convener, with Mrs. Brennan and Mrs. Welsford as assistants.

CASE DISMISSED.
In the police court yesterday morning before Acting Magistrate Henneberry, Woody Kane, a sailor on the steamer Deer Lodge, was fined $50 for having liquor in his possession. It was shown in evidence that Kane who was a passenger in an automobile driven by Percy C. Cox, had liquor in his possession. Cox was reported for operating a taxi-cab without holding a license. The case was continued until the afternoon when Acting Magistrate Henneberry decided that the evidence was not strong enough against Cox and the case was dismissed. A. B. Gilbert appeared for Mr. Cox.

BANK ACCOUNT OWNERS VANISH

Unclaimed Millions Now Lying in Vaults of New York Institutions.
In the banking world the Port of Missing Men bears the prosaic appellation of "unclaimed deposits," writes Silas Bent in an interesting article in the New York Times. The State of New York alone has about 30,000 such accounts, most of them in Manhattan and Brooklyn. Their aggregate value is supposed to run above $2,000,000. That a nation constantly berated for its commercialism, and a state where commercialism is at its deepest flood, should present such a phenomenon is singular. What makes people forget that they have money in the bank? How do accounts lapse? Do all these stolid ledger entries, some of them a century old, spell sudden deaths or mysterious disappearances? Some, probably, but not all of them. In the cases of deposits still unclaimed there is no way of telling. The Bank of Manhattan Company, for instance, still carries on its books the name of Johanna Murphy, once a partner in the institution, for she owned a share of its stock. She died or disappeared in 1824, and there are to her credit 185 dividends on her stock, amounting to $469.99. When she bought the share— or received it as a gift—a century ago, its par value was $50. What its market value was there is no way of telling. But in July, 1922, the bank declared a stock dividend, so that the heirs of Johanna Murphy are now entitled to two shares of a par value of $50 each, but of a market value of $320.

At the downtown offices of the bank, W. A. Rush, the cashier, said the other day that several claims had been made for this stock. They were made, however, by white persons, whereas Johanna Murphy was colored. Margaret Jenkins, Thomas O'Keefe and Henry Moss are others who held stock in the bank and have disappeared, the latest of them in 1892. The fate of these persons, and of the thousands who allowed their accounts to become "sleepers," as they are called, cannot even be guessed. But in those cases traced to legitimate heirs some incidents odd and some tragic have been disclosed. One hard-working woman who came into the possession of several thousand dollars was so upset that she took to drink and became a confirmed tippler.

Unwilling to Take Money.

There was the case, on the other hand, of a wealthy man who was notified that he had allowed a small balance at a downtown bank to lie idle for more than a year. He denied it. He denied that he ever forgot a business matter. He said there must be another person of the same name. He denied even his signature when it was exhibited to him on the bank's card index. But after the lapse of several years, when this depositor was notified that the amount had grown to more than a thousand dollars, he thought better of it, and admitted that in the press of other matters. . . . And there was the case of a manufacturer who gave his business at another bank simply as a "turner." He was killed in an accident, his business went to pieces and his widow lost her mind. The children were sent to Randall's Island, adopted into various families and widely scattered. An attorney for the bank began poring over old city directories, charity organization books, police blotters, headstones in cemeteries, deeds and other public records. The spelling of the family name had been changed here and there. Sometimes the children had taken the

RALLY WILL BEGIN SEASON'S WORK

At the meeting of the joint board of the Ekmoth street Methodist church and last night estimates for the year were submitted and adopted and various committees were appointed and arrangements completed for the season's work. Rev. E. E. Styles, the pastor, presided. It was decided that the season's activities should open with a men's supper on Oct. 3, with Sunday school rallies on Oct. 5, and with the Young People's Society opening its work with a social and citizenship meeting the following night. For the Wednesday night of the rally there was to be a praise service with an address by Rev. A. E. McLeod, of the Carmarthen street church, and for the Thursday night a congregational social was planned. The rally was to conclude on Sunday, Oct. 12, when Rev. G. B. MacDonald of the Victoria street Baptist church was to preach in the morning and the pastor at night, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper being celebrated at the close of the evening service ending the rally.

Here is a new way for all fat people to reduce. A new way to rid yourself easily and quickly of the burdensome weight you carry.

EUGENE LEPAGE GIVES TANLAC FULL CREDIT

Stomach Trouble Vanishes and Montreal Man Gains 14 lbs. on 4 Bottles.

"Since I began taking this wonderful Tanlac, I seem to be getting younger every day. I have gained 14 lbs. on four bottles and everybody speaks about how well I look."

"The above statement was made by Eugene Lepage, proprietor Prince of Wales barber shop, Montreal, Canada, one of the most exclusive tonorial parlors in this city. Mr. Lepage further said:

"Stomach trouble had almost completely wrecked my health. I was mere shadow of my former self and so run-down and nervous I thought I would have to give up my work."

"Tanlac soon had me eating everything, sleeping like a log at night and feeling as fine as one could ask to feel. My only regret is that I did not learn about Tanlac long before I did."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold."

CANDIDATES HOLD MORE MEETINGS

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 25.—C. P. Hickey, Northumberland's advocate of a maritime rights, addressed a large meeting at Bale St. Anne last night.

Four meetings were held in the interests of W. B. Snowball, the Liberal candidate. At lower Newcastle and Barriehook the speakers were J. K. Loggie, W. F. Cassidy, F. M. Tweedie and C. J. Morrissey, M.L.A., while the electors of Kent, Shelburne and Portage River heard Senator Turgeon, J. L. Robichaux, M. P.; G. P. Burchill and W. B. Snowball. All these meetings were well attended and the speakers were listened to with a great degree of interest.

COURT CASES IN RESTIGOUCHE

Dalhousie, Sept. 25.—The adjourned August sessions of the Restigouche Circuit Court which were held on Tuesday, Mr. Justice LeBlanc presiding, $220 was awarded the plaintiff, with county court costs, in the pulpwood case of Hiram W. Arsenault, et al., versus John Weyers vs Sydney Lumber Company, involving some $5,000, was postponed as the new judge was the solicitor on the record for the defendant company.

Three boys ranging in age from 12 to 14 years, were arrested on Sunday on a charge of stealing from the Loggie store. They were taken to Campbellton, where they were given a preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Matheson, who sent them up for trial. Arrangements have been made for these cases to come under the Speedy Trial Act. J. Alan LeBlanc will act as counsel for the defendants.

It is rumored that Hon. Charles H. La Biliotte is likely to be the choice of the Liberal convention which will soon be called for the purpose of naming a successor to A. T. LeBlanc, who has recently been elevated to the Supreme Court bench. Mr. La Biliotte has a splendid record to the credit of his political activities in the past and he is a most popular man with people of all creeds.

The vote which was taken on Thursday to decide whether the citizens wished a reservoir to be built near the pumping station on the hill, showed decidedly that no reservoir was desired.

A party of C. N. R. officials were in town on Wednesday looking over the much discussed summer hotel site. Nothing definite was decided.

GIVEN SHOWER. On Thursday evening friends of Miss Doris McNutt gathered at the home of Mrs. McNutt, 183 St. James street, and tendered a novelty shower to the guest of honor. A gaily decorated cart, well laden with gifts, was brought into the room by Master Gordon McAdam and presented to Miss McNutt by Mrs. Theodore Vallis, in a neat speech. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and music. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. James Lamb, Mrs. Frank Lodge and Mrs. Anna Parks.

In early days Rome was the centre for barter and horse-trading. No one has ever been able to decipher the Etruscan alphabet.

MEETING THE CANADIAN BUFFALO

host of this fine Canadian citizen and his amiable wife.

What are the years? Scully sturdily clung to New Brunswick.

His reward is in a moderate prosperity and the affection of a whole and some enterprising family; a contribution to society to merit the pride he feels in his happy children and grandchildren. His own life has been an example of courage and thrift to inspire those who follow.

The balmy autumn climate of Minnesota may create in human hearts a yearning to linger here, but the love of home and the lure of lifelong associations have a stronger pulling power. Scully is homesick.

And his presence in Minnesota has added to the heart of his old companion a subtle longing for boyhood scenes and youthful contacts with relatives and friends.

How swiftly they shot by! We who have drawn away from New Brunswick have not totally severed the ties of fellowship. The murmuring voice of kinship calls like the whispering words of the wilderness and Nature fans the smouldering flame of hope that sustains humanity in that heathenness of the soul so graphically expressed by Scott: "Breathes there a man with soul so dead—"

At his home in West St. John yesterday it was reported that Mr. Scully was doing fine and his doctors were well pleased. Mr. Scully's health has also improved a great deal since she went to St. Paul.

With fall days approaching, the Main family gave a thought to "putting up" fruit for the winter" and getting the cellar in shape.

It was surprising how much junk had gathered during the summer; boxes in which vegetables had been placed; odds and ends left by the youngsters. All men and women, each year regain healthy, slender figures this way. You do not take of your excess flesh in this same pleasant manner. No real food is put after each meal and before you are in a very short time you are a slimmer, shapely figure.

Remember air from the cellar permeates the house and be careful that you do not breathe in the air. Give the cellar a weekly inspection to make certain no decayed matter or dirty refuse has gathered.

Get the coal bins cleaned out now that the furnace is in use. Be certain that the furnace pipes are cleaned out before winter sets in.

Ball Problems By Billy Evans

QUESTIONS. 1. There are runners on first and third. The batter hits a ball to the second baseman. Runner going from first to second interferes with the play and ball goes to right field. Runner on first goes to third, batsman reaches second, and runner on third crosses the plate. What is the proper ruling—D. S. A.

ST. PAUL BOXER HAD HARD LUCK

Reason Why Tom Gibbons Has Not Won a Championship.

New York, Sept. 25.—(United Press)—Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul boxer, never was a champion and probably never will be one. He was kept back by a very real succession of bad breaks that surely has made him the hard-luck champion, if nothing else.

After Ruth's Record Kraft of Fort Worth Only Player in Baseball With Chance to Top Babe's Home Run Mark.

CLARENCE KRAFT.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 25.—Babe Ruth's home run record of 59, set in 1921, which critics said would stand for all time, may be shattered this year.

And by Clarence "Big Boy" Kraft, first baseman of the Fort Worth Panthers, and home run king of the Texas League.

Going into the game of Sept. 25, Kraft had a total of 38 four-baggers to his credit for the season. On Aug. 26 he shattered the minor league record of 49, set last year by Moses Solomon.

The previous record was 15, set by Perry Warden in 1903.

Kraft, starting from Aug. 25, had 21 games left in which to hit 10 more home runs to break Ruth's record.

For the last two years he has always 10 in the last 20 days of the season. He is at the top of his form right now and his chances of breaking the record are better than ever.

Fort Worth club is raising if he breaks Ruth's record of 59. The fans will not stand for him to be purposely passed and their howl counts some.

Movie Star's Job Cinch? Nix! Says Alice Terry

ALICE TERRY.

Hollywood, Sept. 25.—Every girl knows, through much publicity on the subject, how difficult it is to get into motion pictures. But every girl probably presumes that, once over the barrier, there comes a time when the so-called actress is secure, "sits pretty," has her own way, is mistress of her professional fate.

For public consumption, and to "save face" for celebrated players, this is "conceded" by producers who pay the salaries.

Actually, with exception of not more than half a dozen actors, the star is never more than a high priced employe, subject to as many orders as the rear-rank private of an army.

"Being an actress," says Alice Terry, beautiful wife of Rex Ingram, the director, and a star in her own right, "is not much different from being a stenographer, milliner or bookkeeper."

"The only 'independence' she has is what she claims in a magazine or newspaper interview."

Because of her station, Alice Terry should have special privileges in motion pictures, if anyone has them. She should claim them now when for the first time in years she is playing in a picture not produced by her husband.

"The Great Divide," being made by Reginald Barker for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

But, witness her attitude toward her work and its exactions in these fragments of an interview, spoken without complaint, merely a brief recitative of the film fact:

to devote all his time to writing and directing. He went to Milwaukee to play the title role in "The Fall Guy" for two weeks so that he would be better qualified to direct the play. Now he has decided to play the role for eight weeks on Broadway.

Craven will direct "Pigs," a comedy by Anne Morrison and Patterson McNutt. Nydia Westman and Wallace Ford, new to Broadway, will head the cast.

"Foot's Hill," Craven's own play, recently opened in Milwaukee, and will move to New York as soon as the humidity recedes.

First of the spook plays will be "The Haunted House," by Owen Davis, author of "The Nervous Wreck." It is a companion to that piece. It will be followed by "The Green Beetle," produced by Kilbourn Gordon, who was responsible for "The Cat and the Canary."

Another "most beautiful woman in Paris" has been found. She is Amazar, who has arrived to appear in the next edition of the Greenwich Village Follies. She is a grand opera artist.

Queenie Smith and Jack Donahue will be featured in "Be Yourself," Kaufman and Connelly's new musical comedy. G. P. Huntley, English comedian, will also be in the cast. Carl Randall is staging the dancing numbers.

D. B. MACMILLAN TELLS ABSORBING TALE OF ESKIMOS

(Continued from page 9.) "They are very superstitious about death occurring in the house. They will not live in any house that death has visited. And so the dying man is taken to some wooden shack and left there to die. Sometimes if a woman in childbirth appears to be dying they will take her out, too, with the temperature at thirty, forty or fifty below zero and leave her in some shack, probably to die."

Belief in Futures. "They believe there are two other worlds—an upper and a lower world, and that when they think of the upper world as hell and the lower world as heaven. The reason for that is that it is cold above and warm below, and to have warmth is to have a very great and rare reward."

"Although they sleep together on mats with a covering of caribou skins their houses are well ventilated, and until recently they did not suffer from tuberculosis. But the flu reached there and to have warmth is to have a very great and rare reward."

"The white man has also brought him wood. To the Eskimo wood is more precious than gold. The largest trees in the north are no more than two inches high. Those are dwarf birches. The grass is taller than the trees. But the Eskimo must have wood for his harpoon and his kayaks or boats. Without wood they have to make their harpoons out of ivory and attach an inflated bladder of the narwhal to them to keep them afloat. Otherwise every time an Eskimo threw his harpoon he would lose it. I have also seen kayaks made of as many as ninety pieces of wood most ingeniously bound together with sealskin thongs."

"We found coal in Ellesmere Land, but the Eskimo has never used it. They did not know it would burn. Then we showed them a coal fire. One family went to the coal deposits, but they were astrophysicists, the Eskimo and some were killed. Now they will not touch it. Probably those coal deposits are too far north ever to be exploited."

"We picked seventy varieties of flowers in the Arctic. It may be a matter of interest to say that there are 770 different flowers in the Arctic circle. They blossom on the very edge of the snow. We also grew radishes, lettuce and spinach under glass on the deck of the Bowdoin within twelve degrees of the Pole."
