WHAT THE HOUSEWIFE SAYS

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

A spring suit has to be got in advance of spring, for the American climate has no compunction about turning February into June over night. Preparedness is the watchword in clothes. It pays. The seller can keep his sales going by this slogan and the buyer can keep her wardrobe in condition under the same creed.

This quality runs through the 1913. The American nation tries to be weeks ahead of everything and has no regard for actual seasons. It makes fictitious ones.

The getting of a spring suit early in the season has sense behind it. If one purchases a suit in the fall, it is not a suit for the spring, but a suit for the summer. The American nation tries to be weeks ahead of everything and has no regard for actual seasons. It makes fictitious ones.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Welsh Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair. The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

EARLY HINTS MAY MISLEAD

The single disadvantage of getting a coat suit now is that the styles are not here; that is, the new French styles, which the Americans follow after the fact. If March are not. And sometimes this is a serious disadvantage. You may remember the episode of the Le Havre skirt. The sailors late any reference to it, but, after all, they were not to blame. It was a fashion which came out of Paris and was made possible by this madness for being ahead of the season which the Americans show in everything.

The world of women bought pleated skirts in their own spring suits as late as the middle of April and paid all kinds of prices for them, and then in May the narrow skirt came into full bloom and the Americans could do what to discard the lower half of their costumes, match the material and have a new skirt made. It is all very well for the outsider to laugh at such a condition of things and say that women should have more courage, but they have it, and it is better to argue on a fact than a theory. There are few women who feel entirely happy when they are conspicuously out of fashion, and if the world wants to make a joke out of this it would be wise for the women to be a step ahead of the fashion and observe their own lack of courage in other things.

As far as one can see, the narrow skirt is a new fashion. It may be built from two widths only, with seams down the sides; or have an inserted piece of knit fabric between one like it. There is no objection to pleats this year as long as they remain flat and do not add an inch to the evening width. They are stitched down their full length, and do not even lack out when one walks, so that as an element of width they can be overlooked.

Skirts are not so easy as they have been, possibly because the average American woman carries the fashion too far, or too high, whichever you will. Given an inch she took eight of them and had no hesitancy in showing the top of her boots and often an inch of stocking above them. To rebuke her fashion has out the walking skirt down to the instep again, which is a straw showing that the wind is blowing from the quarter of long skirts. The instep length is the waist one for the American woman to follow. It suits her figure and her mode of life, and gives her enough chance to show the best shod feet in the world.

WOMAN CONFESSES "BREAKING INTO" WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION

Washington, Jan. 25.—When Secretary Charles D. Hilles opened the White House mail, he gazed with astonishment on a card frank and free confession from a Washington woman that she had "broken into" the White House reception for years under false colors. Mr. Hilles would not disclose the identity of the writer, whose genuineness, he acknowledged, commanded his admiration. The letter read: "I have been attending the White House reception for years, but I am tired of using some one else's ticket. Will you please send me one for the next reception in my own name?"

The cards admitting guests to the four big affairs of the season, this season, since President-elect Wilson had intimated that the reception would be discontinued during his administration. Every description of subterfuge is resorted to in order to obtain tickets. Last night, however, several letters were cut down, have been scarce than ever before.

DEATH OF E. A. PERKINS

Well Known Citizen, Formerly of Commercial Bank and Later of I. C. R.

The death of Edwin A. Perkins occurred at noon today at his home 137 Sydney street. He was 73 years of age, and one of the best known of St. John's citizens. He was a native of Kings county and previous to entering the government employ in which he has been valued servant for thirty-five years, latterly as I. C. R. storekeeper, he was connected with the staff of the old Commercial Bank.

He was of Loyalist descent, and was an active member of the St. John's (Stone) Church. One son, Thomas E. of W. E. L. Thorne & Co., survives, and two daughters, Misses Helen and Florence at home.

Funeral on Monday afternoon from his late home in Sydney street to St. John's (Stone) church.

FLIES OVER ALPS

Peruvian Aviator Makes Daring Trip Successfully

Domezola, Italy, Jan. 25.—Jean Bielo, a Peruvian aviator, flew from the Swiss Alps from Brig in the Canton of Valais, to this city in less than half an hour today.

Bielo had been waiting since Jan. 9 for favorable weather, in which to undertake the flight. He had been waiting for the same object since the Simplon Pass was taken by his late friend and comrade, Gen. Chaves, in September, 1912. Chaves accomplished the flight from Brig to Domzola on that date, but in landing hurt himself severely, and died from his injuries.

Bielo made an attempt to cross the 6,000 feet, was forced to make a hurried landing owing to a defect in the motor.

CRIMINAL CODE CHANGES

Legislation Against White Slave Traffic—Reports to Commercial Agencies

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Legislation aimed at the suppression of the white slave traffic will be introduced by the government this session by way of amendment to the criminal code.

The clause has not yet been finally drafted, but it will be designed to make more stringent the conviction of those engaged in the business, and will in some degree, remove from the prosecution certain difficult cases heretofore encountered in establishing proof.

The amendment will be along lines suggested by the Moral Reform League. It will probably prevent the miscarriage of justice by appeals from convictions, pending which bail is accepted and forfeited, the party thus escaping actual imprisonment.

People who even indirectly obtain goods by false pretences are to be brought under the operation of the criminal code by an amendment to be introduced by the minister of justice. For instance, a merchant who makes a false report of his affairs to a commercial agency, and who by reason of the report of that concern gets a line of credit from a third party, will be liable.

LABOR MEN FOR STRIKE IN INTEREST OF PEACE

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.—Resolved that the British Columbia Federation of Labor and agree with the principle of the general strike as a means of protesting against and preventing war; and be it further resolved that the convention go on record as advocating universal peace.

This resolution was adopted by the B. C. Federation of Labor.

THE DERRY ELECTION

London, Jan. 25.—Polling in the London derry by-election is expected on January 30. The parties are so evenly balanced that a single death on either side may turn the balance.

So closely watched is the mortality that everybody in town is aware, since the contest began, that three Nationalists have died, and the chances are seriously discussed of the effect on the election of an accident to a Nationalist, by name Slater, who fell from a roof.

BABY WASHED ASHORE; LIVES

Oporto, Jan. 25.—The most remarkable thing about the recent wreck of the Steamship Veronicia is that a ten-month-old baby which was washed ashore wrapped in blankets is alive and well.

The latest computation is that there were forty-four victims in the wreck. These include three and three second class passengers, thirty-three Spanish emigrants, and five members of the crew.

Talk of C. P. R. Tunnel

Sarnia, Ont., Jan. 25.—It has been rumored that the C. P. R. will construct a tunnel under the St. Clair River here and that it will be finished by the time that the rails have reached Sarnia.

The City of London workhouse boasts an inmate who owns a cottage at Canterbury, and presumably rents from it.

GOVERNMENT MAY WITHDRAW FRANCHISE BILL

London, Jan. 25.—The franchise bill may be regarded as dead, and with it the chance of women suffrage being dealt with until the next session of parliament. The only question is whether the government will announce the withdrawal of the bill before or after the division on the amendment of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, eliminating the word "male" from the bill.

RELIGION AND SOCIAL SERVICE BY KENNETH DOUGLAS, B.A., PH.D.

If Christ Came to Your Church Tomorrow

If Christ walked unexpectedly into your church tomorrow, Mr. Preacher, would you deliver the same sermon that you have prepared for the occasion? With His keen but sorrowful eye upon you do you think that the method of delivery would seem so large a thing to you as the message itself. Is it strictly in line with His teachings? Does it convey the rebuke that it should to those who, to your certain knowledge, have been transgressing Christ's teaching during the week? Could you, in His presence, deliver the humorous stories you have so carefully memorized, or relate the personal instances of your own well-doing that you are planning to unfold to your congregation? Do you remember that Christ used parables only to point lessons? I do not know whether or not there were poets before the time of Christ, other than David and Solomon, but I am certain that the Saviour did not build his talks around verses of theirs, neither did he give book reviews when he should have been uttering words of comfort and good cheer. Nor have I ever heard that He took pains to send advance copies of His talks to the Jerusalem Herald.

And you, gentlemen of the board of trustees, or whatever you call yourselves, in your particular form of church, do you believe that if you were honored by Christ's presence among you at your business sessions He would condone the vast sums of money you expend for choirs and singers and cushions and the many other frills your church possesses while your home mission appropriation remains abominably small? It is not a question that you like to answer, or you will say that times have changed. It is true that times have changed, but not the message of Christ. He intended it to be imperishable. He made it practicable because He had a vision beyond the moment and saw the meanness His brother, do you? If you do, why do you deprecate his invasion of your solemnity. Why are you selling your down-town churches and leaving the poor without the Gospel? If you find it necessary, because you have moved your own residences to have your church nearer to you, why not leave the old church as a church and support it for the benefit of those whom Christ loved best? Because the old property was valuable, a brewer wanted it for the building of a new brewery. Freely, and you pocketed the difference—the increased increment—and went uptown into the shadow of your fine homes and builded a palace to your own glory. What would Christ have said to all this. Do you not believe that He would have returned a minority report to the congregation? You know that He would. But there are so many questions I would ask that will occur to you are not. You may be putting your particular brand of Christianity over on the congregation, but you know yourself. Which are you? And what do you suppose God is going to have to say to you for having usurped a place of honor in His church when you face Him, if you are not trying to administer His affairs just as you would if Christ sat beside you at your board meetings? It will not do to say then that Christ would have acted as you did had He lived when you did. You know better. It is one thing to lie to your fellow-men. It will be another to attempt to lie to God.

And you ladies and gentlemen of the choir, I am not at all sure that Christ would approve of you at all. I am inclined to believe that He would want to clean you out on the same principle that He made short work of the usurers and the money-changers in the Temple. Do you remember—or perhaps you are just a paid singer and do not pretend to religious knowledge at all. In any event, Christ would much prefer to hear all the congregation singing praise to His Father rather than one or two giving it an uncertain and a twist that sends it up unintelligible to the angels as to the congregation who are seated behind them and do not get the worth of their money and do not, therefore sing loud enough to drown your voices. Being in such a prominent position is it not a fact that you pay much more attention to the preparation of your outward appearance rather than that of your spirit when the church hour approaches? And do you not know in reference to the question of women's suffrage came as a surprise to many. It was a decisive vote against the part of Mr. Bonar Law when he asked whether, in the event of any one of the proposed amendments to the franchise bill being carried, it would alter the character of the bill as to render its withdrawal and reintroduction.

The speaker had to admit that according to parliamentary procedure this might be necessary.

Such a procedure would be fatal to the question of women's suffrage in the lifetime of the present parliament.

The Unionists are naturally greatly pleased at the embarrassment of the government.

The Daily News (Liberal) cannot believe that a great issue of this will be disposed of on a mere point of technical procedure.

The Chronicle (Liberal) boldly advocates the dropping of the franchise bill, and says that the sacrificing of manhood suffrage would give immediate facilities for the discussion of alternative bills corresponding with each of the amendments, with the assurance that any bill passed would enjoy advantages it would have enjoyed as an amendment to the present bill.

proachful eyes. You could if He were in your pew. He would then see if you were there for pleasure, the tag of respectability, or business or professional purposes. But I am afraid to begin to ask you questions. There are so very many, however, that you may ask yourself between the time that you read this and that when you begin to adorn yourself for the eyes of your fellow-worshippers. Does the keeping of the promise of your tailor or dressmaker play any part in your going to worship God to-morrow morning? Would you like to have Christ walk into your pew and read your thought as He is even at this moment? The only difference is that at cuped your thought, but God knows, right now, whether it does or not. And will you have to reshape your mental attitude to-morrow morning for the day, or has that of the week been of the right kind to last over tomorrow? And you, ladies, what about the lonely little maid? Does she get a chance to worship God to whom she is probably more beloved than you are? Or is she confined throughout all the long day to the lonely little kitchen in order that you may stuff yourselves between services.

Just consider—If Christ should come to your church to-morrow.

Human Sacrifice Again in Southern Nigeria

Thought Stamped Out

British Expedition Was Believed to Have Ended Eviscence of the Dreaded Long Juju. But Power is Now Finally Broken (Reynold's Newspaper). An appalling story of tribal savagery comes from Southern Nigeria, where the dreaded Long Juju of Arochuku, which was thought to have been stamped out by the British expedition of ten years ago, has been revived with all its hideous accessories of murder and slavery. Probably on account of the fact that the Long Juju, with its human sacrifices, was thought to have been permanently wiped out after the British expedition, the cult was never declared illegal, and gradually and secretly a powerful Aro chief named Kana Okuru collected the scattered remnants. He organized a staff of 1,500 men, who were perpetually travelling up and down over hundreds of miles of territory.

CITY OF BERLIN - - CANADA

One of the Most Important Manufacturing Centres of Ontario
The Little German Settlement of 1855 Now a Thriving City of 25,000 Inhabitants

In 1855 Berlin was composed of 400 inhabitants, principally Pennsylvania German farmers. In those early days it supported a Lutheran meeting-house, a post office, a German newspaper, a physician, a lawyer, three stores, a brewery and two taverns.

The factory will be the last word in building, machinery and equipment. Forty acres of land are necessary for the present and early future requirements of this great undertaking.

It is not a city, but a community of 25,000. No city of its size on the continent of North America contains so many up-to-date factories, such as steeling and braining well-equipped mills for their government. Its varied manufactures require the best skilled workmen and mechanics.

Although Berlin has several large rubber companies, yet another one is rapidly bringing its new factory to completion. The Dominion Tire Company, Limited, with a capital of $1,000,000, will, in a few months, open its doors to skilled workmen for the manufacture of "Dominion" Automobile Tires.

And why all this expense? Why all this extreme care? For the reason that the company realizes that everything in connection with the putting together of Automobile Tires, must be perfect, and unless "Dominion" Tires are as complete in construction and finish as a watch, they will not be put out for sale.

The motors will be supplied by the Canadian General Electric Co., Limited. The Transformers by the Canadian Westinghouse Company, Limited. The boilers by the Babcock and Wilcox Co.

SHOWS A SURPLUS
Balance on Right Side of Harbor Account—Some Necessary Work

A net surplus of $4,503.33 of receipts over expenditures is shown in the synopsis of the harbor wharves account which was presented to the city commissioners this morning by H. B. Schofield, commissioner of harbors and ferries. As this is a new account, a comparison with last year's results is not easily available but it is understood that this shows a substantial increase over the revenue for 1911.

Commissioner Schofield reported that the old C. P. R. wharf in West St. John, which was left exposed by the removal of the end section when the crib for the new government wharf was being put in place, has suffered extensive damage from the recent storms. Temporary repairs are needed immediately and the wharf will have to be repaired permanently in the spring.

The end of the Magee wharf, adjoining the east side ferry floats, is also in need of repairs to prevent it from coming over on the piling at the entrance to the floats. This work will also have to be undertaken promptly.

Some time was given this morning to discussion of rentals in buildings owned by the city, chiefly in Lancaster, and it is thought that increases in the rents will have to be made. Nothing definite was decided upon.

TRIBUTE PAID FORMER ST. JOHN CLERGYMAN

The Charlottetown Patriot, of Tuesday last, tells of the presentation of addresses and gifts of gold to Rev. Thos Fullerton and Mrs. Fullerton by the congregation of St. James' Presbyterian church at its annual meeting. Rev. Mr. Fullerton, who is a former pastor of Calvin church, in this city, has been in charge of the church in Charlottetown for twenty years, and the Patriot notes that the last year was the best in the history.

The presentation to Mr. Fullerton was made by Lieut.-Governor Rogers, and besides the address there was a little silver sardel, suitably engraved and filled with gold pieces. Mrs. Fullerton received a beautiful leather hand satchel and purse of gold from the ladies of the congregation. The Patriot in an editorial paragraph pays a very high tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton, declaring that the pastor of St. James' "has been worth his weight in gold to this community."

WANT ALL AT THE MEETING TUESDAY

Board of Trade, Campaign And Some of the Results to Be Attained

At the dinner of Tuesday evening, the issue of a "greater Saint John" will be laid before the business men and citizens with such depth of thought, breadth of vision and clearness that it cannot but make the hearer better for having heard and wiser in the spirit and needs of our community.

It is to be hoped that every citizen who can arrange to be in the city next Tuesday evening will attend the meeting. It means getting together; getting together means pulling together; pulling together means strength and efficiency. This is one night of the entire year that has been set aside as a "getting-together-night" and showing appreciation by being in attendance at this meeting is the very least that any one could do.

There may be some things quipped in the platform adopted at the Friday luncheon in which everyone may not be deeply interested, but there is one single department which is calculated to mean a gain of millions of dollars to Saint John and to the Province of New Brunswick. This department is that having in charge immigration and rural affairs. It is a problem that will take several years to work out, but it can be solved.

The western dominion organizations have directed their activities to farm development more than to any other department of organization work with a result that the great plains which were barren a few years ago are now dotted with thousands of farm homes.

The work of bringing in new industries is a work that it is believed will appeal to every man who has something to sell, because he is the first to enjoy the benefits of an increased payroll for the city. The campaign promoters call on all to get close to the machinery in the workshop of the board of trade and help make the wheels of progress move faster and see that this workshop turns out the kind of an output that this community needs.

CASE AGAINST CAPTAIN

Matter of Schooner Sallie E. Ludlam May Be Settled—Today's Police Court

The preliminary hearing in the case of Captain Frank of the schooner Sallie E. Ludlam, charged with stealing some $100 from D. J. Purdy, was taken up in the police court this morning. D. Mullin, K. C., appeared for the prisoner. Mr. Purdy said he had advanced the captain more than $100 to pay the crew, but that he had not done so. Mr. Mullin asked the witness if the money were returned to him would he proceed with the case. Mr. Purdy replied that he did not wish to proceed but that he would be willing to make a settlement. The hearing was therefore adjourned until Monday morning. His Honor said that he would allow the prisoner out on bail if he could provide good sureties.

One prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $4 or ten days in jail, another $8 or thirty days in jail, and a third $8 or fifty days in jail. An old Indian charged with drunkenness was remanded.

Harry Corrigan, charged with drunkenness and also with destroying property in the Union depot, was fined $8 or two months in jail on the first charge and $20 or two months in jail on the second.

E. Hipwell, charged with being drunk, resisting the police and also with assaulting John Martin, pleaded guilty to drunkenness but said that he did not know anything of the other charges. He was remanded.

Harry Compton, arrested a few days ago on the charge of being drunk and also interfering with people, was fined $8 or two months in jail.

Wallace Stevens and Allan Alberts, charged with fighting on the West Side, were again before the court. Stevens had been out on deposit and when he appeared this morning His Honor remanded him to jail, telling him that he did not think he was in a fit condition to give evidence. Stevens asked to be admitted to bail but His Honor declined. The case will be heard on Monday morning.

BILLION GERMS IN SERUM INJECTION

Chicago, Jan. 25.—(Cl.) W. R. Banister, of the Medical Corps, U.S.A., in a discussion before the Chicago Medical Society on "Serum Treatment and Prevention of Typhoid Fever," said that 50,000,000 typhoid germs in a serum injection is an "infinitesimal dose."

In the army we would consider 50,000,000 infantile," he said. "When we inoculate a man against typhoid we give him an injection of 500,000,000 dead typhoid germs the very first time."

"Of course we wait until his day's work is nearly finished. But we expect him to be on duty bright and early next morning, and ready for the next dose of at least 1,000,000,000 germs."

"In the last San Antonio, Tex., encampment, when the city was full of typhoid, we had 12,000 men in camp for eight months, and only one light case of typhoid during the time."

Hazen Taylor of Victoria street received a telegram yesterday informing him of the bad news that his father was critically ill at his home in Sockville. He left for there this morning.

POOR LUMBERING SEASON FEARED

North End Deeply Interested In This Industry

OPERATIONS MORE COSTLY

The Supplying of Horses for The Woods an Instance — Disappointed Young People Who Want Sleigh Drives — Personal Notes

After one of the longest runs of the season the "big mill" in Indiantown owned by Stetson Cutler & Co. was closed down this week, thus making the last of the North End saving plans to cease operations for the season. Most of the others stopped sawing a little after Christmas.

For the "big mill," however, a large quantity of logs had been piled, and the open weather which has prevented has permitted operations being continued longer than usual, except with a plant where special provisions are made against winter weather.

Just what the ensuing summer will bring forth in the lumbering industry is difficult to forecast at present. Operators say that conditions in the woods are the worst in more than twenty years; that there is practically no snow and because of this the work of logging is considerably retarded.

Except in some districts to the far north of the province there is very little snow, certainly not enough to satisfy the desires of the lumbermen, and as one comes nearer to the lower portions of the province the quantity of snow to be seen and the chances for good road-making become gradually lessened.

Lumbering is of vital interest to the northern section of St. John, because of so many men from that neighborhood being engaged in its several branches. Many from that part of the city are now in the lumber woods striving to make the cut a good one in the face of adverse circumstances. It is interesting to note that the cost of operating in the lumber woods has advanced very much.

For instance, horses which have been taken from the city into the lumber woods this year, and others which have been taken off farms in the rural sections, have brought prices almost double those of a few years ago. A prominent local operator said yesterday that it seemed as though within the last five, certainly within the last ten years, the cost of general lumbering in the forests of New Brunswick had practically doubled.

Regarding the matter of horses, he said that this winter in particular the items in the expenditure account would be much heavier in this connection, not only because more had to be paid for the animals, but many more were needed for teaming purposes, as the sledging was so very poor. Cases were known this year wherein as high as $800 a pair was paid for a strapping span of work horses for the woods along the North Shore, and prices in general ran unusually high.

The general expense of conducting the winter's lumber camp had also advanced, as the price of food supplies had increased, higher wages had to be paid, and generally every other item in the list of necessities was more costly. With so little snow in the woods and the consequent difficulty in logging, drivers etc. there was a strong probability that the cut would be very curtailed this winter.

Since the arrival of the new cars for a St. John Street Railway some weeks ago, they have been run with regular cars which are used on the ordinary car, during the last day or two the new trucks made especially for them in Ottawa, have reached the city and been taken to the car barns, where the work of transferring the cars to them will at once be undertaken. The trucks have been brought to the sheds in Main street after the stoppage of the regular car traffic at midnight.

Young people in private clubs or special parties are greatly disappointed at the continued absence of snow and there have been several postponements of sleighing parties. A week or more ago when it seemed likely that there would be good sleighing the more energetic in the younger set about North End, and it is understood that the same is true in the city proper, became interested in the pleasant task of arranging sleigh drives which are always such a delightful feature in the social calendar for the winter months. During this week had there been snow there would have been several sleighing parties from North End each evening for bookings to this end had been made with the keepers of livery stables. The disappointment experienced by the young people anticipating a jolly time in this respect with beautiful moonlight nights to aid may be easily realized.

A camp owned by some boys on the Colton property off Military Road, was destroyed by fire last evening. There is a rumor that other boys set fire to it.

There is one spot in North End which needs to be attended to at the earliest opportunity by the authorities having the matter in charge. That is at the transfer junction at the corner of Main street and Paradise Row, where there has been much excavation work in progress and where, on soft mild days, the muddy surface is easily melted and the crossing is not what it should be for such a centre of trespass. The sewerage work which was done was badly needed and is greatly appreciated by the citizens in the neighborhood, but it is believed to be time now that some improvement was made in keeping the mud from being several inches thick just where passengers are alighting from or entering the street cars. On a colder day it is not noticeable, but would fail to describe the disagreeable condition at this corner on a fine or soft day.

HUNDRED STARVED TO DEATH IN YEAR

(Continued from page 12) bury Tracy having purchased Woodstock House, Ont., close to Goring. The house occupies a commanding position on the southern brow of the Chiltern Hills, 500 feet above sea level, with uninterrupted views over a superb panorama, stretching across Berkshire into Hampshire. It was built in the early Georgian period. The then owners were the Knapp family and the property was known as "Bollins" or "Hawkins". It was visited by King George III, on one of his journeys to Nuneham Park, and the drawing-room—magnificent and superbly furnished—was decorated by his reception by a famous architect, Robert Adam.

Woodstock House is, however, chiefly interesting from the fact that it was here that Edward George Earle Bulwer Lytton, poet, novelist, statesman, and orator passed the first years of his married life, and on the occasion of his first return with his wife they were welcomed home by a peal of bells from Checkendon church. The house is a good specimen of the period in which it was built, and is remarkable for its fine mantelpieces, beautiful plaster-work ceilings, and large rooms.

Emigration and the Boy Problem A volume stamped with entrancing facts respecting emigrants and the causes of emigration has been issued by the government. T. E. Sedgwick, who for twenty years was engaged in social work in London gave his testimony: "A leading difficulty is one that there are 50,000 gold-evidence known to the secretaries of gold clubs in this country. I could not have gone into the figures but even if there were only 500, nobody could say that these boys were likely to become professional golfers. They are creating the devil's work in the future, unless they are taken away in suitable time. The boys in blind-alley jobs in London number about 100,000."

Mr. Sedgwick also referred to picture palaces and the ideas which boys obtain from films as to the conditions which obtain in Canada. "A boy," he said, "who is supposed to be educated, a junior clerk earning $3 or $2.5 a week, goes out to Ontario and sees a very well-written letter home, but it contained this passage:—'We have to dress here the same way as the cowboys in the pictures.'"

"I found also in Canning Town that the boys were afraid to emigrate because they thought the alternative to their future, if they emigrated, was to become successful farmers, but to be judged by the way or scalped by Red Indians. They had seen it in the pictures, and it must be so."

RECENT DEATHS After an illness of about two months, E. A. Todd, for some time engineer on the King Lilly, died at his home, 194 Metcalf street, yesterday. He was in the 49th year of his age. Besides his wife, he is survived by four sons and three daughters, all young.

Ribbinton, Jan. 23.—The death of Mrs. Eliza Davis occurred about 7 o'clock on Monday evening after an illness which continued for six or seven weeks. She was 84 years of age. She is survived by one son, H. H. Davis, barometer, judge of probate, etc., of this town; a daughter in Portland (Me.), and a sister, Mrs. G. C. Weeks, of this town, with whom she made her home. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon. A short service at the house was conducted by Rev. F. W. M. Bacon, assisted by Rev. Thomas Pierce. Services at St. Mary's Church, England and at the grave were conducted by the rector, Rev. F. W. M. Bacon. The pallbearers were: W. E. Forster, Albert Long, Basil E. Johnson, Roderick McDonald, and H. M. Ferguson and Dr. Geo. T. Leighton, Repton.

St. Stephen, Jan. 24.—(Special)—George Irving, a prominent grocer and meat shop on King street, died at his home on Valley road this afternoon. Mr. Irving was 53 years of age and leaves a widow and six children, a brother, Skiffington Irving, and a sister, Mrs. Martha Brown, of Lower Hill, and a sister, Mrs. Moses McKemien, of Pomeroy Ridge, survive him. Interment will be Sunday afternoon.

Digby, N. S., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Jessie A. McKay died at her home on Queen street today after a long illness, aged 38 years. She is survived by an aged mother, Mrs. George McKay, who is herself only 73; three sisters and one brother, only 11; three grandsons and one grandniece. The sisters are Mrs. Frank Burns, of Roseway, Miss McKay was a member of the Sydney St. Christian church. The funeral arrangements are not yet completed, but the service will be conducted by Rev. J. C. B. Appel, of St. John.

John Mahoney, of Gagetown, has the sympathy of many friends on account of the death of his youngest son, Daniel L. Mahoney, age nine months. Death took place on January 17.

John Hanton and Ben Albrecht, of Chatham, appeared before Municipal Judge Sabbath to answer for their loitering on the street corner. "I might fine you," the judge told them, "but I believe that I'll just make you members of the police force. I shall assign you to the corner at Milwaukee and California avenues, and you shall report to the Saksopere-avenue Station. Keep those corners clear and you will mitigate your sine."

W. H. Surber, the first Seattle policeman, has just celebrated his 78th birthday. He was appointed in 1896, when Seattle had but one street and a population of only 200 persons. He served for two years. Like many pioneers he passed up a number of opportunities to become wealthy. At one time he was offered a double corner lot for a debt of $200, but refused. This property is now worth $600,000.

Tax collector Brown of Rockland, Me., made good use of the figure 3 last month. His total collections amounted to $13,533.28.

THE WEST INDIES FEARED HE HAD CONSUMPTION

Discussion in Commons on Steamship Service and Other Matters

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—Hon. Mr. Foster's announcement that he was resigning his seat in the House of Commons, after three weeks' absence, devoted to personal attention to the prospective concluding of an arrangement under which a fast and modernly equipped shipping service would be inaugurated between Canada and the West Indies, was the principal feature of the conclusion of the debate on the commercial treaty bill today. The minister of trade and commerce made his statement in response to questions from Hon. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. MacDonald, P. O. He was yet unable, he stated, to say what conclusion had been reached.

"I am telling no secret," said Mr. Foster, "when I say that Canada must make up its mind to pay well for the service. We must secure a service which is comfortable and facilities is able properly to handle passenger and freight traffic. It would be difficult to get strong reliable firms to enter into a contract for the service. We are on the crest of expense in regard to shipbuilding."

"Then why not have some shipbuilding yards in Canada?" mildly interposed Hon. Dr. Pugsley, but Mr. Foster did not reply. Dr. Pugsley asked as to the truth of the report in the New York papers that the contract had been closed with the C. P. R. for the service with a subsidy of $400,000 per year, but Mr. Foster refused to say that he had no information to communicate at the present time.

Dr. Pugsley also pressed for information as to when the government proposed to issue the proclamation, provided by the present act, which would give the West Indies preference of 20 per cent. would be applicable to goods shipped direct through Canadian ports. "This is of great interest to St. John and Halifax," he observed. "It depends upon the facility with which we get proper steamship communication," was the minister's reply.

Accept Liberal Amendment. The fight over the clauses relating more particularly to the question of direct shipping of goods, suspended when the house rose last night, was resumed today, with the result that the Liberal amendment was finally accepted. The bill provided that the preference to be given the West Indies under the arrangement would apply to direct shipments. The Liberals maintained, as they did last evening, that the bill departed from the terms of the agreement in this respect. This view was taken by Sir Wilfrid, who said that the Canadian parliament departed from the terms of the agreement it would be necessary to secure the consent of the legislature of the various islands.

Premier Borden and Mr. Foster maintained that such was the case and that the bill had to be considered in conjunction with the customs act. Hon. Mr. Borden quoted a statement by Mr. Foster that the islands had "pinched themselves" to make the agreement, and that the government was now trying to "pinch" them again by limiting its terms to goods imported direct. He declared that in so doing the government would be breaking faith with the islands.

The bill passed its committee stage with the amendment at the 6 o'clock recess. Mr. MacDonald introduced a bill in the commons this afternoon to amend the act passed three years ago providing for the islands, but to be judged by the way or scalped by Red Indians. They had seen it in the pictures, and it must be so.

HOME RULE O. Paddy, dear, and did you hear the news? The shamrock has got to have a spot to grow on Irish ground!

Too long in the dark have you lain, O mother in green and in white! The centred's peace of our land Has made a perpetual night. But now, as you pluck at your babe, O mother, the light!

And soon St. Patrick's Day we'll keep; For Irish law will find no flaw in wearing of the green.

Your eyes were the windows of stars Till curtains of terror were drawn; They went at the Sannach's scree Redangry Shamus and Shaun. But now, as you pluck at your babe, O mother, the dawn!

I met with Napper Tandy's ghost; it took me by the hand. I said, "How is old Ireland now?" "My boy," she's feeling grand!

Aye! mother and sweetheart and queen; But from your lost garden of green (Came breath that no jester could buy, O mother, the sky!

The ancient color soon will flume upon the old caubren. And, glory be! old ghosts will see the wearing of the green!" —John O'Keefe.

Was Troubled With His Heart. HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips, beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Elmdale, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them on any account, as they are worth their weight in gold. Advise my friends and neighbors who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 2 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

In Pursuit of Fra Diavolo Although there are perhaps not very many hand-picked chiefs left on the side of the Danube and Balkans there are still a few of these picturesque and romantic ruffians in Corsica, and at least one who is a true brigand of the old style. Having been too keen and successful in prosecuting the national traditions of vendetta, he has taken to the mountains, and more than one venturesome gendarme has had a bullet put through him as an answer to excessive inquisitiveness.

As the local authorities grew rather tired of fruitless hunts after this redoubtable mountaineer the Paris Surete despatched M. Oudaille, one of its most determined inspectors, to the island. The Parisian vowed to take the Corsican dead or alive, and for some time has been going over the hills and dales in a swift motor car, but, somehow, only to arrive just too late at the place where he expected to find the brigand. So far, he has been able to arrest only a village mayor suspected of conniving and favoring the escape of his quarry.

The bandit, however, has his own sense of honor, and so has sent word to the brigadier of gendarmery that before the end of the month he will give himself up, and so release the mayor, who doubtless is a friend of his. This procedure does not at all suit M. Oudaille, who considers his hands private property; so, as soon as he heard from the brigand he wrote a letter to the "King of the Maquis." In this note he offered him $100 if he would let himself be captured, and, moreover, promised that he would come and bring him in his motor car from whatever spot he might haunt.

All Corsica is agog to see whether he will march into the brigadier's room or come too soon and successful in prosecuting the national traditions of vendetta, he has taken to the mountains, and more than one venturesome gendarme has had a bullet put through him as an answer to excessive inquisitiveness.

CHARACTER IN WALKING.
Obstinate people who, in argument, rely more on muscularity than on intellect—aluminum rest the feet flatly and firmly in the ground, walk heavily and slowly, and stand with legs firmly planted and far apart. Quick steps are indicative of energy and agitation. Tip-toe walking symbolizes surprise, curiosity, discretion, or mystery. Turning in toes are often found with pre-occupied, absent-minded persons. The miser's walk is represented as stooping and noiseless, with short, nervous, anxious steps. Slow step, long or short, suggests a gentle or reflective state of mind. When a revengeful purpose is hidden under a feigned smile the step will be sinking and noiseless. The proud step is slow and measured, the legs straightened. When the direction of the step wavers, and follows every changing impulse of the mind, it inevitably betrays uncertainty, hesitation and indecision.

Mural Paintings and Statuary—History of Decay Read in Ruins—Italian Government Closes Lottery Game With Big One

(Times Special Correspondence)
Rome, Jan. 10.—Very interesting excavations are being made in Nero's "Golden House" by the Italian government, whose attention was drawn to the subject by Dr. Fritz Weege, a young German archaeologist, author of a treatise, published last July, on one of the rooms in that vast palace. Nero's "Palace" of which the writer said that it would embrace all Rome, and that the good citizens, emigrating in quest of apartments to live, would probably find that it had extended thither also, covered an area about three times that occupied by the present Vatican with all its appendages.

Erected after the burning of Rome in 64, the "Golden House," which extended from the Palatine far up the Esquiline, and of which the artistic emperor Commodus placed in the city, has now been discovered. The importance of these excavations is due to the fact that some of the most famous paintings and drawings of the sixteenth century, when the baths of Trajan were more easily accessible, were copied, often erroneously, from the beautiful mural decorations, which the removal of the accumulated earth is now bringing to light. Descending from a lovely orange garden into the underground passage, we found ourselves in a room, marked No. 80 on Dr. Weege's plan, in a niche of which the famous "Laocoon" is said to have been found in 1506. During the last few days a marble hand of the same marble as the "Laocoon" was unearthed here, and it was hoped that it might prove to be part of the missing limb of the statue.

Another beautiful Roman villa, the Villa Bonaparte, which is opposite the British embassy at the beginning of the Via Ventisette, is about to disappear, to the regret of all lovers of what is green and refreshing in Rome. The Villa Bonaparte, built by Milizia, a horticultural writer, was bequeathed by Pauline Bonaparte to her niece, the wife of Prince Charles Bonaparte, from whom it derives its name. The present owner, Count Villalunga Ybarra, has obtained the permission of not only the municipal government, but also of the Supreme Council of Antiquities and Fine Arts, to build a church upon the site, and Rome will thus be deprived of one of its landmarks.

Both the "Tribuna" and the "Giornale d'Italia" usually as wide apart as the poles, agree in regarding step. It is, indeed, strange, as one of those journals remarks, to find the anti-clerical municipality anxious to increase the number of churches in Rome, and to hear that the supreme council, usually so anxious to preserve the artistic and other beauties of Italy, is ready to sacrifice one of the few remaining villas within the walls, where it is rapidly becoming far easier to find a tram than a tree.

A B Lottery
The Italian government is about to adopt measures for abolishing lotteries, which have hitherto been a state monopoly, bringing in enormous sums of money every year. As a kind of advertisement of their intention they are going to hold one more great lottery, in which anybody may take part in any quarter of the world. The drawing will take place in Rome. This last lottery will carry prizes amounting to more than $600,000, and each ticket costs half-a-crown. The first prize is to be $300,000, and the Bank of Italy will pay the sum to the lucky possessor of the ticket bearing the winning number. There are also 8,282 other prizes, ranging in value from $24.00 down to one cent.

A story is going the round about a Birmingham golfer over whom an indignant caddy decried. In the course of the morning round the golfer had reason to be dissatisfied with his caddy, and so when he had finished the round he told the lad to clean his clubs and then come for the money, stating that he would do without him in the afternoon. Lunch over, the golfer set out on another round of the links, carrying his own bag. Half-way round he began to feel the burden, and half finished that after all he had not dismissed his caddy. Thinking the bag was unusually heavy, the player, on coming to the next hole, put his club in the bag, and found the bottom of the bag, he found a heavy piece of scrap iron and some stones.

IN MUSICAL VIENNA
Still Retains Position as Most Musical City of the World
Vienna, Jan. 25.—Though Vienna has been surpassed by Berlin during the last twenty years in population and wealth, in the extent of its so-called restaurant life and in the number of theatres, the old imperial capital of the Danube still maintains its reputation as the most musical city in the world. Its opera is the most important of its orchestras and chamber societies at the finest, and the public here is at once the most musical and the most critical. It is consequently of interest to know what music is most played here, where only the best is popular. The following statistics give the number of times pieces by the chief composers were performed during last season, divided according to the nature of the concert, of which altogether 833 were given:
Singing—Brahms 107; Schubert 109; Hugo Wolf 127; Schumann 65; Mahler 9; Strauss 58.
Piano—Chopin 138; Liszt 104; Beethoven 88; Brahms 77; Schumann 55.
Violin—Beethoven 18; Bach 13; Mozart 12; Paganini 8.
Cello—Bach 6; Beethoven 3; Haydn 2.
Chamber Music—Beethoven 39; Brahms 20; Schubert 12; Mozart 10; Haydn 7.
Orchestra—Beethoven 88; Wagner 67; Liszt 35; Mozart 34; Schubert 20; Tchaikovsky 15.
It will be seen that Beethoven heads the list in orchestral and chamber music, and in violin solo and comes second in cello. Brahms' songs are the most popular, or at least most often sung. Schubert and Hugo Wolf, however, are not very far behind. In piano music Chopin is far ahead, with second. Wagner naturally only appears in the orchestral concerts, but there he runs Beethoven fairly close. Of the composers mentioned, it is notable that by far the greater number—namely, Beethoven, Schubert, Liszt, Wolf, Haydn, Mozart, Brahms and Mahler—were either of Austro-Hungarian birth or spent the greater part of their lives in the monarchy.

The number of concerts given in Vienna is increasing rapidly, and has risen by 50 per cent. in the last four years, and consequently a large new concert hall is being built to supplement the famous Musikvereinsaal.

Living or Existing—Which?
Is your life a daily half-sick, half-well existence, or is it one of the joyous, vivid, living kind?
It's mostly a question of little aches—little pains—a little cough—a little cold that marks the difference between the sick and the well, the depressed and the happy.
Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is one of Nature's strongest allies in restoring health debilitated by over-work, over-play, over-worry and all the other "cruels" men and women and little children, too, suffer from.
This wine has long been familiar to the Medical Profession as a reliable, powerful nerve and brain tonic and tissue builder, and is recommended and prescribed by them whenever debility, from whatever cause, is in evidence.
Taken in the proportion of one full wineglass between meals, Wilson's Invalids' Port spreads its vitalizing force throughout the system, increases the appetite, induces sound, refreshing sleep, quickens sluggish functional activity and imparts lasting strength and vigour. Doctors know!

DR. FREDERICK SNELGROVE, B.A., M.D., M.O.C.P.S.
"I have given Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine a thorough trial in my practice, and so by experience am enabled to give a reliable report.
I have used it in a case of chronic Mitral Rigidity and Aortic Stenosis, with great satisfaction, finding it excellent in building up the system and toning and regulating the failing heart.
I have also used it in a case of convalescence after pneumonia with gratifying results, and at present I am prescribing this Wine for a convalescing patient after a serious major operation, and find it doing its work favorably. I have also prescribed it in numerous other cases with pleasing results.
I am convinced in my own mind that Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is an excellent and reliable preparation, and I shall continue to prescribe it in my practice with, I trust, just as happy results as formerly."
