DROWNING IN THE HARBOR OF SYDNEY

Sydney, N. S., May 19 - Albert Harrington, chief steward of the Sydney Club, and R. Bond, night foreman at the Cape Breton Electric Company's car barns, were drowned this afternoon while sailing off Sydney harbor. It was feared last night that Mrs. Harrington and another woman had accompanied her husband and Bond in the yacht, and if such is the case four were drowned instead of two.

These papers advocate: British connection, Honesty in public life, Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion. No graft! No deals!

THE VALLEY RAILWAY

The course of the provincial government in the matter of the St. John valley railway requires some explanation. The federal parliament has passed the bill providing for intercolonial operation in full accordance with the terms laid down by the provincial government. Now the latter comes along with another and wholly unsatisfactory scheme, and asks federal aid to carry it out.

The whole story is told on another page of today's Times. Hon. Dr. Pugsley takes the case very fully and fairly. It is amazing that in the face of the action of parliament the provincial government should have the hardihood to trifle with the interests of the people in this manner.

CONCERNING THE TROUT

A citizen directs the attention of the Times to the fact that half a million trout were lately placed in the streams of western Montana, and the fishermen's associations are co-operating with the government to have all available streams well stocked. The citizen asks why such action is not taken in New Brunswick, and especially in the neighbourhood of St. John.

UNSANITARY HOUSING

Dr. Charles A. Hodgett, medical adviser to the public health committee of the Canadian Conservation Commission, has prepared a comprehensive paper on Unsanitary Housing. It is published in the Commission, with quite a number of striking illustrations of slum districts in Canadian cities.

Canada have been due to the governments not taking more direct control in administration. In Ontario, for instance, the government assumes the responsibility for the enforcement of factory laws and maintains a staff of inspectors which is yearly increasing in number.

The question of sanitation, better housing and town-planning should receive more attention in St. John. Out in the province of Saskatchewan they have this clause in the regulations under the Public Health Act:- "Any building or part of any building used as a dwelling place which, by reason of its condition, either from lack of sufficient accommodation, want of repair, filthy keeping, damp site, faulty drains, or want of sanitary plumbing, therein, has in the judgment of the medical health officer or commissioner, become unfit for human habitation, shall be declared and placarded as 'unsanitary and unfit for human habitation.'"

What would happen if St. John had such a regulation and enforced it? The Montreal Witness makes the charges of Sir Sanford Fleming in the matter of the cement merger the text for a bitter attack upon mergers in general, going so far as to declare that the watering of stock should be made a misdemeanor. The Witness says:- "Of recent years the inflation of capital, and the consequent merger, has been nothing short of scandalous. When one considers that it is a means of making wealth out of other men's enterprise and labor, with no service rendered, it is comparable to robbery. Exploiters, of the Whitaker Wright type, who never did a hand's turn of productive work in their lives, who never made one blade of grass grow, let alone making two blades grow where only one grew before, have by artful manipulation made themselves millionaires and multi-millionaires, and all that to the ultimate loss of the body of consumers, who will have to pay undue prices for all that they use for many years to come. These manipulators are of the order of the man who never owned a cow or kept a cow, but had learned to milk, which knowledge he turned to account by milking his neighbors' cows dry. The milk thief, when caught can be sent to jail, but the milker of our industries can rise to a mountain villa and to all sorts of public and social honors."

COMMENT ON MERGERS

Dr. Hodgett begins with a reference to the fact that the evils of improper housing affect both the health and morals of the individual, and that these evils exist in Canada as well as in other countries. He quotes extracts from reports of public health officials in several provinces to set forth the conditions, and declares that slum-houses are a danger and a menace to the community, tending to the spread of disease, death, degeneracy and crime.

SPRING HUMORS

Result from the Poisoned Condition of the Blood. Discharge is Checked-Sores are Cleaned Out and Healed by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT. Aside from the suffering used by pimples, sores and skin eruptions, there is the annoyance and embarrassment to which they give rise, particularly when on the hands or face. It is quite easy to get the blood right by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. The three principal ingredients of this great, soothing, healing ointment are the most potent known to the medical profession as a means of getting out sores and ulcers, lessening the discharge, preventing blood-poisoning and stimulating the healing process.

AT LAST, A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-lives Cured Me" Says Mrs. Baxter

"I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without help. I saw 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised in 'The Telegram' and decided to try them. After I had taken one box, I was much better. When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arms and the pain was almost gone. After taking five boxes I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by 'Fruit-a-lives' was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. 'Fruit-a-lives' cured me."

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER, 24 Home Place, Toronto, Dec. 15, '09.

In hundreds of other cases, "Fruit-a-lives" has given exactly the same satisfactory results. "Fruit-a-lives" is the greatest blood-purifying medicine in the world. "Fruit-a-lives," the famous fruit medicine, dissolves kidney, liver, bowels and skin, and prevents the accumulation of uric acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-lives" will positively cure every case of Rheumatism, when taken according to directions. 20c a box, 4 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

PRESENTATION AND DINNER IN HONOR OF WM. E. HOPPER

William E. Hopper, of The Evening Times staff, who leaves next week for Montreal to take an excellent position on the staff of the Montreal publications, was entertained at a dinner by the members of the advertising committee of the board of trade. They also presented him with a elegantly mounted fountain pen as a token of personal esteem.

Mr. Hopper has been a member of the committee since it was first organized, and did valuable work in connection with its educational campaign. Responses to various proposals were given by J. F. Elliott, Horace Brown, Fred E. Seaward, Walter St. Martin, H. H. Magee, and Mr. Anderson. All the speakers spoke in high terms of appreciation of the work of Mr. Hopper, and assured him of their best wishes for his success in Montreal. The presentation and the complimentary allusions to himself. The members then joined hands and sang Auld Lang Syne.

INSISTS ON REAL ROAD FOR VALLEY

Hon. Mr. Pugsley Puts Case Squarely—Must Be Through Line Operated By I. C. R. and in Connection With Transcontinental Road

Ottawa, May 19.—Correspondence respecting the St. John Valley railroad was tabled in the commons today. It indicates a desire on the part of the New Brunswick government to obtain liberty to depart from the proposal to have the line run down the valley of the St. John from Grand Falls to St. John.

It also indicates a determination on the part of Hon. Mr. Pugsley to have the line, as its name implies, a thoroughly practical railroad down the whole river valley and giving a connection for St. John with the National Transcontinental at Grand Falls, and at the same time providing a railway service for that populous part of the upper St. John, which is now without adequate railway service.

The return consists of letters exchanged between the New Brunswick government and Hon. Mr. Pugsley; and a letter from Mr. Gould setting out the alleged plans of his proposed company.

The correspondence begins with a letter written in Ottawa on April 28, to Dr. Pugsley, and signed by Messrs. Fleming, McLeod, Murray and Maxwell, who were in Ottawa at the time negotiating for a change in the terms of federal aid. The letter says it is written in compliance to a request by Dr. Pugsley, and gives the change wanted in the act granting a subsidy for a railway in the St. John Valley. It quotes the New Brunswick act of 1906, stating it provided two plans, one for the guarantee of bonds for a railroad from Grand Falls to St. John or at point on the C. P. R. near Westfield, on condition that it be leased to the Intercolonial; the other for a line from Andover or some other point in Victoria county by Centreville and Lakeville to Woodstock by the St. John valley to the same objective point.

From the interview they inferred that a subsidy would not be granted if a contract were entered into under the latter proposal. They, therefore, asked that the subsidy act should be amended, so the subsidy would be made payable under either of the plans in the New Brunswick act. They state that if they should make a contract for construction under the last plan it would be with reasonable assurance that the railroad would extend through Maine and Quebec and connect with the Grand Trunk near Quebec.

On May 4, Hon. Mr. Pugsley replied that after discussing the proposal with the minister of railways, he and Hon. Mr. Graham had come to the conclusion that they should have more information. As to the intention of your government with regard to the extent and location of the proposed railway, more especially as to whether it is the intention to build to the town of Andover or merely to a point in the parish of Andover, and whether it is to be built to St. John or to Westfield.

He asked for a definite statement of the points it was intended to have the railroad constructed, that a location plan be furnished, that the character of the proposed road be stated, and whether it was to be operated by steam or electricity. Some definite information as to the proposal to extend across Maine and Quebec to a connection with the Grand Trunk at Quebec was asked also.

In reply, Mr. Fleming wrote Dr. Pugsley from Hartland on May 16, enclosing a

Mr. Gould's reply, written from Presque Isle on May 11, was addressed by Premier Hazen and stated that as information had been asked of the provincial government by the federal government, he would say the same and object of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company was to acquire, build and operate a trunk line from a junction with one or more of the transcontinental railways in the vicinity of the Grand Trunk near Quebec.

MILLIONS WENT THROUGH SIEVE

The Gebhard Fortune, Now The Yerkes Dollars

FOUR TIMES WED

Former Postmaster-General of United States Takes Bride at Eighty—Servant Girl Found to Be a Noble Lady—Gossip of New York (Times Special Correspondence) New York, May 19.—Of the million or two with which the debonair "Freddie" Gebhard once dazzled Gotham in the days when he was one of the city's gayest blades his executioner has translated him as he left his $18,721 when he died a few months ago. Among his assets were found a lot of stock which the state comptroller's appraiser declared had no value.

Reputed in the heyday of his glory to be uncommonly shrewd about his investments, there is a suspicion that in his declining years he lost much of his old acumen and became a marker for some of his stock brokerage acquaintances, who loaded him up with their "cats and dogs." The fact that he had husbanded as much of his fortune as the inventory of the inheritance tax collectors found, on an examination of his estate, was some surprise to many of his friends who had long believed that the zippy pace he kept up for many years with the Baroness Blane and other noted professional beauties had "broken" him beyond hope of recovery.

What is left of his estate goes to his sister, Mary J. Nelson, of this city and Newport, owner of the most lavish wardrobe of any man in the United States whom he was turning up his money at Long Branch and the fashionable summer resorts hereabouts, the once invincible "slandy" had hardly any clothing in his apartments when he died and little or no jewelry, indicating that in his last years his fondness for extravagant personal adornment, once a passion with him, had gone the way of his predilection for rare epicurean feasts and ancient vintages, which he abandoned several years ago.

More Millions Go With the assurance that there will be nothing left of the once $20,000,000 fortune of the late Charles T. Yerkes, Chicago, New York and London railroad magnate, creditors are making a bitter fight to keep the residue of the estate here. Louis S. Wesley, ancillary executor of the estate and former secretary of Yerkes, made application to the surrogate this week to repleat the money in the hands here to Chicago, but Triffitt & Co. and other large creditors opposed it.

Announcement was made by counsel that the interest on the debt of the multimillionaire is eating up all that is left and that there is a prospect that when the estate is finally settled there will not be enough to satisfy all the claims against it.

At 80 Takes Fourth Wife General Thomas L. James, former postmaster of New York under President Grant and Hayes, postmaster-general under Garfield, and millionaire banker, on taking his fourth wife the other day declared that he had a horror of dying widowed. The bridegroom is still sturdy despite his eighty years. His third wife died but nine months ago and it was accepted by everybody that he would rest content with his three previous experiences in the marriage field.

enrolled among its active members some of the wealthiest and most prominent men and women in the city. There is ground for believing that the clergyman was used as a dummy in the transaction by some of his well-to-do acquaintances about the city and that he had no share in any profit from the deal in question.

Dr. Hillis is charged with having procured options on 20,000 acres of coal lands near Staiglitz on the representation that he was getting for Leigh S. J. Hunt, a capitalist. It is asserted he did not reject Leigh Hunt or others, but obtained the options to endeavor to sell them and ultimately made a deal with James Moore, of Seattle, for the Western Steel Corporation, in which the coal lands figure as assets and are valued by the corporation at $20,000,000.

Dr. Hillis is reported to have recently endeavored to procure capital in London and Paris for the development of the property.

The Chauffeur Danger In the old days it used to be the riding school teacher who was the dread of the sedulous mother with a pretty, susceptible, not over sensible daughter, but recent events in and about Gotham indicate that the chauffeur has translated him as a soft-pedal love artist. Within the last twelve months twelve of the chichi navigators have outwitted themselves in the hearts of their wealthy employers' daughters and made off with them, as the bold knights of old were accustomed to do. Attention to this new danger was again directed this week when Mrs. Margaret Madison, a wealthy widow, applied to the supreme court for power to bring an action to annul the marriage of her fifteen-year-old daughter, Anna, to her chauffeur on April 26 last. The court promptly acquiesced in the application and expressed surprise that a chauffeur should be so foolhardy as to subject himself to the prospect of going to jail for twenty years for abduction for marrying a minor.

On the day when the wedding took place the youthful bride persuaded her mother to let the chauffeur take her and some girl friends out for a drive. Getting possession of the car in this way, the couple went to the suburbs and were married. A few days later the mother of the girl learned of it and dismissed the bridegroom, who fearing punishment for what he had done, has disappeared from the city. In all the other cases of a like character that have occurred in the last twelve months, the brides were much older. But in this case, as well as the others, the bride's only explanation for her folly was that "she thought she was in love."

Munsey on Top of The Market Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, who is reputed to have dumped up $2,000,000 in steel stocks last year, is reported to have made some heavy winnings in Wall street within the last few weeks. He is close touch with the Morgan group of financiers in Wall street, and is said to have the honor of a bitter fight to keep the residue of the estate here. Louis S. Wesley, ancillary executor of the estate and former secretary of Yerkes, made application to the surrogate this week to repleat the money in the hands here to Chicago, but Triffitt & Co. and other large creditors opposed it.

Announcement was made by counsel that the interest on the debt of the multimillionaire is eating up all that is left and that there is a prospect that when the estate is finally settled there will not be enough to satisfy all the claims against it.

La Diva CORSET Medium Sized Women. The La Diva Corset No. 718 which is here illustrated is unequalled for short and medium figures, especially those requiring short boned corsets. It increases the apparent height, giving to the figure a graceful, virile appearance, and insuring the proper set of the gown. While snug and cosy, the fit is so perfect that no sense of constraint is relieved with it. The price is only $3.50. Imported corsets of equal value cost about $7.00, owing to the duty.

THE ONLY CEREAL BREAKFAST FOOD MADE IN BISCUIT FORM

Newbro's Herpicide DELIGHTS THE LADIES. Because they know from experience that the intelligent use of Herpicide means much to their personal appearance. It saves and beautifies the hair and in the vast majority of cases, adds greatly to its abundance. The essence of the dandruff germ in the scalp destroys the gloss and beauty of the hair even before the resulting disease becomes firmly established. Each day that the use of Newbro's Herpicide is neglected, makes the repair that much more difficult.

Emigrants More Largely to Empire Lands There seems no doubt that Canada and Australia are taking the youth and strength of the Old Country on a quite unprecedented scale. It is not a mere "Daily Mail" scare; it is an obvious fact that the rural and remote parts of England and Scotland are sending their bands of emigrants wholesale. In the House of Lords this week the Duke of Devonshire called attention to what he considered the inaction of the government in the matter of encouraging British emigrants to go to British colonies rather than foreign countries, which had been requested by the late Imperial Conference.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to the sex, should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as a sacredly confidential. Many sensitive women write daily to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The best physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce says that these distressful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in a few cases, should submit to them.

to be solved for a family outside the city this week. According to the Italian Consul, the girl was brought to this country more than eight years ago by kidnapers, who posed as the father and uncle of the child. She was placed in a home for girls where she was reared until a year ago, when she was turned out to do domestic service.
Recently the clothes she wore when brought to the United States came into the possession of the Italian Consul in some unknown way. They were of expensive texture and indicated to him that she was of noble origin and had been stolen from her genuine by unknown persons, who had contrived to escape from Italy with her through the collusion of steamship employes.
Until he has received official permission from the Italian authorities, the consul has declined to give out the name of the noble family to whom the girl belongs.
On the same day Mrs. Ada A. Rudy had Professor Rudy, her husband, on the coals. She asks for a separation and alimony, claiming that the pedagogue was more interested in a mysterious French woman, known only as Zolidee, in her abductions to the court, the wife says he neglected her, assured her that he loved the latter more than he did her. Rudy has called for alimony, counted for the wife's share of the court. and pending advices from the other side has taken her in charge. Meanwhile the kidnapers are being sought in various parts of the country.

Professors in Trouble
Professor Harry Thurston Peck, for many years holder of the chair of English Literature at Columbia University, shared the interest of the courts this week with Professor H. G. Quin, tutor of languages at the College of the City of New York. Professor Peck, it will be recalled, was sued last autumn by Esther Quin, a newspaper writer, for breach of promise. Subsequently he was dismissed from the university because of the disagreeable notoriety caused by the suit. Now he is suing Professor Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the university, for damages for defamations of character in connection with his dismissal. In the Supreme Court, Professor Peck, who has announced his intention of fighting the breach of promise suit to a finish, asked through counsel to have the action dismissed on the ground that the attorney for Miss Quin had not placed the case on the calendar or made any move to have it brought to trial. Decision was reserved.

The New Eleventh Edition of the ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA

Is Being Published Simultaneously In These Seven Countries

The appearance within a period of a few weeks in all English-speaking countries of the completed 11th edition of the Britannica is a notable editorial and manufacturing triumph. The last wholly new edition (the 9th) was issued volume by volume over a period of fourteen years, from 1875 to 1889. Only the world-wide demand for this greatest of all works of reference justified the lavish expenditure necessary to publish simultaneously the 29 volumes of the new edition.

The New Encyclopædia Britannica

The new edition has been written on the same lines of comprehensiveness and unquestioned authority which have given the Encyclopædia Britannica a world-wide reputation since the issue of the First Edition in 1767-71. It constitutes an entirely new survey of universal knowledge to 1910. No completely new edition has appeared since the issue of the Ninth (1875-1889). The 11th edition consists of 28 volumes and index, comprising 40,000 articles, 790 text illustrations, 450 full-page plates, and 17 maps. The entire contents of the work were kept under editorial control before a single page was sent to the printer so that all the volumes are practically of even date. The contributors number more than 1,500, including scholars, specialist authorities, and practical experts in all distant countries; £280,000 ($1,150,000) was spent on the work (to contributors and editors, as well as for late proofs, illustrations, typesetting and corrections, blue papers, etc.) before a copy was offered for sale.

The new work combines comprehensiveness with brevity; many thousands of short articles having been included for the first time. Among the new features are literary definitions (dealing with technical or scientific terms), biographies of living celebrities in all countries, complete history, under alphabetical headings, of classical antiquity, bibliographies of all important subjects, exhaustive accounts of all new countries, the first connected story of modern Europe, detailed and authoritative notes on industries and all practical subjects, and the latest results of archaeological research, of exploration, and scientific discovery. The new work contains more than twice as much information as the Ninth Edition, but the India Paper format occupies about one-half the space.

Any reader who has not yet received particulars of the new Encyclopædia Britannica may obtain illustrated notes (40 pp.) 56 specimen pages (printed on India paper), to show the attractive character of the work in this format, and order form giving the present low price and terms of purchase, by applying to the Canadian agent of The Cambridge University Press.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

BY THE PRESS OF THE University of Cambridge.

THE LAST DAY on which you can post your order for the new Encyclopædia Britannica in order to take advantage of the low advance-of-publication prices is Wednesday, May 31st. Orders bearing a postmark of a date later than this can only be received at the higher prices, which will come into effect on Thursday, June 1st.

It is certain that hundreds of readers of this notice intend to purchase the new Britannica, but are waiting to send in their application until nearer the closing date, under the impression that a few weeks delay cannot greatly matter. It matters this much to them, that the delay of even one week means that thousands of other applications will have been registered ahead of theirs, with a consequent and inevitable delay in getting their sets; for all orders are filled strictly in the order of receipt, and the supply cannot at this period keep up with the demand.

Australia, India, South Africa, New Zealand, each have to get their share; there is the home demand to meet; and we in Canada are ordering to England every week the number of sets in the various styles which the week's orders call for, so that we may get them out with the least delay possible; but—and this must be emphasized—there is a limit to the speed with which the home office can fill our requisitions, which are rapidly growing to formidable figures; and five other countries have to be simultaneously supplied. Moreover, there is a limit to the speed with which Printers and Binders can turn out the work.

It is calculated that if the sheets of the two thousand tons of paper used for this edition were joined together they would stretch from North Pole to South with a few hundred miles to spare; that if the volumes were stacked one on top of the other they would make a pile 12 miles high, or twice the height of Mount Everest, with two miles to spare. Figures such as these drive home the immensity of the task of issuing at one time so vast a work, they are given here to show that the interval of time between the delivery of the first sets and the last must necessarily be considerable.

If you have made up your mind that the new Britannica is a book you need, whether for your business or your home or for the benefit of your children, we urge you to send in your application without any loss of time. By doing this you will secure for yourself early delivery and at the same time you will be helping us to make provision for an adequate number of copies to be received here in Canada within a reasonable time. Applications may be made on the form printed on this page.

Usefulness of the New India Paper Format

The convenience of the new dress in which the new Encyclopædia Britannica is offered constitutes an advance which cannot be fully appreciated unless it is considered in connection with the uses to which the book is intended and designed to be put.

Incidentally the greatest benefit resulting from the innovation of India paper is the more intimate character of the new format. The delightful handiness of the India paper volumes, their readability, the fact that they can be picked up and held in one hand and (in either of the leather bindings) bent back as easily as a magazine, are a sure guarantee that when people come to discover for themselves how absorbing a story these volumes have to tell, they will fill the void of many an otherwise empty and wasted hour.

It was Theakerar who said that the great sacrifices of life were comparatively easy, but that it took a hero to face its minor discomforts. On the same principle a book that is uncomfortable to read is only too likely to end up by not being read at all.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK IN ST. JOHN

One of the most successful entertainments of the kind ever held in the city of St. John was the reception given by the United Canadian Club and the Loyalist Society in the Keith assembly rooms on Thursday evening to celebrate the landing of the Loyalists.

Miss Maudie Donville is in Winnipeg, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. Earle. One of the most interesting announcements made this week was that about June 1 Mr. David Bishop, the world-renowned singer, would be heard in St. John.

A very large number of friends were at the station on Wednesday to bid farewell to Premier Hazen, Mrs. Hazen and daughter, Miss Katie and Miss Frances Hazen, who left en route for England and the coronation.

Mr. Joseph Allison and Mr. William Allison returned home from St. John, Ontario, on Saturday. Mr. Joseph Allison returned from St. John, Ontario, on Saturday.

A Positive Cure For Rheumatism

For many years, both during Father Morrisey's lifetime and since he passed away, his No. 7 Tablets have been curing many of the worst cases of rheumatism in Eastern Canada.

During his lifetime it became the custom, when people could not get relief from other sources, to consult Father Morrisey, and few indeed did so in vain. His standard prescription came to be called Father Morrisey's No. 7 Tablets.
