P. E. Island Wins With Record Score

Charlottetown, June 8—Victory perched on P. E. Island Riflemen's shoulders today, they eclipsing former scores in the maritime shooting with the unprecedented score of 762, or an average of 95½ per man.

The score made today by the Island team has never been equalled in Canada by a picked team of eight men. Weather conditions were glorious. The scores:

P. E. Island grand total:	260,264,238,762.
Nova Scotia	255,262,242,759.
New Brunswick	250,262,241,753.

Renous Bridge Lumber Co., L'td

One of the busy places in Millerton at the present time is the rotary mill of the Renous Bridge Lumber Company, Limited.

This mill started operations the first of the present week and is giving employment to about thirty men.

It is well supplied with logs and everything points to a long season's run.

The mill first started operations here about four years ago and has proved a great benefit to Millerton.

Rev. E. S. Murdock, the popular parish priest of Renous, has the credit of establishing the firm and held the position of president until the past spring.

The head office of the company is at Renous Bridge, where Mr. P. J. Young the efficient manager may be found at any time.

Major T. W. Lawlor, Redbank, succeeded Father Murdock as president and is ever active in the interests of his firm.

Mr. R. A. Murdock, secretary, looks after the agricultural and mercantile end of the business. Anyone calling at their store at Renous will be sure to receive courteous attention from that gentleman.

The mill here is under the capable supervision of Mr. John Matheson, who was appointed its local manager in 1907. He is always active in the interests of the firm and is ever courteous and obliging.

In conversation with Mr. Matheson he informed the News that the mill does not only saw its own lumber but finishes it for the ready use of the builder, having an up-to-date machinery for that purpose, as well as being in a position to attend to dimension orders at short notice.

THE SOUTH-WEST BRIDGE.

In our issue of Saturday last we referred to the reported dangerous condition of the South West Bridge. It is pleasing to note that Hon. John Morrissy, Chief Commissioner of public works has given this matter his personal attention.

The following is taken from the Leader:

"What will be the fate of the South-West Miramichi Bridge?

Chief Commissioner Hon. John Morrissy and Chief Engineer A. R. Wetmore arrived from Fredericton on Wednesday evening, and with Inspector D. Desmond inspected the structure on Thursday morning. Mr. Wetmore will make a report on his findings to Mr. Morrissy and inferentially immediate action will be taken one way or the other.

That the bridge will be closed is the most probable result of the inspection. Hon. Mr. Morrissy preferred not to commit himself before having received the report, but it is known that the party found the bridge in a very poor condition.

To make conditions satisfactory the structure will have to be practically rebuilt. So any repairs would under the prevalent circumstances be like throwing money away.

The Southwest bridge has weathered well its long existence. About twenty-two years is the life of a wooden bridge, while this structure has been in position and carried heavy traffic for twenty-seven years. It is incumbent to take some action, and the department's decision will doubtless be actuated with the interests of the people and the province paramount."

MARY AGAIN.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; it strayed away one summer day where lambs should never go. And Mary sat her quickly down and tears streamed from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother who kept a village store; he sat him down and smoked a pipe, and watch the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat and smoked his pipe, and blinked his sleepy eye. And so the sheriff closed him out, but still he lingered near, and Mary came along to drop a sympathetic tear. "How is it sister, can you tell, why other merchants here, sell all their goods so readily and thrive from year to year? Remembering her own bad luck, the maiden then replies: "These other fellows got there, John, because they advertise."

College Residence Acadia University Gutted by Fire

Halifax, June 8—Fire in the college residence of Acadia University at Wolfville yesterday caused damage of several thousands of dollars. The blaze originated in a dust flue leading from the basement to the fourth story. The flames were first seen from the roof. The fire department was soon on the scene and was able to prevent a complete loss. The damage is covered by insurance.

a 'whole heap'

The name of Creghans has become synonymous for style and snap among good dressers. The styles they show are nearly a year in advance of what are shown by other stores.

There's a big difference too, in the appearance of clothes. Some look all right to start on, but look like an old suit after a few day's wear. Ours ain't that kind.

Ours has the staying qualities and retains the proper shape and fit till the garment wears out. The makers back it up with a "written guarantee of 'money refunded' if the garment does not hold its shape —They know it will. Suits $7.50 to $22.00. Raincoats $6.95 to $11.50.

TWO WORKMEN BADLY BEATEN IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B. C., June 8—Two men were manhandled and badly beaten up by strike sympathizers this afternoon in an apartment house being built on Twenty-first avenue and Main Street. W. Patterson, foreman of construction, was attacked by five men and hit over the eye with a piece of two by four scantling. The wound was serious enough to necessitate the putting in of eight stitches.

J. Bryant, an apprentice, aged 18, was kicked and beaten till he was laid out. The building is being erected by A. B. Beach and is just about finished. A number of men were working in different parts of the building. Thirteen outsiders came to the building and entered one of the lower rooms where the foreman and apprentice were working. These two were attacked and badly beaten and the assailants had departed before the men on the top floor knew what had happened. No arrests had been made.

The outlook is bad for a settlement now, the civic committee having practically thrown up its hands.

UNCLE WALT

The Poetic Philosopher.

FOOLISH ANGER.

You fly in a passion and roar in fool fashion when something or other goes wrong, and people that hear you regret they are near you, and wish you would mosey along. Man's never so foolish, disgusting and mulish as when they are prancing in wrath; and yet, in his snorting and silly cavorting, he thinks he is cutting a swath. I don't mind the clang-or of justified anger—a man has a right to be mad when standing a session of wrong and oppression by men who are spiteful and bad. And when he is hotter than simmering water, he ought to go up in the air, and kick out a girder and yell bloody murder, and bust a suspender and swear. But he who goes raving and pawing and caving whenever by trifles upset, deserves a good whacking; he shows that he's lacking the sense to come out of the wet.

WALT MASON.

SMILES AND FROWNS.

Smile and the world smiles with you,
 "Knock," and you go alone;
 For the cheerful grim will let you in
 Where the kicker is never known;
 Growl, and the way looks weary.
 Laugh and the way looks bright,
 For a welcome smile brings sunshine,
 while
 A frown shuts out the light.
 Sigh, and you attain to nothing.
 Work, and the prize is won;
 For the nerry man with backbone can
 By nothing be outdone;
 Hustle and fortune awaits you,
 Shirk, and defeat is sure,
 For there's no chance of deliverance
 To the chap who can't endure.
 Sing, and the world's harmonious,
 Grumble, any things go wrong;
 And all the time you are out rhyme
 With the busy, bustling throng;
 Kick, and there's trouble brewing,
 Whistle and life is gay;
 And the world's in tune like a day in June,
 And the clouds a'l melt away.

NOT THE MILLERTON BAND!

The Band struck up one evening

An ancient, tuneful lay,
"And for bonnie Annie Laurie"
It did it's best to play;
"Maxwelton's braes are bonnie,"
So the first coronetist said;
"Like winds in summer sighing,"
The baritone replied.

Said the tenor in a joyful cadence,
"She's all the world to me,"

The clarinet made the comment
"That dark blue was her e'e;"

"Her brow was like the snaw-d-ift,"
That alto did repeat,

And the bass-drum showed how light-some

"Were the fa's o' her fairy feet."

Oh, the audience was restless

"When early fa's the dew,"

But took notice when the trombone
"Gave me her promise true."

Ah, 'twas a precious promise

"That ne'er forgot shall be,"

When the tall man with the tuba

Said "I'll lay me doon and dee."

The boys were overjoyed

And started for a hearse

When from out the tubes o' brass

Poured forth the second verse.

History has told of Annie's death,

But history must have lied;

Annie Laurie, then and there was murdered;

Oh, cruel the death she died.

Toronto, June 8—By an assignment for the benefit of creditors, made today by the Dr. T. A. The financial breakdown of the Slocum Company is attributed by its president to the unfavorable publicity which he and the company have received.

Bakery Combine Nearly Completed

Toronto, June 8—That arrangements are almost completed for the purchase of a number of the largest bread factories in Toronto, Montreal and other Canadian cities, was learned this morning.

It is understood that Cawthra Mulock, one of the main shareholders in the Maple Leaf Milling Company, is mainly responsible for this latest combination. The purpose is to secure for the milling company a large market for their output by the control of the factories. Messrs Weston and Bredin, two of Toronto's largest bakers, are in Montreal, where the merger will be closed up shortly.

Mr. Mulock declined to discuss the question as to whether he himself, apart from the milling company, was interested in the purchase.

New Diamond Fields in Canada

Ottawa, June 8—Two new discoveries of diamonds, one in Quebec, have been made in Canada, and R. A. A. Johnston, mineralogist of the geological survey, will leave for Germany in a few weeks in connection with an effort being made to discover a satisfactory commercial process of extracting these diamonds from the chromite in which they are found. Should such a process be discovered, and the laboratory staff are now working on it, it would be of inestimable benefit to Canada, not only as regards the creation of a diamond industry, but also in connection with the profitable mining of chromite.
