SAYS GERMANY IS BEHIND IN CONQUEST OF THE AIR

France the Leader in the Construction of Airships — A German's Dream of Invading Britain by Use of Balloons

BERLIN, July 16.—The successful flight of the balloon Hatria, the first craft of its kind built for the French Government, which sailed over Paris a few days ago under perfect control, has brought about an extensive discussion in the German newspapers with frequent allusions to Germany being behind France in the matter of air navigation. Major Von Parvesal recently was permitted to resign from the army to become an airship engineer and study the subject of airships thoroughly and a company was organized at the Emperor's suggestion. Major Von Parvesal says that the German army is in no position to show aeronautic success equal to that of the French army. "The French have five years the start of us in experimenting with airships adaptable to war," he declared. "Now, however, we, too, are working energetically on an airship suitable for war purposes." The general staff here had not taken much interest in air navigation as an auxiliary in war until recent months or rather since the Emperor began to show an interest, which eventually brought about contributions from several Berlin capitalists for the purpose of investigating the subject and organizing a company and an appropriation from the Reichstag to help Count Ferdinand Zeppelin in his airship experiments. Intelligence has reached the general staff that France has between fifty and sixty balloons made by the Lebaudy Brothers already in their frontier depots. The question of airships has been discussed within the last few months in the most serious manner by various public men, especially by Rudolf Martin, formerly minister of the interior, who in a brochure just issued, speculates on the airship as Germany's future instrument to overcome Great Britain. The airship idea has been burlesqued amusingly in an anonymous pamphlet entitled "Our future lies in the air," in which the Emperor's epigram "Our future lies in the water."

KOREAN PRETENDER RETURNS FROM EXILE

May be a Scheme of Japan's to Incite Rebellion and Make an Excuse for Interference.

SEOUL, July 16.—Information has reached the palace from Japan sources that Prince Yi Chang, once pretender to the throne, and for several years an exile in Japan, has reached the palace and has the imperial permission to return to Seoul. His coming following on the return of Prince Pak Yong Hi, is construed by Koreans as significant of all sorts yet been taken, the Emperor's people still fear his dethronement, hence the return to Korea is regarded as indicative of either a step or a scheme to participate a conflict between the contending forces of Koreans, which might give the Japanese an excuse to exercise their force. In view of the fact that a parody on a leading Korean are afraid to give expression to their views.

SAYS THAT JAPANESE OPPRESS THE KOREANS

An American Who Has Resided in the East Tells of Unfair Conditions Existing

LONDON, July 16.—Hon. B. Hurbert, an American, who has held several prominent educational positions in Seoul, Korea, is now in London on his way to the United States. In an interview Mr. Hurbert complained strongly of what he termed "the unfair and illegal treatment of the Koreans by the Japanese." Every office in Korea, he said, has been given to the Japanese. Land is being sold without sufficient compensation and all trade and commerce has been gathered in the hands of the Japanese to the exclusion of the Americans and British. Mr. Hurbert considers that Japan is ignoring the treaty rights which Korea established with Great Britain and the United States. He intends, he says, to appeal to the chambers of commerce and similar bodies throughout the United States to oppose this condition of affairs. He does not accuse the officials in high authority in Japan, who seemingly desire to do the right thing, but he says the officials find it impossible to get the proper men to carry out their intentions.

THE ARCHITECT'S ESTIMATE WAS WITHIN ELEVEN DOLLARS

For Improvements on the Jail — Finance Committee Again Refuses to Pay Bills From Dr. Berryman.

The building committee of the Municipal Council met in County Secretary, Vincent's office this morning and discussed the tender for the proposed jail improvements, as suggested at the last meeting of the municipal council. The committee will recommend the acceptance of the lowest tenders to the Council and its meeting in the Court House this afternoon. The tenders acceptable to the committee are: Carpenter, mason work, painting, glazing and iron work to A. E. Hamilton, whose tender was for $230. Electric wiring and fixtures to F. E. Jones for $129.65. Heating to P. E. Fitzgerald for $75. This makes a total of $864.65. The estimate of Architect F. Neil Brodie for the work had been $875. The work to be done comprises the fitting up of the present morgue into an office for the jail. This will be fitted with steel side walls and ceiling, and will be connected to the jail corridor so that the turnkey can see into the jail from the office. The work also includes the fitting up of the Court House with electric lights and fixtures, also cleaning up the sheriff's office, which will be repainted and repapered. A new roof on the jail office and a new roof over the large entrance to the Court House is also included. The committee on finance and accounts of the municipal council report as follows to the meeting this afternoon: The committee recommend payment of the following amounts, such payment to be made out of the contingent fund. D. R. Jack, insurance premium, $ 42.00 T. B. & H. B. Robinson, insurance premium, 45.00 Albert Taylor, conveying prisoners to goal from Fairville, 5.00 Charles Bailey, supplies goal premises, 124.20 W. O. Dunham, repairing furniture, treasurer's office, 5.25 County secretary, half cent of offices, 85.25 Stamps, 5.00 County treasurer, care of offices 4.05 The committee are of the opinion that two views held by Dr. Berryman, M. D., namely, on the bodies of Mrs. G. McNamara and L. A. Wilson, were unnecessary, and cannot recommend payment. The committee recommend that the Division Registrar be authorized to pay direct to those persons, under the act entitled to be paid for making the returns, the amount of the fee, taking their receipts for the same on the back of his certificate, showing the number of returns so made to him, which said certificate when endorsed by the person to whom the amount of the fee has been paid, and presented to the county treasurer, shall be his authority to pay back to the division registrar the whole amount of the fees so paid out by the latter official. The committee also recommend that the disposal of five thousand five hundred dollars of hospital loan debentures be referred to the chairman of finance and secretary with power to act.

NEW LOCOMOTIVES FOR THE INTERCOLONIAL

Twenty Five Have Been Ordered to be Completed Next Year—Gasoline Launch Sunk.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 16.—The Dominion government has ordered twenty-five locomotives for the Intercolonial railway from the Canadian Locomotive Works Company, of this city, to be completed by the end of 1938. The heating of the new jail office will be by connection with the furnace now heating the jail proper. The committee on finance and accounts of the municipal council report as follows to the meeting this afternoon: The committee recommend payment of the following amounts, such payment to be made out of the contingent fund. D. R. Jack, insurance premium, $ 42.00 T. B. & H. B. Robinson, insurance premium, 45.00 Albert Taylor, conveying prisoners to goal from Fairville, 5.00 Charles Bailey, supplies goal premises, 124.20

THE HAYWOOD TRIAL

BOISE, Idaho, July 16.—It is possible that the prosecution in the Haywood case will close the rebuttal this afternoon but more than probable that another day will be given to this feature of the case. If predictions are verified, however, argument should begin by Thursday. Aller, the former ticket agent at Cripple Creek, who has been arrested on the charge of perjury, and whose bonds were fixed at $5,000, was locked up in the county jail last night in default of bail and will be given a preliminary hearing today. He insists that his testimony was true, but admits that he may have been mistaken in the matter of dates. Prosecuting attorney Koelsch says that he has ample evidence to prove the case. He has watched the progress of the Haywood case very closely and makes the positive statement that every case of perjury on either side will be prosecuted vigorously into the Colorado labor troubles.

INSURANCE FORGER GOES TO JAIL FOR FIVE YEARS

MONTREAL, July 16.—Joseph E. Costin, a Montreal insurance agent, who was found guilty of forging a cheque for $2,000 on the Mutual Insurance Co., was sentenced by Judge Choquet to the penitentiary for five years in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

HARTLAND FIRE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN; PEOPLE AROUSED AND ASK INVESTIGATION

Largely Signed Petition Was Presented This Morning, and the Enquiry Which Will Be Conducted by the Fire Commissioners Will Begin This Evening

Among the villagers of Hartland the belief is prevalent that the disastrous fire which occurred there yesterday was the work of an incendiary. A petition, signed by over fifty of the most prominent merchants and householders, was presented to Messrs. John T. C. Carr, Allan Bradley and B. E. Morgan, who are the fire commissioners for the village, which is incorporated for fire and water purposes, praying for an investigation. Acting upon this petition the commissioners will hold an investigation which will be begun this evening. The firemen who just reached the scene of the fire, which started in the Tracy building, maintain that the portion of the building where the fire started had been soaked with kerosene oil. The fire broke out in the basement of the building, which had several tenants. The firemen also claim that after a certain length of hose was laid a leak was noticed and that this leak had been caused by a sharp instrument, presumably a knife, cutting through the hose. The business men of the village are rapidly recovering from the effects of the fire, and business will be recommenced as soon as suitable stores can be obtained. Messrs. Keith and Plummer, general merchants, will re-build at once. Messrs. Ingram and Laird have re-commenced business in Foresters' Hall. Several of the business men are still undecided as to their future course, while a few say they will remove from the town.

THREE MORE OF THE GEORGIA'S VICTIMS WILL LIKELY DIE

Bring the Total Number of Dead to Eleven — Spark from Smokesack Caused the Explosion

BOSTON, July 16.—Of the thirteen men injured as a result of the ignition of a bag of powder which was being fired in the target practice of the battleship Georgia, while engaged in target practice in Cape Cod Bay yesterday, three are believed to have been killed. The thirteen injured are at the United States Naval Hospital, at Chelsea, where they were taken from the Georgia when she arrived here yesterday. The cause of the accident was the falling of a spark which was probably blown from one of the Georgia's smoke stacks on a bag of powder which a loader was carrying to a gun in the after super-imposed turret, which was engaged in target practice. The powder burst into flames and enveloped the men who were penned in the steel cage.

PANAMA LABORERS NOT EARNING A LIVING

MADRID, July 16.—Complaints have been received by the authorities here from Panama that the pay of the laborers who were sent there from Spain has been reduced from one peseta, sixty centavos in gold, to four pesetas in the money of that country, which is insufficient for existence under the prevailing conditions there. Senior Lederra, minister of the interior, has asked the Spanish consul at Panama for a report on the subject, but a number of deputies are using pressure to have him make a formal report to the canal authorities without awaiting reports.

MAGGABEES MAY FORM ONE BIG ORGANIZATION

DETROIT, July 16.—With one hundred delegates present from all sections of the United States and Canada, representing 300,000 members, the Eleventh Triennial Review of the Supreme Tent, Knights of the Maggabees, of the world, met here today. One of the most important matters that will be considered is the proposition which has been made that all the various Maggabee orders be consolidated into one great body, including the two organizations of ladies of the Maggabees. A proposal that a home be erected for aged members and the orphans of members, will also come before the delegates for consideration.

STRANGER WAS SAVED FROM A WATERY GRAVE

Man Who Had Been Drinking Walked Over Long Wharf Early This Morning.

About 4:30 o'clock this morning persons on Main street heard cries for help coming from the direction of Long Wharf. A young man named Jackson ran to the wharf where Mill street and found a man hanging to one of the braces under the wharf. Policeman Smith was summoned to the scene and with the assistance of George Burgess and Oscar Roberts the stranger was hauled from his perilous position and saved from a watery grave. He would not give his name but showed the police where his boarding house was on Gay's street, where he was conducted. His clothing was wet and the experience that he went through put him in a very excited condition. The man had been drinking and found a sleeping berth in the rear of a box car on Gay's street, where he awoke himself round the opposite end of the car and in the darkness stepped over the wharf into the water. He managed to grasp one of the wharf braces and held on until rescued.

HE NORTH SHORE SHOOTING

DALHOUSIE, N. B., July 15.—The Fontaine murder case was re-opened on Friday by the arrest of William Gallop and George Seelye, the police officers sent to arrest Fontaine. There were two charges laid against them, George Gallop, Fontaine's brother-in-law, laid a charge of assault and Mrs. Fontaine one for wilful murder. The preliminary examination is set for Friday before Police Magistrate Windover here. They are out on bail at $200 each. Gallop is a deputy sheriff and country jaber, and Seelye is police constable for Dalhousie. Both are well liked. The verdict of the Coroner's jury has already been made public, but it is not generally known that several of the jury were for the complete exoneration of Seelye. Kenneth Arthur, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting at Westfield. Miss Alice Dymart, who has been visiting friends in the city will leave for Boston this evening. Still the moving picture shows continue to arrive. Today a new show in Union Hall is advertised. This brings the number up to four.

SPORTING MATTERS

ST. JOSEPHS WON FROM F. M. A'S

There was a fair attendance at the Inter-Society League game on the Shamrock grounds last evening, when the St. Josephs defeated the F. M. A. team by a score of 4 to 1. The first inning went without a score. A base on balls, a few rollers, bases, throws and a hit brought in two runs in the second for the St. Josephs, while two bases on balls and a single gave the F. M. A.'s their only run in this inning.

With two men on bases Harris placed a two-bagger in left field, and the St. Josephs made two more runs in the third inning. This finished the scoring. The game was keenly contested, although there were not any very brilliant plays.

The St. Josephs had nine men up in the fifth and got six men across the plate, but as the game was called on account of darkness, it went back to even innings. The following is the score and summary of the game:

BOATS CHOSEN FOR LOVITT-WAGNER CUP YACHT RACE

SHELBURNE, N. S., July 15.—The trial races to determine the Canada representative for the international races were concluded today. The weather was delightful with a steady moderate southerly wind. The first race was started at 10 o'clock, the contestants being the three Shelburne boats, and the Halifax representative. The latter was distanced, but the result between the three former was so close that the committee felt that they should in justice give them another trial, which was held off at 2 o'clock, resulting in the selection of the boat owned by J. McKay. The three boats selected to defend the Lovitt-Wagner cup are owned by Walter Dexter, W. A. Wagner and J. McKay. The American boats have been over the course several times and are all ready for the contest.

YACHT CLUB CRUISING
CAPE PORPOISE, Me., July 15.—The Boston Yacht Club's cruising squadron, numbering fifty-one boats, arrived here today after an uneventful run of 26 miles from Isles of Shoals, which was left at ten o'clock this morning. Fog prevailed until noon, but the afternoon was fair and the southerly wind freshened to a stiff breeze.

This evening a shore dinner of 200 covers was given by the Boston Yacht Club to the members of the Portland Yacht Club at the Cape Porpoise Casino.

DEPOT PRESENTED MILITARY ASPECT
Woodstock Artillerymen Back From Petawawa, and Other Contingents from Nova Scotia on Their Way

The Union Depot had a decidedly military appearance last night between seven o'clock and ten. The presence of a number of artillerymen was the arrival and departure of detachments from Petawawa.

The 10th Woodstock Field Battery was represented by a party of twenty-five gun-players under the command of Major W. C. Goove and Lieut. A. W. Fields. The Woodstock men were on their way home from Petawawa, where they spent three days of last week in camp practice. Lieut. Hazen, who accompanied the detachment to Petawawa did not return with it.

A number of counterfeit $2 bills have been turned up in Hull during the past few days. The counterfeit bills are being turned up to the original utterers. The bills are unsigned and are easily detected.

An order-in-council has been passed appointing Anthony McGill to the position of chief dominion analyst, in succession to the late Thomas MacParlane. Mr. McGill has been assistant chief analyst since 1887.

At a meeting of the directors of the Montreal Exhibition Association yesterday afternoon it was decided to hold an exhibition in the fall of 1908, immediately preceding the Halifax exhibition.

Citizens having due bills at the Bank of Nova Scotia in Montreal, yesterday, if they desired to take advantage of a technicality, had a day's respite in consequence of complaints by other local motorists have a very real grievance in the practice of those driving carriages in not having the carriage lamps lighted. Last evening a local motor car narrowly escaped running down a horse and carriage because the latter vehicle carried no lights. The law distinctly states that vehicles must carry lights at night, and to avoid accidents this regulation should be enforced.

DEATHS.
MRS. ROBERT McELROY.
WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 15.—Mrs. Robert McElroy died here this morning after a lingering illness. Four daughters and three sons survive.
TIMOTHY MURPHY.
Timothy Murphy, of Red Head, died at the hospital yesterday. He was 79 years of age. Mr. Murphy is survived by his wife.
RICHARD CLINE.
Richard Cline, the oldest pilot from this port, died suddenly last evening at eleven o'clock. He was taken sick about half-past ten with heart trouble, and Dr. Berryman was immediately summoned, but could do nothing for him. The deceased was born on Deer Island about eighty years ago and came of a family of mariners. He had his home in St. John from early manhood and has been a pilot for some sixty years. He enjoyed the confidence of the shipping men on account of his reliability. He piloted war ships into the harbor in old days. He was a remarkable man in many ways, had great physical strength, was a thorough temperance man, and always a Conservative in politics. He had a great many unusual experiences in the course of his long life, at one time having been left out in the harbor for two days in an open boat. He is survived by his wife, three sons—Alfred and Richard, who are pilots in the city, and Wilfred C., who is engaged with Pender & Co., and eight daughters, including Mrs. Francis McElroy, 27 CHE street; Mrs. Arthur Kyle of Calgary, and Mrs. Dora Harber of Matteboro, Mass.

George McAlay and James Goelme, two Carleton boys, had a narrow escape from being crushed to death between two scoops yesterday afternoon. They had been stalling in the harbor, and on returning, moored their boat in the Sand Point slip, tying it to a scoop which was next to a large woodboat. The boys were lying down in their boat when the tug Lord Woolley came into the slip with a mud scoop in tow. The tug and the boys' boat struck, sinking it and throwing the boys into the water. They were nearly crushed between the scoops as they had just been taken from the water in time.

Charles W. Wheaton of Metcalfe street, is in hard luck. He broke his arm by falling down the hold of a winterport steamer last winter, and was confined to the hospital for nine weeks. Shortly after he was released from that institution his arm caused him pain and he consulted several doctors. It was found that the broken member had not healed and the doctors were obliged to again break the arm and re-set it. Mr. Wheaton still carries his arm in a sling.

PEACE.

To the Editor of "The Star." Sir—One of our daily papers last week had a short but sincere editorial on the necessity of school training in peace principles.

PEACE.

Within the last ten or fifteen years, as most teachers will agree, there has been a notable increase in national self-consciousness and in that pride of race and nationality commonly called "patriotism."

PEACE.

In schools the attention paid to patriotism is in marked contrast to that of twenty years ago. Not only is every child taught to salute the flag and pledge loyalty to it, but greater emphasis is put on all national holidays and flag day is added to the list of school celebrations.

PEACE.

When, however, one carefully inquires what our children conceive patriotism to be, and what they mean when they pledge themselves to service of country, it is not evident that the patriotic sentiment is even a perverted conception.

PEACE.

It is not true that the word "patriot" in the minds of probably the majority is perhaps more misunderstood than any other, unless it be the word "religion."

PEACE.

Another woman had been brought to this straits by the anxious condition of affairs in Ireland, that she had been obliged to sell her hair.

PEACE.

It might not seem an interesting fact when put into words that 43 applicants were waiting for election, but if the light of day could be let into every case it would reveal the saddest, bravest struggles against poverty.

that patriotism is somehow necessarily connected with the idea of killing. A teacher in Washington, D. C., reports one of her boys replying to the question, "What is patriotism?" with the prompt answer, "Killing Spaniards."

HAVE YOUR PAPERING, PAINTING AND WHITENING done early. We are now doing a large amount of work in this line.

WOMAN SELLS HER HAIR TO BUY FAMILY FOOD LONDON, July 15.—Pitiful stories of dire poverty were related yesterday at a meeting of the United Kingdom Beneficent Association to provide annuities for poor gentlemen, held at Sir Edward and Lady Sassoon's house.

Another woman had been brought to this straits by the anxious condition of affairs in Ireland, that she had been obliged to sell her hair.

It might not seem an interesting fact when put into words that 43 applicants were waiting for election, but if the light of day could be let into every case it would reveal the saddest, bravest struggles against poverty.

THE ARREST OF A SPY.

The talk of war between Japan and the United States has partially subsided for the time being. Although there are no good reasons why a conflict between these two powers should take place, still certain questions which have risen to bitterness have not yet been settled, and the relations existing between the nations are strained. Both races are impetuous, and the Japanese, laboring under a sense of injury, are extremely liable to regard as a national affront any minor disturbance which may be caused by sectional feeling on the part of a lawless few on the Pacific coast. United States citizens on the other hand who look upon the Japanese as an upstart race, are unwilling to meekly bear the presumptuous demands of the eastern people or to swallow the insults offered. While feeling such as this exists, any incident, trivial in itself, might suffice to cause an outbreak. The ordering of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, in view of President Roosevelt's previously expressed views on such an action, caused a flutter, and was seized upon by the jingo of both countries as an excuse for further action. This excitement has practically died out, but the situation for a few days was serious. Later a Japanese spy was arrested in San Diego, and in his possession were found blueprints, photographs and descriptions of the fortifications in that place. The prisoner has been compelled to give up all the papers which were found, and he himself will be released. It is to the credit of the United States, or at least to the non-military element, that this incident passed with little comment. Those whose business it is to take part in matters pertaining to defence, know that there is no law under which an alleged spy, caught in time of peace, may be subjected to criminal prosecution. Every first class power possesses its own secret service department, a branch which is of the utmost value in its affairs. The United States has spies all over Europe, gleaned all possible information concerning defence works, strength of armies, plans of naval construction and the like. There is no doubt that the war department of Great Britain knows as much about Fort Rosecrans in San Diego, as do the officers who are on duty there. Revelations are of course provided that no photographs or sketches of fortifications may be made. This is the case in all countries, but in time of peace the only punishment is the confiscation of the forbidden prints. Scarcely a day passes without the arrest somewhere of those "tourists" or "servants" who are found to be exhibiting undue curiosity in military construction, but it is a game of wits, and every nation plays it. At the present time more than the ordinary publicity has been given to the arrest of a Japanese in San Diego, but if the truth were known similar arrests have been of frequent occurrence in the past and have been unnoticed.

BETTER THAN THE BOARDS.

Tall Thesplan—You say that you once did a turn and got $5,000 for the one performance. Great Brute! What theater was it in?
Short Thesplan—No theater, an hotel. I did a turn in the revolving doors, got my hand caught and recovered $5,000 damages.—Detroit Tribune.

NOT A SLIP OF THE TONGUE.

It is dangerous to pretend to knowledge one does not possess. A man of little education was once a guest at a dinner, during which a servant stumbled so that a roast tongue fell from the platter he was carrying. It was an embarrassing moment, but the quick-witted host saved the day by remarking, "Never mind, gentlemen, it's only a 'japsus lingua'." This caused much laughter and applause, and instead of being spoiled the dinner was a great success. The host, wishing to shine as a wit himself, shortly afterwards gave a dinner, to which none of those present at the first dinner were invited. Who the guests had been seated a servant entered bearing a beef roast. Just before reaching the table he stumbled and fell. The host, leaping to his feet, astonished the guests by exclaiming, "Never mind, gentlemen, it's only a 'japsus lingua'."

GOT THE AUTOGRAPH.

At Calbad on one occasion Brahms' physician, Dr. Grunberger, asked the composer for his autograph for a young lady admirer, but Brahms scolded him for making a nuisance of himself and refused to give it. Some weeks later, at his departure from Calbad, Brahms handed to the doctor an envelope inscribed, "With the cordial thanks of Johannes Brahms." Noticing a broad grin on the doctor's face, he asked, "What makes you look so cheerful? You don't know yet what the envelope contains." "Nor do I care," retorted the doctor. "Then envelope is the main thing. Much obliged for the autograph."

OUTSPOKEN.

"What did you find out?" asked the news editor.
"Everybody you sent to me to see," replied the honest reporter.

TICKLED BY THE POET.

"Indians, you know," said the widely-read man, "are very stoical. They're never known to laugh."
"Oh, I don't know," replied the slipshod person. "The poet Longfellow made Minne-haha."

COMPLIMENTARY.

"You have a model husband," said the lady who was congratulating the bride.
The next day the bride bethought her to look up the word "model" in the dictionary, and this is what she found: MODEL: A small imitation of the real thing.

TWO LIMERICKS.

There once was a person named Bendix,
Who got something in his appendix,
And he said: "Without doubt
I must cut this thing out,
For there isn't any other rhyme available."

THIS PERSON WAS Laid ON THE TABLE.

A surgeon considered quite able,
In a manner most deft
Slashed him up right and left—
What miserable weather we're having.

TOO PARTICULAR.

Matrimonial Agent—"I can strongly recommend Mr. Softy. He's financially solid, and he neither drinks, smokes, nor takes snuff."
Applicant—"Do you think I can't find fault with him?"

A TIP TO THE BARBERS.

"Mamma," said little Elsie, "do men ever go to heaven?"
"Why, of course, my dear. What makes you ask?"
"Because I never see any pictures of angels with whiskers."

JUDICIAL SYMPATHY.

A certain judge who once presided over a criminal court was famous as one of the most compassionate men who ever sat on the bench. His softness of heart, however, did not prevent him from doing his duty as judge in that court.

WHAT HE FEARED.

One of the outlying London theatres which makes a specialty of melodrama has a large following of "gods," and very naturally the "sky" assemblage is composed of ignorant, but pleased. Woe unto the actor who is unfortunate enough to incur their displeasure!
Recently a play with a half-raising plot was put on the boards. The hero is evidently new to his part, for he fumbled his lines badly, and spoke in a faltering tone. Perhaps it was for this reason that he did not meet with the sympathy of the gallery.
Just before the crisis of the play, the hero clasped his sweetheart in his arms and said:
"Keep a brave heart, my darling. The worst is yet to come."
Whereupon a voice that had no doubt received its training in crying "extras" in the street yelled out:
"What are y' goin' to do, mister? Sing!"

WHY SALMON MIGRATE

Hunger Drives Them to the Sea; Thirst Sends Them Back.

Theory of a Scotch Guide, Who Shows in the Stomach of a Salmon a Haddock and Four or Five Large Herrings.

GAZPE BASIN, Canada, July 14.—"Come along, come along," cried a pretty Scotch fellow, who, by the way, ran out of the wee brooks and rivers into the salt water. "Yes, I'll show you. I will."

The speaker is a well known guide on the Grand River of Gaspe, a thorough authority on fishing subjects. This sample of his talk will identify him to scores of former patrons.

As he spoke he led the way to a large lighthouse, where lay numbers of the finest salmon caught by the deep sea fishermen, stored there until the summer marketing season sets in. A least one of them, a beautiful male fish of thirty-three pounds, had not yet been opened, and when it was there was a surprise to one familiar with salmon killed in fresh water.

There was one seven inch haddock and four or five large herrings as well in the paunch. "More'n what you'd be wanting to eat in a day, isn't it? Such a fish as you would eat his weight every two days, if he had his will. Where would he be getting all that, think in a bit of stream, or in a big river even?"

"Ah, well, the salmon's no such a fule as to take chances of being left hungry, ye see. He'll just go straight away for the first drove of herrings or haddocks, or even caplin, if there's nothing better, and fairly live with the crowd, as well as on 'em. No getting away from the big chaps, for they can swim some, I tell ye. The boats get 'em in the nets, when they are after the perch fish, ye see, that's how all these got caught last winter and spring."

"But I was always told that in the sea the salmon fed on crabs, or crawfish, or things of the shell families, which accounts for their color," said the other.

"Eh, man, but that's main foolishness," was the reply. "Why, a big salmon would be clamored to death before he'd fill himself with such wee chaps as that. It's something big he's eating, and that's the fact, ye see, do ye say? It's fat, just fish oil, as gives color."

"If they are so well fed in the sea, why do they ever leave and go up the rivers?"

"For one thing it's na' just only for the spawning, the food gets them to the old man looked the lobster door, it his pipe, and with the salmon delirium went on: 'Of course the water is a fresh water fish, made for rivers and lakes. For the first year or two he could not breathe in the sea at all. Salmon eggs breathe the salt water comes near them. It is only an insatiable appetite which sends him to the ocean. The food gets them in immense quantities develops not only size, but fat as well, and brings on a salinity, which every season sickens him greatly, eating it is converted to a run up to the inland resorts for the same reason that other jaded dyspeptics go to the sea, to try the effect of a change and to rest."

"In fact the salmon have then such a perfect distaste for food that for some time after a few months they eat nothing. Pretty nearly all the wild things of the woods as well as of the waters have similar habits of occasional abstinence, some taking no food from autumn until spring."

The keen observer still further remarked that salt water was certain to produce thirst, sooner or later. Salmon are not naturally sea dwellers because they fast entirely and parched with thirst that they just have to rush back for their fresh water.

"An' certain that's but natural. Who does na' at times crave for a drink in the sand wellhead, or the wee bit springs under the beag stane?"

A learned physician, who was of the party, remarked as a commentary upon the report of this conversation that the fact that the digestive tract of the salmon was almost functionless and inactive when he entered fresh water from the sea. The big fish have in fact then hardly any power of assimilating food and doubtless live upon the matter stored in their systems until their return.

With regard to the impelling thirst for fresh water science was unable to discover ground for the theory, which was, however, not impossible on its face.

According to Sandy's idea, which science has no proof against at any rate, the salmon is driven to the sea by his want of food, though he is by nature a fresh water fish. But if salmon spawn was deposited in brine it would die. Accordingly nature has provided against that by making it necessary for salmon to leave the sea every year and rush back to fresh water, and that just at the time when

Leading English Women to Hold a Congress to Advise the Government

LONDON, July 15.—A number of influential women have been for some time organizing a movement to improve the social, legal and industrial status of women in the United Kingdom. They propose to establish a women's congress, to which a qualified woman from each parliamentary constituency will be appointed.

It is proposed to meet periodically to discuss and frame recommendations regarding all laws affecting women's welfare and submit them to the government of the day. One of the objects will be to make it possible for women's views to be represented authoritatively instead of leaving their representation in the hands of a small but noisy minority, who call attention to themselves by unseemly conduct.

It is proposed to steer a middle course between the woman suffragists and the anti-woman suffragists, and in the words of the secretary "voice the views of the enormous majority of Englishwomen, who do not desire parliament to try to enfranchise them, but who recognize the crying need of reform."

Every trade and profession in which women are employed will be represented in the congress, the motto of which will be "dignity, sympathy and truth."

The visiting Knights Templar from Pittsburg, who spent yesterday here left for Halifax last night. They had a special train with four sleepers and a baggage car for the trip. The train left the depot at eleven o'clock. Somewhat before that hour the visitors arrived at the depot accompanied by local members. The suburbanites who were waiting their train were greatly charmed with the singing of the Templars. Before leaving the latter expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the courtesies extended to them by the people of St. John with whom they came in contact, and took away souvenirs of the city in the shape of mugs, which had been presented to the ladies of the party by H. Doherty of the Royal hotel. After resting in Halifax the party will proceed to Yarmouth, thence to New York on their return.

THE BRITISH IMMIGRATION

A Superior Class Coming to Canada This Year

Increase Over Last Year Is Over Fifty Per Cent—Will Stop Labelling of Dominion

OTTAWA, July 15.—J. Bruce Walker, chief Canadian immigration agent in Great Britain, who is at present in Ottawa on departmental business, states that the striking feature of the British immigration to Canada this year is the comparative superiority of the immigrants coming to the Dominion as contrasted with those bound for the United States. The immigration agents in Great Britain, he said, are not endeavoring much to encourage immigration from the cities but are spending most of their energies in getting immigrants from the rural sections. Northern and northwestern England are at present supplying most of the immigrants. Those coming from London and the other large centres of population are mostly sent out by the various charitable organizations.

The increase in British immigration to Canada so far this year is over fifty per cent, as compared with last year.

Speaking of the character of the reports sent back from Canada to Great Britain by immigrants, Mr. Walker said that the exaggerated statements of hardship and privation made in letters to the press by lazy immigrants here usually brought by the next mail from Canada refutations from some fellow immigrants.

Mr. Walker interesting letters which appeared last spring stating that immigrants had been chased through the streets of Winnipeg by wolves and that hundreds of Englishmen had been frozen to death on the prairies. The attention of the Minister of Justice has been drawn to these frequent statements from Canada, and he is now making about two or three bills a year, and is now making about two or three bills a year, and is now making about two or three bills a year.

FAITHFUL SERVANT WAS TORTURED BY BURGLARS

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 15.—Because he would not deliver to two burglars the keys of his employer's house, Frank Smith, forty-five years old, a coachman in the employ of John Gehl, a wholesale meat dealer, was horribly tortured Sunday morning and left for dead by his assailants.

Smith slept in a room above the larn at the rear of Gehl's house. He was awakened shortly after midnight by two masked men, who demanded the keys of the house. Smith refused to give them up and the burglars then began a series of revolting tortures. Smith's tongue was slit with a knife and the soles of his feet were slashed in a score of places, until he became unconscious. The men then threw Smith down the stairs, where he was found the next morning. The matter was kept a secret by the police until today, when one arrest was made. The prisoner gives his name as Taylor.

CHILDREN IN PLYN'S DAY

It was not a modern American writer who, discussing the children, wrote of them thus: "How many are there who will give place to a man out of respect to his age and dignity? They are shrewd men already and know everything. They are in awe of nobody, but take themselves for their own example." These were the words of Plyn the younger used in one of his famous letters during the first Christian century, but they will strongly apply to much of the young America of today.

ROSALIND'S CAPTAIN DENIES STORY OF CAPTAIN MCKINNON

Says He Did Not Indicate by Signals That His Vessel Was Going to Port

HALIFAX, N. S., July 15.—An inquiry into the Senlac-Rosalind collision was opened at the dockyard today before J. L. Parsons, agent of the marine and fisheries department. Two sessions were held, at which Capt. McKinnon of the Senlac, and Captain Clarke of the Rosalind, testified. The inquiry was adjourned until this afternoon. On one point there is a direct conflict of evidence.

Captain McKinnon testified that before the Rosalind loomed up through the fog she blew two blasts on her whistle, indicating that she was going to port. This was emphatically denied by Capt. Clarke, who stated that the Senlac crossed the Rosalind's bows and was cut down.

Capt. McKinnon of the Senlac was the first witness. He told of leaving the Plant wharf on the night of July 1st. When off Georges Island he heard an approaching steamer's whistle several times. He heard three distinct blasts. Then the Senlac blew a short blast, indicating she was going to starboard. The Rosalind then blew two short blasts, indicating she was going to port. The Rosalind then blew two short blasts on her whistle. A collision was inevitable. He threw the Senlac's stern away from the Rosalind's bow and the Rosalind struck her about amidships. The captain then told of his crew and passengers boarding the Rosalind, and of the subsequent movements until the Senlac was beached.

Capt. Clarke then went on the stand. He swore that while entering the harbor on July 1st he heard the steamer blowing coming out. Just as she loomed in sight she blew two blasts, indicating that she was going to port. The approaching steamer, which was the Senlac, was running very fast, and was making about two or three knots. From the time the Senlac loomed up, crossing the Rosalind's bow until the Rosalind struck her, he was so short that nothing could be done on the Rosalind to avert a collision. The Senlac struck her about amidships, tearing off her planks on the Red Cross boat's stem. The passengers and crew were thrown overboard. The Rosalind's bow was broken, and she was holed in several places. Capt. Clarke denied positively having blown two blasts at any time before sighting the Senlac, as stated in Captain McKinnon's testimony.

Nickel Features a Hit

The Nickel's first-of-the-week audiences were charmed with the variety and excellent of the new programme yesterday and last evening, the new feature in illustrated songs—the costume vocalist, illustrated stage in miniature and motion pictures in connection pleasing everybody to the extent of prolonged applause. The main portion of the long programme presents still another novelty in moving pictures—a historically truthful and suspicious illustration of the tragic story of Salome, the dancing girl who exacted as her reward for pleasing the impressionable king the devoted head of John the Baptist. Her horrible experience deals with dramatic incidents of a circus clown, whose liberty was taken upon purely circumstantial evidence. The tramp and the dog is a hilarious "Chase" film, but for seriousness and rare trickery in the photographic art. The Betrothed's Nightmare is exceptional—a truly delightful spectacle breathing the spirit of Rheindale magic and witchery.

EXPLOSION IN WARSHIP BRINGS DEATH TO MANY

Eight Dead and a Score Terribly Injured, Some Fatally

Two Bags of Powder on United States Battleship Georgia Exploded During Target Practice in Cape Cod Bay—None of Turret Crew Escaped.

BOSTON, July 15.—With eight of her officers and crew dead and fifteen others either dying or suffering from terrible burns received in an explosion of powder in the after superimposed turret, the battleship Georgia steamed slowly to Boston harbor from the practice grounds in Cape Cod Bay late today, and landed her crew and freight of dead and injured men at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

With the arrival of the Georgia there became known the details of the most terrible naval catastrophe that has ever taken place along the coast of New England. The accident occurred shortly before noon today, while the Georgia's crew were at target practice off Barnstable in Cape Cod bay. In some manner as yet unexplained, two bags of powder became ignited and in the terrific flash that followed, the entire turret crew, consisting of three officers and eighteen men, were enveloped and receiving horrible burns, one officer and five men dying before the ship reached port.

The victims of the accident are:—Lieut. Comdr. Caspar, Brooklyn, N. Y., two-thirds of body burned. Lieut. Comdr. Goldthwaite, Faulkner, midshipman, Kentucky. Thatcher, William J.; chief turret captain; Wilmington, Del. Burke, Joseph; midshipman, Quincy, Mass. Hamilton, George G.; ordinary seaman; South Framingham, Mass. Miller, George E.; ordinary seaman; Brooklyn, N. Y. Thomas, William M.; seaman; Newport, R. I. Pair, William F.; seaman; Brooklyn; whole body burned. Cruse, John T.; midshipman, Nebraska, hands and face burned very seriously. Schlapp, Fran, boatswain's mate, second class, North Adams, Mass., back, chest, arms and face burned. Hansell, Charles, gunner's mate, first class, New York, arms and hands burned. Taglund, Orly, chief yeoman, Richmond, Minn., arms, back and face burned. Walsh, Edward J.; seaman, Lynn, Mass., chest and face burned fatally. Bush, John A.; ordinary seaman, New York, face, arms and chest burned, probably fatally. Eich, Christian L.; ordinary seaman, Frankfurt, Ind., face, arms and hands burned. Fone, John A.; ordinary seaman, Trenton, N. J., arms, back, neck and face burned. Gilbert, Harold I.; ordinary seaman, Boston, Mass., two-thirds of body burned. Malock, John C.; ordinary seaman, Cleveland, Ohio, arms and face burned. Meese, Louis C.; ordinary seaman, Berea, Ohio, arms, face and chest burned. Rosenberger, Samuel L.; ordinary seaman, Philadelphia, arms and face burned. Thomas, James P.; ordinary seaman, Brooklyn, N. Y., face, arms, chest and back burned, fatally. Four other men received minor injuries whose names were not given out and who were not taken off the ship.

The explosion occurred in the after superimposed turret, where the men, under command of Lieut. Comdr. Caspar, Goodrich, son of Rear Admiral Goodrich, son of the after turret had fired one bag of powder as called, had just been sent up through the turret. The loader stood at the breach of one of the eight inch guns, all ready to insert the charge. At this instant the turret was seen to be smoky and two men who stood near the loader saw a black spot on the bag, indicating that the charge had ignited and was smouldering. The loader discovered the spot at the same instant and threw himself forward on his face, at the same time shouting a warning to his turret mates. The other men who had seen the spot were themselves prostrate on the floor of the turret. Before the other men in the turret had time to react, a blinding flash, flames, smoke and nauseous gas, more than a score of men were confined. Inasmuch as the powder was not confined there was no deafening report, nor did the vessel suffer any injury, but every nook and cranny of the turret was filled with flame. The loader was nearest the powder, was terribly burned, as was every other man in the turret with the exception of Eich and Hansell, who escaped with injuries much less severe than the others. Blinded by the smoke, the flame, choked by the acrid permeating gaseous flames and maddened with pain, the men screamed in agony. Some staggered blindly up the ladder to the hatchway in the top of the turret, while others crept along the turret floor, breathing pitifully for assistance. Lieutenant Goodrich and seaman Malock became crazed, staggered on the iron ladder to the top of the turret and threw themselves headlong into

TESTIMONIAL TO REV. DR. FALCONER

Halifax Citizens Arranging for a Farewell and Presentation—Prominent Men Interested

HALIFAX, N. S., July 15.—Halifax citizens will present a testimonial to Rev. Dr. Falconer, president of Toronto University, before his permanent departure from this city. He arrives tomorrow to address the Canadian Club on Thursday. He will remain in Halifax about a month. A meeting was held today at Government House, the lieutenant-governor presiding, and attended by a large number of representative citizens. Committees were formed to arrange details. It has been suggested that the presentation be in the form of a citizens' farewell and presentation, and it is felt that all will cooperate to that end. The general committee will include Governor Fraser, Archbishop McCarthy, Bishop Worrell, Premier Murray, Mayor MacCall, Col. Drury, Wm. Roche, M. P., and the presidents of the various benevolent and other societies in Halifax.

The child, a boy of 1-1/2 years, vanished mysteriously while playing outside his parents' home in Shillington street, Dartmouth. The parents were distracted, and the father, Charles Page, a chess monger, haunted the streets night and day in search for his little boy. He had almost given up hope when he accidentally heard that a child in his class had been seen with a woman in Shorefield. Again he renewed his work. While passing Shorefield Church, he suddenly caught sight of his son in the arms of a woman on the opposite side of the street. In a moment the child was in his grasp and the woman was in charge of a policeman. There were bruises on the boy's body and he was dirty and bedraggled. It was ascertained yesterday that the woman sang in the streets, and took the child in order to arouse sympathy. She was remanded.

HOUSE BURNED AT HOPEWELL CAPE

HOPEWELL HILL, N. B., July 15.—The residence of Ernest Lynde in Hopewell Cape, was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. The fire started about two o'clock from a defective fire and in a few minutes the building was burned to the ground. The house was situated right in the centre of the village, and a large part of the village might have been destroyed.

CRIPPLES TO SEND DELEGATES TO PREMIER

MARSEILLES, July 15.—Marseilles rejoices in possessing the Syndicate of French Cripples. The union has just decided to depute two members, who will endeavor, like Marcelin Albert, to visit M. Clemenceau. It is not known whether they are crippled, or whether they have legs, as they mean to walk from Marseilles to Paris. On the road they will pay their way by lecturing, and they have chosen an admirable topic—the exposure of sham cripples, and worse still, beggars artificially maintained in childhood by those who exploited them. Such hideous practices, as well as all the evils for simulating loss of limbs, paralysis, age, deafness, dumbness, blindness, and so on, are to be shown up at towns on the way from Marseilles to Paris by the cripples' delegates.

2 STORY BUILDING MAY BE ERRECTED

A meeting of the buildings committee of the School Board was held last night and the question of larger school accommodation was thoroughly discussed. All were agreed that greater facilities are necessary. A committee of Chairman Truman and Trustees Col. Maxwell and Russell were appointed to see the members of the council if possible and report to the board. It is possible that the board may decide to build a two-story building containing six school rooms and an exhibition hall on the Vernon site. This school would be sufficient to accommodate the boys and girls of the locality. Should this be done, of course Leinster street school would have to be retained, although by no means adapted to modern school purposes, and at no distant day the board would be forced to build a boys' school in the same neighborhood to take its place.

TWO DROWNED AT GLACE BAY

Sons of Councillor Anderson Upset Out of Boat

Tried to Swim Ashore and Went Down—Companion Had Narrow Escape—Boy Drowned at Nahone.

GLACE BAY, N. S., July 15.—Two sons of Councillor Anderson of Glace Bay were drowned by the overturning of a sail boat off Catalone, C. B., about one o'clock today, while their comrade, Jos. McDonald, came within an ace of sharing their fate. The two drowned lads, Crawford and Alexander, were 21 and 19 years of age, respectively. The young men were on their way from Catalone Gut to Glace Bay and when about four hundred feet from the shore a squall struck the boat and upset it. All three were thrown into the water. They clung to the boat for a while and shouted for help. Alexander Anderson said he would try to swim for shore, and in spite of McDonald's warning he set out. He took an oar but it got away and set out without it. His brother Crawford followed him. Both young men went down before reaching land. McDonald was rescued half an hour later. The bodies have been recovered. Eldridge, the 14 year old son of Robert Burgoyne, chief of the American Yacht Dodge at Nahone, lost his life while bathing in Ernest's mill pond. Arthur Daughines, a companion pluckily rushed to his chum's assistance but was dragged under and in order to save his life had to break away from the drowning lad. The body was recovered in a short time.

FINDS HIS LOST CHILD IN STRANGER'S ARMS

LONDON, July 15.—A father's search for his lost child and his success in finding it resulted in London. The child, a boy of 1-1/2 years, vanished mysteriously while playing outside his parents' home in Shillington street, Dartmouth. The parents were distracted, and the father, Charles Page, a chess monger, haunted the streets night and day in search for his little boy. A MISSING DOG MAKES LOTS OF TROUBLE
Leo Burns Summoned to Account for a Spaniel Owned by Verner McLellan.

A case which will arouse considerable interest is on in the police court this afternoon. A lost dog is the cause of all the trouble and Verner McLellan, registrar of deeds, and Leo E. Burns, of the Canada White Co., are the two most interested.

It appears that Mr. Burns, who is representing the Canada White Co. in the construction of the new Royal Bank building, found a spaniel pup around his office and he allowed the animal to have its quarters there for a day or two. He watched the advertisements in the newspapers, he says, but did not find one asking for the return of the dog. A day or two later Mr. Burns received a call from a lady, who claimed the dog, which was at once given over to her. This was several days ago and nothing was heard of the matter until yesterday, when Mr. McLellan called on Mr. Burns and asked for his dog. The latter stated that he had given the animal to a woman who had claimed it, and Mr. McLellan informed Mr. Burns that he would bring the matter to court. Mr. Burns did not know the woman to whom he had given the dog, and consequently could not direct Mr. McLellan to her home. Later in the afternoon yesterday Mr. McLellan located his spaniel and all parties thought that the trouble was at an end. But Mr. Burns received a summons to appear in court this afternoon, so more is yet to be heard.

ASSAULT ON A GIRL WILL END IN COURT
This morning a young man came to the city in a hurry. He said his name was Cully and that while he and his sister were starting on a berrying expedition near their home on the Black River road, she was attacked by a milkman named Belysa who is a neighbor. The young man said the milkman struck his sister a violent blow with a large stick and that one of her arms was broken. Dr. D. E. Berryman accompanied the young man to his home about four and a half miles from the city. It was found that the young woman was in a very nervous state and severely injured about the shoulders and arms from the blow of a stick, but that her arm was not broken.

The milkman Belysa and the Cully family have not been on good terms and the assault is the result of a family feud.

An information has been laid against Belysa for assault and he is to be given a hearing before Justice Bowes.

MORE EVIDENCE IN THE CRAWFORD-WHITE CASE
Witnesses Tell of Seeing the Prisoner Strike the Prisoner With His Baton.

The case against Wm. White was resumed in the police court this morning. A large crowd was present. Dr. D. E. Berryman testified that he was called to the Central Police Station Saturday night and after some trouble managed to close up a wound on White's forehead. There was only one stitch put in the wound which was a mashed cut about an inch long caused by a blunt instrument. The prisoner consented to the witness going in alone and dressing the wound, but afterwards became violent and had to be held by three officers.

To Mr. Baxter—the prisoner objected to Crawford's presence and said he did not consider it necessary for Crawford to have his hand on him and he would get square with Crawford. Crawford told the prisoner that he hit him with the baton.

The doctor examined the prisoner for the court and found that he was pretty sore and the contusions over the right eye could have been done nicely by kicks.

Wilford McMan, who works in a Sydney street store, said he saw Crawford with three other men carrying White. The latter's face was bleeding.

Mr. Amlund said he joined the crowd and saw Crawford striking the man. He did not hear the crowd make any threats to Crawford.

Wm. McGuigan testified that he with White and two others were in the graveyard and Crawford ordered White away. When White was arrested witness said he remarked that it was no use to kill the poor fellow and he aided in carrying White to the police station.

To Mr. Baxter—When he saw the prisoner at Keane's corner, some were choking him and holding him down. Both White and Crawford were bleeding. There was an easier way of taking the man.

John Ross said he heard Crawford call for assistance and when he tried to assist Crawford he was shoved back by the crowd.

Policeman McLellan told of the prisoner being brought into the station Saturday night and that there was considerable trouble in getting the handcuffs on him. After Crawford had his face dressed, he telephoned for Dr. Berryman to dress the prisoner's wound. It took four men to hold White while he was getting the wounds dressed.

Mr. Mowatt told of Crawford coming to the drug store to have his wounds dressed and he looked as if he had been pretty roughly handled. He saw marks of heels on the officer's coat.

Joseph Cameron was called for the defence and testified that he saw White on the ground. He was begging to get clear. His eye was cut, and he called to the officer: "See what you have done." The policeman called for a team, and White said he would go without a team. Witness then heard the crash of the baton on the prisoner's head. Witness did not see anybody kick Crawford. It was a brutal thing for Crawford to hit the man like he did, for the blow could be heard a hundred feet away.

George Ryan said he saw the policeman throw the prisoner on the ground on his face. His face was scratched and bleeding. Witness heard the crack of the baton on the prisoner's head.

J. Little gave evidence that he saw Crawford drag the prisoner, saying: "Come along," and White said "all right." White gave a jurat toward the officer who drew his baton and struck White on the head causing him to sink to the ground. White then put up a good fight. A young man named Malcolm went to assist the officer and Crawford attempted to strike him with the baton.

Mr. Baxter said the man was drunk; there was no evidence of the prisoner being profane. He was in a condition to be arrested. He would like to think of the force, but Crawford maliciously and wilfully threw the unfortunate man on the sidewalk. It might have been better if Crawford had kept away while the wound was being dressed. It does not seem human that an injured man should be attended to in a cell when he might have been placed in the guard room which is better lighted. The case was adjourned until tomorrow.
