

WHOLE OF 2nd CANADIAN DIVISION IN FRANCE

Are You Going to Turn the Cold Shoulder to the Call Of Our Boys in the Trenches

"The example set by this young man should send a feeling of pride through the blood of every Canadian to know that every man, like Major Duval, has now a chance to go; not to death, for that was an accident, but to go forth and win honor and glory in helping to crush the enemies of our beloved country."

Another Hero.
"And I met another young man last year at Valcartier, Major Guthrie, that brave and noble young man who came forth from civil life and said 'Here am I, take me and use me in any way that will help the Empire.' He was granted a commission as major, went with his command to France and was at the battle of Ypres, where in company with other Canadians, he took no mean part in that engagement where, although the Germans outnumbered our men, the brave Canadian troops turned defeat into victory and drove back the enemy."

"All honor to Major Duval, all honor to Major Guthrie, all honor to our lads in the trenches, who are holding up their hands to you, and saying 'come over and help us.'
"Are you going to turn the cold shoulder to the call from the trenches?"
"I see before me young men of military age, young men with red blood in their veins, who should come up now and offer to do their part, to help the boys in the trenches and help the Motherland in this her greatest hour of need."

Mr. Justice McKeown
The next speaker was Hon. Justice McKeown, he said in part:
"In this struggle a large portion of the burden of war is falling on the women. There is not a young man who does a uniform and crosses the sea but carries the love and affection of some woman."
"A noted woman, speaking at a meeting for women in this city a few days ago asked all the women present who would be willing to sacrifice themselves for their country to hold up their hands, nearly every hand was raised. She then asked those who would be willing to let their son, husband, brother or sweetheart go to the front to hold up their hands, and I am told that hardly a hand in that audience was raised. The women were willing to suffer themselves rather than see their loved ones suffer."

An Appeal to Women
"If there is any woman here tonight who has a son or other dear one of military age who is able to go, in civilian garb, I would ask them to seek out the nurses, those brave girls who are doing the nation's work, and listen to the tales poured into their ears by their sisterhood in Belgium, of the atrocities of the Germans and ask the Canadian nurses of the terrible tales of atrocities perpetrated on our own Canadian troops and when you have heard these stories if you do not want the same thing to happen here that has happened in Belgium for God's sake let the men go."
"When Germany went to war she was asked by Great Britain to guarantee that if she was victorious she would not take any French territory. Germany was willing to accede to this request so far as French territory in Europe was concerned, but would not agree to keep her hands off the French colonies."
"Some of the greatest German writers have said that Germany must expand, must rather property that belongs to others. Not in all the world is there a country like Canada, a habitant so well suited to the German people in every way."
"If Germany is victorious in this struggle, Canada is the very country she would put her hand upon, the only piece of land she hopes to get. If this should happen, if Germany should get Canada this is what would take place."
"First she would appoint a military administration to govern the country and that would name a military administration in St. John. She would call forth all the bankers and leading business men and impose upon our city a fine that we could not pay and would take every dollar, all your savings from the banks."
"She would take every stock from all the stores and every desirable house would be given over to her soldiers and officers and we would be the servants in the house."
"This is what would happen if Germany wins."
"What would it mean to you if you saw your flag, the dear old flag we love so well, hauled down and trampled in the dust and knew you would never see it again? This will surely happen if the German rush is not stayed."

Victory Will Be Dearly Bought
"Germany will not be beaten by some sudden movement, we will not pick the paper some morning and read that she has been crushed over night. In no way can we pay the price but by the last full measure of devotion."
"If we saw a line of victorious German soldiers on our streets, it would mean that the very titles and deeds we hold of our homes would be worthless, our property would be parcelled out to the German soldiery, and this will happen if they are not stopped."

"A year ago, no one thought it possible for Germany to be victorious, but today, prominent speakers in England, who realize the enormity and gravity of the situation, are saying that a greater effort must be made than has yet been even contemplated."
"Seven per cent. of the male population of the British Isles is at the present time under arms; Canada has two per cent. under arms. Is it fair? Are we doing our part?"
"If this was a war of aggression, on Britain's part, we would not expect that any such response would be made by the colonies, but it is not a war of aggression. It is a life and death struggle for freedom! Let there be no mistake about it."
"There is something to be said in favor of conscription. It has been said that one volunteer is as good as ten men taken by conscription, but I believe a Canadian boy, whether a volunteer or a conscript, will do his duty and when the time comes will fight. He cannot help it, it's in the blood."
"Unless the call is answered, unless there is greater response to the demand for men, it will be the duty of Canada to follow the lead of the motherland, and if Britain finds it necessary to pass a conscription law then Canada must also enforce the compulsory service law."

"The allied forces have been punished grievously by the Germans in the past year. They are now unprepared. This condition has been overcome to some extent, but if we are to prosecute this war to a successful finish we must have men."
"I have you willing to see this war, I want you, not to punish me for a war of aggression, but to keep intact the country in which we live and keep floating the flag we love."

A. M. Belding.
A. M. Belding was the next speaker. He said in part:
"British people have always been able to maintain their rights. I wonder if they are going to do it now."
"Had word from a woman in this city today who has lost her son; he died at the Dardanelles, he died for you, for me, he died for Canada."

"Captain Barnes, of Hampton, gave up his business and his commission and enlisted as a private. In word received from his he says: 'It is a great privilege to be alive today, and physically fit to serve the Empire.' So long as we have men like Capt. Barnes Britain will maintain her rights."
"We want men to go, not to be killed, but to keep our women and children from being murdered. Do not wait until a hostile warship steams up the Bay of Fundy and drops a bomb on King Square, come now, let us dominate the world and win do so unless we do our part."
"The commonwealth of Australia has already sent 83,000 men to the front and is making arrangements to supply 5,000 more a month additional. New Zealand has sent 20,000 men and this number will be increased to 50,000. Canada ought to do as much as Australia and New Zealand have done. It depends on the men of St. John and the provinces whether we can do it or not."

A Father's Message.
"I have a boy in England, who will soon be at the front, and I have the right to ask that if he should fall, some other Canadian boy will be there to take up his task. Has not the widow, who has three sons at the front, more right to ask it?"
"The boys in the trenches are calling you, those brave lads who have blazed a trail for you to follow. Are you going to follow it?"
"There comes once to every man or woman a chance to stand up and decide between the right and wrong, this is your chance, what will the answer be?"
"At the conclusion of the meeting the King and flag, which were given with vigor."
Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, will be the chief speaker at tonight's patriotic meeting in St. Andrew's rink at 8 p. m.
Lieut. H. M. Teed, who was wounded at Lansemarke, and is home on furlough, will also speak, the Mayor will preside.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Sept. 29.—It is announced by the trades and commerce department today that as a result of communication with the British government arrangements have been completed in regard to the export of Canadian wheat and flour wheat, barley and other grains except oats as follows:
1. Holland—Export to be on license granted by the Canadian government for which application is to be made to the department of commerce, consignments of barley and rye are to be made to the Netherlands overseas trust and its consent to receive consignments on behalf of importers must be obtained in every case beforehand.
If consignments are made to the Netherlands government these are limited to wheat and wheat flour and previous consent in this case is also necessary.
2. Scandinavian countries—Applications for shipment thereto must be made to the customs department of the Canadian government, stating the name and address of the consignee, the commodity and quantity to be exported. Arrangements have been made to refer these applications through the high commissioner for Canada by cable to London where prompt action will be taken.
3. In connection with Greece arrangements have been completed with the Greek government whereby the British minister at Athens in cases where consignees give him satisfactory guarantees will grant permission for export. Intending shippers of wheat flour, barley and rye to Greece should therefore instruct their consignees to apply for such permission to the British minister at Athens. License to export will be issued by the customs department.
4. In connection with non-European countries as regards shipment of wheat flour, wheat barley and other grains except oats to ports outside of Europe the embargo has been removed and trade takes its usual course.

Horwood on Stand Again Saturday in Manitoba Case
Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Direct examination of V. W. Horwood, formerly provincial architect, was resumed this morning by R. Bonnar for the crown. In the preliminary hearing of Sir Rodmond Roblin and his colleagues, Horwood told of attending a cabinet meeting on April 19, Sir Rodmond Roblin said "suggested that Horwood leave that afternoon for Minneapolis for his operation saying if he wished to get away he would have to go at once before the Royal Commission issued a subpoena."
Horwood agreed to leave next afternoon and did so. Horwood went to Dr. Simpson to get back the money he had spent to help keep Salt away. Simpson said he would see Mr. Furlong, a business man in Winnipeg. Later Simpson paid Horwood one thousand dollars.
Dr. Simpson said he most likely would have to get out too. Simpson told Horwood Dr. Monaghan and Sir Rodmond had suggested raising twenty-five thousand dollars for the witness but he never got the money.
Horwood quoted Coldwell as saying they might have to prosecute himself and Elliott, the government inspector, but the attorney general and the minister of justice were on their side. Horwood said when he had the original tenders at his home (Kelly's and Lyall's) Kelly called and picked up the Lyall tender and looked at it. Kelly got very angry, said there was no check attached and it should not be considered a tender at all, and said "Coldwell was giving him the double-cross."

SYNDICATE TO UNDERWRITE ALLIES' LOAN
New York, Sept. 29.—The proposed mammoth credit loan to Great Britain and France, it was reported tonight, is to be underwritten by a large syndicate of American financiers and bankers, who are to receive a commission for their services. The securities offered, it was said, will be British and French five per cent. government bonds, and the price to the investor is to be par. The amount of the loan, it was reported, is as yet undetermined, but will be between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000.
Whether mentions of war will be included within the scope of the proposed credit, so far as could be learned tonight, has not been decided. The underwriting syndicate, it was reported, would be the largest of its kind ever established in the United States, and probably will be open to nearly all national banks, trust companies and state banks that may care to participate. While the amount of the commission to be paid these banks was not expressed in percentages, it is understood that the profit will be a small one, possibly one-half of one per cent.
Elimination of the reported difference in opinion between American financiers and members of the Anglo-French commission's views were that the loan should be placed by subscription, and that there should be no underwriting syndicate.
The American conferees were reported to favor adoption of a plan whereby a syndicate would underwrite the big issue and would receive at least one-half of one per cent. for its services. This, it is reported, has been the plan tentatively agreed to. Efforts to elicit an expression of the commission's views on this point tonight were futile.

Dr. Simpson said he most likely would have to get out too. Simpson told Horwood Dr. Monaghan and Sir Rodmond had suggested raising twenty-five thousand dollars for the witness but he never got the money.
Horwood quoted Coldwell as saying they might have to prosecute himself and Elliott, the government inspector, but the attorney general and the minister of justice were on their side. Horwood said when he had the original tenders at his home (Kelly's and Lyall's) Kelly called and picked up the Lyall tender and looked at it. Kelly got very angry, said there was no check attached and it should not be considered a tender at all, and said "Coldwell was giving him the double-cross."

SIR JOHN FRENCH'S TRIBUTE TO CANADIANS

"WORK OF CANADIANS MOST SPLENDID IN RECORDS OF BRITISH HISTORY"

Commander-in-Chief of British Army thus praises fighting of men from Canada.

London, Sept. 18.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British in the field, recently visited a Canadian brigade and delivered a speech to the men in which he said: "I wish to express appreciation for the splendid manner in which, early in the year, when a Canadian infantry division suffered great losses, you volunteered to leave your homes and come out here. At the commencement you took the most prominent part in the battle of Festubert, where we not only gained a considerable amount of ground, but inflicted great losses on the enemy and captured a large quantity of material. Afterwards at Givenchy you kept up the same fighting record, and since that, till a few days ago, you have been doing very hard work in the trenches.

"Your record will go down in British history as one of the most splendid of British history."

INSPIRING ADDRESSES MARK OPENING OF FREDERITON FAIR

The premier also told of many opportunities which the farmers of New Brunswick were having provided for them, as compared with a few years, and expressed regret that the people did not even yet take full advantage of these opportunities which meant that there was still much room for development of the resources of the province. "Agriculture in N. B. is looking well today," he declared, "but much more can be done to keep our young people on the farms and have them reap the benefits which will come from a further development of everything that this province offers."

Hon. Mr. Clarke concluded his address with references to the great war and the part which Canada and New Brunswick have played and must play in this crisis of the British empire. "We should stick to the idea that our first business is that the empire is at war," he declared, "and then in lauding the heroic part which Canadians have played in the fighting in Flanders." He declared that "they have shown that man for man British and Canadians are better fighters than our Teutonic enemies." He called upon the people of New Brunswick to make the supreme sacrifice which all citizens of British empire must make, and declared that if every British subject did his part there could be no doubt as to the outcome of the struggle being a glorious victory for Great Britain and her allies.

Fine Reception Accorded Hon. Mr. Hazen

The premier was very warmly received, his remarks brought forth frequent outbursts of applause and these scenes were repeated with much enthusiasm during the address of Hon. Mr. Hazen, who was the last speaker and who concluded his speech by formally declaring the exhibition open for business.

It was the first time that Hon. Mr. Hazen had been heard in a public deliverance in Fredericton for some time and the warmth of reception accorded him and the attentive hearing which those who were fortunate enough to be able to listen to his address gave, showed that he occupies as high a place as ever in the admiration and affection of the people of this city and county.

Hon. Mr. Hazen in opening his remarks expressed his appreciation at being invited to attend the opening functions of the Fredericton 1915 exhibition, and to have been honored with the duty of declaring the exhibition open.

FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS RAISED AND DISBURSED FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

Splendid Work Done by Belgian Relief Commission in First Eight Months of Its Existence—Of Total Amount Contributed Over Fifty per cent. Has Come From Belgians Abroad.

(Correspondence of Associated Press) London, Sept. 15.—The first complete report of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, covering the first eight months of its existence, reveals that its income and expenditure, the organization forms the greatest relief movement of history. The commission has collected and disbursed fifty million dollars, fifteen million of which has been contributed in the form of money or gift food by the people of the United States and the British Empire and Belgium itself. The bulk of the income has come from other than purely philanthropic sources, but the raising of this enormous sum has been exclusively the work of the commission, which by financial arrangements with Belgian individuals and institutions, exchange of currency with Belgium and a system of providing the solvent Belgian inhabitants, has maintained the entire population of a nation for almost a year.

A remarkable feature of the report which has hitherto received but little notice is the effort being made by the Belgians to help themselves. Over fifty per cent. of the money expended by the commission in benevolence is being furnished by Belgians abroad, and a large amount also is being supplied by Belgians in Belgium. In discussing the report Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission, said: "It may cause more surprise among Americans, who believe that the United States is provisioning the Belgian and French people in the track of war, that only something over six million dollars in food, clothes and money have come from the United States. However, the American public should realize that the commission in its organization, working personnel and political aspects is distinctly American. The American charitable support, so early and promptly given, came at the very inception of the movement when such backing was vital to the success of the organization in giving it time to build. This support gave the commission its foundation from which it acquired the moral prestige that enabled it to secure vitally necessary concessions from the various belligerent governments. Nor is the necessity for this valued support at all over. The problem becomes more difficult every day for the number of destitute has increased from 1,000,000 last October to 2,750,000 in June, and now grows at the rate of 200,000 a month. And our resources, large as they are, cannot keep pace with the need if the charitable public loses interest in our work. Moreover, the continued support of America is necessary to provide the commission with the moral prestige which is an American institution which it now possesses in the sight of the warring powers, and the maintenance of this prestige can only be secured by the continued sentimental and practical backing of the American people."

Work Divided Into Three Classes The report includes detailed statements of the commission's work, such as complete accounts of the disposition of 195 cargoes of foodstuffs and clothing, and other statistical data, as well as a general survey of the situation in Belgium. It is pointed out that the organization as it stands now is the result of constant up-building, a feature of which has been the organization of local relief committees in practically every commune with a practical system of district and provincial committees with the Comité National at the apex. The relation of this structure to the commission is one of joint endeavor, and the membership of Americans entirely interlocks the organization.

The relief operations are divided into three classes, one to provision the entire population, another to conduct financial relief and exchange operations; and a third to care for the destitute. "The provisioning department," says the report, "is charged with the duty of revictualing the whole 7,000,000 people with necessary imports, and up to June 30 had either delivered or had in stock over 600,000 tons of foodstuffs for the Belgian section to the gross value of over $45,500,000. The whole of these foodstuffs are re-sold to the population through a broad system of rationing, and the profit earned on these operations is devoted to the support of the destitute. Such profits have been made possible by the volunteer executive, commercial and transportation services, and the amount of these profits—about $4,800,000 to date—is the measure of the value of such voluntary services."

After referring to the work of the financial relief and benevolent departments, the committee states that half a million people who might otherwise have fallen into destitution have been provided for through the remittances made available by this department, which to June 30 totalled about $20,000,000. "Through the benevolent department," the report continues, "the charity of the world and of the Belgian people themselves is mobilized to the support of the destitute, and through it over 2,750,000 persons are now being assisted in some measure with food and clothing. The total resources made available to the commission from abroad for the support of the destitute was over $31,000,000 to June 30, and the expenditure from these sources was at that date $25,000,000, and in proceeding to the rate of about $5,000,000 per month. Beyond this expenditure lies local charity, now exceeding $10,000,000. The Belgian people have risen to an unprecedented emergency with the utmost recognition of the much vaunted charity about fifty per cent. of the charitable funds of the commission from abroad are provided by Belgians and Belgian institutions.

a dollar of money? I refer to the British navy, supreme on the seas today as it was in the days of Lord Nelson.

"Without divulging state secrets, I may say to you that in the early days of the war, when there were a number of German ships free on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans the cities of Vancouver and Victoria were in danger of destruction. The danger was less in the Atlantic than in the Pacific, but now that danger has passed from all recognition, the much vaunted German navy, built for one sole purpose of destroying the naval supremacy of Great Britain, is locked up in the Kiel Canal afraid to venture forth to give battle to the ships commanded by Sir John Jellicoe, and a fleet so eager for the day to come when they can demonstrate their superiority. Great greyhounds of the ocean, North German Lloyd liners are lying in the harbors of New York, Boston and other American ports, unable to leave their anchorages as certain destruction would await them at the hands of the British fleet.

One bright spot in the war which stands out most of all is the supremacy of the British navy which secures to Canada and the British empire that feeling of safety which we enjoy. I ask all Canadians if it is not their duty to have one and only one great object in their minds at present. All local and domestic questions we have in Canada at present are petty compared with the great question of bringing this war to a successful close. Every effort must be put forth and every nerve strained to accomplish this end. When this war will cease no man, woman or child can tell. It may be years, it may be months, or it may be weeks.

Must Be Economy. While we have not been greatly affected in many ways by the war during the past year we may feel the effects much more during the next year. In view of the exchange situation and the fact that all ocean liners have been requisitioned for use in carrying war supplies it is only reasonable to think that business will not proceed as satisfactorily as in the past year. Therefore it is paramount that both governments and individuals pursue all that retrenchment, frugality and economy so strongly exemplified by our forefathers when face to face with any great crisis. This we must do in order to successfully carry out our part in this conflict. In Canada we have to go on. People demand that the government shall go on and put more men in the field and equip more men. Some complacently say that Canada has done her share now. True we have 100,000 men in the trenches and in England and 60,000 or 70,000 more men under arms in this country. The feat of equipping these men and transporting them across the ocean is one worthy of the genius of the Canadian people. The call has gone forth from Kitchener for men, more men and still more men and Canada's duty will never be done until the war is ended and she has put forth every effort in support of the Motherland to bring about a glorious victory for the Allies.

"While we aid the Motherland, we are fighting for our democratic institutions, institutions we cherish. The men fighting in the trenches in Belgium and France, men who fought so bravely at Ypres, are fighting for the defence of Canada and the Canadian people as for the defence of the British Empire. That battle is happily not being fought on our own lands, not on our territory, but let Germany win and what is the future of Canada?"

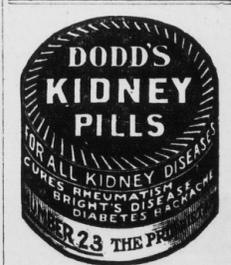

The minister then portrayed what would happen in Canada if there was an invasion. The Dominion was not in a position to defend itself and if there was no invasion and Germany had been successful in war the country would be flooded with her people and the present generation would see them in control and able to dictate the policy of the country. Ties which bind us to the Motherland would be broken and our democratic institutions would be wiped out and in their place we would have the autocratic rule of a Kaiser.

ELECTION RUMORS.

Although the Canadian people are not disposed to pay attention to the question of a Dominion election before definite pronouncement is made upon it by responsible parties, yet it must be regarded as a live issue by the Liberal newspapers for we find them devoting much space to all sorts of rumors and surmises as to the Government's alleged intention of an early appeal to the electorate. The Telegraph, on Saturday morning used more than two columns of space in a laborious attempt to prove that if an election should come during the period of the war the responsibility would be on the shoulders of the Government.

A DASTARDLY ATTACK.

As an example of that fine brand of Liberal patriotism which would avoid an election while indulging in the meanest and most despicable sort of political attacks, the Telegraph, on Friday morning last, gave space to an editorial from the Toronto Globe entitled "Patriotism or Politics," from which the following "gem" is taken:

"It may be Hon. W. T. White also knows Canada's most dangerous enemies at this moment are not the Kaiser and his Huns, but are the ministers of the crown who, for themselves, and the private interests an election might serve, shout loyalty from the housetops but are conspiring for the third time within a year to sell Canada's birthright for a mess of pottage."

This dastardly charge that here are in the Government of Canada ministers less worthy of trust than the murderer of Berlin and his blood-crazed subjects is so miserable that it might almost be written down as the product of a disordered mind. But when we find the Telegraph, that self-styled champion of purity and concord, giving publicity to such utter rot then it must be admitted that it merely affords evidence of the length to which the machine element of the Grit party is prepared to go in playing the political game.

At no time in the political history of Canada has there existed the slightest excuse for such a foul and miserable attack. Least of all in this hour, the most serious and trying Canada has ever known, should it be given publicity.

The newspaper originating the article copied with such glee by the Telegraph, the Toronto Globe, is the same newspaper which, a year or so ago, was ready to libel Canadians by damning Downing Street; it is the same newspaper that fattered the iniquitous reciprocity pact which it adopted would have done more to sever the bonds binding Canada to the Empire than could be undone in a generation; it is the same organ of "public opinion" which led in the attack on the Borden proposal to grant aid to the British navy at a time when the British Admiralty indicated such aid would be particularly welcome. The Toronto Globe led in the jeering against the thought of a German menace, a menace the realization of which today has caused the blood of thousands of Canadians to be spilled on the plains of France and Flanders and has brought the searing iron of poignant woe into many homes in this country. Yet the Telegraph, which professes to be second to none in its loyalty, finds space for the republication of such unwarranted trash.

Since the hordes of Prussians first crossed the Belgian border and caused the British Empire to step forward and bar the path against those who would unseat justice and plunge humanity into a period of blood, lust and strife, the members of the Borden Government have worked early and late in the interests of Canada and the Empire. Never was a government confronted by such problems, never did a government handle such a situation so well or so loyally. No effort was spared which would aid in proving to the world that Canada was willing to make any sacrifice for the cause of liberty and freedom. And these men, who worked early and late in the solution of the many questions that must come in the performance of their great duty are now to be rewarded by the impertinent statement from the chief organ of Liberalism that they are more dangerous enemies to the country to which they are devoting their time and talent than the Kaiser and his Huns.

What do the thousands of loyal New Brunswickers, whose eyes are not blinded by the dust of extreme party ism, think of the brand of loyalty and single mindedness displayed by the Toronto Globe and the St. John Telegraph? And what will their answer be when they are asked by those newspapers to repudiate the men who, doing Empire's duty in the period of crisis, are made the subjects of such despicable insult.

There will be general sympathy for Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his illness and the hope that he will speedily recover. Although the leader of the Liberal party is well advanced in years his constitution, strengthened by a particularly clean and abstemious life, is still vigorous and it will be the wish of all his admirers, no matter what their political allegiance, that he may be long spared to lead the Canadian opposition.

The 26th is safe in France, according to reports received by friends of men in that battalion. In course of time they will be on the fighting line and they may be depended upon to uphold the best traditions of those brave Canadians who have gone before them.

The Patriotic Fund must be sustained—help the canvassers today.

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price.

"A Little Learning Is a Dangerous Thing"

One of the old Greek philosophers first spoke that truth. Let's see how it works out. A man thinks there's money in selling glasses. The majority of people know eyes have to be tested, so the man takes a short course in optics, and sets up in business as qualified to test eyes and fit glasses. He has a little learning, but it takes years of constant study and practice to become really qualified as an optometrist. The superficial test may reveal defects, but a thorough examination must be made before glasses can be prescribed which will be a benefit. Sharpe's optometrists have had the study, training and experience which make them absolutely dependable. Their interest is professional not mercantile. They give the best scientific optical service, and their work is fully guaranteed.

Opportunities for Girls

It looks more and more as if, owing to scarcity of skilled men, women will have to do much of the work hitherto done by men. This is especially true of office work. Of course we are prepared to qualify either men or women to take advantage of their opportunities, and you can enter at any time. Catalogues containing tuition rates, etc. mailed to any address.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

New York, Sept. 28.—The market has been very active and stocks in general have shown a substantial increase of strength. Probably a good part of the strength was due to covering of shorts, but the obvious reason for the rise was that the flotation of the $500,000,000 British and French loan was practically assured. Why Wall Street came to that conclusion it would be difficult to say, for no news of any kind was published in the course of the day in regard to the matter and the exchange market declined instead of advancing. It is of course a fact that bankers who have taken a prominent part in the conference with the foreign financiers talk confidently of a successful outcome of the negotiations, but whether their optimistic views are entirely justified remains to be seen. Out-of-town bankers were opposed, and it seems too much to expect that they have entirely withdrawn their opposition to participation in the proposed financing. The railroad stocks were stronger than on any recent day, partly because the flotation of the loan would remove the menace of foreign liquidation and partly because the earnings for August, which will soon be published, will show large gains in gross and net. Studebaker far surpassed the high price of any previous day, its rise being on rumors that the company would soon declare a substantial extra dividend. Since the declaration of a fifty per cent. dividend on G. M. O. the street is inclined to believe reports of great profits in the automobile industry. It had been previously been skeptical. Total sales $421,000. Bonds $1,236,000. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

RAILWAY SHARES PROMINENT IN SATURDAY'S SESSION ON WALL ST.

Market strong and active and less one-sided in tone than recently—Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific among Railways showing substantial gains.

New York, Sept. 28.—The noteworthy feature of today's strong and active session is that it was shared in to an unusual degree by the railways. In fine, its tone was less one-sided than recently, although war specialties and stocks of kindred description were again to the fore. In these instances, however, there were signs of profit-taking on the part of manipulators for the rise. The advance was somewhat unexpected, advice from London regarding cabinet differences, a condition of deadlock in the international credit situation, and weakness of foreign exchange being among the adverse developments of the day. None of these factors seemed to militate against the rise, however, which lost little of its strength at the end. The more substantial gains among the railroads were Canadian Pacific, 3 at 156 1/2; Reading, 2 1/2 at 151 1/2; and Union Pacific and New York Central, 1 1/2 each, at 131 and 94 1/2, respectively. Greater gains were scored by the automobile shares, Studebaker advancing 10 1/2 to the new high of 130, and General Motors 10 to 290, or within a point of its record. Bethlehem Steel rose four to 344, the preferred losing 3 at 160. Other industrials and equipments gained 2 to 3 points, with four points for American Woolen at 47 1/2 and five for U. S. Industrial Alcohol at 89. Selling was effective in Colorado Fuel, American Can and Crucible Steel, which yielded substantial fractions to a point. In the main, however, prices showed a marked tendency to overcome pressure, United States Steel stood out in this respect, advancing half a point to 75 1/2 in the face of heavy offerings. Total sales amounted to 410,000 shares. The reported hitch in the foreign loan situation probably accounted for the disorganized state of exchange rates on London, demand sterling declining to 48 1/2, 1 1/2 cents under the previous day's low, and five cents under its highest quotation. The bank statement disclosed an actual cash gain of about $8,200,000, slightly under general estimates, a loan expansion of almost $25,000,000 and a decrease in the very large excess reserves of only $3,750,000. Bonds were steady on nominal trading. Total sales, par value, were $1,320,000. N. S. bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

STREET BUILDING ABOUT COMPLETED FOR THIS YEAR

Much Attention Has Been Given to Carleton, Where Roads and Sidewalks Have Been Laid—Retaining Walls Renewed in Several Places.

The civic public works department, under Commissioner Potts, has about completed the season's operations, so far as street building and repairing is concerned.

For the first time in many years attention has been given to the western side of the harbor, and several permanent streets are now completed in that section.

In the city proper the commissioner has been very active, and has carried the work right along, and everything is now about ready for the winter.

Main street, on the north side, is finished down as far as Adelaide street, and nothing further can be done at this point until the street railway tracks are raised to the required grade.

On the south side of this roadway at the Douglas avenue railway intersection a portion of the road has to be filled in with tar macadam, which work will probably be done this morning, and the refuse cleared away from that corner.

Work was commenced Friday morning on the retaining wall in Moore street, which, it is estimated, will cost the city about $15,000.

The department also started to put a new asphalt sidewalk on the north side of Moore street and make necessary repairs to the walk on the south side.

The patching in Rockland Road sidewalk has been finished and the new walk rolled down.

In City Road from Delhi street to Haymarket Square a new asphalt pavement has been finished and Friday morning was engaged in repairing Erin street from the railroad track to St. Patrick street, Brunswick and Clarence streets.

The Commissioner of Public Works is to be commended for his efforts in supplying good pavements on those streets.

The work on George street was finished Friday and was opened for traffic Saturday. This street has been treated with a rough tar macadam material of the same nature as the Chipman Hill pavement and will now be much better adapted for the heavy traffic than ever before.

Patching work on Queen street, between Sydney and Wentworth streets is progressing favorably and this thoroughfare should soon be in good shape.

The retaining wall being built on Rodney street, West End, under the Graham property, was finished Saturday.

The stone crushing plant on the West Side was closed down Friday and the city asphalt plant ceased operations Saturday also.

With so much of the year's programme carried out, the department will be able to dispense with the service of 50 or 60 employees.

A word should be said regarding the public squares. When Commissioner Potts took charge of his department he thought the city was not getting sufficient returns for the money expended on the public squares, and the statement furnished The Standard by the commissioner, would seem to show that he has succeeded in making a large reduction in the amounts of money spent for labor on these places.

According to Commissioner Potts, the amount of money spent in wages to employees was in 1913, from Jan. 1st to Sept. 10th, $3,561.82, in 1914 (the first year of Commissioner Potts' tenure of office) from Jan. 1st to Sept. 9th, $2,189.08, and in 1915 from Jan. 1st to Sept. 8th, $983.52.

From the above it will be seen that in 1915 the amount expended in wages for this branch of the city work was $2,578.29 less than in 1913.

BE PREPARED WITH YOUR GIFT FOR AUCTION

Tell the Solicitors today what you will give to help Patriotic Fund.

The big whirlwind campaign in the interests of the $50,000 Patriotic Auction will start today. This morning members of all chapters of the Daughters of the Empire will start out upon their rounds of the city seeking contributions of goods for the most stupendous undertaking of its kind in aid of the Patriotic Fund yet attempted in these parts. Plans are now being completed for the automobile parties of the Elks, Knights of Columbus and Rotary Club to start upon their tours of the country districts within a radius of sixty miles of the city, to enlist the support of the farmers, and this part of the canvass will be begun probably tomorrow with some fifty or sixty cars.

It will not be possible to make a house-to-house canvass in the city as has been announced several times. In view of that fact the committee are hoping that citizens will send in their donations during the week of Sept. 27, when delivery is asked for. Anticipating the visit of the solicitors today or some time this week, and realizing the hugeness of their task to canvass the severest district of the city many citizens, manufacturers, merchants and private residents have already promised encouraging donations, and the campaign will start today with every solicitor feeling confident of the results, and assured of a generous reception from all upon whom they call.

There is no end to the variety of gifts already promised, and the varied nature of the donations will be further extended after the canvass this week. Among the donations thus far promised are the following:

Waterbury & Rising, cash register, value, $35; James Fleming, gasoline engine, $175; Stetson, Cutler & Co., shingles, $200; J. A. Tilton, four, $75; National Drug Co., sundries, $100; O. H. Warwick Co., Ltd., dinner set, $95; McClary Mfg. Co., range, $60; Miss H. M. Millidge, lot of land Cranston Ave., $500; T. H. Easton, tea, $300; R. B. Emerson, books, $250; Joseph Allison, household effects, $2,000; H. Horton & Son, Ltd., house goods, etc., $13.50; E. Clinton Brown, drugs, $50; F. S. Thomas, furs, $50; Mrs. W. F. Best, willow chair, $10; Gunnis Ltd., shooting, $12; L. H. Thorne, spices, $9.60; J. Glick, skirts, $12; Mrs. F. N. Vincent, $150; Haley Bros. & Co., hardwood flooring, $60; H. Mont Jones, furs, $95; R. M. Burden, produce and dairy products, $100; L. P. D. Tilley, rubber tired carriage, $10; J. S. Gregory, rubber boots, $100; C. P. Leonard, heater, $14; Wm. Scarle, shoes, $5; Mrs. J. A. Beaver, chair, $15; C. & E. Everett, Ltd., fur muff, $20; E. G. Nelson & Co., Atlas (more to come) $32; Aseptol Mfg. Co., Aseptol powder, $25; Baird & Peeters, goods, $219.50; Wm. Jewett, $12; H. H. Thorne, $100; R. M. Rive, china, $100; Parkinon, $100; N. Co., boards, $200; Mrs. R. C. Manning, books, $20; Provincial Chemical Fertilizer Co., fertilizer, $30; St. John Hide Co., leather, $50; Mrs. J. C. Smith, cakes; John E. Moore, lumber, $100; F. A. Dykeman & Co., fur coat, $120.

Besides these gratifying donations it is known that other firms and citizens are merely awaiting the visit of the canvassers today to give generously of their wares and goods. Others have notified the executive that they are preparing gifts which is not yet complete, while on the part of the public in general the attitude displayed towards the auction is one which augurs well for the realization of that $50,000 for the Patriotic Fund.

Only Valises to France.

A letter from James Gaulton, formerly of the composing room staff of The Standard, but now a stretcher bearer with the 26th Battalion, tells of his work with that unit. The men of the battalion were only permitted to take valises with them when they left for France. All kit bags were left in England.

Lieut. McFarlane to 12th.

Lieutenant Wm. T. McFarlane, who left St. John with the 26th Battalion, is now attached to the 12th Battalion at Shorncliffe. Lieut. McFarlane, it will be remembered, was taken seriously ill with appendicitis when three days out from Canada, and was for some time in the military hospital at Devonport, England. A few weeks ago, however, he joined his regiment at East Handling camp, Shorncliffe, but was not thought sufficiently strong to go to France with the 12th, so he was transferred to the 12th, but will rejoin the 26th as soon as he is fully recovered.

PRESENTATION TO SOLDIERS

Harry Coggins and Arnold Smith at special service in Waterloo Street Baptist Church.

At a special patriotic service in the Waterloo St. Baptist church, last evening, Harry Coggins was presented by Senior Deacon James Paterson, on behalf of the church members, with a handsome wrist watch and Arnold Smith was presented by Deacon Robinson with a pocket Bible, on behalf of the congregation. These two young men are leaving for Sussex today, to join the 64th Battalion.

At this service Deacon E. H. Duval read a patriotic poem, written by himself and Clerk Jacob Smith spoke appreciatively of the stand taken by the young men. Deacon Galley, the scoutmaster, assisted with the service. The father of Coggins touchingly told of how he was led to give his consent to his son's joining the colors, and Herbert Smith told of his brother's decision and departure. The platform was tastefully decorated with a large Union Jack and flowers, and as the two recruits knelt in prayer, Scout Leslie Day held the Union Jack over their heads.

The pastor, F. W. Wentworth, preached a special patriotic sermon to a large congregation.

The youngest son, Harold Gordon Vall, has gone to Sydney and joined the 36th Heavy Battery. He was in his junior year at Acadia University and is nineteen years of age.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE CABLES COMING DOWN

One snapped on Saturday but no further trouble expected—More work today.

One of the old cables which for sixty years helped to support the Suspension Bridge was removed from its position on Saturday. Arrangements were made to pull the big rope across the chasm but it broke from the tackle when lowered to the water and one end crashed against the face of the cliff on the opposite side of the river. Today it is expected that this cable will be landed and several of the others removed.

Each of the cables contains three hundred strands of No. 10 wire and yesterday many people were cutting pieces of wire off the butt end of the cable that remained at the western end. This cable is made by the wire being laid tightly together and then bound around by another No. 10 wire and the whole given several coats of white lead. The whole is about six or seven inches in diameter. Before being put together all the wire was boiled in limesed oil and franklinito to prevent corrosion.

of the Canada Brush Co. Ltd. and was one of the founders of that industry in St. John. He was a member of the C. M. B. A.

Mr. Foster was sixty-two years of age and besides his wife, is survived by one sister, Mrs. Robinson of Wright street, and a daughter, Miss Nellie Foster.
