

The Semi-Weekly Telegraph.

VOL. XXXIX.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JANUARY 26, 1901.

NO. 39.

KING EDWARD SPEAKS HIS THANKS TO CANADA.

Telegram Sent By Monarch to Lord Strathcona.

Lord Minto Also Receives a Cable.

Replies to Messages Sent on Behalf of Our People.

London, Jan. 24—An extraordinary Gazette publishes an order in council: "That it is expected that all persons upon the present occasion, the death of her late majesty of blessed and glorious memory, will put themselves into mourning."

Another order-in-council substitutes "King" for "Queen" and "Edward" for "Victoria."

The fact that the court goes into mourning for a year and the further fact that the public is enjoined to go into the "deepest" mourning, lead to the supposition that the coronation will not occur until 1902.

The instruction that the Duke of York is to be named in the prayer book, "Duke of Cornwall," seems to throw light upon the much debated question of the heir apparent's title. It was supposed that the title "Prince of Wales," which belongs only to a son born of the King, would be conferred upon the Duke of York by royal patent, but the Gazette announcement seems to indicate that this will not be done and that the Duke of York will henceforth be known as the Duke of Cornwall.

King Edward VII has been proclaimed in many cities and towns of the United Kingdom, the usual procedure being the mayor attended by the other members of the corporation, has read the proclamation in the town hall or market place.

In Halifax uniformed heralds proclaimed Edward VII, at one of the castle gates in the presence of the Lord Lieutenant, Earl Cadogan and the Irish Privy Council.

OFFICIALLY PROCLAIMED AT HALIFAX.

Thursday All Rejoiced in Acknowledging Our New King --Twenty-one Guns Fired in Honor of the Accession-- Mourning Resumed.

Halifax, Jan. 24—(Special)—Yesterday afternoon 82 minute guns were fired from the citadel, one for every year of her majesty's age. At noon today the standard on the citadel was hoisted to the top of the mast and a royal salute of 21 guns fired in honor of the accession.

Services will be held in nearly all the churches of the city the day of the funeral, St. Matthew's church is being heavily draped and the lieutenant governor will attend the service there. The service at the Garrison chapel will be purely a military affair. Arrangements are being made for an elaborate service at St. Paul's.

At noon today the troops of the garrison were paraded at the citadel for the official proclamation regarding King Edward VII. The troops were drawn up on three sides of the square. The proclamation was made by Col. Biscoe, the officer commanding the troops.

After the reading of the proclamation, the soldiers gave three cheers for the new king and the band played in honor of the royal standard. The proclamation was made by Col. Biscoe, the officer commanding the troops.

The funeral services in the Garrison church here will be held at the same time as the service in London will be going on.

THE KING'S REPLY TO CANADIAN SUBJECTS.

Ottawa, Jan. 24—(Special)—On the death of the Queen the high commissioner for Canada, telegraphed as follows: "As representative of the Dominion of Canada in England, it is my mournful duty to give expression to the overwhelming grief of all Canadians on the death of their beloved Queen, and the members of the Royal family in Canada as throughout the Empire. There will be universal sorrow and mourning for the loss of a sovereign revered and held in affectionate regard by her people. May I be permitted to add my own deepest sympathy."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has just been informed by cable that Lord Strathcona has received in answer to the above telegram the following: "Am much touched by your kind telegram of sympathy and I ask you to kindly convey to the inhabitants of the Dominion of Canada my warm thanks. (Signed) "EDWARD VII."

Ottawa, Jan. 24—The following cable was received by Lord Minto today: His Excellency, Governor General: "Your telegram of the 22nd of January received and has been laid before His Majesty, the King. I have received His Majesty's command to express through you and your ministers his grateful thanks for the loving sympathy extended to him and to the Royal family by the people of Canada in their great sorrow. The King is deeply moved by the many kind messages which have reached from all parts of the dominion. (Signed) "CHAMBERLAIN."

immense assemblage attended the proclamation. The colonial office announces that an immense number of telegrams of condolence have been received from colonial governors and public bodies in the colonies. There is a continual stream of condolence messages from other quarters. Cardinal Vaughan sends word that he will bring from Rome a special message from the pope to the new King.

The following princes from Germany will attend the funeral: Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, King of Bavaria, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the Prince of Saxe-Meiningen and the Prince of Hohenzollern.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

February 2 is the Date—There Will be an Imposing Military Pageant.

London, Jan. 25—It is understood that the body of Queen Victoria will arrive in London on the morning of February 2, and be taken across the metropolis to Paddington. Troops will line the streets. The coffin will be placed on a gun carriage and draped with flags. On arriving at Paddington station it will be transferred to a train for Windsor, finally reaching St. George's chapel about noon, where a magnificent funeral service will take place.

London, Jan. 25, 4.30 a. m.—It is understood that the progress of the body of Queen Victoria through London will be an imposing military pageant and that members of the House of Lords and Commons will be invited to follow the procession. At the same time there seems to be some apprehension lest a change of decision should limit the London portion of the programme.

The Daily Telegraph editorially claims for London a right to share in the obsequies and declares that nothing but the deceased's own wishes should prevent this. The funeral has been delayed to enable all the foreign representatives to arrive at Windsor in time. It is announced that Grand Duke Sergius and the Grand Duchess will come from Russia, to be present at the ceremony.

STILL LIES WHERE DEATH CAME.

Arrangements So Hampered at Osborne that Service Could Not Be Held Yesterday—The New Queen.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 25, 12.30 a. m.—So hampered have been the arrangements at Osborne that the body of Queen Victoria still lies in the bedroom where she died. The elaborate decorations necessary in carrying the standard into Osborne House into a Chapel Ardent occupied so much time that, although the Royal household waited hour after hour for the funeral, it was found impossible to hold this yesterday. All being well, however, the solemn ceremony will be performed this (Friday) morning by the Bishop of Winchester in the presence of King Edward, Emperor William, and almost every other member of the Royal family.

The coffin was brought to Osborne last evening and was taken through the Queen's private gate, which had not been previously used since her death. Emperor William was the first person to see it. The coffin body will be transferred this morning to the dining room. The day is a private service it is found impossible to hold this yesterday. All being well, however, the solemn ceremony will be performed this (Friday) morning by the Bishop of Winchester in the presence of King Edward, Emperor William, and almost every other member of the Royal family.

The coffin was brought to Osborne last evening and was taken through the Queen's private gate, which had not been previously used since her death. Emperor William was the first person to see it. The coffin body will be transferred this morning to the dining room. The day is a private service it is found impossible to hold this yesterday. All being well, however, the solemn ceremony will be performed this (Friday) morning by the Bishop of Winchester in the presence of King Edward, Emperor William, and almost every other member of the Royal family.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to call to His mercy our late Sovereign Lady, Queen Victoria, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decease the imperial crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland is solely and rightfully come to the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward, we, therefore, the Lords spiritual and temporal of this realm, being assisted with those of her late Majesty's privy council, with numbers of other principal gentlemen of quality, with the lord mayor, the aldermen and the citizens of London, do now hereby with our voice, consent of tongue and heart, publish and proclaim that the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward, by the death of our late sovereign, of happy memory, become our only lawful and rightful heir, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, to whom we do acknowledge all faith and constant obedience with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom all kings and queens do reign, to bless Royal Prince Edward VII with long and happy years to reign over us."

NEW BRUNSWICK AND OTHER PROVINCES.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNORS SEND CONDOLENCES.

Ottawa, Jan. 24—(Special)—The following have been received from the lieutenant governors of the provinces: From the lieutenant governor of Quebec:

"It is with the deepest sorrow that the people of the province of Quebec, and especially the French-Canadians, have heard of the death of Queen Victoria, whose beneficent reign has made them the most devoted and loyal of her subjects. They will never forget that it is since her accession to the throne of England that they have enjoyed that amount of civil, religious and political liberty of which they are now so justly proud. (Signed) "L. A. JETTE."

From Lieutenant Governor McClellan, New Brunswick: "I beg your excellency will transmit on behalf of my government and myself, as well as the people of this province, an expression of the profound grief which is felt at the death of our beloved Queen and of sympathy with the Royal family in their sad bereavement. (Signed) "A. R. MCCLELLAN."

From lieutenant governor of British Columbia: "May I beg your excellency to forward the following message: The government of British Columbia expresses the profound regret which will be felt by the whole province to its most remote limit at the sad news of the death of our beloved sovereign. (Signed) "HENRI JOLY, De Lotbiniere."

VICTORIA'S WONDERFUL CONSTITUTION.

Authorized Account of Her Last Illness Shows Her Marvellous Powers.

London, Jan. 24—The British Medical Journal publishes an authoritative account of the last illness of Queen Victoria. It says the Queen's health for a year had been failing, with symptoms mainly of a dyspeptic kind, accompanied by impaired nutrition and periods of mania. And, later, there were slight transitory attacks of aphasia. In the general arterial system there were remarkably few signs of age. In 1895 court physicians diagnosed an increasing cerebral exhaustion which her majesty's strong will enabled her to hide from momentary visitors, the symptoms of her illness. Her mental confusion was more marked and a slight fluttering was observed in the right side of her face. Finesse forward aphasia and facial paralysis became permanent. It is important to note, the Medical Journal adds, that notwithstanding the great bodily weakness and cerebral exhaustion, the heart's action was steadily maintained to the last. The pulse was always regular and the temperature normal. In the last few hours paralysis of the pulmonary nerves set in. Beyond a slight facial fluttering there never was any motor paralysis.

Belgian Court. Brussels, Jan. 24—The Belgian court will go into mourning for eight weeks.

In France's Parliament. Paris, Jan. 24—It was intended to move an adjournment of the French parliament today, but finding that the Reichstag did not adjourn yesterday, the idea was abandoned. M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, referred to the death of Queen Victoria in the senate today. He said the Queen had acquired singular authority outside of her own empire and universal respect.

The Denominational Clash. Toronto, Jan. 24—(Special)—A special meeting of the civic board of control this evening decided to issue a proclamation asking all religious denominations to hold memorial services the day of the Queen's funeral in their respective churches. Mayor those of his colleagues, appeared at the inaugural ball.

Blew a Shriek Blast. His trumpeter blew a shrill blast which the city marshal rode up to the barmen and demanded "who goes there?" "The King," replied the barmen, and conducted him to the lord mayor and the aldermen, who were still grouped in the street.

Proclamation Read Again. The herald read the proclamation, to which the mayor and aldermen replied: "We, with one voice and consent of tongue and heart, pledge allegiance to King Edward VII."

Old Association. This familiar air has still but one meaning in England and the crowd took up the words feverishly with "God Save the King, on the tongue, but with "God Save the Queen" in mind. A few streets further on the proclamation was read again and the procession advanced by way of Lindale Hill to the Royal Exchange, in front of which the final proclamation was made.

At Temple Bar. The chief interest of the morning centered in the entrance of the Herald's procession into the city at Temple Bar. At 9.15 o'clock out of the gray mist within the city boundary appeared a procession of carriages, forming the lord mayor's entourage. It was there that the two processions were to merge in kaleidoscopic grandeur. The lord mayor, the sheriffs, the aldermen and the mace bearers, in scarlet, fur trimmed robes, cocked hats, ruffled shirts, silk knee breeches and low buckled shoes, peered out from ornate, like coaches that would have been the envy of Alice in Wonderland. In their midst lived the white-wigged coachman of the lord mayor, looking down contemptuously upon soldier, herald and peer. In the olden days a veritable bar or gate separated the city from without. Today 10 strong policemen stretched a red silk rope across the thoroughfare in honor of the city's ancient privileges.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

THE EXPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S MINDS.

Sympathy in the Death of the Queen.

Loyalty and Allegiance to the New Sovereign.

Ottawa, Jan. 24—(Special)—Another large batch of telegrams was received today at the governor general's office from all over Canada, containing expressions of sympathy to be forwarded to his majesty, the King, and the members of the royal family. Mayor Hayward, of Victoria, British Columbia, on behalf of the citizens of Victoria, sends sympathy and condolence and expressions of loyalty and devotion to the new sovereign. Several city and county councils all send sympathy.

The archbishop of Montreal in his telegram says that the Queen's reign has been marked by "deeds and virtues, the memory of which will live for ever in history and in the hearts of all her loyal subjects."

The bishop of Ottawa and Anglican clergymen held a meeting today in the synod office, the meeting's purpose being to hold a state service in Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday, the day of the Queen's funeral. A deputation was appointed to await on the governor general and present a resolution of condolence on the loss sustained by the nation by the death of the late Queen.

Newcastle. Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 24—(Special)—Mayor D. Morrison, of Newcastle, N. B., writes: "We desire to respectfully assure the royal family our earnest sympathies and condolence and would ask you to kindly convey the same."

Ontario Declares Its Allegiance. Toronto, Jan. 24—At the Government House this morning the chief officers of Ontario took the oath of allegiance to King Edward. Chief Justice Armour administered the oath to Sir Oliver Mowat, who then swore in Premier Ross and members of the cabinet. The judges at Osgoode Hall were also sworn in this morning.

A Discardant Note. Rome, Jan. 24—The premier, Signor Saverio, saluted Queen Victoria in the Chamber of Deputies today and moved an adjournment. A Socialist, Signor Morgani, broke the respected silence with a cry of "long live the Queen." No note, however, was taken of the incident and the house adjourned. King Victor Emmanuel has ordered that the court go into mourning for a fortnight.

Belgian Court. Brussels, Jan. 24—The Belgian court will go into mourning for eight weeks.

In France's Parliament. Paris, Jan. 24—It was intended to move an adjournment of the French parliament today, but finding that the Reichstag did not adjourn yesterday, the idea was abandoned. M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, referred to the death of Queen Victoria in the senate today. He said the Queen had acquired singular authority outside of her own empire and universal respect.

The Denominational Clash. Toronto, Jan. 24—(Special)—A special meeting of the civic board of control this evening decided to issue a proclamation asking all religious denominations to hold memorial services the day of the Queen's funeral in their respective churches. Mayor

those of his colleagues, appeared at the inaugural ball.

Blew a Shriek Blast. His trumpeter blew a shrill blast which the city marshal rode up to the barmen and demanded "who goes there?" "The King," replied the barmen, and conducted him to the lord mayor and the aldermen, who were still grouped in the street.

Proclamation Read Again. The herald read the proclamation, to which the mayor and aldermen replied: "We, with one voice and consent of tongue and heart, pledge allegiance to King Edward VII."

Old Association. This familiar air has still but one meaning in England and the crowd took up the words feverishly with "God Save the King, on the tongue, but with "God Save the Queen" in mind. A few streets further on the proclamation was read again and the procession advanced by way of Lindale Hill to the Royal Exchange, in front of which the final proclamation was made.

At Temple Bar. The chief interest of the morning centered in the entrance of the Herald's procession into the city at Temple Bar. At 9.15 o'clock out of the gray mist within the city boundary appeared a procession of carriages, forming the lord mayor's entourage. It was there that the two processions were to merge in kaleidoscopic grandeur. The lord mayor, the sheriffs, the aldermen and the mace bearers, in scarlet, fur trimmed robes, cocked hats, ruffled shirts, silk knee breeches and low buckled shoes, peered out from ornate, like coaches that would have been the envy of Alice in Wonderland. In their midst lived the white-wigged coachman of the lord mayor, looking down contemptuously upon soldier, herald and peer. In the olden days a veritable bar or gate separated the city from without. Today 10 strong policemen stretched a red silk rope across the thoroughfare in honor of the city's ancient privileges.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

THE EXPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S MINDS.

Sympathy in the Death of the Queen.

Loyalty and Allegiance to the New Sovereign.

Ottawa, Jan. 24—(Special)—Another large batch of telegrams was received today at the governor general's office from all over Canada, containing expressions of sympathy to be forwarded to his majesty, the King, and the members of the royal family. Mayor Hayward, of Victoria, British Columbia, on behalf of the citizens of Victoria, sends sympathy and condolence and expressions of loyalty and devotion to the new sovereign. Several city and county councils all send sympathy.

The archbishop of Montreal in his telegram says that the Queen's reign has been marked by "deeds and virtues, the memory of which will live for ever in history and in the hearts of all her loyal subjects."

The bishop of Ottawa and Anglican clergymen held a meeting today in the synod office, the meeting's purpose being to hold a state service in Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday, the day of the Queen's funeral. A deputation was appointed to await on the governor general and present a resolution of condolence on the loss sustained by the nation by the death of the late Queen.

Newcastle. Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 24—(Special)—Mayor D. Morrison, of Newcastle, N. B., writes: "We desire to respectfully assure the royal family our earnest sympathies and condolence and would ask you to kindly convey the same."

Ontario Declares Its Allegiance. Toronto, Jan. 24—At the Government House this morning the chief officers of Ontario took the oath of allegiance to King Edward. Chief Justice Armour administered the oath to Sir Oliver Mowat, who then swore in Premier Ross and members of the cabinet. The judges at Osgoode Hall were also sworn in this morning.

A Discardant Note. Rome, Jan. 24—The premier, Signor Saverio, saluted Queen Victoria in the Chamber of Deputies today and moved an adjournment. A Socialist, Signor Morgani, broke the respected silence with a cry of "long live the Queen." No note, however, was taken of the incident and the house adjourned. King Victor Emmanuel has ordered that the court go into mourning for a fortnight.

Belgian Court. Brussels, Jan. 24—The Belgian court will go into mourning for eight weeks.

In France's Parliament. Paris, Jan. 24—It was intended to move an adjournment of the French parliament today, but finding that the Reichstag did not adjourn yesterday, the idea was abandoned. M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, referred to the death of Queen Victoria in the senate today. He said the Queen had acquired singular authority outside of her own empire and universal respect.

The Denominational Clash. Toronto, Jan. 24—(Special)—A special meeting of the civic board of control this evening decided to issue a proclamation asking all religious denominations to hold memorial services the day of the Queen's funeral in their respective churches. Mayor

those of his colleagues, appeared at the inaugural ball.

Blew a Shriek Blast. His trumpeter blew a shrill blast which the city marshal rode up to the barmen and demanded "who goes there?" "The King," replied the barmen, and conducted him to the lord mayor and the aldermen, who were still grouped in the street.

Proclamation Read Again. The herald read the proclamation, to which the mayor and aldermen replied: "We, with one voice and consent of tongue and heart, pledge allegiance to King Edward VII."

Old Association. This familiar air has still but one meaning in England and the crowd took up the words feverishly with "God Save the King, on the tongue, but with "God Save the Queen" in mind. A few streets further on the proclamation was read again and the procession advanced by way of Lindale Hill to the Royal Exchange, in front of which the final proclamation was made.

At Temple Bar. The chief interest of the morning centered in the entrance of the Herald's procession into the city at Temple Bar. At 9.15 o'clock out of the gray mist within the city boundary appeared a procession of carriages, forming the lord mayor's entourage. It was there that the two processions were to merge in kaleidoscopic grandeur. The lord mayor, the sheriffs, the aldermen and the mace bearers, in scarlet, fur trimmed robes, cocked hats, ruffled shirts, silk knee breeches and low buckled shoes, peered out from ornate, like coaches that would have been the envy of Alice in Wonderland. In their midst lived the white-wigged coachman of the lord mayor, looking down contemptuously upon soldier, herald and peer. In the olden days a veritable bar or gate separated the city from without. Today 10 strong policemen stretched a red silk rope across the thoroughfare in honor of the city's ancient privileges.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

Sold Line of Soldiers and Police. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Chesapeake, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind slowly crowding for a sight over their shoulders, were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to East End costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly. The roofs of the exchange, the bank and the Mansion House and all the windows and the balconies overlooking the scene were filled with people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange.

At the Exchange. At about 10 o'clock the procession, which although gorgeous was disappointingly short, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by the north door, the lord mayor, the lord mayor's sword bearer, the sheriffs, the aldermen, the recorder and the city marshal following.

At the Mansion House. The royal standard being above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the Union Jack. Back almost without exception was worn by the people. Hardly one bright bonnet or gown relieved the sameness of the crowd.

OVER THE PROVINCES. A SUMMARY OF EVENTS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

What is going on Among Ourselves—The Daily Doings of Our Neighbors Talked About—People you know or of Whom have heard.

Chatham, N. B., Jan. 22.—S. Miller, who is employed in the marine works...

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 22.—(Special)—Lynn Newton, 40, a native of Ontario...

The death occurred Monday at South Bay of Miss Mary Ann Stevens, in the 82nd year of her age...

Many citizens will hear with regret of the death of Mrs. William Crabb...

Quebec, Jan. 22.—(Special)—In St. John's suburb this morning a fire caused by a lamp explosion completely wiped out five houses...

Cambridge, Jan. 22.—The people of Restigouche are being returned soldiers royally and every evening this week they have some engagement to take up their attention...

Sussex, Jan. 22.—Tuesday evening an organ recital and concert were given in the Baptist church by Mr. G. H. Brown...

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 23.—(Special)—The Danon Lithographing Company, which occupied the large two-story brick building in the rear of the Market Square...

Montreal, Jan. 23.—Peter Crosby, for 57 years a well-known figure in Montreal, is dead. He was for many years president of the old Dominion Type Foundry Company...

Fredericton, Jan. 23.—(Special)—The County Court reopened here this morning. The case of Perry Gunn vs. Fred A. Jones...

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Sydney M. Flynn, manager of the Toronto Publishing Company, was arrested last night under the provisions of the new law...

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Steamer Victoria brings news of the loss on December 27, of the German steamer Sulsting, on the Yang Tze, just above Yehane...

Bellefleur, N. B., Jan. 23.—On Thursday, Jan. 17, an enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of Mr. Daniel P. Williger...

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Discord has arisen in civic circles over the proposed memorial service to be held on the day of the Queen's funeral...

Cherryton, Wyo., Jan. 23.—A desperate attempt was made last night by train robbers to hold up the Union Pacific overland express near Kearney, Neb.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Rev. Dr. Potts announces that the total contributions to the Methodist Twentieth Century fund have passed the $1,000,000 mark.

The death of Thomas C. Bolan, jr., occurred at his father's residence at Bath, Carleton county, on Tuesday, Mr. Bolan, who had been in poor health, returned recently from Denver, Col.

Dorchester, Jan. 23.—(Special)—The January session of the circuit court, adjourned on the 8th inst., on account of the smallpox, re-opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon...

About 4 o'clock the sad news of the death of Queen Victoria was received and announced by his home with feeling remarks. The grand jury immediately retired to the jury room and appointed a committee of three to draw up resolutions of regret and sympathy.

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—(Special)—James Tod Kirk has been appointed sub-collector of customs at Sussex.

Athens, Ont., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Butlerfield, long a resident of this place, is dead at the remarkable age of 100 years.

Truro, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Richard McHaffey, aged 87, and Mrs. McLean, aged 91, both died last night, at Shubenacadie.

Winnipeg, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Lieut. Col. Rutan has been re-elected to the command of the 90th Regiment of Winnipeg.

London, Ont., Jan. 23.—(Special)—W. C. L. Gill, city register, died suddenly tonight of apoplexy. He was 75 years of age and for many years held the position of city register.

Fredericton, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Premier Tweedie is suffering from grip at his home in Chatham and was unable to attend the meeting of the government...

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Mr. A. G. Vanherst and wife have arrived in the city.

Montreal, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Thomas Crockett, general manager of the Temiscouata Railway, has retired from that position.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Mr. A. E. Ames, late first vice-president of the board of trade, was yesterday elected president for the ensuing year, by acclamation.

W. E. H. Massey, who was second vice-president, was re-elected first vice-president, and J. L. Spink was elected treasurer, both by acclamation.

A Fredericton despatch announces the death at Lincoln, Sumbury county, of Mrs. Stephen Glazier, aged 72 years.

Montreal, Jan. 23.—Another City Hall clerk, belonging to a very prominent family, has been discovered to be a defaulter for a considerable amount.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Stemmer Victoria brings news of the loss on December 27, of the German steamer Sulsting, on the Yang Tze, just above Yehane...

Bellefleur, N. B., Jan. 23.—On Thursday, Jan. 17, an enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of Mr. Daniel P. Williger...

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Discord has arisen in civic circles over the proposed memorial service to be held on the day of the Queen's funeral...

Cherryton, Wyo., Jan. 23.—A desperate attempt was made last night by train robbers to hold up the Union Pacific overland express near Kearney, Neb.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—(Special)—Rev. Dr. Potts announces that the total contributions to the Methodist Twentieth Century fund have passed the $1,000,000 mark.

The death of Thomas C. Bolan, jr., occurred at his father's residence at Bath, Carleton county, on Tuesday, Mr. Bolan, who had been in poor health, returned recently from Denver, Col.

Dorchester, Jan. 23.—(Special)—The January session of the circuit court, adjourned on the 8th inst., on account of the smallpox, re-opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon...

SOMETHING OF THE BUSY LIFE OF OUR LATE BELOVED QUEEN. Her Family History—Her Marriage—Succession to the Throne of Britain—Death of the Prince Consort—Political Changes—Volumes Published by Her Majesty.

Victoria Alexandrina (Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India), only child of the late Duke of Kent and of the Princess Louisa—Victoria of Saxe-Coburg relict of the Hereditary Prince of Leiningen and sister of Leopold, Prince of Saxe-Coburg, afterwards King of the Belgians, was born at Kensington Palace, May 24, 1819.

The Duke of Kent died January 23, 1820, and the general education of the young princess was directed under her mother's care, by the Duchess of Northumberland, of the third Duke. Until within a few weeks of her elevation to the throne, her life was spent in comparative retirement, varied by tours through different parts of the United Kingdom.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

exercise of that anxious interest which Her Majesty had ever since her accession to the crown steadfastly manifested for the social welfare of her people.

It was a source of great pride to her subjects, and must have doubtless tended in no small degree to assuage Her Majesty's abiding grief, that not only in her own vast dominions, but throughout the civilized world Her Majesty's name was never mentioned save in terms of sympathy, affection and respect as a Christian woman, and as a Queen. It would occupy much more space than our limits admit to give even a brief outline of the political events of Her Majesty's reign, and we can therefore merely glance at its more prominent features.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

imperial assemblage of all the governors, heads of government, lieutenant-governors, princes, chiefs and nobles of India. On the defeat of the Conservatives at the general election of 1860, Mr. Gladstone formed another Liberal administration, which continued in office until June, 1868, when it was succeeded by a Conservative government under Lord Salisbury.

After the general election of November, 1868, the Liberal government came into power and the spring of 1869 was devoted by Mr. Gladstone to the consideration of the Irish question. His views on this subject were met with so much opposition that the government decided to appeal to the country and the result of the general election of July, 1869, was an immense Conservative majority.

Lord Salisbury's second government came into power on August 3, 1869. In April, 1870, an attempt on the Queen's life was made at Windsor by one Robert Mackenzie, who after trial was ordered to be confined during her Majesty's pleasure.

The Early Days of Her Royal Highness the Prince Consort, compiled under the direction of her Majesty by Lieut-General the Hon. C. Grey, was published in July, 1867, and was followed in 1869 by "Leaves from the Journal of Our Life in the Highlands," and in 1874 by the first volume of "Life of H. R. H. the Prince Consort," of which the fifth and concluding volume appeared in 1880.

In 1880 her Majesty published a second volume entitled "More Leaves from the Journal of Our Life in the Highlands." In 1887 her Majesty celebrated the jubilee of her accession to the throne. A thanksgiving service was held in Westminster Abbey and was attended by her Majesty and all their royal highnesses, the Indian princes, the king of Denmark, the king and queen of the Belgians, the king of Saxony, the king of the Hellenes, the crown prince of Austria, the crown prince of Portugal, the Infante Don Antonio of Spain, Prince Ludwig of Baden, the crown prince of Greece, the grand duke of Saxe-Weimar, the queen of Hawaii and her attendants in cloth of gold, and representatives from every nation upon earth. The service in the abbey was conducted by His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, in the presence of 10,000 spectators.

In his death, November, 1865, the ministry was remodelled, Earl Russell assuming the post of premier. His ministry having decided upon introducing a reform bill, the Conservative party, which had been a stumbling block impeding the progress of legislation.

The Conservatives being placed in a minority at the general election of 1868, Mr. Disraeli resigned office and was succeeded as prime minister by Mr. Gladstone.

The chief events of Mr. Gladstone's administration were the disestablishment of the Irish church, the passing of the Irish land act and the signature of the Convention of 1871, which was a landmark in the history of the negotiation of the treaty of Washington respecting the Alabama claims, and the passing of the Ballot Act. At the general election of 1874, the Conservatives again came into power, and a new administration was formed by Mr. Disraeli.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Her Majesty was married February 10, 1840, to the late Prince Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, by whom Her Majesty had issue (1), Her Royal Highness Victoria Alexandra, born June 20, 1841; (2), Victoria, born June 20, 1847; (3), Victoria, and her coronation was celebrated in Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1848.

On succeeding to the throne, Her Majesty and the Conservative party were nearly evenly balanced in the House of Commons. Lord Melbourne and his colleagues continued to hold office until September, 1841, when, owing to their increasing unpopularity, arising mainly from a want of financial ability, or at least financial success, they were obliged to give place to the late Sir Robert Peel.

Machinists' and Blacksmiths' Supplies.

Stocks and Dies, Taps, Drills, Rules, Files, Chucks, Bolts, Nuts, Set and Cap Screws. Beavers, Hammers, Wrenches.

T. McAVITY & SONS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

KINGS COUNTY LIST. HER MAJESTY'S WISH Was to Be Buried Beside Her Husband at Frogmore.

Application Before Chief Justice to Quash.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL Brought the Subject Before an Informal Meeting of the Executive at Fredericton—Interviewed on the Result of His Inquiry Into the Matter of the List.

An application was made yesterday before Chief Justice Tuck in Chambers, for an order certiorari to quash the list of electors filed with the secretary of the municipality of Kings by the revisors for the parish of Rothesay. The application was made under the new practice by Mr. J. D. Hazen, on behalf of Mr. George Fowler, M. P., for Kings county, and was supported by a number of affidavits setting out in detail the facts which have already been published in the newspapers.

On hearing the affidavits read, the chief justice granted an order for a rule certiorari returnable on Tuesday next, the 29th instant. The order of the chief justice is directed to the clerk of the Supreme court, authorizing him to issue the certiorari rule, and is to be served on the revisors for the parish of Rothesay, calling on them to show cause why the list filed by them should not be quashed.

The matter will then come up for hearing on the return of the rule next Tuesday, and unless sufficient cause is shown, will be made absolute quashing the list. The new practice has been in force only about two years and this is one of the first cases decided in this province. Formerly the practice in certiorari cases was to make application for an order nisi for a rule of court and cause was shown before the court. Now the order for the rule is given as of course, and cause shown on return of the rule.

Mr. J. D. Hazen went to Fredericton yesterday, to procure the rule of court, and Mr. E. P. Raymond will leave town in the morning to serve the order on the revisors.

Fredericton, Jan. 23.—(Special)—As Attorney General Fuglesy is obliged to leave the capital in the morning on important professional business, he submitted to an unofficial meeting of the executive council today, a report of the result of his investigation of the irregularities connected with the non-residents' list of the parish of Rothesay, Kings county.

It is understood that the attorney-general reported that as a result of the investigation, he was clearly of the opinion that the list filed with the secretary-treasurer of the municipality was not a legal list, and recommended that he be authorized to take proceedings by certiorari to quash the same, and also to prepare a bill for submission to the legislature as soon as it is convened, to authorize the preparation of a new and proper list and also to declare void the certified copy of list forwarded by the secretary-treasurer to the clerk of the crown in chancery at Ottawa, and for the substitution in its place of a new and proper list, when prepared.

Your correspondent learns that the report was informally agreed to, and will be made absolute quashing the order for the certiorari. Now the order for the rule is given as of course, and cause shown on return of the rule.

Mr. J. D. Hazen went to Fredericton yesterday, to procure the rule of court, and Mr. E. P. Raymond will leave town in the morning to serve the order on the revisors.

Fredericton, Jan. 23.—(Special)—At a meeting of the board of trade it was decided to accept the proposition of McGill Brothers, of Auburn, Maine, who desire to erect a shoe factory in this town. A few years ago authority was granted by act of the legislature empowering the town to issue bonds amounting to $8,000 which was to be given any company as a bonus for erecting a shoe factory. McGill Brothers are willing to accept this bonus providing also that $10,000 in stock would be subscribed and they will guarantee to employ 125 skilled workmen. Six thousand dollars was subscribed at the meeting and the balance can easily be raised when the company is organized and satisfactory machinery received as well as some other guarantees necessary.

The mayor, councillors and assessors were elected at Milltown today by acclamation, as follows: F. C. Murchie, mayor; Councilors—Ward 1, T. W. Butler and Harrison McMillan; assessor, J. S. Andrews; Councilors—Ward 2, Thomas A. Shirley and A. S. McKenna; assessor, H. Whitney; Councilors—Ward 3, Daniel Fitzsimons and A. Burns; assessor, Isaac Smith.

The crown that adorns the brow of Holland's youthful queen is said to have cost $800,000. In 1829 it was stolen by burglars and remained in their possession nearly two years. Eventually part of the stones were found near Brooklyn, and the remainder were ultimately discovered in Belgium.

A Sour Stomach and a Sour Temper. The best of health and a good temper are the result of a healthy stomach. Dr. Van Swan's Pimpapple Tablets keep the stomach sweet—aid digestion—keep the nerves centred well balanced—let your nature's juices—pleasant and harmless. 35 cents.—83 Sold by E. C. Brown.

The population of the whole world is about 1,500,000,000. Of this Great Britain and her colonies has 25.9 per cent.; Russia, 8.09 per cent.; France, 6.3 per cent.; United States, 5.7 per cent.; Germany, 4.6 per cent.; Austria-Hungary, 3.1 per cent.; Italy, 2.2 per cent.

"CRAZY WITH PAIN!" Ignorance of the cause lets many a poor head "go crazy" with pain, when it is but the seedling-time of that dread malady—Catarrh.

And if every sufferer knew that DR. A

AUTHORIZED AGENTS.

The following Agents are authorized to canvass and collect for the Semi-Weekly Telegraph, viz.: Allison Wishart, W. A. Ferris, Wm. Somerville.

MR. ALLISON WISHART, Travelling Agent for the Daily and Weekly Telegraph is now going through Nova Scotia.

Subscribers are asked to pay their subscriptions to the agents when they call.

Semi-Weekly Telegraph

T. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 21, 1901.

THE QUEEN IS DEAD.

The news of Queen Victoria's illness falls with stunning force on a sympathetic world. Although the extreme age of our late gracious sovereign made the news of her illness a matter of serious concern, yet the public mind seemed unable to accept the possibility of fatal ending.

that there should come another strain telling of the new power which has come into the imperial councils. That the death of our beloved Queen should bring with it no national panic or arouse feelings of despair for the future of the Empire is at once a tribute to the greatness and wisdom of the one for whom we sorrow, and to the widespread belief in the great son upon whom the imperial mother's mantle of power has fallen.

God save our gracious King, Long live our noble King, God save the King, Send him victorious, Happy and glorious, Long to reign over us, God save the King.

GOOD ROADS.

The agitation for an improvement in New Brunswick roads has been of such a feeble and intermittent character as to produce but little practical result, and for this the people, themselves, alone are to blame.

FARMERS' MEETINGS.

There is little doubt that the annual meetings of the Farmers' and Dairyman's Association, now in progress, are of great value to our province.

The young farmer has an opportunity of coming in contact with men of experience, and of obtaining from them their views on many points which have been accumulated from years of toil and experiment.

Again an opportunity is afforded the farmer of renewing and refreshing his mind on many important matters, and the exchanging ideas with the brethren of the province, which is of great value.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Long live King Edward the Seventh.

The oldest ruler of them all, Pope Leo XIII, still lives on.

Four hundred million subjects mourn the loss of a noble woman.

Hullix harbor must have had a narrow escape in the recent cold snap.

The Telegraph was up to date as usual yesterday in its Victorian edition.

It will take the average person a little time to get used to the revised version of the National Anthem.

The address of Britain's King was just what his subjects expected. King Edward VII has made a sensible start.

Sir John Bourne deplors the lack of culture in the newspapers. He should read our morning contemporary.

The Tourist Association deserves public recognition for its timely efforts to boom New Brunswick and its beauties.

There has not been any news of fresh movements in South Africa. Even the Boers seem impressed with the death of the good Queen.

The strength and elasticity of Britain's unwritten constitution has been admirably illustrated in the entire absence of national or commercial panic over the change in Britain's sovereignty.

It is stated there are fewer tramps in Canada than for many years. The growing time must be conflicting with the prosperity of the profession.

The Canadian newspapers are accused by the Rev. J. Morris MacLean of being friendly to the liquor traffic. Surely the reverend gentleman did not include Commissioner Stewart in his sweeping indictment.

The Telegraph suggests that the most fitting memorial of our late beloved Queen would be the preservation of her birthday as a public holiday for all time. The 24th of May should be set apart as Victorian day.

GRAIN INSPECTION.

Chairman of Royal Commission Is at Montreal.

A MILLION WANTED.

Grand Trunk Declines Offer Made by the Civic Authorities of Montreal. The Action Brought by the Temiscouata Railway Company Dismissed.

Montreal, Jan. 25.—(Special)—The Grand Trunk authorities have written the civic authorities declining the city's offer of $500,000 to provide for level crossings. The Grand Trunk wishes $1,000,000. In the practice court, Justice Madieu gave judgment today in the case of the Temiscouata Railway Company vs. Alexander R. McDonald, dismissing the action with costs.

One reason why the New York produce exchange threatened to exclude Montreal from the list of Atlantic ports having been defective grain inspection here is a joint meeting of the corn exchange committee, shipping interests and grain shippers here decided to ask the Montreal Elevating Company to carry out a system of weighing as it prevails in New York.

The Journal, French Conservative paper established by Sir Charles Tupper, has abandoned the morning field and become an evening paper, the change going into effect yesterday.

CATARHOGONE AN EFFICIENT ASTHMA REMEDY.

Inserip, Ont.—"Catarrhogene is certainly a very efficient remedy for Asthma. I have derived great relief from its use. A neighbor, also, to whom I gave a trial has been benefited to a similar extent." Mrs. Ed. Callan.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Kitchener's Forces Being Disposed in a Semi-Circle.

Cape Town, Jan. 23.—General Kitchener is disposing great forces semi-circularly, his extreme left resting on the sea, to encircle the Boers. The columns are moving simultaneously, in touch with each other. The greatest danger of the situation is the possibility of General De Wet's appearance in Cape Colony. It is believed that none of the Dutch would resist his personal call to arms. They think the fame of Napoleon and Wellington pales in the presence of his military genius.

Among a number of captured letters, one is from General Hertzog to President Steyn, asking for one thousand unarmoured young men to enter Cape Colony and beat up recruits.

Berlin, Jan. 23.—The Boer leaders, Piet and Jan Steenkamp, have arrived here on a secret mission.

London, Jan. 22.—The Daily Telegraph published the following from its special correspondent, dated Cape Town, Jan. 21: "Mr. Meyer, a member of the bond, has sailed on the Transatlantic for England. It is said that the goes instructed by an absolute majority of the bond members to advise Messrs. Fisher and Kruger to accept terms other than independence. He recognizes that the republics are ended, and that British rule is a certainty."

It is believed that a period of crown government, proposing as an alternative the confederation of South Africa.

Cape Town, Jan. 22.—The residents of the Hanover district have been warned that they must surrender to the government their modern rifles, all the guns so far as they are being antique weapons. Ex-Treasurer Meriman has embarked for England. It is believed that ex-Commissioner of Public Works Sauer will follow shortly.

Advertisement for Kendall's Spavin Cure, featuring an image of a horse and text: "For All Lamenesses in Horses. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. Cures without a bluish, as it does not blister. A trial will be made for free use, if it does not equal. Price, 50¢ per bottle. Ask your druggist for Kendall's Spavin Cure. A Treatise on the Horse, the book free, or address DR. B. J. KENDALL, CO., Chicago, Ill., U.S.A."

How The Dollars Roll Your Way.

Men's Choice Overcoats Temptingly Reduced.

Littlest prices ever put on fine Overcoats. You're not a bit clothing-clever if you don't grab the forelock of this splendid chance to get a superior Overcoat dollars under its regular value. And these reductions right at the time when you need a warm coat.

Overcoats which formerly sold for $5.00 to $18.00 reduced to $4.00 to $14.40.

Ulster Weather Has Arrived.

Mercury's playing around the zero-mark. The reductions in prices on our stock of Ulsters comes at an opportune time, and they're here in all their warmful vigor. Ulsters that reach from your hat-brim to your heels. You'll not find better coats anywhere.

Table listing men's overcoat prices: Men's $5.00 Ulsters reduced to $3.65, Men's 6.00 Ulsters reduced to 4.50, Men's 8.00 Ulsters reduced to 6.40, Men's 10.00 Ulsters reduced to 3.00, Men's 12.00 Ulsters reduced to 9.60, Men's 14.00 Ulsters reduced to 9.60.

GREATER OAK HALL, SCOVIL BROS. & CO., King Street, Corner Germain. St. John, N. B.

THE KING'S ACCESSION SPEECH.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The following is the full text of His Majesty's accession speech:

"Your Royal Highnesses, my Lords and gentlemen: This is the most painful occasion on which I shall ever be called upon to address you. My first and melancholy duty is to announce to you the death of my beloved mother, the Queen, and I know how deeply you and the whole nation, and, I think I may say, the whole world, sympathize with me in the irreparable loss we have all sustained."

"I need hardly say that my constant endeavor will be always to walk in her footsteps."

"In undertaking the heavy load which now devolves upon me, I am fully determined to be a constitutional sovereign in the strictest sense of the word, and, so long as there is breath in my body, to work for the good and amelioration of my people."

"I have resolved to be known by the name of Edward, which has been borne by six of my ancestors. In doing so I do not undervalue the name of Albert, which I inherit from my ever-to-be-lamented, great and wise father, who by universal consent is, I think, deservedly known by the name of 'Albert the Good,' and I desire that his name should stand alone."

"In conclusion, I trust to parliament and the nation to support me in the arduous duties which now devolve upon me by inheritance, and to which I am determined to devote my whole strength during the remainder of my life."

NEWS FROM MONCTON.

Traffic Manager Tiffin Arrives at I. C. R. Headquarters—Opposition Candidate May Be Nominated for Westmorland.

Moncton, Jan. 24.—(Special)—E. Tiffin, the newly appointed traffic manager of the I. C. R., arrived in the city this morning and entered upon his duties at once. Mr. Tiffin has taken up his quarters in the general freight agent's office.

The opposition have called a convention at Dorchester on the 30th to consider the advisability of putting a candidate in the field in the local by-election in Westmorland. In event of opposition, the name of F. B. Black, Sackville, is mentioned as a probable candidate, while it is understood A. B. Copp, barrister, of Sackville, will be the government candidate.

J. R. Fraser, assistant storekeeper of the I. C. R., received a telegram from Shubenacadie, N. S., this morning announcing the death of his mother at the advanced age of 92 years.

The restaurant managed by H. Gallant, of Main street, was burglarized last night, and about $20 worth of goods stolen.

Constant, Watchful Care

Is necessary to save the Little Ones.

Thousands of people have to be constantly, unceasingly guarded! Born with hollow chests, stooped shoulders and general bodily weakness such people are highly susceptible to every change, a slight draught, damp feet, foggy weather, any little thing is sufficient excuse for an attack of sore throat, cough and even pneumonia.

Shiloh Cures Croup in a single night.

robust, and will positively heal up and permanently cure sore and inflamed membranes. If it does not do so to the purchaser's entire satisfaction his druggist will refund the purchase money in full. No Cure no Pay! The following testimonial speaks plainly.

S. C. WELLS CO., Colborne St., Toronto.—"I came from a family of Consumptives and none of my ancestors have reached old age, to my knowledge. Twenty three years ago I chanced to hear of the Shiloh Consumption Cure, and being more thoughtful than most young men, probably owing to the family care, as we termed our hereditary consumption, I thought I would get a bottle and find out what it purported to do, and, if it seemed reasonable, give it a fair trial. I carried out this plan and am, I implicitly believe, as a consequence, here to write this testimony. I am now 45 fifteen or twenty years older than the age usually reached by my family, am hale and hearty and as likely to reach a ripe old age as the next man, thanks to Dr. Shiloh. Yours for ever, BENJ. GREEN, Ogdensburg, N.Y."

Sold by all druggists in Canada and United States at 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. In Great Britain 1s. 2d; 2s. 3d; 4s. 6d.

LONG LIVE THE KING.

In the moment of the nation's sorrow for the departed ruler, there comes the thought of the change in the imperial destiny which her demise has brought in the train. The Queen is dead—God save the King. And in the note of sadness over the nation's loss it is not unfitting

FARMERS AND DAIRYMEN IN CONVENTION AT PROVINCIAL CAPITAL

Reports of the President and Secretary Submitted at the Opening Session—Distinguished Visitors—The Meeting Heard Speeches and Sang God Save The King.

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 23.—The Farmers and Dairymen's Association met here in annual convention at 2:30 p.m. at the Hotel... President A. M. Dickson, of Chatham, in the chair. Among the distinguished visitors present are Lieut. Gov. McClellan, Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture, Hon. L. P. Harris, commissioner for agriculture, R. Robertson, manager of the Experimental Farm at Sackville, N. S., F. W. Hodson, of Ottawa, and others.

Before the opening of the convention the convention opened with the singing of the national anthem, as usual. The convention opened with the singing of the national anthem, as usual. The convention opened with the singing of the national anthem, as usual.

Words of mine cannot give expression to the sorrow, sadness and gloom that exist here on account of the death of our beloved Queen Victoria. Wherever the name was known it was revered. She has gone to receive a more glorious reward, and we deeply mourn her loss. We can join with Tennyson and say: Her count was pure, her hair serene, God gave her peace, her reign reposed. A thousand claims to reverence closed. In her a mother, wife and Queen.

The year's work. It is my pleasant duty to welcome you all to this our annual gathering. It is my pleasant duty to welcome you all to this our annual gathering. It is my pleasant duty to welcome you all to this our annual gathering.

The future. With such an outlook for the future we should not be at all pessimistic. With such an outlook for the future we should not be at all pessimistic. With such an outlook for the future we should not be at all pessimistic.

Societies. Some of our agricultural societies are not doing the work it was intended they should when organized, while others are a power for good in their locality. A live agricultural society, well managed by energetic officers and directors, and holding an exhibition annually, has a wonderful influence with the farmers in breeding and curing for their live stock, and preparing all other exhibits in order to compete successfully with their neighbors. The natural pride for the knowledge he has acquired, and when he sees his name in connection with several first prizes it stimulates him to exert greater skill in managing his farm. Some may say that it is a man working altogether for glory, but not so; the man is acquiring an agricultural education, by putting into practice the knowledge he has acquired, and when he sees his name in connection with several first prizes it stimulates him to exert greater skill in managing his farm.

Some of our agricultural societies are not doing the work it was intended they should when organized, while others are a power for good in their locality. A live agricultural society, well managed by energetic officers and directors, and holding an exhibition annually, has a wonderful influence with the farmers in breeding and curing for their live stock, and preparing all other exhibits in order to compete successfully with their neighbors. The natural pride for the knowledge he has acquired, and when he sees his name in connection with several first prizes it stimulates him to exert greater skill in managing his farm.

Some of our agricultural societies are not doing the work it was intended they should when organized, while others are a power for good in their locality. A live agricultural society, well managed by energetic officers and directors, and holding an exhibition annually, has a wonderful influence with the farmers in breeding and curing for their live stock, and preparing all other exhibits in order to compete successfully with their neighbors. The natural pride for the knowledge he has acquired, and when he sees his name in connection with several first prizes it stimulates him to exert greater skill in managing his farm.

Some of our agricultural societies are not doing the work it was intended they should when organized, while others are a power for good in their locality. A live agricultural society, well managed by energetic officers and directors, and holding an exhibition annually, has a wonderful influence with the farmers in breeding and curing for their live stock, and preparing all other exhibits in order to compete successfully with their neighbors. The natural pride for the knowledge he has acquired, and when he sees his name in connection with several first prizes it stimulates him to exert greater skill in managing his farm.

important subjects relating to farm life, exchanging ideas, and arousing a more intelligent interest in their work. I hope each association is represented here.

The Farmers' Institute work is well worthy of mention. There is no better way in which to advise the farmers to a sense of their duty to themselves and country, than by the holding of meetings in their districts. Capable institute workers will point out to them the short-comings of the past and the possibilities of the future, thus an interest is aroused which will be of lasting good.

The Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, with our esteemed friend, Mr. Elderton as president, will, I have no doubt, be instrumental in raising the standard of live stock. And it is right here we need the assistance of our governments in importing some of the best males procurable, which would cost more than most of our agricultural organizations or individual farmers could afford. Such animals, properly cared for and removed from one section to another until they had outlived their usefulness, would greatly assist the individual effort in high-class live stock development, which is so essential to success in farming.

The Ontario Visit. I must make mention of the very pleasant trip the delegate from the Maritime provinces had to our sister province Ontario to attend the fat stock show at Guelph. I am sure I twice the sentiment of the party when I state our very high appreciation of the courtesy and kindness shown us by the management of the show. Especially are thanks due to the minister of agriculture and our energetic live stock commissioner, Mr. F. W. Hodson, who was with us in his efforts to make it pleasant and profitable. The people of Ontario are to be congratulated on the success that attended their excellent fair. It was an object lesson to us we should not soon forget.

Canada's Proud Position. Never in the history of Canada had we the same cause to feel our proud position of being recognized as a great possession of the greatest Empire on earth. Never again will the loyalty and patriotism of our gallant sons be questioned. Our gallant sons who so willingly left their homes and went to a foreign shore to uphold the motherland in later struggles, and have shown to the world the heroism, courage and bravery possessed by the men of the northern zone. Every heart must beat with pride when they think that our boys won for themselves by their fortitude and bravery the commendation of our gallant Queen and the approval of their country. What they have accomplished in cementing the bond existing between Canada and England cannot be estimated. While we deeply mourn her loss, we feel that truly they have not died in vain. Their names will be handed down to posterity with those of the founders of our nation. We earnestly hope that the struggle still going on may soon end and the cause of right be established.

More Knowledge Needed. There is no question about the needs of the country. It is more knowledge, to secure this the fullest extent, we need nature study, high schools and practical horticulture and dairy schools with courses of at least four months, and we should have a provincial college, and enough and deep enough to supply us with teachers for all these other institutions. Then, first, last and always, we need a system of lectures, and a series of lectures, and a series of lectures, and a series of lectures.

W. W. Hubbard Reviews the Past Year and Speaks of the Future. The report of Secretary W. W. Hubbard was as follows: With the advent of a new century our association enters upon the 23rd year of its existence, and enters a period of increasing responsibilities. During the quarter century of its life it has done some things to draw public attention to the importance of agriculture, so far as active executive work is concerned, its aims have been on those of omission rather than commission.

Its founders, and there were many good men among them, were groping after improved methods, they were trying to operate to secure them, this association was the outcome. I had the honor of being present at the meeting which led up to the formation of this association. This meeting was called for among the farmers of Sunbury county by my grandfather, and was held at his house at Burton, about 16 miles from this city. It was an afternoon and evening session only. The next year Mr. W. D. Parry, of Muzersville, Sunbury county, now Seney, or Parry, of Wolfegate, N. W. J., with other gentlemen called a provincial convention at the Sunbury County Court house, and here gathered leading farmers from Westmorland, Kings, Queens, Carleton, and York. Regular annual meetings have since been held. Up till 1888 they were held at various local centres, since then they have always been held at Fredericton, as being the most convenient centre. Up till 1890 not a cent of public money was ever asked or received by the association. Then, the provincial government seeing the value of the papers, discussions, etc., at the meetings, printed a portion of them in the agricultural report. Since then various expenses have been incurred by the government in printing these proceedings.

In 1888-89 the association did its first work in holding local meetings, and raised the money to carry it on by private subscription among its members. The meetings aroused a good deal of criticism but it could not continue this work as no public appropriation was secured for it. In 1893 the association was incorporated, and since then has either had the assistance of our governments in importing some of the best males procurable, which would cost more than most of our agricultural organizations or individual farmers could afford.

The Association's Work. You will pardon me if I briefly refer to this matter. This association can very properly claim to have assisted in forming and helping the present agricultural policy of the government. It started the Farmers' Institute work, and carried it forward until the department of agriculture took it up. It has assisted to the utmost of its ability in forming local associations, and in working up co-operative dairying. It has made it possible for leaders of thought like Prof. Robertson and members of the Department of Agriculture, to meet large and representative audiences of the farmers of the province. It agitated for and secured the appointment of Mr. Elderton as superintendent of dairies, and assisted in the establishment of a dairy school. It asked for, though not by unanimous vote, several important changes in the management of the association. It has received the hearty support of the provincial government, which has through the department of agriculture taken up and carried on in a most commendable way these various lines of work.

The change in the management of the association, which has been made, is paid to provide for this meeting areas from the fact that the local dairymen's associations, which under certain conditions are to be organized, have been made, is paid to provide for this meeting areas from the fact that the local dairymen's associations, which under certain conditions are to be organized, have been made, is paid to provide for this meeting areas from the fact that the local dairymen's associations, which under certain conditions are to be organized, have been made.

It is through the lack of action on the part of many of the local organizations that the charge of expenditure against this association arises. This meeting, however, does cost some money, both to the province and individuals, and costs the latter valuable time as well. It is worth the expenditure, and it is worth the expenditure, and it is worth the expenditure.

Ontario has been the chief exporter of pork products but New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island are occasionally able to raise the class of pigs required. It is impossible to give even a fair synopsis of Mr. Robertson's paper, and of its value without a reference to the many drawings and photographs which he showed. Having finished reading his paper Mr. Hubbard was pleased with many questions regarding feeding, breeding, care and marketing of pigs. Every person present interested in some raising agreed that this evening's session was of great value.

Mr. Hubbard's paper was a most interesting one, and it was a most interesting one.

Mr. Hubbard's paper was a most interesting one, and it was a most interesting one.

Mr. Hubbard's paper was a most interesting one, and it was a most interesting one.

Mr. Hubbard's paper was a most interesting one, and it was a most interesting one.

Mr. Tompkins, are lost by being chilled and they die. To save them take a small amount of warm water, given plenty of hay in it for about ten minutes, and in almost every case this will revive the lamb and it will be saved. Lambs two weeks old will eat a moderate quantity of hay, and whole lots with good success. Lambs should be doctored when about three weeks old. As a remedy for sheep ticks he had found Scotch snuff to be most effective if sifted upon the sheep twice during the winter. He did not believe in keeping large flocks of sheep together. Twenty-five acres many for the probably be herded together. If a farmer keeps over 25 sheep he should keep them in two flocks. Any farmer who keeps from twenty to twenty-five sheep should have a field and they will improve the pasture where they are allowed to run. He believed that there is anxiety for the farmer to Brunswick to raise the raising of sheep.

Mr. Hodson referred first to breeding. He thought that the sheep raiser would do well to settle upon some distinct breed and stick to that breed. When the sheep are bred they should be bred from ten to twelve months of age. Every sheep raiser should grow rape for his own use. Rape can be easily and profitably raised. He never found any feed as good for getting lambs in condition for the market as rape with a little oats and winter. Sheep should have a yard where they sleep in rain. Sheep should have plenty of hay and straw both in summer and winter. For killing ticks pyrethrum is better in some respects than Septyl snuff.

Mr. Robertson, of the experimental farm, said about 50 sheep kept at the farm, and that a committee be appointed to take into consideration a scheme of organizing the horse breeders. The motion was agreed to and the chairman named as the committee T. E. Caine, Col. Campbell, H. B. Hall, E. H. Turnbull, Col. Campbell and S. L. Peters.

Mr. Robertson then addressed the convention upon the Experimental Farm. Agriculture brings into the country three times as much as all other products combined, but it does not pay to take from the farm and from the soil after year without returning an equivalent in the farm. Experiments of many kinds are carried on at the farm. Among those was a test of the profits of dairying, and it was shown that only the best cows are profitable. An experiment with beef steers had demonstrated that it was well to have the cattle lose in the fall. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

He urged the farmers to have a better opinion of their own homes and farms and to improve them. He believed in buying raw products, such as grain and feed, for the farm, to be manufactured into finished products, such as beef, pork and butter. It, however, would be better to grow it, if possible, that grain and feed on the farm. He stated one county in Nova Scotia which last year sent $100,000 to Ontario and Quebec for more butter and more cheese to the acre than those provinces can.

He replied to the question "Where would we find a market for all our eggs raising chickens to sell?" Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

Mr. Tompkins, are lost by being chilled and they die. To save them take a small amount of warm water, given plenty of hay in it for about ten minutes, and in almost every case this will revive the lamb and it will be saved. Lambs two weeks old will eat a moderate quantity of hay, and whole lots with good success. Lambs should be doctored when about three weeks old. As a remedy for sheep ticks he had found Scotch snuff to be most effective if sifted upon the sheep twice during the winter. He did not believe in keeping large flocks of sheep together. Twenty-five acres many for the probably be herded together. If a farmer keeps over 25 sheep he should keep them in two flocks. Any farmer who keeps from twenty to twenty-five sheep should have a field and they will improve the pasture where they are allowed to run. He believed that there is anxiety for the farmer to Brunswick to raise the raising of sheep.

Mr. Hodson referred first to breeding. He thought that the sheep raiser would do well to settle upon some distinct breed and stick to that breed. When the sheep are bred they should be bred from ten to twelve months of age. Every sheep raiser should grow rape for his own use. Rape can be easily and profitably raised. He never found any feed as good for getting lambs in condition for the market as rape with a little oats and winter. Sheep should have a yard where they sleep in rain. Sheep should have plenty of hay and straw both in summer and winter. For killing ticks pyrethrum is better in some respects than Septyl snuff.

Mr. Robertson, of the experimental farm, said about 50 sheep kept at the farm, and that a committee be appointed to take into consideration a scheme of organizing the horse breeders. The motion was agreed to and the chairman named as the committee T. E. Caine, Col. Campbell, H. B. Hall, E. H. Turnbull, Col. Campbell and S. L. Peters.

Mr. Robertson then addressed the convention upon the Experimental Farm. Agriculture brings into the country three times as much as all other products combined, but it does not pay to take from the farm and from the soil after year without returning an equivalent in the farm. Experiments of many kinds are carried on at the farm. Among those was a test of the profits of dairying, and it was shown that only the best cows are profitable. An experiment with beef steers had demonstrated that it was well to have the cattle lose in the fall. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

He urged the farmers to have a better opinion of their own homes and farms and to improve them. He believed in buying raw products, such as grain and feed, for the farm, to be manufactured into finished products, such as beef, pork and butter. It, however, would be better to grow it, if possible, that grain and feed on the farm. He stated one county in Nova Scotia which last year sent $100,000 to Ontario and Quebec for more butter and more cheese to the acre than those provinces can.

He replied to the question "Where would we find a market for all our eggs raising chickens to sell?" Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

feels like raising light horses let him get ready for the fall of the business. It went on for that by the time he has a colt fit for the market he will find 10 buyers for it and a good round price that will pay. Breeding stock for the last seven years, and during all that time and especially during the last year the consumption of horses has steadily been going on. As for the lover of the good old draft horse, I would say never fear, breed away all you can. The time is not in sight when the draft horse will be no longer wanted.

I really don't see, gentlemen, why we New Brunswickers should not take a far more prominent place in this work. We are very very handy to all the good markets of the world, and if we will but launch out with the realization that heavy horses are one of the very best and most valuable money producers a farmer can have about him, I see no reason why we should not get on.

I suggest that this association lay before the provincial government a scheme where by anyone who will import pure bred horses into this province, and will give certain necessary bonds as to retaining the animal or animals for a certain length of time within the province, that he would be reimbursed to the extent of, say, one-third the total cost. I am not in favor of government importation, for two reasons: Enough care is not taken in selection, or in pedigree, and secondly, it is not as well cared for, nor as much appreciated as stock bought by an individual farmer.

An address full of practical information was made by Hon. W. S. Fisher, who stated that a rare opportunity is now offered (Canada) to furnish recruits for the imperial army. A great many were bought for South Africa and the owners sold them at good prices, $125 to $175. The subject was further discussed by Sumner Frost, Mr. Scholer, H. B. Hall, Mr. Caine, of Montreal; E. H. Turnbull, Col. Campbell and S. L. Peters.

Mr. Turnbull moved, seconded by Col. Campbell, that a committee be appointed to take into consideration a scheme of organizing the horse breeders. The motion was agreed to and the chairman named as the committee T. E. Caine, Col. Campbell, H. B. Hall, E. H. Turnbull and S. L. Peters.

Mr. Robertson then addressed the convention upon the Experimental Farm. Agriculture brings into the country three times as much as all other products combined, but it does not pay to take from the farm and from the soil after year without returning an equivalent in the farm. Experiments of many kinds are carried on at the farm. Among those was a test of the profits of dairying, and it was shown that only the best cows are profitable. An experiment with beef steers had demonstrated that it was well to have the cattle lose in the fall. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

He urged the farmers to have a better opinion of their own homes and farms and to improve them. He believed in buying raw products, such as grain and feed, for the farm, to be manufactured into finished products, such as beef, pork and butter. It, however, would be better to grow it, if possible, that grain and feed on the farm. He stated one county in Nova Scotia which last year sent $100,000 to Ontario and Quebec for more butter and more cheese to the acre than those provinces can.

He replied to the question "Where would we find a market for all our eggs raising chickens to sell?" Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price.

Mr. Robertson said that the more of a first-class article we have to sell the better market we have for it and get the better price. He also proposed to raise the best kind of beef cattle.

PURE MILK INST. JOHN

A New Business May Be Established Here. REQUEST HAS BEEN MADE For the Formation of a Business Here Similar to That of the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company of Montreal—Improvement of Milk Supply.

A number of prominent St. John citizens have recently examined the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company of Montreal, and Mr. David Russell has been requested to undertake the formation of a similar business in this city. It will prove of great value to St. John. The Montreal Gazette in a recent article on the work of the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company, says:

Of all articles of food that enter into the daily consumption of this family, there is none so delicate as milk, nor so susceptible to outside influences. Physicians have time and again traced to the milk supplied in the larger cities many of the cases of contagious and zymotic diseases existing, and there is no doubt that the careless handling and distribution of milk is directly responsible for many cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid.

The absolute necessity of improving upon the old methods of handling milk has lately forced itself to the front in Montreal, and the latest method of obtaining absolutely pure milk in sterilized vessels has now been introduced here. Messrs. J. N. Greenhalghs, William Mitchell, William Strickland, and David Russell have organized a company called the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company, which makes a specialty of delivering the highest quality of milk, thoroughly purified and only in absolutely sterilized and disinfected bottles.

The plant, which cost over $30,000, consists of the most modern and up-to-date machinery for cold storage, clarifying and sterilizing purposes that the United States can produce, and although the company has only been a short time in active operation, it already absorbs the output of several farms, including the farms of "Isaiah Grange" farm of Mr. Greenhalghs, at Danville, Que., and the almost equally famous dairy farm of Mr. C. Campbell, of C. at Dorval. The system on which the company works has attracted the attention of the doctors, more especially as the plant has for some time been under the supervision of the special medical commission of the Medico-Chirurgical Society of Montreal, who are the most skillful with the methods employed, and altho many medical men are recommending their patients to use Guaranteed Pure Milk, the principal feature of the system consists in the removal from the milk by clarification of all sedimentary matter, fibrine, blood corpuscles, and everything that is foreign to the composition of rich milk, and further in the fact that it is subjected to the perfect sterilization of a can, bottles and other vessels, no dangerous disease can be spread from one cow to another. Moreover, the company supervises the farms from which their supply is drawn, and the care of the feeding of the cows to the delivery of the milk into the home, the company can guarantee the purity of their milk.

The Pure Milk Company, at 288 St. Catherine street, are always open to the public, and no intelligent observer could fail to be struck by the hygienic value of their work that is done there, which appeals particularly to all persons who value true cleanliness in the food they eat and drink. Mr. David Russell has just returned from New York, where he has engaged as manager of the company a gentleman of successful experience in handling a similar plant there. It is probable that similar distributing dairies will be organized in other Canadian cities, and one is already being equipped at Ottawa.

SCORBILA

is indicated by little kernels in the neck. Sometimes they grow less and less until they disappear entirely. Continue the Emulsion until the child has good solid flesh and a healthy color.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The swellings will grow less and less until they disappear entirely. Continue the Emulsion until the child has good solid flesh and a healthy color.

WEDDED AT WINDSOR.

Harris S. Smith and Miss Annie Anslow. The wedding took place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Harris S. Smith, of Essex son of C. De W. Harris, Esq., of the firm of Bennett Smith & Son. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Methodist clergyman, which was fully decorated by members of the choir. Miss Anslow wore a tailor-made suit of navy blue cloth, trimmed with velvet, and that to match. The presents were numerous. Many of them were from St. John and other parts of New Brunswick.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH. ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 26, 1901.

VICTORIA, OUR LAMENTED QUEEN, The Greatest Monarch the World Knew-- A True Woman and Wise Ruler.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

The Indian Uprising In the United States.

THE PRESIDENT DEFIED.

The Redskins Threaten to Burn and Kill--Whites Are Arming--Has Been One Encounter, and One of a Posse is Captured--There Are Grave Fears.

Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 22--Washington authorities have been requested to send federal troops into the Creek country to quiet the uprising of the Snake bands...

MEN'S ULSTERS.

For warmth and comfort in driving nothing will take the place of an Ulster.

- Men's Grey Frieze Ulsters, $6.00
Men's Grey or Black Frieze Ulsters, 8.25
Men's Extra Quality Grey Frieze Ulsters, 10.00
Men's Irish Frieze Ulsters, dark grey, 12.75

M. R. & A.'s Unrivalled $10 Suits for Men.

Boys' Winter Reefers

Good quality Boys' Blue Nap Reefers ages 6 to 16 years, $3.50 to $5.00, according to size.

Manchester Robertson & Allison

Victoria's Coronation and Her Marriage. After the King's death, Victoria met her council at Kensington Palace.

On the day of her coronation the Queen had some trouble in keeping the crown upon her head. Every salutation she made threatened to displace the imperial diadem...

ARREST REVEALS IDENTITY.

Henry Tatro of Lowell Has Two Wives--Sentenced for Non-support of First Wife and Eight Children.

Lowell, Jan. 22--It has developed that Henry Tatro, aged about 45 years who was arrested Saturday morning at his lodging house in Middlesex street...

WANTED--RELIABLE MEN

In every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads, and all conspicuous places...

WANTED--A 1st or 2nd class male or female teacher for School District No. 8.

WANTED--A 1st or 2nd class male or female teacher for School District No. 8, Parish of McAdam, York Co.

WANTED--Second class female teacher for district No. 9.

WANTED--Furrier to make and machine good easy work; we pay $10 per hundred for bicycle hose, and other work according to price.

Who hath his collar button lost The chase need ne'er give o'er. Barfooted, let him close his eyes And promenade the floor.

The Japs Did It--They supplied us with the menthol contained in that wonderful D. & L. Menthol Plaster...

His Majesty King Edward VII., Who Tuesday Evening, by the Death of His Beloved Mother, Became Ruler of the British Empire.

Hair 55 Inches Long

Crown by Cuticours. Miss B., of L., sends us through our Bristol Depot, Boston, P. O., a bundle of soft downy hair cut from her own head...

FOR A DANGEROUS ACT.

Ten Years in Prison for Tampering With a Railroad Switch.

Saco, Me., Jan. 24--Judge Frederick A. Powers, in the supreme court here today, sentenced Geo. White, of Wells, to serve 10 years in the state prison...

FOUR YEARS AT HARD LABOR.

Mason, the St. John Man, Sentenced for Assaulting Jennie Griffin, of Grand Manan. Mason, Me., Jan. 24--Four years at hard labor in state prison was the sentence imposed on Wm. H. Mason...

Black shoes and stockings reduce the apparent size of the foot.

One Men One Day One Mill. It costs a mill a day--one cent every ten days--to make a man's hair grow. With ONE MEN ONE DAY ONE MILL CONDITION POWDER, clean into the hair...

Sheridan's CONDITION POWDER

Always speak well of the dead--and if you have time you might say a good word for the living occasionally.

Odd Items from Everywhere.

The game of chess is taught in the public schools of Australia.

A large wholesale stock of liquors belonging to a Kansas City firm was dumped into the gutter at Topeka, Kan., by the order of the police judge.

Union carpenters in San Francisco have fully demonstrated what can be done by organized labor when acting as a unit.

When a student in Girard college breaks a rule of that institution he is punished by being compelled to take a bath.

No time was lost by a Chicago wife after she had learned that her husband, from whom she was living apart, was about to sue for a divorce.

The Roman emperors always signed their names in purple ink.

The early pens were so expensive that the steel penholders advertised that they would make such repairs as were necessary to their pens for a stated time...

Mrs. W. Boyd Steele of Stephen City, Va., had been missing flour and other things from her pantry.

An amusing story is going the rounds that at the steps of the legislature, when the Japanese minister called for volunteers to assist in the defence of his legation...

In southern Italy one of the peculiar customs of the peasants is the wearing of price marks on new suits of clothes.

A Danbury, Conn., fish dealer is much excited over a peculiar clam which he found in a shipment he received this morning.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism. Nervine is a combination of the most potent pain curing substances known to medical science.

Always speak well of the dead--and if you have time you might say a good word for the living occasionally.

Every noble work is at first impossible. Carlyle.

Eighty Years Old--Catarrh Fifty Years.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder cures him. Want any stronger evidence of the power of this wonderful remedy over this universal disease?

POUL SALES--Maine Engine, 15 H. P. second hand, 1 do, 5 H. P. new, 2 15 H. P. stationary, 2 9 H. P. steel boiler (upright), 1 Engine Lath 15 in. by 6 ft., 1 set Platform Scales, 3 tons capacity, second hand.

WANTED.

AGENTS--OUR THREE NEW BOOKS--"History of the War in South Africa," "Story of the Great Galveston Disaster," "Martyrs of the Cross by Heald and Horrors of the Boxers."

AGENTS WANTED--For "Life of Queen Victoria and History of England and Her Colonies."

WANTED--RELIABLE MEN in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads, and all conspicuous places...

WANTED--A 1st or 2nd class male or female teacher for School District No. 8, Parish of McAdam, York Co.

WANTED--A 1st or 2nd class male or female teacher for district No. 9, Peteraville, Queens Co.

WANTED--Furrier to make and machine good easy work; we pay $10 per hundred for bicycle hose, and other work according to price.

WANTED--Second class female teacher for district No. 9, Peteraville, Queens Co.

TEACHER WANTED--A Second class male teacher to teach school in School District No. 14, in the parish of St. George, J. Hill Hooper, Secretary.

TEACHER WANTED--In District No. 3, Lakeside, Elmhurst, Kings county, second class male or first class female. Apply to the trustees. H. E. Galloway, Secretary.

Xmas Vacation Will Begin Dec. 22. Classes will re-open Jan. 2nd with increased accommodation, the best facilities and brightest prospects we have ever had in our 33 years experience in college work.

THE ST. JOHN TELEGRAPH. KERR & SON, Printers, St. John, N.B.