

HEAD ALMOST FROM HIS BODY

Death at Welsford—Believed of Freight Train—Companion Track.

When another brakeman coming up from where the cars had been shunted on the siding saw the body lying across the track, the sight was horrible as the head was almost severed from the body. The body of Lester being notified, the body was covered up and Coroner Malcolm McKenzie sent for. After viewing the body he gave permission to have it brought to the city. The delay caused by the accident made it necessary for the freight to wait for the Boston and Montreal trains, and it was nearly 10 o'clock when the body was reached. The body was taken to O'Neil's undertaking rooms and it will be taken to his home in Tabusintac today.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Strang, of Tabusintac, and, besides his parents, is survived by five sisters and two brothers. The sisters are Mrs. William Harding and Mrs. W. Edmonds, of Tabusintac; Mrs. John Garvin, of Loggieville, and Mrs. William Shea and Mrs. Thomas Young, of this city. The brothers are Jacob and Ronald Strang, of Tabusintac. He had been working at construction for the C. P. R. during the summer and had been taken on as a brakeman for the first time this winter.

It was only last June that he saved a little boy from drowning. The boy was playing on a wharf in the rear of the N. B. cold storage warehouse and fell into the water. His cries were heard by Strang who was working near by and he jumped into the water and rescued the lad.

had collected the revenue properly due the province during the past year.

There was no doubt in his mind that the cut on the crown lands was increasing. It was only to be expected that with lessening the time of expiration, that lumbermen should increase their cut on granted lands. Transatlantic shipments were not a fair comparison in trying to arrive at the total cut of lumber on the crown lands. Transatlantic shipments used to include more lumber from private lands than they do now. He knew of one concern which used to ship from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 feet of lumber from New Brunswick Railway Company's lands to the British market and whose transatlantic shipments now amounted to not more than ten per cent of what they did a few years ago.

The crown lands were being depleted and the cut would not fall off until after the expiration of the leases. No country whether the lumber market continued buoyant or not.

He did not accuse the government of collusion with the lumbermen but he did accuse them of remissness in not taking stock of crown lands with an estimate of the amount of lumber thereon, and he believed that this could be done at cost that would not exceed $5,000,000.

He agreed with the honorable member for Kent that the government should without any delay, inform the lumbermen to their policy respecting the renewal of the crown land leases. He was in accord with the policy of this government to encourage the export of pulp wood from the crown lands to the United States. The reason pulp wood goes to the United States is because it can be transported by rail at a lower rate and escape high duty that would have to be paid on it in its manufactured state. If reciprocity had been adopted it would have brought the rate down to that of the province and to this dominion instead of taking pulp wood out of the country. And honorable gentlemen opposite would have to answer to the people for not having done one of its ways to help to defeat reciprocity in the election last September, and that having done a great injury to the province.

He also thanked the members for the supply bill, greater by many millions than any hitherto passed, and congratulated them on the prosperity of the country, which still abounds.

These were the only matters touched on in the speech from the throne. There were other matters touched on in the original draft of the speech, namely the bill for the improvement of highways, and the bill for the creation of a permanent tariff commission, but at the last minute these were hastily cut out. The senate provided the reason and thereby hangs a tale, but of this more anon.

Much Ceremonial.

The prorogation ceremonies were attended by the usual clerical and ceremonial. His royal highness, in field marshal's uniform, and the Duchess of Connaught took their seats on the throne of the senate at 4:30, a half hour's delay from the scheduled time, for which the reason will appear later. At their left sat the Princess Patricia.

Premier Borden and the government leader in the senate, Hon. Mr. Loughheed, representative in their new Windsor uniforms, and the members of the cabinet staff in their brilliant military regalia, were stopped at either side.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the other cabinet ministers and ex-ministers, and members of the commons assembled outside the bar of the senate, in ordinary attire, listened decorously to the epilogue of the session, read first in English and then in French by his royal highness.

The proceedings were not as spectacular as those of the opening, and the attendance did not know how the deficit would meet, but he supposed that next year he would find it had been charged to the bonded indebtedness of the province.

Senate Stood by Its Guns.

The Liberal majority in the senate, standing on what it believes, the sound constitutional and public grounds, killed the bills providing for the administration of the $1,000,000 voted for good roads and the $1,000,000 voted for the construction of the line to the northern portion of the line north for through connection.

Mr. Borden insisted the adjournment of the debate, which was made the order of the day for tomorrow.

Mr. Cyr gave notice of inquiry regarding the purchase of property in Madawaska county by the government.

Mr. Baxter, on behalf of Mr. Slipp, presented the report of the corporation.

The house adjourned at 6 o'clock.

THE CLOUD IN THE WEST

Before a committee of the Senate the other day at Ottawa, Mr. E. J. Fream, secretary of the United Farmers of Alberta, an organization having 15,000 members, said that the West had lost $20,000,000 this year through the defeat of reciprocity.

BLAKE'S WILL

There is a provision in the will left by Edward Blake that no tombstone shall be placed over his grave. The expression of such a wish by so thoughtful a man will stir others to thought upon the subject.

THE AVERAGE INCOME

One might think from a careless reading of certain American newspapers that most American citizens owned automobiles and had money to waste. A scientific writer of sound reputation gives this rosy picture a drab color by producing some instructive facts and figures.

dad, and other places, and they come with power to negotiate a trade treaty of a permanent character. Upon their arrival in New York Lieutenant Colonel Houston, C. M. G., explained concisely the object of the present conference.

WAXING AND WANING POPULARITY

Some 'malefactor of great wealth' might well leave a legacy for the pious purpose of determining the causes of the American public towards its favorites. A politician finds himself today the idol of the crowds and tomorrow he goes forth as at other times to call upon his gods, but they have departed from him.

THE OLD GUARD

Are we going to adopt the rule, 'Once an alderman, always an alderman'? Does a man who has been elected often to the Common Council 'get the habit' and become consumed by a desire to go on year after year?

DISCONCERTING

What is the Flemming government going to do with Mr. Bentley? He insists upon presenting the most awkward facts for the consideration of the public. There is not one of the more pretentious fallacies of the administration through which Mr. Bentley has not driven a coach and four this session.

BATTLES COST MORE THAN BATTLESHIPS

That battles cost more than battleships is the conclusion of the British sea lords and statesmen, so they quietly settle down to the rivalry which the ambition of other nations makes imperative. No one knows where it is going to end, but if the burden is not carried now, war indemnities later may greatly exceed the naval estimates.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A writer in 'Pearson's Magazine' estimates the number of unemployed in the United States at present at 5,500,000. High protection does not cure unemployment even in a country of vast extent and immense natural resources.

ROTE AND COMMENT

The expected has happened in British Columbia where Premier McBride swept the province with a lavish programme of provincial aid to railways. The Liberals are weak in British Columbia at present, just as the Conservatives are weak in Alberta and Saskatchewan, and a victory for Hon. Mr. McBride was regarded as certain.

ROTE AND COMMENT

Prof. H. S. Jevons, a leading English economist, says that the coal strike is costing the United Kingdom $50,000,000 a week, and that the granting of the minimum wage of $1.25 a day per man and fifty cents a day per boy would cost only $250,000 a year. In the light of such figures the government's minimum wage bill looks less revolutionary than might commonly be supposed.

One of the stories of Waterloo tells of an intrepid French officer who had led his cavalry again and again against Wellington's squares, only to be repulsed with heavy loss. Rallying his brigade for a last desperate charge, he saw that some of them wavered. SCATHING INDICTMENT OF PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

How They Have Spent an Enormous Revenue and Increased the Debt Largely

Hon. C. W. Robinson, in His Valedictory to the Legislature, Takes His Facts and Figures from the Auditor General's Reports to Prove His Statement—New Brunswick's Liabilities Have Been Increased Over $4,000,000 by the Present Regime, and Bonded Indebtedness by More Than a Million—Contrasts the Policies of the Administrations, and Shows the Liberals Inaugurated Many Measures of Lasting Benefit to the People.

Table with financial data: St. John Valley Railway, 2,500,000; Estimated balance required to construct bridges as provided by VII. Ed. 7, Cap. 18., 300,000; Total, $10,233,192.32.

Table with financial data: International Railway guaranteed bonds, 890,000.00; Cold storage, 100,000.00; N. B. & Seaboard Railway, 27,000.00; Town of Campbellton, 100,000.00.

Fredericton, March 29.—In speaking on budget debate tonight, Hon. C. W. Robinson said in part, according to the official report: Mr. Robinson said that this would probably be his last opportunity to address the house on general subjects under the latitude accorded speakers in a budget debate.

INTE GENERAL

GROWING A

A Crop That Should Intensively in This Many people make the mistake of expecting alfalfa to do as well as a crop. There is a great deal of care in selecting a variety for alfalfa as for any other crop.

Deep, loamy soils are unduly rich in nitrogen and phosphoric acid, and are not well adapted for alfalfa. In order that they may be successfully produced, a type of soil, from light loams and mucks to heavy, rich soils, is required.

Every alfalfa field should be fertilized with nitrogen and phosphoric acid. Alfalfa requires large quantities of food and cannot be expected to grow on poor soils. Its deep roots enable it to extract the soil than most other crops.

It was only right that these figures should be given to show how the province stood, and as comparison with the status of the finances of today when the total liabilities were shown as $14,877,104 as follows: Liabilities Oct. 31, 1911, as per auditor's report, $8,685,104.33.

Mr. Bentley would want to give that impression, as it was well known that there was no public money in the pockets of the outgoing members of the government. The old government had been blamed for a great deal, and, as a member of it, he might be pardoned in saying a few words in its defence.

Not only had the old government been blamed for the great increase in bonded indebtedness, but the honorable gentlemen opposite now sought to lay the blame for the over-expenditure of $6,000,000 against them. It would be only fair to make a statement as to the debt as it stood at the present time and he would take as a guide the statement given in 1908 by the present premier in his budget speech, when he had placed the total debt of the province at $10,233,192.32, as follows:

Public Works Department. Expenditure due Oct. 31, and paid since, 49,202.22; Expenditure due Oct. 31, and paid since, 26,758.55; Crown Land Department. Expenditure due Oct. 31, and paid since, 4,337.41; Receiver General. Expenditure due Oct. 31, and paid since, 11,830.01; Amelia Morton claim, 31st May, 1907, 3,780.08; Bill of I. C. R. for nails and fastenings, supplied New Brunswick Coal & Railway, 47,486.34.

It had been claimed that the cut for the first year under the present government was less than the year previous. Assuming that these statements were true, the time would arrive that the revenue would be less than the year previous. There might be something in the paper of Professor Miller, of the University of New Brunswick, that while the province was blowing its trumpet over the increase in territorial revenue, it might be sounding its own funeral. All these things must convince intelligent citizens that conditions are not as good as they should be.

Mr. Griffiths, the English-Canadian contractor has the contract for the Courtenay Bay as the part of Canada, accompanied by engineers and staff, arrived in the steamer Empress of the night and is registered at the Courtenay Bay which will transform into one of the world, and, indeed, the entire British Empire.

PARLIAMENT WAS PROCEDED TODAY

Liberals Cheery and Tories Gloomy

Borden Disgruntled at Dr. Pugsley's Criticism of H. A. Powell

Says He is Disqualified from International Waterways Commission Because He Has Been Counsel for American Interests—Laurier Adds to Premier's Discomfiture by Some Pleasantries Over His Party's Prospects.

Ottawa, March 31—Parliament is packed and ready to leave the capital. A good deal of it has already gone. Members and senators have been slipping away for the past week and only a faithful remnant remains to receive the benediction of the Duke of Connaught tomorrow afternoon. Both parties are well satisfied to leave. The Conservatives are glad that for the session was no worse. The Liberals declare that for them it could not have been better.

DECLARES HE CANNOT AFFORD TO HAVE A COMMISSIONER RESTING UNDER SUCH GRAVE CHARGES, AS HEAD OF BOARD TO INVESTIGATE OTHER PEOPLE'S CHARACTERS.

Halifax, March 31—The Halifax Herald (Conservative) in the course of a leading article on Mr. Carvell's speech criticizing the chairman of the public service commission, asks that Hon. A. B. Morine promptly send in his resignation. The Herald continues:

"However unfounded, malicious and anti-quastrum Mr. Morine may be able to refute them, the fact that such charges have been made in parliament against the chairman of the public service commission unquestionably places the government in an embarrassing position. It would be very ridiculous for the head of the investigating commission to hold his position and continue his investigations into the character of others while his own character and public reputation is under investigation or even questioned."

DR. ANDREWS' RESIGNATION.

Regina, Sask., March 29—Dr. W. W. Andrews, formerly of Mount Allison University, Sackville (N. B.), teaching staff, and principal of Regina College since its foundation about a year ago, has resigned. His resignation is to take effect at the end of June.

LAURIER RALLIES BORDEN.

"My right hon. friend suggests that the end of the session finds me looking more cheerful and less morose," observed Sir Wilfrid Laurier, smiling. "I was scarcely content that my looks so betrayed me, but I must plead guilty. (Liberal cheers.) I can see no reason, as the days go by, why I should not be daily growing far less morose and more cheerful. (Renewed cheering.) Indeed, I see no reason why my boom should not be swelling with vanity and pride when I reflect that, during the whole course of the session, every time my right hon. friend found himself in a tight place he sought to take refuge behind my humble self and follow in my path. If we were to eliminate from all his speeches his references to taking shelter behind me, the Laurier government in the anxious effort to justify his own course, there would not be much left to his utterances." (Renewed laughter and applause.)

Head of Tory "Scandal"-Hunting Commission's Career in Newfoundland Government Told to House

Member for Carleton Quotes Joseph Chamberlain, Governor of "Ancient" Colony, Sir James Winter, and Bishop Howley as to the Character of the Man Appointed by Borden to Investigate Others—Premier Much Perturbed Over Exposure—Morine Issues a Reply.

Ottawa, March 29—"To use the power of filling positions as a reward for past service and without regard to the character and capacity of the individual selected, is a gross breach of a solemn public trust. The character of a government may be judged by its appointments," said R. L. Borden in enunciating his "Halifax platform" in the House of Commons.

Parliament was given striking and startling opportunity today to judge of the character of another member of the "Hunt for Scandals" commission, which was formed by the Halifax platform hastened to appoint when the Canadian people gave him their confidence last autumn. The commission is officially termed the "Public Inquiries Commission." Its purpose is defined to be the conducting of an investigation into all the departments of the government extending back over the Laurier regime with a view to unearthing anything of a character to injure to the reputation and record of the previous administration.

MORINE DISMISSED FROM OFFICE.

The action of the government-general was promptly announced by Mr. Carvell. "He informed me the next day that he did not believe him and peremptorily dismissed him from office, calling upon him to resign all the offices he held under the crown."

CHAMBERLAIN'S REMARKS.

The governor-general, Sir Herbert Murray, declined to sign the contract on his own responsibility and referred it to the St. John's Telegram under the heading "The Rogues' Parliament," editorially characterized Morine as "a cunning political rogue."

BORDEN'S WEAK REPLY.

"I gave you notice last night," put in Mr. Carvell. "You had that three years ago," replied the Carleton man. "Since you say that," the premier came back testily, "I will tell the house what I meant when I gave you notice. You said you did not care about doing it, but were doing it at the request of your leader."

DEBATE RESUMED

Mr. Bentley Continued His Effective Attack on Government Maladministration—Hon. Mr. Robinson Criticizes Extravagance of Administration—Dr. Wetmore Likely to Hold Job.

Fredericton, March 29—There was a slim house tonight when Deputy Speaker Spruce took the chair. Friday evening sessions are not popular with those who live at a distance and wish to go home for the week-end. Some of the members are absent because of illness. Mr. Wood is confined to his room by illness. Hon. Dr. Landry was called home by illness in his family. Speaker Clarke is not in his usual good health, and other members are suffering from the cold epidemic.

WANTS MORE SAFEGUARDS ABOUT VALLEY ROAD.

Mr. Bentley concluded his admirable speech upon the budget this evening, scoring the government again and again for their broken pledges and their inconsistency. He touched upon the loyalty and contrasted their professions with their practice of guaranteeing bonds for a road to be built by a foreign contractor, and to Mr. Hazen's words that it would probably be linked up with a railroad across Maine. He said the news from Ottawa in regard to the Valley road was disquieting and urged upon the government to guarantee the bonds until the through line to Grand Falls was assured.

NOTICES OF ENQUIRY.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING.

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic Is All You Need

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel during the spring. Early tired, appetite feeble, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Dimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble with purgatives, so do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken the power of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this so safely, and surely. Every dose of this medicine makes new blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. Maude Bag, Lemberg, Sask., says: "I can unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood tonic. I was very much run down when I began using the pills, and a few boxes fully restored my health."

NEW YORK MILLIONAIRE DECLARES DEVELOPMENT ST. JOHN WILL BE GREAT

G. H. Browne Thinks Investments Here Will Prove Very Profitable—This Port to Be One of Atlantic's Greatest—Interested in Sydney Shipbuilding Plant.

Monday, Apr. 1.—Being an enthusiast by nature, it is not surprising perhaps that Grant Hugh Browne, the versatile New Yorker, who floats a million dollar company, picks out a new mount or makes a public speech with equal grace, should be optimistic regarding St. John's future. Moreover, Mr. Browne was in St. John yesterday when he was talking and that makes a difference, but what he says is pretty tough chewing for the knackers and mighty good material for the boosters.

Mr. Browne is interested in organizing a shipbuilding plant at Sydney, and it has been intimated that Norton Griffiths & Co., might be awarded the contract for the work.

When asked the purpose of his mission to the city, Mr. Browne said that he dropped in on the way from Montreal to New York to see his friend Norton Griffiths, and said he had no doubt that as the head of a firm of contractors, that gentleman would be interested in the proposition.

"It is true," Mr. Browne said, "that just now we must take a back seat to

ANOTHER FARMER SPEAKS OUT ON THE HOME MARKET

"Timothy" Gives the Anti-Reciprocity Men Something to Think About

SOME FALLACIES

When the Small Home Market is Glutted—As It Often Is—Then the Farmer is Offered Starvation Prices for His Surplus.

An astonishing despatch from Montreal the other day purported to give an interview with the representative of a Westmorland county firm which buys farm produce, in which the man interviewed said some foolish and mean things about the farmers of New Brunswick.

two economic truths—the home market and that protection protects the farmer of this country. You seek to bestow a contemptuous kick at the farmer. You do not seem to realize that he is down, but it is your opinion that he is only lazy or shunning. We have no hard words for you. This since you have come out so emphatically, we would like to have you explain to us why it is that only limited farming, without large production of any staple, represses the frugal living husbandman, and that increased production along any one defined line proves uniformly disastrous.

The unjust laws which force farmers to buy in the restricted market are a grievous economic burden. But you limit the farmer's market wherein he may sell his produce was as foolish as it was needless and wanton. In reason, Mr. Cameron, that also do you expect, with the very laws of the land for and a little production? Take off this unjust yoke of oppression which you have laid upon the necks and shoulders of our agriculturists, and you will realize that the farmer's field and an unrestricted market for the products of their industry.

Yours truly,
TIMOTHY.

STARVED NERVES

The Cause of Neuralgia—It Must Be Treated Through the Blood
Neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It literally means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. There is therefore no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the worst cases of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich blood, carrying to the starved nerves the elements they need, thus driving away the sharp, torturing pains which truly drives the sufferer to his knees.
