HOW LONDON PEOPLE LIVE.

Seven Millions of Hungry Beings
Dependant Upon Outside Sources
For Food.

COULD EASILY BE STARVED

A Close Siege Would Bring The City to Terms Almost At Once.

LONDON, Friday.—Never in the world's history before has there been a huge community of between six and seven millions of people living crowded together upon a small area and dependant for their food-upon supplies from outside that area.

London, which with its outer rings, including also the enormous number of visitors, has a present total of close on seven millions of inhabitants, produces nothing in the way of food-stuffs itself. If it were possible for London to be besieged as Paris was in 1871, and cut off from free communication with the outside world, starvation would begin to make its pains felt at once.

Everything that London eats has to be brought into the metropolis. Millions of people all over the world are engaged in growing the grain, and raising the cattle, and catching the fish, and looking after the poultry, and tending to the fruit and vegetables which the people consume day by day.

Most Londoners do not even know that to hither for their hot rolls at breakfast was made from corn which last year made golden the rich prairies of Western Canada; that the milk and cream came yesterday from Somerset; that the rolled oats for porridge were imported from the United States; the bacon is Dutch; the butter Norman; the fish were caught in the North Sea; the coffee ripened in an Indian plantation; the oranges for the marmalade grew under the burning sun of Spain.

Sometimes as you drive home late from supper after the play you have seen in Piccadilly or along Kensington Grove, huge carts, towering high with their burdens of baskets, pacing slowly, their drivers probably snoring, towards town. You sleepily recognize these for market gardeners carts, laden with cabbages, potatoes, spinach, strawberries or salad. If you told your driver to turn the horses' heads and to go to Covent Garden, you would find it already busy at 3 a. m. The carts you saw are coming in one after another, and their drivers, still half asleep are getting down to put on the horses' nose bags. But these are only a small proportion of London's daily requirements. Most of the produce now comes by train. The market gardens around London have long ceased to be able to supply a tenth part of the needs of the seven millions.

Of the amount of produce which passes daily through Covent Garden there are unfortunately, no records kept. The market is the property of the Duke of Bedford, and although the London County Council have asked several times for particulars, none can be supplied. But it has been calculated that London eats between two and three thousand tons of potatoes a day, three quarters of a million cabbages, and in the season ten thousand pecks of peas and beans. As to the quantity of milk used in London, no one will risk giving even an estimate. All the railways have thousands of milk cans. Most of them run special milk trains. But there is no central market for milk. It is consigned direct to the retailers; their carts meet the trains at the station and take it straight to the shops. A quarter of a million gallons at least must be poured daily down London's immeasurable throat.

Milk is handled all day long, but bread which must be equally fresh, is a dark-hour trade. Through the night in thousands of bakehouses, some vast and mechanical, others small and worked entirely by hand, London's bread is kneaded and moulded and baked. What would you guess the daily output of loaves to be? Between three and four millions is a bag baker's calculation. That is probably rather below the mark.

The Tercentenary Celebration.

History of Canada's Beginning Being Lived Over Again on the Plains of Abraham.

French and British Troops Fraternizing Where Their Ancestors
Fought to the Death.

QUEBEC, Friday.—Two centuries and a quarter of Canadian history, covering the French regime, were illustrated on the plains of Abraham this week in a drama of unparalleled magnificence. The new world, scanty of history, with eyes turned ever to the future, and, if anything, too forgetful of the past, has been slow to seize the historical pageant idea. Among those who witnessed the scenes enacted at Quebec there can be only opinion; that the country holding in its three centuries of history such a wealth of adventure, such a medley of life and such records of heroism owes it to its people to present those dramas for the uplifting and enlightenment of future generations.

A Wonderful Spectacle.
No city in any country in the world could afford such a drama on such a stage as was witnessed on the Plains this afternoon. The all-encompassing play covered the incidents of a century and a half, from the simplicity of the days of Jacques Cartier, on through the increasing splendor and, alas, the profligacy of succeeding French Governors, until the courtly society of the old Regime gave place to the more prosaic colonizers from across the English Channel. Over four thousand players wore the costumes of this bygone age, and in marches and dances and Indian warfare and pantomime enacted the life of the all but forgotten past.

Unfolded the Drama.
Briefly now let us survey the history of the Old Regime as re-enacted on the Plains of Abraham to-day. At the moment when the curtain may be supposed to rise the stage is occupied by two or three scattered Indian teepees, where live the only remnants of the white man. Mounted heralds, dressed in quaint, richly-colored costumes, ride out and announce the coming pageants. An Indian Chief, dressed in the Indian dress, stands on the brow of the hill. As he gazes down the river he is the most striking link with the past, for he sees the ships of Jacques Cartier approaching in the first move to take possession of the red man's country. He calls his companions, and with wild forest song they troop down the hill to meet the newcomers. Presently he returns, followed by singing sailors, led by the undaunted Cartier, dressed in a dark costume following the pictures of him with which we are all familiar. As Cartier crosses the plain the Indians start about him, touching his odd-looking clothing, and gesticulating excitedly. Cartier's visit is received kindly, and ends with the erection of a great wooden cross (which, of course, was actually performed by St. Charles, in 1534), is addressed to the Indians, and the embarking of the newcomers, the Indian chief, and a few others for France.

Other interesting scenes are portrayed in historic order until the final act is concluded, thus bringing to a close the most complete production of historic events ever presented to spectators.

The Naval Ball.
The first great social event of the Quebec commemoration was the naval ball in the Parliament buildings, given by Vice-Admiral Sir Ashton G. Curzon-Howe and his officers of the British fleet. Eight hundred invitations were issued, and almost that many guests were in attendance.

Sailors from the fleet were busy all day, and the result of their endeavors was the complete transformation of the interior of the buildings. At the main entrance were four twelve-pounder field guns for use by landing parties from one of the warships, with the various flags of Britain, France and the United States being prominent, intertwined amidst a profusion of plants, ferns and flowers. At the stair landings were trophies of swords, bayonets and cutlasses from the ships, fan-shaped like maple leaves and surmounted by warheads, which bear a resemblance to the familiar pictures of head coverings worn by the knights of olden times when they went forth to battle. At one side of these trophies stood a marine in landing rig, and on the other a Jack tar. The galleries of the Council chamber, used as the ball-room, had as part of their decorations gaily-painted lifebuoys, each bearing the name of one of the British ships in the harbor. The table decorations in the supper room included the silver cups, shields and ornaments won by the crew of the various ships for prowess in gunnery, rowing and athletics. These were greatly admired by the guests. The band of the battleship Exmouth provided music for dancing, while an orchestra from the Albemarle played selections in the supper room. The bright lights, the rich colors of the decorations, the scarlet and gold and rifle green and dark blue and green of the army and navy uniforms and the handsome dresses of the beautiful ladies—and Quebec has more of them than usual just now—contained in making an ensemble of which the eye never tired, while outside the building was a blaze of vari-colored electric lights in appropriate mottoes and designs.

A Magnificent Effort.
These are a part of the general scheme of a decoration of public buildings. One's attention was held on approaching the buildings, so that the beauty of its interior was not an absolute surprise, but expressions of delight and admiration for the latter could not be restrained, even by those who have attended brilliant gatherings in older lands than Canada.

QUEBEC, Friday.—The Plains of Abraham were gay today with an army almost twice as numerous as the combined forces of the opposing armies which, in 1759, met there to decide the future destinies of Canada. But this time there were British and French forces met to celebrate in a friendly fashion events both before and since that fateful day as well as to preserve forever to the Canadian nation and the British Crown, the scene of that epochal contest. There was a strong detachment of sailors from the United States, as an additional reminder that not only had an end of the centuries between the British and French become matters of history, but that the nations of the future, who are the nations' guests, were given places of honor at the head of the parade. There were thus nearly 18,000 men on the field with 2,495 horses and 26 guns. Probably the arrival and departure of the troops was witnessed by not less than 75,000 people.

Shortly after ten o'clock the gun-but that the people of the United States were also joined in celebration. Never before in the history of Canada has so vast a force of armed men met in friendly array, nor have so many distinguished warriors, representatives of princely houses and other men of international fame, been gathered together on Canadian soil. Prominent among these was Lord Roberts with whose appearance people never seem to lose interest and who was cheered wherever he was noticed, particularly when he headed the parade of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, of which regiment he is Honorary Colonel.

There were 12,422 officers and men of the Canadian permanent forces and militia on parade, which array was increased by 5,000 marines and blue jackets from British fleet, and strong detachment from the French and Irish. Prince had started for the battlefields and as he drove in state through the narrow streets he was greatly cheered.

On his way to the parade H. R. H. deposited a superb wreath at Monument 'Aux Braves' on the Ste. Foye road, and at the monument which marks the spot where Wolfe fell.

During all this time regiment after regiment had been swinging over the plain and taking position facing Grand Allee until by half past ten there was a solid array of regiments nearly three quarters of a mile in length. The Highlanders were given the place of honor immediately opposite the royal box, while at the extreme right were visiting sailors, and cavalry and artillery and British naval brigades, while flanking them to the extreme and of the heights were infantry regiments. Brigadier General Otter was in command of the troops and the Prince rode around the entire army on a tour of inspection.

On returning the Prince mounted the royal box and cordially greeted Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lord Strathcona.

BROTHERHOOD OF LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

In Session at Ottawa—Over 2500
Delegates From all Over
North America.

OTTAWA, Wednesday.—Several hundred members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Grand International Auxiliary are in the city attending the annual convention, began yesterday morning, with secret sessions in the Russell Theatre and Odd Fellow's Hall. At the session of the brotherhood letters were received from the Grand Chief Engineer, W. S. Stone, of Cleveland, and Assistant Grand Chief E. W. Hurley of Cleveland, expressing regret for unavoidable absence. G. C. E. Stone is at Washington upon official business.

Over three hundred members of the Grand International Auxiliary from throughout Canada and the United States assembled in the Odd Fellow's Hall.

The visitors are from all parts of the Continent of North America. They have come from even such distant places as Mexico, and California. Every province of Canada and nearly every state of the union is generously represented. From Cleveland, the headquarters of the Brotherhood, a whole carload of members came.

From Columbus, O., came the European Ladies Chorus of 25 voices, under the direction and management of Mrs. Mary E. Cassel, Grand Vice-President of the G. L. A., of her home city. The choir, which sang several selections at the public reception in the Russell Theatre, tonight, took second prize at the World's competition in Scotland two years ago. Among other places represented with large delegations are Chicago, Springfield, Ill., Danville, Ill., Allegheny, Pa.; Utica, N. Y.; Jersey City, Grand Rapids, Mich., and practically all of the Canadian cities.

Upwards of 2,500 delegates attended the big reception in the Russell Theatre, the feature in the engineers' convention. The affair took the form of an official welcome of the delegates on the part of the local brethren. There were addresses by many of the leading officers of the brotherhood, and the grand auxiliary. A business session was held in the afternoon. All the business meetings were held in secret.

WIRE WOUNDS

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores had healed and best of all the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

CONTRACTOR KILLED

PARRSBORO, N. S., Wednesday.—Douglas Lamb, of Delight River, who had a Government contract for the removal of a ledge of rock at the mouth of Delight River, was so badly injured by the fall of a derrick yesterday that death resulted a few hours later. He leaves a widow and large family of children.

WOMAN HELD UP ROBBER.

WINDSOR, Ont., Wednesday.—Mrs. Anthony Shallhub, wife of a storekeeper on Sandwich Street, grappled with a man whom she claims to have found looting the store yesterday afternoon, and held him until Patrolman Giles arrived. At the station the man gave his name as C. H. Miller, 22, of Louisville, Ky. The police relieved him of a shirt and a dirk which he admitted having taken from the store.

13,000 Soldiers at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Thursday.—One quarter of Canada's trained troops assembled to day upon the Plains of Abraham. Over 13,000 men were there, and the march past a given point took two hours and a half.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as your back aches or is weak, if the urine is cloudy, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney diseases, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell.

TRAIL OF BLOOD.

Two Ran Through Jamaica Plains
Wounding Many.

BOSTON, Wednesday.—One man dead and a man and a woman probably shot fatally, and eight others suffering from bullet wounds, sums up the record to midnight of the murderous career of two desperadoes, who last night terrorized the Jamaica Plains district, including the pursuit of hundreds of policemen. Starting in on Tuesday night by entering a saloon near the corner of Washington and Boylston street, Jamaica Plains, three men who are supposed to be Italians, killed one man, wounded two others with bullets and, rifling the cash register, got away with $30.

Early this evening after the police had searched for them unsuccessfully all day, two of the robbers again appeared in Jamaica Plains, and firing revolvers ran through the streets in the most thickly settled part of the district, leaving a trail of victims of bullets behind him. Late tonight the pair were supposed to be hidden in Forest Hill Cemetery, which was surrounded by several hundred heavily armed policemen.

As soon as the fugitives entered Franklin Park, a cordon of police, heavily armed with rifles and revolvers, was thrown about the park and thousands of citizens gathered there. According to a small boy who saw the two men reloading their weapons in a sand pit near the park early in the evening, each man carried three revolvers.

That the men were fairly crazed with excitement of their wild run through the streets, was evident when they reached Washington street, coming from Keyes street; a trolley car came along Washington street just at this time and the taller of the two men seeing it waved a revolver in the air with each hand, and shouted: 'Hands up, everybody, you — — —'. The motorman brought the car to a sudden stop and conductor Thomas Moore leaping from the car to the ground was greeted with a fusillade of bullets, one of which entered his leg.

Without stopping the fugitives ran across Washington street and through New Keyes street to Franklin Park. Here they dodged among the trees of the park and were soon lost to sight. Managing to elude the cordon of police who were hurried to the scene in automobiles from all parts of the city and places around the park, the men were next seen on Massachusetts street, which borders Forest Hill Cemetery. Mrs. McMorrow who lives on the street, noticed two walking through the back yard. One of the men seemed to be assisting his companion, who was much shorter in stature and apparently younger. The tall man had a moustache and wore a soft felt hat, while his companion wore a cap.

When Mrs. McMorrow asked them what they were doing there, the tall man replied in broken English, 'Excuse me, I lost my way.' The men then left the yard, going in the direction of the cemetery.

Thousands of people remained near the Franklin Park and the streets leading to the cemetery at a late hour, expecting further developments.

C. P. R. Labor Troubles

MONTREAL, Thursday.—It is not unlikely that the whole trouble between the C. P. R. and the employees of the mechanical department may be renewed. Mr. Bell Hardy, chairman of the federation of C. P. R. shop employees, stated this morning that the men were dissatisfied with the ruling of the board of arbitration which was appointed under the Lemieux act, to adjust the dispute between the men and the company.

Canada's Mines
Produce $66,000,000

OTTAWA, Thursday.—The statistical report covering the whole Dominion shows that the total value of Canada's output of minerals was about $66,102,000 for last year, the greatest output the Canadian mining industry has yet attained, being an increase of over seven millions as compared with 1906. There was an increase of $2,669,000 in silver; $4,825,000 in coal; $750,000 in copper; $556,000 in nickel; $258,000 in pig iron from Canadian ore and $295,000 from petroleum. Decreases of $2,450,000 in the Yukon gold production, and $5,556,000 in lead production occurred.

Real happiness is when you are pretty near certain you are going to miss a train and don't.

GIRL KILLED BY RUNAWAY.

Miss Foley Jumped From Carriage and Struck on Her Head, Never Regaining Consciousness

TORONTO, Wednesday.—Miss Annie Foley, daughter of the late Edward Foley, 80 Bond St. was almost instantly killed in a runaway accident between Dixie and Streetsville early last evening.

Arrangements had been made to hold a celebration in connection with the reopening of the St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church at Dixie and Miss Foley, who was an accomplished soprano vocalist, had been asked to lead the singing at the choral services, which was to have been held at 10 o'clock this morning. On leaving the church, Miss Foley took the reins. The horse, a somewhat spirited one, travelled fairly steady until going down the hill at the Credit river, got beyond control. Mrs. O'Gorman and Miss Foley jumped from the rig shortly after crossing the bridge. The former, although bruised, was not seriously hurt, but Miss Foley struck her head against some obstruction with tremendous force and remained unconscious till she died. Dr. Smith was at once summoned, but could do nothing for her, as her injuries were too serious a nature, and death ensued within a very short time.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER.

More little lives are lost during the hot weather than at any other time of the year, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly, the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. During the hot weather months Baby's Own Tablets must be kept in every home where there are small children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles. Or if the trouble comes unawares the prompt use of this medicine will bring the child through safely. Mrs. J. Renard, New Glasgow, Que., says: "One of my children had a severe attack of diarrhoea which Baby's Own Tablets promptly cured. I know of no medicine so good for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FLEWELLING WAS SHORT $18,653.17.

The Late Surveyor-General Blamed By Auditor For Carelessness.

The report of special auditor Miller shows that the defalcation of the late Deputy Surveyor-General Flewelling was $18,653.17.

In his report Mr. Miller says:

"In conclusion, I think it right to point out that the surveyors general who held office during the time Mr. Flewelling acted as deputy should have been acquainted themselves more fully with the position of the bank account, more especially after power to overdraw had been granted, and furthermore one cannot see the necessity of their having granted these overdrafts on the Bank of B. N. A. when the crown land department was a receiving and not a disbursing department and should only have been making disbursements, for services against which warrants were regularly being issued."

DANGER OF A SQUARE MEAL

New York—While Mrs. Alice Cahill and her 15-year-old son, James, were at dinner in their home, No. 408 Second avenue, a feeble knock sounded on the door. Mrs. Cahill opened the door and saw a famished-looking old man, his shabby clothes sodden with rain, shivering on the threshold.

"What is it?" she asked, kindly.

"I'm hungry," replied the stranger. "I've had nothing to eat for days."

"Come right in and eat all you want," said Mrs. Cahill.

The old man refused to enter the room but sat on the top step of the stair-case and ravenously ate all that Mrs. Cahill brought him. After he had finished his meal James came out in the hall and found the man gasping on the floor. The boy, in alarm, called his mother.

"Pick me up," said the man; "stand me on my feet."

Mrs. Cahill and her son lifted the man and started to take him down the stairs, where they intended to call an ambulance.

At the foot of the stairs the sufferer begged them to let him sit down. He sat there for a moment, trembling, and whispered, "I'm awfully obliged for the meal, but I'm sorry to have disturbed you." Then he leaned over and died.

Dr. Miller, of Bellevue, said the old man's death was caused by eating too much after a long and severe fast.—Girard, Kansas, "Appeal to Reason."

QUEBEC, Thursday.—Mr. Charles M. Hays, third vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, is occupying a residence overlooking Dufferin Terrace. OTTAWA, Thursday.—Mayor Scott of Ottawa, who is attending the tercentenary celebration, has advised the city clerk by wire that Lord Roberts will be in Ottawa on the 4th of August. QUEBEC, Thursday.—In honor of the tercentenary, the Prince of Wales, early this afternoon bestowed a number of decorations at a special investiture held at the Citadel.

Royal honors include: four Knights-hoods and a number of lesser distinctions to those who took part in the arrangements for the tercentenary.

GRAND TRUNK LAKE & RAIL ROUTE

At the Grand Trunk general offices, this morning, confirmation was made of the report that a long-term agreement had been made with the Northern Navigation Company of Ontario Limited, for the formation of a Grand Trunk Railway System line of steamers on the Georgian Bay and Great Lakes in connection with their Ontario and Quebec Lines from and to the East and Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Fort William and Duluth.

The Navigation Company has been running a line of passenger and freight steamers in connection with the Grand Trunk for a number of years out of Collingwood and Owen Sound on the Georgian Bay and from Sarnia to Lake Superior ports. While the steamers will continue to be operated under separate organization, the new arrangement creates a very close affiliation and practically makes them a Grand Trunk line.

The fleet at present consists of eight passenger and freight, and two purely freight steamers. Five boats are operated on the Georgian Bay from Penetang, Collingwood and Owen Sound to Sault Ste. Marie, and during July and August to Mackinac Island, thus giving the railway the only complete means of reaching all the 30,000 islands, the North Channel and other portions of this wonderful region.

The two larger vessels, together with the two freighters comprise the Lake Superior Division running from Sarnia and delivering passengers and freight at Port Arthur to the Canadian Northern and Canadian Pacific railways for Winnipeg, the Northwest and Pacific Coast points, and, of course, later on, connection will be made with the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Through fares are quoted and tickets sold at all the railway offices to all points in this vast territory.

Of the fleet the "Huron" is the flag ship, being a new vessel and one of the largest and finest on the upper lakes. In addition, the Company has at present under construction to be put into service next year, another vessel which is intended to be not only the largest but finest vessel in the Lake Superior trade. She will be of 5,000 tons, with cargo capacity for 3,500 tons of package freight, will have five decks, with accommodations for 425 first class passengers, and a large number of parlor rooms with private baths, drawing-room, ladies' lounge, smoke-room and an immense sun-parlor capable of being converted into a ball-room 38 x 80 feet in size. The interior decorations and ornamentation are designed by the most celebrated marine interior expert in America and she will be a very complete and handsome ship. She will be fitted with engines capable of developing 6,500 horse-power and sanitary heating, ventilating, lighting and refrigerating systems of the most modern and approved designs. A second similar ship is under consideration for construction as soon as the traffic warrants, the intention being that by the time the Grand Trunk Pacific is in operation west of Lake Superior a thoroughly complete and up-to-date line will be ready to furnish a rapid and enjoyable trip up the lakes—a service first-class in every particular.

Gold and Silver Medals, Bibles and Books,

Awaiting Those Who Enter the Union Advocate Bible Study Club

Only One Question to be Answered per Week. See Conditions Below

In order to encourage the study of the Bible, the UNION ADVOCATE has arranged to publish, weekly, a series of questions on the Sunday School Lessons. All who accept the conditions stated below will be members of the Northumberland County Club, and eligible to win the prizes provided.

Persons may join the club at any time during the year, but must, of course answer the 52 questions hereinafter explained, to qualify for the prizes. It is moreover, desirable that the questions be answered as the lessons are studied.

The International Newspaper Bible Study Club is for the purpose of promoting, in an unfettered way among the masses, a wider study of the Bible, the basal truths of Christianity, and the problems which enter into every man's life. It is composed of all those who join a Local Club, and take up the simple course herein outlined, having only ordained clergymen. We have the sympathetic co-operation of the latter, but it is not considered fair to have them compete for the prizes. Sunday school teachers, Bible class scholars, and church-goers generally, may belong to this Newspaper Club, also non-churchgoers, of all shades of opinion. All such who have not joined are warmly invited to do so and to compete for the prizes.

This paper has secured the right to publish the International Sunday School Lesson questions by Rev. Dr. Linscott, which have aroused so much interest elsewhere, and they will appear weekly. One of these questions each week is to be answered in writing, and upon these answers the prizes are to be awarded.

This paper is authorized to form a Local Newspaper Bible Study Club for its readers, and guarantee to all who join and fulfill the conditions, that everything herein promised shall be faithfully carried out.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST.

1. Each contestant, or his or her family, must be a subscriber to this paper, (paid in advance), during the continuance of the contest, in order to qualify for membership.

2. Each contestant in this Local Club must answer each of the written questions, for 32 consecutive weeks, commencing for Sunday, July 5, 1906, and the answers must be in the possession of this paper within two weeks of the close of this period, which allows two weeks grace after the close of the contest.

3. Each question must be answered separately, and the paper written on one side only. No answer must exceed two hundred words in length and may be less. It will be a convenience if students will write their answers on letter paper, about 8 1/2 by 11 inches.

4. Each answer must have the name and address of the writer at the bottom of the answer; so it can be identified, given a number, registered.

5. The answers from this Local Club must be delivered to this office, and they will be collated at the close of the contest, and forwarded to the quarters for independent examination by competent examiners. NEWCASTLE, JULY 29th, 1908.

IN UNION IS STRENGTH.

It is reported that Denmark and Sweden, two nations of the same blood and religion and of similar language who were enemies for many centuries, have agreed upon an offensive and defensive military alliance. This is a good move. Such action many years ago would have prevented both nations being robbed and weakened by their more powerful neighbors. It is doubtful if the present alliance comes soon enough to be of much use. The English speaking nations instead of emphasizing local rights should combine more closely and so fortify themselves against possible attack from any quarter. Only in Union is there strength.

TAKING THE PEOPLE INTO CONFIDENCE.

The Saskatchewan legislature, which has been in existence since 1905, has been dissolved, and new elections will be held on August 14th. The representatives in last house numbered 24; in next house there will be 41. A municipal act, among other important measures, will be brought in next session, and the representatives of all the newly settled districts will have an opportunity of helping to mould the new legislation. Considering the rapid change in population taking place every two or three years in the West, this was the only proper course of procedure for a government which intended to introduce new laws. It is morally, and should be legally, wrong for any government to pass important legislation on which the people have not been previously consulted.

REWARDING THE EMPIRE'S DEFENDERS.

The Canadian Government has been quite generous in its treatment of its soldiers wounded in South Africa and of the relatives of those who gave their lives to prevent the Empire. The latest act of the Government, which provides that all who served in the South African war or even enlisted for the war and failed, through no fault of their own, to be actively engaged, shall have a free grant of 320 acres of public land anywhere in the prairie provinces or, if they so desire, an alternative grant of $160 in cash, will prove still more popular than any former provision. Quite a number of New Brunswickers, Northumberland boys among them, will benefit by this latest mark of public appreciation of valor; and it will not be forgotten that no member at Ottawa worked harder and more persistently to obtain these grants than did our own member, Mr. W. S. Loggie.

CONSERVATIVE HYPOCRISY.

In the interests of truth, says the Toronto Globe, in discussing the Dominion Elections Act as lately amended, it should be put on record that the concessions which the Opposition now declare to be satisfactory were offered early in May last. The time since wasted might far better have been devoted to serious public business.

Another thing needs saying. The methods which the original clause in the bill proposed for the formation of lists are the methods by which the Provincial lists are formed in Manitoba. All the opprobrious epithets that have been applied in the last few months to clause 1 in Mr. Aylesworth's bill was equally applicable, if they were well-founded, to the electoral law of Manitoba. If the contumelious criticism which has been levelled against the Dominion bill was not merely the voice of party rancor, but was indeed the honest views of the Opposition in Parliament, the sooner they bring their guns to bear on Roblin, Rogers & Company and compel them to abandon so unfair a measure the better it will be for their reputation for consistency.

Mr. Aylesworth was able when dealing with clause 17 to bring utter confusion upon his opponents. Clause 17 has drawn from Mr. Borden and other members to the left of Mr. Speaker condemnation almost as outspoken as that which was visited on clause 1. Some of the newspapers of the party, feeling that the position with regard to the electoral lists was a little shaky, began to describe clause 17 as the chief iniquity. The clause provides that a voter's ballot shall not be invalidated by any marks other than his initials put upon it by the deputy returning officer. The provision was denounced as a trick to destroy the secrecy of the ballot. It is easy to imagine the consternation the Minister of Justice carried in Mr. Alcorn's bill, which Mr. Borden and his followers have praised unstintingly and were ready to support without amendment. Mr. Aylesworth further drove this home by showing that an almost identical paragraph exists in the electoral legislation of the Whitney Government. Would it be possible to bring home to a party factiousness more blatant and outrageous?

MR. ROBINSON CROWDED OUT

The Honorable Donald Morrison, Speaker of the N. B. Legislature, has by determined effort managed to secure the Liberal-Conservative nomination for Northumberland County but, if all reports from the Conservative Camp are true—and the reliability of our sources of information we have no reason to doubt—he has not yet secured the hearty co-operation of all those in the County who consider themselves active members of the Conservative party. Many staunch supporters of that party, who carried James Robinson twice to victory as their candidate and missed by only a narrow majority re-electing him in 1904, were pledged by the Divisional meetings that chose them as delegates to the recent convention, as well as bound by the strongest ties of personal friendship and confidence, to nominate and vote for Mr. Robinson as the Conservative standard-bearer for next election. Seeing that Mr. Robinson, in the recent local election did all he could, with notable success, to elect Mr. Morrison to the House of Assembly and seeing also, that Mr. Robinson either wholly or in great part financed the recent reorganization of the Federal Conservatives in Northumberland, these admirers and supporters of Mr. Robinson firmly believed—and many, probably most, still believe—that he should have had the nomination. However, Mr. Morrison and his personal following thought otherwise. When Mr. Robinson saw the turn affairs had taken he instructed the chairman of the Convention to not allow his name to be put into nomination; but the delegates, who had been pledged to Mr. Robinson by the electors whom they represented, very properly disregarded the wishes of their old chief in this respect and forced his name before the meeting. The result, in face of the chairman's declaration that Mr. Robinson did not want the nomination at all, was 30 votes for Mr. Robinson and 44 for Mr. Morrison. Had Mr. Robinson's party canvassed as actively as their opponents, the figures might have been reversed or have showed an overwhelming majority for Mr. Robinson.

The delegates who were defeated at Chatham have not all, as yet, declared their intention to support Mr. Morrison. If Mr. Robinson should yield to influences that are being brought to bear upon him and consent to run as an independent candidate, he would, in all probability, poll a vote that would astonish Mr. Morrison and his friends.

A SMALL FAVOR.

The Post Master General has made another change in the newspaper postage regulations, increasing the radius for free carriage from thirty to sixty miles from the office of publication. This is so small a favor as to be hardly worth talking about, effecting a saving to the average publisher of a country weekly of perhaps less than ten cents per week, while many are paying from two to four dollars per week in postage on papers mailed to the United States. It is up to the P. M. G. to leave such little matters as they are and give his attention to the weightier matter, which is giving more annoyance to the newspaper fraternity than any regulation enforced since Confederation. Such impositions do not add to the popularity of the head of the postal department of the Government of which he is a member. The absurd regulation is an unjust tax on newspaper men, and it is about time the injustice ceased.

LOYALTY OF THE LOCAL PAPER

(Morning Graphic.)

There are but few editors in this Province, says an exchange, who have not made a vigorous and continuous fight against the mail order house. This has been done in the interests of the home merchant, and without money and without price. If the editors of the land had received regular advertising rates for all they have said against these enemies of the country merchant they could now be wearing diamonds. Now the department store man appreciates advertising space and is willing to take all the average country editor has for sale, and at a good price. What other class of business or professional men would refuse business to help their friends, especially as many of said friends never seem in the least to return the compliment or even appreciate it?

POLITICAL NOTES.

(Contributed)

Hon Donald Morrison said in accepting the nomination at the Conservative Convention that he would feel it a great honor to lead the party to victory. No doubt, but what Mr. Robinson failed to do four years ago Mr. Morrison is not at all likely to accomplish.

Mr. Morrison feels sure of success in the coming election. Sir Charles Tupper felt sure of his election in Cape Breton and of the overwhelming defeat of the Liberal party. Sir Charles was defeated and the Tory party went to smash. The ruins are still in view.

When the contest is on Mr. Morrison will, no doubt, dilate most eloquently—and lengthily—on the graft and scandalous deal of the Tory press. It will be as well for the electors who choose to listen to Mr. Morrison's speeches on these topics to ask him to kindly condescend to furnish the proofs for his statements. Simple assertion won't, or should not, go down.

Some people persist in saying that the Tariff has not been reduced since the Liberals came into power. The easiest way to settle the matter would be to compare the tariff charges before and since the Liberals came into power.

It will be noticed that two of the officials of the local government were delegates to the Conservative Convention. Now, the Hazen axe falls! But no, these men are Conservatives. The Hazen axe falls only on Liberals. The Hazen government has introduced into provincial politics the worst features of Yankee political slumdom.

To the super-loyalists of the Conservative party the action of His Majesty's opposition at Ottawa will be a little puzzling. We have been so accustomed to hear and read of the loyalty of the members of the Conservative party to the Empire and of the disloyalty of the Liberals that the opposition to the All-Red route resolution offered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier will tax the ingenuity of the members of the old party to reconcile their professions with their actions. They made a vain attempt to oppose and favour the scheme at the same time, and ended by placing themselves on record as opposed to the scheme, and not only opposed to the scheme but as opposed to negotiations on the matter. There is no doubt had Sir Charles Tupper been the leader of the Opposition instead of Bonar, Foster, Fowler, etc., etc., the Government would have had his support. But the Tory party—the once great party—is now but a conglomeration of warring factions, with no loyalty to the national leader. Ever since the death of the great Chieftain, Sir John Macdonald, it has been on the down fall, going from bad to worse, till now it has no leader who can inspire confidence, without a definite policy around which the rank and file can rally, as in the days gone by, and to present appearances, not soon to return. But the same party whose prating about their loyalty to the mother-land has, at times, been tauntingly opposed to the preferential treatment allowed the mother-land in the Canadian market. The Tories talked preference for years, but it was left to the Liberal party to grant the preference.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the order last night elected Miss Anna Malla, Scranton, Pa., president. Late last night the A. O. H. convention adopted a platform of principles which will govern the members for the next two years. It declared that while the order sympathized with all efforts of the various movements to alleviate the wrongs of the people, it reiterates its devotion to the belief that the only panacea for Ireland's ills is complete separation from England and the absolute independence of Ireland.

OTTAWA, July 23.—That the Civil Service Cooperative Coal Company is the thin end of the wedge towards the inauguration of an association for the complete cooperative purchase of supplies, is the statement of A. E. Caron, secretary of the Coal Company.

This fall, he said, if enough of the civil servants were willing, a co-operative grocery store to enable members of the inside service to get their provisions at cost price or as near it as possible, would be opened in the city. Already the committee in charge of the coal company are making plans for the opening of the store.

Roberts Will Address Club.

OTTAWA, Saturday.—Lord Roberts has accepted the invitation of the Ottawa Canadian Club to address the members at luncheon on the occasion of his visit to the capital in August. It is hoped to secure from the government permission to use the Senate chamber for the function, so as to give the many hundreds of Ottawa citizens who will be debarred from the luncheon, an opportunity to see and hear the first soldier of the Empire from the galleries.

Declare For Independence

A. O. H. Convention Demands Separation of Ireland From Great Britain.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 25.—Action looking toward the unification of the Hibernians of Ireland and England has been taken at the Ancient Order of Hibernians convention. The foreign relations committee reported in favor of sending two of the most prominent Irishmen in America to try to reconcile the various factions in Ireland. The report suggested that Bishop McFaul, of Trenton, N. J., and the incoming president of the national organization be sent on this mission of peace.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the order last night elected Miss Anna Malla, Scranton, Pa., president.

Late last night the A. O. H. convention adopted a platform of principles which will govern the members for the next two years. THE MOOSE-PATH
HORSE RACES.*A Great Day in St. John For Lovers of Fast Horses.

ST. JOHN, Sunday.—Saturday's programme at Moosepath provided one of the best days sports enjoyed in years by admirers of horse racing in St. John. Not only were the events closely contested but the officials kept things moving and there was not a dull moment during the entire afternoon. Heat succeeded heat, without delay, and then there was an almost entire absence of tiresome scoring. Yet in spite of this the last event was not finished until seven thirty o'clock. Six heats were necessary in 2.14 class, and five in 2.27 class, while free-for-all managed to settle itself in four. In only one heat of the entire day was there an early certainty of the result, this being the fifth of 2.27 event when Dossie Patchen secured a long lead of the home stretch. Several were intensely excited and not a few remonstrated in doubt until the last twenty yards. Estill Boy went bad in the second and fourth heats of the same race. Tommy Hay's favorite Quincey A. ridged all hopes by winning the first two heats of the 2.27 class, but was unable to take better than third place hereafter. There was satisfaction however in seeing Dossie Patchen, the magnificent bay mare from the Spring Hill Stables, carry off first money. In 2.27 class third heat was done in 2.21 1-4. The fastest quarter was the first of the fifth it being covered in 34 3-4. In 2.14 class the fastest heat was fifth time, being 2.21 3-4 and fastest quarter was the last of first heat, it being done in 33 3-4. The fastest of free-for-all was third time, being 2.13 and fastest quarter last second it being in 33 3-4.

Deceased was well known and highly respected and many mourn her departure. She leaves the following children: Howard, of J. D. Creaghan, Newcastle; Mrs. Lawrence Doyle, Douglastown; and Mrs. John Flanagan of New York.

A SUCCESSFUL PLAY

The success of a play is usually gauged upon its reception by the audiences of the big cities. "Miss Petticoats" is coming to the Opera House on August 6th for one night only, and so all appearances it is a play of sterling worth and lasting success. The Boston Transcript comments on its initial performance at the Boston Theatre as follows:—"Miss Petticoats," a play in five acts and six scenes, dramatized by George T. Richardson from the book of the same name by Mr. Richardson in collaboration with Wilder Dwight Quint, under the pseudonym of Dwight Quint, was presented in Boston for the first time, at the Boston Theatre last evening. A play constructed from a book written by a well-known newspaper man, and appearing during the first week of its dramatic life in a Boston Theatre, proved a combination that drew a large and distinctly friendly audience last night, and the applause was hearty and frequent. At times it was even enthusiastic, and at the end of the fourth act the actors were given a triple curtain call."

Six former Episcopal clergymen at Philadelphia, the Revs. William I. McGarvey, Maurice T. Cowl, William L. Hayward, Charles I. Rowles, Otto C. Gronall and Edgar J. Cowan, who joined the Catholic church about two months ago, have been accepted as candidates for the priesthood. They will enter the theological seminary of St. Charles Borromeo at Overbrook in September. Since their baptism by Archbishop Ryan the converts have been living at a quiet summer resort, deliberating on their future. It was supposed that several of the number would become Paulist Fathers. Their unanimous decision, however, to enter the secular priesthood was made known to the archbishop a few days ago.

CELEBRATION.

Vice-President Fairbanks, Admiral Jauregullberry and other guests. The ceremony of dedication of the battlefields then took place and so brief was it that the whole thing was almost over before many of the audience realized that it was taking place. The Prince called Lord Gray to the front and made an address, presenting him with the $450,000 which had been subscribed. Lord Gray replied and a moment later Blue Jackets from the French warships swung past and were greeted with loud cheers as they saluted the Prince and British flag. The cheers were repeated a moment later as sailors from American battleships followed.

QUEBEC, Friday.—Treading the very earth upon which, three centuries ago, their forefathers had fought and died fifteen thousand sailors paraded in review order before a brilliant assemblage the centre of which was the group around the Prince of Wales, Sir Frederick Borden and all the members of the militia council were in attendance on the review stand.

The royal salute had been fired when the Prince left the citadel for the review and when at the conclusion, massed bands played "God Save the King" and the twenty thousand men assembled in review order gave the royal salute, the scene was one which for impressiveness has never been surpassed. But the proceedings were not then concluded. With a few well chosen words of congratulation, His Royal Highness handed to the Governor General as trustee of the Dominion, during his tenure of office, title deeds to the battlefields of the Plains of Abraham and St. Foye. His Excellency received them and with his words of thanks the ceremony at the reviewing stand came to a conclusion. It had been arranged that the Prince should not return to the citadel without first having visited Monument "Aux Braves," erected to the memory of the French soldiers who died on the battlefields and the royal carriage drove there on the termination of the presentation ceremony. His Royal Highness saluting at the monument on arrival there. Earl Roberts accompanied the Prince.

QUEBEC, Saturday.—Immediately at the close of the royal pageant this afternoon a charming incident occurred, when Wolfe and Montcalm's armies marched together across the Plains of Abraham to Wolfe's monument at the base of which Wolfe's prototype laid a wreath of immortelles with the following inscription: "To the honor of Montcalm," and in turn Montcalm's representative deposited another wreath with the inscription: "To the honor of Wolfe." The two wreaths lying side by side on the historic fields of battle where the two heroes met their death wounds, should be a very touching incident, and it shows that nothing has been left undone by the executive, even to the minutest detail to pay proper respect to the heroes of those days. QUEBEC, Saturday.—Lord Roberts' plans have been changed. He will reach Toronto on Monday evening at 6.50 and leave on Thursday the 6th at 9 o'clock for Hamilton. In every respect the programme will hold good. This change was officially announced this afternoon.

The New Brunswick
Telephone Company*Large Amount of Territory Covered—Its Financial Condition as Shown by Annual Report

To the majority of New Brunswickers the name "New Brunswick Telephone Company" does not convey any very special meaning, they do not realize to what an extent the internal development of the Province depends on this active and up-to-date Company which is owned and operated entirely by New Brunswick people and with New Brunswick capital.

A comparison of the rentals and tolls charged by our home Company with those of other Canadian telephone companies shows that the N. B. Company's rates are considerably lower and yet this fact notwithstanding, the net earnings are ample to pay the 6% dividend on the stock and to provide for the necessary extensions and renewals, making the stock a closely held and much esteemed investment.

The increasing influence of The New Brunswick Telephone Co., Ltd., is well demonstrated by the annual reports.

Reference to a map of New Brunswick giving telephone connections will show among other things that the company with a complete chain of exchanges, 37 in number, and 1,530 miles of pole trunk lines, this being quite separate from the lines incident to the different exchanges, serves 115 of the 127 parishes into which the province is divided.

Probably in no other section of North America has one company so completely covered the territory as has the New Brunswick Telephone Co. Its exchanges are installed in every important point and its lines commencing at Miramichi running along the Bay of Chaleur through all the "North Shore" towns to Moncton thence to St. John, from St. John to the Maine border up the St. John river to Edmundston, including in its scope all the intervening towns and villages, completely encircles the province. The increase for the past year was one thousand and seventy-eight new telephones installed, while almost $113,000 was spent on new construction alone.

The company is in a strong position and the business activity and rapidly extending as the following abstracts from the annual report will show, viz:

(1) Net earnings for year ended 30th Apr., 1906	$84,414.03
Deduct interest on loans	23,840.12
Dividend 6 per cent. paid 8th June, 1906	50,381.40
Surplus over and above dividend requirements	20,192.51

This surplus has been applied to improvements and extensions. The following amounts were written off for depreciation this year, viz: Depreciation account, $12,003.52. Written off supplies acct., 15,000.00. Appropriated and written off reconstruction, 22,650.01.

In other words, the above total derived from earnings of last year has gone back in various ways into the plant and property.

(2) Instruments in use 30th April, 1906	7,530
Number of patrons	6,400
(3) Net increase in number of instruments	1,078
(4) Number of parishes in N. B.	127
Parishes served by the Company	115
(5) Number of exchanges operated	37
(6) Gross earnings for year ended 30th April, 1906	$226,225.51

DEATH OF PROMINENT LADY.

AMHERST, Sunday.—Mrs. George Doull died here today. She was the third daughter of the late Joshua Black, of Amherst N. S. and a sister of the late Hon. Hiram Black, M. L. C. Other members of the family were Mrs. Alfred C. Chapman Moncton, and Mrs. John Church, Amherst.

LONDON, Friday.—The great classic event of the Olympic games goes to the United States. Longboat generally regarded as the winner, collapsed at the eighteenth mile. Simpson, Canada, took seventh, and Lawson, Canada, the eighth.

Dorando, Italy, entered the stadium first, but in such a pitiable condition that he collapsed from exhaustion. Courageously he arose again, struggled onward a few yards further and fell again. He attempted for the third time to cross the finish line, but had to be carried across by attendants. For some time his recovery was doubtful, but the physicians later announced him out of danger.

Hayes, United States, was first to cross the line, with out assistance, and the United States immediately entered a protest against Dorando. The protest was sustained and the race awarded to Hayes. Time, two hours, fifty four minutes, forty-six seconds, being several minutes slower than Sherring's time at Athens. Hefferson, South Africa, followed Hayes; and Poreshaw, United States, was fourth to arrive.

J. D. CREAGHAN COMPANY, LIMITED.*Inquest on Sergeant Urquhart*Sergeant Murray Says That Deceased Had Been Drinking on Night of Accident

At the inquest into the death of Sgt. Tilley P. Urquhart, Sgt. Murray testified as follows: "I was officer of the guard on duty on the night of the accident. I was on duty on the forward end of the car. I was not acquainted with Sgt. Urquhart, and only knew him by sight. The car was quiet and orderly at the time the accident occurred."

"Sgt. Urquhart came into our car between 1 and 2 o'clock and went out again, as I told him our boys wanted to sleep. He said he would go out and get an officer to allow him to go through. He went back to his own car, but returned in about ten minutes without an officer."

"When he first came in I was lying down and, jumping up, I told him he could not go through and would have to go back. The second time he came in I met him about the centre of the car. He kept pushing me back towards the front of the car. There was a man on guard at the front door and it was his duty to keep the door closed. In pushing and shoving me I must have gone through the car door as the next thing I remember I felt myself falling from the car and made a grab at the railing, but partially missed it and fell."

"I could not tell who went off first. I did not know Urquhart was off until he came into the car he had found him lying there covered with blood. I spoke to him but got no answer. I think Urquhart fell after I did, as he was further along the track than where I fell. I went to a nearby house for help but was ordered away. When I returned the train had backed up and Urquhart had been picked up. We were placed on the train, our wounds dressed and sent back to Moncton."

To a Juror, Sgt. Murray said Sgt. Urquhart had been drinking. "When he came into the car he had a bottle and was offering a drink to some of the men. Officers and non-commissioned officers could pass from one car to another, but at that hour all was supposed to be quiet and in stopping Urquhart from going through the car he was keeping order, as was his duty."

The accident happened about the centre of the train. He didn't know whether or not any of the soldiers were on the car platform at the time. There was no vestibule to prevent them falling off.

It was decided to further adjourn the inquest to get the evidence of others who were present at the time of the mishap.

Sgt. Murray returned to his home in St. John.

QUEBEC, Friday.—Summary justice and a stiff punishment was meted out today by Judge Chauveau to the two pickpockets caught yesterday. The men were Abraham Glick and Jacob Cohen and it was proven that they had stolen $98 from a visitor and thrown the money away when pursued. Five years in the penitentiary was the sentence each received. Detectives Walsh and force yesterday landed four more suspicious characters three of them Clarke, Kelly and Bailey, had begun to work the crowd on the street car, leaving the Plains of Abraham when they were spotted, the other man, a Boston shop-lifter, named Honey, was taken on the street. The detectives have received no complaints of losses.

WORKMEN TAPPED RIVER*And Twenty-Five Were Drowned Before They Could Escape From Tunnel.

BERNE, Friday.—A frightful accident occurred in Loetschberg tunnel in Berne Alps which resulted in the death of twenty five workmen. The men were grilling inside the tunnel and pierced the wall separating them from the subterranean river, the existence of which was unknown. The wall gave way and a torrent of water and mud rushed into the tunnel. All the workmen, who were Italians, were drowned. It is believed the men tapped the Kander river, which flows through the mountains above the tunnel. Water now chokes the tunnel within 1,000 yards of entrance.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

 Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the 160 acres more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

- (1). At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.
- (2). A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.
- (3). If the father (or mother if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).
- (4). The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.
- (5). A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

ARRIVAL OF PRINCE IN QUEBEC

Nothing Occurred to Mar The Brilliant Spectacle all Day.

QUEBEC, July 22.—Not a single incident occurred to mar the series of the brilliant spectacles which lasted from early morning until sun set today.

The great event of the day was the formal welcome of the Prince of Wales by Mayor Garneau, which was a gorgeous ceremonial.

The reception took place at the foot of the magnificent statue of Champlain on Dufferin Terrace, which formed the natural scene for such a function that could not be surpassed.

Prominent amongst the official party were: Mayor Garneau in gown and cocked hat; Lord Roberts, their Excellencies Earl and Lady Grey; Admiral Jargursky, Grenada representative; and Vice-President Fairbank, representing the United States.

The streets from the Citadel to the Court were lined with troops, while behind the platform was the guard of honor from the 49th Highlanders, whose band also played the Royal Salute.

Guarding the approaches from the streets were serried ranks of cavalry, so there was no suggestion of crowding within the charmed circles.

Long before the time set for the Prince's arrival the stands filled up. More distinguished arrivals were recognized. Early in the afternoon Earl Roberts came in, accompanied by Col. Denison and Sir Arthur B. Grey. Lord Roberts was greeted with cheering from all sides.

A little later came the officers of the British fleet and those from the French and American warships.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. B. Borden were cheered by thousands as they arrived. The Prince took an elevated chair in the centre, accompanied by Countess Grey, while on either side were Governor-General, Vice-President Fairbank and Admiral Jargursky, Lord Roberts and other military officials taking positions in the rear.

Earl Grey presented Mayor Garneau to the Prince, and His Worship then read the formal civic address of welcome.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 18 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is truly strong, as you won't get tired. That tired, listless, spiritless feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. It doesn't require the presence of a green flag to indicate that her sons are on the spot? Sheridan can also be added.

IRISHMEN ARE ON THE SPOT.

The Toronto Globe says: Ireland has been denied separate representation at the Olympic games, but with Flannigan, McGrath and Walsh first, second and third in the hammer-throwing, it doesn't require the presence of a green flag to indicate that her sons are on the spot? Sheridan can also be added.

THIS COLLECTOR HAD A CONSCIENCE

LONDON, Wednesday.—A souvenir collector with a conscience has been found but not identified. When the Queen recently made a private visit to the Franco-British Exposition she paid sixpence at the turnstile, in an old London coin, which was carefully placed under a framed glass on the outside of the show. On Monday the glass was broken and the coin stolen.

A reward of £25 was offered for information which would lead to the conviction of the thief. Yesterday the sixpence was returned from the Hotel Cecil with a note apologizing for having given any trouble. The sender said he had no idea that the coin was so valuable. He signs himself, 'A Specialty Hunter,' and asks to be excused for enclosing his card.

Not Particular as to Weapons.

The waiter girl knew a thing or two about table etiquette, so she sniffed scornfully as she said, 'It's not our custom to serve a knife with pie.'

'No?' remarked the patron in surprise. 'Then bring me an ax.'

THE HUMAN TONGUE

It is Very Inquisitive. With a Will of its Own.

The curiosity of the tongue does not cause the human being so much trouble as the curiosity of the eye, but the tongue, within its limits, is the most curious of all.

Let the dentist make a change in the mouth, let him remove a tooth or replace with his admirable artifice one that has long been absent, let him change the form of a tooth by rounding off a corner or building up a cavity, and see what the tongue will do. It will search out that place, taking careful and minute account of the change. Then it will linger near the place. If it is called to other duties, it comes back as soon as they are discharged and feels the changed place all over again, as if it had not explored and rummaged there already.

It makes no difference that these repeated investigations presently cause annoyance to its supposed master the man. The tongue in nothing more than in this matter proves that it is an unruly member and will not be controlled.

It seems to have an original will and consciousness of its own, and nothing will serve it except the fullest satisfaction of its curiosity. It will wear itself out, perhaps, but it will find out all about the strange change.

CANES IN SPAIN.

Some of the Natives Have a Small Arsenal of Them.

Every Spaniard has a stick, the well to do own several, and the 'old world youth' often has a small arsenal of them. The term arsenal in this case is used positively and not figuratively, as the Porto Ricans, like the Spaniards, have quite a craze for sword canes, and they make these with remarkable skill.

The blades of the finer specimens come from famous smiths in Toledo and other Spanish cities and are forged from the finest steel. Some are damascened and others are inlaid with silver and gold, some have worked upon them the name of the owner and others the name of a patron saint. The assortment of walking sticks in the shops in the larger towns is very varied.

They have fashions in sticks and canes suited to different ages and professions. There are sedate mahogany, ebony and rosewood sticks for clerical men and physicians and fanciful bamboo with gleaming steel inside for men about town. There are rough oak sticks for the Spanish Anglomaniacs and saucy little staves for those who ape the styles of the boulevard. For travelers there are coffee sticks, thorns, tea sticks, leopard wood canes and orange sticks.—London Chronicle.

Funerals in Peru.

According to social usage, women in Peru cannot attend funerals, and they do not appear at weddings unless they are very intimate friends. When a funeral procession passes through the streets the coffin is carried upon the shoulders of the pallbearers, who are followed by an empty hearse drawn by two, four or six horses, according to the means of the mourners and their desire for display. All the male members of the family and friends of the deceased follow on foot, with a line of empty carriages behind them. As long as they are in the presence of the dead it is considered a proper and necessary evidence of respect to walk. After the body has been committed to the grave those who attend the funeral are brought home in carriages.

He Followed the Water.

'Could you do something for a poor old sailor?' asked a wanderer at the rear door of a suburban house one morning recently.

'Poor old sailor?' echoed the housewife, who had opened the door.

'Yes'm. I followed the water for twenty years.'

'Well,' said the lady as she slammed the door in the face of her unwelcome visitor, 'all I've got to say is you certainly don't look as though you had ever caught it.'—London Answers.

'Alexandria, Egypt.'

All correspondents with Egypt in all parts of the world should be warned that it is necessary to put the word 'Egypt' on all communications addressed to Alexandria, as a great deal of trouble and annoyance has been caused owing to communications addressed to the Egyptian city being delivered to Scotland, Canada, New South Wales, Cape Colony, Italy, the United States of America and other countries where towns of the same name exist.—Egyptian Gazette, Alexandria.

The Berliner.

On the theory that might goes before right the Berliner fights his way past old ladies and tired women into crowded tram cars and ruthlessly jostles from his path the passerby in the streets with an obstinate insolence that goads the visitor accustomed to the higher civilization of other capitals to impatient fury.—Berlin Cor. London Outlook.

JUDGE TASCHEREAU MAY RESIGN

If so, His Successor Will Probably be Premier Gouin of Quebec.

A special Quebec despatch to the 'Patrie' mentions a rumor of the probable resignation of Chief Justice Sir Henri Taschereau, in October next, when the learned judge will have attained his seventieth year, and completed twenty years of active service on the Bench. The rumor adds that the Hon. Mr. Gouin will succeed him and that the Hon. Mr. Archambault will become Premier of the province.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of Samuel Habberly, grandfather of the bride, in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride and groom were unattended. Lunch was eaten at the residence of Collector Watt, father of the bride, and the happy pair went to Newcastle in the groom's steam yacht, Wenonah, and took the Ocean Limited for a short bridal tour to Quebec and Ontario.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Dear Chum:

I am enjoying my visit with grandpa and grandma hugely. Yesterday grandpa took me down to the docks to see the ocean liners. Gee! they're whoppers! I bought me my third box of Moir's Chocolates. They are the sweetest candies ever. The chocolate outside are awfully smooth and rich, and in the inside are cream, jellies and nuts. Those called Moir's Chocolate Chips taste like honey dipped in chocolate. Another kind called Moir's Nougatines are so good that I teased grandma into promising me another box tomorrow. * * * not a bit homesick.

Bubbles didn't care whether it was appropriate or not; she wanted it, and she was saving up her money to get it. Every morning when she went to the store she found the girls talking of their summer hats.

"What kind are you going to have?" they would ask her, and Bubbles would laugh—the gay bubbling laugh that had given her her nickname—and would say, "Wait and see, girls; wait and see."

"Oh, piffle!" one of them said on a certain June morning. "I don't believe you're going to get a hat."

"Wait and see; wait and see," said Bubbles provokingly.

And then after the store was closed she went around the corner and looked at the hat with the white feather.

The price was in plain sight—$30. Bubbles earned $4 a week. Out of that she paid her aunt $2.50 for board. Fifty cents went for car fare, and the rest she had for herself. Since last summer she had managed to save $9.50, and the other fifty would add the complete amount necessary to buy the hat with the white feather.

She decided to tell Alice Forbes about it.

Alice was at the ribbon counter, while Bubbles sold notions. Their acquaintance rose from the fact that they walked home in the same direction.

"I'll have to wear it with all my old blue suit," Bubbles said as she went along. "But I don't care. I've made myself a white net waist, and it's awfully becoming."

"Ten dollars is a lot for a hat," Alice said quietly.

But Bubbles laughed, with her head swung up and her bright eyes shining. "Oh, what's the use of living," she said, "if a girl can't have something pretty now and then?"

Alice nodded. Her blue eyes were wistful. "That's what I think," she said. "Now, there's a remnant of ribbon at my counter. It's white, with bunches of pink roses on it. It would make a lovely girdle, and I could buy a white dress for 15 cents a yard and a little wreath of pink roses in the millinery department, and then I could be bridesmaid for Millie Drake."

"Does she want you to be?" Bubbles asked, with interest.

"Yes," Alice said. "Jimmie Bryan is to be best man."

"Oh!" Bubbles was silent for a moment. Then she asked, "Don't you think you can afford the dress?"

"No," Alice said quietly. "I can't. And I told Millie last night to ask you, Bubbles. I knew you wouldn't mind being asked, because I'm her oldest friend. I laid the piece of flowered ribbon away this morning, so that if you wanted it you could have it. You could make a white net skirt to your new waist. It would be awfully pretty with the pink roses."

But Bubbles was looking at her curiously.

"Don't you mind," she asked—"I mean not being bridesmaid?"

"Yes, I do," Alice said, and Bubbles saw that her eyes were full of tears. "But I have to give all of my money to mother now that father is sick and can't work."

"Well, it's a hard old world," Bubbles remarked as they reached the corner where they separated. "If I decide to take the ribbon, Alice, I'll let you know in the morning."

At the next corner Bubbles met Jimmie Bryan.

"Jimmie," she said, with her gray eyes challenging him—"Jimmie, are you going to be best man at Millie's wedding?"

"Sure," answered Jimmie—"cutaway, white flower in my coat and all the rest of the agony."

"And me to walk up the aisle with you?" said Bubbles.

Jimmie looked at her in surprise.

"I thought Alice was going—was going to do it," he said.

"Alice can't get the clothes," Bubbles informed him, "and if I wasn't a selfish pig I'd get them for her, but I want a white feather in my summer hat."

Jimmie hesitated. "Look here, Bubbles," he said a little awkwardly, "isn't there some way you could make Alice think you were getting her dress and let me pay for it? I'd like to do it."

Bubbles caught her breath quickly.

"Why, Jimmie?" she said.

Jimmie flushed. "She has an awful hard time," he said.

"Yes, she does," Bubbles agreed abstractedly. She was a little white, but she still smiled at Jimmie.

"So you don't want me to be bridesmaid with you?" she teased, still with a funny catch in her breath.

"Aw, Bubbles," he stammered, "you know think you're about the nicest thing ever—"

"But you'd rather have Alice walk up the aisle with you," was her quiet reminder.

"I wouldn't," he declared stoutly, "but I'm sorry for Alice."

"Of course," Bubbles agreed, and then she went on to plan. "I could get her the things and tell her the money had come to me unexpectedly."

"I am afraid that wouldn't do," was Jimmie's worried response. "She'd feel as if she had to pay it back. You got the things and send them to her and don't have any mark on the box, and she'll never know where they came from."

"Well, I can't get the things we talked about," Bubbles said, "for she could know right away. Do you care how much you spend, Jimmie?"

"No," he told her with the recklessness of the skilled laborer who earns his $3 a day; "no, I don't."

"Then I'll get a robe dress of pink nulu with a wreath of silver roses. She'll look like a dream, Jimmie."

"I hope she will," Jimmie said, and Bubbles sighed.

"Goodby, Jimmie," she said as she came to the tenement where she lived in the third floor.

He looked at her anxiously. "You're not cut up about not being bridesmaid, are you?" he asked.

She shook her head. "No," she answered bravely.

"Well, you're pretty nice, Bubbles," he said heartily, and then he went on his way.

When Bubbles reached home she took out her hoarded store of money. With what she would add on her next day she would have $10, and she could buy the hat with the white feather.

She fingered the money for a moment, and then she dropped her head in her arm with a sob, for Bubbles had wanted that hat to wear to church on Sunday morning when she sang in the choir with Jimmie Bryan. It had been for Jimmie's admiration that she had craved the pretty hat. And, after all, it was Alice that Jimmie cared for.

Two days later Alice came to her roomer breathlessly.

"Oh, Bubbles," she said, "such a wonderful thing has happened!"

"What?" asked Bubbles innocently.

And then Alice told her of the wonderful gown and the dainty accessories that had come the night before in a big box.

"I can't imagine who sent them."

"It must have been a fairy godmother," said Bubbles demurely.

"And now I can be Millie's bridesmaid," caroled Alice when she had exhausted all her conjectures as to the giver. "You won't mind, will you, Bubbles?"

"No," said Bubbles steadily.

And as she said needless and pious words and eyes and whistles and a hundred and one other things that day she told herself that she did not care. Why should she want to walk beside Jimmie Bryan when he preferred to have Alice?

She passed the window with the hat with the white feather that night without a glance, and on Sunday she wore a plain little black sailor with a cheap red rose, and she looked prettier than ever in it.

"Alice thinks you're a fairy godmother," she told Jimmie after service.

"Say, did she like it?" he demanded.

"Of course she did," said Bubbles.

"Who wouldn't?"

But Jimmie did not answer immediately. He stood looking down at her.

"Say, little girl," he said presently, "you look mighty nice in that hat."

"I cost just $1.98," Bubbles informed him glibly, "marked down from $2."

"I don't care what it cost," Jimmie stated. "You look mighty nice."

Bubbles couldn't resist saying, "But not half as nice as Alice will in that pink robe."

"Bubbles, I believe you're jealous," flashed Jimmie unexpectedly.

Bubbles cheeks flamed. "Why, Jimmie Bryan?" she faltered.

"Look here," Jimmie demanded, "did you think I was in love with Alice?"

Under his keen scrutiny Bubbles was forced to admit, "I couldn't very well help it, could I?"

"I was afraid you would," Jimmie said, "that day when I planned to get her the things, but I had promised. Oh, look here, Bubbles, you come out to the park with me, and I'll tell you about it."

And all the way to the park Bubbles' heart sang, and she seemed to walk on air, and she was glad that she hadn't bought the hat with the white feather. She was glad she hadn't been extravagant, for Jimmie seemed to like her just as well in the black sailor with the red rose.

In the park the beds were full of jonquils and tulips and hyacinths, and under the flowering almond tree Jimmie and Bubbles sat down to talk.

"You see," Jimmie explained, "there's Bob Travers, and he's in the navy, and he's away on a three years' cruise, and he made me promise that I'd look after Alice—they've been in love with each other since they were kids—and when Alice's father got sick I tried to help, but they wouldn't let me, and it seemed as if getting her the dress would be what Bob would want me to do, and now he's going to get home in time for the wedding, and I told Millie she'd have to have him for best man."

"Oh!" cried Bubbles, aglow with happiness.

"And then I told her how much I thought of you, and she wants us to be in the wedding party, and—Oh, well, look here, Bubbles, and in the shadow of the flowering almond he held out his arm."

And Bubbles, having wept a little weep of joy on his broad shoulder, sat up and wiped her eyes. "Ain't I glad I didn't spend all my money for that feather, Jimmie?" she said. "I'll get the white net skirt and wear the rose-but ribbon!"

"And a diamond ring," interrupted Jimmie.

"A diamond ring! What for?" demanded Bubbles.

"Because we're engaged," said Jimmie rapturously.

Economy Begins at Home.

"I hear you're teaching your son to play draw poker. Do you think that wise?"

"Certainly. He's bound to learn from some one. If he learns from me it keeps the money in the family."—New York Life.

GIRL AND $140 BOTH GONE.

Florence McGrath, sixteen year old girl, disappeared Wednesday night from Oscar Druet's house Chatham, taking with her $140 in cash and a large bundle of clothing. She was not missed until morning, when Mr. Druet went to call her. Getting no response he went into her room and found a note on her bed telling that she had gone away and not to look for her. The police were informed, river boats were searched and a sharp lookout is being kept for her. She has been with the Druets seven years being adopted by them when she was nine years old. She has relatives in Chatham, but her parents are dead. Mr. Druet believes that influence was brought upon the girl by outside parties, and the police have knowledge of an accomplice to her midnight escape. ### CANADA'S TURN

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's recent Toronto speech, which fired the imagination of Canadians, has set some of the American journalists to thinking. The New York Sun, which used to talk about annexation year in and year out, says:

"In its attitude towards Canada, the United States is inexcusably indifferent to its own interests. In contemplation of the economic greatness of their own land and the people of this country lose sight of what is going on elsewhere."

"With short-sighted complacency they look at the array of figures representing the products of American fields and farms, and give little or no heed to the fact that the grain crops of the Canadian Northwest have increased enormously with the certainty of quadrupling the output within a few years. New railway lines are being run through the grain country, opening new areas for settlement. New outlays are being made by which Canadian crops and Canadian beef and cattle can be sent to market through Canadian territory. Canada is awake and is growing right lustily. The United States need not be jealous of Canada's progress, nor fearful of Canadian competition. There is ample room for the both. The mistake of this country is in its failure to go into economic partnership with its neighbor."

WHO KNOWS ABOUT HIM?

A letter was received by Mr. Thomas, P. M. Barnaby River, asking for information about the relatives of John Campbell who died in Montana recently. The letter was written by Mr. D. M. McGillivray, a native of Nova Scotia, in which he says that Mr. Campbell had often told him his native home was about ten miles from Barnaby River, in the vicinity of Chatham, N. B. The deceased left the Miramichi twenty-five or thirty years ago, and has been home twice since. He said he had a brother married who was living on the homestead with his mother. Deceased has not heard from home for 20 years. Mr. Campbell worked in the lumber woods in Pennsylvania and later in West Virginia. He came to Montana last October and worked in the lumberwood there. Deceased was about fifty or fifty-five years old, dark complexion and had a slight cast in one eye. He had had two brothers in the states, one was in the navy, but they both died at their home on the Miramichi. Mr. Campbell was a Roman Catholic.

Mr. McGillivray states that he was an intimate friend of the deceased, and would like to hear from some of Mr. Campbell's relatives.

Address—D. M. McGillivray, care Stanford Hotel, Stanford, Montana.

SENATOR WOOD REFUSES SALARY.

Claims That Legislators Should Not Take Pay For Serving Their Country.

OTTAWA, Friday.—For the third year in succession Senator Wood, of Westmorland, New Brunswick, has declined to accept his seasonal indemnity of $2,500. This is due to the senator's consistent objection to the increase of the seasonal indemnity from $1,500 to $2,500. He maintains that members of parliament should be willing to serve without asking a salary therefore, and that they should only claim an indemnity to cover living expenses while at Ottawa. Acting on this principle, he has drawn this session only "board money" at the rate of $100 a year. He is one of the wealthiest men in New Brunswick.

C. P. R. Must Pay Damages.

Western Man Gets $6,500 From Canadian Pacific Railway For Loss of Leg.

Toronto, July 22.—News has been received in Toronto that the Privy Council had refused leave to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to appeal from the judgment entered against the company in the action by Mr. Hanson, milk dealer at Red Deer. The plaintiff sued for damages for loss of a leg, resulting from being run over by the defendant's train, and was awarded $6,500 at the first trial. The company appealed and succeeded in getting a new trial. Again the company was held responsible but damages were increased to $6,500. An appeal to the Supreme Court was dismissed and now the Privy Council refuses to revise the award, so that Mr. Hanson may expect to receive payment at an early date. The accident occurred on August 20th, 1905.

Sunbury Man Persuades Fourteen Year Old Girl To Marry Him

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 21.—Daniel Grass of Lincoln was married yesterday by Rev. D. McLeod to Miss Beulah Wilson daughter of Jas. Wilson of Victoria Mills, in this city. Wilson claims his daughter was enticed from her home by Grass and his friends and married without his consent and that she is only fourteen years of age. He says that Grass and the girl have been keeping company for some time against his will and that some time yesterday she left home while he was at work. Later in the evening he was notified that she had been married and was at the Grass house four miles down the river. The father drove down and commanded his daughter. The bridegroom refused to give her up and at times there were lively scenes. The neighbors interfered and Wilson withdrew without the bride. She still remains at Lincoln. It is understood that a complaint will be made today against Grass charging him with abduction.

CENTRAL RAILWAY INVESTIGATION.

Mr. McAvity's Evidence Tends to Clear Up the Uncertainty Regarding Accounts.

ST. JOHN, Friday.—At Thursday's session of the Central railway investigation, Geo. McAvity was the chief witness, his examination taking all the morning session. In the afternoon the only witness was Hammond G. Evans, who was bookkeeper for the Barnes Construction Co. while the road from Chipman to Minto was being built.

Mr. McAvity's evidence in the morning was the most important put before the commission since the inquiry began, clearing up, as it did, practically all the uncertainty regarding the accounts of the road.

At the afternoon session the following witnesses were heard: A. P. Hazen, J. M. Robinson, H. E. Fowler, and F. Kenneth Brown. Mr. Hazen's evidence was brief, related to transactions which the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Company had with the Bank of British North America. The bank had discounted a half dozen notes for the company on the guarantee of an order in council. Outside of this the business was that of current account.

J. M. Robinson gave further information regarding the disposal of the proceeds of a block of bonds. This evidence was to the effect that the interest accrued on the bonds when he bought them was returned to the company. Mr. Robinson was asked regarding other bonds of the New Brunswick Coal and Railway company that had passed through his hands in the ordinary course of business and protested strongly against being forced to give information concerning private accounts. There was only one other transaction in which he handled these bonds and he gave the commissioners these numbers:

When Mr. Fowler was on the stand Mr. Powell elicited from him the information that his books at Norton did not contain records of payments to any solicitors for services in connection with the company. Mr. Fowler in reply to Mr. Carvell, said that such entries did not belong to his department and naturally would not be in his books. Session adjourned at 4 o'clock.
