NEW ASSOCIATION HOLDS SECOND BIG MEETING

Appeal to Employers to Treat
Colored Men Fairly

"The Negro of today is facing an even larger and worse crisis than he has ever faced in other years and if we, the older people, do not alter it the conditions will be worse for the next generation," was the keynote of the address delivered to the regular meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last evening of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, by their president, J. W. Montgomery, of Toronto, last night. "We don't work for our own good alone, but for the little ones that are to come and who will follow in our footsteps, and as long as we have the backing of the men that we have our organization will grow because when they see the importance others will."

The chair was taken at the opening by Vice-President B. E. Fountaine who in a few remarks before introducing the president, made a complaint against The Toronto Mail and Empire regarding an editorial that appeared in that paper on August 18th, in which the following statement was made: "If President Coolidge can add to his reputation by asserting that Negroes have a right to be candidates for Congress his reputation must be in sore need of building up." The matter was put to the meeting and by a unanimous vote it was decided that the matter be brought to the attention of the paper in question and some means taken to secure a retraction.

Ex-Ald. Max Lerner condemned the attitude of the white man toward the colored man. "Where do the white men get the audacity to say they are better because their skin is white," he asked. "It is only climatic conditions that make a person's color, and we are all one with God, whether we are pink or green."

Plan Convention Here

The general business transacted included the setting of the date for the Association's annual convention, which will be held on Labor Day, 1925 in London. Plans were also made to secure a speaker of prominence to address a mass meeting of citizens and also the various clubs to lay before the men of the city the troubles of the colored race.

A series of resolutions prepared by the executive at a previous meeting were read and adopted. These included a proposal to carry on propaganda by which the employers of the city would be made to see that the black man could do the same work as the white man, a campaign through the various newspapers to educate the people out of racial prejudices and thus assist the colored children to obtain better positions. Should one of their members obtain a position and his services prove satisfactory, it was felt, it would help the organization. It was decided also that a campaign be organized by which the circulation of their official paper, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," might be increased, and through this means the plans and successes of their various movements be made known to the general public.

The secretary, J. F. Jenkins read a letter from E. R. Dennis, of this city, in which Mr. Dennis expressed regret that he could not be present, but assured the members that they had his sincere sympathy. The executive was more than pleased with the general tone of the letter, in which Mr. Dennis stated that it was a shame that the colored people, who are Canadians by birth and education, should have to take second place to people of other countries in obtaining positions.

Name Committees

The committees appointed by the executive were approved by the meeting. They are: Board of Directors, Sir Adam Beck, E. A. Silverwood, J. W. Wray, H. Wray, Mayor Wenige, Fred Landon, David Ross, Max Lerner, James Gray, E. R. Dennis, E. W. Cairns, R. H. Wade, E. J. Carty, J. A. Montgomery, B. E. Fountaine, E. M. Wood, F. Stewart, C. H. Brown, S. W. Cromwell, S. R. Drake, F. F. Fountaine, W. F. Seary, J. F. Jenkins, G. Q. Warner.

The membership committee is composed of: C. H. Brown, Mrs. Frank Budd, Mrs. Fred Ball, Albert Butler, Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. Carberia and Mrs. J. Cromwell.

EditorialA DECISION OF THE BOXING COMMISSION

In the Toronto Telegram, under the date of August 20, the following appears under "Snap Shots on Sports": "A tempest in the pugilistic teapot has been stirred up by the refusal of the Boxing Commission to grant a permit between a colored man and a white boxer at Ottawa. The colored man was overseas and made a good record and it is claimed that since no color line was drawn in the war there should be none in the ring. But the matter did not start in Ottawa, nor was the ruling made to fit the Ottawa case. The Commission was informed from Windsor, where there are a lot of Negroes, that trouble would follow if the colors were mixed in the ring there. Shortly after this a white boy and a colored one was allowed to meet in a local theatre. The result was that the air was filled with cries of 'Kill the Nigger,' and the roudyism was so great that it was decided that mixed fights were not in the interest of the sport. "The ruling was made, not against the colored boys but to protect them from abuse. Any reputable club that wants to match two colored boys will have no difficulty in getting a permit. And while the Ottawa colored man may feel that he was good enough to fight for his country, but not for the coin, he is simply the victim of a rule that was made for the greatest number."

Personally we do not believe in public boxing matches. We believe the art of boxing has become so commercialized and so debased by the money sharks, that our government should prohibit any and all public boxing bouts. To allow two physical giants to enter a ring and pound each other into insensibility is to assert just how much we cherish the relics of barbarism. And when a frenzied public will spend thousands of dollars to witness such brutality we must invariably conclude that there still exists within us much of the spirit of the cave man. But—we believe the reason which the Boxing Commission gave for refusing to allow a colored boxer to meet a white boxer is most unsatisfactory. Certainly it was most unfair to the colored man. It will be remembered as the Telegram states, that the colored man had made a good record overseas. Now that he has returned home the Boxing Commission is so apprehensive lest he be insulted that it must deny him privileges which are given to any other citizen (although he may not have seen service overseas) if his skin happens to be—not dark. It will be remembered that the Germans too objected strenuously to fighting with Negroes. We do not recall however, a single instance in which our government refused to send colored men on the battle fields because of this objection. Perhaps it did not occur to the government that a few "rowdy" Germans might have shouted: "Kill the niggers". It was not so solicitous at that time to guard the colored boys from "abuse." We are wondering which of the two "abuses" the colored boy in question considers the greater "abuse"—the "rowdyism" of "kill the nigger" or the curtailing of his privileges as a 100 per cent. Canadian citizen?

The Telegram used many beautiful and soothing phrases in its attempt to put the Boxing Commission in the proper light but the Telegram has only succeeded in making it more apparent that the Colored man has been wronged and that British Justice has suffered. A better way to "protect" the colored boy from abuses" if the Commission was so interested in the sensitive nature of the colored war veteran, would have been to station enough policemen at the ring side to keep down such "rowdyism."

"And while the Ottawa colored man may feel that he was good enough to fight for his country" (surely he knows that now) "but not for the coin, he is simply the victim of a rule that was made for the greatest number."

I am sure he feels that he is the victim of something but that something—even the Telegram does not seem to be clear on. The rule, it says, was made for the good of the greatest number. Who and what is the greatest number—those who cause the "rowdyism," or all the Anglo Saxons, or all Canadian citizens, or WHO or WHAT?

If it ever befalls my good fortune to meet the colored chap I shall ask him what he considers himself the victim of. Unlike the Telegram I think his conception will be clear and I imagine he will answer, "plain race prejudice."

SURE WILLS WILL WIN

Chicago, Ill., Sept.—(By The Associated Negro Press)— John C. Claybrook, one of the richest Negroes in Arkansas, one who had a town named after him dropped through town this week with a word on Harry Wills. Claybrook thinks Harry is going to knock the Argentinian floozy. He is emphatic in his denial that his confidence in Wills is based on the fact that Wills is a Negro, but avers that the entire matter is a business proposition with him, and that, after a visit to both camps, he can't see Luis.

Mr. Claybrook drops a whispered word on that Bartley Madden affair. He doesn't say that Wills told him so, but he gives it as his honest opinion that Wills fought under instructions. In the first place, the Arkansas Croesus explains Harry and Bartley are personal friends. In the second place, at the time of the fight, Firpo hadn't signed up and there would have been small chance of getting him to if Harry had made mince meat out of the tough Irishman. Take it for what it's worth. John C. Claybrook thinks it's worth all he can spare.

LIBERIA GIVES GARVEY

A STIFF JOLT.

Washington, D.C., Sept.— (By The Associated Negro Press)— Sundry letters and reports from Liberia representing Marcus Garvey and his followers to be persona non grata in the West African Republic were emphasized and confirmed this week by a communication from the Liberian Government to the state department in which it was stated that the Liberian Government is irrevocably opposed both in principle and fact to the incendiary policy of the Universal Negro Improvement Association headed by Marcus Garvey. The note to the American State Department was signed by Edwin Barclay, Secretary of State for Liberia. Consul general Lyon of Liberia has received instructions to refuse to vize passports that would aid Garveyites in getting to Liberia.

Mr. Robert Harris and Mr. Louis Groat are both confined to their homes because of illness.

Miss Mary Wright of Detroit has been the guest of Mrs. C. H. Brown during the past week.
