Machine.

LETTER FROM MR. GLADSTONE.
London, July 2.—Mr. Gladstone has written a letter to the chairman of the Midlothian Liberals in connection, it is understood, with his retirement. It is expected the letter will be published on Thursday.

KILLED BY AN INTERNAL MACHINE.

Dublin, July 2.—A man named Patrick Redmond found a tin canister, containing an internal machine, on Boyne street today. Redmond in attempting to open the canister caused the machine to explode. He was killed on the spot.

TEN VICTIMS OF A LIGHTNING
FLASH.

London, July 2.—A dispatch from Stockholm says that in the town of Hamned, near Wexie, yesterday, lightning struck a building in which ten persons had taken shelter, killing seven of them and injuring the other three so seriously that they will die.

BISMARCK VERY ILL.

Berlin, July 2.—The Hamburgische Correspondent, which has intimate relations with the Bismarck family, says that Prince Bismarck's health has been serious for the past week. He has been suffering from great physical depression, combined with severe neuralgia in the face, and is only able to take liquid food.

A NOVEL APPEAL.

London, July 2.—The Methodist appeal in the British elections, made through the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, for 50 God-fearing young Methodists to serve their country and church in Parliament, has caused a good deal of talk. Rev. Mr. Hughes promises that it will be easy to capture many seats in Parliament. And 54 corsets, through ten and left behind! At all times these sales are productive of much merriment, but what with the calf and the corsets the last takes precedence.

CHANGED PLACES.

London, July 1.—At the opening of the session of the House of Commons, the parties changed sides in the House. The Ministerialists going to the right of the Speaker and the Liberals to the left.

PUNNY "LEFT" ARTICLES.

Paris, July 2.—At the recent sale of unclaimed articles found in railway trains the objects offered were of especial variety and quality. Of course the traditional umbrellas and canes figured in the list. But a calf—whenever you take such an unusual belonging with him? And 54 corsets, through ten and left behind! At all times these sales are productive of much merriment, but what with the calf and the corsets the last takes precedence.

GOVERNMENT APPOINTEES.

London, July 2.—The Right Hon. Akers-Douglas, member of Parliament for the east division of Kent, and whip of the Conservative party, has been appointed Chief Commissioner of Public Works, and Mr. Walter Long, member of Parliament for the West Derby division of Liverpool, and formerly Parliamentary Secretary to the Local Government Board, under the Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, now President of the Board of Trade, has been appointed President of the Board of Agriculture. Both Mr. Akers-Douglas and Mr. Long have seats in the Cabinet.

The following additional Ministerial appointments have been announced:

Duke of Norfolk, Postmaster-General; Gerald William Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Sir John E. Gorst, Vice-President of the Council; Sir William H. Waldron, Patronage Secretary to the Treasury; W. E. G. Macartney, Secretary to the Admiralty; Joseph Austin Chamberlain, Civil Lord of the Admiralty; Jesse Collings, Under Secretary for the Home Department; T. W. Russell, Parliamentary Secretary for the Local Government Board; Joseph Powell Williams, Financial Secretary of the War Office.

The Cabinet has now nineteen members, the largest number it ever contained.

Messrs. Collings, Russell and Williams are Liberal-Unionists, and their appointment is regarded as evidence of the influence of Mr. Chamberlain in the Government.

SOMETHING MUST GIVE WAY.

Sydney, N. S. W., July 2.—During the course of a speech delivered at a large free trade meeting yesterday, Prime Minister Reid said that he would not object to a legislative council, the members of which were named for life, if it only regarded the will of the country. A house consisting of crown nominees was an absurd anomaly in a democratic constitution, but he would not trouble to interfere with it even so long as it respected the electors. The Legislative Council had, however, set its foot against the will of the people, and the time had come to deal with it once for all.

The people had not got either yet, and something must give way; the same was not the electors. (Loud cheers.) Mr. Reid asked the people to empower the Government to reform its constitution. He proposed, he said, to introduce a bill that would provide when a measure passed the Assembly and had been rejected by the Council at two consecutive sessions, it should be submitted to a referendum of electors during a recess at the end of the second session.

He hopes this to terminate the deadlocks of the House, failing of other solutions the Government would be asked to grant a workable constitution to the colony including an elective council, the members of which would be elected under a superior franchise. It was not intended that this council should be superior to the Assembly, but that it should be merely a revising chamber.

ROSEBERRY'S PUNGENT REMARKS.

London, July 2.—Lord Rosebery, in a speech made in this city tonight, said that he did not intend to issue either a manifesto or a programme. He was rather in the position of those heroic soldiers who politely requested the enemy to fire first. He reminded the new Government of Lord Beaconsfield's assertion that England does not love coalitions. Henceforth, he said, the dissident Liberals would be found shoulder to shoulder with the Tories marching to a very dubious victory under a banner without motto or device. The bitterness of the separation from those people was long past. He rejoiced at the bottom of his heart that they were now sailing under their true colors. The Liberals henceforth would meet them face to face, and would no longer be tormented by a guerilla warfare on the flanks. There were now only two parties—Conservatives and Liberals.

Lord Rosebery proceeded to discuss the lessons to be learned from the defeat of the late Government. In 1892, he said, the Liberals landed in the House with a multifarious programme, and a majority that was inadequate to carry that programme through. He counselled the Liberals not to repeat the mistake. They must in the new Parliament adapt their policy to their majority. If they had only a small majority it would be futile and hopeless to attempt any such great constitutional changes as those involved in the home rule, church disestablishment, local veto and one man one vote measures.

Lord Rosebery's references to the "guerilla warfare" of the Unionists elicited much applause.

Referring to the House of Lords, Lord Rosebery said: "There is one question that embraces all others which were before the late Government, viz. the domination of the House of Lords. The existence of their power relegates the Liberals to permanent impotence in the councils of the nation. On this question I am pledged to fight the coming election."

FOOLISH COUNCILORS.

Sydney, N. S. W., July 2.—The new Legislative Council has rejected the Electoral Reform Bill by a vote of 25 to 14.

TARIFF REFORM PROGRESSES.

Melbourne, July 3.—The Assembly has, by a vote of 62 to 22, passed the first item of the Tariff Bill, thus affirming the principle of a reduction of the customs.

THE CZAR'S MOVEMENTS.

London, July 3.—The Standard today prints a Berlin dispatch, saying there is reason to believe that the Czar of Russia will attend the German army maneuvers in August, as well as Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria.

SEVERELY CRITICISED.

London, July 3.—The Daily News to-day, under the caption, "Mr. Chamberlain's Ministry," will contend that Mr. Chamberlain will mould the policy of the Ministry or break it in pieces. The News discusses the new appointments with a mild sarcasm. The Duke of Norfolk's Administration will be watched with more curiosity than faith.

Whether Mr. Gerald Balfour, as Chief Secretary for Ireland, will have his policy's easy success, will depend altogether upon whether Ireland is convinced that her hopes of autonomy are not for free realization, whatever may be the political nature of the Government.

THE CHRONICLE SAYS.

The Standard today says that Mr. Gerald Balfour's appointment as Chief Secretary for Ireland is very favorably regarded by the Irish Conservatives, and highly displeased and will denounce the appointment strongly during the electoral campaign.

The Chronicle says: "The Government have given a very heavy mortgage to fortune in appointing Mr. Gerald Balfour to the Chief Secretaryship for Ireland. We cannot imagine any member of the House of Commons less likely to bring to the Irish Office the qualities of statesmanship that the position demands." The Chronicle ridicules and condemns some of the other appointments.

300 CANAL JOBBERY.

Ottawa, July 2.—The "300" Canal was up before the public accounts committee again today. Hugh Ryan, the contractor, was on the stand and was examined by Mr. Lister, who was too ill to be at the last two meetings of the committee.

Asked as to whether the estimated cost of $299,000 for the lower section was sufficient to complete the work, the witness said that it would not require very much more. He was of the opinion that about $30,000 more at the very most would be sufficient to complete the work.

"Then," said Mr. Lister, "the department must have made a wrong estimate."

Mr. Ryan would not admit this. In regard to the first change in the canal, Mr. Ryan said that he suggested it to Sir Frank Smith and Sir Mackenzie Bowell and members of the Toronto Board of Trade. The result of these representations were that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who was then acting Minister of Railways, and Sir Frank Smith visited the canal and inspected it. Later on the Government arranged to make the change. The witness admitted that he complained to the department two or three times as to the engineer, Thompson. The difficulty between the contractor and engineers was that the latter would not allow them the quantities, nor the prices for the stone. The result of these complaints was that a greater price was allowed and that Mr. Thompson went to St. Catharines and Mr. Crawford was appointed engineer. The contractors made no further complaints after Mr. Crawford's appointment. Witness said that he would take half a million dollars for amount due him by the Government. He would even take $400,000, but would not say less.

Mr. Lister—Have you indirectly or directly contributed anything to election funds?

No answer.

Mr. Lister—I must repeat that question. Have you directly or indirectly contributed anything to election funds?

Mr. Ryan—I decline to answer that question.

Mr. Taylor—Have you, Mr. Ryan, contributed anything to the Ontario election.

Mr. Ryan—I decline to answer.

Mr. Taylor—Or to the Greenway elections in Manitoba?

Mr. Ryan—I decline to answer.

Mr. Lister—Had you contracts with the Local Government?

Mr. Ryan—No.

Mr. Ryan was then discharged.

The examination of Mr. Crawford, the engineer, was then proceeded with by Mr. Gibson, who brought out additional evidence showing the defective character of the work.

The amendment of Senator Powers to dispense with unanimity on the part of a jury to secure conviction, was thrown out at the criminal code committee today. It was provided that a police magistrate need not report the evidence in full in summary convictions.

Two justices of the peace can also try a case of theft under $10. The bill was reported as amended.

C. E. Convention.

The Largest Religious Gathering
America Has SeenWill Open in Boston on the Tenth of July.Seventeen Different Nations To Be Represented by Over 50,000 Delegates—Ample Preparations Made—Some of the Promised Features.

Boston, Mass., July 2.—One week from today there opens in Boston one of the most remarkable meetings—and it is certainly the largest religious gathering—that has ever assembled in America. From the information already received in this city there will be more than 50,000 delegates present during the five days of the Christian Endeavor Convention, July 10-15, and these will represent every State in the Union and Province in the Dominion and no less than seventeen different nations. During the short time the Christian Endeavor Convention will be in this city more than 250 meetings will be held and over 1,000 addresses will be delivered by different speakers.

Every hotel and available apartment house has been secured by the committee of arrangements, and a thorough canvass of the private houses of the city has been made, so that there will be ample accommodation for all the delegates who may come.

The largest auditorium in Boston will not hold a fifth of the delegates who will attend the convention, so in addition to the immense Mechanics' Fair Building, mammoth tents have been made for the convention, and these will be pitched on Boston Common. Simultaneous meetings will be held every day, and it is probable that overflow meetings in a number of the churches will constantly be necessary.

All the police officials of the city will remain on duty during the convention to handle the crowds, and arrangements have been made whereby delegates from every large city in the country will accompany the special Christian Endeavor trains to the convention in order to protect the delegates from the crooks who will surely swarm to this city.

The convention opens with twenty simultaneous meetings in as many of the largest churches of Boston on Wednesday evening, July 2, and on Thursday morning will be delivered in each meeting by leading clergymen, reformers and religious workers generally from this and other lands.

On Thursday afternoon the convention will again split up into a number of lesser meetings, the members of each denomination going off by themselves to hold a denominational rally.

Again on Friday and Saturday there will be no sessions in the tents and in Mechanics' Hall, but the delegates will attend a large number of meetings in the interest of Christian Endeavor work, the delegates being divided according to committees.

On Saturday there will be three meetings in the morning at which the topic of good citizenship will be discussed. After morning meetings the delegates will repair to Boston Common, where a monster open air demonstration is to be held.

To help the delegates to keep this occasion bright in their memory, each will be given a souvenir copy of "America," beautifully illuminated, and emblematic of the character and progress of the country. These cards, 5,000 of which have been presented to the committee by Miss Helen M. Gould, were originally prepared for private distribution among the friends of that lady. Dr. X. F. Smith, author of "America," will read on this occasion. This will doubtless be the largest religious demonstration in favor of good citizenship that has ever been witnessed in America. The truth to be announced is not that of Americanism, but rather the general principle of patriotism as applied to all nations. This is an international convention, and therefore the local application would scarcely be brooked.

On Monday afternoon the delegates will go on pilgrimages to places of historic interest in Boston and vicinity. On Tuesday and Wednesday following the close of the convention special excursions will be made to Lexington, Concord, Salem, Plymouth, Portland, where the first Christian Endeavor Society was formed, and other interesting localities.

The Christian Endeavorers are going to inaugurate something entirely new in the history of religious conventions during their stay in Boston. They will during the close of the morning session, and dividing themselves into groups of twenty or thereabouts, will go forth to hold typical Christian Endeavor services in squares of the streets, in factories, halls and car stations of Boston. Their meetings will last for about half an hour, and will be representative of the usual meetings of Christian Endeavor societies, although with an especial Gospel tendency.

The list of speakers who are to address the convention at its various meetings is far too long for reproduction. Among these are Canada, Rev. Wm. Patterson and Rev. John Potts, D.D., of Toronto, will be heard from convention platforms. From foreign countries Rev. J. D. Lammont, of Belfast, Ireland; Rev. John P. Black, of Glasgow, Scotland; Rev. W. J. L. Cross, of Sydney, N. S. W., and Rev. W. Knight Chaplain, of London, England, will speak.

The City Council

Holds a Brief and Business-Like Session.

Ald. Marshall Takes His Seat and is Applauded.

A Bicycle for the Engineer—The Mechanics Institute Ready to Hand Over Its Books—A Batch of Communications.

The aldermen hadn't a great deal of work to do at last night's council meeting, and they didn't waste any time. The session was ended by 9 o'clock. Ald. John Marshall, No. 6 ward, took his seat for the first time and was heartily applauded.

COMMUNICATIONS.

W. J. Harvey, secretary of the London Public Library Board, late the Mechanics' Institute, wrote inclosing a petition of the board which asked the City Council to take over the property, books and papers of the institute. Mr. Harvey called the council's attention to the board's recommendation that Miss Grey be retained as assistant librarian of the free library. The salary of the Mechanics' Institute librarian and the rent were paid until Aug. 1. A balance of $659.10 would be handed over to the new board.

Other communications were received and referred or granted as follows: Henry Wallace—Asking damages for injuries sustained while working in a city sewer. No. 1. Thomas Garside—Complaining of the Elmwood avenue sewer creating a nuisance on his premises. No. 2. London Foundry Company—Complaining of the nuisance caused by the exit of the King street sewer. No. 2. Robert McLean—Stating that it was necessary to enforce the fire limits by-law in order to retain the present insurance rate of the city. No. 3.

W. Richards—For use of the Agricultural Hall, Queen's Park, July 4, for the Court Robin Hood. A. O. F., for ice cream social. Granted.

R. D. A. Hillier—For free use of the Horticultural Hall at Queen's Park on July 12. Granted.

Rev. W. T. Hill—Thanking council for free use of City Hall for St. John's Church bazaar. Filed.

Louisa Ward—For remission of taxes on Salvation Army Rescue Home, No. 1, Edward Caynagh—For remission of taxes. No. 1.

Alex. Harvey—For reduction of water rates for Dominion Steam Laundry. No. 1.

Reeve Macdonald, London West—stating that steps had been taken to enforce the judgment against the city for polluting the Thames. The reverend said that the village did not want to act in a hostile manner, and suggested that a conference be held with a view to settlement. No. 1.

A. O. Graydon—Asking instructions as to whether he should prosecute Walter Melbourne for erecting a frame building at the corner of Pall Mall and Richmond streets contrary to the fire limits by-law.

Thomas A. Browne—Asking for a supply of hose for the Main Building during Western Fair days to guard against fire. No. 3.

G. N. Gaden—Recommending the use of the Aurora light.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Parnell presented the report of No. 2 committee, as follows:

1. Recommending that the petitions of A. Gunn et al. and John Fraser et al., against macadamizing Waterloo and Colborne streets respectively, between King street and Queen's avenue, be granted.

2. That as the duties of the engineer extend over the whole city, and necessitate a large amount of travel, your committee recommends that a bicycle be purchased for his use to economize time.

3. That it be suggested to the water commissioners, as it is proposed to construct permanent pavement on portions of Dundas and Richmond streets, the advisability of placing separate mains on these thoroughfares to provide for the possible necessity of supplying water for street watering, lawn sprinkling, railways, etc., to act independent of water supplied for domestic purposes.

The first clause passed.

The bicycle clause was objected to by Ald. Dreaney, who thought the engineer should buy his own wheel.

Ald. Parnell explained that the engineer would be very busy in the next few months, and he would save a great deal of time and be able to do much more work with the aid of a bicycle. The engineer had asked for it and he would keep it in repair.

Ald. Carothers asked the bicycle built for two? (Laughter.)

The clause passed.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Ald. Brener, acting chairman, presented the report of No. 1 committee, as follows:

1. Your committee recommend no action re amalgamation of tax collectors' and treasurer's offices. 2. That the account of Dr. Bayley ($5) for attendance on firemen be paid. 3. That the account of E. H. Keating ($162) be passed for payment. 4. That the petition of Mrs. Radcliffe be filed, your committee having no power. 5. Your committee begs to submit proposed by-laws to borrow certain moneys from the Corporation of Montreal to meet present expenditure and re granting the use of Railway street to the London Street Railway Company.

Ald. Parnell wished clause 1 referred back for reconsideration. If it were not passed now it would be later on, as the people would demand a reformation in the tax collecting office. Toronto had the proposed system, and he had letters from ex-Mayor Fleming and Mayor Kennedy stating that the reform had effected a great saving there.

Ald. Powell—If I thought Ald. Parnell was actuated solely by love to the city I would consider his motion, but I think he is actuated by far different ideas, and—

The Mayor—Order! Ald. Powell. It is wrong to impute unjust motives to Ald. Parnell in this chamber.

Ald. Parnell asked for an apology. Ald. Powell said if he had said anything wrong he would recall it. He thought No. 1 committee were striving to serve the city's interests in this matter.

Ald. Marshall elicited from Ald. Armstrong the information that special legislation would be required to effect the amalgamation of the two offices.

Ald. Parnell's motion was lost by 9 to 6 the mover and Ald. Brener, Wm. and John Heaman, O'Meara and Nutkin voting yea. The balance of the report passed.

THE NEW MEMBER PLACED.

On motion of Ald. Parnell, seconded by Ald. W. J. Harvey, Ald. J. Marshall was appointed to take ex-Ald. McCallum's place on No. 1 committee for the balance of 1895.

BYLAWS.

A number of important bylaws were read. The bylaw to raise $34,000 in debentures for public school improvements was referred back. School Trustees Grifflin was invited to speak, and opposed the bylaw. He said that $8,000 or $9,000 in the south end and $15,000 in the north end was not needed. It would be a matter of only a few months when they would be called upon to issue debentures for $20,000 or $25,000 for the Colborne street school. None of the money now asked would be spent on that school. He was there as a representative of No. 3 ward.

A bylaw to borrow $40,000 from the Bank of Montreal to meet current expenses was carried. Another to raise $2,000 for Collegiate Institute improvements was also passed.

The bylaw to require contractors to pay their men union wages on city work passed its second reading and was referred back for some technical amendment by the solicitor.

There were present: Mayor Little and Aldermen Pritchard, Brener, O'Meara, Powell, Carothers, Armstrong, Nutkin, Marshall, Parnell, Ardill, Dreaney, Skinner, Weld, Wm. Heaman and J. Heaman.

HIGH TIDE AT SPRINGBANK.

Plenty of Pure Water for All Practical Purposes.

For the present, at least, the city is unlikely to experience any shortage in the water supply. Since the pond almost ran out two weeks ago and street and lawn sprinkling was almost entirely forbidden, the reservoir has steadily crept up until now the fifteen-foot mark has almost been reached. The following statement, compiled by Engineer

Date	Pumped	Depth in Reservoir
June 18.....	3,005,544	5 10
June 19.....	2,750,823	4 8
June 20.....	2,594,740	4 6
June 21.....	2,700,516	6 2
June 22.....	2,850,624	6 9
June 23.....	2,994,731	7 3
June 24.....	3,087,736	8 3
June 25.....	3,195,248	8 0
June 26.....	3,242,568	9 4
June 27.....	3,340,736	9 9
June 28.....	3,447,736	11 4
June 29.....	3,554,736	11 6
June 30.....	3,661,736	13 6
July 1.....	3,768,736	14 3

The total amount pumped was 38,958,284 gallons. Since the report was completed the pond has raised several inches. In the fortnight the hydraulic pumps used when the river would allow. The old steam pumps were in almost constant use, while the new machinery was put into motion on two occasions.

The board auditors, Messrs. George F. Jewell and George W. Cottrell, submitted a statement showing income and outgo of the commission's funds for the quarter ending May 31. The receipts of the Bank of Toronto balance Feb. 28, $20,081.28; cash in hand, $12,811; water rates, $14,992.30; service extension, $165.71; interest, $173.50; sundry, $57.93, a total of $35,458.53.

The disbursements included workshop account, $807.93; pump house maintenance, $768.64; grounds and dam, $1,473.86; expense, $42.00; house service, $447.73; printing, $28.00; postage, $27.00; coal boxes, $240; $1,476.73; main extensions, $162.72; insurance, $57.50; pump house extension, $509.62; steam pumping machinery, $1,123.73; salaries, $1,383; city on revenue account, $16,000; making the total expenses $24,605.68. The balance in the bank May 31, is $10,852.92.

Engineer Moore recommended the laying of a four-inch main on Florence street east from Egerton to supply Mr. Johnston's new house; also that a six-inch main be laid on Stanley street from the Wortley to the Wharfedale roads, to replace the present two-inch wrought iron main. Mr. Moore also asked that seventeen new services be laid to premises on Dundas and Richmond streets, not at present connected. All the recommendations will be carried out.

Oh! G. M. D. Oh! G. M. D. Thou wondrous healer, 'tis to thee Our vows we pay, our tributes bring; Of thee we tell, O the we sing, Who dreads dyspepsia's dire attack, With constipation at its back, Assured should be: relief is nigh If but to G. M. D. they'd fly. By nervousness so sore oppressed, With life a burden, robbed of rest, There hundreds are who fain would know Where they to get relief can go.

We point to G. M. D. and say, Be cured, be happy, light and gay. Follow the path that thousands tread, Be cured in heart, be cured in head.

A few Pennies

on the one hand—

ruined garments on the other.

That will be the result of your trying to save money by using poor, cheap washing-powders, instead of Pearlina. Just consider. How much could you save in a year if you bought the cheapest and most worthless? And how far would it go toward paying for the things ruined in a single month? You can't save anything by buying cheap washing-powders. The way to save money in washing is to use what has been proved to be absolutely safe. That is Pearlina. Millions use it.

Beware of imitations. 417 JAMES FYLE, N.Y.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are doing their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchin, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Arden, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A CAMP STILL DIVIDED.

Mr. Foster, leader in the Dominion House of Commons, did not give the members much information when last night he made his promised statement with regard to the state of public business. He admitted, however, that so far the Administration has not really made up its mind with regard to the Manitoba school question. His explanation is that a finding has not been arrived at because Manitoba's written refusal to comply with the remedial order to re-establish separate schools exactly as they existed prior to 1890 had not arrived in Ottawa till this week. But Manitoba's refusal was made public early last month, and long before that Mr. Oulmet, a member of the Dominion Government, announced the policy of the Administration as that of determination to compel the people of Manitoba to obey the remedial order. Either Mr. Foster or Mr. Oulmet has been drawing the long bow.

To a consistent, straightforward Government, it would have been easy to say whether or not the false step was now to be retraced which was taken when it was resolved to compel Manitoba to do that which the British Privy Council announced was unnecessary. It seems, however, that the internal fightings are still in progress in the high tax camp, and that irresolution continues to characterize the policy of the men in power.

THE ELECTIONS IN BRITAIN.

The end of the present Imperial Parliament will come with Saturday, and on Monday next the House of Commons will be dissolved. In about two weeks from that time, the elections, though they are not yet all held on one day, will be over. From the business man's point of view, as well as from that of the holiday-maker—who is an important element in British public life at this season—a short and sharp campaign will be decidedly welcome. They take their politics, like everything else, rather seriously in Great Britain, and it is just as well that a contest, which in any country on this continent would rage for many weeks, can be comfortably disposed of in less than a month.

There are many speculations as to the probable result, but it is not easy to prophesy. Though the Liberals were defeated in the House on a "snap" vote, and chose to go out of power because of that defeat, it must not be forgotten that beyond the defection of Mr. Redmond and his eight Irish followers, on purely selfish grounds, but five of a Liberal loss was chronicled since Mr. Gladstone came into power three years ago. As bye-elections go in Britain, this is not a showing that clearly indicates the defeat of the Liberals at the polls, as some prophesy, though they would have been in much better position to hold office till they had passed the various measures embraced in the Newcastle programme if their small majority had remained intact.

The prophets who look for the triumph of Lord Salisbury in the coming elections do so not because they think that his programme, or lack of programme, commends itself to the British public, but because only on comparatively rare occasions, in recent years, have the electors re-elected a retiring Government. They apparently believe in the policy of frequently changing men in control. On the rejection of Earl Russell's Reform Bill in 1866, through the secession of the Adullamites under Mr. Lowe, the Liberals resigned, and Lord Derby became Premier. In 1868 he resigned on account of ill-health, and Mr. Disraeli became Conservative leader. He went to the country, and was beaten by the Liberals, who had Mr. Gladstone as Premier for the first time. In 1874, it was the turn of the Conservatives to win, and they remained in power till 1880, when the Liberals again had the majority. The next election took place in 1885, when Mr. Gladstone resigned, after being beaten, as Lord Rosebery's Government recently was, on a minor point. Lord Salisbury formed his first Administration, and held office until January, 1886, when the new Parliament, elected in December, 1885, met, and made it evident that it was not Conservative, when he promptly resigned. Then came a brief turn to the Liberals, but when the country was appealed to in the same year it returned a Parliament that again put the reins of power in the hands of the Conservatives, who held office until 1892, when the Liberals took office, and held it till last week.

Thus it will be seen that the electors of Great Britain have practically kept changing the political complexion of their Government at every recurring general election, rarely retaining a Government in office for more than one term. They may follow their accustomed ed bent in the elections which take place this month, but he is a rash man who, in the present state of British public affairs, will prognosticate on the probable majority that will be registered either way.

POINTS.

A resident of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., now visiting this city, asserts that it will take in the neighborhood of a million dollars to put the new Canadian canal there in proper condition. This is the canal that has cost an enormous sum over and above the estimates, and for the speedy completion of which $90,000 was paid many months ago. But it is not open for traffic yet!

The annual report of "Queen's" University, Kingston, has been issued. An interesting table gives the number of students in the different Faculties for the last three years. For 1892-93 it was 444; for 1893-94 it was 475; for 1894-95 it was 556. "Queen's" has done wonders. It is an object lesson on the force of personality to consider what Principal Grant has been able to do with "Queen's" since he took hold of her affairs. That "Queen's" may continue and extend her triumphs is a wish in which all friends of education can afford to join.

Mr. Chamberlain, in joining the Salisbury Government, has had to swallow progressive principles which he held dear in early life. The acceptance by the Birmingham politician of a post under Salisbury is an odd proceeding viewed in the light of public opinion expressed by Mr. Chamberlain eight years ago. "Lord Salisbury," said Mr. Chamberlain at that time, "constitutes himself the spokesman of the class to which he himself belongs, who toll not, neither do they spin, whose fortunes, as in his case, have originated in grants made long ago for such services as courtiers render kings, and have since grown and increased while their owners slept, by the levy of an unearned share on all that other men have done by toil and labor to add to the general wealth and prosperity of the country of which they form a part."

That bright religious weekly, the Chicago Interior, commenting on the statistical evidence that the average wealth of the United States is about $1,100, says: "That is not a wise preaching which loses sociology in sociology, which sinks the life to come in the life that now is. Were it possible by a mere wave of the hand to redistribute the entire wealth of the world so that each man would have an equal portion, those who now possess what every man would then have are not so much contented and blessed that all the world needs to envy them. The average wealth of citizens of the United States is about $1,100. But is the $1,100 man of today so supremely blessed that bestowing $1,100 upon each inhabitant would insure the millennium? 'The kingdom of heaven' does not consist of $1,100, but of a new heart and of a heavenly hope."

Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, the most interesting living editorial personage in the United States, in a recent address laid down a number of rules for young journalists to live up to, and we are pleased to notice to how large an extent they conform with the "Advertiser's" own theory and practice. Says Patriarch Dana:

1. Get the news, all the news, and nothing but the news.
2. Copy nothing from another publication without perfect credit.
3. Never print an interview without the knowledge and consent of the party interviewed.
4. Never print a paid advertisement as news matter. Let every advertisement appear as an advertisement.
5. Never attack the weak or the defenseless, either by argument, by invective, or by ridicule, unless there is some absolute public necessity for so doing.
6. Fight for your opinions, but do not believe that they contain the whole truth or the only truth.
7. Support your party, if you have one. But not think all the good men are in it and all the bad ones outside of it.
8. Above all, know and believe that humanity is advancing; that there is progress in human life and human affairs; and that, as sure as God lives, the future will be greater and better than the present or the past.

He might have added the following as rule—

9. Print no anonymous letters.

The Dundas Banner thinks Alexander Mackenzie, William Lyon Mackenzie and D'Arcy McGee should also have statues erected in their honor, either at the public expense or by private subscription.

The Century for July is a notable number. It is splendidly illustrated. Among the notable articles, Mrs. Burton Harrison tells of "American Rural Festivals," ranging lightly from "Comus" at Stockbridge to May Day in Central Park; Rev. Arthur Lawrence tells of Bryant and the Berkshire Hills; there is a life of Grant translated from the Japanese with eleven wonderful Japanese pictures; Mr. Gosse contributes some recollections of R. L. Stevenson; and Mr. James E. Keeler describes the process of photographing the planets.

EXTRAVAGANT AND INEFFICIENT

The majority in the Dominion House of Commons, at the bidding of Mr. Foster, last night refused to repeal the expensive, vexatious and wholly inequitable Franchise Act. In this, they do not represent the opinion of the electors, who are thoroughly sick of the operations of the measure, and who regard the hundreds of thousands of dollars expended on its operation as wasted. The Provincial lists, with a one man one vote provision, and any other amendment that Parliament might deem necessary, would suit the electors admirably.

Before the elections take place, the Dominion lists will be antiquated, and will not provide for a proper vote of the really qualified electors. The foreign and graveyard votes, in past elections, have really decided the elections in many constituencies, and the ensuing election is not likely to be any exception to the rule.

And the taxpayer must pay the piper!

Parliament May Adjourn Next Week—Vague Hints by Minister Foster Regarding Remedial Legislation—Heavy Cost of Tinkering With the Imperfect Voters' List—The Government Dare Not Let Go Its Hold on the Fraudulent Franchise Act—Special Cabinet Meeting Called

(Specially telegraphed by our own Representative.)
Ottawa, Ont., July 2.—Several of the Liberal members took strong objection to the motion of Mr. Foster in the House this afternoon to take Wednesday for Government business, the effect of which was to choke off public measures now before the House. There were many public bills of great importance on the order paper which had been introduced by private members which the Finance Minister now proposed to slaughter. Among those who took very strong grounds in this direction was Dalton McCarthy. Mr. Foster in the course of his reply said: "There are some bills which have been spoken of by honorable gentlemen since this motion was made. The Government will look at these and see whether there are any which it will be possible for them to take up this session. With reference to some that may be possible, with reference to others it may not be possible to have legislation this year. Some of these, however, may embody principles of so much importance that the Government may take them up with the view of thoroughly looking into them and seeing what legislation may be advisable another session when we come back again to Parliament. So far as the business of the House is concerned, I think it is all up on the order paper. If anything else is to go upon the order paper it will be something not very important, but which may come up by way of incident and with reference to which it may be found necessary to have some legislation incidentally. This I say in order to show the House what is about the state of business so far as the Government is concerned. I make one reservation, and that is with reference to remedial legislation. We have been blamed for not doing so near the end of the session and having no legislation or announcement with reference to that. It was scarcely possible that we could have reached it. The papers from the Manitoba Legislature and Government came into our hands only this morning. They will be taken up, and the Government will be able, I think, in a very short time to intimate to the House what course it proposes with reference to that subject. With that single limitation, what I have stated holds good. We are through fully two-thirds of the main estimates, and the most contentious portions of these have been voted, judging by the discussions which have arisen in former years. I have no doubt, looking at the state of the bills, many of which will not cause lengthy discussion, that it is quite possible for the House to get through with the business on the order paper and be ready for adjournment. I should think, early next week—all this subject to the proviso I mentioned a minute ago."

Mr. Montague moved the second reading of the bill respecting the voters' lists of 1895, the object being to postpone further revision of the electoral lists of 1895 upon which the next general elections will be held.

Mr. Laurier pointed out that although nearly $150,000 had been spent in preparing the electoral lists for the general elections this spring, the elections did not take place for reasons best known to the Government, and now when they were held they would be held on lists a year old.

Mr. Mulock moved in amendment that it was desirable that the Government should introduce a bill providing for repeal of the Electoral Franchise Act.

Mr. McCarthy drew the attention of the House to the enormous expenditure of public money necessitated by the present Franchise Act, and pointed out that sooner or later it would have to be repealed. He saw no reason why the Dominion lists should not be prepared at the same time as the Provincial and municipal lists.

Mr. Laurier supported Mr. Mulock's amendment and thought the Provincial lists would prove ample for Dominion purposes, thus effecting a great saving of money to the country.

Mr. Mulock's amendment was lost on a division, the vote standing 32 to 39. In committee Mr. Montague moved an amendment to permit revising officers to create an additional sub-division in sub-divisions which contained more than 300 voters. The amendment was adopted and the bill reported.

The balance of the sitting was spent in committee of supply, and the House adjourned at midnight.

CABINET MEETING CALLED.

A special meeting of the Cabinet has been called for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to consider whether a remedial law will be proposed to Parliament or not. Mr. McCarthy has given Mr. Foster notice that he will, on going into supply, move an amendment repealing Bishop Graves' assumption that the judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council was influenced from Rome. The vote on it will be interesting, and may come on tomorrow.

States) became a law. Immediately factories opened. Idle men were set at work, wages increased, mills were crowded to the utmost capacity to supply orders. In the schedules including iron and woolen goods the reductions were greatest. In iron the average reduction was 37 per cent and in woolens 50 per cent. Yet in iron and woolen factories is the greatest increase in activity to be noted, and in these two branches are the advances in wages most general. The lesson is very plain: It does not require a Solomon or a Newton to discover it. It is simply this: High tariff leads to low wages; low tariff is accompanied by high wages. The proof is overwhelming.—Utica Observer.

TORONTO VS. BUFFALO.

Toronto, July 2.—About 150 people saw a very interesting contest today over the Don, when Toronto defeated Buffalo 9 to 7. Chapman's team had their batting clothes on and pounded Herndon pretty steadily throughout the game. Gray was very deceptive up till the fifth inning, when the visitors scored four runs on two singles, a triple, a home run and Mar's miff. The fielding was generally clean, each side being credited with only three errors. Hurst's decisions appeared to all favor the visitors.

School Business

Dealt With by the Board of Education.

Architect Appointed—New Teacher Required for the Institute's Drill Department—A Salary Increased.

For over two hours last night seventeen school trustees worked on the routine business which came before them. There were present: Trustees Blackwell (chairman), Sanders, Turner, Hunt, Logan, Wilkins, Stephenson, Griffin, Dr. Campbell, Anderson, Greenlee, Keenleyside, Craig, Jeffrey, Martin, Dr. Wilson and Johnston, and Secretary McElheran, Inspector Carson and Principal Merchant. Everything went along swimmingly until No. 2 committee's report was read. It recommended (1) that Wilson Hall be appointed janitor of Quebec street school in place of Mrs. Green, resigned; (2) that the board of trustees be authorized to appoint its own janitor; (3) that Messrs. Martin and Buchner be appointed a deputation to go to Chicago to inspect the closet system in vogue in the schools there.

Clause 3 passed without a murmur, but No. 2 committee's report was the subject of a board architect spoke at every opportunity in support of the clause, pointing out the great cost of the clause in the case of the schools. While not finding fault with the city engineer, they claimed that he had not the necessary time to devote to the board's welfare. The clause carried by a good margin.

Clause 3 was defeated, receiving only one affirmative vote.

Subsequently applications for the position of architect were read from Herbert Matthews and Moore & Henry, while H. C. McBride was counted in it, he having applied about a year ago. Mr. Jeffrey proposed Mr. Graydon, and the four names were voted on by ballot. Messrs. Merchant and Carson acting as scrutineers. The following was the result:

H. McBride..... 8 8 8 Matthews..... 7 8 9

Moore & Henry..... 1 1 1 Graydon..... 1

The applicant receiving the lowest vote on each ballot dropped out, and Mr. Matthews was elected on the first ballot. The Board of Trade would accept the invitation to visit the public schools. The trip will be taken in September.

Mr. Thomas Porter resigned his position as teacher at the Collegiate Institute. The vacancy will be filled by No. 1.

Misses Florence O'Brien, Gertrude Sutton and Cora Davidson were granted leave of absence to attend the Normal School.

Mrs. Gardhouse, 522 Talbot street, applied for refund of entrance fee paid by her son, James, who had been expelled from the school. The fee had been handed over and before the examination, the youth left the city. The money was refunded.

Miss S. A. Thacker's request for a reconsideration of her application for a certificate of salary drew a motion that the remuneration be increased $50. Mr. Jeffrey questioned the legality of the motion, holding that the salary could not be raised without a notice. Chairman Blackwell ruled in Mr. Jeffrey's favor, and Trustee Griffin gave notice that he would move for an increase at the next meeting.

Principal Merchant's monthly report for June showed: Number on the Institute roll, 620; average attendance, 560; increase over June 1894, of 60. "The discipline in the department of drill, calisthenics and gymnastics," said Mr. Merchant, "continues to be unsatisfactory. A change of teachers in this department is, I believe, necessary." The report also stated that T. R. Bone was not raised without a notice. Chairman Blackwell ruled in Mr. Jeffrey's favor, and Trustee Griffin gave notice that he would move for an increase at the next meeting.

The following motions were made: By Trustee Craig—that owing to the increase in the attendance at the Simcoe street school, No. 2 committee be instructed to arrange for the opening of the third room in the Waterloo street school, to be held by the over-crowding. Referred to No. 1.

By Dr. Wilson—that the paper on composition used in the recent examination from Grade IV. to V. be referred to No. 1 for an examination as to content and several grammatical errors. Carried.

By Mr. Martin—that the salary of Principal Baker at St. George's school be increased to $300. Carried.

By Mr. Logan—that the salary of Mr. Bryant, as principal of Princess avenue school, be increased to $300. Ruled out, as Mr. Bryant had recently been appointed at $700, on the understanding that if his salary was increased an increase would be made at the end of the year.

Principal Merchant's monthly report for June showed: Number on the Institute roll, 620; average attendance, 560; increase over June 1894, of 60. The Secret Out.

"Exactly."
"Very good. So much for so much.
Now for the side-lights. Saw the girl
yesterday afternoon?""You?"
"Yes; I saw her. But I did not speak to her nor did I recognize her for the person she was. Indeed, I took her for another woman whom she greatly resembled. It was at the C Hotel.""Ah."
"I need not enter into any further particulars about this circumstance as it does not concern the affair before us, which stands quite apart by itself.
Enough that for reasons of my own I played the spy on this young woman
and saw her when she thought herself
alone, in the privacy of her own apartment. This was some time after noon and the great fact which I wish to bring before you is this, that she was then to all appearance (and my eye is accustomed to read countenances) perfectly happy and had not in face or bearing the least trace of sickness.""That is a point, certainly."
"Note it, and then add to this, that being still under the error of which I have spoken, I went back to the hotel
some three or four hours later, and wishing to confirm a former suspicion, sought my vantage spot again, and in conjunction with another witness whose testimony you will not need,
looked in upon this Mildred Farley again, when I perceived that a great change had passed over her. But it was not that of sickness. From happiness she had descended to misery, and in her pallor and wild, unrestrained attitudes I could detect the expression of despair, but not of bodily suffering or mental disorder. Now, what had occasioned this change in her in a space of time so short? I think I can answer that it was an interview with Dr. Molesworth. For according to his own story and that of the hotel clerk he was with her for a half hour or so in the afternoon; and though upon going out he told the hotel clerk he was coming back in the evening, many her something in his determination or in what had taken place at their interview, had destroyed in her every vestige of hope and happiness. For it was anything but an expectant ride when I saw after this visit, as it had been anything but an anxious woman whom I had seen before it.""So?"
"Now when did she fly?" the detective pursued. "Shortly after I saw her last. And how? On foot and quietly.
The hall boy saw her go out, and he says she had her little bag on her arm
and looked decent as usual, not composed, but like a woman in a delirium, nor even like one who meditates some dreadful crime. But then a boy's observation does not go for much, and we will let it pass. What we will remember though is this, that she had a veil on which covered her face, and that this veil was brown, or at least of a very dark color.
Two persons have told me so; the boy whose word, as I say, goes for something, and the chamber maid, who, though she did not see her go out, had ample opportunity for observing her veil earlier in the afternoon, and whose word on such a subject does go for something.
But, and mark to me a fact well, for it seems to me important, the veil that was clinging to her dress when she was brought into Mrs. Olney's parlor was gray and decidedly light; not the same
one at all, according to description,
which she wore when she went out of the hotel. What is the conclusion?
That she stopped somewhere. Where?
Another thing to find out, for I have about the poison. I went through Twenty-Second street very soon after leaving Mrs. Olney's last night, and in front of one of the houses between Fifth and Sixth avenues, I found a broken bottle reeking with the smell of bitter almonds. So that part of his story is true. I have brought the bits of broken glass; here they are."
The coroner looked at them curiously,
smelled them and glanced up at Mr.
Grove."Well," he suggested, in an inquiring
tone; he felt that the detective's silence meant something.
"Don't you notice anything peculiar about these pieces?""No, to be frank, I don't."
"Poison that is bought at a drug store usually has a label on the bottle."
"True.""And this phial once had a label on it."
"I see.""But it has been washed off, or rather rubbed off by a wetted hand. There are bits of it still remaining.""I perceive them."
"What inference can we draw? That caution has been used. Now caution is not an attribute of the suicide, whether that suicide was an intentional one or the result of a mistake.""Humph!"
"And then there is another thing that puzzles me. Dr. Molesworth declares he found her sitting on the steps. I looked at those steps; there was a light snow lying on them and this snow lay white and undisturbed as it would not have done if a woman had been sitting there. But then some little time had elapsed since he removed her from the spot and enough fresh snow might have fallen to cover up the traces which her skirts must have left behind her.""Only those skirts were not damp about the edges as they must have been if she had been sitting on a stoop under these circumstances. And this to my mind is good evidence that she did not sit there. I would sooner believeshe had been carried down the stoop and placed in the phaeton without putting her foot to the ground; only it happens to be Gen. Deek's house and the thing is impossible.""But how could you know about her skirts, you did not go near her?"
"But Harrison did, the man you sent
"And you have seen him since?"
"Five minutes after you did, sir."The coroner laughed, he did not understand such zeal.
"I knew you would send for me," resumed Mr. Grove, "and I wanted to have something to talk about.""I see," said the coroner; "well, go on.""I am almost at the end of my rope.
only—did you wonder what had become of Miss Farley's bag?""I did not know she had any."
"The people at the hotel say she had,
and here is the ocular proof of it." Mr.
Grove produced from under his coat a small but neat hand bag of black leather, having on one side two ornamental steel letters, one of which was
M. and the other F. "The initials of her name, you perceive."The coroner nodded.
"You wonder where I got the bag."
"Why, in the most natural place in the world; it was in the phaeton.""What I went out of the house last night I found that vehicle standing where it had been left, in front of the steps; and as according to the doctor's story it had been the real scene of death,
I naturally thought you would wish to have a look at it. I accordingly took possession of it and not seeing what else I could do with it at that time of night, drove it into a stable near by.
I expected every moment to be stopped by some body and so forced to reveal
my true character; but circumstances favored me and I got off with my prize unmolested. You will find it in charge of an officer at 68 West—""That is all right; but what about the look you took? You never left that phaeton for me to examine it?"Mr. Grove smiled grimly at the plain gold stud he wore as a cuff button. "I don't understand me." He then admitted apologetically. "Twas dark and I did not find much. Still I found something; the bag for instance."The coroner looked at him with a doubtful air. Did he suspect for the first time that the detective was concealing something from him? If so, he said nothing, and Mr. Grove went on blandly."This bag may have stories to tell.
Suppose you open it, sir."The coroner nodded and did so. A number of toilet articles came to light and some linen. All was fresh and neat.

Football Championship for 1905.

The knowing ones are speculating
on the football possibilities of the sea-

Since I first came to Oakville, which was in October, 1892, I have had occasion to know a good deal about the work done at the sanitarium which is situated here. I confess that I was at first prejudiced against "Gold Cure" in general because I thought that its proponents claimed for it too much. I am happy, however, to be able to state from known facts that I have completely changed my opinion. I have met several persons who came here and whom I knew previously to be slaves to the habit of drunkenness, leave after treatment in the sanitarium with a positive new condition. Facts are stronger than words; and hence I take great pleasure in recommending the treatment given in the Oakville Sanitarium to those who wish to be liberated from the terrible grasp of habitual drunkenness.(Rev.) R. T. BURKE,

PHENOMENAL GATHERING.

The Greatest Meeting of Women the World Has Ever Seen.Unique International Celebration in the British Metropolis.London, July 2.—The World's W. C.
T. U. meeting, which has just closed, was a phenomenal success. One of the gatherings was a reception given in the Mansion House by the Lord Mayor of London.
The famous edifice, which has had within its walls every famous Englishman of the century, was hardly large enough for the great throng. With mayor there was a large party of aldermen, councillors, judges, pursuivants,
magistrates, and other curious officials.
There were the wives and daughters of these officials, and there was a lot of other dignitaries, with their wives and daughters. All these, however, were but a handful compared with the members of the Congress, who numbered fully 2,000. They made a most effective picture, and one whose like the old building had never seen.The reception was soon over, and the delegates, after a rapid dinner, made their way to Royal Albert Hall, in Constitution. This is an immense building, almost equal in size to Madison Square Garden. It looks like a Roman amphitheater, surmounted by a wide, low dome. Numberless doors give exgress and ingress to the 10,000 persons who can find seats within, while scores of windows and ventilators keep the air ever sweet and fresh. Within the building are hat rooms and dressing rooms,
music rooms, and musicians' rooms,
communal and retiring rooms, kitchens and dining rooms. There is a mighty auditorium with tiers upon tiers
of galleries and boxes, a platform stage nearly as large as a house, and one of the best organs in the world.The doors were opened at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, but long before that hour there was a crowd around the building. When the heavy gates swung inward, they were followed by a solid wave of humanity which surged for a half hour until every seat was filled.
Shortly after 6 the great organ burst into melody. It filled the building throng and the footstep of the coming thousands already assembled. To its accompaniment, a great band, a boys'
choir of 400 voices, and a women's choir of equal strength marched in. The boys were dressed in dark clothes, the women in suits of dark blue, ornamented with white ribbons. They had no more than taken their seats and the music moment than the organ stopped.There was a pause, and then the 800 singers arose and broke into song. The band and the organ joined in. It was a master work of musical art. The concert lasted until 7 o'clock, and every number was rendered with skill and beauty. As the last note of the choir died away the chief officers of the evening, Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Frances E. Willard, Miss Agnes T. Weston and Mrs. Antoinette Sterling, came on the platform, accompanied by a uniformed body guard of four men from the British navy. The huge audience burst into applause and the women cheered, some standing on chairs and cheering.The leaders seated themselves, and then came in long lines of temperance delegations from various parts of Great Britain. There were children and grown folk, boys and girls, men and women,
and even white-haired septuagenarians.
There were teetotal policemen,
and T. A. B. firemen. There were postoffice clerks, soldiers, sailors, marines;
Wesleyans, Roman Catholics and Methodists. There were all sorts and conditions of men. All these, there were representatives of 25 great orders, with hundreds of branches and hundreds of thousands of members. As each delegation reached the platform, the leader
left the ranks and went to the front stage, to them on the floor.An ode was sung by the choir, and the audience, and then came representatives from foreign lands, wearing the costumes and carrying the flags of the countries from which they came. Twenty-eight countries entered and passed in succession to their seats, while the band played the national air of each country. Japan, the Straits Settlements, Egypt, Bulgaria and Iceland were magnificently attired and were applauded to the echo. No country passed without a noisy and enthusiastic welcome.
There was a hymn, a prayer, and two speeches by Lady Henry Somerset and Miss Francis E. Willard. Sir Wilfrid Lawson and J. H. Raper introduced resolutions recommending local option, a bedevilled, and the meeting was more music, and brief addresses
by W. S. Caine, M.P., the Rev. Canon Wilberforce and Miss Weston. Then came the address of "Mother Stewart,"
of Ohio, who is more than 80 years old;
Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, of Missouri;
Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, of Boston; Miss
Belle Kearney, of Mississippi; Miss Hallie, of New York; Miss Elizabeth
U. Yates, of Maine, and Miss Lilian Phelps, of Ontario. Then came more resolutions, a doxology by choir and audience, reinforced by band and organ, a benediction, and the meeting organ. London had seen the largest convention and the largest meeting of women the world had ever known.

CURIOUS AND INTERESTING.

The largest State building in the United States is the capitol of Texas.
It is also seventh in size among the great buildings of the world. It cost $3,500,000.An ostrich will never go straight to its nest, but always approaches it with winding devious and detours, in order, if possible, to conceal the locality from observation.The largest aerolite which has fallen since the dawn of history tumbled into the frozen soil of Greenland in 1870. It is now in the museum at Copenhagen.
It weighs 49,000 pounds.The Manhattan Life building, New York City, which is 350 feet high, is the tallest business edifice in the world.
It is 70 feet higher than the famous Trinity Church steeple.A North Sea codfishing boat carries an outfit of lines which extends eight miles in length, and has usually fixed upon it the amazing number of 4,680
hooks, every one of which must be dressed.W. A. Myers, of Quincy, Ill., writes us that a tooth weighing 9 3/4 pounds has been found in the river sands below that place. He says that it is probably a tooth of the extinct American elephant.The Imperial Canal of China is over 1,000 miles long. The canal of Languedoc, or the canal du Midi, to connect the Atlantic with the Mediterranean, is 148 miles long. It has more than 100 locks and about 50 aqueducts. Its highest part is 600 feet above the sea, and it is navigable for vessels of upward of 600 tons. The great North Holland Canal is 12 1/2 miles long, and has a depth of 20 feet. It is 51 miles long.Weakness is the symptom, impoverished blood the cause, Hood's Sarsaparilla the cure.
It makes the weak strong.

A CUP OF DELICIOUS

MAZAWATTEE

Will Remind you of the CHOICE
CHINA TEAS of THIRTY YEARS AGO.You can give no greater treat to your friends than a cup
of Mazawattee Tea.
It is all that Tea
should be, and is undoubtedly the finest in the world.There is probably no extra-vance greater than that of drinking inferior and low-priced Tea.
Better by far drink one cup of really fine Tea than a gallon of common, which is at once an insult to your palate and a source of serious injury to your digestion.

The Triumph of Love

IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE.

Every Man Who Would Know
the Grand Truth,The Plain Fact; the New Discoveries
of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life.Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure

The Wonderful Little Book Called

"Complete Manhood"

And How to Attain It.

"Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work
wonder with this generation of men."
The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power.A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.
To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despondency, etc.
To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy
and power.To cure forever effects of excesses,
overwork, worry, etc.
To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.Age no barrier. Failure impossible.
Two thousand references.
The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men who need it.A despairing man who had applied to us soon after wrote:
"Well, I tell you the first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"And another thus:
"If you dumped a cartload of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."Write to the Erie Medical Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "Complete Manhood." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book, in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is read and approved.

London and Environs

—The Forest Cricket Club will play the Aylton herd of Talbot street, the match beginning at 10:30 a.m. On Friday Forest will play the London Club.

—Mr. T. N. Wells, of the Dresden Times, and a member of the Star Bicycle Club, visited the "Advertiser" office last evening on his return from the C. W. A. meet at Waterloo.

—In Harvey vs. Struthers, tried at the last Wentworth County Court, Judge Muir gave judgment dismissing the case without costs. G. Gibbons, Q.C., London, for defense.

—It is intimated that the Bishop of Algoma has definitely declined the offer of the principality of Huron College, made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Mr. Miller. Several other names are mentioned, among them that of Prof. B. Watkin, of Lennoxville.

—Permits have been taken out for the erection of a two story brick house on the east side of Talbot street by J. R. Taylor, and for a two story brick house on Piccadilly between Wellington and Waterloo, by J. P. Thompson. J. A. Gauld is the architect for both.

—Mr. John Clark, of this city, in the recent examinations at Toronto University, took first class honors in each of the three branches—ethics, psychology and history of philosophy—of the honor department in philosophy of the third year. Mr. Clark at the same time successfully finished a part of the work in first year theology in Knox College.

—Amanda Wilson, after serving a six months term for vagrancy, was removed from the county jail to the House of the Good Shepherd in Toronto, this forenoon. Amanda is 53 years old, and has spent the last quarter of a century in jails and charitable institutions. The officials of the Old Woman's Home on Richmond street, took charge of her for a while, but everything did not at all times suit her, and she would break furniture and abuse the other inmates. The woman's conduct finally became such that it was necessary to place her under arrest.

MATRIMONIAL.

Miss Cleghorn, city, was bridesmaid at the wedding yesterday of Michael Alexander, son of Rev. G. C. Mackenzie, Brantford, and professor at the Trinity College, to Elizabeth Mand, daughter of Richard Niven, of Chome Hill, Listowel, Ireland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. C. Mackenzie, in the presence of many invited friends among whom were Mrs. Boomer, Mrs. Cleghorn, Dr. A. Cleghorn, Miss Cleghorn, Dr. and Mrs. Niven, of London. The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of white silk, with white lace and ribbons, and white hat trimmed with white feathers to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Miss Cleghorn was prettily dressed in a costume of white crepe, trimmed with Cambridge blue and lace and a white hat trimmed with feathers.

Mrs. Foster, of Kent street, has just recovered from a serious attack of La Grippe. This is the second siege she has had of this influenza, the first of which attacked Mrs. Foster about three years ago, and left her with a very troublesome cough, accompanied with chronic bronchitis, and a complication of other diseases, which made it almost impossible for her to attend church without disturbing the congregation by coughing, and, indeed, Mrs. Foster assures us that so bad were the spasms that she often feared she would burst a blood vessel during one of these severe attacks. It was very natural that under such circumstances numerous friends would recommend as many different "cure alls." She tried Cherry Pectoral, Tar, Linseed and other preparations, but was growing generally worse when a friend who had been benefited by Barkwell's Bronchial Balm advised her to try that, and in a few days she was out of bed, and the best feature is that she is now entirely freed from all symptoms of the Bronchitis, of which she never hoped to be cured. Mr. Millar, a neighbor, also had a bad cough and was completely cured by the same preparation.

TILSONBURG.

July 1.—Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Denman, of Ayr, spent the 1st of July with Mrs. Buckley, of this town.

The three Misses Breckenridge, two Misses Howard and Mr. Breckenridge, all of Toronto, are all spending their holidays at the Avondale manse.

Yesterday being a holiday, the town was completely deserted, nearly everyone spending the day with friends out of town.

A. O. F. Court Fidelity, No. 7320, held their election of officers on June 26, which resulted as follows: J. D. McLeay, P. C. R.; W. West, O. R.; S. Scott, secretary; W. D. Smith, treasurer; representative to High Court, John L. Hillary.

Mr. George Hodgson, of London; John West, of Windsor, and H. W. Sparling, of Toronto, all visited Tilsonburg friends on the 1st inst.

While going out for a sail yesterday afternoon, July 1, Ray, a little son of Mr. John A. Darrow, came nearly being drowned. While being seated in the boat with his grandfather, the craft upset, throwing the occupants out, but Mr. Darrow being at hand the boat was soon righted, and outside of a good ducking nothing serious result.

The Lisgar lacrosse team played a championship match in Bright on the 1st, and after a hard-fought battle succeeded in winning two games out of four. The Lisgars won the two first games.

J. G. Gott spent Sunday in Oshawa. H. L. Patterson went to Toronto on Saturday for a few days.

George Draper is spending the holidays at his home in Listowel, after which he will take a course of study at Osgoode Hall.

Wilmot and Miss Hogarth spent the 1st in Chatham with friends.

P. M. Giddes and L. W. LeBarre spent Sunday at Glen Morris.
