WAR ON POLITICS IN CIVIC CAMPAIGN

Questionnaires Bare Civic Wants of London's Youthful Citizens

SHOW CHILDREN REALIZE MANY SHORTCOMINGS

Answers Given by the High School Pupils Show Much Real Thinking.

ADULT SIZED PROGRAM

Chamber of Commerce Provided With Material For Several Years.

Enough suggestions have come to the Chamber of Commerce from the students of the Collegiate Institute and the Technical and Art School to make up an adult-sized program of work for several years to come.

Some days ago the chamber, in anticipation of the expansion campaign now in progress, conducted a questionnaire in the schools. The young folks were asked to answer six questions, relating to the occupations they desired to follow, their wishes as to further educational advantages, their intentions as to remaining in London, and finally what recreations they wished the city might provide for them, and what things the Chamber of Commerce ought to do for the betterment of this community.

An amount of solid thinking by the young people on the ways in which London could be made a better town in which to live was developed by the last question, which has amazed officers of the chamber. There has not been time as yet to complete an analysis of the more than 600 filled-in questionnaires, but an examination of 100 of them taken at random provides material for a real program of work.

For instance, there is an almost unanimous wish for more street parking.

LABOR NOT FRIENDLY TO TORY ADVANCES

Leaders Much Amused at the Effort To Pull Leg of Workers.

Throwing out attractive propositions to those outside the pale seems to have become the favored diversion over at Tory headquarters. One may well realize just how serious the situation appears to be to the Conservatives when it is disclosed that the Labor element of the city has already been approached casually on three occasions within the past few days by members of the grand old party, suggesting that it might be more than possible for the two elements to get together in some quiet, sequestered spot and arrive at a definite understanding.

"Merely trying to pull our leg," volunteered one of the Tories, "but we are discussing with The Advertiser on Wednesday the latest Conservative overture. They have thrown out two or three little reminders that there is considerable vacant space within the Tory lines, and that a special place is already ready for Labor to fit into.

"Have Them Guessing." "But they received no satisfaction from us. We have them guessing, but I know one thing, and that is there will be no alliance between Labor and Toryism in London except in one way—there would be no Conservative party."

The Labor man intimated that the Tories had mentioned two or three possibilities for candidature, seeking, no doubt, to ascertain with what degree of popularity, if any, one of them might be considered by the Labor followers. The report that the Conservatives had been considering seriously the advisability of transferring S. Frank Glass into home waters for a trial run, while a new man takes pot luck in East Middlesex, becomes somewhat strengthened today.

"S. F. Glass seems not a little worried," concluded the Labor man, "he invited me out to his place for a social visit. I was unable to accept his kind invitation, however."

VOLCANO AGAIN IN ERUPTION

Mexico City, Sept. 28.—Popocatepetl, the great volcanic mountain southeast of this city, is reported to be in more vigorous activity than usual. The inhabitants of the villages of Amecameca and Tlancas, at the base of the mountain are leaving their homes, fearing a serious eruption.

EXPECT STRIKERS TO RETURN TO MINES

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—Delegates to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, supporting the administration in its recommendation for resumption of work by strikers at two Kansas coal mines, seemed confident of victory when the voting was resumed today. Alexander Howat, the Kansas leader and opponent of the recommendation, was short by 230 votes of an even footing with the administration forces, and the roll call started with district 17, comprising Western and Southern West Virginia, which in caucus had pledged support to the administration.

Farmers Must Aid in Extermination of Corn Borer.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Canadian Press.—Owing to the terrific inroads of the European corn borer, the growing of corn will no longer be found practicable in the areas infested unless speedy extermination measures are taken by all farmers in co-operation with the Federal and Provincial governments, is the statement issued by the publication branch of the department of agriculture. The borer, says the statement, is at work over so great an area in the province of Ontario and in the adjacent states of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio as to make extermination impossible.

TORY PARTY DUE FOR AWAKENING

Labor Men Object to Statements Made by Conservative Speaker.

Labor of London has read with keen amusement the lengthy forecast of its probable attitude toward the Melghen Administration as outlined Tuesday by the Conservative speaker.

Particular objection is taken to the statement, "Organized Labor leaders will take the platform during the campaign on behalf of the Government." As the feeling expressed at the last particular charge with The Advertiser Wednesday, one of the men most prominently identified with the local labor movement explained that "such statements were highly erroneous."

"When we issue our official notice a few days hence I promise that the air will be cleared a little as to our attitude toward the Melghen Government. They would like it to appear, of course, that we are all split up and ready to fall in with the Conservative party, but the Tories are due for a grand awakening throughout the country within the next two weeks or so."

The delegate also took decided exception to another statement emanating from the Government mouthpiece to the effect that "Organized Labor is against political action." "That is directly opposite to the feeling expressed at the last Dominion conference in Winnipeg," he advised.

Eight Hundred Chamber of Commerce Members Re-Sign

Pride in the work of the teams which made reports at the first supper in the membership campaign of the Chamber of Commerce was expressed today when the members of the executive committee and others met in the chamber to make plans for the second year.

The total of new members, which is the real objective of the effort, was 42. The goal of the drive is the re-signing of the present 800 members, and the addition to the rolls of not less than 400 new members. Forty-two for the first day, therefore, was quite satisfactory, according to James Gray and others of the executive.

The second day should show a much greater total, for the first day of such a drive is always more or less of a "get ready" period. Five of the captains made no reports last evening. They will do so this evening, however.

Those captains who did report new members were: E. V. Buchanan, 7; E. R. Dennis and T. H. Yull, 6 each; W. H. Morgan, 5; J. W. Tomer and John Gray, 4 each; C. W. Corbett and J. B. Hay, 3 each; Fred St. Lawrence, 2; W. R. Jarman and A. F. Ford, 1 each.

Many Renewals. The number of renewals reported was 185, bringing the total of the first day to 227, those figures being a correction of the ones placed on the blackboard when the reports were checked this forenoon.

"Y" DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE TO DINE

The program for the occasion is as follows: At 5 o'clock an indoor baseball game between the director and staff, captained by W. D. Davidson, and "Y" members, captained by W. C. Benson, will be played, following which a game of football will be played between the directors and staff, captained by A. A. Langford, and "Y" members, captained by W. C. Benson.

Six o'clock, showers and plunger; 6:30, supper; 7:15, conference on program; 8:00, boys' work board; 8:45, membership, educational and religious work; 9:30, meeting of the board; 10, adjournment.

CONSPIRACY HEARING ADJOURNED

New York, Sept. 28.—George Gordon Rorke of Washington, held in bonds by federal authorities here on a charge of conspiring to furnish arms to the Sinn Féin in Ireland, went to Trenton today on a summons to appear before a federal grand jury which is inquiring into the discovery last June of 500 guns in the bunkers of the steamer Eastlake. The conspiracy charge against Rorke was continued yesterday for further hearing by United States Commissioner Hitchcock on October 10.

ALL UNIVERSITY STUDENTS MUST PASS DOCTORS

Protective Measure Has Been in Vogue For Some Years.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ALSO

All students entering Western University this year must undergo a medical examination, according to general regulations for that institution. This applies to both arts college and medical students, but in addition the latter are required to be vaccinated under the supervision of the director of the Institute of Health, Dr. H. W. Hill. Vaccination of medical students, unless it has been successfully carried out within a stated time previous to entry, is usually done at the Institute of Public Health, a certificate to this effect being given to each student. The medical examination is also compulsory for new students, but is not required of those who have passed the freshman year.

Protective Measure. These regulations have been in vogue for some time, as a protective measure for the student body of Western, and as only the best types of youth are accepted at Western University, no prospective students have been rejected in its history, because of medical unfitness. Overseas veterans who have been rendered unfit for service are allowed concessions, although it is pointed out that the medical examination is not intended to detect diseases or ailments which might menace the general student body.

The public school teachers of the city are also required to undergo medical examination for physical fitness, but such action is by no means new. "Medical examination of new public school teachers has been in force for the last thirty years," C. B. Edwards, senior inspector of public schools, informed The Advertiser Wednesday morning. "That is as long as I can remember."

PLAN BIG FAREWELL, COM. W. E. RICHARDS

Salvation Army Official To Be Given Rousing Sendoff.

Use of the Masonic Temple has been secured by the local Salvation Army for the purpose of holding the farewell meeting on Wednesday night, October 26, of Commissioner W. E. Richards, who will leave Canada soon to take the Western Australian territory over the Western Australian territory. It is expected that the silver band from the Chatham S. A. corps will be in attendance, as well as St. Thomas and all S. A. bands in the city. A monster parade through the main streets of the city is at present being planned, and all in all, one of the biggest days in the history of the Salvation Army in London is expected to be had. The Masonic Temple has also been secured for the afternoon services to be conducted on Sunday, October 27, by Major Booth on the occasion of his first visit to London.

It was learned today at local Army headquarters that Staff Captain Eva Smith, one of her aides in France, will accompany her on the visit.

Major Booth will give some varying recitals of her many experiences in France and Belgium.

STRANGE ROWBOAT CRUISE BY MAN AND DAUGHTER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Sighted by Chesapeake Bay fishermen five miles off Norfolk, Va., in an open rowboat, which they had been cruising the waters of the bay and the Potomac River for 63 days, 10-year-old daughter, Cora Eleanor, were later located by a police launch and brought to that port Saturday after a nation-wide search of the father and daughter was made known at police headquarters here today after notification from the Norfolk authorities.

DOLLAR BUYS 2,500 AUSTRIAN CROWNS

Vienna, Sept. 28.—The Austrian crown fell yesterday to a point where the dollar purchased 2,500 of them and the pound sterling 10,000. A wild stampede of buying resulted on the stock exchange, where everything on the list was selling madly in a general effort to get rid of crowns.

WOMAN AND KIDDIES PUT OFF STREET CAR

Conductor Refuses To Accept Transfer Slip and Calls On a Police Officer To Remove Passengers.

Because of the confusion, resulting from the order issued by London street railway officials that no transfers are to be accepted by conductors at points other than those designated transfer points, a local woman, her young son and daughter, are said to have suffered a humiliating experience at Dundas and Richmond streets Monday evening.

The woman, with her three children, boarded a street car at a point on Dundas street east, and rode to the main intersection, with transfers for an Oxford street car. As it was 6:20 p.m., she walked north to Queen's avenue, where she boarded an Oxford car, taking this action to avoid the super-hour rush. Continued On Page Three.

Lions Will Be Hosts To Many

Mr. Imrie is publisher of the Edmonton Journal, has just completed a 1,200-mile trip through the Peace River district, and is qualified to speak on conditions in the great northwest as few others can. $85,000,000 SPENT TO AID SOLDIERS

Montreal, Sept. 28.—"Public moneys to the amount of $85,000,000 have been spent on the re-establishment of the returned soldier on the land and probably not one man in a hundred knows that there are only about 60 persons to hear an important statement on the subject," said J. Howard Falk, president of the Canadian Conference on Public Welfare, here last evening.

SHIFT STILLMAN CASE TO CANADA

Paris, Sept. 28.—Fire broke out this morning on the Magasin aux Printemps, one of the largest department stores in Paris, and in a short time it was seen that an entire block of the store would be destroyed.

HOUSING LOANS WILL BE UNDER CLOSE REVIEW

Provincial Officials To Visit City in Near Future.

ARCHITECT MAY COME

The finance committee of the council will hold a rather important meeting this afternoon. Interest centres on the visit of an accountant from the Provincial Housing Commission. There is a considerable discrepancy between the provincial and local figures as to the amount of loans that have been secured by the city for erecting houses. The figures of the local commission show that the city has still considerable leeway in the matter of loans, and was for giving favorable consideration to a number of applications for loans. How Toronto word was sent back to the city that it had about reached the limit of loans.

Ask Explanation. The city asked for an explanation and the accountant is coming here to furnish this. It may also be that an official of the architect's department, if not the provincial architect himself, will be here to go over the houses which have been erected by the local commission, and which are subject of complaint in regard to their construction.

Another matter of importance to be considered is the placing of a contract for firemen's uniforms. The committee at its last meeting made a recommendation after going over the tenders. This tender, the committee has made out of the city. Because of this objection was taken at the council meeting, though not openly, and the matter went back to the committee. Just what will be done about the matter today is a problem. It is said that the tender which the committee was for accepting would save the city some $1,200.

On Thursday evening they will visit Imperial Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 2659, one of the youngest lodges in Toronto, and the local officers will confer degrees on candidates for this lodge. On Friday evening, the Star of Bethlehem officers will visit McKinley Loyal Orange Lodge of Toronto, one of the largest Orange lodges in that city. Degrees will also be conferred on candidates at this session by the London brethren.

The party, which will be in charge of W. M. Clarke, worshipful master of Star of Bethlehem Lodge, will return to London by motor Saturday morning. Star of Bethlehem is the "baby" Orange lodge of this city, having been granted its charter about one year ago.

HOUSE SET AFIRE BY UNKNOWN INDIVIDUAL

Toronto, Sept. 28.—A deliberate attempt to burn a three-story house on Cecil street in this city late last night is the belief of city firemen. Neighbors report that a man rushed out of the house a few minutes before the fire was noticed, and the fire fighters found walls cut through and spaces in gasolene and turpentine. The house was fully furnished, but no person was in it when the firemen arrived. It is said to be owned and occupied by Giuseppe Lametta.

The fire was quenched before it had made much progress.

MEETINGS OVER SCHEDULE CUT

Street Railway Men's Union Will Decide Thursday On Action To Be Taken.

The members of the Street Railway Men's Union will stage two meetings on Thursday, one at 2:30 p.m. and the other at 7 p.m., when the cut in the schedule and working hours of the men will be reviewed and the action to be taken, if any, decided. The situation is the same as on Tuesday. President J. Colbert of the union states that the union has had no further communication from the company since the last meeting. In the meantime the company is perfecting the new schedule which it is the present intention to put into force on Saturday.

Statements made in regard to the dispute are similar in meaning and tone of those of Tuesday. May Not Be Accepted. Ald. Ashton intimated that the motor-men and conductors may have to bow to the action of the company in this case, inasmuch as their agreement with the company says that no man is to work less than nine hours daily. However, with the trackmen and barnmen it is different, and the big fight with the company is going to be the reduction in the time of these men, whose wage is small at the present, and to cut an hour daily is going to mean much to them.

The change in the schedule will not be some of the motor-men and conductors as hard as some. The others will lose a full hour and some sixteen will lose only fifteen minutes.

It was stated by one of the conductors that the same situation was practically given by Ald. Ashton, that the objection of the car men to the cut really has its basis in the policy of not letting the company get away with anything without a fight.

Was Not Necessary. Ald. Ashton thought that some of the road work which the company had done, and he pointed to Stanley street, and had been let go, and in this way the company could have husbanded its finances. He said that it was common knowledge that the company was not making money, and had not for the past four or five years.

What action the men will take at their meetings tomorrow is not known. It is generally conceded that they will make an objection to the cutting down of wages in order to emphasize on the cut on the barn and trackmen. The union officials are in a rather delicate position in objecting to a cut in working hours, inasmuch as the same of the men planks in labor's platform is an 8-hour day.

Purchasing of German Marks Has Proven Bad Investment

with reparations credits, but to provide for essential imports as of copper and cotton.

"Third, German banks and merchants are not succeeding in obtaining renewals of short term loans abroad, secured by deposits of marks in Germany."

The paper adds that there are more or less the same causes which have operated to depress the mark since early July. It expresses the view that the concessions of France to take part in the reparations in kind hold out the hope that the German mark may soon arrive at some measure of stability.

VOTERS FAVOR BEST MEN AT HELM OF CITY

Best Interests of the City Demand Freedom From Political Influences.

PICK THE BEST MAN

Claim Conservatives Have Failed To Meet Standard in Late Years.

While there are those who express the fear that the approaching federal election may be slated for a date that will seriously interfere with the 1922 municipal contest, there are others who see the salvation of future municipal contests in this fact.

For some weeks past there have been whispers going the rounds that the coming municipal contest would be fought out on political lines. It took many years of hard work to oust politics from municipal affairs, and it would be the cause of universal regret among those who have the best interests of the city at heart if politics are once more introduced.

There are evidences that in the past politics have been entirely absent, and the mayor and aldermen have been picked with an eye to getting the best men for the job.

Talking Politics. The political talk is said to come from the Conservatives, who face in this a hardier. However, a Conservative mayor, it is some years since a Conservative has held the post of chief magistrate. C. M. R. Graham, who served his third term in 1914, being the last. Since then Dr. Stevenson, C. R. Somerville and Mayor Little have all been Liberals.

"The Conservatives have not been putting up good men, and the people have been picking the Liberals. Not that they were Liberals, but because the best man happened to be a Liberal."

Is the way one well-known official put it. Another official said that he thought there was a working agreement whereby the Liberals and Conservatives would alternately take their turn at the mayoralty. But, of course, the best plans of men and mice hardly stand when the political talk of the present is said to be due to the fact that Ald. Frank Harley and Ald. J. C. Wilson are being warned up to face the analysis of this year's council. There are twelve aldermen and the mayor. Mayor Little is a Liberal, as are also two of the aldermen. The other ten aldermen are Conservatives.

SENATORS PLAN NIGHT SESSIONS

Washington, Sept. 28.—With a view to expediting action on the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary, and on tax revision legislation, Republican leaders planned today to put through a program calling not only for night sessions of the Senate, but for the beginning of the sessions one hour earlier than usual. The tax bill would be considered during the day and the treaties at night.

There is a desire to dispose of the treaties before the beginning of the conference on the limitation of armaments, and since the three parts must be based on separately, leaders plan to lose no time in getting their consideration fully under way.

C. OF C. ENROLLS 240 MEMBERS IN DAY'S DRIVE

Results of Campaign To Date Highly Pleasing To Officials.

ENTHUSIASM KEY NOTE

With 240 members enrolled as the result of the first day's canvass, the local Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday took its first step towards success in its drive for 1,000 members. Reports from thirteen of the sixteen teams, which are canvassing the four districts into which the city has been divided, were received at a dinner given in the Tecumseh by the directors of the organization at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Nearly one hundred active workers, all confident of reaching the goal before daylight on the third day, chatted the very air with enthusiasm by their applause as each of the larger reports were read. Excepting a few remarks of encouragement made by Robert A. Crosby, one of the directors of the campaign, no speeches marked the occasion, but an excellent entertainment was provided by Miss Topley Thomas and A. G. McCulloch of this city.

Results Pleading. The results of the day's work were highly pleasing to the officials of the campaign, judging from the various remarks made at the close of the evening. According to Gordon Phillips, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the total was well up to the expectations of the committee. "But much greater results are expected on Wednesday and Thursday," he said.

In the majority of instances only two and three members of the different teams worked on Tuesday, but on the last two days of the campaign it is expected that every man of the canvasser will be working full time. It was pointed out by Mr. Parcell, one of the organizers of the campaign, that some of the men from whom the greatest results were expected had made no returns up to the present time.

One of the pleasing features of the first day was the large percentage of new members reported. Of the total, 154 names enrolled by the various teams, 45 were those of men who, up to the present time, have never held membership in the Chamber of Commerce. The officials of the organization, who are working independently of the teams, reported 86 renewal memberships.

District No. 1, canvassed by four teams, under the direction of Vice-Chairman Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, divided honors with District No. 2, worked by five teams under Vice-Chairman A. J. Mitchell. Forty-four members were secured in each of the two districts. In District No. 4, with only two teams canvassing, under the direction of Vice-Chairman J. M. Watt, 38 members were enrolled. District No. 3, five teams, two of which made no report, secured 28 members. Vice-Chairman George D. Clarke was in charge of District No. 3.

Team Reports. Following are the reports given by the various team captains: W. R. Jarman, 16; J. W. Toner, 19; C. W. Corbett, 9; W. Morgan, 7; E. R. Dennis, 11; Arthur Ford, 1; B. Hay, 5; T. H. Yull, 20; Adjutant Martin, 14; F. St. Lawrence, 8; R. Taggart, 6; E. V. Buchanan, 22, and Captain Gunn, 16. Teams captained by A. G. A. Wenke, C. S. Martin and E. Jenkins, respectively, made no reports.

Robert Crosby, in a brief address, eulogized the Chamber of Commerce in this city as the most successful organization of its kind in Canada. In the three years of its existence, he said, it had accomplished wonders. For this reason he believed that the drive now under way was but merely a campaign, but an expression of confidence on the part of the businessmen of London in the work of that organization. He urged every canvasser to attend the dinners to be given this evening and on Thursday. The members of the teams should bring with them all those newly enrolled.

He advised special efforts to bring in as members the businessmen who cry about the business depression.

Do you discriminate at the dining table—or are you thoughtless?

In thousands of homes, a "line" is drawn at the breakfast table. Tea or coffee is served for "grown-ups" and Postum for children. But some parents do not discriminate. Tannin and caffeine, the injurious contents of tea and coffee, seriously retard the development of the delicate nerve tissues in children.

Consequently, instead of rich, satisfying Postum, children are over stimulated by the drugs in tea and coffee; and so may grow up irritable and nervous. Any doctor can tell you that this is a great evil and should be corrected.

Although some parents feel a certain justification for the personal indulgence in tea and coffee, yet the harm to them may be equally serious. It may take a little while longer for the drugs in tea and coffee to affect an older person, but in many cases the nervous system and allied bodily functions will become weakened. The surest way to avoid such possibilities is to quit tea and coffee entirely and drink Postum instead. The change permits you to get sound, restful sleep.

Postum is the well-known, meal-time beverage. Like thousands of others you will like it because, in flavor, it is delightful and satisfying.

Do away with the distinction at the table. Serve delicious Postum, piping hot, to all the family. One week's trial and it is likely that you'll never return to tea and coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

"There's a Reason"

Kissed by Witnesses For 28 Years, Court Bibles Discarded.

AFTER having been used to administer the oath in all county and supreme court sessions for 28 years, three copies of the New Testament have been discarded by courthouse officials and new ones purchased to replace them.

For almost three decades, witnesses, including several men held on a murder charge, have kissed the books in token that they would "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," and many jurors have held the books and sworn that they would "give a true verdict give, according to the evidence."

The new books are leather-bound, and cost far more than the old, but the discarded ones, although of cheap material, have been associated with so many incidents of note in Middlesex court history that, in the opinion of court officers, their original value has been greatly enhanced.

you are to have good times in London," he said, "you must stop thinking and talking hard times. The merchant who maintains a discouraged attitude will most certainly instill that spirit in his would-be customers. I strongly advise each and every one of you to go hard after the man who refuses to join because he thinks times are too hard."

Welcome Guests.

A hearty welcome was extended by the members of the various teams and the officials of the Chamber of Commerce to the mayor of Kitchener, the fire chief and nine aldermen from that city, who as a party visited London Tuesday, and were guests of the evening. Included in the party were Mayor Chas. Greb, Aldermen J. L. Holtz, W. Hartlons, A. Bricker, A. A. Armstrong, L. Hagehorn, J. Hassenauer, Jerome Lang, C. Baetz and C. J. Massel and Fire Chief H. Guerin.

Two solos sung by Mr. McCulloch were enthusiastically received and Miss Thomas gave some delightful Irish character sketches.

EXCELLENT EXHIBITS

De La Salle School Fair held by the boys in St. Peter's Parish Hall Tuesday afternoon and evening was a decided success. Besides individual prizes awarded for each variety of vegetables and flowers, special prizes were given for flower and vegetable collections.

The following received first, second and third respectively for their vegetable exhibit: James Wilkinson, Percy Lethbridge and Charles Bardavill.

The winners of the flower collection were: Edward Orendorff, Percy Lethbridge and John Ulien.

The team which won the best bouquet were awarded Edward Orendorff, William Fox and Frank Harding.

The fair was appreciated by the parents of the children and many friends. The exhibits were inspected by H. Fry.

CUNLIFFE WILL NOT STAND FOR FEDERAL HOUSE

Declines Nomination As Independent or Soldier Candidate in City.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION

Explaining that his decision comes only after several days' consideration, J. W. Cunliffe, chairman of the London Housing Commission, advised the Advertiser Wednesday that he would be unable to accept the nomination as independent candidate in London at the federal election.

For a period of more than four years Mr. Cunliffe was the popular president of the London command of the Great War Veterans' Association, and with in the past month has been urged, he says, by a number of his friends and acquaintances to allow his name to go before the electors. More than a week ago he intimated that should he accept the proffered standard it must be as a straight independent, holding that no returned man should enter the political arena as a representative of either of the old-line parties.

His announcement, it is believed, settled indefinitely any possibility that there may be a soldier-candidate in London. No official action has ever been taken by the three soldier associations in the city. Mr. Cunliffe being championed by individual members. With the latter now eliminated from the field, it is far from probable that another soldier will be suggested in his place.

Are Non-Political.

The G. W. V. A. and the Army and Navy Veterans, as well, have always maintained that they, as organizations, are non-political and non-sectarian. At the recent regular session of the latter body this point was emphasized, frank exception being taken to the report that they were prepared to support a certain candidate, and insure that he was nominated. On this one policy alone the executives of these organizations have protested against the proposed amalgamation with the newly-formed Canadian Legion, alleging that the latter is merely a political dodge. Despite this attitude, however, the returned men throughout the Dominion have gradually but surely undergone a change in opinion relating to the handling of the country's affairs at Ottawa, irrespective of other affiliations they are now determined evidently that sweeping changes shall be accomplished at the coming election.

GROCERY PRICES DROP FORTY PER CENT IN YEAR

Sugar Slumps From $22.50 to $7.75 Per Bag.

NO CHANGE IN MEATS

Local grocers do not anticipate any further marked decreases in foodstuffs just at present. They concur, however, in an estimate by the Canadian Grocer, a trade journal published in Toronto, that the average decrease in prices of some twenty staple grocery lines within the past year has been over 40 per cent.

Meat products have been the slowest to come down, despite very marked drops in the price of live hogs and cattle. The packers advance an explanation for the continued high prices of the more choice classes of meat on Europe will close at the local postoffice on Thursday, September 29, 1921, to be forwarded via S. S. Minnedosa, sailing from Montreal on September 30, 1921. This mail will consist of all classes. Letters and registered matter at 10 a.m., parcel post and newspapers at 2 p.m.

Perhaps the greatest price variation is shown in sugar, which from $5.75 a bag in 1914, went up to $22.50 in 1920, and is now quoted at $8.75. Eggs and butter still fluctuate in price. Eggs were 90 cents a dozen last fall. They are now selling at 50 cents a dozen, but they are liable to go up or down, according to export facilities and the supply and demand at home. Eggs cost nearly twice as much as they were in 1914, and butter is still 12 cents higher than it was seven years ago. Butter is now varying from 45 to 50 cents a pound.

But while meats have not dropped in price at the same rate as other foodstuffs, there has been a reduction of approximately 25 per cent for the better grades. Higher grade teas and coffees are only slightly lower. One reason why coffee does not drop noticeably in price is the addition of the war tax last May. When high prices were at their peak, there was no war tax on coffee.

Soaps Are Down. Soaps are down about 50 per cent in price, as compared with the peak of the war-time prices. Peppers and spices are 25 to 50 per cent lower. Biscuits and cakes are only about 10 per cent reduced in price, and the competition of 10-cent bakeries has not yet stopped other bakers selling bread at 11 and 12 cents a loaf.

Rice, tapioca and sago are approximately 75 per cent cheaper. Carolina rice today sells at 15 cents a pound, and China rice is worth 10 cents. During the high price era the finer grades of rice cost 25 cents a pound. The better grades of tapioca, which now sell at 15 cents a pound, could not be obtained then, while the cheaper grades, which now retail at 10 to 12 cents, were 20 cents a pound when prices were at their peak. Sago prices are reduced at about the same percentages.

All Prices Decrease. One year ago prices were 138.85 per cent higher than in September, 1914, according to the Canadian Grocer, but within the past year decreases have totalled over 40 per cent.

Restaurant prices have shown some slight decreases, but many restaurateurs claim they are still paying high wages, as high as $25 a week with board to waiters. Even dishwashers readily command $18 a week. The drop in the prices of foodstuffs allows only a slight reduction in restaurant prices, it is claimed, because wages and overhead expenses have not been reduced proportionately.

WILL NOT RUN AGAIN. Brantford, Sept. 28.—John Harold, Liberal-Unionist M. P. for Brantford, will not again be a candidate. In a statement issued this morning he says that he was prepared to run as an independent on a national policy of moderate protection, but finds that this is impossible, and consequently will not be a candidate in the forthcoming federal election.

FIND OF SAND PROVES BOON TO CONTRACTORS

Saved Company Several Hundred Dollars On Building Collegiate.

MAKING FINE PROGRESS

Employees of the Kingston Construction Company, which firm is engaged on the erection of the new Collegiate Institute, while not prospectors, recently made a "find" on the site of the new building which is saving the company several hundred dollars. During excavation operations workmen uncovered a large quantity of sand, of that quality ideal for building purposes.

Because of this nature of the subsoil, it was not necessary for the Kingston Construction Company to purchase or haul sand for building purposes, and by this means expense was cut down. However, it is not likely that the grounds adjoining the new high school will be utilized by the city as a sandpit.

Progressing Favorably. Work on the new school, which will cost $311,846, is progressing favorably, and the contractors declare that it will be completed by December 31 next, which is the time limit. The job was delayed considerably a few months ago, owing to inability of the contractors to obtain a supply of cut stone. The new drill hall is completed, and will be ready for use by Collegiate Institute pupils by November 1. At present the concrete floor is covered with water from recent heavy rains, but this will be drained off.

The complete equipment of the new building, it is estimated, will cost $35,000. W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, is obtaining figures on this equipment, and contracts for some will be awarded in the near future.

THREE YEARS IN KINGSTON PEN FOR KECHEGO

Indian Who Cut Constable's Throat Sentenced by Judge Logie.

GOOD CHARACTER COUNTS

Three years at hard labor in Kingston penitentiary was the sentence meted out to Thomas Kechego, Indian of the Muncie Reserve, for wounding Charles McConnell, Byron Sanatorium policeman, by Judge Logie at the supreme court Wednesday at noon.

Amelius Logan, chief of the Muncie Indians, gave evidence as to the past good record of the prisoner, and that he had a mother and father to support.

As Kechego was deaf, Judge Logie explained the matter to Chief Logan, and instructed him to make his remarks known to Kechego. "The grand jury has found true bills on three charges against him," commented the court. "First, he was charged with wounding with intent to kill, for which he could be sentenced to life; second, on a charge of wounding with intent to do bodily harm, for which he might have been sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary; and, third, on a charge of simple wounding, for which he might be sentenced to a shorter term. He has pleaded guilty to the last of these."

"Tell your young men that it is a serious thing to carry knives and razors, and tell them that they must not drink whiskey." The crime was that on August 27, when McConnell was assisting County Constable Byron Dawson to bring the prisoner and another Indian to London after they had been arrested at Springbank Park on charges of being intoxicated. Kechego slashed the officer's throat with a razor. Kechego claimed that he was under the influence of doped whiskey and did not remember the affair.

Made In France Exhibit Coming

Chamber of Commerce Reports Sample Train To Be Here October 20.

According to information received by the local chamber of commerce, the "Made in France" sample train, which is now touring Canada, and which is scheduled to visit London October 20, will remain in the city only one day. The train will arrive at 4 o'clock in the morning, and will leave at 11 o'clock in the evening.

Because of its brief stay in London visitors will have only four hours in which to view the exhibition. The train is invited in the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, and in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. The morning will be reserved for industry, commerce and official delegations.

The train will be under the personal supervision of Count d'Arnaud, president of the mission. While the train is open for inspection it is expected that the count and his staff will remain on duty, but arrangements are being made by the local chamber of commerce to entertain the president and four of his companions either at luncheon or dinner. Senator Hon. C. B. Baubien has been asked to give a luncheon in appreciation of the courtesy. The train will be in Kitchener and Stratford on October 17; Chatham,

CAPTAIN'S LICENSE IS SUSPENDED FOR YEAR

Montreal, Sept. 28.—One year's suspension of the certificate of Capt. Delo Wilbur Whitley, master of the steamer Key West, and a severe reprimand for his second officer, C. G. Gilman, was imposed by the formal investigation into the collision between the Key West and the schooner Oliver Mowatt on September 1 in Lake Ontario, which caused the sinking of the Oliver Mowatt and the drowning of her captain, T. L. Vane, the mate, Jacob Corby, and the cook, Miss Carrie McGuigan.

plition of several, one making the specific suggestion that more trees be set, and that many flowers be planted along the streets. While commending a public library, many pupils express a wish that more vocational books were available.

Better housing and living accommodation for students who come to London from outside the city is the demand of several. "Bum the river" is the advice of one student—probably not at all of profanity, but having reference to the Springbank dam project. Town-planning appeals to others, and "rush the hotel project," say a considerable number.

Demand for Arena. The unanimity of demand for an arena or stadium wherein sports may be conducted all the year round is impressive. Along with that "plank" is a wish of many of the Collegiate Institute students for a campus on which they may have their school contests.

Thinking of the general public rather than themselves, several of the young folks urge a new union railroad station, a better system of street names, and "rush the hotel project," say a considerable number. Answering the question of what recreations the young folks would like the city to provide, the list would seem to indicate the following, among others: A children's day at Tecumseh Park once a week, more opportunities for the playing of baseball, hockey, tennis, basketball and golf, more swimming pools, skating rinks, gymnasiums, especially for young folks; encouragement of more sports leagues, and the provision for ample outdoor winter recreation. Several of the girls ask for swimming pools for their sex which shall be open all the year.

Percentage Too High. Analysis of the answers to the question of whether the young folks intend to remain in London after they complete their school days discloses the fact that 24 per cent have decided to leave the city. According to those who have conducted similar questionnaires in other communities that percentage is too high to be satisfactory to London. Making due allowance for the fact that the majority of the young people will never carry out their present intentions, it is yet true that nearly one-quarter of the students of high school age in London are at present thinking about going to other and larger centers to make their careers.

"On the basis of that showing," it was said at the Chamber of Commerce, "the taxpayers of London are spending too much money on the education of boys and girls for the benefit of Toronto, Detroit and other communities. The remedy is to make London so attractive to our young folks that after we have raised and educated them they will prefer to remain here."

GERMAN MARK HITS BOTTOM

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The exchange rate of the German mark sank to a new low record of 164 to the pound sterling this afternoon, mainly owing to speculative selling.

Transactions in the exchange market recently had been heavy, and gradually eased the quotations of the mark, owing to the uncertain outlook concerning financial conditions in Germany, but today's operations brought the most dramatic fall yet experienced. On the stock exchange German 3 per cent bonds, which last year were quoted at 22½, were offered today at 3½.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probability the case of ten out of every hundred people. The cause is the formation of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning, sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of a powerful antacid, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisulphate of magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial sweeteners. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphate of Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

CENSUS FIGURES BARE WEAKNESS OF TORY POLICY

Will Likely Be Withheld by Premier Meighen Until After Election.

PER CAPITA DEBT JUMPS Six Times What It Was Under Prosperous Laurier Regime.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—It is somewhat significant that census figures are coming out so slowly. The belief here is that no complete census returns such as would give a fair idea of the present population of Canada, and show what progress has been made during the ten years since the Conservative administration assumed power in 1911, will be forthcoming until after the election.

It is known that many of the census returns partially collected by the census department, but not published, show that there has been an actual loss of population, not only in the older-settled portions of the country, where immigration has not swelled the total, but in centres in the West as well. It is understood that the city of Vancouver proper, for example, will show an actual loss in population during the past ten years.

The Conservative administration for the past ten years has therefore failed in two directions: It has increased the national debt nine times what it was when the Liberal party went out of office, and it has not attracted additional population to help share the increased burden.

May Be Too High.

The population at the last census in 1911 and the total population at that time was 7,200,000. A semi-official estimate of the population some months ago was 8,500,000; but the department is said to be far from sanguine now that the estimate will be borne out by the actual figures. During the ten years which have elapsed since 1911, one million nine hundred thousand immigrants have entered the country. If even the optimistic earlier estimate be taken, this leaves a deficit in the present population of the Dominion of over six hundred thousand.

Attracted Immigrants.

Under the forward policy of the Laurier Government, the people were not only attracted to Canada, but conditions were such as to induce them to remain here, so that it did not require any expert statistician to discover them. During the Borden administration a cloud was placed upon the little of Canadian, and by virtue of amendments to the naturalization and franchise acts of the Dominion men and women who had long regarded themselves as citizens of Canada were given to understand that they were still "foreigners." Undoubtedly, many such were driven from the country.

Apart entirely from the fact that the per capita debt (man, woman and child) is close to $300 as against $48 when the present Government came in, the situation is the fact that total receipts from direct taxes, including income and business profits, inaugurated by the present Government, are eaten up in the payment of railway deficits. The public might not mind this if railway service were better and rates lower under Government ownership. The public itself can judge of the service; the facts are that railway rates have increased one hundred per cent since the Government took over the Canadian National.

Under such circumstances why should population increase?

MOTORISTS MAY FIGHT CHARGES

Blame Fee System For County Constables' Zeal.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
SARNIA, Sept. 27.—Many motorists from this city and the surrounding district, who have motored to London, have now received summonses to appear in police court at Arva to answer charges of speeding in the county of Middlesex.

All the motorists summoned blame the fee system in paying county constables for their receiving summonses, and tonight it was stated that they would pool funds and fight the cases to the limit when they appear in court.

Officials of the Sarnia Motor Club have also been asked to aid those summoned, but as yet the local association has taken no definite line of action towards doing so.

Boys Were Saved.

But for the prompt action of Captain Major of the ferry Omar D. Conger, Frank and Edward Johnston of Port Huron would have been drowned in the St. Clair River early this afternoon off Sarnia, when their canoe upset, throwing them into the river, from which they were rescued by the ferry crew.

Watching the youths in the boat, Captain Major saw a gust of wind catch their sail and upset the tiny craft. He immediately headed the ferry towards them and rescued the boys just as their boat on which they were hanging sank beneath their weight.

Will Raise Yacht.

The Reid wrecking crew of this city tonight commenced to raise the remains of the $150,000 palatial yacht owned by C. Harold Wills, the auto magnate, which burned and sank in 20 fathoms of water off this port.

With the raising of the boat a probe may be opened by the state authorities, owing to the fact that a ferry boat sank near the same spot some time ago, and suggested that spite work may have had something to do with the burning and sinking of the two boats.

INDUSTRIAL SECRETARY RESIGNS AT BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, Sept. 27.—Harry Fleming, who has been a Y. M. C. A. industrial secretary for this port, "big four" group of factories in Brantford for the past three years, has resigned from office. It is understood that the "big four" factories will no longer have a secretary, and that Mr. Fleming will take up other local work.

Fred Waring, charged in the county criminal court today with seduction of a young girl at Mohawk Park, was acquitted. Evidence was given to show that another youth had been concerned in the case.

BELMONT, Sept. 27.—Over 3,000 people made their way to Belmont today and saw the best horse show in the history of the Yarmouth and Belmont Agricultural Society.

"I have attended the Belmont Fair for a great many years and the show today is by far the best," said Archie Bickle, ex-warden of Middlesex County. "The horse exhibits are exceptionally good. I don't know when I have seen a finer collection of animals at a fall fair."

Capt. Tom Robson of London was also greatly impressed with the number and class of exhibits, and voiced the same opinion as Mr. Bickle.

Have Good Balance.

Although rain threatened all afternoon, crowds of people continued to arrive until 10 o'clock, and the financial statement will be a great improvement over that of 1920.

The exhibits of home-cooking and fancy work were of unusual merit, the pumpkin pies just coming in melt in the mouths of hungry visitors, who were lucky enough to obtain a strangle hold on the prize culinary efforts of the women of the township.

Several speeches marked the official opening of the fair this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Dr. Hugh Stevenson, M.L.A. for London, M. McVicar, M.L.A. for East Elgin and D. A. McIntyre of Yarmouth gave short addresses, complimenting the directors and farmers on the fine exhibits that crowded the grounds.

Ed. Connors of Springfield with a beautiful team of blacks, won the shield presented by Howe Bros. of London for the best-matched team of horses on the grounds.

Best 2-Year-Olds.

Joe Jenkins of Belmont had the best 2-year-old foal and foal in the heavy draught class, C. Drawberg of New Sarnum had the prize 1-year-old filly and brood mare.

Grant Summers of Aylmer showed the prize draught team and they were beautiful.

In the agricultural class D. Crawford of Belmont took first in the 2-year-old fillies, C. Van Silke, Glenworth, 1-year-old filly, O. Cross, Belmont, foal, and L. Craig, Belmont, best span of agricultural horses.

In the general purpose class J. D. Ferguson, St. Thomas, showed the best 2-year-old foal and foal while P. Parquhar took the prize for the best team.

Carriage Horses.

The showing of carriage horses and roadsters was exceptionally good. W. St. John of Belmont won first prize in the three- and one-year-old filly class; J. Cline had the best brood mare, and Charlie Shore the prize foal, S. P. Charlton, single carriage (15½ hands and over), and Mrs. J. Campbell, Belmont, single carriage (15½ hands and under). W. H. Shore span of fillies over 15½ hands, and John Charlton, Springfield, under 15½ hands.

In the roadster class W. H. Shore won in the three- and one-year-old fillies, and W. Martin in the two-year-olds. Mr. Shore also took first in the brood mares and foals. C. Charlton, Springfield, showed the best single roadster, and Adam Harkness the prize span.

Leota Harkness proved to be the best lady driver under 16, and Mrs. W. Campbell, Wilton Grove, in the senior class.

Grant Summers of Aylmer was given the prize for the most valuable team on the grounds, while Evelyn Harkness won first in the pony class.

The horse judges were: Dr. Tamlin, Henry Hall and Kenneth Ingram, all of London.

Some Fine Cattle.

J. McMillan, Jenkins Bros. and Lou Craig were the principal winners in registered Holstein cattle, while L. Craig, W. Bartley and V. Cline were the biggest winners in grade Holsteins. The C. M. P. special for best registered dairy bull went to Jenkins Bros. Y. Cline showed the best four pure-bred dairy cows, and L. Craig, the best grades.

In the sheep, Wm. Collins of Union was a heavy winner in the long-wool classes, and Charlie Shore of Glenworth in the short-wooled.

D. Taylor, St. Thomas, won both swine specials for the best sow with litter at side and best bacon hog, and breed. He also swept the Yorkshire class. W. Collins was the big winner in Chester Whites.

The Races.

The races, as usual, provided a lot of entertainment for the people, the widely-advertised Indian race being won handily by Thomas Summers with Indian Lady. Mr. Summers carried much excess weight in the shape of a pair of heavy boots, which, however, helped him on the turns. Joe Barnes was second, and Black Foot third.

Free-For-All.

Earl W. A. Johnston, Nilestown 111; Hal T. E. Harris, Lambeth, 222; Gordon Prince, C. Bibbings, London, 333.

The committees in charge of the fair were: Heavy horses—Jack MacMillan and Axel Bagnall.

Light horses—H. G. Taylor and Hiram Peer.

Cattle—E. Cline, J. Jenkins and Sol McCallum.

Sheep and swine—F. B. Taylor and W. C. Moore.

Poultry—Herman Taylor, C. Farquhar and W. Martin.

Dairy products—Mrs. Ed. Legg, Mrs. H. G. Taylor and Mrs. John Ferguson.

Booth and grounds—Marsh Collard and J. Cousins.

Race horses—J. C. Durand and L. Craig.

Roots and Vegetables—Mac. Taylor and Fred Taylor.

SIX NATIONS CHIEF BACK FROM LONDON

Confident British Authorities Will Consider Complaint.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 27.—Deskaheh (Chief of the Six Nations) returned to his home here today after a trip to London, where he had been to see the British authorities regarding a complaint against the Six Nations' special representative, to lay before the king himself, and before the colonial secretary, the claims of the Six Nations and their plea that as allies of the British crown by treaty bound, they be free from interference by the Canadian Government and its Indian department.

He did not see the king, who was away on holidays, nor Hon. Winston Churchill, who was recalled to his home through the death of his daughter, but the claims of the Six Nations were left with the proper authorities in London, and he was confident that they would receive attention. The council heard with deepest attention his report, but took no action thereon.

Doubt Berlin Arms 800,000

LONDON, Sept. 27.—According to latest reports received by British authorities, the inter-allied control commission in Germany is perfectly satisfied with the progress of the surrender and destruction of German armaments.

The article in Monday's London Times which asserted that instead of observing the limitations of the German army to 100,000, under the peace treaty Germany was attempting to make provision for clothing, housing and equipping 800,000 men, apparently is controverted by a statement made in official quarters here today that "there is not the slightest apprehension of the possibility of Germany being able to organize and equip an army of such size as to constitute any danger to the Allies."

According to figures compiled in September, only 102 guns were left to be destroyed, as against 32,000 already destroyed; 1,000,000 tons of loaded shells remained to be destroyed, as against 24,000,000 tons destroyed; 186 trench-mortars remaining, as against 110,350 destroyed; 2,852 machine-guns left, as against 33,566; 163,000 rifles, as against 4,160,000 destroyed.

The Hair-Destroying Curling Iron Passes

The heated iron makes the hair dry and parched looking, burns off the ends, giving a most untidy appearance. You who have learned this from experience will be glad to hear of a very simple method which is open to none of the objections referred to and which gives better results than the curling iron.

Just get a few ounces of plain liquid silvering cream, and apply a little with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, drawing the brush down one strand at a time from root to tip. In three hours your hair will be as beautifully wavy and curly as though Mother Nature did it, and it will be quite manageable, no matter what style of coiffure you adopt. The effect will be much prettier than if you used a waving iron, will last much longer, and the health of your hair will not suffer. Silverine is not sticky or greasy, but is quite pleasant to use.—Advt.

FINE HORSES LOST IN TILLSONBURG FIRE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
TILLSONBURG, Sept. 27.—Fire of an unknown origin was discovered in the large barn of Spencer McDonald early today. A peculiar incident in connection with the blaze was a series of distinct explosions that could be plainly heard in every part of the town. Although the firemen made a prompt response, the fire had made too much headway to rescue a valuable team of horses owned by A. Dickie, a local farmer. The horses with a wagon, harness and a quantity of feed and hay were lost. There was partial insurance on the barn but none on the contents.

Blames Colonel Laughran For Murder of Her Babe

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GUELPH, Sept. 27.—Fighting for her life in a manner which gained for her the sympathy of a crowded court room, Mrs. Nellie Beisel of the Township of Maryborough, spent over two hours in the witness box this afternoon and told to a judge and jury the story of how Col. Laughran, a neighboring sweetheart of hers, had deceived her, sent her to Toronto, where she became a mother, and when she came back to him with her babe forced it from her and placed it in an old unused well on the rear of the Laughran farm in a milk can.

She answered the questions of her counsel for the defense and the crown in a clear-cut manner and admitted that she was intimate with Laughran, that he was the father of her child, and stated that she did not know what he was going to do with it when he took it away from her. She stood the ordeal well, although at one time she was given a rest.

Chief Witness.

Laughran, who is serving a two-year term at Kingston Penitentiary on a charge of concealment of birth, the jury finding him not guilty of murder last spring, was the chief witness against the woman. He was brought from the penitentiary for the purpose and appeared in the witness box clad in the dark grey suit of the Kingston institution and told practically the same story he told at his own trial, with the important addition that he would not state positively whether the child was alive or dead when he took it from its mother and put it in the well. Mr. Justice Rose seemed much astonished that Laughran gave the evidence that he did today and was not convicted on the charge of murder.

Says Babe Alive.

Mrs. Beisel denied many of the things that Laughran swore to, but very frankly admitted some of them. She stated positively that the baby was alive when Laughran forcibly took it from her, that she had nursed it a few minutes before this and that he set it in the buggy and saw her do it, and then calmly took the child and made away with it.

She also swore that the next morning when she went to look for the baby at the rear of the farm, he followed her and it was only after considerable time that he finally told her it was in the well and threatened her that if she told anybody about it she knew what would happen to her.

Refused to Marry.

She admitted that she kept company with him afterwards, but refused to marry him knowing what he had done. He denied having ever seen the child, but Mrs. Beisel swore that she showed him the child at the hotel in Drayton just before they left on the fateful journey.

At the evening session Lieut.-Col. Greer, counsel for Mrs. Beisel, addressed the jury at some length as did also Mr. Jeffrey for the crown. But the judge's charges were left over until the morning and it is expected that there will be a verdict before noon.

PREMIER CLAIMS WOOD-CRERAR POLICY WILL BRING DISASTER

TARIFF ISSUE ONLY QUESTION, SAYS MEIGHEN

Uncertainty As To Election Result Caused Much Unemployment.

DENIES EXTRAVAGANCE

[By Canadian Press.]

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. Sept. 26.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, in speeches here tonight, outlined the main features of the Government campaign, and in his home county, on the prairies, he raised the flag of protection as he raised it at London.

"Are we going to continue the protective system, or are we not?" the premier asked. "That is the question. That is the whole question." He did not now and never had believed in a high protective tariff, he declared.

He did not believe that such a tariff would be just to the West. He did not think it best for the whole country, for the spur of outside competition under fair conditions was good, but he was immovably against the "platform of Messrs. Wood and Crerar"; he was against the "Mackenzie King Liberal platform" from the first line to the last.

He charged Mr. King with "flagrant apostasy" on the tariff issue; he thought the fiscal policy of the National Progressives would bring disaster to the whole country, and not merely disaster to a few.

Canada, more than any other country, Mr. Meighen urged, needed the protective system. In this regard, he emphasized proximity to United States, with its great industrial development. The whole world was protective—Great Britain had adopted laws which constituted protection of the most effective kind; any country which thought it could compete with a protection country while its own barriers were down was spurning the lessons of 200 years.

As to the sub-divided opposition, never was one so bereft of case or complaint. The voters would have regard to practice and performance of faithful work, rather than to "reckless and irresponsible agitators, to malignant criticism and to specious and impossible promises."

"For what," the premier continued in his peroration, "for what kind of government do you vote if you vote against the Government? Can anybody answer that question? Do you imagine Mr. Crerar and the Wood-Crerar party would be in power alone? Surely you do not imagine that? You do not imagine Mr. King and his party would be in power alone? I do not think you imagine that."

"What kind of a government, then, do you think you would vote for if you voted against the present administration? Nobody knows. It would be a discordant reversion of log-rolling groups, in which each group would have to betray the voters who supported it, and out of which no policy could be evolved based on any principle whatever. It would mean only a temporary triumph for chicanery, a fleeting victory for infidelity and the prostitution of trust."

Bares Grain Proposal.

Mr. Meighen spoke subsequently at an overflow meeting and here he bared the Government's proposals in regard to the grain trade.

In opening his speech the prime minister said that he came to his home county knowing that these proposals had been proceeding almost unchecked and uncorrected against the Government of which he was the head and against himself.

"No privilege could be more to his liking or more eagerly grasped than to come before you, the people of my county, and tell you, face to face, what I have been doing and why I have taken the course I have taken; what I stand for at the present time and what I propose to do. I am here to ask from you and from all the people of Canada, an earnest, manly review of the real issue before Canada today. I am here to ask from men and women a calm, thoughtful consideration of serious public questions, and so far as I am concerned, myself, I ask not favors but fairness."

Spurns Safer Seat.

There had been reports that in face of the tariff issue, he intended to desert Portage La Prairie and seek refuge in a safer seat.

"My first word is this," Mr. Meighen proceeded. "No such thought ever entered my mind. I want to reason out this tariff question right here, with the people who know me or ought to know me. This is the constituency that I shall contest and you may rest assured I do not intend to desert it and I do not think you intend to desert me. It is here that I will run this campaign if the people want to know me and I shall continue to run nowhere else."

"What was the issue? Every man and woman knew that in federal politics the tariff had been the issue by the 'Wood-Crerar party.' That issue they had pressed insistently. They had been 'on to Ottawa' for the purpose of overthrowing the whole protective system of the country. Mr. Mackenzie King seeking to take advantage of the anti-tariff propaganda that had gone on for years in Western Canada had been challenging the tariff system in force for 40 years, challenging it in Parliament and out of Parliament and demanding an election upon it. They had done it in order to take advantage of the campaign waged in the western provinces. Promises to sweep duties off a long series of clauses of articles were made in the platform of the Mackenzie King Liberal group."

Seek Political Power.

"The reason they made that solemn pledge," Mr. Meighen declared, "was to use the political farmers' movement of Western Canada as a prop to put themselves into power. There is not a man who was at that convention who would today challenge that statement and look his fellow in the face. I believe everybody in Canada knows that statement to be true."

"As a consequence there was uncertainty as to what the tariff policy was to be. Industries in every city and every town had hesitated to plan for the future because they did not know what the future was going to be. Unemployment that under the best of conditions would in the present state of the world be bad, had been as a consequence of this uncertainty worse than it otherwise would have been."

"There is not the least doubt," Mr. Meighen went on, "but that tens of thousands of men are out of work today because the thousands of industrial establishments throughout our country do not know whether stable conditions are going to obtain or whether they are not. They do not know whether it will be safe to rely on a degree of reasonable protection such as they could get in other countries, or whether so to rely would be disastrous. Because of that state of affairs, the gauntlet has been taken up and I announced to the people of Canada that the thing to do in the interests of everybody was to decide this issue and decide it now. Consequently we will have a general election in Canada before this year is out."

Blames Tardy Census.

"The progress made with the census had not been enough to enable the Government to have any redistribution of seats for the fall session of Parliament were held and as a consequence, the deciding of the tariff was delayed for eighteen or twenty months."

"The Government decided that to hold matters in suspense for that length of time for the sake of redistribution was not justifiable, and, if another decision had been come to, I would have felt myself responsible for thousands of families being in want because of the delay involved."

"I feel justified in saying here as well," he continued, "that the redistribution will not be complete, as required by law till close to the end of this year that there is every indication that these three western provinces would obtain less representation than they had expected."

"Indeed, the change will be comparatively little in the case of any province in the Dominion and what the rural parts of Western Canada would gain the rural parts of Eastern Canada would lose at least twice over. Consequently it is misrepresentation to argue that by calling the election now any advantage is taken of the Wood-Crerar political party."

Cites Crerar Vote.

"On the contrary, the advantage is with them, and not against them. You must all remember as well that last session Mr. Crerar and all his party voted to dissolve the House and then go to the country without and redistribution."

"The fact is, the whole of them were almost struck dumb when the challenge was made so loudly sounded was taken up, and the leaders of both the Crerar party and the King party hastened to explain to the people that the tariff issue was not the issue at all, but a lot of other things that we had heard might little of before."

"It was indeed an amusing sight to see them scrambling here and scrambling there, the leaders of the King party in the province of Quebec declaring there was no tariff issue at all, that they were protectionists every day of the week, and that they repudiated the Farmers' platform, while Mr. Crerar says there is some issue about the National Railways and some issue about the national debt and some issue about economy, and seeking all of a sudden to create the impression that this tariff question did not matter so much after all."

"I am ready—and every day of this campaign, however long it lasts, I will show that I am ready—to meet these men on any issue, on any argument wherever they may run, but I am determined that the tariff issue, which they challenged, they will never escape from, and that this country will settle that issue, and settle it now."

Campaign Is Novel.

"There was a novel feature in the campaign. The Government had two parties opposed to it, and not one, as in former years. A child could understand the game. The wing that hoped to carry Quebec and do at least something in Eastern Canada, and they thought they could never win a seat there on the program they would have to preach in order to carry Western Canada. Consequently, the enemy appeared in two divisions, one fighting on what they called the farmers' platform in Western Canada and selecting rural seats and the other talking straight protection in all the rest of the Dominion."

"It will not take me long to tell you where I stand," Mr. Meighen said. "You have known all my life where I stood on this issue in 1908, in 1911, and in 1917 I stand today. I am against the platform of Messrs. Wood and Crerar—wholly immovable against it. I believe it unfair. I believe it is unjust. I believe it is wrong and I have not the least doubt if it is put into effect

Points In Premier's Plea

CHAMPION FLAG OF PROTECTION

Outstanding utterances of the address of Premier of Canada, in his home county of Portage la Prairie, Tuesday night: "I do not now, and never have, believed in a high protective tariff. It would not be just to the West."

"I charge Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King with flagrant apostasy on the tariff issue, but am of the opinion that the policy of the National Progressives will lead to national disaster."

"This Progressive platform of Messrs. Wood and Crerar denounces protection of every kind. If, then, every kind is wrong, it should be removed at once, to bring disaster, and by disaster I mean disaster to the whole country. I do not mean disaster only to a few."

"Surely those words are plain enough. No matter what the consequences I take my stand now and pledge myself once again to resist the program of the Wood-Crerar party as long as there is strength in me to resist anything, and I will resist it just as strongly if I do so should mean political defeat as if it do so meant political success."

Plays King's Platform.

"I am against the Mackenzie King Liberal platform—against it from the first line to the last. It is not only wrong and pernicious as public policy, but I do not believe and never did believe that those who adopted that platform in convention believed in it themselves."

"That platform was conceived by men who knew it was unsound, who knew it was impossible and who erected it only for the sake of enticing a large section of the vote of this country, which they intended afterwards to betray. If any one here thinks that language strong, then I ask you just to read their platform and then read the speeches that the makers of the platform have delivered within the last week in the Province of Quebec."

Mr. Meighen here read the tariff plank from the program adopted by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. Mr. Crerar, he went on, had said that he did not want free trade. "Perhaps he does not want all duties off, on every class of goods, but if he means that platform he means that there must be no duties left that are protective duties—that is, no duties left on goods that are made in this country. You can have customs duties on goods not made in this country, and that does not mean a tariff for the sake of the tariff, but a protection at all. That is merely a revenue for the sake of revenue, whatever revenue it would bring. But this platform of Wood and Crerar denounces protection of every kind, and if protection of every kind is wrong then we should not have protection. It is all humbug to talk about getting rid of something that is wrong by easy stages."

Election To Decide.

"What is the sense of singling out great and vital, indeed fundamental industries of this country and stripping them of every shred of protection, and leaving those far less important, far less vital to the country enjoying any measure of protection. Such a course of conduct is indefensible from any standpoint whatever. It never was tried in any country, and it cannot be a success in Canada. The case between the policy of the country for the last 40 years and the Wood-Crerar platform is a case between protection and no protection, and it is that case this country is going to decide when it votes at this election."

"You can have protection or you can have no protection whatever, and that is what I am saying, and not one, as in former years. These two alternatives you can choose from, but you certainly cannot have on one side a discriminatory, contorted system that penalizes and prohibits industries of half the vital industries of the country and then pretend to leave the others untouched."

"What we want to decide is this: Are we going to continue the protective system of this country or are we not? That is the question, and that is the whole question, and that is the big necessary thing that every voter in this country from the Yukon to Halifax knows that is the question he or she is deciding when he or she votes in this great contest."

Lauds Protective System.

FEAR INJURY WILL RESULT FATALLY

Harmon Rice Terribly Hurt While Threshing At Renton.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, Sept. 27.—Harmon Rice, a farm hand, is not expected to live as a result of a threshing accident on the farm of Alfred Oakes at Renton yesterday. Rice, who was employed in the threshing gang of Dan Birch, had his hand caught in a belt and his hand and arm were badly mangled. He was rushed to Brantford hospital.

Fred Maston and Steve Farrell, Brantford youths, charged with stealing $2,000 worth of liquor and breaking and entering the home of H. J. Brook, will come up before County Judge Ibbot for trial, without jury, on October 7. Application was made by A. A. Winter, local barrister, on behalf of W. S. Brewster, K. C., Brantford, and L. E. Heyd, Toronto, counsel for the defense.

Maston is at present serving a two-year term in Kingston Penitentiary for attempting to enter a house in St. Catharines, two months ago. Farrell is out on $3,000 bail supplied by his wife.

A complete house, dubbed the House that Robert Built, was completed today and Wm. Mallett and his family moved in. Mr. Mallett's house was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon on the farm between Altherton and Delhi, lying alongside a great big country tree. The house was built by Robert Mallett, lumberman of Delhi, got busy. Teams were obtained, materials for a new structure obtained and planned, and this morning the house was completed. Enthusiasm extended to the neighbors, who acted as carriers and helped in every way possible.

Raps Crerar Aims.

"Canada has been asked by the Wood-Crerar platform to throw down tariff walls at a time when the United States is selling nearly eight hundred million dollars worth of goods to Canada every year, while, at the same time, buying from Canada just a little over half that amount. Canada used to be borrowing the money in London. Now, she actually has to buy American dollars in New York and pay our balance over there. The result is that for two or three years back, Canada has had to pay 112 cents for every American dollar."

"This means that Canada has to pay in exchange between fifty and seventy millions a year, and the more Canada buys over and above what U. S. buys from Canada, the more Canada will have to pay in exchange."

"In addition, the United States has lately enacted the Fordney emergency tariff in order to stop the importation of all farm products of which Canada was selling $165,000,000 worth a year."

Denies Extravagance.

"There has lately been talk of public expenditure being too high. The facts are that, outside all the 'extra' expenditure due to war, the cost of running the Government of Canada today is very close to $140,000,000, as compared with $138,000,000 as long as ten years ago, an increase of less than 2 per cent. Was there a single city or government in the country whose expenditure had increased more than 2 per cent in these ten years?"

"Think this matter over and remember the responsibilities of citizenship and the responsibilities of suffrage." The prime minister concluded. "Remember that you will pay the penalty yourself if out of this contest there comes chaos and instability, failure of authority, the weakening of law and order, the loss of that sense of independent purpose and of national pride that is the very fibre of a nation. Think those things over and keep on thinking them over. Be true to yourself and to your country and do what you think is right."

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., Sept. 27.—(By Canadian Press staff correspondent.)—Electors of New Glasgow and Pictou County filled two theatres here tonight to hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, Ernest LaPointe, M.P. for Quebec East, William Duff, member for Lunenburg, N.S., and other prominent Liberals expound their views of the Liberal platform.

In the afternoon Mr. King was tendered a reception by New Glasgow Liberals.

William Duff, M.P. for Lunenburg, led off in addressing the overflow meeting at the Roseland Theatre, and the other speakers following after addressing the main gathering.

Mr. King made an appeal for all who sought "a change to a proper democratic government" to join together in a united march to the victory of the Liberal forces at the polls. The Allied forces had the necessary to bring about unity of command in order that the Allied forces might sweep back those of oppression. The Liberal party in its policy sought to give all the people of Canada proper voice in the management of that country. Tariff revision was overdue, but it should not be revision by the Meighen Government; whose idea of protection was protection for the favored few, while the Liberal idea was protection for all the people with consideration for the needs of both the consumers and the producers alike.

FOUND GUILTY OF ILLEGAL SELLING

Wingham Hotel Man To Be Sentenced Saturday.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

GODERICH, Sept. 27.—William C. Lepard, a Wingham hotelman, was found guilty by Magistrate Reid this afternoon of having liquor for sale illegally. This is Lepard's second offence. Sentence will be pronounced on Saturday.

"Scottie" Crawford of Wingham gave evidence as to himself and a Mr. Raney purchasing the liquor, which he described as "swamp whiskey," August 10. They proceeded to a bush near Clinton, and, bottling the dope up, came to Goderich to dispose of it during Old Home Week, which they did, with the exception of four bottles, which Inspector Pellow seized from a car in the possession of Raney. Crawford claimed that it was a small keg, and that he and Raney paid $75 for it. Crawford and Raney paid a fine as a result of being caught with the goods and implicated Lepard.

RAISED $15 CHECK TO $1,500 IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—The head office branch of the Standard Bank of Canada here was swindled out of $1,500 today by a man who raised a $15 check after it had been marked by the ledgerkeeper. The swindle was almost a duplication of the trick pulled over on the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Toronto a few weeks ago when $3,500 was lost.

We will make good to you for any bottle of "MirAcle" Washing Cream returned by any housewife who is not satisfied with it.

"MirAcle" Washing Cream is something entirely new, brought out for just one purpose, that of enabling the housewife to do her washing easier, quicker and better than she has ever done it before.

"MirAcle" Washing Cream is like nothing that has ever gone before. It is positively harmless to any clothes, no matter how delicate. It is so harmless you could clean your teeth with it. It could be used to wash a baby's tender skin.

Bear in mind, Mr. Grocer, that "MirAcle" does NOT take the place of soap, but it DOES make soap work like magic, and in the rinsing it brings out ALL the soap, leaving the fabrics clean, clear and silky.

Go as far as you like in recommending housewives to use "MirAcle"—impress upon them the necessity of following carefully the printed instructions on the bottle—have it tried in your own home—tell the people that we stand back of "MirAcle" to the fullest extent—tell them that tens of thousands of housewives in Canada and the United States are using "MirAcle."

To London Housewives:

To Get Your Wash Whiter and Softer With Less Work Use MirAcle

"MirAcle" Washing Cream has come to show you, the housewives of London, a new whiteness in the wash.

Forget everything you ever heard about washing compounds, tablets, fluids or flakes. There has never been anything like "MirAcle" Washing Cream before.

This soap-aiding wonder-worker is the result of long years' work, experimenting and testing, to find the right product.

"MirAcle" Washing Cream—if used as per directions—doubles and trebles the efficiency of soap, and, furthermore, in the rinsing "MirAcle" has the wonderful faculty of making all the soap come out of the clothes, leaving them with a new whiteness that will simply delight you on the very first trial.

Not only that, but in every washing thereafter you will notice your clothes coming whiter and whiter, and this is true whether you are washing heavy, rough things or the finest of linens and dainty fabrics.

One lady, who has been using "MirAcle" for the last two or three weeks, said the other day: "I could just laugh for joy when I look out of the window and see my beautiful white clothes flapping in the sunshine."

Another lady remarked: "I really look forward with pleasure to doing the washing since 'MirAcle' has shown me how easy it is and what beautiful results I can get."

Nearly every grocer in London has "MirAcle" Washing Cream, and every store that sells it is authorized to return money back to any lady who is not entirely satisfied.

So little "MirAcle" is required that it will cost you less than 5c a wash to get your clothes whiter and cleaner than you ever had them before.

Ask your grocer to send you a bottle of "MirAcle" with your next order, and be sure to let it help you with your next wash.

A small bottle retails for 15c. The larger 50c size is more economical to buy once you are convinced that "MirAcle" Washing Cream is the best washday help you ever had.

Premier in the West.

Premier Meighen opened his western campaign in his own constituency last night, speaking at Portage La Prairie. He made it plain that he intended to run in the same constituency again, in spite of rumors that he was seeking a safer seat elsewhere. Just how much of heroism there is in this is problematical, seeing that he carried the seat in 1917 by 3,635. He has held the same riding since 1908.

The premier's speech was in the main a fair espousal of the Conservative platform, and a plea for the existence of the protection-to-the-limit idea.

He also branded as wreckers and agitators those who refused to fall in line with his ideas.

There are times, though, when Premier Meighen gets wide of the mark, and in the following, from his speech, serves to emphasize the point. He said:

"Industries in every city and every town had hesitated to plan for the future because they did not know what the future was going to be."

There is not the least doubt but that tens of thousands of men are out of work today because industrial establishments throughout the country do not know whether stable conditions are going to obtain or whether they are not."

If this is the candid opinion of the premier of the Dominion it proves beyond the chance of successful contradiction that he is a stranger to business conditions in this land.

Does not Premier Meighen know that the industrial depression from which industries are now suffering, was here months ago, when there was not a chance of an election?

Surely he is not going to tell an intelligent electorate that as soon as an election was announced, and it seemed certain that the grotesque group that had been carrying on at Ottawa were likely to be swept from power, the manufacturers at once turned the key in the door and decided to stay closed until the Meighen party were safe in power again?

The industrial depression is a direct result of the insane heights to which prices ran during the war.

Every industry in Canada had to travel the pace that was set by the war shop. Instead of placing the turning out of shells on the basis of service in the war it was allowed to bid for all the mechanics and labor in the market. As a result, many splendid organizations not engaged in shell work were shot to pieces, and manufacturers had only two courses open to them: (1) Go out of business. (2) Get out and bid for labor and pass on the cost to the consumer.

When this great evil finally gets worked out of our industrial system manufacturers will be able to go ahead, and public confidence in our basis of values will be restored. That, and not any small political consideration, is at the bottom of Canadian industrial affairs today.

Premier Meighen evidently is planning to stage his campaign on the cry of "Wolf! Wolf!"

He cannot fool the people of the west, neither can he travel far on such tactics in the east.

Using the Boycott.

The Herald, published at Hanna, Alta., publishes a straight charge of discrimination and boycott against that paper by Local 916 of the United Farmers of Alberta.

The proof of the boycott is easily enough established by the following letter, which we take from a recent issue of the Herald:

Alps School, Aug. 5, 1921.
H. G. McCrea, Esq.:
Dear Sir,—As secretary of the Alps Local U. F. A. 916, I have been instructed to write you, as follows:

At a meeting of the Alps Local 916, on August 5, 1921, it was moved by J. E. Cape, and seconded by D. Leslie, that we boycott the Hanna Herald because of stand taken on election.

It was moved by F. M. Wright, and seconded by G. Block, that the secretary be instructed to write the owner of said paper and inform him of the above.—Carried.

WM. MUNRO, Sec.-Treas., Alps Local 916.

Asounding as the above letter may appear, there is no doubt regarding its authenticity.

If there is one thing the Farmer speakers have been declaring for, it is freedom of expression and thought, and the removal of influences that might seek to stint or influence free editorial expression of honest opinion.

It is hard to believe that the action of this particular local can find any approval in other parts of the country. It is a dangerous precedent, and leaves the way open for the charge of political intolerance. It might be well for those who pass boycott notices to know that they are riding very close to the limit of the law.

It would be the part of political sagacity for officials of the Farmer movement to see that this step is rescinded at once. It leaves a nasty blot, and the longer it remains the harder it will be to erase it.

That Coal Inquiry.

Many of the best-balanced papers in the country are showing a decided tendency to give amateur sport a great deal more prominence than it has heretofore received, and who can successfully argue that it is not a move in the right direction?

United States has one auto for every eleven persons. Canada comes next with one for every 21. In Great Britain it is stretched out to one car for every 110 persons. In fact, the chances are 66,667 to 11 in his favor.

NEW ELECTION ACT GIVES WIDER FRANCHISE TO WOMEN

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—The coming general elections are of particular interest to women all over the Dominion, particularly in view of recent amendments to the Dominion election act, which give to women a wider share in the government of the Dominion than they have ever had previously.

Under the act, as amended at the last session of parliament, the franchise is extended to women on a considerably wider basis than in the 1917 war time election when the only women eligible to vote were those who had a husband, father, son or brother in the Canadian expeditionary, imperial or allied forces.

Under the present act, any woman who is a British subject, of the full age of 21 years, and is not prohibited by the special clause setting forth the prohibitions, has equal rights with men in holding election offices, being a candidate for the House of Commons and in voting.

The qualification of electors, as set forth in the instructions to election officers by Col. O. M. Biggar, chief election officer, states:

Necessary Qualifications.

"The general rule is that every person in Canada, male or female, is qualified to vote, and should be included in the list of voters for the polling district in which he or she resides, if he or she

(a) Is a British subject, and
(b) Is 21 years of age, and
(c) Has ordinarily resided in Canada for the year immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election, and
(d) Has ordinarily resided in the electoral district for the two months immediately preceding the date, and
(e) Is not expressly denied the right to vote."

There are a number of ways in which a person may become a British subject in Canada. The instructions state that if a person is found to come "within any one of the classes hereafter defined, it is not necessary to consider whether he falls within any other."

Thus, everyone has become a British subject in Canada who

(a) Was born in any of his majesty's dominions or on a British ship, no matter what was the nationality of the parents, or

(b) Was born elsewhere of a father who, at the time of the child's birth, was a British subject by birth or by naturalization under any of the imperial naturalization acts, or

(c) Has been personally granted a certificate of naturalization under any statute of Canada, or under the imperial naturalization act in any other of his majesty's dominions, or

(d) Has had his name included in a certificate of naturalization granted to a parent under the imperial naturalization act in Canada, or in any other of his majesty's dominions, or

(e) Is the wife or unmarried widow of a natural-born British subject, or of a British subject naturalized under any statute of Canada, or the imperial naturalization act in any other of his majesty's dominions, or

(f) Is the child of a person naturalized in Canada otherwise than under the imperial naturalization act, and was, at or after the time his parent was naturalized, and before he or she became 21 years of age, resident in Canada with a naturalized parent, and every person who has become a British subject in Canada continues to be so unless his British nationality has been surrendered by his becoming a naturalized citizen of some other country, or

WILSON OPPOSING NEW PEACE PACT

Former President Asks Senators To Defeat Treaty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press).—Former President Wilson is opposed to ratification of the new peace treaty between Germany and the United States, according to statements made by prominent Democratic senators.

It was learned this morning that the former president invited several senators to call on him and had stated his views, requesting the senators to do all they could toward defeating the pact. The result is likely to be a stiffening of opposition to the treaty by a number of Democratic senators. This is the first time the former president has taken an active part in any matters before Congress.

WETZEL'S CREW ISSUE BLANK TO MARINERS

4-0 Win Turned In by Herbst Against Shoup At Grand Rapids—Crich's Batting Feature.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 27.—The London Teutons drew nearer to their 50th win of the money in the McIntosh series this afternoon when they shut out the Ludington Mariners at Harmona Park 4 to 0. Herbst, Iank Londoner, was big business in the real time and had the Mariner maulers lifting them to the outfield and rolling easy batters to short and second.

London got its first run in the third chapter when Shoup threw to catch Curry at second, but Curry was over-ruled. Vandye punched one over second base, and Stutz brought in Curry with another.

The Mint Leaguers also got to Shoup hard in the fourth frame. Malmquist got on when Shoup's leg went wild, took third on Crichlow's single, and scored on the play for Carmen. Crichlow registered a clean punch by Curry.

In the sixth Malmquist cracked one on the nose for a double, and was rifled to third by Kuhn, and scored on Crichlow's third hit of the game.

Deloitte, angular Londoner, was kicked off the lot by Umpire O'Hearne in the second for callousness of the tongue, aimed at O'Hearne's particular and all umpires in general. The pitcher made a final funny face at O'Hearne as he went through the grandstand door.

JUST BETWEEN US

(BY SEE S. GEE)

Most people interested in industrial athletics sincerely hope that a feasible scheme may be advanced at next Monday night's meeting which will bring about a reorganization of this branch of sport in the city.

The objects of the plan now put forth are splendid ones and should mean eventually that an industrial athletic plant with up-to-date clubhouse, baseball diamond and playing field could be realized. This would, of course, be years off, but the objective would be worth the attempt.

Unfortunately when the public pays to see games of any sport it is not generally interested in the worthy objects behind the games. What it wants is the best procurable in that sport. Industrial leagues have not drawn big crowds in either hockey or baseball until they've lost some of their industrial atmosphere. It has been found that industrial or manufacturing leagues draw better than city leagues, because as a nucleus of the following they have the better-employees of the teams to draw upon. But to progress beyond this point they must produce a faster brand of sport, and this may only be done by cutting down the number of the teams to a minimum and allowing outside players to perform.

Here is an angle which might clash with the objects of the new plan, which is to interest a wider team where there are now six. The brand of hockey hockey would suffer considerably by such expansion, and naturally there would be a contraction of patronage corresponding to the increase in the size of the league.

This is just one of the various contentions which might be made by the Manufacturers' Hockey and Baseball Leagues already in existence, and for which an argument will have to be found before all hands can swing on the band wagon.

It would be much less nerve-racking if some of these clubs would win their pennant in August and leave off this boisterous fourth act.

Ruth claims they all look alike to him on the slab. It's fair to presume that Ruth looks about the same to all of them—welcome like a final pay check.

THE trouble with the American entry, Mayflower, for the fishermen's race was that the Yanks wanted to make it too fishy.

If the two New York teams win their flags, the world's series will take on the complexion of an ordinary series of games aimed at no end but to train. Rixey and Wingo; Cooches, Studebaker and Dab.

One thousand baseballs distributed to the poor children in the game being staged at Cleveland today by the All-Star Service League. The plan is to stage games in all major league cities and thus inspire the youth of the country with higher ideals of life and health through athletic training. George Maites is secretary.

George will probably examine a few of those balls on a search for the "rabbit" variety.

In the series just past, Speaker told Cooleskie and Uhle to "pitch" to Babe Ruth. If this ever writes a book this will be told in the chapter, "Errors I Have Made."

Shocker Holds Yanks To Five Hits, While Harper Allows Seven.

WAS SCARED IN NINTH

Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Divide Double-Header.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The New York Yankees gave a setback to their pennant fight today, when Shocker, a former New York hurler, shut them out, St. Louis winning by a score of 2 to 0. It was the fifth game Shocker has won from New York this season in nine games pitched against them.

Shocker held New York to five hits. Until the ninth, no Yankee batter reached second, but Shocker had a scare in the ninth, when Schang and Peckinpah singled, Ruth was intentionally walked, but Shocker was relieved on a fly to Jacobson. Harper pitched well after the first inning, when Sisler's home run followed Miller's triple, and accounted for St. Louis' two runs.

City Clubs Strengthening Up For Soccer Cup Tie Series

Public Utilities May Not Enter Series and Therefore Will Default Cup.

There is a possibility that Public Utilities team runners-up in the Plenty Cup series may not enter the McIntosh Cup tie series which begins in October. Exhibition games with out-of-town teams have been partly arranged, and Public Utilities will decide on postponing a bit, lose the cup they won last year by default.

Some of the teams are already strengthening up for the series, and it should produce some fine soccer. Grand Trunk, finalists last year, have added Latham and Aliman of St. Thomas Rivers to their strength, and have also made some other changes, which makes the city league champions of 1920 quite a different aggregation.

The closing date for transfers is some time off yet, and quite a number will go through yet for every club intending to make the series.

FINE NEW WELL IS STRUCK AT KITCHENER

The Average Flow Will Be 350,000 Gallons Daily.

[Special to The Advertiser.] KITCHENER, Sept. 27.—Mother Nature presented Kitchener with another source of water supply today, when Driller Hartley struck a well on Farm street, which gives an average flow of 350,000 gallons a day, increasing the city supply by over 700,000 gallons daily since well-drilling started here some months ago. It is the intention of the water commission to sink another well near the newest find. The water from today's find is unusually hard. While the new supply is an advantage as a water source, it does not help to solve the city's hard water problem. The depth at which the water was found is 425 feet. It was announced today that the new water main built by the light commission at the city limits is completed. It will be opened for public accommodation in a few days.

Allan Schultz, aged 17, was sent to the Ontario Reformatory for Magistrate Weir today, when he was found guilty of stealing a motor car and going on his own ride. His sentence is not less than one and not more than two years. The light commission is considering extending the tracks of the street railway at the Waterloo end, up Church street to Waterloo Park, so as to give the public direct service to the park. This is being done at the request of the Waterloo Town Council.

The Waterloo Park Board has under consideration the advisability of paying the main roadways in Waterloo Park. A committee of the board was appointed today to go thoroughly into the matter and report at the next meeting.

COLLECTOR QUESTIONS MACBRIDE'S MOTIVE

Keen Interest Being Taken in Brantford Liquor Case.

[Special to The Advertiser.] BRANTFORD, Sept. 27.—Keen interest is being shown locally in what is known as the "Spence liquor case," in which four men have been sent up for trial by jury on a charge of the theft of 43 cases of choice liquors from the home of John Spence, collector of customs.

M. M. MacBride, M.L.A., is reported to have visited Attorney-General Haney, complaining that Mr. Spence refused to answer questions while he was in the witness box. Mr. MacBride asked that a special officer be sent up to investigate the matter. In reply he received the following telegram from Mr. Haney:

"This morning I instructed the crown attorney to make a full investigation in the matter referred to in your telegram, and to report to me. In the meantime not to give up the goods. (Signed) W. S. Haney."

Mr. Spence wrote to Mr. Haney today that he had heard of Mr. MacBride's complaint, and "your reply in connection with the report of the preliminary hearing before the police magistrate at Brantford of a charge against certain persons accused of entering and robbing my house during the night of September 18, and who have been committed for trial by jury. In causing these men to be prosecuted I am fulfilling what I consider my duty as a citizen, and I am entitled to every assistance which your department can afford in bringing criminals to justice. What proper interest Mr. MacBride has in the matter is hard to imagine, but that he has an interest is abundantly shown by his presence in the court room, and his consultations with the prisoners.

"Any investigation you deem it proper to conduct is entirely welcome to me, and I will afford every assistance."

DISARMAMENT IS REAL TEST, DECLARES CECIL

Insists On Motion To End Delays of the Obstructionists.

SUSTAINED BY VOTING

GENEVA, Sept. 27.—The representatives of France and Great Britain were summoned by Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, today, to present proposals for the reduction of armaments, if they had any, or cease obstructing the projects put forward by others. The committee on disarmament of the League of Nations was discussing a resolution proposed by Lord Robert and Signor Schanzer of Italy, which read:

"The Assembly resolves that the temporary fixed commission be asked to make general proposals for the reduction of armaments. In order to secure precision, should be in the form of a draft treaty or other equally defined plan to be presented to the council, if possible, before the Assembly of next year."

H. A. L. Fisher, Great Britain, and M. Reynald, France, opposed this resolution because, they said, it was impossible at the present time to enter a treaty of this subject with the United States. The form of the treaty, they said, would be better, they contended, to postpone the resolution until next year; regional arrangements would possibly be the first step, developing gradually into a general agreement.

Lord Robert Cecil insisted upon his motion, saying that it was vital to the law and vital to peace that something be done. Disarmament was the test case upon which the League was to be tried.

"Let France and Britain put forward proposals if they have them," he exclaimed, "and do not content themselves with obstructing the proposals of others. Ask the committee to decide between them."

Mr. Fisher said his attitude was not to be taken as an indication that the British Government does not favor a reduction of armaments. Great Britain had already reduced armaments and would continue to do so, but it was impossible for the League to make any headway on a general plan of disarmament while there are important states not ready for it.

On the vote, Mr. Fisher abstained, while all the other members voted for the motion.

STARTS HOUSEKEEPING IN STREET

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—Many families in this city, turned out of their humble homes by profiteering landlords, have placed their belongings in the street, and are endeavoring to maintain their homes in this manner. Notwithstanding the trying conditions under which these unfortunate people are compelled to live, a spirit of optimism prevails. Women and children, although subjected to numerous inconveniences, are bearing up bravely.

Markets Greater Need Than Financial Help, Say Bankers

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By Canadian Press.)—What the Government actually proposes regarding the larger financial markets for the relief of unemployment is at present indicated only by newspaper dispatches from correspondents around the premier in Scotland, who, broadly speaking, suggest that the banks are to be induced by government guarantees, or otherwise, to lend money more freely for trade financing.

The bankers, however, are already declaring that there has not at one time been any undue withholding of credit. They assert that it is markets rather than new financial help which are required in the present emergency. Statements appear today which oblige the government to convey an un-

Dresden

DRESDEN, Sept. 27.—The funeral of Frank Ellis, aged 82 years, whose death occurred on Saturday evening, took place yesterday from the residence of his brother, James Ellis, North Dresden. The service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Stethem, B.A., of the Methodist Church, and was largely attended.

Mr. Ellis spent the greater portion of his life in Nebraska and Idaho, returning to his home in Windsor. He is survived by three brothers, William, James and Nathaniel, all of Dresden.

Last game of baseball between Dresden and Thamesville took place yesterday, resulting in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of Dresden.

Last night's attendance at the beat, where Evangelist Barton holds forth, was another record-breaker, and his able discourse received splendid attention. The series closes Friday night.

Farmers around Dresden are harvesting their sugar beets. The beets are coming in and are a fine sample.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sinclair, who have been visiting the latter's parents, returned to their home in Windsor.

Mrs. Wm. Brower of Windsor is visiting relatives here.

The death occurred last night in St. Joseph's Hospital of John Boyle, a former resident of Pawa, and brother of Mr. George Boyle, Dawn.

GIVEN SIXTY DAYS FOR STOPPING TRAIN

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 27.—A. De Groat, a young colored man residing about three miles east of Tillsonburg, evidently expected to have the same attentive courtesy of the train crew while riding a freight as a regular passenger would expect on a first-class ticket. Having nothing to do in particular at any time he found himself without any ready cash in Windsor on Sept. 1, and decided to take a Pullman freight home on the Michigan Central. When it was opposite his home, he pulled the air and stopped the train and proceeded home. Since that time he has eluded the police, but this afternoon detectives routed up the miscreant at his home and brought him before Magistrate Hare, who after a severe lecture as to the seriousness of the crime, sentenced him to sixty days' hard labor.

MAY DEAL WITH CHARGES TOMORROW

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Sept. 27.—The police commission at the regular meeting on Thursday afternoon may deal with the request from the council for an investigation of alleged irregularities involving Chief of Police Daniel Thompson, who began his police career at London.

TWELVE

TWO CASES FOR COUNTY COURT

Watson McCluskey has entered action in the county court, which opens at the courthouse next Tuesday, against the Vulcan Company, Limited, for $750, the amount of commission he alleges he earned in selling its stock, and which, he says, it has not paid him. His claim is that he sold 50 shares at $100 a share to Bogue and Anderson, and was promised 15 per cent commission.

The company's defence is that only 10 per cent commission was promised McCluskey, and that he has not turned in the $5,000 secured from the sale of stock. W. C. Fitzgerald is acting for the plaintiff, and Meredith & Fisher for the company.

Suits Over Repairs.
William Scott & Son are suing J. C. Fletcher for $668.30, which they claim is the balance owed by him for their services and for materials used by them in repairing several houses. His defence is that he found the work unsatisfactory, and was put to extra expense by the default of the defendants. He declares that he would not have paid them anything had he known sooner the class of work done. W. C. Fitzgerald is counsel for the plaintiff, and Murphy, Gunn & Murphy for the defendants.

City Engineer's Department
Has Work To Last Out Winter

The usual last-minute rush to secure improvements before the snow flies is on at the city hall. Engineer Brazier and his staff already have more work to do than can be got over with this fall, and still they come. Last night the board of works, commonly known as No. 2 committee, faced a batch of work that will necessitate Jack Frost taking a winter off. If it is to be carried out. There were requests for sewers, walks, curbs and gutters.

The engineer will do his best. J. M. McEvoy, K.C., representing Thomas Blanchard, told the committee quite plainly that he and his client had tired of waiting for work to be done. He said that he had been waiting for the storm sewer in South London being dumped on the Blenheim property at the corner of Elmwood avenue and Wharmcliffe road. He said that it was not in their interest that the matter lag. He understood that the matter was to be taken up with the city solicitor. The had been waiting for the matter to be done. He wanted to know what the committee was going to do about it. If it were felt that the city had no duty in the matter, it was desirable that he know it, and he said they would take steps to find out what rights his client had.

Chairman Wilson said he did not know that he was to be taken the matter up with the solicitor. Mr. McEvoy said that he understood that Mr. Brazier had taken the matter up, and the engineer said that he had and that it would take two weeks longer before he would have the information he desired to lay before the solicitor. Mr. McEvoy was willing that the engineer have this time. He only asked that the matter be expedited so that something could be done to remedy the situation this fall.

Secretary W. A. Tanner, board of education, wrote to a sewer for Eding school. He said that the inspector had urged that this school be connected with the sewer before the winter set in. Mr. Brazier said that they were getting out the plans, and as soon as possible would call for tenders to have this sewer laid.

Ald. Drake said that it would be excellent work to do in the winter, as the land out there was sand. He expressed the opinion that there should be some such work to do during the coming winter.

Got Bad Reception.
Dr. H. A. Stevenson sent on a suggestion that the city should acquire the Burwell street before a gasoline station is erected there. He thought that it was desirable that the city should have this land to widen Dundas street. Several of the members of the committee immediately sat on the idea and it went down with a bang.

The Progress Laundry wants to start business at 679 Dundas street.

"It's a white man, grant the permit," said Ald. Drake. It goes through. A year or so ago the Hounds tried to give the city four lots in a subdivision below Carling Heights, running in the vicinity of Reburn street. It was suggested that the lots, 66 feet wide, would make an excellent street. Some of the fathers at that time were a little scared to accept. Evidently they believed in the old adage "Beware of the Greeks when they come bearing gifts in their right hand."

The city solicitor wrote City Clerk Baker and asked what had been done with the matter. Mr. Baker could find nothing on the minutes. The present committee did not hesitate a second. "Let's grab it," said all.

Threatens Suit.
The Knollwood Park sewer matter is to the fore again after some of the aldermen thought that it had been settled. J. M. Donahue is now talking of suit. City Clerk Baker said that in this talk was in the air it had nevertheless been intimated to him that an agreement was possible. The rock in the way of successful negotiations is interest on the cost of the sewer, which it is suggested might be spread over a period of 30 years. The matter goes to the city solicitor.

There was a host of petitions. Woodward avenue residents want a sewer and Mount Pleasant avenue folks want an extension of the proposed Woodward avenue sewer. Most of Woodward avenue is in the county and one side of Mount Pleasant is the same. The county has not made an offer to pay so this sewer won't trouble the engineer this year.

Victoria street residents, Richmond street to St. George street want a pavement, granted.

Alfred street residents want a sewer, granted.

Kicks Both Ways.
McDonald avenue residents want garbage collection. Engineer Brazier wasn't stuck on the idea of extending the system. "Persons who have the service are kicking and don't want it and those who haven't it want it," he said.

On being informed that the collectors go near this street, Ald. Drake expressed the opinion that this street, being in the city, should enjoy the service. The committee agreed.

Wyatt street residents want the sidewalk on that street extended. Ald. Wilson asked where the street was and this nettled the chairman some chiding about his boasted knowledge of West London.

North Terrace street will also get a walk. If possible, and A. Coleridge was promised the same thing as to Berbrook street and Col. Garshore the same thing to High street near Windsor Crescent.

Tenders Awarded.
Coal tenders for the city hall, corner station and Market were received. There were six tenders and Buchanan received the tender for the city hall and Hockin and Chantler the tenders for the other.

Three siphon lines are to be laid, and the engineer received five tenders for this work. The Webster Construction Company was awarded the tender for the Ann street line to Patrick street to cost $2,000, and Peter Mohan was awarded the Stanley and York job at $1,748, and the Thames and Dundas line at $3,365. For the latter job W. B. Worthington & Company, Toronto, tendered $15,000.

Mrs. Robinson, nee Miss White, of the engineer's office staff has resigned, and the committee recommended that the city's farewell gift be a month's pay.

Postage From Canada,
But Within Empire, Is Four Cents.

POSTMASTERS have been notified from Ottawa that from October 1, 1921, the rate of postage on letters from Canada to other places in the empire has been fixed at 3 cents an ounce or fraction thereof.

As an example of the above, it is pointed out that as the prepayment required on letters posted for delivery within the empire now includes the war tax of 1 cent each, letters weighing one ounce or less to places outside Canada, but within the empire, should be prepaid 4 cents. Letters weighing more than one ounce should be prepaid 4 cents for the first ounce, and 3 cents for each subsequent ounce or fraction of an ounce.

Chairman Wilson said that Loveless and others on the street got after him, and he told them to get after the rest of the committee.

There were three applications to install service stations. The engineer said that permits were not granted. These were installed at the owner's risk.

W. H. Shoebottom wrote that he had asked permission of the building inspector to put up a metal building at the rear of 260 Talbot street to stable farmers' horses. He had been refused, and so wrote the committee. The aldermen decided not to go over Mr. Piper's head and get into more hot water.

Mr. Plasted and the city have agreed on a price for his property on Carfrae street. He wanted $600. The engineer offered $500, and so they split the difference.

Mr. McCarthy has now obtained complete matriculation for entry to the Western University, and commences his college career this fall as a medical student.

MUST PAY DAUGHTER
FIVE YEARS' WAGES

Father Assigns Paid-Up Life Insurance Policy.

When his daughter, Frances, succeeded in a suit against him for wages for keeping his house five years, Louis Wort assigned his paid-up life insurance policy to cover the amount of the judgment handed down at the supreme court on Tuesday. He also must make a payment of $100 in ten days, and three annual payments of $50 each, the court ordered. The plaintiff claimed pay at the rate of $5 a week for her past services. The father contended that she was in his house only as one of his children, who had promised to manage household affairs following the death of the mother.

Minnie Spieran, who has commenced action for alimony, claiming that her husband, Hartwell Spieran, had refused to support her and their child, was awarded $700 annually by Judge Logie. She was represented by her counsel, W. R. Meredith, but neither the defendant nor his lawyer was present to contest the suit.

The case of William Cushman against Leonard Hardy, a claim for damages by the plaintiff for an alleged attack on his daughter, was settled out of court. The settlement was $1,000. Samuel Mendelsohn and his father, Louis Mendelsohn, lost their suit for $2,000 damages for injuries the boy received in an accident, which, they claimed, was caused by the negligence of W. J. Allen and his sons, the Columbia Handle and Lumber Company, when the jury found that the lad had contributed to the negligence.

Allen was driving the company's motor truck which passed over young Mendelsohn's foot when he attempted to board it while it was in motion.

PRESENTATIONS MADE TO DEPARTING PASTOR

Seated around tables beautifully decorated and laden with good things, a large representative gathering of members and adherents of the Green Presbyterian Church, bade farewell to W. M. Mustard, who has occupied the pulpit during the summer months, and also tendered a hearty welcome to Rev. P. Nicol, a former pastor.

After the repast the chairman, J. L. Lindsay, spoke touchingly on the splendid work Mr. Mustard had accomplished during his ministry. He hoped that in Knox College, Toronto, Mr. Mustard's studies would be crowned with success. Brief addresses were made by Rev. J. W. M. Crawford of Wilton Grove; P. S. Aldrich, S. W. Haynes and T. Batty, eulogizing Mr. Mustard's ministry and welcoming Mr. Nicol.

Three presentations were made to Mr. Mustard on behalf of the young people, the choir and congregation.

TRY GUNMEN AT ONCE, SAYS JURY

Prisoners charged with murder, such as the Murrell brothers, should either be confined in safer institutions than county jails or should be tried shortly after their arrest, the grand jury at the supreme court recommended in its presentation late yesterday afternoon. The document submitted to Judge Logie by L. L. McTaggart, foreman of the jury, was brief, as were the comments of the court following its presentation.

The recommendation was the direct result of the escape of Sidney and Wm. Murrell, alleged murderers, from the local jail on Friday, September 2. Judge Logie pointed out that the London jail was not the only one from which prisoners had escaped. Whether it was the fault of the system or not, he continued, it was a matter for the order and cleanliness at the jail impressed the jurors, they reported. They also inspected the Ontario Hospital and found conditions there praiseworthy.

HANGING DOG COST
SANDWICH MAN $18

WINDSOR, Sept. 27.—Found guilty of cruelty to a dog, which he hanged to a tree, Joseph Kenney, California avenue, Sandwich, was fined $18 and costs by Magistrate Gundy. A charge of assault, preferred by Kenney against Claude Randle, Sandwich resident, who attempted to prevent the hanging, was dismissed by the court.

APPEAL WAS EXPECTED.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By Canadian Press).—The Grand Trunk shareholders' decision to appeal to the privy council against the award of the board of arbitration regarding the value of the Grand Trunk stock was generally expected here. The application for leave to appeal cannot be heard before the middle of October so the actual appeal is unlikely before the new year unless special facilities are granted.

OFF THE RAILS

HUGE GRAIN SHIPMENTS.

During the past ten days nearly 2,000 carloads of grain have been shipped via the C. P. R. from Goderich to points east, breaking all records for September shipments in the local division. The sudden and unexpected increase in business was due to actions of the American grain dealers, who, in order to take advantage of cheaper rates prevailing on the Canadian roads, have been sending all the grain from the head of the Great Lakes by boats to Goderich and Port McNichol, where it is transhipped to the railroads.

As far as it is known, the American shippers have never before made use of the Canadian railroads to any great extent for moving grain, and so it is expected a high-water mark in this class of business will be established by the local railroads this year. Up to the present time practically no Canadian grain has been moved.

BIG BUSINESS EXPECTED.

With heavy grain shipments, the sugar beet season just opening, and the through and local freight business taking a turn for the better, the local officials of the C. P. R. are elated over business prospects for the next few months. It is fully expected that the company in the local division is entering a new period of prosperity.

ENOUGH CARS.

Owing to the fact that coal shipments on both the G. T. R. and the C. P. R. are comparatively light, no trouble will be experienced this year in moving the sugar beet crop. Last year there was a pronounced shortage of cars and so for many weeks at

MR. EVANS RETIRES.

After 34 years of continuous service, Thomas Evans, freight agent for the M. C. R. in London, will retire from the services of that company. Mr. Evans has been put on the retired list, and his superannuation will go into effect on September 30. It is understood that Mr. Evans will be succeeded by Leonard M. Abbs, who at present is employed as chief clerk in the local M. C. R. freight office.

NEW RAILS.

If the plans of the G. T. R. are carried out seven miles of new rails will be laid today on the westbound track between Princeton and Eastwood.

GATES IN USE.

The electric gates which have been installed by the G. T. R. at the crossing on Waterloo street are proving very
