FIRST MODEL UN TONIGHT; DR. GREGG TO OPEN SESSION

By Ron McBrien

The Honorable Milton F. Gregg, United Nations Representative to Iraq, will open the first session of a Model United Nations with a report to the General Assembly tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the Legislative Chamber of the Parliament Buildings.

Sessions also will be held on Saturday, 10:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. until the final adjournment.

The Model UN was organized by the UNB WUCS committee under the chairmanship of Zeta Rosenberg and Brian Kempster, both third year Arts students.

President of the General Assembly is Dave Dickson, Liberal candidate in the last federal election. The Honorable Milton F. Gregg is Secretary-General.

Fifty-five students, representing 20 countries, compose the General Assembly. The views expressed will be those of the respective countries, and not those of the individual student.

Topics

Topics to be discussed are: a motion by Canada "That a permanent UNB Police Force be established"; a motion by Sweden "That the Kashmir problem be discussed and recommendations made to the Security Council"; and a motion by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics "That Red China be admitted to the General Assembly".

Dr. Milton F. Gregg is a former President of UNB, and a former Liberal Cabinet Minister for York-Sunbury. He is presently the UN representative for Iraq. Dr. Gregg is to be guest of honor at a dinner given by members of the WUCS committee at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel this evening. His visit in Fredericton is limited to two weeks, since he is expected at the International Labor Office in Geneva on February 1.

Delegates

Delegates and their respective countries are: United Arab Republic: John Stockdale and Eleanor Ewing; China: Kathleen Leung, Nicholas Wong, and Frank Ng; Australia: Jo Ann Carr, Mike Denny, and Sharen MacDougald; Israel: Judy MacLellan, Mary Ann Keith, and Vivian Grant; Ghana: Brigid Toole, Dick Alexander, and Tom Evans; Netherlands: Nanning Tuinhof and Tom Mazenberg; Bolivia: Tim Arnold, David Case and Camilio Cavazza; Venezuela: John Marcus and Guillermo Hedderich; Hungary: Aurel Venczel and Michael Nyenhuis; Sweden: Anneke Deichmann and Bruce MacKeen; United Kingdom: Barry Yoell, John Findlay, Winton Toward and Peter Nicholas; Pakistan: Abdul Khaleque, Dr Manzur-i-Khuda and Mrs. Manzur-i-Khuda; Indonesia: Adi Sumarja, Warga Kartadistastra, and R. Gardjito; Canada: Dick Steeves, David Covert and Ron Manzer; Union of Soviet Socialist Republics: Brian Kempster, Joan Proudfoot and Daniel Murphy; France: Betty Hadamar, Roger Houde and Yvon Moreault; United States: Stephen Patterson, Daniel Lingeman, John Hansen and David Peters; India: Ruth Geldart, Joan MacPherson and Robert Suter, Marcella Mac-

NFCUS Proposals Tabled; SRC Discusses Education

By John Drew

The NFCUS proposals brought before the SRC Wednesday night by UNB chairman Joan Young, were tabled pending Councillors' further consideration.

Following suggestions in Ontario, however, the Council considered the educational year. The idea of a longer academic year, with three terms and three vacations was generally rejected by Council members.

The summer vacation was necessary so that students could work to put themselves through college, and to make contacts for future employment.

Supports High School Proposal

Support, however, was given to the proposal that High School students, graduating with first class honors, should receive free tuition, bursaries, and loans from the Federal Government for university education.

Miss Young announced that National Students' Day, to be initiated this year, would be held on March 5. The part that UNB should play would be looked after by the university NFCUS committee.

The SRC decided not to send a councillor to the NFCUS Regional Conference to be held the first weekend in February.

Grant

The council passed a motion allowing the Creative Arts Committee a $200 grant towards the sponsorship of a concert to be given on campus by the Bowdoin College Glee Club on Sunday, March 22. A recommendation was made that the SRC consider financial aid for the Creative Arts Committee in next year's Budget.

Among other business: Treasurer Dave Hashey reported an expected $2525 surplus on this year's Budget.

The meeting closed with the ratification of the Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Club's constitution.

National Drive Under Way

UNB's fund drive is under way. The nation-wide appeal for $3,200,000 was launched earlier this week with an announcement from Montreal that the citizens of Ontario and Quebec will be asked to contribute $500,000 and $600,000 respectively.

The campaign, which is headed by the university chancellor, Lord Beaverbrook, as honorary chairman, and New Brunswick industrialist, K. C. Irving, as national chairman, is designed to alleviate the problem of inadequate facilities caused by a rapidly rising enrollment.

The New Brunswick government will match public subscriptions on a "dollar-for-dollar" basis.

Arts Week Coming

The Arts Society is formulating plans for an Arts Week to be held in the third week of February.

Among the week's highlights is a formal slated for Feb. 20.

Various departments within the Arts Faculty are being approached with a view to possible participation in the program.

Med. Panel Revealing

Numerous advantages of the Hospital Insurance Plan were brought to light at the panel discussion on this subject Tuesday night. Sponsored by the Pre-Med Club, with Gord Mockler as chairman, the panel consisted of Dr. C. W. Kelly, Mr. R. H. Stocker, Professor W. Y. Smith and Dr. A. F. VanWart.

The audience participated avidly in the discussion, and the opinions of the various authorities agreed that the new plan, scheduled to come into effect in New Brunswick on July 1, 1959, will provide both diagnostic benefits and hospital treatment where they are most needed.

Speaking from the doctor's point of view, Dr. A. F. VanWart, president of the Canadian Medical Association stated, "We are very pleased to see a plan come into being that will give people complete hospital care, who for economic reasons, would not ordinarily be able to afford it."

Not Socialistic

Professor Smith of UNB's Economics Department, pointed out that this system is not socialistic in the sense that the hospitals are not municipally owned in this province, as they are in England. Continuing along this line of thought, Mr. R. H. Stocker, administrator of the Victoria Public Hospital in Fredericton, suggested that government action toward municipal ownership would be "a retrogressive step." He stressed the fine job of administering by hospital boards all over Canada, consisting of citizens, usually highly successful in their own positions, who give freely of their time for the benefit of the community.

Planner of the present New Brunswick scheme, Dr. C. W. Kelly, explained various aspects of the plan, including the preference of doctors for large hospitals where they have an opportunity to specialize.

CARNIVAL NEAR; QUEENS APPEAR

The 1959 Winter Carnival is less than three weeks away.

As an opener to the gala frosty frolic, the Carnival Queens will appear on television, Feb. 2nd. The five beauties will adorn the program "Guest Spot", on CHSJ-TV, at 6:20 on that date.

In late carnival developments, the committee has approached the Fredericton council concerning city aid in decorating for the big week-end affair. Among the suggestions is one to build a giant snow sculpture in the square surrounding the Lord Beaverbrook

Reward For Missing Notes

The SRC is offering $25.00 for some missing notes.

The notes being sought are musical and are the same elusive ones which the SRC hopes someday will fill in the lines and spaces to become an original UNB song. The $25.00 prize is being offered to the UNB student who writes this song.

In stressing the need for such a melody, an SRC spokesman recalled that our football song is simply "Anchors Aweigh" with a changed set of lyrics and our cheer, duplicate of the University of Toronto yell.

Applications will be received until February 14th, 1959 and may be placed in Box "B" of the Arts Building.

P.C.'s To Plan For Parliament

The Progressive Conservative Club is to meet Tuesday January 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the New Lounge of the Students' Centre to begin its plans for participation in the 1959 Model Parliament.

Committees will be appointed at the meeting to begin work on the election campaign and on the debates in the House, as well as to do the PC's share of organizational work on the joint committee.

Address by

Hon. R. Fairweather

After the business meeting, the Tories will hear an address by the Hon. R. Gordon L. Fairweather, O.C., the Attorney General of the province, on the proposed Canadian Bill of Rights.

Ronald Manzer Awarded Rhodes Scholarship

Ronald Manzer, a fourth year honors student in English and Economics, has been chosen Rhodes Scholar by the Rhodes Scholar Selection Committee for New Brunswick after consideration of six candidates from the universities of UNB, Mt. Allison, Sacred Heart and St. Joseph's.

A Frederictonian, Mr. Manzer graduated from Fredericton High School in 1955, leading the province in matriculation exams. He has maintained a high academic standard throughout his university studies, winning the Ralph St. John and Charles E. Freeze scholarships for second year English and the Dr. Berton C. Foster Scholarship for the highest freshman standing. In addition to his B.A., Mr. Manzer is studying for a bachelor of education degree. In 1959 he intends to do post-graduate work in Polikie's philosophy and economics at Oxford.

CHANGED CAMPUS MARKS FUTURE

This letter will give the Brunswickan readers some idea of the changes that may be wrought in the next twenty years. Women's Residence, University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, N.B. 1979

My Dear Lucy,

I was so pleased to receive your Christmas card. What memories it recalled! Does it seem possible to you that it has been twenty-one years since the class of '59 made that last memorable exit through the MacLaren Gates—the gates were new then—the pride of the university, catching every eye and marking the great divide between Fredericton and the UNB campus. Oh Lucy, if you could only see them now. Not many do, for today they mark not the entrance but the exit.

Many things have changed now, Lucy. I have and I suppose you have also. I felt horrible when my name did not appear on that list with the other graduates. But I decided to stick with it and complete my college education at any cost.

Each of the next fifteen years I made that trip to view the list. Each time I turned away with a heavy heart. I was determined though—I stuck with it. Having only one course to complete I was enrolled as a special student and consequently was not asked "not to return". My work in morale boosting in the student centre was considered indispensable.

Finally, the sixteenth year, the prominence of my position at the university was officially recognized. I wasn't graduated—no, far better than that. I was appointed Dean of the Maggie Jean.

The Old Maggie Jean has changed too, Lucy. The volume of noise increased proportionately with the number of girls. Finally, being unable to remove the girls, the residents of the whole block willingly turned their property over to the university. Ah, we have a magnificent building now—five stories high.

Growth has not been the only change necessary though. My job is quite different from the old Deans. I have found it necessary to have the latest inter-com equipment installed. A TV camera is installed in every room so that at the touch of a button I can watch every move in the building—much easier on the slippers this way.

Hours are different too—the activities are so widespread that the girls are not required to spend specific hours but a minimum number of hours in their rooms.

In some ways my job is more difficult too. I not only have to watch the fire escapes now, but every window requires my close attention, with the current vogue of anti-gravity belts. Boys put them to "good" use. Next year I hope to have the new electronic system installed to bar these means of entrance. Then I will have more time to repose in my comfortable quarters with my vodka and memories—fond memories.

As ever, Dean of the Maggie Jean

Bearded Beauties?

The Executive of the McGill Winter Carnival has added a new idea to its schedule.

The event is a beard growing contest—open to male students only. Included among the prizes will be an electric shaver.

Gala Event Set At Jones House

Tonight marks the occasion of the Jones House Formal, the first important social event to be held in the new men's residence.

Dancing for the residents and their guests will start at 9.30 p.m. and continue until 1.30 a.m. The music will be provided by Lloyd Crawford and his orchestra.

The Social Committee is headed by the house president, Merton Moriarity. For the decoration theme, the Committee has chosen the Playboy theme; posters for this effort were obtained from the American magazine Playboy. One of the most attractive features is a rabbit tunnel which will mark the entrance to the Recreation Room, where the dancing will take place.

The chaperones for the formal are Dr. Colin Mackay, Prof. and Mrs. I. M. Beattie, Prof. and Mrs. R. H. B. McLaughlin, and Donald Nelson, house proctor.

The Jones House Formal marks an addition to the number of formal dances held annually on the campus. Other "firsts" appearing this term are the Aitken House Formal on February 27 and the Arts Ball on February 20.

U.N.B. Chess Players Plan Organization

At present there are, on the campus, various small chess groups which meet regularly. These groups, which include residence and town teams, are made up of University students who desire to meet and play new opponents and, at the same time, improve their game.

The members of these groups feel that only a few of the potential chess players on the campus have been reached, and that there would be a keen interest shown in a UNB Chess Club.

On Monday, January 19, at 7:30 in the New Lounge of the Students Centre, there will be an organizational meeting. All interested are invited to attend. The main purpose of the meeting is the finding of a place and time for play.

Many colleges in Canada and the U.S. already have organized Chess programmes and in Europe chess is played in the high schools on an interscholastic level.

Although the UNB chess enthusiasts hope that, in time, their group may obtain a competitive level, they wish to stress the fact that everyone is welcome, from beginners up, for most players are beginners, and every chess player has much to learn.

—ON DEAR HUNTING—

There are various branches of hunting. By far the most popular form in Canada is dear hunting. Hunters specializing in this branch are limited by neither sex, age, nor status, and its great popularity may in part be due to the fact that it is both an indoor and outdoor sport without limited seasons.

Some hunt because they have to. This class of dear hunters are those who have failed to catch the object of the hunt through any other method. Enough said.

Then, of course, there are the big-time hunters. Requirements for the use of this method are a good physique and lots of conceit. For most big-time hunters the sport is more than a vocation—it's their life. They use only one method which, of course, is the use of a decoy—themselves. Failures among big-time hunters rather than renouncing the sport become, of necessity, those who hunt because they have to.

The sophisticated form of hunting deserves some mention (particularly since it is the most popular). Here the hunter himself is relatively unimportant since he makes use of many lures—cars, money, flowers, jewelry, money, cars... The best hunters in this area are aided by a fast line and have a knack for catching the dear without losing the lure.

Like any sport the hunting of dears is not without pitfalls. However, most feel that the rewards far outweigh the difficulties. Rules are of little importance—even where they are explicit they are ignored. This results in many muddles and it is not at all uncommon to find several hunters after the same dear, who in turn is hunting some other dear not in their ranks. If handled the right way, this sport can be very profitable for both the hunter and the hunted, which cannot be said for the other less important branches of hunting.

John Ripley Award Winner

John Ripley, a post-graduate English student, has been awarded an IODE First War Memorial Scholarship, valued at $2,000. Mr. Ripley graduated with first class honors in English with a bachelor of arts degree in 1958. Hailing from Londonderry, Nova Scotia, he entered UNB on a Sir George E. Foster Scholarship, and was a frequent scholarship winner. He was also one of 48 bilingual student guides at the Canadian pavilion at the Brussels' International Exhibition. Mr. Ripley was a member of the UNB Choral Society, and news editor of the Brunswickan. He plans to enter a British university next fall to do research leading to a Ph.D. in English literature.

Student Journalist Sacked For 2nd Time

WINNIPEG—Normand Lacharite, an editor without a paper and a student without a university, won near unanimous support from delegates at the Canadian University Press convention here.

Last year, Lacharite and a fellow editor, Jean David, published an article in La Rotonde, the French language paper at the University of Ottawa. The article was critical of "paternalism" in the university's administration.

One result: Lacharite and David were fired.

In the fall, Lacharite took up his studies at Laval University in Quebec City. About the same time he wrote a defence of his earlier stand. It was published by this year's editors of La Rotonde.

Act two: three more La Rotonde staffers were sacked, and the paper suspended publication.

But Lacharite was not through. He published another article, this time in Laval's Le Carabin. Authorities at Laval became annoyed at the fiery, bearded journalist, and dismissed him from the school.

He took his case to the CUP conference here, Dec. 29-31, and with support from the Laval delegation, secured passage of a resolution favoring freedom of the press and condemning Laval authorities for denying it.

The editors of Le Carabin said they plan to campaign to have Lacharite reinstated, and since they moved the resolution, it looks like they mean to put up a good fight.

In the meantime, Lacharite says he is trying to find yet another university at which he can "study".

Communal Boots

The Chinese Communists have the right idea! During the past year they moved more than 90 per cent of China's 500 million peasants into communes where these peasants were forced to surrender all their private property and were allowed to have nothing distinctively their own.

This procedure could work very well at UNB, where certain low capitalist dogs have been up to their old trick of stealing other people's winter footwear.

At registration each year, the student should be made to exchange his winter overshoes for a pair of special "communal campus boots".

These boots, issued one pair per student, should be attractively, distinctively and uniformly colored in red and black, made only in one size and only in one style. These boots would, of course, go to members of both sexes. As a sign of their status, faculty and administration would be issued black and red boots instead of red and black ones.

If the student should happen to be at class or at the Students' Centre, he would feel safe in taking off his boots in the hall or cloakroom. When he wanted to brave the deep snows and icy gusts again, all he would have to do would be to put on the nearest pair of overshoes. Unless someone had taken two pairs away with him, everyone would still have a pair of boots to go home in.

The administration would install "boot machines" in all campus buildings. Then, should anyone be so greedy as to take two pairs of boots, the bootless student, by simply inserting his enrolment card in the machine, would be able to procure himself a fresh pair of overshoes.

We are certain this system would prove that Red China should be recognized and that, although the system would be disappointing to a few students, it would be of great advantage to the university as a whole—P.C.K.

'NO RELATION TO MAC'

— by JEM —

I am no relation to Mac. At least I hope I'm not. I don't think life is so full of dismal doom. If we look, we can always find a cheerful side. What would become of the world if we were all to turn into pessimists? It would be a sad and sorry place I am afraid. Now is the time to act before we are entirely engulfed in the fog of doom. Move over pessimists and make room for the optimist!

Don't you pessimistic people realize the effect you have on others? Did anyone see the boy sitting crying on the Arts Building steps, the other day? His mother is very concerned. She said he has been depressed for days. She even bought him a new jacket (after six years at UNB his old one is worn out). But even that did not cheer him. So when he could face it no longer he sat down and cried. Tears ran down the front of his jacket and he wiped his nose on the sleeve. The new jacket was ruined. Things like this can't go on.

It has reached the point now where:

"Cry and the world cries with you.

"Laugh and they think you are a nut."

There is really a great deal to laugh about. Let's get out of the complaining rut.

Why we even complain about the weather. But look at it this way: the brisk cold air is good for you. It sends the blood rushing to your brain. When blood and gray matter mix you never know what great result it might produce. The walk from one building to another is very invigorating. So what if there is slush to your knees and you get your feet wet? Be thankful, now you won't have to wash them for a while. If you should slip on a bit of ice and fall head-first into the water, don't swear and be ugly all day. Just think, you won't even have to take a bath on Saturday night. So much time has been saved. Time you can well put to use in studying or — something.

The professors are not so bad, either. Even the one that descends on you with a surprise test. If the test happens to be so hard that no one can do it, don't sulk and call naughty names under your breath. Go thank him, for he has your best interests at heart. He knows that ink is expensive and so by making the test too hard he is saving you money in ink you don't have to use. If you fail all your exams, remember it always takes the world a long time to recognize a genius.

Look around and you will find that every problem has a bright side. It is time to stop the weeping and wailing. Life is cheerful and full of fun — so smile or better yet, be brave and laugh.

RICKER WIN 99-69 RAIDERS BEST GAME OF SEASON TO NO AVAIL

Although playing their best basketball this season, the UNB Red Raiders were dealt a resounding 99-69 defeat at the hands of the Ricker College quintet. Both teams opened fast and, as a result of good percentage shooting in the first half by both teams, the score remained close with Ricker sporting a 43-37 half time lead.

Ricker used a full court press in the second half to great success, often befuddling the Raiders' offence, steadily increasing their lead until it was a full thirty points at the game's end. McHugh, recently recovered from a back injury which caused him to miss several games before Christmas, headed the UNB marksmen with 17 points. Morgan, usually in the double figures in the scoring column, dumped in 14 points. Jordan and Basse, using their height to advantage, headed the Ricker scorers with 19 and 16 points respectively. Taylor of UNB fouled out in the second half. UNB hit for 13 out of 22 foul shots while Ricker sank 19 out of 34.

In a preliminary game the Ricker JV's defeated their UNB counterparts 58-51. Harrington and Selby led the Ricker scorers with 16 and 12 points respectively while Gord Petrie and MacKenzie topped the UNB quintet with 10 and 8 points respectively.

DEVILS WHIP WOODSTOCK

UNB Red Devils drubbed the first-place Woodstock Legionnaires 12-2 in Woodstock last Monday night. The win moved UNB into a second place tie with Devon Tigers in the Central New Brunswick Senior Hockey League.

The Red Devils struck fast, scoring three goals in the first three minutes, then continued to romp through a demoralized Legionnaire team for nine more tallies.

Spearheading the Collegians' scoring spree was the McLellan Jarrett, Soward trio with a total of seven goals and seven assists. Ed McLellan accounted for four goals and an assist, Tommie Jarrett scored a hat trick and two assists and centerman Bob Soward racked up four assists.

Other UNB goals were tallied by Currie McCarthy, Don Morrow, Al Jones, Galen Parent and Norm Bolitho.

Woodstock goals were notched by Bucky David and Murray Ralston.

Devil's goaltender, Dave Inch, with a much improved defense in front of him backed up the blue-line brigade with a fine performance, making 24 stops. Joe Burchill in the Woodstock cage, despite a tough night, kicked out 27 shots.

UNB received eight out of fourteen minor penalties called in the fairly rough game. Tempers flared at the 11:50 mark of the third period. A scrap between Woodstock defenseman Bill Donovan and UNB defenseman Hedley Savoy ended with both receiving five minute majors and game misconducts. Goalie Joe Burchill, blew his top at the same time and was also banished from the game.

Inch Stars as Caps Lose 8-3 To Devils

UNB Red Devils registered a convincing 8-3 victory over the Fredericton Capitals in the Lady Beaverbrook Rink last Wednesday night. The win moved the college crew into undisputed possession of second place in the CNBSHL with a record of 3 wins and 1 loss.

Pacing the freeskating Devils to their second consecutive victory was Captain Don Morrow and linemate Al Jones, both with a pair of goals. Norm Bolitho, Bob Soward, Ed McLellan and Currie McCarthy triggered the other markers.

Bruce Watt, Ken Ketch and Bill Goobie scored the outclassed Caps' goals.

Both goaltenders, Dave Inch and Jim Lyons turned in excellent games. Inch blocked 38 shots, playing especially brilliant hockey in the second period, and Lyons made 36 saves in the Fredericton net.

Referees Wif Miles and Vic Leury blew down 10 minors, 5 to each team, and one major. A ten minute misconduct was handed out to Caps centreman Bill Goobie.

Gentlemen Challenge

The Gentlemen of England hereby challenge ladies of the College to a contest in the noble art of Ice Hockey. They also respectfully suggest first that, as is customary, the contest be decided on an appointed date during the Winter Carnival; and secondly that the rules be in accordance with those set down by the country on whose territory the contest is played.

This, in deploring those laws commonly known as International Rules. In the tradition of the sport the Gentlemen further suggest that no quarter be given or asked.
