The fact that the several States have oursessed the credit to borrow fifty millions stering in England, and the high character of State Stecks at the present time there, where Canadian Securities will not be touched, is a very strong orgument in favor of Annexation. Of this we are perfectly certain; facts are stubborn things, and just the weapons with which we, Annexationists, intend to combat "the sentimental loyalty" of such journalists as the Spectator. Facts, and very hard facts, too, the facts of decaying trade, depreciated property, empty pockets, and rapidly approaching social disorganization staring them in the face, are urging on this movement, which is an distastsful to the Spectator.

MT DEAR Str.,—I was somewhat amused, as well as surprised, at your honoring me with a letter, through the Montreed Gazette, relating to the Annexation meeting, over which I had presided the preceding day.

It is a prevalent opinion in the United States, that if a man spirce to the office of President, he should never write a letter, as by so doing he is certain to damage his cause, sind to diminish materially his chances of success, and you are doubtless aware of some instances which have been consist to establish the truth of the remark. Now, my dear Sir, if you wish to be the set Governor of Canada, after your elective principle is established, let me advise you not to write any more letters, for if you have not already injured your cause beyond hope of recovery, another letter like the last would certainly finish you out. As you have set me the example of giving gratuitous advice, I would also further recommend these grantiemen, when you are men against gather and accritica for their who, you say, are making such great sacrimers for their country, to consider well, whether, after all, they would not be as well at home, looking after their business, as attending meetings of the League, which is not likely ever to be a very "great fact," or writing letters to Annexationists who do not seem capable of appreciating true

There is a feeling creeping through society that the French question, far from being settled, is in an unsatisfactory position. Ever since Jackson extracted the indemnity from France, there has been a soreness of feeling on the part of that country—and the Americans, on the other hand, are amoyed at the mode and manner of payment—they suffered a shave in the transaction.

Napoleon, since his election, has betrayed a leaning towards the despotisms of Europe, which developed itself when the Roman Republic was crushed. This last act has been denounced by the American Press, in terms of bitter heatility. France pants for war. Her President looks to war as a means whereby he may propitiate the army, prolong his tenure of office, or exchange his Presidency for a Throne. Now the United States are almost the only Power with whom France could wage a war, that would not be injurious to herself, and would not provoke the interference of the European Powers. France is vain of her Navy, and longs for an occasion to wipe away the recollection of the Nile and Trafalgar. Her commercial marine is insignificant. France has assumed the tone and attitude of menace of the bully towards every weaker Power; towards the United States, her conduct has not been satisfactory.

The Americans will not shun the conflict—

It is no easy matter to learn, with anything like certainty, the actual state of the negotiations between the two countries, but if you refer to price of Stocks, you will perceive that there has been a decline since the arrival of the last Steamer—and operators look for the next European news with solicitude.

PARSING EXTRACEDINARY.—The following scene is said to have occurred in a school not a r hundred miles from London:—Teacher—"What part of speech is the word egg ?" Boy (hesitating)—"Noun, sir," Teacher—"Is it masculine, semenine, or neuter ?" Boy (looking sharp)—"Can't say, sir, till it's hatched." Teacher—"Well, then, my lad, can you tell me the case ?" Boy (quickly)—"Oh, yes, it's the shell, sir," The Whig Press are cautious; they but rarely discuss the question, and evince an apathy respecting the Canadian movement, only to be accounted for on the supposition, that the United To Discover whether Bread is Adulter States wish to stand well with Great Britain To DISCOVER WHETHER BREAD IS ADULTERATED WITH ALDM.—The bread must be scaked with water, and to the water in which it has been scaked, a little of the solution of muriate of immust be added, upon which, if any alum by present, the liquid will be pervaded with additioner; but if the bread be pure, the liquid will remain limpid. THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

IN THIS SALVE, prepared from the original recipe procured from a celebrated Turkish rlakim, (physician) of Smyras, in Asia Minor, and which has obtained an unprecedented celebrity in Great Britain and the East Indies, from the astonishing Cures performed by it in both these countries, has lately been introduced into Montreal. As might be expected, its popularity has followed it, and its use is becoming general among all classes. The Proprietors, prompted by the very flattering reception it has met with in the Metropolis, have determined on extending its usefulness to all other parts of Canada; and, for that purpose, have established agencies in all the principal Caties. They flatter thems/lves that when its wonderful properties shall become more generally known, they will meet with that encouragement which the introduction of such a valuable medicament into a country justly entitles them. The contracted timits of an advertisement necessarily precludes their entering into any adequate detail of its merits, but, for the information of the public, they intend to publish, from time to time, such statements of cures as have or ray occur, and for the present will content the saclves with merely enumerating some of the co-splaints for which it has been used with the ray access—Such as Swollen Glands, Broken, Broasts, White Swellings, Cuts, Whittows, Scalds from S camboat syptosions, or other causes, Burns, Sercolulous Sores, Sore Nipplea, Carbancles, Scald Head, Gun-shot Wounds, Bruises, Boils, Frostbites, Wens, Chilblains, Ulcerated and Common Sore Throats and Bunions. CURE OF TYPHUS FEVER, WHEN SUPPOS- the parts thickly s ED TO BE AT THE POINT OF DEATH. | night and morning ED TO BE AT THE POINT OF DEATH.

A respectable female, in the neighborhoul of Loughall, was attacked with "Typhus Fever, and lay lor five days without he ing tasked any description of food. Sie was given over by the Surgeon, and preparations were made for her demise. Art. Hendamin Diackie, the Quaker, whose case is referred to above, heard of the circumstance, and knowing the immense bear fit that he himself had derived from Holloway's Pilis, recommended an immediate trial, and eight were given to her, and the same namber was continued night and morning for three days, and no very short time she was completely cured.

N. B.—From advice just received, it appears that Colonel Dear, who is with his Regiment in India, the Mat Fusileers, cured Linuseff of a very bas actick of Fever by these celebrated Pilis. There is no doubt tint any Fever, however mult, nant, may be cured by taking night and morning, copicus discession of this fine medicine. The patient should be induced to drink pientifully of warm linseed tea or barley water.
