ADMIRAL JELlicOE'S REPORT ON NORTH SEA BATTLE TELLS OF HEAVY ENEMY LOSSES

British Assume Offensive and Capture Trench on 1000 Yards Front

Germans Also Launch Heavy Counter-Attacks and Fighting is Very Violent

--Enemy Gains at Thiepval

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, July 7, 2.46 p.m.—Capture by the British of a German trench on a front of 1,000 yards east of La Boisselle, in the Somme region, was announced officially to-day.

The British resumed the offensive on certain sectors east of Albert at dawn to-day. At the same time the Germans launched heavy attacks on the British trenches near the Ancre. Violent fighting is now in progress.

In the vicinity of Ovillers and Contalmaison, as well as near La Boisselle, the British made progress. In the region of Thiepval the Germans regained a section of lost ground.

The statement follows:

"This morning in certain sectors of the battlefield east of Albert we resumed a vigorous offensive at dawn. The Germans at the same time launched heavy attacks on our own trenches in the vicinity of Ancre and north of Fricourt, with the result that violent fighting is now in progress along the whole front between the Ancre and Montauban.

"Up to the present several important tactical successes have been gained by our infantry in the vicinity of Ovillers, La Boisselle and Contalmaison, but northwest of Thiepval the enemy succeeded temporarily in regaining two or three hundred yards of lost ground."

British Assume Take Two London, July 7.—11.55 a.m.—The second phase of the great battle on the western front has now begun. The artillery has been brought up to new positions and is again battering the German defences. The bombardment extends as far northward as La Basse and Armentieres, and according to the latest unofficial news, is particularly intense. British long-range guns are shelling the German positions, and the roads in their rear, and until the infantry again leaves the trenches it will be uncertain where the next attacks are to be launched.

Pressure on Verdun Lessening In addition to inflicting losses on the Germans in men, guns and territory, the Anglo-French offensive is reported to have compelled them to withdraw some of their forces from the Verdun front. Consequently, it is expected in London that the army which for nearly five months withstood the German attacks in that region will have some relief from continual fighting.

On the eastern front the Russians who now apparently have even a better supply of guns and ammunition than their adversaries, seem to pass from one phase to the next without intermission.

Russians Advancing General Letchitzky's army, which conquered Bukovina and cut the railway between Delatyn and Korosten, is advancing in an effort completely to overcome the Austrian forces on that front. General Kaledines is continuing to deliver heavy strokes against the Austrians and Germans who are endeavoring to keep him from Kovel. With these operations in full swing, the Russians to the north have inaugurated an offensive from Riga to Baranovichi. Along the northern end of the line, from Riga to Drinsk, a great bombardment has begun, while from a point east of Vilna to Baranovichi artillery preparation was followed by infantry attacks in which the Russians reported that they made many prisoners, repulsing German counter-attacks. Near Smorgon the Russians and Germans also are engaged in a severe struggle.

Quiet in Mesopotamia. Roumania, it is said here, is awaiting some move by the Entente forces at Saloniki. The Near East is interested in the battles throughout the Caucasus and Mesopotamia. The Russian army which was advancing toward Bagdad, has fallen back some 50 miles under pressure from great Turkish forces which were brought against it, but elsewhere the Black Sea to the Persian frontier, the Russians are more than holding their own.

No news has been received recently from the British army in Mesopotamia, but it is believed inactivity has been enforced by the great heat.

"Death to the Kaiser! Death to the Man Who Wants War!" Hun Cry

Serious Outbreak of Anti-War Feeling in Berlin, Where People Barricaded the Streets With Wheels From Military Wagons.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, July 7.—(New York Times cable)—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Milan says: Travellers arriving in Switzerland from Germany, report serious troubles in several German towns, among which is Berlin, immediately after the first news was received of the Anglo-French offensive. Crowds marched through the streets, shouting: "Enough of war. Let us have peace." The disorders this time were different from the customary food riots and seemed far more serious, having all the characteristics of popular revolts.

The riots in Berlin were exceptionally grave. People surrounded the troops to force them to join the revolt, and took the wheels of military wagons and gun carriages and used them for barricades. The most serious demonstration was at Potsdam last Sunday. A vast mob indulged in demonstrating against the kaiser and imperial family. Sheets were secretly handed round on which were printed:

"Death to the kaiser!"
 "Death to the man who wants war!"
 "Death to the crown prince!"
 "Long live free Germany, free from these parasites who have led it to ruin!"

From these operations, it is that attackers under the conditions of modern scientific warfare are placed at a conspicuous disadvantage. As leaders of an assault instead of men acting on the defensive, the British are playing a new role and it will take a little time for them to get used to it. None the less they are cheery and confident beyond belief.

ADMIRAL BRIDGE ON JELlicOE'S BATTLE IN NORTH SEA; ONLY THREE OTHERS MORE DECISIVE

Quiberon Bay, The Nile and Trafalgar in all of British Sea Victories Alone More Decisive Than the Recent Battle—High Praise For Admiral Beatty

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, July 7.—(New York Times cable)—Admiral Sir John Jellicoe's report on the battle of Jutland sea, is here regarded as completely disposing of the last vestige of the German claim of victory. Here and there one finds a certain disposition to question the strategy of the battle, particularly in the general disposition of the British forces at the outset, but in the main opinion is strongly in support of the tactical dispositions. Such criticisms of Admiral Beatty's tactics as have been heard, are now silenced by Vice-Admiral Jellicoe's high praise of the commander of the battle cruiser squadron.

A New Nelson In the highest naval circles Beatty is spoken of as a new Nelson. Altogether the report is regarded as extremely satisfactory, although the regret which shows in Admiral Jellicoe's praise that he was reluctantly compelled to accept the fact that the high sea fleet had returned to port is universal. Admiral Jellicoe's report is very conservative. Admiralty estimates of the German tonnage lost show a total of 116,000 tons, while the British losses amounted to 112,000 tons.

Admiral Bridge's Commentary Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge has prepared the following commentary on Admiral Jellicoe's report:

"To my mind, in general, the engagement shows a highly distinguished strategic conception, highly capable tactical leading, great readiness to seize initiative and admirable support of their leaders by all ranks. It was one of the most decisive British ever fought. In fact, there is a brilliant achievement for the British navy. To put the situation succinctly, it may be said that before the battle the British fleet at sea was divided into two parts, one force under Sir David Beatty and the other, the battle fleet or main body, under the commander-in-chief, Sir John Jellicoe.

The Dominating Factor. This distribution of the ships was the dominating factor in bringing about the battle. Had the whole British fleet been massed and close together, it is more than likely that no battle would have occurred at all. So with the British fleet divided, the Germans were encouraged to give battle with Beatty. Sir David determined to get them into a fight, arranged the management of the action so that he could draw them nearer and nearer to Jellicoe's main body, which was coming up in support. He thus greatly shortened the interval between the first collision and eventual participation in the action by Jellicoe's battleships. Even to a layman it must be plain that this was a tactical performance of the highest merit.

British Gunnery More Accurate Continuing, Admiral Bridge said: "A satisfactory thing about the whole engagement, without going into minute details, was that the material and appliances of to-day, which had not been long enough in use to permit our knowing how they should be employed, were successfully handled and proved almost free from breakdown. The gunnery of the British fleet was the more accurate of the two. This was due not only to very thorough training, but also to the cool and deliberate manner in which the guns were fired. The Germans in the earlier stages of the battle fired more rapidly but after their early shots they showed no accuracy of aim.

A Decisive Action. As to the whole engagement, after reading Admiral Jellicoe's report, I can say unhesitatingly that it was one of the most decisive British ever fought. In fact, there is a brilliant achievement for the British navy. To put the situation succinctly, it may be said that before the battle the British fleet at sea was divided into two parts, one force under Sir David Beatty and the other, the battle fleet or main body, under the commander-in-chief, Sir John Jellicoe.

Even Conservative Estimate of Naval Battle Gives Enemy Bad Beating. By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, July 7.—Two estimates of the total tonnage lost by the Germans in the Jutland naval battle have been made by British officials. The more conservative one, who included in his list only vessels "seen to sink" and based his estimate on the theory that the battleships sunk were of the oldest dreadnought type, gives the German tonnage lost as 109,220, as compared with a British loss in tonnage of 112,950. He concludes that the Germans lost two battleships of the dreadnought type of 18,900 tons each, one of the Deutschland type of 13,200 tons, the battle cruiser Lattow of 28,000 tons, five cruisers of the Rostock type, making a total of 24,500 tons for the Germans, and six destroyers aggregating 4,920 tons and one submarine of 800 tons.

Another estimate places the German losses at 113,220 tons, as follows: "One dreadnought of the Kron Prinz type 25,480 tons; one of the Helgoland type 23,400 tons; battle cruiser Pommern, 13,000 tons; five Rostocks, aggregating 24,000 tons; destroyers aggregating 4,000 tons; and a submarine of 800 tons.

LONDON, July 7.—Five more British fishing boats have been sunk in the North Sea by German submarines. In one case, a fishing boat which tried to escape was shelled. One member of her crew was killed and three injured.

The British Steamship Gannet of London, has been sunk. She was unarmed. The Gannet was 245 feet long, 1,112 tons gross, and was built at Stockton in 1879.

Petrograd Hears Retreat Has Already Commenced--Tremendous Attacks Launched by Russian Troops in Riga District

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, July 7, 3 p.m.—A wireless despatch from Rome says word has been received there from Petrograd that, in consequence of their triple defeat in the sectors of Riga, Kolk and Baranovichi, the Germans have begun to move their whole front toward the west.

ARTILLERY VERY EFFECTIVE.

LONDON, July 7, 10.35 a.m.—The Russians have begun a tremendous offensive on the Riga front where their artillery is destroying the German trenches, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Vienna, via Copenhagen.

The bombardment, the despatch adds, lasted 24 hours and the Germans were helpless before the Russian artillery which can now fire 50 shells as against one in 1914.

Berlin, July 7.—A salient of the German lines in Volhynia projecting towards Czartorysk, has been abandoned under superior pressure by the Russians, and a new line of defense selected, it was announced today by the war office.

GERMAN FLEET NEAR THE COAST OF ENGLAND

Berlin Report Says it Captured a Steamship as Prize Vessel

By Special Wire to the Courier.

BERLIN, July 7, via London, 3.03 p.m.—Official announcement was made that the British steamship Lestriz was held up by German warships near the English coast and seized as a prize. The statement says the Lestriz was held up "by a portion of the German high sea forces."

The announcement follows: "The British steamship Lestriz, from Liverpool, has been held by a portion of the German high sea forces not far from the English coast, and seized as a prize."

The wording of the German statement indicates that a part, at least, of the German high sea fleet was near the English coast at the time the Lestriz was seized. The Lestriz is a steamship of 1,384 tons gross, owned in Cork.

QUIET AGAIN ON BOTH BANKS OF SOMME RIVER

Entente Forces Can Not Only Win, But Hold Their Gains.

Paris, July 7.—11.45 a.m.—Quiet prevailed last night on both sides of the Somme River says to-day's war office statement. The artillery of both sides was active on the left and right banks of the Meuse, especially on the Thiameont earthwork and in the Firy and Chenoise sections. The French trenches at the Le Pretre woods failed.

German aeroplanes yesterday dropped bombs on the open town of Lure, killing 11 persons, all of whom, except one, were women or children. Two German machines were brought down near Mezieres.

Can Hold Wins. Paris, July 7.—Yesterday's defensive fighting has given almost as much satisfaction to the French as the previous day's captures for they say, it has clearly shown that the Entente allies not only are able to win but can hold Wins.

Final Instructions For Entraining

Men of 133rd Attended Last Divison Service in Simcoe This Morning

Simcoe, July 7.—Dr. Dey and Rev. E. C. Newcome both took part this morning in the last church parade at the armories. The men sang one verse of "Nearer My God to Thee" and entered heartily into the repetition of the Lord's Prayer. The ministers spoke of the great pleasure their connection with the battalion had given them and of the stirring qualities of the men.

The commanding officer acknowledged the services of the town preachers and proceeded to give instructions as to entraining to-morrow. The men were instructed to say farewell at home and informed that they would march in strict discipline and into their allotted coaches to-morrow and observe strict discipline in the coaches till the trains pulled out. The baggage car of the advance party broke down enroute yesterday and the material had to be transferred to another car at Hamilton. Advice from Capt. Wake, Q.M., states that the battalion has an excellent camp ground, conveniently situated. The Methodist S. S. management report that their trip over the new road yesterday was a pleasant one, and that the officials of the road were very courteous, and the arrangements for the transportation were well carried.

A resolution urging the President to exert every possible effort to avoid war with Mexico was adopted by the Central Conference of American Rabbis, at Wildwood, N.J.

A jolly camping party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Isaac and family of Galt; Mr. and Mrs. George MacKay and son Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Isaac, Misses Fern and Mira Scruton, all of Brantford; and Marion Walters, of Guelph, grand-children of Mrs. Farrow, Elora, are occupying the house at the old Farrow Farm, on the Grand River, below Elora. Their first catch from the Grand River was a fourteen-inch bass. Later on, some of the campers hooked and landed five fish of the same class measuring 16 inches.—Elora Express.

NO YOUNG MEN FOR PICNIC

One Example of How the War is Changing Conditions.

Since July 6.—A feature of the two Sunday School picnics which left here to-day, one for Brantford and the other for Dover, was the absence of young men. Even with the stores all closed for the afternoon, there are very few young men left about town and there were probably not more than a dozen young men in either group.

The following Brantford citizens are camping in Orchard Beach Park cottages at Dover: Mrs. Brooks and family, Mrs. Hooper and family, and there are at the Park Hotel, Charles M. Thompson, Mrs. George R. Thompson, and Mrs. W. H. Wrighton also of Brantford. A deputation from Brantford was at the park to-day with a view to bringing a picnic down on July 12th.

The delay in getting the trolley service open to the Port is seriously mitigating against the influx to the beach.

Telegraph service out of Simcoe is slow, frequently to the embarrassment of business men. A new line into the C.P.R. office has not as yet been put up to the present. There appears to be a short staff of operators in the Toronto office and frequently messages are seriously delayed. At present neither office will guarantee that messages will be sent within any given time.

The strength of the 133rd at present is given out as 888.

Does the crownless hat reign supreme in your wardrobe? If not, beware, fair ladies, it is on its way and is bound to captivate you with its fascinating charm, according to Miss Mildred Elaine, who plays the leading feminine role in "Nobody Home," the unique and delightful musical comedy which Mr. John P. Slocum, will present at the Grand Opera House Thursday evening, July 13.

"The brimless hat," says Miss Elaine, "has held dame fashion's hand for several seasons to the extent of ruining the hair of numerous women through its lack of ventilation. Now, however, the crownless hat, which is a very welcome visitor, is here to stay, to sun the hair, to give it much needed fresh air and to bring fashionable women into closer touch with nature."

If you will look about you at the women who do not wear hats, whether from choice or compulsion, you will observe that they are the possessors of most luxuriant hair. This is not because of any special care, but because of the contact with fresh air. It is quite natural for the hair to die and the scalp to become unhealthy when we bind our heads in "hot boxes" of hats which some mad designer decreed women should wear in order to be in the fashion."

FARM LABORERS WANTED.

The Western Provinces of Canada have experienced an acute shortage of farm laborers for spring seeding and summer work this year. Even when times were normal throughout Canada moreover, it was always necessary to bring from twenty-five to thirty thousand laborers from Eastern points for the harvest season.

As voluntary enlistments have been very heavy, and inasmuch as a successful crop is predicted by the experts, grave fear is being felt along the lines of the Canadian Northern Railway, on account of the difficulty experienced in obtaining labor, which means steady work and good wages for all who visit in the districts served by the C.N.R.

Y.M.C.A. Directorate and Wrist Watch Night, and Mrs.

Last night at Crompton Rooms, Mr. George L. Good is giving up his position as secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. take up Y.M.C.A. work in the States, was tendered, along with a complimentary banquet by the Y.M.C.A. Directors. A people sat down to a tasteful repast, and at the close of the meal, Mr. Goodwin set forth with an address a wife, a complimentary basket of beautiful flowers, complimentary references to Mr. Goodwin's splendid work at the and regrets at his leaving the Y.M.C.A. Directors. In wishing him all success in his sphere of life.

The meeting was presided over by Captain Sweet, president of the Y.M.C.A. who paid a complimentary address on Mr. Goodwin's achievement. M. C. A. Secretary, Mr. C. A. read the following address: E. Ryerson makes the proposal to Mr. George Leslie Goodwin on the eve of your departure from the Brantford Association. The Directors desire to assure their sincere appreciation of your faithful and devoted service for the five years in which you have been our General Secretary. These five years have been most eventful as well as trying of any period in the history of the Association, because of the time a new building has been erected, involving larger work and more responsibilities in administration.

We shall ever remember with gratitude the important part you have played during this period. In the planning and execution of the new building, you have been the Comm. Secretary of the work, not only numerous extras, but by your constant and continuous work have saved us hundreds of dollars.

Editorial 278; Editorial 402 Business 139; Business 2006 Friday, July 7, 1916.

THE SITUATION.

The offensive of the Allies has come to somewhat of a halt, pending a re-alignment of forces, but the French and the British continue to hold their gains, and severe counter-attacks upon the part of the Huns have been repulsed. The total number of prisoners is estimated at 16,000, with 76 cannon and several hundred machine guns.

From Petrograd there comes the announcement that since General Brusiloff began his great advance on June 6th the grand total of Austrian and German prisoners is nearly a quarter of a million, of whom 4,500 are officers. In all directions the troops of the Czar continue to more than hold their own in splendid style.

Admiral Jellicoe has officially reported that he estimates the German losses in the North Sea battle of May 31st at 17 ships. He has taken plenty of time to get up all the evidence, and his estimate may be taken as conclusive. The mere fact that the foe were glad enough to scurry back to the Kiel canal, and since stay there, constitutes abundant evidence as to which side got the wallowing.

Announcement is made that Lloyd-George will succeed Earl Kitchener as Minister of War. The big little Welshman has proved himself the great stand-by in the present war, as far as John Bull is concerned. The Earl of Derby becomes his under-secretary, and a stronger pair it will be impossible to imagine.

Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, is raised to the peerage. For many years he has occupied a most difficult and onerous position with marked skill, and his abilities have long entitled him to some marked recognition on the part of the State.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIERS. There are very few left of the veterans of the British army who, in the natural course of events, had to respond to the first call of duty in connection with the big war. John Bull only had a handful of them in any event, for outside of the maintenance of his navy at top notch, in accordance with his mastery of the seas and the protection of British possessions, he did not anticipate and was not prepared for any great war. The men available were hastily sent across the Channel, including the reservists from all portions of the British Empire—and these, small in number and greatly overmatched by the Huns, held back the mighty Prussian war machine and prevented what would otherwise have been a triumphal entry into Paris.

Jack holds sway have once again demonstrated that the call to duty and on behalf of a righteous Empire cause will now, as ever, meet with a full-throated response. Blood will tell.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Just as if he hadn't had enough of cold nights, Explorer Shackleton has now taken up his quarters in Chill. The Liberals in the North Perth bye-election are avoiding the holding of public meetings. It is a whispering campaign, with special appeals to the large number of German voters resident in the constituency.

Do you notice the swing and the confidence which the man in uniform so speedily acquires? He has a right to both.

For a man who claimed that the British fleet had been smashed, the Kaiser is keeping his own fleet in the Kiel Canal for an umph of a time. Probably afraid to have his tender-hearted crews come out and see the havoc that they wrought.

Certain German gunners are now the envy of all the rest. They have been entrusted with the job of shelling the stately cathedral in Verdun.

The German's submarine warfare has been resumed in the North Sea. Watch it become still more general, as the Kaiserites feel the rope tightening.

Madame July has been drying the wet clothes left by Miss June in excellent style—the fact that she has had all out of doors for a back yard has helped to accelerate the job.

Quiet Again on Both Banks

The first German counter-attack was launched in the night in the Hem section, north of canalized Somme River. The Germans succeeded in carrying two small woods situated south of the Clerly-Marcourt road, a few hundred yards from the sugar works bordering that road.

French Make Gain. The French troops there, being more or less in the air, fell back on the village and swinging their left wing slightly, captured another small wood at the northern end of the village close to the Helm brick field and along the edge of the road from Clerly to Hem and Curly. This was the only change in the situation throughout the 24 hours during which the counter-offensive lasted.

At the beginning of the battle there were behind the front, assigned to the French attack, 27 German battalions drawn from the 121st division and from regiments of the 17th army corps.

Four Divisions Rushed Up. Between July 1st and 5th the German commanders sent up to the Peronne front four reserve divisions of which two already are declared to be virtually out of commission. The other reserves brought up from different points between Rheims and the Somme were of a most heterogeneous nature. One battalion of the guard, which was annihilated, had been formed of companies from several different battalions. The French officers say there can be no doubt that the rapidity of the French advance, if not the advance itself, took the Germans by surprise. This, they assert, is shown by their not having provided an adequate supply of reserves for such a contingency.

FRIEND OF ENTENTE. Alexander Zaimis, the new premier of Greece, is an out-and-out friend of the Allies, and the probabilities are that he will be able to have his country participate in the struggle on the side of his friends.

Zaimis is one of the wealthiest and most prominent men in Greece, is a son of a former Greek prime minister, and has himself on three former occasions been head of the government, although on the last occasion he only held office for a few weeks. Zaimis gave up political life some four or five years ago, and assumed governorship of the National Bank of Greece, but was called to office when the present crisis arose. It is somewhat significant that he was first called to power after the disastrous war with Turkey in 1897, became premier on the second occasion following the so-called Gospel riots, and the third time a few months ago when the outlook for Grecian participation arose. Apparently he is regarded as the outstanding strong man of Greece, as the country turns to him whenever a great national crisis arises.

MAY BE HANGED. Gen. Sukhomlinoff, former Russian Minister of War, is now on trial on charges of treason and all sorts of dishonesty and corruption. Some months ago the Grand Duke Nicholas had Gen. Sukhomlinoff's assistant, Col. Miasojedow, tried by court martial and instead of shooting him had him hanged on a gallows. Subsequent investigations show that the former Minister of War was equally guilty, and the probabilities are now that he will share the fate of his erstwhile associate.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits were issued this morning in the city engineer's office, they being Chas. Conlson, 69 St. Pauls avenue, brick dwelling and frame kitchen, $1,400; Michael Keenan, 16 North Park St., frame kitchen, $50.

NO QUORUM

The majority of the members of the Board of Health and the Buildings and Grounds committee were last night conspicuous by their absence from the meetings called by the boards, which accordingly failed to materialize.

POLICE COURT.

A drunk who appeared in the police court this morning evidently was a disbeliever in the old adage, "Time is money." He chose a month in Castle Brown rather than pay the customary fine of $3. A charge of conversation against Joe Sagrese was dropped, the matter having been arranged between the parties concerned. Charges of speeding against Herbert Miller and Harold Lovett, were also dropped, as was one of not working against Alex Grieves, who has found work.

THE BRANT

Musical reigns supreme at the Brant Theatre during the week-end, when a truly excellent bill is presented. The five Martells head the bill in an act which is well and aptly named "A special treat to music lovers." Another first class performance is that rendered by Coscia and Verdi, who present a "classy musical offering." The pictures are also of exceptional merit, comprising the illustrious John Barrymore in "The Red Widow," where the noted actor appears to better advantage than ever before, and the comedian, Max Linder in a three reel comedy "Ups and Downs."

WITH THE BANTAMS.

Several prospective recruits were found by Pte. Maurice of the Bantams in St. George yesterday, when he visited that place. Although no men were obtained directly, two or three are expected within a very few days. To-day Ptes. Maurice and Harsers were engaged in putting up posters throughout the city, calling the attention of all to "the small man's opportunity."

GARDEN PARTY.

Under the auspices of the Mission circle of Brant Avenue Methodist church, a most delightful garden party was held last evening at the home of Dr. Britton on Dufferin Avenue, with a large attendance. Musical numbers were rendered during the evening by Miss Marjorie Jones, Miss Mary Rothwell, Mr. Lloyd Dymond and others, and refreshments consisting of ice-cream, home made cooking, and punch were served by charming vendors to all. A considerable sum was realized by the affair.

FREE TRIP TO CAMP BORDEN

SIMCOE S. S. PICNIC HERE

The annual Sunday school picnic of St. James' Methodist church, Simcoe, was held yesterday at Mohawk Park, the excursionists coming to Brantford in the morning via L. E. and N., and going by the municipal railway to the park. The attendance was very large, and a most enjoyable time was passed by all. The party was accompanied by Rev. J. H. McEwan, pastor of St. James' church, and Mr. McPherson, principal of Simcoe High School.

MOVIE MAN IN TOWN.

Residents of Dufferin avenue and that vicinity of the city have been spared what might have been a serious shock to them this afternoon. Under the direction of the Canadian Film Company, it has been planned in the city, taking views of the 215th battalion in action and working them into a plot. Owing to the after-effects of the inoculation which the event has, however, been postponed until to-morrow.

Krupps Acquire Land

Have Obtained the Richest Manganese Ore Fields in Germany. By Special Wire to the Courier. They are the Fernie fields and the Glueckaufessen fields in the Lahn River region, and the Hermansnagan fields near Niederflischbach.

A WORD ABOUT CARRANZA

With the prospects of war with Mexico confronting the United States fresh interest attaches to Carranza, the present president of that unhappy republic. During the past five years Mexico has had ten presidents, which gives some idea of the chaotic condition of the country. Diaz, de la Barra, Madero, Lascurain, Huerta, Carral, Gaitteroz, Garza, Chaurin, and Carranza. Carranza was recognized by the United States as president some few months ago, but has not been overly successful in catching the eye and giving the country the stable government which he promised. Among other crafty tactics, he secured a lot of arms from the United States for the purpose of putting down Villa and other revolutionists. The probabilities are now that he will use these arms against the Americans.

An Arizona recruit, told to walk until he met the sentry he was to relieve, missed him and kept going for twenty miles.

A SURE SHIELD OF THE EMPIRE

Interesting Collection of Facts About British Navy Construction.

SWEEPING UP DEADLY MINES

One Shipping Yard Has Built a Destroyer Every Seven Weeks.

What is the British Navy doing? Is the question one constantly heard. Here is a fact, apart from Admiral Beatty's great achievement of Jutland, which will help you to realize how it is guarding our coasts and keeping clear the seas.

During the twenty months of war 21,000 merchant vessels have passed a certain patrolled East Coast area, and of all that number only three have come to grief.

Thousands of mines have been swept up. Here the vessels engaged on this work are craft that in peace times go a-fishing or do a coastal trade. There are very few blue-jackets amongst them, crews the greater number of the ships being manned solely by the brave fellows of the merchant service, the fisheries and the coast trade.

The huge 15-in. and 13.5 guns with which our late battleships were equipped, are handled by our naval men almost as quickly and easily as would be a revolver, although the 13.5 fire a monster shell of 1,250 pounds in weight, while the 15in. fires a shell of nearly a ton weight, with a smashing power nearly three times as great as that of the 13.5.

In spite of this enormous weight of the projectiles, the guns can be loaded in less than twenty-four seconds from the time of the order.

The modern big gun is made with a core of steel, around which is wound a spiral wire. In the biggest guns in use now there are between 140 and 170 miles of this wire.

In the great naval munition works and ship-building yards thousands of women are now employed, usually women are in the control of machinery which repeats the same movement. A factory 25,000 persons are employed of which number 13,000 are women.

The scope of their work will be realized when it is mentioned that there are seventy-seven kinds of shell, and women excel in that delicate and difficult work the blading of turbines, and it is satisfactory to know that in turbine machinery Great Britain is two years ahead of the Germans.

In the shipbuilding yards when the present orders are completed, well over 1,000,000 tons of shipping will have been turned out during the war. A ship which used to take eighteen months is now executed in twelve, although extravagant acceleration rates have been abolished.

In one year which has never yet failed to keep the appointed day for delivery, the rate of work in the last twelve months has been one destroyer every seven weeks. The aeroplane a week are also part of its product, and this in spite of the fact that skilled men have been taken from the shipyards for the army and there is a cry for more men.

They are building ships so fast in one yard that only one side of certain vessels can be finished on the ship next to it has been launched on account of lack of space. Not a yard of ground, not a minute of time, is wasted.

The heads of these wonderful yards are enthusiastic over their work and its efficiency. One of the men spent $25,000 on an experimental tank for models of ships, while another spent $32,000 on a similar experiment.

More Troops Arrive

Canadian Forces Have Landed Safely in Old Land. By Special Wire to the Courier. Ottawa, Ont., July 7.—It is officially announced from the press censorship office that the following Canadian troops have arrived safely in England: 11th C.M.R.; 13th C.M.R.; 94th battalion, 10th battalion, 104th battalion, No. 4 A.S.C., divisional train; A.S.C. ambulance work shop; R.C.R. draft (Halifax) and 57th howitzer battery draft (Quebec.) Total number on board, 5,992.

DIFFERINS LOST TO THE HEATHERS

City League Bowling Fixture Last Night Won by a Single Shot.

There were no complaints against daylight saving heard on the Heather Bowling green last evening when the Heathers and Differins met in an inter-club fixture. The night was ideal for bowling, and the greens being in excellent condition, a splendid game was the result. The Heathers, who have been leading the league so far this season, met with their first defeat, but by the narrowest margin possible, as the final score was 131 to 132, with the Heathers on the long end, or but 1 up. Soft Ball

The Manufacturers defeated the Beavers in a softball contest by 10 to 5, after the game had gone ten innings. These two teams met again to-night at 7 o'clock at Recreation Park. The batteries were: Manufacturers, Sears and Whitaker; Beavers, Simmons and Stuart.

COHESION AMONG ALLIES PERFECT

French Think Sir Douglas Haig Will Soon Win Success.

Paris, July 7 (Montreal Gazette).—Commenting on the situation on the Somme, Marcel Hain, the military expert of The Echo de Paris, writes: "Our armies will not endeavor to press further forward until the disorganization of the enemy be judged sufficient." By this he means that sufficient reserves have not yet been drawn into the conflict. These strong bodies, usually stationed at the rear of the front battle zone, must be wiped out by artillery, if not by infantry, before the next large forward stride be taken.

M. Hutin continues: "It is also necessary that our brave British allies, on their side of the battle front shall come to a level with us. They are holding with force all the positions which they have conquered and we are assured of new conquests by a re-grouping of their forces, and a new stroke by their artillery." "Never has the co-hesion between the British and French action been greater than now. I for my part am convinced that the Germans will soon abandon that part of the front held by the troops of Sir Douglas Haig." Under General Foch, now commander of the French troops of the Somme is General Fayolle, famous as an artillery expert.

DEMAND A SEAT AT PEACE TABLE

Overseas Dominions' Position is Clearly Stated to British Government.

London, July 7.—Tremendous applause greeted the remarks of Sir James Carroll of New Zealand when he announced to a distinguished gathering of statesmen and others at the Mansion House last night that while the overseas Parliamentary delegates were not here to find fault with Downing Street, they were all determined upon one thing, and that was that some definite programme should be decided upon before they returned home regarding certain aspects of the relations now existing between the home and overseas governments. A number of matters, he agreed, would have to remain until after the war, but there were also matters affecting the immediate future policy of government arrangements for the continued conduct of the war and the proposals of peace which were of supreme importance to the Dominions, and in which they were entitled to be heard. So far, they had met with every encouragement.

Admiral Jellicoe's Thrilling Story

The German vessels were entirely cut off the fight at 9 o'clock, says the report. The British heavy ships were not attacked during the night, but three British destroyer flotillas delivered a series of gallant and successful attacks, causing heavy losses. Concluding his account of the battle, Vice-Admiral Jellicoe wrote: "At daylight on the first of June, the battle fleet being southward of Horn Reef, turned northward in search of enemy vessels and for the purpose of collecting our own cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The visibility early on the first of June was 3 to 4 miles less than on May 31, and the torpedo-boat destroyers, being out of visual touch, did not rejoin the fleet until 9 a.m. The British fleet remained in the proximity of the battlefleet and near the line of approach to German ports until 11 a.m. in spite of the disadvantage of long distances from fleet bases and the danger incurred in waters adjacent to the enemy's coasts from submarines and torpedo craft. "The enemy, however, made no sign and I was reluctantly compelled to the conclusion that the high sea fleet had returned into port. Subsequent events proved this assumption to have been correct. Our position must have been known to the enemy as at four a.m. the fleet engaged a Zeppelin about five minutes, during which time she had ample opportunity to note and subsequently report the position and course of the British fleet. "The fleet was fueled, replenished its ammunition, and at 9.30 p.m. on the second of June, was reported ready for further action."

GREEK PREMIER WAS DEFIANT

But Wiser Counsels Prevailed in Hellenic Defiance of Entente.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 7 (Montreal Gazette).—The Morning Post's Athens correspondent in a mailed despatch referring to the threat uttered by M. Skoulouss then premier when interviewed by an Italian correspondent, to resist the demand of the Allies: "This resistance was actually prepared with the King's personal sanction, and on the day the ultimatum was handed in the same government which at 1 p.m. returned this document to the allied legations on the ground that the cabinet had already resigned, and, therefore, was no longer competent to receive it, at 2 p.m. ordered out a force of infantry and artillery to repel an Anglo-French landing at Phalerum and Piraeus. "It is difficult to imagine a more gemented act with troops in the offing and ships ready to support their landing. Fortunately for King Constantine and his dynasty, M. Zaimis, on the one hand, and Prince Nicholas, on the other, persuaded his majesty in time to abandon this senseless plan of his irresponsible advisers and give his unconditional acceptance of the allies' demands."

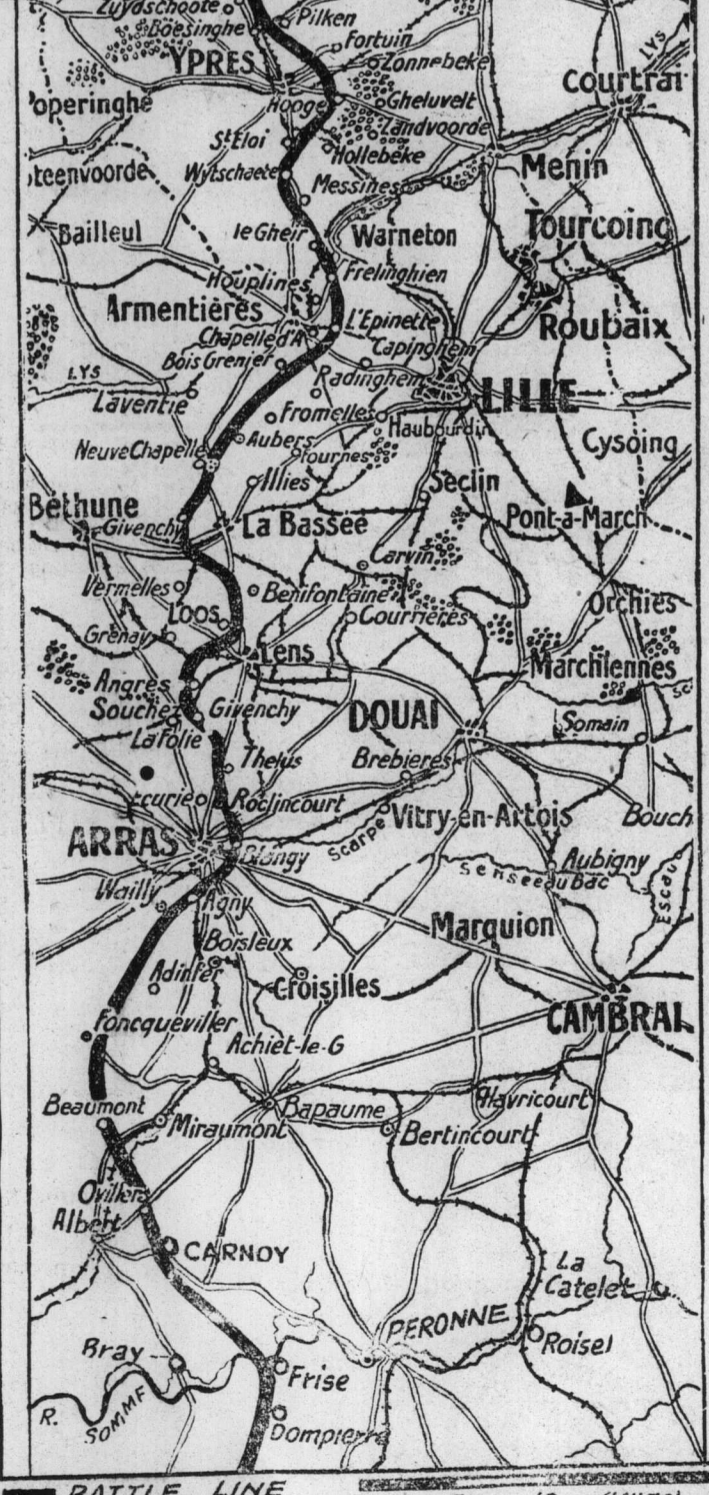

BIG CIRCUS WILL SHOW HERE

The circus season is rapidly approaching, and Brantford is to be visited by one of the "big shows" for the first time this year. Arrangements for the coming of "Coop and Lent's united monster shows, three-ring circus, museum and menagerie to Brantford, Tuesday, July 25, have been completed, and knowledge of that circus' importance, dispels all doubt but that it will be an A1 attraction.

COUNTY CONSTABLE CHARGED WITH SEDITION

Flesherton, July 7.—County Constable Edward Graham, of Eugenia Falls, was before Magistrate J. L. McMullen here last evening charged with using seditious language to a recruiting officer, and upon the evidence produced was committed for trial at Owen Sound. Crown Attorney Dyre of Owen Sound prosecuted. Bail was accepted.

WHERE HEAVY FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS

British artillery is now pounding the German lines from Ypres to the Somme. The action is believed to be a preliminary to the "big push" which all England is anxiously waiting for.

LEAFS BREAK LOOSE WITH BASE HIT BATS

Toronto, July 7.—For those who like their ball games full of runs and base hits, the 9 to 4 defeat of Richmond at the Island Stadium yesterday was a festival. Apparently, the Leafs have devised some means of extracting the safeties from their budgeons. In the fifth innings they drove big McKenry to the seclusion of the shower baths. This feature of the battle was particularly satisfactory, as McKenry had already beaten the Islanders twice. A new-comer Mahafey went to the hummock and pitched good ball, but the Leafs nicked him for a run, too. McTigue had shut out the Virginians up to the fifth, but the first three batters to face him in that order hit hard, clean singles, and in from the bull pen. The veteran stopped the slaughter in short order. To-day the Leafs will tackle the Virginians again, as it is Ladies' Day, a big designation of the fair sex is expected to attend. To-morrow the teams will play a double-header, the first game at 2 and the second at 4 o'clock.

PRINCE KINDA I. African potentate who was asked to leave his quarters at the Toronto Y.M.C.A. while appearing at a theatre in that city. The Prince says it is because of his color, but this the Y.M.C.A. denies.

PITCHERS STILL THERE.

Record in Major Leagues Recently Shows Plenty of Good Hurling. Two no-hit games, a one-hit game and a two-hit game or so within the span of a week in one of the major leagues indicates that in spite of weather handicaps the season has progressed to the point where the pitchers are beginning to assert themselves, and from now on we may expect a shrinking of scores and batting averages, and of the twirling department claiming the 80 per cent. that Addie Joss said is its portion. All this will be offered for weak batting, of course. The blame will be laid to grand stand shadows, sky gray fences, advertising signs and what not, but the real reason will be the old-time mastery of the pitcher over the batter and nothing else. Whether the fan public would prefer free hitting to tight pitching is another question and one that others must answer. The point of it is that pitching we have with us and will have in midsummer of any season until the game is revised in some essentials.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES

GENERAL MERCER. All doubt regarding the fate of General Mercer is now at an end. Lieut. Gooderham, his aide-de-camp, has written to his parents in Toronto, stating that General Mercer was badly wounded by shell fire and lay for two days on the battle field before he was killed by a German high explosive shell. Since then his body has been found. Gen. Mercer is the first Canadian general to fall in the war. Before going overseas he was a prominent Torontonian and was regarded as one of the best and most efficient military men in the country.

NEW HOTEL MANAGER. Mr. J. V. Henderson, of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, has been appointed resident manager of the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton. The Macdonald is the latest addition to the chain of Grand Trunk Hotels. Opened last summer, it occupies a magnificent site in the centre of the city of Edmonton and overlooks the North Saskatchewan river. Mr. Henderson has been connected with the management of large Canadian hotels for years, and is well-known throughout Western Canada, coming East to join the staff of the Windsor Hotel in Montreal last year.

ONE NATIONAL GAME ONLY. AND GIANTS WIN THAT. Pittsburgh, July 7.—Heavy hitting featured the game here yesterday between New York and Pittsburgh, which the former won by a score of 12 to 6. The Giants made 13 and the locals 14 hits. The Pirates made six errors. Cooper was forced to retire at the end of the fifth inning after nine hits had resulted in five runs. Seven runs were made on ten safeties in the next four innings of Ad-Ad-Ad's in the next four innings of Ad-Ad-Ad's, who relieved him. Five hits and two errors gave the Pirates all of their runs in the final inning. The score: New York . . . 200031033—12 19 2 Pittsburgh . . . 100000005—6 14 6 Perritt and Rariden, Koehler, Cooper and Adams and Wilson.

DOUBLE UMPIRE SYSTEM FAVORED BY OWNERS.

At Least Five Want Two Officials—Wilkesbarre and Scranton. Balk. The double umpire system probably will prevail throughout the New York State League within a short time. The Syracuse club owners favor this method of arbitrating as it relieves one man of considerable responsibility and prevents many arguments arising after close decisions. It is said that Albany, Harrisburg, Elmira, and Binghamton also favor the plan, and that it will be the subject of special legislation before the close of the season. Of the eight clubs in the league, Wilkesbarre and Scranton are the only organizations to oppose the movement. Utica has not reported on the matter, but Ambrose McConnell, Utica manager, is known to have wanted the double system for some time. It is estimated that the new system would cost each club about $2 a day. There are at present six umpires in the circuit—McBride, Pittman, Lewis, Kuhn, Dougherty and Johnson.

BOEHLING HOLDS BROWNS TO FOUR HITS AND A RUN.

Washington, July 7.—Washington won from St. Louis 2 to 1 yesterday by knocking Weillman out of the box in the second inning. Davenport stopped further scoring. St. Louis could do nothing with Boehling. Manager Griffith, who was suspended last Friday for participating in disorder at the game with Boston, was reinstated yesterday. Score: St. Louis . . . 10016010—9 11 1 Richmond . . . 000031000—4 8 0 R.H.E.

INDEFINITE SUSPENSION FOR JOHNNY EVERS

New York, July 7.—President John A. Toner of the National League announced yesterday that he had indefinitely suspended Capt. Johnny Evers of the Boston club. The league executive stated that the penalty was inflicted as a result of the scene created in Boston on Wednesday by Evers when he was called out on strikes. Evers telegraphed an apology to league headquarters for his actions and remarks, but President Toner refused to pass the incident without a reprimand and suspension.

RING HAS AN INTERESTING PAST.

The ring in which the Dillon-Moran fight was staged on June 29 has a past. Constructed some years ago, it was in the same 20-foot enclosure that Terry McGovern fought his last fight; Jim Driscoll, but pointed Abe Attell and Stanley Ketchell knocked out Philadelphia Jack O'Brien. It was used also in the presentation of that now famous comedy, Gibbons-McFarland battle.

COBB THE WHOLE WORKS AGAINST THE ATHLETICS

Philadelphia, July 7.—Detroit easily defeated Philadelphia here yesterday 9 to 4. The home twirlers were wild and were hit hard and were poorly supported. Cobb made two infield hits, stole three bases, scored three runs and made a sensational one-hand catch of a drive by LaJolie. Score: R.H.E. Detroit . . . 021210110—9 12 1 Philadelphia . . . 02200000—4 8 6 Mitchell, Cunningham and Stanger; Sheehan, Driscoll, Whitaker and Meyer.

HIGHLANDERS CONTINUE TO INCREASE THEIR LEAD

New York, July 7.—New York celebrated its return from a successful western trip and won an upturn game from Chicago yesterday by a score of 4 to 3. The visitors started off with three runs in the first inning, but the Highlanders came back with two runs in their half and tied the score in the third inning. New York won in the seventh inning, when Geddon opened with a single and scored on Nunamaker's double. Score: R.H.E. Chicago . . . 300000000—3 4 1 New York . . . 20100100—4 7 2 Russell, Benz, Gicotte and Schalk; Cullop and Nunamaker.

Loss of Tourist Traffic Hit Some Localities Very Hard.

A long and interesting letter has been received from a Scottish magistrate, who recently went on a business trip through his native land, and it is believed that the following extracts will interest readers who form their conclusions of the patriotism of a nation by the practical devotion of the people to the nation's needs.

The writer begins: "I stayed the night at my old hotel in Lossiemouth, one of the fishing towns on the Moray Firth. There were only two men in charge—one looking after the finances, the other the stable, James—was killed in action early in the war. Young Frank is fighting in the Black Watch, and has been promoted on two occasions. Fisher Women Intelligent

"The fisher women have developed remarkable intelligence since the war. All their men are on government service, but the wives and mothers are no 'despairin'." A Mrs. Imlach was telling me today that her neighbor has five sons at the front. She made the little observation: "Why are the women overlooked in the decorations? We are no' seekin' little pictures to be fastened on our bodices, nor fine speeches for all us folk to be doing. But if what home of us are doing. But if all us folk in love and war, the brave fisher wives should not be forgotten."

Mrs. Imlach raises a nice question. In Russia they are honoring the women. I see, more than we are doing, and yet I scarcely meet a woman who is not bearing some heavy war burden.

All Young Men Enlisted "The patriotism at Inverness is what one would expect. No young men are to be seen on the streets in the evening, except those who are exempted (much to their misery) and those required to carry on business in the public interest. A man from Deully gave me some stirring information about a village a few miles to the north-west.

"A woman in charge of the post office and telegraph, and women are tending sheep, marketing stock, buying the feed, driving in and out of town. Seventeen have fallen belonging to the village, and yet the talk of the little place, day after day, is about the time when the lads come in up will reach military age so that they may take their place.

Highlanders Stand for Liberty. "My friend said, 'We are not thinking merely of winning the war—we want a harvest of freedom for all nations.' These Highlanders have the right grip of the situation. And it is seldom that you hear them talk of their losses. 'My lad,' said the town officer, 'was killed when going into action. I think of him at night facing the foe. That's how I wished him to die—if that was to be his fate. God's time is coming.'

"I spent the Sunday at Inverness, and what a prayer! The minister's eyes closed, while the venerable man prayed for the 'Almighty Arm' to stay the Beast of the Pit' made a deep impression on me.

Tourist Traffic Gone "I was caught in a thunderstorm running along Glen Ogle. At Callander I found that war had hit them badly. The tourist traffic this year almost ruined the place. While it will be worse. Then, about 100 men from this district have been killed or wounded since the war began.

"One of the lads home from the war camp tells a horrible story about the treatment he received at the hands of the Germans. He does not dwell upon the candle grease-like soup, or the coffee made from burnt rye, but of the 5th officers and guards. One of the 5th officers who was suffering from a ulcerated leg, begged to have some bandages that were clean. He was told to scold. Such pin-pricking attacks like these almost drives the lad insane.

Italian Offensive Makes Gains Between Lagarina and Sugana Valleys.

Rome, July 7.—The Italian offensive campaign is winning further progress compelling the Austrians to withdraw in some sectors. These operations are described as follows: "Between the Lagarina and Sugana Valleys our offensive continued yesterday. In the Adige Valley and in the Upper Asiago Basin our pressure compelled the enemy to withdraw, uncovering new batteries on commanding positions previously prepared by him.

"On the Asiago Plateau our artillery bombarded the enemy's lines actively. In the Campello Valley the enemy evacuated the positions he still held on the Prina Lunetta, abandoning arms, ammunition and supplies.

"On the remainder of the front to the sea there was intermittent artillery fighting. In the San Martino sector the enemy delivered gas attacks without results. East of Selz we repulsed an attack against positions we captured recently."

Up-and-Down Brushing Best. Now a word about brushing the teeth. Select a brush with unweave bristles so that you can reach every tooth. The bristles should be firm, but not stiff enough to injure the gums.

Use a regular up-and-down movement, not sideways, and remember that the inner surface of the teeth require cleaning as much as the outer surface.

If tartar is inclined to collect upon your teeth rub them well with charcoal soap, the best signs of tartar are yellowish teeth, even molars also. The Japanese women who, as a rule, have lovely teeth, use sodium bicarbonate to bleach their teeth when the surface has turned yellow with a piece of antiseptic tooth powder and an orange stick, dip it into peroxide, and rub each tooth until the stain has disappeared. This, of course, will not be permanent.

Because Jimmy Said So "I had an amusing experience at Rothsay—a place that has been hit rather severely by the war. While reading a Glasgow paper in the parlor of the hotel, a man asked the news. I replied, 'Verdun fills the bill again. The Germans seem to have gained a few trenches at the usual cost.'

THE WESTERN BATTLE LINE. This map shows the relative position of the Anglo-French drive and the Verdun battle scenes which are 125 miles apart. The map also shows the farthest German advance in September, 1914.

"I guess that's right, too. But Joffre knows that's the game. He didn't study Wellington for nothing. His retreats, you know, ended in disaster for the enemy."

"Ah, my friend," replied the stranger, 'our Jimmy on the other hand wrote me a letter three weeks ago that Joffre was following Wellington that Joffre was following Wellington every day.' He swore by Jimmy!

100,000 Warship Builders. "You cannot understand the war till you have been on the Clyde and listen to the noise of a million hammers, watch the clouds of smoke curl in the heavens, and see 100,000 men and leave the shipyards, begrimed and strong for their meals. The key to the military situation is on such rivers as the Clyde, Glasgow throbs with life. The faces of the people on an Argyle street are indicators of a new Scotland. There is an utter absence of the rowdy element on the Trongate. Even the Candleriggs is respectable. War is cleaning out shebeen and slummer. Scotland is great.

Canadian Valor "I spent a Sunday at Blantyre. We heard the day before of a magnificent stand at Verdun, and of more valor displayed by the Canadians. These men must have big ideas. They are far from satisfied with sniping work—they want to get at the enemy by the throat. That spirit will win out."

"I got back to Leith after six weeks' absence. Since then the Zeppeleins have certainly done some damage to Edinburgh. But what does it all amount to? As the Lord Provost remarked in his address before going to the front.—It is nothing but throwing bricks at the back door, like cowardly boys who run away after they have performed their dirty trick. When we meet them at the front, we will pay them back."

War Makes One to Think "Things are dearer. The war is beginning to leave a mark upon the customs of the people. While it is true, the business goes on as usual, the spirit is not the same. The reality of life and death has made us think as never before."

How to Care for Your Teeth So They Will Keep Beautiful

By LUCREZIA BORI
Prima Denna of the Metropolitan Opera, Company, New York.

The teeth will remain white for a long time if you take care of them. Provide yourself with one of the small mirrors used by dentists, and inspect your teeth every week so that any decay will be detected as quickly as possible. As soon as you notice the slightest discoloration have your teeth examined by your dentist; do not wait for an aching nerve to tell you what you ought to do.

Visit Dentist Frequently. Whether you find any cavities or not you should visit the dentist once every three months to have him make a thorough examination to repair what is necessary, and to clean your teeth thoroughly. Prevention is a better method of preventing painful decay and loss of teeth.

Brush the gums—at all times—need care. Brush the teeth with salt once a week, as it will keep the gums firm and healthy and clean the teeth. Rinse the mouth and gums with water to which a little peroxide of hydrogen has been added. After each meal use dental floss to clean the teeth and brush with tooth powder as you prefer.

Use a regular up-and-down movement, not sideways, and remember that the inner surface of the teeth require cleaning as much as the outer surface. If tartar is inclined to collect upon your teeth rub them well with charcoal soap, the best signs of tartar are yellowish teeth, even molars also. The Japanese women who, as a rule, have lovely teeth, use sodium bicarbonate to bleach their teeth when the surface has turned yellow with a piece of antiseptic tooth powder and an orange stick, dip it into peroxide, and rub each tooth until the stain has disappeared. This, of course, will not be permanent.

As a final word, look well to your children's teeth. The first teeth are as important as the second set. Any hurt that comes to the former will surely be reflected in the latter. If when the second teeth begin to make their appearance you notice that they are growing in crooked take the child to the dentist immediately, as he will be able to train them in the way they should grow.

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

By SYLVIA GERARD

Solving the Problem of an Up-to-the-Instant Cape-Wrap.

THE latest summer happenings would be incomplete for me unless it included a cape-wrap. Yesterday, on the temple-cour, while trying to meet one of Ted Hamilton's famous serves, I lost my balance and fell, badly twisting my ankle.

Fortunately, Dr. Marvin was on the spot and he got me right over, so I got to believe that this apron is going to give me much trouble. There is considerable time to be made before the season and next week, the time scheduled for the first of our house parties.

It is a punishment to sit quietly while the others are having such stacks of fun getting ready for the Crimson Hamster dance at the Country Club. I'm afraid I shall not be able to go to the dance, but Ted has promised to make sketches of the decorations, so that I'll get some idea as to how the roses are arranged this year.

I've been sewing at record speed on a cape-wrap to keep from thinking about the good times I am missing. Aunt Kathryn sent me a piece of lovely material which she had decided not to have made up. I found that I could make good use of it, so I need a loose wrap that I can slip on over afternoon or evening frocks. For country wear, a wrap of this sort is not to be worn, a wrap of this sort is not to be worn, a wrap of this sort is not to be worn.

One of the prettiest wraps I have seen this year was made of a series of ruffles, so I decided to use the same idea in making mine. The original model was formed of five tiers, but as I wanted mine quite long I added another. The ruffles are circular in shape, so there are only a few gathers at the top, while the lower edge is gathered. I finished the ruffles with narrow headings, and stitched them to a foundation of silk. Each ruffle overlaps the other like the shingles of a roof.

Since the evenings are rather chilly here I interlined the cape and covered it with a second lining of silk of a soft rose color. I finished the neck line with a high, turned-over collar of the blue silk lined with rose.

The cape which gave me the idea for mine had straps attached to the front. These crossed over and fastened in the back, holding the cape so it could not slip from the shoulders. I had plenty of rose silk left and from it I made a vest. The front is trimmed with an embroidered medallion which I did in shades of blue, rose, black and silver. I closed the edges with a narrow fold of the silk and lined the vest with blue tulle. The effect is decidedly smart.

After I have stitched the strap-ties in place the cape will be finished. Mother just happened to be in at the doorway to tell me that the Tennants' car had stopped at our gateway. This meant that the special delivery man had brought the making and Peggy wants some help. She came to the wrong person now that I am a sea-sick.

For this appetizing roll take one pound and a half of mince, two cups of breadcrumbs, one large onion, one egg, two eggs, one ounce of crisp, one onion, one cup of water, one cup of oil. While frying grate and fry the onion. While frying grate and fry the onion. While frying grate and fry the onion.

Curried Beans. Half a pint of haricot beans should be soaked for 24 hours. Cook them in a slow oven with water until they are soft. Then grate of chop up. Melt a table-spoonful of butter, and fry the prepared vegetables in it for five minutes. Remove the curry powder—mixed into the pan and stir it well. Add a quarter of a pint of water, and heat a quarter of a pint of milk. Add this up well, stirring all the while. Add a little salt, and the beans. Serve with a border of boiled rice.

The Virginia State Aerle of Eagles pledged itself to care for families of members who are serving in the Sate Guard. Instead of burning up money in fireworks on July 4th, Ridgewood, N.J., gave it to its military company going to Texas.

SHERRING ENLISTS. Billy Sherring, the famous long distance runner of Hamilton, has enlisted with the Tiber battalion now being recruited in that city. Sherring had a good position in the Custom House, but gave it up in order to go overseas and do his "bit." His friends are now hoping that he will be able to sprout down the Unter der Linde and the Crown Prince. Sherring won the Hamilton Herald Road Race on two occasions, the Boston Marathon, and the Olympic Marathon in Greece, a record probably unequalled by any

Bruce Ismay, whose name is intimately associated with a Titanic disaster, has resigned as a director of the International Mercantile Marine, and also as a member of the British Committee. Ismay was born at Liverpool in 1862, and entered the shipping business, where he became an international figure. At the time of the Titanic disaster Ismay, who was on board, was accused of forcing the captain to speed through the ice fields in order to make a new trans-Atlantic record, and came in for a good deal of censure from people on both sides of the Atlantic.
